

Softball Ass'n Championship Won By Baldy Group

Baldy's Sunoco group won the championship of the Cass City Softball Association Friday night by defeating the Western Auto team by a score of 2-1. Previous to this contest, the Baldy group were undefeated in the play-off series and Western Auto had lost but one game.

Baldy's scored two runs in the second inning and Western Auto secured their one score in the fourth period. Both teams played the best defensive game of the season. Helwig, playing third base for Baldy's in the fourth inning, caught a line drive in what is described as a "beautiful play," cutting off two runs. In the play-off series, the winning team had no easy task as four of the five victories were won by one run each.

In Friday's game, Western Auto is credited with five hits and their opponents three. Molnar struck out four men and issued five bases on balls; McCloy fanned four and issued one pass in five innings and Helwig struck out two men in two innings.

The championship team is composed of young blood, one player finished high school a few years ago, five were graduated last June and the others are still in school. Members of the team are Elwyn Helwig, Harry Willard, Jerry Priess, Fred Ross, Tom Schwaderer, Gil Schwaderer, Grant Strickland, Larry McCloy, Jim Wallace, John Ellis, Dick Wallace, Bob Mann and Tommy Townsend. Howard Ellis is manager and Harold Paul, coach.

Members of the championship team were entertained at a chicken supper Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ellis at their home on Seed Street.

Don Borg Addressed W. S. W. S. Friday

Don Borg, supervisor of music of the Cass City school, gave a very interesting description of his activities while serving his country during World War II in Iceland, at a meeting of the Woman's Society of World Service of the Evangelical United Brethren Church Friday afternoon. The meeting has held in the church annex and Mrs. C. J. Striffler was program chairman.

Mr. Borg, who was a lieutenant during the war and served in the Navy, began his discourse by giving a short history of Iceland and a geographical sketch of the island. His listeners became acquainted with the characteristics and customs of the Icelanders, their occupations, modes of travel, their commercial activities and attitudes towards other people. The talk was most instructive.

Music for the meeting was furnished by Mrs. Arnold Copeland who sang a solo, accompanied by Rev. S. P. Kirm at the piano. At the close, the program committee consisting of Mrs. S. P. Kirm, Mrs. S. C. Striffler and Miss Johanna Hommel served iced tea and homemade cookies on the lawn on the south side of the church.

Two Are Awarded Queen Titles

Dorothy Elaine Tuckey,
Bean Queen

Edna Mae Hill,
Dairy Queen

Cass City has won distinction in many ways—with its wide streets, excellent schools, fine recreational facilities, and several years of "no tax" levy, to mention a few—but not until last week have two young ladies of the community been awarded queen titles within a three-day period.

At the Sanilac County 4-H Fair at Sandusky on Aug. 24, Miss Edna Mae Hill, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hill of Greenleaf Township, and a junior student of Cass City High School, was crowned dairy queen, winning the title over seven other young contestants.

She is a four-year member of the Greenleaf Growers 4-H Club, majoring in food preparation and food preservation projects. Miss Hill's knowledge of Sanilac County agriculture and her ability to call cows and hammer nails were factors considered in winning the queen's crown.

Four other girls placed in the competition, sponsored by the Michigan Milk Producers Association of Sanilac County. Each girl was sponsored by a farm organization. They are: Miss Irene Schmidt, Sandusky; Elmer Hustler 4-H Club; Miss Mary Freileigh, Brown City; Flynn Community Club; Miss Barbara Howarth, Cass City; Holbrook 4-H Club and Miss Evelyn Ware, Brown City, West Speaker 4-H Club.

Judges were A. J. Simpson, manager of The Bay City Times; Harry Lund, of the Saginaw News; Arthur Higbee, Sanilac County correspondent of the Port Huron Times-Herald; and Carl Wendt, of the Michigan Bean Shippers Association.

During the last week of August, they attended sessions of the International Mission Conference, as one of the inter-related programs which the Chautauqua Association presents including: Symphony orchestra, lectures, classes sponsored by Columbia University and other groups, varied concerts, social and varied recreational activities. Kindergarten to Go to School in Church Basement

At a meeting of the board of education Wednesday night, it was decided to rent the basement of the Evangelical United Brethren Church for the kindergarten department. This will relieve the congestion at the school building and permit full-day attendance of first grade pupils.

Kindergarten pupils from the rural areas will come by busses to the school building in the morning and then be transported in one bus to the church basement. They will be dismissed at 11:10 a. m. and taken by bus to their homes as they were last year.

Those of the village will come directly to the church basement to attend the afternoon session which starts at one o'clock.

Miss Lois Hutchinson, the new kindergarten teacher, is visiting her pupils and their parents this week.

Expect High Traffic Record on Labor Day, Warning Issued

With traffic over the Labor Day week end this year expected to break all holiday week-end records in Michigan history, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard has issued an urgent appeal to motorists to drive with extreme care. "The Memorial Day and Fourth of July week ends this year, when new traffic records were set, were proof that unnecessary deaths and injuries can be avoided by driving safely," Leonard said. "Last year 19 were killed over the Memorial week end, this year there were 14. Last year 23 lost their lives in traffic accidents over the Fourth, this year there were only six."

"Let's keep up this trend. There were 20 persons killed, 500 injured and nearly 2,000 accidents reported during the Labor Day week end in 1948. Let's see how much we can cut this down."

"During the coming week end there will be the usual hundreds of thousands taking their last summer vacation trip. Thousands will be returning from their summer cottages so that children can start school."

"The highways will be crowded and that means every driver should make an extra effort to be careful. Observe the rules of the road. Take a little longer to get there. Be watchful of the other driver. Don't take one single chance. If all drivers do this, the answer will be fewer lives lost and fewer injured. It can be done."

Relate Draperies, Upholstery, Rug Colors in Decorating Home

By Erta Haley

"MY HOME looks just too plain and drab. How can I introduce color and design to the best advantage?" Here's a question which many women ask when they start to look critically at the rooms and wonder just how to go about achieving beauty they've seen and read about.

First of all, we must consider that there are different kinds of beauty, and what may look good with one room is not proper for another kind. To illustrate, quaint prints or faded out colors which appear old-fashioned would not be appropriate at all in a modern setting.

On the other hand, the luscious textures and colors so fitting in modern rooms would not add much to a Colonial home or one done in French provincial or 18th century style.

Beauty is an individual matter, and it should express the personalities of those who live in the home. With good taste to guide you, you may select those things which will create the most pleasing effects. If you're uncertain about the choice, some study and guidance will put you on the right track.

Give Best Impression With Single Idea

The best effect in the home is achieved with a single outstanding idea. If you have a lot of ideas flitting around your head, let one of them take precedence before you start renovating. Too many ideas, even though good, can ruin the room's decor because they will create a confused impression.

If you are using pattern in the room, you are safest in introducing it in the drapes. Stripes, checks, plaids or dots are safest to use if you are inexperienced. Fern and foliage patterns are often among the best designed. Stylized patterns and geometric patterns are frequently desirable. Good period patterns are frequently available for period rooms, and these are fairly easy to select.

If you have a valuable Oriental rug, however, you do not want to introduce either too much pattern or color in the draperies. In this case, the rug is the main item in the room, and other furnishings should be as plain as possible to create the proper background for highlighting the rug.

Walls, Upholstery May Carry Design

Patterned drapes look best against a background of plain, painted walls, but if you feel that a certain wallpaper reflects your personality best, by all means use it. Then, pick out one or two of the wall-

Be Smart!

This is the season when the range of novelty handbags is so large that you can even match your favorite spectator sports footwear with a companion bag. Sketched here is a combination of wheat colored linen trimmed in brown suede. At the upper left is one of the newest of the novelty bag styles, a school lunch basket of intriguing straw in a fine, almost fabric-like weave. One of the nice features of these bags is that you'll find them nicely lined with good fabric as well as carefully finished in details.

Easily Cleaned Drapes

These handsome draperies of delicate color on a pure white background do away with all concern about grime, sun and rain. Made of vinylite plastic drapery material in decorator colors and designs, they can do much toward putting attractive window treatments within the reach of modest budgets. Available in a host of patterns, both ready-made and by the yard, the material wipes clean with a damp cloth. It may be used for bedspreads, dust ruffles and dressing table skirts as well as for draperies.

paper colors and use in the drapes. These should be plain so as not to introduce too much design into the room which is apt to look quite a bit smaller with a patterned wall. Certain geometric prints or quaint calico designs are at their best for upholstery. Here again, let this be the only pattern in the room, with drapes and rugs on the plain side.

This, you may feel, makes for too much of a plain impression, but it is part of the over-all impression you are creating. The rug may have interesting texture, even though done in a single, solid color, and this may be true of the drapes, too.

One or two colors in a room are far more effective than three or four. The colors which are related in rugs, upholstery and drapery are essential for beauty, which to a great extent depends upon the principles of unity, balance and harmony.

Even though a home is completely free from prints, it can still be a thing of rare beauty. So much interest in weaves and textures in various fabrics are available today, that beauty may lie in them.

Whenever you choose prints, be certain that the print suits the fabric. Certain prints may be too heavy for sheer fabrics while others may be too fragile for heavy materials. Feel, as well as see them.

How Best to Shop For Curtains, Drapes

Too much money should not be spent on curtains and drapes since these should be changed every five years or so to keep the windows looking attractive. The cost should also be economical since so much more has to be spent on the other furnishings of the room.

When you shop for these window dressings, take along, if at all possible, samples of the wallpaper or wall coloring, threads from the carpet as well as some of the upholstery covering. In this way you can most easily coordinate the room.

Visit other departments of the store in addition to the curtain and drapery section. It's sometimes possible to turn a tablecloth, towel, sheeting or bedspread into attractive window treatments.

The importance of good selection, even at an economy price, is pointed out by that fact that well selected curtains and drapes can revive a room more than any other items.

Whatever the material selected, it should hang well, press easily and wear well.

Where dirt is a prime obstacle in housekeeping, select those fabrics which can be easily laundered, or choose vinylite drapes which can simply be cleaned by wiping with a damp cloth.

Here's a Guide For Selection

Informal rooms are at their best in the casual materials like chintz, dotted Swiss, net, casement cloth, gauze, pongee, calico and gingham. Stately rooms require richer fabrics such as velvet, damask, block-printed linens, metallic cloth, woollens, brocade, silk, rep, satin, velvet and other high grade textiles.

For a man's room, select something in keeping with the ruggedness of the male like natural cottons, monk's cloth, rough novelty cloth, etc. If the man's interest lies in fishing, you might use fish net or a similar fabric. If it's sailing, you can get a sail cloth or a print that's appropriate. Corduroy, tarlatan, bed ticking and other material are also appropriate for sturdy, tailored rooms.

Modern rooms may use the sleek materials or the boldly textured novelty weaves which make for good contrast to the smooth and unadorned furniture and plain walls.

Story of Beans

Spotlighted at the Michigan State Fair

Michigan beans will be spotlighted in the agricultural exhibit at the Michigan State Fair at Detroit, September 2 to 11, according to H. R. Pettigrove, Michigan State College farm crops specialist.

The story of Michigan beans, how varieties are developed, cultural practices required to grow them, how harvested, processed and packed will be told in the exhibit. A feature will be a demonstration of the electric eye grader which sorts good beans from defective ones.

The exhibit, in the agricultural building, is a cooperative effort by many groups including the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Michigan State College, Michigan Bean Shippers association, elevators, growers and processors of the famed Michigan product.

Small cups of baked beans will be served each day with the principal bean growing counties each being responsible for distributing one of the days. County "bean queens" will attend on the day the counties are in charge.

Awards are being offered to farm or city women who can provide the best and most unusual bean dish with recipe.

Pettigrove pointed out that it is planned to feature one of Michigan's principal agricultural crops each year in the agricultural exhibit. Last year potatoes were spotlighted.

Grammar Fascinates Him

When a certain demagogic senator, now happily retired, was holding forth in Washington, he was constantly engaged in feuds with his fellow-legislators, and, in consequence, spent most of his time on the floor of the senate, denouncing various and sundry enemies in potentially picturesque terms.

Whenever this gentleman arose to speak, most of his colleagues fled the chamber; but one, a former college professor, always remained in his seat, listening with profound attention.

"Why," a fellow-member demanded, "do you always stay here to listen to that insufferable wind-bag?"

The professor laughed. "He fascinates me. I have yet to hear him make a grammatical error!"

MANY BOSSES

"Tell me, sir, who is the real boss at your home?"

Slight Handicap

"Now we know that the earth is round," said the schoolmaster. "Tell me, Thomas, would it be possible for you to walk around the earth?"

"No, sir," replied Thomas.

"And why not?"

"Because," was the unexpected reply, "I twisted my ankle playing football."

STATION IDENTIFICATION

Little Boy: "Mama, what was the name of the last station the train stopped at?"

Mother: "Don't bother me, I don't know. Don't you see I'm reading? Why do you ask?"

Little Boy: "Because little brother got off there."

County Planning To Honor Early Quinine Sponsor

ARROW ROCK, MO.—Blatant honor to the memory of an obscure country physician whose courage and learning made possible the opening of much of the nation's frontier is being sought by the D.A.R. of Arrow Rock, Mo.

The doctor is John Sappington, who introduced quinine over the bitter opposition of fellow physicians, to defeat the malaria which in areas like Pike county, Ill., wiped out as much as 80 per cent of the pioneer immigrants in one year.

The D.A.R., through its committee chairman, Miss Mary Turley and Mrs. B. M. Lanham, is seeking the aid of Missouri physicians and others to erect a state memorial shrine to the doctor.

Learned of Quinine

Distressed by the malaria, which 125 years ago threatened to halt settlements of all the Mississippi valley, Dr. Sappington searched the world's medical literature for latest developments in treating the disease. Thus he was among the first to learn of it when two youthful French pharmacists isolated quinine from cinchona bark in Paris in 1820. Three years later, when manufacture of quinine was begun in Philadelphia, Dr. Sappington obtained a supply and after use on his patients knew he had the remedy he had sought so long.

Accordingly, Sappington's son was sent east for 100 ounces and through error, came back with 100 pounds. As other physicians ridiculed the treatment, and the doctor could not use such quantities in his practice, he took the bold step of opening a factory to make anti-fever pills. Soon the magic of the remedy became so well known that bells were rung at eventide in many a pioneer village to remind people to take the pills.

Published Book

When the business was at its height, Dr. Sappington published a book on fevers in which he revealed that quinine was the active ingredient in his magic pills. He advised readers to buy quinine at their drug stores and thus deliberately wrecked his business. His purpose had been accomplished. The threat to national expansion had been thwarted.

At his death, Dr. Sappington left a fund of $20,000 to aid needy students of Saline county, Missouri, to obtain an education. To date, F. C. Barnhill, Marshall, Mo., reports that, with the accrued interest, $217,614.80 has been expended, 12,584 students aided and $85,551.47 still remains.

Yet, despite great services of the country doctor, he lies virtually unhonored in a tomb amid the leaning tombstones of the Arrow Rock cemetery. Now, in long overdue recognition of the doctor's achievements, the D.A.R. has set out to provide a suitable memorial.

Reformed Head Hunter Gets Impressive Sight of N. Y.

NEW YORK.—A barefoot South Sea islander with a blue wool shirt, a GI haircut, and wearing a big smile arrived in New York for his first look at the "big fake place." He found it was the "now me get up no good" of his life.

By that, Robert Salau, 42, son of a reformed Solomon Islands headhunter, meant the biggest city in the world was the biggest surprise of his life.

He was amazed that the Empire State building looked just like the tattered picture he had carried halfway around the world.

It is "high up too much," he declared.

Salau, a Seventh-Day Adventist missionary, arrived on the Mauretania after a visit to England, France, and Switzerland.

Emphasizing his friendly remarks by brandishing an eight-foot war spear, he said his voyage on the big ship was "more better than a war canoe."

About 40 years ago Salau's tribe was persuaded by missionaries to stop chopping off the heads of enemies and also saving the skulls of deceased members of families. During the war Salau and thousands of other converts gave vital information to U.S. marines. He received a citation.

Australia to Divert River On One Side of Mountain

SYDNEY.—Australia is about to undertake the greatest engineering feat in her history, diverting a river on one side of the Australian Alps so that it flows into rivers on the other side.

Headwaters of the Snowy river will be made to flow west and north across the mountains into the upper Murry and Tumut rivers, instead of flowing eastward and southward as the river now does.

Its new artificial course will be cut through the mountains, then directed through natural valleys. It is all part of a huge hydroelectric project to cost Australia 680 million dollars over a period of years.

Cathay

Cathay, a name occasionally given to China in literary use, is often mentioned in Marco Polo's writings. But, the Venetian traveler of six centuries ago explains, it should be applied only to the portion of China north of the Yangtze river—the part which today is largely Communist-held. Manzi is the corresponding name of Marco Polo's time for the domain to the Yangtze's south.

Curtain Holders

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Alleman

Industry is not moving to Michigan Main Street—rural communities under 10,000 population—for sentimental reasons.

When a branch of a city manufacturing concern or a new locally-financed industry decides to locate in a country town, the reasons are invariably based on sound economics. A stable labor supply, preferably tied to the community by worker-owned homes, is a key factor. Transportation is another. Availability of water, electricity and plant facilities are other essentials.

Such are the conclusions of C. M. Dwight Wood, chief of the area development division, state department of economic development, and also Don Weeks, chief of the industrial development division of this agency.

This state department, created during Governor Kim Sigler's administration, has been working with local communities for industrial surveys. A total of 175 cities in the Lower Peninsula are so co-operating. Thirty-seven industrial area surveys have been completed in the Upper Peninsula where 11 new industries have been already attracted.

The principle of "self-help" is emphasized by the state department which serves only as a clearing house for efforts of Michigan communities to get new industries. An illustrated brochure was prepared recently by Yale (Michigan) Chamber of Commerce. The caption evoked much discussion. "Move Here and Escape Atomic Bomb" featured the invitation.

A "Michigan Mirror" survey has produced a variety of interesting evidence showing how many Michigan small towns have prospered through local leadership in attracting new industries. Here is another installment of examples, and a third column appears to be needed for our complete report.

Fire Precaution

Set stoves and heaters on substantial bases well away from walls. Place a sheet of metal under stoves on wooden floors. Protect any nearby woodwork with sheet metal or asbestos. Keep smokepipe clean, in good repair, securely supported, and at least a foot from woodwork or combustible material. When smokepipes pass through a combustible partition use a ventilated thimble with a foot clearance around the pipe.

RESCUE

W. S. C. S. Meeting—

Grant W. S. C. S. met in the church basement Thursday, August 25, for dinner, a program and for quilting. Mrs. John McCallum and Mrs. Catherine Tebeau were hostesses. Dinner was served to about 15 members and friends.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. A. H. Moore, president of the society, and devotionals followed. Ten members responded to roll call by quoting a Bible verse.

Mrs. Lawrence Moore was elected assistant secretary of spiritual life.

Mrs. Frank McCallum was leader of worship for the program, "Burma Diary." Mrs. Arthur Moore was leader of the program. Mrs. Wm. Herin and Mrs. Howard Britt assisted her.

Rainier Anniversary

It is golden jubilee year "where flowers and glaciers meet" in Washington state. Mount Rainier national park is celebrating a fiftieth birthday. Established by act of congress in 1899, the reservation is the fifth oldest of U. S. national parks. Its creation was due largely to the efforts of the National Geographic society, American Association for the Advancement of Science, Geographical Society of America, the Sierra club, and the Appalachian Mountain club.

Peacetime Record

Iron ore production in the United States in 1948 set a peacetime record at 101,350,000 gross tons, nearly nine per cent above the 1947 output, according to a bureau of mines report. This tonnage, the second highest in history, was 4,176,000 tons less than in the top year 1942. All major iron ore producing districts exceeded their 1947 output. Lake Superior mines produced 83,116,000.

Truth is stranger than fiction—in fact, to many it is a perfect stranger.

Chicken Wings Replacing Wings of War at Air Base

SANTA MARIA, CALIF.—The wings of war have given way to chicken wings at Santa Maria air base.

Four years ago 15,000 men lived here in a big "city" of 3,476 acres, but after V-J Day the camp was a ghost town until Santa Maria officials got the idea of converting it into a giant chicken farm.

More than 200,000 broilers and fryers are being fattened in the former barracks and warehouses. Special feed and 24-hour lighting hurry the maturing process, so that each bird lives only 10 weeks from egg to frying pan.

A packing company has leased the base refrigerator building and expects to handle about two million chickens a year.

Cook Takes Long Chance And Defies Holdup Man

CINCINNATI.—A 34-year-old hotel cook took "a long chance" and refused to give up his money—even at the point of a gun.

The chance paid off. He kept his money and the alleged holdup man was jailed.

The intended holdup victim was Robert Pohlman of neighboring Covington, Ky.

He told police a young Negro accosted him as he was walking across an Ohio River bridge from Covington to Cincinnati.

"He pulled a pistol and said: 'Give me your money or I'll shoot,'" Pohlman said. "I told him he was crazy and I kept walking."

The holdup man, apparently angered over Pohlman's failure to obey him, fired a shot into the air and repeated his demand.

Pohlman still refused and ran to the center of the bridge where he flagged down Bridge Patrolman John Waring, who was coming on his motorcycle to investigate the shooting.

When the alleged gunman, later identified as Odel Murphy, 19, Cincinnati, saw Waring, he fled, but the patrolman took him into custody a short distance from the bridge.

Later, Pohlman told newsmen: "I just got mad when he asked for my money but, now that I think it over, I believe I took a long chance."

Eleven Autos Get Involved In Two Traffic Accidents

FORT WORTH, TEX.—Two identical traffic accidents within a short distance and time of each other involved 11 cars and caused numerous smashed grills, dented fenders, and ruffled tempers.

Six cars were stopped nearly bumper-to-bumper while waiting on another motorist to make a left turn at an intersection. A seventh motorist skidded into the rear car, resulting in every car in line bumping into the one ahead.

A similar accident at nearly the same time three blocks away involved four cars.

The want ads are newsy, too.

High Heels

Three centuries ago in western Europe high heels were a requirement of masculine fashion, and most women wore low heels. Cowboys still stick to them.

Weatherproof

Although it has never been cleaned, the stainless steel atop the Empire State building, New York, still has its original luster after some 20 years.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Twenty-five Years Ago
Sept. 5, 1924.

Three and a half years ago, when H. W. Holmes accepted the position of superintendent of schools here, there were enrolled 58 non-resident high school pupils and approximately 90 resident students. When school opened this week, the total high school enrollment was 150 pupils, 80 of whom were non-resident and 70 resident.

H. D. Schiedel has accepted a position with a Royal Oak wholesale company specializing in doors, windows and interior finish. Mr. and Mrs. Schiedel and family expect to move to their new home in Royal Oak next week.

Mrs. John Schwaderer left this week for Dexter where she will be employed this year as a teacher in the public schools. Mrs. Geo. Gekeler manages her restaurant during her absence.

F. E. Kelsey has accepted the position as manager of the Farm Produce Co.'s elevator business and will commence his duties there next week.

Grey F. Lenzner left Thursday for Kirksville, Mo., where he will pursue a course of study at the Andrew T. Still College of Osteopathy and Surgery.

At the meeting of the missionary society of the M. E. Church Friday at the A. H. Higgins home, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. A. H. Kinnaid, president; Mrs. R. S. Proctor, vice president; Mrs. J. M. Dodge, secretary; Miss Bertha Wood, treasurer.

Thirty-five Years Ago
Sept. 4, 1914.

The farm laborers of Michigan work on an average of 9 hours and 34 minutes per day, according to a report which was issued by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Michigan farms employ 147,000 laborers and the average monthly compensation is $24.90 with board and $35.00 if the laborer boards himself. These figures relate to the year of 1913.

A great portion of the new machinery for the municipal electric light and water works plant was unloaded Monday. Supt. Straube stated at the council meeting Monday that in all probability the moving of the plant into the new power house on West Pine St., would be commenced soon after the Cass City Fair. The job of moving the machinery and boilers from the old to the new building and moving the coal sheds was let to Martin Anthes for $200.00.

Another sweeping victory in the war on poor roads is reported on the highway between the fourth and fifth mile corners west of Cass City. Because of the rainy weather just a few of the most seasoned and enthusiastic warriors appeared. At noon, these were joined by more volunteers from Cass City and during the day 137 loads of gravel were loaded and spread on the highways. Wednesday, extra re-inforcements joined the regiment of shovellers and 26 teams were used in hauling the gravel. During the afternoon when the largest force of the day was in the pit, Chas. Hargraves, the official timekeeper, reported that the record made by shovellers was four wagons loaded in two minutes. The number of loads hauled Wednesday was 215. Thursday morning, the work of loading the gravel wagons was in the hands of the light infantry, a company of 25 Cass City High School boys. Joseph Dodge, the commander-in-chief of the pit regiment, said he thought the boys would be good for shoveling 220 loads of gravel that day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ward, who left Cass City the first week in August, on a trip to Oklahoma with wagon and team, came back here Wednesday. They drove within 40 miles of the Michigan state line when they decided to return home. Short crops in Oklahoma influenced their decision.

New Technique

"How the deuce," asked the officer on the rifle range, "did you get those four straight bulls? Your range is 600 yards, but your sight is set at 300."

Said the recruit: "See that little rock halfway along? Well, I'm bouncing 'em off that."

Poor Memory

A suburbanite whose clock had run down was sending his boy to town to get the correct time.

"But Pa, I can't bring the correct time. I have no watch."

"What do you want a watch for? If you can't remember, write it down on a piece of paper."

ROBERT TEE LEE

Son: "Dad, was Tee Lee, the robber they sing about, a Chinaman?"

Dad (puzzled): "Tee Lee?"

What song is about him?"

Son: "Oh, Dad, you know that song, 'Waiting for the robber Tee Lee!'"

Work Saver

First Bride: "I've got my husband where he eats out of my hand."

Second bride: "I wish I could do that. It certainly would save a lot of dishwashing, wouldn't it?"

Problem in Finance

The absent-minded customer started out of the restaurant without paying his check and the sweet young thing at the cashier desk said: "Hey, Doc. Just how do you want to finance this?"

Dust Me Off!

Little Dickie's mother, trying to talk him into a bath, urged, "Surely you want to be a clean little boy, don't you?"

"Yes, tearfully agreed Dick, 'but couldn't you just dust me?'"

Farm Bureau Notes—

The West Side Farm Bureau women met at the Pinnebog schoolhouse Friday afternoon, August 26, with about 50 women present, representing 20 Farm Bureau groups. Mrs. Earl Retford of Owendale, chairman, gave a talk on the "Fair Kitchen." General chairman, Mrs. Toppin of Harbor Beach, discussed the many details pertaining to the meals to be served to the 4-H boys and girls at the Bad Axe Fair. The money taken in will be given towards the 4-H club building. and four hotels, besides the usual stores. Business life was very active and progressive those days in the Saginaw Bay village.

She was first married to William Lloyd and after his death, she was married to M. L. Moore in 1891.

In 1894, Mr. and Mrs. Moore moved from Cassville to Cass City. Here Mr. Moore represented the express company as its agent. It was the days before the parcel post and the express business involved a large volume of incoming and outgoing shipments. Mrs. Moore resumed her occupation of trimming and selling women's hats, conducting a millinery business here for 14 years.

Mr. Moore died in 1915. Mrs. Moore had no children of her own but seven step-children found her to be a real mother to them.

While in the seventies, Mrs. Moore made several trips from Michigan to Texas. She entered upon these across nation trips with anticipations of pleasure and no hesitation or timidity.

Mrs. Moore is mentally alert and enjoys reasonably good health. She does most of her own work and enjoys quilting, her daily newspaper and radio.

economics exhibits were displayed in vegetable hall, while 4-H and FFA crops and garden exhibits filled a large tent near the fairgrounds' main gate.

Sixty boys and 14 girls exhibiting 4-H projects were provided sleeping accommodations in the dormitory of the Wilber Memorial 4-H building. The above boys and girls as well as a large number of other 4-H club members and parents were served meals in the 4-H building dining room during fair week. The meals were prepared and served by members of the Tuscola 4-H Mothers' Club, recently organized to provide this service for 4-H club members.

A highlight of the week at the 4-H building was its dedication in memory of the late Norris W. Wilber, former Tuscola County agricultural agent who died last February. The dedication program included talks by A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H club leader; Mrs. Irma Hicks, Deford, local 4-H club leader; and the unveiling of a large sign outside the building by Mrs. Norris Wilber and her son, John Wilber. Work on the memorial sign was donated by Don Ellwanger of Caro.

Norman Waggoner, Caro High School vocation agriculture instructor, was in charge of the crops and garden tent, assisted by Wm. Tulloch, Vassar, vocational agriculture teacher, while Roy Benson and Harold Bentley, vocational agriculture instructors at Cass City and Mayville, respectively, assisted County Agent Loren Armbruster in supervising the livestock stables and judging. The exhibits in Vegetable Hall were supervised by Miss Jean Gillies, county home demonstration agent, and Byron Carpenter, county 4-H club agent.

Mrs. Gillies Was Member of Echo Chapter 25 Years

Mrs. Sarah Gillies, 81, long time resident of Novesta Township, died Thursday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Holcomb, in Detroit. She had lived with her grandson, Gordon Holcomb, in Garden City since April.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 3:30 p. m. in the Douglas Funeral Home. Rev. Howard Woodward of the Church of Christ, of which she was a member, officiated and burial was made in Novesta cemetery. Officers of Echo Chapter No. 357, O. E. S., had charge of the grave service. Mrs. Gillies had been a member of the chapter for more than 25 years.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Archibald McArthur and was born in Rodney, Ont., on May 20, 1866, one of a family of nine children. At the age of nine years, she came to Novesta Township with her parents. In 1894 at Caro she was married to Alexander Gillies. Mr. Gillies died in 1905 and since that time she has lived with her brother, Duncan McArthur.

Surviving besides her daughter, Mrs. Cassie Holcomb, and her brother, are five grandsons and two great grandchildren. A son, Donald, also preceded her in death.

Mrs. Read Died Unexpectedly Thurs.

Funeral services for Mrs. Percy Read, 61, Novesta Township resident, were held Sunday at 1:30 p. m. in the Church of Christ. Rev. Howard Woodward officiated and burial was made in Novesta cemetery.

Mrs. Read, who had been poorly, died unexpectedly Thursday night in her home.

Emma Mae McCool, was the daughter of the late Walter and Margaret Ann Burns McCool and was born Nov. 6, 1887, in Kingston Township. Jan. 1, 1919, at Shabbona she was married to Mr. Read. Besides her husband and two daughters, Maxine and Annabelle Read, both of Bay City, she is survived by a son, Leo McLean, of Decker, by a former marriage. A son also preceded her in death.

Lean Pigs Are More Profitable Says Meat Specialist

There's no money in lard, says Lyman Bratzler, meats specialist at Michigan State College. And he takes out a stubby pencil to do a little figuring and show why it pays farmers to sell their hogs at lighter weights.

Hog numbers are up all over the country. The use of vegetable oils has cut the demand for lard as has use of synthetic materials in soap making. So the demand for lard is low.

Result is that packers have to sell lean meat for a high price to pay for the low value fat. When hogs are selling for about 18 cents a pound, the fat on the live hog is worth only a third of that amount. Some packers, Bratzler reports, say they get more lean meat from a 200 pound hog than they do from a 300 pound hog. A 300 pounder will produce almost twice the lard a 200 pound hog will.

Bratzler believes farmers can't expect packers to pay good prices for a heavy hog when it dresses out so much of a low-priced product. Breeders have gone a long way toward developing a lean-type hog, but the present answer seems to be in selling smaller hogs.

Corn may be plentiful, but the farmers who continue to feed hogs to heavier weight are adding more headaches to the meat industry which cannot find an outlet for the surplus fat, Bratzler thinks.

Application Forms For Veteran's Special Dividend Available

Application forms for the special dividend on National Service Life Insurance authorized by the Veterans Administration will be available at the Tuscola County Chapter Red Cross Office after August 29, in the basement of the court house, Donald Ellwanger, the chapter's home service chairman, has announced.

The dividend is not automatic, Ellwanger pointed out, and each veteran must fill out one of these application forms. In general, any veteran who kept his National Service Life Insurance in force for three months or more will be eligible to receive a dividend.

The exact amounts which each policy-holder will receive are not known at this time, Ellwanger said. The Veterans Administration will work that out between now and the first of the year when the first dividend payments will be made.

Ellwanger emphasized that veterans should not write to the Veterans Administration about their dividends. "We are assured by the Veterans Administration," he said, "that this will only cause delay in payment. The veteran should not communicate with the Veterans Administration on this matter except to send in the appli-
