Dry Bean Price Support Levels Listed for 1948

The 1948 price support levels for both white and colored dry edible beans have been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to Chas. B. Eckfeld, chairman of the Tuscola County AAA Committee.

Based on U.S. No. 1 grade, cleaned and bagged, f. o. b. country shipping points in cars, the support levels are as follows: $8.10 per cwt. for navy beans; $9.60 per cwt for red kidney beans; $8.95 per cwt. for cranberry beans.

The paying price to farmers will be the support price less cost of the bag, processing cost, and dealer margin. On the basis of past operations in the bean trade, Mr. Eckfeld said the paying price to farmers when beans are delivered under the terms of CCC price support opera- High School Classes tion is expected to be as follows: $7.25 per cwt. for navy beans; $8.50 per cwt. for red kidney beans; Elect Officers for and $7.85 per cwt. for cranberries.

beans and 15 cents less per cwt. than the support level for U. S. No. 1's will be paid for U. S. No. 2's.

Farmers may obtain price support protection on their beans and still hold them for sale later in the season by means of either a chase agreement or a loan.

As soon as the necessary forms and bulletins have been received, full information about the purchase agreement and loan programs on dry beans may be obtained at the County AA 4 Office.

W. S. C. Has Opening Meeting of Season /

"The Woman's Study Club held its opening meeting at the home of Mrs. A. J. Knapp Tuesday, Septem-ber 14, with Mrs. M. C. McLellan, president, presiding. After the regular business session the year's work was outlined by Mrs. C. L. Graham. Mrs. Grant Patterson, chairman of legislation, gave introductory remarks concerning her work.

Guests were Mrs. M. L. Simpson of Vassar, president of the County Federation, and Mrs. A. R. Schlichter of Marlette, president of the East Central District, both of whom extended greetings to the club members.

Other guests were Mrs. Lawrence Simpson of Vassar, Mrs. Thos. J. Wadsworth of Port Huron, Miss Muriel Addison of Blackpool, England, and Mrs. Ethel McCoy, having charge of the music, gave two piano numbers: "Dedication" by Schumann-Liszt and "Orientale" by Cesar Cui. At the close of the meeting tea, cakes, and assorted nuts were served from a prettily decorated table by the program committee: Mrs. C. L. Graham, Mrs. R. Mc-Cullough, and Mrs. E. Baker. Mrs. Grant Patterson and Mrs. M. C. McLellan poured.

Honey Bee Progeny Scientists have discovered that if a virgin queen bee is put to sleep with carbon dioxide gas she starts laying eggs at once, without being mated. These eggs always produce male bees. When the virgin queen is mated to one of her own fatherless sons she produces female bees also and heads a normal bee colony. This mating of mother and son is possible because the scientists have found a method of artificial insemination for the queen. Inbred bee families may be produced, just as inbred corn is produced. After families are inbred for generations, they are crossed.

have been traced back some 2.000 years to the Graeco-Roman era in Egypt, when Hero of Alexandria recorded the ideas of using a coinactuated lustral vase in his Pneumatics. This device was a sealed vessel, placed at the entrance of a temple, from which worshippers could obtain a few drops of purifying holy water by dropping five drachma or more in coins into the slot at the top of the vase. Hero's writings are placed anywhere from 150 B. C. to 250 A. D. by historians.

FARMALL C WILL BE THERE, ALL THE WAY!

Grains, grasses, field row crops, vegetables-whatever is planted in this mellow, weed-free seed bed, the new Farmall C Tractor with Touch-Control will be on the job all the way. The Farmall C is shown here with the McCormick-Deering No. 10-A Disk Harrow.

For the Farmall C delivers practical 5-way power: (1) at the drawbar, for pulling trail-behind machines; (2) at its mounting pads, for pushing forward-mounted implements; (3) at the belt pulley; (4) at the power take-off; (5) at the Touch-Control power arms for raising, lowering and regulating mounted implements by hydraulic power. All at surprisingly low operating cost!

Available for the Farmall C is a full line of matched, quickchange implement units. New and simple in design, each lowcost implement mounts on the tractor to form a compact operating unit. Rear-mounted implements, likewise, are quicks change.

Implements for the Farmall C are under the complete, 2-way hydraulic control of the Farmall Touch-Control. The Farmal C pulls one 16-inch or two 12-inch bottoms; cultivates two rows of wide-planted crops. Ask for full information.

Crop Roots Require Oxygen and Water

Organic Matter Decay Helps Soil to 'Breathe'

Soils must "breathe" deeply it crop roots are to support high yields above the ground. These roots need oxygen to grow and reach out for water plant nutrients To breathe deeply, soils must have regular additions of organic matter. Without organic matter soils tighten up. Soil particles are jammed together. The soil becomes a compacted mass. There is little room for either air or water. Roots find it hard to forage in the tight soil.

When organic matter is added, it opens the soil for air and water to soak in deeply. As it rots the organic matter builds soil structure. The humus formed from organic matter swells and shrinks with wetting and drying. Compounds that form when organic matter decays help to stick these mineral particles together in small groups so that the soil is loose and workable. Organic matter should be added deep in the soil as well as in the plow laver. Middle West Soil Improvement committee points out that the best way to drive organic matter down deep is through use of tap-rooted legumes, such as althe rotation. The roots of these legumes drill down 18 to 25 inches below the plow layer.

Heavy stands of legumes also can be secured by liming according to soil tests, and by making sure soils are well stocked with phosphate and potash for full production. When a good top growth is plowed under to go with the roots. these legumes will build the structure tilth soil needs for high yields.

Here's Why Steak Researchers Develop Costs So Much in No Vacuum Tubes The Butcher Shop

OMAHA, NEB .- A $5 bull calf, born on the western Nebraska range and fed grass and corn for two years as a steer, will bring 36 cents a pound on the Omaha livestock market. And that's not top price.

For a housewife to place on the broiler-steak from that one-time wobbly-legged calf, she must pay her butcher $1 a pound. That's average current price for beef loin. Here's the trail a specific Aberdeen Angus bull calf travelled before he ended up on the dinner plate:

He weighed about 75 pounds at birth, and was worth $5. In the first year of his life he grazed off seven acres of grassland, ate about two tons of hay, licked block salt and underwent a de-sexing operation.

In the second summer he had grown into a 711-pound steer and was ready to be sold to a feeder. a stockman who specialized in "finishing" cattle into beef-on-thehoof. The steer brought 16 cents a pound, netting his former owner $114.

Transportation Costs

The feeder paid $1.91 to transport the steer by train to his home town, and 21 cents to truck the animal to his farm. The feeder kept the glossy black animal 11 months.

The feeder followed the American Meat institute's formula for fattening the animal for each 100 pounds of grain:

Seven hundred thirty-two pounds of grain costing the feeder five cents a pound; 60 pounds of protein at six cents a pound; 245 pounds of hay at 1½ cents a pound; 385 pounds of silage at one-half cent a pound, and 81/2 days of outside pasture running 75 cents a month.

The cost of feeding, insuring, and caring for the critter was $164, making a total expenditure of $278 to the feeder.

Steer Gains Weight

The steer gained 609 pounds to a total weight of 1,320 pounds. At $36 per hundredweight, he returned $468, a 68 per cent profit, or $190, to the feeder.

The carcass of the former 75pound bull calf yielded 68 pounds of loin, only 8 per cent of the dressed weight of 850 pounds.

Prorated, that 8 per cent of loin cost the packer $37.44. At a wholesale price of 80 cents a pound, the loin brought the packer $54.50.

That money was for the cut of meat to produce steaks, not pot roast or chuck.

The housewife paid the retail price of $1 a pound for a piece of meat which, two years ago, representing 5.23 per cent of the calfon-the-hoof, was worth about three cents.

Lawyer Explains in Legal Terms How Client Was Bitten Radio Which Uses NEW YORK—A new scientific achievement, a radio set with no vacuum tubes, that plays instantly when turned on, has been developed.

The heart of this set is a few bits of metal, as big as match heads. These are solid, but they do the same work as intricate, conventional radio tubes.

Smaller sets seem possible. But whether they will be the size of wrist watches is not yet known. The new set, shown by the Bell Telephone laboratories, does not need to warm up before it plays. It neither lights nor glows nor produces any heat. Less juice than a flashlight runs it.

The set still is under experiment, and is not soon to be on the market. Bell scientists, who made it, have discovered a new principle of electronics, and expect this principle to have many uses in addition to radio sets.

In place of radio tubes, the set uses little metal cylinders, hollow, not much larger than the metal tips of shoe laces. At the base of each is set a match-head size bit of metal that does the new radio miracle.

This metal is one of the sort known as semi-conductors. That means the metal transmits electricity very poorly. But the metal amplifies the current running into it if the intake and output wires are attached to the little ball at the correct spacing. This spacing is about as much as the thickness of a sheet of paper.

The wires are hair thin. They and the bit of metal at the bottom are all the tube contains. The electronic action in the piece of metal causes no known wear. The metal in this first set is germanium. Several other metals have been used.

A Thrifty Dog

A NGUS MacTAVISH took exception tional pride in his dog's thrifty ways A good friend arrived at his home one day and with disbelief listened to the tale of the penny-wise dog.

When MacTavish left for the aitchen to mix some drinks be decided to test the little Scotch terrier. He slipped the dog a penny and ordered him to go to the local bakery and buy a bun. Then he followed the dog. To his consternation the dog trotted to the backyard where he buried the coin. Repeating the experiment, he gave the dog another cent and each time he buried it in the ground until he had accumulated five cents.

Then he gathered the pennies, wents down to the bakery and bought six buns for five cents.

When Uncle Zeke got back to Cactus Junction he swore he was through with New York for life. Mrs. Wagenlander charged the animal attacked her when she stepped from an elevator at the club, where she was employed. Jack Glenn Williams, attorney in the action filed on behalf of Mrs. Wagenlander, said: "Plaintiff had no knowledge of the presence of simians among the group waiting for said elevator, nor in the exercise of reasonable care in departing from said elevator could plaintiff distinguish said chimpanzee from its keepers and the other anthropoids, waiting there.

"Plaintiff was not aware until thereafter that said elevator, or said Cincinnati club, catered to or were used by wild animals other than of the species homo sapiens, especially apes, far from their native haunts in Africa, and even several miles from the strong cages of the Cincinnati zoological gardens where the aforesaid elevator-riding chimpanzee usually makes his home, but without elevator service."

New Air Power Hos Replaces Drudgery of Hand Farming

SAN FRANCISCO.-One answer to higher agricultural production costs may be found in the air power hoe invented by Frank King, sugar beet grower.

Although the machine is mechanically practical, actual savings in operating costs are not known yet, says J. P. Fairbanks, University of California agricultural engineer, who saw it demonstrated.

He added that the savings would have to be high because the hoes cost about $165 each to make, plus the air compressor, cost of tractor and driver's wages.

However, it replaces the drudgery of hand hoeing and workers won't have a chance to lean on a handle and rest, he said.

Up to 20 rows can be weeded at once. A tractor draws an air compressor slowly down the field with air hoses attached on each side. Each hose is connected to a hoe with a piston at the top of the handle. Compressed air jabs the blade back and forth much like a jackhammer.

Candy production-and consumption-is centered in a region extending from New England westward through Illinois and southward made up of 18 states and the District of Columbia, produced 85 per cent of all the country's candy, and ate up 55 per cent of it. The rest sumed the remaining 45 per cent.

English Doctor Claims Magic Charms Will Remove Warts

LONDON.-Magic charms really are a good cure for warts, Dr. W. S. Inman said.

Possible Cause of Insomnia

Although it seems like an absurdity, over-much sleep is a possibility. Anyone who needs an unusual amount of sleep each night or awakens still tired after a long night's sleep should seek the reason. Poor sleeping equipment may make it impossible for the sleeper to relax sufficiently to receive the most benefit from hours of sleep. Replacement with new, good quality mattresses and bedsprings is, then, an easy solution to the problem. If this is not the cause, there may be physical, mental or emotional reasons which should be corrected.

Turn Mattresses

Turning a mattress every week not only assures longer wear, but also greater comfort and sleeping benefits as the wear is distributed by turning from side to side one week and end to end the next. When turning an innerspring mattress, however, care should be taken that it is not bent as this may damage the inner construction.

Important Oil Discovery

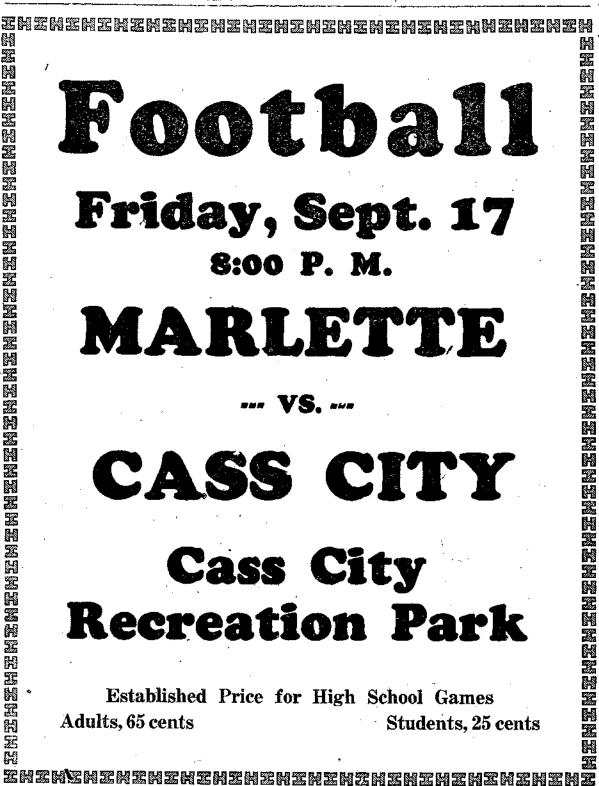

Fifth large well has been brought in at the Dollarhide field in west Texas, considered by many oil men to be the greatest oil field discovery since 1929, when east Texas started to produce. Rough estimates are that these wells have tapped a major new oil field with potential reserves of 600 million barrels.

Chick creeps give the young birds a better chance for normal growth than when they have to compete with mature birds for the feed they obtain. Such creeps can be made by constructing a pen six feet square of vertical slats placed two and one-half inches apart. The chicks will soon learn to enter this pen for feed and water where they are not molested by the mature birds. Chicks should not be reared with old birds, except where hens are used for brooding, in which case the creep is a good invest-

Old Letterdrops in Small Towns Are On Their Way Out

WASHINGTON. - The old-fash-ioned peekaboo letterdrop, a special joy of small town Americans, is on its way out. In its stead is coming a strictly modern device that takes half the fun out of mailing a letter. This wouldn't have happened if Gilbert Stanley Underwood hadn't visited the Herkimer, N. Y., postoffice.

Underwood is chief architect for the public buildings administration, which designs and builds federal buildings, including postoffices. He gave a reporter this description of what went on at Herkimer:

"The mail had just arrived, and the clerks had started to sort it. Many townspeople were waiting to get the mail from their boxes.

"Everyone seemed to know everyone else. They seemed to know the clerks, too. For one man after another would step up to the letterdrop, push back the flap, peek through, recognize the pants of the nearest clerk and sav:

'Hey, Joe, give me my mail—I'm in a hurry.

"I never imagined the letterdrop would be put to such use," Underwood said in amazement.

So back in Washington, Underwood designed a letterdrop so cunningly beveled on the inside as to cut off the view entirely.

And no letter can overshoot the mail box, no matter how hard it is popped into the slot. Each letter just slides upward over the beveled surface, kerplunk into the container. You'll find nonpeek letterdrops in all new postoffices, and Underwood said they'll gradually replace the old slots in the other buildings. The Herkimer letterdrop?

It's still there, but the clerks have covered it with canvas-to prevent peeping and to keep letters from sailing through the air.

Trapped Boy Sacrifices Pants but Gains Freedom ST. LOUIS. - Police officers had a choice of two ways of releasing Harry Charleville. 10, after he had become wedged between crisscross girders of a bridge here. Their way and his. The boy told the policemen to cut the girders that were holding him but they had a less dramatic way.

Before a crowd of more than they removed his trousers soaped his body. Half an later he was freed. ambarrassed little Harry grabbed his trousers and scurried home.

Total Spending Rising

Total spending in the United States is continuing to increase along with personal income. Total spending reached an all-time peak in 1947 of more than $229 billion and may hit a rate of $247 billion in the second half of this year. Personal income is likely to climb from $205 billion a year to a rate of $211 billion a year for the second half of 1948.

Gothic Architecture

Just prior to the invention of printing, Gothic architecture was sweeping Europe. The feudal system of the period was typefied by the walled city which served to protect the inhabitants from foreign invaders. It was these very walls that gave rise to the Gothic churches. Space within the walled town was at a premium. No longer was it possible to build horizontally as was common in Romanesque architecture. Now the churches had to be built more vertically which caused them to assume their typical cramped appearance.

Hard ticks transmit many diseases to man, including Rocky mountain spotted fever, Q fever, tick fever, tick paralysis and tularemia (rabbit fever).

Maine and Massachusetts.

According to W. N. McMillen, swine specialist at Michigan State college, hogs which the meat packers and pork producers want vary with the public demand and the need for lard.

,During the war there was a tendency to produce short thick hogs to meet the public demand and the demands from government for lard.

Swine authorities now claim the trend is swinging to a longer hog with less fat, which makes for more plates of bacon, loins, chops and hams.

"Stylish stout" hogs won't stand a chance of copping a blue ribbon at the county fairs, McMillen said. "Hogs with the classiest chassis will have the appearance of a wellfed Greyhound," he added.

Federal Agency Warns That Raw Fish May Cause Death

COLLEGE PARK, MD. - Don't feed your dog too much raw fish, says the fish and wildlife service. Cocked fish is okay.

The same advice goes for your cat, your canary, even your pet fishes. It also might apply to the feeding of human beings wherever dried fish is consumed.

Recent investigations have proved beyond doubt, the agency says, that several varieties of raw fish contain thiaminase, an enzyme which destroys thiamin, otherwise known as vitamin B-1. A deficiency of B-1 leads to nervous disorders and often to death.

Aluminum Shelters With Hay Roofs Keep Cattle Cooler

- EL CENTRO, CALIF .-- Imperial valley cattle raisers have been benefited by experiments conducted by two animal husbandrymen in devising shade shelters that make livestock more comfortable during summer months.

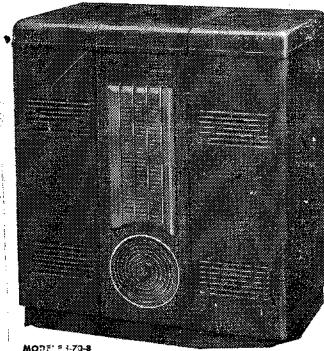

Four types of shelters were built at the Meloland experiment station by N. R. Ittner, University of California, and C. F. Kelly, United States department of agriculture.

The experts found that shelters with aluminum and hay roofs gave the greatest protection to the growing fat cattle used in the experiment.

"You Americans are so wasteful," he said, "I cannot understand it. Over in Czecho-Slovakia we try to plant trees as we cut them. We do not let any part of the tree go to waste. Even small sticks are gathered as faggots to burn in stoves. But in this country-it seems such a pity. You Americans waste so much.'

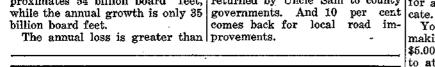

Valinto voiced his wonderment in a talk here with John Franson, disagain. trict ranger.

Franson related it to us when we dropped in for a chat. The chat ended up in a day's inspection tour of a few of the 450,000 acres of federal forests under his wing. After getting a close-up of what Uncle Sam is doing to rebuild our vanishing forests, we were both worried over the future and somewhat reassured. It's hard to explain.

Here's a fast picture, as we got it.

The United States is rapidly becoming a have-not nation in natural resources.

A careless camper started a FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1948 forest fire here last May. Fed by a 20-mile-an-hour wind, flames raced over crowns of pine trees a distance of two miles in 90 minutes.

Foresters and farmers checked the conflagration only by literally fighting fire with fire. If dry weather cycle returns, and Franson fears it is now due, the

I was sure I'd found him. When the old man was a few paces from me I said: "Pardon me, but would you like to earn some money?" He stopped and stared at me in amazement. For a moment he couldn't speak, then words tumbled from his lips in desperate, guttural tones.

"Yes," he said, "I want money. Work, any kind of work so long as it is boness! I'm strong, sir. 1 do not tire easily and if there_"

"This will require no muscular exertion," I interrupted. "I want you for a play I'm producing."

"A play?" he repeated, puzzled "I believe you're just the man for one of the parts. My office is nearby. If you'll come with me I'll try you out.'

He seemed nervous when we entered my office. I suppose his realization that the hopeless search for work might be over made him tremble that way. Reaction, psychologists term it. When he was seated in the big arm chair opposite my desk I gave him a drink, a rare concession. He gulped it down.

When You Hold a Sale Remember

This Paper will Bring Bidders to Your Sale From This Entire Community.

YOU WANT MORE BIDDERS

BIDDERS are attracted to a sale through Advertising. The larger the Advertisement used the greater is the attention given to what you have to sell. The size of the Advertisement regulates the cost. It also brings more and better bidders to your sale. ONE EXTRA BIDDER, in many cases, would more than offset the cost of the additional space used.
