

Prominent Cass City Business Man Died Wednesday

George Ashton Tindale, for 27 years a dealer in Ford automobiles and head of the G. A. Tindale Motor Sales in Cass City, died early Wednesday morning in Pleasant Home Hospital where he had been a patient since Sunday. He had been in failing health for several years.

Funeral services will be held this (Friday) afternoon at two o'clock at the Douglas Funeral Home. Rev. Melvin R. Vender will officiate. Members of Tyler Lodge, F. & A. M., will conduct the Masonic burial service at Elkland cemetery.

Mr. Tindale was the son of the late James and Hannah Morley Tindale and was born in Cass City on April 12, 1879. In early "manhood, he accepted a position in the Cass City Bank of I. B. Auten which he held for several years until he moved to Deford to become cashier of the Deford Bank of A. Frutchey & Sons and manager of the Frutchey Elevator. Returning to Cass City, he again was employed in the Cass City Bank as cashier. When this institution became a state bank in 1921, he was elected a member of the board of directors and two years later became its vice president, an office he held until the present time.

Besides his business interests here, he was active in civic and fraternal circles. He served as treasurer of the board of education at the time the new high school building was erected, held the office of village clerk and was a member of the village council. He was a past master of Tyler Lodge, F. & A. M.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Curtis Hunt of Cass City; five grandchildren; a brother, Morley Tindale, of Cadillac; and a sister, Mrs. Ray Johnston of Traverse City. ## Interest Is Strong In Swimming Classes

Interest in the swimming instruction classes, being conducted by the Tuscola Chapter of the Red Cross, continues strong.

Lewis Garner, chapter vice chairman, reports a class of adult women, all over 40, are progressing well in the beginners' class at North Lake and are expected to pass required tests by the end of the month.

The adults, all of Mayville, are as follows: Mrs. Leo Hammond, Mrs. Charles Martin, Mrs. E. Stephens, Mrs. Walter Lyman and Miss Barbara Longeway.

Too many people of the county, according to Mr. Garner, have had the impression that the Red Cross swimming classes are for children only. Such is not the case, however, and he hopes more adults can and will take advantage of classes which may be offered next summer by this county's Red Cross chapter.

The following additional young people have just received Red Cross certificates — Beginners: Charles Grady of Cass City; Charles Hoyer and Karen Walden of Caro. Intermediates: Jack Henderson of Millington; Donna Wellington of Otter Lake; Ronald Smith, Joanne Letchfield, Donald Harrison, and Colene Sherbrook of Mayville; Joan Parrott of Cass City; and John Addison and Earl Boitel of Caro.

Laws of Gravitation Plus Were Demonstrated in Donkey Softball Play Here Saturday Night

Sir Isaac Newton, mathematician and astronomer in the 17th century, discovered the laws of gravitation in a somewhat leisurely manner in watching an apple fall from a tree. Eighteen softball players had the gravitation theory demonstrated to them in a much more rapid manner, assisted by the aleak backs and stubbornness of a herd of donkeys here Saturday night.

Sir Isaac was much interested in his discovery. The players had surprise and thrills added to interest in the demonstration at the village park and the large audience witnessing the antics were amused and had many a hearty laugh in watching the game whereby transportation was conducted about the field by way of donkeys' backs. Home runs were infrequent,

Mrs. Jarman and Children En route to Michigan from Alaska

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ali B. Jarman, serving as pastors at the Church of Christ in Fairbanks, Alaska, will be interested to know that Mr. Jarman has recovered from an attack of pneumonia which he suffered early in July.

Mrs. Jarman and two children, Jimmie, seven years old, and Mary Jane, eight months old, are en route to Michigan from Alaska to stay until November. The first part of the trip is being made by plane to Great Falls, Montana.

Mrs. Jarman is bringing with her beautifully colored pictures of the Interior Alaska Missionary projects. Churches may arrange to have these pictures shown for their congregations by writing to Mrs. Ali B. Jarman in care of David Wilson, R. F. D., Clare, Mich. Mr. Wilson is Mrs. Jarman's father.

The order in which requests are received will be a factor in determining whether those churches will be accommodated.

Church services have been held in the basement but now construction of the upper part of the church in Fairbanks is underway. The church is located on one of Fairbank's main streets. The exterior will present a beautiful rustic structure. Logs are being received and women are peeling the bark from them. A pressing need is for a heating plant and chimney for which money must be raised before the early Alaska winter arrives.

The Jarman's went through a flood about May 20 caused by melting snows and the breaking up of ice in the Chena River. Volunteers from the church had to take out by boat the Jarman's household furniture when water reached a depth of three feet in the yard.

News from Deford

SHORT STORY

Thunder Shower

By NORMA MOSHER

JOAN ROBERTS called me the other day. Rather surprisingly, for I hadn't seen her in years, and after the usual exchanges, "How are you? It's too bad we don't see one another more often," she got down to the point.

"Did you know your cousin Ethel was being married next month?"

"I was aware of the fact," I replied, rather grimly. "I've already been to three of her showers."

3 Minute Fiction

"Well, since I'm to be a bridesmaid I simply have to have one, too. I've decided on next Tuesday, and I thought you might like to come."

This was a "miscellaneous" shower, which, as everybody knows, means that you can bring anything from the book-ends Aunt Hattie sent you for Christmas to the pillow slips you picked up during the January sales for $1.98.

Our household, unfortunately, never seems to yield any hidden treasures at the right moment, so I bought a rose bowl at the little gift shop up at the corner.

I didn't get it wrapped until the last minute, as usual, and, as usual, I found that there wasn't a bit of fresh ribbon in the house.

BUT I still had the pearls to wrap up. Much as I disliked the idea, I had to pass them along to the next bride in the family—although Ethel didn't seem like family to me, because until recently we hadn't seen her in ages. I didn't even know whether she remembered the pearls, but the shower would provide a good opportunity to give them to her. So I did them up the best I could, not forgetting the little card that always went with them.

You know the old routine by now. When the scout posted at the door to watch for the guest of honor called "Here she comes!" the lights were turned out, and there was comparative silence broken only by a few giggles from the "teen-agers. Then, as Ethel stood in the doorway, everyone yelled "Surprise!" on went the lights, and she put on a fairly convincing display of amazement.

We all sat around in the usual circle, with Ethel opening the gifts and Joan reading the accompanying cards. Then they were passed on to be duly admired and exclaimed over, and returned via the circle to Ethel. The donor of the seventh gift, by tradition to be the next bride, turned out to be a stoutheaded matron who lived down the street and had three strapping half-grown boys.

IT WAS getting late, and we were hopefully sniffing the fragrance of the coffee brewing in the kitchen when Ethel reached way down for the last package. The white paper and red cord looked rather plain after all the other pretty wrappings and I was sorry that I hadn't taken time to dress it up a little. "This must be something extra," Ethel said, giving away the fact that all present and all presents had been accounted for in her busy little mind.

She gave an embarrassed laugh when she saw the shabby box, anticipating another joke. But when she opened it, there was only the string of small, well-worn pearls. Not real ones, of course, but well matched and graded. As Joan read the card, a burst of incredulous laughter rose throughout the room.

"Why of course, Ethel, I'll own up," I said quickly.

"A pearl for every year of happiness when you wear them on your wedding day." Why, it isn't even signed.

Ethel's voice was shrill over the buzz of comments in the room. "This must be a joke. As if I would wear those—those pearls with my wedding gown. I think the person who did this should own up. And I have a pretty good idea," turning and looking pointedly at me, "who it is."

I stood up. "Why of course, Ethel, I'll own up," I said quickly. "And I did hope that you might wear them at your wedding. But I can see that it was a mistake on my part, and I'm truly sorry for what I did. But there's one consolation," I couldn't help adding when I saw the look of triumph in her eye. "You'll not get a duplicate of these at another shower. You see, they belonged to our grandmother."

Disappointed

A SUBURBANITE sitting at his window one evening casually called to his wife: "There goes that woman Bill Jones is so terribly in love with."

His wife, in the kitchen, dropped a cup she was drying, hurried through the door, knocked over a lamp, and craned her neck to look out the window.

"Where?" she panted.

"There," he pointed, "that woman, with the tweed coat, on the corner."

"You idiot," she hissed, "that's his wife."

"Yes, of course," he replied.

A Late Arrival

Young Angus McTavish was observing his birthday, and his father decided to celebrate the occasion by taking him for a trolley ride. Stepping in, he handed the conductor 15 cents for one full, one half fare.

The conductor seemed dubious. "How old is the boy?"

"Well, this is his twelfth birthday," admitted McTavish, "but he wasn't born until late afternoon."

SHIRT TALK

"Is this the laundry?" the irritated customer shouted into the telephone. "Well, you sent me a batch of very old handkerchiefs instead of my shirt."

"Them ain't handkerchiefs," replied the laundry, "that's your shirt."

PSYBOTECHNICS

Little Susie's hair cracked, as her mother was combing it.

"Why does it crack?" the child asked.

"Because it has electricity in it," "Gee, ejaculated the modern little miss, "we're sure in the groove. I got electricity, Grandpa's got gas on his stomach, and Daddy's all lit..."

"Not another word, Susie!"

Food Digger

She's an after dinner speaker. Whenever she speaks to a man, she's after dinner.

SILLY JUDGE

Judge: "So you were playing poker?"

Gambler: "Yes, sir, but not for money."

Judge: "What were you playing for?"

Gambler: "For chips."

Judge: "But chips are the same as money. Ten dollars fine."

So the gambler paid in chips.

Forgetfulness

"Dear Clara," wrote the young man "pardon me, but I'm getting so forgetful. I proposed to you last night, but I've really forgotten whether you said 'yes' or 'no'."

"Dear Will," she replied, "so glad to hear from you. I knew I said 'no' to somebody last night, but had forgotten who it was."

Double Threat

"I'd fire you in a minute," cried the angry manager, "if I thought I could get another man to fill your job."

"And I'd quit in a minute," sighed the weary bookkeeper, "if I was through with my night course in welding."

SPECIAL REQUEST

"Does your orchestra ever play requests?"

"Certainly. What would you like to have us play?"

"Pinocchio!"

Dogs Can't Read

A woman went to buy a drinking bowl for her dog, and the shopkeeper asked her if she would like one with the inscription, "For the dog."

"It really doesn't matter," she replied. "My husband never drinks water, and the dog can't read."

The Magnolia State

The Deford Methodist Youth Fellowship Entertains—

On Tuesday evening, friends and parents of the Deford Youth Fellowship came to the program, sponsored by them, in the church. The weather being cool and damp, it could not be held on the lawn as planned.

The program consisted of devotions by Tony Alcantare, Joyce Vandermark and Carolyn Rayl; how the group functions and how funds are used by members of the group; instrumental music by Gerald Hicks on the accordion, and the "Rays" on the piano, clarinet and guitars; songs with Spanish guitar accompaniment by Mrs. Burton Allen and Laura Jean, Harold Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rayl. Miss Harriet Warner in her sermonette told what it means to her to be a Christian. Rev. Mollan backed the youth in their work by a few remarks. After the program, the crowd was asked to go to the annex for pie and ice cream, and their gifts amounted to nearly $39.00.

Truth Hurts

THE judge was explaining to the jury that a witness was not necessarily to be regarded as untruthful because he altered a statement he had previously made.

"For instance," he said, "when I entered this courtroom today, I could have sworn that I had my watch in my pocket. But then I remembered I had left it in the bathroom at home."

When the judge got home that night, his wife said, "John, why all the fuss about your watch—sending four or five men to get it?"

"What!" howled the judge. "I never sent anyone. What did you do?"

"Gave it to the first one who came," said his wife. "He knew just where it was!"

Proud Father

The minister had just finished an excellent chicken dinner. As he looked out of the windows, a rooster strutted across the yard.

"My!" said the minister. "That is certainly a proud rooster."

"Yes, sir," said the host, "he has reason to be proud. One of his sons just entered the ministry."

POOR CHOICE

Judge: "Could the motorist have avoided you?"

Injured: "He could your honor. He had the choice of hitting me or the missus and he picked me."

Acrobatic Maneuvers

"A good politician must also be a good acrobat."

"How do you figure that?"

"Ever try straddling a fence, keeping your fingers on the pulse of the nation, pointing with pride, and looking to the future while keeping both ears to the ground?"

Don't Waste Time

It happened on the obstacle course. A trainee, puffing and groaning, failed to make a hurdle. As he stretched out, a corporal ran forward.

"Hey," he cried. "What's the trouble?"

"I think I've broken my leg."

"Well, don't lay there, man. Start doing push-ups."

CHIPPED BEEF

A dining room patron struggled manfully with a tough steak. Finally he gave up the battle and called the waiter over, demanding that the steak be taken to the kitchen and replaced with something edible.

The waiter looked at the steak carefully, then shook his head dolefully. "Sorry, but I can't take it back now. You bent it."

Bowlers, Attention!

At a recent meeting of its newly elected officers and directors, rules and regulations for the 1948-49 season were made, and we submit the following information for the benefit of the individuals who plan to become members this season.

1—Again, as in the past, a bowler will be required to purchase a membership card at a cost of $3.45 as he signs up to bowl the first schedule; however, if he meets all the requirements of the league rules, he will be allowed to bowl the last three weeks of the schedule at no cost.

2—Each member shall pay $1.15 per week to cover cost of lines and dues, (90c for lines, 25c for dues), whether he bowls with his team or not, unless a satisfactory substitution is made, in which case, the substitute shall pay for the lines (90c) and the regular member shall pay the dues (25c).

3—The bowler will also be required to pay to his team captain the sum of 50c on the first night of bowling for the expense of A. B. C. sanctioning of the team in the City League.

4—When a member is absent and no substitution is made, the weekly payment will be divided, with 65c going to the alleys and 50c going to the league treasurer. If a member leaves the schedule before its completion and without securing a substitute, he shall forfeit his right to his $3.45 entry fee and 50c sanction fee.

5—It was further decided upon, in the case of a new bowler who has no established average, to use an average, for the first night of bowling, of 135 and thereafter use his average as established the first night. Further that if a regular bowler with an established average is absent the first night of schedule, he shall not be permitted to use a substitute. Nor shall he use one until such time that he has been present and established his average.

6—The league will operate on a 70% handicap basis and the four point system will be used.

7—The proprietor of the Cass City Bowling Alleys will furnish and have on display a trophy which will be presented to the winning team at the close of the 1948-49 season with name of team and date inscribed thereon. This trophy will become a yearly prize sought for by teams bowling in the City League.

8—The directors of the association voted to hold a bowlers' banquet during the first week following the close of the City League Tournament. Each bowler who has fulfilled his obligations to the league will receive two banquet tickets. A committee will be appointed later to meet with representatives of the league to determine place, date, program, etc.

Tentative plans are to open the first schedule in the newly constructed Bowling Alleys on Monday Night, September 13th. Membership cards can be purchased at the Cass City State Bank or The Pinney State Bank and members must sign up by September 1st to allow time to make up the teams and secure printed schedules.

The annual City League tournament will be held at the close of the last schedule of bowling. This is an A. B. C. ruling.

Sleep Rehearsals

WALKING DOWN the street one morning, a celebrated symphony conductor encountered a member of his orchestra.

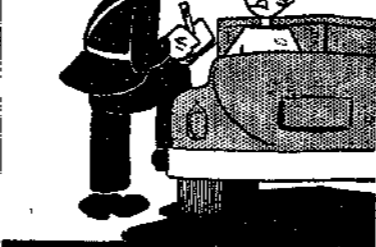

"My, my, but you look prosperous," he observed. "How do you manage it?"

"Oh, I'm a busy man," replied the musician. "Besides playing in the orchestra, I p in a quartet, give lessons, and perform on the radio."

"Really," rejoined the conductor. "When do you sleep?"

"During the rehearsals," came the calm rejoinder.

A BLACK FUTURE

A traffic officer was jotting down a young traffic violator's name and address.

"Why do you tick your pencil before writing down the statistics?" asked the driver.

To which the nettled officer replied, "Only to make the case look blacker for you."

AS YOU LIKE IT

The music teacher asked a little girl of six: "Can you play an E major scale without any mistakes?"

She could and did.

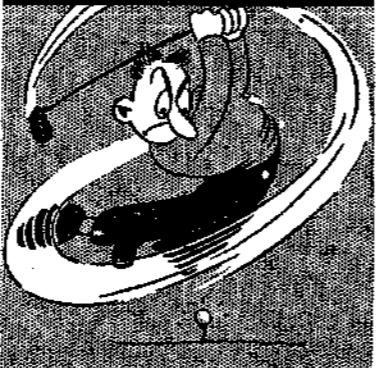

Then he asked: "Now play me an E minor scale."

Enough Said

Before leaving his office to go to lunch, a real estate dealer, who was building a new house at the edge of a small New England town, dispatched to the site a painter who was to find out when the interior decorating could be started. When the real estate dealer returned from lunch he found on a desk a note which read: "On account of Joe and Fred was your house is not plastered . . . Sam."

GOLF TROUBLE

He had never played in a golf tournament before. He tried his best to appear unconcerned despite the large crowd. Stepping up to the ball, he swung and missed; tried it again, and missed. The third time it was the same story.

Looking up at the spectators, he smiled and commented. "Tough course, isn't it?"

So Strange!

A guest at a hotel was complaining to the proprietor: "Your lunch today was terrible. I nearly lost my appetite."

"So? What was the matter?"

"Well, I found a hair in the ice cream, a hair in the honey, and a hair in the applesauce."

"You did? M'm, that's funny. I can understand how the hair got in the ice cream. It came from shaving the ice. And the hair in the honey probably came from the comb. But what gets me is the hair in the applesauce. I bought the apples myself and they were Baldwins."

Parents Can't Win

"What are you doing out of bed, Patty?" father called up the stairs. Pause—Then the small voice, "I just got out to tuck myself in, Daddy."

Touch and Go

"Did you get home all right after the party last night?"

"Fine, thanks, except that as I was turning into my street, some idiot stepped on my fingers."

Fast and Fire

While There's Plenty of Time for it!
The service work on these machines was scheduled several months ago. Now they're coming into our service shop during off-season months. . . . Yes, there's plenty of time for repair jobs before they go back into the field again.

You see, their owners are taking advantage of our Early Bird Service program. These farmers know that scheduled Blue Ribbon Service can protect valuable equipment—can forestall any breakdowns in the field.

How about applying that system to your own machinery? If any or all of your farm equipment needs service during the year ahead, get dates for them now on our Early Bird Service Schedule.

RECORD HIGH PAYROLL MEANS RECORD HIGH OPERATING COSTS

Increased payroll costs provide the main reason why operating expenses have increased 128% since 1941.

Between 1941 and 1947, the number of our employees was increased by over 82%. During that same period the average monthly wage of each employee increased more than 69%.

With payroll comprising more than 72% of operating costs, you can see why our expenses have risen so sharply.

We are glad to pay these higher wages since they contribute so much to community prosperity. These added workers are also necessary to meet the greater demand for service.

But it is not financially possible to continue to meet such high operating costs from telephone rates which generally haven't changed in 20 years.

That is why we are seeking adjustments in service rates that will more adequately meet the increased operating costs in each community.

Many Rural Youths To Convene at MSC Aug. 31 to Sept. 3

Michigan State College will be the destination of many rural youths August 31-September 3, when the annual State 4-H Show convenes. Also scheduled for the week is the Farmers' Day Program on September 2.

In telling of plans for the show, A. C. Kettunen, state 4-H Club leader, indicates that this year's show will be one of the finest. Fifteen hundred registered delegates are expected and they will bring approximately 1,400 head of livestock. Several thousand other exhibits in the handicraft, crops, and home economics divisions are also expected.

All livestock, with the exception of horses, will be housed on the new Macklin Field stadium. Horses will be shown in the riding horse barn. Other exhibits will be shown in the college auditorium.

A full week of activities has been planned for the 4-H boys and girls while they are in East Lansing. Evening programs will be held in the auditorium at 8:00 on Wednesday and Thursday nights and will feature top-flight entertainment, including WJY's youth chorus, which is featured in the radio show, "Make Way, For Youth."

Since many farm families come to the MSC campus for the big youth event, Farmers' Day has been set as Thursday, September 2.

During Farmers' Day, the college farms and barns will be open for inspection so visitors may see the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. Members of the school of agriculture staff will be stationed at various locations to explain the experiments and to consult with farmers on agricultural problems and techniques.

Defense Accepts

THE lawyer for the defense was interviewing prospective jurors before the trial.
"Do you know anything about this?" he asked one of them.
"Nope."
"Have you heard anything about it?"
"Nope."
"Have you read anything about it?"
"Can't read."
"Well, then, have you formed any opinion about this case?"
"What case?"
"Your Honor," said the lawyer, "the defense accepts this man."

AND FAST, TOO

"I feel sure, my poor man," said the sympathetic old lady, visiting a state prison, "it was poverty that brought you to this."
"No, ma'am, quite the contrary," returned the prisoner. "I happened to be coming money."

Grayling—A "new look" has arrived at 76,000-acre Camp Grayling Training Center of the Michigan National Guard.

Approximately 2,500 teen-age youths, most of them just out of high school, are getting their first experience in military training here.

When Congress resorted to compulsory military training (Selective Service) as the only effective way of manning the army and navy, the National Guard was given a preferred status. Youths who enlisted in State Troops were exempted from the draft.

Like having a gold rush on its hands, the Michigan National Guard recruited 2,500 teen-agers in 30 days. Total enrollment soared to 7,300, an all-time record. The troops arrived at Lake Margrethe last week in more than 1,000 motor vehicles and 200 railroads cars. They were reviewed last Saturday (Aug. 14) by Governor Kim Sigler and Major General Ralph A. Loveland and this Saturday (Aug. 21) following a week of overnight bivouacs and field exercises, the troops will depart for home.

The "new look" at Camp Grayling is as fresh as today's newspaper headlines.
Youth is getting its first peacetime military training as a part of national security. The atmosphere is hardly that of a holiday although the traditional banter and horse-play of army life is as noticeable as ever. The Berlin crisis and other world events have

First Steel-Frame Skyscraper
The great Chicago Fire of 1871 wiped out the entire business district and left a third of the population homeless. The city was built with amazing speed, but with metal, brick and stone to prevent a recurrence of the wholesale destruction by the fire. Out of this development came the construction in Chicago of the world's first steel-frame skyscraper.

Audubon Society Reports No Eaglets in Famous Nest

LANCASTER, PA. — Here's a housing note for the bird world. The nest of the lordly American bald eagle in Lancaster county is vacant.

The National Audubon society reports that for the first time since 1936 there are no eaglets in the famous Mt. Johnson Island aerie below Lancaster in the Susquehanna river.

Dr. Herbert H. Beck, of Lancaster, custodian of the society's sanctuary, said normally two and possibly three young eagles would be taking off about now for their first flight.

He figures either Mother Baldy died of natural causes or she was shot by a hunter who didn't know or didn't care that the national bird is under federal protection.

It would have to be mama, Dr. Beck said, for if anything happened to Papa Baldy another male would have moved in immediately. Eagles, he added, live by "baronial rights," and once they select a nest they never use another, nor permit any other birds to settle within their chosen domain.

Flood losses in the United States have exceeded 110 million dollars annually in recent years, according to the Twentieth Century fund.

Useful Waste

Redwood bark dust, formerly a waste product in the making of insulating material, makes a valuable fungicide for use in wineries. It is also useful in the petroleum industry.

Start of Hitchhiking

Hitchhiking started long before the advent of the automobile. In pioneer days two men often would make a long journey with only one horse. Since riding double for long stretches was uncomfortable, one man would mount and ride while the other started hitching. At a specified time, the rider would stop, hitch the steed to a roadside tree and walk on ahead. Soon the first man would arrive, mount the horse and ride on past the second until his time was up, when he would hitch the animal and go along on foot again.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Thirty-five Years Ago
August 22, 1913.

The extension of the D., B. C. & W. R. R. to the east promises great activities for Decker. W. F. Ehlers, Shabbona's hustling business man, has purchased six acres of land in the center of the proposed village and this has been subdivided into lots which are now selling for $50 each.

The average number of gallons of water pumped per minute at the Municipal Light and Water Plant during the hot days last week was 150 according to Supt. Straube. During the evening when the lawn sprinklers were in use, water was pumped at the rate of 350 to 400 gallons per minute.

O. A. Withey is going after the prizes in the agricultural hall at the Cass City Fair this week. He has made 51 entries of fruit and vegetables grown in his garden.

At its regular meeting Monday, the council extended the time of keeping open the hotel bars during the fair two hours. The time is from 6:00 a. m. to 10 p. m.

The home-coming and picnic at Gagetown was a big event. There was fine weather, good attendance and plenty of enjoyment for all. The proceeds, which were nearly $1,000, go to the building of the new church.

About 35 members of the Y. P. A. met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kercher Monday evening to bid farewell to Miss Emma Muck, who leaves for Colwell this week.

Twenty-five Years Ago.
August 24, 1923.

Miss Lena Gallagher, who taught last year in Seattle, Wash., returned to her home here Sunday after enjoying a pleasant trip to Alaska.

The heavy yielding grain fields of Fairgrove Township will be shown in the movie films sent out by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, representative of which were in Fairgrove Township Monday securing pictures of the fields of certified grains which are grown quite extensively in that section of Tuscola County.

Fire thought to have been started by a spark from a threshing engine caused the loss of farm property valued at $1,300 and a separator about $800 on the farm of Angus O'Henley in Grant Township Saturday. The thresher was the property of John McIntyre.

Vernon Ferguson, who has been employed in Detroit during the summer months, has returned to his home here, expecting to resume his position as school teacher this fall.

About 100 gathered at the Putnam hall at Caro Friday night by invitation of a Ku Klux Klan organizer to receive preliminary information regarding the "Hooded Knights of the Invisible Empire." Among the invited ones were a half dozen or more from the Cass City community.

The members of the Junior League of the M. E. Church disguised as hobos, ladies of the court, etc., met on the church lawn Thursday afternoon. The varied costumes caused nearly as much fun as the high school sod busters' day and could certainly be appreciated by all passers-by.

Smallest Radio Tube
Smallest radio tube ever made is but slightly larger than a grain of rice. It was developed for U. S. military uses.

Work of Bees
It takes more than a thousand bees, working a lifetime, to make a pound of honey.

Counting the Stars
It is possible to see 9,000 stars in the sky with the naked eye.

Townsmen Turn Out To Plug Chuck-Holes

ALEXANDRIA, IND. — Three preachers, two bankers, the mayor and nearly 500 fellow townsmen rolled up their sleeves and put Alexandria's streets back in shape.

They answered an appeal by the Alexandria better business association for volunteer labor to fill what Mayor Guy C. Lewis estimated was "thousands" of chuck-holes.

Men, women and children, led by the shirt-sleeved mayor himself grabbed brooms, shovels and rakes. They spent a day pouring asphalt and smoothing it out.

The street repair problem was the result of conferences between the association and the city administration.

The streets were in such bad shape that they were hardly passable.

But the town fathers said they couldn't afford to furnish the materials and all the labor needed to get the job done quickly.

They agreed to buy the materials if the townspeople would furnish the labor.

All the stores closed except the restaurants and drug stores. Factories continued to operate but dismissed their executives to help with the work.

Among the sweating volunteers were the Reverends H. R. Carson, Robert Nixon and S. E. Mugridge.

Bank Presidents Dane Hoover and Harry Adams pitched in.

Everybody was happy except the police department. It said nobody had been arrested for speeding for months because of the chuck-holes.

Smart Dog Proves That He Has a Mind of His Own

SANFORD, N. C. — Marvin Johnson has an awfully smart dog.

When the deadline for getting dogs vaccinated rolled around, he said he asked his wife in the dog's presence to remind him to have it vaccinated. Both forgot about it.

Later, Johnson's telephone rang and the veterinarian said the dog was waiting to go home and had been vaccinated.

"Who brought him?" Johnson asked, somewhat startled.

"No one," said the doctor. "He just dropped by."

Saroyan Wants to Sell Farm—And Make a Good Profit

SAN FRANCISCO. — William Saroyan, the Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright, is trying to sell his 30-acre ranch on the banks of the San Joaquin river near his home of Fresno—in his own way, of course.

"No lies in this ad," reads the heading of the author's classified ad in the San Francisco Examiner. "This property could be described another way but this is the honest way to describe it."

A hilltop on the place is "all hard-pan" and a river bottom "all gravel and rocks."

"No garage, no barn, small pump downhill, probably ought to be replaced, 500-gallon water tank in basement probably ought to be cleaned."

The heating apparatus is "out of order," Saroyan wrote. There are 50 young olive trees along a road, "but no practical way of watering them."

"Owner only paid $32,000 for property. He is keeping six or seven acres for himself as a monument to his real estate sharpness. Will sell balance for $35,000."

"If interested," concludes the ad, "have head examined or telephone Fresno 8-3874 and ask for owner's cousin, Ross."

Robber Confesses Hold-Up; Gets Trousseau for Bride

NEW YORK. — Nello Piccin has an offer of a job and a free trousseau for his fiancée because his conscience bothered him.

Piccin got $65 in a robbery with a wooden gun. He wanted the money for his fiancée's trousseau. But his conscience began to bother him. He confessed to his fiancée and they went together to a priest. The priest advised Piccin to give himself up.

Later a grand jury refused to indict him for the robbery, an electrical company offered him a job and a department store volunteered to give his bride-to-be a complete trousseau.

Cocker Spaniel Gives Birth To Litter of Six on Train

KINGSTON, N. Y. — A cocker spaniel named "Queenie" started across country alone and arrived here with a family of six. They all traveled on her ticket.

"Queenie," owned by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Slade, started her cross-country trip in the baggage car of a New York Central train at Tacoma, Wash. In Chicago she gave birth to six puppies.

At Albany a baggageman said there was a ticket around "Queenie's" neck stating there would be no extra fare for the pups. Also scrawled on the ticket, he said, was the notation "see that they have everything they need."

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

Hookworm Infection
There is danger that the tougher variety of hookworm found in the Pacific islands may establish itself in southern states in which the American hookworm already is an unwelcome guest, says American Medical association. Hookworm infection results in gastro-intestinal disturbances, abdominal pain, a fever that comes and goes, progressive anemia, pallor and emaciation.

Flag of the Americas
The flag of the Americas was adopted at the seventh international conference of American states at Montevideo in 1933. It is white to symbolize peace and bears three purple crosses to signify the three caravels of Columbus. Behind the central cross is a bronze sun of the Incas, commemorating all the native Indian races of the three Americas or the Western Hemisphere.

Make these 4 comparisons before you buy any car

COMPARE THE VALUE

Yes, compare the features—compare the prices—compare what you get for what you pay—and you, too, will come to the conclusion that Chevrolet is first in value. It alone gives Big-Car feature after Big-Car feature for Big-Car motoring results—and gives them at prices which are lower than those of any other car in the field!

COMPARE THE POPULARITY

You can identify the biggest value in any list of products by picking out the one product which enjoys greatest popularity, year after year; and, of course, in the field of motor cars, that one product is Chevrolet! More people are buying Chevrolets, and more people are driving Chevrolets than any other make of car, this year as for the total 17-year period, 1931 to date!

COMPARE THE FEATURES

Only Chevrolet combines the Unitized Knee-Action Ride for gliding smoothness... the world's champion Valve-in-Head engine for performance and economy... Body by Fisher for tasteful beauty and luxury... and Fisher Unitized Construction plus Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes for all-round safety protection!

COMPARE THE PRICES

You'll agree with millions of other car buyers that prices—like quality—are a major consideration in these times; and just as Chevrolet's Big-Car quality is unique in its price range, so Chevrolet's prices are the lowest in its field. The remarkable direct drive power take-off of the big new 3-4 plow Oliver "88" tractor is one of the greatest boons to baling. To "ease" the baler's load or clear the machine, just step on the clutch of your "88"—the Oliver power take-off keeps on running! Let out the clutch and you're on your way again. No time wasted by declutching, gear shifting, and redeclutching!

Come in and check the high-tonnage features of the Oliver-Ann Arbor Automatic-Hydraulic Thresher Pick-up Baler, too. Neat, firm, sliced bales that come apart in good-sized sections are produced.

You can get almost any combination of ground speed and draw-bar pull you want. With its 6-forward-speed transmission, 6-cylinder engine and Fuel Miser governor, you can fit the tractor to the load—and use only the fuel that's needed to do the work.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Second Marriage Brings Problems

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"Those first months of our romance when Raff was an air major seem like a dream to me now."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS
DORINE JAMES has made a wreck of her life. She wants to run away, get out of it all, find a new setup somewhere and try all over again.

Well, we all feel that way sometimes. We feel that we could solve any other problems except the ones that our own selfishness or stupidity have brought upon us.

Dorine married ten years ago at 22. She has one son, 7 years old. Here is her story in her own words: "My boy, Teddy, was always delicate, and as I had a good job I left him much of the time with Hugh's mother. She has him now. In January, 1943, Hugh and I were divorced on grounds of mental cruelty. I think now I was hasty, but I had met Raff, a major in the air service, and we were deeply in love. Temporarily, we thought, Hugh's mother could keep my son.

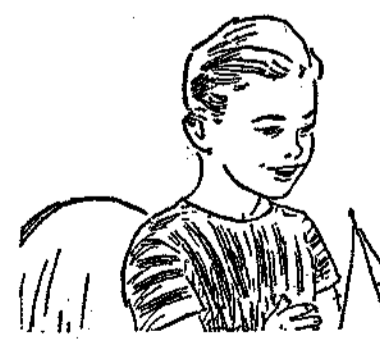

"Raff, also divorced, has a daughter, now 14. Just before the war ended he was injured in a trial flight, so that he has lost a hand and suffers also from an eye injury. His professional life as an orthodontist is, of course, over. He has a generous pension, but to stretch it for the needs of three persons means anxious work and care, and I am worn down with it.

"I never have been able to have my own boy, Teddy, with us, because we live in a hot, cheap, five-room cottage and both his father and grandmother are in a position to give him every advantage, while I have nothing to offer. I do my worrying and working for another woman's child.

Step-Daughter Is Unbearable.
"All this," the letter continues, "I could bear. But it is my step-daughter who provides a completely unbearable difficulty. She is at a bad age—exacting, critical, scornful. Her father, Raff, is patient himself, trying hard to help in any and every way. He pities Jean Marie. If she would be civil and cooperative, I would pity her too, for her letters to her mother, asking to be taken away, remain unanswered, and I know her heart and her pride are deeply hurt.

"Those first months of our romance, when Raff was an air major and we lived in big quarters and had a car, pleasant associates and the eternal excitement of war, seem like a dream to me now," the letter ends. "as I drudge on washing dish towels, take fat to the butcher, dust the books and make jelly dessert for our supper. I know I did it myself, and perhaps I did wrong. But is it fair that Hugh, my first husband, should be prospering, happily married, the father of baby girls, and I slaving away in this apparently hopeless rut? And not even succeeding at that, for Jean Marie is discontented, disobedient and unhappy, and that upsets the whole atmosphere of the cottage. Can you think of a way out?"

My dear Dorine, I say in reply, you are not the only woman who has jumped from one obligation lightly into another, not realizing that your only hope of stability, self-respect and peace of soul lay in sticking to your first promise. It is indeed a wretched situation in which you find yourself, but I think there is a way out. At 14, Jean Marie is quite old enough to be her father's housekeeper, especially as he is always

"Teddy was always delicate. . ."

GET A JOB

At certain periods most marriages reach a saturation point at which life appears to be routine, dull and lusterless. Practically everyone experiences these humdrum interludes. They usually persist for short spells but before we realize it, life once again is zestful, vibrant and filled with pleasantries.

Dorine complains to Miss Norris that she is hopelessly slaving her life away in a helpless rut. Her step-daughter is exacting, scornful and critical. Dorine can't understand why her ex-husband should be prospering while she must wade through endless drudgery.

In reply to Dorine's letter, Miss Norris emphasizes that she should have remained with her first spouse. But since the deed already has been committed, Miss Norris advises that Dorine get a job. This will minimize the friction between her and her step-daughter as well as improve financial affairs at home.

at home to protect and advise. Get yourself a job.

There are fine shops in your town. It is growing fast and there will be other shops. Go in first as a saleswoman. Make yourself the best of the saleswomen. Long before he thought I ever would be a saleswoman, which I was for a while in my 20th year, my father gave me some advice about office jobs. He said not to try to be the smartest, but to be the all-around best; always clean and fresh; always on time; always willing to do a little extra work to help someone; always interested; always scrupulously polite; always careful to make notes, write things down, remember messages.

Acquire a Reputation.

Anyone can do these things. There is no secret about them. They mean that when the higher-up comes in to ask for "your best woman," you are that woman. It means that when the superintendent looks over the field to find someone to take her place, she picks you.

There will be women more clever, better dressed, younger, but they'll have their faults—desk disorder, tardiness, arrogance, unfriendliness, giggling, absorption in their own affairs. The quieter woman, who is never conspicuous, never disagreeable, never inconveniencing everyone by lateness or eagerness to get away, always wins in the end.

With Raff's pension and your salary, financial affairs will improve at home. Jean Marie will have wholesome responsibility. She, instead of you, will be blamed for unanswered telephones or unopened grocery parcels. Her father's influence is bound to be good. It will develop her, and your freedom from that too-pressing home atmosphere will do you good.

You don't need a woman. Those two can manage perfectly well. In time, your improving salary will enable you to find nicer quarters and perhaps to borrow for a visit to the little son you betrayed. Women have worked their way out of far worse situations than this. Good luck to you!

Women Take Over

LAS VEGAS, NEV.—Out here in the West, where men are men, women are beginning to move in and take over, despite a three-to-one preponderance of males in some places.

Both the city and county clerks in this county seat are women, as are the court reporters for the two municipal judges. Two members of the fairer sex recently passed the Nevada bar examination and have hung out their shingles in Las Vegas.

Florence Nightingale

Florence Nightingale, who was the founder of the modern profession of nursing, led an organized revolt against physical and environmental dirt. In the face of strong opposition, she demanded cleanliness of the women who worked with her as nurses and her first orders to this group were for cleanliness. She died at the age of 91.

First Direct Primary

First known use of the direct primary in the United States was in Crawford county, Pa., in 1868.

Puerto Rican "Boom Town"

San Juan, Puerto Rico, is America's newest boom town. Here 50 million dollars is being expended for 11,000 new homes for Puerto Ricans. Two smaller projects, one for 250 homes and another for 550 homes, totaling more than eight million in costs, have already been completed. Puerto Rico is 40 miles wide, 100 miles long, and has a population of about two million people.

Totonac Tribe

The Totonacs, now an obscure tribe in Mexico's wilds, were once a mighty nation, allies of Cortez.

Use of Vacuum Tubes

Vacuum tubes, familiar in radio and television sets, are of vital importance in modern telephone systems and in airplane navigation. Their wartime application was extensive. Now the tubes are being used increasingly in machine tool production and electric power transmission.

Importance of Water

A plentiful supply of water supplements an efficient feeding program on the farm. Water constitutes 60 per cent of meat, 87 per cent of milk, 55 per cent of poultry flesh and 65 per cent of eggs.

AT THE Churches

I thought how, as the day had come, The belfries of all Christendom Had rolled along the unbroken song Of peace on earth, good will to men.

This Christmas poetic utterance of Henry W. Longfellow is being used with the call for the bells of all Protestantism to ring hourly on Sunday, August 22, from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. The bells will be "A call to prayer, that the First Assembly of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam, Holland, will mark a rebirth of Christian faith."

Opening on that day, the world council will mark the culmination of a long series of international Christian meetings, proposed more than 30 years ago, to bring together the united forces of Protestantism, not in an organic union, but in a greater measure of cooperative strength and witness to the power of Jesus Christ.

Delegates from 148 churches in 42 countries will be present. Churches from every country except Russia will be represented by the official delegates and their unofficial observers.

When you hear the church bells each hour next Sunday, remember in prayer this assembly, which comes as a partial answer to the prayer of Jesus "for them that believe on me through their word—that they may all be one,—that the world may believe that Thou didst send me" as found in John 17:20 and 21.

Michigan Mirror

Concluded from page 1. cast a shadow. War is still a serious business.

Military discipline is being tightened this year.

And yet, according to top command, more emphasis is being put upon recreation than ever before. Soft ball games are held daily. Free motion pictures, latest from Hollywood, are offered each evening. The 46th Infantry Division Band is kept busy playing for regimental reviews and special concerts. Church attendance is compulsory. Military police units patrol the streets in Grayling. The "brig" is the last punishment.

It is apparent that General Loveland and his staff are making every effort to provide a dose of military training for teen-agers that will be acceptable to fathers and mothers back home.

The atmosphere is a bit informal to an old-time army man, uniforms of officers are just about the same as those of the buck privates. The insignia of rank is unchanged. Saluting is maintained on a voluntary basis. There is less military swank.

All this reflects the "new look" of youth and a determination of the military command to make selective service a permanent part of our national defense policy, subject to approval of public opinion itself. Pride of National Guard units has deep roots in Michigan communities. Officers are watching with interest the congressional outcome of a move at Washington to put the National Guard under federal control. The feeling of opposition is running high here.

The 45th Army Division (Oklahoma) suffered the second highest casualty rating in the war during its service in Italy and Europe. The 32nd Division (Michigan-Wisconsin) was first in action in the southwest Pacific, while the 29th Division (Maryland and Virginia) were among the first troops to land in Normandy.

The ground units at Grayling comprise the 46th Infantry Division. The air units are part of the Tenth Air Force.

On the ground and in the air, Michigan is doing its part to be ready for whatever the future may bring. Camp Grayling is a symbol of this preparedness.

Loads of Freight Car
A freight car, on the average, is loaded about 20 times a year.

What's in Store for Those Under the New Draft Law

Washington—Here is what's ahead for men 19 through 25 who are called up under the new draft law:

Preinduction—Your draft board orders you to report to a joint army-navy air force induction station. There, you take a complete physical examination and classification test to see where you will best fit in the service. Afterward, you return home to await orders while the induction board notifies your draft board of the results. If you pass, your draft board includes you in a list of draft eligibles.

Induction—When the army needs you, you will report at a joint induction station where you will get another "rapid" physical checkup. You and your fellow draftees then will be divided among the three services according to quotas. Most draftees will land in the army. Each service then will ship its inductees to training centers.

Processing—Upon arriving at the army training center, you will be assigned to a barracks, receive another physical examination, and be inoculated against certain diseases. Obvious physical defects will be corrected. You will complete the army aptitude test, make out your pay allotment, take out insurance and make a will.

Classification and assignment—Some of you will be sent to combat units in this country for basic training. Others will train at the training center. If you were in service before, you escape this. After eight weeks basic training, you may be assigned overseas, sent to combat units in this country or sent to school for specialized training.

Kathleen Norris Says: Teasing Husband Lacks Maturity

Bell Syndicate—WNU Features

A woman who gives her children the background and memory of a good home, right ideals, developed characters, does more for them.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

LOIS DEANE is a young wife who writes me that her husband is a tease and that he makes her mad, and wants to make her mad, and that when she cries in sheer helpless exasperation, he triumphantly tells her that women are all like that. They all love to cry over nothing, they are flustered, hysterical creatures who care more for a new hat than for who is going to be president, and that their brains are just like the soapbuds they talk so much about.

He reminds her that no woman has ever composed any sort of an opera or a great play, no woman has ever painted a great picture or written a great poem; that to compare Chamblaine or Rosa Bonheur, Jane Austin or George Eliot to Leonardo, Shakespeare, Milton, Tolstoy and a thousand other males is just to make herself ridiculous. Great cities, are all man-made; the gallant Bob, bridges, roads, machines.

And so far, Bob is speaking the actual truth. But there is another side to the picture; there are feminine characteristics just as valuable as those masculine gifts that have filled our galleries, our libraries and our opera houses.

Only a rather vain and somewhat simple man would taunt his wife in this fashion, especially as she in her turn appears to be simple enough to be upset by it. Teasing is a childish habit usually outgrown in childhood; that Bob has not outgrown it is an indication that he is not fully developed.

Superficial Achievements

After all, these achievements that he praises in his own sex are largely superficial. Pictures, music, books, bridges, machines, delightfully embellishing as they are to cultured living, still are not as important as is the woman's share; the making and moulding of the man himself. And it is men who praise men, who decide that this one and that one is a genius, who build up the flattering theories that make the decorative side of life so important, who have placed their market values upon letters, art, dancing, opera, roads, buildings, schools.

Men also have made wars. No woman was ever on a war council, and where women have ruled wars have been comparatively few. Women and men know equally the futility and stupidity and waste of war; but only women can possibly appreciate it. Women know the value of human life; they know the value of home. Human life and home—what else is there, to start with?

Great painters of the past centuries used to use as their models for idealistic canvases their own weeping mistresses, their own illegitimate and unwelcome babies. Great writers have been notorious for their domestic cruelties—they might write exquisitely of a woman's love, of clinging, little, childish arms, and at the same moment outrage and cast off that love, roughly unwind those baby embraces.

Women aren't like that. To a man the painted picture of "The Cotter's Saturday Eve" is satisfying. The woman, more realistic and infinitely more self-sacrificing, likes the real thing; the round table, the well-scrubbed little faces, the great brown loaf and the pitcher brimming with fresh milk.

A woman will leave the feverish baby half-painted on her easel, leave

... her husband is a tease ...

SUPERIOR SEX?

Lois Deane and her husband are participants in the antediluvian controversy which has been waged for centuries—who is superior, man or woman?

Nettled by her spouse's taunts and jibes, Lois launches herself into hysterical fits, becomes helplessly exasperated and cries in annoyance at her husband's brutal criticism of her sex.

She fails to perceive the utter senselessness of such debate. It is comparable to answering the endless query: Which came first, the chicken or the egg?

Miss Norris emphasizes that both women and men have admirable characteristics. Women are the moulders of men. They build character instead of buildings; they are supreme realists who revel in earthiness rather than ideological, intangible concepts.

the typewriter on which she is depicting a harassed mother, to go and sit with the real child, to keep the real nursery cool and comfortable, to bring back health and sickness was.

Women Are Superior

Women, to my thinking, are infinitely the superiors of men—when they want to be. A woman who gives her children the background and memory of a good home, right ideals, developed characters, does more for them than all Dad's hard-earned money for their colleges and motor cars and social life ever will do. A woman who rejoices in her privileges of home hours, of study, charities, mastery of home-making and kitchen-craft, is the richer of the two who maintain the home, husband and wife.

Not all men are wiser than their wives, Lois. But as a class men have general characteristics that tend to make them more stable. While women are fretting at the monotony of home duties, men are accepting the equal dullness of office routine pretty cheerfully. Men are nearer to earth; good meals, a fairly pleasant office atmosphere, small successes, some amusement, untroubled sleep—these content them, in the main.

Women on the other hand are apt to fret at a far less binding domestic groove; they are more given to dreams, unattainable ambitions, jealousies and moods. This is partly because, generations ago, custom decreed that each wife should live in her home alone, and not experience the healthy effects of daily contacts with other minds and other lives, such as make men's business hours stimulating. Perhaps it is woman's fault that she has accepted this and other restrictions, that she has not taken a stand against wars, preventable and acknowledged crimes, excesses, controllable diseases. Perhaps some day she will.

Meanwhile, why don't you become one of the real women, rejoicing in your enormous advantages and powers? And—just a hint—you can at the same time laugh Bob out of his superiorities if you will. Quote him at everyone, grasp at his wisdom, sit at his feet, tell your friends before him that he is so wonderful that you wonder he ever would look at you, and you'll have him cured in no time at all.

Shoplifting Costs $50

SALT LAKE CITY.—Mrs. Carolyn Audrey English, an aspiring writer, sought some real-life experience, but wound up with a $50 fine imposed after she was found guilty of shoplifting.

Mrs. English told the judge she took a $10 "whatnot" and a $7.50 blouse from a department store to learn the "reaction" of a shoplifter for a book which she is writing.

Police Judge Frank E. Moss was not impressed by her plea.
