

Elkland War Chest Drive on Oct. 30

Solicitors Will Travel the Village and Rural Areas for the $1,985 Quota

Elkland Township's War Chest drive will be made on Tuesday, Oct. 30, when solicitors will travel the village and rural areas and receive the donations of Elkland township citizens who are asked to cooperate and do their share in meeting the township's $1,985.00 quota.

This amount is $335.00 more than last year. Thirteen hundred ninety dollars are for the United War fund, $295.00 are for the Boy Scouts and $250.00 for the Girl Scouts. Scout subscriptions are solicited only in the communities in the county where there are Scout units. That accounts for some townships having smaller quotas than last year and other communities being asked to subscribe larger amounts, says Frank Reid, War Chest drive chairman.

For Our Millions Still in Service. V-J Day hasn't stopped the work of the U. S. O. They've got a bigger job to do than ever.

The boys still in service will tell you that the battles with boredom are tough, too. And the boys are learning just how tough they can be. Occupation troops in Germany and the Far East. Troops waiting their chance to get a ship home. Wounded veterans waiting to get well enough to leave hospitals.

That is why U. S. O. camp shows have been asked to increase their entertainment programs to keep up the boys' morale. U. S. O. Concluded on page 8.

Boy Scouts Hosts at Barbecue Thursday

Assistant Scoutleader Ray Fleenor decided upon the date of the Boy Scout barbecue which was held last Thursday night on the Scout camp ground, a half mile west and three-quarters of a mile south of town. As a "picker" of ideal weather, Mr. Fleenor's record in this instance was excellent, and on a par with this was the appetizing food which was served to the troop's guests, who were members of the Rotary club and their wives and parents of the Scouts. Delicious ham prepared in barbecue style, beans baked in a pit, with potato salads prepared by mothers of Scouts were served in abundance. Scoutmaster Harold Oatley with members of the Scout committee and mothers of troop members assisted the Scouts in their preparations for the event.

James Wallace led the Scouts in group singing and in a string burning contest the Rotary representatives were winners over several groups of Scout patrols.

Glenn McCullough announced a Scout court of honor which will be held in the high school auditorium here on Nov. 14.

Local leaders will return to their own communities and over 450 homemakers will receive the same lesson from their leaders. Community groups not having the local leader plan will receive the lesson from Miss Omlor, the home demonstration agent.

Geo. Rolston Buys Old Landmark

George Rolston of New Greenleaf purchased the frame building on the lot on East Main street sold a few months ago by Manley Asher to Brinker & Armstrong. The sale was made Wednesday afternoon and Mr. Rolston started at once to tear down the structure.

Brinker & Armstrong, who are erecting a new building for a lumber warehouse, had planned to leave the frame building on the site until spring and use it as an office. They will now complete the warehouse in its entirety this fall. The building, constructed of cement blocks with a front of buff brick, will cover 66 by 120 feet.

The frame building sold Wednesday formerly stood on the corner of Main and Oak streets and was occupied for many years for business purposes. In 1888, Howe & Bigelow conducted their hardware business there. The building was moved from that location when N. Bigelow erected the brick block on that site in 1901.

Cpl. Stephen Dodge Takes Up Quarters in Tomb to Escape Dangers of Okinawa Typhoon

There was rejoicing in the Stephen Dodge home in Novesta on Wednesday when a letter arrived from their son, Cpl. Stephen Dodge, from Okinawa, telling them he was all right. The letter was dated Oct. 15 and reads as follows:

"I have a little time right now so I think I had better drop you a line or two to let you know I am all right.

"You have probably heard over the radio or read in the paper what we were going on here all last week. We had a bad typhoon here. It started at dinner time Tuesday and it really did come. We lost everything that we had; our tents all blew away and all of our clothes went with them. There was nothing you could do to hold the tents down. At first we were out trying to hold the tents with ropes and the ropes would break off. So you can see how hard the wind was blowing.

"They say that we had a 120 MPH wind but I think it was going faster than that. It was raining so hard you couldn't see any-

Fire Interrupts Family Reunion

Krapp home on East Houghton street was unceremoniously interrupted late Saturday afternoon when a passerby entered the house hurriedly and announced that the residence was on fire. The damage was not extensive.

Next Friday evening a church family supper will be held at which Rev. H. I. Voelker of Detroit, a former pastor here, will speak. The following Sunday three services will be held when Dr. Elmer D. Riebel of the Evangelical Theological Seminary at Naperville, Ill., will give addresses.

Irene Hiller Bride of Sgt. Francis Karner

St. Agatha church at Gageton was the scene of the wedding of Miss Irene Harriett Hiller and Sgt. Francis Michael Karner on Saturday morning, Oct. 20. The Rt. Rev. Mesgr. John McCullough performed the ceremony at nine o'clock in the presence of 100 guests. White and yellow chrysanthemums and lighted tapers decorated the church.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor-length white taffeta gown with skirt of net, a sweetheart neckline, and elbow-length sleeves. Her fingertip veil fell from a white crown, and her arm bouquet was fashioned of chrysanthemums, roses and an orchid.

Miss Florence Karner of Gageton, sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant. Her floor-length gown was of pink with a matching shoulder-length veil and an arm bouquet of pink roses.

The groom's brother, John Karner, of Gageton, was best man. After the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. Twenty-five members of the immediate families and near relatives of the couple were guests. Later Sgt. and Mrs. Karner left on a short wedding trip.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Don Duford and Miss Marguerite Baker of Pontiac.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hiller, of Cass City, was graduated with the class of 1940 from Cass City high school. For the past three years she has been employed in Pontiac.

Sgt. Karner, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Karner, of Gageton, will report to Fort Sheridan next week where he expects to be discharged.

Tuscola's Loan Quota Is $950,000

Victory Bond Drive Opens on Next Monday, October 29

The Victory Loan drive will begin on Monday, Oct. 29, and will continue until Dec. 8 for all but the "E" bonds. This class of bonds may be purchased until Dec. 31.

Tuscola county's quota is $950,000. The quotas in the 11 districts in the county are:

Akron-Wisner	$66,500
Caro	190,000
Cass City	114,000
Fairgrove-Gilford	57,000
Gagetown	38,000
Kingston	38,000
Mayville	114,000
Millington	38,000
Richville-Reese	66,500
Unionville	57,000
Vassar	171,000
Total	$950,000

The national quota is 11 billion dollars. Of this amount four billions are expected from individuals in purchasing other than "E" bonds and two billions are expected from "E" bonds.

Here are some facts why the Victory Bond drive must be subscribed:

- 1—We must pay the bills for munitions still unpaid.
 - 2—We must pay the cost of guarding Germany and Japan.
 - 3—We must pay for the care of our wounded and disabled.
 - 4—We must pay off and provide benefits for eight millions of veterans to be discharged by next July.
 - 5—We must keep the lid on price inflation.
- The Army estimates that as late as July 1, 1946, some 1,815,000 of our finest soldiers will remain on guard overseas, backed up by 685,000 in the U. S. A., and 500,000 in hospitals, en route to and from overseas or in the process of discharge. Concluded on page 4.

Cass City Village Library to Move

At a meeting of the Cass City Village Library board Wednesday afternoon, it was decided to move the library from the room on the second floor of the Wood & Schenck building to the Council Rooms on the ground floor. The change will be made early next week.

Notice.

The State Board of Health advised the Village Council that the Village Dump south of town was in a bad condition and suggested that we fence the dump and permit scrap, garbage, etc., to be unloaded only under supervision.

In accordance with their advice, we have cleaned the Dump, graveled the road and closed the entrance. The Dump will be opened on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 1 to 6 p. m., at which time a village employee will be on hand to see that the rubbish is properly placed.

The co-operation of all users of the Dump is requested.

Anyone who places scrap or garbage outside the limits of the Dump will be prosecuted. By order of the Village Council.—Advertisement2t

"Dizzy" Trout Hunted Here Wednesday

Sgt. Lawrence Copland and two fellow members of the traffic department of the Detroit police force, Arthur Blum and Lambert Arnold, are hunting pheasants in the territory here where "Larry" spent his younger days. Wednesday they had as a hunting companion Paul ("Dizzy") Trout, famed baseball pitcher of the Detroit Tigers. "Dizzy" had recently returned from South Dakota where he had bagged the hunter's limit of 40 pheasants. He found the birds much less plentiful here. In fact, none of the quartet was boasting of the number of birds dropped by them on Wednesday.

Two Dairy Meetings Scheduled at Vassar And Kingston

Two dairy meetings are scheduled for discussion of artificial breeding associations — one at Kingston high school at 8:00 p. m., Thursday, Nov. 1, and the other at Vassar high school at 8:00 p. m., Friday, Nov. 2.

The meeting at Kingston is the second one held there for the purpose of organizing such an association and the Vassar meeting will be the first in a series held there. All dairy farmers interested in improving their herds by use of better sires are invited to attend these meetings.

The immediate goal to reach in the organization of one of these artificial breeding associations is to enroll enough dairy herds of one breed to total at least 300 cows. Since Holsteins are most numerous in Tuscola county more of them will be enrolled than cattle of other breeds. If 300 Holsteins, 100 Guernseys and 100 Jerseys are enrolled the service may be obtained from the three different breeds of sires.

An initial membership fee of $5 per head and a financing fee of $1 per cow are the first costs to the dairy herd owner. Then a $5 service fee for each cow bred is the only other cost. The local associations will be managed by elected directors, and an inseminator-manager will be hired to do the actual inseminating work.

The salary of the friend of the court was increased from $1,500 to $1,800 a year, but the supervisors did not take any action on raising the salaries of deputy sheriffs as requested by Sheriff Julius Goslin. A tax levy of 5 1/2 mills will be made for county purposes, five mills for the county general fund and one-half mill for the county jail sinking fund.

MICHIGAN AND THE OLD NORTHWEST.

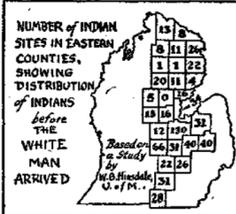

Edited by Milo M. Quaffe
By Luke Scheer

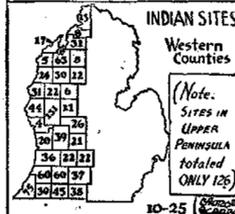

American Indian tribes may be grouped, as their speech differed by locality.

Before white men arrived Indians usually lived where food was most at hand.

Their food included meats, corn, beans, wild rice, pumpkins and berries.

Where soil was not fertile they were fewer; they moved as seasons changed.

IT IS THE Common Sense Rule of all enterprises, that the producer must have a profit, based on a cost-plus profit, and a profit and cost plus the cost of necessary labor. Only in organization, then, the farmers have a voice in determining the final price, just as final price is determined in every other aspect of nation is striving for.

Whether we deal in beef or hogs, sheep or chickens, dairy products or vegetables, grains or cotton, there must be a floor under farm prices not less than the cost plus a fair return for our work.

Only thus may be had reasonable compensation for our job of feeding and clothing the nation. No honest man wants more than that and only a fool would be content with less.

THE RIGHT TRACTOR FOR THE PARTICULAR JOB

THE proverbial Jack-of-all-trades was master of none. The modern world of science and technology passed him by.

The same principle applies to farm tractors. The tractor that does a wide variety of jobs unsatisfactorily can't possibly produce the greatest results at the least cost in any job.

But that's what the farmer—particularly the small operator—has got to do to meet postwar competition: he's got to produce the most food possible with the least effort and, consequently, at the lowest cost.

The farmer with 10 acres in truck crops needs one kind of tractor. The farmer with 100 acres in wheat alone needs another kind—or, as is usually the case, two or more different tractors. The tractor which does a good job on the Great Plains may be useless in the rice territory. And so it goes.

Conditions of climate, the lay of the land, and the character of soils in the different parts of this vast country, together with wide variations in the nature of crops and the size of operations, combine to produce wide differences in the requirements for tractors. Harvester's policy is to meet all these requirements.

That is why Harvester's postwar line includes a great variety of Farmalls and other specialized tractors and attachments rather than a single tractor with a single system of tools. Every tractor in the line was developed after scientific research and testing under actual operating conditions showed the specifications needed for efficiency and economy.

Every Harvester-built tractor is the right machine for its particular job.

"We get our hot water ON TAP"

"For years we have been accustomed to the convenience of electricity in our home. Our all-electric kitchen has given me many extra hours of enjoyment with Bobby, and time for just plain relaxation too. Now we have an automatic electric water heater, and do we enjoy it! Gone forever are the slow ways of the past, heating water for dishes, baths and washes. Today with our water heater John has plenty of hot water on tap for his morning shave and shower. I have plenty of hot water at all times for the household chores, and young Bobby doesn't raise half the fuss about his bath now. Yes, our life is more complete and more enjoyable now that we get our hot water on tap."

Water heaters are not generally available for sale now. A few are being manufactured and distributed. It will be to your advantage to have your name on your electrical dealer's list, so that you will be able to get one at the earliest possible time.

A home wherein the owner has ample opportunity to enjoy the many facilities for relaxation and comfort that he has had built in, is the all-electric home. The time-, health- and labor-saving advantages of electricity say, "Turn on the electric life."

Pigeon Brassieres to Be Cut Out Hereafter

3 Choose Death To Imprisonment

They Were Caught When Japs Invaded Moro.

NEW YORK.—Three American civilians chose death to imprisonment when the Japanese invaded the rich Moro island citadel of Jolo on Christmas eve, 1941.
 Most prominent perhaps was J. Scott McCormick, an American educator who spent many years in the Philippines and played an important role in establishing American educational methods there. In 1941 McCormick gave up his government post in Manila and came to Jolo to help educate the Moros. He was made superintendent of schools. The Boy Scout movement was a pet interest of his and McCormick became Boy Scout commissioner for Sulu and Mindanao.
 When it was plain the Japs intended landing a strong force on Jolo, Moro teachers implored their American "superintendent" to run away. They promised to sail him to a distant island where he could hide among friends.
 But McCormick refused. On the day of the Japanese landing he dressed himself in full Scout regalia. Then he went to Jolo high school and set his papers in order. Again teachers begged him to leave but the superintendent said he would not desert his post.
 He left the schoolhouse with a few Moro friends and returned to his home. It was there that the Japanese soldiers found him.
 When they broke in the door they found McCormick standing proud and erect, without a weapon. His khaki Boy Scout uniform which he had chosen for his last hours proved a death warrant. The Japanese ridiculed him with bullets.
 Perry Macklan, an American planter, met death quite differently. When invasion became imminent, Macklan provided his wife and children with food, and sent them to an old Moro stronghold in the mountains. He stayed behind.
 Two days later the Japanese sent two small landing craft loaded with soldiers to Macklan's place. As they streamed ashore they were met with a fusillade of small arms fire. Six Nipponese died before Macklan was killed.
 The third American, Antoni Frakian, also a planter, never left the streets of Jolo. When the first Japanese soldier approached him, Frakian spit in his eye. He was immediately shot.

Heroic Pup Gives Life To Save Two From Fire

CHICAGO.—Edwin Lederer, 27, of 4245 Augusta blvd., owes his life and that of his 17-month-old daughter, Alvaline, to their pet collie puppy, Doo-doo.
 When fire spread through the rear of the three-story brick building, Lederer was awakened by the dog's barking and smelled smoke. He snatched the child from her crib and ran down the front stairway to safety from his top-floor apartment. Eight other persons escaped from the building.
 Lederer then attempted to re-enter the burning building and rescue Doo-doo, but was restrained by firemen. Later the dog's body was found among charred debris on the back porch. He apparently died of suffocation.
 Lederer, whose wife, Laverne, 22, gave birth to a girl recently at the Illinois Masonic hospital, said: "We're sure going to miss that puppy. He was only three months old, but he saved our lives."

Hires Taxi to Take Him To River Bank for Suicide

NEW YORK.—A man who identified himself as Elmer Sayre, 21, a discharged veteran, was held for observation at Bellevue hospital recently after hiring a cab to take him to the East river so he could jump in.
 Cabbie William Donegan said Sayre hopped into his taxi and said: "Drive me to the East river. I want to jump in." Then his fare asked him, Donegan said, "Is the East river good and deep?"
 Donegan said, "Sure," as he pulled up in front of a police station.

Wave of Nazi Suicides Follows Potsdam Decree

 The broadcast said 1,200 persons took their lives in Berlin in one week. Leipzig had 600 suicides, Hamburg 458, Frankfurt "a larger figure" and Cologne 300.

"They are also running out of food here on the island. The boats haven't been able to get in here lately. So I hear that they are starting to fly food and tents to the island in B-29's. I hope that they hurry up because the food we are getting now isn't very good. I've been sitting here thinking of what today is. It's the first day of hunting season, isn't it? What I wouldn't give to be there right now! But it can't be this year; maybe next year I will make it. Here's hoping so anyway!"

 A fair estimate of the cost of bringing our forces home is $1,400,000,000.

"We can never repay the debt we owe the wounded and the handicapped who must look to us for help," says C. L. Bougher, chairman of the U. S. Treasury War Finance committee of Tuscola county. "We can however do our best to help. We can supply the money for hospitalization, treatment, artificial limbs and vocational training. Payments for such must come from monies you invest in Victory bonds, so be sure to buy your share and even more. Remember, you are investing, not giving."

"They finished their job, let's finish ours" is the slogan for the Victory Loan drive, a significant and appropriate slogan—one that each and every American citizen should keep foremost in his thoughts.

Michigan Mirror The Michigan merry-go-round continues to whirl at an ever-increasingly dizzy pace. It's the promised post-war world that has become suddenly a period of emotional lullaby after years of war excitement and an income lullaby after years of push, inflated paychecks financed chiefly by piling blindly more and more billions upon the public's debt.

Michigan Mirror (continued) From the atomic bomb down to matters of lesser import, public confusion reigns supreme. Washington leadership is anything but positive; in fact, woefully wobbly. Labor and management have their respective viewpoints. Class hatreds are being revived now that the war is over and the pressure for victory has come abruptly to an end.

Michigan Mirror (continued) Headlines of metropolitan journals vary between a revolting ax murder and new labor strikes. It's the great day of peace! Employees of Consumers Power company go on strike, rejecting a compromise offer of a mediator, all because the proposed pay increase fell short two cents of the union's demand.

war bonds. Everyone is anxious to buy this and that as soon as possible. The stage is set for a genuine period of good times for everyone who really wants to work.

Then comes the UAW demand for 52 hours' pay for 40 hours' work, or the equivalent of a 30 per cent increase in the worker's income computed at overtime rates for 48 hours' war work. Now the UAW doesn't expect to get 30 per cent, but that's their bargaining bid.

"If you don't give us 30 per cent, we'll call a strike vote," is the ultimatum.

And so strikes are coming.

Well, where does the Michigan farmer enter this picture?

That's what a lot of growers would like to know. They are being advised on reliable authority to expect a decline in the price of their farm products in the post-war world, although temporary new highs may be attained during the interim.

History reminds us that farm commodity prices, following the November 11 armistice in 1918, sagged slightly and then went up to a peak in the early summer of 1920. Then prices crashed.

Post-war inflation then was of short duration. Many farmers paid dearly for speculation in land. The same logic applies today, regardless of hopes for perpetual Washington price controls and what-not. The government is now committed to maintain farm commodity prices at 85-90 per cent of parity until December 31, 1947.

Farm experts advise that low cost, efficient producers will continue to make money in the post-war world. But they can expect less income, not more.

If such is the case, is it not reasonable to predict that farm unrest will be aggravated by a further unbalancing of the national economy?

We use the word "further" on good authority. At least, we assume that when it comes to facts, three of Michigan's top educators—Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven of the University of Michigan, Dr. John A. Hanna of Michigan State College and Dr. Eugene B. Elliott of the state department of public instruction—know what they're talking about!

Consider then the significance of the following words which appeared in a joint statement signed by these educators for "Rural Michigan," a work book available to Michigan citizens through the generosity of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek.

Ponder them well:

"For the past decade or two, farmers and small town residents have comprised a fifth of the nation's population. They have received only about one-tenth of the national income. Such 'short-changing' should not be brushed off by statements regarding the values of farmer's home ownership, his household partnership, his life in the out-of-doors, or his relatively independent mode of life.

"In the rural areas of Michigan live one and three quarter millions of people. It must be the primary concern of all to make life in these sections richer, more attractive, more satisfying, more secure. That some of these essentials are lacking is manifested by the large number of people—young people especially—who migrate to the city for comforts and privileges denied them on the farm."

And so we come to an interesting question, as labor strike clouds grow black on the Michigan horizon. Here it is:

If Michigan farmers were already getting less than their share of the national income and if they can expect less income in the postwar world, instead of more, how much less would they have if work wages of organized industrial workers are pushed upward? Wages are prices. You can't boost one without boosting the other. Farmers are not going to stand idly by and let the city worker, because of the power of a union and the threat of a strike, get a larger share of the national income.

That much we confidently predict.

Carl Kolb gave a worthy demonstration of his bowling ability on Oct. 15 as he pieced together games of 207, 220, 223 for a count of 650 pins which may easily stand as high totals for the balance of the season. Carl had but one error in this series when he lost the No. 6 pin in trying to spare in the 8th frame of his second game but he recovered quickly to post a 220 game and finish his final game with a brilliant 223 count. 30 frames he furnished 19 strikes which helped him to gather in this big total. Carl's bowling helped his team in winning both ends of the team prizes, while he grabbed the individual prize for the best overaverage for three games. He ran his average up to 177 and landed himself as runner up on the high ten list and in easy striking distance of the number one spot. Cecil Larkin was the winner for the one game overaverage prize. Landon's team who have been leading the league since opening night and had gotten out in front by three full games saw their margin cut down considerably as the inspired Gross aggregation fell up on them to take two out of three games in their last series and cut their lead down to just one measly little game. Dillman's Five clung to second position when they out-rolled a weakened Reid team to take three straight. Larkin and Kolb teams were two more that increased their standings by winning all their games.

Three members clicked in with sufficient totals to place them on the weekly honor list. They were Kolb 650, Reid 576, Pinney 569. Only five 200 games were rolled and Kolb collected three of these, 207, 220, 223, while Larkin had a 212 and Pinney exploded a 205 counter. Retherford, away to a poor start at the beginning of the season, has finally injected himself into No. 10 spot on the high ten list, replacing the Mann from the Nestle's Co.
