Lansing - Michigan's divided house in state government is going to erupt new controversy in 1949. While Governor-Elect G. Mennen Williams has repeatedly maintained he could get along with a Republican legislature better than did Kim Sigler, the fact remains that Williams and the legislature will be miles apart on some issues. Here are a few of them, as indicated by campaign statements of the Democratic governor-elect:

Methodists First To Hold Religious Services in Elkland

Followers of John Wesley were the first to introduce a minister to Elkland Township's early settlers. He was the Rev. Mr. Baker, a clergyman of the Methodist Church, who preached his first sermon at the house of Andrew Walmsley about 1860. Shortly after this a class was organized at Mr. Walmsley's home by Rev. Mr. Greenlaw. The exact number is not known, but probably there were seven or eight members. Services were continued, usually once in two weeks, until the time of the regular organization of the church.

The Want Ads Never Speak, But Hundreds Answer Them!

Do You Remember Back When—the Methodist Episcopal Church in Cass City looked like this? If you do, you may number yourself among the older residents.

Methodists First To Hold Religious Services in Elkanld

Concluded from page 1. night meetings at Columbia, Bingham's and Novesta. A Sunday School and Thursday evening prayer meeting were at once started at Cass City.

The society having been presented by Hugh Seed with two lots, a parsonage was built, into which the pastor's family moved in January, 1870.

Services were held in the schoolhouse, but with a view to securing a permanent home. At the first quarterly conference, held at Cass City, Oct. 25, 1879, the subject of a church building was called up by the pastor, and, after discussion, Walmsley, J. Schenck and L. A. DeWitt were elected a building committee. The next year the building was erected.

The laying of the cornerstone was an interesting event in the history of Cass City, and was described as follows: "As the people assembled, the I.O.O.F., led by the Cass City cornet band, marched from their hall and took seats in regular order to assist in the ceremonies. The audience was called to order by the pastor, Rev. H. Palmer. Music was discoursed by the band. The opening services of the ritual were read by Rev. I. J. B. McKenney, of Ellington, who preached the first sermon ever delivered in Cass City. Prayer was offered by Rev. G. H. Field, of Caro, and after a reading of the Scripture lessons by the pastor, Rev. O. J. Perrin, of Monroe, (a few years ago presiding elder of Saginaw district), was introduced and delivered an interesting ad-dress. As he closed he gave opportunity for any to add their names to the subscription list before it, with other things, was deposited in the stone, or, as he said, to become 'charter members' of the concern, scription fund, although it was not the intention to try to raise money on this occasion. The cornerstone, bearing the legend, 'M. E. Church, 1880,' was from Parker's yard, in Caro, and was put in position by Mr. Deming, the builder, and the contents of the box were deposited by Mr. Perrin. These consisted of he county papers, Citizen, Pioneer and the Advertiser, Bible, hymnal, discipline, copy of subscription list, names of the trustees and building committee, history of the village by Robert Tennant, names of audience, after a prayer, were dismissed with the benediction." Succeeding the Rev. J. E. Withey, came Revs. Ira H. Camburn, Joseph Ashford, Jas. A. Dunlap, J. G. Sparling, H. Palmer and Benj. Reeve, the present pastor. The present membership of the church is fifty-six. There is a flourishing Sunday School, the usual aid society and also an association of young ladies, formed about a year ago at the suggestion of Mrs. Reeve, and bearing the mystic title of the "K. T. I." Club. The purpose of the Club is the financial help of the church, workng to that end by means of social entertainments, fairs, etc., and doing effective work in lifting the church over those rough places which are occasionally met with in the financial history of all religious societies.

Fake Money

WASHINGTON .- More than two thirds of the $3,094,000 in counterfeit American money seized in the last year was made in Europe, the secret service reported. It was the biggest volume of seizures since the service was created in 1865.

James J. Maloney, chief of the secret service, said in a report to John W. Snyder, secretary of the treasury, that over two-thirds of the imitation currency was grabbed at Marseilles, France.

Maloney reported that "by far the greatest enforcement problem" now is the theft and forgery of government checks - mostly tax refunds—and savings bonds. More than 32,000 forged checks and 11,000 forged bonds were received for investigation.

The millions of taxpayers who expect refunds and those who regularly receive government checks for other purposes, were urged to watch their mail boxes carefully. Merchants were asked to demand positive identification before cashing checks.

Make Big Haul.

Fake United States currency amounting to $2,145,200 was seized in a large plant in Marseilles by U. S. secret service agents and French police. Twelve counterfeiters now await trial in French courts. Other foreign seizures totaled $201,596. Only $42,566 got into circulation here, mostly through immigrants who bought it in good faith overseas. Domestic counterfeiting also increased, but not alarmingly. Some $747,434 in home - made bills and coins were captured. All but $100,-000 worth was seized before it could be passed. The secret service arrested 2,278 persons in the year, including 1,964 for check and bond forgery and 158 for counterfeiting.

Other arrests included nine men in Florida and Georgia who proved also to be stolen-car racketeers. This haul brought in $60,000 in counterfeit notes as well as a quantity of stolen New Jersey auto-registration certificates. The defendants were sentenced/to terms ranging from three to seven years each. Question Suspect.

One bond-forgery case developed odd quirks. Maloney related these details: Agents from Los Angeles questioned Roy L. Bowman, gas station owner at Madera, Calif., as to what he knew about some United States savings bonds stolen in Avondale, Colo., in a safe burglary.

The questioning had hardly bewhen Bowman interrupted "Okey, boys, I knew you'd catch up with me as soon as you nabbed Billy Williams." He thereupon confessed to forging bonds given him by Williams. The agents had no idea who Williams was, but set out to find him.

With only the name to guide them, they canvassed California hotels and tourist camps, finally locating Williams and his 17-year-old wife in Fresno. When questioned about the bonds, Williams made the same mistake as Bowman. He thought the agents knew all about his career of crime and confessed a trail of burglaries and bond forgeries over most of the United States. Both men are awaiting trial.

WITH THE AMAZING

OIL BURNER

Years ahead in design, the Winkler LP* is the remedy for the high heating costs of conventional oil burners

The Winkler LP* Oil Burner is a money-making investment in care-free, economical heating. It is the latest development in low pressure burner designassuring complete oil atomization and pre-mixing of air.

Above all, this burner can be actually sized to the average small domestic heating plant! If your present burner is larger than a I gallon per hour unit, the chances are that you are throwing away from 30% to 50% of your heat in wasteful over-firing . . . simply because the burner is over-sized to prevent service trouble.

See this startling demonstration

Watch the Winkler LP* burn crude oil, crankcase drainings, heavy oils, light oils, catalytic oils. Winkler challenges any other burner to pass these tests. You'll see why the Winkler LP* will give you better, safer, more economical heating.

Available in sizes from 2 quarts for small heating plants up to units for larger homes and buildings.
