Down Memory Lane
FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Twenty-five Years Ago.
May 2, 1924.

Nearly 500 people witnessed the spelling contest at the high school Friday. Twenty-seven schools participated in the event. Doris Livingston was declared the winner. Hazel Hower received second prize and Helen Knight and Helen Severance tied for third place.

Fourteen members of a Sunday School class of the Presbyterian Church taught by M. B. Auten were guests of their teacher Tuesday, and made a trip from Cass City to Detroit. They viewed the Ferry seed farm at Rochester, lined up with Ty Cobb and had a group picture taken with the noted ball player on Navin Field at one o'clock, saw Chicago win from Detroit, visited the General Motors building and the Ford factory, took in the sights at Belle Isle, ate two hearty meals and arrived home a half hour after midnight.

Miss Iva Kolb, who has been an efficient clerk in the Cass City post office for the past ten years, has been transferred to the Detroit office. Mrs. Alma Schenck has been promoted to Miss Kolb's position as senior clerk and Miss Tillie Willerton will be the new clerk in the local office.

G. & C. Folkert have added a 5c and 10c department to their store.

The installation of Rev. Wm. Schnug as pastor of the Presbyterian Church will take place next Wednesday.

Members of the Tuscola County Road Commission have received telegrams from the secretary of the State Administrative Board that the pavement in Cass City had been authorized.

Thirty-five Years Ago.
May 1, 1914.

The Cass City Telephone Co. has purchased the telephone interests of W. J. Moore at Cass City and commencing with May 1, Cass City will have but one telephone system.

Road builders failed to place any bids for constructing two miles of state reward gravel road in Elkland Township and the township board at a meeting Saturday afternoon decided to place the work in the hands of J. J. Gallagher, township highway commissioner.

Miss Carrie Hurley, a member of the Class of 1912, C. C. H. S., has been engaged to teach in the Wright school the coming year.

Among the Cass City Odd Fellows who attended the anniversary celebration Tuesday were Orson Hendrick, Bert Hendrick, Morton Orr, H. P. Lee, Robt. Orr, Howard Lauderbach, A. N. Treadgold, J. H. Hays, A. H. Higgins, A. J. Knapp and Marc Wickware.

Knot Holes

A knot hole reduces strength probably even less than a tight intergrown knot. This is due to the fact that the fibers of a knot are at a right angle to the general direction of fibers of the tree and, therefore, contribute little strength; the lesser distortion of grain around a knot hole than around a knot intergrown with fibers of the wood more than offsets what strength the knot would give.

More Per Person

U. S. agriculture is geared to provide each person in the country with at least 10 per cent more than in the 1920's.

Brown Baked Rolls

Breads and rolls baked quickly until medium brown retain more thiamine than those baked slowly until dark brown.

By Gene Alleman

State Treasurer D. Hale Brake is of the opinion that consolidation of state departments and boards is not the answer to the state's financial problem.

"The only way the legislature can bridge the gap between receipts and disbursements without new money is to discontinue services now given the people to the extent of some $40 to $50 millions," states Mr. Brake.

"Consolidation of departments and boards might possibly save a little money, although such consolidation is just as likely to result in increasing the expenditures. Major consolidations that we have had to date have done just that. The only material saving that could possibly be made would be not by consolidation or reorganization but by elimination of services."

How much did the State of Michigan receive last year?

Including federal grants-in-aid and special funds like the highway fund, game and fish funds and so on, the grand total was $462,982,857.58.

Out of this amount, the legislature exercises control over about $221 millions. If you deduct the earmarked school money, now regulated by the state constitution, the net sum is approximately $140 millions—30 per cent of the total.

If the legislature is responsible for spending of only 30 per cent of the state's total of tax collected funds, who should be blamed if a deficit develops at Lansing?

Revenue adjustments plus new economies are being counted on by Republican leaders to avert or at least minimize the prospective deficit in the state treasury.

G.O.P. hopes count on $12 million more tax by plugging leaks, $20 million more by a used car transfer tax, $11 million shifted to local school districts to pay for teachers' retirement, $6 million saved by not repealing the old age assistance lien and recovery provisions, and an estimated $11 million surplus as of June 30, 1949.

Check forgers are milking tens of thousands of dollars annually out of Michigan retail merchants. The national harvest is estimated at $15,000,000. Forgers usually try to out-talk clerks into accepting checks without proving accurate identification. Never accept a social security card, pass book or hunting license. Ask for drivers' licenses or police identification card containing photograph and fingerprint.

Michigan's direct relief load is the highest since February, 1942. The cost of living index, U. S. department of labor, has dropped for the fifth consecutive month. Economists say present deflation has yet to run its full course; business will continue to slacken; 1949 will be a good year by pre-war standards.

County road commissions favor the Michigan Good Roads Federation program for a $29,000,000 boost in gasoline tax and weight fees. Transportation companies are opposed. Taxpayers would save $20,000,000 a year through maximum interest rates for automobile installment payments, according to Senator Harry F. Hittle (R-Lansing), sponsor of a bill just approved by the Senate.

A move to merge the presidential and state ballots lost in the Senate. House Bill 238, liberalizing unemployment compensation payments, is being criticized by employers as creating a state dole for workers, knocking out the present merit rating for steady employment.

Old age assistance is becoming old age pensions in some states. California has a $75 per month pension for persons at the age of 62. The added cost to the state's tax load is estimated at $118 millions for the next fiscal year.

A new type of building block, made out of concrete and sawdust, has been tested by Michigan State College and found to be satisfactory. A Chesaning man erected a home, 22 by 24 feet, at a cost of $1,500.

Dan Gerber, president of the baby food company at Fremont, heads a committee of the Michigan Economic Development Commission seeking new industries and pay-rolls for Michigan. It is proposed to speed up tree planting to help revive wood products industries.

Manufacturers would be assured of adequate water resources through a state-wide program of water conservation.

Laying off of workers by industries in some Michigan cities has intensified Chamber of Commerce efforts to attract new manufacturing firms to the state. The deflation has also lessened the chances of legislative approval of a state tax on corporation profits.

The general idea seems to be: You can't woo and tax industry at the same time.

Sources of Iron

Use prunes in cookies, cereals, and puddings. They are a good source of iron, vitamin A, and niacin. Molasses—the blacker, the better. Use in cookies, cakes, puddings, bread, and on pancakes. It is high in calcium, iron and niacin.

Top Working Fruit Trees Has Benefits

Top working of fruit trees has many advantages for Michigan orchards say Michigan State College horticulturists.

Varieties can be introduced for pollination purposes, several varieties of different ripening seasons can be grown on a single tree and varietal weaknesses can be overcome by top working.

A recently published folder lists methods of grafting. Materials needed, special techniques, and detailed instructions are given. The extension folder, F-131, can be obtained from county agricultural agents offices or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

Whole Wheat

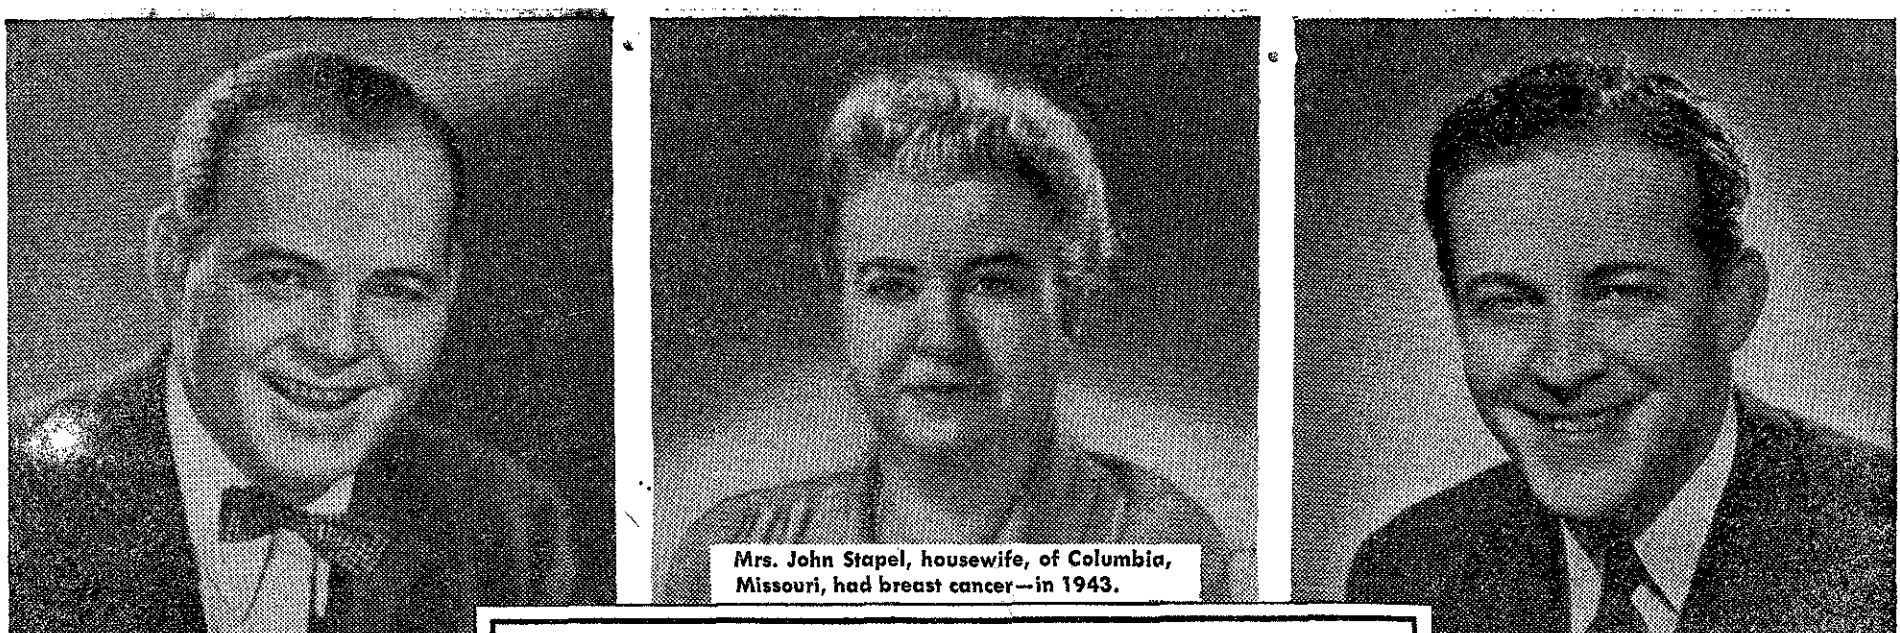

Breads offer a chance for variety in meals. The modern homemaker who is keeping up with the newer knowledge of nutrition is making sure that all bread and rolls she serves are enriched or whole wheat. In making biscuits, loaf bread, pancakes, waffles, cookies, gingerbread, and cakes, she uses whole wheat or enriched white flour. Oatmeal is an excellent food that adds to the variety and food value of cookies.

Each of the nine people you see here had cancer. Each of them secured treatment early—when cancer is most easily curbed. These nine people are typical of thousands who recognized one of cancer's danger signals—and did something about it! They are living proof that cancer can be curbed if discovered early and treated promptly. If you think you have cancer, visit your doctor at once. For your very life's sake, for your family's sake—don't delay. Give medical science the time it needs to conquer cancer. Prompt action can return a priceless dividend—years of happy, healthy living to come. CANCER CAN BE CURBED ... if discovered early and treated promptly. Needless delay can literally mean the difference between life and death. Pain is seldom a sign of early cancer—but there are other DANGER SIGNALS: 1. Any sore that does not heal, particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips. 2. A painless lump or thickening, especially in the breast, lip or tongue. 3. Bloody discharge from the nipple or irregular bleeding from any of the natural body openings. 4. Any change in the color or size of a wart or mole. 5. Persistent indigestion. 6. Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough, or difficulty in swallowing. 7. Any change in the normal bowel habits. See your doctor the MOMENT you discover a DANGER SIGNAL! American Cancer Society, Inc. THOUSAND PERSONS ATTENDED HEARING ON PARI MUTUAL BILL
Church Groups, Race Track People and Others Spoke on the Measure

By A. P. Decker.

Bed sheet calendars were the order of each day this week. Starting out Monday night with 47 bills on general orders alone, it is no wonder that the House members were not tempted to take half a day off to take in a game during the opening week of the baseball season. It is true a few members suggested a morning session to enable the membership to take in the opening game, but they backed down gracefully when it was pointed out by others that committee meetings and numerous public hearings along with the tremendous volume of work prohibited taking the time off for a game.

A record crowd of possibly a thousand persons attended a public hearing on the pari mutual betting bill. Church groups, race track people, labor and private citizens were represented and spoke both for and against the measure. The church people want the bill passed outlawing pari mutual betting because of the attendant evils connected with gambling in a community in which a track is located and contended the revenue to the state was negligible when all factors were considered for legalized gambling is a threat to family welfare and to responsible self-government. They further contended that the social costs of legalized gambling far exceeds the three million dollar revenue to the state. The race track people fought for defeat of the bill because they contended passage of the bill would mean transferring racing across the border to Canada where Michigan residents can readily patronize it; but worst of all, they said passage of the bill would stimulate and foster illegal and illicit forces and influences. It is their claim these forces cannot exist to any great degree where racing is openly and honestly conducted and with the proper safeguards which they, the racing people, had always insisted upon.

Another public hearing which aroused a great deal of interest, and which was well attended was one on increased state aid to county public health departments. The state has contributed 200 thousand dollars a year, but in the hearing it was pointed out that a million dollars is necessary if the state is to avoid disaster in this all important work. An emergency exists now since the lack of funds is the direct cause of the loss of trained health workers to other states. It was stated local units are paying out around $4,800,000.00 annually, and must now look to the State to assume its fair share of preventing disease. All felt that health protection is vital to the state's rising prominence as a tourist and resort center.

Temper flared in a four hour debate on the grand jury bills. One bill was an outright repealer, while the other bill was an amendatory bill to the one-man grand jury; the amendatory bill provides for a three man grand jury, and as amended on its final passage, following defeat of the repeal bill, it goes to the Senate with many of its teeth drawn.

Of the many bills passed this week, is one authorizing the creation of inter county drainage districts to facilitate control of floods in the Clinton River and Saginaw Valley areas.

Another bill extends the time for filing sales tax returns. Many small firms and merchants employ accounting firms to get out their returns for them, and it was argued successfully that a few extra days were needed.

A series of bills advancing tax dates for cities, villages and townships were approved following rather lengthy debate. Seeking to avoid the confusion of last minute adjustments of schedules following the customary fall meeting of the equalization board, the bills would require assessments to begin January 1 instead of April 1. The tax allocation board would hold their first meetings the third Monday in April instead of the second Monday in May. Preliminary findings would be required in May instead of June, and their final orders would be due on the Tuesday following the third Monday in May. County equalizations sessions would begin in April instead of June, and the state board of equalization's valuations would be fixed by the last week in May rather than the third Monday in August.

In a bill amending the game law, discretionary power over the deer herd in several counties where overpopulation is a serious factor in causing severe losses to orchardists and farmers, was given to the Conservation Dept.

The adjournment resolution came out of committee today, and it will be adopted tomorrow morning, which means this session of the legislature will adjourn on May 20.

Advise New Fly Control Methods On Dairy Cows

New advise on fly control came this week from officials of Michigan State College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

They recommend that methoxychlor replace DDT as an insect control spray on dairy cows because of possible contamination of milk with the DDT spray material.

No case of injury to humans is known, but the fact that the presence of DDT even in minute quantities in milk would be contrary of pure food laws makes the new recommendation necessary.

Use of DDT to control flies on animals other than cows is still advised. DDT can be used to control flies on beef cattle and swine if 60 days elapse between application and slaughter of the animals.

DDT can still be used to control flies in breeding places and resting places outside dairy barns. Manure piles and moist soil mixed with manure are typical places where flies multiply.

Ray Hutson, head of the MSC entomology department, Dr. Earl Weaver, dairy department head, and George Brown, animal husbandry department head, have conferred on federal findings and advise that methoxychlor is the material to use for dairy cattle fly control. The recommendations, being carried to farmers through MSC specialists in the Cooperative Extension Service, call for the use of the Methoxychlor inside dairy barns and directly upon dairy cows. County agricultural agents have been notified of the new spray program and are ready to give farmers advice on using the methoxychlor in place of DDT on dairy cattle.

Michigan Home Furnishings Improved

Better and more attractively furnished homes are enjoyed by about 12,000 families in Michigan as a result of home furnishings projects completed in home demonstration groups during the last year.

In these groups women learned how to make slip covers, refinish and reupholster furniture and a great variety of other skills reports Jessie Marion. She is in charge of this extension project at Michigan State College, and works through home demonstration agents and local leaders in reaching thousands of Michigan homemakers.

During the past year many homemakers were planning to do some refurnishing in their homes. Home demonstration programs were planned to give them help in planning color schemes, selecting new furnishings and renovating old furnishings.

Many new furnishings were made by members of home demonstration groups who in turn taught friends and neighbors the techniques they had learned. Very attractive lamps, beautiful lampshades, curtains, draperies and rugs all were made by hand. Savings to these homemakers mounted into the thousands of dollars. As a result of some special workshops for making slip covers for example, women figured that they saved over $8,000 in improving about 500 articles.

These homemakers believe that better home furnishings contribute to better family living. Along with other home demonstration groups all over the nation they have selected as their theme, "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World." This will be the theme of their special celebration during National Home Demonstration Week, May 1-7.
