The four Class 'B" teams, Bad

Axe. Caro, Cass City and Sandusky, are well matched and competition in this part of the tournament should be very close. Caro and Cass City are now tied for the leadership of the Upper Thumb with 11 victories and two defeats schedules as co-champions in the has had an excellent season in the Mid Thumb League and is its champion. Although Cass City defeated Sandusky in the invitational tournament during the holidays the boys from Sanilac will be strong contenders for district honors again this year. Bad, Axe, always a strong competitor in tournament play, has shown itself to be a determined contender in many of its games during the regular season and holds a victory over Pigeon, one of the strong teams of the Upper Thumb.

The Class "B" champion will be sent to the Flint I. M. A. auditorium to compete for regional honors on March 9, 10, 11 and 12. The four "D" teams competing are Akron, Gagetown, Fairgrove and Kingston. Gagetown has played on about even terms this year in league competition and also in intersectional games, having won one and lost one with each Unionville and Akron of the Breaking a Leg Little Seven League. In the Central Thumb League, Gagetown is, now in third place. Akron has a five shown improvement in the latter shown improvement also and now has three wins and seven losses in their league. Fairgrove seems to have the weakest team according to the record with only one win to nine losses but anything can happen when these teams meet in a tournament and one can look for some real competition in this year's class "D" tournament at Cass City.

The class "D" winner will go to Lapeer for its regional games. Frank Wheatherhead is the tournament manager here next

Frost Windows, Add Color To Give Bathroom Decoration

By Ertta Haley

"MY HOUSE is nicely furnished but I have no ndea what I can do to the bathroom to make it a decorative asset." wails a homemaker who is seriously concerned with keeping an attractive home.

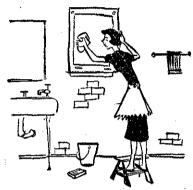

Bathrooms are neglected decoratively in many homes for the same reason as this woman gave. People simply don't know the possibilities for making them as attractive to look at as a bedroom, kitchen or living room.

While time and thought has been spent on other rooms, the baths have been ignored except to see that they had towels, soap and running water. After a time, they become an eyesore because the rest of the house has been furnished tastefully. What can be done?

First of all, consider the bathroom as a possible decorative unit. If it adjoins a bedroom, possibly it can be carried out with a color scheme modified after the bedroom. If it's downstairs, you may want to use some of the other rooms so it's part and parcel of the home.

It's wise, also, to consider what you have in the way of towels and wash cloths. If your taste runs the gamut of colors, it's best to keep the bathroom white so that you may use any set of towels in it that you happen to have.

If your towel colors run to rose, green yellow and blue as well as white the best choice would be

Let windows sparkle . . . green as any of these colors can be combined with it.

Paint or Tile? You Decide.

A bathroom which uses enamel paint on its walls is easy to clean as well as to repaint. It can be washed often, in fact as often as necessary without harming a good quality paint. The wall color can be changed frequently.

It you have a tile bathroom, it will look more luxurious and modern, but you'll have to stick to the original color once it's there. If, of course, you have white tile, then you may use a wide range of colors

If you are modernizing your home, you may want to have some simulated tile put on the lower half

Tile is easy to keep clean. The best way to keep it sparkling is to run the shower or hot water until the room is full of steam. Then go over the walls with a dry cloth. As soon as the cloth becomes soiled, take a clean one or rinse out the one which you are using.

The advantage to having a dry

Many clever ideas feature Victorian whimsies in colorful costume jewelry, such as the pearls in the gilded cage sketched here. They belong to the pendant and necklace school which is just about tops in populartiy. Among the other intriguing ideas is the return of the locket. ribbons of different colors are entwined to make the spiral plaid in a new vinyl film shower curtain pattern. Drapes may also be had in the same pattern. The matching tole hamper and wastebasket are made to go with the curtain and drape set. They are sturdily constructed to withstand wear and are both alcohol-proof and flame-proof.

clean cloth is that it leaves the tile in a nice glossy condition, much nicer than if you had gone over the walls with a scrub brush and soap. To do the best cleaning on the bathroom, remove everything movable before cleaning. This will give you more room in which to do the best work. Wash the shower curtains as well as the regular curtains weekly as you do the cleaning. Select Furnishings

Tastefully Since the bath is usually a small room, it's wise to furnish it carefully so there is little clutter in it. All the colors should harmonize well to give a unity of impression. Get everything that is not a part of the furniture, out of the way completely so there is an absence of clutter. You can put creams, jars, and bottles in a cabinet or arrange them attractively on the new glass shelves that are becoming so popu-

Shower curtains and drapes look best when they are matched. In ginian?" fact, now there are even hampers made to match the shower and curtain sets. Chip-resistant laquer is used on the background of the hamper and the hand-painted designs are sealed with a coat of plastic paint. This makes it easy to wipe smudges with a damp cloth.

Hampers and wastebaskets stand up under wear best if they have heavy steel bases. Since they are moved around a lot, they must be durable.

The more expensive shower and curtain sets are really economical in the long run. The best ones are made of natural rubber and have a dull finish that looks beautiful and wears well.

Other sets in plastic materials, such as opaque vinyl film, are very attractive and come in an attractive array of designs and colors.

Be sure to choose shower curtains long enough so there will be little water escaping when they're in use. The standard sizes of six by six feet are sufficient for most bathrooms. Good Decorating

Hints Given For those of you who want to "frost" bathroom windows, there are two easy ways. One method is to mix some epsom salts with a little varnish and apply to the glass. Another way is to cover the glass with a sheet of tissue paper and apply spar varnish which has been thinned with 1/4 turpentine. This mixture will make the paper adhere to the window. If fixtures have become dull and rusted-looking, rub them thoroughly with steel wool and then apply a metal polish to them and rub until they shine. Keep soft paper around to wipe the fixtures dry to prevent them from rusting. Peacock blue with white is a good color combination to use for a bathroom if your're in a warm climate. It's cool looking, and you may use white, blue, yellow or rose or maroon towels and accessories with this combination,

A yellow bathroom is very cheerful and warm for cooler climates. With this you may use blue, green, black or black and white towels,

If you want to use a combination of colors in the bathroom, have the background gray. Gray tile with touches of white at the borders is very effective. With this you may use a combination of flamingo, yellow, drak green and dark gray. A large bathroom is best held together with a large, shaggy rug in the same color that predominates the bathroom.

How to Get a Loan

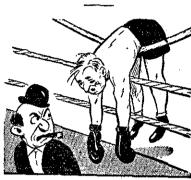

DOWN in a small town the struggling editor of a community weekly newspaper made an interesting—and profitable—discovery. He found that the president of the local bank was a pushover for a small loan if he could be moved to riotous laughter. Thereafter, whenever he needed a little money to meet a payroll or pay his paper bill, he would go over and tell the banker a real rib-ticking funny story and obtain a loan. The editor brought the banker one of his best anecdotes, but the latter didn't laugh—and he didn't lend the editor any money either.

A few days later the editor was passing the bank, when its president espied him through the window, and broke into a veritable paroxysm of laughter.

"Come in, John, and get that money you wanted," he called out. "You know, it wasn't until this morning that I caught the point of that joke you told me the other

"What did you do after that?" a friend asked the editor. "What do you suppose?" the editor retorted. "After that I always tell him a joke a week before I need the money!"

DIRECTIONS

"How far to the nearest town?" inquired the motorist. "Five miles, as the crow flies," was the reply.

"How far," persisted the motorist, "if the crow has to walk, carrying a can of gasoline?"

Driven to Tears

The hostess at a large party, rather proud of her voice, rendered "Carry Me Back to Old Virginee" in a rich and throaty tremolo. She was touched to notice a distinguished, white-haired man bow his head and weep quietly as the last notes floated over the room. As soon as she could, she went over to him and said: "Pardon me, but are you a Vir-

"No, madam," said the elderly man, brushing away a tear, "I am musician."

ECONOMY MINDED

Sandy McDonald asked a lady friend to accompany him to the fair. Next morning the girl's father asked her how she enjoyed the fair.

"Didn't see it," the girl replied. "What?" the father asked sharply. "I thought you said you were going to the fair."

'We were," the girl explained. "but after walking eight miles, I was so tired I couldn't climb over the fence.'

Speculation

An angular spinster, self-chosen supervisor of the moral life of the village in which she lived, delighted in embarrassing her fellow citizens. One day she lectured a bricklaver publicly.

"Don't deny that you were drinking last night," she snapped. "Didn't I see with my own eyes your wheelbarrow sitting outside the public house?''

The workman doffed his cap and made no further attempt to explain. But when he quit work that evening, he pushed his wheelbarrow up to her door and left it sitting all night.

Motorists Used Greater Caution During Past Year

ists apparently were more careful on the highways in the last year than in previous comparable periods, according to the committee on safety operation for the National Association of Railroad and Utility Commissioners.

An overall reduction of 3 per cent in deaths caused by motor vehicles last year was reported to the association at its convention here. The report showed that approximately 34,000 persons were killed in automobile accidents last year, while the total this year has been about 32,000, or a reduction of 3 per cent from the prior year.

C. L. Doherty, chairman of the association's safety operation committee, said that persons injured this year in motor vehicle accidents totaled 1,500,000, of whom some 100,000 were left with some permanent physical impairment.

Large Property Damage

Motor vehicle accidents were responsible for $1,100,000,000 in property damage during the year, and the estimated loss for deaths alone was $530,000,000. Doherty added that there were additional costs of $1,550,000,000, which included medical expenses for the injured, insurance chargeable against accident claims, value of services lost to the nation during the year, and even in later years because of deaths or disablements

Doherty said the committee's findings showed that 51 per cent of travel and 35 per cent of deaths took place in urban areas, while 49 per cent of travel and 65 per cent of deaths occurred in rural areas, making the urban death rate in terms of miles substantially lower than the rural death rate. He said 43 per cent of the accidents were in the day time and 57 per cent at

Vehicles vs. Pedestrians

The leading number of accidents, he said, involved collisions of motor vehicles with pedestrians, the second highest concerned collisions of two or more vehicles, and noncollision accidents were next.

"Contrary to public opinion and everyday statements heard on the street concerning the safety of airplane travel," the chairman said, "it may be noted that there were. 3.2 fatalities per 100,000,000 passengers last year. #### Doctors Use Arrow Poison as Throat Surgery Anesthetic

CHICAGO.—Curare, ancient South American arrow poison, has proved a valuable addition to anesthetics used in throat operations, a group of eye, ear and throat specialists was told.

Such surgery, said Dr. R. Charles Adams of Rochester, Minn., poses a special problem. The operation is performed in an area where the apparatus for anesthesia usually is maintained, and there is no danger of interfering with a patient's air supply.

Also, various inflammable gasses are barred because of the possibility that a spark from an electric needle used in the throat to cauterize tissúe after an operation might cause an explosion.

Another problem is that the areas of operation are at the seat of several reflexes—the "triggers" that cause gagging and nausea. The dose of whatever anesthesia used must be sufficiently powerful to nullify these reflexes.

Dr. Adams said that effective use har been made of curare and pentothol. A relatively small dose of pentothol, insufficient to paralyze the reflexes, is injected into a vein. The injection then is supplemented with curare which temporarily blocks the reflexes.

Picked Gateman Knows All Tricks Used by Grashers

DENVER, COLO.-C. V. Ragan, a gateman for the Pinkerton detective agency, finds that whether at the opera or at a rodeo held in a dusty corral, gate crashers try the same tricks over and over.

Ragan feels that in six years of taking tickets, he has spotted all the dodges and has them neatly classified.

his mother is inside; that he went to a rest room and got lost and needs to get in to find her.

There's the bold fellow with the dime store deputy's badge or the phoney press credentials.

Someone always races up to the gate breathlessly and demands entrance with the explanation, "I'm on in the next act and I'm late," Ragan said.

The oldest dodge, he said, is the man with the small black case who claims he's a doctor on an emergency call.

Least effective, Ragan said, is the too young girl with too much lipstick who wheedles: "How about letting me in? I'll see you after the show.'

"They don't get in and they don't see me after the show," Ragan said.

year ago, a reliable monthly survey of "real income" reveals. "Real income" is the relationship of revenue to living costs.

The national figures indicate that the average home has 2 per cent more buying power than last year. Wage-earners, salaried people and those with investment income are equally well off, while the farmer is now about 3 per cent below his status of a year ago.

It should be remembered, however, that such status a year ago was at a then all-time high.

Besides the recent drop in farm prices, the survey said, it is expected that there may be further tapering off during the next six months, but farm income will continue at a high level. In the same way, although surpluses are beginning to appear in the clothing industry, there are no signs yet that sharp price breaks are likely.

Overhauling the Land

Ten vezrs' work in rebuilding the soil-depleted 300-acre Rio Grande College farm at Rio Grande, Ohio, were compressed into 131/4 hours recently by 600 workers and hundreds of pieces of mechanized farm equipment. In this hilly Ohio valley country, chief problem was removal of excess water which had been carrying away top soil. Diversion ditches and sod water outlets were prepared. Two ponds were built. The course of a stream was altered. Years of cultivation had taken much of the life from the farm's soil, so the horde of workers also attacked the problem of soil rejuvenation. Great areas were tilled, limed, fertilized and seeded and overgrown pasture land was reclaimed and prepared for seeding. In the picture, a jeep, equipped with bush and bog harrow, is engaged in mulching as part of the work done on the farm.

2,4-D Winter Spraying Destroys Stumps, Weeds

Successful winter spraying with an ester of 2,4-D is the newest twist to the ever-broadening field of chemical weed control.

At East Lansing, Mich., agronomists Keith Barrons and L. L. Coulter of the Dow Chemical company announced that stumps sprayed in near zero weather during the past three winters have responded to treatment in the same manner as stumps sprayed during the summer season. The chemical used was Esteron 44 which contains 44 per cent of the isopropyl ester of

Weak Egg Shells Mean Hens Require Calcium

Feeding oyster shells to laying hens to furnish the calcium needed for making strong egg shells is suggested by Irving J. Mork, agent of the North Dakota Agricultural college extensión service. "Hens that lay steadily will, as time goes on, lay eggs with weak shells," he said. "Usually this is due to a lack of calcium in the ration. It can also be due to a lack of vitamin D, however."

Unknown Britisher Slaps at Eisenhower In 'Crusade' Review

LONDON .-- An unidentified London Sunday Times military correspondent has blamed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for what he termed needless casualties, including the loss of 70,000 Americans, in the 1944 "battle of the bulge."

This first heavy attack on the popular wartime allied supreme commander also included a charge that General Eisenhower's policy produced disastrous results for the western allied postwar political struggle against Russia.

The Sunday Times, a member of the Kimsley chain of British newspapers and not connected with the London Times, did not identify the author, and Morley Richards, foreign service executive said:

"I am unable to comment on the writer as I don't know who he is, but it is safe to say he is in an authoritative position."

The newspaper in an editorial described Eisenhower's book, "Crusade in Europe," as a "blow to Anglo-American friendship and understanding," and said "the injury must be healed."

The editorial added: "One is forced to the conclusion that Eisenhower considers the war really was won by America, that every American view was right, and every British view wrong."

Volunteer Workers Harvest Stricken Neighbor's Crop

KANSAS CITY, MO.-It was harvest time on the farm of George Leeker, two and onehalf miles northwest of Lenexa, Kas., in more than one sense of the word.

When 53 of Leeker's neighbors worked all day to harvest the farmer's 32 acres of corn. Leeker was reaping a harvest from seeds of affection and kindness for his neighbors he has sown in the past.

The men went to their neighbor's aid because Leeker, who suffered a stroke in June, has been ordered to do no heavy

As many of the volunteers pointed out, Leeker, who is a 60year-old bachelor, has always been one who has gone to the aid of others or who has organized volunteer groups, like the one which visited his own farm, to help someone else get a crop harvested.

How about a mule? asked the farmers, and the bet was on. But the governor, law enforce-

Radioisotopes Assist in Search for Better Tires

AKRON, OHIO. - Radioisotopes from atomic ovens are being used in studies to make better tires. One project is to determine how much and how well chemical solutions penetrate various types and grades of tire cords.

In the future, the tagged atoms may be used toward solving the secret of what happens to rubber in vulcanization, said Dr. Howard E. Fritz, vice president in charge of research.

"We may even learn just what makes rubber bounce, which we are unable to explain scientifically at present, even though researchers have been experimenting with rubber for over two centuries."

Let Bedroom of Youngsters Reflect Hobbies, Interests

By Ertta Haley

IS YOUR CHILD'S bedroom a place to sleep in or is it planned to show his hobbies and interests as

A child whose bedroom is designed to take care of his hobbies as well as his sleeping will enjoy his room more and will not have to be told constantly to busy himself with something. If the parents show an interest in the child's having hobbies, the youngster will start thinking in those terms and foster interests in things which will give him much joy throughout his life-

Rooms should not only contain those essentials of living such as a desk, bed and chair, but they should be the embodiment of hobbies, interests and tastes—a picture of what the person is who lives in it.

When furnished like this, rooms require little more thought in the planning, but their dividends are greater than the effort to make them so. A room that invites it's occupant to make model planes or boats, dolls or houses, painting or clay modeling is a happy room designed for creative effort.

Let the youngster help in deciding what he wants, and if old enough, let him help decorate it. A room that has a lot of work and thought put in it brings its people close to terms of real living and staves off boredom.

Yes, but you have no idea what children would bring into their rooms, if I let them, I can hear some mothers saying. Well, youngsters do develop passing fancies in all sorts of strange things and in this case they might need guidance.

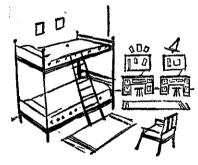

The little fellows who carry birds and insects in their pockets and want to bring them into their rooms might be directed toward an interest in biology. Pictures can frequently substitute for the live animal if they are large, attractive and color-

Be Smart!

Have your dainty dress pumps and your anklet slippers, too, in ane and the same pair. It's easy when the anklets even unto the third strap, are removed as quickly as a bracelet from the wrist. The trick is in making the high cut style the basis of a secure anchor for these straps, yet looking just like another fashion whimsey of the moment when the slippers are worn as stripped pumps.

School Dress

Here's a striped cotton dress good for school wear, with pretty tucking and spanking crisp collar and cuffs. The stripes are in gradnated widths in petal gray and a pastel combination. The rows of tucking accent the pretty skirt fulness. Made of Avondale's sanforized, mercerized cotton with collar and cuffs of birdseye picque, the dress is one of the costumes from an all-cotton wardrobe made from patterns.

use heavy oilcloth. If you cut the drapes with pinking shears, no other finishing is necessary. These wipe off easily and are no task to keep

To avoid clutter when youngsters have collections of toys, whistles and whatnot, have shelves built in the room, and encourage them to place their objects on the shelves in an attractive pattern. If they have lots of assorted things, the best answer to this is a chest with plenty of drawer space; or a closet with built in drawers will serve the purpose

When boys are old enough and interested in making furniture, or refinishing it, they can easily work on the furniture in their own room. You'd be surprised at how much more pride they will take in keeping things neat if they've created part of the furnishings themselves.

For boys who need reminders, for mail, for assorted pictures and things of that nature, a bulletin board above the desk is invaluable for keeping the room tidy.

For two or four boys in one room, use double-decker beds to save space. The coverings should be sturdy as the youngsters will lounge

Girl's Room May be Tailored or Feminine

The girl who's feminine will want a bed and dressing table covered in filmy, ruffled material. Most mothers would like to dissuade their daughters from such thoughts because of laundering problems, but

Provide Drawer Space

To Preserve Neatness depending upon the room.

Unless you provide sufficient place in which clothing, shoes and other things can be placed, the room will be a cleaning problem, and will never look neat.

Bookcases can be built on the wall so there need be no reason for them to clutter the room.

If you lack the space for a regular desk, have one made with sturdy hinges that attaches to the wall, so that it can be let up and down as used. Have a proper chair and good light near it.

Fertility Unlimited

THE Johnsons, a middle-aged couple who wanted to leave the city and buy a few acres of land in the country, drove several miles to look at a small place reported to be for sale. Arriving at their destination, they were disappointed to find those acres rough, rocky and extremely unfertile. Mr. Johnson was hesitating to inform the present owner, a lank, grizzled bachelor, that the place was entirely unsuitable when Mrs. Johnson began eating a small bunch of grapes she had taken from the car.

Watching the city woman for a moment, the owner of the unfertile acres drawled, "Ma'am, unless you want the rows in your new vineyard growin' every which way, best watch where you're tossin' them seeds."

Construction of a large Continuing Education Center at Michigan State College is scheduled to start April 1. The building, shown above in an architect's drawing, will provide accomodations for the college's extensive program of continuing educational services to the people of Michigan. Last year, special con-ferences and short courses, ranging in subject matter from sheep shearing to government workshops, brought more than 60,000 Michigan people to the East Lansing campus. In addition, the six-story construction will contain more than 100 guest rooms, 15 special conference rooms, and dining and large assembly facilities. The building will be financed by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek and furnishings will be provided by the Michigan Hotel Association. The Center will be located on Michigan Avenue, at the northwest entrance to the campus.

"Oh course, Harry's dissatisfaction, "Merle's letter goes on, "may stem from a man's jealousy of so complete an arrangement, but even if it does, is it concievable that I could put my mother out of my home or break all this up simply because a man is unreasonable? I made due allowance for war nerves. but after all, the war has been over more than three years now.

"What I want," the letter ends, "is for Harry to leave us. Yes, I want a divorce and I think he does too. Once or twice he has expressed himself definitely and angrily on that point. There is no other woman in his case, no other man in mine. It is simply that we bore-borebore each other and both feel that boredom is corrosive waste of human emotion and we would be happier expressing ourselves individually. What do you think?"

* * * Merle, what I think wouldn't sound well in a respectable paper. I think I would like to knock your silly heads together. I think that in these terrible times for an intelligent man and woman to survey their lives, to find all that you two find and to yawn and declare yourselves bored is a frightful reflection-not on your minds, not on you hearts, but on your very souls.

Spiritual Corrosion Corrosive, you say. Believe me, corrosion is going on, but not where you think. Termites are at work in your very spirit and whether you and Harry can get rid of them is a nice question.

A fine old home, a loving mother, four splendid children, enough money, a faithful old helper-why, what on earth do you two want out of this scrambled and suffering universe!

Very particulary, Merle, I blame you. You've held Harry, truly, in that home of comfort where his small sons and daughters live, but you've made him feel completely unimportant there. You don't tell me that in words, but when a man frequents his club, when he agrees "angrily" that everything is all wrong, he is telling you that you are failing him.

He can't take the lead in the change that will draw him tight into the family councils and the family circle. He can't plan the picnics and parties, the songs, games, meals, jokes that make a home a home. But if you and he together turn your eyes away from failure and plan for success, you'll find him co-operative. There is no miracle in the world so wonderful as home, married love, the crowning glory of parenthood. There is no loneliness and frustration so complete as are the "individual" lives of which you speak so lightly.

The helping hand is the only one that takes the jack pot.

important mining state verges on near-collapse. This is evident in operating statistics, which show only 230 mines being worked, compared with more than 1,000 before the war. A contributing factor, it is acknowledged, has been the 47 per cent increase in the cost of labor, processing and materials.

The gold mine operators also blame these factors: (1) The wartime government order closing mines which produce only gold, and (2) the government-pegged price of $35 an ounce for gold.

The wartime order hit hardest in the Cripple Creek area not far from Colorado Springs, for the mines there produce only gold. Elsewhere -at Leadville, Alma and San Juan, for example-other minerals such as silver, lead, zinc and copper are found mixed with gold. The government-ordered close-down drew miners from the Cripple Creek area to the diggings in other parts of the Cripple Creek's difficulties were magnified by the fact that many gold mines there are unable at present to offer high enough wages to lure these workers back into the fold. The multi-mineral diggings are able to pay costs through the sale of base metals, leaving the gold as

Mining Wages Are Low

Cripple Creek's mining wages are the lowest in the state, averaging $1 an hour. This compares with $11.50 a day in nonferrous mining and $10 a day in coal mining. As a result, only a dozen or so mines at Cripple Creek are now operating, many of them at a loss. In boom days the area boasted over 500 active mines.

Many of the mines are kept open simply because this is less costly than re-opening at some future date, and repairing the deterioration which takes place in a closed mine. The Golden Cycle mill at Cripple Creek furnishes an example of cost. Its ore last year averaged $11 a ton in gold,

Some Mines Pay Off The Melvina, at once-famous Gold Hill, shipped out ore assaying $300 a ton, and old Glorieta near Victor disgorged ore containing $840 a ton in gold. The Kicking Horse, near Boulder, sent ore assaying $366 a ton to the Ask for home demonstration of mills. But these are merely the rich Eagle Insulation's Efficiency and strikes of which every gold miner

The $35-an-ounce pegged price, according to mining interests, amounts to government discrimination against American producers, since far higher prices can be obtained on the open world market.

Every increase in international tension sends new buyers into the market seeking to exchange paper currency for gold, and American black market gold is reported bringing as high as $110 an ounce.

Legitimate operators, however, must sell to the government at $35, while Russian, Argentine and South African gold goes into the open markets at far higher prices.

Mule Mourns Passing of Saddle Mare He Loved

CHARLESTON, S. C.-Capt. R. R. Doss, chief surgeon of the Pacific fleet in World War II, bought two saddle mares to ride about his plantation.

Then Doss purchased Jim, a mule, as a work animal. Jim's attachment for one of the mares, Nellie, was immediate. Nellie left the barn with Capt. or Mrs. Doss in the saddle, Jim pined.

Doss and several guests went on a deer hunt, Jim tore down a fence and went in search of Nellie. He was cornered and locked in a stall. He brayed and finally kicked down the gate. Then he was placed in a stronger stall.

Nellie came back from the hunt exhausted. Early the next morning the plantation caretaker was awakened when Jim stuck his head in the window of his room. The caretaker dressed and led the mule back to the barnyard. There was Nellie, dead. Jim stood over his dead friend and would allow no one to touch the mare. Late in the afternoon he finally permitted himself to be led away.

Physicians Report X-Rays Remove Birth Blemishes

CHICAGO .- X-rays are the best treatment to get rid of unsightly birth blemishes, three Philadelphia physicians report. These blemishes, called hemangioma of the skin, are tumors made of newly formed blood vessels. They are usually reddish or purple.

Treatment should be started as soon after birth as possible, said Dr. Eugene P. Pendergrass, James C. Katterjohn and James B. Butchart, writing in the American Journal of Roentgenology and Radium Therapy. While the blemishes sometimes disappear sponteneously, small doses of radiation increase this chance. In 20 years of experience in treating the blemishes, results with the X-rays are "superior to any other method that we have observed,' they said.

No business is so prosperous that parsimony cannot hurt it.

Largest Helicopter, XH-16, Being Developed for USAF

Largest helicopter ever to be built and capable of carrying the biggest load and with the longest range ever achieved by a rotary wing aircraft is currently being developed by the Piasecki Helicopter corporation, Morton, Pa., states the United States air force.

Designated the XH-16 by the USAF, the huge transport helicopter follows the tandem-rotor configuration pioneered by Piasecki and already proven so successful in the ten-place "Rescuer" tandem-rotored helicopter now in production for the navy, marines and coast guard.

In fact, the huge XH-16 has a smaller prototype in the XHJP-1, an all-metal twin-rotor helicopter which Piasecki has developed and built for the navy and which has made a number of successful flights. The air forces' XH-16 is actually an "enlargement" of the XHJP-1 in general dimensions and streamlined appearance.

To give an idea of the tremendous size of the USAF's new development, the XH-16's all-metal aerodynamically - clean fuselage will compare in general shape and dimensions to the body of the familiar four-engine Douglas C-54

Marking a radical innovation in rotary wing aircraft, the XH-16 features the use of a large, quickly detachable capsule which just about doubles the payload of this "truck-and-trailer" of the air.

95 Out of 100 Accepted For Life Insurance Risk

All but five out of every 100 applicants for life insurance were accepted in 1947, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

Analysis of 1947's company reports on ordinary insurance policy issuance shows that 95 per cent of all applicants were issued policies. Of the total issued, 90 per cent were standard rate policies and 10 per cent rate policies.

Chief cause for the 5 per cent not qualifying for either standard or extra rate policies was the broad category of diseases of the heart, arteries and kidneys. Nearly half of all the impairments preventing issuance of policies were in this category.

Physical reasons combined accounted for over three-fourths of those who did not meet qualifications. Chief causes of these were: cardiovascular-renal, between 40 per cent and 50 per cent; medical history, 20 per cent; overweight or underweight, 5 per cent. Less than 5 per cent were for occupational hazards and the balance were for other underwriting reasons, including application for too much insurance in relation to finances, location of residence, or habits regarded as harmful.

Bindweed Seeds Bide Time Seed of bindweed has long been known to remain viable in the soil for many years. This the been an important factor in making this weed one of the farmers' in the project pests. Tests in recent years by the U.S. department of agriculture at the Hays station in 'Kansas show how the seedlings pop up in cultivated land long after the established plants have been eradicated. According to F. L. Timmons of the bureau of plant industry, soils and agricultural engineering, in a 14-acre field that had been cleared of bindweed in 1921 there was an average emergence of five plants per square rod in 1941, 20 years later. These were removed and scattered plants have been coming up each year since, including 1947. All of these seedlings came from seeds in the soil in 1920 or earlier.

Home-Canned Tomatoes

Home-canned tomatoes are a very important source of vitamins and minerals, as well as a tasty and appealing food. Tomatoes have long been recognized as an important source of several vitamins and minerals, particularly ascorbic acid or vitamin C. Because ascorbic acid cannot be stored in the body, it is best to supply it daily for the best of health. Winter meals have often been found low in this vitamin unless special care is taken to use vitamin C rich food. When the amounts of vitamin C in a person's diet are low he will not necessarily be ill, but will feel more fit if he eats sufficient food containing ascorbic acid. And that is where the home canned tomatoes come in.

Free Farms of Future

Managed forests or tree farms are the lumber industry's objective. There must be a definite end to the supply of old-growth and forests raised under management are the only possible source of raw gone. "Tree farm" is the name for ar area of forest land that will be used for continuous forest production. It is a business enterprise and will be managed as such. It will be improved and given better than the average protection from fire and other forest enemies. A seed supply, planting, or other method of restocking will be provided above the legal requirements. Full use of land which is best suited to timber growing is the objective of good management.

A stock of sympathy for others feelings pays big dividends.

Let's Look at the Farmer. When I was a boy there were alnost no government subsidies of any kind. As a result, our Government which is now spending fortyfour billion a year, got on with less than one billion a year. The first subsidy was that of the protective tariff. This was just as much of a subsidy to manufacturers as parity support is now to the farmers. It is very difficult to get tariffs removed after they have once been put on the books. The next subsidy was given to those who would build and operate steamboats. These subsidies have constantly been increased rather than diminished. In the meantime, pension subsidies were given to Civil War veterans, than to Spanish War veterans, and later to World War veterans. These subsidies started in a small way, but here again, they have constantly increased. Labor has received a subsidy by Government supporting labor unions and permitting us consumers to be assessed for increased wages. Perhaps the greatest subsidy is that paid to unneeded government employees. To supply these and other funds income taxes were invented. It is well to remind younger readers that the normal income tax in 1913 was only 1 or 2% and the highest tax for the richest people went up to only 5%. This has gradually been increased so that the normal is now over 20% and the taxes gradually increased so that the rich people pay over 90%! Hence, the farmer is justified in asking that he likewise be taken care of as well as these useless sary government bureaus.

The Farmers' Future

Many talk of parity as a temporary affair, but I can assure farmers that it will be just as permanent as tariffs, soldiers pensions, labor legislation and income taxes. The parity program mother, Mrs. Carrie Lewis, on may be adjusted from time to time in accordance with general business conditions; but farmers can depend upon it forevermore. I forecast that from now on whatever the administration the farmer will be taken care of as he should be.

The above is one reason why am optimistic on good farm Patients in the hospital Wednes- property as insurance. Every family Gregor, Angus MacLachlan of Cass should own such a sustenance farm somewhere. This does not mean to leave a good city job and go into farming as a business. I do not recommend small farming as a business, but I do recommend it as an insurance, and as a place to live and get your food, clothing and necessary shelter in case of World War III. Furthermore, as people wake up to the importance of such insurance, these farms will become more in demand and hence, should be a good investment if bought at a right price.

Stopping Distances

Have you ever stopped to figure just how long it actually takes to stop your automobile? Do you know that excess speed makes it doubly hard to stop fast? Are you aware of all the factors that enter into your stopping distance?

Look at the chart above. The shaded area is your own "thinking distance"—that's how far you'll travel before you realize that you must apply brakes. The white area is your braking distance after you've put your foot on the brakes. These figures are for good brakes in good, clear weather on a dry pavement. Remember, distances are from 3 to 12 times greater on slippery surfaces. Memorize that chart - keep these figures in mind to help you drive safely, carefully — at a safe rate of speed. Remember—twentyfive out of every 100 drivers in-volved in fatal accidents were violating a speed regulation. A reasonable speed prevents accidents. A driver must always be dents. A driver must always be able to stop in time to avoid causing an accident.

Know your speed laws — know all your traffic laws and OBEY them. Learn, too, these common sense rules to driving safety. Protect yourself and your few like his tect yourself and your family by driving at a safe, reasonable rate
