

Red Cross War Fund Drive Starts In Elkland Mar. 9

Quota of Township Is $1,500; Mrs. Chester L. Graham Heads Campaign

The drive to bolster the greatest force for mercy will be made in Elkland township on Friday, Mar. 9, when solicitors will contact local citizens for their contributions for the Red Cross war fund. The township quota is $1,500 and Mrs. Chester L. Graham is campaign manager.

Facing the greatest task in its history in serving American fighting men on advancing war fronts overseas, their families at home, their buddies returning to the United States after discharge, and the American people in emergencies on the home front, the American Red Cross will launch its third War Fund campaign in March.

That the American people will respond with overwhelming generosity to the appeal for $200,000,000 to carry on this world-wide program is already indicated in the nation-wide determination to meet all its war needs and to bring the five-year struggle to an early and successful conclusion.

In every invasion during the past year, Chairman Basil O'Connor of the American Red Cross said, workers have either gone with troops, or have followed within a very short time. Red Cross field directors were with General Eisenhower's men in the great amphibious invasion of France, and with General MacArthur's forces when they returned to the Philippines.

Ten thousand men and women wear the Red Cross uniform overseas, serving in every theatre of war and with every command. They work in leave clubs, clubmobiles, rest homes, hospitals. Red Cross men attached to fighting units are with those outfits even in actual combat. Red Cross girls dispense snacks at air fields, along trucking supply routes, behind front areas and in liberated cities.

Many, both men and women, are on duty at scores of isolated outposts throughout the world, and give aid to wounded men in hospitals and on hospital ships, planes and trains. Away from the battle areas, thousands more serve at military and naval installations within the United States.

Schnepf-McCullough Wedding Saturday

On Saturday afternoon, Feb. 24, Miss Lucille Schnepf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Schnepf, of Sebawing, and Mr. Glenn McCullough, son of Mrs. R. N. McCullough, of Cass City, exchanged their marriage vows. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. List of the Lutheran church at 4:00 p. m. in the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Marion Schnepf of Detroit, sister of the bride, and Lester Ross of Cass City were the attendants.

A wedding dinner was served to the bride's parents in Sebawing. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. McCullough will return to Cass City to live in the house on Woodland avenue belonging to Mrs. Myron Spencer.

The bride is a graduate of Sebawing high school. The groom, who is president of the Gavel club, was graduated from Cass City high school in 1929 and from Ferris Institute in Big Rapids in 1934. He is a pharmacist engaged in business with his brother, Raymond McCullough, under the firm name of Mac & Scotty.

Among the guests at the wedding Saturday were Mrs. Lester Ross and Don Koepfgen of Cass City.

After the dinner hour, the company adjourned to the auditorium where Rev. Henry Clark, a former pastor, gave a talk on "Home Life." Special music was rendered by Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Littleton and the Sutton quartet.

Through the Red Cross the American people serve the men of their Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard.

Letters from Men in the Service

"I saw Clayton Larkin the other day," writes Lt. Gerald F. Kercher to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kercher, from England. "He really was surprised to see me as he didn't even know I was in the Army. We lived about five rooms apart in the same barracks for two days before we saw each other."

"I haven't received any mail since the other day when I hit the jackpot. The news is certainly looking better now, isn't it? That is, the European situation is. I'm very much pleased over the results of the Big Three conference the other day. All the people over here seem to feel the same way about it."

"We had a special treat this morning—fresh eggs. They are the first I've had since I hit England. I must have eaten about five. After I came back, I swept out the room. There are four of us in here now—the captain, Pierce, another fellow and myself. It's not a very big room, but we're not in it much so it doesn't matter. It warmed up a lot in the past two days. Spring comes early to England."

Pvt. Wm. Steinman, in a letter notifying the Chronicle of his change of address, enclosed a page taken from The Sporting News of Feb. 15 which printed a three-column picture of Col. Larry MacPhail, with these lines: "Col. Larry MacPhail, who now owns a big slice of the Yankees, tastes the frosting on his birthday cake. The bride of Cass City, Mich., where he was born 55 years ago, held forth at Yankee headquarters at the Astor hotel on his birthday, Feb. 3, during the major league meetings, greeting old friends in the game. He went on the Army inactive list a week later."

Pvt. Steinman's new address is: P. O. W., Sec. 10, 1313 S. C. U., Camp Pickett, Va.

"We are sitting on our cots with our feet in the sand," writes John Morris, C. Ph. M., to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Morris, from the Philippines, "and talking about school days. We have some coffee tonight and it is really good. You know how I like my coffee. Our chow is still the canned variety so we are anxious for a ship to come in with fresh provisions."

"We get the news every day and it has been very encouraging. They have gone in to Manila today so should have the capital pretty well secured by the time this reaches home. The news from Europe has been good, especially the Eastern front. We keep track of how close the Russians are to Berlin."

"Have you heard any news from Harry Richard? It he still in Italy or is he in Belgium? We should be here for some time and I may still be here until my orders for leave come in, I hope. There is nothing I need other than the photographic equipment. Norma has a number of pictures that I sent home about the first part of January. She will probably send some home as I sent the negatives. "Cigarettes are rationed now, a carton every ten days, but that is better than some of the soldiers who have had only a few packages since they arrived."

Pvt. Harold Creguer, writing to the Chronicle under date of Feb. 11, says:

"As you probably know by now, I am located in the Philippine Islands. It is quite a country and believe me I'm seeing a lot of it. The people are very friendly and were so glad to see us."

"At one time we set up in a schoolhouse but now we are living in tents again. It sure is good to be back in civilization again where there are towns and people to talk to. There are a few civilian cars on the road now that the Japs failed to find."

"I'm still receiving my Chronicles and enjoy them very much. The mail has been held up a lot so now the papers come in bunches, but it's still news to me. I guess I wouldn't recognize the old town for so many changes have taken place since I left. I wish I could tell you more but everything is censored and I must close."

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon McConnell received a letter from their son, Leigh, who has been in France. His letter in part says:

"It seems good to be able to write a few lines to you again and to tell the truth I would be very glad to hear from you. I haven't had any mail since I've been over here. That is only natural though. I still wouldn't be able to write except for the fact that I am in the hospital with frost bitten feet. To you, dad, I can truthfully say I have seen everything now, but only you who have been through this before, will understand what I mean."

Another letter reads: "Well, here I am in England and you would never guess where I am in England. They evacuated me from a Belgium hospital to one here, and it looks like I'll be here for some time yet. I can tell you now where I have been. First, I was in Scotland, then England, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany and finally back here to England."

"They tell me my feet will never be the same."

Mrs. Goff Weaves 850 Rugs in Year

For a number of years Cass City and many nearby towns were without a rug weaver until Mrs. Chas. Goff, who learned the art when she was a young lady in Scotland, bought a loom and started the business of weaving rag rugs in March of last year. Since that time, she has woven 850 rugs and, in addition, 21 feet of rag rug for stairs and a 9 by 12 rag rug woven in strips and requiring 23 pounds of sewn rags.

A number of the rugs which Mrs. Goff has finished have traveled many miles. Some have been sent to relatives in Scotland and in London, and three made for a Caro customer were sent to Ohio for a missionary auction. Material for rugs has come from Detroit, Pontiac, Lake Orion and from all over the Thumb section.

The greatest number of rugs woven in one day was 11, "which were too many," Mrs. Goff says, "if you want to sleep at night." The largest number made for any one customer was 25 for Mrs. Jacob Hiller.

Mrs. Goff has been idle at times during the past year because of the inability to get carpet warp. At the present time she has material for a month's work piled up in her place of business.

Land Use Maps Of Great Value To Farm Buyers

Cooperative efforts of more than 10,000 Michigan rural residents, who have worked together for several years to prepare land use maps for each of the state's 83 counties, have proved to be of more value than originally anticipated.

With a map now available for each county, returning veterans and industrial workers who are purchasing farms, are discovering that they have a reliable source of information on land values. Instead of being forced to buy blindly, the prospective purchaser can examine the county map to learn type and quality of land, its adaptability to certain crops, available markets, locations of good roads, schools, and churches, the extent of community organization, and other vital facts.

Although the maps are of untold value to both rural and city dwellers in each county, their use is even more desirable for persons unfamiliar with farming conditions or available land in the community. Many unwise purchases and farming misfits will be avoided when the big back-to-the-land movement begins, it is expected.

The maps portray the judgment of people living in the community for from 50 to 300 persons in each county have contributed information and time to their preparation. The work has been carried out under the sponsorship of the Extension Service of Michigan State college and the county agricultural agents.

Persons interested in buying land can view the county map in the agricultural agent's office, and can take advantage of the land counseling service offered by the county agricultural advisory committee, headed by the county agent.

Lumber Situation More Critical

With the lumber supply situation becoming daily more critical, rural residents of Tuscola county were warned today by Chas. E. Eckfeld, chairman of the County U. S. D. A. War board, to limit construction to limits imposed by the War Production board.

"If lumber is used for unauthorized purposes, more stringent controls will have to be imposed," Mr. Eckfeld said. "Civilian users of lumber will be cramped more than they now are if construction for unauthorized uses continues."

Under WPB regulations, no person can spend more than $200 in one year for any type of residential building or commercial structure, including roadside stands, Eckfeld explained. There has been a tendency toward some construction for non-essential uses such as summer cottages, cabins, and additions to farm homes, he said.

"Farmers are permitted to spend up to $1,000 a year on all farm buildings but of this amount not more than $200 can be spent on a farm house or residential building," it was explained. "If it is felt there is a need to do construction work, the U. S. D. A. War board should be consulted. We can advise steps to be taken to obtain the necessary authorization."

Mr. Eckfeld requested that farmers cutting their own logs channel the resulting lumber into the war effort, if possible.

Bigger Brains

In comparison with the weight of the body, a number of the smaller animals and birds have a larger and heavier brain than man. The human brain averages 1.9 per cent of the weight of the body; the brain of the rat constitutes 3.6 per cent, and the brain of the tiny humming bird is 8.9 per cent of his body.

Toll Roads

During the first half of the last century many main roads were operated as toll roads by private interests. Financing highways by such arrangement became unpopular and by the close of the century most of the toll houses had disappeared.

Good Dishwashing

Good dishwashing calls for hot water. If it doesn't flow from the tap, it can be heated on the stove. The wash water should be as hot as the hands can stand comfortably, and the rinse water should be as hot as possible. If water has to be heated, the orderly dishwasher sees to it that the kettles are put on the stove or the water heater is turned on when the meal is started. Then there will be no delay later, waiting for hot water.

Symbolic Red Cross Emblem To Appear In Windows Again

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Once again, next month, the scarlet emblem of the American Red Cross will appear in the windows of American homes, symbolizing the financial support of the nation in supporting the manifold services of that organization to American fighting men overseas.

In every nation of the world, this red cross has long been the symbol of universal humanitarianism, both in peace and in time of war. Today it is worn by medical corpsmen of all armies and navies serving the wounded. It protects hospital tents, ships, planes and trains. Painted on each of the international Red Cross ships bearing food parcels to prisoners of war and exchanged prisoners homeward, it is a guarantee of safety from acts of war.

To the giver doing his part to fulfill the $200,000,000 goal of the American Red Cross in 1945, it represents his personal part in supplying the material things which add to the morale of the American servicemen, whether hospitalized or able-bodied.

"The window sticker means more than dollars contributed to the Red Cross," Chairman Basil O'Connor declared. "It means service clubs, canteens, recreation rooms and club mobiles for the men in war theatres."

To the American Red Cross, each window sticker is a family's request to the Red Cross to continue its responsibilities on behalf of the son in Italy, the neighbor's boy half a turn around the globe to the Philippines, and the brother fighting on the Western Front. It is the expression of faith of the American people

Once again this year in March, the world-known scarlet symbol of mercy will appear in windows throughout the nation, indicating that Mr. and Mrs. America are solidly behind the 1945 American Red Cross War Fund campaign.

What Red Cross will maintain the supplies of surgical dressings, blood plasma and whole blood, kit bags and comfort articles to the battlefronts. It is a vote of gratitude for the millions of food parcels reaching American men in enemy prison camps.

Opening March 1, the third American Red Cross War Fund campaign for $200,000,000 the same as last year will continue throughout the entire month. More than 3,000,000 volunteers will distribute the familiar window emblems, conducting a house-to-house canvass to fulfill the 1945 quota. Along with the window emblem, each contributor will receive a lapel tag fashioned after the Red Cross flag—the flag known to all as a sign of aid and comfort.

Artillery Salvo Plays

ARMY WEDDING MARCH KORNELIMUNSTER, GERMANY.—The first American wedding in occupied Germany took place here to the accompaniment of the following guns of one of the greatest artillery actions of this war.

The bride was Lieut. Pauline Ferris, an army nurse from New Smyrna Beach, Fla., and the bridegroom, Chief Warrant Officer Charles M. Baker of Aurora, Colo.

The lieutenant was just saying "I do" in response to the officiating chaplain, Capt. George W. Zinz of Erie, Pa., when a battery of heavy United States guns let loose an earth-shaking salvo.

Lublin University Reopens MOSCOW.—The Soviet news agency reported that the Catholic university at Lublin, closed for five years, had held its first classes.

Nazis Take Shoes to Halt Army Desertions

WITH U. S. DIVISION, WESTERN FRONT.—An Austrian deserter told an American officer that the Germans were taking shoes from their foreign soldiers at night to prevent desertions. The shivering Austrian walked into American lines in his stocking feet and surrendered, saying he was "tired of it all."

HOLBROOK

The W. S. C. S. will meet with Mrs. John Y. Brown Thursday, Mar. 8, for all day. Quilting will be the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Krug and daughter, Carol Ann, were Sunday guests at the David Sweeney home.

The new officers of the Holbrook W. S. C. S. are: President, Mrs. James Nichol; vice president, Mrs. Elta Dobson; secretary, Mrs. John Brown; treasurer, Mrs. Clayton Hartwick.

Mrs. Wm. Jackson returned home from Kansas where she visited her husband, Pvt. Wm. Jackson, at Fort Riley.

Saturday evening, about 40 relatives and friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jackson by coming to their home for a farewell party. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are moving this week to their new home in Uby. They have lived here for 40 years and will be greatly missed by their neighbors. A potluck lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were presented with a telephone table and chair.

Mrs. John Brown is ill with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dodge and family of Shabbona visited Sunday at the Albert Hill home.

Mrs. Louise Lewis is very ill at her home.

Hanging Clothes

To save time when hanging out clothes on cold days, pin all the handkerchiefs, socks, and small pieces to wire clothes hangers before going outside to hang them. Arranged in this way, it takes only a moment to hook the hangers over the clothesline, thus saving time and fingers, both in hanging out the clothes and taking them in.

Teaching Experience

Sixty per cent of teachers in rural elementary schools having one or two teachers have had less than two years of education beyond high school, as compared with 10 per cent in cities over 2,500.

Long Convoy

If all the army vehicles in the European theater of operations were formed into a line so that each vehicle touched the one in front of it, the convoy would extend from Washington to St. Louis. This is an example of why such vast quantities of paint, metal and other materials are required to equip the armed forces.

Wax Woodwork

After painting kitchen woodwork, it is a good idea to rub wax on the places which will be used most. The wax will protect the paint from both spotting and washing and can be renewed when worn off far more easily than the paint.

Soiled Cuffs

Now that the coal furnace is in action again, dad's shirts are likely to get dirtier than usual along the cuffs, with a dark line of deep soil that is harder to get clean than the rest of the shirt. However, if you make it a habit to rub soap well into the cuff edges before the garment goes into your tub or washing machine, you will find that the line of soil will need little or no extra rubbing.

Rise, Sir Loin

"For its merit I will knight it, and henceforth it shall be called Sir Loin," said King Charles II, after eating a piece of loin of beef.

Vitamins for Winter Are Very Essential For Health, Well Being

Vitamin-rich vegetables tossed together with mayonnaise make this salad bowl good, healthy eating. Carrot curls and lettuce make a pretty color combination.

It's an easy matter to get vegetables and fruits into the diet during the summer months because supplies are plentiful. However, we need just as many fruits and vegetables in winter, and there is not as much available.

Every homemaker should make it her job to see that the family does not suffer from fruit and vegetable lack during the winter. True, supplies are shy but there are foods in both categories that are in season, and these should be used for all they're worth.

If fruits and vegetables are served raw, more of the valuable vitamins can be saved. Salads should have a big place in the menu. Apples, pears, oranges and grapefruit offer variety and vitamins aplenty, while carrots, cabbage, beets, green beans, squash, turnips, spinach and Brussels sprouts can hold their own on the vegetable front.

Today I've selected vegetables which are particularly adaptable served in salad form. Tack these recipes where you can find them and serve often:

*Spinach Toss.

- (Serves 6)
3 cups broken lettuce
1/2 cup fresh spinach
1/2 cup shredded raw carrots
1/2 cup diced celery
6 radishes, sliced
1 tablespoon minced onion
1/4 cup French dressing

Rub bowl with a clove of garlic, but do not let it remain in bowl. Put all vegetables together in bowl just before serving. Pour French dressing over all and toss with fork and spoon until well mixed.

Hearty Winter Salad.

- (Serves 8)
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
2 cups hot water
1 teaspoon vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup cooked peas
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 cup finely shredded cabbage
1/2 cup diced pimiento, if desired

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add vinegar and salt. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold vegetables into gelatin and pour into shallow pan or 8 individual molds. Unmold on crisp lettuce and serve with mayonnaise which has been thinned with sour cream or milk.

Golden Winter Salad.

- (Serves 6)
1 package orange-flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling water or 1 cup fruit juice and 1 cup water
1 apple, unpeeled and diced
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt

When served with a whole wheat bread sandwich, this salad gives a rich vitamin "B" lunch. Lunch is a good time to get the salad into the menu.

Company Salad.

- (Serves 5)
2 cups finely shredded lettuce
2 1/2 cups grated carrots
5 pear halves
10 1/2-inch balls of American cheese
10 1/2-inch balls of cream cheese
French dressing

Arrange shredded lettuce on salad plates. In center of lettuce make a nest of grated carrot. Place pear half in each nest with balls of cheese in the pear cavity. Serve with French dressing.

French Dressing.

- 1 clove garlic, grated fine
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 small onion, grated
1/2 cup tomato catsup
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups salad oil

Mix all ingredients in order given with a rotary egg beater. Place in quart jar and store in cool place until ready to serve. Shake well before using.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Lynn Chambers' Point-Saving Menu

- Chicken Liver Spaghetti
Parsleyed Carrots *Spinach Toss
French Bread with Butter
Pickles
Honey-Baked Pears
Orange Crisps
*Recipe given.

1 1/2 cups diced grapefruit sections

1/4 cup chopped walnut meats
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water and chill until it begins to thicken. Cube apple and sprinkle with lemon juice and salt. Remove all membrane from grapefruit sections and dice. Combine grapefruit, apples and nut meats into gelatin. Pour into molds that have been rinsed with cold water. Chill until set and serve with mayonnaise.

Hot Stew.

- (Serves 8)
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1/2 cup cold water
1/4 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 cups shredded raw cabbage

Combine egg yolks, water, vinegar, butter, salt and sugar. Cook on low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add cabbage and reheat.

One of the factors which makes salad making so easy is the use of a real mayonnaise which is so smooth-textured and easily blended with the ingredients. It is nutritious, too, for it contains oil and egg yolk which adds a vitamin D boost to the diet:

Side Dish Salad.

- (Serves 6)
12 carrot curls
1 cucumber, cut in fingers
(or dill pickle)
Lettuce, sliced
Mayonnaise

Wash and scrape carrots; cut in very thin lengthwise strips and leave in ice water until curled. Arrange carrot curls, cucumber fingers and lettuce slices in salad bowl. Serve with real mayonnaise.

Make your lunches vitamin rich by serving a sandwich with a rich-in-vitamin-B salad:

Vitamin "B" Salad.

- (Serves 6)
6 cups cooked or shredded cabbage
1 1/2 cups cooked peas
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 teaspoons pepper
6 tablespoons mayonnaise

Mix cabbage, peas and seasonings with real mayonnaise. Chill. Serve with a bacon sandwich made with whole wheatbread. Garnish with water-cress.

Pears make a lovely salad when combined simply with lettuce, carrots and American cheese balls. It's nice enough for company!

When served with a whole wheat bread sandwich, this salad gives a rich vitamin "B" lunch. Lunch is a good time to get the salad into the menu.

DETROIT EDISON LINES

Timely items of interest and value—helpful suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliance use.

STRETCHING OIL By means of a special process, using recently installed equipment, Detroit Edison now expects to salvage every year more than 150,000 gallons of used insulating oil. The oil reclaimed for further use in thousands of transformers and other electrical equipment is, after processing, equal in quality to new oil. Besides the fact that oil vital to the war is thus stretched to go farther, the new process effects an important economy, helping the company keep electric rates down in spite of ever-rising costs.

FULL STEAM AHEAD Deep under downtown Detroit, live steam rushes through Edison steam mains at 600 miles or more per hour, to heat a hundred million dollars' worth of downtown buildings. Thirty to sixty feet underground, miles of tunnels containing Edison steam mains carry steam to buildings that have no furnaces or boilers, depending entirely on Detroit Edison steam heating service. Over 1,500 customers use more than 2 1/2 billion pounds of steam annually—requiring 192,000 tons of coal. Edison has four large heating plants to provide steam for this tremendous heating job.

Saving electricity saves coal, transport and manpower

LENTEN LUNCHEON Our Home Service Department suggests this meatless recipe for Lent:

Baked Luncheon Sandwiches

- | | |
|----------------------------|----------------------|
| 1 cup grated carrots | 2 cups flour |
| 1 cup cooked peas | 3 tsp. baking powder |
| 1/2 cup chopped celery | 1/2 tsp. salt |
| 1/2 cup medium white sauce | 1/2 tsp. dry mustard |
| 1 tsp. grated onion | 1/4 cup shortening |
| Salt and pepper | 1/4 cup milk |

Combine carrots, peas and celery; mix with white sauce. Add onion and season with salt and pepper. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and mustard; cut in shortening. Gradually add milk mixing to form a soft dough. Roll out dough 1/4-inch thick on lightly floured board; cut in three-inch squares. Spread vegetable mixture between each two squares. Place on baking sheet and bake in hot oven, 425° F., about 20 minutes. Serve hot. (Serves six.)

KITCHEN CRAFT To minimize chances of soggy pie crust, sprinkle the dough with sugar, or brush with white of egg, before adding the filling.

Lei Storm Windows Dry

It is important to paint the edges as well as the rest of the woodwork of storm windows before putting them in place for the winter, but be sure that the paint is thoroughly dry before the windows go in. Otherwise, the paint will stick and render it hard to remove the windows in the spring, without damaging the paint.

Full Labor Use Boosts Income On Most Farms

Increasing the farming operations, either by handling an enlarged acreage and more livestock, or by farming a smaller acreage more intensively, generally results in greater income and production per man on the farm.

Records compiled by E. F. Rehman, of the farm management department at Michigan State college, show that only in scattered cases is there a tendency for farmers to spread their efforts over too much territory and take on more than can be handled satisfactorily. When this does occur, lower production per acre or head of livestock takes place.

As a general rule, however, high labor efficiency, high production per head of livestock, and high crop yields go hand in hand. High labor efficiency can be attained only by farming to capacity, and having the work so distributed throughout the year that the operator and his helpers can be fully occupied.

In south central Michigan, farmers doing capacity farming had twice the livestock per man and realized a 12 percent higher income from each animal that did farmers operating less extensively. Each cow averaged $226 in dairy sales on the high labor efficiency farms, and only $167 on the low labor efficiency farms. In addition, each man was able to handle more than twice the number of cows when working with a larger herd.

Records indicate that it doesn't take so much time to handle each stand much cold again so I probably won't see action again until it is a little warmer. Everyone is well to the patients here and we have plenty of good food too.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN THE SERVICE

"By the way, Dad, if you receive the purple heart through the mail, don't let Mom worry. You see, there was a little accident a while back and they told me it would be sent home. Just in case they send it, you know I am O. K. now."

"I have some nice souvenirs I wish I could bring home with me, among them a couple pistols which I took from a Jerry officer. I get awful lonesome for everyone back home and have received no mail yet, but I'm still looking for some. It will catch up with me some day, I hope. I forgot to tell you that I have been given the 'Combat Expert's Medal' and that means ten dollars more on pay day. Everyone write. Must close now. Love to all. Leigh."

Friends of Leigh may secure his address from his parents on R. R. 3, Cass City.

Mr. and Mrs. Joy Tyo have received the following letter from their son, Robert, who up to Christmas time had been in 14 different engagements in the Pacific:

"I got five letters today, two of them from you; also the service clippings from the Chronicle. Thanks a lot Mom. It really seemed good to read about some of the guys that I knew then. It's been about three years since I saw most of them."

Well, the Skipper got the Silver Star today. They chose 10 men from each division for the ceremony and I was one of them from ours. Our squadron commander made the citation and it was very nice. He read the names of all the battles we have been in and all the important raids and a few other things I don't think I can mention here. And when he finished up he said: 'This medal is for the crew as well as the captain, for the things you did out here.' The captain is the one that wears the medal. I am sure glad he got it."

"At the rate the Russians are going it shouldn't be long before they are in Berlin. The sooner they knock those Germans off the sooner it will end out here, and it won't be any too soon to suit me."

"I know Jack wants to get in the army. You know if he was in I would worry about him. That's funny about the guys out here. They worry very little about themselves but if they have a brother out somewhere they usually worry about them getting hurt."

"You're not kidding, Dad. Some of that good Detroit weather would look mighty good right now and I would like to go ice skating again and have a good old fashioned snow ball fight and wash Etta's face with snow which I imagine she would like very much. I went out on the beach yesterday and did I get tight! I drank four bottles of Coca Cola."

Wash Wool by Hand
Never soak wool. Wash by hand, if you can. Squeeze suds through fabric. Rubbing shrinks and hardens wool. If you use a washing machine, don't crowd wool articles... and wash them quickly. Never boil them.

Scent Closet
Scent your closet with a pomander ball. Make this by stuffing an orange entirely with pungent cloves. Cover it with cinnamon, wrap in tissue paper and put it away until it has shrunk. Cover it with ribbon and hang in the closet.

Soapsuds Do It
Whatever the outside finish of your refrigerator, mild soapsuds will clean it. Never use harsh soaps or scratchy cleaners. For refrigerators finished in synthetic enamel many manufacturers recommend using a wax polish, after or instead of washing. The polish cleans the dirt from the surface and leaves a protective coating over the enamel. Wash the metal trim also with warm soapsuds, and polish with a soft cloth. Nickel and chromium are soft metals. Use only fine metal polishes such as silver polish on them.

Your 1945 Garden
Essential Food
Will Come From Home Gardens

APPROXIMATELY 19 million Victory gardeners throughout the nation are again called upon this year to rally behind the call for more food production as essential to the war effort and total Victory.

With increased drain upon manpower and increased production of war supplies demanded by military leaders, the need for increased supplies of food and fresh vegetables to supplement the nation's food supply is urgent and essential.

War Food Administrator Marvin Jones recognizes this fact, and as spring planting time nears, he issued a statement pointing out the importance of the Victory garden in rounding out the nation's war effort.

"Food is just as necessary as guns, tanks and planes. Home gardeners produced over 40 per cent of the fresh vegetables last year and we are asking them to equal this record in 1945."

This 40 per cent of our vegetable production in 1944 equalled almost 8 million tons of vegetables produced in the 19 million Victory gardens of the nation.

The Victory garden program is not only a call to patriotic effort in war time, but it is part of a long range effort on the part of the department of agriculture and the state agricultural extension service to encourage and advocate more and better farm gardens. Objectives, inspections not compulsory unless applying for tires. Commercial inspections due every six months or 5,000 miles, whichever is first.

Fuel Oil
Last season period 4 and 5 and new season period 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 coupons now good. Unit value 10 gallons. All changemaking and reserve coupons good throughout heating year. Consumers in this area should not have used more than 68 per cent of season's ration as of Feb. 26.

The result of a Victory garden—basket of vegetables, fresh from the garden.

production of food on the farms and in the small towns where space permits larger gardens, but it reaches into the realm of deep inner satisfaction, healthful out-door work which relaxes, and more plentiful health-giving, vitamin-filled fresh vegetables. The Victory garden is your insurance of attainment of these objectives

EUROPE: Nazi Moves

Long decried as the "forgotten front," Italy came back into the news again with reports that the Nazis were slowly pulling out of the northern part of the country to reinforce their main eastern and western lines and take up shorter defenses on the southern approaches to the Reich.

Following Russian revelations of the appearance of German troops formerly stationed in Italy on the Nazis' sagging eastern front, neutral reports told of the movement of no less than four enemy divisions from the country through the Brenner Pass into Austria. Despite the reports of the weakening of their Italian defenses, however, the Germans fiercely contested the Eighth army's push along the Adriatic, using a new rocket, four feet long and holding 80 pounds of explosives.

Amid the talk of German reinforcement of their eastern front, Nazi defenses perceptibly stiffened in this sector, though yet to be put to the supreme test as Marshal Konev's First Ukrainian army drew up on a line to join Marshal Zhukov's First White Russian army for the grand assault on Berlin.

As the Russians girded for the all-out smash on the German capital, caggy Zhukov and Konev, keeping an eye on their exposed flanks to the north and south, launched repeated attacks against Nazi forces in these sectors to prevent a drive upon their rear.

On the western front, Allied efforts were divided between the British and Canadians' drive on the Ruhr valley at the northern end of the Siegfried line, and the U. S. Third army's steady drive on the Rhine below Aachen.

Russ General Falls

Latest of the prominent generals to be killed in highly mobile World War II, requiring the presence of commanders close to the front lines to keep up with the battle, was 37-year-old Russian Ivan Cherniakhovsky, who fell while directing the drive on East Prussia. Youngest Russian general and army group commander, Cherniakhovsky, a tank expert, was considered one of the Soviet's outstanding military strategists.

Diplomacy

Only ruffle in the Allied conference in the Crimean and Mediterranean regions was Gen. Charles de Gaulle's refusal to accept President Roosevelt's invitation for a meeting in Algiers, indicating French pique at FDR's inability to visit Paris and at reports that it was principally because of the U. S. that France was excluded from the Big Three talks. Despite the diplomatic unpleasantness, however, the French were busy exchanging views with U. S., British and Russian officials on the Yalta decisions, and were also said to be preparing to participate in the United Nations pending postwar security conference at San Francisco in April.

Considered a key to the stability of western Europe, once-humbled France, rising proudly under De Gaulle's aggressive leadership, was said to be angling for extensive occupational rights in postwar Germany, including Austria.

PARALYSIS FUND

Collecting $5,452,593 during its fiscal year ending May 31, 1944, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis authorized grants and appropriations totaling $1,828,850 for the period for research, education and training of physical therapists, Basil O'Connor, president, said. During the year, the foundation also established a special fund of $2,000,000 for epidemics and other emergencies, and $739,860 was used during the country's second worst outbreak of polio last summer.

PACIFIC: Bloody Battle

To thousands of gallant Leathernecks storming Iwo Jima's beaches, it was Tarawa all over again, as Maj. Gen. Harry Schmidt's Fifth marine corps pushed up rocky cliffs inland in the face of bitter opposition to tighten their hold on this little stepping-stone to Tokyo and threat to the U. S. super-fortress base in the Marianas, 800 miles to the south.

Losses were heavy on both sides as the Japs, first staggered by the terrific bombardment of both U. S. naval and air units, recovered from the initial shock to fight back viciously from such natural hideouts as caves as waves of marines hit the beaches on the southeast end of the island.

Due to become another epic of the bloody Pacific war, the invasion of Iwo Jima followed hard upon the mighty U. S. aerial strike against Tokyo, in which the planes from a powerful carrier fleet destroyed over 500 Jap aircraft, sank over a dozen ships and battered vital war plants.

HOME FRONT:
Nighteries Curbed

With the war taking critical turns in both Europe and the Pacific, and with the tight coal situation calling for its economical use, War Mobilization Director Byrnes ordered a midnight curfew on saloons, night clubs, dance halls, sports arenas and other places of entertainment to save on fuel generating electricity.

Although War Mobilizer Byrnes, himself, has no power to punish violators, he could bring pressure to bear against offenders by having the War Production board shut off their electricity; the War Manpower commission revoke their right to hire people; the Office of Defense Transportation prohibit deliveries of material to them, and the OPA recall their rationing privileges. The night club order was the latest in a series including freezing of civilian production at current levels on December 16; closing of race tracks and limitation on number of employees non-essential firms can hire on December 23; return of most meats and vegetables to rationing over the Christmas week-end; review of farm deferments for the 18 to 25 age group, January 3, and the forbidding of outdoor advertising and decorative lighting, February 1.

CLOTHING: Price Roll-Back

Implementing plans for rolling back clothing prices, which OPA administrator Bowles had called a dangerous inflationary element, OPA established retail price ceilings on a list of cotton items for which manufacturers will receive fabric priorities.

Under OPA ceilings to be tagged on garments, men's regular sized shorts would range from 49 cents to $1.30 each; men's business shorts, $1.80 to $3.70; women's regular sized house dresses, $1.95 to $3.70; slips, 85 cents to $1.30; infants' and toddlers' pajamas, $1.05 to $2.70; rompers, $1.05 to $2.40; girls' school dresses, $1.65 to $3.40; boys' wash suits, $1.30 to $2.70, and boys' shirts and blouses, $1.05 to $1.35.

Under the program, in which the output of cheaper clothes is expected to account for a great portion of the reduction in the nation's apparel bill, the War Production board is to channel 75 per cent of all civilian fabric to low and popularly priced garments.

Ready for Clean Sweep

While the military services and industry geared to war could use sixty million new brooms in 1945, America's broomcorm farmers in 1944 greatly increased their planting and reaped their biggest crop in 20 years, says a National Geographic Society bulletin. If handles can be turned to match the big broomcorm harvest, 1945 may see a broom boom to match years of the industry's heyday.

LIVESTOCK:

Numbers Drop

Pointing up the tight meat situation for civilians, the U. S. department of agriculture's estimate of livestock on farms as of January 1, 1945, showed a sharp drop over the same date the preceding year.

At the same time, the USDA's survey revealed the largest supply of feed on hand per livestock unit in 20 years, with the amount per head 27 per cent over 1944.

Down 22,000,000 to a total of 60,600,000, the number of hogs showed the largest drop, the USDA said, with a decrease of 3,824,000 head of sheep to a total of 47,945,000 recording the next biggest slip. Down only 604,000 to 81,760,000, the number of cattle showed the least decline, being but 1 per cent below the all-time 1944 peak.

Meanwhile, the American Meat Institute, estimating that civilian meat supplies will be about 38 per cent less during the first quarter of this year compared with the same period in 1944, said there probably would be a still sharper drop from April to June.

PRICE SUPPORT:

New Tack

In a program which may establish a precedent for the future handling of the government's price-support for farm products, the War Food administration announced that it would purchase dry edible peas during 1945 only on plantings from acreage allotted the individual operator.

In the event of a general adoption of WFA's program, the government would bear a powerful weapon against overproduction resulting from surpassing goals, thus influencing the restriction of output to reasonable levels.

In the case of edible dry peas, it was said, WFA's program not only seeks to avoid an accumulation of excessively large stocks of peas, but also to encourage the shift of acreage formerly seeded to the plant to other crops.

Frogs Wrestle

While goggle-eyed spectator looks on, Naturalist Marjorie Terhune's pet frogs, Jimmy and Joe, wrestle in indoor tank at Park Ridge, N. J., with each seeking to throw his opponent into the water.

DRAFT:

New Deferments

Even while congress moved to investigate the farm draft to determine whether local boards were not strictly adhering to the "tydings amendment in considering individual cases, Selective Service announced that a substantial number of key men under 30 stood to be deferred in essential industry.

In making the announcement, Selective Service revealed that responsibility for deferring the under 30 group would be divided between government agency offices in the different regions and in Washington, D. C., so that a closer check could be kept upon individual cases to assure retention of such key personnel as engineers, supervisors and foremen.

Pushed by Representative Lemke (N. D.), the proposed congressional investigation would look into the alleged induction of essential farm workers for whom replacements cannot be found, thus rotating agricultural production and imposing additional hardships on already sorely pressed farm operators.

PAN-AMERICA:

Good Neighbors Meet

Talk of a dramatic declaration of war by Argentina on Germany filled the air as delegates to the Inter-American conference met in Mexico City for a discussion of economic and political relations of the western hemisphere in the postwar world.

The possibility of an Argentine declaration of war followed Germany's threat to deny its diplomats safe passage home because of Britain's refusal to afford similar privileges to Nazi officials now in Lisbon, Portugal, on the final leg of their journey from the South American continent.

In discussing economic problems at Mexico City, South American nations sought to prevent a wholesale collapse of their prosperity built upon wartime exports to the U. S. after the cessation of hostilities. In political matters, the Latin nations sought an adequate voice in any postwar organization to preserve peace so as to prevent its complete dominance by the greater states.

BRIEFS...

According to the war department, the army in 1944 spent about three times the amount laid aside for G.I. sports equipment in 1943. The army also set up a special command to carry out the new sports programs.

Cigarettes for U. S. smokers last year were estimated at 220 billion as compared with 258 billion the year before. About 110 billion went to the armed forces.

BOWLING

City League

Falling back into second place in the league standings seemed to be as easy for the Landon team as it was for them to gain the top spot a week ago. After winning a series, they had difficulty to gather in one game this week, and it was not enough to stave off the Ludlow squad who came through with a three game win to capture the leadership and be the only team in the 16 to turn this trick. The Starmann and Reid teams also lost an opportunity to strengthen their percentage when each team won but one game, but they are within easy striking distance of the leaders.

A little better brand of bowling was displayed by some of the individuals over last week and three captains rolled high enough totals to gain a worthy mention on the honor list. They are Mac McCullough with a 589 count, Landon 572 and M. Auten 559. The 200 games were rolled by Deering 220, Landon 220, Starmann 218, McCullough 213, Downing 208, M. Auten 205, Parsch 204, Reid 202, Martin 201, Jankech 201, Wilson 201.

A continual shifting of positions is made from week to week among 10 high average bowlers, and we note that M. B. has climbed back to 9th place after slipping out of the high 10 circle. He encountered a temporary slump but his last count of 559 pins has him back in the going again, but still some distance from the No. 1 man. A few years ago Auten luckily won for himself the honor of being the high average bowler in the league but has never been able since to duplicate that performance.

The week just closed shows that the high open bowling score was won by Barney Hoffman. His 198 pin count is the first score under 200 to win this prize this season. Team standings after seventh week of bowling:

Merchants' League

The Merchants' league race is getting closer each week and a majority of the teams still have a fair chance to win their way to the top before the schedule is completed which will be in another seven weeks. At present the Sam's Tavern and Schwaderer's teams are tied for first place, while the Bankers are in runnerup position.

Coal Production

The United States annually produces 50 per cent more coal than Germany could get out of her own and all her occupied territories back in 1939. We mined some 638,000,000 tons in 1942, which is half again as much as all that Great Britain, Russia and France together are able to produce.

Let Children Help

Let the children prepare salads and simple desserts. While they are having fun, mother is giving a simple lesson in nutrition.

Industrial Dentistry

A drill or reamer, broken off in a part at an Eastern aviation plant, is not pried or chiseled out, with irreparable damage to the hole and the surrounding metal. The scene of the accident isn't touched until a member of the salvage department arrives. He cleans away the debris, inserts a fluxed steel electrode and butt welds it to the broken tool, and then, by pounding on a dog attached to the electrode, yanks out the assembly. In most cases the hole is undamaged, ready for another attempt.

Nesting Places

Leave mulches, become nesting places for mice. Straw mulches are much the same. These rodents injure the bark of some trees like the ornamental cherry or crab. To prevent possible damage, a wire screen about one foot high can be used to protect the trunks. If a screen is not available, a space of six to eight inches may be left clear about the trunk and the mulch put in a circle about this.

Lignin Roads

Successful experiments have been made in Quebec with lignin extract as a stabilizing material in road construction. Lignin is a by-product of the pulp and paper industry. Heretofore it has been regarded largely as a waste. In the Quebec experiment, lignin extract in powder form is mixed with gravel and clay, whereupon the mixture is spread in layers and rolled. Lignin increases the binding power of the clay to make a stabilized and semi-permanent mat.

Dry Clean Comforter

For a comforter, dry-cleaning is best. Washing is likely to leave the filling lumpy and matted; and if the covering is of rayon, satin or taffeta or glazed chintz, it may look less attractive after tubbing. If you do wash a comforter, treat it like a blanket. It is advisable to have rugs dry-cleaned or shampooed by a reliable commercial cleaner who has equipment for thorough rinsing, fast drying.

Store for Baking
Do you know that you can mix up your cake batter, pour it into greased and floured tins, cover securely with wax paper, then store it in the electric refrigerator until you want to bake it? It can be stored for as long as a week that way. Tie heavy waxpaper over the tins with string until rubber bands are available again. To bake, remove from the refrigerator, allow to come to room temperature for 25-45 minutes, depending on the thickness of the batter, then bake.

Weighty Water
One inch of rainfall over one acre of land weighs about 216,000 pounds.

Drying Woollens
A warm, but not hot, place is just right for drying. Never let wool things freeze. Hang knit underwear from the shoulders . . . shape the garments occasionally, and squeeze water from the ends. Dry other knit things flat, or on forms, if you have them. If you have an outline drawn on cloth or paper, spread a knitted garment on it and pull to shape and pin . . . keep sleeves flat . . . a skirt straight . . . smooth out bulges.

Aids Production
Milk cows will often produce 10 per cent more milk when they have plenty of water when they need it.

Dry Cleaning
For most wool clothing dry cleaning is better than washing. However, many knit garments, flannels, and challies may be washed satisfactorily at home. And many a homemaker learns to wash a blanket so it won't turn out shrunk or boardy. The warmth of a blanket depends very largely upon the amount of nap, so it's well worth while to take care in the washing to hold the fluffy softness.

In Rural Schools
Four hundred fifty-one thousand, six hundred sixty-one teachers are in rural schools or 52 per cent of the nation's total.

Take Your Fertilizer Home with You Now!

It's a wise farmer who takes his spring fertilizer now. Shortage of labor in the fertilizer plants, combined with the uncertainty of product restriction and the fact that sulphuric acid is in great demand by the government for munitions make the situation serious. No one can tell what delays or other shortages we may have next spring.

Don't wait and hope to get all you need next spring. Take your fertilizer home and store it, and avoid delays or disappointment when you are ready for planting.

135,000 MICHIGAN
ACRES IN SUGAR BEETS
NEEDED IN 1945

THE WAR FOOD ADMINISTRATION has asked that 135,000 Michigan Acres be planted to Sugar Beets in 1945.

No food crop has been given a goal so high over the 1944 actual production as has been set for Sugar Beets.

This is simply because there is a world wide shortage of sugar. It is an essential commodity both for our fighting forces and on the home front.

You will therefore be performing a patriotic service of a high order when you devote as many acres as you possibly can to the growing of Sugar Beets.

Moreover you will be adding to the fertility of your fields for following crops.

It is an amply proven fact that Sugar Beets are highly beneficial to the soil in which they grow. Their elaborate root structure leaves deposits of humus several feet below the surface of the soil. It opens up the soil structure for better aeration and moisture-holding.

Sugar Beets are a safe dependable crop. They are sturdy and strong—can withstand adverse weather conditions better than any other major cultivated crop.

The government has pledged full co-operation on the securing of the necessary beet labor. However it is essential that farmers evidence their need for this labor by contracting for Sugar Beets.

To farm patriotically and profitably—to improve your land for following crops—contract NOW for as many acres of Sugar Beets in 1945 as you can possibly grow.

Sun's Vagaries Laid to Earth

Mundane Sphere Sprints, Then Loafs, in Its Yearly Circuitous Round.

WASHINGTON. — With the earth swinging and spinning on its path from the longest day of the year (it was June 21) toward the shortest day, in December, the National Geographic society says now is a good time for amateur astronomers to take stock of the cosmic forces that have been causing such mundane effects as mud in the Ukraine and Poland, the first ore ship on the Great Lakes and crumbly black furrows working their way northward in the middle west.

Increasing length of daylight, and therefore warmth, all over the northern hemisphere results from a combination of several motions of the earth.

Thousands of farmers who thumb through their almanacs, and astronomy-minded city dwellers who turn to the weather pages of their daily papers to note the rising and setting time of the sun, were puzzled to find immediately after the winter solstice (December 22) that the sun stubbornly refused to rise earlier; instead it went on rising later.

Growth in Afternoon. On the other hand, the day after the solstice the sun began setting later by three to six minutes every day. In other words, the daylight, as measured by our clocks, was making all its growth in the afternoons and was even shrinking in the mornings.

Only after January 10 did the sun begin to clip minutes off its rising time. By about February 19 the length of the daylight period was growing with equal speed morning and evening. Then the mornings started growing more rapidly than the afternoons, shiftings which will be repeated several times through the year.

The amateur observer feels instinctively that something is wrong, that since the sunlight is flooding exactly one-half of a round ball, the earth, the lengthening daylight ought to grow equally morning and night.

He is right. The period of daylight does lengthen and shorten equally at sunrise and sunset; and if we used actual sun time this would be obvious. It is because of the arbitrary clock time that we have been forced to use that we have the illusion of the unbalanced growth and shrinking of the daylight hours.

The reason the time we live by must be arbitrary and "synthetic" is that the several motions of the earth in relation to the sun get in each other's way, so to speak.

If the sun and earth stood still in space, but the earth continued to rotate on its axis as it does now, each rotation time would be equal and the day from noon to noon would be a perfect unit of time.

Hurdles Along. But instead of remaining at the same place, the earth is really hurtling along on its yearly oblong track round the sun, traveling forward about 1,600,000 miles every 24 hours. This means that the earth must make a little more than one revolution in order that a point may be turned back to the sun—to the noon position. This sizable error is almost wiped out automatically by the simple device of having our day include the lapover time: it is this "over-size" day from sun noon to sun noon that is divided into 24 hours.

But there is still another inequality due to the fact that the earth does not travel around the sun at a steady speed. It moves most rapidly in winter when it is closest to the sun, and slows down in the summer when it is farthest away. The swiftly moving earth travels farther than the average each day and must therefore turn through a greater "overlap" than the average in order to reach the noon position. The slow-moving earth of summer, on the other hand, travels a relatively short distance each day and so has a less-than-average overlap. The sun-measured day, therefore, is almost always either longer or shorter than 24 hours.

Two More Boys Perish In an Icebox Tragedy

TOOELE, UTAH.—Two boys suffocated recently in an icebox at a federal housing project, the second such dual tragedy in northern Utah in 24 hours. Bodies of Lavern Blackburn, seven, and Douglas Kennedy, six, were found in the cramped quarters of an icebox at an unused home at the army's Tooele Ordnance depot. Robert Vance Coombs, four, and Ronald Clair Coombs, two, were found suffocated similarly in a vacant dwelling at another housing project at Hill field, near Ogden.

Artificial Moonlight Help in British Drive

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE.—Artificial moonlight has helped the British keep their advance moving in west Holland by night as well as by day. The synthetic moonlight, first used at Caen but on the secret list until recently, is created by focusing mobile batteries of floodlights toward enemy positions while Allied movements are kept in the shadows.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

By the Pound: Reports Harry Gilburt: "When I arrived in Wichita recently, at the railroad station, the driver of a taxicab, a very attractive young woman, assigned me to the farthest corner of the rear seat. Hardly was I inside when the cab tilted violently to the right, the reason being that Ed ('Strangler') Lewis, the wrestling champion, had put his foot on the running board. Without any difficulty, Lewis hoisted his 300 or more pounds of massiveness and inserted himself beside me, the two of us filling the seat completely. Then the driver looked inside to see if she couldn't squeeze in another passenger and thus make her trip more profitable. Acknowledging the inevitable, she closed the door and the ancient vehicle creaked and groaned its way uptown. When we reached our hotel, Lewis gave the girl $1 which was exactly double the fare."

Around the Town: Miriam Hopkins, who started out to be a ballerina until a broken ankle forced her into the straight dramatic path, looking wistfully at the marquee posters of the Ballet International. . . . Melody Thompson, the cigarette heiress who became an MGM starlet, browsing around in one of those red-fronted marts—a $3,000,000 baby in a 5 and 10 cent store. . . . Gene Buck making slow progress through Times square because so many friends stop him for a chat. . . . Bob Burns, the Arkansas traveler, traveling Broadway and walking as if pavements made his feet hurt. . . . Mary Martin, looking out than ever in a trim gray outfit, peering into a toy store undoubtedly with her thoughts on her little daughter. . . . Maggi McNellis, who always seems to be in a hurry these days, hurrying to keep a luncheon appointment at Gilmore's.

Cuff Notes: Benny Malchioli, one of the most efficient waiters in the Waldorf-Astoria's Wedgewood room, is such an exact double for the Voice that his friends call him Benny Sinatra. . . . Two of our favorite young folks, Sylvia Diamond, account executive for David O. Alber Associates, and Peter Manasse, an importer, whose wedding was set for next month, surprised their friends by slipping away recently and having a quiet ceremony performed. A lot of happiness for them both. . . . Pleasant news that Lucille and Harry Ryan of Detroit are the parents of a pretty little daughter whose name is Sheila Diane Ryan. . . . The first thing Leopold Stokowski told Leo Reisman when they met after Reisman's recent return to New York, was that he had lost Reisman's recording of "St. Louis Blues" and would like another. . . . That recording was made more than 15 years ago.

Faces & Places: Rotund balladeer Burl Ives comparing abdominal bay windows with rotund Toots Shor at the latter's food emporium and remarking, "After all, what are fat people—thin people with flesh?" . . . Dale Belmont, the "girl with the blue velvet voice," looking at a Fifth avenue window display of blue velvet. . . . Homer Croy, who needn't worry about putting on weight, strolling Park avenue. . . . and in the next block, Fulton Oursler, who isn't thin, getting a bit of sunshine. . . . Margaret Carson, entirely too attractive to be a press agent, going into the 39th street entrance of the Metropolitan. . . . She's the Met's official tub thumper this season. . . . An Ohio girl, she carries a buckeye which came from near Toledo, her home town.

This & That: Les Martin, Buddy Powers and George Mills, known to theater-goers as "The Three Stowaways," have been released from the army after serving Uncle Sam three years. . . . They will play the lead in the new revue, "Ex-G.I.s on Parade," which Barney Ross will head. . . . All members of the cast will be men who have served in World War II. . . . Harry Joachim, the radio's youngest gag writer, sends this message to women who work in defense plants: "Never carry your welding torches into a crowded bus or street car—you may deprive some man of his seat." . . . Phil Baker notes that many of our desires are often nipped in the bud. . . . While Xavier Cugat avers that his osteopath kneads patients.

Addenda: Says Brother Ned, writing about their dream-come-true which he and Rusty have named Men-Son Farm: "When you come to visit us next summer, we will get up a little early so that you will eat melons with the dew still on them and the corn will be just 30 seconds from the stalk to the kettle." Who was it who said "Time Flies"?

Son Inscriptes Bomb To Flying Father

NEW YORK.—In a childish scrawl, seven-year-old Patrick O'Donnell wrote "Good luck, Dad," on a 4,000-pound blockbuster bomb destined for delivery to his father, Brig. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr. Patrick, whose father led one of the B-29 missions against Tokyo, was guest of honor at a war bond rally.

Spies! No Holds Barred in Espionage 'The Science of Foul Play'

Lieutenant Crovitch agreed to desert.

A SPY'S job is to get information, or accomplish whatever mission has been entrusted to him. There are no tactics which he will not use. It is not without reason that espionage has been called "the science of foul play."

Attractive men and women use that quality as a tool, and a dangerous weapon it is sometimes. If you are in possession of any sort of war information, remember this. Sentiment, blackmail, murder; all are fair in espionage.

During the last war, clever, blonde, seductive Maria Sorrel was in Warsaw. Further, the Russian code was in her hands, and it was vitally necessary for her to get it into the hands of her masters in Berlin, immediately. Her usual channels of communication were too slow for this emergency. Even the young officers whom she had made her slaves were useless—but wait! Lieutenant Crovitch!

He was a dreamer, that one. Declared he would do anything in the world for her.

The story she had ready for the enamored young officer was a masterpiece of sentimental fiction. Maria's young brother had been arrested in Austria, and was to be shot as a spy. And all because she, his sister, was in Russia. Only her brave, adored, beloved Lieutenant Crovitch could save him.

Her puzzled dupe eagerly inquired how Maria had the answers ready.

If only a letter could reach an old admirer of hers in Germany, now a powerful general, all would be well. But the letter must reach him at once.

Astonishingly, Lieutenant Crovitch agreed to desert, and carry Maria's "letter," actually the Russian code. But before he started on Maria's mission, Crovitch left his brother a full written confession, and entrusted it to the Hotel Bristol porter for delivery.

Suspicious of the young officer's marked agitation, the porter stared open the letter, read it, and notified police. Crovitch's train was stopped just outside Warsaw, and he was arrested by the military authorities. However, he persuaded a friendly officer to telegraph Maria, telling her of his unavoidable detention.

Either encouraged by his earlier coup, or because it was his habit, the same porter at the Bristol steamed open the telegram, and notified the Ochrana agents that the woman in Crovitch's case had been found. Then the message was delivered to Maria.

Red tape delayed arrival of the police. For Maria, the short warning was enough. She disappeared.

It was years later that vanity led to Maria Sorrel's downfall. She was caught, and hanged by the Russians because she was too vain to cut off her hair while impersonating a Russian sergeant.

No holds are barred in espionage.

Mow Cured Hay Keeps Perfectly

Artificially cured hay kept perfectly over a period of nearly a year in a hay barn on the Michigan State college farm, a recent examination of the contents reveals.

Two principal advantages for this method of handling hay have been noted by S. T. Dexter, of the farm crops department, and W. H. Sheldon, of the agricultural engineering department, who have been making tests. Hay can be put into the mow dripping wet, if necesary, and at least 20 percent of the mow space saved.

Last year's crop was put into the barn immediately after cutting, and was dried by a fan which forced air through specially constructed ducts in the mow. When the hay was baled a few days ago, it was found to be of excellent color and texture, and completely free of mold. It averaged 400 cubic feet to the ton, which is less than for field-cured hay.

Artificial curing is believed to be well adapted to Michigan conditions, which ordinarily provide only a few days of good hay-handling weather. It is expected that methods used at the college soon will be employed on many farms.

Home Care Many illnesses and injuries require care that can be provided best in hospitals. . . . but many patients can be safely cared for at home . . . by one member of the family chosen to act as the home nurse.

Protect Upholstery

One way to protect the upholstery of a chair is to use over the back and seat one long strip of cloth that matches the upholstery or blends closely with it.
