

Progressive Towns Will Provide Plane Facilities in Future

Feeder Line Will Help in Expeditions Handling of Freight and Express

A. J. Petrie, a member of the Civic Aeronautics Board, Lansing, in a brief talk at the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday, said Michigan was far ahead of other states in aviation and told how the state pays 100% of the engineering costs in laying out an airfield and matches with a community the expense in equipping the field after a site has been provided. He pointed out the advantages of the smaller communities having feeder lines with aircraft facilities in hauling mail, express and freight.

Leslie Kefgen of Bay City, who came to give an address on "The Prison Situation in Michigan," said he would like to see his old home town of Cass City get on the bandwagon in providing a landing field. Any town that fails to provide facilities for air traffic will be bypassed in the future the same as those of olden days who failed to have a railroad.

Michigan has an outstanding personal system among the states, said Mr. Kefgen, chairman of the state corrections commission, and there have been no politics on the commission in the last eight or nine years.

Jackson, the largest prison, has 5,700 inmates and has been short 50 guards during the war period and has 175 temporary employees which has created a problem in personnel. Jackson is altogether too large an institution and it would better serve the state if it had been made into three prisons. Concluded on page 4.

Community Club Meets Next Tuesday

After a four months' "summer vacation," the Cass City Community club will resume their monthly programs next Tuesday evening when Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, pastor of the Central Methodist church, Detroit, will speak on the subject, "Vicious Virtues." The Evangelical Ladies' Aid will serve the dinner.

Hugh Munro is president of the club; Rev. Lorne J. Lee, vice president; Lester Battel, secretary; and Arlington Hoffman, treasurer. M. B. Anten is program chairman and A. C. Atwell, manager of dinner ticket sales.

Cass City Played at Saginaw Thursday

Cass City's football squad journeyed to Saginaw last Thursday to battle against the Arthur Hill "B" team. Because of injuries suffered in the Vassar contest, the Redhawk regulars were benched by Coach London for 52 of the 60-minute contest. Cass City's "B" team suffered the 34-6 setback in a sea of mud. Because of adverse weather conditions, the game was played on Arthur Hill's practice field rather than in the stadium.

With four minutes remaining in the second period, the "regulars" were substituted. They took possession of the ball on their own 28-yard line and without difficulty pushed 70 yards to the two-yard marker when the half was called. Again with only four minutes remaining in the last period, the regulars returned to drive 65 yards for Cass City's lone touchdown.

Score by quarters:
Arthur Hill B..... 13 0 21 0—34
Cass City..... 0 0 0 6—6
The "B" team travels to Elkton on Friday to meet the Elkton Varsity, the game beginning at 8:00.

Cass City's next home game date (with Pigeon) has been changed from Thursday, Oct. 18, to Wednesday, Oct. 17, because of teachers' institute falling on the 18th and 19th.

MICHIGAN AND THE OLD NORTHWEST

Our story starts over a million years ago when the climate turned cold.

Covering Michigan, the great ice sheet extended to the Ohio and Mississippi.

Warmer weather caused the ice sheet to recede. At its base mastodons roamed.

Michigan's discoveries include tusks and bones found near Cass City.

25c WANT AD SELLS $360 WORTH OF PULLETS

He advertised 200 White Leghorn pullets. On Friday, the day the paper is delivered on the rural routes, he sold 150 pullets to Lawrence Ball and 75 to Mrs. Gust Heideman, both of Greenleaf township, Sanilac county. The pullets brought $1.60 each and the $360.00 worth of poultry was sold at a cost of 25 cents for advertising. Four parties called at the Maharg farm Saturday after the pullets were sold.

The Snover Trinity Evangelical church was the scene of a very pretty wedding Saturday night when Leatha J. Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Arnold, of Snover, became the bride of Mr. Dwayne A. Dorland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dorland of Decker.

Rev. S. R. Wurtz read the vows of the couple before an altar which was banked with bouquets of asters, gladioli, roses and lighted candles. Lighted tapers and vases of flowers decorated the windows of the church.

Miss Jane Cameron sang "I Love You Truly," "Always" and "O Promise Me," and the wedding marches were played by N. C. Blank.

The bride gown was of white satin and net, styled along princess lines, with a full-length veil. She carried gladioli and white roses. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, given to her by the bridegroom. She was escorted to the altar by her father.

The maid of honor, Miss Phyllis Cargill, wore blue chiffon and carried a bouquet of asters and gladioli, tied with pink and blue bows.

Mr. Dorland was attended by his brother, Newell Dorland, who acted as best man. Donald Wiswell

Michigan Mirror

Michigan's post-war Tower of Babel is going to be dizzy. Witness this bit of demagoguery: Fifty dollars a week or more should be paid by the federal government to each of the following:

Every unemployed veteran or civilian.
Every wounded veteran.
Furthermore, each adult, 60 years old or more, should get from $30 to $50 per week as a retirement pension, also at the bounty of Uncle Sam.

The creator of this credo admits freely that "reactionaries" (such as this writer) are going to label him a "crack-pot" who is appealing to "the lunatic fringe." The author is the former lieutenant of Louisiana's Huey Long whose political fame rested on "dividing the wealth" whereby every American was to become a king with a chicken for every meal. His name is Gerald L. K. Smith of Detroit, founder of the America First party and one-time primary opponent of Homer Ferguson for the Republican nomination to the United States senate.

All of this Utopia is to be achieved, says the versatile Smith, if enough Americans respond to his appeal for a dues-paying membership in the America First party, Smith's personal money-making racket, and thus proceed to persuade Congress to save the country.

Unless they do this, we will have 20,000,000 unemployed within a year. Next, an era of wild inflation. And finally the smash-up of democracy by a "Red revolution." It's all very simple, to listen to Gerald L. K. who thrives on publicity and probably will be delighted to read this about him. Now you know and I know that Gerald does not believe personally in the above economic objectives. Continued from page 7.

Tuscola County's War Fund Quota Is $23,620.00

Boy Scout and Girl Scout Quotas Are Assigned to Ten Townships

Quotas assigned to the 23 townships of Tuscola county in the forthcoming campaign for the United War fund total $23,620 and quotas for Boy Scouts reach $2,530 and Girl Scouts $2,021.

"At our county meeting, representatives from all over the county felt that the Boy Scout and Girl Scout campaigns should be simultaneously conducted along with the United War fund campaign and that quotas should be asked from only those townships or communities who have either Boy Scout or Girl Scout units," says Clarence R. Myers, chairman of the Tuscola County United War Fund. "That is the reason some communities have smaller quotas this year. Where there is no Boy Scout or Girl Scout given, one will know there is no unit in that particular township."

The United War fund quotas are as follows in the 23 townships:

Akron	$1155
Almer	765
Arbela	750
Columbia	1050
Dayton	560
Denmark	1235
Elkland	1890

How to Wash Pillows
It's easy to wash pillows. Use a weak washing-soda solution in the water with lots of warm suds. Two washings may be necessary to get the feathers thoroughly clean. Rinse the pillows two or three times in lukewarm water, then squeeze the water out. Dry them in the warm, not hot sun and beat the pillows several times so that they will come out fluffy.

Kind to Animals
It is unlawful to disturb or annoy a bullfrog or a cottontail rabbit in Hayden, Ariz.

Milk Bacteria
Bacteria multiply fast in warm milk, and milk with a high bacteria count won't make high grade dairy products. The best way to cool milk is with a water tank of some kind, as cold air does not do the job well enough or fast enough.

Iced Tea
To make the cloudless type of iced tea, measure four level teaspoons of tea to each two cups of cold water. Cover and let it stand in the refrigerator from 12 to 24 hours. Pour it over cracked ice or ice cubes.

Atomic Bomb Floors Japanese

Brings Appeal for Peace; Entry of Russia Into War Also a Factor.

WASHINGTON.—When the Japanese government announced its readiness to accept the terms of the Potsdam declaration it meant the end of the war was not far off. The announcement said the government acted in obedience to Hirohito, who "desires earnestly to bring about an early termination of hostilities."

The Japanese appeal for peace says in part: "The Japanese government are ready to accept the terms enumerated in the joint declaration which was issued at Potsdam on July 26, 1945, by the heads of the governments of the United States, Great Britain and China and later subscribed to the Soviet government with the understanding that the said declaration does not comprise any demand which prejudices the prerogatives of His Majesty as a sovereign ruler."

This meant the end of hostilities that started September 18, 1931, with Japan's attack in Manchuria, which was succeeded by the capture of much of China and culminated in the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941.

The principal question posed by the Japanese declaration was the condition with respect to the status of the emperor. The Potsdam declaration was silent about him.

The Allies, after consultation of the four powers, United States, Great Britain, Russia and China, agreed to accept the Japanese surrender with Emperor Hirohito kept on the throne but completely subject to the authority of the Allied powers.

It's the End for Japs.

The second taste of the atomic bomb, this time with Nagasaki on the receiving end, the Russian declaration of war, followed immediately by the invasion of Jap-held Manchuria and Korea by the Red armies, hastened the determination of the Japanese government to surrender.

Three Russian invasion columns have advanced into Manchuria in a great pincer and have made steady progress forward. The Russians stunned the Japs with massed artillery backed by tanks and infantry. Several lines of communication were seized.

The second atomic bomb dropped on Japan destroyed 30 per cent of the industrial city of Nagasaki. At least 13 factories, including the big Mitsubishi steel and iron works, were destroyed.

War industries which played an important part in building the Japanese military machine were hard hit, the damage ranging from 20 to 100 per cent.

Okinawa-based pilots attacking other objectives on Kyushu said the clouds of smoke from Nagasaki spread rapidly until they obscured bombing targets 60 miles from the port.

General Spaatz, chief of the United States strategic air forces, announced after viewing reconnaissance photographs from the second use of the bomb against the enemy that scattered fires were visible outside the smoke obscured area.

Pliers told the United Press that the atomic bomb explosion was "too tremendous to believe." One said that the blinding glare of the blast was so great that when it faded he thought for a moment that the sun was setting.

Hiroshima Wiped Out.

Slowly reports are coming in telling of the awful havoc created by the one atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima. The utter devastation is beyond comprehension.

Blasted and blistered corpses littered the ruins, the Japs admitted, calling the city a "disastrous ruin."

A Tokyo broadcast said that the impact of the bomb was so terrific that practically all living things, human and animal, were literally seared to death by the tremendous heat and pressure engendered by the blast.

Photographs confirmed that four and a tenth square miles—60 per cent of the built-up area—of Hiroshima had vanished almost without trace.

Unofficial American sources estimated Jap dead and wounded might exceed 100,000.

Scores of factories, including five major war plants, office buildings and dwellings were known to have been leveled. Only a few skeletons of concrete buildings remained in the obliterated area.

Radio Tokyo, breaking a long silence after the raid, said the "indescribable destructive power" of the bomb had crushed big buildings and small dwellings alike in an unparalleled holocaust.

Reds Order Gold, Coins Turned in by Germans

LONDON.—The Berlin radio said in a broadcast that the Soviet military administration in Germany recently ordered "all firms, organizations and institutions" in the Russian occupied areas to turn in to the state bank of the Soviet occupied army, "all gold and silver coins, gold and silverware, foreign bank notes and coins, and all currency issued in territory formerly occupied by Germany."

Chopped Hay

Dairymen find that chopped hay occupies only one-half to one-third as much space as long hay, it is easier to feed and it is eaten with less waste. However, for safe storage, chopped hay should contain less moisture than long. Tests have shown that chopped hay heated more than the other when stored with the same moisture content. Chopped hay should not be put on top of hay that is damp.

Ancient Rice

Remnants of rice have been found in Neolithic pottery in China, dating probably from the end of the third millennium B. C.

Prevents Stickiness
A pinch of salt, lard or paraffin added to the hot starch will help to prevent sticking in ironing. Thorough cooking of starch is also important. If the iron sticks while ironing, put a little salt on a paper and rub the iron on it. Starch spots can be removed from the iron by rubbing lightly with very fine steel wool, or a mild scouring powder or a cloth wrung out of warm, mild soapsuds. After that, rub the iron lightly with paraffin or beeswax.

Milk Sugar
An important constituent of milk is milk sugar or lactose. Lactose is acknowledged as the best sugar for the nourishment of the young. In addition to this important function, it has been suggested that lactose makes it possible for intestinal bacteria to manufacture or synthesize certain vitamins.

"There are Jap police who guard with us but they can't speak English and the only weapons they have are sabers or swords.

"It took us about two weeks to get up here from Manila. The place called Lana, where I have been, is about 200 miles north of Manila and is on the ocean coast.

"I have been on this ship since Aug. 25. The name of it is U. S. S. James O'Hara. We stopped at the Marshall Islands for a few days, but are on our way again.

"The food is very good. I have been on K. P. since we left."

The following are excerpts from letters received by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Evans from their son, Pvt. Richard Evans, in Karachi, India:

"I'm having a pretty good time here and we have better chow here than we had in the States except we get chicken a little too often, twice in three days now."

"We came over on the Gen. E. T. Callias, a fast navy transport ship. We hit one storm and it was very rough. That was the storm that tore the bow off one of Nimitz's ships. We stopped at Perth, Australia, for a night and it really is a nice place, especially after riding on that ship for 20 some days."

"We are stationed at Karachi on the west coast of India. The barracks here are made of cement and stone and are good and cool along with a nice breeze from the Arabian sea, really quite comfortable after the heat where we were stationed near Calcutta."

In a letter written to his wife on Sept. 5, Archie L. McCallum, S 1/c, writes:

"Well, censorship has been removed. We got the official word last night, so now I can tell you much more. I'll tell you where I've been thus far.

"We left the army docks at Oakland at 4 p. m. on April 23 and crossed the equator May 7. That, by the way, was the day we really got initiated. From there we went to Ellice Islands to Guadalcanal, and I was on Henderson Field there. From there we went through the Solomon Islands to Hollandia, New Guinea. From Hollandia, we went to Finch Haven, New Guinea. At Finch Haven, we received orders to go to Manila. We stayed at Manila for a week and then were sent to Leyte Gulf, to the part of Tacloban. That's the first place McArthur hit when he returned to the Philippines

JAPAN:

Economic Checkup

To Gen. Douglas MacArthur went the task of supervising the economic reformation of Japan as a part of the U. S. program to destroy Nippon's war-making potential and promote widespread opportunity in a nation formerly dominated by four great business houses.

Hirohito

Not a Pauper

Prospects rose that the personal fortune of Emperor Hirohito would be divulged, revealing him as one of the world's wealthiest persons. Though the Mikado's assets are known to only a select few, the imperial family maintains a four-story concrete building complete with staff on the palace grounds to keep its accounts.

Indicative of the vastness of Hirohito's holdings, the emperor possesses stock in every Japanese enterprise, since a bloc of shares are allotted to the emperor by a corporation upon organizing. Of the 300,000 shares of the Bank of Japan, Hirohito reputedly owns 140,000.

Besides the Mikado, the great business houses of Mitsubishi, Sumitomo, Yasuda and Mitsu possess the greatest holdings in Japanese enterprise, with their share estimated at over half the total.

Under the U. S. program, steps will be favored for the dissolution of these politically influential institutions with their grip over banking, industry and commerce. Policies will be pushed for a wider distribution of income and ownership of productive and sales facilities, and encouragement given for the development of democratic labor and agricultural organizations.

In stripping Japan of its war-making potential, the U. S. will prohibit the operation of industries adaptable to war production. As in the case of Germany, manufacture of aircraft is to be prohibited and shipping is to be limited to immediate trade needs. U. S. authorities also will supervise Japanese industrial research.

As MacArthur's staff undertook an accounting of Japanese assets as the first step in the implementation of economic reform, the general ordered Premier Higashi-Kuni's government to institute immediate wage and price controls and ration commodities to head off extreme privation among the country's 80,000,000 people.

With Japanese experts figuring it would take Nippon from two to five years to get back on its feet, they proposed that the U. S. sell the country 250 million pounds of cotton within the next year in addition to 60 million pounds of wool; 3 million tons of rice; 2 million tons of salt; 500 thousand tons of sugar; 3 million barrels of oil, and 3 million tons of steel.

FOOD:

To Curb Output

Declaring commodity production goals should reflect consumer demand rather than maximum ability for output, Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson indicated that the government's 1946 farm program may call for smaller harvests in view of decreased military and civilian needs.

In making his views known in a

LETTERMEN:

A survey by the American College Publicity association shows that only 4 per cent of college letter men were turned down as physically unfit for military service, thus debunking the impression of a high rate of rejections among athletes.

According to the survey, only 358 students out of a total of 9,635 letter men in 119 colleges and universities in 1941 were found unfit for service.

conference with farm bureau representatives in Washington, D. C., Anderson also raised the possibility of imposing marketing quotas to restrict the heavy output of certain crops.

At the same time, Secretary Anderson joined President Truman in assuring the farm bureau men that the government would back its commitment to support commodity prices at not less than 90 per cent of parity for two years after the official end of the war.

VETS:

Job Rights

Clarifying the rehiring provision of the selective service act, draft officials declared that a returning veteran has an absolute right to his former position, or one of like status, even if it means the discharge of a worker with higher seniority.

At the same time, the officials stated that no veteran would be re-

In further lowering the point score for overseas duty, the army revealed that enlisted men whose credits or age, as of September 2, 1945, equal or exceed 36, or who are 37 years old or 34 years old with more than one year of service, will be exempt. Also exempt are male officers with 48 points; army doctors and dentists with 45 points or 40 years of age; veterinary and medical administrative officers with 30 points or 35 years of age; dietitians and physical therapy aides with 18 points or 30 years of age, and nurses with 12 points or 30 years of age.

quired to take union membership in regaining his old position, since the law makes no provision for such conditions as a basis for his re-employment.

In handing down its ruling on vet job rights, draft officials directly clashed with the unions, which have stood for the rehiring of soldiers on a seniority basis, but opposed their re-employment in preference to others with longer working records at affected plants.

LABOR:

Fuel Threat

Secretary Lewis Schwellenbach's new streamlined labor department received its first real test as federal conciliators moved to bring about settlement of the CIO oil workers' demands for a 30 per cent wage increase before a growing strike threat imperiled the nation's fuel supply.

Early negotiations were snagged by the union's demand that discussions be held on an industry-wide basis and the companies' equal insistence that agreements be effected by individual refineries. In asking a 30 per cent wage increase, the oil workers reflected the general CIO aim of maintaining wartime "take-home" pay by bringing 40-hour-per-week wages up to the total of the former 52-hour week.

In other labor trouble, 60,000 northwest AFL lumber workers struck to press demands for a $1.10 hourly minimum compared with the present scale ranging upward from 70 cents, while 15,000 AFL elevator operators and building service employees paralyzed service in over 2,000 New York skyscrapers by walking out in protest of a War Labor board grant of $28.05 for a 44-hour week instead of the $30.15 asked for 40 hours.

Push Fight on Polio

In the mounting drive against polio, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis allotted the unprecedented total of $4,157,814.15 for research, education and the treatment in the year ending last May 31.

As yet no preventive or cure for polio has been found, although it is generally recognized as an infectious, communicable disease caused by a virus.

Materials Measure
The triangle and transparent ruler, which high-school members of the family used in geometry classes, can take a permanent place in the sewing room. A transparent ruler, 6 inches long, with one-eighth inch marks on sides and ends is a great help in measuring hems, seams, and spaces between buttons. A triangle is useful to square pattern corners, such as yokes.

Sleeping Sickness
Mosquitoes are the main source of transmission of sleeping sickness from horse to horse, although some other insects can carry the infection. There is a difference in the virus causing the disease in the eastern and western parts of the country. Salt water mosquitoes are capable of carrying the eastern disease, whereas fresh water mosquitoes do not transmit it. With the western disease, the reverse is true; fresh water mosquitoes transmit the virus and salt water mosquitoes cannot do so.

He does believe that there will be enough non-thinking saps in the 88 counties of Michigan who might be induced to subscribe to the screwy doctrine and to subscribe some of their own money into Smith's trust.

Contrasted to this sort of economic nonsense is some bread-and-butter plain talking and clear thinking by a Port Huron industrialist, F. L. Riggins, president of the Mueller Brass company, the town's leading source of employment and its biggest payroll.

In a full page message recently in the Port Huron Times Herald, Mr. Riggins presented the A-B-Cs about the business and its reconversion problems.

From a 1939 average of 1,261 workers, the Port Huron company increased its employment to a war-time figure of 3,781. Ninety percent of 1,105 Mueller employees in the armed services have informed the boss they want their jobs back.

"Taking out probationers, minors, part time workers and those who have since quit, leaves a total of 4,269 employees who want to work for this company," says Mr. Riggins. "Has Mueller Brass company a problem to face now? Can it do a peace-time business equal to the inflated war-time business which was four times as great as ever before? Can it furnish employment for the vastly increased payroll list, including returned veterans?"

"Again it is undisputed that nobody knows. Every department of management, however, is now devoting its best efforts to that end."

"How can post-war contracts be obtained? We are optimistic in the belief that if common sense and good judgment are exercised by all parties involved, we can get our share and more of business, and attain levels of peacetime business beyond any previous peacetime record of the company. To get this business in preference to our competitors, including all of the large companies in the brass industry, we must be able to sell goods of equal or better quality at the same or lower price. We think these facts are undisputed also."

"Can it be questioned that prices are dependent upon costs? We all know that the government has permitted no increase in the selling prices of our products from 1941 to date. We are still compelled to sell at 1941 prices despite substantial wartime increases in all elements of cost."

"Realizing all business difficulties, we are nevertheless confident that the company can maintain and improve its place in the brass industry if given a fair chance. The next three or four months are months of uncertainties—uncertainties as to costs, as to prices, as to productiveness, and as to business obtainable. The greatest concern to the company and to its employees is that the epidemic of strikes now sweeping the country might unnecessarily strike down our business effort, cripple our company, lose our customers and impair, if not destroy, our ability to provide jobs."

Riggins points out that "there has never been a strike in this company" over such matters as "union contracts or wages." "They have always been settled by the common sense method of collective bargaining with the aid, where necessary, of the War Labor Board, and we believe we can jointly continue to settle these matters by the same methods."

Neither should there be strikes over grievances, Riggins maintains, as "the company has been willing and offers to submit to fair and impartial arbitration any pending disputes over disciplinary action." "Can any fair minded person say that this is not a proper way to settle such matters, rather than by engaging in an economic war, which like all wars, results in a loss to both parties?"

That the present post-war period is one of widespread confusion is evident to any observer.

Some of the self-evident truths surely must include the following: First, war is an economic paradox in that it creates false and artificial prosperity instead of true and natural prosperity. To safeguard the people from enslavement by aggressors, government takes over all production for war needs. Payrolls are financed largely by adding to the national indebtedness—borrowing from the future.

Second, real prosperity is brought about only by a natural increase of production due to greater industrial efficiency—machines and men. This prosperity is measured, not in terms of money, but in an abundance of goods with which to gratify wants of the people.

Third, consuming power ultimately comes from production. In the long run, increased production means increased consumption.

The military war is over. If we are to attain prosperity without bankrupting ourselves by disastrous indebtedness and costly inflation, we must return to the fundamental A-B-Cs of economics.

The Gerald L. K. Smith route is one of sheer nonsense—the road to ruin.

The F. L. Riggins route is one of plain, old-fashioned common sense—the road to prosperity through a cooperative partnership of management and worker whereby differences are settled by collective bargaining and impartial arbitration.

To which voice would you be willing to listen and to follow?

At this period of our journey down the path from war to peace, we come to the end of a false prosperity that was made possible not by consumer purchases but by adding 270 billions to our indebtedness—by borrowing from ourselves.

Surely now, if ever, is the time when we should think before we act.

GERMANY:

Occupation Progresses

Following close on General MacArthur's announcement that no more than 200,000 troops would be needed within the next year to occupy Japan, it was revealed that U. S. authorities hoped to trim the post-war force in Germany to less than 400,000 by next spring and reduce it to skeletal dimensions within a few years.

Disclosure of occupation plans for the shattered Reich coincided with reports that the co-operative attitude of the defeated Germans will permit the early election of local governmental officials with balloting on a county and state level following.

Meanwhile, the army revealed that it was training hand-picked German prisoners of war to aid in the administration and policing of occupied territory. Selected after careful screening, the PWs are taught American and German history, the English language and military government, and also are being acclimated to democratic surroundings.

BIG FIVE:

No Results

Failing of settlement of one important problem, the Big Five council of foreign ministers meeting in London to map postwar Europe moved for adjournment, with possibilities for the creation of peace treaties with former axis satellites may be directly negotiated between the U. S., Britain and Russia.

The magnitude of the task of reconciling the conflicting interests of the Allied powers in the European theater was reflected in the difficulty of disposing of pre-war Italian colonies and strategic islands of the Mediterranean; reshaping the Italian-Yugoslav border; drawing up peace treaties for the Russian dominated Balkans, and internationalization of the vital waterways.

While the foreign ministers of the Big Five were scheduled to reassemble in November to receive the recommendations of their deputies on settlement of the thorny issues, Russian opposition to French and Chinese participation in the deliberations raised the possibility that direct negotiations between Washington, D. C., London and Moscow may be established as an alternative.

U. S. Gets New Auto

The most colorful mass productionist of World War II, Henry Kaiser announced arrangements for his entrance into the low-priced automobile field in league with the Graham-Paige interests at the sprawling Willow Run plant originally set up for manufacture of B-24s.

To effect the greatest efficiency and economy, Graham-Paige will also produce its medium-priced car and line of tractors, farm implements and rototiller along with the new vehicle at Willow Run. Joseph

W. Frazer, president of Graham-Paige, will act in the same official capacity in the new company to be called the Kaiser-Frazer corporation, and Graham-Paige will share in a 250,000 purchase of stock valued at $5,000,000 in the new firm.

Indicative of the cost of establishing a modern mass-production automobile factory, Kaiser-Frazer will invest $15,000,000 to be received from total private and public stock sales as follows: $2,000,000 for machinery and equipment; $1,750,000 for tools, dies, jigs and fixtures; $1,500,000 prepaid expenses; $1,750,000 deferred charges, and $8,028,800 for general corporate purposes.

ATOMIC BOMB:

Future Use

While congress worked up steam over the future of the atomic bomb, Pres. Harry S. Truman disclosed that the lawmakers would be given full responsibility for the control of the devastating explosive.

Mr. Truman's decision to submit the issue to congress came as Representative Aarons (Rep., Ill.) told the house that he had learned that an even more destructive missile than the one which razed Hiroshima had been developed. Calling upon the government to establish a scientific board to devise a defensive weapon against the atomic bomb, Aarons said one such explosive could kill millions of city-dwellers.

Meanwhile, Senator Downey (Dem., Calif.) asked that the U. S. turn over the atomic bomb to the United Nations organization so that general possession would lessen the chances of its military development while at the same time encouraging further scientific research for an adaptation to peaceful usage.

Church Warning

Meanwhile the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America called upon the government "to state now its intention to place the new discovery under a world-wide authority as soon as all states will submit to effective controls," and to "press for such controls."

The statement also warned that unless international control can be achieved in the short period while the United States alone possesses atomic bombs, it may be difficult or impossible to achieve.

Vacuum Bristles

Here's how to determine whether your bristles in your vacuum cleaner are long enough to sweep the carpet. Lay a card across the nozzle. If bristles touch card, they'll touch the carpet. Too short? Learn how to lower the brush—there's probably a pin or slot mechanism or a flat screw at the ends of the roll.

Washing Woolens
Woolen blankets should be washed in warm water with a neutral soap. The blankets rinsed in warm water the same temperature as that used for washing. Instead of wringing them, hang on the line to allow water to drip off. The ends should be squeezed occasionally to remove excess water. Blankets washed in this way will be soft and fluffy. Striped blankets are hung so that the stripes lie lengthwise. Thus if there is a tendency for the color to run, it will run toward the end of the stripe, not onto the blanket.

The Saginaw OPA district office announces that, despite rumors to the contrary, rationing sugar coupons issued do not expire until Nov. 30 of this year. The expiration date of the coupon is on the face of the coupon itself. It was also pointed out, however, that any person desiring an issuance of sugar for rationing must make application at their local War Price and Rationing Board before Oct. 15 which is the deadline for acceptance for rationing sugar applications for this year.

Shoes.

Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 airplane stamps in Book 3 good until further notice. Take Book 3 when shopping for shoes.

Food Waste

In normal times Americans waste 125 million pounds of food daily from farm to table. This quantity is equivalent to one-fourth of the food consumed in this country.

*Orange Honey Nut Cake.

2 cups sifted cake flour

3/4 teaspoon baking powder

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup butter or shortening

1/2 cup sugar

1/2 cup honey

2 egg yolks

1/2 cup orange juice

2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

1/2 cup nuts, if desired

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add honey slowly and blend. Add egg yolks and beat thoroughly. Add flour, alternately with orange juice, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Fold in egg whites. Bake in two greased

9-inch layer cake pans in a moderate (350-degree) oven 30 to 35

minutes.

There are any number of cookies which will keep easily and travel well even if they travel far. Here are suggestions for those camp and overseas boxes:

Honey Chocolate Chip Cookies.

1/2 cup butter or substitute

1/2 cup honey

1 small egg

1 cup sifted flour

1 teaspoon baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon vanilla

1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate chips

1/2 cup nuts, chopped

Cream butter and honey until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Sift flour, baking powder and salt twice. Add flour mixture to butter mixture; then add vanilla and blend all well. Fold in chocolate chips and nuts. Chill and drop by spoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a fairly hot (375-degree) oven for 12 minutes.

Honey Pecan Cookies.

1/2 cup butter or substitute

1 cup honey

1 egg

1/2 cup sour milk

2 cups flour

1/2 teaspoon soda

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup pecans

1/2 cup each of raisins, candied

cherries and dates

Cream butter and honey. Add the egg, sour milk, flour which has been sifted with soda and salt. Add the fruits and nuts. Drop on greased tins and bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes.

Spicy and sweet are these fruit spice bar cookies. They are easy to pack and they mellow with age:

Fruit Spice Bars.

1 cup sifted flour

1/2 teaspoon soda

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon ginger

1/2 cup shortening

1/2 cup brown sugar

1/2 cup molasses

2 eggs, beaten

1/2 teaspoon vanilla

1 cup raisins

1/2 cup nuts

Sift together flour, soda, salt and ginger. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add molasses and blend well. Add eggs and vanilla extract. Mix well. Add flour mixture gradually to creamed mixture, blending well. Fold in raisins and nuts. Spread batter into a greased pan 7x11 inches. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven

Cut in bars.

Send It Overseas!

It won't be long now before you can start those Christmas presents on their way to the soldiers overseas. Of course, you can send baked goods at any time to the boys in camp here in this country; and sailors and marines stationed overseas can also receive packages at any time.

For your local service centers,

you can bake luscious, frosted cakes, but you will have to reserve cakes that will pack well and travel easily for "over there." It has been found that cakes with fruits and nuts stay fresh longer than plain ones.

Use frosting that doesn't rub off easily or crack if you are sending the cake to some camp in this country. For overseas, it's best to send unfrosted cakes.

The use of cake flour will give a cake fine grain, and such a cake will not crumble easily during shipment.

And do pack both cakes and cookies as tightly and securely as you can to assure their arriving in the best possible condition.

Here are some of the nominations for cakes and cookies that pack well and travel easily. The first is an easily mixed fudge type cake:

Fudge Nut Cake.

2 cups sifted cake flour

1 teaspoon soda

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup vegetable shortening

1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed

1 1/2 cups milk

1 teaspoon vanilla

2 eggs, unbeaten

3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted over boiling water

1 cup coarsely chopped nuts

Sift flour once, measure into a sifter with soda and salt. Have shortening at room temperature, mix or stir to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add brown sugar, forcing through a sieve to remove lumps, if nec-
