When the lumbermen came in 1908 for a second timber harvest, the tourists left. Years later the island was acquired by William R. up two lugs of cherries for the coast guard. Thence we journeyed on to South Manitou whose natural harbor, curved like a new moon, is praised by sailors as being the best on Lake Michigan.
The boat trip from Leland was slow, two hours and a half.
August Warner, deputy sheriff, met us at the South Manitou dock. We climbed aboard his 1928 model A Ford. The chugging ride up a neglected two mile trail was reminiscent of grandfather's time.
We paused at a rustic gate and then drove past an ancient barn to a small farmhouse. The Detroit publicist, usually immaculately attired, resembled a beachcomber. He introduced us to two of his associates in the Leo Island Company, Inc., which was financing the venture. William W. Slocum was reclining in a hammock. William G. Bloes was busy preparing lunch in the farmhouse kitchen.
Yes, the Detroit promoter explained, everyone had been busy fixing up things. Union plumbers were forgetful, you know, and the island was miles off the mainland. So the Detroit business men had been wielding paint brushes, hammering nails, sawing wood and installing plumbing. Gradually the farmhouse was being transformed into a snug lodge. The barn was to become a clubhouse.
A stone's throw from the farmhouse was a beach of Lake Michigan strewn with driftwood. The lake breeze was invigorating. Wild raspberries nearby grew in profusion.

We beheld the farm scene with its happy city colony and we marvelled at the zeal of these Detroiters who were revelling in the isolated pastoral simplicity of a half century ago. No telephones, no automobile traffic, no factory or railroad whistles, no gadgets, no evening papers with black headlines. Yes, this could be impelling attraction—man's protest against modern complex living.
Barrett smiled in contentment. South Manitou, Robinson Crusoe haven of nostalgia, had waited years for him.
The island was his answer, in complete reverse, to a promoter's prayer.

Hardy Cocciidiosis Germs
Cocciidiosis germs are sometimes able to survive the coldest winter temperatures on farm grounds and live over to infect flocks the following spring or summer.

Feed Eating Figs
Figs raised on poor pastures commonly start to eat weeds, leaves, and other materials that they would ignore if good pasture were provided. A simple type of scours sometimes results, due to irritation of the intestinal tract by the coarse feeds. According to veterinarians, the best thing to do in these cases is to move the herd to a good pasture or to a dry lot where their feeding can be controlled—then allow about a day or two for the trouble to disappear. If there is no improvement, a diagnosis should be obtained to determine the exact nature of the sickness.

Delayed Judgment

He was just out of law school and was seeking a suitable location to begin practice. He decided to make a tour of all the state's county seats. Panning at one courthouse that perched in the very center of a small town, he approached a white-bearded old codger who sat drowsily on the steps.
"Do you have a criminal lawyer here?" he asked.
The old man squinted up at him.
"We think so, young feller," was the brisk reply, "but we ain't proved it on him."

CROOKED AS CAN BE

The teacher asked Johnny, who was in the third grade, if the world was round. He answered: "No."
"Is it flat?" persisted the teacher.
"No."
"If it isn't round and it isn't flat, what is it?"
Johnny looked very confident as he replied: "Daddy says it's crooked!"
Proof's the Thing
"Pardner," said the Western rancher, "where'd yuh move from?"
"Illinois."
"Illinois, heh? How come you leave a settled country like that and come to these lonesome hills?"
"Well, sir, my neighbors got to sayin' mean things about me."
"Why didn't you challenge them to prove their slanderous statements?"
"I did. And they did."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

"There is only a curtain between us, Between the beyond and the here; They whom we call dead have not left us, Nay, they were never so near"

Once again a Brother Mason, having completed the designs written for him on life's trestle board, has passed through the portals of Eternity and entered the Grand Lodge of the New Jerusalem and hath received as his reward, the white stone with the new name written thereon.
And Whereas, the all-wise and merciful Master of the universe has called for labor to refreshments our beloved and respected brother, and
He having been a true and faithful member of our beloved Order, therefore, be it
Resolved, That Tyler Lodge, No. 217, F. & A. M., of Cass City, Mich., in testimony of her loss, be draped in mourning for thirty days, and that we tender to the family of our deceased brother our sincere condolence in their deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

A quarter-million KAISER and FRAZER owners have pretty much the same story to tell about their car's rugged, day-in-day-out, downright, all-round dependability. Because the KAISER and the FRAZER are the only new cars built since the war that have been road-proved dependable in over 2-billion miles of owner driving, under all conditions, in all parts of the country. Bowlers, Attention!

At a recent meeting of its newly elected officers and directors, rules and regulations for the 1948-49 season were made, and we submit the following information for the benefit of the individuals who plan to become members this season.
1—Again, as in the past, a bowler will be required to purchase a membership card at a cost of $3.45 as he signs up to bowl the first schedule; however, if he meets all the requirements of the league rules, he will be allowed to bowl the last three weeks of the schedule at no cost.
2—Each member shall pay $1.15 per week to cover cost of lines and dues, (90c for lines, 25c for dues), whether he bowls with his team or not, unless a satisfactory substitution is made, in which case, the substitute shall pay for the lines (90c) and the regular member shall pay the dues (25c).
3—The bowler will also be required to pay to his team captain the sum of 50c on the first night of bowling for the expense of A. B. C. sanctioning of the team in the City League.
4—When a member is absent and no substitution is made, the weekly payment will be divided, with 65c going to the alleys and 50c going to the league treasurer. If a member leaves the schedule before its completion and without securing a substitute, he shall forfeit his right to his $3.45 entry fee and 50c sanction fee.
5—It was further decided upon, in the case of a new bowler who has no established average, to use an average, for the first night of bowling, of 135 and thereafter use his average as established the first night. Further that if a regular bowler with an established average is absent the first night of schedule, he shall not be permitted to use a substitute. Nor shall he use one until such time that he has been present and established his average.
6—The league will operate on a 70% handicap basis and the four point system will be used.
7—The proprietor of the Cass City Bowling Alleys will furnish and have on display a trophy which will be presented to the winning team at the close of the 1948-49 season with name of team and date inscribed thereon. This trophy will become a yearly prize sought for by teams bowling in the City League.
8—The directors of the association voted to hold a bowlers' banquet during the first week following the close of the City League Tournament. Each bowler who has fulfilled his obligations to the league will receive two banquet tickets. A committee will be appointed later to meet with representatives of the league to determine place, date, program, etc.
Tentative plans are to open the first schedule in the newly constructed Bowling Alleys on Monday Night, September 13th. Membership cards can be purchased at the Cass City State Bank or The Pinney State Bank and members must sign up by September 1st to allow time to make up the teams and secure printed schedules.
The annual City League tournament will be held at the close of the last schedule of bowling. This is an A. B. C. ruling.

Maine Woods
Maine is still a mighty timber country. Of its more than 19 million acres over 18 million were originally in forest. There is still 16 million acres in trees, and a lot more of impoverished farm land should be growing timber crops. In 1941 Maine was reported to have 27 billion board feet of sawtimber, aside from its thriving pulpwood crops on millions of acres—some of which have been harvested four times. Normal annual lumber cut is about 226 million board feet, with annual pulpwood production at around 1,200,000 cords. However, the recreation business is the biggest one of all in the Maine woods. That was why last year's fires were so costly, burning into such rich resort towns as Bar Harbor.
