270 Viewed the Rose Bowl Screen Picture Here Tuesday

Two hundred ten members and guests of the Community Club enjoyed a chicken dinner Tuesday evening served by women of Sunshine Methodist Church and took great pleasure in viewing the screen production of the Rose Bowl game. The pictures were made the more interesting by comments of Clifford Keen, wrestling coach and assistant football coach, who accompanied the University of Michigan team. Mr. Keen called attention to various plays and members of the two competing teams as the game progressed on the screen. Two shorts, one showing scenes in the magnificent parade of the tournament of Roses on New Year's Day and the other depicting the arrival of the university team in the West, were likewise enjoyed. The Cass City audience was among the first 250,000 people to see this picture which has been in great demand since its first appearance.

About 60 non-members of the club came to the school auditorium to see the film.

Eighteen athletes of the local high school were guests at the dinner meeting Tuesday and were introduced to the audience by Coach Arthur Paddy.

Townships Help Finance Highway Maintenance

According to figures compiled in the highway study report recently released, $32,815,553.00 more road revenue was provided in Michigan in 1927 and 1928 than in 1946 of which 76% was raised by township and county taxation.

During this same period the number of registered vehicles has doubled and the number of miles travelled by the average vehicles in 1946 was four times as much as in 1928.

To assist the County Road Commissions during the past year, 374 townships in 52 counties throughout the state have set aside various amounts of money to help finance both maintenance and construction programs.

Different plans have been set up in various counties ranging from amounts set up for snow removal to the sum of $126,300, which has been set up by 14 townships in Kent County for a construction program wholly financed by the townships. In Sanilac County a sum of $58,800.00 has been allocated to finance the total cost of construction of McNitt roads improvement. Townships in Huron County have set up $48,237.00 to be matched by the County Road Commission.

In Tuscola County several of the line townships have been cooperating with the road commission in both snow removal and gravel resurfacing. Up to February 15, the road commission had placed 52,000 cubic yards of gravel on various roads throughout the county. Several township boards have already stated that they intend to continue this program in 1948.

According to a recent survey the sum of $1,104,304.00 has been appropriated by the townships in the 52 counties in the state which are participating.

VETERANNEWS

From the OFFICE OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS LANSING

Coordination Is Important Phase Of OVA Activities

The problems confronting veterans fall into every known category. An important phase of the Office of Veterans' Affairs activities is the coordination of the services of more than 100 state government agencies, and the many federal and private agencies.

In order to assist veterans with their varied and complex problems, it is necessary that there exists some one central agency to which veterans may turn. It behooves this agency to first know which agency or agencies have services bearing upon the problem at hand. It then becomes important that good public relations have been established between the central veteran agency and the agencies whose services are needed and that contacts have been made to assure proper cooperation.

The legislature foresaw this need when it created the Office of Veterans' Affairs and said it shall "provide a central agency to which the veteran may turn," it shall "collect data and information as to facilities and services available to veterans;" it shall "coordinate the programs of state agencies which may properly be utilized. . .;" it shall "provide a central contact between federal agencies. . .state agencies;" it shall "provide such services to veterans as not otherwise offered by federal agencies."

In its wisdom the legislature established the OVA in the execu-

ONE DID ITS PART

A CITY merchant is inordinately proud of his small suburban farm, from which he commutes daily. One day he was proudly conducting a visitor over his rural acres.

"You have a nice little place here," the visitor remarked.

"Yes, I think I have," was the reply.

"A nice garden?"

"Yes."

"And some fine chickens."

"Especially fine chickens."

"You like chickens very much?" asked the visitor.

"Indeed, I do!" was the enthusiastic reply. "I tell you it is fine to take a basket every morning and go out after eggs."

At this point the little daughter of the amateur farmer brought the proceedings to a close by brightly chiming in. "Yes, sir, and sometimes we find one!"

Need Running Water

Running water still is lacking in 75 per cent of the farm homes of the nation. Only 5 per cent of city homes lack running water. A farm family of five with a fair amount of livestock uses about 300 tons of water in a year if they have to pump and carry it by hand. If the farm had running water and electric pumps the same family would use probably twice as much water and have none of the effort of transporting tons of water by hand.

Hold on the Shingles

Tests made at University of Washington laboratories show that it takes a gale greater than 85 miles an hour to blow shingles off a roof when applied over sheathing of Douglas fir plywood.

Infra-Red Ray for Cotton.

The newest wrinkle in cotton ginning is the use of infra-red rays to dry moist cotton. The idea is to keep a constant heat all through the ginning process. The cotton is heated while going through the extractor and stands. A battery of 32 infra-red lights is set up on each unit. By the time the cotton passes through the press there is little moisture left.

Good Soil Increases Farm Crop Yields Tests Reveal Value Of Proper Nutrients

High crop yields per acre on the farm, like mass production in industry, are the secret of financial success, according to Emil Truog, professor of soils at University of Wisconsin.

"It costs no more for seed and tillage - usually the main expenses in crop production - to grow a $50 crop than a $25 crop," he declares.

Wisconsin tests show that additional crop yields resulting from heavy fertilization cost only $2 to $3 per ton for alfalfa and $2 to 15 cents per bushel for corn and oats.

"The extra cost of a larger yield per acre lies simply in the Proper fertilization has paid on thousands of farms, whether applied to corn, wheat, oats, soybeans, cotton or any other crop.

additional fertility removed from the soil. But even this is partly compensated for in the case of legumes by the greater amounts of nitrogen the bigger crop supplies to the soil.

"High acre yields are also the secret of success in erosion control and soil conservation. When yields on less erodible land are doubled or tripled through adequate liming and heavy fertilization, a bigger acreage of more erodible lands can be returned to forests and permanent grass. That means more and better food for all."

Herds and Flocks

Damp litter in laying houses frequently results in colds and other diseases. Dampness around water containers can be eliminated in pens with running water by putting a drain pipe through the floor and setting the watering pan on a frame over the drain pipe.

Dry litter pays off.

Feed is wasted when animals die. A pullet that dies in December represents a loss of 40 pounds of feed. The loss of a newborn pig represents a loss of 140 pounds of feed.

To avoid excessive loss of butterfat in skim milk in winter, run enough hot water through the separator bowl so it will come out the cream and skim milk spouts. Do this as soon as separator is up to normal speed.

Moldy or inferior corn is less likely to cause trouble when fed to cattle than when fed to horses and mules.

Mechanized Hog Farm Makes Pig Raising Easy

A fully modernized and mechanized hog farm can be so rigged that one man can handle 100 sows and bring to market each year 1,500 to 2,000 hogs—a half-million pounds of pork on the hoof, according to Dr. Waldo Semon of the B. F. Goodrich company.

This is possible by mechanized means of conveyor belts, chutes and other devices. Tests show, he said, that rubber-tired tractors and other farm vehicles require only 40 to 50 per cent as much pulling power on plowed ground or sod as do steel wheels, and can plow a field in 25 per cent less time and with 25 per cent less fuel consumption.

Deep Litter Will Help Keep Laying House Dry

Deep litter will help keep well-insulated and well-ventilated laying houses dry this winter, says Iowa State college. Not only will there be more eggs to put in the crate, but also the house need not be cleaned as frequently if the litter and droppings are kept dry. A deep litter keeps the floor dry because it develops heat as it slowly decomposes in the laying house, insuring better flock health.

Synthetic Rubber Alloy

Alloyed with certain plastics, synthetic rubber will be used in great quantities in the future. They form a tough, resilient floor tile which is unaffected by oils and grease.

Inflation Pinches Most of Europe

Governments Fail to Halt Rising Prices Through Strict Control.

WASHINGTON.—In the markets where it takes a lot more money than most people have to buy the things they need, the drachma of Greece, the zloty of Finland, the franc, the pound and all the currencies of Europe today are only shadows of their former selves.

Inflationary pressures are pinching almost all of the continent. In most countries the governments have been fighting a losing battle against rising prices despite efforts at strict control.

With a few notable exceptions, newspaper correspondents throughout Europe report the same situation: Too much money chasing too few goods—and mostly it is a case of too few goods, a legacy of years of wealth-destroying war.

Russia, using a device already employed in Hungary, France, Italy, Austria and other countries, resorted to the drastic measure of revaluing the currency by requiring all rubles in cash to be turned in at a rate of 10 old rubles for one of the new. The result has been a drastic curtailment of money in circulation. There was a somewhat less drastic curtailment of bank accounts and outstanding bonds.

Russia Takes Action.
By simultaneously decreasing a broad reduction in prices and by maintaining the same wages as before in her controlled economy, Russia effected an almost immediate drop in food and many other prices.

Drastic wrenchings of postwar economies also were reported from other countries in the Soviet sphere.

Romania decreed heavy taxation to reduce the amount of money in circulation and bring it nearer the realistic level of industrial and agricultural production. Living costs, although still high, plunged sharply.

Czechoslovakia, plagued by extreme food and clothing shortages, levied heavy new taxes to halt inflationary buying and help pay the mounting national debt—up nearly $2,500,000 in a year.

Italy's budget czar, Luigi Einaudi, was probably the only government financier in all Europe worrying about deflation.

Got Quick Action.
Einaudi's rigid credit restrictions to curb speculation and his devaluation of the lire to the black market rate, have at least temporarily brought swollen security prices down, stabilized the currency and lowered the cost of living.

Deflation rather than inflation also was the order of the day in occupied Austria.

In Britain even the cost of postage went up because the government explained, despite government controls, coal, transportation and milk prices were edging higher. Purchase taxes, already steep, have been increased sharply to drain off some excess purchasing power.

Defeated Germany was experiencing the greatest success in holding the line in legal markets (black market prices are 59 to 100 times higher).

Crown Prince Leaves in Huff Over Quarantine Regulations

BEIRUT, LEBANON.—Crown Prince Talal of Trans-Jordan left Lebanon in a huff when border authorities told him his royal blood did not exempt him from quarantine regulations.

A three-day quarantine was imposed in an effort to keep the Middle East cholera epidemic from invading Lebanon. The epidemic cropped up in Syria after taking thousands of lives in Egypt.

Prince Talal, heir to King Abdullah's throne, had passed through the cholera-infested area and had planned to spend two weeks here. He had an inoculation certificate, but border officials said he still would have to spend three days at the frontier.

Talal called the affair a "humiliation" and recrossed the border into Syria.

United States Offices Study Change to Coal for Heating

WASHINGTON.—Federal works agency said that 20 government agencies will make a survey to determine feasibility of converting government buildings from oil to coal heat in view of the oil shortage.

Representatives of the agencies discussed the possibility of conversion with Federal Works Administrator Philip B. Fleming.

It was pointed out that the government consumes 5 per cent of the fuel oil used by the nation annually. The military takes most of the government supply.

Reds Act to Halt Business Moving Into American Zone

BERLIN.—Saxony has clamped down on a movement among some German manufacturers in that Russian-occupied state to transfer their businesses to the American and British occupation zones, the British-licensed German press service said.

A directive was issued against the movement and heavy penalties were ordered.

James Tracy Died Yesterday Morning At Morris Hospital

James Tracy passed away in the Morris Hospital early Thursday at the age of 63 years, after an illness of several years.

He was born September 17, 1884, at Caseville and was brought to Novesta Township by his parents when three weeks old, where he has since made his home. On March 23, 1910, he was married to Miss Euphemia Wilson at Caro.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two sons, Ivan, of Cass City and Robert at home; also one brother, Frank Tracy, of Wayne.

Funeral services will be held at the Little Funeral Home on Sunday at 2 p. m. Rev. Frank Houghtaling of the Church of the Nazarene will officiate. Burial will be in Novesta cemetery.

GREENLEAF

Peter Schmidt surprised his wife with a party in honor of her birthday, which was the 29th of February. A group of friends and neighbors celebrated a week late, but all enjoyed visiting and dancing. A large birthday cake with candles was presented with the lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McLellan made a business trip to Saginaw Wednesday of last week.

Raymond, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fox, is reported as being quite ill from a skin infection.

We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rienstra and three small boys to our neighborhood. The Rienstras recently moved to the farm, known as the Andrew Seeger place, now owned by Loren Trahen.

Some of our roads were blocked by the heavy fall of snow last week. Teachers and students were unable to get to school.

Talking Too Big

A CHARGE of assault was being tried in an Irish police court. The husband, a very meek little man, was put in the box, and his wife, a big woman almost twice his size, stood by her solicitor's table.

The magistrate adjusted his glasses and turned to the defendant. "You are accused of beating your wife," he said. "Do you plead guilty or not guilty?"

"Guilty, my lord," said the little man without hesitation. "Twenty-five dollars fine or 10 days," came the magistrate's verdict.

After the court had closed the magistrate was approached by one of the other court officials. "Weren't you somewhat severe with that little man?" said the latter.

"Not at all," returned the magistrate. "I had to give him something for bragging."

IT ALWAYS TAKES

An expensively dressed Park avenue matron, glittering with jewelry, entered the swank office of her physician and seated herself at his desk.

"Oh, doctor, how can I ever show my appreciation and repay you for the wonderful operation you performed upon me?" she gushed.

"Madame," replied the surgeon gravely, "ever since the Phoenicians invented money there has been an adequate answer to that question."

Mushrooms were used to stupefy patients by dentists of the Zapotec Indians of Mexico.

Correct Methods Needed For Good Slaughter Results

Correct slaughter methods are needed to help insure a good meat supply for next summer, according to E. D. Farwell, animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State College.

Livestock to be slaughtered should be kept off feed for 24 hours previous to slaughter but should be given water. Avoid bruising or exciting and do a good job of sticking. Thorough bleeding is important for good results in storing or curing meat.

Slaughtering should take place when the temperature is just above freezing. If the temperature is too low, the carcass will freeze on the outside and cause souring of the meat. If the weather is warm, it may be more advantageous to wait until evening and cooler temperatures to slaughter. Beef improves with age so a carcass from a well fattened animal may be allowed to hang from a week to ten days before being cut—providing the temperature is around 34 to 36 degrees Fahrenheit. A choice lamb carcass may be aged a week but pork should be cut after two or three days.

Cold storage facilities are available in most rural villages now and carcasses can be stored in them with greater safety. A lamb carcass may be cut up and kept in the family refrigerator. Two or more farmers may share a beef if a whole carcass is too much for one family. Most cold storage locker plants have facilities for cutting and wrapping meat.

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Alleman.

Governor Kim Sigler has redesigned his package for Michigan good government.

Immediate reform is giving way to long range reform.

Showing a willingness to change his mind when convinced that he can achieve results better by other methods, Sigler now favors the following program which is being shaped for presentation to the state legislature in special session starting next Tuesday (March 16):

1. No new or higher taxes. Michigan taxpayers, the governor feels, are paying enough money today for government public service. The big job is to distribute this money equitably where it is needed. Hence, no new or higher taxes. For example: No increase in the state gasoline tax for additional road building.

2. Remove from the November ballot the legislature-authorized vote on revision of the state constitution by constitutional convention. The governor is convinced that piece-meal revision of the constitution is a more intelligent way. Voters can concentrate their thinking on a few issues at hand, rather than opening the door wide to complete revision through the relatively slow process of a convention.

3. Remove from the November ballot the legislature-authorized vote on revision of the state constitution by constitutional convention.

Order Fertilizer Before Too Late

If you plan to apply commercial fertilizer this spring, better buy it when you can get it. That's the advice of E. D. Longnecker, extension specialist in soil science at Michigan State college.

He points out that commercial fertilizer plants have had a hard time keeping up with demands and that Michigan farmers may not be able to get the fertilizer they need if they delay their purchase until seeding or planting time.

Longnecker also advises that there is no need to hold off buying now because of the storage problem. Well-cured fertilizer can be farm-stored safely throughout the rest of the winter and early spring and still be in usable condition when needed at planting time.

Fertilizer should be stored on a wooden platform with air space beneath rather than on the ground or on concrete.

Avoid stacking the bags too high, to prevent packing and hardening of the bottom bags. Piles should be shifted once or twice during the late winter and early spring to lessen packing.

If some of the fertilizer does cake or harden, it can be put through a hammer mill or pulverizer next spring. It has been found that fertilizer does not deteriorate with age.

ballot the legislature authorized vote on repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment. The governor has consistently favored repeal; he still does. However, he is convinced that the time is not ripe for such action. The public must be convinced of its necessity, and the most realistic way to do this is to demonstrate through red-ink financing—deficits, if you please—that the public cannot enjoy state public service (without new or higher taxes) while 76 per cent of the sales tax money is returned to home communities for spending by home government.

4. Four-year tenure of office for all constitutional state and county offices except the state offices of secretary of state and attorney general, both to be filled by appointment by the governor. The first election to be in 1950, a non-presidential campaign year.

5. These elected officials to take office on December 1, instead of January 1, as at present. The new governor, for example, could then ready his legislative program before the legislature meets.

6. An amendment to remove salary limitations from the state constitution.

Added to these is a possible seventh plank an amendment limiting the number of state departments and bureaus to a specified number, such as 20. Michigan has 100-plus state departments and bureaus. The governor may not press No. 7 unless the legislature balks at authorizing No. 1 to 6. Then he may take the "issue" to the people themselves, get petitions signed, and see that all amendments go on the November ballot.

There is also evidence that Sigler is thinking more of a "cabinet" of responsible department heads and elective officials and less of suggested power whereby the governor would have the right to hire or fire any department head.

These planks form a formidable program. They illustrate anew the process of democracy in action.

Maytag Company Sets Washer Production Record

* When the 54-year-old Maytag Company of Newton, Iowa, produced its five millionth washer recently, the occasion was marked by a special ceremony. Iowa Governor Robert D. Blue and leaders in business, industrial, labor and civic organizations gathered to celebrate the event which set a new record in washer production history.

Tom Smith, head of the research division, which developed the modern Maytag, is shown upper left, autographing the one-piece aluminum tub which has had a large share in building Maytag popularity. Assembly workers are shown below lowering the tub into its enameled steel jacket. At right, Miss Rosanne Morgan, 1947 Maytag Queen, is christening the machine with a bottle of milk. Looking on, nearest the camera from left, are: W. I. Sparks, secretary of the Maytag Company who has been with the firm forty-nine years; Letha Trent, Miss Morgan's predecessor as Maytag Queen; Roy Bradt, Maytag vice-president in charge of sales and advertising and president of The American Washer and Ironer Association; Verne R. Martin, Maytag sales manager; Fred Maytag II, Iowa State Senator and third generation president of the washer company, and Iowa Governor Blue.

The Maytag Company made its first washer in 1907 and its millionth machine in 1927. Between the four millionth Maytag in 1941 and the five millionth machine, Maytag took three years time out from peacetime production to engage in war work. The five millionth washer is being retained by Maytag as a souvenir.

SHORT STORY

Men Are So Independent

MARIA MORAVSKY

THE electric eye bell tinkled melodiously and the man walked in. Miranda gave him a good look before he saw her. She was standing in the shadowed corner, behind the counter piled with ties.

He was tall, dark and handsome, just like the men gypsies always see in the future of any girl. His eyes were as blue as the gulf. When he came closer and laid his battered Panama on the counter, the girl noticed white hair, shining like tinsel among the dark brown.

"What can I do for you?" her voice was eager.

"Well, you might look at these samples," he opened a box of machine-made ties.

Miranda imperceptibly wrinkled her small nose. A salesman—with all that physique! He ought to be in the movies, she thought derisively. And here he was, selling ties.

"I keep in stock only hand made . . ." she said with polite regret. "This is what gives my ties distinction . . ."

"Can I show you some of those new glass belts?" he asked wearily.

"Why, yes, I sell belts, too. That's something I can't make, so . . ." she was glad he had another line of samples.

"They might sell," she said brightly. "If you give me a bargain. What are they worth?"

He named the price.

"It's too stiff for this one cylinder business," she smiled apologetically showing both dimples. "Can you come down?"

Without an answer, he walked toward the door. Miranda grew furious. This was what men did. They would not even discuss terms with her. Sometimes they tried to date her. At other times, they acted so independent. This one was the "take it or leave it" kind.

THE anger of many humiliations welled within her. She ran from behind the crowded counter, barring the salesman's way.

"Listen, mister. That's not the way to treat a woman in trade. Just because I own a hole-in-the-wall shop, is no reason for slighting me. Why, I may have a string of them one day . . ."

"I have no doubt you will," he said curtly. "Please, let me pass. My baby is crying in the car."

"Your baby?" She followed him to the back seat, sat a whimpering, thin girl with straw-colored hair, its end-curls damp with tears.

"Let me hold her," Miranda stretched her arms toward the child. The girl snuggled against her with a sigh of satisfaction.

"Why do you travel with a child?"

"That's the only way I can take care of her. Her mother died when she was nine months old. At first I hired a nurse, but . . ." he looked up and down the street. "Say, how long can I park here?"

So he wanted to tell her his story. Miranda felt expanding warmth.

"Endlessly. I'm a friend of the cops. Come into the store and I'll warm her milk."

While she was heating the milk in the kitchenette at the back of the store, he told her, holding Lucy on his knees:

"I paid that nurse well. I could afford it then. I was the manager of a sport goods store. I looked like a sportsman's dummy," he smiled ruefully. "It helped attract customers. The shop was successful; they made me a junior partner. But . . . about that nurse, it was not her baby; once she let Lucy fall from the bed. The child was hurt badly. She lay for three months in a cast. After that, I took to the road. It's the only way I can have her with me, always. But sometimes, when Lucy begins to cry in the car, I feel so helpless . . ."

Miranda turned away and wiped her eyes. The electric eye bell tinkled again.

"Please, be the boss, while I feed her," Miranda asked softly. "Sell the fellow what he wants—the price list is tacked to the wall, behind the counter."

Left alone with the child, so easily entrusted into her care, Miranda revised her opinions.

"Men are so independent," she laughed to herself.

Spafford E. Kelsey has been awarded what is known as the McCormick Fellowship, Chicago, where he will graduate in May, as "The Old Testament Hebrew." This gives him a two-year trip abroad, six months' travel in the Holy Land and a year and a half in some college in either Germany or Scotland.

Music Hall Block at Caro was destroyed by fire Wednesday evening. The fire started in Wright's Restaurant. Besides the restaurant, the block was occupied by the Watrous Hardware Co. and R. J. Putman, grocer.

With only one ticket in the field, a small vote in the village election Monday was anticipated, but when the polls were closed at five o'clock 171 had cast ballots. The reason for this unusual influx was the passing of "slips" in an attempt to defeat the caucus nominee for president.

G. F. Scuphohn and son, Thomas, left Saturday afternoon with their car of goods for Strassburg, Sask., where they have purchased a farm and will be neighbors to Chas. Young and C. E. Chase. Mrs. Scuphohn and son, Ray, expect to leave for the Northwest in a few days.

At the gold medal contest held at Sebawing Friday evening, Miss Annabell Dodge of Cass City was successful in winning the medal.

Miss Dollie Gale has accepted a position as trimmer in a millinery store in Marshall.

A new livestock firm has commenced doing business at Cass City. Elias and Andrew McKim are the members and the firm name is McKim Bros.

The Republican caucus in Elkland Township on Monday had eight candidates for the nomination of treasurer and three for highway commissioner and called out a large crowd of voters in spite of the disagreeable weather. Two hundred seventy-two votes were cast for supervisor; John Binkelman was named supervisor; H. L. Hunt, clerk; Ernest Croft, treasurer; J. A. Balkwell, highway commissioner; John Wagner, overseer of highways; A. D. Gillies, justice; John McLarty, member of board of review; J. D. Tuckey, Wm. G. Hurley, Chas. D. Striffler and S. A. Bradshaw, constables.

Thirty-six votes were cast at the village election Monday when the following officers were elected: President, Fred A. Bigelow; clerk, Laura DeWitt; treasurer, James Tennant; assessor, I. W. Hall; trustee, Geo. West, G. A. Tindale and M. B. Auten.

Ephraim Reader, who settled in Grant Township over 43 years ago, died at his home here March 9 at the age of 81 years.

Additions to the high school library this week include five volumes donated by the Woman's Study Club, three by Mrs. A. A. Ricker and five by Rev. Cargo.

Robt. Dillman, Geo. Dillman and Delbert Landon won fourth place as a team from the Cass City schools in the poultry judging contest conducted at Lansing early this year, by the Michigan Agricultural College.

School was dismissed Monday afternoon in order that the faculty might attend the township caucus.

Wild Indian Bees

The Russian beekeepers are experimenting with wild Indian bees. The Indian wild bee is said to possess a number of qualities which make it superior to the domesticated species, especially for colder climates. It emerges from the hive to lower temperature than ordinary bees and has a much greater speed of flight. It is able to fly through fog when visibility is poor. Indian bees even have been known to go out for nectar on moonlit nights.

What Is a Dairy Cow?
The term dairy breed has been accepted by stockmen and investigators as referring to the breeds of cattle that are especially well fitted for production of milk and butterfat. Such breeds represent the efforts made by breeders of many generations toward improving the milking capacity of certain classes of cows. Because of this fact the inherent tendency of registered dairy cows to produce milk is greater than that of a native or unimproved cow. This inherent capacity is transmitted to the offspring.

Went to Sea Early

In Scotland, on the north shore of Solway Firth, near the fishing hamlet of Arbigland, John Paul, known in history as John Paul Jones, was born July 8, 1747. When he was 12 years old, his school days were over. As a small lad he could manage his own sailing boat, and he showed a great fondness for the sea. In the summer of 1759, James Younger, a ship-owning merchant, was in Arbigland to recruit sailors, and he took the boy, a hardy, well-knit and capable lad of 12, to Whitehaven, where he shipped on a vessel about to sail to America.

Richly Ornamented

The most richly-ornamented building in the world and one of the strangest sights in India is the large Hindu temple, Konarak, in the Puri district of Orissa. The exterior is thickly covered with sculptured figures of gods and goddesses, which although seven centuries old, still are considered to be outstanding in sculpture.

SHORT STORY

The Other Woman

By
MARION BOUCHER

WHEN the alarm rang at seven in the grey morning, Henry reached out quickly and shut it off before it awakened Isabel. Quietly, Henry got up and groped his way to the bathroom.

It was the usual beginning of his day but on this particular morning he felt a little rebellious. He thought of Isabel, still lying asleep, her dark hair spread out on the pillow, her red mouth curved in a half smile. When they were first married she used to get up and prepare breakfast for him. Now that the children were old enough to fend for themselves he had to make his own coffee and toast as best he could before hurrying down to the store.

He couldn't say just when it had happened but sometime during the 10 years of their married life, Isabel had changed from a devoted young bride to a spoiled wife who took her husband very much for granted. It was probably just as much his fault as hers; he was so mild and easy-going that it seemed natural for people to impose on him. Even at his own table, the children seemed in league with Isabel against him.

Look at Morley Campbell and his wife now! Morley was a salesman in the department store where Henry worked as a window dresser. He had been married a good many years but his wife always was fussing over him. Henry thought of Morley a little enviously and wondered if he dared ask him the secret of his marital bliss.

The opportunity presented itself that very day when they happened to be lunching together. A little timidly, Henry broached the subject: "Er . . . uh . . . I've noticed how your wife always makes a fuss over you, Morley. How do you do it—hold her interest, I mean?"

"Oh, I keep her guessing. You know, let her feel that you still find other women attractive. That's the way to treat 'em, Henry old man."

AT SUPPER that night he started his campaign. Isabel was talking about a new way she wanted to have her hair done.

"I think that's the way Linda wears her hair and it certainly looks smart," Henry commented.

Isabel looked up in surprise. "Linda? Who is she?"

"One of the girls at the store—very attractive. She always wears the smartest clothes."

"Really, Henry, I didn't know you were so observant." Isabel was a little piqued but she looked at her husband with new interest.

After that hardly a day went by that Henry did not mention Linda and his casual remarks were not lost on Isabel. Though she would not have admitted it, she was a little jealous and more than a little curious. Never before had her husband appeared interested in another woman.

So she sat up and took notice of her meek husband as she hadn't done for years. She put herself out to be amusing and helpful. When he came home at night there was always a good dinner, with his favorite dishes carefully prepared.

WHEN he had to work late one evening, he made it a point to let his wife know that Linda had been there too. The next morning Isabel actually hopped out of bed when the alarm rang, got his breakfast ready and kissed him goodbye.

He was busy changing a display that afternoon when he looked up to see Isabel coming down the aisle. Isabel chattered away for a while and finally asked, "By the way, is that girl, Linda, around? You've been talking so much about her lately that I'd like to meet my glamorous rival."

Henry flushed guiltily. "Matter of fact she isn't here today," he stammered. "She has a cold and couldn't come to work."

"Oh . . . that's too bad," Isabel sounded genuinely disappointed. "Will you be home early, Henry? I was able to get a steak for dinner."

Henry looked after her departing figure and breathed a sigh of relief. He had got out of that situation neatly, he congratulated himself, but he hoped Isabel wouldn't come and ask for Linda again.

It would never do, he thought, for Isabel to discover that Linda, the "other woman," was a very beautiful but very lifeless mannequin in the store window.

Heart of Asparagus

Asparagus is grown in nearly all sections of the United States, but large industrial production is limited to a few localities. In 1945, in the nation, 126,258 acres were used for commercial growing of asparagus. About half of this acreage was located in California. Principal areas of production in that state are Sacramento, San Joaquin, San Fernando and Imperial valleys.

Choosing a Turkey

In choosing a turkey for the table, get a bird that's young and tender, with plenty of fat under the skin. The body should be well-rounded and the breast well-fleshed. In cooking your turkey, remember that the bigger the bird, the lower your oven temperature should be.

Easy Meals for Busy Days Outlined

Easy meals for busy days, but meals that family members eat with gusto and demand as "re-peats" will be the subject of the next meeting for leaders of Home Economics Extension groups to be held on March 18, Marlette Methodist Church; March 19, Deckerville; and March 22, Croswell Presbyterian Church.

All meetings start at 10:30 a. m. announces Mrs. Isabel R. Maynard, county home demonstration agent. Meals from the oven, the pressure saucepan and a few straight from the top of the stove will all be included.

Ways to add milk in disguised form, recipes that stretch the flavor of meat, and vegetables cooked in vitamin-saving fashion will be featured at the cooperative dinner served at noon.

A check-up and a vegetable quiz on "How Would You Cook Them?" will be highlights of the lesson which will be relayed by the leaders to local groups about the county.

Leaders of all Extension Groups are being contacted as to what each should bring to the meeting.

Insects Attack Stored Grain

Insects living in farm grain bins eat or destroy five percent or more of our nation's stored grains and cereal products every year. The terrific loss is carried largely by farmers.

Extensionspecialists at Michigan State college say that whenever there is mild weather, insects are busy. This is true particularly if the grain has high moisture content or is very clean.

It's a good idea to check your bin conditions carefully. Look for webbed or caked areas and for kernels that seem to have been "chewed" or have small holes in them.

If insects are working on your stored grain, you'll want to do something about them on the first warm day.

Sheep Shearing School at Vassar

A 4-H and F. F. A. sheep shearing and husbandry school is scheduled at the Louis Opperman farm, one mile south of Vassar, for Thursday and Friday, March 25 and 26. It is sponsored by the Tuscola County 4-H Oxford Sheep Club and is under the direction of Graydon Blank, animal husbandry extension specialist, Michigan State College.

A contest will be staged on Friday forenoon and prizes awarded to the champion shearers. 4-H winners will represent the county in the state contest in September.

Local Oxford Sheep Club members will bring some of their show sheep to the Opperman farm for an early shearing by an experienced shearer who will be on the job.

Method of docking and castrating lambs will be illustrated and some discussion of sheep management will be staged for the 4-H and F. F. A. shepherds.

Reid Kirk of Fairgrove is leader of the County 4-H Oxford Sheep Club.

$10,000 Contest Is Open to Michigan's Young Gardeners

Michigan junior growers whose members won six awards in the 1947 production and marketing contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association will have another opportunity in 1948 to improve their stellar records.

In announcing the eighth annual contest, Prof. Grant Snyder of the University of Massachusetts, senior advisor to the association, points out that Michigan boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 21 are now eligible to compete for the $6,000 in agricultural scholarships offered by A & P Food Stores each year.

"The annual contest, in which junior growers from 43 states participated last year, is designed to make the farmer more effective through improved production and marketing methods," Snyder said. "It takes on added importance during 1948 because of the association's pledge to President Truman to support the nation's food conservation program."
