

New Post Office Building Is Hope For Cass City Folks

Postmaster Bigelow to Make Request for Building to P. O. Dept.

Postmaster Alice M. Bigelow is interested in securing a federal building for Cass City which may provide quarters for the post office, and possibly offices for the AAA, and the Red Cross.

The gross receipts of the local post office have exceeded the required amount for the past several years and there should be no problem in that regard, in the opinion of Mrs. Bigelow.

"Proceedings for such a building should be initiated by Congressman Wolcott upon the request of the citizens of this community," said Mrs. Bigelow in a letter to service clubs here. "The general policy of obtaining such buildings will of course be largely determined by employment conditions of the states. However, we all recognize the fact that much can be done by making approach through the most effective channels. It is my plan to make request for a building to the department in the very near future."

Earl Douglas, president of the Rotary club, named Audley Rawson, Herman Doerr and Frederick Pinney as a committee to promote the project. It is understood that the Gavel club plans similar action.

Pfc. Albert Geoit Awarded Silver Star

With the 33rd Division on Luzon—For gallantry in action against the Japanese in the vicinity of Boload, Northern Luzon, Private First Class Albert Geoit, son of Mrs. Katherine Geoit, R. R. No. 3, Cass City, has been awarded a Silver Star by Major General F. W. Clarkson, commanding the battle-hardened 33rd Division.

Pfc. Geoit is a member of Company "G" of the 130th Infantry, senior regiment of the "Golden Cross" Division, veteran unit of three Pacific campaigns and liberator of Baguio.

During an advance in the vicinity of Baload, Pfc. Geoit's squad, which was the assault unit was subjected to heavy enemy rifle fire from a nearby cave. As a result of this onslaught, one member was wounded. With utter disregard for his own safety, Pfc. Geoit rushed in the direct line of the heavy enemy fire and quickly carried the wounded man to safety.

After this quick and decisive action, he cautiously worked his way forward under Japanese fire until he was within grenade range of the cave from which the enemy fire was directed. From this position, he threw a well-aimed grenade into the entrance and rushed the cave, blazing his way with his automatic rifle. After the smoke had cleared from the cave, four dead Japs were found inside with a supply of food and ammunition.

In part the general's citation read, "Pfc. Geoit's courage under fire and his determination to close with the enemy and destroy him reflects great credit upon himself and the military service."

In addition to his latest award, Pfc. Geoit is the holder of the Combat Infantryman's badge for satisfactory performance of his duty in ground action against the enemy, the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with two campaign stars and the Philippine Liberation ribbon with one star.

Peter Garety Was Accidentally Electrocuted

Ugly Man Met Death While Using Electric Drill on Friday

While installing a furnace in the farm home of Albert Schantz in Bingham township, Huron county, Peter Garety was accidentally electrocuted Friday afternoon. He was an employee of the Bukoski hardware store at Uby and had gone to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Schantz while they were absent. He was at work in the basement the floor of which was damp and he was using an electric drill to bore a hole when the tool apparently shorted and the moisture around his feet drew the current through his body which was charged with electricity when found.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Fr. Edward R. Wern in St. Columbkille's Catholic church in Sheridan township Monday morning and burial was made in the church cemetery.

Mr. Garety is survived by his widow, three children, James J., Gerald, 4, and Martha J.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Garety of Cass City; three brothers, John Garety, Akron, Patrick Garety, Ferndale, and Wm. Garety, Cass City; and eight sisters, Mrs. Marie Sullivan and Miss Caroline Garety, both of Cass City; Sister M. Priscille, Sister M. Patricia and Sister M. Cass City High's Enrollment Puts School in Class B

Attendance in Local High School Is the Largest in History

For the second time in its history, the Cass City high school is in the "B" classification. The present enrollment of 335 raises it to that grade. Some time ago, the school enrollment was 327. This placed it in the "B" class where it remained for one year and then returned to the "C" grade. An enrollment of over 325 is required for the "B" standard.

The enrollment in the local school on Wednesday was 798. Of this number, 335 were in the senior high, 99 in the junior high, and 364 in the lower grades.

The enrollment by grades follows: Kindergarten, 43; 1st grade, 48; 2nd, 42; 3rd, 42; 4th, 45; 5th, 43; 6th, 43; 7th, 42; 8th, 47; 9th, 107; 10th, 89; 11th, 65; and 12th, 74.

Supt. Willis Campbell says the high school enrollment is the largest ever and that there will be 10 more pupils added to the grades next week.

The school administration has eliminated the "ungraded room," but found it necessary, owing to the large enrollment in the grades, to create two overflow rooms, one for grades 1, 2 and 3, and one for grades 4 and 5.

E. A. Corpron Buys Baker Building

Edward A. Corpron, after having rented quarters for his hardware business for many years, decided some time ago to purchase a business block and collect his own rent. Mr. Corpron plans to move his hardware stock to the new location late in December.

Mr. Baker is erecting a cement block building, 28 by 36 feet in size, on the lot east of his residence on West Main St. which will be used for business purposes. The front will be used as a salesroom and the rear as a workshop, an arrangement similar to his present quarters.

Saturday Is Waste Paper Pickup Day

Tomorrow (Saturday) is paper pickup day in Cass City. Members of the 4-H club will be on the job and request that bundles and packages be placed early, in plain sight, and in places convenient to load on trucks.

Your waste paper is still badly needed to keep our millions of men well fed, well clothed, well taken care of in countless ways. All of us know that these needs go to our men, in every spot on the globe, on land, sea and in the air—packed in paper. Sure—the shooting is all over, but we just can't let them down now. Their job is not yet done. It won't be finished until they set foot in the doorways of their own homes, honorably discharged from service. For millions of our men, this is a long time off.

Ripley Mfg. Co. Engaged in Peace Time Activities

Company Engaged in Making Industrial Screens at Their Cass City Plant

The Ripley Manufacturing Co. was not long in switching from war to peace time work at their plant in Cass City. The industrial screens and strainers manufactured from wire cloth are used extensively in automotive machinery, airplanes, steam fittings and refrigerators, as well as pneumatic tools, and all are adapted to peace times as well as war days.

The local plant has 20 people employed at specialty hand work eight hours a day for five days a week. Almer A. Kreuger is the manager and has had 12 years' experience in the screening business. In the near future, Mr. Kreuger plans to announce a date for "open house" at the plant in Cass City which will permit local citizens to visit the place and see the methods of manufacture. Up to this time, the plant has been made somewhat of a school to acquaint workers with the processes of manufacture.

The Ripley Manufacturing Co. was started in 1922 and was the first in this specialty of screen manufacture. In recent years, they moved their plant from Wayne to Crosswell and this summer started the branch plant in Cass City. At the main plant in Crosswell, about 100 people are employed and at present the company is building an addition of 8,000 square feet, which will be devoted largely to plating screen. The manufacturing processes of the company are so flexible that 2,000 different parts may be made in a month.

Aerial survey by U. S. naval planes discloses extensive bomb damage in downtown Tokyo, with only modern fireproof structures surviving half-raising raids.

JAPAN: Sad Sight

Pouring into Japan for occupation duties, U. S. troops saw the devastating effects of the American aerial war all about in the larger industrial areas.

Emphasizing the ruin of Japan's great urban centers, Air Force Commanders Le May, Doolittle and Twining declared bomb damage even surpassed their own estimates, with the Nipponese making no effort to repair the wreckage like the Germans did.

Whereas reconnaissance led the air force to believe 60 per cent of the aircraft assembly plant on the east side of the river at Nagoya was wiped out, an inspection showed that nothing at all was left. And whereas the celebrated Mitsubishi plant in the same city was estimated to be 95 per cent destroyed, it was found totally ruined, with only the steel framework remaining.

While damage at Nagoya was typical of the destruction at Tokyo, Yokohama, Shizuoka, Kobe and other cities, with the inflammable wooden oriental dwellings igniting like tinder under the spark of fire bombs, Premier Higashi-Kuni reported that the death toll from raids approximated 450,000. No less than 95,000 persons were said to have perished in the atomic bombing of Hiroshima, with people still dying from burns incurred.

But if Jap cities were hell on earth during the heavy raids, so were many of the enemy prison camps, where large numbers of U. S. captives suffered mistreatment and malnutrition. First set upon by angry Jap civilians in parachuting from damaged planes, fliers later were mishandled by Nipponese prison guards, seeking vital information.

Quick repatriation of U. S. prisoners was among the early objectives of General MacArthur's occupation forces, settling down to the big job ahead following the official signing of the surrender terms aboard the USS Missouri in Tokyo bay. In preparation for an estimated army of 400,000 men, MacArthur ordered the Nipponese to provide adequate housing, office space, storage space, hospitals and communications.

WAR'S COST: Staggering

Bloodiest and most destructive conflict in history, World War II cost both Allied and Axis nations over 14,000,000 dead and 1,000,000,000, late estimates showed.

No less than 252,885 American fighting men lost their lives on the far-flung battle-fronts, with 851,218 wounded, 43,989 missing and 122,747 captured. Among the wounded were 17,300 survivors of surgical amputations, 7,300 men deafened in some degree and 1,190 blinded in one or both eyes.

Spending $287,000,000,000 from the beginning of the rearmament program in 1940, the U. S. put 1,500 fighting ships and 100,000 auxiliary vessels to sea, built over 223,000 airplanes, and produced in excess of 119,000 tanks and armored cars; 1,000,000 artillery pieces; 18,000,000 small arms; 180,000 tractors, bulldozers and construction equipment, and 2,400,000 trucks, not to mention other items.

Against U. S. costs, Germany spent $280,000,000,000; Russia, $136,000,000,000; Italy, $85,000,000,000; Great Britain, $64,000,000,000; Japan, $49,000,000,000; France, $13,000,000,000, and Canada, $7,000,000,000.

CONGRESS: Back to Work

Their vacations cut short a month by V-J Day, congressmen and senators hustled back to Washington, D. C., for a resumption of business with the working calendar loaded with important domestic, foreign and military matters.

Of a dozen top-flight issues, the question of court-martials or a congressional investigation of the Pearl Harbor debacle of December 7, 1941, promises to become the hottest, with Democrats and Republicans alike seeking an exposure of all the facts upon which army and navy boards based recent reports fixing the blame for the disaster.

While the question of clarifying the responsibility for Pearl Harbor promised the most exciting fireworks, other important issues pending include:

Overhauling of the tax structure, with probable reductions in individual and corporate levies; extension of the draft for youth 18 to 25; termination of executive wartime emergency powers; OPA reconversion pricing; reorganization of the executive branch of the government as proposed by President Truman, and passage of the bill entrusting the government to plan for full employment.

Other important issues include increased unemployment compensation payments up to $25 weekly for 26 weeks for discharged workers; size of the postwar army and navy, with the former calling for 1,500,000 men and the latter 550,000; disposal of $100,000,000,000 of surplus property without disturbing the postwar business structure, and final settlement of the huge $42,000,000,000 lend-lease debt, which President Truman asked be cancelled.

VETS: Job Rights

The long smouldering battle over veterans' job rights promises to come to a head when congress acts on a bill of Representative Knutson (R., Minn.) giving G.I.s seniority credit for time spent in the service in applying for old and new positions.

Supported by both the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion, with their mounting membership of over 3,000,000, the measure is being backed by the AFL and CIO, with their 15,300,000 workers.

Nub of the bill lies in the provision permitting veterans to use service seniority in obtaining new positions. While both the AFL and CIO have recognized the G.I.s right to assert his service seniority in getting his old job back, they oppose any move to give him preference in plants where he has not worked before.

DEMobilIZATION: Speed Discharges

In order to meet its avowed goal of releasing five million men within a year of V-J Day, the army announced revision of its discharge rules.

The point score necessary for release was lowered from 85 to 80, with personnel permitted to count up to date rather than merely up to V-E Day, as previously provided. G.I.s 35 years of age or older, with a minimum of two years of service, now become eligible for discharge upon application.

Availability of transport will continue to govern rate of discharges, the army related, though all vacant space aboard both ships and planes will be utilized to return overseas personnel.

AGRICULTURE: World Parley

Most pressing international food and farm problems will receive major attention from delegates when the Allied nations meet to establish their food and agricultural organization (FAO) in Canada October 16.

Born at the international food conference in Hot Springs, Va., in 1943, the solely advisory FAO has as its objectives:

1. Improvement in efficiency in the production and distribution of all food and agricultural products.
2. Raising levels of nutrition and standards of living.
3. Betterment of the conditions of rural populations.

Before the FAO can develop a comprehensive program, however, the U. S. state and war departments and the foreign economic administration are formulating immediate measures to help relieve the serious food crisis in Europe.

TAX MODERNIZATION

Though taxes will remain heavy to support a prospective 25 billion dollar a year federal budget, modernization of the whole tax structure is necessary for the achievement and maintenance of full employment, Secretary of the Treasury Vinson declared.

In calling for an overhauling of the tax machinery, Vinson averred that any sound tax program must permit profitable investment to stimulate employment, and only a minimum encumbrance on the workers' pocketbook to allow him to buy industry's products.

Vinson's tax declarations followed earlier congressional reports that individual rates may be slashed 20 per cent in the forthcoming revenue bill. Business would be provided with relief by repeal of the excess profits tax.

RECONVERSION: Running Well

Free from wartime encumbrances, and meeting no unforeseen difficulties, American industry continues to reconvert at top speed, with Chairman Krug of the War Production board predicting that the rate of dollar output would be 12 per cent higher by the end of this year than in the normal prewar period of 1939-41.

By next June, Krug said, the production rate will have soared to 187 per cent of normal, with employment 33 per cent over the 1939-41 mark. One of the pace-setters of modern American production, the automobile industry figures to be turning out over 504,000 passenger cars per month by then.

Indicative of the ambitious production programs of industry as a whole, manufacturers expect to be putting out 2,177 electric appliance units per month by next June compared with the prewar rate of 1,440; 495,000 washers and ironers against 186,000, and 474,000 refrigerators against 316,000.

NATIONAL BANKS: Boost Assets

Boasting of total assets of nearly 82 billion dollars as of June 30, 5,021 national banks stand in an extremely strong position to help finance the nation's rapid shift to a peacetime economy.

A breakdown of assets showed deposits of 77 billion dollars; holdings in government obligations of over 47 billion dollars; unimpaired capital stock of over 1 1/2 billion dollars; surplus, undivided profits and reserves of over 1 1/2 billion dollars.

At the same time, the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, government agency set up to protect depositors, indicated the general strength of the banking industry by reporting that no insured institutions have gone into receivership since May, 1944.

YANK SINKINGS:
Total Small

Four thousand, six hundred and twelve American soldiers lost their lives at sea in World War II, with total embarkations to all theaters—in actions against both the Germans and the Japs—numbering 6,753,261 troops through the end of July, 1945.

Of the total, 1,008 went down in the Pacific, the war department's review of the troop sinkings revealed.

An Important Message To

MEN AND WOMEN

In This Community

As a basic food, sugar is vital to maintaining a balanced diet and the health of the nation.

In spite of the war's end, indications point to a continued sugar shortage for many months to come. This year's crop of Michigan sugar beets is desperately needed to alleviate the shortage here and in other states.

So a share of the responsibility for getting this year's crop processed falls on the patriotic workers in this community.

Hiring of both men and women for the campaign to start early in October is now going on at our plant. Previous experience in this work is not necessary. For those who apply now there is a choice of working hours.

The pay is good. A man or woman working steadily through the campaign into early December can make close to $400—a tidy sum to help you through the reconversion period.

Atom Likely Source of Heat

The most probable utilization of nuclear energy, the basis for the atomic bomb, is as a source of heat, according to engineering and research heads.

Concerning the possible use of nuclear energy as a source of power to heat and light homes and buildings, operate factories, propel ships, locomotives, airplanes and automobiles, scientists predicted that several prospective uses of nuclear energy will become technically possible, but that it is too early to predict whether such uses will be economically practical.

In stating that the most probable utilization of nuclear energy is as a source of heat, scientists said that such heat in turn may produce steam or hot gases for use in power generating.

Peace Brings Problems

WHAT was expected to be a short time of comparative relaxation with the congress in recess here in Washington, turned out to be a period of tenseness and solemnity, punctuated by one wild hilarious Victory celebration. Now, with congressmen back from their shortened vacation, everything is bustle and activity to cope with the expected emergency due to sudden peace.

What was predicted to happen—has happened. The end of the Jap war came before congress expected it would come, and the country finds itself in the predicament of unpreparedness for peace and reconversion.

While plans for reconversion on all the home fronts will occupy the minds of congress and heads of governmental units here, there is one factor the members of congress learned about out in their home towns during their vacation. It will have an important bearing upon what they do, and how soon, toward preparing the nation for peacetime economy. And that important factor is impatience in the minds of the American people.

Leaders here see ahead a public sentiment which will brook no fumbling at the hands of congress. During wartime the people have remained as a unit, held in check by the spirit of patriotism. But the small gripes and irritations which the people stood for in wartime will develop into full-blown bellows in peacetime, since the general public is pretty well fed up on restrictions and regimentation. Members of congress found out that this spirit is rampant. They also found out from returning veterans that they are ready to take their places in civilian ranks, eager and willing to say just what they think. They know what they want, and in all probability some 7,000,000 or 8,000,000 of them will be home by this time next year, ready to play their part in the 1946 elections. And that part may be troublesome to some congressmen.

Only Small Slump

Whatever the congress does to ease the nation into a peacetime economy with as little a jolt as possible, leaders here see months of uncertainty, with at least some unemployment, some idle factories ahead. They do not expect a downswing comparable to the depression of the early 1930s. As a matter of fact, there may be no more unemployment than there was in 1933 and 1939 before we entered the war and the nation became geared to wartime production. But whatever happens, there will be labor dislocations during the fall and winter months which will lower purchasing power and cause considerable lag in peacetime production.

The first thing President Truman wants from congress is the power to reorganize and streamline the governmental agencies. Immediately upon his return from Potsdam, the President sharply reversed the policy of Chairman Krug of the WPB, who was inclined to let industry scramble for itself. So WPB will continue to allocate materials and machines to civilian industries with the idea of making as many jobs as possible. The President also wants action on the full-employment bill, and on his recommendation for emergency unemployment compensation for workers laid off due to war cut-backs. War orders were cut overnight about $33,000,000,000, more than one-half the total, and the heaviest hit were the airplane and ship-building industries. In other words, war orders, which have been amounting to approximately $45,000,000,000 annually, will be reduced to $10,000,000,000 by January, 1946.

Labor's Demands

The powerful labor lobby already is busy demanding of congress the full-employment bill; the bill raising minimum wages from 45 to 65 cents an hour; a permanent fair employment practice committee; the Murray Missouri Valley authority measure and additional valley authorities on other rivers; the Wagner-Murray amendments to the social security act; the bill providing for allotments and improvements of feeder highways; the airport improvement bill backed by the CAA; the equal pay bill for women; and a national housing program. It is also urging the government to indorse the principle of the guaranteed annual wage.

Agriculture has some 20 bills in the congressional hopper, but the department of agriculture will place its heaviest backing in favor of the school lunch bill, the Flanagan bill to combine farm credit and farm security agencies into an independent agency; the Lucas REA bill, but minus the Shipstead amendment which makes REA an independent agency; the Langer bill taking the lid off size of debts which the department may adjust; the Missouri Valley authority bill; and the Aiken food allotment bill similar to the old food stamp plan measure.

Garden Hose
Sunshine over long periods is harmful to garden hose, so don't leave it stretched out in the hot sun day after day. After using, drain it and coil it carefully in a shady spot, or put it away in a cool, dry place. If the hose is kept in the garage, keep it away from oil or gasoline, which rots the rubber.

Curtain Storage
Unless curtains can be rolled smoothly for storing, it saves work to put them away without ironing or stretching, because folding makes creases that necessitate pressing or stretching when the curtains are hung. Wrap the curtains carefully in plain paper to protect them from dust.

An abundance of labor contributed in part to the success of Detroit industry in meeting Washington's demands for more and more tanks, more and more airplanes and more and more of everything else—essential to Victory.

Now that the war is over, and with it the bonanza of overtime earnings has come to an end, labor is fighting to retain its recently won benefits. Workers are resisting the inevitable adjustment to peace-time production.

The viewpoint of management in the September strikes is expressed by Henry Ford II, executive vice president of the Ford Motor company. He said recently: "They talk about 65,000,000 jobs. How can there be that many jobs when the worker quits before reconversion gets under way? Perhaps the labor unions have no responsibility—or refuse to accept them. The fact about strikes now, however, is that the average worker fails to realize the consequences of the strike. It not only cuts his own throat, strikes are now a serious impediment in the reconversion effort."

The strike situation is a paradox to the demand of the U. A. W.-C. I. O. for full employment by private enterprise or full employment by government subsidy and deficit financing.

Detroit—This Michigan metropolitan area of more than 1,500,000 inhabitants is still the world's automobile center and is still having labor troubles.

A vocal minority in the newly-organized automobile industry is chiefly responsible for the current plague of strikes. Oddly enough, the labor conflict is occurring just at a time when labor leaders are yelling the loudest at Washington about the rise of unemployment during reconversion and the resultant need of more unemployment compensation for jobless workers.

Governor Kelly is asked to call a special session of the state legislature. Michigan unemployment benefits, among the highest in the nation, would be boosted to $30 per week.

Dynamic Detroit astounded the world with its output of munitions. Perhaps it is inevitable that labor should try to hold onto its wartime boom earnings.

Overtime beyond the 40-hour week, plus double time for Sundays and holidays, fattened the Detroit war workers' purse to a degree unknown in pre-war days.

The sight of Negro workers flocking into ritzy Detroit style shops and paying inflated prices for every-day garments was commonplace here during the war. In constant need of more workers to fulfill bumper government contracts, manufacturers welcomed the arrival of Negroes and whites from the Middle South and the Deep South. An abundance of labor contributed in part to the success of Detroit industry in meeting Washington's demands for more and more tanks, more and more airplanes and more and more of everything else—essential to Victory.

Now that the war is over, and with it the bonanza of overtime earnings has come to an end, labor is fighting to retain its recently won benefits. Workers are resisting the inevitable adjustment to peace-time production.

It not only cuts his own throat, strikes are now a serious impediment in the reconversion effort."

The strike situation is a paradox to the demand of the U. A. W.-C. I. O. for full employment by private enterprise or full employment by government subsidy and deficit financing.

Viktor G. Reuther, official of the U. A. W., served notice on Michigan newspaper editors at Ann Arbor, nearly one year ago, that he was willing to scrap the system which has given Americans the highest living standards on earth if private enterprise failed to create 60,000,000 jobs after the war.

Just as the government footed the bill during the war, so the government should make possible a continuance of war prosperity during peace time.

This, in brief, is the viewpoint of R. J. Thomas, president of the U. A. W.-C. I. O., who recently advocated that the government pay a bonus of $1,000 to each war worker at the time of severance from employment.

Some U. A. W.-C. I. O. union leaders are campaigning for an outright federal subsidy covering peace-time wages. Each worker then would receive 48 hours' pay for 30 hours' work. The economic fact that the taxpayers would be paying for 18 hours of unproductiveness and hence that the workers themselves would ultimately have to help foot the bill, if governmental bankruptcy was to be averted, had apparently not occurred to the labor leaders.

Secretary of Labor Schweikert, in his Labor day address, cautioned organized labor to execute greater responsibility for the public good or risk restrictive action by the federal government. A quotation: "We cannot have full employment unless we have full production of goods and services. And we cannot have full production unless we have full consumption. And we cannot have any of these—full employment, full production, and full consumption—if our productive machine is stalled and our power to consume diminished as a result of chaotic industrial relations."

Detroit's labor relations today are just that—"chaotic."

Irresponsible labor leadership, such as that of Mr. Thomas, is one of the deplorable handicaps in the path of full employment here.

Upstate at Cassopolis, the county seat of Cass county, is a country newspaper editor who recently observed his 57th anniversary of service to his community.

Wm. H. Berkey is his name. "Bill," as he is called by everyone, possesses typical Yankee traits of old-fashioned sanity, candor and integrity. When he writes an editorial, he calls 'em just as he sees 'em. Recalling Mr. Thomas' demand for the $1,000 war workers' bonus, Editor Berkey presented the following comment in his newspaper: "These labor leaders (C. I. O.) say that the war workers did a 'superlative' job of turning out war equipment and therefore are entitled to a bonus of $1,000 each, and that the money could be paid from the unexpended balance of funds that were appropriated for war with Japan.

"Let's examine this a bit. Every one of those war workers received extra pay during the war effort, with time and half for overtime and double pay for Sundays and holidays; and, while we hate to say it, the whole country was full of stories of wasted time in the war plants.

"But, granting that every one of them did a full and honest day's work every day, what claim have they as against the millions of soldiers and sailors who fought and suffered on the firing lines, or on the ships, or in the air? These people who stayed at home, worked in warm factories on comfortable jobs and enjoyed the comforts of home were made better off financially by the war. The people of America will not stand for their looting the public treasuries now that the war is over."

To which a lot of weary Michigan taxpayers, just as patriotic as any ex-war worker, will add a fervent "Amen!"

The road to federal subsidies is also the road to state capitalism and its inevitable consequence: Totalitarian government.

edged in white tulle and white tulle elbow length mitts edged by a velvet band of the individual dress color. Each carried a huge spray of white gladioli and deep red oak leaves tied with large gold ribbon bows.

One of the most unusual aspects of this affair was the presence of a miniature bride and groom, the niece and nephew of the bride, Judith Ann Glaspie and Gary Glaspie, of Harbor Beach. Judith Ann was dressed in a bridal gown identical to that of the bride, even to the extent of her white tulle veil, and the tiny groom in the military manner befitting the occasion. They did their part of flower girl and ring bearer with all the aplomb of seasoned veterans.

Over 200 guests were entertained, following the ceremony, at the reception in the church basement. The Ladies' Aid of the church served refreshments, assisted by the hostesses, Miss Selene Purnell of Adrian, Mich., and the Misses Betty Jo Agar, Mary Kay Brown and Joan Sommers of Cass City. A long lace covered table centered the room, on which was the beautifully decorated wedding cake and the tall white candles.

The bride's mother wore a gray gown with fuchsia accessories and the groom's mother, a purple gown with black accessories. Both wore corsages of Talisman roses.

Guests were present from Detroit, Midland, Bay City, Unionville, Sebawing, Pigeon, Bay Port, Pontiac, Almont, Kingston, Ortonville, Harbor Beach, Gaytown, Adrian, Akron and Cass City.

After a short trip for which the bride wore a russet colored suit with brown accessories, the groom will report to Fort Riley, Kansas, and the bride will continue her duties as cashier and chief operator of the Michigan Associated Telephone Co. in Cass City.

selections, "Thanks Be to God" and "Oh Perfect Love" came through the tall evergreens at the altar in the clear contralto voice of another of the groom's aunts, Miss Lorraine Wachner, also of Detroit. The final song, "Because," was dedicated to Ellamay by Courtney as a fitting prelude to the ceremony to follow. The closing notes echoed in the stillness as the full chords of the Wedding March from Lohengrin heralded the entrance of the wedding party as they came down the white carpeted aisle.

The wedding party included as best man, Mr. Edward Schmidt, uncle of the groom; maid of honor, the bride's sister, Eysel Glaspie; the ushers, the bride's brothers, Grant Glaspie of Cass City and George Glaspie of Harbor Beach; the bridesmaids, Mrs. Edward Schmidt of Detroit, aunt of the groom, and Miss Anna Kastraba of Cass City, a close friend of the bride.

The bride, who came down the aisle on the arm of her father, wore a white satin empire gown with tiny accordion pleats at the sweetheart neckline and at the bottom of the long fitted bodice held in place by tiny buttons. The dress had a circular train which shimmered beneath the folds of her triple tulle veil embroidered with fragile chandelier medallions and on her dark curls was an empire pearl tiara. She wore a tiny gold cross necklace, a gift of the groom's grandmother, similar to that which the bride presented to her attendants, and she carried a white Bible, topped by white orchids and long white streamers.

The groom was in uniform wearing the new Eisenhower jacket. The best man and ushers wore dark suits, white shirts and navy polka dot bow ties.

The bridesmaids wore white tulle empire gowns with velvet bodices in the fall colors, deep maroon and chocolate brown; the maid of honor, aquamarine. Each wore a tiny circular empire cap,

Bowling

Placing together games of 213, 210 and 173 for a grand total of 596 pins, Mac McCullough slipped into the lead Monday evening as eight of the 16 teams in the City league got under way in its 1945-46 schedule. Lardon's team set the Larkin five down in three straight games and will at least be able to maintain a tie for first place regardless of what the remaining eight teams do on Sept. 13. Next week's Chronicle will carry the official standings of the first week of bowling. The schedule for the second week is as follows: Sept. 17, 7 p. m., Reid vs. Fritz; Willy vs. Lardon. 9 p. m., Gross vs. Larkin; Ludlow vs. McCullough. Sept. 20, 7 p. m., Starmann vs. Auten; Knoblet vs. Dillman. 9 p. m., Pinney vs. Wallace; Juhasz vs. Kolb.

Harvest Help

Harvest time... when the farmer is at his busiest! Especially so today when the crop he harvests is so vital. It is during these work filled harvest days when the farmer most appreciates the time-saving assistance his telephone offers. That is why so many more progressive farmers are planning to enjoy the conveniences of telephone service after Victory. And that, too, is why our postwar plans include modern rural telephone service.

Egg Packaging

In tests, it was found that different ways of packaging eggs aided in retaining the appearance, flavor, and behavior qualities of newly laid eggs. Eggs stored in egg cartons sealed with moisture-proof film wraps were of much better quality than those stored in unsealed egg cartons under the same conditions. Storing eggs in egg cartons sealed with moisture-proof plastic wraps, with a mixture of a solid acid and a carbonate such as soda within the package, gave the best results of any treatment tried in the test.

Food Production

The United States has produced 50 per cent more food annually in this war than in World War I. In addition, with 10 per cent fewer workers on farms and with a total national population up a third, our people have had about 10 per cent more food per capita during this war than in the 1917-18 period. During the present conflict, twice as much food has gone annually to the armed services and for overseas shipments as was used for these non-civilian outlets each year of the last war.

Fur Care

Furs collect more grime and soil than other garments. For best wear and appearance they should be cleaned and glazed once a year, at least. Although seemingly hardy, furs can be easily damaged by heat, sun and water. When garments become wet, shake them gently and then suspend from a properly shaped hanger, away from heat.

Pamper Wringer

Pamper your wringer. Never store the washer where the sun can beam on the wringer's precious rubber rolls. Loosen wringer's tension, rinse soap from the rolls and wipe. If dust is a problem, slip cover wringer with oilcloth or muslin. Rest the electric cord in large, untwisted loops and tilt the washer lid jauntily to air the tub.

Slow Acceptance

When the typewriter was first perfected, public acceptance was exceedingly passive. In order to stimulate interest and demonstrate the machine's value, typing contests were held at a Y.M.C.A. and a Y.W.C.A., awarding prizes to the best four in each group.

Improve Livestock

With the aim of increasing the country's self-sufficiency in food production, the Peruvian government has embarked upon a program to develop the livestock industry, aided by United States agricultural specialists.

Hibernating Squirrels

When in a state of hibernation, a ground squirrel can be pinched, dropped from several feet in the air, and even have pins stuck in it without stirring from its sleep.

Hog Gain

Hogs eat most and make the most rapid gains when feed is before them at all times. Plans for self-feeders are available at farm adviser's office.

"We're all in hot water
—and happy about it!"

Dad Mother Grandma Bobby Baby

"The whole family's in hot water day in and day out—and it's a delightful experience. From Dad's early-morning shave to the last bath in the evening, hot water is making our life easier, cleaner and pleasanter. Before we had it always on tap, we didn't realize what a difference having it would make. Now we know—after having it for daily scrubbing and cleaning, unending washing of hands and faces, dishwashing, baths and showers, and so on. We're really in love with our electric water heater. It's completely clean—and dependable and free of trouble. It costs us only a few cents a day to operate, for Detroit Edison has a special low electric rate for water heaters. I'd advise you to get an electric water heater just as soon as your dealer can let you have one."

Water heaters are not generally available for sale now. A few are being manufactured and distributed. It will be to your advantage to have your name on your electrical dealer's list, so that you will be able to get one at the earliest possible time.

Only a generation ago household tasks were drudgery—particularly for the woman in the home. Today they are a pleasure. Why? Because of the comfort and convenience that electric appliances have brought to the American household. Electricity has made the old-fashioned way the wasteful way. Make your home today and your home tomorrow better. Turn on the electric life.

Blood Spots in Eggs

Blood spots in fresh eggs are hereditary. Elimination of birds which lay such eggs persistently is recommended. Candling is not very effective in detecting blood spots owing to their frequent small size. Experiments did not show as some claim, that frightening hens or excessive handling of them causes blood spots in their eggs.

Service News

Henry C. Doerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doerr, of Route 2, Bad Axe, has been promoted to the grade of sergeant, and is on his way home to the states from Luzon, under the Army Redeployment program. Sgt. Doerr has served overseas with the 108th Infantry Division in the 43rd (Winged Victory) Division 35 months.

For his exemplary conduct in battle throughout four major Pacific campaigns—on Guadalcanal in the Northern Solomons, on New Guinea, and lately on Luzon—Sgt. Doerr has won the Combat Infantry badge. This badge shows a silver rifle mounted on a blue bar, and encircled with a wreath. "Of all the medals the Army presents," General Stillwell ("Uncle Joe" of the infantry) said once, "this is the only one I really want, and I can't have it." To the average infantryman, it is a symbol of all the infantry has had to do in this war.

Sgt. Garrison Stine wrote to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stine, under date of Aug. 21 from the Shimada and the following paragraphs are taken from his letter.

"I saw the Jap envoy land at the field Sunday. I wasn't able to be close to the plane but I did see them getting out. I suppose you heard all about it. Lots of GIs turned out for the occasion anyway. They should declare V-J day before long."

"I told you that I took a trip about the island in the letter I wrote you last Sunday. I saw Ernie Pyle's monument. Then we went to a cemetery but couldn't find anyone's name on the markers that I knew."
