Rotary Works for World Peace

Rotary Clubs in 82 countries throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace. That was the message of Samuel Ball, of Bay City, governor of District 220 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Cass City Tuesday, following a conference with local Rotary officers, directors and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 7,000 clubs in their own communities to promote this objective, Mr. Ball explained, during the next three years Rotary International will spend $750,000.00 principally to create better understanding among the peoples of different nations. One of the principal ways in which this money will be spent will be on Rotary Foundation Fellowships, which enable outstanding graduate students to study abroad for one year as ambassadors of good will. Since this program was established in 1947, 111 fellowships have been awarded to students in 27 countries, with grants totaling more than $250,000.

"Devoted to service, Rotary provides a common ground for 330,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of nationalities or political or religious beliefs," the Rotary district governor emphasized.

He said that there is a striking parallel between the program of Rotary and the United Nations Charter, and that, since the organization of the United Nations in 1945, Rotary Clubs throughout the world have been active in the development of an informal public opinion on the objectives of the United Nations in an endeavor to make it an effective instrument for free peoples everywhere.

Czech Army Clamps Taboo On Pin-ups for Soldiers

PRAGUE. — The Czechoslovak army has outlawed the pin-up girl. No longer will the otherwise dreary barracks of the Soviet soldier be graced with pictures of the "wolf whistle induction" type.

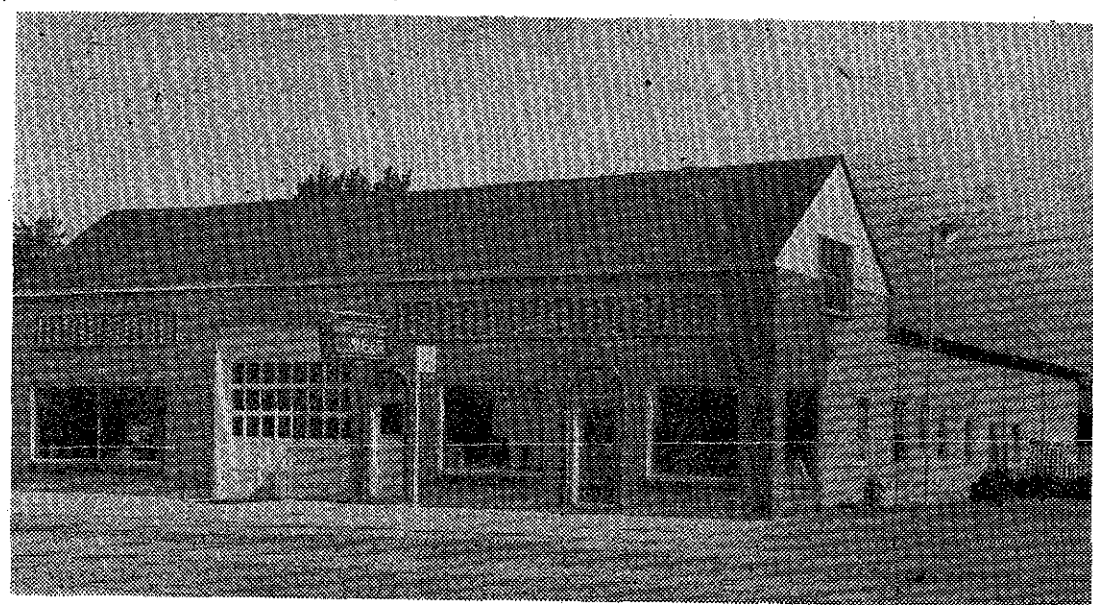

Also, there will be no more talk or tales of fairies in the Czech schoolrooms.

The army decreed that, in place of pictures of shapely cuties wearing not much of anything, the soldiers should put up in their barracks "slogans, pictures of shock workers, and examples of our fighting tradition."

A shock worker is an eager beaver whose production is above average.

The army newspaper, Obrán Lidu, announcing the decree, said, "The bathing beauty can be a model for American and British soldiers, but not for the Czech soldiers of the peoples' democratic army."

The newspaper said that one "model company" had been demoted already because the men posted pictures of scantily clad women in the barracks.

SHORT STORY

A Prince Can Laugh

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

A WEEK after I established residence in Seabrook, Ray Quimper, my next door neighbor took time off to drive me around the town and show me the points of interest. Toward evening he stopped his car before a driveway that led up to a huge brick house on top of Drybridge Hill. It was the only brick building in town and could be seen for miles around. I had wondered about it since the day of my arrival.

"The home of Prince Alexander Molevich Deborin," he explained.

I looked at him curiously, sensing that this was a proud moment for Ray. He had saved the brick house until last, like a child relishing the last morsel.

"Of course," Ray explained further "he has a city home too. But the fact is he spends the greater part of his time out here. He craves solitude."

"Are you sure? I mean, wouldn't it be fitting to let the man know you're glad to have him as a citizen?"

"We've tended to that," Ray said importantly. "Three days after his arrival a committee made up of leading citizens waited on the prince and extended him a formal welcome." He regarded me sagely.

"We're smart enough not to antagonize the man by pestering him to death."

On the day of which I write I was removing the storm windows from my house, for spring was near and the day was bright and warm. The prince came strolling along my street and stopped, oddly enough, at the end of my drive to watch. I perceived him from the corner of my eye, though gave no indication that I had seen. After a moment or two, much to my satisfaction, he turned in at the drive and came slowly toward me. At this precise moment the stepladder on which I was standing tilted precariously and the window I was removing threatened to tumble to the ground.

I uttered a cry of alarm, turned, perceived the prince as if for the first time, and shouted to him for aid. Involuntarily, he leaped forward and steadied the ladder until I had descended.

"Pshaw!" I grinned. "That was a close call."

"It was indeed," he replied. "Would you mind holding the ladder for me on this window over here?" He seemed a little surprised.

Three windows I removed while he steadied the ladder.

prised, but agreed to lend his assistance. He proved as good a helper as I could have asked for. Three windows I removed while he steadied the ladder and helped me lower them to the ground. We chatted amiably about the weather.

"I turned to him, grinning. "Thanks a lot. I don't know how I would have managed without you."

"Really?" He seemed to appreciate my compliment. "Frankly, I've enjoyed it, not only the work, but our little visit. He hesitated. "You are new in town, aren't you?"

"Comparatively," I said. "It's a mighty nice town. Folks are all like yourself. Ready and willing to lend a hand when help is needed."

I smiled happily. "The fact that I know your name, Prince Alexander, proves a little theory of my own."

He stared in astonishment. "You know who I am? You knew when you asked me to help remove the windows?"

I nodded. "Your philosophy and mine have a good deal in common, Prince. And that is, that you're no different from the rest of us. I'd even venture to say that you are quite unhappy living up there in your castle so far removed from everybody. To prove that I am right, I'm going to ask you a question. Tomorrow I'm going fishing. How would you like to come along?"

"I'd like to very much," he said. "But we must keep it a secret from the rest of the people. It would be a pity to destroy their illusion."

I agreed, winking at him knowingly, and the prince and I then and there shared a hearty laugh.

Farm Bureau Camp For Five Counties

A Farm Bureau camp for women of Sanilac, Huron, Lapeer, St. Clair and Tuscola counties at Sleeper State Park was headquarters for interesting programs and activities on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 1 and 2. The topic was, "Understanding Women of Other Countries."

After the noon lunch on Saturday, the program included a speech by Senator Edwin Klump on, "Women's Interests in Legislative Affairs." Mrs. C. H. Montrose, director of family welfare council of Windsor, Ontario, spoke on the subject, "Canadian Women and Their Problems."

P. project were also shown. Sunday started with a morning worship service. Mrs. Louise Carpenter, director of International House at M. S. C., spoke on "World Understanding."

STATE CONSERVATION COMMISSIONER DIED SUDDENLY SATURDAY

a six-year term. A heart condition kept him from attending all but one meeting of the commission since taking that office.

Actively interested in fish and game conservation, Mr. Champion was a member of the Clare Rod and Gun club, Gratiot County Conservation club, Pigeon Conservation club, Tuscola County Conservation club, and the Bay County Conservation and Gun club.

A sportsman and hunter since he was 12 years old, the game commissioner's favorite sport was duck shooting, with deer hunting a close second.

With his neighbor he controlled a mile-square section bordering on Saginaw Bay which they kept closed to hunting as a sanctuary for pheasants and other game. They did not hunt the tract themselves.

Mr. Champion's keen interest in duck hunting made him a strong advocate of acquiring more public access to sites along Saginaw Bay and other Michigan waters to permit the enjoyment of duck hunting and fishing by the average sportsman. Conservation education for young people was another matter that won strong support from the game commissioner.

Surviving are his widow; a son, James R., of Cass City; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Maitland Peterson, of Bay City, and Mrs. James Champion, of Cass City; a sister, Mrs. Edith Bardwell, of Cass City; two brothers, Clifton, of Cass City, and Frank, of St. Louis, Mich.; and two grandchildren.

Pallbearers at the funeral Tuesday were Curtis Hunt, Dr. H. T. Donahue, M. B. Auten, Stanley Asher, E. B. Schwaderer, and Andrew Bigelow.

Honorary pallbearers included Joseph Rahilly of Newberry, Donald McLouth of Detroit, and Richard Fletcher of Bay City, all members of the Michigan Conservation Commission, and Mr. Osgood, secretary of the commission.

Among friends who came from distant points to attend the funeral were Governor G. Mennen Williams and his secretary, Larry Farrell, and P. J. Hoffmaster, all of Lansing; B. Blessed, Lee Cramer, and Wm. Penn of Detroit and Thos. Wolcott of Flint, all four representatives of Walker & Co. of Detroit; and Howard Cogan, exalted ruler, and T. C. Hughes, secretary of the Elks Lodge in Bay City. Also present were eight conservation officers in uniform.

Science

Big Things, Small Measure

PHILADELPHIA. — Some of the "biggest things" to be achieved in engineering in the next few years will be measured in millionths of an inch!

Dr. Haakon Styri, research director for SKF Industries, makes that prediction in giving this year's college engineering graduates a career tip. Gauges that can record accurately down to a millionth of an inch are needed more and more by virtually every type of industry today, he said, because today's mass-production techniques demand equipment that can make fast and accurate checks on the precise machining of thousands of mass-produced parts so they can fit where they are supposed to without individual cutting and fitting.

"New and better gauging equipment is in greater demand now than ever," said the SKF scientist. He noted that 40 years ago measurements of one ten-thousandth of an inch were considered the ultimate in perfection, whereas now it's possible to determine these to within a few millionths of an inch.

Bride and Groom to Become Missionaries

Fall flowers, leaves and palms graced the altar of the Cass City Baptist Church Saturday evening, Oct. 1, for a lovely candlelight wedding in which Miss Anna Jean Mitchell became the bride of John R. Wood. Rev. Arnold Olsen read the double ring ceremony before about 150 relatives and friends.

Miss Mitchell is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Mitchell and the late Harry S. Mitchell of Decker and Mr. Wood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wood.

Mrs. John W. Wood of Streator, Ill.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Hugh, wore a gown of white satin with fitted bodice buttoned down the back and ending in a bustle. She wore a finger-tip veil, edged with lace which was attached to a tiara of seed pearls and carried a white Bible, topped with an orchid.

Miss Jennie Mosure of Port Huron, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in an aqua gown and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums with a matching headpiece.

Misses Ellen and Donna Mitchell, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids and were dressed in corresponding gowns of peach and lemon with matching headpieces. They also carried bouquets of chrysanthemums.

Albert Kennedy of Chicago was best man and the other attendants were Larry Darling of Chicago and Wm. Childs of Mt. Pleasant.

Miss Bonnie Galvin of Rochester sang, "Since Thou Art Mine," and "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us." She was accompanied by Mrs. Robert Bearss of Grand Rapids.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mitchell wore a navy blue suit with black accessories. Mrs. Wood, mother of the groom, also wore blue with black accessories and both had corsages of gardenias.

After the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors. When the young couple left on a wedding trip through the North, the bride was wearing a Glen plaid suit with matching accessories. Both are graduates of Moody Bible Institute and plan to become home missionaries in the state of Colorado after the first of the next year.

Saginaw River Flood Control Report Coming Next Year

The Army Engineer flood control survey report on the Saginaw River basin will be completed during the next 12 to 15 months, Col. Louis J. Rumaggi, Detroit district engineer, told about 100 Saginaw Valley Regional Planning Commission members and guests at its September meeting in Saginaw last week. "Engineering surveys in the field are completed and economic surveys of floor losses and other benefits are finished at Saginaw, Flint, Midland, Owosso, Corunna, Flushing, Vassar, Frankenmuth, and the crew is now working in the Sanilac flats area. Possible plans for flood control works at these locations are now being studied and developed," the engineer stated.

Rumaggi said numerous meetings with commission representatives and local officials in the Saginaw Valley will be necessary during the next few months, and suggested the commission proceed with the organization of an agency in the valley authorized to furnish assurances of local cooperation required by the federal flood control law.

Wm. E. Dennison, commission chairman, reported the commission would require appropriations totalling $11,750 to finance its work next year. "We have made excellent progress with our projects in the Saginaw, Kalamazoo and Au Gres basins and the Maple River in the Grand River basin and have a tremendous amount of work to do during the coming year. It cannot be accomplished unless funds for staff and travel are available. Even though most counties are hard pressed for funds, I am confident they will continue to support our commission," Dennison stated.

Congressman Fred L. Crawford of Saginaw said it was important the commission continue to function until a flood control district was created. He warned those present not to become impatient, and pointed out the survey will be completed in time to obtain a Congressional authorization to construct the project during the 1951 session. "The Michigan delegation will do everything possible to speed up action in Washington," Crawford said.

Representative David E. Young of Saginaw, chairman of an Interim Legislative Committee on Water Resources, said his committee would seek legislation needed to create a local valleywide flood control district with all the authority necessary to meet federal requirements.

Corn Acreage

American corn growers intend to plant 1.6 per cent less acreage than they planted last year. The difference amounts to 2,167 square miles, and an area equivalent to several Illinois counties, or double that of the entire state of Rhode Island.

Home sewers don't have to fumble around for pins if a small pin cushion is fastened to the wrist with a piece of elastic. Make a diagonal one that will stand up on the wrist.

Health Unaffected By Soil Fertility Status Of Land Not Disease Cause

Any statement that cancer, arthritis or heart disease are increasing because the foods we eat are raised on mineral-starved land is hogwash according to specialists on the subject.

An article in Successful Farming magazine contends there is more oratory than knowledge about the effects of soil fertility on human health. The experts talked to doctors of the soil, doctors of plants, doctors of humans, nutrition experts and evangelists who say we are facing "race suicide."

It was pointed out that heart disease is often linked to diet, but not because food is of poor quality. Rather stoutness and heart disease show a correlation.

As to arthritis and cancer, millions will call you blessed if you can show definitely how to stop them through diet. Meanwhile, it is dishonest to give the false hope that soil treatment can cure these diseases.

Other myths blasted in the article are (1) that the baby won't have good bones if its formula is made of milk from a cow whose feed was deficient in phosphorus and calcium; (2) that the adult won't build muscle and blood from beefsteak devoid of protein-building minerals and iron; (3) that all chemical fertilizers are poison and that compost and earthworms are the only means of soil enrichment we should use; and (4) that we are being starved to death because the grains, fruits and vegetables we eat come from soils which lack needed minerals.

Discussing starvation from a mineral deficiency in foods, it is asked why we have a generation-by-generation increase in the size of the bony structure of our young people if we are mineral-starved.

So far as scientists know, man needs some 12 mineral elements for growth. Ruminant animals need cobalt, to make B<sub>12</sub>. Plants also need 13 mineral elements, 11 of them the same as needed for man and animals. Except for cobalt and iodine, plants won't grow unless all the man-needed minerals are present, according to the article.

As to statements that some milk is low in phosphorus and calcium, it is said a cow will take calcium from her own bones and put it in her milk if her diet is low in calcium. As that supply runs low, she will give less and less milk. But it will contain honest weight in minerals. When her mineral supply is gone, she quits giving milk and often dies from the effects of robbing her body.

A fertilized farm will produce more milk than one unfertilized—but not better milk. That's because it produces more grass. There is no evidence to prove the grass is any better, blade for blade.

Champ Milker

Evelyn Frazer, 10, of Watertown, N. Y., displays her technique in winning the 1949 grand championship milking title at the dairyland festival by milking 11.8 pounds in two minutes. The contest climaxed a week of parades and pageants at Watertown in the heart of New York's great milkshed.

Contour Crop Plantings Saves Soil, Boosts Yield

Topsoil can be saved and crop yields boosted by planting crops on the contour instead of up and down the slope. Each furrow makes a tiny dam that prevents the swift runoff of water. By holding back the water, these dams allow time for the soil to soak up moisture. When contouring is teamed with cover crops and adequate fertilization, top soil conservation benefits result.

The want ads are newsy, too.

Meeting adjourned. Wilma S. Fry, Clerk.

Edison's Modesty

Thomas A. Edison's capacity for concentration and hard work was exceeded only by his modesty. Once, upon being complimented as an inventive genius, he replied: "I'm a good sponge. I absorb ideas and put them to use. Most of my ideas belonged first to other people who didn't bother to develop them."

Cross-Eyes

A cross-eyed condition is not always easily recognized. If neglected, it may cause loss of vision in the out-of-line eye. For this eye is likely to be used less and less until, in many cases, it becomes blind. Then it may resume its normal position.

A&P, TOO, TAKES OFF ITS HAT TO MR. C. WHIT BLOUNT OF WAYNESBORO, GEORGIA

-AND TO ALL OUR OTHER GOOD COMPETITORS WHO HAVE TAKEN A SIMILAR STAND

[ An Editorial From The Atlanta Journal, Thursday, Sept. 29, 1949 ]

Competitor Denounces Suit Against A&P

THE BOLD three-column advertisement in the current issue of the Waynesboro True Citizen catches the reader's eye. We quote it in full.

To our notion that advertisement by C. Whit Blount states the economic and governmental aspects of the case against A&P with a clarity and forcefulness that most of the editorial comment has lacked.

Also it strikes us as a fine example of sportsmanship in business.

Incidentally, it is about as effective an advertisement as could have been written for Mr. Blount's "Groceteria".

Makes you sort of wish you were in Waynesboro to trade with him, doesn't it?

A Word For Our Competitor The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

There has been a move by the anti-trust department of the Federal Government to destroy our leading competitor, the A&P Food Store.

It may seem odd, but we are opposed to this move.

The A&P Co., is definitely our strongest competitor - they keep us hopping. But, we are still in business - And Expanding. We do it by selling quality merchandise, buying at a close margin and selling at CLOSER margin.

The so called "trust-busters" charge that the A&P Co. control some of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they hold the cost price down on foods.

WELL, WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS??

If A&P holds the costs down, it makes our suppliers hold their costs down to the same competitive level. They can sell cheaper, AND SO CAN WE.

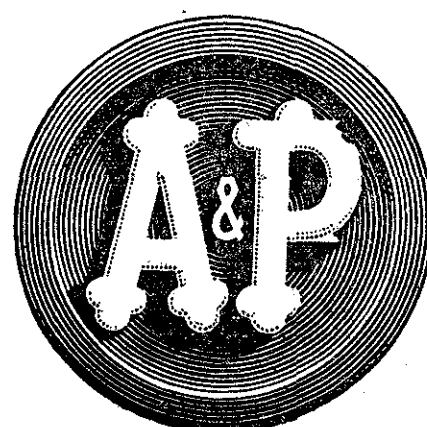

We intend to continue to try to sell better merchandise than A&P; We also will continue to have competitive prices.

BUT, We don't believe the government, or any individual should try to break up a firm that is doing a good, clean, efficient job of serving the people of this country.

Fruit of Cashew
Cashew nut, so popular in this country, is actually the poisonous fruit of the cashew tree of Brazil and Central America, says The World Book encyclopedia. The tree is closely related to the American poison ivy and people are often painfully poisoned by allowing their skin to come in contact with some of its parts. This toxic ingredient is entirely removed from the kernels by roasting before they are shipped to this country.

Fashions in Strip Steel
About 1859, ladies' hoop skirts created a demand for flat wire in America. Supplying the fashion gave birth to this country's cold rolled strip steel industry.

Bright Garnish
A clever garnish for pork chop platter: Cut a cucumber into one-half inch slices. Again cut each slice, but not quite through, then slip a thin slice of red radish into the cucumber.

NOAH'S ARK

Many Getting Search Fever

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Once again the "Noah's ark fever" as it is called in eastern Turkey has been rising in the hearts of Bible students. For nearly 25 centuries eager explorers have been scaling the "dome of eternal ice," of Great Ararat mountain in the hope of finding Noah's homemade craft.

Many have talked about seeing the ark, but who has seen it? About 500 years before Jesus, a priest of Mesopotamia, Berossus by name, declared that he had heard of men climbing up the ark and scraping off its pitch coating to be used for medicines and charms. The ark was designed to be 300 cubits long (439½ feet), so it required a good deal of caulking material. It is regrettable that those early hunters could not have brought down a little piece of the wooden hull so that its gopherwood could have been identified. No one knows what gopherwood is.

Seek More Data
Right now several Bible students and amateur scientists are seeking more explicit information. These men arrived in Turkey and announced they were heading for the frigid Ararat summits despite the frowns of the Soviet neighbors. The Ararat peaks, known as "Great" and "Little," are far in an eastern corner of Turkey where Iran and Soviet Armenia come together. The Russians fear that the explorers merely want to take a peek over the iron curtain.

"It is quite enough to look at a map to understand the real meaning of the biblical amusements of these Anglo-American imperialists," the Moscow newspaper Pravda asserted recently. "The true purposes of such an expedition are as far from archeology as Egerton Sykes is from Great Grandfather Noah."

Turks Unimpressed
Sykes, a leader of the present expedition, is a white-haired, rough and ready amateur of the sciences. He was a British diplomat courier during the war and was caught in the German invasion of Poland. After the war he looked for the fabled lost continent of Atlantis. He believes that the flood which Noah survived may have been part of "a vast cosmic disaster" that brought death to the lost continent. He is the more convinced because he has found some 600 flood legends in the lore of many nations.

A year ago the search for Noah's ark was spurred by new tales from the Ararat hills. A farmer told his neighbors that he had seen a ship's prow protruding from a canyon of ice and snow. Because of the unusually warm summer of 1948, he explained, there was a greater melting than at any other time in memory, and therefore the strange object was partly revealed. Other peasants climbed the mountain and saw the prow, it was said, but none of them had cameras to record the sight. Then the snows came and buried the ship again. The Ararat summit is now covered the year around, and is only accessible during a few weeks of August and September.

Population of Lithuania
The present population of Lithuania within its actual boundaries of 1939, the regions of Vilnius and Klaipeda inclusive, is estimated at 2,700,000. (The population of Lithuania within the same boundaries was 3,032,863 in 1939.) The present population figure includes more than 200,000 Soviet-imported Russian settlers, and units of the Red army, the MVD, and the MGB. Most of the Russian settlers are to be found in the cities, and especially in the regions of Vilnius and Klaipeda.

Army's Assistant Boss Gets Nickname 'Sugar'
WASHINGTON. — The newly-installed assistant secretary of the army had a new nickname—and his boss a red face.
The nickname: "Sugar."
It began when army secretary Gordon Gray dictated a telegram inviting guests to witness the swearing in of Archibald S. Alexander as assistant secretary. The middle name is Stephens.
In the background is the army's well-known phonetic alphabet for identifying initials and spelling out words—such as "A for Able, B for Baker, C for Charlie and S for Sugar."
Here's what Alexander's friends received from Gray:
"You are cordially invited to attend the swearing in of Mr. Archibald Sugar Alexander as assistant secretary of the army . . ."

Bass Takes Forefinger Of Fish Resort Owner
PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis. — "Are they biting," inquired a prospective renter of a fishing boat at the C. M. Brooks boat livery on the Mississippi river at McGregor, Iowa, opposite this city.
"They sure are," came the emphatic answer.
Brooks wasn't fooling—they sure had been "biting." Just a short time before, Brooks had been leaning over the edge of the dock, pulling out grass clinging to the float. With a swirl in the water, a black bass grabbed his forefinger, held on, and was lifted part way out of the water before it let go.
"It was about 12 inches long," Brooks said. "Bass have no teeth, so it didn't hurt." Then, with a grin, "the saying is it ain't a story if dog bites man, but it is a story if man bites dog. How about it when a fish bites man?"

Samuel F. Bigelow was elected village president by the village council Monday evening to succeed James H. Hays, who recently resigned from that office.

At a meeting of the Cass City Band at the home of the band leader, Joseph Benkelman, north-east of town, Tuesday evening, F. Lenzner, the instructor, grew reminiscent and related tales of 35 years ago when Cass City's first band was organized and met for practice in the old Walmsley schoolhouse then situated but a short distance from the Benkelman home. One instance stood out vividly among the others in Mr. Lenzner's mind. It was a practice the old band had in the schoolhouse on an exceptionally fine evening when the beats of the bass drum were heard by A. G. Houghton in a lumber camp up the Cass River nine miles away. Mr. Houghton played the snare drum in the band those days and told the boys afterwards the selection played and the time of night, thus corroborating the statements made. Leonard Buehrly was the bass drummer and he beat it lustily. Other members of the old band were Solomon, Samuel and Chas. Striffler, Samuel and John Benkelman, John, Samuel and Frank Lenzner and George Kolb. C. O. Lenzner was the first instructor.

Sunday was the first time in 35 years that the brothers and sisters of the Schwaderer family were together. They met at the John Schwaderer home to celebrate his sixty-fifth birthday.

The Anketell Lumber and Coal Co. is building an addition, 22 by 80 feet, to its lumber warehouse at Cass City.

A BIG ENGINE IS WORTH MORE BUT..

in the Model C
it Costs Less

The work capacity of an engine is measured by its piston displacement. That means the size and number of pistons and the distance they travel in the cylinders.

The Model C has a 125-cubic inch engine. Compare that with other tractors in the same price range.

Stop in and ask for Model C information—or better yet, ask to see what this tractor will do on your farm.

The Home of Fine
Clothing and Shoes

Michigan public schools have gone a long way since the little red schoolhouse of grandfather's time.
State aid to school districts and teacher retirement will be approximately $140 millions during 1949-50. Local taxes will provide an additional $75 million for operating purposes, giving an average of $215 for each of the 1,050,000 children now enrolled.

The current year is witnessing the greatest school construction program in more than 20 years.
That's saying a lot!
Furthermore, teachers' salaries are expected to reach an average of $3,400 per year, an increase of $200 over last year. This means better qualified teachers and fewer overloaded classrooms since the teacher shortage is not as serious as it was during the past few years.

As Dr. Lee M. Thurston sees the situation from the focal point of state superintendent of public instruction, "Michigan education is looking up. We have more money, more classrooms and more children."
"Enrollments in parochial and private schools will undoubtedly exceed 200,000, making a total of 1,250,000 children enrolled in the various schools for elementary and secondary children."
"Enrollments are following a pattern similar to the pattern following World War I when there was an increase of from 15,000 to 35,000 a year."

"The classroom and school building situation which has been almost at a standstill since 1935 will also show substantial improvement this year. In 1945 only $3,000,000 was spent for new school buildings and additions; in 1946, $4,000,000; in 1947, $6,000,000; in 1948, $12-000,000."

"The year 1949 will probably witness the greatest construction program in more than 20 years.
From January 1, 1949, to June 30, 1949, the Municipal Finance commission approved $30,000,000 in bond issues for new school buildings or additions."

"About 50 per cent of the construction will be in additions and improvements, the other 50 per cent in new buildings. The total need for school building construction to eliminate half-day sections, basement rooms and to provide safe, healthful buildings for all children over the next ten years is about $400,000,000."

"While the sum being spent in 1949-50 will not remedy all the situations, it will represent a good start and eliminate many of the almost impossible situations that exist today."

"Most of this increase in enrollment will be in the elementary grades since high school enrollments have been approximately stable for the last five years. It is likely, however, that with fewer jobs for high school youth there will also be another increase in the secondary schools."

"There is still a teacher shortage in the elementary field but an adequate supply in the high school grades. It has also been found that teachers' salaries are encouraging teachers to improve their own educational background, since the records of the 22 teacher-training institutions in the state show that almost 10,000 regularly employed teachers are continuing their education through summer and extension courses."

Next week in the Michigan Mirror: An interview with Dr.
Thurston about Michigan high schools, junior colleges, adult education and other phases of the Michigan public school program.

This and That

Two business changes on Main St. were made the first of the month. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Albee are newcomers into this community, having purchased the Seelye Hardware and Furniture.
They have three children, two boys and a girl. The boys have entered school this week and are looking forward to lots of fun making use of the playground facilities at Recreation Park. George Spiers is the new manager of the Standard Oil Co.'s service station. He comes from Detroit, but formerly lived in Novesta so he is not new in these parts. Welcome, new business people!

Miss Patty Tate, student at the Baptist Bible School and School of Theology in Grand Rapids, came home for the week end and, of course, attended the football game here Friday night. Patty has always been interested in athletics and was cheer leader at games of the school here for five years, starting in that capacity in junior high. Just now, she is student coach of cheer leaders at the Bible school.

Charles Kercher, Jr., who was so severely injured in an automobile accident at Bay City on Sept. 10, will be kept on his back for 10 more weeks to come. With plenty of time on his hands, Charles has turned to his love of music to shorten the hours. With a bed desk to hold paper in place, he composes musical selections for orchestras. One of his original compositions was played by a Bay City orchestra recently. His address is Route 3, Bay City, and he would be glad to receive messages from his Cass City friends.

The Elkland Community Chest drive opens Oct. 17 with Dave Ackerman as chairman of the committee of solicitors. The advantages of such a project are many. Instead of drives every month in the fall and winter, there will be only one solicitation as in the past year, making it easier for workers and more convenient in time saving for the givers who must listen to each separate story of need when solicitations are not combined as in a community chest project. It also gives local supervision and investigation of each charity by a chest committee to protect local givers from unwarranted claims.

Go down the residential districts on Main Street and you think you never saw more beautiful autumnal coloring. Then drive on Seeger St. and Garfield Ave., or any other thoroughfare in town and trees appear in as exquisite colors and as pleasing to the eye. That goes, too, for the Orr grove, the trees along the Schwegler Road north of Elk-land cemetery, or any other wooded tract in the community.
October really puts on a show that's hard to beat.

Floyd Ottaway isn't too bad an estimator. When he started building his new residence on the corner of Oak and Huron Streets, he said it would be 10 days before the carpentry work completely enclosed the house. He was one day off. It took 11 days. Pretty good figuring!

Pupils of the Quick rural school who have started a little newspaper, "The Quick Look," decided they would like to see how a community newspaper was made and nine of the students and their teacher, Mrs. Lloyd Finkbeiner paid the Chronicle office a visit Wednesday afternoon. They saw the operator set type on an Intertype, printers assemble the galley of type in newspaper forms and set type by hand and the pressman print the paper. It was also explained to them the method of casting stereotypes from mats for advertisements which appear in the Chronicle.

West Elkland Club Choose Projects

The West Elkland 4-H Club met at the home of Mrs. Ed. Golding Monday evening with 14 members and leaders present.

Due reports were turned in and projects chosen for the coming season. Handicraft, sewing, baking and personal accounts were the projects most in demand so far.
The winter work will start with a meeting of the sewing group at the home of their leader, Mrs.
W. J. Donnelly, on Monday, Oct. 10.
Everyone enjoyed the games and the lovely lunch served by the hostess.

SHABBONA

The Shabbona Methodist W S C S meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Floyd Heronemus October 12.
It will be a potluck dinner. Every one is cordially invited to attend.

Peanuts

Peanuts are unusually high in niacin, the consumption of which prevents or cures pellagra.

Plan for County Rat Killing Campaign In Sanilac County

Plans for an intensive county-wide rat killing campaign in Sanilac to be held on Friday, November 4, were announced today by county agent, Albert T. Hall.

The local drive will be co-ordinated with similar campaigns in other counties and cities in Michigan and nearby states under the supervision of G. C. Oederkirk, district agent of the division of predator and rodent control, U. S.
Fish and Wildlife Service.

Instead of choosing local dates themselves, all cooperating communities will stage a "rat banquet" on the same date this year in a concerted effort to reduce the annual toll of disease and property damage caused by the pest, the county agent explained.

Red squill poison bait will be made available at reduced cost to all farmers and city dwellers participating in the campaign. The bait will be distributed locally by the following stores and agencies, which have donated their services without charge: Steadman's Drug Store, Peck; Haines' Drug Store, Sandusky; R. A. Turrell's Drug Store, Crosswell; Burkholder's Drug Store, Brown City; Robinson's Drug Store, Marlette; Van Natter's Drug Store, Decker; Farmer's Elevator, Minden City; and Snover Drug Store, Snover.

The control of rats is a community problem, Hall emphasized.
Rats move from one farm to another and from towns and cities to rural areas and vice versa. Concerted action by all property owners in the community is needed to eliminate them.

OBSERVE 45TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

cake, decorated in all white and topped by a miniature bride and groom baked by Mrs. Clare Hanes, a lamb cake baked by Mrs. Alger Bush and a bouquet of red roses.
Mrs. Glenn Gust and Mrs. Alfred Wright of Caro assisted in serving the dinner.

The following program furnished entertainment for the evening: Playing of the record, "Marriage Vows," followed by congratulations and singing by Rev. Hugh Putman of St. Louis and Rev. and Mrs.
Willis Weaver of St. Johns by wire recording; a short talk given by Dr. C. W. O'Dell of Wyandotte in behalf of the family in appreciation of the help provided in going through the hard places of life; a reading by Mrs. Floyd Bell; group singing, led by Mrs. Clayton O'Dell; the presentation of the gift, a radio, by Carlon O'Dell. A transcription of the program was made by Dr. Bernard O'Dell of Highland Park, followed by the showing of home movies by Clare Hanes and Mrs. Alger Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Dell have 23 grandchildren.
Those present who attended the wedding 45 years ago were: Irving Loomis; Mrs. Maggie Loomis, Howard Loomis and Mrs. Julia Russell.

Scout Executives Met at State Hospital

Tuscola County played host to the Valley Trails Commissioners staff on Tuesday evening at the Caro State Hospital, October 4.
Ken Kerr, chairman of the district camping and activities, extended the courtesies of the Caro State Hospital to this group of council scouters for their monthly meeting.
The council commissioner staff consists of Raymond Abbey, chairman, Carl Shook from Alma, Ted Foley from Mt. Pleasant, Paul Gibbs from Harrison and Nelson Hart of Vassar.

The Tuscola neighborhood commissioner staff were also invited to the meeting. This group consists of twelve scouters from the various communities in Tuscola County.
Those present from the council staff were W. C. Morgan, Scout executive of Saginaw, Harold Buchanan of Saginaw, Fred Beckmann of St. Louis, and M. E. Peacock of Caro, all field scout executives. Plans were laid for coming council events and better commissioner service to strengthen the arm of scouting into all areas of council service.

Akron boasts the newest county Boy Scout unit. The newest Boy Scout unit in the county got away to a fine start with a five day campout at Hubbard Lake State forest area. Nineteen boys between the ages of 11 and 15 are registered under the able leadership of the Methodist minister, G. S.
Branster. Also the leaders of Akron are in the process of organizing a new Cub Pack with the help of Field Scout Executive M. E.
Peacock of Caro.

Pipe-Hanger Man Aloft Nine Hours

NEW YORK.—Fifty-two year old Lawrence Sandusky clung dangerously to a pipe 35 feet above the ground for almost nine hours after his leg was caught between a drain pipe and the building.

He was released by police and his only injury was a cut on his left leg which was treated by an ambulance surgeon.

Sandusky told the police that he returned home about 11 at night and found he had lost his keys. He decided not to awaken his wife or the neighbors and went to the roof and lowered himself on the heavy drain pipe in the rear of the building, a four-story structure.

Sandusky said he had just reached the third floor, on which his apartment is located, when his leg became caught in the bracket that connects the drain pipe with the building. He shouted for help but there was no response.

Intermittently, Sandusky said, he called for help in the early morning hours, but was unable to arouse anyone.

Fake Atomic Energy Panaceas Peddled By Quack Doctors

WASHINGTON.—Widespread belief that atomic energy can work miracles in medicine has led to a rich harvest for quacks peddling panaceas, according to officials of the federal food and drug administration.

The administration's inspectors trying to protect the public from "magic cures" that are either useless or downright dangerous, have been kept busy by a boom in weirdly-named medicines and fantastic-looking gadgets that deceive the gullible by borrowing some of the wonder-words from the new vocabulary of nuclear fission.

They have seized, for example, articles branded as radio-active salts, U-233 drinking water, an atomic skin-plaster, and a device sold briskly at $50 each on the claim that it emitted "Z-rays" which would lengthen life by expanding the "hydrogen atoms" of the body.

Almost everyone has read about the results that medical science has achieved, and expects to achieve, with the radioactive isotopes produced in the atomic furnace at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

But unfortunately, officials say, too many people seem not to realize that this truly sensational new weapon against disease can be entrusted to only the most highly-qualified doctors, hospitals and research institutions. Wrongly used, radioactivity is not a healer but a killer.

That is why federal inspectors are genuinely relieved when they find that a quack "atomic" cure is merely worthless.

While many of the panaceas that, according to the sellers, relieve pain by invisible radiation are simply fraudulent, there have been a few cases in which the food and drug administration has found to its horror that a preparation, sold without a doctor's prescription and taken without supervision, really was dangerously radioactive.

Navy's Only Ready Fleet Is Mediterranean Force

WASHINGTON.—The navy's biggest continuous operation on the high seas today is its Mediterranean force, called the sixth task fleet.

It is the only United States fleet permanently organized, fully manned and ready to fight. The rest of the navy's 682 active ships are scattered, most of them only at peacetime strength.

The Mediterranean fleet has a sharp significance—political, diplomatic and military. And it is doing things to the people of the Mediterranean and the men of the U. S. navy — making them friendlier, more understanding and more respectful toward one another.

The United States has had a strong fleet in the Mediterranean Sea since the 1942 invasion of North Africa. It has had a few ships there off and on for 150 years.

Adm. Richard L. Conolly, at the head of the U. S. navy operations in that part of the world, says a strong American fleet should be kept in the Mediterranean permanently. His title is commander-in-chief, U. S. naval force, eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

At his headquarters in London he recently gave his views to this reporter and three other newspapermen who visited him and later sailed with the Mediterranean fleet on maneuvers.

"We are now a Mediterranean power," said Conolly. "By having our fleet there, we are demonstrating our interest in the Mediterranean countries. The Mediterranean fleet has already stiffened the determination of the Greeks and Turks to maintain their independence."

The navy's official statement of reasons for keeping naval units in the eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean says they are there: "(1)— To support the allied occupation forces and the allied military government . . . (2)—To protect U. S. interests and support U. S. policies in the areas."
