

44 Cash Prizes Offered at Beef Cattle Show Here

Special Premiums to Be Awarded to Exhibitors of Champion Animals

Fifty-five business and professional men of Cass City have contributed funds for premium money for the first annual beef cattle show which will be held in Cass City on Friday, Aug. 3, and four others will award special prizes for champion animals. The committee in charge of the prize list are John Zinnecker, Earl Maharg and Alfred Goodall.

Three premiums of $6 each, four of $5 each and four prizes of $4 each are offered to exhibitors in each of four classes—light weight steers, medium weight steers, heavy weight steers and beef heifers, any breed. Each calf entered will be given a prize of at least $4, so there will be no exhibitor without prize money.

The cattle will be exhibited at the implement shed of Copeland & Munro and will be judged by Jim Milligan, Alfred Goodall, Lynn Spencer and Don Koepfgen, all former 4-H club boys who have shown champion animals at the big fairs. Harry Stine is alternate judge.

A judging contest for 4-H club members will be held at 10:30 a. m. in charge of County Agricultural Agent Norris Wilber and Geo. Brannaman, extension specialist from Michigan State college.

A display ad on another page gives the list of regular premiums and special prizes offered and the names of contributors. An error shows two groups of prizes for light weight steers. This list should read light and heavy weight steers as well as medium weight steers and beef heifers—four classes in all with 11 premiums in each class.

War Ration Book Five Is Scheduled For Next December

War Ration Book Five, "smaller than a dollar bill" and containing just half as many stamps as the last book issued, will be distributed through the public schools in December, Chester Bowles, administrator of the Office of Price Administration, announced recently. At the same time, the new "A" gasoline ration book will be issued.

Distribution will take place at school houses or other public buildings throughout the nation from December 3 through December 15. OPA district offices will fix the exact time for each local area. The new "A" gasoline books will go into use Dec. 22, and War Ration Book Five will be used soon after the first of the year for food rationing and for rationing shoes.

The new "A" gasoline book, the third issued under rationing, will differ from the present book only in color. The book will contain five sets of coupons, six coupons to a set numbered A-18 through A-23. Each set of six coupons will cover a different validity period. The first set—the coupons numbered A-18—becomes good Dec. 22.

The first gasoline ration book issued became valid in 17 Eastern states on June 22, 1942, and throughout the country on Dec. 1, 1942. The second book was issued in all states except those in the Eastern shortage area during September, 1944. The first coupon in this book—A-12—became valid on Sept. 22, 1944. In the East, this second ration book was issued in October and November of 1944, and the A-13 coupons in the book became good Nov. 9. Since then coupons of the same number have been validated on the same dates throughout the country.

WHEAT LOANS ARE NOW AVAILABLE

Wheat loans are now available, Chas. B. Eckfeld, chairman of the Tuscola County AAA committee, announced today. The rate of the loan is $1.49 per bushel for No. 1 red wheat stored in a bonded grain elevator and 7 cents per bushel in addition if stored on the farm according to grade and moisture content. Wheat having more than 14.0 moisture will not be eligible for a loan.

Excess moisture can be avoided if the harvesting is delayed until the grain is thoroughly dry and care should be taken not to start to combine too early in the morning or continue too late at night.

Memorial Service At Gagetown for Pfc. Dean Anker

Elmwood Township Young Man Was Killed in Action in Germany on March 11.

Memorial services will be held for Pfc. Dean W. Anker in the Gagetown Methodist church on Sunday, July 29, at 2:30 p. m. The service will be conducted by Rev. Earl Geer, pastor of the church, and Dr. E. Ray Willson, pastor of the Caro Methodist church. The American Legion will attend in a body.

A telegram received by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Anker on Tuesday, July 17, stated that their son, Pfc. Dean W. Anker, had been killed in action on March 11 in Germany. He formerly was reported missing in action on that date.

Dean Anker was born Dec. 27, 1925, in Highland Park, Michigan, and came to reside in Elmwood township in 1939.

He entered the Army in April, 1944, at Fort Sheridan, Ill., and received his basic training at Camp Roberts, California, an Infantry Replacement Training center. While there he was awarded the sharpshooter medal for his ability on the rifle range. He continued training at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, where he was rated an excellent shot on the machine gun.

Pfc. Dean Anker left for overseas on Thanksgiving Day, 1944, and landed in England early in December. In late January, he went into combat in Luxembourg, and his battalion received a letter of commendation from a commanding general for making a bridgehead across the Saar river. He was awarded the Combat Infantryman's badge and two battle stars for major engagements at the Saar river and Trier.

Two of his buddies who came to

Pfc. Dean W. Anker, see Mr. and Mrs. Anker since their return to the States reported Dean a very fine soldier and man.

His last furlough was in September when he spent 11 days with his parents and brother, Don.

Pfc. Anker is survived by his parents and one brother, Don.

George Kennedy Is Reported Drowned

Friends of Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Kennedy and sons, George and Hugh, former residents here, will be interested in a letter written July 10 by Mrs. Kennedy to a friend here. George Kennedy, who was serving with the Canadian Air Force, was reported missing as of March 12 and no further word of his fate came to his relatives until June 13 when the mother of the bombardier of the plane on which George was serving was notified that the body of her son had been washed ashore and buried.

At first it was believed that the plane may have been forced down over Denmark. This woman, whose home is in Toronto, telephoned George's parents at Hamilton, Ontario, when she received that message, and it is now concluded that all members of the crew were drowned.

George Kennedy was married and leaves a small daughter, Georgina, whom he never saw.

Hugh Kennedy was serving in the Canadian Navy and was about to ship out to the Pacific when the latest word of his brother arrived. When the letter was written, he expected to be discharged on compassionate grounds.

Local Company Reelects Six to Its Board of Directors

Cass City Oil and Gas Co. Just Closed One of Its Best Years

At the stockholders' meeting of the Cass City Oil and Gas Co., held at the town hall July 19, C. E. Hartsell, W. B. Hicks, Sr., M. E. Auten, Bruce Brown, Henry Smith and Charles Severance were elected to succeed themselves as members of the board of directors.

Stanley Asher, who has been an employee of the company for 19 years, 16 of which he has been its efficient manager, reported one of the best years in the organization's history. He said gasoline and lubricating oil sales the past year have been the largest during his management. The closing of several of the smaller service stations and the need of more oil for aged cars accounts for part of the increase of sales, and another reason is an increase of fuel oil used on the farms. Mr. Asher will continue as manager. Stockholders have been sent checks representing a 10% dividend for the year.

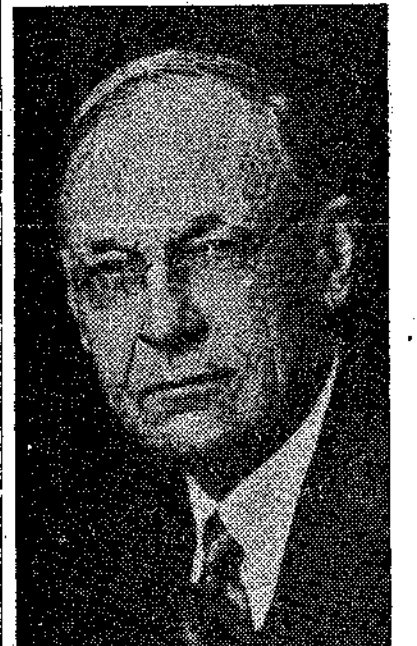

At a meeting of the board of directors, Mr. Hartsell was chosen president; Mr. Hicks, vice president; and Mr. Auten, secretary-treasurer of the company. All officers succeed themselves in these positions.

The company has placed an order for a stream-lined tank truck with power take-off. It has four compartments and a capacity of 950 gallons.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Jap War at Pre-invasion Stage; Senate Acts on Global Pacts As Big Three Map Postwar World

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

With block upon block of their once proud city in ruin, German women join men in clearing debris from Berlin.

PACIFIC: New Stage

As U. S. warships prowled along the Japanese coastline to lob 2,700 pound shells into industrial installations on shore, and British carrier units joined up with the Americans to send naval planes against the enemy homeland, Adm. Chester Nimitz declared that the Allied attacks opened the pre-invasion stage of the Pacific war.

Tightening of the blockade around the Japanese islands to prevent receipt of raw material from outlying territories, and destruction of industrial facilities for producing military goods, are the objectives of the new phase of operations, Nimitz said. Recounting an old proverb that the lifeblood of Japan is the water of the sea, Nimitz stated that the Allies were working to control that lifeblood.

Appearance of the British units heightened the tempo of the attacks on Japan proper, with one of their carriers, one battleship, two cruisers and five destroyers announced in action, and indications that others were participating. As the U. S. and British carrier planes conducted pin-point sweeps over Nippon, shipping and ferry facilities linking the coal producing island of Hokkaido with Honshu were hammered by American naval batteries and steel mills on Honshu were heavily hit.

GLOBAL PACTS: Senate Acts

Even while President Truman conferred with Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin at the historic meeting in Berlin, the senate acted on vital measures designed to assure the security of the new world and also to establish a strong economic foundation.

Foremost, of course, was the United Nations security charter, drawn up by 800 delegates from 50 countries at the palatial San Francisco opera house. Less popular in appeal, but equally important in scope, were the Bretton Woods monetary agreements creating resources for trade and reconstruction, and the increase in lending powers of the Export-Import bank to stimulate commerce before the Bretton Woods pacts can be implemented.

Overwhelmingly approved by the senate foreign relations committee after five days of public hearings, the security charter was sent to the upper chamber for ratification with the committee's declaration that though the new organization cannot prevent war, it will develop the basis for international collaboration necessary for peaceful settlement of disputes.

Previously passed by the house without major opposition, the Bretton Woods monetary agreements ran into stiff opposition in the senate, with Taft (Rep., Ohio) leading the fight. With the U. S. scheduled to contribute $3,175,000,000 to the $9,100,000,000 bank for reconstruction, and $2,750,000,000 to the $8,800,000,000 fund to provide foreign currency at fair rates, Taft sought amendments to the agreements which would assure the responsibility of the borrowers.

Under provisions of the Bretton Woods agreements, the bank would loan money directly to borrowers or guarantee loans by private interests.

BRAZIL:

Brazil's recent regrouping of her states and territories into five new regional combinations directs attention to the outstanding bigness of this "good neighbor" to the south. Largest republic in the Western hemisphere, the United States of Brazil spreads over more than 3,275,000 square miles, nearly half the area of all South America. It would overlap the North American Republic of the United States with almost enough land to spare to make another Texas.

while the fund would make foreign currency available at fair rates to countries for purchasing goods and services or evening up their trade balance.

Approved by a 102 to 6 vote in the house as a measure for increasing American foreign trade and initiating world reconstruction before implementation of the Bretton Woods monetary agreements, the bill increasing the lending power of the Export-Import bank from $700,000,000 to $3,500,000,000 also came under fire in the senate. Again Taft led the fight on the floor, demanding to know whether the bill cloaked a 1 billion dollar commitment to Russia.

Created in 1934, the Export Import bank finances U. S. sales and purchases of goods abroad.

In the meantime, the Big Three conference continued apace in the ex-Kaiser's palace near Berlin, with Secretary of State Byrnes, Chief of Staff Marshall, Naval Chief King, Air Chief Arnold, Secretary of War Stimson, Maritime Commissioner Land and Admiral Leahy assisting President Truman in the political and military discussions.

Though the three big Allied chiefs discussed preliminaries for a future peace conference to establish the map of postwar Europe, and also pondered the peace treaty for Germany, principal interest centered on the consideration of the war in the Pacific and Russia's possible role.

While it was commonly reported that Stalin had brought Japanese terms to the conference, reliable American sources declared that President Truman presented U. S. conditions for surrender, drawn up by the state, war and navy departments.

According to the report, U. S. terms include surrender of all air, naval and military equipment; disbandment of Japanese forces; evacuation of Manchuria, Korea and Formosa and other territory outside the enemy home islands; abolition of all war factories; supervision over ship building, industry and port facilities, and prosecution of all war criminals.

Implication of the terms was that an Allied occupation force would be necessary to carry out the fulfillment of the conditions and prevent the reestablishment of the influence of the Japanese military officials in the government.

GRAIN TRADE: Probe Tie-Ins

With corn supplies remaining tight OPA made its first big move against alleged irregularities in the grain trade by announcing an investigation of dealers' reported practices of tying-in sales of corn with more plentiful field crops.

Under such dealings, it was charged, corn is offered with the understanding that barley and other grains will be taken above market prices. At the same time, OPA revealed it would look into reports that interests performing no marketing function were marking up corn prices over ceilings.

Announcement of OPA action came as traders predicted little corn would be available for delivery on July contracts and marketings were below requirements of wet processors. Along with corn, rye stocks tightened, the visible supply in the U. S. declining to 5,000,000 bushels in mid-July compared to 19,000,000 a year ago.

Navy Fares Well

Stateside rationing to the contrary, there's enough food aboard a typical aircraft carrier in the Pacific to furnish personnel with a full ration three times a day for 90 days.

One hundred fifty-three items, ranging from 40,000 pounds of potatoes to 30 ounces of maple syrup flavoring, fill huge refrigerators.

RAIL RATES: Protest Revision

Declaring that the Interstate Commerce Commission's order increasing railroad class freight rates 10 per cent in the East and reducing them a like amount in the South and West was unsupported by evidence that previous tariffs were unequal and unlawful, 10 northeastern states petitioned the ICC to reconsider its action.

Applying only to so-called class rates on articles on which volume is not sufficient to command a commodity tariff, the new rates effective August 30 are designed to eliminate freight differences working to the advantage of the highly industrialized East. Only 10 per cent of all freight moves under class rates, however, and southern interests seeking parity declare that the ICC's action is but the first step in an equalization program.

While the 10 northeastern states fought the revision of class rates, five southwestern states declared it would result in "non-discriminatory, non-preferential and non-prejudicial" tariffs. The states requested minor alterations to the order.

REDEPLOYMENT: New Workers

In Berlin for the Big Three conference, Pres. Harry S. Truman called upon available civilian workers in the U. S. to fill 65,000 railroad jobs to help speed the redeployment of troops and material to the Pacific and assure an early end to the Japanese war.

Though the army has furloughed 4,000 experienced railroad men to relieve the crisis, they represent but a fraction of the carriers' needs, the President said. Most urgent need is for 12,000 skilled workers such as trainmen, electricians, carpenters and signalmen.

Meanwhile, the war manpower commission granted 17 western railroads top priority in the inter-regional recruitment of workers.

Frauleins Reserved

Despite the army's let-up against association with German civilians, G.I.s are not being stampeded by curvaceous frauleins. Children continue to cluster around friendly Yanks, however, and play up for a share of their rations. Having swept the madonnas off their feet in France and Belgium, the G.I.s have found the German belles less skittish. For one thing, return of many German soldiers has provided the more comely misses with escorts, while the open hostility of civilians toward women fraternizing with the Americans in certain sections also has tended to restrict relations.

Lifting of the ban against association with German civilians followed repeated complaints that it would never work in view of the American disposition for striking up friendships. The Russians had never enforced such a ban in their occupation zone, presumably to unseat the civilians on their fear of the Reds.

MEAT STORAGE: Supplies Up

Despite the fact that the 635,988,000 pounds of meat supplies in cold storage on July 1 were at the highest level since last September, civilians were not expected to benefit because a large percentage of the stocks are earmarked for the army.

Supplies of other foods were spotty, with butter holdings abnormally heavy and stocks of frozen and shell eggs up, while dried egg and poultry inventories were down. Beet registered the largest gain in meat supplies, standing at 261,373,000 pounds, with pork also showing an increase at 330,524,000 pounds. Lamb and mutton stocks were up to 17,903,000 pounds and lard 62,430,000 pounds.

As of the first of the month, public warehouse freezer occupancy stood at 73 per cent of capacity, with gains in canned fruits and vegetables, fish, cheese, shell eggs and sausage largely offset by a heavy outmovement of apples, pears, dried eggs and canned meat.

REPARATIONS: Allied Plan

German payment of reparations from available resources to avoid the rebuilding of the reich's economy to meet foreign claims, as was the case following World War I, was recommended by the Allied reparations committee sitting in Moscow.

Following the pattern of the U. S. plan, the commission's proposal calls for the distribution of potential German war-making equipment to claimant countries, and German production of reparations material from existing facilities. No funds would be advanced for reconstruction of transport or industry that could be integrated into a military economy.

In line with its plan, the commission also declared that claims against Germany should be taken from the country's existing wealth, such as stocks, foreign investments, machines and supplies.

Capitol Notebook

Recently named as federal loan chief, Banker John W. Snyder, 48, of St. Louis was named to succeed Fred M. Vinson as director of war mobilization and reconversion.

Former congressman, judge and director of economic stabilization, war mobilization and federal loan administration, Vinson in turn was nominated to fill the shoes of Henry Morgenthau as secretary of the treasury.

CABINET CHANGES LONG EXPECTED IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON. — Henry Morgenthau's side of his resignation story told how he had become irritated by constantly recurring rumors of his impending departure, that these were interfering with his work, so he went to President Truman and said he would not stay unless he received backing.

Mr. Truman offered to deny the rumors. Mr. Morgenthau thought the denial should promise his continuance in office "at least until Japan is defeated." The President seemed to feel this would commit him too far. Mr. Morgenthau wrote out his resignation, although he had not planned doing so.

The other side of the story implies that many of Mr. Truman's highest placed associates were worried about Mr. Morgenthau possibly succeeding to the presidency, a position for which he would be the first to concede his unfitness by temperament, experience or ability.

Little note was taken of the situation, but if anything had happened to Mr. Truman during the few days interval after he accepted the resignation of State Secretary Stettinius, and before he appointed James F. Byrnes to that first cabinet post, Morgenthau would have been President, as next in line.

Now Messrs. Truman and Byrnes are going to Berlin for the Big Three conference (but not together, as a precaution). Mr. Morgenthau was still clearly next in line—until his squeezed resignation placed him in a position where unquestionably he would have to decline the office.

This situation may not have worried Mr. Truman, but associates working in his interests no doubt were the authors of what Mr. Morgenthau thought to be "irritating rumors."

Around the top of this administration Mr. Morgenthau had been regarded as a man with good New York banking connections, but expendable. Now he will continue at the treasury until probably August 15 when his successor, Fred M. Vinson, will take over.

As a matter of full truth, Mr. Morgenthau was slated to go any way when his Bretton Woods plan cleared congress and the war loan drive wound up. There was no logical excuse for him to continue to delay fulfillment of the custom, permitting a President to choose his own cabinet without the slightest embarrassment.

Indeed, this column was able to lead off, in newspapers last May 24: "A complete cabinet shakedown is coming. State and treasury will surely be involved in addition to agriculture, justice and labor."

Both angles of that forecast now have been fulfilled. I am therefore inclined to believe both sides of the story, Mr. Morgenthau's and the untold one that Mr. Truman's friends, knowing well the personalities involved, nettled Mr. Morgenthau into making the break.

BYRNES APPOINTMENT TO ADD STRENGTH TO CABINET

Behind the two great publicized events of foreign affairs—the submission of the charter for the new world and the advent of James F. Byrnes as state secretary—the mills of history are grinding new and greater portents.

Mr. Byrnes is a canny dealer. Up to now our foreign policy methods have not been sensationally beautiful. Some doubt is evident in many quarters that we have learned how to deal evenly with the Russians.

It is thus as much in her interest as of any other nation. Otherwise our viewpoint has not won out too many times—not in the matter of Poland, Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania, Turkey, the Middle East, declaration of war on Japan, and so on down the problem list.

Now we are going to Berlin for the next conference. We have been unable to bring Stalin halfway in the geographical matter of meeting places or in any other consideration. Our dealing with the Soviet is clearly not yet on a successful plane.

Another way of putting it—and the Administration no doubt would put it this way—we have sacrificed everything else in diplomacy in order to get the charter. Now we have it, we must start making other matters add up better.

This is where Mr. Byrnes comes in. These are the considerations behind his appointment. Foreign affairs is the one subject his spectacular career has not closely touched. He is not, therefore, especially experienced—but he has seldom been traded down in any line.

Simultaneously, Mr. Truman, in an extemporaneous speech at Kansas City, projected a line for the charter far beyond its text, although no one seemed to notice it. He said the world is no longer county, state or national size, "but is one world, as Willie said."

Season for Winter Cover Crops Nears

Wider Use of Soil Improvements Sought

Winter cover crops are among the busiest workers on American farms. Beginning about September 1, they provide feed for livestock, hold the soil against erosion, aid land to absorb moisture, and when turned under in the spring, increase the soil's supply of essential elements.

Government reports show that the planting of cover crops is especially important in the east central and southern states. The south, within a single decade, increased its acreage under cover from a few hundred thousand to several million acres. There is still room for more cover crops, however.

Postwar farming profits, as well as production of food, fiber and oil crops essential to victory in the Pacific, depend to no small degree upon the added fertility, reduced erosion and increased production of cash crops derived from the use of a winter cover for the soil. That means more winter legumes such as Austrian winter pea, hairy vetch, smooth vetch, crimson clover, burclover and sour-clover, and more ryegrass, alfalfa, kudzu and lespedeza.

While rotations of crops depend upon climate, location and type of soil, once a farm has a well-planned cover crop program, the benefits will make themselves increasingly felt.

Nutrition Knowledge Cuts Loss of Calves

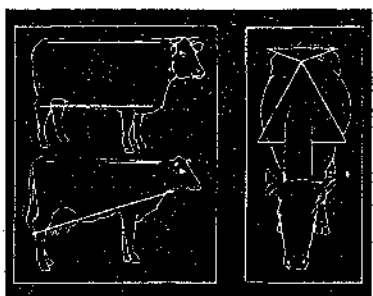

Farmers would lose fewer calves if they had a better understanding of a few simple principles of calf nutrition, according to a report of the American Veterinary Medical association.

In the field of minerals, salt, iodine, calcium and phosphorus are the ones to be watched most carefully. Salt and iodine deficiencies can be prevented by including 1 per cent of iodized salt in the grain mixture, and offering iodized salt free-choice. Calcium and phosphorus deficiencies can be avoided by including 1 per cent of calcium and phosphorus supplements in the grain mixture. If whole or skim milk is fed at the rate of 12 pounds per day, no calcium or phosphorus is needed.

Selected for Type

While it is essential that the characteristics of the breed be understood, the temperament, capacity, mammary system, health, breed record as well as market demands, must play an important part in selection of beef or dairy cattle. Generally the dairy cow will have a good type if she is much wider in the hooks or pinbones and narrow down to a sharp, fine point at the withers or top of her shoulders.

Produce Quality Hay

Tests conducted at the Wyoming experiment station indicates that the maximum yield of digestible nutrients of hay is dependent upon the stage at which hay is cut. Alfalfa should be cut when one-tenth in bloom. Timothy and grass hays should be cut when the plant is in full bloom. Leaves or grass or alfalfa hay carry the heaviest portion of nutrients so every attempt should be made to harvest hay when it will retain the leaves.

Gave Name to Law

Burke lived in the day of Sir Robert Peel, who gave both his names to the cause of law and order. As secretary for Ireland from 1812 to 1818, Sir Robert established the Irish police, who became known as peelers. As home secretary from 1828 to 1830, he reorganized the London police, who thereafter were known as bobbies.

Old Custom

War heroes have been decorated with medals of honor ever since biblical times. The Jewish general Jonathan, for example, was awarded a gold button for military bravery in the Third century B. C.

Letters Reveal Killings of Americans by Japanese Before Yanks Came.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Letters reaching the United States from the Philippines tell of a wave of wanton killings of Americans by the Japanese in Manila in which two prominent business executives, a leading woman social worker and many others were executed during the week just prior to the arrival of American liberation forces, says the Associated Press.

Among those who were said to have met untimely death because they sought to aid fellow-Americans and keep them from starving were:

Carroll C. Grinnell of Albany, Far Eastern representative of International General Electric.

A. F. Dugleby of Colorado and California, vice president and general manager of the Benquet and Balatoc Gold Mining companies.

Mrs. Blanche Jurika, the former Blanche Walker of Los Angeles.

California Executed.

The reports said among those executed with Grinnell and Dugleby was Clifford Larsen of Los Angeles, assistant sales manager of the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific company of Manila, a construction concern.

Mr. Grinnell was head of the Internec Executive committee at the Santo Tomas camp in Manila for more than a year. Mr. Dugleby was one of the chiefs of supply and finance in the camp food organization. Mrs. Jurika was widely known as a social worker, author and radio commentator.

A letter just received from Professor V. V. Clark, a mining engineer well-known in the west and South America, said Mr. Grinnell, Mr. Dugleby and a dozen other American internees were taken from the Santo Tomas camp, led to a vacant lot, and shot into a common grave. Later the bodies were recovered by American soldiers.

Other Americans Vanish.

Mr. Clark, who passed more than three years in the camp, wrote, "They were real men of the highest type and their end was so unjust." He added that the other bodies recovered from the trench-grave "may clear up the disappearance of other Americans lately."

Other letters said Mr. Grinnell, Mr. Dugleby and Mrs. Jurika "died as heroes, trying to aid their suffering fellowmen."

Mrs. Jurika, held as a special political prisoner, was executed by the Japanese just two days before American soldiers raided the place where she was confined.

Another ruthless execution by the Japanese was that of George Louis, 27 years old, of San Jose, Calif., a Pan American Airways employee. He slipped out of the Los Banos camp one night in search of food. A Japanese sentry shot and wounded him. He was executed the next morning by order of the camp commandant.

Old Battleship Oregon Rusting at Pacific Base

GUAM.—The glamour ship of the Spanish-American war, the old battleship Oregon, came out to the western Pacific to die in this modern new war. But she is still afloat. Navy men who had planned to sink her to help build a breakwater concede now she wouldn't even make good breakwater material. Crewless and denuded, the Oregon lies at anchor in a little inlet blasted through coral reefs at an island base.

In the Spanish-American war in 1898 the Oregon made history when she steamed from the West coast around South America to Cuba just in time to join in the victory over the Spanish fleet at Santiago.

When towed out to the western Pacific to be sunk, the Oregon was loaded with 1,400 tons of dynamite—since unloaded—and a false rumor spread like wildfire that she was going to be towed right into Tokyo and blown up.

Guns Built for Firing Captured Rockets at Japs

MANILA, P. I.—Japanese troops on the Shimbun front were shelled by their own rockets recently but it took the ingenious efforts of Capt. W. E. Winterstein of Fillmore, Calif., to make it possible.

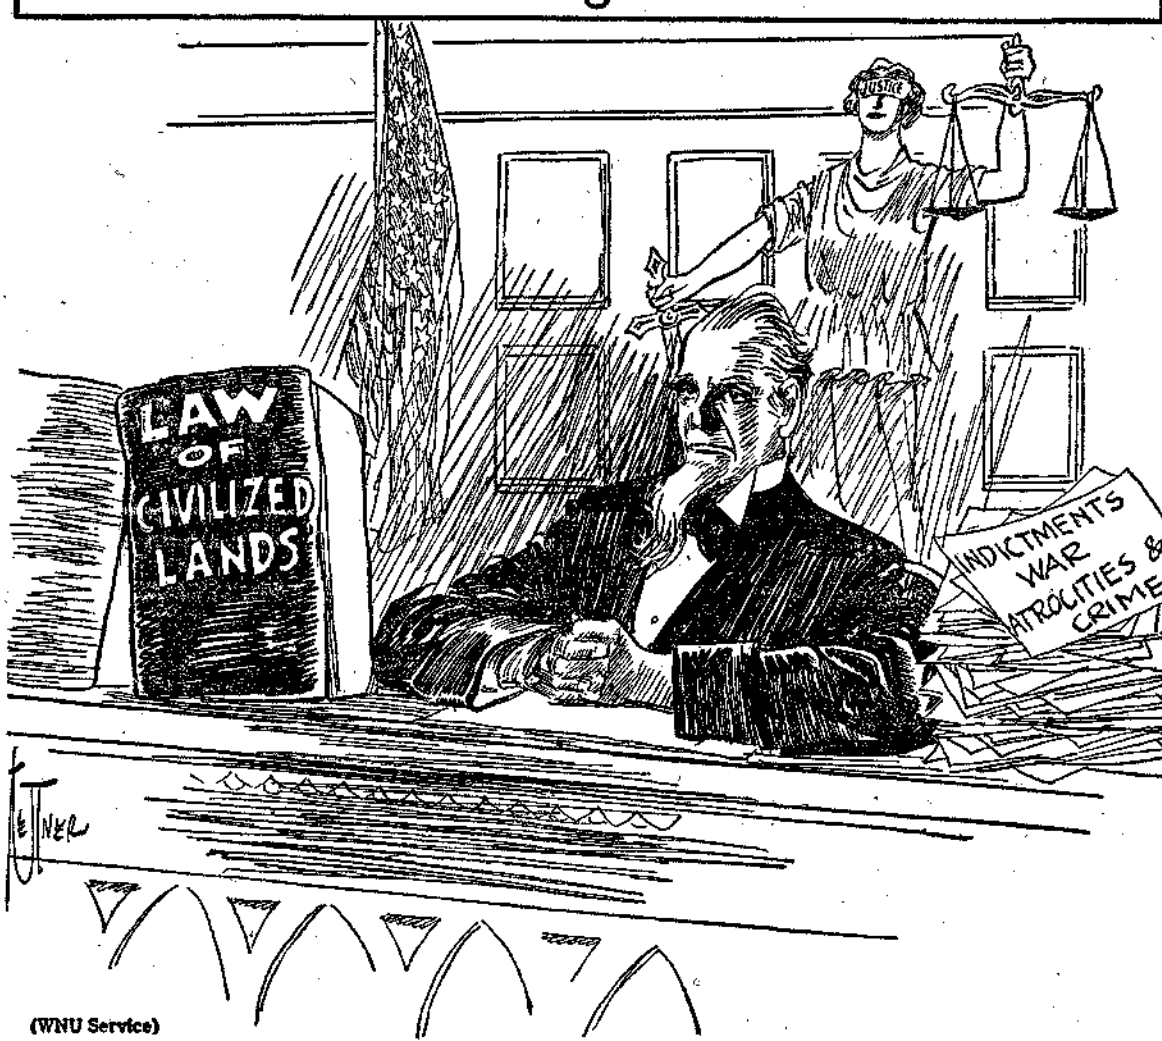

During the last few days, the first cavalry and Sixth divisions captured many thousands of rounds of big caliber Japanese rocket ammunition. But they didn't find any usable Japanese rocket guns, so Winterstein built one and fired Japanese rockets at the enemy.

The Nipponese used rockets, ranging in size up to 18 inches, more extensively on Luzon than any previous campaign in the southwest Pacific.

'Hello, Goldbricks' Cheers Up Wounded

ARMY HOSPITAL, SOMEWHERE IN THE MARIANAS.—Maj. Floyd A. Thompson of St. Paul, Minn., has a warful of patients whose limbs are wired in odd positions to the ceiling or cast in plaster. Some of the boys feel pretty low, but Thompson never fails to make them grin each morning with his daily salutation: "Hello, Goldbricks."

NAVY REGULATIONS
REGARDING ACCEPTANCE OF PAPER SUBSCRIPTIONS

All orders for individual newspaper subscriptions addressed to Navy, Coast Guard and Marine Corps personnel overseas (that is, bearing FPO addresses c/o San Francisco or New York) must be accompanied by a written request from the addressee no matter who pays for the subscription. This Navy rule applies to both new and renewal subscriptions.

This regulation has been in effect for some time in the case of orders for Army personnel overseas, with the exception that no request was required for renewals. This Army rule has not been changed. No request is required for subscriptions addressed to military or naval personnel stationed in the United States.

Neighborhood Appearance
When you plan a color scheme for the outside of your home, it may be well to take into consideration the houses on each side of your own property, suggests American Painter and Decorator. It is recommended that a color scheme be selected that will harmonize with that of the neighboring houses. The purpose is to improve the appearance of the neighborhood as a whole and be more pleasing to all the residents on the street, including the owner of the newly painted property.

Less Milk
A number of experiments have shown that when cows are fed only roughage, including good pasture in summer, they will produce only about 70 per cent as much milk as they will when fed the recommended amount of concentrates.

Black Marks
Black marks on waxed floors can be removed. Just rub the places with a cloth moistened in a cleaning fluid like carbon tetrachloride or turpentine. Rub until all the spot has disappeared, and then apply a fresh coating of wax. Liquid wax has also been found effective in removing these spots. The important thing is to remove the spots at least once a week, because the longer they stay on the floor, the harder they are to take off.

Dirndl-and-Blouse
Delights Teeners

Mode This Summer Leans
Toward Ballerina Look.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Fancy can picture no lovelier fashion for young girls than the picturesque dirndl-and-blouse peasant costume which teen-agers take such delight in wearing. These adorable costumes are triumphing anew this season and they seem to get prettier and prettier right along.

There is a decidedly festive air about the summer 1945 modes. The latest gesture is to achieve a ballerina look. Even one's hairdo is drawn up into a toponotch of curls and enwreathed in circlets of flowers. To complete the picture, fashion-wise girls are wearing cunning little ballet slippers with these charming summer costumes.

The very simplicity of these skirt-and-blouse charmers is their glory. The beauty of it is that they are not all of the extravagant sort. Girls who have a flair for "making their own" are buying up remnants of flowery permanently glazed chintz, or a gay flowery print, or even a length of quaint calico or white or ecru satin, which they often hand-paint with flowers or novel motifs. All they have to do is to seam the edges together, gather the fullness about the waist into a belt and presto! as pretty a dirndl as ever one might hope to see is the answer.

Of course if you want to go into the subject deeper, you can find such types as the dirndl skirt with a flounce at its hemline, and one cunning little model available has a bustle-back skirt with row-upon-row of tiny ruffles flaring out from the waistline at the back.

Another smart type shown in the season's display is the peasant-embroidered dirndl with matching blouse. The skirt has an embroidered band just above the hemline and the neckline and sleeves of the blouse are trimmed in the bright embroidered bands.

The youthful little blouses worn with these skirts are a young girl's dream come true. Enchanting low-cut drawstring necklines, sprightly little sleeves that puff out jauntily from the shoulder, made of the sheerest of sheer white fabrics, and trimmed too eye - thrillingly for words with gay-colored jumbo ric rac or ribbon threaded lingerie beading this in a measure describes these blouses "lovelies" but it doesn't do the theme justice. Top all this with a picturesque up-do hairdress with the new halo flower arrangement that encircles a cluster of curls and you have a "picture" of fashion's favorite 1945 summer girl.

Smart Gingham

Once upon a time gingham was just gingham, an admirable wash fabric for school, play and general utility wear. Today gingham has risen to dizzy heights of style prestige. Accounted among de luxe cottons, it glories in eye-thrilling colors and is styled to go places with utmost aplomb. The smart urban cotton dress pictured is made of a stunning black and pink gingham, enhanced with pink leather trimming accents. The divided peplum pockets and surplice neckline register smart style details.

Style Notes

Colors are used in duos and trios for sportswear.
Frocks of embroidered white shantung are lovely.

Stunning are town suits smartly tailored of gingham.

There's lots of satin in sight for fall.

Polka dots continue to flourish in the mode.
Advance fashion displays record a renewed interest in beadwork and glitter accent.

The shoe favorite of the day for dressy wear is the strap sandal with high heel, in black suede or patent leather.

Memorial Day
May 30 should be known as "Memorial day" and not "Decoration day." This was recommended by the Grand Army of the Republic in 1912. "Confederate Memorial Day" is the designation given to May 30 by Virginia and the same name is used by Louisiana and Tennessee for June 3; Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi for April 26; and North Carolina with South Carolina for May 10.

Milk produced by cows on the first day after freshening contains four times as much vitamin A as average winter milk produced by a dairy herd. The colostrum also contains more minerals and more protein than normal milk.

Oak Bluff Breezes

Summer days are passing swiftly and July will soon be over. One of the surest confirmations of this is the appearance this week of the first batch of the house wrens, which we always have in abundance. The wren is a very interesting and energetic bird. They build substantial nests and raise two broods a year, at least four to each hatch, sometimes six or eight. They give the chicks good care, feed them well and watch them carefully until they are able to fend for themselves. It is rather amusing to watch the old birds with their young brood, teaching them all the things necessary for their battle of existence. The wren is a cute little thing but a notorious fusser. It begins its day at the crack of dawn, choosing a perch just outside the bedroom window for the purpose and doesn't stop for breath while daylight lasts. Aside from early morning annoyance its cheerful song throughout the day is not matched by any other of our northern birds. The old adage about the busy bee and the energetic ant might well be supplemented by one about the restless wren, one of the most persistent workers that ever spread a wing.

House guests and an unusual number of old regulars back on vacation have tended to bring on a number of social events this week in rapid succession. Tuesday, Mrs. J. E. Wurm and Mrs. G. H. Burke were guests of Mrs. Fred Kinde at the regular ladies' day luncheon and bridge at Verona Hills Club house. Wednesday noon, Mrs. E. R. Wilson entertained for her sister, Mrs. Howlett, of Mason, at a bridge luncheon. Prizes were won by Mrs. Geo. Ketchum and Mrs. H. H. Madigan. The Colonial Inn has been the scene of three pretty luncheons the past week. Thursday, Mrs. Burke entertained for Mrs. Howlett and Miss Mae Gault of Bay City, house guests of Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Wurm. On Friday, Mrs. Wurm also took her guests to the inn and returned to her cottage for bridge. Mrs. G. H. Burke and Mrs. Karl Ketchum winning high scores. Sunday evening, the Ketchums gave their annual open house and all agreed the Ketchum tradition was more than maintained. The whole group enjoyed the games including the youngsters. Mr. Burke and Miss Thelma Allen of North Shore won the prizes. We are all hoping that nothing prevents the Ketchums from having their usual annual vacations here in the coming years as was their custom before the days of gasoline rationing which have prevented Mr. Ketchum's commuting to and from his work in Detroit with the Copeland Engineering Co. On Monday, Mrs. H. H. Madigan gave a luncheon for eight at the Colonial Inn. The Madigans have spent the month of July here and plan to take next year's vacation at Oak Bluff. Mrs. Madigan's father, the late W. D. Schooley, was one of the charter members of the association, so it is like coming back home for Mrs. Madigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smith of Saginaw were Saturday guests of the Madigans. Mr. Smith is traveling representative for the Michigan Central Railroad in Central Michigan.

Wm. Spittler of Marlette was a visitor at the Stormzand cottage last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Walton of Vassar are at their cottage for a two weeks' vacation and have as guests Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gochanuer and family of Ferndale.

Miss Jennette Tibbetts of Royal Oak and Miss Mildred Augustus of Trenton are occupying the Merion cottage for two weeks. Both are instructors in their respective schools.

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Harrison of Bad Axe and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harrison of Carson City were Sunday evening callers of Mrs. J. E. Wurm.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. McLellan of Cass City were Friday night guests of the James Andersons and also returned from a few hours' call on Sunday.

G. H. Burke is in Marlette this week operating the Robinson drug store while the Robinsons are on a trip to the northern part of the state.

Miss Lura DeWitt and Mrs. J. D. Brooker were visitors here last Tuesday afternoon.

RESCUE

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quinn spent Sunday at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Creguer, near Filion. Theodore Ashmore spent Saturday and Sunday in Cass City.

There will be no services at the Grant church Sunday as the pastor, Rev. Ellis Hart, and family are enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

Frederick Ellis and son, Sgt. Edwin Ellis, of the Army, and Dossan Ellis of Port Huron were Sunday visitors at the home of their brother, Wilber Ellis, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crouch and sons of Bad Axe were supper guests at the Arthur Taylor home Sunday. Their daughter, Mary Ann, who had visited there the past two weeks, accompanied them home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Loos and daughter, Audrey, returned to their home in Port Huron last Tuesday evening accompanied by their niece, Miss Wenola Helwig, who will visit there until today. Mrs. Loos and daughter spent the last month with relatives here.

Pvt. Lawrence Summers came Tuesday evening to visit his wife and son and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ostrum Summers, and other relatives for a 36-day furlough. He recently returned to the United States from Germany where he went last fall. He was inducted

"The electric life is the only life!"

"I've been a dealer in electric appliances for fifteen years, with a close view of the amazing progress made toward providing the 'electric life.' I don't believe many people fully realize yet that the 'electric life' is practical right now! They aren't familiar with the variety of labor-saving devices that appliance manufacturers have developed ... have proved in use ... and will again make available at reasonable prices. Quite a while ago only those with better incomes could afford to use electric appliances. Today there are few people who can afford not to use electric appliances, because of the savings in time, labor and drudgery that they provide. I'm now telling my customers about all the modern appliances for modern living—automatic washers, ironers, garbage disposal units, ranges, dishwashers, water heaters, television, home freezers, automatic blankets, air conditioners and so on. I'm asking my customers to review their ways of doing things ... to recognize the old-fashioned ways they cling to ... to find out the cost of doing things the modern way. I believe that in almost every case they'll decide that the old-fashioned way is the wasteful way. They'll all be turning on the electric life when appliances are again available."

PRETTY SUMMER WEDDING IN BAPTIST CHURCH

with skirt of net, sweeping train, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves, and back buttoned to the waist.

Her finger tip veil of fine net fell from a crown fashioned of net and covered with seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley centered with a gardenia and tied with white.

A heart shaped locket was her only piece of jewelry.

The maid of honor was Miss Rosella Rhodes of Pontiac, a sister of the groom. She wore a floor-length dress of pink taffeta and carried an arm bouquet of yellow talismans roses, centered with a gardenia and tied with pink. Pink flowers were arranged in her hair.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Voneta Linton, of Flint, was dressed in blue taffeta and wore blue flowers in her hair. Her arm bouquet was fashioned of American Beauty roses centered with a gardenia and tied with blue.

Little Euleta Endersbee of Bad Axe, as flower girl, carried a bouquet of sweet peas and, in the wedding procession, walked with Norman Lee Rhodes, nephew of the groom, who carried the ring on a white satin heart-shaped pillow.

Milton Rhodes of Unionville, brother of the groom, and Orland Gingrich of Cass City, brother of the bride, attended the groom.

Mrs. Gingrich chose printed gray jersey for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Rhodes was dressed in lavender. Both mothers had corsages of pink rosebuds and sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, the guests attended a reception in the home of the bride's parents. Ice cream and cake were served from a table centered with a floral piece made of American Beauty roses and white daisies. The white bride's cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom.

Guests were present from Detroit, Pontiac, Flint, Saginaw, Harrison, Vassar, Bad Axe, Caro, Akron and Unionville.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes will make their home on a farm near Colwood.

For the past three years, Mrs. Rhodes has been employed at the Severance Tool Co. in Saginaw.

Reduce Size of Cobs By Increasing Grain

Proper Fertilization Produces Better Corn

How corn growers can avoid "shortchanging" themselves on grain yields by reducing the amount of cobs per bushel through soil improvement practices was described by H. J. Snider of the Illinois college of agriculture.

Professor Snider cited tests at the college's experimental field near Ewing, Ill., to show that the proportion of grain to cobs is increased when corn is grown on fertilized land. Since cobs have little or no feed value and are so low in plant nutrients that they have virtually no use in manure, the advantages of soil improvement are obvious.

At the Ewing field, U. S. Hybrid No. 13 was grown on land treated with limestone, phosphorus and potash and in which nitrogen-fixing legumes had been plowed under. Snider reported. The same hybrid was planted on untreated land and at harvest the results were compared. The corn grown on fertilized land contained 10.5 pounds of cobs per bushel of ear corn weighing 70 pounds. The hybrid grown on untreated land contained 14 pounds per bushel.

"This means that each 100 bushels of corn grown on unfertilized land contained 350 pounds more cobs than 100 bushels of the same hybrid grown on treated land," Snider said.

"On this basis, a farmer who does not treat, shortchanges himself by 5 bushels of grain in each 100 bushels of corn produced. Moreover, when he buys ear corn grown on this type of land, he is subject to the same shortchanging process. The extra poundage of cobs must be handled out of the field into and out of the crib and into the feeders."

Muddled Oratory

As governor of New York, Al Smith once addressed the inmates of Sing Sing prison. Forgetting the nature of his audience, he began in his usual fashion: "Fellow Citizens—"

A gust of giggles ran through the hall. The governor blushed, cleared his throat and tried again: "Fellow Convicts—"

This time the laughter was frankly loud. "Oh," he stammered, "I mean I'm glad to see so many of you here!"

Bringing In the Golden Harvest

Golden harvest! American farmers during the war have proven that under trying conditions—lack of labor, gasoline and machinery shortages—they can still produce more food than ever before.

They are harvesting crops not only to feed our fighting forces, our Allies and our civilian population, but, as never before, a large volume of the crops to be used for industrial purposes.

DEFORD DIARY

Farmers' Club—

The club was entertained at the Warren Kelley home on Friday evening. About 60 were present and enjoyed a fine supper together on the lawn. All enjoyed the program hour which consisted of readings by Mrs. Wm. D'Arcy of Kingston and Arlene Retherford; solo, Mrs. Leola Retherford; music, Rev. Mr. Watkins, melody horn; mandolin and guitar selection, Bill and Harley Kelley. Two moving picture films shown occasioned considerable mirth.

S. S. Picnic—

About 55 attended the picnic on Monday at Caseville and enjoyed a very pleasant day. All of the kiddies and most of the adults took to the water like ducks most of the afternoon. Transportation was made by a large bus engaged from Cass City for those who preferred not to drive.

A number of young people enjoyed a hayride and wiener roast given by Joe Sefton last Thursday evening.

Morris Kelley has received his final discharge from the sea-bees, Morris, who served two years in the Pacific area, arrived in Detroit Monday night and came directly to Deford with Mrs. Kelley, and were in time to be recognized by Mrs. VanBlaricom before she passed away.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Smith of Kalamazoo came on Wednesday to spend a few days at the Howard Retherford home. Mrs. Smith is their daughter.

Mrs. Grace Kelley has been very ill with heart ailment and was at Pleasant Home hospital Sunday night to Tuesday morning. At present she is some better.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Groth of Pontiac spent the week end with the former's mother and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wells Spencer.

Planting Iris

If iris is planted in a well-drained, sunny position and the old leaves are removed from the base of the plants regularly, there should be neither insect nor disease problems. This is particularly true if the rhizomes are planted very shallow, with approximately half of the rhizome actually above ground and exposed to the sun.

Political Action

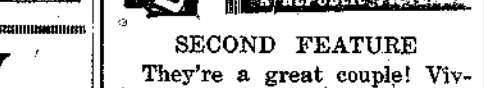

The verb gerrymander, meaning to manipulate in order to gain unfair advantage, resulted from the rearrangement of a district of northeastern Massachusetts in 1812, which was protested as a purely political action. Although Gov. Elbridge Gerry had no part in the change, the word resulted from his surname and the salamanderlike shape of the rearranged area.
