

Work on the Grandstand at Recreation Park Scheduled to Start Next Week

The project of building a grandstand at the Recreational Park to be completed by the time the football season opens next fall is being sponsored by the Rotary Club and the plans of the campaign are practically completed.

At the Tuesday meeting of the Rotary Club, President Horace Bulen appointed four captains for fund soliciting. James Bauer is in charge of the territory northeast of the intersection of Main and Seeger Streets which includes both town and country areas. Willis Campbell has the southeast section; Alger Freiburger, the southwest quarter; and Keith McConkey, the northwest section. Each captain has one-quarter of the club's membership as helpers. It is estimated that from $4,000 to $5,000 will be needed in addition to donated labor. The Gavel Club has already promised 100 man hours.

Robert Keppen, Curtis Hunt, Willis Campbell and Louis Bishop were named about ten days ago by M. R. Vender, the outgoing president of Rotary, as a general committee to suggest building plans and other details.

Tentative plans call for a 20x60 ft. building located at the west side of the football field which will house two dressing rooms and toilets for the playing teams at one end of the building and public rest rooms at the other end. The building will be made of concrete blocks with concrete roof and floors. The roof will provide space for concrete bleachers for football spectators. The dressing rooms will be 20x20 ft. in size and there will be overhead storage space of 400 square feet. Work on the project starts next week.

With a recreational park that provides a swimming pool, wading pool, baseball and softball diamonds, cinder track, tennis courts, horseshoe pitching, shuffleboard courts, and bowmen's range, the facilities for an ideal playground are quite complete with the exception of the dressing rooms, toilet and grandstand in one building as planned in the project outlined above.

Letter Carriers Start Later to Give Patrons Earlier Mail

The rural letter carriers from the Cass City post office started this week in delivering mail about 1 1/2 hours later in the morning in order to give patrons letters and parcels arriving on the highway post office truck delivery the same day.

Heretofore the carriers left the post office before the arrival of this mail truck at ten o'clock.

Under the old schedule letters and parcels that came on the mail truck lay in the post office until the following day. By having carriers wait for truck, patrons receive this mail the same day that it reaches the office, thus eliminating a 20-hour delay in delivery on rural routes, according to Postmaster Alice M. Bigelow.

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Alleman

Michigan is not getting all of the federal aid for state highways it is entitled to receive.

Because Michigan now pays to the federal government about four times more in taxes than it gets back, it is the judgment of Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, that Michigan is missing a good bet.

"There are about $11 million of federal funds available since 1948 on which contracts have not been let because we have no state funds to match these federal funds," said Commissioner Ziegler.

"We won't lose this money, but the people of the state will lose one year's use of badly needed highway facilities which these funds would permit. We also have an additional $12 million of new federal funds becoming available in July. No contracts can be let against this new money during 1949 because we have no matching money."

"Without additional state funds we will be unable to avail ourselves of all federal aid allocated to Michigan as rapidly as need dictates. If federal aid funds are not matched by state funds and used for highway construction within a limited period, they revert for reallocation to other states which are financially able to match funds."

The problem of state highways has a familiar ring to it. It is an echo of the problem which exists. Concluded on page 9.

Question Sheets Are Sent to 1,300 Farmers in Sanilac County

Question sheets about ground water resources were sent to 1,300 Sanilac County farmers this week by the agricultural extension office. Anyone receiving such a questionnaire is asked to please fill in all questions and return to the agricultural extension office, Sandusky.

Sanilac is one of four Michigan counties selected by the state geology department for a ground water survey. Questions asked are about the location, size, depth of wells, type of pump used, amount of water pumped, taste of the water, any change in the water supply in recent years, and others.

It is hoped that much useful information will be gained to help locate water supplies for anyone needing to dig a well for any purpose. The geology department will summarize this data and make it available to anyone interested.

First requirement, according to Gerhard Gettel, ass't county agent in land use, is to have people fill in information and send it to the extension office at Sandusky.

Pontiac Detour Sends Visitor to Cass City

Traveling by night in the hot weather of June has its advantages and then again it's not so good. That was the experience of a Flint man who knocked at a door of the residence of the E. W. Kerchers on East Main St. here Friday morning. He had a "flat" and needed a jack badly to change the tires. When he was informed in what part of the state he was, he expressed great surprise. He and his family had left Flint during the night on a trip to Pennsylvania. Around Pontiac, they were obliged to detour from the main highway and at five o'clock they were driving through Cass City.

Miss Rabideau Bride Of C. A. Marecki

In a double ring ceremony at St. Agatha's Church in Gagetown on July 2, Miss Jean Rabideau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rabideau of Gagetown, became the bride of Mr. Clarence A. Marecki, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Marecki of Van Dyke.

The church was decorated with blue delphinium and white gladioli for the service at 9:00 a. m. Saturday. Msgr. McCullough performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gownned in white lace. Her dress was fashioned with a tight bodice, high neckline, and wrist point sleeves. With it she wore a single strand of pearls and a duch cap with a fingertip veil. Her flowers were a cascade of white gardenias, Johanna Hill roses, and white stephanotis.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Paul Langlois of Detroit. The groom's sister, Miss Alice Marecki of Van Dyke, was bridesmaid. Both attendants wore white organdy dresses, picture hats, and white nylon gloves. They carried colonial bouquets of red roses.

Mrs. Rabideau wore a lace-trimmed dusty rose crepe dress with navy and white accessories. The groom's mother was dressed in powder blue crepe with white accessories. Both ladies wore pink and white carnations.

Ted Marecki of Detroit attended the groom, and Gerald Rabideau, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

Festivities following the ceremony included a breakfast for 13 at the Gagetown hotel, a dinner at the bride's home, and a reception in the afternoon for about fifty friends and relatives.

The bride is a graduate of Gagetown High School and of St. Joseph School of Nursing at Mt. Clemens. The groom, who was graduated from Lincoln High School in Detroit and who spent three years in the Army, is now employed by the Darin and Armstrong Construction Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Marecki plan to make their home in Van Dyke, after their return from a wedding trip to northern Michigan and Mackinac Island.

Farm Accidents Reach Their Peak At Harvest Time

Harvest time is hazard time on the farm, warns Loren S. Armbruster, county agricultural agent. When machinery with sharp cutting mechanism, high speed shafting, belting and gears is used during the busy harvest season, the chances of accidents mount.

Records of the National Safety Council show that accidents to farm people reach their peak during this season.

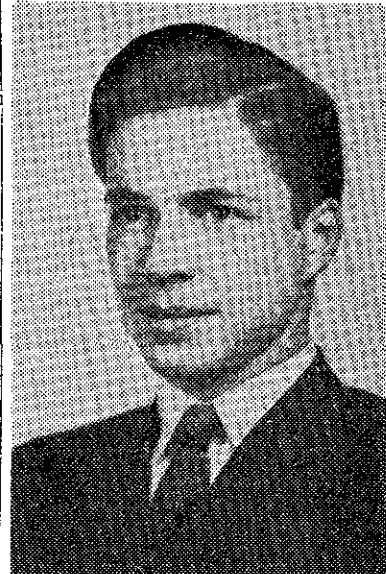

The first precaution for safe operation of harvesting machinery is inspection and repair. Seats, controls, steps, hitches and brakes and similar features should be checked and repaired if defective. All shields and other safety guards should be in place before a machine is taken to the field.

One of the principal causes of operating mishaps is failure to stop machinery before oiling, adjusting, or unclogging it. Loose or floppy clothing which catches easily in revolving machine parts should not be worn.

The agent warns that small children are definitely out of place around harvesting machinery.

Since tractors are in constant use during harvest, operators must always be on the alert and never take chances. Be careful around ditches, embankments or on the highway. Avoid excessive speeds. Never operate a tractor after dark without good lights.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Cook a Savory Main Dish in a Skillet
(See Recipes Below)

Skillet Dinners

WHEN YOU WANT to cook a really appetizing dinner for your family, do it in a skillet. Veal chops, pork chops, curries and chicken, all can be cooked to mouth-watering tenderness in a skillet after browning, by covering the skillet and turning down the heat. Mushrooms, green peppers, onions and all sorts of other seasoning can be added to make the food savory. Pork chops are a real favorite, especially if they are prepared in this manner with tomatoes, green pepper, celery and rice.

Pork Chop Skillet Meal

(Serves 4)
4 tablespoons fat
4 pork chops, 1" thick
4 slices Bermuda onion, 1/4" thick
3 cups canned tomatoes
4 rings green pepper, 1/4" thick
4 tablespoons uncooked rice
1 cup celery diced
Heat four tablespoons of fat in skillet on high heat. Turn switch to medium and brown pork chops until well browned on both sides, approximately 15 minutes. Place a slice of onion and one pepper ring on each chop. Place one tablespoon of rice in each ring. Pour tomatoes around meat and add celery. Place cover on skillet. When steaming (about eight minutes), switch to simmer and allow to cook for one hour.

*Skillet Chicken

(Serves 3-4)
2 cups cooked chicken
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
3 cups chicken stock or water
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
2 bay leaves
1 sprig thyme
2 small sprigs parsley
8 small onions
1/2 pound mushrooms
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Melt butter in a saucepan. Stir in flour. Add stock slowly, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened. Then add bay leaves, thyme and sprigs of parsley which have been tied together. Add salt, pepper, onions and mushrooms which have been cleaned and stemmed. Simmer on low heat for 45 minutes. Add the chicken which may be in large pieces, if desired. Heat chicken, but do not allow mixture to boil. Remove bay leaves, thyme and parsley which were tied together. Serve very hot, over biscuits or cooked rice, sprinkled with chopped parsley.

Skillet Veal Chops

(Serves 4)
6 loin veal chops
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
5 tablespoons fat
1 cup sliced onions
1 cup canned tomatoes
1/2 cup hot water
1 bay leaf
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup cold water
Cooked, chopped spinach takes on glamor if you place it in a casserole, top with cheese sauce and mushroom caps. Place in oven long enough to heat through. When creaming green beans, add a few dashes of onion juice to the white sauce while you make it. This adds zip to the mild tasting vegetable. Have you some dabs of leftover vegetables? Combine them in cheese sauce and stuff hollowed-out cooked onions with the mixture. Bake until onions are tender.

LYNN SAYS:
Try These Seasonings For Vegetables
Bake carrots if you want to try something new and different. Sprinkle small scraped carrots with 1/2 cup of butter which is creamed with 1/2 cup sugar, one teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/2 cup of boiling water.

Garden-fresh green beans, sliced and buttered, will be even more tasty if you add some chopped mint leaves to them just before finishing the cooking.

SHORT STORY

Mr. Diggle's
On Duty

By MARY WHITEFORD

MR. DIGGLES kept his head down as though he were studying the prescription, scarcely hearing Mrs. Tompkins' voice through the noise of blood thudding in his temples. When he tried to speak, his lips were dry and his tongue moved nervously over them. "I beg your pardon, Mrs. Tompkins, what was that you said?"

"I said if you haven't a delivery boy I'll wait for the three o'clock bus, but I'm anxious to get back as soon as I can."

He looked again at Dr. Price's cramped handwriting. "Oh, I'll deliver it, Mrs. Tompkins. I'm sorry to learn Mr. Tompkins isn't well."

"I told him it's just his bad disposition coming out. I told Dr. Price I certainly hated to drag him out in weather like this just for a stomach ache. Doctor says he'll be all right in a day or two."

3-Minute
Fiction

Mr. Diggle took the handkerchief from the pocket of his grey alpaca coat and wiped his forehead. The moment he used to dream of years ago, was here at last. This would cost Dr. Price his practice. The pity was, Dr. Price would never know he could have saved himself, if he hadn't made it so clear that a man who mixed prescriptions wasn't supposed to know about diagnosis. Dr. Price would never know what he'd done to himself when he told Mrs. White she might as well give the twins a chocolate soda as Diggle's Own Whooping Cough Mixture. Because of Dr. Price's new ways of doing things, no one bought Diggle's Ready Rheumatism Reliever now. Shots, it was, the doctor was giving for everything. Not prescriptions.

Manslaughter, they called it. He wet his lips. Well, no one could expect Mr. Diggle to interfere with Dr. Price's prescriptions again. Not a second time.

Though it was so many years ago, he could feel the flush of anger that flooded his face remembering the day he'd called Dr. Price up, and suggested that maybe the heart medicine he ordered for Mr. Venables was too strong.

"I know what I'm doing. Just mind your own business, Diggle, and I can mind mine."

He looked again at the prescription. There was no mistaking the symbol and he'd fill it as it stood. He reached for the bottle and removed the cork. Carefully, he measured out the prescribed dose.

MR. DIGGLES straightened suddenly, staring at the partly filled mortar. A feeling of nausea swept through him as he snatched it up and flung the contents into the snk. His hand, replacing the bottle on the shelf, trembled. Outside, the wind howled and flakes of ice made a cold noise beating the window pane.

Dr. Price sat down and mopped his forehead.

Slowly, he walked toward the telephone. After all, just as many people swore by Dr. Price as trusted Diggle.

As he waited, listening to Dr. Price's telephone bell ringing, the shop door opened. Mr. Diggle put down the receiver and went to the front. Dr. Price was on the mat, stamping the snow from his feet.

"Diggle, will you let me see the prescription Mrs. Tompkins just brought in?"

"I was just trying to call you about it, Dr. Price. I felt there was some little inaccuracy."

Dr. Price nodded. "Something told me. But I wasn't really worried. I knew you'd catch a mistake if there was one. It's a great comfort to me to know that a substantial man like you is checking up on me, Diggle."

"I have to do what I can. A man has to do his duty. He smiled and stood up."

"That's right, doctor. I guess duty becomes a habit if you do it long enough." The wind screamed into the shop as Dr. Price opened the door and went out. It was a bleak, bitter day, but in Mr. Diggle's heart it was suddenly summer.

Albert: "Constantly, Aunt Irma. I'm three installments behind at ready."

Old Ironclad

The Monitor, John Ericsson's ironclad ship which vanquished the Merrimac in one of the most celebrated naval engagements in American history, probably would never have been built had it not been for Lincoln. At a meeting of government officials held to discuss Ericsson's design, Lincoln remarked, "All I have to say is what the girl said when she stuck her foot into the stocking. It strikes me there's something in it." With the President's stamp of approval on the project, the group resolved to undertake at once the construction of three ironclad ships.

Pigs Get Hemophilia

Hemophilia, the "disease of royalty" that causes victims to bleed to death from slight abrasions or other bodily injury, affects pigs and dogs as well as human beings. In dogs and people, it is known to affect only males. In pigs, however, both females and males may be stricken. It is reported only rarely in animals, but may be more prevalent than reports indicate, due to the inability of owners to recognize the condition. Hemophilic animals usually do not live longer than a few weeks because even minor injuries cause fatal hemorrhages.

Persian Gulf

The Persian Gulf is notorious for its highly poisonous jelly fishes—coffee-colored organisms with very small bodies but with tentacles from two to three feet long. Their stings have been known to be fatal, and they are dreaded by Arab fishermen. Less dreaded are the far more deadly sea snakes. These are so sluggish, however, that few people have ever been bitten by them.

Aristocrat of Dogs

Some breeders say the name bloodhound came from the term "blooded," or aristocratic. Others report that it grew out of the old training method of teaching the animal to follow the trail of a wounded deer; then that of a man with deer's blood smeared on his shoes, and finally the "dry foot" of man himself.

Emotional Upsets May Cause Mishaps Suffered by Women

LONDON.—If mama continually trips over things and falls flat on her face, it may not be that she has two left feet. She may just need a bit of sympathy from the old man.

So says a British scientific survey. The survey was made by the London school of hygiene and tropical medicine for the British government's ministry of works, which is interested in the home accident problem.

Take jealousy, for instance. A jealous woman is a walking booby trap. Psychologists taking part in the survey found. For example: A woman tripped on an electric cord, spilling a teakettle and scalding herself. Psychologists found she was jealous of her husband, that the tea table conversation had been about him having his picture taken with a bevy of beauties.

"What an effective way of changing the subject and attracting attention and sympathy," said the psychologists' report, published in the Lancet, a British medical journal.

Extensive research is needed to show how many home accidents are caused by psychological factors, the report said. Preliminary findings definitely show that women who get little sympathy or understanding from their husbands are more prone to accidents than women who are content.

Valentino Revival Leaves Young Girls Cold as God

LONDON.—Just as a sort of experiment, the Hampstead theater put on a revival of Rudolph Valentino in "Son of the Sheik."

Long lines of women waited to see it—those who swooned over the heart throb of the early 20's, and their daughters. The former reassured their undying devotion. But the youngsters had other ideas. Young Norma Barnes, writing in the Daily Mirror, expressed it for them: "Maybe I don't swoon easy—but he left me colder than a codfish on a slab."

Landlord Spends Cash To Keep Tenants Happy

GREAT NECK, N. Y.—A landlord, Paul P. Zinner, thinks the reason tenants dislike landlords is psychological—so he put up $10,000 as a starter to make his 277 tenants happy.

The 34-year-old Zinner said he doesn't see why people can't get all the advantages of a private home in an apartment house.

He can't see, for instance, why children have to be "caged birds" in a multi-family dwelling. He doesn't want that for the 90 kids on his property.

So, Zinner planned to install a hobby room, a gymnasium and recreation rooms in his new six-building development.

Zinner said he'll install television sets, toys, juke boxes, a free library, a golf driving range, a handball court, billiard, ping pong, dart and other equipment.

He has arranged for dance lessons by a well known Manhattan studio, music lessons, and daytime baby sitters at reduced rates.

"The $10,000 won't last more than a month. Then I'll have to dig up more," Zinner said, adding: "But I'll have a chance to do what I always wanted to do."

Zinner's tenants and their families—all 750 of them representing 48 different nationalities—have begun his "happier living program"—all on Zinner.

In the day the kids will see a puppet show, clown and juggler and have chocolate milk and cookies. At night the parents will dance to a name band.

Secondhand Watch Buy Usually Bad Business

MADISON, WIS.—You're likely to wind up with a bad time if you buy a secondhand watch in a barroom, the senate committee on state and local government has learned.

Confidence men put expensive dials on cheap watches, tell a hard luck story at some bar, and stick their customers with a sorry bargain, said Ralph H. Young, La Crosse, president of the Wisconsin board of examiners in watchmaking.

Young urged passage of a bill to increase the examination fee for a watchmaker certificate from $15 to $25 and a like increase in the cost of certificates to out of state watchmakers. The bill also would require sellers of used watches with no established business place (bars included) to file an invoice with the clerk of the county in which the sale was made. It also would increase the pay of members of the examining board from $10 to $15 a day.

Clarence L. Greiber, state director of vocational and adult education, said the governor's advisory committee had carefully selected the watchmakers' schools in Wisconsin for GI training, but said he knew of one state where 5,000 watchmakers were in training schools.

ELMWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Urban Hartman and family of Detroit spent the week end at the Kennedy home.

John F. Evans and Mrs. Harland O'Dell and daughters, Connie and Mona, of Canton, Ohio, were week-end visitors of relatives here. Mr. Evans, who suffered a broken ankle in April, is able to walk with the aid of a cane.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bork visited on Sunday at the Harold Evans home.

Jimmie Evans spent the week in Detroit visiting relatives.

Wayne Evans of Lake Orion spent the week with Nelson Anker. Mrs. Perry Livingston, Mrs. Cecil Barriger and children visited Mrs. Robt. Joiner on Thursday.

Mrs. Lewis Livingston and son, Terry, spent Monday afternoon with her mother and grandmother, Mrs. F. Vader and Mrs. Israel Dettweiler. Supper guests in that home were Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd

Wilson of New Lothrop, Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Wilson and daughter of Otter Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bailey and daughters of Big Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Goudie. Callers in the evening were Rev. and Mrs. King and family of Pigeon.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Livingston were pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening when their family came with ice cream and cake to help them celebrate their 38th anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Tuckey were also guests.

Mother's Influence

The mother usually sets the pace for the rest of the family. When she is irritable or hurried, the others will feel it; if she is calm and serene the others will feel that too.

Friend in Need

More than 30,000 unmarried mothers are cared for annually in 94 maternity homes conducted by the International Salvation Army.

Motion of Earth

A third natural motion of the earth occurs in addition to the two motions, which were unknown before Copernicus' announcement that (1) it rotates on an axis, daily, (2) it moves around the sun along an oval orbit, yearly. The third natural motion of the globe is careening (rolling, reeling), which is a normal recurrent motion at intervals of around 6,000 to 8,000 years.

'Punitive Expedition'

Ancient Houses

Many houses constructed of pine lumber more than 200 years ago are still in use in New England.

No Use

ENGLISH Playwright Richard Brinsley Sheridan and his wife invited another couple to their house one evening. After dinner the two ladies retired to another room and left the men to their cigars. "Don't breathe a word," whispered the playwright to his friend. "We've just inherited a piece of valuable property. But my wife and I have promised faithfully not to tell a soul about our good luck." "Why are you telling me, then?" asked the guest. "Simply because I'm certain," smiled the author, "that Mrs. Sheridan is upstairs confiding our secret to your wife."

FAIR QUESTION

The sailor home on leave was telling his fiancée's family some rather tall tales of his adventures. All listened, enthralled, except the youngest son, who was obviously unimpressed.

"You see, Tommy," said the sailor, after one extra-startling story, "I always believe in fighting the enemy with his own weapons."

"Oh, yeah," sneered the lad. "And how long does it take you to sting a wasp?"

Lack of Funds Blocks Making Real Movies

HOLLYWOOD. — Three-dimensional movies, that pry actors away from the scenery and make Lana Turner's curves look curvier, are ready to hit the screen. But their inventor waits that no studio will dish out money for his trick.

Joe Valentine, one of movie-land's top cameramen, developed a gadget that brought depth to the screen back in 1940. It's gathering dust. No studio will cough up dough to back the project.

"Two-dimensional movies we have now look flat—flat actors against flat scenery," explains Valentine, who's up for an Oscar for photographing "Joan of Arc," a movie that cold've used a few more dimensions.

Lighting Now Used

"We use lighting now to try to bring them away from the scenery. Colors of costumes and sets are chosen carefully so actors won't melt into the background."

"In three-dimensional movies the actor stands out with natural roundness. He appears to be right in the theater."

Miss T. looks twice as whistle-able, and Humphrey Bogart appears to dash with his gat right into the audience. Trees look rounder and people look like people, which would be a change. And the moviegoer who gets stuck in a side seat won't have to squint at long thin men on a 'distorted screen, either. Miss Turner looks round, no matter where he sits.

Needed Special Glasses

Years ago one company billed "a three-dimensional movie" in theatres, but that was a fluke. You had to wear special spectacles to see curvier curves.

The new dimension comes from a prism that's inserted behind the camera lens. That costs about $500. The camera then gets two images instead of one. Prisms would have to be installed in every theater-projection machine in the country, costing another $500 per.

"Not half as expensive as sound was to install," snorts the cameraman. "And it would bring change and greater scope to the screen as sound did. Bring customers back to the theaters, too."

Absolute Silence Found Unbearable in U. S. Test

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J.—Silence—dead, absolute silence. Have you ever wondered what it would be like?

Not the stillness of a quiet room, but no noise at all.

Take a tip from the army signal corps engineers—it's no fun. They tried it and said they couldn't stand it.

The tests were made in a new "silent chamber," perfected by the signal corps to help reduce the noise of military equipment.

About 30 minutes of absolute silence was just about all anyone could stand. After 30 minutes the engineers became uneasy. After a few hours, the army said, the dead silence produced "pronounced adverse psychological effects."

The room is used to measure the noise of field equipment. The army said even a small electric generator in the field was enough to reveal the position of the soldier and endanger his life. Now engineers can find out just how much noise it makes and quiet it enough to prevent detection.

Signal corps officials said the walls, floor, and ceilings of the new chamber are covered with wedge-shaped hunks of fiberglass, pointing out into the room. The pieces are bound at the large ends to an electrostatic shield. The shield is grounded to remove any surplus energy. There is complete stillness in the room.

But the room wouldn't do for a radio station. Spokesmen said musical tones are flat, monotonous and very dull in an absolutely sound-proof room.

Kentucky Establishes Place to Wash Money

FRANKFORT, KY.—Ever hear of a money laundry, a place to wash filthy lucre?

Well, they started one at the Alcoholic Beverage Control board. It seems the girl clerks balked at counting coins dumped out of 27 slot machines confiscated in Bell county liquor joints. They were agreeable to counting the coins, but not while they were greasy and dirty. Gets under your skin, ruins your desk.

So W. Orbie Mitchell, director of A.B.C. field agents, had the coins dumped into pails of hot, soapy water and stirred around until they got into countable condition—for the clerks.

In addition to good U. S. money, there were French and German coins, slugs, and even a wartime red O.P.A. token.

Mitchell said the money probably would add up to $1,200 to $1,500. "The darned stuff weighed about 75 pounds," he added.

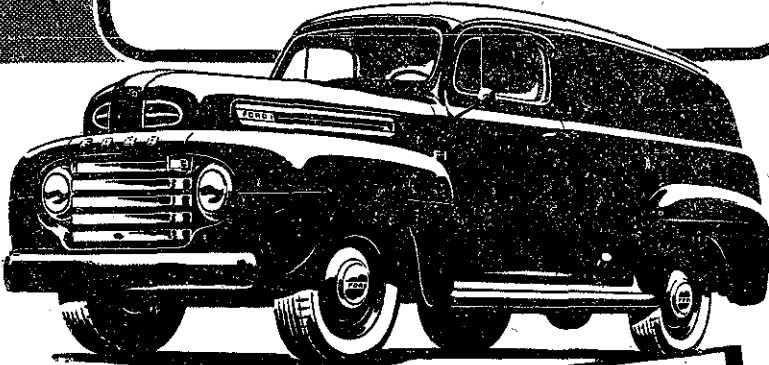

The money was to be turned over to the state's general fund.

Average Man Works Half as Much Now To Clothe Family
NEW YORK.—The average man works only half as hard today to clothe his family as he did in 1914. The national industrial conference board, an independent fact-finding organization, in a survey found the working man in 1948 spent the equivalent of less than five hours' work a week to buy clothes for his family whereas he had to work more than nine hours a week in 1914 to get the money.
"The purchasing value of the wage earners' clothing dollar has more than doubled over the 34-year period," said the board. "The three-fold rise in clothing prices has been overshadowed by the sixfold increase in wages over the hourly rate of 25 cents in 1914.
"The wage earner could in 1948 outfit himself with an overcoat, gloves, hat, suit, shirt, socks, and shoes and pay the bill by working 61 hours.
"The 1914 wage earner would have had to work 153 hours for the same outfit."
On the same scale, a woman's hat cost one and a half hours work in 1948 and four hours in 1914. Two factors in the cost difference were pointed out. The average family size in 1914 was 4.88 persons compared with 3.61 persons last year. But the board found the modern family buys a greater variety and larger amounts of clothing, with the increase in personal consumption amounting to almost 50 per cent in the 34 years.
Furthermore the expenditures for heavy clothing has declined in the period because of advances in home heating and travel in automobiles.
In the past 34 years, women have taken over a larger and larger share of the clothing dollar, the board found. In 1914 the man spent 50 per cent more for his clothing than he permitted his wife to spend. But today, the woman spends 30 per cent more for her outfits than her husband does for his.

Johnny Appleseed Bones May Receive Reinterment
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.—Reports that the grave of Johnny Appleseed in Fort Wayne, Ind., has fallen into neglect inspired a movement to have the remains of the fabulous orchard planter brought back to Springfield.
Appleseed—his real name was John Chapman—generally is believed to have been born in Springfield. His cross-country sowing of appleseeds won him his better-known name.
He died at Fort Wayne March 11, 1847.
A chamber of commerce campaign to transfer Chapman's remains was joined by Mayor Daniel B. Bunton.
"We'd be glad to have him rest here," said the Mayor, "in the heart of Johnny Appleseed Park."

Cads Invade Britain To Get Free Dentures
LONDON.—The house of commons got its teeth into a touchy topic:
Are aliens coming over in waves to get free British dentures?
Sir Waldron Smithers, 68-year-old Conservative, was the first to bare his uppers.
He called the house's attention to a government leaflet which he said offered medical, dental, and nursing care to visitors to Britain under the national health services act.
Sir Waldron wanted to know if this is legal.
"I have all sorts of letters of people coming here and getting spectacles and false teeth and going to Antwerp and selling them," he said.
Sir Waldron added that a French doctor told him many of his patients who could afford the fare came to Britain for free treatment and that French doctors were "having a bad time as a result."
All this, he said bitingly, is "part of the Socialist technique of telling the whole world that the Socialist government of England would give free this and that at a time when we were living on the charity of America."
Arthur Blenkinsop, parliamentary secretary for the minister of health, said Sir Waldron's fears "about an invasion of our shores by people who want false teeth and spectacles are a figment of the imagination."

Hypnotism May Be Used To Lessen Dentist Fear
TROY, ALA.—Soon you may be able to believe that "painless dentist" sign.
Some 25 southeast Alabama dentists learned how it was done when Dr. James Fraser, head of the Troy State Teachers college chemistry department, hypnotized a patient before he had a tooth pulled.
"Didn't feel a thing," said George Hattaway, who agreed to the experiment. "And I needed the thing pulled anyway."
Dr. Fraser is a student of psychology and hypnosis and has suggested the use of hypnosis as an anesthetic for dentists.

Molasses For Steers
Steer-fattening tests by the Louisiana State university experiment station showed that molasses has an average feeding value of around 85 per cent that of corn when fed at the rate of four to eight pounds a day—about one-third to two-thirds of a gallon—along with cottonseed meal and other concentrates. Other experiments at the station showed that molasses could profitably be fed to work mules at the rate of two to three quarts daily and in these amounts was almost equal to corn.

A pound of potatoes will furnish a considerable share of the nutrients that are recommended for active people. They are rich in vitamin C, thiamine, iron, riboflavin and protein.
Peach Orchard

Fibrinogen
Your blood contains a needle to help sew up wounds. It is fibrinogen, a plasma protein. It is long and thin, shaped much like a needle. Fibrinogen is just one of many chemical substances involved in the intricate and delicately balanced system by which blood clots are formed. It reacts with another chemical, thrombin, to form fibrin, the web-like matting in blood clots that stops bleeding.

Philadelphia's volunteer firemen were replaced by a full-time department in 1870. In New York proper, volunteers served until 1885, a year after Washington, D. C., had turned to a paid department.

Western Trees
West coast tree species put on their most growth during the second 50 years of their life. After that the volume of new wood added begins to decrease and the volume of decay increases. At the age of 300 years, volume of decay added begins to exceed the volume of new wood and the total volume of good wood in the old tree actually decreases each year.
Tung Nuts
Tung nut is the source of the valuable tung oil, which is used as the base of most fine varnishes and paints. Most of the imported oil comes from China where it is customary to crush and press the nuts as soon as they are picked from the tung tree.

First Use of Wheel
First intimation of man's use of wheels comes from the Levant States. Archaeologists at Tell Hala, northeastern Syria, unearthed a painted vase of a culture prior to 4,000 B. C. On it was depicted a two-wheeled chariot bearing a man, says the National Geographic society.

today in every activity of government—local, state and federal. Costs have gone up tremendously during the postwar inflation period. A dollar of revenue buys only 50 cents in prewar value. Something must give way. Services must be curtailed or taxes must be increased. You can't have bet highways without paying more for them.

When Commissioner Ziegler points to the dollar deficiency in explaining why the state highway department is lagging in its progress program, he believes he does so with a good conscience. Ziegler is proud of his record of economy—"getting the most value from the funds at our disposal."

Ziegler maintains that he had weeded out "non-producing employees" to the extent of 475. The annual saving is estimated at $1 million. This economy is in addition to 650 state employees who were dropped when the state department contracted with county road commissions to maintain state truck-line routes. Ziegler considers the 475 total as the "net" reduction.

A second economy is claimed by Ziegler by elimination of duplication caused by two organizations—state and county—doing the "same work" in counties. Ziegler puts the annual savings at another $1 million.

Another dollar-stretching policy has been to salvage old trunkline roads by resurfacing them with two and one-quarter inches of asphaltic concrete at a cost of about $20,000 per mile. About 1,000 miles of old pavements have been so treated.

Another economy is claimed by Ziegler in the lower cost of building state roads in Michigan—"15 per cent cheaper than the national average and well below our neighboring states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania."

"Four important factors enter into these comparatively low prices," said Ziegler. "First, contractors in Michigan do not buy jobs, but receive contracts based on the low qualified bids. Second, Michigan contractors are exceptionally well-equipped to perform the work required and have highly-qualified personnel. Third, the gamble of lost time from labor disturbances is out of the picture due to the fine relationship existing between the department and the road construction unions."

"Fourth, we pay contractors promptly every two weeks as work progresses, less 10 per cent reserve, which enables them to meet payrolls promptly and to discount material purchases."

Michigan's state gasoline tax is much lower than the average tax of the other states.

Michigan motorists are paying less than those in other states to finance new roads and maintain old ones.

Such being the case, they are "saving" money and are getting "their money's worth"—but at the expense of improved highways. As we pointed out last week, better roads and higher taxes go hand in hand. Which do you prefer?

After a visit to dancing school, one mother advised her small daughter that she should not just dance silently like a totem pole; talking to her partner was also a part of the social picture.

On a later visit the mother saw that each time the music started, the same little boy tore across the floor, bowed to her daughter, and swept her away to the music.

On the way home, the mother asked why the same lad chose her for every dance.

"Oh, him," her small daughter explained. "I'm telling him a continued murder mystery."

SHORT STORY

Bluebeard's Bet

By Lilliane M. Mitchell

"THEY'RE all curious," insisted Arthur Jordan. "There never lived a woman who wasn't 99-44/100 per cent curiosity. I could quote you a dozen bits of poetry proving the fact—"

"For goodness' sake, don't!" urged Clem Tate. "I'll take your word for it. Honestly. But Elsie isn't that way. I'm telling you."

"You're the kind that would never be happy with your wife asking you this and looking over mail and rooting about in your desk when you're out of the house. I know you."

"Don't speak of Elsie Lyons as 'rooting', if you please," Clem Tate said coldly. "I'll tell you what. I'll lock the office door and give her the key—since you mention Bluebeard—"

—and then you and I will go out. I'll keep the key of the corridor door, however, and we'll come in again and sit here. I'll tell her not to use that key at all. See? Then if she is as curious as you say, she'll come bouncing in a la Made-moiselle Bluebeard or whatever her name was and we'll be sitting right inside here."

"O.K. with me," said Arthur Jordan. "She'll be in here and don't you forget I told you so. I'd as soon have a homelier girl and one who wasn't so careless anyhow. She's decorative but she'd forget her head if it weren't for the curls there."

Now Elsie Lyons was pretty. She knew that fact as well as anyone else. Fluffy golden hair framed a heart-shaped face with a pointed chin below a widow's peak of hair at the upper edge. Her great grey eyes turned to pansy-color at times. But looks, and business efficiency do not always go hand in hand unfortunately and Elsie ran about ninety-nine and forty-four one-hundredths per cent efficiency.

"I am locking the door to the private office, Miss Lyons," said Clem Tate distinctly. "I want no one to go in there. No one. Is that clear, Miss Lyons. Here is the key."

"Certainly, Mr. Tate," she said demurely, placing the key in her desk drawer.

The two young men walked resolutely into the outer corridor and the outside door swung too gently behind them.

"Well, Bluebeard, how about it?" asked Jordan when he put the key into the door to the private office.

As the door swung open they both looked in eagerly. They heard the telephone in the outer office. Silently they sat down and Jordan gave his partner a poke in the ribs when Clem Tate looked too triumphant as the moments passed.

AT THE END of a half hour Clem Tate rose to his feet. Jordan followed him and they made their way silently into the outer corridor again.

"Well, was I right, Jordan?" asked Clem.

"You win, Bluebeard—er, I mean, non-Bluebeard," said Jordan. "Say, I've got to have a breath of air after that self-imposed silence. I think maybe we both like talking a little better than we thought we did. I had a thousand things I wanted to tell you while we sat there. But as for your charming little Elsie—she's the real thing all right, all right. Never even clicked the key in the lock, did she? Or looked through the key-hole at us?"

Jordan ambled towards the elevators with a wave of his hand. Clem Tate stood an instant at the outer door and then entered the suite of offices. He hurried through to the door of the private office and tried the knob.

"Oh—" he said. "Miss Lyons, I forgot that this door is locked. Let me have the key, will you, please?"

"I—I'm sorry, Mr. Tate. But I simply can't think what I did with that key. There was a telephone call the moment you left and I looked for the key so that I could—could—lay the message on your desk."

"But I said not to go in."

She laughed gently. Dimples peeped in and out charmingly. She bent again and then with a sigh she murmured: "Oh! Here it is! I'm so careless!"

grove, was Tuscola County's dress revue delegate. She wore an orchid organly off-the-shoulder formal which she made in her 1949 clothing project. She was chosen from among 60 girls as one of the honor group to return for the state dress revue finals to be held during the State 4-H Show at Michigan State College late in August. Anne was also initiated into the State 4-H Service Club, as was one Tuscola County leader, Mrs. Lucile Hickey, of Akron. The State Service Club is an honorary organization which admits a limited number of members each year at 4-H Club Week.

Tuscola County's representatives in the achievement booth contest at Club Week were Anne Sheridan and Jerry Davis, Vassar. Each made a display explaining the work they had done during their 4-H club career, and were interviewed by a committee which will determine winners to return for the State Show Achievement Booth Contest.

About 750 boys and girls attended Club Week from all counties in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula. Delegates and leader were housed in the "Quonset Village" housing area and ate at the Quonset cafeteria.

Start Making Your Stocks Of Jams, Jelly Goodies Early as Supply Fades

MOST JAM and jelly cupboards are a sad sight to behold about this time of year because long months of use have depleted them pretty thoroughly. Most homemakers will find it a joy to start stocking them now with bright, jewel-like glasses of delectable jellies.

Even for those of us who like a good store of jam and jelly, the job need not seem an unsurmountable task. Make small batches and you'll have better results in both flavor and color retention. Neither will you get tired that you never want to see another jelly glass again.

Organize your work properly by getting out jars or replacing them. Wash them in sudsy water; rinse carefully and they will be all ready to place in cold water and started to sterilizing before you get ready for the fruit and berries. Many women like to get the glass washing chore out of the way the day before, and this is an excellent idea.

Utensils for working as well as the paraffin and sugar may also be laid out the evening before jelly making day. Plan to make your batch first thing in the morning before the sun warms things up too much and makes you weary.

HERE'S AN EASY guide for a favorite rhubarb and strawberry jam:

Rhubarb-Strawberry Jam
(Makes 10 6-ounce glasses)
4 cups prepared fruit
7 cups sugar
½ bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit: slice thin or chop, but do not peel, about one pound of rhubarb. Crush thoroughly about one quart fully ripe strawberries. Combine fruits and measure four cups into a large saucepan.

To make the jam: add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full, rolling boil and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for five minutes to cool slightly, and to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

Currants are rich in their own pectin and may be combined with other fruits not as rich in the substance to make fine jelly.

Cherries in Currant Jelly
2 quarts currant juice
8 pounds sugar
2 quarts pitted cherries

Wash, mash and cook slowly enough currants, with stems, to make two quarts of strained juice. Let currant juice come to a boil, then add sugar. Skim. Add cherries

Strawberries and early rhubarb make one of the most delectable and colorful jam combinations known in modern cookery. Young fry who like to work in the kitchen can be a great help to mother in preparing ingredients during jam making time.

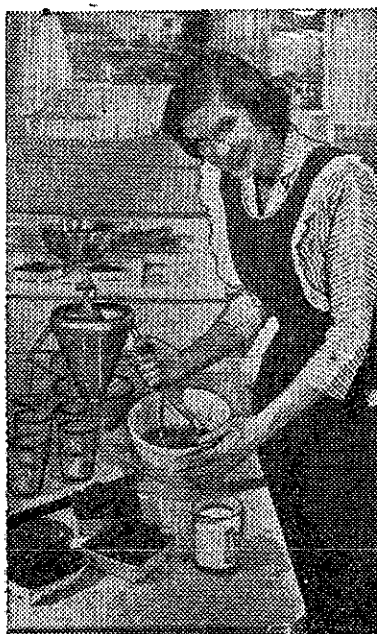

and cook slowly and steadily for 10 to 15 minutes. Pour into jelly glasses, paraffin at once and set in a cool, dry place.

LYNN SAYS:

Jelly-Making Tips
Will Help You

Assemble your equipment for jelly and jam making ahead of time. You will need a large mixing bowl, colander, a 6-quart saucepan, a small saucepan for paraffin, standard measuring cups, jelly glasses with covers and a utility tray.

When melting paraffin for sealing jellies and jams, use a low flame or the wax will start to smoke.

Raspberries, either by themselves or in combination with other fruits make delightful jams or jellies. Prepare the jelly glasses by sterilization before starting the jam or jelly so they will be ready when the juice or fruit is to be poured.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
Grilled Steak
Potato Salad Fried Onions
Sliced Tomatoes and Cucumbers
Biscuits *Red Raspberry Jam
Sliced Cantaloupe Beverage
*Recipe Given

Black Raspberry-Currant Jelly
2 quarts black raspberries
2 cups water
1 quart currants
Sugar

Cook raspberries, currants and water for 20 minutes. Strain the juice and measure. Add an equal amount of sugar. Cook until a small amount of the juice dropped on a saucer jells. Ladle into jelly glasses and cover with paraffin at once.

Raspberries do not have much pectin and for this reason they need pectin added to make them into acceptable jam. Use them alone or combined with strawberries.

*Raspberry Jam
(Makes 10 6-ounce glasses)
4½ cups prepared fruit
6 cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin
To prepare fruit: crush thoroughly about two quarts fully ripe, red raspberries. If desired, sieve half of pulp to remove some of the seeds. Measure 4½ cups into a large saucepan.

To make jam: measure sugar and set aside. Place saucepan holding the fruit over high heat. Add powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture reaches a hard boil. Bring to a full, rolling boil and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Skim, ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

Cherry Preserves
5 pounds cherries
5 pounds sugar
Wash, pick and stone cherries. Place in a preserving kettle, alternating layers of fruit and sugar. Let stand overnight. Bring slowly to a boil and then boil rapidly until thick and clear. Pour into sterilized glasses and seal at once with paraffin.

Gooseberry Conserve
3 pounds gooseberries
3 pounds sugar
1 pound seeded raisins
3 large oranges

Grate the rind of the oranges and extract the juice. Mix together the orange rind and juice, gooseberries, raisins and sugar. Cook slowly until thick. Pour into sterile jars and seal at once.

Pineapple-Pear Preserves
1 pound pears
1 No. 2 can sliced pineapple
1½ cups sugar
¾ cup boiling water

Dissolve sugar in water and let come to a boil. Cut pears in halves lengthwise, removing skin and cores. Cut pineapple into pieces and add both fruits to hot syrup. Cook until tender and clear. Seal in sterilized jars.

To prevent excessive "weeping" on jellies and jams, leave a half inch of space at the top when filling the glass. Paraffin, cover tightly and store in a cool, dry place.

Fruits and berries used for jams, jellies, preserves and conserves should not be allowed to stand in water as they become water-logged and will have to be cooked longer, to get rid of water. This results in flavor and color loss.

Use a lipped saucepan for pouring paraffin to make this job easier.

Traffic Deaths Show Downward Trend

For the second consecutive month the traffic death toll in Michigan continued its downward trend. According to a state police statistical report for May, 104 persons were killed, or 21 fewer than during the same month last year.

There were 3,518 persons injured and 11,154 total reported accidents, both up one per cent compared with the same month a year ago.

Most of the fatality reduction was in rural areas, but there was also a substantial decrease in urban areas.

In both rural and urban areas pedestrian deaths and those resulting from the collision of vehicles were down sharply. Deaths resulting from run-off-roadway accidents continued higher.

During the first five months of this year there were 499 persons killed, 14,682 injured and 55,595 reported accidents. Compared with the same period last year, deaths were up 20 or four per cent and injuries were up 414 or three per cent. Reported accidents dropped four per cent.

The cumulative mileage figure for the first four months of the year showed a four per cent increase over the same period a year ago. The death rate per 100 million miles of travel was up three per cent.

Cotton Acreage

Acreage planted to cotton in the United States has dropped from 42,600,000 acres in the 1925-29 period to around 20 to 23 million acres during the past few years.
