Ideal Co's. Building Is in Process of Many Improvements

Contractor Ray Lapp is in the process of giving the building occupied by the Ideal Plumbing and Heating Co. a "new look" by alterations and improvements. A new front will be placed in the building which eliminates the small windows and replaces them with a 7 by 13 ft. plate glass. The new door at the east side of the window leads directly into a 19 by 50 ft. merchandise display room which gives ample space to show plumbing and heating appliances. This display room is finished in pressed-wood paneling. A private office at the rear of the merchandise display room is attractively finished in knotty pine.

The stock room for supplies has been moved into the cement block addition erected by the firm a few years ago.

Supervisors Want Extra Road Funds

Tuscola County supervisors will take steps to have the project of establishing a health unit placed on the ballot at election time. "Resolved that this board unanimously requests Gov. Sigler to submit to the special session of the legislature now assembled the question of additional gas and weight taxes for relief of highways of this county, and the state at large before the entire highway system is ruined beyond repair."

Orlando LeValley, Last of Civil War Veterans, Is Dead

Passed Away at Farm Home Near Caro on Monday at Age of 99

Orlando LeValley, the Michigan Department Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, died at his Tuscola County home, five miles west of Caro, on Monday at 7:45 a. m. He was 99 years of age and is the last of the 90,018 Michigan veterans of the war between the North and South.

Mr. LeValley was born in Marathon Township, Lapeer County, Sept. 19, 1848. He was a lad of 13 when the Civil War began. Nevertheless, he responded to President Lincoln's first call for volunteers. Too young, they told him.

A few days after his sixteenth birthday, in 1864, he tried again. "I ran away to Flint with two other youngsters", LeValley recalled. This time he took no chances. He said he was 18 and was accepted.

Assigned to Company E, 23rd Michigan infantry, he arrived in time to fight at Franklin, Tennessee, and other closing battles in that area under Maj. Gen. George H. Thomas, "The Rock of Chickamauga."

Mr. LeValley on October 3, 1873, at Vassar was united in marriage with Hannah J. Titus and in 1876 they moved to the farm in Fairgrove Township on the Gilford Road west of Caro, which has ever since been the veteran's home. Mrs. LeValley died in 1918. That was when he was 70 and his six children told LeValley he ought to slow down.

But he ignored their advice. The nation was at war and needed food. He kept on farming. He planted some blue spruce seedlings and remarked: "I'll live to see them grown."

He was right. With his daughters

State Plan for Federal Aid for Hospital Facilities

The Office of Hospital Survey and Construction announced today that the state plan for hospital facilities was approved by the Michigan Advisory Hospital Council at its April 8 meeting. The state plan includes a priority list which will be the basis on which Federal funds, made available through Public Law 725, will be allocated. The priority list has been developed. The state plan, when approved by the surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service, makes Michigan eligible for receiving $2,171,000 a year for five years to assist local communities in developing adequate hospital facilities.

The priority list has been developed from a study of need for hospital services and an inventory of present facilities in the State. This inventory shows 14,040 suitable beds in general hospitals. The need for general hospital beds in the state was determined to be 27,776 according to standards established by the United States Public Health Service. These figures indicate a need for 13,736 additional general hospital beds. These may be either in new facilities or as replacement for facilities which are outmoded.

Under this program, the Federal government will help communities by providing one-third of the cost of hospital construction and equipment if the necessary requirements are met. The local community must have two-thirds of the total cost of the project available and the project must be in reasonable conformity with the overall state plan.

For planning purposes, the state is divided into seventy-one areas. These areas are combined to form

Rotarians Hear Talk On Conquering War

"How to Conquer War" was the subject of an illustrated talk given at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Hotel Coffee Shop Tuesday by Mrs. Roy, Briggs of St. Johns. The pictures shown on the screen depicted the progression of the association of people, first by families, then by tribes, as states and finally as nations. The development of the 13 separate colonies into a federal government was used as a plan for a world government to bring peace to humanity. Each country could function as a unit in national affairs and be subject to a federal world government in ruling Mother Earth. A peace unit has to be world-wide, the speaker said.

Mrs. Briggs was introduced by her father, J. A. Sandham, program chairman.

Next Tuesday evening will be Farmers' Night when a group from the rural district will be guests of Rotarians.

Michigan Associated Telephone Co. to Ask Increase in Rates

The Michigan Associated Telephone Company has announced that it will ask the Michigan Public Service Commission to review the company's rate schedules applying at exchanges in communities it serves throughout the state. The company, with headquarters at Muskegon, operates 71 exchanges serving 64,059 telephones in various parts of Michigan.

H. R. Christianson, vice president and general manager, stated that the company has had no general adjustment in its rates for service in the past 20 years, and in most exchanges present rate schedules date back somewhat further into the early twenties. At Cass City, the last increase for the principal classes of service was authorized by Michigan Public Service Commission Order T-313 and effective September 1, 1920.

Christianson said in his announcement of the proposed appeal for higher rates that operating expenses have increased faster than revenues have increased during the past few years, and that additional revenue must be obtained in order to render a satisfactory grade of service.

He further stated that additional revenues are also required to maintain the company's credit at a level sufficient to permit it to attract new capital needed to finance the company's construction and expansion program already under way. The cost of specific projects now scheduled throughout the company's exchanges in Michigan calls for a gross expenditure of more than $7,000,000, Christianson said.

Hartzler of Clarksville, Mich., director of the Michigan Heifer Project Committee, which is affiliated with the Heifer Project Committee of the Brethren Service Committee. From Clarksville, the heifer was trucked to Baltimore, Md.

The heifer, by the way, was sent overseas on purely a humanitarian basis and this project for relief was actively promoted last February. The first $100 for the purchase of this heifer from the Dr. H. T. Donahue herd of Holsteins came from the Cass City Council of Churches from an offering taken for relief purposes at a union church service. The remaining $75.00 of the purchase price was contributed by the Cass City Community Club.

Since Dec. 3, 1947, 497 head of dairy animals from the states have landed overseas. Forty thousand dollars have been sent to Denmark to buy heifers for Poland.

Tuscola County's Quota of Security Loan Is $435,000

Bond Sale Is for the Period from April 15 to June 30

C. L. Bougher of Caro has been named chairman of America's Security Loan drive for Tuscola County by Frank N. Isbey, chairman of the United States Treasury's Saving Bond Division for Michigan.

The treasury, says Mr. Bougher, has placed a one hundred million dollar quota on Michigan, made up of 68 million series "E" Bonds and 37 million dollars "F" and "G" Bonds. The quota for Tuscola County is $274 thousand series "E" Bonds and $161 thousand series "F" and "G" Bonds, making a total in series "E" and "F" and "G" bonds of 435 thousand dollars. The sale will begin on April 15 and closes June 30, 1948.

Every bond sold in the county counts from April 1 to June 30 against quota. The treasury has placed a direct quota on every plant and business in the state, employing 25 or more people on the basis of $37.50 cash per employee for the three months period of the drive. Treasury's objective is to re-activate the payroll savings plan by getting minimum of 55% of all employees on this program. Banks in each community are receiving quotas in proportion to potential sales in their respective areas. The response from labor and industry from all over the state in the last week has been gratifying. The slogan is "America's Security is Your Security".

The following breakdown of the Tuscola quota is:

	Bonds	F & G Bonds
Akron	$15,150.00	$11,270.00
Caro	$4,800.00	$3,200.00

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Alleman

When the "ghost walks" on State of Michigan paydays, 144 employees find themselves in the peculiarly blessed position of getting bigger paychecks than any of the following elected state officials:

Secretary of state, auditor general, attorney general, state treasurer, state highway commissioner and state superintendent of public instruction.

Each official, elected by the voters, receives $7,500 a year compensation from the State Treasury.

It's like having a factory foreman getting more wages than the president of the company, the boss himself. Yes, 144 employees are better paid by the State of Michigan than are the heads of state government!

How did this Alice-in-Wonderland, topsy-turvy situation develop?

And how about the governor? You may add.

Here's the story, as we find it. When the present state constitution was adopted nearly 40 years ago, salaries of state officials and legislators were defined and limited. Here is section 21, still unchanged:

"The governor and attorney general shall each receive an annual salary of $5,000. The secretary of state, state treasurer, commissioner of state land office and auditor general shall each receive an annual salary of $2,500. They shall receive no fees or perquisites whatever for the performance of any duties connected with the offices. It shall not be competent for the legislature to increase the salaries herein provided."

Section 22, added in 1940, authorizes a civil service commission to set salaries of all classified employees. Exempt are heads of departments and not more than two unclassified positions in each department.

The salary of legislators, representatives and senators, is a flat $3 per day throughout the two-year term. This compensation is not limited to the legislative session, such as is the practice in some other states. It will run approximately $2,000 for a two-year term.

Legislators are under similar constitutional wage restrictions. "They shall receive no further compensation than as specified in this section for service... or perquisites of the office not expressly authorized by this constitution."

The compensation of state elective officials, other than the governor and lieutenant governor, has been increased to $7,500 a year by a legislative enactment of making them members of the state administrative board. The secretary of state, for example, has a constitutional salary of $2,500 and $5,000 additional pay as a member of the "ad" board. Yet, two employees of the secretary of state's office are better paid than the secretary of state. Nine subordinate employees of the highway department get more money than the highway commissioner, their boss. And 12 subordinate employees of the attorney general are better paid than the attorney general!

The governor of Michigan draws $17,500 from the state treasury. This compensation is as follows: His constitutional salary, $5,000; a legislative-set salary as member of the state administration board, $2,500; and a flat $10,000 expense account for which no accounting is required or given.

Among the amendments currently considered by the legislature at Lansing is one to remove constitutional salary limitations of both state officials and state legislators. The State Supreme court has ruled that the legislature is forbidden by the constitution from paying themselves expense money. This decision puts the governor's expense account in obvious legal jeopardy.

Is a $7,500 salary adequate for state elective officials?

This question appears to us to be linked directly to the illogical situation, now existing, whereby 144 state employees get higher wages than their bosses. Why should salaries of state officials be limited by the constitution, while salaries of their subordinate employees are not?

Eventually this state salary mess must be straightened out. We doubt if any farmer would be happy if the hired hand got more wages than he did. State officials are in the same fix. Michigan public service now calls for financial sacrifice. Such officials would be far better off to take a civil service appointment carrying less responsibility and no campaign obligation.

he had his picture taken in front of the full-grown blue spruce trees last summer before he went to the state encampment.

In failing health for the past year his daughter, Mrs. David Hutchinson, had been caring for him. However, his illness did not prevent him from attending the State G. A. R. encampment at Grand Rapids June 25-27 last year, which was a one-man show since he was the only Civil War veteran left to attend.

Five of his children survive him, the others being a son, Sylvester and Mrs. Eva Colbert, Mrs. W. P. Kirk and Mrs. John Dunham. He also leaves 15 grandchildren and 29 great grandchildren. Three of his grandchildren served in World War II.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon in the Caro Methodist Church. Burial was in the Fairgrove cemetery in charge of Caro American Legion and V. F. W. posts.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Cut Expenses Down and Save Money

By Kathleen Norris

"In company he is amusing enough, but at home it is money—money—money."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"MY HUSBAND HAS only one fault," writes Marcia Green. "But it is so serious a fault that I am seriously considering leaving him. We have been married 11 years, we have one son, a lovely home, a nice circle of friends. Bob is successful in business, although admitting himself that we always will be more or less in a rut, for he is only one employee in a plant that employs thousands, with small chance of bettering himself. "He doesn't drink, gamble, play about with other women. He is a devoted husband and father, popular and friendly. Well, then, what is it? I'll tell you. Bob thinks, talks, dreams of nothing but money, whenever we are alone. In company he is amusing enough, but at home it is money—money—money. He feels that he doesn't earn enough, that we don't save, that I am extravagant."

"Now, the point is, I'm not extravagant. I keep a nice house, with only one day's domestic help every week. I dress economically, and while Bobby goes to a private school, he has twice won scholarships that cut that expense down to $100 a year. Food, of course, is a big item; we are all healthy eaters and we entertain moderately. We have one car, used mostly by me. We do not save money, but our bills, all added together, would not total $1,000. Among our friends, somewhat similarly situated, I think we would be considered unusually fortunate and completely solvent. So why this eternal anxiety about expenses? Must we buy that, dear? Is it necessary to paper the dining room? The boy has to have roller skates. I suppose? That's what I get day in and day out."

Parents Were Poor. "Bob's people were very poor. My own were not, I had a lovely home, and my father still is employed and independent; mother died years ago. Can you give me a few good suggestions as to how I can cure my husband of his penuriousness, or do you believe it is too deep-rooted to cure?"

"It seems to be growing on him. In our early married years he was much more generous, and when we were engaged I actually had to scold him for his extravagance. But of late he grows less and less willing to spend money, and the result is that our home atmosphere is uncomfortable and strained. Feeling that this may be the result of early inhibitions, I have asked him to go to a psychiatrist, but he rejected this suggestion utterly. Years ago, when you wrote that money was the most important element in marriage, I did not believe you, but I do now. What shall I do?"

I think this situation, Marcia, arises from a condition that is prevalent in our American domestic scene today. And I think the cure lies with you, rather than with Bob. When you married you felt that if you had a nice home, and paid your bills, that was enough. Perhaps it was, then. But it is not now. Bob feels the changing temper of the times; apparently you don't. Bob always has worked hard, he knows the value of money. You never have learned it."

Bob is in the employ of an immense concern. He knows that un-

SPEND LESS

Money, the villain in many, many marriages, has driven a wedge between Marcia and her husband, Bob. Bob, who stems from very poor parents, continually complains because Marcia does not handle the financial end of her household duties economically enough. She fails to save any money and in these inflationary times her demands for more money increase. He can't understand where his salary disappears and constantly attempts to curb the spending of any money.

Miss Norris chastises Marcia for uncalled for extravagances and advises her to eliminate many unnecessary luxuries to which she treats herself. By putting her shoulder to the wheel, Marcia can help Bob in building up a savings account. According to Miss Norris, Marcia is not pulling her share of the load. When she becomes a helpmate instead of a spendmate there will be less friction and more harmony in the household.

less he has exceptional and extraordinary capacity, he will not rise in that employ. Hundreds of fresher young men are ahead of him in the race. Hundreds of others will move out into separate enterprises of their own. Bob can't either rise or escape.

So, at 40, he sees himself trapped. He is not saving a cent. His home expenses are increasing with the inexorable need of the times. You are expanding into luxuries while hardly able to manage necessities.

Problem Is Common. Your problem is not unusual. It is safe to say that in all our cities there are blocks and blocks of small, respectable, comfortable apartments whose breadwinners are as anxious as Bob. Where does the money go, what the dickens do the women do with it? The car is an extravagance beyond the reach of all but 1 per cent—note that figure—1 per cent of the men and women of Europe. Private school, beauty parlor, cleaner, flowers, drug store, telegrams, ice skates, Minnie's services at $1 an hour, ice cream for the company dinner. How these little foxes destroy the vines, and add those becoming gray streaks to handsome Bob's hair!

If you really want to help, Marcia, move from that $85 flat to a plain little cottage somewhere on the outskirts of town. Put Bobby in public school. Do your own hair. Cut down, cut down, cut down, so that $150 of that $500 a month can go into government bonds. Talk solvency, instead of spending. Talk freedom from debt instead of how to pay bills. Tell Bob that if anything happens to him you and Bobby can manage splendidly, what with chickens and an apple tree, and a child or two to board.

In other words, pull your weight of the load. Relieve him of worry and he won't mind plain meals. Stop trying to impress your richer friends, and impress Bob with the fact that he has what the old books used to pretty call a helpmate. Bob knows we have stormy weather ahead. Get ready for it. Shorten sail.

TWO HUNDRED AT JUNIOR HIGH BANQUET

One of the social events of the school year took place Tuesday evening, April 12, when the junior high school principal, Mary M. Holcomb, and the boys and girls of the department had their annual banquet.

Two hundred people including board members, faculty, and participants sat down to tables that were artistically decorated with bowls of jonquils furnished by Mrs. E. Baker and Mrs. B. H. Starmann, also pots of tulips furnished by Supt. W. Campbell. The entrance march was a two piano number played by Joan Holmberg and Mary E. Wood. Robert Warner asked the blessing and the dinner was both delicious and plentiful.

Dick Wallace was the very jovial toastmaster, who was very capable of handling the situation. After the address of welcome by Mrs. Holcomb, and the well chosen words of Mrs. Baker in the response to the welcome, the boys and girls filled the evening with after-dinner speeches, songs and musical numbers. Robert Fritz gave a poem, entitled "My Junior High Days." This poem was excellent and was composed by Robert.

The concluding event was given by Don Tuckey about the athletic department. He presented Mr. Clasenman, who made the audience happy with a few well chosen words and he presented the team with letters.

The evening was declared a huge success by all present and afterward there was roller skating in the gymnasium. One member expressed the feeling of nearly all when she said, "Oh, what a wonderful day!"—Contributed.

twenty-two regions. The regions are designed to provide hospital facilities of a high standard for the diagnosis and care for all persons in the region through one or more regional hospitals with area and community hospital closely allied on a voluntary basis.

In recommending aid to be given special consideration is given to the following factors:

1. Emphasis is placed on construction in general hospitals.
2. First consideration in allocating Federal funds is the per cent of need now met by existing suitable beds available in general hospitals.

3. Consideration to construction of special types of hospital facilities such as tuberculosis, mental and chronic, will be given in improving these as a part of an overall state plan in accordance with the need of each.

4. Consideration will not be given to constructing general hospitals of less than approximately fifty beds except to meet very unusual conditions.

The program will be administered in Michigan through the Office of Hospital Survey and Construction under the direction of James L. Dack. This agency is part of the governor's office. Working with Mr. Dack is the Advisory Hospital Council, an eleven member body appointed by Governor Sigler.

Mr. Dack pointed out that organizations which wish to receive Federal funds under this program should not let contracts before their applications have been fully approved.

Mr. Dack stated that because of the high cost of hospital construction, the Federal funds available would not meet the total need in Michigan. In the five year program, $10,857,750 will be made available to Michigan. Because two-thirds of the money must be put up by the local community the total amount of building which might be anticipated would be about thirty-two and one-half million dollars.

Because some communities in high priority areas will not be able to raise the required two-thirds of the cost, some of the funds may later be available to communities which are relatively low on the priority list.

NEWLY MARRIED COUPLE ON HONEYMOON TRIP IN SOUTHERN STATES

Decker, assisted by Rev. John Safran of Cass City.

Palms, candles and baskets of mixed flowers formed an attractive setting for the wedding. Appropriate music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Borg, vocalists, and Mrs. Howard Wooley, organist.

The bride's white wedding gown was fashioned with a lace bodice, full gathered skirt with side bustle, long sleeves, a sweetheart neckline and a satin train about four feet in length. Her fingertip veil was caught in a tiara of orange blossoms, and her colonial bouquet contained white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Amelia Pena, dressed in yellow taffeta, was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Lillian Pena of Cleveland, sister-in-law of the bride, wearing blue taffeta; Alice Pena of Pontiac, the bride's sister, in pink taffeta; Consuela Ochoa of Pontiac in aqua taffeta; and Polly Lopez, Saginaw, in powder blue taffeta. Little Genoveva Martinez of Pontiac, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and wore a miniature formal of white taffeta with a bustle.

The best man was Robert Pena of Cleveland, brother of the bride. Other attendants were William Pena of Cass City, Joseph Lopez of Saginaw and Joseph Leal of Pontiac. The men in the bridal party wore tuxedos.

Following the ceremony, a reception for about 250 guests was held in the social room of the church which was decorated in pink and white. A large wedding cake, adorned with tiny figures of a bridal couple, centered the bride's table. Guests were present from Cleveland, San Antonio, Saginaw, Pontiac, Detroit, Kalamazoo and Bay City. A dance honoring the newlyweds was held in the town hall at eight o'clock of that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodriguez left on a wedding trip of two weeks through the southern states. After May 1 they will be at home to their friends at 303 Chrystal Lake Drive, Pontiac, where they have recently purchased a home.

Until a short time ago, Mrs. Rodriguez was the owner of the Be-Lov-Beauty Studio in Cass City.

ONE OF THEM WILL DIE OF CANCER ... UNLESS

"ME, DIE OF CANCER?"

Yes, it's perfectly possible. Actual figures show that cancer deaths are increasing steadily and that cancer will strike in almost one of two families.

And never forget... it can be perfectly well be yours.

So don't you think you ought to do something about it while there's still time?

THREE SIDES TO THE PROBLEM
If cancer is to be checked... and it can be! the problem must be attacked from three sides:

RESEARCH must continue all over the country, under the direction of our leading scientists, to find a cure. This needs money... millions of dollars.

SERVICE must be maintained and increased. Wherever you are, your community must have facilities to provide information on the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

EDUCATION must go forward. People must learn that delay is responsible for up to 35% of cancer deaths. They must know cancer's danger signals and that, if recognized in time, many cancers can be cured.

HOWEVER LITTLE YOU HELP, YOU MUST HELP!

Every three minutes someone dies of cancer. Every day that passes the chances increase that one of your loved ones may be stricken. You cannot, you must not, you dare not turn your back. There is no greater help you can give than to aid in the fight against this frightful scourge. Remember... someone in your family may be doomed to die of cancer. The help you give today may save a life!

YEAR BY YEAR MORE PEOPLE DIE OF CANCER!

Millions of dollars are needed to check this dreadful scourge... and the money must come from you. The need is desperate, the time is now! Will you help check this dreadful scourge? There is hope if you will give... Send your contribution today!

Cancer, the scourge that grows!
