

75% of Village Streets Are Now Hardsurfaced

Council Is Having 2 1/2 Miles of Cass City Streets Blacktopped This Fall

Over three-quarters of Cass City's streets will be hardsurfaced when the county road commission's crew completes its work of blacktopping 2 1/2 miles of streets for the village council. The work was commenced about a week ago. Two miles of blacktopping were completed in previous years and the two miles of concrete on Main and Seeger streets, together with this year's program of blacktopping, makes 6 1/2 miles of hardsurfaced streets for the village. There are approximately two miles of streets still unimproved. On this year's program, the 16 ft. roadway which is being blacktopped includes the following streets:

- Completing Third street.
- All of Houghton street.
- Pine street from Brooker street to Woodland avenue.
- Brooker street from Third street north to Church street.
- Downing street.
- West and Leach streets, both from Church to Huron.
- Huron street from West street east to Leach street.
- Oak and Leach streets, both from Pine to Third streets.
- Woodland avenue.
- Kennebec drive is also being blacktopped at the expense of E. B. Schwadener and several private drives are being improved, the cost being met by the property owners.

More Than His Country's Blessing For War Veteran

Provisions Are Made for Business Loans and College Education

When Johnny comes marching home from World War II, he'll find Michigan ready to welcome him. This welcome is being organized efficiently with a veterans' counseling center in almost every community under auspices of the State of Michigan.

It's very apparent that Johnny is going to get a break this time. In fact, for almost the first time in American history, the war veteran will receive more than his country's blessing. He can borrow $2,000 as a down payment on a $10,000 home or farm. He can borrow $2,000 to go into business for himself. If he wants to go to college, Uncle Sam will pay his tuition fees of at least $10 a month, $30 a quarter, or $40 a semester, in addition to paying other regular fees and costs of books, supplies and equipment up to $500 a year.

The veteran, 25 years old or more, whose education was completed prior to entrance into war, may get a refresher course at Uncle Sam's expense. If the veteran suffers a service disability, the government will pay him a pension and furnish vocational training at the same time.

As an example, consider the Pine Lake Vocational-Technical school, a joint undertaking of the Michigan Office of Veteran Affairs and the Michigan Board of Control for Vocational Education.

We visited this camp, near Battle Creek, in company of Lieut. Col. Philip C. Pack and Elmer Hannah, director and assistant director, respectively.

They contemplate making many changes inside and out.

Chaplain Mosure Tells of Duties At Camp Bowie

Expects to Be in Texas Camp in Training for Several Months

The Chronicle is in receipt of a letter from Lt. Dudley C. Mosure, former pastor of the Cass City Methodist church and now an army chaplain at Camp Bowie, Texas. Knowing that his many friends here will be interested in the epistle, the Chronicle prints it in its entirety. Under date of Sept. 23, he writes:

My dear friend Mr. Lenzner:

It has been nearly three months since we left the fair and hospitable village of Cass City. It seems much longer, though, for we missed our friends tremendously. Our new venture has thus far proven interesting and varied. Perhaps you would like a summary of what I have been doing for the paper.

The first six weeks after leaving Cass City, Mrs. Mosure and I resided in Cambridge, Mass., where I attended the United States Army School for Chaplains at Harvard university. The course was entirely an orientation period for army life. We had such courses as military courtesy and customs, military law, the duties of the chaplain, defense against chemical attack, (in which we learned the use of the gas mask, the protective clothing, and the methods of treating gas casualties). We also learned something of graves registration in case under combat conditions, the chaplain was asked to supervise the burial of the dead; that is in matters aside from the religious services. In addition to the courses, we had very afternoon given over to strenuous drill and marching. That was great sport especially in view of the fact that Boston had three weeks of temperatures in the nineties.

After finishing with the routine Army courses the office of Chief of Chaplains assigned me to active duty with an evacuation hospital here in Camp Bowie. If one wonders where Camp Bowie is located we are just ten miles from the geographical center of the state of Texas. In fact, just outside of the city of Brownwood, Texas.

The unit to which I am assigned as chaplain is newly organized and I will be here in the process of training for several months. While we are here I act as a chaplain and pastor to the enlisted men and officers. Preaching in the Army is a comparatively minor factor when measured by the standards of the civilian ministry. There are a number of reasons for this. One chief reason is that when military personnel are off duty on Sunday they much prefer attending Divine worship in the civilian churches, where, as one man said "It always reminds me of home." There one finds the presence of women, civilian men and children, and of course it does seem more like home. However, the chapels are fairly well attended. On this post there are 20 some chapels and each chapel has its own services. I am assigned to No. 2 Chapel, and there we have a Jewish service on Friday night; a Catholic mass early Sunday morning which is followed by a Mormon service at nine-thirty, and then the Protestant service at eleven o'clock.

The chapels are well equipped. Concluded on page 8.

Cass City Assists Gathering Clothes For Europeans

To Be Distributed to the Needy Populations in the Liberated Areas.

The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration is asking the cooperation of church and synagogue groups of the United States in the collection of usable clothing for free distribution to needy men, women and children in liberated areas in Europe. With the approach of winter, the need for clothing for victims of war becomes one of the most pressing problems confronting UNRRA. Throughout war-torn areas clothing is very scarce or threadbare and worn out.

This week has been designated as the time in which church, parish and synagogue groups and local service organizations of all types affiliated with them are asked to cooperate in this emergency clothing collection effort. The immediate need is for at least 15 million pounds of clothing, used or new.

What is needed is good substantial clothing for both winter and summer wear. Although clothing need not be in perfect repair, it must be useful to the people who receive it. Underclothing and all types of cotton garments should be washed before they are donated, but need not be ironed.

Special appeals are made for: Infants' garments—All types are in urgent demand, particularly knit goods.

Men's and boys' garments—Overcoats, topcoats, suits, coats, jackets, shirts, all types of work clothes, including overalls, coveralls, etc., sweaters, underwear, robes, pajamas, etc.

Women's and girls' garments—Overcoats, jackets, skirts, sweaters, dresses, underwear, aprons, smocks, robes, nightwear, etc.

Bedding — Blankets, afghans, sheets, pillow cases, quilts, etc.

Shoes and evening dresses are not wanted.

The following local churches are cooperating: Methodist, Baptist, Evangelical, Catholic, Presbyterian and Nazarene.

Each church has a designated place to which clothing may be brought.

Knoblet Team Leads City League Bowlers This Week

The third week of bowling finds Knoblet's team out in front and leading the league by one game. This group also has accounted for the largest total of pins and at present are in championship form. Mac McCullough leads as an individual high bowler with an average of 187 for nine games, while Reid also holds a 187 average for the three games he has bowled to date.

Rienstra's 587 totals this week were the highest recorded and won him both ends of the individual prize money offered each week to the bowlers rolling over average in his three game series and also for any single game. The team prizes were somewhat complicated as the Wallace and Ed Fritz teams both registered 250 pins over their average in three games and the single over average game was divided between the Deering and Ed Fritz squads as each rolled 121 over their average.

Bowlers hitting the 200 mark for the week are: Rienstra 232, Ludlow 222, Landon 217, Dewey 216, Deering 211, Retherford 210, Pinney 210, Parsch 215, McCullough 202, Benkelman 201, Kolb 201, Collins 200, Ed Fritz 200.

The Business Men's league is nearly organized and it is expected they will open their schedule for play.

Hog Cholera Can Be Properly Treated

Vaccination and Care Essential

Hog cholera is a serious contagious swine disease caused by a virus, which is a substance so small that it cannot be seen through a microscope. It costs a loss of $12,500,000 annually to swine growers, according to a report issued by Clemson Agricultural college.

The symptoms of hog cholera are loss of appetite, high fever, and either constipation or diarrhea. The affected animals usually remain in the bed, but when forced to move, walk with a wobbling gait. The sick pigs usually die within six to ten days but may linger three to four weeks before they die.

The virus which causes hog cholera is present in the body tissues, fluids and excretions of hogs affected with hog cholera. Therefore, feed, water, bedding, and soil become contaminated very quickly with bladder and bowel eliminations.

If this infected material gets into the digestive tract of susceptible swine, these animals will develop hog cholera in a few days.

Hog cholera is usually spread by moving sick hogs, by moving unvaccinated hogs in contaminated trucks, by dogs, buzzards and other animals, by mud and manure carried from infected to noninfected farms on the shoes of individuals, on wheels of farm vehicles, by careless handling of hog cholera virus, by feeding table scraps and garbage which contain hog bones and uncooked pork trimmings and by improper disposal of the carcasses of hogs which have died of hog cholera.

Hog cholera can be prevented by vaccinating healthy animals with adequate amounts of hog cholera serum and virus produced by a reputable laboratory. They should be vaccinated when six to seven weeks old.

Saugus, Calif., "blus blood," tested and ready to be shipped east to aid in strain improvement. Barbara Williams, 3½, whose father raised the boar, gives it a farewell feeding.

Corn Cobs Come Into Their Own

In competition with wood flour as a plastic material, corn cobs should bring the farmers about $20 a ton. While transportation will be the deciding factor, it is planned to establish small mills throughout the country to manufacture the plastic.

While commercial organizations have become interested in research work with corn cob plastics the lead was taken by Dr. O. R. Sweeney of Iowa State college. This work was with waste corn stalks, corn cobs and other waste cellulose in the forms available on every farm.

Estimates indicate a market for a billion tons of plastic material annually when the work is fully developed and machinery made available. A new drying and grinding plant has been perfected. It takes a supply of four to five thousand tons of corn cobs in a radius of six to eight miles to make an investment in a community drier and grinder practical.

Milkweed in Demand

The extraction of edible oil, chemically similar to soybean oil, is the only one of the new uses to which this weed has been put as a war measure.

In Canada, the milkweed has proven a good source of rubber. The leaves from one acre will yield from 200 to 300 pounds of rubber gum.

The floss of milkweed can be converted into a substitute for kapok which is in much demand for life preservers and linings for flying suits. This floss should be picked in early September after the seeds turn brown and before the pods open up.

Plans for Wintering

Satisfactory wintering of beef cows on forest ranges of the southeast is possible if they are given a daily supplemental feed of two pounds of soybean or cottonseed meal per head. This type of feed has been found to stimulate appetite and make for better use of native forage. Although meal feeds are on the scarce list, it is pointed out that the supply required is small in proportion to the quantity of meat produced.

Car wheels have a tendency to get out of line and toe in, toe out or develop camber trouble (wheels not parallel).

College Degrees

Pulls From Glass
Do not overheat paraffin. When it cools, overheated paraffin pulls away from the side of the glass. It should be barely melted and poured over jelly, jam, or preserves in a thin layer, making sure that the paraffin comes in direct contact with the glass all the way around. Add a thicker layer after the first is cold. A good way to melt paraffin is to put it in an earthenware or enamel pitcher and set the pitcher in a pan of boiling water.

Nylon Hammocks
The army quartermaster corps is now using nylon hammocks for our jungle fighters, the current issue of Plastics magazine notes. Nylon was adopted for its greater durability, lighter weight and freedom from mildewing as compared to the old-style cotton hammock.

Common Accidents
Public non-motor-vehicle accidents were responsible for 17,000 deaths of civilians in 1943, compared with 16,000 in 1942. Important contributors to this increase were falls with an increase of 21 per cent to 3,400, and drownings which rose 5 per cent to 4,900.

Street Car Accidents
Deaths from street car accidents not involving a motor vehicle increased 25 per cent from 400 to 500 in 1943, and deaths in water transport accidents were 12½ per cent more than in 1942—increasing from 400 to 450.

Air In Motion
Wind is air in motion. The atmosphere would be equally dense and in a state of perpetual calm if all parts of the earth were equally heated by the sun's rays. Certain areas are heated by the sun more than others and the air there expands and blows out over cooler areas. The heavy air of the cool areas no longer is held back and rushes in to restore the equilibrium. Thus winds are formed. Their direction is considerably deflected by the rotation of the earth on its axis.

Surprised by Size
Persons born blind with cataracts are amazed at the largeness of objects when their sight is restored by removal of the cataracts, according to the Better Vision institute. The sense of touch in congenitally blind persons gives little indication of size.

Naval Base
A small fishing village in Adm. Matthew C. Perry's day, Sasebo, Japan, was selected in the early 1880s to be one of the naval bases to supplement the empire's chief base at Yokosuka in Tokyo Bay. Frequent reports since World War I have indicated extensive development of Sasebo, but tourists of the 1920s and 1930s were skilfully steered away from the region of the base.

Pipe Covering
Condensation from cold water pipes can be prevented by pipe covering which is made for this purpose. Basement walls should be made waterproof by the application of tar or some other reliable water proofing material. Drain tile or fiber pipe should be laid around the outside of the foundation and the lot should be graded away from the house.

Botulinus Spores
It is established that botulinus spores may survive boiling temperatures for as long as six hours, but are readily destroyed by the higher temperatures such as can be obtained in a pressure cooker. Botulinus spores which escape destruction by inadequate processing of any foods, and especially home-canned foods, may again germinate and grow, producing a deadly poison even at ordinary room or storage temperatures.

Manufacture Food
Green plants are the only living things that manufacture their own food from inert, inorganic matter. Without sunlight they would be unable to carry on their food conversion processes.

Move Ladder
If you're picking fruit, use the right kind of ladder and move it frequently to avoid tumbles by over-reaching. Falls from haystacks, haymows, windmills and roofs account for thousands of accidents.

DETROIT EDISON LINES

Timely items concerning your electric service, suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliances, and many other things of interest and value will appear from time to time in "Edison Lines." Make "Edison Lines" a reading habit!

COLD CATHODE LIGHTING . . . Similar in appearance to fluorescent lighting, with the added virtues of instant starting and extra long life, cold cathode lighting promises to have greatly increased use for interior illumination after the war. Since the tubing can be bent to almost any conceivable shape, "made to order" lighting installations will offer unique decorative possibilities. Various colors and patterns will be available, and the tubes will soon be manufactured in standard 8-foot lengths.

INFORMATION, PLEASE . . . The electric business is extremely technical. Knotty problems are continually popping up. When one of our engineers encounters a $64 question that he can't answer, he usually fires it at the Research Department. The variety of subjects investigated is startling. For example: "What will be the trend of the water level of the Detroit River in the near future?" Water level has an important bearing on the design of power plants. And almost equally vital: "In the oven of an electric range, how strong should the racks be to support the weight of a Thanksgiving turkey without sagging?"

CHINESE RECIPE . . . Perhaps this recipe is no more Chinese than chop suey, but our Home Service Department recommends it highly:

Chinese Omelet

½ cup uncooked rice	3 eggs, separated
4 tbsp. butter	¼ tsp. paprika
4 tbsp. all-purpose enriched flour	1¼ tsp. salt
¾ tsp. dry mustard
2 cups milk	4 tbsp. grated cheese

Cook rice till tender. Rinse with hot and cold water. Make sauce of butter, flour and milk. Cook until thickened. Beat egg yolks. Add rice, sauce, seasonings and cheese. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into greased shallow pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Serves six.

ALL BUT THE SQUEAL . . . The meat packing companies are noted for squeezing every bit of useful meat, bone and bristle from a pig. But when it comes to minimizing waste, the Edison company takes a back seat to no one. We are constantly seeking ways to re-use discarded equipment and material. Better methods of joining odd lengths of wire, ways of re-using salvaged pipe insulation, more rapid means of cleaning old electrical insulators . . . all are typical of our constant search to effect economies. These savings—and thousands of others like them—have much to do with the steady downward trend in the cost of electricity.

—The Detroit Edison Co.

Improve Helldiver and Speed Up the Output

COLUMBUS, OHIO.—A new model Helldiver, the Curtiss SB2C-3, with a larger engine and a four-bladed propeller adding speed, climb, ceiling and range to a warplane already rated the world's best of its type, was announced during a navy-sponsored visit to the Curtiss-Wright corporation plant here.

The Helldiver made its fighting debut at Rabaul last November 11 and has been in most of the Pacific action since that date.

Despite 75 major design revisions and changes in 3,500 parts, a navy official said the new model was being produced "in ever increasing numbers" and that it was "joining the fleet so rapidly it soon will be on all the navy's new carriers."

The navy accepted seven times as many in the first three months of 1944 than in the similar period last year.

Siren Helps Surgeons

NEW YORK.—A baby siren which shrieks when it gets close to human flesh where a bit of metal is buried was exhibited to the Medical Society of the State of New York recently.

The siren goes up the scale as it nears the metal, and changes so accurately that by the sound a physician can judge just about how close he is and whether he is approaching the metal broadside, or end on.

The finder was shown in the scientific exhibit of Dr. John J. Moorhead of New York city. It is a new development in a metal finding finger which was made at his suggestion several years ago. The inventor is Samuel Berman, research and test engineer, of the New York city transit system. A box which a man can carry easily in one hand contains the entire apparatus. It plugs into an ordinary light socket.

Chinese Youths Donate

Fund to Buy 40 Planes

CHUNGKING, CHINA.—The Kuomintang's (government political party) youth corps presented 8,000,000 Chinese dollars to the Chinese government for the purchase of 40 fighter planes. The ceremony was held at Chungking's parade ground, where government leaders also inspected 5,000 Boy Scouts and Girl Guides. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, in a nationwide message, urged the young people of China to "realize the magnitude of the responsibilities that this great epoch has thrust upon their shoulders and to do their utmost in carrying the task of national reconstruction to a successful conclusion."

Economic Loss

Public accidents cost $2,700,000,000 in lost wages, medical expense and insurance overhead in 1943. Production delays, property damage, fire losses and incidental lost time accounted for another $2,200,000,000—a total of $4,900,000,000.

Check Medicine Chest

Medicine chests need periodic cleanings, not only to check up on supplies of first-aid materials but also to make sure that the shelves are spotless. Empty the chest, wash the walls and shelves with soap and water, dry thoroughly with a soft clean cloth, and replace all the needed articles that have a proper place in the chest. An uncluttered chest is a godsend when an emergency arises, and a clean one is the only suitable receptacle for medical supplies.

Machine Milked

If an expert hand milker can milk a cow in about eight minutes, a machine should do the job in four minutes. The majority of cows can be trained to milk on a time schedule and such milking saves labor, produces more milk, and tends to reduce mastitis.

Joan of Arc

The Maid of Orleans was burned to death in Rouen, France, in 1431, following the English conquest of Normandy.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Twenty-five Years Ago.
October 3, 1919.

Citizens of Lamotte township arranged for a big celebration and homecoming in honor of the soldiers and sailors of the townships of Lamotte, Marlette, Kingston, Evergreen, Moretown and Greenleaf at Decker on Oct. 1. A musical program by the Cass City band and "Mack" McLeod of Port Huron was given, and sports filled the rest of the afternoon. A long table was spread the entire length of the lumber shed of the Decker Grain Co. and here were gathered more substantial and appetizing foods to the square foot than had been seen in many a day, a fitting conclusion to the day's program.

The following is the program for the next meeting of the Woman's Study club on Oct. 6: "English Possessions in America," Mrs. James Tennant; "Rudyard Kipling, Life and Works," Mrs. F. J. Nash; "Bible Contest," Mrs. I. B. Auten; "Contemporary English Statesmen," Mrs. J. L. Cathcart. Roll call, Current Events in England and Canada. Hostess, Mrs. Grover Burke.

Ernest Croft, who was employed in the Exchange Bank before entering Uncle Sam's service, resumed his position there Oct. 1.

Two representatives of the Detroit Aviation Co. arrived in Cass City one day with an aeroplane and took five citizens as passengers on 15-minute trips during the afternoon. E. J. Dailey took the initial trip and was followed by Harry Young, Clare Davenport, Sherman Bey, and M. B. Auten. The passenger fare was $15 a trip.

Thirty-five Years Ago.
October 1, 1909.

Miss Anna Black, a teacher in the Caro schools, has recently entered upon her 47th year as a teacher, a record unbroken save for one year. Out of the 46 years, 36 were spent as an instructor in the Caro public schools.

The next meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Schweitzer on Oct. 8. The following program will be given: Selection by Mrs. J. A. Schweitzer; solo by Mrs. H. W. Clough; reading by Mrs. T. L. Tibbals; and a 15 minute talk by Rev. W. B. Weaver.

The M. E. Ladies' Aid will serve a 15c supper in the basement of the church on Oct. 6.

The time of the afternoon train on the P. O. & N. R. R. was changed Monday. It leaves Cass City earlier than before, the time being 3:23.

Dr. A. N. Treadgold returned from his western trip during which he visited interesting points in several states. He was absent for two months.

The Chronicle is printed two days earlier this week on account of the fair.

Under the new truancy law as amended, parents are liable to fine and imprisonment if they keep their children out of school without permission. School officers are expected to see to it that the law is fully enforced.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

rector, respectively, of the Michigan Office of Veteran Affairs, a state agency.

Talk about preparation for Johnny! Pine Lake is it!

Here's how the vocational school will operate.

Thanks to the wonders of modern medicine, more veterans will come home from World War II than from any war in world history. Battle casualties are less fatal. Disabilities will be more numerous.

Hence, care of the disabled veteran is more important today than ever.

The Pine Lake camp, originally built by W. K. Kellogg, for children, at a cost of $470,000, will be available to disabled Michigan veterans who are eligible for the services of rehabilitation, re-fitting them to a new life of usefulness. The capacity will be 250 veterans. The training period will vary from 90 to 120 days. Thus, a year's training load of approximately 1,000 veterans is now anticipated.

Pine Lake camp will provide disabled veterans with vocational training in metal work, machine shop, woodwork, gas welding, blueprint and drafting, office practice, cooking and baking, and watchmaking. At a $100,000 annual budget, the camp will offer educational training with all meals and lodging at no cost.

Ten veterans and two civilians are now enrolled in preliminary classes—proof that present activity is being confined to preparation for tomorrow's responsibilities. Instructors are John Van Puffelen, Grand Rapids watchmaker, and Aubrey Hansen, office practice teacher, recently with the Chrysler Corporation in Detroit. Camp superintendent is Hugh F. Pierce, formerly of the Bendix Products in South Bend, Indiana, and the Clark Equipment Company at Buchanan, Michigan.

When Johnny comes home, he must visit the local selective service board to get official papers entitling him to re-employment. Then he is urged to call at the local veterans' counselling center to obtain information and counsel on any of the following: Housing, health, education, law, employment and claims—to enumerate the leading subject.

If he cannot find employment, he will be eligible to receive unemployment compensation of $20 per week for 26 to 62 weeks, depending upon the length of his military service.

The U. S. veterans administration's hospital at Dearborn, a 350-bed institution, will be expanded soon to accommodate approximately 1,500 service men and women.

When the World War I veteran was demobilized, he received $60 in cash. Congress had slashed appropriations for the U. S. employment service. The labor market was glutted; payrolls were cut. Yes, times have changed!

Michigan has more than 500,000 men and women in the armed services today.

Hence, the importance of adequate preparedness today to take care of some of these veterans tomorrow, when V-Day in Europe arrives and part of our war tasks will be terminated.

Work of the Office of Veteran Affairs and the State Board of Control at Pine Lake is graphic proof that Michigan is right on the job—in fact, leading the entire nation in giving Johnny a break, and for the first time.

Not First Caught
New York state conservation department surveys on the Wiscoy and East Coy creeks have revealed for the second successive year that, contrary to general belief, the most recently planted trout are not the first ones caught.

Rearing Chicks
Less labor is involved in rearing chicks under an electric brooder than under a kerosene or coal-burning brooder. Anyone handy with tools can construct an efficient hover of wood.

Costly Loss
It is estimated that the cost to industry for the loss of one eye is approximately $12,000, and that the cost for the loss of both eyes runs as high as $40,000.

Make application for B and C renewal at least 10 days before rations are exhausted.

Fuel Oil.
Period 4 and 5 coupons and new period 1 coupons good throughout coming heating year.

Tire Inspection.
Keep those tire inspection records until you get your new mileage rationing record form along with your new "A" book, OPA says. Since discontinuance of periodic tire inspection last April, tire inspection records have been kept primarily as a record of gasoline rations issued each automobile and will no longer be necessary when the new form is issued. The new "A" book will go into use on Sept. 22.

Stove Rationing.
The rationing of coal and wood stoves to consumers will end Oct. 15, the War Production Board and OPA have announced, although rationing of oil and gas stoves will continue. Supplies of coal and wood stoves have grown sufficiently since nationwide rationing started in August, 1943, to make continued rationing unnecessary.

CHAPLAIN MOSURE WRITES OF DUTIES AT CAMP BOWIE

There is an altar in the front which may be arranged to suit the needs of the Catholic, Jewish or Protestant chaplain. In the balcony at the back is a Hammond electric organ which provides the proper setting for all services of Divine worship. Our government has spent a great deal of money in providing adequate houses of worship for our men, and they are being used for exactly that purpose. Most of our work just now is that of a Christian friend and adviser to the men. Though all chaplains hold rank, we do not command. We are just like civilian ministers, and the men know that. Consequently the men feel free to come to us whenever they desire and lay their problems before us. If the chaplain is understanding he can do a great deal for the men. He can act as a link in the chain of life between the enlisted men and the officers of command. We have many and varied problems come to our attention. The men come to you with every type of problem from those arising out of home-sickness or self-pity to problems of domestic background. It is a sad commentary on our American home life, and our moral atrophy, but it is a fact that many of our problems arise out of the unwillingness of both husbands and wives, lovers and sweethearts who are separated by the war, to keep faith with each other. One's heart fairly breaks when he knows through adequate investigation that many such conditions exist. So far as I can see, there is only one answer, and that is for people to lay hold upon the spirit of Christ; a Spirit that is redemptive and then, and only then can they truly meet these seemingly unsurmountable problems in a victorious manner.

The training period includes long road marches, periods out in the field, etc. On all of these the chaplain will be with his men. When we hike with them in the burning sun, sleep with them out under the heavens, we cannot help but feel a nearness to them, and they to us. As chaplains that is a part of our responsibility, and we are glad to do it.

If and when our hospital unit gets overseas the work of the chaplain will be entirely with the sick and wounded. The giving of the Holy Sacrament, devotional ministrations to the sick and dying will all be a part of our work as well as ministering to the regular staff of doctors, nurses and enlisted men. It is a glorious opportunity to live in the Spirit of Christ among men, and I am eternally thankful for the opportunity. Whenever you, our friends of Cass City have time to write, both Mrs. Mosure and I will be very happy to hear from you. And to you, Mr. and Mrs. Lenzner, our best wishes and God's blessing upon you and yours. I am Cordially as ever,
DUDLEY MOSURE.

Symbol on Dime
The bundle of sticks on the reverse side of the dime is the ancient Roman fasces, rods bound about a protruding ax, which was the symbol of unity and strength. These fasces were borne by lictors before the Roman magistrates to indicate authority. The entwining holly branch on the dime stands for peace. The design is the work of Alexander Weinman, sculptor.
