WHEN you see the 1949 Chevrolets, a glance will be enough to tell you they're new_all new_in line and contour, in beauty and style. And when you look inside, and under the hood, and beneath the chassis, you'll see that their newness is not merely in outward appearance, but in design and engineering and construction as well.

But, to a lot of people, the 1949 Chevro-let is already old. They know what it will do, and how exceedingly well it will do itthey know all about its performance, its comfort, its power, safety, durability and economy. They are the engineers and technicians of the General Motors Proving Ground—the largest, most completely equipped, outdoor testing laboratory in the automobile world.

Here, before a single new 1949 Chevrolet went into production, experimental models were tested-made to show that they possess, in greater measure than ever, all those qualities on which Chevrolet has built its leadership.

In short, the General Motors Proving Ground tests are your assurance that your new-model Chevrolet has proved its worth through many months and many, many thousands of miles of rough handling.

Soon you will see the new Chevroletand when you do, you will see a car not only new, but tried and true.

New Yorker Gets Dead Polar Bear In Morning Mail

NEW YORK. - Getting a dead polar bear in the morning mail is likely to make even a strong man flinch. But that's what happened to 36-year-old George Adams recently and he didn't turn a hair.

It was all in his day's work. That's because Adams is the chief taxidermist for New York's museum of natural history, and when the ex-G.I. who bagged the bear in Greenland wanted to preserve his souvenir, he naturally sent it to Adams.

Just as naturally, Adams went to work on it among a collection of animal plaster molds, penguins in formaldehyde and half-finished bird mounts. The polar bear was just one of many animal souvenirs ex-G.I.s have asked him to mount.

Years of Experience. Adams has been working on the famous animal exhibits of the museum for nine years. A lean, mustached westerner, he still retains the enthusiasm for his work that has marked his career ever since he skinned his first lizard at the age of seven in Kanab, Utah. Since that day he's worked with many animals, birds and fish.

"It takes a year or more in manhours alone to complete just one mounted group of museum exhibitions. Our exhibit of wolves in the snow meant four weeks in the field, five weeks each to mount the animals and six months for completion of the background," he recounted.

There are only about 50 comparable taxidermists in the profession, because the work requires some 10 years' training. Among other in the Church of Christ. things, a museum taxidermist must be something of a sculptor, set designer, zoologist and anatomist.

Makes Clay Model. Adams first makes a miniature model in clay and cardboard of located at Plant City, Florida. what the finished exhibit will be. Then he must sculpture the animal in clay, showing muscles and veins. Depending on the animal or bird to be mounted, an excelsior or papier mache figure is made from the clay mold. Only then is the skin ment of Funk Bros. Seed Co. moistened and pinned in place with thousands of dressmakers' straight position as district supervisor with pins. Funk Bros. Seed Co. of Blooming-

"The lion wouldn't like it if he home of their daughter, Mrs. knew about it, but lion hairs are replaced with mouse hairs if the Mrs. Horner, who was seriously ill, lion skin I'm mounting has worn spots. Mouse hair makes an excellent replacement," Adams says.

Adams thinks the reason why so few boys grow up to be taxidermists is that their mothers can't stand the mess.

Growing Red Raspberries

Red raspberries grow best on a light or medium loam containing a liberal amount of organic matter. Avoid putting them in light sandy or heavy clay soils. Adequate moisture and good water drainage are essential. Although a location protected from strong winds is desirable, good air drainage will help in reducing trouble from certain diseases. Elevation is relatively unimportant, because raspherries usually blossom late enough to escape spring frosts.

Helium Now Available

Consumption of helium remained a government monopoly until 1937. During World War II, congress appropriated 16 million dollars for four new helium plants. Today, as much as 10 million cubic feet per month is available for private enterprise alone, and the nation's med-ical researchers have helium available at approximately a cent a cubic foot.

Origin of 'Highball' Term "highball" was introduced into America by the railroaders, who used a ball about two feet in two daughters and Mrs. L. I. Wood diameter to signal the engineer returned from Bangor Sunday whether or not to stop at small stations. If the ball was pulled to the top of a pole, the high ball was the signal not to stop—and the cars went "highballing" through the little settlement.

'Hell-On-Wheels'

Many small towns along the route of the Union Pacific railroad were originally called "Hell-On-Wheels." This pungent name was given to cerebral hemorrhage. The body was temporary settlements by migratory rail workers employed by the road on their way westward. North Platte, Julesburg, Cheyenne and Laramie were among the permanent towns which sprang from these encampments.

Death of Mr. Ingalshe-

Newell Ingalsbe, 85, passed away at his home in Grant Township on Jan. 2, the cause of death being brought to the Hunter Funeral Home and later returned to the Ingalsbe residence.

Funeral services were conducted in the Gagetown Nazarene Church by Rev. Kenneth Hayse on Wednesday afternoon. Interment was made in the Grant Township cemetery.

Newell Ingalsbe was born in Clare County in 1862 and came to Huron County in 1919 where he engaged in farming. He was a member of the Nazarene Church. He is survived by his widow, the former Lovina Dove; three sons, Orville and Chester Ingalsbe of Grosse Pointe and Wm. Ingalsbe of Rescue; one daughter, Lolla Nicholas of Rescue; and two brothers, Cash Ingalsbe of Idaho and Anthony Ingalsbe of Owendale.

Night Hog Feeding Shows Good Results Experiment May Prove

Useful During Summer

What is believed to have been the first experiment in night feeding of hogs indicates that this practice may prove highly practical, at least during the summer months.

The experiment was conducted by Robert C. Turner, a Henry, Ill., farmer, who produced an average gain of 92 pounds each on a herd of 107 Duroc hogs he had on his night-feeding program for 63 days.

To encourage his pigs to eat during the cool of the night when they were reluctant to eat during the heat of the summer days, Turner erected lights in his hog lot. He had a time clock control set to switch the lights on for two night feedings. from 10 to 11:30 p.m. and from 2 to 3:30 a.m. One pole with a single 150-watt bulb and another pole with two 150-watt bulbs lighted the hog lot area, while a third pole with two

150-watt bulbs lighted the self-feed-Turner fed a ration of ground oats and a pelletized milk product in the self-feeders, hand fed ear corn, and provided mineral, salt and good alfalfa pasture.

His 107 pigs, farrowed in late March and early April, weighed in for the test at 7,424 pounds, or an average of 69.38 pounds each. They weighed out at 17,270 pounds, or an average of 161.4 pounds each. This meant a total gain of 9,846 pounds of pork, about 92 pounds per pig, or an average daily gain of about 1.45 pounds per pig.

The herd consumed a total of 27.-069 pounds of feed at a cost of $1,-089.91. According to these figures Turner produced his gain at the rate 275 pounds of feed for each 100

Brush Teeth Twice a Day, Dentist Suggests at Meet

Everyone should spend at least four minutes a day in the home care of the teeth and gums, Dr Dickson G. Bell, of San Francisco said at the 32nd annual meeting of the American Academy of Peri odontology.

"For healthy gums the teeth should be brushed at least twice a day-night and morning-and the most important time in the morning is after breakfast," Dr. Bell declared. He also recommended that the teeth be brushed after each meal whenever possible.

Dr. Bell said there is no general agreement among dentists regarding the best design for a toothbrush, but that it was his opinion the most satisfactory type is one that has a flat or level trimmed bristle surface-the socalled straight toothbrush. He added:

"The brush should be of medium size with a large number of bristle knots or tufts set close together and four rows in width. This gives a degree of density or body to the brush. The many bristles will cover more area of the tooth surface and thus give a better cleaning result ""This method of brushing cleanses the surfaces of the teeth and massages the gingival tissues by permitting the bristles of the brush to travel in the Lame gen eral direction as food passes over the teeth."

Mild Changes Anticipated In 1949's Economic Trend

The consensus among 112 lead ing economists polled by F. W Dodge corporation indicates moderate adjustments and only mild changes in current economic trends during 1949.

The group polled includes econo mists in business corporations. financial institutions, universities and economic research organiza tions.

Reporting results of the corpora tion's survey on wholesale prices industrial production, employment and construction, Thomas S. Hol den, president of the fact-finding organization, revealed that 64 economists anticipate a business recession in 1949. Fifty-one of them characterized the expected setback as mild, 10 as moderately serious; only three men expected a recession of serious proportions or extended duration.

A quite considerable minority. numbering 47, expects no recession at all in 1949. More than 70 per cent of those who do expect a recession think it will start before the middle of 1949; some think it has already started.

A number of those replying made reservations to the effect that ali estimates would become invalid in case of war.

THE DRUMMOND is a Cape Cod style, storyand-half house with a one-car attached garage. The first floor of this charming home has a living room with a screened porch opening from one end; a modern, step-saving, completely cabineted kitchen-dinette combination, with a broom and general storage cabinet on the inside wall; and a small bedroom which can also be used as a den, office or library. The second floor has two bedrooms, a sewing room or nursery and plenty of all-important roomy closet space.

A pleasing feature of The Drummond is the front hall. Any room can be reached from it without entering another first. The side entrance hall gives handy access to the garage, basement, kitchen, downstairs lavatory and bedroom. There is a convenient coat closet in each hall.

Frame construction with wide siding covers the exterior walls. The roof is covered with asphalt shingles. And the front wall is veneered with brick.

The main body of the house is 30 ft. x 28 ft. with full basement. The overall dimensions are 46 ft. x 28 ft. The floor area is 906 square feet with 19,932 cubic feet exclusive of the garage.

Plush Age on Farm

The future living quarters for Bossie and Dobbin may still be a far cry from farmhouse comforts and big-city penthouse plush, but at least some of them will have air conditioning, in the interests of more milk and better livestock health.

A new barn humidity control system which will reduce excessive barn moisture to levels that will do away with decay, rusting and mildewing equipment, and losses due to spoiled animal feed, bacteria and insanitary conditions, has been put on the market.

The new system will automatically control fans and other devices for reducing excessive animal-produced moisture which in winter often reaches 100 per cent saturation.

Contour-Seeded Fields Produce Larger Crops

Contour-seeded wheat fields produce larger crops than those seeded up and down the slope, according to recent expert reports.

Increases of two to three bushels an acre have been reported on contour-seeded wheat fields in many instances. Also, in addition to producing bigger yields, wheat fields seeded in this manner erode less. It takes little extra time to plow, disc and seed on the contour.
