

Tri-County Post Breaks Ground for New Building

Local Legionnaires Plan to Donate Time in the Erection of New Quarters

Excavation has been made on West Main Street for the basement of the new American Legion building which members of Tri-County Post No. 507 plan to erect this summer. The basement, 40 by 50 feet, will be used for recreation and dining rooms. The one-story building, 40 by 80 feet, will have a brick front, with side walls of cement blocks. This floor will be used as an auditorium and Legion hall.

Excavation for the basement was made by Rusch & Whitfield, E. B. Schwaderer has done considerable grading on the premises, and A. T. Barnes will pour the footings for the walls. These operations will all be donations by these three contractors. Many of the Legion members are planning to donate their time in building operations.

The plot of ground has a four-rod frontage on Main St. and runs north 10 rods. A one-rod driveway at the north opens onto Weaver St. Another driveway at the west of the building will lead to ample parking space at the rear end of the hall.

The front of the building will be 26 feet from the Main Street sidewalk and will line up with the front lines of nearby residences. This will leave room for a lawn and landscaping of the grounds next to M-81.

Good-Fellowship Topped Rotary's Farmer Night

Clare Tinker of the State Dept. of Conservation Was Speaker at Dinner Meeting

Good-fellowship prevailed at Farmers' Night of the Rotary Club when a group of agriculturalists of the Cass City community were entertained at an appetizing dinner at the Hotel Coffee Shop Tuesday.

Song Leader Robert Hunter directed the group in an enthusiastic rendition of familiar songs with Geo Dillman as piano accompanist and Club President Arthur Atwell welcomed the farmers.

Program chairman Geo. Clara introduced Clare Tinker, a representative of the Michigan Department of Conservation as the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Tinker explained how the climatic conditions of past seasons and other causes had affected the propagation of the pheasant population in Michigan and other states where these game birds are numerous. He mentioned three things which menace the world today—the atomic bomb, the loss of interest in religion, and the absence of a serious consideration of conservation as a way of life. "We are under moral obligation," he said, "to pass to our children the enjoyment of as fine a place to live as we or our forebears ever had." His address was replete with humorous illustrations.

You Can Save a Life

Can America reach the national goal of only six deaths per 100 million miles of travel by 1949? That was the three year goal set at the President's Highway Safety Conference in 1946 — and 1948 is the decisive year. Only the continued effort of every driver in the United States can assure the reaching of this goal—a goal that is a magnificent reward for effort—for every point down means the saving of more than 3,000 lives!

People have accidents because they didn't intend NOT to! Of course, every driver knows about accidents—too much—so much, in fact, that he grows careless and indifferent. Let one child be stricken by polo and a whole community becomes alarmed and ready for action. Polo is a terrible thing—yet, bad as it is,—for each child crippled by polo, approximately 25 are crippled by traffic accidents.

Just suppose that a strange epidemic wiped out a city the size of Albuquerque, New Mexico, and crippled every man, woman and child in Los Angeles. No national emergency action would be too drastic. Yes, that is the nation's annual traffic accident total: 34,000 people killed in auto accidents.

1,500,000 people crippled in auto accidents in just one year.

That record can be lowered—it's up to you and every driver to do your part. Who knows—the life you save might be your own.

It brings you BIG-CAR QUALITY—not in one item only, but in every phase of styling, engineering and construction—and brings it to you AT LOWEST COST, as well. That is why more people drive Chevrolets, according to official nationwide registrations—and more people want Chevrolets, according to seven independent nationwide surveys—than any other make of car. That is why you, too, will agree that CHEVROLET AND ONLY CHEVROLET IS FIRST in all-round value!

Nowhere else beauty like this! New styling! New colors! New upholstery fabrics! All this added to the basic Big-Car luxury of Chevrolet's famous Body by Fisher. Remember—this body is exclusive to Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.

You'll enjoy much greater comfort in Chevrolet for 1948. It brings you the Big-Car riding-smoothness and roadsteadiness of the Unitized Knee-Action Gliding Ride. Another feature found only in Chevrolet and more expensive cars.

Just as you'll find no equal for Chevrolet value, so you'll find no equal for Chevrolet service. Safeguard your transportation by bringing your present car to us for skilled service, now and at regular intervals, pending delivery of your new Chevrolet!

Pennsylvania's Farmers

Only 22,144 of the 171,761 farms in Pennsylvania are operated by tenant farmers. Full owners total 134,172. The remaining farms are operated by part owners or by managers. Full owners hold more than 10 million of the 15 million acres of land in farms in that state.

Pasture Improvement

Pasture improvement will pay this year as never before. It will mean greater milk production with less imported feed. It will mean greater beef production per acre and per animal. It will even mean greater poultry production. Chickens don't chew a cud, but they graze, just as do cattle, and a little green grazing for the flock during the spring, summer and fall will keep up egg production and save as much as 20 per cent on the feed bill.

Speeding Train Stops

Fight Between Drivers
ABERDEEN, MD.—A south-bound express settled at least the initial phase of an argument that arose when a local motorist found his way across the Pennsylvania railroad tracks blocked by another motor car.
 Corp. John Lanbeck of the state police said Frank Strangelo, 35, left his vehicle to argue with the other driver, heard a crash, and turned around to see that a train had carried his car a mile down the tracks.

Persistent Soldier Talks Way to JailG.I. Spends Two Days Telling Authorities of Theft.

KANSAS CITY, MO.—A 24-year-old soldier who spent two days trying to convince authorities here that he had stolen a motor car made some progress when he was arrested and held in jail.

The man was Leonard Martin West Jr. of Cimarron, Okla. West said he spent four and one-half years in the army, including overseas service in World War II, re-enlisted December 15 in the army air corps and has been stationed at Lowry field in Denver.

West said he went to Montrose, Colo., to visit friends. There, he said, he stole an Oldsmobile sedan from Sam Trujillo and drove it to Amarillo, Tex., where he abandoned it at a filling station and hitchhiked to Kansas City.

"Sam is one of my best friends," West told police. "I don't know why I ever stole his car unless it's because I have a war neurosis—I have headaches and things like that."

After arriving here, West's conscience began to trouble him, he told police. He said he was unable to sleep and arose, dressed and went to the federal courthouse determined to confess and surrender.

"A guard over there told me to come back later when some of the federal agents would be there," West said.

"I went back and confessed and they didn't seem to believe me. Someone gave me a dollar and told me to go out and get me a good breakfast. I did, and went to a movie, but I couldn't forget about that car and about being almost AWOL from the army."

West said he returned to the federal building, intent on making another attempt to convince agents he had stolen a motor car.

By that time agents had checked West's story and were more interested in him, he said. They turned him over to police, who also questioned him and placed him in jail.

Waste Radioactive UnitsUsed in Food Sterilization

OMAHA.—An Omaha dairy firm has been experimenting more than a year in the use of waste radioactive material from atomic energy production for the sterilization of food, J. Gordon Roberts, the firm's president, disclosed.

Patents are being sought on devices to apply the sterilizing radiation, and not on the basic idea of applying the rays, he added.

A sterilizer using the process has been developed by Robert S. Berry, 24-year-old former University of Omaha student, who has been working for the dairy firm since he went to Roberts with his idea in August, 1946.

Results of tests to determine if radiation sterilization will change the flavor, vitamin content or food value of milk or other foods are expected to be made known soon.

Byproducts from the manufacture of atom bombs have been available for the research, he said.

Army Files Grieving Dog to Re-enlist Soldier Master

MONTREY, CALIF.—Tony, a grieving collie dog, landed in an army plane at the Monterey airport but the soldier-master for whom he was pining was not among the greeting delegation.

Cpl. Robert Stratmann of Santa Monica, re-enlisted and went to Fort Ord, near here. The three-year-old dog wouldn't eat, moped about and looked forlorn. The army decided to do something about it and gave the dog a ride to Monterey in the army plane, which, the army explained, was coming here anyway.

Tony was greeted by Maj. Arthur La Capria, post public relations officer, who took him to the army camp where he was cared for until Stratmann returned from a weekend pass.

Calm Example of Two Nuns Helps Avoid Panic in Wreck

BOSTON.—Two nuns seated in the first car of a wrecked train helped, by their own calm example, to avert wholesale panic among passengers, a Back Bay woman reports.

"Passengers started crowding toward the rear door to get out," said the woman.

"The two nuns sat in their seats, and on their faces was a look of peace and calm that I'll never forget. Just by their appearance, they calmed the passengers and helped them get off the train without panic."

Hosses Is Hosses

LINCOLN and a judge were having a friendly contest of wits on the subject of horses, when Lincoln said:

"Well, look here, Judge! I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll make a horse trade with you, only it must be upon these stipulations: Neither party shall see the other's horse until it is produced here in the courtyard of the hotel and both parties must trade horses. If either party backs out of the agreement, he does so under a forfeiture of $25."

It was agreed, and Lincoln and the judge each left to find a horse for the joking trade, while a crowd collected to watch the fun. When the judge reappeared there was a great laugh at the incredibly skinny, dejected-looking animal, blind in both eyes, that he led. But the up-came when Lincoln strode upon the scene with a carpenter's sawhorse on his shoulder. Relieving himself of his burden, Lincoln with a disgusted air scrutinized the judge's animal.

"Well, Judge," he said, "this is the first time I ever got the worst of it in a horse trade."

BELIEVER IN SIGNS

An elderly farmer drove into town one day and hitched his team to a telegraph pole. "Here!" shouted the burly policeman, "you can't hitch there!" "Can't eh," exclaimed the irate farmer. "Well, why have you got a sign up there that says, 'Fine for hitching'?"

THREATENING GESTURES

It was Jimmy's first time at a concert and, watching the antics of the conductor, he turned to his mother and asked:
 "Why is the man shaking his stick at the lady on the stage?"
 "Sh-sh," pleaded his mother.
 "He's not shaking it at her."
 "Well, what's she hollering for then?"

Learned His Lesson
 A little boy being very curious asked his father, "Daddy, how did you meet mommie?"
 With a bit of a frown on his face, his father replied, "That's a rather big question for a little boy. But I'll tell you one thing—it certainly cured me of whistling."

Strange Storm Buffets Liner Crossing Ocean

Lack of Gales With Heavy Rain and High Seas Stumps Veteran.

NEW YORK. — Although wintry gales and pounding seas are not unusual in the North Atlantic, a freak storm which bewildered even veteran mariners was described by Commodore Harry Manning, master of the United States liner America, after his ship docked here 14 hours late on a voyage from Europe with 794 passengers.

Commodore Manning said he had encountered "ominous and ugly" seas during the America's six-day crossing.

At the peak of the storm the liner hit heavy swells that reached a height of 40 feet. Speed was reduced to 10 knots, less than half the normal cruising rate.

"I never encountered weather of this kind before," the master, a veteran of 35 years as a seafarer, declared, adding that although there was "no wind to speak of," there was a "violent movement of the entire area" in a northeasterly direction at a rate of about 40 knots.

Lasts 20 Hours. "I couldn't puzzle it out," he continued. "It was most annoying. It lasted about 20 hours. The glass was falling all the time. It was raining pitchforks but the temperature was never low. It ranged between 45 and 50 degrees."

The heavy rain and the turbulent sea were "most depressing," Commodore Manning added. He estimated that the storm covered a circular area 300 to 600 miles in diameter. Because of the unusual nature of the disturbance, the commodore said he would write a special letter to the weather bureau about it. He pointed out that winds of about 25 knots normally would accompany sea swells of intensity.

Commodore Manning said he could have arrived on time if he had maintained cruising speed.

"I'm not interested in the schedule," he remarked. "I'm interested in the safe arrival of the passengers. I didn't push the ship."

The strange storm was encountered when the America reached a point off Nantucket, about 300 miles from New York.

Actor's Mother Dies.

Mrs. Mary Matthews, 69, of Nottingham, England, who boarded the America with her son, Lester Matthews, an English screen actor, died in her cabin of natural causes, according to Dr. John Sheedy, the ship's surgeon. Her body will be returned to England.

Ships en route to New York that were delayed by heavy weather included the Cunard White Star liner Queen Mary from Southampton with 1,419 passengers.

Another vessel affected by the storm was the United States army hospital ship Mercy, carrying patients from Bremerhaven. The army transport Thomas H. Barry from Bremerhaven was three days behind schedule.

Marauding Wild Elephants

Cause Big Damage in India

NEW DELHI.—To various minor tribulations of Free India now are added problems of marauding wild elephants and the approaching extinction of the scaly anteater.

The anteater is a pet of farmers because it devours destructive white ants and does no harm.

Both of these odd varieties of natural history are occurring in agricultural areas of the United Provinces, according to newspaper reports from there.

Wild elephants, the slaughter of which has been banned for several years, have multiplied greatly.

They are doing so much damage to crops and fences and even attacking villages that the United Provinces government has issued special arms licenses for killing elephants and is planning to hire expert hunters.

Young Evangelist Preaches,

Sings and Plays Accordion

LOS ANGELES. — Little Marjoe Gortner, three and one-half-year-old "preacher," is the talk of Los Angeles evangelist circles.

The curly-haired son of the Rev. and Mrs. Vernon Gortner, both Long Beach evangelists, made his pulpit debut at a local downtown meeting and since has given several sermons, followers say.

His average sermon lasts about 10 minutes. He also sings and accompanies himself on the accordion.

Marjoe's best sermon, say his backers, is "The Last Roundup," in which he comes on singing, dressed in a cowboy suit, and concludes with a short message on the general theme.

SHABBONA

Junior Sportsmen—

The boys held their first Sunday meeting this week. Only a very few were absent, so the boys have decided to meet every Sunday afternoon for their weekly get-together. Inasmuch as several parents need their boys at home on the week-days these Sunday meetings will continue until such time as the club's members may have a week-day afternoon free.

It has been suggested that the club hold their business meeting one night during a month for the purpose of voting acceptance of new members, collecting dues, and discussing club business. This would eliminate the necessity of handling their business matters on Sunday, which has been offensive to some.

In the meantime, these Sunday afternoon meetings will be supervised. Fair play and good sportsmanship, together with cooperation, are the ultimate goals of these supervised play periods.

Community Club—

The Evergreen Community Club met Tuesday, April 20. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Alex Huessner and movies were shown by the Conservation Department. These movies were procured through the Junior Sportsmen's Club. The 4-H boys and girls held their exhibit and E. Daugherty, Sandusky, spoke regarding fire protection. A potluck lunch was served following the program.

L. D. S. Aid—

Peter Kritzman who has been ill is now much better and able to return to school.

Mrs. Minnie Crouch of Davison is still quite ill. Mr. and Mrs. George Krause, Mrs. Sheriff Holcomb, and Mrs. Ruth Scouter drove down to visit her last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ferguson, Pontiac, were here over the week end visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Ralph Sanderson is visiting relatives and friends in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ferguson are spending a few days visiting relatives in the Detroit vicinity.

The Red Cross quota for Evergreen Township was $140.00, and Milford Robinson, township director, is pleased to announce a total of $262.50.

The Farm Bureau will hold its next meeting Monday night, May 3, in the Community Hall.

Aunt Min sez—"Some folks don't like the idea of the boys gettin' together Sunday afternoon for a game of ball or some other kind of supervised play. 'Pears t' me they might better be under the supervision of an older person learnin' fair play and cooperation than be gallivantin' around the countryside by themselves."

"Back in 1614, Sir Thomas Overbury writ something that's still mighty apt today. 'Twas, 'The man who has not anything to boast of but his illustrious ancestors is like a potato—the only good belonging to him is underground.'"

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Alleman

Human nature and freedom of the press being what they are, it is inevitable that some of Kim Sigler's newspaper supporters now disagree with parts of his 1948 reform program.

Representative Elton R. Eaton, editor of the Plymouth Mail, differs with the governor on the proposal for power to hire and fire department heads and to scrap, in effect, control of state departments through the state administrative board.

It so happens that the administrative board was created by Governor Alex J. Groesbeck, early in the 20's, while Eaton was Groesbeck's executive secretary. Eaton says the board is just like a corporation board of directors and that the governor, as "chairman" of the board, has ample powers to get things done.

The Plymouth editor recalls that Groesbeck's power to hire and fire was used to oust Tom Johnson as state superintendent of public instruction, and that Fred Green used the cry of "dictator" to upset Groesbeck at the next Republican primary.

Governor Sigler retorts that he has no power today to remove department heads or other state officials. "In order to remove an official I have to prefer charges of malfeasance, misfeasance and non-feasance," he told the press.

Sigler does not believe in boards and commissions. He regards them as inefficient. He would like to reduce the present 100-plus state units to around 20.

Muri DeFoe, editor of the Charlotte Republican-Tribune, disagrees with the governor over a four-year term. His logic goes along something like this: When the state gets a poor governor, two years is long enough to keep him. When the state gets a good governor, voters can keep him four years or longer by the simple method of re-electing him.

It is Mr. DeFoe's conviction that the Sigler proposal is more political than practical. The governor and other elective officials (and perhaps the legislators, if the amendment is revised to include them) would be elected in a non-presidential year, beginning in 1950. Michigan elected Democratic governors in the presidential years of 1932, 1936 and 1940; Republican governors have won in every non-presidential year campaign since 1914.

The Lansing legislative situation has been interesting to watch for several reasons. Governor Sigler's reform program was presented to the legislature without much advance consultation with legislative leaders. The four-year term for the governor and other elective officials, for example, was linked to a similar term for county officials but not to members of the state legislature.

This now appears to have been a tactical error. Legislators were cool from the start. They warmed up to it reluctantly and only when political pressure was applied that the head of the party should get legislative support in a campaign year and that the amendments, after all, were going to the jury (the people) for final verdict.

After asking legislators to do something for the governor and nothing for themselves, Sigler further ruffled their pride by appearing before committees and warning members he would summon legislators back for another special session unless they submitted his program to the people. Otherwise he would appeal to the people, circulate petitions and get the amendments on the November ballots.

An Associated Press writer reported that the Governor announced, well in advance, a slate of seven delegates-at-large for the state Republican convention in Detroit after he had assured the press that the gathering was to be "unbossed". Furthermore, the convention endorsement of proposed reforms was characterized by the A. P. as being "very lukewarm". Sigler's methods were said to be "amateurish".

ledger may be placed in bold letters to his traits of high courage and intellectual integrity. He still is the idealist, the reformer, the knight battling for "better government". He delights in challenging the status quo.

The governor's troubles come largely from his zeal and impatience to get things done. By seeking more power for himself in order to achieve these reforms, he has antagonized a number of influential people in the party, including those in the legislature.

Now that the legislative record is on the books, popular debate on the issues will get under way. The verdict will come in November.

Tank Car Train

The quantity of oil that can be hauled in a tank car train depends upon length of the train and capacity of the cars making up the train. Oil trains average about 60 tank cars each, and the capacity of the average tank car is about 210 barrels. Thus, an average oil train carries about 12,600 barrels, or 529,200 gallons of oil.

First Furniture Piece

The chest was the first piece of furniture and the ancestor of all other furniture. Starting out as a crude box for keeping a few possessions, it eventually got a lid, then turned out to be handy as a seat, and when it grew to larger size it could be used as either a bed or a table. Eventually some inventive cabinet maker added a drawer and another added some shelves above. Today lift-lid chests may be bought in a variety of versions.

Milk Products Help In Conserving Grain

Better Rations Result When Proteins Are Used

With a world grain emergency and a national drive to conserve grain used in feeding, and with grain prices high, milk by-products are more important than ever in poultry feeding.

Balanced rations probably can do more to conserve grain used in feeding than any other single measure. Milk nutrients found in skim milk, buttermilk and dried cheese whey have been found highly effective in building balanced poultry rations.

These milk by-products provide animal proteins of unusual quality. The milk proteins, lactalbumen and casein, have a high growth promoting value and contain all the essential amino acids. These proteins give balance to the lower quality vegetable protein in grains normally fed poultry.

Milk by-products are rich in lactose, or milk sugar, a natural laxative which helps poultry maintain good intestinal health and minimizes the hazards of intestinal parasites. These milk by-products also provide minerals, particularly calcium and phosphorus and contain the water soluble vitamins of whole milk.

In preparing a balanced ration the object is to feed the correct proportion of the various nutrients that poultry require. In every case there is a point beyond which it is wasteful to include additional grain without providing other nutrients because the fowl cannot make complete economical use of all nourishment in additional grain.

Killing Chestnuts

Poultry Relish Grit; Aids Grinding Process

Grit is a material of value to poultry but full details are not yet definitely known, according to University of Delaware. It is certain that birds like it and, when grit is fed freely, they consume more than is actually needed. Grit containing a large amount of soluble calcium has been widely recommended but appears to have no advantage where other forms of calcium are included in the ration. Actually it might be detrimental, say Delaware specialists. Helping the gizzard in the grinding process is the only known function of grit. A hard mica grit of suitable size doubtless should be available to all chickens.

Productivity Depends Upon Organic Matter

The soil's ability to produce high crop yields needed to feed hungry millions depends on its organic matter supply. Soils rich in organic matter are good "sponges" for soaking up and holding rainfall for crops. Organic matter helps restore soil structure, improves tilth and helps plant roots get more nutrients from the soil. Use lime, fertilizers containing phosphorus and potash to get good catches of legumes.

Dead Men Don't Talk

IN the tavern of a small Danish town, three men were discussing a gentleman who had died several years before. They all agreed that the deceased had been selfish, disagreeable, miserly, mean and even cruel.

A stranger interrupted. "I believe you're wrong," he observed quietly. "The gentleman was kindly, courteous, lovable, thoughtful, generous."

"He was a friend of yours?" asked one, rather embarrassed.

"Oh, no. I never met him."

"But if you never met him," protested the man, "how do you know he possessed such splendid qualities?"

"I should know," replied the stranger. "I married his widow!"

WINDY WISDOM

You can always tell a country girl from a city girl. When a gust of wind hits them, a country girl will grab for her skirt, but a city girl will grab for her hat.

Subtraction

In response to compliments on the delicious dinner, Mrs. Brown was enthusiastically regaling her guests on her good fortune in finding such a jewel of a cook.

"She has only one fault," sighed Mrs. Brown. "She breaks a lot of dishes."

Just then came a loud unmistakable crash from the direction of the kitchen.

"More dishes, Annie?" called Mrs. Brown.

"No," came the faint answer, "less."

SILENT CAL

One Sunday after President Coolidge had returned to the White House from church, where he had gone alone, Mrs. Coolidge inquired:

"Was the sermon good?"
"Yes," he answered.

Two new courses which will be added to the Cass City High School schedule are home economics and a commercial course.

Maurice Dailey, a representative of Cass City High School, won first place in declamations in the district contest of the Michigan High School Oratorical Association held in Flint Friday. Miss Bernice Wager, also of the local school, was third in oratory.

The automobile is blamed for curtailing another railroad's business with the result that the Detroit, Bay City and Western R. R. running between Bay City and Port Huron has cut its passenger service one-half. Two trains were taken off May 1.

Mrs. S. B. Young was called to Caseville Tuesday where she conducted the installation ceremonies for the Order of Eastern Star of that place.

Senate Increases Ceilings for Earnings by On-the-Job Trainees

House passage and presidential approval are considered foregone conclusions with respect to Senate Bill 1393 which has passed the Senate, increasing amounts of money veterans may earn while trainees in on-the-job and apprenticeship training under the G. I. Bill.

The bill provides that trainees without dependents may earn as much as $145 a month; those with one dependent as much as $130 a month; and those with two or more dependents as much as $200 a month and still receive the full subsistence allowance, provided such training is under the G. I. Bill. When earnings exceed those amounts, subsistence allowances are reduced proportionately.

The new legislation also provides small monthly subsistence increases proportionately for all part-time students, including institutional on-farm trainees.

Tossed From His Car,
Driver Chases Vehicle

LYNN, MASS.—Roger Bragdon's motor trip from Lynn to nearby Revere left him footsore and leg-weary.

En route his car was in collision with a trolley. The crash tossed Bragdon—uninjured—out of his automobile, which kept on going. The 23-year-old driver chased the vehicle several blocks before he could overtake it and climb back into the driver's seat.

Aspire to Congress?
Then Stay at HomeMany Solons Born in the State
They Now Represent.

WASHINGTON.—Do you want to come to Washington and be a busy bee in the world's greatest governmental hive?

Do you want to influence—and be influenced by—people? In short: Do you want to be a congressman?

If you do, take a tip: Stay in one spot. And the best spot of all is the town in which you were born.

That's a clue anyone can pick up by reading the new issue of the Congressional Directory, in which each congressman is asked to supply a few lines of autobiographical material.

Time after time this will begin: "Walt Horan, Republican, of Wenatchee, Wash.; born in Wenatchee, Wash. . . ."

"Spessard Lindsey Holland, Democrat, of Bartow, Fla., born at Bartow . . ."

Every senator and representative from Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky, Vermont and Utah was born in the state he now represents.

For the rule-proving exception, none of the congressmen from Idaho and Wyoming was born in that state he now represents.

The day of the immigrant boy who rose to eminence hasn't passed entirely.

Representative Gillie (Rep., Ind.) was born in Scotland. . . . Senator Robertson (Rep., Wyo.) was born in Wales. . . . Representative Sabath (Dem., Ill.), born in Czechoslovakia. . . . Representative Stefan (Rep., Neb.), born near Zebraokov, Bohemia. . . . and Senator Wagner (Dem., N. Y.), born in Nastatten, Germany.

Representative Bates (Dem., Ky.) was born in a town now defunct—Republican, Ky.

Two Ozark Families Sign
Treaty to Halt 'Feuding'

SALEM, ARK.—Male members of two "feuding" Ozark families have signed an agreement to "live in peace and harmony" and to let "all difficulties, differences and troubles of the past be forgotten and forever done away with."

The unusual document, filed in justice court here, was the outgrowth of a rock fight between the Lawyer and Shepard families last December.

After that battle S. L. Lawyer, his son, Dahl, and son-in-law, Arthur Rosenberry, were charged with assault, and the Shepard brothers, Jim, William and Frank, were charged with flourishing deadly weapons. They live on adjoining farms.

Brought into court, the six defendants agreed to sign the "peace treaty" drawn up by Judge Will H. D. Green, West Plains, Mo., attorney.

The court accepted the signed document and then levied fines of $1 on each of the six defendants.

Bay State Asked to Void
Anti-Rhode Islander Law

BOSTON.—The Massachusetts legislature has been asked to repeal an old colonial law that makes Rhode Islanders liable to arrest, at least technically, if they enter the Bay State.

An embarrassing moment for Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. last summer led State Sen. Chester A. Dolan, Democrat, of Boston, to advocate wiping the old law off the books.

Martin, during a talk at a Newport, R. I., gathering, praised his home state for its "humane and liberal" legislation. Gov. John O. Pastore, a Democrat, reminded him that there was "nothing humane or liberal" about the law of 1637 barring residents of Providence plantations.

Senator Dolan recalled that in 1936 the legislature rescinded the colonial expulsion of Roger Williams.

NEWARK, N. J.—A man who fell asleep on a Pennsylvania railroad train out of New York made himself so comfortable that his gun showed.

Detective Erwin Schoenick said the man, David Worby, 22, was being held for questioning in connection with recent Asbury Park house burglaries.

Farms To Fore As U. S. Uses Oil
At Rate 28 Times Rest Of World

The U.S. today consumes 28 times as much oil per person as does the rest of the world, using oil for industry, transportation, the home and the farm. With the close of the heating season, current emphasis is on the farm use as spring plowing begins. Since 1941, the farmer has virtually doubled his use of gasoline for tractors and other equipment and is utilizing Diesel oil, kerosene and bottled gas in increasing quantities.

County Red Cross
Fund Campaign Fails
To Reach Quota

The Red Cross fund campaign in Tuscola County is now nearly completed according to "Andy" Anderson, fund chairman. A grand total of $14,265.25 on quota of $17,016.00 has been raised.

Some townships have been unable to make final reports even though the campaign was extended 15 days. One rural worker in the Kingston Township was so determined to cover her assignment in spite of the bad roads that she walked nearly four miles.

Denmark Township, under the leadership of Edward Elbers of Reese and Mrs. Minnie Miller of Richville, showed the greatest gain over last year's reports. Only $270 was contributed to the Red Cross in that township last year. This year a total of $1,307.75, with a township quota of $1,290.00, was raised.

Other townships which have made final reports are as follows:

	Raised	Quota
Akron	$ 596.77	$ 806.25
Columbia	522.60	806.25
Dayton	251.70	387.60
Elkland	1,533.31	1,290.00
Fairgrove	703.95	741.75

Gilford	340.00	548.25
Juniata	285.50	354.75
Koylton	175.25	129.00
Kingston	282.00	290.26
Millington	768.40	806.25
Novesta	222.99	290.25
Tuscola	598.00	548.25
Vassar	1,378.40	1,806.00
Wells	135.00	193.50
Wisner	254.85	258.00

Almer, Elmwood, Ellington, Fremont, Indianfields and Watertown Townships had not made final reports on April 21.

Mr. Anderson stated that persons who could not be reached by the workers because of bad roads are invited to mail contributions to the Red Cross headquarters in Caro. While the campaign is now officially ended the quota has not been raised and additional funds are still needed.

ever pray for a miracle?

Her husband's out in the waiting room now. Waiting to see if they can stop Cancer from eating out her life. Trying to believe she has a chance. Praying for a miracle.

This time they discovered Cancer in time and he'll be able to take her home.

They're performing many a miracle like this one in hospitals all over the country. But the great miracle millions are praying for is that science will find a cure for all cancer. Last year Cancer killed more than 188,000. Sooner or later it reaches, on the average, into every other home in America. It takes the young as quickly as the old—the rich as surely as the poor.

Next time you see a Cancer donation box, remember it's your chance to buy protection for your friends, your family or perhaps yourself.

Your dimes and dollars help buy more X-Ray and surgical equipment... support laboratory projects to study Cancer... help speed hundreds of scientists in the race to conquer Cancer.

Legumes Open Soil To Air and Water System of Rotation Prevents Compaction

Tight "stuffy" soils are robbing many farmers of high bushel-per-acre yields of corn and small grains each year. Loams, silt loams and clay loams need large amounts of organic matter in the plow layer and deeper to keep them open and loose for high crop production.

Tap roots of alfalfa and sweet clover, as shown in sketch, break through packed soil to assure water and plant food for growing crops.

packed, especially just below the plow sole. These compactions slow down the intake of water. They cut down the amount of water and air the soil will hold for crop use. They keep the fibrous roots of corn and small grain "upstairs" away from water and plant food held deeper in the soil.

Temporary relief can be had by using machines that reach below the ordinary plow layer and break up the plow sole compactions. Real relief, however, comes only through regular use of deep-rooted legumes in the rotation.

The driving tap roots of sweet clover and alfalfa force their way through the compactions and reach deep into the soil, thus opening it to air and water. The mineralized organic matter they leave there improves soil tilth and furnishes plant food for other crops.

Channels of the tap roots are routes for water and air and fibrous roots to follow deep into the soil. Compaction-busting alfalfa and sweet clover need phosphate and potash if they are to do a good job.

Smash Sale Records

All records for Ayrshire auction sales in the U. S. were broken when an average of $2,367.39 was paid for 23 Scottish bred Ayrshires imported and sold by Frank V. Lile of Bellefontaine, Ohio. The sale grossed $52,150.

A new record price for Ayrshire bull calves was set at $4,600 by Howard Baum and Sons of Paint Valley farm, Bainbridge, Ohio, in the purchase of eight-month-old Killoch Gay Spark (above).

Increased Yields Noted With Use of Fertilizer

Wheat yields can be stepped up 7 to 14 bushels per acre and the hay crop can be increased through use of more fertilizer in hay and pasture crops seeded in small grains, declares Dr. R. D. Dodd of the Ohio experiment station.

This practice is particularly profitable on land already highly productive, Dodd points out. As an example, he cites tests made by research men on plots at the Ohio station. The land's producing capacity already had been built up by good soil management so that it was producing an average of 85 bushels of corn, 23 bushels of wheat and 3 tons of hay per acre.

In the tests, a 2-12-6 fertilizer was applied at increasing rates to wheat.

Strict Observance Of Traffic Rules To Be Enforced

At the regular April monthly meeting of the Sanilac County Board of Education a resolution was adopted enlisting the aid of the public in the observance of traffic regulations in school zones. With the coming of spring many drivers have failed to slow down when driving through the posted zones. The Sanilac County Sheriff's Department and Michigan State Police will continue a strict enforcement of this regulation. Every driver must cooperate if this threat to the lives of school children is to be eliminated. An extra ten seconds when passing through a school zone may mean a life saved or a serious accident avoided.

need for world federal government on the American model as the only way to avoid World War III and its probable destruction of our civilization. Various proposals for a world constitution were presented by leading advocates, including the federal union of the democracies suggested by Clarence Streit and the new regional constitution just published by Chancellor Robert Hutchins and a committee from the University of Chicago. Plans for American participation in a world constitutional convention scheduled for Geneva in 1950 were considered. Henry Osborne, a member of the British Parliament, is the originator of that plan, which is finding support in all the democratic countries of the world.

Members of the forum came from colleges and high schools in many states, the farthest from the University of California. The Cass City delegation stayed at the Willow Run dormitories, and met many foreign students, including the two who were recent guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Melvin R. Vender in Cass City. Many of the sessions were held in the Rackham Lecture Hall, with its famous studded ceiling and foam-rubber cushioned seats. Not quite all the delegates were invited to attend the Michigan, the annual carnival of the University students in Yost Field House.

Plans are being prepared for the three delegates to present a report of the conference to a special assembly of upperclass students at the high school. The Cass City students were accompanied to the Forum by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oatley, local teachers. Mr. Oatley, who has advocated world government in several local addresses, is a member of United World Federalists, the same organization which was represented by Mrs. Pauline Sandham Briggs in her recent address to the Cass City Rotary Club.

Use for Hard Cheese

If a piece of cheese grows hard before you get around to using it, grate and store it in a jelly glass with holes punched in the lid. It keeps well and is delicious sprinkled over vegetable salads or spaghetti dishes.
