

Diplomas Were Presented to 58 Seniors Friday

Ten Honor Students Were Awarded Emblems at Commencement Exercises

Fifty-eight seniors of Cass City high school joined the ranks of the alumni when they received their diplomas Friday evening at the class night program at the high school auditorium. The presentation of the diplomas climaxed a program of speeches and music by members of the class of 1945.

The graduates, in their blue caps and gowns, were seated on the stage of the auditorium with the three members of the faculty who participated in the commencement proceedings. Jeanne Bigelow, master of ceremonies, introduced each number of the program.

Virginia Kelley, salutatorian, opened the program with a talk in which she expressed the hope that members of the graduating class would go forth to help make a better civilization. In the president's address, Frank Maciejewski commented on the meaning of commencement to the graduates and voiced appreciation to both the faculty and community.

Combining factual information and humor, Jeanne Profit, historian, reviewed the events in the school life of the class of 1945 and mentioned the contributions which members of the class had made to the various school organizations.

Fred Bearss paid an appropriate tribute to the three 1945 graduates who are already in the service of their country—Harold Rayl, Ray McGrath, and William Marshall, vice president of the class.

As a parting gift to the school, the seniors made a substantial contribution toward the purchase of a movie projector, suitable for both classroom and auditorium. Following the announcement of this gift from the class by Mary K. Brown, Bernice Stocking reminisced concerning the recent boat trip to Mackinac Island and related a number of amusing incidents which occurred.

Ten members of the graduating class, who were recently selected as members of the local chapter of the National Honor Society, were recognized by Harold Oatley, faculty member.

American Soldier Visits Former Home Town

In Germany Which He Left at Age of Seven

T-3 Karl Heideman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Heideman, of Greenleaf, while a student at the Wayne University, Detroit, entered Uncle Sam's service in January, 1943. Recently he visited his former home town in Germany which he left at the age of seven years. Under date of April 27, he wrote his family about seeing the house where he formerly resided and several of his relatives. Quite a number of times in his letter, he uses the German language in quoting conversations with his uncles and aunts. Several of these have been translated into English for the information of Chronicle readers. They are enclosed in parentheses following the German.

Karl writes: Dear Mother, Father, Hanna and Gerhard:

Today I really have something to write home about. The other day I experienced what was perhaps one of the most interesting and exciting occasions of a lifetime. I had the opportunity of making a trip through Bielefeld. Let me tell you about it just the way it happened.

Rotary Anns Were Ladies' Night Guests Tuesday

Rev. Edward B. Paisley, Ph. D., Spoke on "Being an American"

The private dining room in the Home restaurant Tuesday evening presented an attractive arrangement when 51 diners were seated at seven tables, the occasion being Ladies' Night, and Rotary Anns were guests of their husbands. Bowls of cut flowers decorated the tables.

Following a delectable chicken dinner, G. W. Landon and Willis Campbell led the company in spirited and enthusiastic group singing, with Mrs. Ethel McCoy at the piano. President M. C. McLellan welcomed the Rotary Anns as guests.

Rev. Melvin R. Vender presented Rev. Edward B. Paisley, Ph. D., of Philadelphia, secretary of the Division of Home, Church and Community of the Christian Board of Education of the Northern Presbyterian church and a chaplain in World War I, as guest speaker. Dr. Paisley announced "Being an American" as his subject.

None appreciates the privileges of America more than our men and women returning from overseas, he said. Not our large population, our expanse of territory, or our immense wealth is as important to our people as the group of ideals and convictions which form the spiritual basis for the nation. Man as man is of infinite value. Economic and political equality in opportunity, justice, the spirit of open mindedness, tolerance, religious liberty and the sense of responsibility are factors which have made the nation great.

America has matured as a nation, the speaker said, and she must assume her full responsibility for world order and the maintenance of peace.

Dinner guests were Pvt. Neville Mann of Fort Sill, Okla., and Glenn Folkert of Bay City.

Plays Leading Role in Graduation Week Activities in Ypsi

As president of the senior class of Michigan State college, Robert Neil McLarty of Cass City will play a leading role in the annual graduation week activities which will conclude with commencement exercises at 3:00 p. m. on Saturday, June 9, in Pease auditorium, Ypsilanti.

In his four years at Normal, Neil has been active in several campus organizations. This past year, in addition to being senior class president, he has also served as president of the local chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary society in social science. Neil has been a member of the Stoics, Normal's honorary scholastic society, for the past three years. Because of his fine scholastic record, this organization recently awarded him the Benjamin L. D'Ooge scholarship in tribute to his qualities of leadership and scholarship.

In each his junior and senior years, Neil was also awarded a state scholarship because of his scholastic record. Having a major in English and minors in French and history, Neil will receive the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Paper Pickup on Monday, June 11

Youths are planning a paper pickup day for next Monday, June 11, in Cass City, and the youthful collectors will be made happy if you have waste paper and rags neatly bundled and packaged when they call at residences and business places next Monday morning.

Because of greater packaging protection required for war materials sent to the Pacific, waste paper salvage must be increased. No relaxation in this salvage effort can be contemplated for at least six months.

Scout Camporee Here on Saturday And Sunday

Troops from Eight Towns Are Expected to Camp Here Two Days

Cass City was chosen as the site of the annual Tuscola Scout Camporee for the second time because of the attraction of the outdoor swimming pool, members of the county committee report. Scouts from Cass City, Vassar, Caro, Unionville, Reese, Akron, Kingston and Millington are expected to camp on the fairgrounds from Saturday until Sunday afternoon.

The boys will apply their Boy Scout training in the arts of camping, cooking and Scout advancement achievement. All competition during the Camporee will be by patrols and each patrol will prepare its own meals.

The 43 members of the local troop 194 will camp under the direction of Assistant Scoutmaster Edward Baker assisted by James Mark and Hugh Bogart of the troop staff. Ray W. Fleener, chairman of the local troop committee, is also chairman of the arrangements committee for the camporee.

Saturday evening at 8:30 will be the district court of honor, of which Glen McCullough of Cass City is chairman. Awards will be made to scouts from several troops. James Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Wallace, will receive Life rank, the highest to be awarded to a local boy at this meeting.

Seventeen Cass City scouts will receive General Eisenhower medals for collecting 1,000 or more pounds of scrap paper this spring.

Harold Oatley, local scoutmaster, will serve as director of the camporee. Commissioner Hugh Munro is to be chief judge in competitive events. Albert MacPhail will serve as referee.

23 Out of 26 Teaching Positions Are Filled Here

But Two Instructors in the List That Are New to the School

Twenty-three of the 26 positions on the staff of instructors of the Cass City public schools have been filled for the coming year, Superintendent Willis Campbell announced. The three vacancies remaining—home economics, commerce and English and dramatics—will be filled soon, it is anticipated.

The 23 teachers who have signed contracts include the following: Willis Campbell, superintendent. Arthur Holmberg, principal. Vernon Wait, music. Jack London, coach. Orion Cardev, industrial arts. Harold Parker, mathematics. Dave Ackerman, history. Harold Oatley, dean of boys and government.

Harold Perry, agriculture. Miss Marion Milligan, English and Latin.

Miss Elmore Corpron, librarian and freshman speech.

Mrs. Mary Holcomb, principal junior high.

Frank Weatherhead, junior high. Mrs. C. M. Wallace, junior high. Miss Caroline Garety, 6th grade.

Mrs. Marie Sullivan, 6th grade. Mrs. Ella Price, 4th grade.

Mrs. Delbert Profit, 3rd grade. Miss Leila Battel, 2nd grade.

Mrs. Zora Day, 1st grade. Mrs. Geraldine Roth Webster, kindergarten.

Mrs. Jos. E. Crawford, overflow of 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades.

Mrs. Orion Cardev, overflow of 4th, 5th and 6th grades.

In the above list there are but two new to the school. Mrs. Delbert Profit taught in the Deford school and Mrs. Jos. E. Crawford for several years was a teacher in rural schools in this community. Mrs. Geraldine Roth Webster taught the kindergarten here a year ago before her marriage. Her husband recently went overseas.

Mrs. Harold Wells, R. N., will continue in her position as school nurse. According to school records, there were 100 accidents among the pupils during the past year. Seventy were minor affairs and 30 were accidents referred to local physicians.

Gladys Chapman and Arthur Reisel Marry

The Mizpah Mennonite Brethren in Christ church was decorated with palms and lighted tapers for the wedding of Miss Gladys Marie Chapman and Mr. Arthur Earl Reisel Saturday evening, June 2. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Chapman of Evergreen township, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reisel of Cleveland, Ohio.

The marriage ceremony was performed at 7:30 p. m. by Rev. R. W. Herber, assisted by Rev. J. S. Wood of Pontiac. Miss Esther Chapman, sister of the bride, sang "Together Life's Pathway We Tread" and "Close to Thee." Mrs. Ernest Bullock was the pianist.

The bride chose for her wedding a white floor length gown with a fingertip veil. Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Vivian Chapman, who wore a light blue floor length gown, and her bridesmaid was Miss Emma Reisel of Cleveland, sister of the groom, who was dressed in pink. The bride and her attendants carried white Bibles and carnations.

The groom was attended by Wm. Wehl of Cass City.

About 150 guests were present at the wedding and at the reception Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents. They came from Cleveland, Bay City, Goshen, Ind., Brown City, Bad Axe, St. Clair, Detroit and Cass City.

Mr. and Mrs. Reisel left Thursday of this week on a wedding trip. Next week they plan to attend a church conference in Port Huron, and by fall they expect to go to Nigeria, West Africa, as missionaries.

Mrs. Reisel is a graduate of the Cass City high school with the class of 1939. Both she and her husband have been students at Bible Institute, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Wedding Guests in Automobile Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schember (Ruth Knoblet) were still patients Wednesday in the Morris hospital, recovering from injuries suffered early Sunday morning in an auto accident at the corner of M-53 and Severance road. Mr. Schember has a broken right leg and Mrs. Schember suffered facial cuts and was unconscious until Sunday afternoon. With them were their two small children who were uninjured.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Elmer McKee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McKee, passed the Schember car on the right side of the car while Mr. Schember was alighting from the vehicle. Mrs. Schember was driving and they had stopped for him to take over at the wheel.

All were returning to their homes from a wedding in the Elmer Chapman home. Mrs. Schember's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rinerd Knoblet, arrived quickly upon the scene of the accident, having also been at the wedding.

Tuscola County 4-H Club Summer Program By Boys and Girls Is Well Under Way

The Tuscola County 4-H club summer program is well under way with several local clubs already organized and prospects of a record number of clubs to be added to the list by June 15, when all enrollments will be in the county extension office.

Summer 4-H club work features the following projects: Dairy heifer, pig fattening, pig breeding, poultry, beef fattening, sheep and rabbits in the livestock division. 4-H gardens, hybrid corn, beans, sugar beets and potato projects are available for boys and girls interested in growing crops and gardens.

Projects especially adapted for 4-H girls are: canning, food preparation, baking, vegetable gardening and flower gardening.

Boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 years are eligible to join a 4-H club. Clubs may be organized either in rural or town communities.

Each club selects its own local 4-H leader, usually some adult person interested in boys and girls

Saginaw Resident Killed, Trenton Man Was Injured

Accident at Intersection of M-81 and M-53 on Wednesday Morning

Howard L. Russell, 29, of Saginaw was killed and Ovid M. Branstetter of Trenton was injured in an automobile collision at the intersection of M-81 and M-53, four miles east of Cass City, on Wednesday at 11:30 a. m.

Branstetter, driving a Sunoco Oil Co. car, was traveling north on M-53, and Russell, driving a Rainbo Bread Co. truck, was going east on M-81. The car was demolished and the truck badly damaged.

Mr. Russell is survived by his widow and two children.

Mr. Branstetter was taken to Pleasant Home hospital here. He has a cracked bone in his left knee and two deep lacerations at and just below the knee, and gravel burns on the forehead, face, hands and left knee. There are no internal injuries.

Sgt. Fred Ennis of the State Police station at Bad Axe investigated the accident, and a Sanilac county coroner and the prosecuting attorney were called. The prosecutor said no inquest would be held unless so requested.

Labor Meetings Being Held with Sugar Beet Growers

A series of four farmer-field-man sugar beet labor meetings are being held in the county this week in cooperation with the sugar companies and their fieldmen.

D. A. Crawford, emergency farm labor assistant, working out of the county agent's office, is in charge of the meetings.

Discussions are being held with the growers present for the purpose of emphasizing methods by which the farmer may assist the factory fieldmen in starting, training and supervising the Mexican and German laborers on the job of blocking and thinning sugar beets.

Suggestions are being brought out regarding the wisdom of trying to make Mexican laborers as comfortable as possible and contented in their living quarters as possible. This calls for cooperation of the farmer and the factory fieldmen.

It is estimated, in the Colorado beet growing areas, that an increase of at least ten percent in labor efficiency was brought about through meetings of the type being held here.

TESTIMONIAL DINNER GIVEN FOR HAROLD OATLEY

The Boy Scout Troop committee were hosts at a testimonial dinner given at the school Wednesday evening, honoring Scoutmaster Harold Oatley. He was presented with a pocket knife.

Make Your Next Pie With Vegetables (See Recipes Below)

Vegetables De Luxe

Of course, the family won't eat vegetables that are cooked beyond recognition with all their delicate colors washed out. Do you blame them?

Vegetables don't have to look that way. Spinach can be a rich green with enough of its character left in to hold up a few of the leaves. Peas can be as green as when they are first picked, cabbage almost as crisp as when it was first picked and green beans fork-tender and well seasoned.

Two rules to remember in vegetable preparation are these: First, prepare your vegetable just before ready to cook. Don't let it stand in water to have the flavor and nutrients leached out. Second, cook only until tender and then serve at once.

Another complaint that we frequently hear about vegetables is that they lack flavor. That's easily remedied. Coax out the natural flavor with cooking in salted water, then taste before serving and perhaps add a bit more salt, a dusting of pepper and melted butter or bacon dripping if you like a smoky flavor in your vegetable.

Sometimes a cream sauce will add interest to the vegetable, or perhaps a cheese sauce will bring out its best points. Today's recipes will give you the cues to making these vegetables a star attraction on your menus.

Corn & La King with Bacon. (Serves 4)

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 canned pimiento, chopped
- 1 teaspoon minced onion
- 1/4 teaspoon celery salt
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Few grains cayenne
- 1 can whole kernel corn
- 8 strips bacon
- 4 pieces of toast

Melt butter in saucepan, add flour and blend well. Add milk and cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Add pimiento, onion, celery salt, salt, cayenne and corn. Serve on toast with two strips of bacon and garnish with parsley, if desired.

Savory Beets. (Serves 4 to 6)

- 2 cups cooked, cubed beets
- 4 strips finely chopped cooked bacon
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon bacon fat or flour

Wax window sills to prevent them from getting dirty easily. To clean white painted surfaces, dip a cloth in dry oatmeal and rub vigorously. To clean leather furniture, use warm water and soap. To remove dog hairs from upholstery, rub with a piece of dampened chamois. To clean bathroom walls, let hot water run in tub long enough to steam walls, then rub the walls with a cloth until they are clean.

Lynn Says:

Cleaning Tips: To remove ink stains from rugs, pour salt over the spot while still wet. Keep changing salt as it absorbs ink until ink spot disappears.

To prevent wall from cracking when putting up a nail for pictures, heat the nail by holding with pliers over a flame, then drive into the plaster immediately.

To clean white painted surfaces, dip a cloth in dry oatmeal and rub vigorously.

To clean leather furniture, use warm water and soap.

BOY SCOUT REPORT.

The Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts held their semi-annual skating party in the school gym. Prizes were given for the best skating couples. The judges were Mrs. Ed Baker and Mrs. Herb Ludlow. The guests were Dr. Miller and Mrs. Milligan. The scouts had a very enjoyable evening.

At a regular meeting, Assistant Scoutmaster Edward Baker showed the scouts how to make rope out of twine. Mr. Oatley gave an earnest and interesting talk to the boys.

Members of the Wolf patrol, who are Gerald Fritz, Dale Reed, John Douglas, Harry Willard, Robert Mann, Stewart Goff and Chas. Kercher, received badges for their participation in the First Aid contest which was held at Reese. The badges read as follows: "First Aid '45."

Membership cards were given to 43 boys registering them until June 1946. Year pins were given to boys who have been in a year or more. Many boys received them. Two-year pins were also given.

The board of review met and considered new badges. Members of the board present were Walter Mann, Glenn McCullough, Ray Fleenor and Rev. Stanley Kirm. Their guest was Mr. Buchanan. Jerry Fritz, Reporter.

Wool Bleaches
Bleaches that contain chlorine destroy wool. Good bleaches for wool are hydrogen peroxide and sodium perborate.

Tape Spools
Empty adhesive tape spools make excellent containers for odd pieces of lace insertion and edging, elastic and braid. Replace the metal band over the rim to keep material clean.

Prevent Tearing
Do zig-zag machine or hand stitching over tea cloths and dusters to prevent their tearing when they get thin.

Liquid Solder
Liquid solder is useful in mending small holes in window or door screens.

A REAL LOSS

The usual gossip was being enjoyed over the back-garden fence. "Did you hear about the row at No. 17 last night?" said the lady at No. 3.

"No; what was it?" asked her neighbor at No. 5 eagerly.

"Well, she broke a chair over her husband's head, but I hear she's very sorry for it now."

"Pity she didn't think before she did it then."

"Yes," sighed No. 3; "it was one of her best chairs."

FINE MIXTURE

Jimmy—Give me a penny's worth of mixed candy.

Clerk—Here are three pieces. You can mix them yourself.

Times Have Changed

Mrs. Newlywed—Last Christmas I hung up my stocking for Christmas, but next time I'll just have to hang up an empty bottle.

Hubby—How come?

Mrs. N.—I'm wearing leg make-up.

Among the Clergy

Baptist Preacher—I don't like your Methodist system of church government. It has too much machinery about it.

Methodist Ditto—Yes, but then you see it doesn't take nearly so much water to run it!

Results of Food

Englishman (surveying a field of oats)—Oats is a grain which in England is generally given to horses, but in Scotland it supports the people.

Scotchman (enthusiastically)—Yes, and where in the world will you find such horses and such men!

Let 'Em Grow

City Boy—These eggs are too small.

Grocer—They're fresh from the country.

C. B.—That's the trouble. Those farmers pick their eggs too soon.

On the Avenue

Stranger (at the door)—Is Mr. Smith at home?

Maid—Which one, sir? There are two brothers living here, sir.

Stranger—The one who has a sister living in Milwaukee.

Music Lesson

Little—Who is making that infernal jangle on the piano?

Nettie—That's Betty at her exercises.

Little—Tell her to get her exercise some other way!

Relatives

Grandma (despondently)—Well, darling, I shall not be a nuisance to you and John much longer.

Granddaughter (reassuringly)—Don't talk that way, grandma, you know you will!

NOT LOVESICK

He—I'm just what the doctor ordered for you.

She—Get away from me, you pill!

Any Meat For Sale?

Jack—According to this all butchers have rheumatism.

Mac—I don't get it.

Jack—Well, this article says rheumatism causes a man to imagine his joints are much larger than they really are!

School Daze

Teacher—Name three hardships Columbus had while on his journeys of exploration.

Bright Scholar—The Nina, Pinta and Santa Maria.

School Daze

Harold—What time is it, please? I'm invited to a party and my watch isn't going.

Gerald—Wasn't your watch invited?

Daftynition

Polly—What is "executive ability?"

Dolly—I'd say it is the art of getting credit for all the hard work somebody else does.

School Daze

Tess—I'll be over at your house about eight o'clock tonight.

Bess—Okay. If I'm studying when you come, wake me up!

Revised Etiquette

She—Is it bad luck to postpone a wedding?

He—Not if you keep on postponing it.

Family Affairs

Hi—My cousin Bill is going to marry a pretty girl and a good cook.

Si—He can't do that: it's bigamy!

Amateur Cooks

Cora—How long did you cook the spaghetti?

Dora—Oh, about 10 inches.

Oak Bluff Breezes

The past week the weather man seems to have thrown about everything in the book in the way of disagreeable weather at us. Memorial day which usually finds most of the cottages open was very disagreeable due to the high winds and low temperature so very few people were here. However, following the winds of Wednesday, local interest was aroused with the discovery on the beach of a pair of loons, a very rare and interesting type of water bird in this locality, probably victims of the storm. We have often heard the expression, "crazy as a loon" and the present variety of weather might make it very appropriate at this time. In case you are not familiar with this type of bird and are interested we give you herewith Audubon's condensed description of the loon. Quote, "The loon, as this interesting species of diver is generally called in the United States, is a strong, active and vigilant bird. When it has acquired its perfect plumage, which is not altered in color at any successive moult, it is really a beautiful creature; and the student of nature who has opportunities of observing its habits, cannot fail to derive much pleasure from watching it as it pursues its avocations."

Miss Myrtle Holmes, our efficient secretary, arrived Thursday for the summer season. Myrtle has just recently changed her place of residence from Ferndale to Dearborn.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Heater of Detroit have spent the past week at their cottage and have had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Jones. Both families returned to Detroit Sunday.

Mrs. E. R. Wilson and Mrs. Russell Stough of Lansing arrived Thursday evening and Saturday evening Mr. Wilson and Mr. Stough came over for the week end. They returned to Lansing Monday. No fishing due to cold and windy weather. Mr. Wilson leaves this week for New York City on business for the Knapp Co., and will be gone several days.

The nominating committee, appointed to select nominees for the office of directors to be chosen at the next annual meeting of the stockholders, held their meeting at the Heater cottage and stockholders will be notified of their selection and date of the annual meeting in a few days.

Dr. J. E. Wurm, who has been indisposed for several days, was taken to the Pigeon hospital for treatment Monday morning. His friends hope that his recovery will be rapid and that he will soon be back at Oak Bluff.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Burke spent several days this week in Cass City, Saginaw and Bay City, returning to Caseville on Thursday.

GAGETOWN NEWS

O'Rourke-Comment Wedding—

On Tuesday morning, June 5, Miss Vernita O'Rourke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Rourke, of Gagetown, became the bride of Douglas Comment, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Comment, of Gagetown. The altar vases in St. Agatha church were filled with red peonies for the nine o'clock wedding. The Very Rev. John McCullough performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a wedding gown with a satin fitted bodice, a full chiffon skirt ending in a train, long sleeves, and a sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a coronet of shirred white satin. White lilies tied with wide satin ribbon formed her arm bouquet.

The bridesmaid was Mrs. Paul Hunter of Alpena, Michigan. She wore a floor length gown of pink net over pink satin. In her hair she wore pink roses from which fell a shoulder length veil of the same color. She carried roses tied with pink satin ribbon.

Paul Hunter of Alpena attended the groom.

Following the wedding, a dinner was given for the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom. The table was decorated with bowls of flowers, tapers in candelabras and a wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom. From two to four o'clock in the afternoon, a reception was held when relatives extended their congratulations.

Mr. Comment, who is a garage mechanic, and his bride are enjoying a short wedding trip. Following this, they will return to Gagetown where they will make their home.

Anthony J. Mosack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Mosack, will be among the students graduating from Assumption college, Sandwich, Ont., Friday, June 8, at 8 p. m., in the college auditorium. Parents, relatives and friends will attend. Anthony Mosack, Jr., has attended Assumption college for his four years of high school.

Yank Weapons Are Superior to Foe's

Eisenhower Quoted in Reply To Criticism of Arms.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Answering critics of American armament, Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Campbell, army ordnance chief, quoted General Eisenhower as saying we have "general superiority" in armament over the European enemy.

He quoted from a letter from General Eisenhower and said it was the answer to "some critics who write alleging inferiority" of certain American armor compared with the Germans.

Saying he was referring particularly to published reports that our tanks are not big enough to cope with the Nazis' Royal Tiger and Panther tanks both from the standpoint of armor and fire power, Campbell told the Associated Press:

"I could build a tank as big as the Pentagon if the generals in the field said they wanted one, but there is no evidence to date that they want or need tanks larger than those we now employ. Those men know what they want—they're good judges of horseflesh!"

At the same time, Campbell disclosed that we now have in action a new "assault tank" which has double the armor of our 35-ton General Sherman and is about 5 tons heavier.

Just returned from a tour of inspection of ordnance in the European and Mediterranean theaters—during which he said he interviewed all top-ranking generals and scores of enlisted men—Campbell said he had their assurance that this could be said:

"We need not only have no apology for any item of American ordnance in comparison with that of the enemy—but we're leading them all the way."

Marines Add Twist to Famous South Sea Dance

IN THE PACIFIC — Even the hula, famed dance of the South seas, has been given an added twist by marines reports S/Sgt. Bob Cooke, a USMC combat correspondent of Leatherneck.

The traditional hula tells a story of love, or a local legend in significant hand gestures above weaving hips. Marines, says Sergeant Cooke, haven't the same interest in arm and hand signals that they have in native weaving.

Since leathernecks have been in the Pacific, a new dance has made its appearance. Called the "Jeep hula," it tells the story of a native girl who bummed a ride in a jeep. The Polynesian chant throughout the dance ends with a strident whistle, a loud "Going my way!" and a gesture of the thumb over the shoulder common to hitch-hikers throughout the world.

Sprout Whiskers, Stick To Job, Workers' Idea

LOS ANGELES, CALIF. — Unshaven since the year began, Goodrich Rubber company swing shifters are keeping up a hands off razor policy begun to fight absenteeism.

After the war department's appeal for tire makers to work 12 days without a day off, the workmen set up a $5 a man pool in which every man who keeps a perfect attendance and no shaving record the first 120 days of 1945 will share.

Swing shifters who are absent or shave before the 120-day period ends will forfeit their contributions.

The whiskers, the tire makers decided, would lessen temptation to play hockey from work for night shift entertainment.

The plan has spread to other shifts and the management is so pleased it hinted it might add to the pool.

Crewless Tow Plane Pulls Glider to Mark

LONDON, ENGLAND. — A pilotless tow plane, abandoned by its crew after it burst into flames, miraculously continued its course and enabled Glider Pilot J. D. Hill of Abilene, Texas, to land with badly needed supplies on the edge of besieged Bastogne, it was revealed recently.

Troop Carrier Pilot Capt. Thomas Corrigan, Kansas City, Mo., said he saw the tow plane burst into flames after being hit by flak. "The crew bailed out," Corrigan said, "but the plane apparently was set on an automatic pilot and it continued like a flaming arrow straight ahead, pulling the glider as if nothing had happened."

Hill did not pull his release until over the drop zone. Then he landed his glider in the American battle area.

Nazis Have Word for It; and What a Word

LONDON. — "Raumungsamt-liebenunterhaltsbeiträge," a 38 letter word, the longest yet appearing in the language of German officialdom, is a direct result of the Russian offensive, reports Reuter's radio listening post here. It means "subsidies toward the maintenance of evacuated families."

CHILDREN'S SOCIETY MET WITH MRS. McGRATH

The June meeting of the Children's Society of Christian Service was held at the home of Mrs. John McGrath, with Lois Little and Shirley Smith as assistant hostesses.

Devotionals and program centered about the theme, "Learning to Do Hard Things."

The poem, "My Task," by Norman Schlichter, was read by Joyce Merchant and Scriptural maxims for Christian living from Romans 9 were read by Mary Elizabeth Wood.

An incident relating the courage of the Negro singer, Roland Hayes, was given by Mary Ellen Baker.

"The Day My Things Spoke Up" was made realistic by Shirley Smith taking the part of disordered books, shoes and dresses, while Cathie Wood answered with a cheerful resolution.

For amusement, the game, "Who sir, I sir?" was played with Virjean Terbush winning a high score.

DIPLOMAS WERE PRESENTED TO 58 SENIORS FRIDAY

ulty sponsor of the group. He presented the honor society emblems to the following 10 graduates: Jeanne Bigelow, Eunice Herber, Jeanne Profit, Mary Kay Brown, Frank Maciejewski, Bernice Stocking, Dorothy Jackson, Florence Jackson, Virginia Kelley and Betty Hower.

Dorothy Jackson, valedictorian, concluded the part of the program presented by the students when she spoke of the part the graduates will play in making a better world.

Following the valedictory, Arthur Holmberg, high school principal, presented the class of 1945 as having fulfilled the requirements for graduation, and Willis Campbell, superintendent, presented them with their diplomas. As each graduate's name was called, he received his diploma, left the stage and joined the other members of the class as they lined up at the front of the auditorium to receive the congratulations of their families and friends. Diplomas for the three members of the class now in national service were presented to their parents.

Musical variety in the evening's program was provided by an instrumental trio, composed of Gale Goodall, Eunice Herber and Shirley Hillman with Betty Hower, accompanist, and by the girls' glee club with Mrs. Wm. Miller, director. The trio played "Cathedral Echoes" and the glee club sang "Somebody Loves Me" and "When Day Is Done."

The program was concluded when Marietta Wehl pronounced the benediction. Girls of the junior class, dressed in formal gowns, served as ushers for the evening.

Fighter Costs
The cost of one of the country's leading single engine fighters dropped from $68,750 to $45,000 since 1942. When the army's initial order was placed three years ago, 22,927 man-hours were required to produce each plane, but this has been reduced to about 6,290 man-hours. The downward trend in cost has saved the government $100,000,000.

Pave Way For Colds
All conditions which produce lowered vitality pave the way for colds—fatigue, undue exposure in bad weather, unbalanced diet, too much or too little food, dry hot rooms, insufficient exercise, and too light and too heavy clothing.

IN DEEP WATER

The lieutenant was testing a quartermaster outfit. Pointing to some marshes on the map, he asked a soldier, "What's that?" Not receiving an answer, he asked, "Would you take your truck through there?" Whereupon the soldier answered after a pause "No sub, I wouldn't take it through there, I wouldn't have a chance against dem battleships."

Doc—And you want something to strengthen your will power?

Patient—No, something to weaken my conscience!

STRIKING RESEMBLANCE

Joe—You should have thought of that before you had it taken!

Shopping Around

Old Lady (at big city railroad station)—How much is a ticket to Indianapolis?

Ticket Seller—Two seventy, ma'am.

O. L. (to small child beside her)—Well I guess we might as well buy them here. I've priced them at all the other windows, and there's no difference.

Completely at Sea
Bill—You mean to say you were a captain? You don't look old enough.

Joe—Yes, I've sailed my own boat since I was five, but I quit.

Bill—Why?

Joe—Mother decided I was old enough to take a shower instead of a bath!

Sharp Idea

City Boy—I have a new idea for my uncle's farm. I'm going to have him plant some razor blades along with his wheat.

Farm Boy—Razor blades and wheat? What's the idea?

C. B.—It's a wonderful idea. His bread will come up sliced!

DEFORD DIARY

Pioneers—
The early pioneers of Novesta, Kingston and near communities have passed on, but their descendants will honor their memory when they meet June 21 for the annual pioneer meeting at the Deford Methodist church. The agenda: Dinner together in the dining room at noon. Program and business session at 1:30 p. m. Visiting with friends.

Obituary of Bemis Bentley—
James Bemis Bentley passed away at his home in Lapeer in the early afternoon of Thursday, May 31, caused by a heart attack. He had been feeling as well as usual and that forenoon had been at Romeo after a load of hay. After dinner, he complained of gas on the stomach and took a home remedy and felt better. He lay down on the couch and in a very short period rolled off and never regained consciousness. A doctor came immediately and pronounced him dead.

Bemis Bentley was born at Deford in December of 1885, the son of William and Cordelia Bentley, and passed the most of his life here. Fifteen years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Bentley moved to Lapeer and he became the manager of the horses and directed the boys who did the work with them on the farm of the Michigan Home and Training school, and the deliveries around the institution. Later, he has done all of the institution's distant trucking.

Those unfortunate boys at the institution have all of the natural emotions of other boys and all loved Bemis and Mrs. Bentley which was evidenced by their liberal contributions toward a lovely floral gift for the funeral, and by the groups who stood with tears in their eyes when the deceased was taken away from his home.

He leaves his widow, two sisters, Mrs. Chas. Downer of Pontiac and Mrs. Ray Rhodes of Detroit; two brothers, Rolland Bentley of Oregon state and Norman Bentley of Deford; one son, William, of Lapeer; and one daughter, Mrs. Raymond Slack, of Lapeer; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted in Lapeer at the Baird funeral home at one o'clock and again at Deford church at three o'clock by the Rev. Mr. Hemingway of Lapeer, assisted by the pastor of the Deford church, Rev. Horace Freeman. A mixed quartet from Lapeer had charge of the singing. The church was filled to capacity and the beautiful floral offering was a tribute to the memory of the deceased.

The remains were interred in Novesta cemetery.

Visitors from Detroit were entertained at the John Dice home. Grant Hartwick of Flint is spending awhile with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hartwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Curtis of Pontiac were visitors on Thursday of Mrs. Lena Curtis.

John Field is visiting relatives and friends at Stratford and some other places in Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Spencer of Detroit spent several days here at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence May were Sunday visitors of Mrs. James Daley at East Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gage were Sunday visitors of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Furness, Jr., near Mayville.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kelley and family spent Sunday in Detroit.

Wednesday visitors at the home of Mrs. May VanBlaricom were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Patch and daughter, Wilda, of Roscommon, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Patch and Howard Patch of Highland Park, Mr. and Mrs. Zeno Crittenden of Ferndale, Mrs. Maurice Kelley of Flint and Mr. and Mrs. John Whale of Cass City.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nelson of Lapeer were visitors on Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Stewart.

William and Arthur Englehart received recently the news that their brother, Frank Englehart, had passed away very suddenly while at work. Frank has lived in a western state for several years, but previous to that had resided in the Deford vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bruce of Oxford were visitors on Decoration day of Mrs. Samuel Sherk.

Willmer Warner of Battle Creek spent Sunday here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Warner.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zemke entertained on Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Ward Roberts of Pontiac.

Darwin Curtis is spending a nine days' leave of absence here with his family, from the Great Lakes Naval Training station near Chicago.

Wm. Zemke sold the Oswald farm to Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of St. Clair Shores. The Millers moved in on Monday.

Norman Bentley spent Thursday evening to Sunday in Lapeer because of the death of his brother there.

Mrs. Caroline Lewis entertained on Tuesday her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Kennedy, of Bay City, and her niece, Miss Iris Hiser, who graduated this year from Caro high school and who returned Wednesday to her home at Cedarville in the Upper Peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Arleon Retherford spent Thursday night in Detroit with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Boyne. On Friday Arleon took his initial examination for the service.

Lloyd Hicks, who has worked for the past two years with the Cass City railroad crew, has been transferred to the Kingston group. The change increases his status to first position man.

Mr. and Mrs. George Roblin are at home again to remain. They have been employed at the county home for the past eight months.

A family group took dinner together on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Perry. Those present were Harry Perry, C. S. P., and Mrs. Perry and son of Boston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moynes and sons, Mrs. Wm. J. Perry and daughters, all of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hicks and daughters. Afternoon callers were Ralph Perry and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Patch and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Little will entertain the Farmers' club in their home Friday evening, June 15. Mr. Little will be program chairman.

Wm. Zemke spent two days on business in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hicks entertained on Decoration day Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hicks and daughters, Donna, Della and Mrs. Wm. Waxel, and son, all of Flint.

American Soldier Visits Former Home Town In Germany Which He Left at Age of Seven

ized by block-busters. The road was so filled with bomb craters that I had to turn around. I saw an old man on the street who turned out to be Gieselman, and asked him where Siemert lived. He gave me the directions to Schaefer Strasse, and I stopped in front of the first shop on the right. The show case was covered with boards. I went around to the side entrance and knocked.

It was a tense moment, for although I put on a cold and business-like appearance for the benefit of the peaking neighbors, I was really trembling within. I heard someone saying in a hushed whisper and frightened voice, "Ein Amerikaner" (An American), and I could feel hesitating footsteps making their way toward the door. Slowly the door opened, and there, with a puzzled expression on her face, stood a red-cheeked and blond-haired young lady. In my memory she was Tante (Aunt) Auguste, and before I knew it I had said it, even though I knew she was Gerda. Then she grasped the situation, and with noticeable restraint ventured, "Karl? Bist du Karl Heideman aus Amerika" (Are you Karl Heideman of America?) When I answered yes she jumped around me with elation and dragged me into the living room. There I saw a sad old lady in black putting the dishes on the table. She looked up and was absolutely stunned. She stared at me for a full minute before she fully realized who I was. It was a delicate situation when she burst out crying and flung her arms about me. It was Tante Johanne; I had recognized her at once. Then Tante Auguste came running down the stairs. I found out later that her house had also been bombed out and that she was now living upstairs with Gerda, who is now married and whose husband's whereabouts are unknown.

about is unknown. She thinks he is a prisoner, since he was committed on the Western front. Tante Auguste was all smiles and just laughed and laughed. Then Tante Lisette shook my hand saying, "It just thought about you the other day." Then she just shook her head from side to side, indicating that she could hardly believe it was true. Then followed a flood of questions. They wanted to know about everybody and everything.

In the meantime Gerda had run to the "Brink-kotten," where Uncle Gottlieb is living, to get him. He came in saying, "Wer ist das? Karl Heideman? Ist das war?" (Who is that? Karl Heideman? Is that true?) He is still in good health and feeling quite well, but he still looks like an old man now. He has a lot of work to do alone, since three of the boys are at the front somewhere and Richard fell in France. His wife, Frieda, however, is quite sick and must remain in bed most of the time.

Then Uncle Heirich came in. He too looks old. His son has also been unheard of for quite some time. I told them everything was well at home. When I described our farm with its modern conveniences, our amount of cows and young stock, and mentioned the tractor and tools and equipment, they just made big eyes. I didn't brag and put on a big show, however. I told them we worked hard for everything we had. Then Tante Auguste warned up some "Schilsker Pickert" and I had a tasty snack. Although food is "knapp" (scarce), no one is going hungry.

Last Christmas Uncle Wilhelm Siemert was killed in an automobile accident. That was why Tante Johanne was so sad. She is not quite over it yet. And then, of course, she has had no word from Werner for nearly six months. She thinks he was captured by the English in Greece. Tante Lisette is still a little nervous from the bombings; otherwise everyone is quite well.

What do you think? I even recognized mother's old harmonium and played a few chords on it. It still has a wonderful tone. Since my time was very limited, I left within the hour. I wanted to make one more stop on Herforderstrasse. I left Uncle Gottlieb a little tobacco for his pipe and Uncle Heirich a few cigarettes. For the women I had a little soap. Everyone was quite delighted. I shook hands and said good-bye. They are simple and good people and I could feel their warm good will. I was glad I had seen them.

Then I drove past the old windmill and hit Herforderstrasse. I was looking for a small house on the left side of the road, and the first house I stopped in front of, turned out to be it. I walked up the little side entrance toward the back of the house. The bricks on the side of the driveway were still there the way I had remembered them. Only the house had changed. The walls were now white stippled cement with large white windows. The trees and bushes were neatly trimmed and the soil in the garden had been freshly turned. As I came around the back corner of the house a little girl saw me; she dashed into the house calling, "Mutti! Mutti! Ein Amerikaner!" (Mother! Mother! An American!) The woman who came out to ask with a rather worried expression, "Was wollen Sie?" (What do you wish?), I recognized at once to be Uncle Heirich's wife. I kept a sober face, curtly put the question, "Wohnt hier ein Heirich Heidemann?" (Does Heirich Heidemann live here?) When she said yes I asked, "Ich möchte mal gerne mit ihm sprechen" (I would like to speak to him). She went into the house to get him. In the meantime his two younger daughters were looking me over. One of them is a year younger than Hanna, and looks quite a lot like her. The other was just a little girl about eight. She was really a cute rascal; not a bit afraid of me, saying, "Mensch, wie haut der ab," about a little neighbor who got frightened.

Then Uncle Heirich came out. He looked just the way I remembered him and I would have recognized him on the street anywhere. I asked, "Heirich Heidemann?" He answered yes, in the same business-like tone in which the question had been asked. I stretched out my hand and said "Karl Heidemann." Then you should have seen the expression on his face. All in a flash there was first bewilderment and then the highest joy and elation. He asked again, as if to make certain he wasn't dreaming, "Karl, aus Amerika? Gustav's Sohn? Menschen's kind, ist das war?" (Karl of America? Gustav's son? That's true?) He put his arm around my shoulder, led me into the house, and fired away with a million questions. I gave him the dope about everything at home while eating delicious smoked "Met Wurst" on black bread with coffee. Uncle Paul's wife was living with them. She was also bombed out. Paul has been reported missing on the Russian front six months ago. Uncle Ernst has been unheard of for quite some time. Siegfried is somewhere in Italy, and Erica is in Hamburg.

Then father's sister, Hanna, who had been called by one of the girls came in. Uncle Heirich said to her, "Noh, wat hast du dan verbrurken?" in "Schilsker Platt." She looked puzzled but when she saw me she exclaimed, "Dat is 'n Heydeman." Everything is still well with her and her house is still standing, although a few windows are out and she has huge bomb craters all over the back yard. Then they showed me a lot of pictures. Father's picture, where he is sitting in a chair with a cap on his knee, is hanging in the front room. The whole house has been completely remodeled, with tiled bathroom. Then Uncle Heirich took me back to the stable and proudly showed me his pig of 150 lbs. He said to tell your father about this so he knows we have enough to eat. Uncle Heirich is a good man with a very pleasing personality and I really like him. And then it was as if someone had opened a steam valve on a boiler. Heirich started talking politics. In a torrent of words he recapitulated all the events leading to the present debacle for Germany, with a logic and understanding which was remarkable. In the same breath he hissed denunciation at the Party, cursed the SS, and damned Hitler, "Der Halunke." I could really feel proud of him. He had never been in the Party and has been fighting it from the beginning. He has had some pretty tough times on account of it. Once they put him in a working camp for nearly a year to break him, but he came back smiling. He is one of the few who has never been a member of anything and even managed to avoid the Volkssturm.

Our dear Uncle Bohn, on the other hand, Party member from the beginning, former Kreisleiter and member of Reichstag, got fat and wealthy along with the other bandits. The only good thing he ever did was that he saved Heirich from being "Kopft" for shooting off his mouth against Hitler. Bohn's goose, of course, is cooked, and properly so. It's just too bad that his family must suffer on account of him.

Uncle Heirich is still in the printing business and is now working for Military Government printing stamps and ration coupons. He is looking healthy and has lost his big stomach. He is full of energy and hope, and I feel certain he'll get along. He says he must absolutely see father again some day. When those two meet I should like to be there. They will really have a lot to talk over, and words won't be lacking on either side.

I had only an hour's time and that was up. It seemed as if I said good-bye right after hello. Nevertheless, a lot had been packed into that one hour. I left Heirich a few cigarettes, which pleased him no end. To the women I left a little soap. To the three little girls I gave each a chocolate bar. Those three—Heirich's daughter, Paul's daughter, and Johanne's daughter, all look pretty much alike. But Heirich's is really the cutest with her long blond pig-tails and round rosy cheeks and blue eyes! She put my helmet on and jumped all over me.

They gave me a big "Met Wurst" along and some black bread, which, incidentally, tasted quite good to me. It was a change from our sticky white stuff. And then I said farewell again. Uncle Heirich came out to the Jeep with me and looked it over. He said he liked the looks of the Volkswagen better, but thought our "Gelande Wagenchen" was more practical. I left him with the feeling that I had talked to a real man and was still aware of the radiating warmth of his personality about me.

I had also wanted to visit Uncle Karl, who is still living in the same place, but my time was too limited on this trip. And so I left Bielefeld again, for the second time in 17 years. As I drove out of the city a few signs caught my eye. The names "Tonsen" and "Dr. Wernike" were aroused from memory. Schildesche was not damaged too badly and it appeared as a very pleasant little village to me. To spend a lifetime there, however, I'm afraid would be a very sleepy and tame existence.

I promised everyone that if I ever had another opportunity I would surely stop in again, and I will. Then I'll see Uncle Karl, and perhaps have a little more time. By that time I think we will have the peace we are expecting any day now, and relationships won't be so strained.

I have tried to cover everything and sort of take you with me on my visit, but I realize how difficult that is. You will still have a million questions to ask me. So ask them and I'll try to answer them in the next letter.

And now a few words about myself. As you have probably guessed by now, I have roamed around quite a bit in Germany, sometimes driving from one side of the country to the other in a single day. The last few weeks have been highly exciting and interesting for me. Since I have occasion to speak to the people at times, and also have an eye for nature, I feel I'm more aware of what is going on about me than the many who are plodding along day after day, blind to all life around them. Each person I see has his own problems and life story. Each is different from the other. For anyone interested in humanity there is nothing so completely alive as man. Certainly, many of the species are disgusting. But if you chalk the unpleasant occasions up to experience and remember that the contrast will heighten appreciation for the best, then you can feel pretty certain that you are coming out ahead. But enough of these meandering soliloquies of a strange philosophy, the actual aim and essence of which I am not even clearly awake to myself. Sometimes I'm inclined to agree with so many boys at the front who don't ask for anything out of life, but are satisfied if they can keep only life itself. Anyway, I'm pretty long winded today I guess. That should be enough indication to you all that I'm feeling quite well.

The only gripe I have these days is that my mail is not coming through. I haven't received a letter in what seems ages. Yes, I can hear Hanna snapping, "That is a lesson for you—your old sins are catching up with you." OK, so I'm not a very prolific letter writer. But that's the way it is—and that's the way I am. I'm not proud of the fact; neither am I sorry. I write according to the mood and spirit of the day. When writing seems futile or makes me sad—I don't write.

I'm enclosing a few pictures I picked up in Bielefeld. Next time I plan on taking a camera along and snapping a few myself.

"Und nun, meine Damen und Herren, kommt der grosse Moment" (And now, my ladies and gentlemen, comes the great moment).

So long for this time. As ever, KARL. You should hear me rattle off the German language now. Boy, oh boy! Am I improving!

Pressing Skirt
Press the center of the back of the skirt first, placket closed, seams even. To shrink a stretched woolen skirt back into shape, use plenty of moisture; press vertically. Place iron gently—then lift up. Place again, overlapping first position. Lift until you get a lively swirl of steam. Remove from board while steam is still rising—careful, don't stretch again—and lay flat; don't hang, until material is completely dry.

Fuel Wood
The average farm family uses about 15 cords of fuel wood every year. Use the cull trees and the poorer species.

Harvest Moon
The full moon nearest to September 21 is popularly known as the "harvest moon."

RESCUE

Home from Italy—

Sgt. Floyd Ellis from Italy, a bombardier of the 15th Air Corps, returned to the States on May 25, at Boston. From there he went to Fort Sheridan and arrived home at Rescue on May 29, for a 30-day furlough. He has been in the service 35 months and overseas 18 months. He will report to Fort Sheridan after his furlough. He spent the 18 months overseas in Italy.

Three Meet in Okinawa—

Mrs. DeEtte J. Mellendorf received a letter from her son, Pfc.

Perry E. Mellendorf, May 29 which was written on May 21. He said that on May 20, he started out to look for Pfc. Harold Proudfoot of Owendale. It took around three hours to find him. "I asked him," Mellendorf wrote, "if he knew Lt. Col. Lee Wallace, and he said he did and I thought he should. Then I told him he was here so we went to find him and didn't have any trouble in locating him. While I was out running around I got pretty close to the front lines, but not too close. I saw to that. I don't care to have anybody shooting at me so I got out of there and fast. When we found Lt. Col. Wallace, he was ever surprised to see us! We stayed and talked to him for about an hour and a half, then he sent his jeep driver to take us over to where I am located. Harold came along with me to spend the night here and then went back to his outfit the next morning. By the way could you get Raymond Parker's and Marvin Moore's addresses and send them to me. They might come to this island. I'll bet Frank Putnam was glad to get home. I know I would be, but I guess it will be quite some time."

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maharg and Mr. and Mrs. Carol Hunter of Gagetown were Sunday evening visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Walsh in Bad Axe.

HOLBROOK

Silver Wedding Anniversary—

On Saturday evening, May 26, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Willis of Sheridan and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Allen of Uby celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at a reception and dance held in the Uby high school. About 400 guests were present. A lovely lunch was served which included a large wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom. The couples received many lovely gifts and a large sum of money in silver.

The brides of 25 years ago were dressed in blue and wore corsages of red rosebuds. Hilda Chambers and Ernest Willis and Irene Krug and Melvin Allen were married at the Presbyterian manse at Uby May 26, 1920, by Rev. Paul Allured at a double ceremony.

This community was sadly shocked to hear of the death of Albert Hacker, who passed away suddenly Saturday morning. He leaves a wife and nine children.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Jackson entertained at a dinner Sunday, honoring their son, Pvt. William Jackson, who is home on furlough. Those at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Smith of Shabbona, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sternberg and family of Bad Axe, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Becker and family and Dick Shuart of Holbrook.

Mrs. Loren Trathen spent Tuesday and Wednesday with her mother, Mrs. W. I. Moore, of Cass City. Mrs. Moore was ill.

A number from Uby chapter, O. E. S., attended "Friends' Night" at Bad Axe June 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Willis entertained Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Leunberger of Berea, Ohio, this past week.

Your Flag and Mine

This flag means more than association and reward. It is the symbol of our national unity, our national endeavor, our national aspiration. It tells you of the struggle for independence, of union preserved, of liberty and union one and inseparable, of the sacrifices of brave men and women to whom the ideals and honor of this nation have been dearer than life.

It means America first; it means an undivided allegiance. It means that you cannot be saved by the valor and devotion of your ancestors; that to each generation comes its patriotic duty; and that upon your willingness to sacrifice and endure as those before you have sacrificed and endured rests the national hope.

It speaks of equal rights; of the inspiration of free institutions exemplified and vindicated; of liberty under law intelligently conceived and impartially administered. There is not a thread in it but scorns self-indulgence, weakness and rapacity.

—Charles Evans Hughes.

THIS AND THAT

Up to Tuesday night, June 5, the Elkland-Novesta district had purchased $127,844.75 in bonds in the seventh war loan campaign. This is 86% of the district's quota of $148,300. Not bad when one considers purchases were on a voluntary basis and without solicitation. Watch the thermometer climb to the 100% mark.

MONDAY, JUNE 11, is waste paper collection day in this community. Old rags as well as waste paper are desired. Have the paper and rags neatly arranged in bundles or packages ready for the boys who will start their collection in Cass City on Monday morning. Do your bit!

WITH NO general campaign or solicitation yet attempted, the Cass City Community Hospital fund has better than $7,500.00 in its treasury. Considering the worthiness of such a project, that fund should show a material increase the coming year. Can you think of a better investment of spare funds for a community project?

REMEMBER back about 25 years ago when boards of education seldom engaged married women as instructors in the schools? Well, married women have taken up the burden of school teaching as well as work in factories and some schools have large percentage of married teachers among the women instructors.

NO HUNTING ALLOWED

A major and a colonel were seated in a cafe. Across the way sat a private with a beautiful blonde. They wanted to meet the girl, but they didn't know how to get around the private without pulling their rank, which they didn't want to do. Finally the major wrote a note and sent it to the private by a waiter. The note read: "I believe I studied with you at Yale, and the colonel believes he studied with you at Princeton. Please come over and straighten us out." The private wrote a return note: "I didn't study with the colonel at Princeton nor did I study with you at Yale. But I did study at the National School of Taxidermy and I'm taking care of this pigeon myself."

Cotton Speeding Up

The cotton textile industry is now spinning 40 per cent more cotton on 20 per cent fewer spindles than it did 15 years ago.

Nice Slick Hair

To avoid greasy-looking hair caused by excessive and uneven applications of brilliantine, spray it on with an atomizer.

Cut Losses

Modern forest management and good fire prevention have cut losses from forest fire in half in the Soviet Union in the past five years, says Moscow.

Whisk Up Grease

A dining-room rug catches crumbs and grease. A quick brush-up after a meal may whisk off grease before it can soak in.
