Salvage Groups Are Urged to Stay on the Job

Paper Salvage Must Be Continued as Well as the Fats and Oils

Declaring there was immediate and grave danger of the collapse of the nation-wide salvage program before its magnificent job was fully completed, J. A. Krug, chairman of the War Production board, emphasized today that the 21,000 volunteer salvage committees throughout the land should "stay on the job lest the reconversion program be impaired."

Paper salvage must continue, Mr. Krug declared. Fats and oils likewise must be conserved as much as before. The same applies to tin cans. All of these materials are short and will continue to be short for some time. The salvaging of all of them is of importance to orderly reconversion. Otherwise, Mr. Krug warned, the country may experience "a serious problem as the aftermath of the war."

Mr. Krug pointed out that although the shooting phase of the war is over, a war of supplies is being waged and so long as there are bottlenecks to reconversion owing to shortages of such raw materials as paper, fats and oils, and tin, not only the volunteer salvage committees but every man, woman and child in the country must continue to cooperate.

Obviously, Mr. Krug declared, "the war is not over for a soldier until he comes home and has a job. We must make the jobs by supplying the raw materials."

fighting in the European war theater. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of white pearls and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli and glamelias.

Mrs. Harlow Haley was her sister. Continued on page 8.

Field Investigator Speaks of Duties

Millard Knuckles, one of the 42 field investigators of the Michigan State Liquor Control commission, was the speaker at the Rotary club luncheon at the Home restaurant Tuesday. He said there were 16,458 licensees in the state and the investigator endeavors to teach the dealer how to conduct his business to comply with the state laws. The biggest problem is the serving of liquor to minors and dance places connected with beer establishments are also a source of many complaints.

The state commission endeavors to work hand in hand with county sheriffs and other law enforcing officers. Complaints on the part of officers of a municipality will result in closing a liquor dispensary if municipal bodies desire such action. Moonshining appears to be on the increase, he said.

Mr. Knuckles was introduced by Herman Doerr, program chairman. Fred Smiley of Drayton Plains was a luncheon guest. M. B. Auten was song leader with Roger Parrish at the piano.

The 1946 reunion will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Walker near Cass City on the first Sunday in September.

126 Signed Register at Striffler-Benkelman Reunion Labor Day

One hundred twenty-six signed the register at the tenth annual reunion of the Striffler and Benkelman families held on Labor day in the woodland grove on Mrs. G. A. Striffler's farm two miles northeast of Cass City. The day's festivities started shortly after noon when a potluck dinner was served. Preceding the meal, the group stood with bowed heads in silent prayer in gratefulness for the war's end and then Edward Helwig said grace.

Maurice Joos led the company in group singing with Mrs. Joos playing organ accompaniments at the opening of the afternoon's program. Joyce and Jessie Fry and Doris Southworth sang two trio numbers, Charles Kercher, Jr., played flute numbers, and a male chorus of nine members sang three numbers. Edgar Braun of Detroit conducted a memorial service for three members of the families who had passed away during the year: Ruth Elizabeth Vallier at the age of eight months; Miss Emma Lenzner, 81 years; and G. A. Striffler, 81 years. Representatives of the three families were presented with baskets of flowers.

Gifts were presented to John Benkelman, 89, the oldest man present; Mrs. Sophia Striffler, 85, the oldest woman; Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Krapf, wedded 55 years ago, as the couple married the longest period; and David Alan Thomas, 11 months, the youngest in attendance.

Edw. Gardiner of Plymouth presided at the business session and Mrs. Edgar Braun, the secretary, read the minutes of the 1944 gathering. Officers elected for the 1945 reunion on Labor day are: Mrs. G. F. Lenzner, Bad Axe, president; Mrs. Doris Benkelman, Cass City, vice president; and Mrs. Geo. Southworth, Elkton, secretary-treasurer.

"The Striffler-Benkelman Broadcast," the "official annual newspaper" of the reunion was distributed Monday, giving items of interest regarding the several members of the families in the reunion society.

Postwar Inflation a Definite Threat, Says M. S. C. Specialist

Farm people have an enormous stake in successful control of inflation, stresses Lauren H. Brown, research specialist in farm management at Michigan State college.

The danger, he points out, is of a runaway price situation during the early postwar period which would spell disaster for many farmers and their families, as well as salaried workers. Tremendous purchasing power is in the hands of consumers in face of reconversion-unemployment. This, Mr. Brown believes, could easily turn into inflation as the production of civilian goods gets underway. The combined efforts of every citizen will be needed to head off this great threat, in his opinion.

"It is very important for everyone to remember that any decided rise in prices and wage rates during this period would add greatly to farm costs as well as farm prices," Mr. Brown says. "Many farmers naturally find good reasons why prices on their products should be permitted to go up. But when demands taper off, shortages of farm products are likely to be replaced by surpluses. If prices are allowed to get out of hand now, farm prices then may nose-dive while many items of farm expenses stay up."

"The days of agricultural depression and the talk of farm relief are still fresh in our minds. Much of the difficulty of the 1920's and 30's arose out of the inflation of the last war period. Farmers surely do not want to repeat that experience."

Troth Is Announced

Interesting to their Cass City friends is the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Champion of the engagement of Miss Laubelle Heron, Mrs. Champion's daughter, and Pvt. James Rye Champion, Mr. Champion's son. No date has been set for the ceremony because of Pvt. Champion's military service.

The bride-elect is at present a Cadet Nurse at Saginaw General hospital and is currently taking some special work at Children's hospital, Detroit.

Hero Was Awarded Bronze Star for Action Against foe

Pfc. Valentine J. Temrowski was recently awarded the Bronze Star for heroic action against the enemy by Maj. Gen. Willard G. Wyman, commanding general of the 71st Infantry division.

The commendation for Pfc. Temrowski, son of Dr. and Mrs. Leo A. Temrowski, 6948 Ritchie Rd., Gagetown, said: "For gallantry in action against the enemy in Zips, Germany, when Pvt. Temrowski volunteered, after a long day of marching and combat against the enemy, to join a reconnaissance patrol to advance to Troshenreuth, Germany, and attempt to gain pertinent information of the enemy, also if possible, to capture any prisoners who might be used to reveal additional information by interrogation. The patrol advanced through enemy territory to the city, and returned with captured enemy machine guns and an enemy prisoner who divulged important information concerning the enemy's strength and position. As a result of Pvt. Temrowski's heroic action, large numbers of the enemy were captured."

Serving in the army since September, 1943, he went overseas in January of this year, and is currently assigned to 14th Infantry Regiment of the 71st Division in Europe. He attended Grosse Pointe high school before entering the army.

ENROLL FOR SPECIAL COURSES IN NEW YORK

Auten, have enrolled in the Special College course at the Katharine Gibbs school in New York City and will start their training in September. Both were graduated from Cass City high school and Western college in Oxford, Ohio.

It's Time for Christmas Shopping—How And When to Mail Overseas Gifts

Millions of Christmas gifts will go to our armed forces. It will be especially difficult to deliver these gifts safely and on time, the Army and Navy point out, unless families of service men and women cooperate in starting them off right. The following rules are therefore suggested for mailing Christmas packages abroad:

1. If your soldier is en route home or about to come home, don't send him a Christmas package.
2. Use his latest address and be sure it's complete and accurate; name, rank, serial number, organization and unit, APO, in care of postmaster at port of embarkation. Address it, then check it.
3. Mail Christmas gifts overseas from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. In the Army this is the only time you can mail a parcel overseas without a written request from your soldier. But . . .
4. If there's reason to believe he may move to a new location, it's safer to wait till you can mail your gift to the new address, even if this means asking him for a letter requesting your gift so that you can mail it after Oct. 15.

5. Use a heavy box and strong cord. (Government-approved overseas boxes can be bought at retail stores).

6. Send only usable gifts like tinned dried fruit, canned luxury foods, razor blades, fountain pens, wallets, watches, etc.

7. Don't mail perishable goods, intoxicants, weapons, poisons and all inflammable materials, including matches and lighter fluids.

8. Your package must not weigh over five pounds. It must not be more than 15 inches in length and girth combined.

Navy gifts should be sent during the same period, from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. However, gifts destined for Navy, Marine or Coast Guard personnel may be sent throughout the year without a written request.

Mail Christmas cards any time, but seal them and put on first class postage. Greeting cards with pictures of glass, metal, mica, sand, tinsel or similar material which is likely to rub off must be inclosed in sealed envelopes with postage prepaid at first class.

Cass City Scouts Led the Camp in Advancements

Earned 19 New Scout Ranks, or 12% of the Total of All Troops

For the second season in succession Troop 194 of Cass City had the largest camp attendance of any troop in the five counties of the Valley Trails Council, a report prepared by the scoutmaster for the troop's first meeting Wednesday night shows. The local troop, whose attendance during the summer was planned by Assistant Scoutmaster Edward Baker and Troop Committee Chairman Ray W. Fleenor, had 46 boy-weeks (one boy one week) of camp enrollment. The next in line were Troop 101 of Alma with 29; Troops 8 of Saginaw and 109 of St. Louis with 26 each, and Troop 38 of Saginaw with 24.

Scouts of the Cass City troop also led the council in advancement in scout rank. Though their attendance, counting also Scouts Robt. Foy and James Wallace, who served nine weeks on the camp staff, was less than seven per cent of the total for the season, they earned 19 new scout ranks, or 12 per cent of the total from all troops, and 99 merit badges which was 17 per cent of the complete list.

Best individual advancement record was made by Scout James Baker, who earned 15 merit badges and Star rank during the summer. He was closely followed by Gerald Prieskorn, who earned six first class requirements, and by Gerald Fritz, who earned 13 merit badges and Life rank.

Other members whose advancement was outstanding were Lawrence McCloy, James Foy, Hugh Bogart, Wm. Burrows, Donald Loomis and James Wilson, the last three from Gagetown.

Many others of the 38 different boys who spent one or more weeks at Camp Rotary made commendable progress, and all but two passed at least one requirement toward a higher rank.

45 Footballers Turn Out for the First Practice Here

The first day of football practice produced many unpleasant surprises for Coach Jack London, the Cass City high school mentor. He discovered that aside from losing a regular end, tackle and half-back through graduation, the regular left guard, right tackle and full back spots are also vacated, due to the call of Uncle Sam. Carl Giroux, Harry Wright and Frank Kloc fulfilled the respective vacant spots.

Approximately 45 boys turned out for the first practice session. Of this group, the following experienced players are making bids for the empty positions: Ends—Al MacPhail, Joe Jones, and Lorne Hillacker. Tackles—Clare Kenney, John Hewitt and Carl Buehly. Guards—Geo. MacArthur, Frank Lis and Willard Thane. Backs—Bill Weatherhead, Bob Atkins, Bill Little, Bill Sangster, Roy Frederick, and Keith Willerton.

Veterans returning to make up the nucleus of Coach London's Redhawk squad are: Backs—Grant Strickland and Ken Weatherhead; Bob Foy at center; Carl Dewey at end, and Merle Hoag at guard.

Harold Parker, local teacher and former assistant coach, has been added to the coaching staff to assist Jack London for the coming year.

Lorentzens Honored By Juhl Community

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lorentzen of the Juhl community sponsored a dancing party and reception Saturday evening, Sept. 1, held in the community hall in honor of the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lorentzen. The room was decorated with silver bells and streamers and about 100 friends and relatives were present.

Before the supper was served, a march was led by Rev. Mr. Sorensen, pastor of the Juhl Danish church, followed by the guests of honor and relatives. About 40 of the party were seated together at a table which was centered with a lovely wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Ted Laursen of Juhl was master of ceremonies for the short program. Mr. and Mrs. Lorentzen were pre-

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Old Glory Flies Over Japan; Seek Replacements for Army; Europe Asks Reconstruction Aid

Released by Western Newspaper Union. (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

While army trucks loaded with tons of powdered milk, flour and potatoes stream into hungry Berlin, German women express joy at being able to obtain white bread for first time since the end of the war in former bomb-shattered Reich capital.

JAPAN: U. S. Lands

Spruced up in full dress uniforms with clanking samurai swords and beribboned blouses, Japanese generals were on hand to greet the first contingent of American airborne troops descending on Atsugi airfield southwest of Tokyo to prepare the ground for the mass landings headed by Supreme Commander MacArthur.

Almost simultaneously, Admiral Halsey's mighty 3rd fleet sailed into Tokyo bay, with the 45,000-ton superbattleship Missouri leading the parade and closely followed by the U. S. dreadnaughts Iowa and South Dakota and the British flag ship Duke of York.

Preparatory to the general occupation of the defeated nation and the formal signing of surrender terms aboard the Missouri in Tokyo bay, the preliminary operations ran so smoothly that an American naval commander described the event in picturesque U. S. language. Said he: "No runs, no hits, no errors."

Despite evidences of Japanese good faith, General MacArthur's forces took no chances in carrying out the initial operations. While Halsey ploughed into Tokyo bay, scores of aircraft hovered overhead and all hands were in battle dress. Though white flags fluttered from dismantled 116-caliber coastal guns guarding the entrance into Tokyo bay, U. S. forces were put ashore to check on the disarmament.

Surrender ceremonies aboard the Missouri promised to be packed with drama, with Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, rescued three years after giving up at Corregidor during the early enemy sweep in 1942, attending to witness the capitulation of the once cocky imperial staff. While MacArthur was to accept the surrender for the Allies as a whole, Admiral Nimitz was to counter-sign for the U. S.

Though coming in as conquerors, U. S. occupation forces will be used in a supervisory rather than executive capacity, with General MacArthur's orders transmitted from the emperor down through the national and local governments.

At all times, the U. S. military organization will be on the watch to prevent the subversion of MacArthur's dictates, while also exerting control to avert the reascendence of the Japanese army clique to its former position of power. Along with public services and utilities, banks, schools, newspapers and radio stations may be permitted to operate, with all channels of communication under the strict eye of censorship.

Under terms of the occupation, Japan will be responsible for supplying the U. S. forces food and housing. Though the country's agricultural regions were reported virtually untouched by the war, many of the important industrial centers have been gutted by Allied bombs, and the government has undertaken to speed up reconstruction to restore essential services.

DEMOBILIZATION: Replacements Sought

In the face of reports that the army planned to retain 2,500,000 men for occupation, garrison and regular duties, Pres. Harry S. Truman called upon congress to extend the draft of 18 to 25-year-olds for two years to release present soldiers from lengthy overseas service.

In asking for a retention of the draft for younger men, Mr. Truman said that it did not appear as though

ELECTRIFICATION:

Relaxation of government control over the sale of steel, copper and aluminum is stimulating construction by borrowers of the Rural Electrification administration in all parts of the country, Claude R. Wickard, REA administrator, said.

Congress has authorized total appropriations for this year of $200,000,000 for loans to REA borrowers. In addition, approximately $100,000,000 previously allotted to borrowers will be spent now.

RECONVERSION: Goods on Way

Despite shortages of rubber, textile and tin, the automobile industry expects to produce 500,000 cars during the rest of this year as a result of the government's removal of all controls over output.

With production due to soar, all rationing of vehicles may be rescinded after monthly manufacture reaches 100,000. Notwithstanding the recent wave of rumors, prices are expected to closely parallel those of 1942 under OPA regulations, which are designed to include increased wage and material costs in the general 10 to 15 per cent price boosts manufacturers made in 1942.

Along the whole reconversion front, there were signs of an increasing supply of merchandise as the government removed most bars to civilian production.

Knives and scissors will be in abundance soon with vacuum cleaners fairly plentiful by January 1. Refrigerators, percolators, mixers and electric ranges will become available this fall and in fair supply by 1946.

Because of the removal of restrictions on the manufacture of a large variety of converted paper and paperboard products, facial tissues, paper towels, wax paper and toilet paper are due to hit the market in greater quantities soon. In lifting controls on nylon, silk and rayon, the government assured the early stocking of hosiery counters.

Forecast Tax Cut

Individuals and corporations alike can look forward to reduced income taxes in the early postwar period though rates will continue high to defray an annual $8 billion dollar budget.

Spokesmen for both parties predicted substantial cuts in future levies, with Rep. Knutson (Rep., Minn.) forecasting a 20 per cent slash in individual liabilities; elimination of the excess profits tax on corporations, and other relief for businesses to ease reconversion readjustments.

At $26 billion dollars, the early peacetime budget would compare with $9 billion dollars in pre-war 1940. While $8 billion dollars would be expended for ordinary government costs, 6 billion dollars each would be paid out for interest on the national debt, veterans' benefits and national defense.

CHINA: Russ Pact

Russian recognition of the sovereignty of the Chinese government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek on the one hand, and China's acknowledgment of vital Russian interests in the far east on the other, marked the give-and-take bound up in the 30 year friendship treaty between the two countries.

Under the terms of the pact concluded after lengthy negotiations in which the U. S. figured as backing up the regime of Chiang Kai-shek, the Russians agreed to turn over Manchuria to China; refrain from interference in the country's internal politics; and back the Generalissimo's government.

In return, the Chinese agreed to joint operation with the Russians of the northern and eastern Manchurian railroads, giving the Reds access to the newly-established free port of Dairen on the Yellow sea and Vladivostok in Siberia. Terms also called for China's sharing of the Manchurian harbor of Port Arthur with Russia as a military and naval base.

EUROPE:

Speedy Reparations

Equipment and goods running into the millions of dollars were stripped from American-controlled establishments in the Berlin area by the Russians prior to the entrance of U. S. troops. Taken into custody by the American Military government, the properties are to be returned to their owners.

With the Russian requisitions considered as part of their exaction of reparations from eastern Germany in conformity with the Potsdam agreements, it was reported that the Reds took over most of the cash, spare parts and supplies of the Ford Werke A. G. (Ford Motor Company); all equipment of Ferdinand Schuchart (International Telephone and Telegraph), and all razor blades from Roth-Buchner (Gillette Safety Razor company).

Practically all stocks were reported removed from three stores of F. W. Woolworth; most equipment from George von Giesche Erben (51 per cent owned by the Anaconda Copper company), and about one-third of the machinery from Deutsche Hollerith Maschinen (90 per cent controlled by the International Business Machines company).

FOR SALE:

Two hundred fifty-two government-owned plants, built at an estimated cost of 1 1/2 billion dollars, will shortly be available for disposal through the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Consisting of 220 establishments serving the service forces, and 32 producing for the air forces, the types of plants include aircraft, tanks, explosives, artillery and small arms, chemicals, steel, radio and radar, shipbuilding and ammunition.

Farmers Organizations!

Farmers should join a farmers' organization, but be sure and select the right one. Insist on answers to the following ten questions:

1. Is there a definite NEED for the organization?
2. What are its OBJECTIVES?
3. Does it have a definite PROGRAM?
4. What has been its record of PERFORMANCE?
5. How is it ORGANIZED and managed?
6. How is it FINANCED?
7. Who CONTROLS the organization?
8. Who are its LEADERS?
9. Who are the MEMBERS?
10. Is it local, state and national in SCOPE?

FARMERS CO-OPERATIVES provide satisfactory answers to the above questions which explains their phenomenal growth in Michigan.

Watch for further advertisements that will discuss each of the above ten questions.

Vitamin A Discovered

About 1912, E. V. McCollum, working under Babcock and E. B. Hart, became interested in the nutritional value of butterfat in milk. He found that rats fed a balanced diet died when lard was used as the source of fat, but thrived when butter was used. These results led McCollum and his co-worker, Margaret Davis, to the discovery of vitamin A, the butterfat element in milk.

Facts About Declaration Of Independence

Thomas Jefferson, who spent 18 days writing the Declaration of Independence, was only 23 years old. Franklin was 71.

The declaration had been signed five days before George Washington informed the citizens of New York City that it had been signed.

The original Declaration of Independence was signed only by John Hancock and Charles Thompson. It was an engrossed copy that was signed by Hancock and the 55 other men. Liberty Bell did not begin to ring until July 8, four days later.

The first public reading of the Declaration of Independence was by John Nixon, July 8, at noon in the state house yard of Philadelphia.

The first copy was published by the Pennsylvania Evening Post July 6; the engrossed copy, now displayed as the original, was not signed until August 2, 1776. Two of Jefferson's original provisions were rejected before the Declaration was adopted.

Million Yanks to Return This Year

Maj. Gen. Gross Tells of Troop Movements.

WASHINGTON.—Maj. Gen. C. P. Gross, army chief of transportation, says a million American troops will leave Europe for this country in the remaining months of 1945. This would leave, the general said, almost 900,000 to be moved to complete the re-deployment from Europe by May, 1946.

General Gross in his report estimated total embarkations from Europe numbered 800,000 men by the end of July. That total included thousands who made the 15,000-mile voyage direct to the Pacific theaters as well as those coming home. Embarkations on July 13 totaled over 635,000, of whom 532,258 had arrived in the United States by that date—407,978 by ship and 124,280 by plane.

The general said some 300,000 American soldiers now are on the high seas throughout the world and another 700,000 re-deployed troops are at transportation corps ports or staging areas, at army reception stations or personnel centers, or on furlough. He said the shift is going at such speed that some men from Germany already have been brought home, received furloughs, and been sent out from the west coast to fight Japan.

He reported more than 1,226,000 ship tons of war material sent out of Europe and the middle east in the first seven weeks after V-E Day. Nearly 300,000 tons went directly to the Pacific.

Indicating the mounting rate of personnel movement, General Gross said 504,000 troops moved domestically by rail in groups of 40 or more in April. In May when the first returning veterans began to arrive the number jumped to 615,000. June, the first full month of re-deployment brought a count of 817,000. For July the estimate is 1,250,000.

The report predicted a gradual rise to about a million and a half men moving in organized groups in November.

Luscious Ice Cream—Favorite Summertime Dessert (See Recipes Below)

Select Desserts Carefully

The choice of dessert should be a careful one — a light dessert if the meal has been rich and hearty; a substantial one if the meal has been on the light side. A dessert should be the perfect close to a meal, not just something thrown in because we think there ought to be an "ending" to eating.

One of the best ways to selecting the appropriate dessert is the guide that the seasons offer. In summer we can depend upon fruits and berries, plentiful supplies of eggs, milk and cream. In winter, of course, there are some fruits, but it's a good idea to make puddings the mainstay.

Ice cream is a perfect choice for warmer weather. If you want a dressed-up dessert, you can round it out with cake and berries; for simplicity, just serve the velvety mixture with fresh berries or crushed fruit sauce.

Here is a Lemon Cream that has a piquant flavor and is a perfect close to a light, cool supper when served with fresh berries:

Lemon Cream.
(Serves 6)
2 well-beaten eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1 cup milk
1 cup light cream
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 cup crushed, sweetened berries
Whole berries for garnish

Beat eggs and sugar. Mix corn syrup, milk, cream and lemon juice. Add to egg mixture. Freeze in automatic refrigerator tray until just set. Beat until light. Add crushed berries. Continue freezing until firm, about 2 1/2 to 3 hours. Garnish with whole berries.

An unusual sherbet with a tang that is bound to please is the following, using ginger ale:

Ginger Ale Sherbet.
(Serves 6 to 8)
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup hot water
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup lemon juice
2 cups unsweetened pineapple juice
1 cup water
1 pint pale, dry ginger ale

Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve in hot water. Add sugar and stir until it dissolves. Cool; add lemon juice, water and ginger ale. Freeze in ice cream freezer until crank turns hard. Remove dasher and pack. Let stand 2 to 3 hours before serving.

Have you ever thought of using candy as a sweetener? Here is a suggestion for a deliciously flavored dessert that uses no sugar at all.

Lynn Says

Make New Things From Old: Old wornout oil tablecloths can be made into attractive place mats by cutting them into squares with pinkish shades.

If towels have faded, dye them in colors to match the bathroom. Old shower curtains can be cut down in size and used as curtains in the pantry, bathroom or kitchen.

When shades become discolored and old, they may be covered with attractive prints in cotton, cretonne or chintz to match the room's decorative scheme.

Wornout pajamas with the leg parts still good can be used to pad out the ironing board by cutting to size.

Discarded curtains make nice pot holder filler; or, they may be sewed together (six layers) after cutting, into dishcloths.

"We've just bought a house—and we're awfully anxious to move in. For that house was built before the war by a man who recognized the wonderful advantages of electric living . . . and he built and equipped it for full use of electricity. It has an all-electric kitchen . . . I'll certainly put that dishwasher to work for me! And, of course, it has the biggest labor-saver of all—an all-electric laundry. I think I'll find it a little hard at first to get used to the convenience of frozen food storage and all it means in making shopping and planning meals easier. Of course the house is air-conditioned. And the lighting is a dream! The whole spirit of such living is modern to the utmost . . . we're going to be living as we never have before!"

Electric equipment is not generally available for sale now. Some is being manufactured and distributed. It will be to your advantage to have your name on your electrical dealer's list, so that you will be able to get it at the earliest possible time.

New Ideas in Glitter Artistic and Refined

Sparkling Accents Placed In Strategic Spots.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

It's glitter-glitter beadwork and sequin embroidery that illumines the style picture, but this season it is in a very different way. You'll welcome the new glitter program, for not only is it bubbling over with new ideas, but there is that about it which displays a refined sensitivity to good taste, carried out with genuine artistry.

The newest idea is not to scatter glitter about over a large area, but rather to limit it to a confined space, where it has a real story to tell. Such for instance is the very clever idea and strikingly new looking beadwork done around the neckline in a jewelry way, the design simulating a real necklace. Also a collar-like border of jewels and sequins finishes off the neckline of many a black crepe dress. And there's the bracelet idea! Instead of wearing a bracelet on the arm, new is the simulated bracelet embroidered on the sleeve itself in sequins and stone-set effects to match the embroidered neckline. This is very effective on a slim black afternoon gown.

Most exciting is the news that dressy cocktail suits have also subscribed to the glitter vogue. Designers like the idea of revers, lapels perhaps with matching bead cuffs, or to give variety beaded pockets (often a single pocket) richly embellished with beadwork. These suits with the glitter note are the last word in chic.

Allover beaded sleeves are strikingly new. A black crepe dress, glamorized with deep armhole sleeves worked in jet, is striking. Evening gowns have cap sleeves worked with a glitter flower motif in multi-colored sequins or in pearls with crystal beads. All of which bespeaks the new elegance that fashion plans for this fall and winter.

Decidedly new is the dress of black rayon jersey that takes on glitter accents. They are very smart looking. You can get these dressy frocks with allover beaded sleeves or with the jet beads or sequins worked in charming designs. Dikkeys and gilets are beaded together with fancy headbands done in matching glitter. This year milliners have taken up the glitter note, handling it with discretion on ribbon bands, scattering nailheads or worked design on bands encircling the crown. A delectable little bonnet with high crown and face-framing narrow brim has a soft drape of coffee colored satin with a mass of satin loops at the front, all starred in bronze spangles.

Swagger-Style Coats

This lovely swagger-style coat has the college girl strutting. Worn over campus clothes, it is a perfect companion for sports, yet it is equally at home with date dresses. The fabric is a lush hollow-cut cotton velveteen in the very new color, "lime fruit." The wide cuffs on the loose-swinging sleeves interpret a smart styling feature. Shown in leading stores in principal cities throughout the country, this coat is already proving to be a real "success fashion."

Style Notes

The versatile styling of sleeves makes news.

Gray, also brown wools favored for smart suits.

Height and bulkiness make the new hats look important.

The sequin-embroidered types in black rayon jersey dresses are stunning.

New styling technique makes curve-treatments and rounded effects a major theme.

Hats trimmed with nailheads tune in with nailhead-studded footwear.

New color alliances team purple with yellow, magenta with Mexican pink, Kelly green with the new Indian rust shade.

They returned to Detroit Tuesday.

S 1/c Robert O. Pearson came Monday, Aug. 27, from duty in the Pacific and from Los Angeles to Cass City. His wife and her mother, Mrs. Ella Vance, accompanied him Monday to Pontiac. After arriving in Pontiac, he became seriously ill with a strep throat infection and was removed to a Pontiac hospital but was able to leave Saturday. He will report to the west coast Sept. 26.

A letter received by Mrs. Oran Hughes from her husband reads in part as follows: "I'm on Coyogon Valley of Northern Luzon. It's very hot weather except for the rain which cools it off nicely. Now that the war is over, I suppose you will soon be getting everything that is hard to get like bananas. Well, we get all of them we want here and would send you some but we're not allowed to. The bananas here are about two inches long and it takes a lot to fill you up. We give the natives a pig to climb the trees and pick them for us. Maybe it won't be long now before I get home to see that big daughter of mine that I haven't seen yet. By the looks, I'll be home by February if I'm lucky. As I get 83 points, I got a good chance."

Ens. John E. Russell, 1105 S. Capitol street, Pekin, Ill., the son of Mrs. Rayburn L. Russell (Jessie Spence), formerly of Cass City, recently was cited as top man in a class at the navy's famed school for primary flight instructors at New Orleans, La. During formal graduation exercises, Ens. Russell was presented a certificate as a qualified flight instructor. The award stated, "Ens. Russell demonstrated outstanding aerial and instructional ability while training here. His record was the highest of his class. Now, as a flight instructor, he has the significant task of training the navy's future combat pilots. We know he will do an excellent job." Ens. Russell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn L. Russell of Pekin. He attended the University of Illinois where he won high scholastic honors. He was employed as an engineer with the Caterpillar Tractor Co., Peoria, before entering the navy. His next duty is on the naval air station in Ottumwa, Ia., where he will instruct aviation cadets.

Mrs. Wm. Ballagh of Greenleaf recently received the following letter from her son, Earl Ballagh: "I just returned from Switzerland today and what a wonderful time I had during my ten days I was there. The people there are so kind they can't do enough for you. They took me to their homes for eats also gave me cigarettes, beer and took me to shows and dances. We travelled on trains and slept and ate in hotels. I shall never forget this trip. "It snowed one day up in the mountains and it surely was cold. I thought the mountains in Italy were high but they're not compared to those where we were. The most of them were covered with snow and it is really a beautiful sight. We went to Geneva which is also a beautiful city. I bought a watch there for $20 which at least would cost fifty in the States. They are real cheap there but you are not allowed to carry much money. "Well, I hope to see you soon. I expect to be home in September. I will see lots of changes but it will be home, sweet home, again so until then lots of love."

Besides containing all of the known vitamins, milk is richer than any other food in calcium and riboflavin, the two nutrients most often lacking in the average diet. ## TOO GABBY

While visiting a country school the board of education inspector became provoked at the noise the unruly students made in the next room. Angri-ly he opened the door and grabbed one of the taller boys who seemed to be doing the most talking. He dragged the boy to the next room and stood him in the corner.

"Now then, be silent and stand there," he ordered. A few minutes later a small boy stuck his head in the room and said, "Please, sir, may we have our teacher back?"

School Fun Teacher—"And what is this envelope I'm holding in my hand?"

Smarty—"A pay envelope."

Advance Fall Millinery Shows Reveal Exciting Style Trends

HEIGHT, bulk, rounded lines, thick edges completely transform hat silhouettes for fall. The new bulky brims and tall crowns, some draped or shirred to look imposing, give an entirely different and more important look than last year's flat tops. Berets look rounded and sort of inflated, pillboxes have grown so tall and boxy that only seeing is believing, visor brims take on high balloon-like crowns, the entire bespeaking a "more hat" vogue.

While the new-type hats are flattering with every hair style, most of them will be found particularly adaptable to the popular "up" hairdo. In fact, they have been especially tuned to accommodate up-swept hair with topknot, curl and other soft arrangements.

One of the favorites for immediate wear is the new off-face roller after the manner of the hat pictured below to the right. This most likable and shapely little felt requires little trimming to "show it off." In this instance a pert ribbon cocarde is held in place with two button-like ornaments.

The cossack style centered in the group is one of the best sellers in the initial fall showings. It is the sort that will declare the "new look" at a glance. The band of ribbon ending in a decorative arrangement of loops and ends is most attractive. It will look stunning with your fall suit or your smart belted-in shortie coat.

Another highlight of the season is the hat with a tiny roll brim surmounted with an imposing balloon draped crown as shown below to the left in the group. This is one of the new-style shapes that is so self-glamorous it requires little or no trimming. Many of the new hats are just like that, so shapely that interest centers about contour more than anything else. The word "suecess" is written all over this sensationally new-looking felt.

However, the prospects are for most elaborately trimmed millinery for late fall and winter wear. Hats will be gorgeously befeathered and lavishly garnished with ribbons, embroidery and glitter-glamour decor. Fur will be played up in trimming accents, and for the entire hat in every possible way. Even now hats are being shown with a flash of fur trim that tapers most effectively into the autumn scene. As a forerunner of the big vogue for fur that is on its way, you will find fetching little models as the hat shown above to the left. Its swish of silver fox pompons not only gives it style distinction, but it will be found the answer to what type hat to wear with the handsome silver fox scarf to complete a patrician ensemble.

A very effective use of ostrich is seen in the lovely off-face hat pictured above to the right. This charming use of ostrich as a halo about the upturned face-framing brim is but a forerunner of that which is to be this fall in way of extravagantly beautiful ostrich.

One of the new trends that makes for charming millinery is seen in the cunning bonnet types that are showing up in the new fall collections. These include endless versions, from girlish little hats scoops to wide face-framing brims with high crowns. Rumor has it that before the season is over we will be wearing quaint little bonnets that tie under the chin with pretty bows of ribbon or lace.

Velvet in Comeback, Combined With Wool

We haven't been seeing so much of velvet in the past several seasons, but this season it is staging a real comeback. Velvet in combination with wool is featured smartly in the new collections. The coat with velvet sleeves has high fashion rank. Dresses with velvet yokes are very smart also suits the jackets of which half velvet and half wool. Velvet tunic suits for restaurant wear present a most intriguing theme. They have deep armhole sleeves and a softly belted waistline. Some velvet hats are seen in the new collections with soft plumage or jeweled ornament.

Poncho Blouses Are Chic, And Easy to Launder, Too

Write "poncho blouse" on your shopping list. The poncho blouse is a real "must have" for the girl that wants a simple easy-to-launder blouse to wear with her suit or to complete her chic blouse-and-skirt costume. The poncho blouse is a one-piece affair that has a pretty neckline and that takes a minimum of material to make and best of all it opens out flat for easy ironing. You slip it over the head (it has no under-arm seams) but the trick is that the front part fastens at the back and the back section is brought to the front by way of short sash ends which tie at the front waistline. Excellent patterns are easily available for the poncho blouse, or you can get charming styles all made up ready to wear.

New Fall Costume

Here is a costume that carries that new fall look. For dramatic gesture, it takes on stunning red lizard trapunto detail in a manner that bespeaks high style distinction. The one-piece dress underneath has a black satin top.
