4-H Livestock Show To Be Held at State Fair Grounds

People No Longer Will Feel Cold and Discomfort While Attending Show

When youths of Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties together with other Michigan boys and girls bring their fattened, prize livestock to the annual Michigan 4-H Club Stock Show at Detroit this year they will tend and exhibit their animals in high new style in the cattle and sheep buildings of the State Fair grounds.

In this twentieth annual show they will be accorded the honors they have proved they deserve through the championship quality of the purebred lambs and steers they have brought to Detroit for 19 annual exhibits.

Decision to hold the show in the State Fair buildings was reached by members of the board of directors of the Detroit Junior Livestock Society, Inc., the show's sponsors, after they were informed the state was offering its use. At the annual meeting of the board members outlined first plans to expand the show, add to its attractions for the young stock raisers, and generally produce fitting fanfare for champions auctioning at ever increasing record prices.

"The young people have proved themselves top stock folks by exhibiting under all sorts of adverse conditions at the stock yards," Charles E. Scott, newly elected president of the society, said.

"They have shown themselves to be big time and it is our intention to provide them with big time surroundings. Many interested Detroiters will be glad to see them." Concluded on page 4.

Music to Feature Father and Chum Banquet Feb. 8

Program Committee Is Signing Up Local Talent for Community Club Event

A repetition of the style of the musical program which "went across" so well a year ago will be repeated at the Father and Chum banquet of the Cass City Community Club which will be held at the school auditorium on Tuesday evening, Feb. 8. A. C. Atwell and Frank Reid, who were on the committee a year ago, are determined the 1949 entertainment will measure up as well as the highly successful program of '48.

The committee is anxious to sign up a large number of musicians for the Feb. 8 event. Further particulars may be learned by consulting either Mr. Reid or Mr. Atwell. Today is a good time to consult the telephone directory for the number of one of the two gentlemen and make your entry. Both vocal and instrumental numbers by local talent will be booked.

Red Cross Will Not Conduct Finance Drive in Elkland

Tuscola Chapter to Ask National Society to Change Community Chest Ruling

The board of directors of the Tuscola County Chapter of the American Red Cross held a regular quarterly meeting Wednesday night, January 19, with Dr. Willard W. Dickerson, chairman, presiding.

The chapter's present financial condition, the March finance campaign and the Elkland Township community chest were the principal items discussed.

Adolph J. Kamm of Reese, chapter treasurer, reported that only $3,370.88 remained in the general fund as of December 31, 1948. As the chapter's present fiscal year does not end until June 30, the group discussed ways and means of curtailing chapter activities due to lack of funds. Final action was deferred until after the results of the March finance campaign are known.

Dr. Dickerson reported that the budgeted sum of $9,410.00, established by the board for the local chapter's operation during the fiscal year July 1, 1949, to June 30, 1950, had been approved by the Midwestern Area Office. The chapter has been requested to raise $3,458.00 towards the national fund goal of $60,000,000. Thus the county goal for the March fund campaign will be a total of $12,868.00.

Harold D. Anderson and Sterling Harris, chairman and co-chairman of the coming finance campaign, reported on their activities to date. They indicated they had been unable to secure a chairman for the drive in Elkland Township. It is their impression the people of that township do not wish a fund campaign to be conducted in the name of the Red Cross since they have organized their community chest.

Mrs. Grant Patterson, board secretary and Harold Ostley, First Aid chairman, both of Cass City, were present. They indicated most people of that community were of the opinion a part of the funds they contributed to the chest would go to Red Cross.

The local chapter was never invited to participate in the chest and no official public announcement to that effect was ever published by the Elkland Chapter. Concluded on page 10.

Danger in Ladders

Faulty ladders are the cause of many accidents. Ladders should be well built and kept in repair. They should be kept where they are easily accessible in case of fire, but should not be left standing against buildings where they are an open invitation to children to climb them.

Fly-Killing Weapon

A new and deadly insect sprayer atomizes and spreads its powerful insecticide with blasts of super-heated dry steam, generated instantly by a special electric heater. The insecticide has been tested for 100 per cent fly kill and for a cockroach kill of 92 out of 100. The high-pressure steam makes possible prolonged suspension of the insecticide particles in the air and thus greater killing effects.

Why Lambs Eat Wool

Wool eating is a form of depraved appetite in young lambs that leads to formation in the stomach of dirt-and-wool balls, and death sometimes results. According to veterinary authorities, lack of necessary minerals, especially phosphorus, may be a major causative factor, since wool eating rarely occurs among pasture-reared lambs from well-nourished mothers.

Spares and Strikes

By George Dillman
With due apologies from this department, the name of Earl Harris was omitted from the honor roll last week. His efforts resulted in a total of 225 pins for one game. He missed spares in the first two frames and then came back with seven strikes in a row and a spare in the last frame to gather this total. We won't mention the first two games. Then, to keep his name before the public, Monday night he picked up the 4-7-10 split while bowling with the Teachers.

The Dillman Five kept their hot pace by taking the Reid Five for four points to increase their lead by four points over the charging Landon Five. High scores were slim Monday night as only five men were able to hit 200 and over, and only seven hit 500 and over for three games. Jack Hubbard of the Juhasz team kept them in the race by spilling the maple for a neat total of 571 with two games of 200 each and one of 171.

Plants, Like Humans, Are Finicky Eaters

Isotopes Tell Amounts Of Fertilizer Utilized

Atomic scientists have learned that some plants, like some human beings, are finicky eaters.

This new knowledge, important commercially, is the result of exhaustive tests with radioactive isotopes of phosphorous in fertilizers.

Radioisotopes, sometimes called "tracers," are atoms whose nuclei emit high-energy rays that can be detected by sensitive instruments. Thus, the movement of substances containing such atoms may be followed or traced at all times.

Before radioisotopes were used, it was impossible to tell how much fertilizer a plant would absorb. But by using radioactive phosphorous in phosphate fertilizer, for instance, scientists know the amount each plant takes.

As a result, a scientist now can tell a farmer who spends $50 to put phosphate fertilizer on his land whether the plant only "nibbles" or takes a bite big enough to repay his expense.

During these experiments, scientists were surprised to discover that plants sometimes have distinct likes and dislikes for certain "meals."

For example, it was learned from tests in North Carolina that corn liked the phosphate from fertilizer for a time, then would switch to the phosphate which had been present before fertilization. In Maine, the potatoes preferred the fertilizer phosphate all the time.

This man works on an extraction apparatus in Oak Ridge, Tenn., as part of the program for the nationwide distribution of beneficial radioactive isotopes from the uranium chain-reacting atomic pile.

In other cases, plants would seem always to prefer the phosphate already present in the ground, instead of the meal prepared by the farmer.

One of the world's foremost producers of baby foods, chewing gum, coffee and peanut-butter recently became the first representative of the food industry to become a member of the atomic research program at the University of Chicago.

Small Turkey Talk

The young lady poses a close-up on a very young turkey—one of the streamlined variety created to meet modern demands for small birds to suit small families and to fit kitchenette ovens. Each of several of the older varieties contributed one or more of the desired characteristics to this small white variety, characterized by a compact body, short legs, long keel and plenty of breast meat. Careful records on thousands of birds from carefully selected stock were necessary before the "apartment size" turkey was developed.

Summer Milk Slump Costs Farmer Plenty

"Summer slump" in milk production costs farmers plenty in good, hard cash. On the average farm there is about a 30 per cent drop from May until early fall.

Some of the loss in production arises because a higher percentage of cows are dry or approaching the end of their lactation period, but many dairy specialists believe that much of the loss could be prevented by better management.

Cold feet often carry a hothead away from trouble.

Take Care of Metal Roofs, Agricultural Expert Warns

Rust is the cancer of farm machinery and other metal equipment on the farm. It goes on destroying thousands of dollars worth of property each year.

"Rust does not stop 'working' because it's Labor day. It is no respecter of iron or steel. Once started, it will slowly destroy metal roofs, machinery and equipment," declares J. G. Andros, extension agricultural engineer, University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Andros points especially to the damage done each year to the galvanized roofs that are used on more than a third of the service buildings on Illinois farms. Almost half of the metal roofs now in use need some repairs because of rusting.

Such repairs include replacing damaged nailing strips or sheets, remailing, tightening loose sheets and painting to stop damage from rust. Such repairs seldom take much money or material, but they do require a few hours of labor from time to time.

"Galvanized metal roofing should be painted as soon as the galvanizing or zinc coating begins to break down, and certainly before the roofing rusts very much," Andros says. "Painting at this stage takes less labor, and a gallon of paint goes farther. Warm weather is the best time to apply the paint."

Push-Button Accountant Soon to Make Its Debut

Electronic machines now being perfected after years of exhaustive research by British scientists, are able to wipe out long hours of tedious sorting, adding, computing and analyzing by thousands of office clerks.

In a matter of seconds, these wonder robots can compile an up-to-the-minute balance sheet for the corporation executive, punch out a railway ticket for the hurried traveler, or sort thousands of letters in a flash for the harassed mail clerk.

Technicians at work in one London laboratory are about to pull the wraps off an "electronic accountant" that will have considerable effect on the business world. Push a button and its electronic impulses race into action, sift thousands of accounts flowing in from hundreds of branch offices, tote up the debit and credit columns, juggle masses of figures without a hitch, finally deliver a flawless balance sheet.

Accountancy is to benefit in this way through Britain's great advance in technical knowledge gained during World War II. Scientists and engineers who developed advanced electronic calculators and bomb-sights during the war are using that experience now. Both instruments work on the same principle.

Home-Made Electric Fence

Farm safety specialists at Michigan state college urge farmers to use care in the selection and use of electric fences. Home-made electric fence controllers are a gamble. The specialists point out that a very small shock can be fatal. Even the amount of current used by a seven watt bulb is more than necessary for electrocution. No fence, they caution, should be energized from any source except through a controller approved by a recognized testing agency. Everyone around the farm should be instructed on how to disconnect the controller in case of an emergency and children should be taught not to tamper or play with an electric fence. Electric fences should not be depended upon to restrain bulls, boars, or other vicious animals. Insulated grips should be provided for opening and closing the gate.

Wings Over the Orchard

Use of the airplane by apple growers has increased recently as a result of the greater use of hormone sprays (or dusts) to prevent pre-harvest drop of the fruit. Airplanes can do the spraying job without entering the orchard as they apply the fruit-holding treatment from above, whereas the usual sprayers must move among the trees. The airplane is not quite so efficient as the ground sprayer but is commercially satisfactory. At the harvest season the close-growing, fruit-laden trees, the piles of packing boxes, and the props offer obstacles to the spray machines and hoses but none at all to the hired hormone-puffing planes that operate without interfering with the orchardist's busy harvest labor force.

Milk an Ancient Food

Milk of cows, goats and other animals has been employed as food for thousands of years. The Old Testament mentions the use of milk in 44 places. In the 18th chapter of Genesis it is recorded that Abraham, while being visited by three angels, "took butter and milk and the calf, which he had dressed, and set it before them; and he stood by them under the tree and they did eat." Butter was used by the Hindus as early as 2,000 B.C., both as a food and in their religious ceremonies, and it is mentioned by the early Hebrew, Greek and Roman writers.

The man whose only aim is fame is apt to miss fire.

Floor Finishing
Extreme care should be taken in the use of floor finishing materials in the home as they are often highly inflammable. Turpentine-soaked rags should not be left lying around, and all waste should be disposed of as soon as possible. Brushes should be cleaned and stored away, and all paint materials kept tightly covered.

Freight Locomotives
Although railroads in 1947 had 20 per cent fewer locomotives assigned to freight service than they had 25 years ago, these locomotives performed 80 per cent more service in terms of tons hauled and miles covered.

Housing Shortage Reason
In 1920 the population of the United States was 105 million. Today it is over 140 million. Along with the increase in population, the size of families decreased from 4.1 in 1930 to 3.8 in 1940, which means that eight years ago it took 7.9 per cent or 19 more dwelling units to house 1,000 people than it did in 1930.

One Step Better

THE train was pulling out of the station as a young man threw his bag onto the observation platform and swung himself up over the hand rail. With a tired look on his face he stood panting as the train gathered speed.

"You young fellows don't keep yourselves in condition," commented an old man, comfortably seated in one corner of the platform.

"I've been fighting Johnny Briggs," Tommy confessed. "Well, take him some cake and make friends again," his mother said.

WINDY WINDMILL

The long-winded lecturer had been holding forth for over an hour, except for brief pauses from time to time to gulp a hasty drink of water.

Professional Pride

A surgeon, an engineer and a politician were arguing over whose profession was the oldest. Said the surgeon: "Eve was made from Adam's rib, and that was a surgical operation."

Loaded With Vitamins

Patron--Waiter, there's a fly in my soup. Waiter--Be careful, sir, our food is so full of vitamins he may attack you.

UNDERFED RECRUIT

"You are right, sergeant," said the C. O. "that new man is skinny. Put him to work cleaning rifles."

Superstition

"Is it true that it's bad luck for a black cat to follow you?" "Depends whether you're a man or a mouse."

TRAVEL INSTRUCTIONS

"Please tell me which platform I take for the train to Boston." "Turn to the left and you'll be right, lady." "Young man, don't be impatient."

A widow's advantage is that she can give references.

Lights in Laying Houses Help Increase Egg Yield

An electrical twilight is possible in the chicken house, but it is more expensive and less practical than to allow the sun to do the job in the normal and accustomed way.

This is why poultry specialists of the U. S. department of agriculture, in suggesting winter lights in laying houses advise poultrymen to turn on the lights in early morning and get the layers rustling in time to put in a full day before the normal twilight that guides them to rest on the roosts.

A simple alarm clock regulator is all that is required to turn on the lights in the morning. Many experiments have demonstrated that it is good business to provide enough electric lighting in the laying house so that the hens will get in a fourteen hour day.

Burning Reduces Yield

Research proves that burning does not improve pasture or hay land. The October, 1948, issue of "Soil Conservation" published by the U. S. department of agriculture, states: "Burning pasture decreased yield of hay more than half in eight years, states Harry M. Elwell, SCS research, Guthrie, Okla."

Stews Always Popular

Stews have a popularity that knows no international boundaries. There is the Irish stew, French ragout, Hungarian goulash, and the American meat pie, all with the goodness that comes from long, slow cooking and proper seasoning.

Dutch Elm Disease

Dead elms should be cut and burned before next April 15, to eliminate the danger of spreading Dutch elm disease. Mere cutting is insufficient. Most important is burning the bark at once.

No Suggestions

Three girls gathered in a small restaurant for lunch. "I think I'll have a chicken sandwich," said the first one. "That's not good for a young girl," said the waiter.

LIKES ATTRACT LIKES

The lunatic walked up to the new superintendent. "We like you much better than the last fellow," he said. The new superintendent beamed. "Why?" he asked.

Making Rain With Plane
Formula for a manufactured rain-storm reads like this: Dry ice, a plane and—most important—a super-cooled cloud. But it's not so easy to make rain, even with plenty of dry ice. The super-cooled clouds which are necessary don't always prevail in all parts of the United States, and are sometimes very hard to find.
