Clinic Held Friday at Wahjamega, Sponsored by Tuscola Red Cross Chapter

The blood donor clinic held Friday, June 10, at Murray Hall, Wahjamega, under the sponsorship of the Tuscola County Chapter of the American Red Cross and the State Health Department was a successful one, according to Dr. Willard W. Dickerson, chapter chairman.

Sixty pints of whole blood were collected from as many donors. The blood will be processed into plasma by the State Health Department and then made available to physicians and hospitals in the county without charge. Patients cannot be charged for this plasma. A charge may be made for administering it, however.

In discussing the project, Dr. Dickerson stated the success of the clinic was due almost entirely to the efforts of Mrs. R. R. Howlett of Caro, general chairman for the clinic and that of her committee. "Our chapter board," he said, "is grateful to Mrs. Howlett and her committee and to the several residents of the county who were volunteer blood donors."

The local Red Cross chapter furnished a light lunch to all donors and visitors.

The following persons of the county gave volunteer service in connection with the blood donor clinic.

General planning committee and recruitment of donors: Mrs. Frank Guggine, Reese; Mrs. Walter Pelczar, Unionville; Mrs. Harry Berman, Millington; Mrs. John Shoemaker, Vassar; Mrs. Frank L. Morris, Cass City; Mrs. Raymond Cook, Akron; Mrs. U. B. Ruskin, Caro State Hospital; and Dr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Nigg, Caro.

June 30 Is Deadline For Corn Loans

Tuscola County Farmers are reminded that June 30, 1949, is the deadline for obtaining loans and purchase agreements on home-stored corn. Chas. B. Eckfeld, chairman of the Tuscola County AAA Committee, said that the loan rate for this county is $1.48 per bushel on the basis of grade No. 3 corn.

In order to be eligible for a loan, corn must be grade No. 3 or better, or No. 4 solely on the basis of test weight but otherwise grading No. 3 or better. The moisture content of the corn, if shelled, must not exceed 15.5 percent.

As all loan papers must be recorded not later than June 30, farmers wishing to take out a loan must do so at once to permit time for submitting samples for testing.

Purchase agreements may be obtained any time between now and June 30.

Assembly of God Church to Be Dedicated Here Sunday

The new Assembly of God Church building which has been erected at Cass City in the last year, located at the corner of Sixth and Leach Streets, will be dedicated Sunday, June 19, at 3 p. m. The dedicatory address will be given by Rev. E. A. Frink of Detroit.

The church doors will be open at 2 p. m. Sunday and friends from this community are cordially invited to see this chapel and take part in the festival service.

The church building is 34 by 46 feet in size and is constructed of cinder blocks. The entry way consists of a vestibule. To the left one enters into a full basement with rest rooms, lavatories and Sunday School rooms.

The elevated floor is of finished oak and the walls and ceiling are painted. The room to the right of the platform has been furnished for the pastor's study and a room to the left of the platform of the same size has been built for matching appearance which also serves as a fire exit from the auditorium.

The first services held by this organization were in private homes conducted by the pastors of the Assembly of God Church in Bad Axe. Then in May of 1944 services were held in the town hall conducted by the Cook sisters, June Cook and Joyce Roberts, of Conneaut, Ohio. They pastored the work for a year. The minister that succeeded them was Rev. J. McGiffin who resigned in November of 1946. At that time, Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Faupel, present pastors, came to serve.

Beginning Monday, June 20, at 8 p. m., Rev. Mr. Stutzman of Roseville, Mich., will conduct special services each evening until July 1. The public is invited to attend.

Over 300 Gather To Honor Ben H. McComb at Dinner

Retired School Commissioner Is Feted at Caro
Monday by Many Friends

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, president of Michigan State Normal College, praised Ben H. McComb as "one of the best educators Michigan ever had" when he addressed more than 300 who gathered at the Caro High School auditorium Monday evening for a testimonial dinner. Mr. Elliott spoke on the subject, "On the Other End of the Log." Mr. McComb retired Jan. 1 after 35 years as school commissioner of Tuscola County.

M. C. Ransford, member of the county board of education which sponsored the dinner, introduced the Rev. Joseph Dibley of the Caro Methodist Church, who gave the invocation; the Rev. Arnold F. Runkel, of Birmingham, former Caro Methodist minister, was toastmaster.

Lee M. Thurston, superintendent of public instruction, spoke on "Greetings, Fellow Commissioner." Willis Campbell, superintendent of schools at Cass City, said that "We felt that we could always lean on Ben, and the nicest thing is he is going to be here so we can benefit from his counsel."

Short talks were given by William Spurling of Bad Axe, retired Huron County school superintendent; Mrs. Elvira Morrison Dodd, St. Clair County superintendent; John Francis, Sanilac County superintendent; R. A. Grettenberger, Lapeer County superintendent; Miss Gladys McCallum, Livingston County superintendent, and a former critic teacher of the Tuscola County Normal; Joseph Liddicoat, who succeeded McComb as Tuscola superintendent; and members of the county board of education, Audley Rawson, of Cass City, Harry Russell, of Gagetown, Dr. Arthur Metcalf of Caro, and the board president, Allison Green, of Kingston.

Beautiful Floral Beds near Flagpole

The grounds at the park have been beautified through the generosity of Clarence Gregg, florist, who has donated enough flowers to plant three nice beds near the flagpole. There are two beds of geraniums and one of dahlias, besides other flowering plants which have been planted near the municipal building.

Gregg Shoots Second In Archery Meet

On Sunday, June 12, a group of archers journeyed to Algonac to shoot a few rounds. "Rusty" Gregg, covered himself with glory for Cass City by winning second place expert archer. Mrs. Margaret Newberry also received honors, a special award ribbon.

Possibly some have noticed targets at the athletic field. These targets have been placed there by Mr. Gregg hoping that it will stir up enough interest in town to form an archery club. Local archers have been traveling to Marlette to shoot and decided that if they might organize a club here it would save much time and travel when it comes to practice. Mr. Gregg is a member of the National Field Archers Association and will be very happy to instruct beginners. Men, women and children are invited to join in organizing an archery club here. Promoters want to have meets here to show other clubs what Cass City is doing.

Students Write Suggestions for Park Improvement

Stanley Guinther, Grace
Ann Graham, Roger Little
And John Kirm Win Prizes

Gavel Club members voted on students' suggestions for improving the Recreation Park at their meeting Tuesday night. Junior high and senior high pupils had been invited to write essays offering ideas for needed physical equipment at the park, or for more desirable programs for making use of the equipment already there.

First prizes were awarded to Stanley Guinther for junior high boys and to Grace Ann Graham for junior high girls. First place for the ninth and tenth grade essays was given to Roger Little, and the eleventh and twelfth grade prize went to John Kirm.

The judging was in charge of Warren Wood, program chairman for the evening. The students' papers, without the authors' names, were assigned to club members to read aloud, and when each group was finished all the club members voted as to which they considered the most useful and practical suggestions. After the vote the writers of the essays were announced by means of key numbers kept by a club member who did not vote.

Among the frequently mentioned suggestions were that of an organized recreational program, with leagues and schedules, for younger boys and girls; a drinking fountain near the softball field; the installation of toilet facilities; and picnic tables. One girl said, "Put in a clock at the swimming pool, so we can tell when to go home." Many adults will sympathize with the youngster who asked that water in the swimming pool be warmer.

The first prizes were three dollar checks. After the judging the Gavel Club voted to give a one-dollar check to each boy and girl who had written an essay, in appreciation for their efforts and their good suggestions.

Kercher Property Accepted into Mich. Tree Farm System

The forest property of Erwin W. Kercher on the "river road" in Elkland Township, 1½ miles southeast of Cass City, has been accepted into the Michigan Tree Farm System by the State Department of Conservation. Mr. Kercher received a certificate Wednesday which says that the land consisting of 40 acres is being managed in a manner which will assure continuous production of commercial forest crops in accordance with forestry practices approved by the department.

It was originally planned to hold two dedication ceremonies this spring, one in the Upper Peninsula and another in the Lower Peninsula. The dedication in the Upper Peninsula was held June 10. That in the Lower Peninsula was planned at a time when farm work would be slack but because of the advanced season the formal dedication in this part of the state will be some time next fall.

There are over 100 tree farms in Michigan covering almost 900,000 acres. Mr. Kercher has been commended on the good job he has been doing in the management of his forest property by T. E. Daw, assistant chief of the forestry division.

Rained Out Games Played Tonight

By C. M. Wallace,

At the completion of the first week of softball, Cass City has been treated to some good and bad playing and plenty of cold weather.

In the American League, Baldy's Sunoco trimmed Local 83. Hartwick's Food Market defeated Bullis' Plumbers. Wallace's Corners won from Shaw Contracting Company.

In the National League, Decker nosed out the Gagetown team. Western Auto trimmed the Cass City Tractor Sales, and Church of Christ won from Ellington.

In the Ladies' League, the contest between McConkey and Parsch was too one-sided to be called a game. However, the Parsch girls promise to be rounded into shape, in another week. Beulah and Hemans had a knock down and drag-out, Beulah getting the decision.

KATHLEEN NORRIS Exciting Living

By KATHLEEN NORRIS
MOST OF US like sensation. In the singular, I mean; sensations in the plural we, of course, experience all day and every day. Heat, cold, fear, pleasure, fatigue, boredom—these sensations are no surprise.

But “a sensation,” all by itself, stands for something more. We love to say, “Wasn't Mona's marriage a sensation?” or, “Lily in that hat was a positive sensation yesterday.”

Thousands, even millions of women, ploughing patiently and alone through their housework six mornings a week, and without much change or excitement ahead on the seventh morning, would be delighted if a sensation came along now and then.

For instance, a telephone call from Joe, at the office; “Sally, could you and the kid meet me at the Union Station at noon? I can't talk now, but it's important. Pack a bag for me, and notify the milkman. We'll be gone some time.”

Another “Sensation”
Or a stranger at the door. “May I come in? I am representing the trustees of the estate of your late great-aunt, in Scotland. You may not be aware that her estate proved to be far larger than was expected and includes a residence—”

Or even—for we are humans and not supermen, after all—an agitated neighbor rushing past the gate:

“Sally, the Brown's place is on fire! They say they got the children out; but my goodness, there won't be any club meeting there tomorrow. And those curtains she hasn't paid for yet—!”

The truth is, no matter how generous and charitable we are, there is something in the sudden scandals, disasters, crises of our friends' and neighbors' lives that affect us very pleasurable. Especially if the pride of the said neighbors has taken a fall or the ridiculous marriage of middle-aged Ethel White with that handsome dancing teacher has gone on the rocks, or young Harriet Smith's preposterous feeding of her baby has resulted in threatened rickets.

It's too bad we're like that; it's not admirable, but that is human nature. And when our turn comes, and the boy of the family borrows someone's car and wrecks it, or the girl of the family gets mixed into the wrong high school group and is pictured in the paper as one of the youngsters who need better home influence, then we know that our circle will have its turn at discussing and pitying us.

Inject New Interest

Any woman who longs for more sensation in her own life can put it there. Naturally I don't mean accidents, fires, scandals and mistakes. I mean the delightful emotions that make every day an adventure, and put wings under one's life. The interest that wakes one, alert and refreshed, every morning, and sends one to bed planning and content every night.

For your life and mine contain exactly the elements that make the most sensational life in the world so enviable, although that stupefying fact isn't usually appreciated until one gets to be old. Yes, whether you take happy Princess Elizabeth in her palace, or a burdened young mother in a Chicago side street, it's all there. The right to be busy, to be loved, to serve isn't refused anyone.

And troubles—envy, restlessness, headache, pleasant opportunities missed and dull events endured—these come to palaces as well as to crowded Chicago flats. Royalty can be cruelly bored; Hollywood successes are only the prologue to Hollywood failures, and once a woman has tasted fame and power, lesser food never can satisfy her.

To make even a commonplace apartment lovely in its simplicity and order, to welcome home a tired, discouraged man who nevertheless lives only for you and his children, to plan a more satisfying future, when there will be a garden and a car and more bedrooms—that gives any imaginative woman a better chance than ever a princess had.

To the very highest to the very lowest, only the love of a few close intimates counts. Mink coats certainly impress waiters and taxi drivers and passing little, shabby workwomen in the streets, but those aren't the persons whose opinion really matters in your life.

Jealously and restlessness and thwarted ambition and bitterness of all sorts have a way of moving into a mink coat with you, and the annals of courts and of the movie kingdom are perhaps the saddest in the world.

WOMAN'S WORLD Modernizing Kitchen for Beauty, Efficiency, Also Reduces Work

By Erta Haley

IF YOU'RE Mrs. Average Homemaker, you walk more than 3,000 miles each year in your kitchen alone, say domestic science experts. That's equal to a cross-country hike from New York to California, so it's no wonder many of you are interested in saving steps.

However, an efficient kitchen that saves steps is not the only reason you may want to change the kitchen. Perhaps, like many homemakers, you want more storage and more pleasing working conditions.

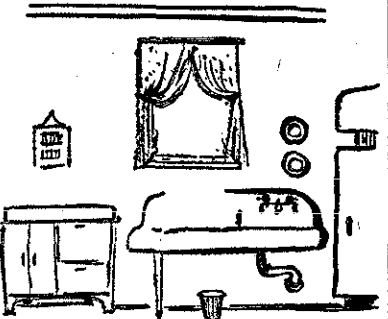

Color as well as beauty and effective design have been added to our new kitchens. When carefully planned and executed, they can be as lovely to look at as the most beautiful living or dining room. And what a joy to cook meals in!

Add Colors to Kitchen

When Decorating
There was a time when kitchens were white with just a small splash of color. They may still be carried out in white because, naturally appliances and cabinets are white, but that's more reason than ever to add colors where you can.

What about using a deep pink or a lovely coral or strawberry color on the walls, and spicing this with some delicate greens? The greens can be used in some simple, solid colored curtains or rough-textured cotton drapes appropriate for the kitchen.

Powdered blue is also a very restful color for the kitchen. This may be used with yellow or orange if you want a warmer combination.

Plan Working Areas

For Kitchen

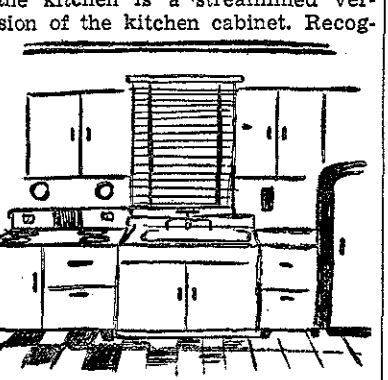

To get the most good out of your kitchen, plan to have plenty of table space for working areas. These should be planned so there is a working area on either side of the sink, on one side of the refrigerator, and on both sides of the range.

Then when you cook, wash dishes or mix foods, you may choose your working area at the range, refrigerator or sink, whichever you are utilizing.

Space such as this may be obtained from cabinets with good working areas. Above each working area you may plan to have cabinets, each containing the utensils or supplies needed for your work.

Select Streamlined Kitchen Cabinets

One of the latest innovations for the kitchen is a streamlined version of the kitchen cabinet. Recognizing the utility value of this traditional kitchen furnishing, today's designers have brushed away attic dust and given this unit a smooth fit for the most modern of homes.

For efficiency and beauty.

Be Smart!

Small and very youthful hats of pique, easily highlighted further with bow scarves and handbags of the same lovely white, will be highly favored. They will be as fresh and crisp with mid-summer chambrays and prints as they are with suits and coats. The teen-age seamstress can turn out any of a half dozen charming styles with the aid of almost any pattern, out of pique or the new, embossed type pique cotton that is even newer looking.

New Kitchen Cabinet

This modern version of the old-fashioned kitchen cabinet is designed with an eye toward kitchen beauty as well as high utility value. It holds supplies both on the shelves as well as pots and pans in the cabinets below the large, pull-out table top which can be used as a preparation center.

table-top working area, the modernized version of the kitchen cabinet can be made into a supply and food preparation center for any phase of kitchen operations.

The cabinet is ideally suited, for example, as a center for all pre-oven operations. Equipped with overhanging and base cupboards and a large pull-out table top working area, the cabinet keeps all necessary baking materials, including pots and pans, within arm's reach.

In the overhanging shelf area of this type of cabinet, you may store spices, dried fruits, confectioners' sugar, vanilla and other ingredients. Frequently, a built-in flour container and sifter is included as part of the cabinet itself.

Ample below-counter space accommodates mixing bowls, double boilers, measuring cups, pie and cake pans. Baking ingredients and utensils can be brought together on the table-top working area with plenty of space left over for the electric mixer and even a colorful canister set.

The porcelain enamel surface of the cabinet can be used for kneading and rolling dough without pastry board or cloth. The surface will be easy to clean and sanitary, too. Lemons, grapefruit and dried fruits can be diced directly on the porcelain enamel without danger of acid staining or scratching.

Use Efficient Storage Plan in Wall Cupboards

As every woman knows, you can't put things behind a closed door and just expect to get them out in apple-pie order. Why waste time hunting for utensils and supplies when you can plan an efficient storage system?

Use the higher shelves on wall cabinets for dishes and supplies which are not used too frequently. Keep those things, in constant use, on the lower shelves on wall cupboards.

If you have limited cupboard space, why not get one of the new racks that can be attached to the inside door of the cupboard? Use it for spices, flavorings and food color.

Storage Tricks

Save Tempters

Have you opened cupboards and discovered that cups and saucers were smashed or chipped somewhere along the line? Cups should go on hooks so they may be saved from pushing around by other dishes. Soup dishes with handles may be stored in the same way. A type of storage hook which looks like a clip after the handle is inserted guarantees against their falling.

Racks may also be used for many different types of plates to utilize space properly and thus prevent them from chipping, too.

For large platters, trays and wooden bowls, don't be afraid to remove a shelf or two from a cabinet to give you vertical storage space for these pieces. If individual racks are not provided these may be built simply so that the platters are held easily in place.

Vertical storage space of this type is also excellent for pie tins, cookie sheets and other large utensils.

Storage Wall Accommodates Cleaning Supplies

It's much easier to get at cleaning if supplies are kept conveniently on a storage wall in the kitchen. The shelves and cabinets for these may be more narrow than for other kitchen items.

On the top shelves, place soaps and detergents, polishes, cleaning cloths, etc.

On the long vertical cabinet walls below the shelves, hang brushes, brooms and vacuum cleaner attachments. Have a place for everything and return each item to its place.

EVERYONE TALKS ABOUT THE

Ford TRACTOR

All over America, on big farms and little farms, it's proving itself "The Year 'Round Tractor"... winning fame for all 'round performance, all 'round the farm, all year 'round.

You'll respect the Ford Tractor for the way it buckles down to heavy jobs of plowing or discing. You'll like it, and Dearborn Equipment, too, for the way you can do such jobs as scraping, leveling, loading, ditching, terracing, excavating, digging post holes or sawing wood. Most Dearborn implements lift or lower at a touch on the Ford Hydraulic Touch Control. Ask for a demonstration.

In fields that are reasonably ridged or uneven and where soil conditions do not vary, set the Ford Hydraulic Touch Control lever, and uniform plowing depth is maintained automatically.

In fields that are ridged or uneven and where the soil conditions vary, you merely operate the Touch Control lever to maintain the plowing depth you want.

In reasonably smooth fields, even if soil conditions vary, you use a great Ford feature, Implement Position Control, to maintain uniform depth automatically.

Apology Due

TWO men had spent a joyous evening together in town, and with the generosity occasioned by good cheer one insisted on taking the other home with him.

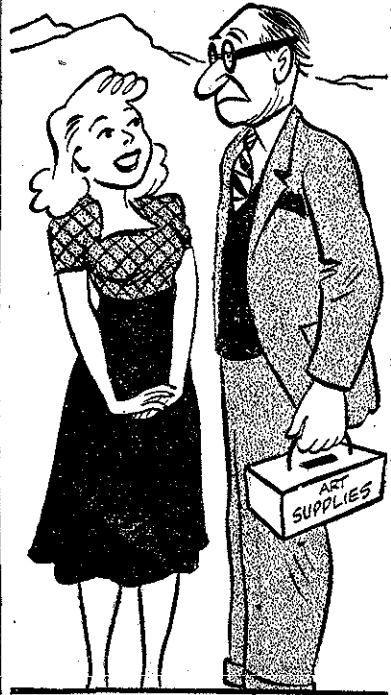

They caught the last train to Weybridge. On reaching that town they found no conveyance at the station to help them farther on their way, so they set out on foot.

After walking for half an hour, the host stopped and, turning to his friend, said: "George, old man, I'm sorry. I must 'pologize."

"Not at all, Harry, not at all," replied his friend. "Had a glorious evening!"

To which Harry retorted: "Yes, George, must 'pologize. Fact is, we moved last week: We're living at Wimbledon now."

THE OLD OIL

The famous artist was painting in the mountains and wanted a live subject for one of his sketches. "I'll give you five dollars," said he to a languid native, "if you will let me paint you."

The mountain girl's eyes gleamed but she said nothing for a moment or so.

"That's easy money stranger, I'll have to admit. I was just wonderin' how I'd get the paint off afterwards."

Already Equipped

Darby—I had an awful time but I finally got a barometer.

Joan—What on earth do you want it for?

Darby—This barometer will tell me when it's going to rain.

Joan—Such extravagance! What do you suppose the good Lord gave you the rheumatism for?

ALL EVEN

"I see," said Dora, "that a man who speaks six languages has just married a woman who speaks three."

"That," replied Roy, "seems to be about the right handicap."

Labor Relations

"Look here," said Mrs. Smith sternly to her new maid, "every time you fail to get up and I have to cook my own breakfast, I'll deduct fifty cents from your wages."

The very next morning Nora was late again. "Look at the clock," reprimanded her mistress, "I had to come down and get the breakfast myself."

"Well," said Nora, "what's all the fuss about? Ain't I paying you for it?"

No Fooling

She had insisted on taking along every garment she owned. They arrived at the station loaded with baggage. "I wish," said the husband thoughtfully, "that we'd brought your piano."

"Now, let's not try to be funny," came the frigid reply. "I'm not trying to be funny," he sadly explained. "I left the tickets on it."

WHERE GEORGE SLEPT

In a schoolroom in one of our large cities a kindergarten teacher was telling the children about George Washington. In illustration, she displayed a large picture of Mount Vernon.

"This," she said, "is the house where George Washington lived." The children, all apartment-dwellers, gazed intently at the picture. One, more impressed than the others, asked with great interest, "What floor?"

Water for Corn
Corn planted on poor soil requires more water to produce a given amount of corn than does corn growing on fertile soil. In other words, a liberal supply of fertilizer makes corn plants more efficient in using available water.

Ripeness of Grapes
Dark-colored varieties of muscadine grapes take on color several weeks before reaching prime ripeness. However, the sugar content of the juice is not at its peak until the bright color appearance has changed to a dull black.

* In making your plans for summertime recreation, don't overlook Michigan's 60 state park and recreational areas.

Free to everyone, they attracted more than 12,000,000 visitors last year.

Leading in attendance was the Holland State park. It is estimated that 1,800,000 people enjoyed its facilities. Forty-four thousand permits to camp (tent and trailers) were issued by all parks. Camping is free, too. A small charge is made for electricity.

These parks are administered by the parks and recreation division of the state conservation department. Arthur C. Elmer is division chief.

Because of their popularity with Michigan residents and out-of-state tourists, the park system has plenty of headaches. For one thing, the parks range in size from 11 acres to the 60,000-acre Porcupine Mountains State Park at Ontonagon and Gogebic counties. They include bathing beaches at Grand Haven, Holland and Warren Dunes; historic sites such as Fort Wilkins in the Copper County's scenic Keweenaw peninsula; natural phenomena such as the Kitchiti-kipi Spring in the Palms Book State Park.

Michigan's state park system has grown like Topsy. A 32-acre tract of timber and dunes in Leelanau county near Glen Arbor, the gift of David H. Day (then chairman of the state conservation commission) started the ball rolling in 1920. Other picnic and camping spots were added from time to time. Michigan now has 60 parks—all sizes, some good, some poor.

The conservation department would like to return 20 to counties for local recreational use. But local legislators howl to the heavens whenever the suggestion is made. And so the department spreads the legislative appropriation around the best it can.

The state park division, now with 144,000 acres of park and recreational land to administer, asked the legislature for $2,344,000 to make possible long-planned capital improvements. Much of this money was to be used to develop the southeastern Michigan recreational program in Metropolitan Detroit area.

The legislature was on the spot. Twice the voters had voted to return 78 per cent of the state sales tax revenue back to local governments. With insufficient money in the state treasury to meet even the growing needs of the university and colleges, the legislature sliced the $2.3 million request down to $50,000—almost nothing!

On paper the state park system has a development program which would put Michigan well into the lead nationally. The parks would attract more tourists to Michigan; the $16 million cost would be more than repaid by additional out-of-state dollars received by businesses everywhere. Yet, to date, the legislature has appropriated only $1.75 millions in the past four years.

The state treasury squeeze, caused by earmarking of state funds for local government spending, is wrecking the state park plan. The $991,000 maintenance budget, cut from an original $1,165,000 request, must be spread over 60 parks.

Fishermen and hunters contribute to development of special facilities through purchase of licenses. Yet the state park system, outnumbering the fishermen and hunters six to one in total attendance, has no revenue of its own derived from those who enjoy it.

The state department was again rebuffed by the legislature in 1949 when it asked discretionary authority to charge admission and use fees, if and when and where needed. Legislators were skeptical, hesitant and reluctant. The bill died in committee. The department is about convinced that broad discretionary power is not the answer to the park financing problem. Perhaps use fees, limited to specified facilities, would be more acceptable.

The Straits of Mackinaw state park, administered by the Mackinac Island park commission, is self-supporting through small use fees for camping and electricity. No charge is made for parking or for admission. Here is perhaps a partial answer to the lack of money to develop the state park system as the legislature originally planned.

"We have the lands and waters, the physical features and the climate," said Elmer, state park chief. "We need funds to develop the facilities needed for public recreation and for the proper maintenance and operation of these facilities."

When you visit the state parks this summer, don't be too critical. There are 60 parks, good and poor, large and small, to be maintained. Everything is free—admission, camping, bathing and automobile parking. You shouldn't have much trouble getting your money's worth!

NEW FILM, "ASSASSIN OF YOUTH" TO BE SHOWN IN CASS CITY

Visual education is being employed in a concerted nation-wide effort to inform and warn parents, pastors and young people against the inroads into young American life of the increasing traffic in marihuana, the killer drug. Known to agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as "The Assassin of Youth," this narcotic, made from a weed grown profusely in Michigan as well as other states of the union, is claiming among its addicts large numbers of boys and girls of junior and senior high school age. Operators have recently been arrested for activities in grade schools in Michigan.

It is to warn against the insidious beginnings of this habit that the new film, "Assassin of Youth" is being shown to church groups. Rev. Robert James Devine, St. Paul, Minn., sociologist, author and lecturer on juvenile problems, is director of the Youth Conservation Crusade, a non-profit activity presenting the warning note against the illicit traffic in marihuana as it affects the youth of the state.

The film will be shown here at First Baptist Church, Cass City, on Monday, June 20, 8:00 p. m. The pastor of the church cordially invites the public to attend. There will be no admission charge. A free will offering will be accepted to assist in meeting the expenses of showing the film. It is requested that children under fourteen be accompanied by their parents.

HOW TO FIX IT By TOM GREGORY

PHYSICIANS AND OTHERS WHO MUST HAVE THEIR AUTOMOBILES READY FOR INSTANT USE AT ALL TIMES NEED NOT SPEND PRECIOUS MINUTES SHOVELING SNOW AWAY FROM THE GARAGE DOORS IF A BURLAP CARPET IS LEFT SPREAD ON THE DRIVEWAY DIRECTLY IN FRONT OF THE DOORS.

THE BURLAP IS HEAVED AT THE ENDS WHERE STOUT POLES MAY BE INSERTED TO WHICH PULL-ROPPES ARE ATTACHED FOR ROLLING BACK THE CARPET. A THIN LAYER OF SAND SPREAD OVER THE DRIVEWAY BEFORE THE CARPET IS SPREAD WILL PREVENT THE BURLAP FROM FREEZING TO THE CONCRETE.

YOU COME INDOORS AFTER WALKING IN SNOW OR RAIN, SET YOUR RUBBERS ON THE FLOOR AND FIVE MINUTES LATER THERE IS AN ANNOYING PUDDLE OF WATER AROUND THEM. THIS CAN BE PREVENTED BY A CONVENIENT DRIP PAN, MADE FROM A DISCARDED FIVE-GALLON OIL CAN. CUT OUT PORTIONS OF THE TOP AND BOTTOM SO AS TO FORM A SHALLOW PAN. SEPARATE THE SIDES AND BEND THEM DOWN TO FORM AN OPEN-BOTTOM TROUGH.

Nanga Parbat

Nanga Parbat is an ice-sheathed giant that rises from the hot valley floor of the Indus river, in north-west India, to a height of 28,600 feet, or more than five miles above sea level, notes the National Geographic society. Although topped by unconquered Everest and half a dozen lesser cloud-breakers of the Himalayan chain, this mountain, in its isolated grandeur, long has been a tantalizing challenge to the "highest yet" fraternity. Twenty-nine men have lost their lives to the mountain during 50-odd years of attempts to scale its crowning peak.

Sugar Cane Research
More sugar cane is being produced in Louisiana as the result of research by scientists of the bureau of plant industry, soils, and agricultural engineers on the control of alligator weed with 2,4-D. Protection from this weed pest saves Louisiana sugar cane growers a conservative $5,000,000 a year, says the U. S. department of agriculture.

Lacquer Finishes
Automobiles are no longer painted and varnished but are coated with a material, actually more durable than the metal it protects, which is in large part soluble cotton. Today's widely used lacquer finishes are made from cotton, corn, and air. From these basic sources the scientist derives his starting chemical materials, to which are added pigments and plasticizers.

The Badger State
"Forward," is the motto for the state of Wisconsin, which adopted the violet as the state flower. The unofficial bird is the robin.

Discourage the Rat
Health officials, deploring the rat as a carrier of typhus fever and other deadly diseases, advise home owners to use galvanized steel garbage cans for refuse. These cans, they point out, have close-fitting covers to keep rats from getting to their primary source of nourishment—scraps of discarded food.

Way Back When
Train robbers made big headlines in early days but they were never so costly to the railroads as tramps and bums. This was so not because the tramps and bums rode without paying fares, but because of their thefts of and damage to freight, and also because tramps and bums were likely to become clients of a whole army of shyster lawyers whose specialty was suing railroads on account of injuries to men who, to begin with, had no right to be where they were when injured.

War on Coyotes
Airplanes are being used extensively in Nebraska for killing coyotes, and latest reports show 146 of the marauders eliminated in the past few months in Greeley county. With one plane two hunters killed two coyotes for every hour in the air. Contributions from farmers are being used to defray expenses for gasoline, oil, ammunition and a fair wage for the pilot and gunner.

Cog Railways
The first cog railway in the world, planned in the early 1850s, still operates to the 6,288-foot summit of Mount Washington, New Hampshire. It became a reality in 1869, when its engine with tilted boiler first chugged to the top. Called the highest scenic mountain railway in the world is the 57-year-old cog road to the 14,110-foot crest of Pikes Peak, Colo. It converted from steam to diesel-electric power two years ago.

Waterproof Matches
Waterproof matches were introduced during World War II through a formula discovered by Raymond D. Cady of Oswego, N. Y. Immune to the effect of tropical humidity and water, they are still usable after eight hours of complete submersion.

Poultry Lice
Poultry may be rid of lice by dusting, dipping, or fumigating. The treatment must reach the skin where the lice feed and it must last long enough to be effective against the young ones that hatch. Otherwise, more than one application is necessary.

In Defense of Hog
The idea that hogs are filthy in their habits is untrue, says the World Book Encyclopedia. Hogs will not stuff themselves with food the way other animals—and humans—sometimes will. Hogs wriggle in the mud because it helps keep them cool and removes extra oil on their skins.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Pastel Colors Vie With Whites
In Milady's Lovely Bridal Gowns

By Ertta Haley

L UCKY is the girl who is being married this season, for more than one reason! Gowns combine all the lovely, sentimental and romantic trends which have been making fashion history during the last few months.

Another reason is that you may have a dream dress at a price that is far, far from being a nightmare. Naturally if you intend to choose a gown using 25 yards of the finest organdie or 80 yards of nylon tulle, the price of the wedding dress will be understandably high. However, if you choose a somewhat simpler gown, there are a number of enchanting dresses from New York designers at a "something new" in cost.

For under $60 there's a particularly heart-melting white imported organdie dress designed with an off-shoulder ruffle of eyeleted cotton, snug waistline and a full skirt lengthened into a generous train. It comes with its own taffeta slip.

For a little more you may have an adorably young, puff-sleeved white satin dress, high waisted and frilled with Swiss organdie below a flesh-toned yoke of nylon tulle. It, too, has a wide train.

Bridal Finery

Choose "Something Blue"
In Wedding Gown
This year's bride may want to choose as "something blue" her own gown. Pearly white satin has lost none of its appeal for brides, but for those who prefer a pastel, the girl may choose an ice blue or a blush pink, both of which are very attractive. Both of these colors have been recently introduced in a lightweight but highly lustrous summer satin. Lace combined with satin, all cotton lace in a Chantilly-like pattern, marquisette and organdie are other fabrics of importance throughout New York collections.

Crisp, rather than frothy or ethereal is a dress of snowy pique, the gathered skirt fully trained and the bodice sleeved to points over the wrist. Framing the wide-spreading V-neckline is a deep bertha-like collar echoing the decor on the skirt.

Interest Shown
In Sleeves, Yokes
Many designers sponsor cap and puffed sleeves in their bridal fashions. In most instances, however, matching mitts or gauntlets go along, leaving little of the arm bare. An exception to this is the beautiful hoop-skirted white satin dress with bell-puffed sleeves, meant to be worn with short, white gloves.

Be Smart!

Lovely wash fabrics such as the many fine cottons are taking novel turns in the current skirt blouse styles, and nearly all of them are designed with variety in mind. In the model sketched, stunning applique flowers of the same white as the blouse become even more flattering with quilting. The skirt is worn with or without the pretty weskit, according to your mood. Another idea that is extremely popular is the skirt with a wide, matching sash which can double as a stole or a cleverly draped halter, according to need.

Here's a stunning capelet-sleeved princess white satin bridal dress from the spring and summer collection of a New York designer. The bodice is yoked with a marquisette and richly embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent paillettes, and buttons in back. Satin gauntlets are embroidered at the top.

Yokes, frequently defined with ruffling of lace or eyeleted organdie, give a demure touch to many of the new bridal dresses. The yoke in some cases is done in pale blue or flesh-colored nylon or net rather than the traditional white.

Full Skirts Featured

Simple designing marks the bridesmaid's dress this year. This does not mean, however, that it's in any way an ugly duckling. With full, charming skirts, scooped or wide-open necklines and sash waistlines, these gowns are very romantic looking. One in light blue combines plain and eyeleted organdie and has a small ruffled apron over its skirt.

Perfect for a garden wedding is a hoop-skirted, floor length dress in green and lavender plaided cotton with a matching cartwheel.

Snug bodices, very wide skirts with wide sashes, applique flowers, all are features on the new bridesmaid's dresses.

Brides Should Plan

Beauty Routine
Since the girl who is a bride should look her loveliest at the wedding, it's the wise bride who goes on a beauty ritual before the wedding. She may be perfectly lovely, but a few beauty routines followed faithfully for a week or 10 days before the wedding when her days are hectic, will give her good grooming as well as confidence.

Properly chosen food, rest and cleanliness will assure her of a healthy, wholesome look for her wedding day. These will be beneficial for all-over beauty, especially for preventing the skin from breaking out all of a sudden from too much rich food during bridal showers!

No matter how busy her program, the bride-to-be should plan to get her full quota of eight hours sleep. If she can't manage this every night, she should take an hour or two for a nap during the day. No bride should appear at her own wedding with dark circles under shining eyes!

A daily tubbing will take care of cleanliness, but special attention should be directed to the face, arms and legs, especially if the skin is dry. Use a cleansing or lubricating cream if the skin is dry, and do this treatment faithfully.

Hair Needs Care

Before Wedding
Check over your hair at least two or three weeks before the wedding. You don't want stringy locks or an unlovely hair style to detract from your looks.

Hair should be cut and permanented at least three weeks before the wedding. In this way you'll have grown accustomed to the particular length hair which you are wearing and will know how to handle it to have it look most attractive.

The permanent will also have had time to outgrow its newness sufficiently so that it does not look foreign to you. The day before the wedding you can have the hair shampooed and set in the way that will look best with your gown and headress.

When the hair is done, have the nails manicured also. Naturally, if you have been caring properly for your hands, there will be no difficulty in having them look lovely. If, after the manicure, you expect to need to do any real work, wear gloves to protect the hands and nails.

Tips Given

For Figure Care

Your wedding gown, of which you have dreamed since you read your first fairy tale, will look lovely if you have given your figure good care.

Farm Buying Power Still Shows Gains Increase Well Above Cost of Living Rate

The current drop in living costs has given the average city wage-earner approximately the same buying power today that he enjoyed in June, 1946, final month of OPA.

Though the farmer's buying power has edged off with the drop in food prices it is bumping against government price supports, and still shows a gain that is well over double the increase in the cost of living, according to a chart study of our ten-year-old war boom, made by the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

Ten years ago last winter you could buy a new four-door sedan for $825, sirloin steak was 39 cents a pound, milk averaged 12 1/2 cents a quart, and you could build a five-room modern house for around $3,000—but we had 10 million unemployed. Then European rearmament orders sparked our recovery from a nine-year-old depression, the study recalls.

The above chart plots the course of the 10-year war boom. In January, 1939, America had 10 million unemployed and 44 million at work. Annual net income per farm was $702. Industrial wages averaged $24 a week, an annual rate of 1,248.

After an even 10 years of recovery, boom, inflation, and tapering off, the score stands as follows: Net annual income per farm 300 per cent higher—it was $702 in 1939, reached $2,915 in 1948, and had sagged to an annual rate of $2,800 by January, 1949. Weekly industrial wages up 130 per cent—from $24 in January of '39 to approximately $55 in January of '49. Living costs 71 per cent higher than 10 years ago, after nearly a four-point drop in the last few months. Finally, about three million unemployed—a normal "float", as economists call it.

Wage rates show a gain of 26 and a half per cent since June, 1946, while the cost of living index now stands just 28 per cent higher than in that final month of OPA. The actual living cost increase has been somewhat less than 28 per cent, the study says, since the government index naturally makes no allowance for over-ceiling prices which were general in the latter months of OPA; thus the wage-earner's paycheck of today buys him as much or slightly more than his paycheck of June, 1946, the study finds.

Percentage increases in worker paychecks do not reflect sharp additional gains made in so-called "fringe" payments during the past decade, such as more vacations, holidays, sick-leave, pension programs, etc., the study points out.

Poultry House Cleaner

A superior poultry house cleaning method has now been found—cleaning with a high-pressure sprayer. As shown here, the high-pressure spray actually pulverizes the dirt and droppings and blasts them away. Food Machinery and Chemical Corporation developed the sprayer that is doing the cleaning. It is said to do a better and cheaper cleaning job, faster and easier.

Hormones May Limit Frost Damage in Time

American apple growers, usually hard hit financially by late spring frosts will soon be able to avoid that obstacle. A combination of tracers (radioactive atoms) and hormones may make it possible to keep apple buds closed until the cold season has passed—thus saving the industry millions of dollars lost annually through damaged fruit. A spray would be used to cover fruit and prevent freezes.

Fight Amebic Infection With New Drug Weapons

Two new chemical weapons have been found to fight amebic infections, according to Dr. E. W. Dennis of the Sterling-Winthrop Research Institute, Rensselaer, N. Y. These infections from living protozoan parasites called amebas are common causes of ill health the world over. Spread by contaminated food and water, the parasites generally first infect the large intestine with resulting discomfort or pain and diarrhea. Sometimes the amebas are transported to the liver, where serious abscesses are formed.

As yet the new drugs to attack the parasites are known only by their chemical names and laboratory numbers of WIN 1011 and WIN 248.

WIN 1011 was chemically described by Dr. Dennis in his joint paper with D. A. Berberian, M. D., and Sophie S. Hansen, also of the Sterling-Winthrop staff, as "bis-muthoxy p-N-glycolarsanilate." He declared it effectively attacks amebic histolytica, which infects an estimated one out of every twenty people in the United States. Furthermore, clinical experiments show that it apparently overcomes the tendency towards relapses which follow treatment by other drugs now in use.

Britain Trains Army Of Soldier-Scientists

One thousand young men have just entered a new college in Britain to train as army officers for the era now unfolding of super-weapons based on atomic power, rocketry and advanced electronics.

The formidable new range of weapons now being developed will require many soldiers of the future to be scientists or engineers. The new Military College of Science at Shrinham, England, will train leaders for this new type of warfare. They will pass through chemical and physical laboratories that give training under the personal tuition of some of Britain's most renowned scientists.

Some of them will specialize in jet propulsion, which was invented in the '30s by Air Commodore Frank Whittle of the R.A.F. Others will concentrate on rockets of the V-2 types, now being extensively developed in the arid wastes of Australia by British experts. Their range has already reached over 2,000 miles. Another section of the students will explore the wide range of possibilities opened up by radar.

Modern Research Laboratory

A modern research laboratory, the largest in the world devoted exclusively to the development of safety equipment for mines, industry and public service organizations, will be built in Pittsburgh, Pa., by Mine Safety Appliances company. Facilities of the laboratory will be made available to all industry for the investigation of safety equipment problems affecting health and property. Activities of scientists there will be coordinated with those of the U. S. bureau of mines, U. S. public health service, industrial hygiene foundation of Mellon institute, Harvard school of public health, the new school of public health at the University of Pittsburgh and fellowships at other leading universities.

Comfortable Pillows

With a third of our lives spent in bed, we'd better plan to sleep comfortably. That means comfortable pillows as well as mattresses. When buying pillows look at the label; what it says will help you decide whether the filling will suit your ideas of comfort and will prove durable. Goose feathers, duck feathers, and down are the lightest and finest pillow fillings. Chicken and turkey feathers are inexpensive, but make a less durable pillow and they mat down more quickly than do the other feathers mentioned. A popular blend for filling is 74 per cent goose down and 25 per cent small goose feathers. This makes a soft pillow, and the feathers keep the down from matting.

Smoker's Bronchitis

Smoking too many cigarettes may cause a certain amount of irritation that makes a cold hang on longer than usual, according to recent findings. Excessive smoking often results in inflammation of the windpipe and vocal box. This in turn gives rise to smoker's bronchitis, which puts a heavy strain on the whole upper respiratory system. Added to the strain already brought on by the cold, this new burden severely hampers the fight the system is waging against the cold. The irritation can become so pronounced that the cold turns into a persistent cigarette cough.

The Shape of Beets to Come

Shape of the sugar beet root has become important now that large acreages of this crop are gathered with mechanical harvesters. U. S. department of agriculture scientists are seeking to change the shape of commercial sugar beets so they will come away from the loosened soil readily—either tumbled out by the plow points or raised by a gentle lift on the foliage. Sugar beets as grown today are long and pointed, parsnip-shaped, and cling in the soil with a tenacity suggestive of a nail in a board.

Something Of Value

By ANNA E. WILSON

THE PORCH was broad and sunny, and Elsie placed the big chair where Dad could see the people passing and look across into Barnes grocery store.

"You see, Dad," she said cheerfully, "you'll be happy here in the sunlight, and you can watch what goes on over there in the store—it'll be no time at all until you forget about the shop—Goodness knows, a man who's worked until he's sixty-five years old has earned a rest."

Dad sank back in the chair and sighed wistfully. "I know, Elsie, and the company was real nice. Mr. Twillinger presented me with a watch, and said they were real sorry about my eyes, and hated to let me go. Watch making is such fine work and," Dad finished carefully, "there was no other place open in the shop where they could work me in. Mr. Twillinger explained about it all before I came away."

"Yes," Dad tried to settle himself uneasily, "but sitting here isn't going to help pay for this house, and I did hope to see you settled in a home of your own before I died."

He was glad when Mrs. Frisby stopped to talk. She was gossip and friendly and liked a chat. "Glad to see you taking a rest at last, Dad. Goodness knows, it was time. I see you've been looking at the sketch for the new Memorial. Isn't it wonderful that a great artist like Mr. Bonelli's been engaged for the job. They say he's been asking for medals to copy on the figures of the war veterans and I'm hurrying right down with this one of Willie's."

Dad stared at the sketch of the Memorial, thinking of what Mrs. Frisby had said. Something of value, Dad went over all his meager possessions and they weren't much. Just his clothes, neat and clean, the watch Mr. Twillinger had given him and that old coin.

Dad was confused by the noise and bustle when he entered Mr. Bonelli's studio, but Mr. Bonelli smiled at Dad and took him into a little office in the rear.

"It's about a coin," said he humbly, and took out his lucky piece.

"Where did you get it, and why do you want to sell it, Dad?"

It was easy to talk to Mr. Bonelli, and Dad explained about his home and Elsie.

THE ARTIST sighed — "It might have been valuable once, but it's too defaced now for restoration—I'm sorry." He looked as if he really was." I wish I could tell you that it's worth something but I'm afraid it's not."

Dad, sitting on the porch chair—tried to interest himself in the paper.

Dad thanked him, but as he got up to go, Mr. Bonelli spoke. "I have a friend coming tomorrow and if you drop in you can talk it over with him."

Mr. Bonelli was talking to another man, when he saw Dad he beckoned him in. Dad took out the coin and the stranger glanced at it, but he was really looking at Dad.

Dad in his neat worn clothes, was worth looking at. He had lived a good life and all this good living showed in his wrinkled face and clean blue eyes. Mr. Bonelli's own eyes twinkled.

"We find you have something of value, Dad, after all," he said softly.

"The coin was worthless," he continued. "We want to use you as a model for one of the figures on our Memorial. We want to employ you in the studio to keep track of valuable things loaned to us. Mr. Twillinger says we couldn't get a better man. The pay is good, well over five hundred dollars for the year's work," he said gently. "You see, Dad, the thing you have of value is yourself. You've been a good citizen and it shines—right in your face."

Dairy Judging
Tour Is Planned
For 4-H Members

Girls and boys enrolled in the 4-H Dairy project will have an opportunity to get some experience in selecting and judging dairy cattle Thursday, June 23. Byron Carpenter, county 4-H Club agent, has announced a dairy judging tour beginning at 9 a. m. on the above date at the Kenneth Parish farm one mile south and one half mile west of Fairgrove.

All 4-H Dairy Club members, parents, and leaders are invited to attend. Nevils Pearson, assistant state club leader, will attend the tour and help in conducting the judging classes.

Following the stop at the Parish Farm the tour will continue to the Nantam Farms, three miles north of the Caro Standpipe, arriving there at 11 a. m. Members are asked to bring a picnic lunch which will be eaten at the Nantam Farms at noon. Judging will be resumed after lunch, and at 2 p. m. the group will move to the Yokom Stock Farm, one half mile east of Mayville on M-38. Plans are to arrive there at 2:30 and judging classes will continue until 4 p. m.

Instructions will be given to train inexperienced judges and instructors will show examples of desirable dairy types. Some of the older more experienced members will be chosen for training for the county judging team, which will compete with other county teams in August.

Former Cass City
Resident Died
In Pontiac

Mrs. J. B. Reuter of Pontiac, known to many here as Isabelle McCormick, passed away at her home in Pontiac following a long illness. Mrs. Reuter was born in Sheridan Aug. 1876, and attended school there. Fifty years ago she moved to Pontiac and has made her home there since then.

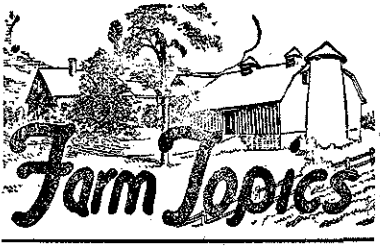

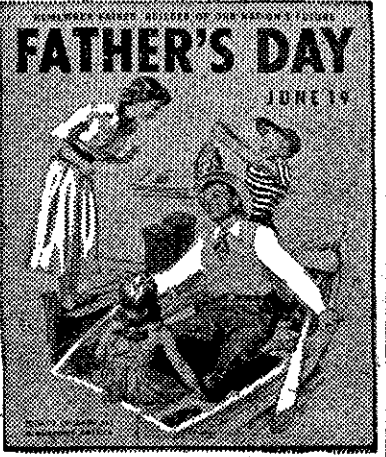

As one of the pioneer members of St. Michaels' parish, Mrs. Reuter was an active worker in organizing the school and saw that the children there received the same benefits and privileges as the longer established schools of Pontiac. Although Mrs. Reuter belonged to and held offices in several church and civic groups, those who knew her will remember her most for that helping hand in case of illness, that cheerful and understanding aid when death struck and the hundreds of pairs of hand-knit mittens that kept little fingers from getting cold.

Surviving besides her husband are a daughter, Mrs. Alice Zimmerman; a grandson, Wm. Reuter, of Clarkston; and a great granddaughter. Mrs. Reuter was a cousin of Mrs. John Ross and W. J. Donnelly of Cass City.

The funeral was Monday morning at ten o'clock at St. Michaels, Church and burial was at Mt. Hope cemetery. —Contributed

New Plastic Foam
Used in Insulation
Material Is Called
Lightest of Solids

The world's lightest solid an amazing plastic foam that swells up when baked like a cake to 100 times its original volume—has been developed by Westinghouse scientist for use as a new insulating material.

The new product is expected to find its way into many uses in appliances used in farm homes and about the farm.

Even lighter than some gases, the new material weighs from 10 to 20 times less than the fluffy meringue on a well-baked pie.

Robert F. Sterling, 29-year-old chemist, and the man chiefly re-

Shown here is a refrigerator completely insulated with the new plastic-foam insulation material. This is the way the refrigerator looked after the insulation job was done, but before door liner and other parts were put back in place.

responsible for the new product, said it is the result of a three-year search for an effective insulating material that will fill large areas, yet weigh "next to nothing."

The foam is made by heating a molasses-like synthetic resin at about 350 degrees Fahrenheit until it expands to 100 times its original volume, then solidifies. Thousands of gas bubbles entrapped in the foam "buoy" it up and give the plastic its lightness.

Foamed into pre-fabricated metal wall sections, a two-inch thick layer weighing only 30 pounds would be enough to insulate a complete six-room house, Sterling said.

Resistant to fire, moisture, fungus growth and insects, the foam is low enough in cost to be practical for many applications and uses, the scientist said.

Not only do imprisoned air bubbles give the new plastic great lightness, but they also provide it with its excellent insulating qualities. So-called "dead air" is one of the best insulators known among commonly available materials, Sterling said.

Cover That Cough

"Cover that cough, smother that sneeze" is not only good advice for people in public places, it has practical meaning in the cowman, too.

Danger that coughing cattle may spread respiratory infections to their stablemates is highlighted in a research report from the American Veterinary Medical association.

The report describes an unusual case of tuberculosis of the eye in a heifer. A tuberculosis cow with a bad cough, stanchioned next to the heifer, is believed to have spread the disease.

AVMA points out that this case occurred in England, where bovine tuberculosis is widespread. Although tuberculosis has been reduced to a minimum in United States herds, coughers and sneezers are nevertheless a menace because they may spread all kinds of respiratory infections. Isolation of any animal showing respiratory symptoms is urged, therefore, to protect the rest of the herd.

Field Mice Destructive To Melon Crops, Seed

Untold damage is done each year to cucumber, cantaloupe and watermelon fields by mice destroying the seed which are planted and also the plants which are up and bearing fruit. H. A. Bowers, Clemson college crop specialist, says.

Bowers explained that the meadow mouse destroys the seed after they are planted, and the pine mouse cuts off the plants at the ground.

Housing Supply Increases
Despite Present Shortage

Supply of housing in U. S. cities and towns has increased by more than 22 per cent since 1940, or substantially more than the rate of non-farm population growth for the period, says Melvin H. Baker, chairman of the Construction Industry Information committee.

"Our usable nonfarm housing supply now exceeds 38.3 million units, or 6.6 million units more than the 29.7 million units we had in 1940," Mr. Baker says. "Within the same period, the nonfarm population has increased about 18 per cent."

Such a comparison shows that we have more dwelling space per person than we had before the war. Estimates based on bureau of the census reports indicate that there is about 3.5 per cent more dwelling space per person than in 1940. Yet, for those families looking for places to buy or rent at the present time, there are fewer available accommodations than in 1940.

There is no paradox in our having more housing per person, and yet having a situation in which housing is harder to find. The abnormal rate of new family formation and the high income and purchasing power in the hands of American families have resulted in greater consumption of housing than ever before, using up more of the total available supply as space standards for the average family have improved.

Rose, Queen of Flowers, Enjoys Wide Popularity

The rapid, almost phenomenal increase in planting of roses in recent years bears testimony to the popularity the "Queen of Flowers" has achieved in America.

The rose is the universal favorite in gardens large and small all over the country. No other flower seems to give such rich rewards in beauty, fragrance and satisfaction. No other flower is more gracious inside the home.

What pleases gardeners more than anything else is the ease with which these lovely flowers can be grown. With only a minimum of care, which any ordinary plant requires, roses can produce a profusion of lovely and fragrant blossoms in a wide range of colors.

Moreover, with the improvements achieved by hybridizers, roses are increasingly sturdy, hardy and resistant to disease. Many of them bloom over a long season from June until late fall so that the gardener with the foresight to plant roses, can keep his home well supplied with this aristocrat of flowers and at the same time be generous to his friends. The joy of receiving a bouquet of freshly cut roses is equalled only by the joy of giving them.

Shampooing Furniture

When upholstered furniture looks slightly dingy, it's time to try a clean-up treatment. Shampooing with soap jelly is the treatment recommended for fabric that is colorfast. Home management specialists at the University of Illinois college of agriculture give this recipe for making soap jelly: Pour 1 cup of hot water over 2 cups of mild soap flakes. That proportion of 1 to 2 is easy to remember. Now beat the mixture to a jelly with a rotary beater. You will want to test fabrics to make sure they won't change color. Do it in a place that won't show, using this method: Dip a cloth in lukewarm water, wring it out dry, and then dip it in soap jelly. Rub the jelly on the spot. Then rinse with a cloth wrung dry out of clear lukewarm water.

When Dog Bites Self

Rabid dogs not only bite other animals and people; they often bite themselves. The Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association reports that sometimes one of the first symptoms of rabies is self-injury, which may amount to chewing off a piece of the tail or other appendage. Rabid dogs also have been known to chew holes in wooden fences. When a pet does such things, and refuses to eat or drink, the owner should suspect rabies and place the dog under veterinary observation, the Journal advises.

How Dogs Follow Trail

How does a dog follow a trail made by a human being? Tests seem to indicate that a dog's success in trailing depends primarily on his accurate discrimination of earth odor from the compression and stronger vaporization of the spots stepped upon; plant odor from the destroyed vegetation; odor traces from shoes and shoe polish; odor traces from decaying animal or other organic matter and the body odor specific to any particular person.

Newcastle Disease Spreads

As a safeguard to public health the American Veterinary Medical association has urged still greater efforts to control Newcastle disease in farm poultry flocks. Recent research indicates that human beings may be susceptible to the Newcastle virus, the A.V.M.A. said. Research men have proved also that the virus can be spread through the air. Chicken and turkey flocks in 44 states have been stricken with Newcastle disease in recent years.

Checking Farm Account Books

Ten farmers from Tuscola County farms are cooperating with the extension service of Michigan State College in keeping farm account book records. County Agent Loren S. Armbruster announced today these cooperators make it possible to arrive at conclusive and sound figures in figuring costs and labor income for Michigan farmers. Cooperators of this kind are furnishing this material in practically every county in the state.

Agent Armbruster and extension specialist in farm management from Michigan State College, W. H. Vincient, will visit a number of these farmers on June 21 to give assistance in keeping account records. Tuscola farmers cooperating are: Jesse E. Treiber, Unionville; Chas. Sieland, Caro; Dorr W. Perry, Caro; Ellwood Eastman, Cass City; Spencer Dunham, Caro; Raymond Hart, Vassar; Emil Englehard, Unionville; Telford Proffer, Vassar; Chester Haldysz, Gagetown, and Bernard Koepf, Unionville.
