Not one of them has lost more than two games to date. Saginaw-St. Joseph, a Class C school, elected to play in Class B for 1945-46, was assigned to the Cass City district with a very strong team. Caro won the district championship in B last year.

In Class C, Vassar with 10 wins in 11 games has an impressive record and has the edge in the Cass City district. Cass City, winner of second honors in the State Class C finals at Lansing last year, is Vassar's main obstacle. Cass City lost to Vassar by one and two point margins during the regular season. Mayville has won half of its games with Class C and D opponents and Sebewaing has not won a game to date. Cass City won the district and regional Class C championships last year, and with seven tournament wins placed second to Lansing St. Marys in the finals at Lansing.

Akron is the standout team in Class D again this year, with 11 wins and one defeat to date. No opponents entered in the Cass City district have defeated them. Gagetown, winner of the Tip of the Thumb League championship with 11 wins and two losses, is Akron's main threat to district honors. Unionville, Fairgrove and Owendale have won about half their season's games. Kingston has returned to competition again this year and has shown real strength in its last few games, by defeating Class C schools, although most of its early season games were lost.

The championship team in each class will be sent to a regional tournament Mar. 8, 9, and 10. The Class B winner will go to Mt. Pleasant, and the Class C and D winners to Lapeer.

Orion Cardew of Cass City is tournament manager.

250 Students Are Served Hot Lunches Each Day at School

Mrs. James Milligan, home economics instructor at Cass City, told Rotarians Tuesday of the tasty hot lunches served at noon at the local school. The pupil pays 15 cents, but the government aid of seven cents for each lunch makes it possible to round out a satisfying and attractive meal. Type A lunches are served, which include meat; vegetables, both cooked and the green leafy kind, butter or oleo, and bread. An average of 250 students are served each day.

Three women cooks prepare the hot lunches each morning and students serve as food purchasers, cashier, table setters and dish washers.

Herb Maharg was welcomed as a new member of Rotary Tuesday. F. L. Stanley P. Kim, Jr., and J. A. Gallery and Bert Purdy, both Caro Rotarians, were guests.

To Observe 4-H Club Week in Tuscola

All 4-H clubs in Tuscola county will observe National 4-H Club Week on Mar. 8 to 11, according to an announcement today by County Agricultural Agent Norris W. Wilber.

Special meetings will be called during the week and members will be asked to check up on their own efforts in helping win the war. Every 4-H club member will be given an effort to rededicate himself to the task ahead, and to reaffirm his intention to carry his 1945 goals to completion. Particular stress will be placed on those goals affecting food production, conservation and health.

It is expected that Tuscola county 4-H club members will discuss means of doubling their efforts to help alleviate the critical farm labor shortage being caused by increased drafting of young men. Enrollment of new members will also be an objective.

Accomplishments of 4-H club youth in Michigan during 1944, when totaled in the number of battle front fighters fed, make an imposing set of figures. For example, 400 members raised enough beans for 47,000 soldiers; 950 raised enough potatoes for 30,350 soldiers; 9,373 members raised enough vegetables in Victory gardens for 30,340 soldiers; 4,300 canned enough fruits and vegetables to supply 1,600 soldiers; 1,894 poultry members produced the annual egg and poultry meat requirements for 14,560 soldiers; and at 4-H sales alone on beef cattle brought more than $110,000. These were just a few of many projects.

Plans made during National 4-H Club week will be aimed at exceeding last year's production records.

Paragraphs About Folks in the Service

A flying trip across the ocean used to be quite an adventure, but these days it is just a speedy return trip home for overseas veterans in an ATC plane. Among soldiers returning to the States from the Orient were three Michigan men arriving at Miami, Fla., air field, one of whom was Sgt. Gerald Kerbyson. He arrived in Cass City Monday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Kerbyson. Sgt. Kerbyson has been in the Service three years and overseas 29 months. He has been in the Middle East area of Africa and for several months in India. He will be stationed at Santa Ana, California, after March 15.

F. L. Stanley P. Kim, Jr., is home on leave for a two-week period. His first few days in Michigan kept him near the heating units in the home of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. S. P. Kim, for Stanley has been sailing in the neighborhood of the Philippines where the temperature stays around the 100 mark in the shade. The light cruiser of which he was a member of the crew carried a distinguished officer, General McArthur, for some time. Stanley saw him several times while the general was making the cruiser his headquarters.

The first communication from Pvt. Sherwell Kelly since he went overseas was received by his wife last week. He said in part:

"It's very hard to write letters here as there is really so little I can say. I'm very impressed with France, not because it's beautiful now but only because it might have been once. It's really heart-breaking to see what has happened to the country and particularly its people."

"I am all right, but wish the mail would come through soon."

Mr. and Mrs. John Tebedo of Gagetown were very pleased to hear from their son, Robert Tebedo, that he was back in the States. Wounded in France four months ago, the young man had been receiving treatment in a hospital in England. His letter said: "I am now in Hines General hospital in Chicago and expect to be home soon. Can't wait to see you all. Love."

Pvt. Robert Kelley arrived Sunday night to spend a twenty-three day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kelley. At the end of this period he will return to Florida for two weeks. Bob has been a patient at Wakemans General hospital in Indiana for seven months following one and one-half years of overseas duty in the Hawaiian Islands.

Wac Mary Lou Jost of Cass City has been promoted to sergeant by Colonel Gerald Hoyle, commanding officer of Lemore Army Air Field, Fourth Air Force Processing-In-Center, where Sgt. Jost is stationed. The sergeant does clerical work. She is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel McCoy of Cass City.

Pvt. John Zawilinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zawilinski, who was wounded in France, is now back in the States. He is stationed in the U. S. General hospital at Camp Carson, Colorado. He has been awarded the Purple Heart.

Lt. Mary Taylor of the Army Nurse Corps, wife of Capt. Howard Taylor, has been promoted from second to first lieutenant. The Taylors are stationed at Gardiner General hospital in Chicago.

Following word that their son, Sgt. Robert Profit, was in a hospital in Belgium recovering from wounds, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Profit received a letter from him telling

Plastic Surgery Fund for Disabled War Veterans

Echo Chapter, O. E. S., Is Sponsoring Raising of Contributions Here

Several Cass City societies have contributed to the Ida Hibbard fund for disabled veterans, individuals are placing their gifts in money receptacles left in several local business places, and a benefit dance and card party is scheduled at the school gym and library on Wednesday night, Feb. 28, from eight to twelve o'clock. This raising of funds from these sources is sponsored by Echo Chapter, Order of Eastern Star. The proceeds are for the benefit of a plastic surgery fund for returned war veterans.

This is a Michigan project—non-profit sharing. The fund will enable a Detroit sculptor, Beaver Edwards, who has won international fame through his work in plastic restoration of human parts, to manufacture these appliances for the benefit of our returned soldiers and sailors. These natural restorations will furnish boys who have been badly disabled to regain normal self-confidence. The benefits are both physical and mental.

Mr. Edwards readily accepted the idea of making artificial hands and arms for soldiers who seem desirous of them. As a result, a number of patients at Percy Jones General Hospital have been fitted with the necessary restorations.

Soldiers who have received these restorations appeared at the hospital and other wounded veterans wondered if they, too, could one day wear a similar life-like restoration.

So that more returning soldiers who have suffered amputations can be furnished sculptured restorations, the Ida Hibbard Fund has been incorporated. Contributions to this fund are disbursed to aid the greatest number of soldiers possible.

In furnishing the soldiers with a means of regaining the normalcy, both mental and physical, that will be imperative to his well being, this fund solicits your attention.

HAPPY DOZEN GIVES TO PLASTIC SURGERY FUND

The Happy Dozen met Monday evening with Mrs. Alfred Fort. The fund for plastic surgery for returned war veterans is meeting with a splendid response and this group voted a contribution of $5.00 to the fund. The ladies will meet next Monday evening, Feb. 28, with Mrs. Robert Brown.

that he was recovering but not giving any information as to the nature of his wounds. On Feb. 16 they received a letter from his nurse, Lt. Mary Barnes, formerly of Cass City, telling them that he had been wounded in the arm and leg and assuring them that he was receiving the best of care. Sgt. Profit was the first casualty that Lt. Barnes met on duty over there that she had known back home.

Recently awarded the good conduct medal for exemplary behavior was Master Sergeant Jack Parmalee, son of Muri Parmalee, 279 East Wilson avenue, Pontiac, and grandson of Mrs. Claud Little of Cass City. He is chief ordnance clerk of a large strategic air depot in England where skilled Turn to Service News, page 5.

Tomorrow Is Waste Paper Day

"A bundle from every home and business place." That's the slogan set up by Willis Campbell, salvage chairman, for the waste paper pickup tomorrow (Saturday) in Cass City.

In an advertisement on page 6, directions are given for packing and bundling newspapers, magazines and books, corrugated and cardboard boxes and cartons, and wastebasket paper. Householders are requested to place bundles in plain sight of the pickup driver and to have the bundles securely tied. Members of the 4-H club are cooperating in the drive under the leadership of Mr. Campbell and are hoping that the response will be liberal and that tomorrow's collection will exceed that of any other day devoted to this work.

"Our quota is a ton a week. How much are you saving?" asks Mr. Campbell. If anyone has an extra large amount, he should call No. 40 and ask for the paper man.

Students from the rural sections are making a fine record in waste paper collections. Monday morning 800 pounds was brought in from the country on one school bus! Each bus route has a group of paper troopers who make it their duty to bring in waste paper from the rural sections. The paper trooper plan is being found unusually effective in bringing in scrap paper to keep Michigan mills operating.

Farmers who bring in paper with their own cars may leave it at the paper shed east of the Presbyterian church.

Gavel Club Considers Student Loan Plans

At the meeting Tuesday evening, Feb. 20, of the Gavel club at the Haley restaurant a committee, consisting of Bernard Ross and Hugh Munro, was appointed to investigate the possibility of student loans for young people wishing to attend college.

Toastmaster Leonard Urquhart's program consisted of a spelling bee which proved very entertaining, and Cameron Wallace as news-caster gave a very able report on the Big Three conference at Crimea. Harold Ostley read three very interesting letters he had written to U. S. congressmen and the answers he received from them.

Sgt. Gerald Kerbyson, who is home on furlough from India, and Fred Auten were guests at this meeting.

Local history will be discussed at the Feb. 27 gathering of the club. Raymond McCullough will be toastmaster and Howard Woolley newscaster.

Two Local Soldiers Meet in Philippines

From Rescue correspondent.

After three years and four months in the army, Pfc. Perry Mellendorf, son of Mrs. DeEtte Mellendorf, of Rescue met Sgt. Garrison Stine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stine of Cass City. They met on Feb. 1 in the Philippine Islands. Mrs. Mellendorf sent her son Sgt. Garrison Stine's address and later he went over to see Sgt. Stine. Pfc. Mellendorf said it took him about 20 minutes to get to where Sgt. Stine was working and he said the sergeant was surely surprised to see him. They spent the day together as Pfc. Mellendorf had the day off. Sgt. Stine is stationed about two miles away and had been going to work for some time about 40 rods from where Pfc. Mellendorf works.

The last time these two soldiers had seen each other was on Sept. 30, 1941, at Fort Custer, Mich. Mellendorf left that day for Texas and later Stine went to California. Pfc. Mellendorf said it was surely good to see some one from home again as Sgt. Stine had been home last summer and he could tell Pfc. Mellendorf a lot of things about home. Mellendorf had not been home since Sept. 28, 1941. He hadn't seen any one from home excepting Ellis Karr, whom he met at Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, when he was stationed there. Stine and Mellendorf expect to see each other as often as possible and Sgt. Stine's parents and Pfc. Mellendorf's mother are greatly pleased to hear of their sons' recent meeting in the Philippines.

Grade Label

A grade labeled brand is one that states the ranking quality, as determined by point scoring the important characteristics, on the basis of established grade standards, in a single composite term, of such consumer understanding as excellent, good, fair, and poor. Determining factors are color and maturity, inherent in the raw material; and uniformity of size and absence of defects, representing the workmanship of the processor.

Smother Flame

If fat in a pan catches fire, cover pan with a heavy wet cloth to smother flame. If fat in a broiler catches fire, turn off oven and close oven door. Never douse water on burning fat, since water causes grease to spatter and spreads the fire.

A blind, which reaches to the floor, affords a covering for a window, background for a dressing table, and a concealment for a radiator. The window cornice, which supports the dressing table shelf, covers the side rails of the blind. The blind can be raised and lowered.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? Although the name of this company might indicate connection with other "Edison" companies, actually there is no connection in either financing or management. The name "Edison" was adopted in the early days of the electrical industry by nearly all electrical companies, because they owed their existence to the inventive genius of Thomas A. Edison and were licensed under Edison patents. Actually, Detroit Edison is independently owned and operated by more than 37,000 stockholders. Nearly 1,300 of them are employees of the company.

Wasting electricity is wasting badly needed coal

ONE-DISH MEAL. A tasty, balanced meal in one dish is recommended by our Home Service Department:

Braised Liver with Vegetables
1 pound liver 1 1/2 lbs. fat
1 cup stock
1 cup tomato juice
1 1/2 lbs. flour
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 small turnip, cubed
2 carrots, sliced
1 onion, sliced
1 bay leaf
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 cup celery, cubed

Scald liver, cut into two-inch squares, roll in flour, salt and pepper, and brown in fat on high heat. Remove from fat, add vegetables and brown slightly. Combine liver, vegetables and seasonings in skillet, cover and simmer for one hour. If desired, liquid may be thickened to make a gravy.

376 TAX BILLS. Since the poles, wires and other property of Detroit Edison are spread over all of southeastern Michigan, we pay property taxes to every township, city and village in the territory we serve—376 in all!

Don't waste electricity during the coal shortage

WASHER WISDOM. Take care of your electric washer—it cannot be replaced! Keep all moving parts properly oiled. Take special care of all rubber parts: wipe wringer rolls dry, and release pressure on rolls when they are not in use. Do not overload washer, and don't run washer longer than necessary—7 to 12 minutes per tubful are usually enough. Drain and rinse after each washing.

Use Induction
In Train OrdersCarrier Picks Up Messages
From Outside Wires
In New System.

KANSAS CITY. — Induction carrier, which is neither radio nor telephone service, has passed the experimental stage on the Kansas City Southern railway lines for two-way voice communication between stations and trains, the head and rear end of trains, and between two or more trains.

Rolling southward on a freight train from Kansas City to Shreveport in September, railway communications experts from widely scattered railroads watched as the conductor sitting in the caboose three-quarters of a mile behind the engineer talked on a telephone headset to the engineer, to wayside stations, to other trains and control points.

Induction carrier is the newest thing in electronics. For the laymen, the simplest explanation is that it uses radio to the extent the equipment reaches out from a train to pick up telephone and telegraph lines along the right of way, riding these lines to the receiver, whether that is on an engine, another caboose or a wayside station. Instantaneous two-way conversation of telephone hand-sets is maintained and distances up to 50 to 70 miles are reached as easily as a mile or so.

Talk Both Ways.

The Kansas City Southern has allocated about $500,000 for equipment purchase, and the company feels the system has proven its worth in time and money saving, and as a safety factor.

Up to now the conductor of a mile-long freight train who learned of some commanding reason why the train must be brought to a stop immediately—possibly a hot box—had no way of signaling the engineer except to set the air with a jolt that temporarily left the locomotive straining against 100 sets of brakes, risking the pulling of draw bars and extensive damage and delay.

Now the conductor can call up the engineer by induction carrier, and immediate steps taken with no danger to equipment. The company also lists other benefits of induction carrier—to speed up departure by advising that all are on board, to save time in switching, to check train orders, to pass signals on curves, to report delays and advance meeting points in order to speed up train movement, to report unusual track conditions and expedite repairs, to exchange advance information of yard switching requirements, and to determine if speed should be slackened to pick up train orders.

Increase Efficiency.

Induction carrier supplements and increases the efficiency but does not replace existing railway communications such as telephone and telegraph, and it operates in a field different enough from radio that federal licensing likely will be unnecessary. The federal communications commission already has held extensive hearings on the matter in Washington, seeking knowledge of the operations.

The field of induction carrier doesn't depart from the railway right of way lines and offers no interference with other equipment, radio or telephone.

The Kansas City Southern already has installed equipment at larger stations in western Missouri, eastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas, in Texarkana, Ark.-Tex., and Shreveport, La., and in numerous engines and cabooses.

Regular trainmen operate the equipment throughout. No special training is required, as the principle is identical with telephone use. While railways thus far have not been inclined to stress the safety feature, it is admitted privately this is extremely important, particularly in freight operations.

ABOARD UNITED STATES CARRIER OFF LUZON, PHILIPPINES. —Cmdr. David McCampbell, 34, of Los Angeles, boosted his combat bag to 18 1/2 planes recently during the second carrier force attack on Manila, becoming the navy's top ace in the Pacific.

Diabetes Hereditary

The medical profession is now convinced that diabetes is hereditary, according to the Mendelian law, and does not result from improper diet, though high fat diets, says one authority, may induce diabetes in persons predisposed to this disease. Another authority thinks that a high carbohydrate diet may actually help to prevent diabetes.

Fruit, Meringue and Cupcakes . . . Dessert Trio
(See Recipes Below)

Dessert Simplicity

Desserts that are delicious in spite of their simplicity and yet hearty enough to satisfy appetites whipped to their keenest by sharp wintry weather are the order of the day.

We're concentrating on desserts that take up little time and effort, little of the precious, rationed sugar, but use plenty of fruits in season. There are many recipes among them that use eggs or milk to fortify diets shy in these two important foods.

The first is an especially quickly prepared dessert that is satisfying but not too heavy:

Fruit Cupcakes

Slice plain bakery cupcakes into wedges, cutting only half way through. Open gently and fill the cavity with meringue and fruit. Bits of fruit left over from breakfast or lunch may be used. Served with coffee or another hot beverage, these make a tempting climax to heavier fall and winter meals.

Butterscotch Rice Pudding.

(Serves 6)

- 1/2 cup rice
- 2 cups milk
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/4 cup chopped dates

Wash rice and add salt and rice to the milk. Bring to a boil and simmer 25 minutes. Meanwhile, melt butter, add brown sugar and cook over a low flame until very dark brown but not burned. Add the caramel mixture to the rice and milk and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat and add lemon juice, vanilla and dates. Pour into a wet bowl and chill. When cold, this pudding can be unmolded. Serve plain or with cream.

Pears are in season and are good to serve with cake or just plain fresh or stewed. Here they are combined into cake:

Pear Cake.

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract

Toppling:
10 pear halves, pared and stewed
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Cream shortening, add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time and beat well. Add flour which has been sifted with baking powder, salt and cinnamon.

Lynn Says

Saving Sugar: Syrups may be used in cookies while sugar is saved for cakes. The texture of cookies is not affected enough by syrup in place of sugar so that it is perfectly all right to use it. Use 3/4 cup honey or corn syrup in place of each cup of sugar, and add 2 tablespoons of flour to each cup called for in recipe.

Fruits may be sweetened with jams and jellies or honey. Add sweetening last with a pinch of salt to make the most of it.

Prepared pudding and gelatin mixes may be used with unbaked sweet cookie crusts to save sugar in making pies.

Thicken left-over fruit syrup from canned fruit with cornstarch and use as sauce for puddings.

Make use of dried and fresh fruits for their natural sugar content.

Substitute fresh fruits in season and custards for cakes and pastries as often as possible.

Add flavoring. Pour into a well-greased oblong or square pan. Press the cooked pear halves into the batter and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon mixed together. Bake for 30 minutes in a 400-degree oven.

Have you tried cookies and fresh fruits for dessert simplicity and satisfaction? You'll like:

Orange Crisps.

- (Makes 7 1/2 dozen small cookies)
- 2 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
- 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
- 3 tablespoons orange juice

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Add fruit rinds and juice. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture. Mix thoroughly. Shape into rolls and wrap up in waxed paper. Chill until firm. Slice 1/4-inch thick and bake on ungreased baking sheets in a moderate (350-degree) oven 12 to 15 minutes. These cookies may also be shaped by using a cookie press, if fancy shapes are desired.

Spiced Apple Pudding.

(Serves 6)

- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 to 3/4 cup milk
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 4 tablespoons shortening
- 2 cups sliced apples
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/4 cup sugar
- Juice of 1/2 lemon

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt together. Cut fat into flour, using fork or pastry blender. Add one-half cup chopped apples and enough milk to make a soft dough. Melt butter into the bottom of a casserole, then add sugar, remaining apples and lemon juice. Pour the batter over the apples. Steam for 1 1/2 hours and serve hot with lemon juice or cream.

Chocolate is such a big favorite that it should be included in desserts occasionally to add to appetite appeal. Here is a nutritious dessert that is bound to bring cheers:

Chocolate Floating Island.

(Serves 6)

- 1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 3 cups milk
- 4 eggs
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
- 4 tablespoons sugar

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler, add 1/2 cup sugar and mix well. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly. Reserve 2 egg whites for meringue. Beat remaining whites and 4 yolks slightly with salt. Pour hot milk mixture over eggs, then return to double boiler. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture coats the spoon and foam disappears. Add vanilla. Strain into serving dish, cover; let stand until cold. Chill before serving. Garnish with meringue made of egg whites, sugar and a dash of salt.

To Iron Bias-Cuts

If that lovely new hip-slimming, bias-cut slip hangs unevenly after its first trip to the suds, don't blame it on the laundering or the store. The chances are that the fault lies with the ironing. Next time try ironing diagonally across the slip so that your iron moves along the straight or grain of the goods—you will get much better results.

Plastic Heels

A new molding process covers women's shoe heels with a one-twelfth coating of plastic. The new heel will not scratch or scuff, nor will the coating wear off, split or peel. No seam shows. It can be made in all colors, dull or glossy, simulated leathers, multi-colors, etc. Heels are attached to shoes in the usual manner.

Pruning Trees

At the time peach trees are planted, their main trunk should be headed back to a height of from 24 to 26 inches, dependent on the system of pruning to be followed later on. All lateral branches should be pruned back to short spurs of one bud each. This may seem like drastic treatment but it results in good growth and strong trees if future de-shooting and pruning are properly performed.

President McKinley Tells Of Abe Lincoln's Power

What were the traits of character which made him leader and master, without a rival, in the greatest crisis in our history? What gave him such mighty power? Lincoln had sublime faith in the people. He walked with and among them. He recognized the importance and power of an enlightened public sentiment and was guided by it. Even amid the vicissitudes of war, he concealed little from public review and inspection. In all he did he invited rather than evaded examination and criticism. He submitted his plans and purposes, as far as practicable, to public consideration, with perfect frankness and sincerity.

He had that happy peculiar habit which few public men have attained, of looking away from the deceptive and misleading influences about him—and none are more deceptive than those of public life in our capitals—straight into the hearts of the people. He could not be deceived by the self-interested host of eager counselors who sought to enforce their own particular views upon him as the voice of the country. He chose to determine for himself what the people were thinking about and wanting him to do; and no man ever lived who was a more accurate judge of their opinions and wishes.—William McKinley, February 12, 1895.

Cleaning Rugs

Use the same cleaning methods for linen rugs as for all-cotton. Linens are very absorbent, take up a great deal of water during any cleaning processes, and should be dried thoroughly. A cotton or linen rug, like any other, will pay you dividends in longer service if you take time to give it proper care. Keep it clean—pamper it, and its good looks will flatter your ability.

Practical Linings

Discontinued patterns or cuttings of linoleum make economical as well as practical shelf and drawer linings. They can be wiped with a damp cloth and outwear many changes of the shelf-paper.

Philippines Had Riotous HistoryKnew Strife and Wars Ever Since Discovery in 1521
By Magellan.

WASHINGTON. — The Philippine islands, which have America's guarantee of complete independence as soon as the Japs are thrown out, have gone through a turbulent history since their discovery in 1521 by Magellan.

From that year until 1565, Spain made unsuccessful attempts to conquer the islands, but in 1565 a Spaniard named Legaspi landed at Cebu and the conquest of the islands began. Five years later the native city of Manila (Maynila) was captured and converted into a then modern Spanish type city.

In 1574 Limahong, a Chinese pirate, tried to capture Manila and later to establish himself in Pangasinan, but both attempts failed.

The first bishop of Manila arrived in the year 1581 from Spain and almost immediately conflicts began to arise between civil and religious authorities. The first attempt to colonize the southern Philippines occurred in 1586 and a settlement was established near Zamboanga, Mindanao. This settlement was destroyed three years later and in 1600 began a series of Moro raids which menaced the northern islands for the next two centuries.

Trade Established. From 1565 to 1600 most of the Filipinos were ready to be converted to Christianity. Also, Manila had become the first city of the East and trade had been established with China, Japan, India and Malacca.

The century from 1603 to 1762 was filled with conflicts between civil and church authorities in the Philippines. Efforts by Spain to curb corruption and violence were, for the most part, unsuccessful. In 1762 the English captured Manila but made no attempt to extend their conquest, and by the Treaty of Paris in 1763 the Philippines were restored to Spain. From then until 1898 Spain was in undisputed control of the islands.

On April 20, 1898, shortly after the battleship Maine was destroyed in the harbor of Havana, Cuba, the American congress demanded that Spain recognize the independence of Cuba. Spain refused and the Spanish-American war began.

Demand Freedom. Adm. Dewey destroyed the Spanish fleet at Cavite, and on August 13 Manila surrendered to American land forces. The treaty of peace signed December 10 dictated that Spain cede the Philippines to the United States for $20,000,000.

Immediately after the signing of the treaty, a band of Filipinos rose up and demanded independence. The insurrection continued until 1901 when the leader, Aguinaldo, was captured.

The United States set up a government which amounted practically to self government of the municipalities and part self government for the 36 provinces of the islands. In the years that followed, Filipinos again and again demanded independence.

In 1934, the United States congress passed the Tydings-McDuffie act providing freedom for the Philippines in 1946. On January 23, this year, congress passed a resolution assuring the islands their freedom as soon as the Japs are kicked out.

New Apparatus Is Used
In Rescue of Gliders

AN ADVANCED U. S. TROOP CARRIER FORCES BASE IN HOLLAND. — An army transport swooped over a sugar beet field recently and successfully used a 'new pickup apparatus' to snatch from the sodden earth one of the gliders which carried troops for the airborne invasion of Holland.

The demonstration was part of the return home of the first of the many gliders salvaged from battlefields after the invasion. Maj. Gen. Paul L. Williams, U. S. troop carrier forces chief, and Col. Franklin F. Henley of Eastman, Ga., commander of the troop carrier force's service wing, saw a flight of 36 big C-47s take off from this mud-laden airstrip and head into the low hanging clouds with the gliders in tow.

The setting for the flying pickup from the beet field resembled one end of a football field. Nylon ropes were looped between two uprights similar to goal posts. A C-47 piloted by Capt. E. L. Stone of Gorman, Texas, with a special underbelly tow mechanism, flew down a few feet above the waiting glider, piloted by Flight Officer Don C. Stevens, a former Hollywood, Calif., stunt flier. The tow-rope snapped the nylon hawser and pulled the glider into the air.

British Home Guards
Vets Refuse to Disband

LONDON. — Old soldiers never die. The 130 members of the home guard at Saffron Walden, Essex, have refused to quit their posts and will hold weekly drills until the war is over in Europe, news dispatches reported.

The commanding major explained that two-thirds of the men are veterans of the First World war and that one is 67, bearded and the father of 10 children.

The story of the Earle brothers, founders of the 33,000-acre Blaney Park, is typically the history of much of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

It is the tale of a northland's evolution from a swaggering, lusty exploitation of forests, only 50 to 75 years ago, to a twentieth century era in which the natural resources of fish, fur, game and even climate have become overnight attractions for leisure-bent dollars of mid-west cities.

Between these two extremes of the cycle is agriculture, dependent upon soil and climate for its survival and growth, and hence inevitably limited in potential development.

"Tough country." That's the Upper Peninsula which stretches from Ironwood to Sault Ste. Marie and south to Menominee, according to one contemporary writer.

Here is a region long on blue-sky lure, the inmost child of George Bishop's Upper Peninsula Development bureau, but decidedly short on adequate, modern facilities to accommodate city-wise tourists.

The blue-sky, so-called, has served to keep up the faith and courage of its natives and to attract curious travelers into its do. Concluded on page 7.

Iron Rails

Until 1844 there were no plants in the United States which could make "heavy" iron rails although in that year more than 4,000 miles of railroad had already been built. The first production of "heavy" iron rails in this country got under way early in 1844 at the Mt. Savage Rolling Mill in Allegheny County, Maryland, which had been built the year before by the Maryland and New York Iron and Coal company.

City League.

Landon's No. 1 team drifted casually into the City League lead, when they rolled a winning three-game series against the Knoblet Five. While this was going on, the teams that had been leading the Landon squad were faltering and this permitted the change in leadership. Four teams are already pressing the leaders and are but one game out of first place, so this week may reveal more sudden changes in the standings.

No team set up new records during the week, although Mac McCullough's group lashed out with one big game to exceed their average by 140 pins to take one of the weekly prizes. The Kolb team tucked away the other team prize with a total of 125 pins over average in three games. The double individual prizes were both won by Adam Deering of Gagetown, a member of the McCullough squad. Not a bowler in the entire league hit the pins for a 550 count to register his name on the honor list and this is the first time this has happened since the league opened. There were a few however that rang up games of 200 or more and they were: Wallace 216, Reid 213, Deering 212, McCullough 211, Gross 210, Kolb 200.

Merchants' League.

In the Merchant's League, Sam's Tavern team has finally been caught. This team has been leading their league practically all season, until in their series with the Schwaderer Construction Five they dropped all three games to go into a tie with the roadbuilders on Wednesday evening. The next few weeks will find these two teams fighting it out for a stronger hold on the top position.

The Schwaderer team had the honor of holding the lead in the Central States tournament at Saginaw for about 24 hours over the week end but were dropped into second place by the Coco-Cola team of Owosso. It was on Saturday night that Schwaderer's moved into the lead of the Booster class on games of 888, 835, 947 for 2670 totals to nose out the E & B team of Bad Axe, which had held the lead for two weeks, but on Sunday evening the Owosso team clicked for a 2674 count to set the Cass City team back into second place. The Schwaderer team is composed of E. Fritz, Mac McCullough, I. Parsch, H. Ludlow and G. Landon.

I Bring You Paints, Plastics and Proteins

I AM Soy Bean. I am as old as ancient China, where a trading caravan besieged by bandits found that I was good to eat. Yet I am as young as synthetic rubber. Materials made from my oil are better than real rubber for food jar rings, gas-kets and many other products because they suffer less from age, air, sun and solvents.

In paints and lacquers my oil lightens the load on scarce linseed and tung oils. In plastics my protein produces steering wheels and ignition parts. For human food my flour goes over-seas at the rate of about a billion pounds a year; besides all its use by people here at home. For livestock feed, my meal amounts to a tonnage as great as the total from linseed, cottonseed and peanuts.

By plant breeding, inoculation and better cultural methods my yields per acre have grown until one state now is able to produce more than a thousand pounds per acre of precious protein meal, plus all the accompanying oil. Most of this progress came between World Wars I and II. In that same period, farm power and machinery added even more to the farmer's capacity to grow and harvest soys. In that same state, tractor and combine enable him now to produce three acres in the time it took for one acre 25 years ago.

New uses and products to be made from Soy Beans are being announced every year. One of the latest is Soy Bean "Milk", which the experts say cannot be distinguished from the product of a cow. It certainly makes Soy Beans one of the newer crops which we will all want to watch.

main. Yet good housing and good restaurants are few and far between, as any travel-experienced citizen will concede. In competition with other play areas this country has suffered much. It will continue to suffer until its resort-keepers or perhaps the state government introduce adequate facilities for the traveler's comfort.

In spite of this handicap, the Upper Peninsula has managed to forge ahead. Everybody who visits this "tough country," air-conditioned 52 weeks in the year by winds off the Great Lakes, will readily admit that the region possesses a promising future as well as an enriched present and a glorious, crimson past.

"If we had known then what we know now, Blaney Park might never have been undertaken," said G. Harold Earle, president of the Wisconsin Land and Lumber company, a Michigan corporation which owns and operates the Blaney Park resort, midway between St. Ignace and Escanaba on U. S. 2.

"In 1927 when my brother (Stewart) and I began Blaney Park, we were just 10 to 20 years too soon. Consider the history of Blaney for a minute and you'll get an idea of what I mean.

"In 1878 my grandfather, Chas. J. Meyer, induced the Chicago & Northwestern railroad to lay tracks to a sawmill town which he named Hermanville after his younger son. At a cost of $150,000 to $200,000 he created his own timber empire. The IXL brand of flooring, tongued and grooved, became nationally famous.

"In 1888, my father, George Washington Earle, a native of New York state, met the daughter of Meyer and married her. A practicing physician, he came to Hermanville in 1889 for his health. When Meyer's overexpanded holdings became squeezed by financial hard times, father reorganized the company.

"In 1918 he made a deal whereby this cut-over land, then 22,000 acres, as large as a western ranch was purchased by cattle operators. This venture failed. Father died in 1923, leaving the entire property to Stewart and me.

"What could we do with it? We didn't know. Father had always said, 'Everything in nature had a use if you could find it.' We decided to try to see if we could discover the secret. We acquired more land to round-out our holdings, and then embarked on the creation of Blaney Park as a modern tourist resort.

"The lumberjack boarding house was transformed into a lodge for serving of meals and for administration offices. We converted small homes into modern tourist cottages; constructed a summer inn across the highway which old Captain Blaney had sentimentally named Halstreet street and built a golf course, airplane landing field, out-door swimming pool and even an artificial lake.

"Open now year-round, both winter and summer, we cater to the better class of vacation trade. And still we don't make money, although we about meet our operating expenses."

What is the answer to the Earle brothers' dream for profitable use of northern cut-over land?

Harold Earle isn't sure. He is thinking today about a combination of land use whereby timber would be utilized efficiently to eliminate present costly waste, wild game and fish would be conserved wisely for the use of tourists in recreation and food, furs would be "cropped" annually from beavers and other animals, and the health-giving benefits of an invigorating, stimulating climate would be utilized year-round by city dwellers on organized vacations. This formula of timber-furs-food-recreation may be the answer.

If it is, then the entire Upper Peninsula will be benefitted. And if any two men can achieve it, the Earle brothers can do it. They have courage and vision, and what is equally important, old-fashioned independence and zeal for work.

These virtues are needed today, as yesterday, in this "tough country"—Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Take Your Fertilizer Home with You Now!

It's a wise farmer who takes his spring fertilizer now. Shortage of labor in the fertilizer plants, combined with the uncertainty of product restriction and the fact that sulphuric acid is in great demand by the government for munitions make the situation serious. No one can tell what delays or other shortages we may have next spring.

Don't wait and hope to get all you need next spring. Take your fertilizer home and store it, and avoid delays or disappointment when you are ready for planting.

Waste Carotene
Scientists have found that calves cannot utilize carotene, the precursor of vitamin A, as well as vitamin A itself. Carotene is present in whole milk as well as in good-quality hay and silage, but unfortunately it does not appear to do newborn calves much good. Milk, of course, also contains the readily-utilized vitamin A, the colostrum or first-milk being richer in this factor than other milk.

Bake Old Fowls
For older birds that are less tender, baking is recommended. If desired, the fowl may be steamed until partially cooked, then placed on a rack in a covered pan with a small amount of broth added, and baked until tender.

Hybrid Onions
Onions to the taste of everyone will soon be on the market. After years of experimentation Drs. Henry A. Jones and Alfred E. Clarke, accidentally discovered one plant in a field of the ordinary variety that will produce large hybrid onions either mild or sharp tasting.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS German Militarism Doomed As Big Three Chart New Europe; Allies Spear Deeper into Reich

Released by Western Newspaper Union EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

Bearing personal possessions, Filipinos pass through smoldering ruins in Manila after Jap fight to slow Yank advance.

BIG THREE: Europe of Tomorrow

Although details necessarily must be left until after the war, the general pattern of the Europe of tomorrow loomed as a result of the Big Three's conference at the Crimean watering resort of Yalta.

As the outline emerged, there was the prospect of a Europe consisting of an expanded Russia; of smaller countries promised the right of picking their own governments, and of a Germany emasculated to prevent the conduct of another war.

Determined to stamp out German militarism, the Big Three planned to break up both the general staff and army; to do away with all wehrmacht equipment; eliminate or control all Reich industry that could be used for war production, and wipe out all Nazi and Junker influence in the life of the state.

In conceding Russia's claim to eastern Poland, Messrs. Roosevelt and Churchill compromised with Premier Stalin on the question of a government for the recently liberated nation, agreeing on a regime to include members of the present Red-sponsored Lublin committee and other Democratic elements, with a free election to be held later for final settlement of the problem.

In addition to promising the smaller nations the right to choose their own governments, the Big Three an-

Premier Stalin (left) and President Roosevelt confer at Yalta.

nounced their willingness to assist these countries in carrying out measures to assure such a step. On the all-important question of an organization to preserve the peace, there was said to be understanding on a formula for determining an aggressor, with details to be worked out at a United Nations meeting in San Francisco, Calif., April 25.

With Russia adamant on demands for the use of both German labor and material for reconstructing devastated Europe, the Big Three arranged for the establishment of a commission in Moscow to decide on amounts due and methods to be employed in exacting payment.

Under Big Three plans for postwar occupation of Germany, Russia would take over the east, the British the northwest and the U. S. the west, with France invited to share in the control of the Rhineland.

Reacting violently to the Big Three's program, German propagandists raved: "Never—this is our sacred oath in this hour in which the enemy has dropped his mask and in which we Germans now see the devilish grimace of the Jew—never will this murder be practiced on our people."

THE WAR: Allies Gain

With much German industry already overrun in the east, and with much more threatened by the Russian drive on Saxony and the U. S. and British assault on the Ruhr, the Nazis tried to bolster their people's resistance with promises of a military miracle.

What the miracle would be, of course, no one knew, although observers speculated on possibilities of a German plan to suck the Russians deep into the Reich and then counterattack when the spring thaws bogged long Red communications.

LUMBER

Most of the lumber being produced in the United States today is used as shipping boxes and crates for materials destined to the fighting fronts.

Shipping boxes and crates for overseas delivery last year required as much lumber as all other uses combined, the National Geographic society points out. Three-fourths of the several hundred thousand items shipped to the fighting fronts are packed in wooden boxes.

Sensing such a plan, himself, Russia's Marshal Gregory Zhukov maintained heavy pressure on German lines to the north of his forces bearing down on Berlin, in attempts to unsettle Nazi designs on a great flanking drive southward.

If Germans placed their faith in a miracle, however, that faith was being sorely tested by Allied operations, with the latest Russian menace being a drive on industrially important Saxony, following a quick dash westward across Silesia. Not only did the Reds threaten to seal off this production center, as they had moved to seal off the lower Silesian area, but they also threatened to swing to the north and outflank embattled Berlin, periled by Zhu-kov's armies pressing forward from the east.

Meanwhile, Marshal Bernard Montgomery's Canadian and British Tommies pressed their attack on the northern anchor of the Siegfried line in an attempt to swing behind German defenses and then break south for the Ruhr, trapping Nazi forces facing U. S. armies on the Rhineland plain from the rear.

As Montgomery's forces headed for the Ruhr, the Nazis opened the floodgates of the Urt and Schwammenau dams farther to the south, inundating the western banks of the Roer river and bogging the British 2nd and U. S. 1st and 9th armies in their smash through the Siegfried line to the Rhine. Rain added to the floodwaters released at the rate of 1,000,000 cubic feet an hour to slow the Allied advance.

MEAT: Growing Shortage

Because of decreased cattle and hog slaughter and big government demands, civilian meat consumption may drop to the lowest level since 1935, when emergency butchering of stock in drought areas and the pig reduction program forced the per capita supply to 116 pounds.

Short now, meat may become even more scarce during the spring and summer, when the government, unable to stock up during the winter months, may be compelled to go into the market during the slack seasons.
With the normal increase in fall butchering, supplies could be expected to become more plentiful then.

In a further effort to get its share of meat now, the government recently ordered federally inspected packers to set aside 70 per cent, instead of 50 per cent, of their utility grade beef production for use in canned goods for the military and lend-lease.

PACIFIC: Mop Up Manila

As Yanks moved to close up the last pockets of Jap resistance on battered Manila, other U. S. forces spread out to the east and north of the central plain to tighten their grip on the main Philippine island of Luzon.

With its modern business district gutted by fire, Manila long rumbled to heavy gunfire, as die-hard enemy units, fighting to the last, mounted artillery and mortars in buildings in the south end of the city and pepered advancing U. S. liberation forces.

Replying in kind, famed U. S. artillery pulverized Jap strongpoints, with ground forces pushing their way forward through rubble-strewn streets, still infested by light-armed enemy remnants. As the 37th infantry, 1st cavalry and 11 air borne divisions closed in on the Japs, they pressed them tighter and tighter against the dock area.

Jap Ghosts

Although the starving Jap stragglers on Guam constitute neither a menace nor a threat today, it is still a surprise to come on them without warning in banana and coconut groves or to catch them at night trying to pilfer from a ration dump, marine correspondent Alvin Josephy Jr., says.

With the development of the island and with the arrival of army and navy nurses, women correspondents and congressional groups, the presence of Japanese is annoying.

LABOR: Back in Fold

After prolonged negotiations, the AFL was ready to receive John L.
Lewis and his United Mine Workers back into the fold after a long absence brought about by Big John's departure to organize the CIO, with which he broke following its refusal to vote against President Roosevelt in 1940.

Lewis' return to the AFL was based upon both parties' acceptance of terms fashioned by Big John and AFL Chieftain William Green in a recent conference, in which the UMW would be allowed to maintain its District 50, made up of all kinds of workers, and the AFL would later decide if any of these workers properly belonged to other of its affiliates.

An AFL hookup with Lewis would provide it with powerful leadership in its drive to assault the War Labor board's "Little Steel" formula, limiting wage increases to 15 per cent of the January, 1941, level, which both say is inadequate since living costs have risen higher than that figure.

POSTWAR FINANCE: Asks U. S. Leadership

Declaring that it was time for the U. S. to take the lead in economic cooperation to establish the foundation for expanded world trade, President Roosevelt asked congressional approval for the Bretton Woods monetary plans stabilizing foreign exchange and providing long-term reconstruction loans.

At the same time, the President said that the Bretton Woods program was just one phase in a broad effort to promote world prosperity, with others to include an allied food and agriculture organization, expansion of the reciprocal trade agreements act of 1934, reduction of trade barriers, control of monopolies and orderly marketings of surpluses.

Under the Bretton Woods plans, the U. S. would contribute about 25 per cent of the money for the $8,- 800,000,000 stabilization fund enabling nations to obtain foreign exchange for world trade, etc., at par values instead of open market rates.
For the reconstruction fund, the U. S. would contribute about 33 per cent of the $9,100,000,000 capital, to be largely used in guaranteeing private loans to foreign countries.

FRANCE: Industry Control

Claiming that the gravity of France's reconstruction problems called for central direction in rebuilding the shattered economy so that all phases might develop evenly, the De Gaulle government assumed state control of private enterprise.

With De Gaulle
proclaiming that
"We wish
France to be a state that directs the economic effort to the profit of all in order that life will become better for each Frenchman..." it was indicated that government control might well be established as a permanent institution.

Under De Gaulle's program, the government will instruct provisional commissioners, selected after consultation with labor and industry, in the supervision of every branch of business. So far, most commissioners have been drawn from the ranks of labor, thus tending to liberalize the program.

WAR COSTS: Taxes

Reflecting the tremendous cost of the war, Uncle Sam took nearly a third of the nation's earnings in taxes in 1944, with income and corporation levies accounting for the bulk of the payments.

While total income in 1944 was estimated at 156 1/2 billion dollars, taxes were set at 42 billion dollars, with individual payments of over 17 billion dollars and corporation returns of over 16 1/2 billion dollars. Of the corporation taxes, it was said, almost two-thirds came from excess profits.

Cigarette, liquor, luxury, etc.,
taxes yielded over 6 billion dollars.

Life

Costly in treasure, World War II has been equally costly in life, too, with total U. S. fatalities to date approximating 200,000 compared with 53,000 for all of World War I.
Compilation of statistics, however, show that Germany and Russia have suffered the greatest number of fatalities, with Japan next with 600,000.

By comparison, Britain's and France's losses have been far below World War I fatalities, with the former suffering 825,000 to date as against 900,000, and the latter only 150,000 as against 1,250,000.

FARM CREDIT

The farm mortgage debt of the country is the lowest in 30 years and much of the reduction is due to repayments on loans made through the Federal land bank system, the USDA reports. The volume of land bank and commissioner loans made in 1944 was the largest since 1936, totaling $105,292,000, but for every dollar borrowed more than 3 1/2 dollars was repaid on loans made in prior years, thus reducing the volume of loans outstanding about 17 per cent in the year.

France Again Is Free Nation

Three Great Powers Extend Full Recognition to Gen. De Gaulle.

WASHINGTON.—Under the leadership of aggressive Gen. Charles de Gaulle, the Republic of France emerged from four dark years of defeat, occupation and the ravages of war to take control once more of its own destinies as a sovereign nation already promised a position of power in the councils of peace.

Two actions by its Allies marked the renaissance of the republic:
The United States, Britain and Russia simultaneously recognized the regime of which General de Gaulle is president as a "provisional government."

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower turned over to this administration virtually all metropolitan France except the western front combat zones, by declaring the non-combat area to be an "interior zone." That includes Paris, capital of the provisional government.

Controls Own Affairs.
Not since German invaders enveloped the shattered nation in the summer of 1940 had France attained such stature in the family of nations or such control over its own affairs.

Recognition by the three great powers was accompanied by similar action of other nations, including Canada, Australia, Brazil, Peru and Venezuela.

The United States named Jefferson Caffery as its first ambassador.
He arrived in Paris recently to be a "representative" to the de Gaulle administration which until now was considered to be only a "de facto authority" rather than a government.

Immediately after announcing recognition, the United States undertook several adjustments to bring its relations with the new France in line.

The state department announced that business and professional people who can show a good military or civilian need for their presence in France may obtain passports to go there although transportation facilities are "extremely meager."

To Reopen Trade.

Diplomatic and financial authorities predicted the early unfreezing of $1,000,000,000 of French assets in this country, including about $900,- 000,000 credited to the Bank of France as well as heavy private holdings. The Bank of France assets are at present under attachment by the Bank of Belgium in New York state because of the assumed loss of certain Belgium gold deposits at Paris in 1940. Special arrangements are being worked out to lift the attachment.

Treasury officials said the question of reopening business communications between the United States and France was under consideration.

The recognition was announced here by Acting Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius who described it as being in harmony with American policy toward France. He noted that:

"Today the vast majority of Frenchmen are free. They have had opportunity during recent weeks to demonstrate their desire to have the duties and obligations of government assumed by the administration which is now functioning in Paris and which has been reconstituted and strengthened by the inclusion of leaders of the valiant forces of resistance within France."

Rare Insanity Is Found Among Austrian Refugees

LONDON.—Reference to a rare mental condition, known as "insanity of two," which can be communicated from one person to another, was made at an inquest on two Austrian refugees found dying of veronal poisoning here.

In recording verdicts that the two women, Miss Leopoldine Betty Wally Loew, 62, a professor of music, and Mrs. Sophia Sara Chumberg, widow of an author, had taken their lives while insane, the coroner described the rare malady.

"An example of it would be that when one of two women who had been associated together for a long time and lived a somewhat secluded life became mentally affected the other would also become affected," he said.

It was stated that the women came to England together in 1939 and Miss Loew became bedridden. Mrs.
Chumberg was devoted to her and did all the work.

The physician who had treated Miss Loew expressed the opinion that the younger woman was largely influenced by the elder. Miss Loew was the dominating personality.

Boost in Children's Wear Is Planned for Next Year

WASHINGTON.—Retail supplies of infants' and children's clothes will be increased during January, February and March because of a third clothing program, a war production board announcement disclosed.

The board will include sizes from 6 months to 16 years and such garments as rompers, pajamas, overalls, wash suits, dresses, underwear and shirts, the agency said.

Camouflage Rafts The undersides of rubber life rafts are camouflaged with pigments to lessen the chances of notice and in- vestigation by sharks.
