Copy of Gavel Club Letter to Santa

Cass City, Michigan, Nov. 21, 1944.

Dear Santa:
The Gavel club received your very pleasant and encouraging letter of last week. We appreciated it all the more, knowing how very busy you must be with Christmas so close.

At this end of the line, here in Cass City, we are progressing rapidly. We believe we will have enough toys for all the girls and boys whose parents wish to buy them. Mr. Baker and Mr. Burt, leaders of the construction crew, inform us that they are pouring off the assembly line very rapidly. Mr. Leeson, chairman of the painting crew, says they are holding up their end, and that all will be ready by the night of Dec. 15.

In a few days now, we will have a few of them on display in various store windows about town.

Large Barn on Ellis Rushlo Farm Burned Sunday

Hens, Hay, Grain and Straw and Two Tons of Chicken Mash Destroyed

The large barn on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Rushlo, four and a half miles west of Cass City, in Elmwood township, was completely destroyed by fire along with much of the contents, about four o'clock Sunday morning. The fire of unknown origin was discovered by three young men who were driving past.

Cows and pigs were saved from the building, but about 300 Rock hens, hay and grain, 500 bales of straw and a truck loaded with two tons of chicken mash were burned. Part of the barn was built 48 years ago. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Annual Farm Bureau Meeting at Lansing

The 25th annual meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau was held Nov. 9 and 10, at the Michigan State college at East Lansing, with 700 voting delegates in attendance, representing a membership of 29,029 farm families in 47 counties. The delegates adopted a new constitution and by-laws to take advantage of privileges and to comply with regulations provided for farm cooperatives under legislation of recent years.

In a group of 50 resolutions approved at the meeting, it was voted that Farm Bureau members would continue to produce to the limit of their ability those things most needed for the successful prosecution of the war and to ask only fair prices which will compensate them equitably.

It is time, too, said the Farm Bureau, that government recognize that war time daylight saving is a handicap to farmers, especially in Michigan which is properly in the central time belt.

A series of resolutions dealt with taxes, price control, military deferment for agricultural activity, labor relations, agricultural fairs, 4-H and F. F. A. shows, and farmer representation on all boards and commissions dealing with agriculture.

Delegates attending from Tuscola county were Ernest Gruber, George Huber, Rudolph Schemm, Frankmuth; John Newton, Fred Findlay, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Bates, Vassar; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seitz, Millington; Jesse Theiber, Frank Ruttinger, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ewald, John Herman, Unionville; Melville and John Graham, Mrs. Marilla Robinson, Caro; Norwood Eastman, Cass City; J. C. Kirk, Mrs. Otto Montel, Fairgrove.

Service News

In a letter dated Nov. 6, Lawrence Zapfe of the U. S. Navy writes that censorship regulations have changed somewhat and he is permitted to tell that he is now at a base in New Guinea when in port. Since seeing his brother, Clarence, also in the navy, at Hawaii once last May, it has been the hope that another chance to visit might present itself. During the summer months several times they sighted each other's ship at a distance. At Saipan they were one day anchored only 200 yards apart, but could not see each other, so when early in November, Lawrence sighted Clarence's ship close by in the New Guinea port, he was delighted at the prospect of surely seeing him this time. Lawrence could not get off duty so had the signalman send a message to the other ship for his brother to come over and see him. The message was received but when several hours later Clarence still had not been able to get away to see his brother, Lawrence's ship put out to sea again. He writes "It sure makes you feel sick when you have to go back out to sea past the ship your brother is on and know that another chance to see him is gone." The last of August, Lawrence missed seeing Wm. Dellling of the N. C. B. by a few days when he arrived at a location from which Dellling's battalion had just left. In a letter written Sept. 19, Dellling wrote to friends here that he had moved to islands far north of Australia, where he had been this summer and had hopes of seeing the Zapfe boys and his brother, Harvey.

Shop Now! Mail in November Is Plea

Public response to the Post Office department's "Shop Now! Mail in November" campaign is good but needs to be better, according to postmaster General Frank C. Walker.

"Extraordinary wartime conditions face us," Mr. Walker said. "Unless more people buy and mail this month the postal service cannot do its job of delivering all Christmas gifts on time."

"It is not pleasing to us to have to ask the American people to mail packages so far in advance of the delivery date. We do so only because it has to be done. The job is a tremendous one, but we are confident that it will be done because we know from experience that given sound reasons Americans cooperate magnificently."

"Unprecedented shortages of man power and transportation facilities growing out of the war compel early mailing. The postal service has given 50,000 experienced employees to the armed forces and 300,000 railroad workers have gone to war. Equally serious is the fact that rail and other transport facilities are taxed to the limit with the great burden of war traffic which all of us know must take precedence."

89 Tuscola Pupils React to Recent TB Tests Given

In Clinics in 12 High Schools, 1,086 Students Were Examined

One thousand eighty-six students were tested recently in clinics held by the Michigan Tuberculosis association in 12 high schools in Tuscola county. Eighty-nine students reacted to the test.

The reaction simply indicates that some tuberculous infection has occurred which it was necessary for the body to fight. The next step to safety is an x-ray to determine whether any damage was done in the lungs or whether the resistance of the person was strong enough to prevent any harm. Positive reactors will be x-rayed at the clinic scheduled by the tuberculosis association to be held at Caro high school on Nov. 27 from 1:00 to 5:00, central war time. The work of the tuberculosis association is financed by the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals which campaign to raise funds for another year is now in progress.

Miss Elaine Abbott, field worker of the association, states "that it is recommended that ex-sanatorium patients return to the sanatorium periodically for check-ups. If this is impossible because of transportation, they are urged to see their family physician, or bring a written request from their physician for an x-ray at the clinic. Anyone who has been previously x-rayed at a clinic is asked to present a similar statement from his physician in case another check-up is thought necessary."

In tuberculosis, prevention is the keynote. Too long hours, worry, and wartime strain should be balanced with as much rest as possible and a trip to the doctor if one's general health is below par.

War Fund Payments Were $1,015 Monday

The remainder of the quota of $1,600 for the township will be reached soon provided that others in the township will act promptly and make their subscriptions more liberal than last year.

Buying War Savings Bonds Helps Cure a Hero

Figures Give Approximate Cost for Vast Job of Human Repair in Army

Here are some approximate costs of curing a hero sent to the Chronicle by C. L. Bougher, chairman of the U. S. Treasury War Finance Committee of Tuscola county. They will help visualize bond dollars in terms of human life. Mr. Bougher says:

"For the fiscal years 1943-1944, the U. S. Army spent $802,803,929 for supplies and equipment alone for this vast job of human repair. No costs can be set upon maintenance, operation or transportation of supplies or personnel or on the heroism and devotion of the wounded and those who care for them."

"Service above Self" is the medical corpsman's motto. The object of his service is to return casualties to duty or, where this is not possible, to fit them for return to civilian life. You can share in this since $5.00 pays for one day's hospitalization. Average hospitalization for an amputee is eight weeks. Concluded on page 5.

Mrs. Kirm Speaks to Rotarians on India

Mrs. S. P. Kirm gave Rotarians at their luncheon Tuesday, a very informative talk about India where one-fifth of the world's population live. She outlined the growing political power of England over a long period of years, over the Indians, who with 200 languages, occupy a place so vast that it might be better called a continent than a country. Mrs. Kirm, in describing the governmental agencies, said the political divisions there are most complicated.

Luncheon guests were Ensign Don Hicks of Deford, who for the past 15 months has been away from the States, Vic Story of Lansing and Forrest Ridgley of Bad Axe. Ernest Schwaderer led group singing with Miss Betty Hower at the piano.

Rotarians will be guests of the Gavel club next Tuesday evening.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Spiced Fruit and Green Beans Pretty Meat Loaf (See Recipes Below)

Lean Meats

Most homemakers have already had their introduction to lean or utility beef for which they have to use long, moist heat cookery.

There is also such a grade of lamb and veal on the market. In fact, there is news which shows that a surplus of lamb and veal will soon come to market. This is lamb or veal which has not been fattened and which requires long, slow cooking to make it tender. Instead of roasting or broiling, use braising to turn it out juicy and tender. It's as nutritious, but lower in calories as the top grades of meat that have been fattened.

Seasonings play an important role in making this meat palatable to the taste. A touch of garlic with lamb is good, but there are other spices you'll want to keep on hand to make this meat good. They are bay leaves, pepper corns, capers, onions, parsley, Worcestershire sauce and mint.

The recipe roundup begins with lamb loaf. Serve it plain with some of that home canned spiced fruit, or cover it with fluffy mashed potatoes to dress it up:

Savory Lamb Loaf. (Serves 6)

- 1 1/4 pounds ground shoulder or neck of lamb
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 clove garlic minced or 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup milk
- 3/4 cup fine bread crumbs
- 1 egg
- 3 cups seasoned mashed potatoes, if desired

Combine all ingredients except mashed potatoes. Pack into a loaf pan and bake in a 325-degree oven for 1 hour and 20 minutes. When baked turn out on a cookie sheet and frost with hot mashed potatoes. Loaf may also be left in pan and potatoes placed on top, then browned quickly in oven.

Porcupine Balls. (Serves 6)

- 2 pounds ground shoulder of lamb
- 1/2 clove garlic, chopped fine
- 2 tablespoons butter or drippings
- 1/2 cup raw rice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups boiling water
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Brown garlic in butter. Mix lamb, rice and salt and shape into 12 balls. Brown in same fat. Pour water over balls. Cover and simmer for 1 hour. Remove balls. Add flour, salt and pepper to fat in pan. Mix thoroughly. Add milk and cook until it thickens. Place balls in sauce and serve.

Noodles are a good starchy food to serve with veal, and celery and parsley bring out its delicate flavor.

Lynn Says:

Treats for Today: Serve cottage cheese with peaches or pineapple and sprinkle the top of the cheese with grated orange rind.

For male guests, serve frankfurters on toast with hot chili poured over all.

Place baked ham in between hot buttered biscuits and serve with a sauce of creamed chicken and mushrooms.

Acorn squash makes a supper dish when served with pork sausage links.

Add a teaspoon of onion juice to the gravy for added flavor.

Quick sandwich: Mix liver sausage with catchup and spread on bread. Toast under broiler.

Veal Stew With Celery and Noodles (Serves 4)

- 1 1/4 pounds cubed shoulder, breast or shank of veal, cut in cubes
- 2 ounces of salt pork
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 cups water
- 1 cup celery, cut
- 1 1/2 cups uncooked noodles
- parsley

Cut salt pork in tiny pieces and fry in kettle until browned. Lightly flour veal and brown slowly in salt pork fat. Add salt and water. Cover and simmer slowly for two hours. Add celery and cook until tender. Cook noodles 10-15 minutes in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain. Serve by placing noodles in center of platter and surrounding with stew.

Grilled Lamb Patties. (Serves 6)

- 2 pounds shoulder flank or breast of lamb
 - 1/4 cup dry bread crumbs
 - 1/4 cup milk
 - 4 strips of bacon
 - 2 pear halves
 - 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- Season lamb with 1 1/2 teaspoons salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Add milk and bread crumbs and shape lightly into six patties. Wrap each with strip of bacon skewered in place with a toothpick. Place on broiler rack and broil six minutes, then turn. Add pears to rack with a teaspoon of mayonnaise in each one. Finish broiling—6-8 minutes. A pork sausage link may be used in place of the bacon, and should be placed on top of the patty.

Tomatoes are perfect foil for the rather delicate flavor of lamb. In this dish, they are served with plenty of potatoes to stretch out the meat and make a hearty dish for winter.

Lamb-Potato Hot Pot. (Serves 4)

- 4 lamb neck slices (about 1 1/4 lbs)
 - 2 tablespoons melted fat
 - 2 1/2 cups canned or stewed tomatoes
 - 2 cups sliced onion
 - 1 minced garlic clove
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 3 cups sliced, peeled potatoes
 - 1 tablespoon flour
 - 2 tablespoons water
- Brown lamb in deep skillet or heavy kettle. Add tomatoes, onion, garlic and salt. Simmer, covered for 1 hour. Add potatoes and simmer for another 30 minutes. Arrange in slices on platter with potatoes over them. Blend flour and water and stir into gravy. Bring to a boil. Pour around and over potatoes.

Serving Suggestions.

When making stew arrange meat in center of platter and vegetables around it. Sprinkle all with chopped parsley.

It's nice to serve fresh toast or English muffins with plain one-dish dinners. It adds a bit of glamour to the meal.

Other hot breads that go well with wintry meals — popovers, toasted rusk, biscuits, cornbread, pecan rolls.

Desserts for wintry meals: baked apples, custard, rice pudding with brown sugar and raisins, floating island, lemon soufflé and custard pies.

Glittering Sequins 'Must' in Fall Mode

Flashes of Jewels to Be Found Everywhere Today.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Used to be that the glitter of sequins shown forth only on dressy and gala fashions. This year that theory is out, completely out. The zestful thing about the current glitter vogue is that you are apt to come across sequins and nailheads and flashes of jewel embroidery in the most unexpected places. Even the simplest little wool and jersey daytime dresses have yielded to the present glitter vogue. Sweaters too have become glitter conscious. To be sure, the applying of sequins on simple casual fashions is done with such consummate art you will find yourself yielding to the glitter mood (though you thought you never would) with perfect good grace that mounts to a feeling of high enthusiasm.

You will get a thrill every step of the way if you follow up the vagaries of the current season's new glitter trends. For instance, what could be more exciting than lounging slippers that are allover worked with colorful sequins. They're selling in the better stores. You'll be quite taken by surprise too, when first your eyes glimpse the new sequin-starred black crepe skirts as shown in the separate skirt department this season. Wear this glamour skirt with a very simple unadorned dark long-sleeved top, or a cap sleeve bodice or with a black satin halter top for greater formality.

Then there is this matter of the handsome waistcoats of rich floral or of hand-painted satins, the flowers and leaves scintillating with a discreet smattering of sequins that have picked up the key colors of the florals. This describes the waistcoat-ideal to wear with the voguish black suit which best dressed women think so highly of this fall.

Then there's the new glitter scarfs that accent their gorgeous print florals with flashing multi-color sequins discreetly placed here and there. You really should buy two of these scarfs, one to deftly drape into a stunning turban, the other to be worn in ascot fashion about the throat. A most striking color and glitter accent for your new restaurant suit!

Other items of sparkling accent cite a flat bow made of three-inch wide sequin banding such as you can buy at the trimming counter. Wear it at the base of your low-cut square neckline to give flip to your streamlined black frock. Add also to your accessory collection a belt that reflects medieval glory in a handsome embellishment of sequins and embroidery. You can buy ensembles that include sparkling epaulets for shoulder decor plus a belt or midriff girdle that repeats the motif for the epaulets. Glitter gloves too, belong in your treasure-store of costume accessories.

Sleeveless Sweater

Here is a famous sleeveless sweater of 100 per cent wool such as college girls clamor for and career girls adore. It is torso length and worked in a diagonal rib stitch. It is very smart in plum, navy or black worn with a bright colored blouse. This is a type that every sweater girl will want to add to her collection. It is one of those faithfuls that will stand loyally by the whole fall and winter through.

Style Notes

Fall fashions are ablaze with color. Fabulous ostrich is outlook for winter.

Russian yellow is color news for wool coats. Black frock continues thoroughbred high fashion.

Call is for high quality merchandise this fall.

Dressy shoes take on novel and glittering buckles.

There's big demand for dinner, cocktail and evening gowns. Jacket suit with matching shoulder cape is "last word" news.

Handsome stoles of fur, ostrich or sequined sheers bespeak return of early Victorian glamour.

Strong Soaps

The large amount of alkali in strong soaps destroys the oil in linoleum, and causes the paint on felt-base coverings to soften and fade. For cleaning, manufacturers recommend clear water or mild soap and water.

Tie Pressing

A tie form aids in pressing neckties. Using a tie as a pattern, cut a piece of cardboard a bit smaller than the tie. Slip form into tie and press under a damp cloth in the usual way.

Orchard Pollinizers

In planting an orchard where pollinizers are required, one should, if possible, have every sixth and preferably every fourth row a pollinizing variety. For convenience in harvesting it is best to plant two, four, or six rows of one kind, then two of the pollinizing variety, and repeat. If the number of pollinizers is to be kept to a minimum, one tree to eight, planted as every third tree in every third row, is recommended. This arrangement places a pollinizer next to every tree of the main variety in the orchard.

Predicts Increased Investment
By American Farmers During
Sixth War Bond Campaign

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A prediction that American farmers will invest more money in bonds during the Sixth War Loan than in any previous drive was made today by the War Finance Division of the U. S. Treasury.

Farmers bought $1,250,000,000 worth of War Bonds during 1943, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. In 1944 it is believed they can and should purchase a total of $2,000,000,000, Ted R. Gamble, national director of the War Finance Division, said.

Income at Peak

The Sixth War Loan, starting November 20, comes at an ideal time for agriculture, he pointed out.

This is not only the time when farm income is at a seasonal peak, but 1944 marks three years of record breaking farm income, he said. Based on information obtained from the B.E.A., the Agricultural Section of the War Finance Division estimates the 1944 cash farm income at $20,000,000,000, compared with $20,000,000,000 in 1943.

Although net farm income, due to higher operating costs, may not be greater than in 1943, most farmers now have reduced their debts and consequently will have more money to put into War Bonds, the division reports.

In the twelve months ending January 1, 1944, farmers reduced real estate mortgages alone by $650,000,000.

Bank Deposits Gain

After paying all operating costs and necessary family expenses, farmers will have left this year for investment and debt reduction over $5,000,000,000, the Agricultural Section also estimates.

Because of the fact that new machinery is not obtainable, farm deposits are piling up in rural banks. Demand deposits held by farmers in these banks are estimated at $4,500,000,000 and time deposits at $2,000,000,000. Since the new method of redeeming Series E Savings Bonds.

Licorice in England

Licorice, which is said to have been introduced into England from Syria in 1562, is now being cultivated on only a few acres, the British press states. Farmers in certain sections of Yorkshire state that soil suitable for growing the plant must be used for other purposes. Ideal soil for growing licorice is scarce in Great Britain.

Good Mash

During the summer hens need access at all times to fresh water and a good laying mash. Green feed, such as lawn clippings, kale, or vegetable tops should be fed daily. The amount of whole grain should be reduced to about 1 pound to 20 hens daily. This small amount of grain forces the hens to eat more mash, which stimulates egg production.

Ted R. Gamble

convert part of these deposits into War Bonds.

War Bond purchasers will provide a farm financial reserve to protect against damage by drought, flood and livestock disease, will assure cash to replace and repair buildings and machinery as well as to build back soil fertility depleted by wartime food production, and will provide funds for education, vacations and old age security.

The high farm income this year is the result of the huge increase in farm production to meet wartime food needs rather than a rise in prices, which have been held down by the OPA it was explained.

Grafting Pollinizers
Under certain conditions pollinizers could be grafted into orchard trees to insure satisfactory cross-pollination for bees. This procedure has not proved practical in many orchards, because growers have not used large enough branches, properly located, nor taken proper care of the grafts, which have therefore been choked out. It is more practical to graft over entire trees, or at least one-fourth of a tree, rather than a single small branch. Such an arrangement will, of course, tend toward confusion in harvesting; but if the pollination problem is serious, the grower can afford to forget the commercial value of the fruit on the pollinizing branch.

Penicillin Will Be Given Public

Amazing Lifesaving Drug Now Made Available for Civilian Use.

WASHINGTON. — Penicillin is now to be made available to the civilian world on a restricted basis. Behind that news is the story of a miracle of production rivaling the amazing accomplishments of the drug itself.

Nineteen United States and two Canadian firms are turning out about 200 times as much penicillin monthly as was produced a year ago. They've lowered the cost approximately 85 per cent.

By the end of the year it is expected that present production rates (one hundred billion units in May) will again be doubled for this drug—which succeeds where the sulfa fail and which has proved a lifesaver from childbirth to battlefield.

A year ago virtually all but a limited fraction of the then meager supply was allocated to our armed forces. Within the past few weeks the drug has been made available to thousands of civilian sufferers through allocations to some 2,000 "depot" hospitals throughout the nation.

At the present rate of a hundred billion units a month, at least 100,000 cases can be treated, including civilians, armed forces and allies, and patients in some neutral countries who are to receive small supplies.

To Share With Others.

The outlook for civilians in this country is summed up by a war production official who says "come hell or high water, we are going to assure at least 15 billion units monthly for civilians."

The latest development is this: For the first time, the domestic supply of penicillin will be shared with foreign nations. Up to now they have received only occasional minute supplies for emergency cases. (The United States produces 95 per cent of the world supply.)

About a week ago, South American republics were allocated 1,000,000 units. Arrangements are being made for export for restricted civilian use to European neutrals, the middle east, the French areas, and other countries.

Under this program less than 1 per cent of our total production will be allocated for use abroad.

In a sense, the large scale production of this medicine—described by many scientists as the most amazing drug that has ever been produced—outshines the production of ships and planes and tanks.

At the outset all that was known about making the drug was that it was produced by the same mold (penicillium notatum) which grows on stale bread and on cheese. To produce it on a commercial scale, special processes had to be developed to grow the molds.

Grow Mold Faster.

The Peoria, Ill., laboratory of the United States department of agriculture made a revolutionary contribution. Its scientists showed that the addition of corn seeping liquor to the medium used for the growth of the mold made it grow many times faster.

In the early stages of development, manufacturers grew the mold on the surface of liquid in bottles and flasks and trays.

Now the mold is grown in tanks holding thousands of gallons.

Refinements of technique have come into play within the past year. The latest one to be announced is a vacuum type oven for drying penicillin. It is designed to replace a dry ice method of drying the drug. Its developers say it cuts drying time from 24 hours to 30 minutes.

Measured in terms of poundage, the output of penicillin is small. One billion units of penicillin weighs a pound. That makes present production about 100 pounds a month, a little over three pounds a day for the 21 plants.

But a little penicillin goes a long way. It requires only 100,000 to 150,000 units to treat a case of gonorrhea at a cost of about $5. A severe case of septicemia, or blood poisoning, would require about 1,000,000 units and cost about $35.

Drying Mushrooms

Dried mushrooms offer a chance for the farm child or farm wife to supplement the "egg money."

Types of mushrooms cultivated in the United States have not proven satisfactory for dehydration, and for this reason dried mushrooms sold in the United States have been imported.

The wild varieties have proven satisfactory for drying. They can be successfully dried by being placed on wire trays, one layer deep, and having a rapid current of warm dry air passed over them. The same equipment used for other dehydration will prove satisfactory.

Many, who live near wild mushroom patches, might be able to gather far more than needed for immediate consumption. When thoroughly dried they will keep in good condition for several years. They can be sold dry to stores or restaurants or kept for winter home use.

U. S. Army Now Restricts Overseas Cable Messages

WASHINGTON. — The war department announced recently that the strain on communications would hereafter prevent transmittal of messages to theater commanders requesting emergency furloughs for soldiers overseas.

Requests for specific information about soldiers and future requests for emergency furloughs will be referred to local Red Cross chapters.

Would-Be Mashers Get A Response With Sting

PHILADELPHIA, PA. — One soldier's wife, when hailed by romantically inclined motorists, passes out little printed cards which say: "Maybe the gas you waste in pursuit of lone women could have prevented one of our planes from making a forced landing behind enemy lines. My husband is serving in the armed forces. What are you doing, skunk?"

Winter Is the Time to Take Farm Inventory

Repairs, Ordering of Supplies Are Winter Jobs

Farmers may not be certain yet as to how much of one or another of their crops they will plant. They may still be calculating the probable effect of a drop in the numbers of their cattle or hogs or chickens. They know what they will be doing on those long winter days and nights before the ground can be prepared for seeding.

Winter on a farm is the time for making repairs—loose boards in the farm floor, that ladder rung that's always uncertain, extra handrails where needed, fence jobs, chicken houses, pig pens, smoke house, milking equipment, and the many little things that always need to be done in the home.

Machinery needs attention, too, while it rests before the big spring push. Oiling, painting, replacement of worn-out parts, and a general going over to be sure everything is ready mean more to the farmer's ultimate production job than he may realize. WFA points out. Doing this work in the slack season makes breakdowns far less likely at a time when they would seriously hinder the business of getting land plowed and crops planted.

By getting these things done when he has the time along with many others that are a necessary part of keeping a farm in good working order, the farmer will find his production job running more smoothly and steadily throughout the year, even with another labor shortage promised for next year.

Tuberculosis Culls

Many older hens are carriers of tuberculosis, and if they are housed in winter with the pullets they can spread the disease to the younger stock, Dr. P. C. Neuzil of the American Veterinary Medical association points out in recommending that old hens be culled out of the flock.

In some areas 50 per cent of the poultry flocks are affected by this disease and tests show that older birds are the principal carriers.

Pig Weaning Rules

Pigs should be weaned at about eight weeks of age to allow for re-breeding of sow. The sow's feed should be reduced a few days before weaning time to prevent udder trouble. As the milk flow will continue, the practice of weaning a few pigs at a time is not advisable as the udders not used will become caked and hard. When the udder becomes hard and caked, the pigs may be returned for a few minutes each day until the trouble is corrected.

Their Bonds and Stamps Buy a Jeep

"We're buying one," yelled youngsters at the Whittier School, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, when they saw the jeep above. Actually they expect to have bought enough war stamps and bonds by the middle of December to pay for two jeeps for the armed forces. The army sergeants in the picture motored over from Sioux Falls Air Field to show the boys and girls just what their savings are purchasing. (Army Photo)

HE KEPT IT

A clergyman who was anxious to have Multimillionaire Jay Gould join his congregation was speaking one day to Jim Fisk, partner of the wily Gould in many a financial swindle. "I understand Mr. Gould is a moral man," began the reverend.

"Well, anyway, he keeps the Sabbath, doesn't he?" continued the churchman.

"Mr. Gould," quietly explained Fisk, "keeps everything he lays his hands on."

Sewing Buttons

In sewing on buttons, begin on the right side of the garment. Knot thread and sew a few stitches back and forth before sewing on the button. Knot will be under the button, making it easy to fasten, and the wrong side will look neat.

Rest Centers for Battle Veterans to Be Opened

WASHINGTON. — The war department announced the army ground and service forces are establishing rest centers in some of the nation's leading resort hotels for military personnel returning from fighting fronts overseas. The program is similar to one already effected for air force veterans.

Men will receive "complete physical examinations," and each will be evaluated as to his "most suitable new assignment," the department said.

"These objectives will be accomplished in surroundings conducive to rest, relaxation and diversion in order that this short period may serve as a respite from the arduous tasks of war and as orientation for further duties," it was added.

Five such "redistribution centers" were understood to be planned to start operation in September. The department said "several hotels at Miami Beach, Fla., have been acquired and are being made ready" with negotiations under way at other unstated locations.

Iceland Geologists May Study in United States

NORMAN, OKLA. — Young geologists of Iceland may come to the University of Oklahoma for training. Nells Dungal, dean of the University of Iceland, said in a recent visit to the Oklahoma school campus. These men will be sent here at the expense of the government of that country. The training would prepare them to make a survey of the natural resources of Iceland.

Life Loss From Fire
Fires take a terrible toll of human lives. It has been estimated, for a number of years, that about 10,000 people have been killed annually by fire in the United States.

... Timely items of interest and value ... helpful suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliances.

ELECTRIC SERVANTS ... According to a recent statement made by the Civilian Requirements Committee of the WPB—

"It is recognized that certain essential goods and services must be provided even in wartime if the Detroit area is to contribute its utmost to the war effort. Many women, for example, have found it possible to leave their homes and take jobs in war plants only because much of the work at home is taken care of by electrical appliances, automatic heat, laundries, etc."

Women know the truth of these facts. The aid of labor-saving electrical appliances in running a household is one of the twentieth century's greatest boons. In the fortunate home of today, electric servants provide a dozen helping hands.

HOW MANY SERVANTS? ... American women have more electrical appliances and labor-saving devices than any other women in the world. About 85% have electric irons ... 65% have washing machines ... 50% have vacuum cleaners. The cost to the average home of operating all three of these appliances is approximately 29c a month.

PIE FOR THANKSGIVING ... For tempting, mouth-watering goodness, our Home Service Department challenges you to beat this for Thanksgiving dinner:

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie

1 tbs. gelatin ½ tsp. salt
¼ cup cold water 2 tbs. butter
1½ cups cooked pumpkin ½ cup milk
1 cup brown sugar 3 eggs, separated
2 tps. cinnamon 2 tps. granulated sugar
½ tsp. ginger 1 baked pastry shell
¼ tsp. allspice

Soften gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Combine the next eight ingredients with slightly-beaten egg yolks and cook over low heat until thickened. Add gelatin, and stir until dissolved. Cool until it begins to congeal. Beat egg whites, add sugar and beat until stiff. Fold into pumpkin mixture. Pour into baked pastry shell and chill until firm. Makes one (9-inch) pie.

You save coal, transportation and manpower when you save electricity

MAPS ... Keeping track of the 85,000 miles of wire and the half-million poles in the Detroit Edison service system requires 10,000 sectional maps—nearly two acres of paper. A large staff of trained map-makers is kept busy the year 'round, keeping these maps up to date.

Mrs. Howard Evans, daughter, Cleone, and son, Wayne, of Lake Orion were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Anker. . . Steve Majestic is employed at the Fred Palmer farm. Cake Topping

As a summertime cake topping, spoon slightly sweetened raspberries over tender white cupcakes or generous slices of loaf cake. As impressive tea dessert, cut the top off cupcakes in cone fashion. Fill cut-out portion with sweetened raspberries and replace cake cone. Serve plain, or decorate with a spoonful of marshmallow creme or ice cream.

Browning of Grass

Browning of grass in lawns and pastures is usually the first evidence of white grub activity. Later injury to potatoes, corn, and beans planted on sod will develop.

Good Supper

A platter of luscious cold sliced tomatoes on crisp green lettuce, a generous bowl of creamy cottage cheese and a big plate of hot biscuits or fresh bread make as good a supper as one could wish.

Replacement Pens

At least one maternity stall and one calf pen that will house four calves should be on every dairy farm where replacements are raised.

Plant Trees in Fall Or Early Winter

Best Results Secured From Local Grown Ones

Trees, fruit or shade as well as for fuel and lumber, can be set out any time during the fall or early winter, so long as the ground is not frozen more than two or three inches. If the ground is frozen at planting time, no frozen soil should be used in firming the earth about the roots.

Fall planting is recommended in order that the young trees will have time to become established and the roots will make some growth in the fall and early spring before there

Fall and early winter planting of trees is great demand for water by the expanding leaves.

As a general practice, Prof. R. L. McMunn of Illinois recommends, the trees should be secured from nurseries in the same latitude and located near by. Those obtained from almost any part of the country will prove as winter hardy as elsewhere. However, when they are obtained near by, they will be fresh and have a better chance to survive.

Dig the hole large enough to receive the root system without crowding. The tree should stand two or three inches deeper than it stood in the nursery. Cut off the broken roots back of the break and remove very small roots — those smaller than the lead of a pencil. The tree when planted should lean about 30 degrees toward the prevailing wind. The trees should be mounded around the trunk to shed water. Place the top earth near the roots and work it around the roots by lifting the tree several times. Use the subsoil to finish filling the hole.

Agriculture Pioneers

Louis Pasteur

The father of pasteurization, Louis Pasteur, first came to the rescue of the farmers of France when he originated a method of inoculation of sheep and cattle against the dreaded anthrax which was ruining agriculture. In one district of Russia, 56,000 head of cattle died from anthrax in three years. The Pasteur method eliminated this high death rate.

He is better known by his discovery of pasteurization, which was first used with beer. The main purpose of pasteurization is to kill germs. It is the process of heating milk or cream for a sufficient period of time to kill the microorganisms. Undulant fever was reduced by 50 per cent, typhoid fever by 45 and deaths among children were reduced to an extent that was almost unbelievable the first year that Ontario had compulsory pasteurization of milk.

To Pasteur also belongs the credit for the discovery of transmission of rabies, and for an inoculation that has resulted in the saving of thousands upon thousands of lives.

Fertilizer Labels

Commercial fertilizer should be appraised by the percentage or grade figures given on each package and not by a brand or firm name, the University of Illinois college of agriculture recommends.

Animal manure, crop residues and legume green manures should be used to their fullest advantage. Such materials, when used properly, are efficient fertilizers. These by-products of the farm, used in conjunction with lime and phosphate are ideal.

Tractor vs. Horse

Far from being crowded off farms, horses and mules still represent about 55 per cent of the total drawbar power, according to U. S. department of agriculture estimates. The total pull is believed to be about evenly divided, however, since the 45 per cent of tractor power works somewhat longer hours in the year. Fewer work animals are on farms now than has been the case for more than half a century, 20,000,000 less than in 1910.

DEFORD DIARY

The November session of the Farmers' club met on Friday for dinner at the H. D. Malcolm home. About 35 were present. The program hour included two solos by Mrs. Arleon Retherford and readings by Mrs. Thomas Colwell and Mrs. Wm. D'Arcy. The county agricultural agent, Norris Wilbur, was present and in a very interesting talk about farm and household conveniences, showed many pamphlets from the state college telling how they can be manufactured at home. The club will meet Dec. 15 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kilgore with Mrs. Earl Douglas, program chairman, and in honor of the Christmas season inexpensive gifts will be exchanged.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Retherford and Mr. and Mrs. Arleon Retherford attended the funeral service held for Ashton Gibbs, a nephew of Mrs. H. Retherford, on Monday afternoon at the Ray Gibbs home in Caro.

Mr. and Mrs. Zeno Crittenden of Detroit were Saturday visitors of Mrs. A. W. VanBlaricom. Ensign Don Hicks is at home on leave. Don is in service on a transport plane.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wells Spencer are at Harbor Beach, at the Willard Spencer home for this week, taking care of Willard Spencer's work while Willard is north hunting deer.

This, of course, will only be a small sample of the hundreds we will have at the high school on the big night.

Mr. Copeland tells us he is oiling up his vocal cords daily in preparation. He anticipates a big job and plans to do it as perfectly and fairly as is humanly possible. You know, Santa, Arnold is a great fellow. Always willing and anxious to help in any cause like this.

We don't believe we mentioned it before, but we also have an expert auction clerk for the event. He has had years of experience and is one of our members. We are talking about Cameron ("Buzz") Wallace.

We plan to have mighty good music for those who wish to dance. The dance you know is free. We are getting the best callers available for the square dance. We are expecting a lot of the old timers to be there; and we know they like to square dance.

We know there will be some who will not care to dance. For that reason, we are having the auction all in one period, starting at nine o'clock. This will allow them to go home without missing any of the auction.

The Cass City Community Hospital board think the event is great. They, you know, get all the proceeds. Our only hope is that we can give them a good sizable sum.

We guess that gives you a pretty full report, Santa, as to how we are getting along. We only wish you could be here yourself for the event. We know you will be awfully busy, though. We will try to keep you informed and up-to-date.

As ever,
Your 1944 Christmas Helpers,
THE GAVEL CLUB.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Adopted Babies

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

Be grateful to God that you can take an unfortunate child or two into your home, and give a waif whose life might otherwise be blighted a better chance.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

TROUBLES take all sorts of forms in this strange mixed-up world of ours; three-fourths of the wives of the world are in constant apprehension of having children too fast. The other twenty-five per cent is even more miserable because the babies won't come.

Barbara White is in the latter category; her tragic letter lies before me as I write.

"Benny and I have been married 11 years. After five years, with no hint of a baby coming, I persuaded him to agree to adoption. We both had hoped for children, we had every other blessing life can supply. In health, friends, fortune, devotion to each other, but our hearts ached for one more.

"Six years ago we adopted a delicate, unwanted baby, six weeks old. Under my love and care she grew to be an exquisite little creature whose charm made even strangers in the street notice her. When Babsie was two we adopted a little sister for her, Sonia, dark-eyed and vivacious, a lovely contrast to the older girl. For two years Ben and I revelled in happy parenthood, then came the blow. Babsie's mother had married again, was prosperous, wanted her child back. Our state insists that the real mother shall know who has her child, and Babsie's mother came straight to us, and we gave her up.

"Parting with her had all the bitterness of death, especially as the real mother is a careless, selfish type wholly unfitted for the care of a sensitive, precocious child. I have not seen Babsie since, though I loved her as I believe few mothers love their own children.

"We then applied for another child, a long slow process, for children available for adoption are few. Finally we were promised one: boy or girl, we did not care, nor did we know, for this baby was unborn. The unmarried mother, 18, had come a long way from home to have her baby in secret, and had determined never to look upon its little face nor know who took it.

"One whole burning summer day I waited at the hospital for my child—and when it came the young mother drew it to her heart and said with tears that she never would part with it, cost the telling of her secret what it might. Seeing my disappointment the hospital authorities promised me another baby, soon to be born. But here again the mother, another young girl, refused me, and I came home empty-armed.

"That was a year ago. Once since then I made an attempt to find a child. A friend in another city told me of a poor woman who already has five small children, who is obliged to accept charity, and who dreaded the burden of another, as it means the sacrifice of a good job. But she merely laughed at the idea of adoption and said that somehow she could manage.

"The effect of this on me has been very bad. I have everything now that I ever had, including a beautiful girl of four. But to know myself sterile and to be obliged to beg of these luckier women the price

RESENTFUL

Childless women generally yearn for children. Barbara is such a one. She has a fine home and a loving husband. Six years ago they adopted a baby girl, Babsie, who satisfied Barbara's maternal desires for a time. Then she wanted another. They obtained little Sonia, who was also very lovable. With two children Barbara's heart was filled.

After two years, however, Babsie's mother demanded her child, and Barbara reluctantly gave her up. Ever since Barbara has been trying to get another unwanted baby. Several times she has come close, but each time the mother changed her mind.

The unsuccessful quest is affecting Barbara's whole outlook. She is envious and resentful of women who achieve motherhood, although they are obviously ill-fitted and often undesirable. So bitter is she becoming that she falls into fits of despondency. She is asking Miss Norris for advice in this personal crisis.

less joy of motherhood has roused in me so deep a resentment, so painful a sense of the injustice of life that I am becoming unbalanced;—not that, really, but given to fits of despondency I cannot seem to break. For the sake of a wonderful husband and a lovely child I ask your help."

That help must come from within. Barbara, only you can cure yourself. But I am sure that a wider look at the situation will help you to philosophy—or rather to simple common sense. The world is in a bad way, it will take millions of capable and warmhearted women like yourself to cure it. Countless women have been roughly separated from their children; countless others suffer the agony of seeing those children bewildered, hungry, homeless. Mothers are working in men's jobs, homes are broken by divorce, the sum of juvenile delinquency has reached unprecedented heights.

True, many women who bear children constantly are totally unfit for motherhood, and many children living in underprivileged homes are less fortunate than those you might adopt.

But take a wide, far look at the situation, and be grateful to God that you can take an unfortunate child or two into your home, and give a small waif whose life might otherwise be blighted a better chance. Forget your own humiliation in having humbly to beg for children from women far inferior to yourself, remember only that you can give joy and safety, love and care to the helpless creatures who so need it.

Whether the woman who actually bears a child does that child a favor is a disputed question. But there is no question of the benefit bestowed upon some forlorn little derelict by a woman, can give it a safe and sheltered childhood.

An Adequate Lunch Needed

One big meal at night won't make up for a scanty breakfast or lunch served to the school child or the factory worker, says May E. Foley, extension nutritionist at the Massachusetts State college. Lunch should provide a full third of the day's nutritional needs. It should consist of a fruit or vegetable, a hearty food such as eggs or cheese, whole grain or enriched bread, something sweet, and milk. When a thermos bottle is used, hot soup or chocolate can be included.

"You can give joy and safety..."

BOWLING

The race for top honors in the bowling league is tightening as the teams enter the last lap of the first schedule of fall and winter games, and half of the teams entered are within three games of one another and anything may happen quickly in the standings. The Starmann and C. Auten teams continue to hold on to first place in a two-way tie, yet each of these teams won but one game from their three-game series during the week to let several other teams close in on their lead. Ludlow's team came across with their best efforts and ran up the highest totals over their average of any team in the league, thereby winning the double team prizes and boosting their standings.

The individual making the best showing over his average was Galloway, a newcomer to the league this season and a member of the Retherford team. His bowling aided his team to capture two games while he was taking both ends of the double individual prizes with his totals of 559, which by the way, was the highest totals registered among the 80 bowlers during the week. Others hitting over the 550 mark were Landon 555, F. Fritz 554, Dillman 554, Schenck 553, Karr 550. Bowlers in games of 200 or over are: Schenck 222, Galloway 214, Knoblet 213, Deering 209, F. Fritz 209, Jankech 207, F. Tyo 206, M. Auten 204, Dillman 203, Landon 202, Ellis 201, Pinney 200.

The league which was scheduled to bowl this Thursday evening, will be set over until Friday evening on account of Thanksgiving.
