

Tyler Lodge to Observe Its 75th Anniversary

Dinner to Be Served
Jan. 29; Grand Lodge
Officers to Attend

Free and Accepted Masons will celebrate the chartering of Tyler Lodge, No. 317, seventy-five years ago when Masons gathered at the Methodist Church dining room on Saturday evening, Jan. 29. Following a dinner, there will be a program at which grand officers of the state will give addresses. Grand Master Hazel P. Cole, Senior Grand Warden Morgan J. Smead and Grand Tyler Albert L. Marlett have accepted invitations to be present at the gathering.

Tyler Lodge was organized under dispensation, dated June 19, 1873, with nine members, two more being added by limit at the first meeting. The first officers were: Samuel C. Armstrong, worshipful master; Alexander B. McCullough, senior warden; George B. Hunt, junior warden; A. A. Polly, secretary; John J. McKinney, treasurer; Travis Leach, senior deacon; Alfred Davis, junior deacon; Lonson Wilcox, tyler. The lodge was chartered Jan. 29, 1874.

During the 75 years, 510 men have become members of Tyler Lodge. The present membership numbers 180.

Members of Echo Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star will serve the 75th anniversary dinner.

Heifer Parma Bessie Mercedes Arrives Safely in Italy

It was learned here today from the Heifer Project committee in New Windsor, Md., that Parma Bessie Mercedes, a heifer contributed by local residents in February, 1948, was safely delivered to a needy institution in Italy. The heifer was received by the Cooperativa La Fagnieria, Piana di Caiazzo, (Caserta).

The first $100 for the purchase of the animal came from offerings contributed for relief purposes at union church services in Cass City. The heifer came from the Dr. H. T. Donahue herd of registered Holsteins.

This heifer was one of several hundred shipped by the Heifer Project committee to needy families and institutions in Italy last year. All heifers were distributed on the basis of greatest need, regardless of religious or political affiliation.

The Heifer Project committee is an inter-faith group which has distributed heifers to needy in dozens of different countries. The program provides the basis of genuine rehabilitation, in that it helps the needy help themselves.

At present, heifers are needed for a newly-opened reception center for refugees in Venezuela.

Cass City Defeated Caro in Basketball Tuesday Night 47-39

Cass City defeated Caro in a rough basketball game at Caro on Tuesday by the score of 47 to 39. The Red Hawks led all the way although Caro pulled up to within four points midway in the fourth quarter.

The victory maintained Cass City's position of sharing the Upper Thumb lead with Pigeon whom they will meet Tuesday, Jan. 25, at the local gym.

High scorers for the evening was little Elwin Helwig with 18 points, followed by Karr with 10. Caro's scoring was made by Duane Klein with 11 and Bradely with 10.

The little Red Hawks continued their unbeaten string by taking the Caro reserves 26 to 20. Ken Brown with 8 and Lee Hartel with 6 points led Cass City's offense. Reid scored 7 points to lead Caro's scorers.

It is easier to raise objections than it is to get busy.

Cass City's Death Rate Low in 1948

Cass City proved a healthier place to live last year than in 1947 if one takes into consideration the figures submitted to the State Department of Health by Village Clerk Wilma Fry. In 1948, deaths numbered 54 while in 1947 there were 72.

This is in keeping with the state as a whole for Michigan's death rate for 1948 will be the lowest in the state's history. On the basis of the first ten months' figures, the state's death rate will be dropped to 9.15 per 1,000 population as compared with the rate of 9.36 in 1947 and the previous low of 9.52 in 1942.

Births in Cass City showed a decrease but not a serious loss. In 1948 there were 282 and in 1947 the number was 283.

Joint Meetings Held By Granges

Twenty-five members of Grant-Elkland Grange were hosts Friday evening at the Bird school when 32 members and friends of Ellington Grange No. 1650 presented them with the traveling gavel.

The first presentation of '49 was made by Acting Worthy Master Ray Rondo, who also presided at the business session.

The entertainment under direction of the lecturer, Mrs. Ray Rondo, consisted of community singing, saxophone solos by Eileen Beardsley, readings by Betty Rondo and little three-year-old Patty Finkbeiner delighted the audience with two vocal solos, accompanied at the piano by her mother.

A comedy skit entitled "Wife Wanted," with Roland Wilson cast as the shy-love-lorn but hard-to-please bachelor climaxed the evening's entertainment.

Potluck lunch followed the program with tables laid for 60 in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gallagher and Mr. and Mrs. Keith McConkey acting as co-hosts and hostesses.

These meetings not only provide an evening of entertainment but serve to strengthen the bonds of Grange brotherhood among the many county organizations.

The gavel was passed on by Worthy Master William Profit to the Gagetown Grange Monday evening at the Winton school.

The lecturer, Mrs. James Milligan of Grant-Elkland had charge of recreation. Fifty-fifty was played at nine tables with white elephant gifts as winner's choice at each table.

There will be a meeting of the Cass City Grange Friday evening in the Bird clubhouse when the Gagetown Grange will bring the traveling gavel to the Cass City Grange.

Spares and Strikes

By George Dillman

Ernie Croft, substituting for Greenleaf on the Keppen team, brought cheers from the late shift bowlers Monday night by converting the seven-ten split for a spare. This is quite an accomplishment and deserves comment. This split is very seldom picked up, and takes a lot of study and experimenting before a bowler can accomplish the technique needed. Ernie has now reached this stage of development and states that he will gladly discuss the finer points of bowling with any of those interested. With Knoblet hitting the one-three pocket with consistency and piling up a neat total of 570 pins, his team could not hold the surge of the Dillman five as they gathered three points to maintain their lead by a slim one point margin. Guy Landon, with good steady bowling, still leads the pack of sixty bowlers with his grand average of 181, nine points beyond his closest rival, Ike Parsch, who has been rolling some nice games of late. His 233 was tops Monday night.

Brians Were Married 62 Years Wednesday

On Wednesday, Jan. 12, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Brian were married 62 years. Plans for a celebration of the event had to be abandoned because of the illness with influenza of their two daughters, Miss Mabel Brian, of Cass City and Mrs. Harry Randall, of Ithaca, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian are 85 and 84 years of age respectively and are in fairly good health. Mrs. Brian remarked that they plan to wait until they are able to observe their diamond wedding before having a celebration.

J. E. Liddicoat Is New Supt. Tuscola County Schools

Supt. of Crosswell-Lexington Schools to Succeed B. H. McComb Here

J. E. Liddicoat has been selected by the Tuscola County Board of Education from a group of applicants to serve as county superintendent of schools. He will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ben H. McComb, who had been head of the county school system for 34 years. Poor health caused Mr. McComb's resignation on Jan. 1.

Mr. Liddicoat has been serving in late years as one of two superintendents of the Crosswell-Lexington Consolidated Schools. He received his A. B. degree at Western Michigan College of Education and his Master's degree at the University of Detroit, later receiving training at the University of Michigan. For 12 years he taught in the Ferndale schools and for three years was principal and superintendent at East Tawas.

Mr. Liddicoat is 37 years of age, is married and has two children. His salary was fixed at $4,500 a year.

Cardinals to Play Alumni Saturday

The Cass City Cardinals open this Saturday against an alumni team. The alumni squad will be mainly composed of college students. After the Saturday game the Cardinals will carry two squads and play two games a night. Team II will play teams from this area and team I will tackle the state's leading teams in an effort to gain statewide recognition.

Bay City St. Stan will play here February 5, Jackson Durite, considered by many to be the best in the state, will play here in February. The Jackson team has four players of last year's class A high school champions. They defeated Cass City in Bay City 72-67, in a very exciting game.

Recruit Wisenbaugh With Eighth Army In Osaka, Japan

Recruit Floyd Wisenbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wisenbaugh of Cass City, after a short stay at the 4th Replacement Depot near Yokohama, Japan, has now arrived in Osaka and is assigned to the 25th Infantry (Tropic Lightning) Division.

The 25th Division is commanded by Major Gerald William E. Kean and is one of the battle scarred veterans of the Pacific Divisions. Stationed at Pearl Harbor on the fateful day in 1941, the men of the 25th were pressed into combat duty immediately. After taking part in the Guadalcanal campaign the division moved up through New Georgia, Vella La Vella, Arundel, Kolombangara and participated in the Luzon Campaign.

Missionary Rally at Nazarene Church

A Thumb Zone Missionary Rally will be held at the Cass City Church of the Nazarene at an all-day meeting on Saturday, Jan. 22, commencing at 10 a. m. The zone includes St. Clair, Sanilac, Huron and Tuscola counties.

The Birchards, returned missionaries from the Cape Verde Islands, will be in charge and the Sunshine Gospel Singers will furnish special music.

A potluck dinner will be served at noon.

Want Help on Your Income Tax Returns?

A deputy collector of internal revenue will visit three towns in Tuscola County to assist taxpayers in preparing their income tax returns. Here are the dates and locations:

Tuesday, Feb. 8, at Vassar State Bank, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 9 and 10, at Caro post office, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Friday, Feb. 11, at Cass City Public Library, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Rural Teachers Must Register

According to law, no teacher in a rural school shall sign a contract to teach until he or she has been recommended by the county superintendent of schools. Registration blanks have been sent to all teachers in rural schools. Any person desiring to teach in any school not employing a local superintendent of schools for the year 1949-50 may register and, if qualified, may be put on the eligible list. Whenever a teacher has completed at least six semester hours of work since last September he or she may register providing said teacher has at least 30 semester hours of college credit. Persons who are now teaching need not have the 30 semester hours but must have completed six hours since September, 1948.

Persons not now teaching should make a personal application to the county superintendent as well as fill out the registration blank.

It is planned to send to directors of rural schools of Tuscola County the first list of eligible teachers sometime in February. Other lists will follow monthly.

Tuscola Scouts to Observe 39th Boy Scout Week Feb. 6-12

Tuscola Scouts will join the nation's 2,200,000 members in their observation of the 39th Anniversary Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to Feb. 12.

During the week, many communities will have window displays by the local Scouts illustrating their handicraft and demonstrating useful skills they acquired at their meetings and camps. The largest of these displays promises to be by the Caro Sea Scout Ship which has recently acquired an eighteen-foot pulling boat. They expect to have this on display along with other equipment related to their activity.

Due to the growth of Scouting in Tuscola during the past year, the district committee has decided to hold the annual district potluck dinner in two sessions, according to Ken Kerr, district camping and activities chairman. The Senior Scouts and Boy Scouts will have their potluck dinner in Cass City at the high school on February 9, and will be guests of the local Troop No. 194, with Harold Outley as Scoutmaster. The Cub Scouts will have their potluck dinner at Vassar at the high school on February 15, and will be guests of Pack No. 301, with Cleo Everts as Cubmaster.

Other Boy Scout Week activities, according to Ken Kerr, will be the unit observation of Scout Sunday on February 6, when all the units

Hurricane Winds Struck Southern Michigan Wednesday

Roofs were blown off, buildings wrecked, windows broken, trees blown down and telephone and power circuits snarled in a wind up to hurricane force which battered southern Michigan Wednesday in the worst storm of its kind in years. Preliminary estimates indicated that damage would run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

At Elkton, the walls of the V. F. A. building, in process of construction, were blown down; at Deckerville, high winds lifted a hangar at Nauman Field 20 feet into the air and wrecked it; and at Bad Axe, the wind demolished the one-story cement block building occupied by the Reimann-Snyder Co. furniture store at M-53 and M-142. Several chicken coops and other small buildings near Cass City were wrecked by the storm.

Mrs. Schwaderer New President of Study Club

Lively Discussion Concerning Red Cross Drive for Funds in Elkland Twp.

The Woman's Study Club met at the home of Mrs. Fred Maier on Third St. on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. C. L. Graham introduced Emerson Scott, executive secretary of the Tuscola Chapter of American Red Cross, who spoke on the activities on that organization in Tuscola County. Among other things he said that the Junior Red Cross of Cass City had contributed more money last year than any other in the county.

A lively discussion followed Mr. Scott's talk, concerning the Red Cross drive for funds and the Elkland Township Community Chest. In the business meeting that followed, Mrs. M. C. McLellan appointed Mrs. Ray Boughton to serve as publicity chairman for the remainder of the year. Mrs. A. J. Knapp gave an interesting and informative lecture on parliamentary law, illustrated by a chart on balloting.

Thirty-seven members and one guest answered roll call with a comment on a current event.

The following officers were then elected for the next club year:

President, Mrs. E. L. Schwaderer; first vice president, Mrs. Floyd Reid; second vice president, Mrs. Herb Ludlow; recording secretary, Mrs. Henry McLellan; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry Young; treasurer, Mrs. R. A. Gross; publicity chairman, Mrs. William Wetters; state delegate, Mrs. Floyd Reid; alternate, Mrs. L. I. Wood; district delegate, Mrs. A. J. Knapp; alternate, Miss Laura Maier; county delegate, Mrs. Fred Maier; alternate, Mrs. Herb Ludlow.

The next meeting will be held at the Girl Scout rooms on Feb. 1 with Mrs. Ed Baker as hostess.

Three Groups Met Simultaneously in School Wednesday

The lower floor of the high school building was all occupied Wednesday evening with three meetings in session simultaneously. Cub Scouts held their regular monthly gathering in the school library under the leadership of Robert Schuckert.

The Schoolmasters' Club, an organization of superintendents and principals of Tuscola County's high schools, held a dinner meeting in the home economics rooms when Arthur Holmberg spoke on "Visual Aids in Education."

The auditorium was filled to the doors by an audience estimated at 1,000 people who came to listen to programs sponsored by The H. O. Paul Co., local International Harvester dealers. Nick and His Corn Huskers gave a musical program on the stage and new color movies featuring education, travel and comedy were shown on the screen.

President's Proposed Budget to Cost State $1,960,920,000

President Truman's proposed budget calling for federal expenditures of $41,858,000,000 during the twelve months beginning July 1 of this year will cost Michigan taxpayers approximately $1,960,920,000.

That is the estimate made by the Michigan Survey, a state taxpayer organization, based upon federal tax collections in Michigan, the state's share of the national income and population.

Henry Steffens, Survey director, urged that Michigan residents understand that this figure is "One billion, nine-hundred-and-sixty million, nine-hundred-and-twenty thousand dollars, or 5.7 times the $341.6 million Michigan collected in taxes in fiscal 1948."

It is more than four times the $471 million the state spent for all purposes in fiscal 1948, he said.

Michigan has an estimated population of about six million men, women and children. On a pro rata basis, he said, the President's budget will cost each of them $326 next year.

Lansing — "The people want more spending for public benefits. Economy is no longer popular," signed the state official. "I don't believe a man could be elected dogcatcher today on a platform of thrift in government."

The official was discussing, over the dinner table, the state of public opinion in our fourth post-war year of 1949, as reflected by two tangible trends: (1) Election verdicts of November, 1948, and (2) post-election legislative programs of the Democratic and Republican presidential nominees (Harry Truman and Thomas E. Dewey) and Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams.

On this basis the evidence appears to be overwhelming. It covers both parties, Democrat and Republican. No "sour grapes" are implied.

Here's the picture, and you can judge for yourself.

President Truman proposes a federal budget of 41.9 billions for our 1949-50 fiscal year, as compared to 33.8 billions for 1947-48. National defense would get 14.3 billions, foreign aid 6.7 billions, 5.5 billions for veteran benefits, 5.45 billions for national debt. All these items, related to national security, total approximately 75 per cent.

The remaining 25 per cent, for national government, amount to

Sub-Post Southon has a great "racket". They cash your American Express traveler's check, and if you prefer currency, they charge you lire for obtaining your American money! So they charge you in the first place for your checks, then charge you for changing them to "folding money."

Our first visit was to the monumental church of St. Peter and the Chains. This church had the original chains which bound Peter. This church also contained Michael Angelo's statue of Moses. This statue represents the finest expression contained in sculpture work as it shows Moses' anger at the people for worshipping the golden images. There were no seats in this church. All the churches were so large that it is hard to differentiate among them. The Colosseum was close by and so was the summer palace of the popes. The guards there reminded me of Napoleon's army for they wore the tri-cornered hats. We Turn to Eva Marble Letter, page 3

State Has Real Fight to Retain Its Industries

So Says Director of Michigan Department of Economic Development

"Michigan has a real fight on its hands to keep the industry already located in the state and to attract new factories because of the growing competition from other states," according to Major General Ralph Royce, director of the Michigan Department of Economic Development.

He addressed representatives from 23 towns in Saginaw, Genesee, Midland, Livingston, Shiawassee, Tuscola, Gladwin, Gratiot, and Lapeer counties, at an industrial development meeting in Chesaning Thursday, January 13. More than 65 persons attending agreed to start industrial surveys in their towns immediately. They will, like 93 other communities now making surveys in the lower peninsula, receive the assistance of the department's field staff in compiling objective analysis of their location factors for industry.

C. Dwight Wood, chief of area development for the department, explained the basic needs of industry, and stated that the communities should avoid "overselling" an industry by offering such inducements as free water and light, lowered taxes and free rent.

"Small towns cannot stand still; they must either move ahead or retreat under the present keen competition which exists," he stated. Wood also stressed the fact that it is most important for a community to keep its youth in its own home town and, with opportunities afforded with the establishment of new industry, this

High School Students Present Program

Thirty-five were present Monday evening when the Presbyterian Guild Society met with Mrs. Curtis Hunt. Mrs. Willis Campbell was in charge of the program which was given by high school students under the direction of Otto Ross. Marjorie Karr, Shirley Loomis, Arlene Lane, Jeanette Fredericks, Melva McConnell, Patrick Bernard and Don Loomis entertained with readings and Pat Stirton, who was accompanied by Roger Parrish at the piano, sang—"April Showers" and "Down on the Levee."

The hostess, who served dessert and coffee, was assisted by Mrs. Lester Ross and Mrs. Norman Huff. An arrangement of daffodils and iris centered the table at which Mrs. Jas. Ballard, junior past president, and Mrs. Harry Little, the new president, poured.

Mrs. Zora Day will be the hostess in February.

Sixteen year old Richard Musal showed the old timers how to spill the pins last week when he knocked the maple around for a neat total of 605. Richard sets pins for the bowling alleys when he isn't out there on the drives bowling. He rolls a wicked ball and when he settles down to bowl, he is plenty tough. The Shellane team bumped up against a stone wall when they met the Bauer Five and slid into second place as the Parsch Five banged their way into first position with a team total of 2585 pins. John Zmierski, another pin boy, has moved himself into the first ten high bowlers with an average of 164 which places him in seventh place. You have got to watch these pin boys. Lamb Crop Depends On Feeding of Ewes

Graydon Blank, sheep authority at Michigan State College, says the spring lamb crop will be influenced greatly by what the ewes eat the next few months.

Ewes can be wintered on a pound or more of good legume hay and considerable cheap roughage. But during the last half of pregnancy, the ewe should be fed enough to keep gaining weight. One month before lambing, Blank recommends feeding one-half pound of oats daily.

Iodine in the ration is necessary to produce strong lambs and in the northern part of Michigan cobalt is recommended. Both can be added to the salt. Ewes need exercise, which can be arranged by forcing them to walk some distance for feed.

The want ads are newsy too.

RESCUE

Oscar Schaar—

Oscar Schaar, 70, a resident of Grant Township for a number of years, passed away Thursday night in the Stevens Nursing Home in Cass City. He had a stroke on Saturday and was taken to the nursing home on Monday. He was born in August, 1878, in Oliver Township. He married Miss Dot Graves and to this union were born two daughters, Mrs. Pearl Hallock, of Owendale, and Mrs. Blanche Anderson of Elkton. His wife died, and later he married again and the second Mrs. Schaar preceded him in death a number of years ago. He leaves to mourn his departure, two daughters, eleven grandchildren, four great grandchildren, one brother, Charles Schaar of Pontiac, several nephews and nieces and a host of other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held at the Latter Day Saint Church Sunday at three o'clock. Elder Silas Parker, cousin of Mr. Schaar, preached the funeral sermon and interment was made in the Grant cemetery.

Mrs. James Welborn spent Sunday with her husband in Howell. Mr. Welborn is improving in health.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ashmore, Sr., and son, Theodore, and grandchildren, Betty, Samuel and James Ashmore, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Herrington of Caro.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quinn, Sr., were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Quinn and children of Marlette; Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Quinn and children of Kinde; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stapleton and children of Gagetown and Mr. and Mrs. Norris E. Mellendorf and daughter, Arlene, of Rescue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roberts spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Plane at Mayville.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hunter of Gagetown were Saturday evening visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maharg.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Loos of Port Huron were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norris E. Mellendorf.

NOW COMES THE LEADER WITH A 7-YEAR ADVANCE IN ONE!

Welcome the New CHEVROLET

ON DISPLAY TOMORROW

The most Beautiful BUY of all

We cordially invite you to see the new Chevrolet for '49—the first completely new car the leader has built in more than seven years—and the most beautiful buy of all!

You'll find it's the most beautiful buy for styling, for driving and riding ease, for performance and safety, and for sturdy endurance born of quality construction throughout . . . because it alone brings you all these advantages of highest-priced cars at the lowest prices and with the low cost of operation and upkeep for which Chevrolet products have always been famous.

Yes, here's the newest of all new cars—pre-tested and preproved on the great General Motors Proving Ground—and predestined to win even wider preference for Chevrolet as the most beautiful buy of all, from every point of view and on every point of value. Come in and see it!

First for Quality at Lowest Cost

AMERICA'S CHOICE  FOR 18 YEARS

BULEN CHEVROLET SALES

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN

is the only car bringing you all these fine-car advantages at lowest cost!

YOU'LL PREFER ITS "LUXURY LOOK"!

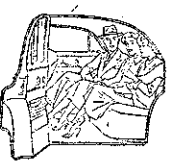

Chevrolet's new Leader-Line Styling is lower, wider, racier . . . with new Dyna-Cool radiator grille. Single-Sweep front and rear fender treatment, and sleek-as-a-rocket lines all around . . . by far the most beautiful development of the new "functional form" for motor cars.

MORE BEAUTIFUL FROM EVERY ANGLE!

The new Beauty-Leader Bodies by Fisher (with push-button door openers outside) are true masterpieces by the master builder of fine coachcraft . . . with superb lines, extra-fine upholstery and a wide variety of alluring colors . . . much more beautiful from every angle—inside and outside—front, side and rear.

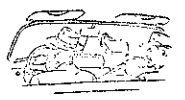

MORE ROOM AT EVERY POINT!

The new Super-Size Interiors featuring extra-wide "Five-Foot Seats" give you plenty of head, leg and elbowroom as well as extraordinary seating space for six full-grown passengers; and you'll also notice that the giant rear decks have what amounts to "trunk room" capacity.

SEE ALL! ENJOY ALL!

New Panoramic Visibility, with wider curved windshield, thinner windshield pillars, and 30% more window area all-round, permits you to see all and enjoy all, and to travel in maximum safety.

THESE ARE CARS THAT "BREATHE"!

Yes, you'll enjoy the additional pleasure of riding in a "car that breathes," for a completely effective heating and ventilating system supplies warm air to every nook and corner of the interior—exhausts stale air—keeps glass clear in all weather. *(Heater and defroster units optional at extra cost.)

THE NEW RIDE'S A REVELATION!

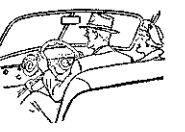

A vastly improved Unitized Knee-Action Ride, combined with new direct-acting airplane type shock absorbers, front and rear, and extra low pressure tires, gives the stability, smoothness and road-safety you have always wanted.

THERE'S ONLY ONE WORLD'S CHAMPION ENGINE

You get the finer results of Chevrolet's sturdy Valva-In-Head Thrift-Master engine in all Chevrolet models . . . together with all of Chevrolet's money-saving economy of operation and upkeep . . . and this is the world's champion engine for miles served, owners satisfied, and years tested and proved.

JUST COUNT THE COMFORTS!

Push-Button Starter for simplest, easiest starting; Hand-E-Gearshift with Synchro-Mesh Transmission for maximum shifting ease; and Firm Foundation Box-Girder Frame for ride-stability and road-steadiness unsurpassed in the Chevrolet price range.

STOP MORE SWIFTLY AND SAFELY!

The new Certi-Safe Hydraulic Brakes give even faster stops with safety . . . and assure the highest degree of effective braking action for you and your family.

YOU'LL SAVE MORE MONEY, TOO!

This new Chevrolet is designed, engineered and built to speed your pulse and spare your pocketbook, for it brings you all these and many other important improvements at the lowest prices and with extraordinary economy of operation and upkeep.

Plus NEW CENTER-POINT DESIGN!

A remarkable 4-way engineering advance exclusive to Chevrolet in its field, and consisting of Center-Point Steering—Center-Point Seating—Lower Center of Gravity and Center-Point Rear Suspension gives the new Chevrolet riding and driving results without precedent or parallel in low-cost motoring. That means a new kind of riding ease and a new kind of driving ease heretofore reserved for owners of more expensive cars. Remember—only new Center-Point Design can give you all these finer motoring results; and only the new Chevrolet brings you Center-Point Design at lowest cost!

EVA MARBLE LETTER

weren't too awestruck with the ruins of the Colosseum because we have viewed too many ruins since we came to Europe.

Our trip to the Appian Way was interesting. Roman children could study their history by reading the inscriptions on the statues that were placed on each side of the road. It was thrilling to view the original old Roman road. One of the famous catacombs is by the Appian Way also. We obtained candles from the caretaker and our guide led us down through the labyrinth underground. Bones still remained on some of the shelves or ledges.

The drive out the Appian Way was interesting also because one could see the famous aqueducts of Rome. I was delighted to see the ruins of the famous baths. I don't know as I remembered that these baths were in one large structure but they were. This building is now being used as an open air opera.

Our visit to St. Peter's Cathedral was truly inspiring. The statues and the mosaics are so beautiful that we would have to see them in order to appreciate their beauty. I am incapable of describing them. Michael Angelo was certainly a genius. He was an architect, a painter and a sculptor. He surely left a living monument in his work at St. Peter's as well as in the art galleries in Florence. I appreciated his humor in his paintings in the Cistine Chapel. He painted one of the cardinal's faces in his scene of hell. He added the mule's ears and a serpent's dress to the cardinal's form. The story goes that the cardinal was pestering Angelo by coming to view the paintings and urging him to finish. As Angelo needed a face for his "hell", he just painted the cardinal.

The Cistine Chapel is where the Cardinals meet to elect a Pope. It wasn't as elegant a room as I expected. The rest of the buildings were so beautiful that one almost feels that the Chapel itself is gloomy. (Probably I have no appreciation of beauty.)

While I was in Rome, I ate at Alfredo's. Had the famous specialty of the house which is noodles and cheese. I was given the golden spoon and fork with which to eat. This is supposed to bring wonderful luck to me.

Do you recall traveling on the train in war times? Well, going to Naples on the train was far worse than any we ever experienced in the states. The trains were literally "jammed." Naples evidently is a "hot bed" for thieves because the Italians on the train warned us to watch our cameras and our purses. Our guide in Florence asked me if I liked Naples. When I replied in the affirmative he said, "I am surprised. When we hear that a person is from Naples, we think badly of him. The people there are bad. You know ten of them live in one room and they even sleep with their mules." However, we saw none of that.

From Naples we journeyed south. This was our first visit to the Torre del Greco. This is the famous cameo center. All the people who live here engage in making cameos. We visited the factory. It saddened me to see the very young boys who are forced to work in a factory at such an early age. Making cameos is an interesting art. It is all done by hand and requires infinite patience and skill. In case you don't know, cameos are made from a conch shell.

Our party regarded our next stop as the most interesting part of Italy. We trod over Pompei. We viewed the ruins of this very famous city. We saw the original roads and the ruts left by the chariot wheels. Blocks of lava formed the stepping stones from one street to another. We saw the ruins of the two amphitheaters—one for tragedies and the other for comedies. The museum here was very interesting. It contained even carbonized bread from their bakeries. I was interested in the tear bottles. Each lady kept such a bottle. When she cried, she put her tears in this container. After her decease, the tears were thrown over her grave.

The morality of Pompei was certainly a questionable issue. I was surely surprised at the scenes revealed here. I feel they are unfit for print.

We visited Toronto on this same tour. The little donkey carts are in evidence everywhere. This day happened to be December twenty-fourth and we picked oranges in the hotel gardens. This is the region of orange, lemon and olive trees.

Do you remember the statement in geography books about Naples being so beautiful that after you have seen it you may die as you will never see another sight as beautiful? "See Naples and die." I surely thought I was going to—or maybe afraid I wouldn't! We started for Capri on Christmas Day. The Bay of Naples was so rough that I was seasick going over and worse coming back. No one will ever believe that I sailed the Great Lakes for four summers!

Capri was very scenic. We saw Gracie Field's beautiful white villa by the sea. We viewed a Swedish doctor's home. He collected and restored museum pieces that had been in the sea. His art collections are beautiful.

From Naples we went to Florence. This is about an eight-hour ride. The train was warm but the hotel was cold. We visited the art museums here. You have all seen the beautiful Madonna pictures by Raphael. It was so wonderful to be able to view the originals. I felt my limited background in appreciation of art. Besides the art galleries, we visited the Baptistery. It was here that Dante was baptized.

The Dukes of Medici were the important men of Florence. Their coat of arms contained tablets because these men were doctors. Of course the palaces had belonged to these dukes.

Venice is a good six-hour ride from Florence. I hate to disillusion you—but all the gondoliers don't sing. That was a big disappointment to me. However, I requested a gondolier "with a voice" and I did get one who sang "Santa Lucia" to me as he steered his gondola down the Grand Canal.

Our guide in Venice was a very interesting person. He had been an expert advisor or consultant in museum work in the United States. Of course I will never admit that our country doesn't have everything and more than Europe does. He said to me, "But each Italian city has a personality entirely different from each other." And he is right about that. Relics remain in Venice of the fantastic age of the past. In fact it is true of all Italy, one views even the relics that existed before Christ.

The Bridge of Sighs is the most famous bridge in Venice but not the largest. It used to be called just the palace bridge to the prison. It was here where the prisoners walked from the prison to the court where they would receive their sentences. Lad Byron felt that a lot of sighs must have been uttered on this bridge—hence its name.

Venice, of course, used to be the important commercial city of Italy before Vasco da Gama's voyage. Their famous church is St. Mark's Church at St. Mark's Square. This church is unique in the fact that it has been constructed from marble that the people brought home with them from their pilgrimages and wars. I shocked the guide by saying that I didn't think that St. Mark would appreciate a church made from "loot". But that, of course, is just my personal thought.

We viewed with interest the jewelry shop on the Rialto bridge which supposedly belonged to Shylock. We also saw the markets which belonged to the Merchants of Venice. Then the climax came when we ate in the very cafe where Shylock dined. Such a memorable occasion!

The mosaic work is very beautiful. We visited mosaic factories in both Florence and Venice. We also visited the famous Venice lace factory. This lace is made by hand and is very fine and delicate. It would cause a lot of "sight difficulties," I am sure.

I was surprised at the amount of traffic on the canal. Long trips are taken on the ferries. These boats have regular docks where they stop for passengers at a scheduled time. One can see barges, gondolas, and even ocean liners on the Grand Canal.

I do not believe that I would like Venice in the summer time. All the drainage is emptied into the canals and the odors would not be pleasant. The buildings are very old and very dirty. I'm sure that rats are abundant. At the time of our visit an epidemic of influenza was raging there. We were glad to leave.

The beggars of Rome and Venice amazed me because they were children. We arrived in Venice at midnight and were accosted by children who were from nine to twelve years old. Our guide told us that Mussolini never allowed begging but Venice was now under a communistic administration who allowed anything. But he said they'd had enough of that kind of administration and would have another kind next year.

We left Venice and journeyed back to Germany. I was glad to get back to my little valley. Italy is nice, Germany is okay—but I have one thing to say. It's just too bad that all of us U. S. A. citizens couldn't spend one year abroad. It would remove our complacent, smug attitudes. Believe me, I have heard about people crying when they saw our Statue of Liberty, and I never understood. But I'm not sure that I won't kiss the good old soil, when I come back. You can laugh, maybe, but it isn't funny. When one has seen the misery, felt the cold, and comprehended the political set-up of foreign nations, it makes one have a very fine appreciation of home.

I talked with a Danish newspaper correspondent on the train, who is the writer for this area. His view is broad but very disheartening also.

We have no water at this place—no water to drink and none in which to bathe. I believe water was turned on from 6-9 this morning. Electricity is turned off from noon to five o'clock every day. You, who are well supplied, do you ever think of what that means to not only me but thousands and thousands of people in this far away country? I'm not complaining, I wouldn't miss this experience for anything. But we, who have always had plenty, always take our comforts for granted. We call them necessities but over here they are luxuries.

I was in "an alert" about three weeks ago. I, who hate to get up in the morning, was rudely awakened at five in the morning. I rode eight miles to the post and back again. Anyway I hope the "Ruski's" never find Oberdorf and it's so tucked away, I doubt if they ever would.

Greetings to you all.
Eva Marble

attend church in a body. Each Scout will wear his uniform during this week and those who have their reservations in for summer camp will receive their "49'er's" badge and a gold nugget at the potluck.

Of special interest to Scouts and Scouters of Tuscola will be the demonstration of winter camping by Elbert L. Hubbard's Troop in Saginaw during Scout Week. The Scouts of this troop will be encamped at a vacant lot at the corner of Court and Michigan Streets across from the Saginaw County court house all week, and visiting Scouts and the public are welcome.

Farmers' Week at MSC Jan. 24 to 28

Farm people must be well informed and be constant students in their chosen fields so they may adjust operations to meet changing agriculture, Dean E. L. Anthony of the Michigan State College school of agriculture believes.

"We had this in mind in arranging the program for the thirty-fourth annual Farmers' Week at East Lansing from January 24 to 28. With farm prices down more than 14 percent from January of 1948, efficient methods are important if the farm family is to get its fair and just share of the national income," Dean Anthony commented.

Dean Anthony pointed to the Farmers' Week theme: "Modern Farming for Modern Times" and expressed a belief that every department had prepared programs that both farmers and homemakers would find educational and entertaining.

Each department has morning and early afternoon meetings

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. As usual, Monday is Dairy Day with general dairy meetings in the morning and breed association meetings at noon and lasting through afternoon. The agricultural engineering department will open its farm structures conference on Monday also.

General sessions during Farmers' Week will be Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at 3 p. m. in the college auditorium. Evening entertainment, free of charge to visitors, will be available these three nights.

All departments have planned programs of special interest and muck farmers' meetings will continue through Friday, January 29.

Chicken of Tomorrow Project Introduced For Co. Farm Youth

A new county-wide broiler-raising project is being planned for Tuscola County 4-H and FFA poultrymen by the County Chicken-of-Tomorrow Committee, of which Alex Liberacki, Unionville, is chairman.

The project is designed to provide a competitive program of spring broiler production. It is open to any boy or girl enrolled in a 4-H club or a Future Farmer Chapter. County extension agents, local leaders, and vocational agricultural teachers are cooperating in organizing and supervising projects.

The plan is for all members to buy their chicks at approximately the same date so that all will be ready for market at the same time, about 14 weeks later. In order to have birds on the market in time to get a favorable price, the week of March 7 has been set as the beginning date for all project members. This will make the marketing date the week of June 13.

Chicken-of-Tomorrow contestants should order their chicks immediately in order to assure delivery the week of March 7. Chicks may be purchased from any hatchery the member chooses. Four Tuscola County hatcherymen are cooperating in the plan by offering chicks to contestants for $5.00 per hundred down, with the balance payable at the time of marketing the birds. The hatcheries offering this plan are Andrus Hatchery, Reese; Caro and Bowles Hatcheries, Caro; and Spanton Hatchery at Gagetown.

Poultry supply and feed dealers in each community in the county are being asked to aid as sponsors in the contest. Some are offering merchandise and cash to be used as prizes for those who complete the Chicken-of-Tomorrow project.

The exhibits made by contestants will consist of twelve dressed broilers which will be selected from the flock at marketing time. Arrangements will be made to bring all Chicken-of-Tomorrow birds to a central dressing plant where they will be sold, dressed, and each member's exhibit of a dozen dressed broilers will be judged.

Also important in the contest is a special report in which each member makes a financial statement, describes his practices, and writes a story of his project.

Other members of the Tuscola County Chicken-of-Tomorrow Committee besides Chairman Liberacki are Charles Andrus, Reese; Russ Hurforth, Vassar; Harry Burns, Millington; and Milton Hagelberg and Byron E. Carpenter, Caro.

Anyone desiring more information about the Chicken-of-Tomorrow Contest should contact the County Extension Office, at the court house in Caro, or their vocational agriculture instructor or local 4-H Club leader.

Stumps Continue To "Stump" Many

Are you "stumped" by the stumps?

Many farmers are. And if you take the word of George Amundson, Michigan State College agricultural engineer who has made some study of land clearance, there is just no real easy way to rid land of stumps.

Every now and then someone comes along with a new recipe for chemical treatment and burning of stumps. Reports from tests made at the University of Illinois show that using any one of many compounds did not make stumps burn much better.

In other words, even the experts are still being "stumped" by stumps.

Livelihoods From Cotton
Cotton provides a livelihood for more Americans than any other agricultural commodity. Nearly 13 million people in this country depend on cotton for their living. Cotton uses are extremely varied, ranging from salad oil to machine parts. Approximately 99 per cent of the world's population uses cotton in some form, and there are at least 1,000 important uses for the fiber.

America's Shortest River
Link river, which joins Upper Klamath lake with Lake Ewauna, is one of the nation's shortest streams. Less than a mile long, it flows entirely within the city limits of Klamath Falls, lumbering and agricultural city of southern Oregon. The nation's shortest river is the D, 400 feet long, flowing from Devils lake into the sea along the Oregon coast.

California, Cotton State
Strange as it may seem, the No. 1 California crop is cotton.

The man who said this knows the meaning of hunger . . . the despair of trying to do a full day's work on an almost empty stomach.

He knows the anguish of watching his children go without the kind of food growing bodies must have to ward off malnutrition and disease.

His name is Legion. His address is Europe.

He needs your help desperately.

Yes, the Economic Cooperation Administration (Marshall Plan) is doing a fine job helping to rebuild the economies of war-torn European countries. But it will be many months before this aid will mean enough food and clothing for Europe's hungry. That is why they still need CARE. Hunger won't wait.

You can help with $10 CARE packages of food and clothing. Government-approved and non-profit, CARE guarantees delivery to any person or group you choose in any of the countries where CARE operates.

Any one of CARE's twelve packages provides more per dollar than can be sent any other way. A standard CARE food package, 22 1/2 pounds net, will supplement the rations of a family of four for a month. Its contents are chosen by nutritionists to meet basic shortages.

Michigan Mirror
INTERPRETING THE NEWS

10 billions, just three times what was spent for public services in 1923. During the top World War I year we spent 14.4 billions for nation defense; 4.1 billions for public services.
How would the 10 billions (for public services) be spent? Here's the national program:
For social welfare, health and security—1.963 billions in 1949 and 2.358 billions in 1950. More and new public benefits, financed in part by payroll deductions. For example: Old age insurance taxes (paid equally by employer and employee) would be increased from 1 to 1½ per cent July 1, 1949, instead of Jan. 1, 1950. Compulsory health insurance would be financed by a ¼ of 1 per cent payroll tax (employer and employee) starting July 1, 1949. More taxes would follow.
Unemployment insurance would be extended to workers of small firms, employing less than eight workers. This would involve a payroll tax (employer only) of 3 per cent for four years and thereafter a minimum of 1 per cent and a maximum of 4 per cent annually.
Agriculture would get 1.6 billions, national resources 1.8 and transportation and communications (highways, etc.) 1.6 billions.
Governor Thomas E. Dewey's legislative program is equally liberal.
The state budget of New York would be boosted from 456 millions, six years ago, to 812 millions. Education would get 31.2, compared with 12, or more than double. Public works, 35.2 vs. 17.8; state agencies, 123 vs. 74, and so on.
Among the liberal benefits proposed by Dewey: 300 millions for public housing; disability (sickness) insurance for industrial workers; a bigger health service budget, and public power (electricity) from the St. Lawrence seaway.
Dewey emphasizes: "We must respond to the needs and obligations for continued and increased services to the people of our state." On a basis of such need, readily and easily proved, New York state taxes are to be increased sharply.
Governor Williams' legislative proposals call for bigger and better public benefits right down the line: Public housing, higher payments for workmen's compensation, more medical benefits for disabled workers, higher unemployment compensation, more old-age assistance, higher gasoline and weight taxes (providing "those taxes are part of a complete highway program") and better care of the mentally ill.
The gap between Michigan's budgeted expenditures and budgeted income is 60 millions. The legislature's big task is to decide HOW these additional benefits are to be financed. WHO is to foot the bill?
If President Truman and Governors Dewey and Williams accurately interpret the desires of the American people, then more public benefits, more government in our personal lives and more state socialism are on the way.
To oppose this trend is to invite the label of being a "reactionary", one who is opposed to social progress.
Since public officials want to be re-elected and since public spending is obviously popular today, you arrive inescapably at this conclusion:
We're on the way to bigger and better things.
Keep your pocketbook handy to help pay for them.

Wheelbarrows of the Past
Ever since 2000 B. C., wheelbarrows have sailed across the hills of China. Ingenious Yangtze valley farmers rigger masts on the front of their barrows and attached bamboo sails to them. Given a stiff breeze, the wheelbarrows glided along the hill trails, often carrying four or five passengers, plus a trussed pig and bundles of vegetables. One of the emperors of the Chou dynasty, before 1000 B. C., dictated a vehicle code that prescribed the sailing speed and width of wheelbarrows.

LEAP IN THE DARK

On a dark and stormy night, the trainman was signaling to the engineer when he dropped his lantern. Another man, passing by, tossed it back to him on top of a boxcar. In a few minutes the engineer came rushing up.

"Let's see you do that again."

"Do what?" asked the trainman.

"Jump from the ground to the top of that boxcar with a lantern in your hand!"

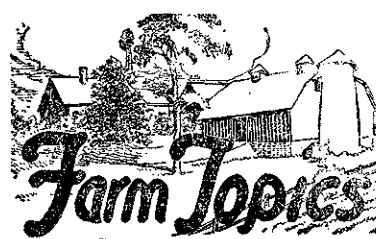

Conflicting Opinions

Two actors met in front of a theater. One of them had his arm broken in an automobile accident, and was carrying it in a sling.

"Say," asked the first, "it's too bad about your arm. How long will you have to carry it in a sling?"

The injured man shrugged.

"There is a slight difference of opinion about that," he replied. "My doctor says two weeks—and my lawyer says twelve!"

Milk House Heaters Solve Farm Problem

Easily Attached to Walls in Winter Time

Nobody enjoys working in a cold milk house. But until very recently, farmers could do little about it—except, perhaps, add another layer to their already uncomfortably bulky clothing.

Experiments conducted in the last two or three years, however, have helped solve the milk house heating problem. One type of equipment, developed as a direct result of such agricultural engineering experiments, is shown in the accompanying illustration. It is a 3000 watt, 240 volt, thermostatically controlled electric space heater. Easily attached to the milk house wall, it is five feet high and produces a temperature range of between 40 and 80 degrees.

Other new developments along this line include the use of small hot water radiators which are connected to standard dairy water heaters, and Arthur Miller of Union, Ill., admires the new heater recently installed in his milk house.

The conversion of electric milk cooler compressors into heat pumps.

Most farmers, however, are interested primarily in "spot heating"—that is warming only the specific places in which they happen to be working at the moment. This is a relatively simple job and can be done by placing heat lamps directly above or adjacent to the space to be warmed.

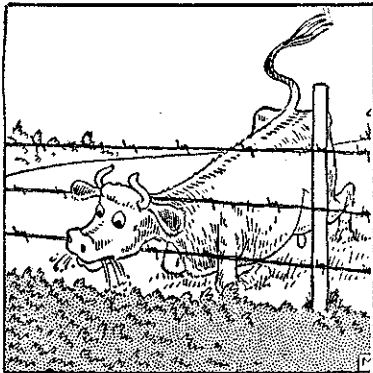

Those Greener Pastures

The old saying that "grass is greener on the other side of the fence" has a scientific basis in fact, according to Dr. William A. Albrecht, head of the soils department of the University of Missouri.

Cattle's grazing habits, he said, are based on a search for feed that will best nourish them.

"When a cow risks her neck to get grass on the other side of the fence," he declared, "she is showing good sense. She does this because the neighboring grass not only looks, but is greener. She is instinctively seeking grass from soil high in protein producing elements."

Feed that contains body-building bone-making values comes only from soil that is high in mineral fertility, Dr. Albrecht said. Declining soil fertility means a decline in the health of our livestock, our crops and ourselves.

Dr. Albrecht warned that widespread loss of "life-giving elements" from the soil is becoming more serious.

Rebuilding the soil's fertility strength so that it can produce crops with body building values, said Dr. Albrecht, depends on proper soil management. That includes liming, the growing of deep-rooted legumes regularly in the rotation, the use of phosphate and potash fertilizers and the return of barnyard manures and green manures to balance fertility losses through crop removals.

From Chick-Fed Mink To Chic Fur Coats

Poultry raising habits of wild mink have provided a tip for economy in the feeding of captive mink which for years have been fed on horse meat and fish.

But the fondness of mink for poultry suggested the feeding of the waste from poultry dressing plants—the heads, feet and entrails. Experiments proved that both adult mink and kits thrived on this cheaper diet.

Comes the Moisture That

It's a FACT that—in cold weather—excess moisture in your dairy barn reduces milk production and milk income by affecting animal comfort. Dampness will even mean pneumonia in valuable dairy herds; promotes common poultry diseases through wet litter.

But the Simple Installation of
ELECTRIC VENTILATION
Gives You Clean, Dry, Odorless Air
Wherever Animals Are Housed

Other earmarks of excess moisture in farm buildings are: rotting at building sills and around window sashes—an excess of unpleasant odors—soggy, slippery bedding, and discomfort for the people working in such buildings. Anyway you look at it, excess moisture spells t-r-o-u-b-l-e!

Properly planned, correctly installed ventilation can check decay. Electric ventilation, automatically controlled by thermostats, will eliminate drafts, offensive odors, ammonia in the air, and condensate from animals' breath.

SHORT STORY

Blind Advertisement

By EMMIE BELL PORTER

THE newspaper advertisement read: "WANTED: Sober, reliable man to take complete charge of advertising department of large firm. Must be able to assume full responsibility. College-trained men only need apply."

Ted Clifton read it over toast and eggs. "Mona!" he exclaimed. "Listen... this is what I've been looking for..."

"Yes, it does sound good," agreed Mona, over his shoulder.

Ted reflected. "It isn't that old Todd is a bad sort... it's just that he doesn't seem to want to give me full rein, and you know I work better without so much supervision." Mona raised her hand in a dramatic sweep. "Onward and upward, my lad... Let's enter greener fields via this ad... let Todd feed his business to the birds!"

Thirty minutes later Ted leaned back. "Read it to me, honey... let's hear how it sounds."

"Dear Sir: If you are looking for a man with initiative, willingness to work and a capacity to handle your advertising, look no further. However, I would have it understood from the beginning that I am to have full charge and not be hindered, swayed or crippled by any supervisor, helper or owner. I am at present employed but unfortunately my present employer is afraid to trust me to stand on my own feet. In fact, I do not believe he fully trusts his own feet. I know what I can do and all I ask is a chance to prove it. Respectfully, Theodore Shane."

Mona's eyes glowed. "Oh, Ted, that is a good letter, but is that part bad about your boss not trusting you?"

Ted's jaw set. "All my cards are on the table, honey... might as well let him know where I stand right from the beginning."

Kissing Mona goodbye, Ted whispered, "Keep your fingers crossed for luck, sweet."

AT FOUR O'CLOCK that afternoon the buzzer on Ted's desk impatiently summoned him into the inner sanctum of the Big Boss—J. Anthony Todd, himself. That illustrious individual sat stiffly erect, his halo of steel gray hair bristling excitingly.

"Sit down, Shane!" he thundered. "Sit down. I want to talk with you about that Finkle advertising deal. Just how would you handle it?"

Ted blinked in surprise. "Why, sir, I would channel it through the mediums of the small retailer for there's not enough volume to interest the large concerns."

The owner of Todd and Todd nodded in agreement. "Right! That's just what I've been telling my partner should be done! Go right ahead with it!"

"Thanks!" agreed Ted. "That should be quite a deal if handled properly."

"By the way," inquired Mr. Todd, his eyes twinkling, "just how would you handle the new plastic deal with the Denver people?"

Ted outlined in enthusiastic detail the plans he had been longing to put into action.

WHEN he had finished, the boss looked at him in astonishment. "My boy," he instructed, "Go right ahead. Call me in for a conference only if you feel you need moral support." He shifted his weight and smiled. "Come back tomorrow. We will draw up a new arrangement as well as full authority in your department."

After he had ushered a dazed but happy Ted to the door, the head of Todd and Todd drew a letter from his desk. He chuckled. "This is really good!" Adjusting his glasses he read:

"My present employer is afraid to trust me to stand on my own feet. In fact I do not believe he fully trusts his own feet."

Putting the letter back, he smiled again. "I guess young Shane will always wonder why he never received an answer to that letter. It was a good thing I made that advertisement a blind one, otherwise I might have never discovered what a tip-top advertising fireball I had right here all along!"

What Is Your Name?

"MR. JONES," began the timid-looking young man, "er—ah—that is, can—er—I—will you—"

"Why, yes, my boy, you may have her," smiled the girl's father.

The young man gasped.

"What's that? Have whom?" he asked.

"My daughter, of course," replied Jones. "That's what you mean. You want to marry her, don't you?"

"Why, no," said the young man. "I just wanted to know if you could lend me $10."

"Certainly not!" said Jones, sharply. "Why, I hardly know you."

SOCIAL AMBITIONS

He could neither read nor write, but when a distant relation died and left him a small fortune he started to make a splash. He acquired a checkbook, but instead of signing his name on checks he put two crosses, and the bank paid.

Then one day he handed the cashier a check signed with three crosses.

"What's this?" demanded the cashier. "You've put three crosses here."

"I know," was the reply, "but my wife's got social ambitions. She says I must have a middle name."

Britons Laugh At Their Own Brand of Humor

LONDON. — In vaudeville they used to say: "He who laughs last is English."

But the British know that old cliché about their alleged lack of a sense of humor isn't true. They laugh as often and with the same response as the Americans. Only they don't always laugh at the same things.

That probably is natural, considering there is an ocean between the two nations. Recently a British poll was taken on who laughed at what and when in this country.

It showed that the British city dweller is more apt to laugh at jokes about war and current affairs, while the countryman guffaws mainly at domestic humor.

People over 40 laugh more at religion and drunkenness and dialect stories. Younger folk seem to go for "shaggy dog" stories.

Favorite British Joke

Four years ago the same poll asked the same questions on humor and decided that this was the favorite British joke:

Having ordered a plate of cabbage, a restaurant customer plastered it over his head. "What are you doing with that cabbage?" demanded the proprietor. "Is that cabbage?" said the customer, "I thought it was spinach."

The same joke has reappeared in many forms in this year's poll. Here is one of the variations:

A man enters a pub, orders a beer, drains it and walks straight up the wall, across the ceiling, down the other side and out of the door. "That's odd," said another man at the bar. "Yes," said the barmaid, "he usually orders ale."

And another:

"This morning," says a man to a friend, "Julius Caesar got on the No. 9 bus with me at Marble Arch and told me he had to race back to Rome for the Ides of March."

"You're lying," snapped the friend. "The No. 9 bus doesn't go to Marble Arch."

More English Humor

"Two spinsters went for a tramp in the woods—he got away."

A friend met Harry Pollitt, British Communist leader, in brilliant sunshine with his umbrella up. "It's raining in Moscow," Comrade Harry explained.

Winston Churchill met Heath Minister Aneurin Bevin in the house of commons and the Socialist leader asked Churchill for twopence to ring up a friend. "Here's fourpence," said Churchill, "ring up all your friends."

A child climbed on a hobby horse in a department store and refused to get off. The store psychologist was called and after he whispered in the child's ear it immediately went home with its mother. "What did you say," marveled the mother, "to make my naughty child so obedient?" Said the psychologist: "I merely whispered 'Get off that dashed horse or I'll break your dashed neck.'"

Australians Plan 3,000 Ton Bomb Blast in New Guinea

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA. — There is going to be a big bang up in New Guinea early next year.

The Australian army and air force are planning to set off 3,000 tons of bombs in one mighty blast. It will rank with the biggest half dozen man made explosions of the world.

These were five atom bombs and the detonation of 8,500 tons of high explosives on Helgoland, German fortress island, in April, 1947.

The New Guinea bombs, left over from World War II, will go up at a dump at Tadjil near the big war time base of Aitape.

Scientists from England and Australia will be there to study the effect of the blast on the earth's crust. About 20 seismograph recording stations will be scattered around the explosion area.

The noise of the explosion should be big enough to be heard for hundreds of miles. The electric detonators that will explode the bombs likely will be about seven miles from the center of the dump.

Barred From Marriage, Four Teen-Agers Commit Suicide

NEW DELHI, INDIA. — Four teen-age boys and girls committed suicide with poisoned candy because their parents, of different castes, forbade their marriage, a Lucknow newspaper said.

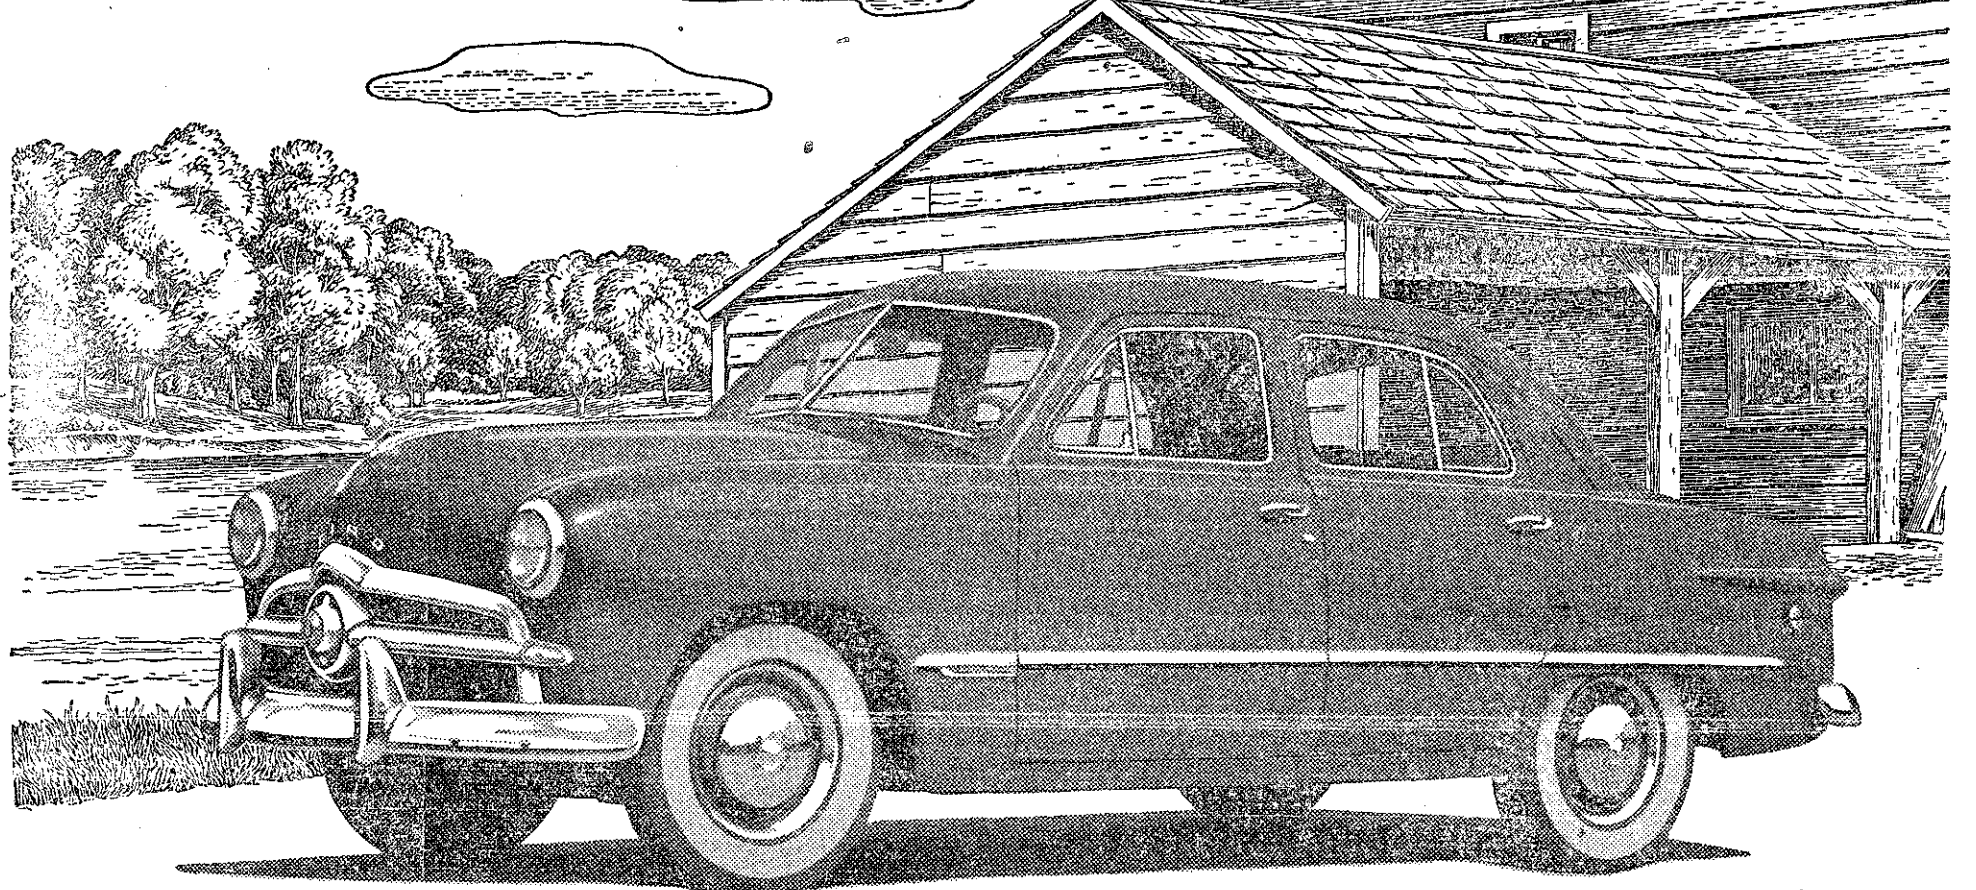

The newspaper, the National Herald, said a third boy, a mutual friend of the two couples, also died in the love pact.

The dispatch gave these details: Two Hindu sisters, daughters of a lawyer, two male students and the third boy left their homes in Hamirpur City when the boys' and girls' parents of different castes, refused them permission to marry.

They celebrated on the banks of the sacred Jumna river their "reunion in Heaven" and then distributed poisoned sweets among themselves.

The five bodies were buried side by side by the weeping parents. Hindus bury bodies of unmarried persons but cremate others.

Zionist Believes Earth Is Flat Despite Photos

ZION, ILL.—Recent rocket photographs showing a curve in the earth's surface don't mean a thing to the faithful in this sectarian community.

The photographs, taken from 57 miles altitude over White Sands proving ground, N. M., were shown to M. J. Mintern, overseer of the Christian Catholic church, which holds that the earth is nearly flat.

Overseer Mintern said "when you have something really worth while in the way of proof that the earth is spherical, let me know."

Mintern is the successor to the late Wilbur Glenn Voliva who maintained a standing offer of $5,000 to anyone who could prove to his satisfaction that the earth is round.

The concept of the flat earth with four definable corners is based, Overseer Mintern said, upon a literal interpretation of the Old Testament.

"We have heard of a short passage to Russia across the north pole," Overseer Mintern said.

"But, has anyone ever gone in a straight course over the so-called south pole from Chile to Java?"

The overseer said the theory of the flat earth was a "side issue" in his church beliefs. "There are things we don't know, and that applies to the earth, too," he said.

Care of Tractors Now Pays in Spring

If that farm tractor is to be ready to go at the first break of spring, it needs some attention now according to Jack R. Schram, agricultural engineer at Michigan State College.

The farm tractor or any engine on a baler, combine or another implement, should be serviced just as though you were getting ready for a big day in the field, Schram says. It should be completely lubricated and the oil drained from the crankcase. The oil filter should be cleaned and replaced.

Schram advises if the crankcase is refilled with new oil and the tractor or engine run for a short period of time, a protective film of new oil will be pumped into all working parts.

Wheels should be jacked up off the ground. The spark plugs should be removed and two tablespoons of motor oil placed in each cylinder, and then the engine turned over by hand. Batteries should be stored inside. All drain cocks should be opened and fuel drained from tank and carburetor.

Schram reminds that complete draining of the radiator and block and leaving all drain plugs open or out is also important.

It is not necessary to iron Turkish towels. Ironing may mat the loops and make the towel less absorbent.

Ex-Trolleyman Hurtles His New Bus Into Brush

WILKES-BARRE. — For 28 years Andrew Ondash was a trolley operator who knew every inch of rail along the line. He knew, too, that everywhere the tracks went, the trolley was sure to go. Then his company put busses on the line he served those many years.

The new mechanism was unfamiliar. But Andrew took a firm grip on the wheel and turned. The bus left the highway, hurdled a ditch and ploughed 10 feet into underbrush. Andrew's bosses said it was all right. They felt everyone must learn, some time.

Manager in Crowded Store Defies Threats of Bandit

OMAHA, NEB. — A holdup man backed down when the manager of the store he planned to rob defied him to make the holdup in the presence of shopping crowds.

Amil Martin, manager of the store, said he was accosted in the rear of the store by a well-dressed man who had what appeared to be a pistol stuck in his waistband and declared "this is a stickup."

Martin said the man handed him a paper bag and ordered him to go to the safe and fill it. When he refused, he said the man reached for the gun and asked, "Do you want it right now?"

"I then walked up to the front of the store," Martin related.

When the would-be robber asked him what he was going to do Martin said, he replied "I'm not going to do anything. If you hold me up you'll have to hold up the whole store."

The man looked over the crowds of shoppers and replied as he departed, "Okay, Mac, you win, but don't follow me."

Inventor Perfects Device To Detect Carbon Monoxide

SANTA MARIA, CALIF.—William C. Darby, who nearly lost his life to carbon monoxide 15 years ago, has invented a device which will set off an alarm when the tasteless, odorless and colorless gas is detected.

Secret of the detector is a chemical substance which, when processed on a glass plate, will discolor from exposure to varying concentrations of carbon monoxide.

The detector continuously samples air at the same cubic feet per minute that the average person breathes. By glancing at a built-in meter, a person can observe the amount of gas to which he has been exposed. When the concentration reaches a dangerous point, visible and audible signals are set off.

Darby regards the possibilities for the use of the detector as unlimited. He claims that it is readily adaptable to industrial buildings, garages, homes, ships, aircraft, hotels, mines and tunnels, serving not only as a carbon monoxide detector but also as a fire detection instrument.

Shepherd Loses His Flock In Fog but Dogs Do Not

LONG BEACH, CALIF.—Ground hugging fog that enveloped the coast line, separated shepherd Francisco Rivera from his flock.

He wandered futilely in a blank, soundless world, groping about meadows, straining for a tinkle that would tell him his flock was near by.

When the fog had lifted somewhat he notified police. Officers helped him cruise in search of his sheep. They found them near Lakewood village, five miles from where Francisco last saw them. They were grazing peacefully. Keeping them in tow were Francisco's two shepherd dogs. The fog hadn't bothered them.

STATE HAS REAL FIGHT TO RETAIN ITS INDUSTRIES

The survey school in Chesaning represents the fourth to be held in the Saginaw valley, in addition to numerous meetings held during the Upper Peninsula development program just completed and the additional ones held in various areas of the lower peninsula. To date 55 Saginaw valley towns have been represented at meetings of this sort, which are held under the auspices of the Saginaw Valley Regional Planning Commission with Gale Gibson, executive secretary directing them.

Attending the Chesaning meeting were representatives of the following towns: Perry, Clio, Morris, Beaverton, Durand, Vassar, Saginaw, Midland, Freeland, Owosso, Laingsburg, Flushing, Chesaning, Inlay City, Breckenridge, St. Charles, Montrose, Corunna, Vernon, Fenton, Grand Blanc, Frankenmuth, and Reese.

Following the industrial survey school the Saginaw Valley Regional Planning Commission's industrial committee met and agreed on a program to advise the advantages of the Saginaw valley as a location for industry.

Such a program would be set up through an industrial brochure and would include pertinent facts for industrial location obtained from the community surveys.

Representatives of the regional commission will meet with the Michigan Economic Development Commission February 4 in Lansing to request financial and technical assistance in preparing and publishing such a brochure. The industrial committee instructed their executive secretary, Gale Gibson, to prepare a general plan for the program.

Members of this industrial committee are: Chairman Sam Ball, Bay City; Randall Wicks, Saginaw; Charles Manson, Vassar; Ray Rogers, Gladwin; Harold Preston, Mt. Pleasant; and Frank Davis, Bay City.

Open-Mouthed

They tell this on violinist Fritz Kreiser. Walking along the street one afternoon with a friend, he passed a fish market. The window was filled with neat rows of fresh fish, with staring eyes and open mouths.

"Good grief!" Kreiser said to his companion, "that reminds me... I should be playing at a concert today!"

Different Suits

"Is it true that Gladys is going to sue Reggie for breach of promise?"

"She was going to, but she found it wouldn't be worthwhile."

"No letters, I suppose?"

"It wasn't that. No money. You see, she was on the point of filing a suit when she heard about Reggie pawning one."

Itchy Appendix

A patient was talking to his doctor: "There's nothing wrong with me except that my appendix itches."

"Good," replied the doctor, "we'll take it right out."

"Why?" the patient gasped.

The doctor boomed back: "Have to take it out before you can scratch it!"

SHORT STORY Night Trip By RUTH K. KENT

MAMMA tried to rest her head against the stiff plush seat back. My land, how did a body get any sleep on these trains? Mamma glanced at the girl sharing her seat. She was stylish looking. Papa had found this seat when he put mamma on the train. "She's young. She'll take care of you," he'd whispered.

Mamma needed someone to look after her... this was her first train trip in years, and she wouldn't be going now if Hank hadn't wired that Irene had to go to the hospital. And who would take care of her grandchildren...

She waited for the girl to turn her way. Maybe she was bashful. She hadn't said a word and they'd been riding an hour. Mamma leaned back with a sigh. She was tucked out, and her throat felt funny. Goodness, was she going to have a fainting spell?

A drink of water... where was it? She caught the girl's eye. "Do you know where the drinking water is?" mamma asked.

"At the end of the car. Bring me one, too, will you?"

Mamma pulled the gold watch from her belt. Eight o'clock. The time when she and papa always had a snack. Mamma brushed at her eyes. Silly to miss the old coot so.

Mamma took the shoe box from her knitting bag. She could feel the girl watching. "Want a sandwich?" mamma smiled, "these are chicken and these home-made liver sausage." The girl reached for the chicken sandwiches, both of them.

Mamma was tired. She twisted sideways and tried the back of the seat again. She tried putting up her arm and leaning her head on it, but the arthritis in her fingers started aching. The girl looked so comfortable and mamma sat back and watched her. Pretty little thing.

MAMMA remembered when Hank was a baby. Big oversized youngster, never would let her cuddle him. She'd always longed for a girl. But the second baby, the one that didn't live was a boy too. And so were the grandchildren.

People were milling about the car and every time the door opened a draft swept over mamma. She looked longingly at the girl, nestled in comfort. As if feeling mamma's eyes on her, the girl turned and stretched.

"Comfortable?" mamma asked. The girl yawned. "No. It's too hard."

Mamma looked longingly at the window sill. "You have to share. Now if we could sort of rest on each other..."

The sudden mouth curved into a smile. "All right," the girl said.

She looked like a girl to take care of Mamma, Papa thought.

She hunched up her knees and rested her head against mamma. "My lands," mamma gasped. But the girl was breathing steadily already.

Mamma looked down at her. She never saw a girl with hair so yellow and eyes so dark. The lines around the red mouth were soft now, the lips full. Mamma looked about cautiously, then slipped a timid arm around the girl. She felt cuddly as a baby.

Mamma awakened at daylight. "Oh, my goodness, I'm almost there." She patted her hair and smiled at the girl.

HANK scooped mamma from the train. "Gee, ma..." he kissed her, "the baby's here and Irene's okay."

Mamma's eyes were watching the tall girl walk away. Then Hank hustled mamma into the car. "Was it a rotten trip, ma?"

Mamma nodded. "The train was crowded and cold. But I sat with the nicest girl. If it wasn't for her I couldn't of stood the trip. She did so much for me."

She squeezed Hank's arm and it was hard and strong. "Another boy, I suppose," she sighed.

Hank shook his head. "Girl this time." And mamma remembered golden hair, a soft cuddly body...

MSC FARMERS' WEEK SPEAKERS

FULBRIGHT MARTENS HEINKEL

Outstanding speakers have been arranged for the annual Farmers' Week program at Michigan State College, January 24 to 28. Dean E. L. Anthony announces. Sen. J. W. Fulbright, left, former president of the University of Arkansas, will speak Thursday afternoon, January 27. The Arkansas senator was author of the Fulbright resolution in congress which was a forerunner to establishment of the United Nations. Miss Rachel Martens, associate editor of Farm Journal, Philadelphia, Pa., is featured on the afternoon program for Homemakers on Wednesday, January 26. Wednesday's general session speaker will be Fred W. Heinkel, right, Columbia, Mo., president of the Missouri Farmers' Association.

Miss McLean Died At Home of Sister

Miss Blanche Elizabeth McLean, 62, crippled for many years, died Sunday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Clara Vaden, at Argyle. Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Douglas Funeral Home. Rev. Sergi Moisenjenko of Ubyly officiated and burial was made in Elkland cemetery.

The deceased was the daughter of the late Jas. and Bessie McLean and was born June 2, 1886, in Argyle Township.

Surviving besides Mrs. Vaden are two brothers: Melvin McLean of Argyle and Robert McLean of Detroit.

Red Hawks Won Fourth Game Friday

Cass City won its fourth game in five starts in league competition Friday by defeating Vassar 50 to 36. The Red Hawks win coupled with Bad Axe's victory over Pigeon put Cass City in a three-way tie for the Upper Thumb leadership with Caro and Pigeon.

The Red Hawks jumped to a 16-9 lead in the first quarter and the outcome was never in doubt. High scorer for Cass City was Elwin Helwig with 13 points. DeGeer lead Vassar's attack with 12 points.

The Cass City reserves continued their unbeaten string by downing the Vassar reserves in the preliminary game 28 to 14. The reserves allowed only one field goal. The first half displayed an unusually tight defense. Kenneth Brown poured in 15 points to lead the Cass City offensive efforts, while Severen and Salsbury tied for Vassar's scoring honors with 6 points apiece.

President's Proposed Budget to Cost State $1,960,920,000

women and children should pay taxes. Figuring it another way, the Survey estimates that Michigan's 1,588,500 families will pay an average of $1,234 to Uncle Sam next year.

Getting closer to home, a Survey tabulation shows that, on a population basis, the new budget will cost the people of Tuscola County $11,765,520 during fiscal 1950. Sanilac County's share is $9,216,324 and Huron County will pay $10,000,692.

What can the people of Michigan do to receive for all these Washington-bound dollars? The Survey shows that approximately 4.68 per cent of the $41.9 billion in contemplated expenditures are allocable to this state.

On this basis, Michiganders will spend more than $314 million to finance U. S. relations with other countries, $668 million for national defense, and $257 million for veterans' services and benefits—which adds up to more than two-thirds of the total Michigan costs for these three items alone.

Then, Michigan taxpayers can expect to spend about $110 million for social welfare, health and security, $18 million for housing and community facilities, $19 million for education and general research, $78 million for agriculture and agricultural resources, $87 million for natural resources, $74 million for transportation and communication, $5 million for finance, commerce and industry, $9 million for labor, $57 million for general government, $255 million for interest on the public debt and $7 as a reserve for contingencies.

According to Steffens, this is only the beginning. "In addition," he said, "there will be deficiency and supplemental appropriations added from time to time to carry this Colossus of Government through the year. Contract authorizations will be made for work that will run into more billions before completion. Still more billions will be added ultimately to the cost of federal government if new spending proposals are passed.

"People here at home," he said, "must realize that they themselves have to foot the bill for the services rendered by the federal government."

Frayed electric cords may be repaired either by cutting out the broken piece and inserting a cord connector, or by cutting out the frayed or broken part of the cord, splicing and soldering.

Chevrolet's 'Balanced Design' Adds Beauty and Comfort

Progressive streamlining of the 1949 Chevrolet is in line. Notable in the roomier, lower cars is a balance emphasis in this view of the Styleline De Luxe four-door sedan against a new Martin 202 passenger air- as well as smart appearance.

Idling Tractor Motors

When tractor motors are allowed to idle, gas is wasted. Lubrication of an idling motor is likely to be faulty, too, as the oil system was made for operation under load.
