Landmark Moved From Main Street Site

The Little Red Book store has disappeared from Main street. Maybe you aren't old enough to remember the small building that stood just west of the Henry Tate Grocery store by that name, but "old timers" will have no difficulty. It must have been at least a half century ago that Elias Killins re-tailed candy to school children in that building. In later years, just before Frederick Klump founded the Chronicle in 1899, Mr. Klump established a business known as the Little Red Book store in that location. He disposed of the book business in the early nineties and since that time, it has had many tenants, the last being for a watch repairing business. The building has been empty for a year or more and became much dilapidated. A. R. Kettlewell, who retained the building when he sold the ground on which it stood, moved the structure to a new location early this week.

Dane Guisbert Is Among First Troops in Japan

Cass City Young Man
Writes Parents from the City of Yokohama

The following paragraphs are taken from letters written by Dane Guisbert to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Guisbert. Dane is located in Yokohama, Japan, and his letters are dated Sept. 1 and Sept. 7 and both arrived here on Sept. 18.

"We are set up in a real modern building with rugs and lights, running water and plush chairs which make things real modern, don't you think?"

"We were the first troops in Japan, and I think I am the only one from Cass City to be among the first in Japan. I don't know of anyone in this outfit from home."

"I don't know how long we will be in this place. I would like to stay here for a little while anyway. A few of the people can speak some English but not very well. We haven't had any trouble with the Japs so far and hope we won't either. Don't say these Japs are dumb either because they have everything like we do in the States like street cars, cars, trains, etc."

"The people here are fairly neat in their ways and dress well, especially the women. I think, anyway, they have their hair all combed and well done, and it's as black as coal."

"Well, pop, here I am in Japan after all. It doesn't seem possible. Concluded on page 4."

Senior Band Reaches Highest Membership

The senior band of Cass City high school has reached its largest membership with 66 pieces. The band will play and march at all home football games and also at the Mariette night game Oct. 26.

Due to the fact that this is the largest band in the school's history, there are not enough uniforms available for all new members but in the near future more uniforms will be obtained and the band will march in its entirety.

At the present the band is playing all marches and they are being drilled for straight and formation marching which they will exhibit at all home football games and the Mariette night game.

There are over 100 students studying music under the direction of Vernon Wait. The outlook for a larger and better senior band in the future is very promising.

Coming Auctions

Full particulars regarding these two auctions are printed on page 7.

Last week's Chronicle contained two ads for auctions to be held tomorrow (Saturday)—Mr. and Mrs. Mike Estok in the village of Colling at 1:00 p. m., and Chas. Goff at his store in Cass City at 8:00 p. m.

Two guests from the Caro Rotary club carried away the prizes. M. C. Ransford named 21 of the 25 pictures correctly and J. A. Gallery was a close second. Other guests were Bert Purdy of Caro and Pvt. Frederick B. Auten, home on furlough. Willis Campbell and Dr. P. A. Schenck were song leaders with Roger Parrish at the piano.

Return of war veterans to Michigan civilian life is already prompting speculation about Michigan's 1946 state campaign.

Lieut. Governor Vernon J. Brown is the favorite for Republican nomination for the governorship. Friends of Secretary of State Herman Dignan insist that Dignan will support Brown and will run for re-nomination.

Among the persons mentioned for lieutenant governor on the G. O. P. ticket are, in alphabetical order: State Senator George Higgins, Ferndale; State Senator Ivan Johnson, Mt. Clemens; Dr. Eugene B. Keyes, a former contender; State Senator James Milliken, Traverse City; Howard Nugent, Bad Axe, speaker of the house of representatives; Tom Read, Shelby, former lieutenant governor; and State Senator Don VanderWerp, chairman of the senate finance committee.

Should the Republicans make a straight bid for veterans' votes by including a veteran of World War II somewhere on the ticket? Some observers feel that the Kelly administration with its $50 million fund for veterans and its Office of Veteran Affairs, headed by Col. Philip Pack, has already a strong record of veteran service and that no ticket recognition is necessary.

Widespread unemployment in Michigan, one year from today, would have an adverse effect on the chances for Republican victory

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Japan Now Fourth Rate Nation,
Says MacArthur; Banner Harvest
Depends on Favorable Weather

Released by Western Newspaper Union.
EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

Scared ground and fragmentary remains of base of tower from which atomic bomb was set off in test mark experimental site near Carrizozo, New Mexico. Viewing scene are Prof. J. R. Oppenheimer (left), who was in charge of technical construction of explosive, and Maj. Gen. Leslie Graves, over-all supervisor of project.

JAPAN:
Fourth-Rate

Even as former Premier Hideki Tojo lay quiet and ashen in an American army hospital with an ugly self-inflicted bullet wound below the heart, conqueror Douglas MacArthur told newsmen that the once proud country which the stricken war lord had led into conflict now was a fourth rate nation.

Hoping to keep Tojo alive so as to be able to question him on the affairs he directed during his wartime premiership, American doctors applied all the treatment of modern medical science, including blood transfusions. But as they labored, Tojo, having accepted full responsibility for the war, groaned: "I am going to die anyway so don't go to any trouble over me."

Tojo shot himself as American troops began a round-up of 40 Japanese suspected of war crimes, including all of the members of the former premier's cabinet. Besides the Nipponese politicians, generals and prison camp attendants, several American, Australian and Dutch were also being sought in connection with propaganda broadcasts.

In pronouncing Japan a fourth-rate nation now, MacArthur pointed to the complete defeat of her military forces and the destruction of much of her industry. Though Nippon may assume commercial leadership in the Orient, he said, her confinement to the home islands will prevent her from returning to the ranks of the major powers.

Regarding the Emperor, MacArthur explained that he was both a religious and temperamental leader, and that while America would not interfere with Japan's spiritual life, the mikado was subject to U. S. dictates in political affairs. By surrendering, the Emperor furnished evidence of a reversion from the military clique which had encompassed him to a new liberal influence.

BIG FIVE:
Discuss Italy

Formulation of a peace treaty for Italy headed up the agenda of the council of foreign ministers of the Big Five meeting in London to lay the groundwork for the reshaping of the map of Europe. In dealing with Italy, disposition of her former African colonies and Mediterranean islands poses the most difficult problems, though settlement of Yugoslavia's claim to Trieste also abounds with complications.

Regarding the Italian colonies, the U. S. reportedly favors the establishment of an international trusteeship over the territories, with administration left in Italian hands. Thus, while being given an opportunity of redeeming itself, Italy also would bear the administrative expenses and utilize her colonists to reconstruct war damage.

At the gateway to the Dardanelles straits leading to the Black sea, Italy's Dodecanese islands in the Mediterranean loom as a strategic key in near eastern geopolitics. Friendly to Britain, which possesses heavy interests in the region, Greece has sought to regain the vital islands at the same time Russia has striven to neutralize the entrance to the Black sea.

Italian held with a large Slavic population, Trieste has long been

CROP INSURANCE:

With cotton leading the list of insured commodities, a total of 164,444 applications covering 199,300 farms was written by the Federal Crop Insurance corporation on 1945 crops, according to the department of agriculture. Over 95,000 applications covering 113,163 farms in the 18 producing states were received for cotton.

Applications for insurance on wheat planted last spring totaled 14,390 covering 23,394 farms and for flax 31,131 covering 38,072 farms.

cherished by Yugoslavia for its strategic and commercial value. Recently a clash of British and Yugoslav interests there resulted in Marshal Tito's withdrawal from the area.

CROPS:
Weather Factor

Should early retarded plantings mature rapidly enough to head off killing fall frosts, the U. S. will be assured of another banner crop this year, the department of agriculture reported. Under favorable conditions, production would equal the record 1942 and 1944 wartime output.

Added to the prospective record wheat crop of 1,152,270,000 bushels and oats harvest of 1,570,356,000 bushels corn production was estimated at 3,069,055,000 bushels if late maturing acreage escaped damaging fall weather. During August, the crop showed about a 225,000,000 bushel increase, bringing the prospective final yield up near the 1944 high.

Favorable August weather also improved the outlook for potatoes, tobacco, soybeans, grain sorghums, tame hay, dry peas and beans. On the other hand, heavy boll weevil infestation lowered estimates for cotton production, while hurricane and wet weather damage influenced smaller predictions for the rice and peanut crops.

RELIGION:
Attacks Instruction

Religious education programs in 46 states may be affected as a result of a suit brought in the circuit court at Urbana, Ill., against such instruction in public school property by Mrs. Vashli McCollum, wife of a University of Illinois professor and an avowed atheist.

In bringing the suit against the Champaign board of education, Mrs. McCollum charged that her 10-year-old son was embarrassed because he was the only pupil of his class not attending the voluntary 30-minute per week courses sponsored and financed by the Protestant, Jewish and Catholic faiths.

In pressing Mrs. McCollum's suit, which both sides promised to carry to the Supreme court if they lost, Attorney Landon Chapman declared that indirect pressure from fellow students and teachers virtually forced a child into such classes on public school property in violation of the constitution providing for separation of church from state.

MEAT:
Lift Bans

Despite the government's withdrawal of controls over meat slaughtering and distribution, officials refused to forecast an early end to meat rationing, reiterating that such action would be taken once there was assurance of a balance of supply and demand.

Set up last April to steer more cattle from local to federally inspected packers qualified to ship meat to the army and between states, the slaughter program was lifted as military orders dipped and a heavy run of cattle was expected this fall.

Established along with slaughter control, the fair distribution plan was designed to assure the shipments of meat along the same geographical pattern as in the first quarter of 1944 and therefore prevent the decrease in supplies to former markets.

Assails 30-Hour Week

Declaring the first step in the downfall of France was the 30-hour week, Senator Byrd (Dem., Va.) attacked the proposal for a similar government work week. Asserting that all industry would have to follow suit, Byrd said that America cannot afford to become a nation of drones without impairing its economic stability. Adoption of a 30-hour work week by the government would increase costs by two billion dollars a year, Byrd said.

OIL:
Foreign Concession

With an eye upon the development of his country through foreign investment, Emperor Haile Selassie granted the Sinclair Oil corporation of the U. S. sweeping oil concessions in Ethiopia.

Under terms of the agreement signed in New York, Sinclair received exclusive development rights to the country for five years, when 50 per cent of the territory will be released. After a further exploratory period of five years, Sinclair will relinquish another 25 per cent. In northwestern Africa, Ethiopia equals Texas, Oklahoma, Massachusetts and Rhode Island in size.

In return for the broad concessions, Sinclair will pay production royalties to the emperor, build one or more schools and hospitals, clinics and research foundations. In addition, the corporation agreed to pay for the education of Ethiopians in the U. S. for the next 10 years.

NAVY:
Speeds Discharges

To the 327,000 men eligible for discharge under original plans, another 423,000 were added by the navy in a revision of its point system for release. In all, one out of every two men will be released within six months, with over 2,700,000 out within a year.

Following the army's pattern, the navy established credit for overseas service, allowing one-fourth of a point for each month of such duty. Other credits include one-half point for each year of age, one-half point for each month of service, and 10 points for dependents, with enlisted men requiring 44 points, male officers 49, doctors 60, WAVES 29 and WAVE officers 35.

In defining overseas service, the navy included duty on any ship in commission and activity outside the U. S. with fleet or shore establishments, armed guard crews, communication groups, convoys, marine forces and hospital units.

British Seek Funds

Asserting that they have emerged from the war heavily in debt and with their export trade and foreign investments seriously crimped, the British opened negotiations with U. S. officials in Washington, D. C., for extensive postwar financial assistance.

As the conversations got underway, with Ambassador Halifax and Economist Keynes advancing the British interests, U. S. officials were expected to turn thumbs down on suggestions for making outright gifts instead of loans. Aid most likely will take the form of long term credits at low interest rates to enable Britain to rebuild its industrial machine and acquire materials to resume large-scale exportation.

With U. S. officials holding the upper hand, the conferences also were expected to ring in Britain's overall imperial trade policies and their effect upon this country, and Britain's participation in international cartels restricting production and distribution of such strategic raw materials as rubber and tin.

QUISLING:
End of Run

With the court rejecting his claims of having fought the extension of communism, of having worked for Norway's interests and of having spared the country from becoming a battleground, big, bluff Vidkun Quisling was found guilty of both military and civil treason and sentenced to death before a firing squad. Denied appeal, he was given the right to ask for a lightening of the punishment.

In finding his defense wanting, the court countered his claim of having fought communism by stating that he had actually volunteered to organize a militant Red group in Norway before turning against it; that rather than advancing Norway's interests, he had injured them by consenting to German occupation, and instead of preventing Norway from becoming a battleground, he had brought the country into the theater of war.

With Quisling's own checkered career finished after 25 years of involvement in national and international politics, including representation of British interests in Russia, his cabinet ministers were next scheduled for trial in October.

RETURN PLANES:

More than 4,500 aircraft have been returned to the United States, or deployed to the Pacific theater by the United States army air forces in Europe since the end of the war with Germany, the war department announced.

Among the aircraft remaining in Europe, according to present plans, will be heavy and light bombers, P-47 Thunderbolts, P-51 Mustangs, C-47 and other transport planes, night fighters, and training and liaison planes.

DANE GUIBERT IS AMONG FIRST TROOPS IN JAPAN

even though we have been here a week now because just a few months ago I was fighting the little yellow devils and here I am in Japan now. We flew by plane from Luzon to Okinawa and were there for about 12 days on account of bad flying weather. From there we flew in four-motor C-54 transport planes and landed at Atsugi airport. From there we went by Jap trucks to Yokohama. We were the first division in Japan too. I was in the third plane to land, so I was one of the first troops to be in Japan. There were lots of war correspondents with us too. They took news reel shots of us and snapshots for newspapers, so keep your eyes open, maybe you will see me, but not much chance I guess.

"Now I can explain how the Japs are taking the loss of the war. I can't quite figure it out yet, but they seem as normal as most people. As you know, we guys don't take any back talk and don't have anything to do with them, at least I don't.

"We had buddies that were killed right beside us, in fact I was with a boy, a good friend from Ohio, who was killed the same day I was hit and I have seen others that got it right between the eyes from another company. Myself, I think this war was worse in some ways because those boys were just dying in vain to my way of thinking.

"I don't know when or how soon I will be home. It depends; if the division goes back as a unit, I might be home in December or January, but don't plan on it. I have my doubts that it will. I think they will send the men home by points and if that's the case I won't be home for quite a while, maybe by next June or July. This is my own idea but just keep your fingers crossed and keep praying, I am."

in November. Possibility of a Democratic comeback at Lansing is in the 1946 picture. Restless voters usually cast their ballot as a "protest."

One reason why Michigan political tides changed frequently during the industrially upset Thirties was the rise and fall of employment in larger cities such as Detroit, Pontiac and Flint. There were enough independent voters to swing the election when they were aroused sufficiently to go to the polls.

Consider then the prospect of employment following reconversion. According to the Committee for Economic Development, total national employment should be 24 per cent higher than in 1940 and only 12½ per cent lower than the peak of war-time production. Grand Rapids, for example, expects a 1946 payroll of 54,649 as compared with 36,092 in 1940. Battle Creek: 13,761 in 1946 as compared with 10,886 in 1940. These figures were obtained from employers.

A recent survey by the Associated Press showed most Michigan industrial cities to be in good shape for peace-time production. Banks are loaded with commercial deposits and private savings.

Studebaker's announcement of a 12-cent increase to hourly-rated workers is said to be the first break in the ranks of automobile manufacturers who are confronted with labor demands for substantial wage increases. Unions have filed notice with General Motors, Chrysler and Ford for a 30% pay boost. The O. P. A. has taken the stand that any pay raise granted after August 16 cannot be included as a labor cost advance in computations under its new car price formula.

Perry Hayden, the "dynamic miller" of Tecumseh, informed us that the Dynamic Kernels Foundation reaped 4,868 bushels of wheat in its fifth tithing crop, originally sponsored by Henry Ford. Farmers may have part of the 4,381 bushels, now available for seed purpose, at only $1 per bushel with this understanding: They will contribute one-tenth of the 1946 yield to their own church. The foundation's tithe of 486 bushels, valued at $750, will go to the Tecumseh Friends (Quakers) church.

Eighty-eight Michigan towns are without physicians. Compared with pre-war days, the state is short 2,287 doctors. . . . Lansing, Flint, Pontiac and Clare are among upstate towns seeking the Michigan State fair. . . . U. S. crop forecasts for Michigan: 20 per cent more yield of corn, oats and barley than last year, 26 per cent above a ten-year average. One big "if": an early frost.

One of the "hush-hush" experiments of the state department of health, under leadership of Dr. William DeKleine, commissioner, has been a study of ways to prevent infantile paralysis. Because of disease prevalence there in 1944, Detroit was chosen for one of the tests. Medics are now wondering whether they're on the right trail. Detroit's 1945 cases were abnormally few.

If Michigan scientists have stumbled upon the solution, it'll be an international event in the field of public health. But don't expect an announcement tomorrow or next month. It's unlikely that one season's findings could be accepted as definite proof.

Flyless county fairs are here, thanks to DDT. Clarence Harnden, secretary of the Saginaw County fair, credited the new war-time scientific discovery for absence of flies there last week. One application kills flies for nearly two months—hard to believe! Flyless barns are also a possibility on the farm.

Better-grade ice cream is already arriving at your favorite drug store fountain. Cancellation of butterfat restrictions in ice cream manufacture is said to assure the return soon of 35 per cent more ice cream at pre-war butterfat content. The amount of sugar available will determine the size of the expanded output. . . . Agricultural Commissioner Chas. Figg favors state standards for malted milks and other fountain products using ice cream.

This column's recent observation on the hazards of seasickness in crossing Lake Superior from Copper Harbor to Rock Harbor, Isle Royale, was fully justified, according to George Allen of Ontonagon, who served on Isle Royale this summer as a ranger. George says he is convinced that the lake crossing is the biggest handicap to tourist trade, and adds: "I was the only passenger not seasick on a recent return trip to Copper Harbor."

Selective service headquarters advises that induction calls are being filled now from the 18-25 group with strongest pressure on 18-year-olds. Local boards may defer induction if the registrant is needed in an "essential" industry. The burden of proof is up to the employer. . . . Looking forward to resumption of military enlistments, the army has leased office space in several upstate towns for recruiting details.

The West Michigan Tourist association will conduct a vigorous campaign this fall for 1946 advertising commitments by resort operators and local governments.

Competition among states is going to be keen for 1946 tourist dollars. . . . We presume other regional associations are going to make similar drives for advertising pledges.

The Pennsylvania-Central Airlines, which serve many Michigan towns, recently pioneered in a reduction of passenger rates whereby you may now travel cheaper by plane than by railroad. Here is the comparative cost between Detroit and New York City: Airline, $22.55; railroad, $27.89. Tax is additional. The railroad fare includes Pullman lower berth.

Roy O. Woodruff of Bay City, a native of Eaton Rapids, is the sole surviving member of Congress among 13 men who were elected in 1913 on the Progressive (Bull Moose) ticket. . . . The state-owned lodge at Pokagon state park, in Indiana just south of Coldwater, accommodated 18,218 guests during 1944. . . . The Michigan League of Home Dailies celebrated its 25th anniversary last night (Thursday) in Grand Rapids. Founder was the late Frank Moses of Marshall.

What's work about doing a wash?

"I never dreamed a few years ago that I could ever ask such a question. The answer since I got my electric laundry just before the war—is nothing. Doing a wash is a pretty simple, pleasant task.

"The operation of the automatic washer was simply amazing to me. The only time my hands get wet is when I remove the damp-dry clothes from the washer. That's all. Of course, there will always be some work to ironing, but the ironer does a magical job of reducing it to a minimum. The ironer speeds through flat work and also simplifies handling shirts, dresses and wash suits. I almost forgot to mention my dryer. I don't have to worry about washday weather. I don't have the work of hanging up and taking down. No, sir. The dryer does the trick—gets clothes ready for ironing, and in just a few minutes, too. I'm looking forward to the time when all my friends also can ask, 'What's work about doing a wash?'"

WHAT THE IRONER CAN DO

Tests made recently with an ironer showed that there was a time saving of a little more than 40 per cent in ironing a good-sized family washing over the time required to iron the same items by hand. Using an ironer requires less muscle and expenditure of human energy, so fatigue is cut to a minimum. And an ironer will do a first-class job on any piece—fine dresses, ruffles, shirts. Of course it takes practice, but it's easy to learn.

Electric laundry equipment is not generally available for sale now. Some is being manufactured and distributed. It will be to your advantage to have your name on your electrical dealer's list, so that you will be able to get it at the earliest possible time.

Scarcely a day passes without some new use for electricity coming into being. No small number of the new uses are for the convenience of the family in the home. And so, many thousands of families are keeping abreast of the "new" in electrical appliances and refinements. You, too, can well afford to follow their example. For the old-fashioned way is a wasteful way, and the road to comfort and convenience in your home can be opened by turning on the electric life.

Bowling

Team Standings.

Bowling standings of the City league for the first week of the 1945-46 schedule:

1 Landon	3	0
2 Knoblet	3	0
3 Dillman	3	0
4 McCullough	2	1
5 Starmann	2	1
6 Auten	2	1
7 Gross	2	1
8 Reid	2	1
9 F. Fritz	1	2
10 Juhasz	1	2
11 Willy	1	2
12 Ludlow	1	2
13 Kolb	1	2
14 Larkin	0	3
15 Wallace	0	3
16 Pinney	0	3

Ten High Average Bowlers.

1 McCullough	199
2 Landon	197
3 Starmann	177
4 Willy	173
5 Knoblet	169
6 Greenleaf	167
7 Kirtan	167
8 Juhasz	167
9 Czerwec	164
10 Wooley	163
11 E. Fritz	163

The Landon, Knoblet and Dillman teams displayed the class of bowling in the opening week to place them at the top of the league standings as the 16 teams entered the early fall and winter schedule. The majority of the teams acted somewhat jittery as they faced their opponents in the first encounter and before their equilibrium was adjusted they had fallen far short of acquiring sufficient pins to place high in the records, but there are still 14 weeks left to regain whatever losses they may have had.

Mac McCullough was off to a good start when he accumulated a count of 596 pins to head the league as the best individual bowler, and who knows but what he may be serving notice on the rest of the bowlers that this is his big year. Mac rolled two 200 games, opening with 213, 210 and 173.

Weekly prizes were distributed as follows: Team events, McCullough's won the three game over average. Landon's took the one game over average. The individual events went to McCullough for the best three games over average and Bill Zemke of Deford captured the one game prize.

The bowling schedule for Sept. 24—Landon vs. McCullough; Larkin vs. Fritz, 7 p. m. Ludlow vs. Willy; Reid vs. Gross at 9 p. m. On Sept. 27—Knoblet vs. Kolb; Wallace vs. Starmann, 7 p. m. Juhasz vs. Dillman; Auten vs. Pinney, 9 p. m.

Furs Take Spotlight In Autumn Parade

Dramatic Look Given by Big Sleeves, Small Waists.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Whether it is fur coats, fur-trimmed cloth coats, fur hats or fur accessories, they all broadcast the message that fur-craft has set a new high in point of real artistry and creative design.

If you are considering a new fur coat or if you are planning buying a chic fur hat or a modish fur stole-wrap to wear with your fall suit, the wisest move you can make is to do it now while you can get first "pick."

There's a lavish look about the new fur coats, especially in the modish shorties. Some of them flare, others are belted-in or fitted tunic versions. Sleeves are big, bulky and magnificent, many of them with pretentious-looking turn-back cuffs. Choose either the coat that is snugly belted to a tapered-in waist or one that flaunts a dramatic flare. Either will prove a thrilling adventure in beauty and luxurious warmth.

Grays in fur are making a big splash and there is plenty of versatility about the variety in gray peltry as well as their ingenious styling. A smoky gray Persian, cut with the flare of a Cossack tunic, says "style" all over it. Pewter gray opossum is also in the news and high-fashion platinum mink achieves the ultimate in fur elegance.

Muskkrat in both browns and the new silver blue tones, Alaskan seal, Persian lamb and moutons have assumed fashion rank. Beaver is one of the "big success" furs for coats entire, and as trimming on cloth coats. They like the new big-sleeve models made up in leopard this year.

And now comes the big news of white furs. Nor are they all for party and evening wear. There's the white fur coat shown in the new collections made of mink Indian broadtail lamb. Instead of being exclusively an evening wrap it is wearable as a daytime wrap with dress-up dresses, a winter sports fashion, a southern resort wrap and for indoor wear with winter slacks. There is good news, too, that perfectly charming coats are available in prices within limited budgets, made of various white furs that look well and wear well. Young girls love the cunning little de luxe white fur jackets that have a sprightly flare at the back. The teen agers dote on pretty colorful linings in their white fur coats.

Scarf in New Role

Here's how to add an eye-thrillingly superbly colorful tunic (perhaps draped apron-front better describes it) to your basic black dress. The trick lies in draping a 34-inch square rayon crepe scarf to form a graceful overskirt front, as here pictured. A lovely echo scarf in a three-color combination in radiant California design is used in this instance. Its exotic coloring contrasts with the black background to perfection. Now that scarfs are being worn in such unique and unexpected ways as smart fashion indicates for this fall and winter, it is going to be rather difficult to determine when a scarf is really a scarf. Anyway, it's worthwhile to follow up the new scarf technique, for a scarf (square or oblong) can perform miracles in glorifying even the simplest basic dress.

Fads and Fancies

New! the fur coats in Esther Dorothy's choice winter fur collections which have a miniature perfume pocket tucked away in its lining. Out of it peeps the corner of a tiny square of maline tied around a piece of cotton holding a drop or two of perfume, which replenished now and then, means sweet fragrance the winter long.

Michigan 4-H Farm Safety Club Members Study Accident Prevention Measures in City Plants

RURAL boys and girls in Michigan are taking every opportunity to learn how to prevent accidents on farms. As one example, a group of Wayne county participants in the 1945 National 4-H Safety Program (shown above) recently visited plants of an automobile manufacturing concern in Detroit to study safety measures taken to protect workers against injury. The 4-H'ers were accompanied by Mrs. Ada Watson, county club agent.

To comply with the organization's safety regulations, the group was equipped with nonshatter eyeglasses, and the girls were clad in slacks and provided with hair nets or other head covering. Safety measures throughout the plants were pointed out and the reason for their use explained to the 4-H'ers.

The tour will be credited to each member's 4-H safety program record. Participants in the program who achieve outstanding records in safety work this year will receive merit awards donated by General Motors. The awards are based on county, state, sectional and national levels.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE.

Thirty-five Years Ago.

Sept. 23, 1910.

Earl W. Jones was surprised Monday when he received notice from County Clerk Reavey that he had been nominated at the primary election for register of deeds on the Prohibition ticket. Mr. Jones voted for a Jones for register at the primary "because the Jones are good fellows you know," but he hadn't any idea that the ballot cast counted for himself, but thought it was another Tuscola county man with the same name. Mr. Jones thinks some of his Millington friends circulated the petitions which placed his name on the ballot. He served Millington citizens as township clerk for two years before coming to Cass City.

Miss Alta McArthur leaves Saturday for Ypsilanti where she expects to enroll as a student in the normal school.

J. A. Morrison has purchased the drug business of Neal McMillan at Rockford.

The remains of Ira C. McConnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McConnell, who died overseas, were brought to Cass City and buried with military honors in Elkland cemetery Tuesday morning.

Frank Dodge is attending Wheaton college at Wheaton, Ill. When Lee surrendered at the close of the Civil war, Lorenzo Gage of Deford rejoiced so proudly that he bought a new pair of fine boots. Yes, he wears them yet. Of course, they have not done service every day since "sixty-five"—just Sunday, Fourth of July and a few "seventeenth of Ireland."

Re-establishment of pre-war prices on all products of the Ford Motor Co., effective immediately, was announced Tuesday by Henry Ford. The price reductions range from 14 per cent on motor trucks to 31 per cent on small automobiles.

PROPER CARE OF BEANS DURING THE HARVEST

More than ever before the proper care of beans during harvest will be important this year. With only one third of a crop in Sanilac county and many of these planted late, the proper curing takes on added significance.

Well built field stacks provide good insurance against weather damage to beans during the harvest period. Poor stacks are of little value. A simple form made from snow fence or similar material makes it possible for inexperienced labor to properly stack beans. Plans are obtainable at the county agricultural extension office, or ask the farmer who has used one.

Beans have gone through several months of bad weather in properly built stacks with a stake or steel post in the middle to anchor the stack, and come out with very little or no pick. A further advantage is that green beans may be put in the stack with assurance that they will properly cure.

Stacks should be about 4 feet in diameter and 7 feet high or a good 2 feet higher than the stake or post. If a frame is used, the beans are tramped down firmly when the frame is nearly full, to insure against too much settling.

Field stacking is strongly urged this year. This method of stacking can be done even when beans are wet, if necessary. In this case, and with beans that ripen unevenly, stacks should not be over 3 feet in diameter.
