ter cultural methods as Sugar Beets.

This scientific research and experimentation has been directed chiefly to one thing-the mechanization of beet growing operations.

Tremendous progress has been made. Much still remains to be done. But it is now certain that most of the time-consuming, wearying hand work connected with Sugar Beets will be eliminated before many years.

Accomplishments to date, include the growing in America of all beet seed for our own use to replace seed formerly imported. Too, blight resistant varieties have been developed that assure higher yields.

Another achievement is the cracking of the Sugar Beet seed into segments-so that drills can plant one seed germ at a time, vastly reducing the time needed for blocking and Drills have been greatly improved and fertilizer placement devices developed.

Mechanical harvesters, (the comduction) have proven their ability to handle the job successfully.

All in all-Sugar Beets are going

It is a crop you will want to plantor plant more of. It is a cash crop of proven worth to Michigan farmers.

But if Michigan farmers want to take advantage of these many developments, it is necessary now to plant the entire 135,000 acres allotted for the growing of Sugar Beets.

It is necessary to protect now the historical position, not only of your beet growing area, but of your own individual farm, so that when future quotas are set, they will be high enough to take care of every Michigan farmer who would like to grow this profitable crop.

Precious Hose Wash those precious hose immediately after having them on, Body acids are harmful to stocking fabrics. No rubbing or soap; whisk up a mild, rich lather and squeeze it gently through, Don't twist or wring. Better have a basement drying rack, for today's stockings take longer, 24 hours for rayon hose, and cotton tops and toes dry more slowly. To hasten any drying, roll in a towel, squeeze, then unroll at once. Lay over a towel, no clothespins, and place out of sun, away from heat.

This struggle for security, both by the individual and by the nation, prompts man to turn to one of two philosophies as the method by which he hopes to achieve security. One philosophy is that of democracy where individuals through cooperative participation in government keep the aggressors from enslaving them. Democracy safeguards freedom of the individual—freedom of speech and press, freedom of assembly, freedom of religion, and freedom from the struggle of the structure of t This struggle for security, both lom of religion, and freedom from want—against the rise of an unpridled individualism, the Mussoini or Hitler who becomes the absolute ruler over man's fate.

Triumph of the Allied powers over Germany, which we celebrated quietly last week, was a victory of democracy over the absolute state, modified by Soviet socialism, of course.

Both Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia have carried state controls to new extreme in the two-way quest for security of the individual and nation. Under Nazi control the individual was degraded to barbaric levels through curtailment ROSE NAGY, Probate Register. of the expression of man's urge to create.

It was the fear of insecurity minimum management which prompted nations in Europe to embrace the false philosophy of authoritarism rule. Marshall Field in his new book, "Freedom Is More Than a Word," says that the leading essential of "that freedom- cooperation balance which we call democracy" is "groceries." He explains: "By 'groceries' I naturally mean reasonably economic security, such as is made possible by an effectively functioning economy."

Concrete Feeding Floors for Hogs

Improves Pig's Health And Saves on Food

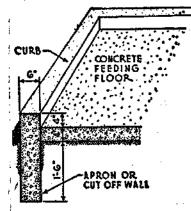

BETTER pork can be produced and a saving in food result, where concrete feeding floors are used in hog lots.

The concrete feeding floors are generally made about 4 inches thick, in sections of about 10 square feet. For poorly drained land, it may be necessary to fill in with about 6 inches of gravel or cinders.

It will take 71/2 sacks of portland cement; % cubic yard of sand and 1 cubic yard gravel or crushed rock to build a feeding lot 100 square feet. 4 inches thick.

In addition to better health control, concrete feeding floors should result in about 25 per cent increase in number raised from the same number of sows. They will grow more evenly and reach market weights weeks earlier. It is advisable to provide shade when hogs are kept on concrete.

Pieces of 2 x 4's are commonly used for side forms. They may be salvaged as soon as the concrete has set. A straight 2 x 4 may be used as a strikeboard to level off the concrete. The new concrete should be properly cured by covering with earth or straw as soon as it has hardened enough not to be marred. It should be kept moist for

It is often desirable to place a low curb and an apron or cutoff wall extending into the ground about 11/2 or 2 feet deep around the edge of the feeding floor as in the drawing. This prevents the undermining of the

Harnessing the Worm

Earthworms are being harnessed and put to work to enrich the soil. In their burrowing operations the worm swallows the earth with its minerals and vegetables, adds his own secretions, and produces the richest top soil known to science. The presence of 10 worms in one square foot of earth, or one million to the acre, will create annually 200 tons of such soil. The crops raised from such top soil are from 100 to 300 per cent larger.

-Your 1945 Garden-Tomato Growing Important Project

BY ALL odds the tomato is the universal favorite of home Victory gardeners because they will grow most anywhere, are productive, a pleasure to grow and to eat. And they are rich in vitamin con-

In Victory Garden

In full sun, on any reasonably good soil with a medium to good supply of moisture, tomatoes can be grown EN at some season in every state of the Union.

Tomatoes do not like shade and they do not like too much nitrogenous fertilizer. With these conditions, the plants often grow very rank, but the blossoms drop off instead of forming able for transplanting from dealers. the small gardener should purchase them rather than grow the few needed in the average small garden. They are not difficult to pro duce, however,

Good plants about eight inches tall that are well grown are desirable for transplanting. Transplanting should not take place before the frost-free date in your community.

If barnyard manure is applied to the garden where tomatoes are to be grown, it should be supplemented with four to five pounds of superphosphate for each 100 pounds of manure. Twice that amount should be added to sheep or poultry manure. It is generally unwise to work manure into the boles into which tomato plants are to be set, but a handful of commercial fertilizer should be well mixed with the equivalent of a bucketful of soil where each plant is to be set.

In most gardens it is desirable to prune the plants to a single stem or to two stems and tie them to stakes. The stake should be about eight feet long, driven into the soil about two feet and at least 11/2 inches in diameter. As the plant develops, side shoots or branches appear at the points where the large leaves are joined to the main stem. These shoots are easily broken out, thus restricting the plant to a single stem. When growth is rapid it is necessary to go over the plants every two or three days to remove the new side-shoots as they arise. Care must be taken that the growing tip of the main stem is not inadvertently pinched out.

In staking up the plants, strips of rag are best, but soft twine may be used. The bottom of the collar should extend about an inch below the surface of the soil. A paper clip is handy to hold the collar together. An old post card will do nicely.

Ways to Grow Tomato Plants

Growing of tomatoes calls for as uniform moisture content in the ground as possible. A long dry spell or wide variations in soil moisture content bring about damage by blessom-end rot. You will note a black or brown spot on the blossom end of the fruit, and staked and pruned plants seem to be more generally affected by this rot. On the other hand, plants growing naturally on the ground usually show more rots of other kinds, caused by the fruit lying on or too near the soil.

A light mulch of dried lawn clippings, leaves or similar materials beneath plants grown without supports will help keep the fruit off the soil and help avoid some of the loss due to fruit rot.

Tomato plants for the garden may be started indoors in quart berry boxes, paper drinking cups, paper bands or in regular clay flowerpots.

The containers are filled with sifted soil and placed in the hotbed, or if in the house they are placed in a after the plants are well under way they are transferred to the garden, the container usually removed from

Buy, Buy a Bond, They'll Bye-Bye Junior for Mom

WASHINGTON, D. C .- "Buy, buy a War Bond and we'll bye-bye baby' is the slogan of two sisters here, who are also sisters in Mu Chapter,

Psi Lambda Tau sorority at Central High School. The Misses Gilda and Thelma Klevit announced that parents who'd like a night out, but are held home-bound by baby's needs, now may break their shackles in the easiest possible fashion—by purchasing a War Bond from one of a group of 20 sorority girls.

Graduated now, the Sisters Klevit have kept up their contact with their friends, and when not tending baby are Federal workers. They'll take care of baby if pop and mom will buy a War Bond.

The sisters said that during previous loans other sororities and some fraternities shoveled ashes, cleaned cellars and did other household chores in return for War Bond purchases and they suggest their plan be carried out nationally.

Fighting Unit

Regarding the origin of the word 'squadron," the literal meaning is a body of fighting men formed in a square. Many early references use this word in connection with mounted troops only, while other cases are cited in which "squadron" is also applied to foot soldiers. The lexicographer Bullokar wrote in 1616 that a squadron was a "square form in battel." In modern military and naval language however, the word is generally applied without consideration for the formation of the troops, tanks, vessels or planes.

Roy M. Green Tells a Farm Story By President Roy M. Green Colorado A & M College Fort Collins, Colorado

Big crops and good prices left a wheat farmer not long ago with $30,000 cash in the bank. Said he, "If I don't invest this in inflated land values, what can I do with it to earn anything?" I said to him, "Did you ever think of using part of it to insure yourself a steadler farm income after the war? For $150 a month, or $1,800 a year in War Bonds, you can begin to collect ten years after the war $200 a month. As you will be getting older by that time, wouldn't that be a better supplement to what income the farm then produces than having to turn again to the cream can and what your wife can make out of chickens? Wouldn't it be a nice retirement fund for a fellow that is now 55 years old? Wouldn't you like to have had $200 a month cash coming in last time?" In addition, if you can put in War Bonds a lump-sum as reserve for operations in bad years, for deferred purchases of equipment, for repairs, for up-keep, for new household equipment; and then whatever the postwar adjustment, you would have in easier time of it than you had last time. You wouldn't have to wait on somebody's extra special plan; you would have already completed one

If you are proud of the independence of your occupation, and jealous of preserving as much of it as pos-sible, don't orate and speculate— order WAR BONDS!

Starboard and Port In the early days, propelled vessels were steered by long sweeps over the stern, on the right quarter aft. The right side thus was known as steerside. Bord being the term used for the side of the ship, the steerside became the steerbord, or starboard. The opposite side, back of the steersman, was called the backbord, which later developed into laddebord, lathebord, and larboard. It was customary for vessels to lay with the left side to the dock, and that side was called the harbor side, or port side, which latter term was readily adopted in preference to larboard because of the similarity in sound of starboard and larboard.

A grateful Nation has girded itself for the Mighty Seventh War Loan for 14 billions of dollars, half of which has been assigned as the individual sales quota. According to reports from state chairmen reaching Ted R. Gamble, national directors of the War Finance Division of the Treasury in Washington, the Nation is ready for the huge task. Mr. Gamble was enthusiastic about results. He said "We're prepared to do the best job in the 7th War Loan." Mr. Gamble said that

"not only is there more money available than ever before in each state, but individual income will be higher in the period of the 7th in any previous War Loan pe-Secretary of the

Treasury Henry Morgenthau said seven billions of MORGENTHAU assigned as the quota for individual investors and that the major emphasis throughout the drive will be placed on the quota for individ-uals. The individual quota is the highest established in any of the previous drives, the secretary said. The E Bond quota alone is 4 billion. The 7th War Loan seeks nearly as much in the one drive as was asked in the first two drives of last therefore, will seek nearly as much as was sought in the three drives Best beef of 1944.

The Secretary stated that there is Medium every evidence that Federal expenditures are going to remain at a high level for some time to come, and that the Seventh War Loan program was designed to obtain maximum funds necessary to prosecute the War from non-bank investors. The securities, which will be sold under the direction of the State War Finance Committees, are as follows: Series E, F and G Savings Bonds, Series C Savings Notes, 2½% Bonds, 2¼% Bonds, 1½% Bonds, ½% Cer-tificates of Indebtedness. The 1½%

Bonds will not be offered in the Drive to corporations.

The Drive for individuals will extend from May 14 to June 30. However, an intensification of activities in the sale of Series E bonds began April 9, when millions of persons on payroll savings plans throughout the country were asked to enlarge their participation as a part of the Series H. Hen J. Land All Series E. Seventh War Loan. All Series E, F and G Savings Bonds and Series C Savings Notes processed through the Federal Reserve Banks between April 9 and July 7 will be credited

During the final phase of the Drive which will cover the period from June 18 through June 30, subscriptions will be received from all other non-bank investors for the 214% and 21/2% marketable bonds and the certificates of indebtedness.

Potent Drink Calvados instead of wine is the beverage of the natives of Normandy and Brittany. This potent drink is nothing more than apple brandy, and reports indicate that there is more drunkenness in that area than any other part of France. Apple brandy is the distillate of the amber, clear, sparkling apple cider that looks like champagne. course the fresh distillate is raw, but after it is properly aged in a wooden cask it is smooth and mellow. The best cider is also aged before it is bottled and stored.

Chemical State

New Jersey produces about $88,-000,000 worth of paints, pigments and varnishes, or about 16½ per cent of the national total. The state has 7.2 per cent of all the chemical establishments in the United States. It has about 4 per cent of the compressed gas plants, and 8 per cent of its employees; 5 per cent of all drug and medicine establishments and 8 per cent of its employees; 5½ per cent of explosive plants and 26 per cent of its employees.

SURE FAVORITE—Our Home Service Department predicts quick popularity for this new and different cake:

Foamy Chocolate Cake

2 9-inch square cake pans 2nd set of glides

I cup butter or shortening

2 cups sugar

3 squares bitter chocolate,

Preheated oven-350° F. Baking time, 45 minutes 1/2 cake compressed yeast

tsp. salt 2¾ cups cake flour

1 tsp. soda 3 tbsps. hot water 11/2 tsps. vanilla 1/4 cup lukewarm water

Grease the cake pans thoroughly and dust with flour. Sift flour once before measuring, then sift again with salt. Cream the butter, add sugar and cream together until light and fluffy. Add the egg yolks. Beat well. Add the melted chocolate and the milk. Add the yeast, which has been mixed with the lukewarm water. Add the flour and salt which have been sifted together. Blend ingredients thoroughly. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Place in refrigerator overnight. The next morning, add the soda dissolved in the three tablespoons of hot water. Add vanilla. Pour into cake pans. This is a delicious and different cake.

EDISON POWER is produced by the burning of coal -thousands of tons every week to supply customers' requirements of electricity. The WPB "brown-out" order is designed to save coal.
