Blood Donor Unit Coming to Tuscola Nov. 20, 21, 22

Will Be at Murray Hall in Wahjamega; Donors to Register Before Nov. 9

A blood donor unit from the Michigan Department of Health is coming to Tuscola county and will be at Murray hall in Wahjamega on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 20, 21 and 22. Local persons from 18 to 50 years of age wishing to donate blood for plasma are requested to get in contact with Mrs. E. W. Kercher, Cass City, on or before Nov. 9 to register.

Only well persons are accepted as donors. Donors under the age of 21 years must bring with them the written consent of one of their parents. Persons noticeably underweight, or who weigh less than 115 are not accepted as donors. Persons cannot be accepted who have ever had active tuberculosis, diabetes, undulant fever, epilepsy, or who give a history of recent surgery.

Plasma is used primarily by the army for the purpose of treating wounds and burns. The corresponding civilian uses are accidents and burns. Plasma, however, has a much wider usefulness than in the treatment of such cases. It may be stated that with few exceptions, plasma may be used in any condition in which a whole blood transfusion might be used, and that for many of these conditions it has certain advantages over whole blood. Specifically, it may be

"Use the Right We Are Defending for the Future that We Guard"

LOOK over to the right, Boss; that's a picture of you. You have got a big date coming up next Tuesday . . . you're going to hire yourself a high-salaried employee. Two main applicants for the job (names: Frank and Tom) and the final decision is up to you.

Yes, Boss you're going to pick yourself a President of the United States—a hired general manager qualified to direct the complicated machinery of your Government—a public servant to enforce the laws your representatives in Congress make—a federal employee who gets a four-year contract at $75,000 a year.

It's the most important job you've ever had to do. Don't undertake it lightly.

The man you choose as President will carry the heaviest responsibilities in history. He will be clothed with vast, if strictly limited, powers. He will be, constitutionally, the supreme military commander of a nation in arms. In the councils of nations he will represent the might and majesty of the American people. His will be the task of winning a great war—of helping to write a lasting peace—of meeting the perplexing post-war problems of demobilization, reconversion, re-employment; it will be his job to relax the disciplines of the war, surrender wartime controls, balance the federal budget—and to do all these things without jeopardy to the nation.

The duty of choosing the man who must perform these tasks is not given to a few so-called "wise-men." It is left to the collective wisdom of the People of the United States—and that means you and Americans like you.

And so, between now and Election Day, consider the great issues. Try to look beyond yourself and your own personal problems. Heed but don't be over-swayed by obvious partisan propaganda.

You're the Boss. You're Judge and Jury. At the moment when you cast your ballot, you're the Supreme Arbiter of the destinies of the United States of America. Cast your vote, therefore, in a spirit of mingled humility and pride. Cast it in a spirit of consecration. It is a sacrament.

Cast it only after careful thought, meditation—and prayer.

BE SURE TO VOTE ON ELECTION DAY—TUESDAY, NOV. 7

Get Out the Vote Is Farm Bureau Plan for Nov. 7

County President Gives Figures to Prove How Each Vote Is Important

Jesse Treiber, president of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau, called a special meeting of all township leaders and county board members for Friday evening, Nov. 3, at the Montague hotel in Caro. This meeting, he said, was called to discuss and to formulate important resolutions to the State Farm Bureau convention at East Lansing Nov. 9 and 10, and to participate in the "get-out-the-vote" campaign now being conducted by the American Farm Bureau Federation on a strictly non-partisan basis.

Mr. Treiber expects to disclose some interesting figures contained in an analysis of past election results which he obtained from C. J. Reid, president of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, in stressing the importance of all qualified men and women going to the polls and voting Nov. 7.

In the 1940 presidential election, according to figures given by Mr. Reid, there was a difference of

Sgt. Root Awarded The Purple Heart

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Root, Sr., were surprised when their son, Sgt. Jerome Root, Jr., walked in Thursday morning of last week. He has been released from the Crile General hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, where he has been a patient since June 17. Sgt. Jerome had been awarded the purple heart and the citation ribbon before leaving the hospital. He left the States in July, 1943, for overseas duty and has been in the major battles. He has a 21-day furlough and then will return to Miami Beach, Florida, for reassignment.

FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE SANILAC COUNTY

They Are Whispering.
The Social Welfare Board of three members, George J. Lee and Grant H. Smith, were appointed by the Board of Supervisors, Edward D. Keys by the State.

It is being whispered that I set the salaries for members of said board. It is a false statement. The Board of Supervisors fix all salaries and they are the only body having jurisdiction in said matter.

I have no more rights, as to salaries, than I had to the action taken in Gogebic County, Michigan, in 1943. It follows, on May 20, 1943, Michael E. Nolan, probate judge of the above named county, was removed from office on charges that he collected excessive fees to perform secret marriages and to waive a state law requiring physical examinations of prospective brides and bridegrooms. He, being an attorney, was also disbarred.

In this campaign I have made statements of facts that can be proven and I will expect the same rule to be followed by my opponent or his supporters, should any last day article appear. Enough time to reply was given, without waiting to the last day.

Have we in Sanilac County any just cause to criticize another county, our State or National Government for misdeeds if we do not correct conditions within our own borders?

I have given you facts, can give more, and the matter is now left to the voters for their decision, Tuesday, November 7th.

My name will appear on the Nonpartisan ballot for Judge of Probate. A cross in the ☐ before my name will be greatly appreciated.

GRANT H. SMITH.

High School Here Has Adopted New Citizenship Plan

Standards Raised for the Honor Students; Pupils and Teachers Make Plans

For some time, there has been a feeling on the part of both students and teachers of the Cass City high school that much improvement might be made in the methods by which good school citizenship is stimulated and rewarded. On every hand, schools are being told that developing good habits of citizenship is by far their greatest function. In the face of this, it was felt that the methods at the disposal toward that end were hopelessly futile and unorganized. This feeling culminated in the formation last spring of a committee of students and teachers to formulate plans for increased attention to student citizenship.

This committee presented the outlines of a citizenship plan to students and the plan was discussed in the home rooms before the close of the school year. Again this fall the plan was presented, with some changes, and, after discussion by the students, was favored by over 80 per cent of them, either in its present form, or with still further modifications. It has been the purpose of the school administration, by allowing the students full voice in the formulating of the plan, to make it such as will have their complete approval and support when finally adopted.

Because certain difficulties still remain to be overcome with respect to portions of the proposed plan, only a limited number of its points have been adopted at present. As these difficulties are overcome, it is hoped to extend and expand the plan until it will provide a well organized and fully equipped scheme for the encouragement and reward of good student citizenship.

Four Schools in Spelling Contest

Fifteen pupils from the Wilmot, Deford, Brown and Crawford schools participated in an old fashioned spelling bee at the Crawford school Tuesday evening where Mrs. Irma Hicks is the teacher. More than $40.00 was realized from a box social which was held following the spelling bee.

A SERIOUS MESSAGE

To Every Michigan Voter!

THOMAS E. DEWEY
Vice President

HARRY F. KELLY
Governor of Michigan

Through New-Deal-controlled depression, for 10 years we have seen our liberties disappear. Year after year, millions have been forced to live on New Deal doles. Even Churchill, in 1937, accused the New Deal, through its persecution of capital, of forcing the world back into another depression! To restore our liberties, protect our freedom of speech, our vote and our opportunities to progress, vote for Dewey's program. To preserve good government in Michigan, re-elect Governor Harry F. Kelly!

DEWEY'S PROGRAM:

An administration devoted to public service instead of bureaucratic bickering.

An administration working in harmony with Congress.

An administration in which the Cabinet is restored as a responsible instrument of Government.

An administration in which you will not have to support three men to do one man's job.

An administration which will root out waste and bring order out of chaos.

An administration which will give the people of this country value received for the taxes they pay.

An administration made up of the ablest men and women in America who will receive full authority to do their jobs and will be let alone to do them.

An administration free from the influence of Communists and the domination of corrupt big city machines.

An administration in which the Constitution is respected so that the liberties of our people shall again be secure.

An administration which will devote itself to the single-minded purpose of jobs and opportunity for all.

KELLY'S RECORD:

Distribution of blood plasma to civilians, a program which the medical profession says is saving 1,000 lives a year.

Statewide tuberculosis diagnosis program.

Pioneering in postwar adult education and preparing for return of veterans to civilian life.

More adequate aid for dependent children.

Increased assistance to aged.

More liberal assistance to injured workmen.

Correlation of tourist and resort agencies.

Providing recreation facilities for "starved" metropolitan areas.

Youth guidance program designed to prevent delinquency.

Orderly future planning under State Planning Commission.

A farm program administered and approved by practical farmers.

Should the incompetent, radical-supported New Deal continue, we may end with dictatorship. THIS may be your last chance to vote for the preservation of your freedoms.

The Detroit Edison Company maintains an "X-ray" that looks inside wooden poles to discover the invisible beginnings of decay—for the half-million wood poles that support our lines must be structurally sound. DEWEY SCORES ONE MAN GOVERNMENT

Striking hard at the two major pleas on which the New Deal Candidate seeks to perpetuate himself in office for sixteen years, Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican nominee for President, last week subjected America's Foreign Policy and domestic labor relations program to searching analysis in speeches in New York and Pittsburgh.

Scoring the Roosevelt policy of secrecy and "one-man" diplomacy in the field of foreign relations, Governor Dewey presented to the New York Herald Tribune Forum meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on the evening of October 18th, a concrete program for the future course of this nation in seeking to assure a permanent peace.

"One-man" rule by Roosevelt on the home front has endangered the hard won rights of labor and threatened the future economic security of the working man," Governor Dewey stated at a rally in the heart of industrial Pittsburgh, Friday night, October 20th.

"Every American must learn the inescapable conclusion," Governor Dewey said in his Forum address. "We must never again run the risk of permitting war to break loose in the world. Together with all freedom-loving people, we have had a narrow escape. We dare not take another chance. This war must be the last war."

"To this end, the United States must take the lead in establishing a world organization to prevent future wars," he continued.

"If we are to be successful in our future labors to bring about lasting peace, they cannot be the property of one party or one man. They must draw their strength from all our people, everywhere. Only a united America can exercise the influence on the world for which its strength and ideals have equipped it."

"I am equally convinced that to the extent that we leave our international relations to the personal secret diplomacy of the President, our effort to achieve a lasting peace will fail."

"The restoration of free Poland is the outstanding symbol of what we are fighting for. Mr. Roosevelt undertook to handle this matter personally and secretly with Mr. Stalin. At their only meeting, neither our Secretary of State nor the Under-Secretary was present. Instead Mr. Roosevelt took along Mr. Harry Hopkins who acquires his training in foreign affairs in running the WP."

"Mr. Roosevelt, nevertheless, has not yet even secured Russian recognition of those whom we consider to be the true government of Poland. Neither was it possible to save that immortal group of Polish patriots, led by General Bor, who, as they believed, in coordination with Russia, only to be abandoned."

"Some 15 months have passed since Italy's surrender. We have sent over a batch of alphabetical agencies. They brought with them invasion currency bearing the legend 'Freedom from want. Freedom from fear.' What a mockery that must seem to the Italian people. Here is the comment of the Vice President of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, who has just returned from Italy. He reports 'Mass unemployment, hunger, despair, degradation, delinquency and painful disappointment ... because the Allies have not helped the Italian people help themselves.' He quotes the solemn warning of the Pope as follows: 'The great democracies must show greater interest and concern for Italy if she is not to plunge from one dictatorship into another.'"

"The Italian people deserve something better than the improvised, inefficient administration which personal New Deal government is giving them."

"Our experience in Italy should have brought about timely decisions on how to handle the invasion and occupation of Germany."

RESCUE

Party for Eighth Birthday—

As Jimmy McAlpine's birthday was Sunday, Oct. 29, he entertained 12 friends at a masquerade birthday party on Saturday afternoon. Prizes were given and lunch was served to the guests. Jimmy received many nice gifts.

Farewell Party—

The neighbors held a farewell party Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Twilton Heron for Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McKee and nephews, who moved to Hillsdale last Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. McKee were presented with a gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva McAlpine and son, Jimmy, spent Friday in Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Loos and children of Port Huron spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. DeEtte J. Mellendorf, and called on other relatives.

Raymond D. Webster and nephew, Kenneth Erwin, took another nephew, Billy Erwin, to his home in Detroit Saturday after he had visited at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, a few days. They returned home again on Sunday.

Mrs. Roy Stafford of Cass City and cousin, Chellis Coghlan, of Ontario spent two days with C. E. Hartsell last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Guisbert and children attended the wedding of Miss Barbara Kinnee and Pvt. Lloyd Bedford of Camp Hood,

"There was a conference involving this very vital subject between the President and Mr. Churchill at Quebec last month. Did Mr. Roosevelt take the Secretary of War or the Secretary of State to the conference? As usual, he took neither. Instead, he took with him, the Secretary of the Treasury. In the end, the Treasury plan was scrapped."

"Meanwhile, Germany's propaganda Minister, Goebbels, has seized upon the episode to terrify the Germans into fanatical resistance."

"Look at Rumania. On September 12, 1944, an agreement was made restoring peaceful relations. This was no mere military armistice. That agreement fixed the future frontiers of Rumania. It disposed of Bessarabia and Transylvania, two of the worst trouble spots of Europe. It dealt with economic matters."

"Now, who negotiated and signed that agreement? It was signed by the authority of the government of the U.S.S.R., the United Kingdom and the United States by Malinovsky. That treaty was signed by a representative of Soviet Russia acting in behalf of the United States."

"The day after it was signed, the Secretary of State of the United States declined to comment on the ground that the terms had not been received from Moscow in time for study."

"These are just a few examples of what happens when a President insists upon handling foreign affairs on the basis of personal, secret diplomacy."

"Our objectives and our methods must be known to our people and approved by them so they will be willing to support them and to sacrifice for them in all the years to come. Ten million Americans are making sacrifices today beyond any our nation has seen before. Some will come home permanently scarred. Some will never return. These tragedies must not visit us again. Our dead must not have died in vain."

In his address on labor at Pittsburgh, Governor Dewey asserted that the New Deal reputation as the friend of labor was false.

"I say that social gains are not the property of any party," Governor Dewey stated. "They're the property of the people of the United States and no party can exploit them for its own political profit. Good laws are necessary but they are not enough. Social progress needs vigorous protection and promotion all the time. It needs the nourishment of competent government."

"The New Deal has posed for years as the friend of labor. But today it has turned collective bargaining into political bargaining."

"With legal process tossed out the window by act of Mr. Roosevelt, the railroad workers were forced to hire someone who knew his way around the White House. So the Railroad Brotherhoods had to hire Mr. Roosevelt's third-term national chairman—(that eminent authority on Belgian paying blocks, Boss Flynn of the Bronx. This was the man who once appointed the notorious gangster and gunman, Dutch Schultz, as a deputy sheriff of the Bronx. And did Mr. Roosevelt's political manager lend his aid for nothing? The price of his services to the railroad workers of America was $25,000."

"That sort of business must come to an end in this country."

"The time has come to face the facts that the New Deal is a bankrupt organization living only to extend its power over the daily lives of our people. It did some good things in its youth, but now it seeks to live on its past."

"The years that lie ahead will be largely peacetime years. They will bring great problems and great opportunities. Let us determine now that we shall work together in unity as free Americans under an Administration that believes in the future of America."

Texas, at a Gratiot Avenue church in Port Huron Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlan Hartwick and children of Cass City were Thursday afternoon callers at the Stanley B. Mellendorf home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Guisbert were in Bay City and also called to see Mr. Guisbert's sister, Miss Orpha Guisbert, at Gifford last Monday.

The Grant-Elkland Grange will meet on Friday evening, Nov. 10, with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Muntz in Cass City.

Mrs. Frederick Withey returned home last Saturday after visiting at her parental home in Kentucky a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maharg spent Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Burdon of Gagetown.

Replaces Tung Oil

By dehydration methods, castor oil's principal use during wartime has been as a replacement for tung oil in the manufacture of waterproof protective coatings. Development of transportation in northern Brazil and an assured market in the United States for babassu kernels would provide a needed insulation in this hemisphere against a future shortage of a necessary high-glycerin-yielding soap fat from raw materials produced only in the tropical zone. There are also vast undeveloped areas of tropical oil nut palms in Central America that will some day help supply the world's needs.

Diamond Tools

Diamond drills are not only responsible for the success of much of our mineral exploration work, but diamond dies, abrasive wheels, precision tools and diamond dust have greatly speeded the output of finished products.

There Would Be Less

Perplexity

If there were more widespread knowledge about funeral service quality, prices and values there would be much less perplexity at the time of bereavement.

A few minutes' talk with us makes it clear that it is a comparatively simple matter for a family to choose an appropriate service at a price in keeping with its needs or wishes.

FACTS about Proposal No. 4

1. Elected officials of local governments in 23 Michigan counties are vigorously opposed to Proposal No. 4 which imposes Detroit rule on 11 cities and 18 townships in Wayne county. It constitutes the entering wedge for destruction of responsible government in every county of Michigan.

2. It vitally concerns all of Michigan. The so-called county home rule plan FIRST applied to ALL counties. It was beaten by Michigan voters in 1934 and 1936. The Wayne county scheme was rejected in 1942. Let's bury this threat for all time! Defeat Proposal No. 4!

3. Let Detroit clean house first in Detroit! Here is the record of Detroit city officials and Detroit state legislators, now elected AT LARGE:

CONVICTED! One-third of Detroit city council, mayor and many police officials.

CONVICTED! A majority of Detroit state legislators in 1944. Proposal No. 4 would impose AT LARGE elections with non-partisan ballots upon Wayne county, despite Detroit's record of corruption under that system.

4. Proposal No. 4 would destroy responsible county government. Wayne county has the lowest tax rate and bonded debt of any county of its size in the nation. Contrasted to the county's 13 per cent debt DECREASE since 1919, Detroit's debt has soared more than 11 times—$30,627,253 to $332,125,738. Detroit city taxes have doubled, while the county tax rate goes downward—dropping another 14 cents on Dec. 1, 1944.

The portions of the plan adopted at present include:

1. A change in the citizenship rating scale to the following form: 4—Superior conduct and contribution. 3—Better than average citizenship. 2—Average. 1—Below average in conduct and contribution. 0—Failure in citizenship. Poorly adjusted school citizen.

2. Citizenship ratings are to be given, not only by subject matter teachers but also in study hall, athletics, and all other supervised activities, with or without credit.

3. Citizenship ratings, as well as academic grades, will be entered in the permanent records and will also be considered in determining the honor roll at the end of each marking period and the honor status at graduation. At present the standard of B average in academic grades and 3 average in citizenship has been set for the honor roll with the omission of the total points previously listed for each honor student.

Parts of the plan still under consideration but not worked out in detail include:

1. Honor point deductions for such things as excessive unexcused absence, tardiness, or infractions of school rules and regulations.

2. Honor point "bonuses" for perfect attendance or freedom from tardiness during certain periods of time.

3. Additional points for meritorious service to the school in some activity for which no regular credit is otherwise given as in dramatics, athletics, school activities, etc. To be awarded annually or at end of each semester.

4. A required number of honor points per year for graduation, just as a certain number of units of academic credit are now required.

It is expected that, as with any new plan, there will be some difficulties experienced until the plan has been under way for some time. Every attempt will be made to minimize these and to overcome them as they appear, toward the end that the real purpose of the plan may be achieved, namely, better school citizens today and, therefore, better world citizens for tomorrow.

The honor roll for the first marking period, computed according to the new, higher standards previously set forth, appears below. It is felt that, since the inclusion of the citizenship rating has considerably raised the hurdles for those who achieve placement as honor students, it will also mean that being named on the honor list will, in the future, be a greater distinction than ever before.

Food Waste

Half of all the produce grown in the United States goes to waste, it is said.

Hidden Gold Saves High Protein Feed

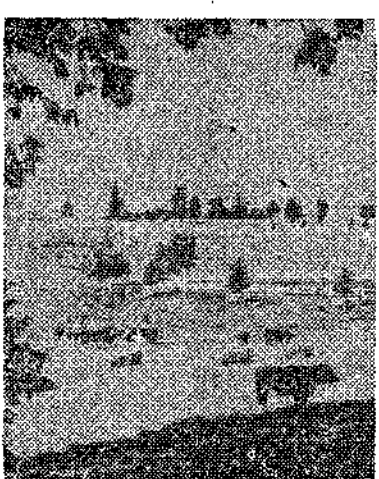

Proper Fertilizers Essential War Need

Good pasture will provide livestock growers with "hidden gold" in the form of beef-making feeds that will conserve vitally needed protein crops, if proper management methods are followed.

"Pasture must continue to occupy a more essential place in the nation's livestock producing program until the war's end for several reasons," a statement by the Middle West Soil Improvement committee points out. "Shortages of labor and machinery have shown no signs of marked improvement. The scarcity of high protein feeds continues. Because of these facts, farmers will have to rely on pasture crops as a major source of sustenance for their livestock."

"Grains will, of course, be fed but farmers will want to use every bushel of grain where it will help make the most meat."

"Practical experience of successful livestock growers has demonstrated that high-producing pasture combinations will yield a beef pound."

age per acre that compares favorably with the return from crops with higher seeding, tillage and harvest costs. For instance, a mixture of alfalfa and brome grass made more than 3 pounds of beef an acre daily in a test in Michigan.

"Bringing pastures to a high production level and maintaining them at this rate requires good management methods. This means following a soil conservation program that builds up fertility and provides plant foods that will assure a good stand of legumes and grasses. In such a program the use of a fertilizer containing phosphorus and potash plays an important part."

"Where a permanent pasture crop is planned, farmers will find generally that a top dressing of fertilizer this fall will pay for itself many times in producing earlier and more succulent grass for spring grazing next year as well as a heavier growth later."

"Agronomists at state colleges and experiment stations are glad to cooperate with farmers in providing information covering the most effective use of fertilizers on pasture crops. One important fact should be borne in mind in considering the soil's nutritional needs. This fact is that while crops such as alfalfa and clover add to the soil's nitrogen supply, they eat up its phosphorus and potash reserves."

Wild Plants Studied For Vitamin Content

Experiments to determine the vitamin value of various wild plants have been conducted by the U. S. department of agriculture, looking to a time when other sources of important vitamins might be lacking.

Buffalobery, a native fruit of the western states and one of the popular fruit-bearing shrubs recommended for erosion control, proved exceptionally rich in ascorbic acid (vitamin C). A generous serving of the berries was found to furnish about twice the standard daily allowance of vitamin C. Jam made from the berries contained about two-thirds as much of this vitamin as the fresh fruit.

New Hampshire-grown wild blueberries were found to contain a fair supply of vitamin C if eaten raw. Experiments showed wild rice as a good source of several B vitamins—thiamine, riboflavin, nicotinic acid, and pantothenic acid. And ordinary field mushrooms, Agaricus campestris, were also found to be rich in these four B vitamins.

Whole Milk Selling

A quarter of a million farmers have switched from selling farm-separated cream to selling whole milk during the last five years. Farm sales of whole milk at wholesale increased from 40 billion pounds average for 1935-39 to 60 billion pounds last year, a jump of 50 per cent. The total gain in farm milk production. It is not expected that postwar conditions will change this picture to any degree.

Albert Gallagher Injured in Fall

Albert Gallagher was badly injured in a fall from a tree while picking apples at his farm home northwest of Cass City last Thursday. As a result, the rocking bone in his heel was injured, two ankle bones broken and both bones between the knee and ankle fractured. All these injuries occurred in his left leg. Bones in his left arm were also broken and his elbow dislocated. A cut in his forehead was not considered serious.

Mr. Gallagher was taken to Pleasant Home hospital where he remained until Tuesday morning when he was removed to University hospital in Ann Arbor. On Wednesday the injured bone in his heel was removed and his foot and leg placed in a cast.

Mrs. Gallagher is with her husband in Ann Arbor.

Use, Don't Waste Senior Year Students Advised

Better use of the senior year in high school and not the abolition of it is urged by Dr. Albert C. Furstenberg, Dean of the Medical School of the University of Michigan.

The Dean, unlike other recent writers, does not fear the present war training will result in an oversupply of doctors. The new fields of health work opened up in the last decade, and the public's demand for better medical care remove any possibility of an over-supply, he believes.

Regarding the suggestion that the fourth year of high school could well be abolished, Dean Furstenberg is inclined to agree that, as things now stand in some schools, it could just as well be dropped, as far as any good to the graduating senior is concerned. But he urges that teaching changes be made so that the student will be genuinely benefited by that needed fourth year. "It should stress those factors which involve resourcefulness, self-reliance, independent thinking, and good study habits," he writes. "It is an appalling fact that many of our medical students fail scholastically because they cannot read."

Dentistry Coming Field, Says Dean

"Dentistry offers unusual opportunities to the young man and woman who has the necessary ability," Dean R. W. Bunting of the Dental School of the University of Michigan said in a broadcast addressed particularly to the high school boys and girls who are beginning to think about their life work.

But consider dentistry only if you are attracted toward it, he warned. The profession was not overcrowded before the war. After peace comes, he foresees more demand for dentists than ever before, chiefly because of two factors. Several million men who never before received dental care have had it in the Army and Navy; they have acquired the habit. Secondly, new and special fields are developing in addition to the general practitioner and these will absorb numbers of future graduates.

Contrary to widespread opinion, dentistry today consists of much more than filling or pulling teeth, Dean Bunting points out. Among the new fields are public health work, children's dentistry, mouth surgery and preventive care.

Youth Is Victim, Not Cause of Trouble

Talking on "Why Youth Is In Difficulty," Dean J. B. Edmonson of the University of Michigan's School of Education blames the home, the community and the school.

The home has shirked its duty by passing over much of the responsibility and load of training the children to other agencies.

The community has allowed its civic conscience to weaken; has allowed wrong conditions and influences to grow.

The school, in many places, still thinks of youth's needs as they were in 1900, not 1944.

Dean Edmonson made six specific suggestions:

Longer period of schooling with more vocational guidance. Root out bad influences in the community. More varied recreation programs. Better opportunities to get jobs. Better opportunities to work on civic projects. More training in applied democracy.

Perfect Fishing Rod

Use of impregnating resins seals split - bamboo rods permanently against moisture and bacterial deterioration. Resin adhesives form permanent joints. Similar process is used to produce better ski poles, billiard cues, violin bows, golf club shafts.

Oil Sprees

Sprees of oil-removal in the first years of a well's life make the last remaining supplies largely unrecoverable.

4-H Club Members Cull Over 40,000 Hens

Michigan State college poultry specialists during the summer and early fall months have schooled 221 4-H boys and girls in poultry culling methods, and these club members while in training have handled 40,000 hens in 256 flocks on farms in 42 counties in the state.

Thirty-seven culling schools were conducted this year by J. M. Moore and O. E. Shear, extension poultrymen. The training program was inaugurated in 1943 in cooperation with the college 4-H club department, with 27 schools held and 123 boys and girls trained.

Because of these schools skilled cullers are to be found in nearly every county in the state. Most of the boys and girls plan to use this newly acquired technique in their own and neighbors' flocks. This service is welcomed, since experienced cullers are often not plentiful.

Of the birds handled this year, nearly 11,000 unproductive hens were eliminated from the flocks and nearly 17,000 were found to have lice. Culling is advocated as a means of eliminating the unprofitable birds and saving feed.

Since it costs at least 50 cents to feed a bird through the molting season, it is estimated that flock owners were saved $5,500 and 137,000 pounds of feed by the culling operation.

Cass City Loses to Marlette 14-0

Marlette came to Cass City's home field and won 14 to 0.

The first touchdown for Marlette was made early in the first quarter. Then in the second quarter the Maroon and Gray were forced back to about the three yard line and had to kick. The kick was blocked and recovered by Marlette making the score 8 to 0 at the first half.

During the half both the Marlette and Cass City bands did their separate marching and playing, both bands supplying much entertainment for the crowd.

There was hard fighting in the third quarter but neither team scored.

In the last quarter Marlette scored again, making the score 14 to 0 in favor of Marlette.

The score:
Marlette 6 2 0 6 — 14

Tick Infection
Permanent reduction of ticks in any area is generally thought to be contingent on reducing the rodent population. The usual rodent control methods of gas, poison baits and trapping are of use, especially in parks and near human habitation. Destruction of underbrush and weeds has also been recommended. The family dog, whether it be the farmer's helper or the city picknicker's pet, may be a factor in infection. He himself is not subject to Rocky Mountain spotted fever, but he can bring infected ticks into the home from brushland, and is credited with having occasioned a number of cases.

Damaged By Fall
A fall may damage the thermostat of an iron or throw it out of adjustment. Dropping an iron may cause broken connections inside or may nick the sole plate, causing it to catch fabrics that are being ironed. Be careful how you place your iron when it's in use. Set it firmly on a stand or stand it on its heel, away from the edge of the ironing board.

Both formerly lived in this community.

May Infect Food
Insects, rats and mice, and other household pests not only destroy and pollute foods in obvious ways, but they may also infect them with microorganisms dangerous to health. The rat has been called the most destructive animal in the world, partly because it spreads bubonic plague, and the common house fly fully deserves the epithet "typhoid-fever" fly, and is also a known carrier of the bacteria of cholera, dysentery, and tuberculosis. Even the so-called "fly specks" often deposited on food and dishes may be infected with disease germs and the eggs of dangerous parasites.

Chinch Bugs
Chinch bugs hibernate in fence rows, wood lots, hedges and other similar situations that afford suitable cover. They do not overwinter in rye to any appreciable extent, but infest it and other small grains by random flight in the spring.

Pullet Disease
Pullet disease is a serious problem in poultry flocks and use of molasses, which contains potassium, is an effective treatment.

Election Day Results May Puzzle U. S.

Possible for Candidate to Lose After Winning Most Popular Vote.

WASHINGTON. — The constitution of the United States apportions electors to each state on the basis of their membership in congress. These electors, constituting an electoral college, are selected by each state, their names usually appearing on the ballots directly under the presidential candidate.

This year's electoral college will have 531 votes apportioned among the 48 states. New York with 47; Pennsylvania, 35; Illinois, 23 and California and Ohio with 25 each lead. Delaware, Nevada, Vermont, and Wyoming will have three each, one for each of their senators and one for their lone representative in congress.

The number of persons who actually vote, or are qualified to vote has no influence on the number of electoral votes cast by that state. It is possible for 15,000 votes in one state to have one electoral vote, while in another state the number may be 150,000 or more.

Pronounced in 1944.
This will be even more pronounced in 1944 elections where some states have lost a large percentage of their electorate, while others like California have had large increases in eligible voters, although in both cases the number of electoral votes assigned will not be affected.

In case of a close election it is possible for a president to be elected who does not receive a majority of the popular vote. This has happened in the past and may happen again.

In 1932 Herbert Hoover received 59 electoral votes with a popular vote of only 15,761,841. Four years later Alf Landon, who received a larger popular vote, came out with only eight electoral votes.

In 1940 Wendell Willkie, with more than 22 million votes, received 82 electoral votes. The popular vote was so close in 15 of the states that a small number in each of these states could have changed the electoral vote for a defeat for President Roosevelt instead of a large electoral majority.

Economy in Hats Adds War Bonds

No well-dressed woman can have too many of them. Handbags and hats add just the right finish to her costume, especially when they are of brilliant colors to contrast with a basic suit. A set such as this, the crocheted pouch bag and beribboned cap, would make a perfect Christmas gift for the business girl or college girl. Hand-crocheted accessories are so inexpensive and easy to make that you will be able to buy more War Bonds with the money you save. U. S. Treasury Department

What Causes Dwelling Fires
Some 400,000 fires occurred in homes during the past year and the majority of them were attributed to one of the following causes: Rubbish, defective chimneys, sparks on flammable roofs, defective heating equipment, careless smoking and use of matches, flammable liquids, electrical defects.

CONDENSED MICHIGAN DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

ELECTION OF ROOSEVELT AND TRUMAN

We consider the most important objective of our campaign is the election of President Roosevelt and Senator Truman to head our national administration and the election of a Congress that will support them and their policies.

We, your Democratic Candidates for the State of Michigan, believe in:

GOOD GOVERNMENT

We believe in good government for our State as well as for our Nation. We believe that good government can be a fact as well as a fancy. We offer a streamlined system of State Legislature to meet a streamlined world of today. Michigan could have an economical and efficient unicameral legislature . . . a one house legislature. It could have, but we doubt if that is possible under the die-hard Republican Regime. In the unicameral or one house legislature, Michigan's citizens would have a group of not more than fifty (50) able law makers. They will be able because they will be well paid, and able men will seek the positions.

FAIR TAXES

We don't believe that Michigan needs more taxation . . . we do believe that she needs better distribution of taxation. For instance the Michigan Sales Tax . . . we believe that there should be no tax on food or clothing, and a fairer portion of the sales tax should be returned to the local communities.

DECREASED COST OF STATE GOVERNMENT

We favor the consolidation under responsible administration of state departments that are carrying on analogous functions.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

We favor the enactment of a Workmen's Compensation Act that will operate for the benefit of all our citizens and not for the benefit of great insurance companies. We believe that all occupational diseases should be made compensable on a par with industrial injuries.

VETERANS

We favor the adoption of a veterans' program for Michigan that will be local extension of plans advanced by the Roosevelt administration on a national scale. We believe this program should provide for decent jobs, rehabilitation, and education for those who have ventured their lives in the armed forces of our country.

RECONVERSION AND THE POSTWAR ERA

We are pledged to give the state and the people of Michigan an administration calculated to carry our people through the reconversion period with a minimum of sacrifice.

PENSIONS FOR STATE EMPLOYEES

We favor the enactment of a decent pension law for all public employees that will insure them benefits at least equal to those accruing to workers in private industry under the Federal Social Security Act and the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

We believe that an efficient and just state unemployment compensation system is a grave necessity. Primarily it is of importance to unemployed workers, but it is just as important to farmers that workers unemployed through no fault of their own retain sufficient purchasing power to buy the farmer's produce.

STATE LIQUOR COMMISSION

We are pledged to take the state of Michigan out of the liquor business. The present condition of the liquor business in this state has grown into a public scandal.

AUTOMOBILE LICENSES

We favor the adoption of an automobile licensing system that will make the obtaining of such licenses a matter of convenience to all of our citizens.

CHILD LABOR

We are for the enactment of a child labor law that will really function for the protection of our adolescent boys and girls.

Rationing at a Glance . . .

Starting September 25, the hours the Tuscola County War Price and Ration Board will be open to the public will be: Monday through Friday, 10 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.; Saturday, 8:00 a. m. to 12 noon. Study of Stars May Answer Questions About Our Planet

A work begun in 1927 is nearing completion and a University of Michigan man has established himself as one of the top men in his field in so doing.

He is Richard A. Rossiter, director of the University's astronomical observatory at Bloomfontein, South Africa. The task is the discovery and mapping of double stars in the southern sky. The observatory since its founding has recorded more than 7,000 of the sky twins, of which Dr. Rossiter is credited with 5,179.

Double stars are of two kinds: those that are far enough apart so that a telescope can detect the separation, and those so close that only the spectroscopic shows the star to be twins. The latter, called spectroscopic binaries, usually revolve rapidly about each other. The former take longer times, often 10, 25, 50 or 100 years. Once located and described, the next task is to check this period of revolution and to determine if the stars are pulling together or flying farther apart.

It is these subsequent measurements which tell the story of what the stars are doing, a story which when all pieced together may help man to know more about the little earth which he inhabits.

Coeds Clean Campus, While Men Look On

While the men looked on, women students at the University of Michigan had a clean-up day, raking the entire 40 acre original campus in two hours. Above, waiting for the pickup squad, is Barbara A. Bingham of Detroit. Back to the camera is William Kehoe, Spencerport, N. Y., senior student and winner of four Avery Hopwood awards for original fiction. The girls volunteered for the job because of the manpower shortage on the regular grounds staff.

Lice and Mites
Lice and mites thrive at all times, but especially in warm weather, and the poultryman needs to keep constantly at work in controlling them. Warm weather also encourages the hatching of worms, which sap a hen's strength and lower egg production.

Nitrogen Source
Poultry manures are a desirable source of nitrogen for tree and bush fruits. Two bushels of droppings contain nitrogen approximately equivalent to that in 6 or 7 pounds of nitrate of soda or 3 pounds of ammonium nitrate.

Diminishing Returns
In economics, the law of diminishing returns is applied to the observed fact that in any given stage of the arts an increase of labor or capital applied beyond a certain point of exploitation or improvement, as in cultivation of land, causes a less than proportionate increase in the production from the unit to which the additional labor or capital is applied. The law was first stated solely in agriculture but has been restated in relation to industry.

Fat Production
The United States production of fats and oils increased 27 per cent in 1943 over prewar year 1939. Processors of vegetable and animal fats and oils combined their efforts last year to produce 11 billion 350 million pounds of fats and oils from both domestic and imported raw materials. This was 775 million pounds higher than the previous record in 1942.

Water Dyes
A new type of dye with a water base is now used to dye clear plastics all required colors. Especially useful in the field, where repairs of colored sheets cannot always be matched. Dyes are water-soluble, do not damage or destroy the surface luster or damage the surface in any way. Pieces can be partially dyed in patterns by masking and buffing.

Painting Over Burlap
Dyed burlap may be painted successfully if two or three thin coatings of glue size are first applied to fill the burlap fiber and prevent the dye striking through the finish.

Save Time
Growers and buyers may save time by proper adjustment of hours of trading at wholesalers' and farmers' markets. The farmers' section of the market should be opened no earlier than the wholesalers' section.

Orchard Growth
The need for more insects in areas of fruit concentration is well recognized by scientific workers and by many orchardists. A supply of pollinating insects alone is not sufficient, however, to bring about a commercial set of fruit; other factors, such as favorable weather and suitable varieties properly planted, are also important. The fact that bees are efficient pollen distributors, which can be placed where and when wanted, needs only to be mentioned.

Beekeeping as Specialty
The fruitgrower usually cannot be an efficient orchardist and a good beekeeper too. Contrary to common belief, bees require considerable attention throughout the year. Only well-cared-for colonies can produce large numbers of pollinating field bees early in the spring, lay up enough stores to last through the dormant months of winter, and still give the owner some extra honey as profit. As a rule, the most feasible plan for securing pollinating insects is to rent bees from established beekeepers. The importance of attending to this well before the bees are needed must be stressed; the beekeeper must have time to strengthen his colonies, prepare them for moving, and the like.

Sing Sing
The town in which Sing Sing is located (Ossining, N. Y.) formerly was named Sing Sing. In 1901 the name of the town officially became Ossining but the New York state prison retained its name.

Elmwood Twp. Couple Celebrated Their 64th Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. A. T. HISER

Saturday, Oct. 21, was the 64th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Allen T. Hiser, for many years residents of Elmwood township. Mr. Hiser is 84 years of age and Mrs. Hiser is 85. They were wed at Vassar and have lived in Tuscola county ever since. They are both enjoying good health, go to town and do their own shopping, and are both quite active and enjoy a good time. They have many friends who call now and again which pleases them very much.

To this couple were born seven children, all of whom are living and married. They are L. Z. Hiser of Gladwin, "Doc" Hiser of Caro, Mrs. D. M. Wiles of Cass City, Floyd Hiser of Merrill, Orson Hiser of Flint, and Mrs. Chas. Wickware of Lake Orion. There are 49 grandchildren, 26 great grandchildren. Ten of the grandsons are in the Armed forces of their country.

Allen T. Hiser and his wife, the former Sarah R. Adam, were both born in Ohio—Mr. Hiser at Pemberville on Mar. 14, 1860, and Miss Adam at Bellevue on Aug. 5, 1859.

When Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adam, parents of Sarah R. Adam, decided to move from Ohio to Vassar, Michigan, in March, 1880, Allen T. Hiser came with them and was employed on the Adam farm. Seven months later Mr. Hiser and Miss Adam were married.

They settled on a farm near the Belknap school, north of Vassar, and both united in the fellowship of the Presbyterian congregation who held their services in the Belknap schoolhouse. Rev. Mr. Clark, who performed their marriage ceremony, was the minister of that society.

The big fire of September, 1881, which swept the Thumb of Michigan territory, started near Vassar and Mr. and Mrs. Hiser were fearful that their farm home would be destroyed, but fortunately their possessions remained intact. For several days Mr. Hiser kept their belongings on a wagon to which a team of horses was hitched ready to haul them away should the fire come too close to their home. Mr. Hiser was later engaged in hauling relief supplies from Vassar to Caro for fire sufferers.

BOWLING

"Chuck" Auten's team still continue to lead the league, even though they won but one game out of three this week, but they will have to display a little better brand of bowling if they expect to remain at the top as several teams are close enough to take over at any time. M. Auten's five came up with their best totals of the season and clinched both of the team prizes of the week, yet winning only two games. Harris, a member of the M. Auten group, captured the individual prize for highest over average in three games while Doc Miller knocked the pins over for 65 more than his average to give him the other individual prize.

The picture has changed somewhat in the roster of the ten high individual bowlers and this is the first time since the league bowling opened eight weeks ago that an old familiar face is seen at the top. Your most humble secretary got away to a very mediocre beginning on opening night and registered in seventeenth position but has since been on the upgrade and could be the bowler to recognize when averages are tabulated next spring.

The 200 games and over are: London 233, M. Auten 226, Dr. Miller 214, Wallace 210, Wooley 201, Mann 200.

only 6,126 votes when Wendell Willkie received 1,039,917 votes to Roosevelt's 1,032,991. If only one more than half of the 6,126, or 3,064 voters, had switched from the Republican to the Democratic side, Roosevelt would have carried the state's electoral votes. In the 1942 senatorial race, which Ferguson, Republican, with 589,662 votes, won over the Democratic candidate, Brown, with 561,595, there was a difference of 28,067 votes. Had there been a shift of 14,023 voters, Brown would have won. There have been numerous close local elections in this state when only a few voters could have changed the result.

"These figures show that a comparatively few voters sometimes have the power to change election results," said Mr. Treiber. "There have been times in our country's history when one state was the deciding factor in a close election, and only a handful of voters were needed to swing that particular state."

He pointed to the famous 1884 presidential race between Cleveland and Blaine in which Cleveland led his opponent in New York state by only 1,149 votes. New York's electoral votes were the deciding factor in the national race. Had only 575 of the Cleveland voters switched over to the other side, Blaine would have been president.

"Many persons, qualified to vote, have remained away from the polls in this state in past elections because they did not think their vote would count," said Mr. Treiber. "I think these figures will prove that individual votes do count and that it takes only a few of them sometimes to decide an election."

Mr. Treiber said that although Farm Bureau members, like everyone else, are busy at this time, they and all other rural citizens can take off the necessary hour or two that voting requires. "We should remember," said he, "that our boys in the armed services are giving the best years of their lives in defense of their country. They were not too busy when the call came. We cannot and will not be too busy to vote. We should, every one of us, go to the polls Nov. 7 and perform that privilege for which our fathers died and which is now being defended by our sons in this global war."

Leslie Steward, writing his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Steward, from somewhere in Holland on Oct. 4, writes: "We're back here having a little rest now for a change. Something new—I didn't even have to stand guard last night. It's really swell when you can sleep all night long without getting up. In fact, I'm so used to getting up some time during the middle of the night, I woke up of my own accord and couldn't go to sleep for some time. There are a lot of comical things that happen that I will tell you about in person some day. One night all my blankets and my bed partner's blankets got wet from the rain that came under our shelter-halves. Well, we didn't get a chance to dry them next day, so if we hadn't been for our new issue of blankets, we would have had to have slept in all wet blankets. You see we each got an extra blanket. It sure comes in handy because the weather is getting rather cold now."

"I suppose you've heard of Fred Astaire. He's the most famous tap dancer in the United States. He was here in one of these towns in Holland in a USO show. Boy, is he good! I've seen him in the movies, but I never appreciated his talent until I saw him on the stage. I went to a chapel service day before yesterday. There were some civilians who listened in on it. One person could understand English."

In a later letter written from Germany, Leslie writes: "Glad to be able to say that the sun is shining today. Boy, it sounds like a Fourth of July around here today, more or less."

Egg Storage Methods Due to Relieve Market Situation

Michigan poultrymen may soon be able to meet the wintertime competition of west coast eggs, if improved storage procedure devised by Dr. W. L. Mallmann, of the department of bacteriology of Michigan State college, is adopted by the commercial packing industry.

Mallmann is completing experiments that indicate shell eggs can be stored up to six months and still be equal in quality to those freshly laid. Some of the experimental eggs have been in storage longer than six months and are still palatable.

The process is no secret, nor is it complicated. It consists merely of obtaining the fresh egg within not more than 24 hours after being laid, treating with a mineral oil solution, and storing where proper humidity and temperature can be maintained.

The oil acts as an antiseptic and seals the pores of the eggs against entrance of bacteria which cause decomposition.

Mid-west packing firms are showing much interest in the process, and Dr. Mallmann recently has set up tests in plants in Michigan and Kansas.

Michigan egg-buying companies find difficulty in marketing stored eggs to the housewife during wintertime in competition to fresh eggs from western states. Those in storage for any length of time under the present system are inferior in eating qualities; but little distinction in taste between fresh and stored eggs is noticeable when the oil treatment has been used.

The new method will also appeal to the housewife who wishes to store a few dozen eggs in her refrigerator for use during the winter period of high prices and farmers will find it useful in preventing bacterial contamination between farm and market. A detailed description of the process can be found in article 26-52 of the May issue of the Michigan State college Quarterly Bulletin.

Experiments are also going forward in preservation of liquid eggs by freezing in cartons.

Petroleum Search

The four most promising parts of the earth in which to search for petroleum are the Near and Middle East in the Old World, the environs of the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean sea in the Western Hemisphere; the Dutch and British East Indies in the Far East; and the land fringing the Arctic sea in North America, Europe and Asia.

Grease Spots

Promptness is essential in treating grease stains. Washable materials should be washed in soap and water, giving special attention to the grease spot. For non-washable materials, use a grease solvent such as carbon tetrachloride.

Tool Steel

Tool steel is usually produced in relatively rough bar form, either by rolling or forging. The bars are then shipped to toolmakers who fashion them into finished tools.
