Elkland Township's New Fire Truck

Elkland Township accepted delivery of its new fire truck last week. The new truck is equipped with all the latest equipment, including a three-stage pump which is capable of producing a 700-pound "fog" pressure and has a 600-gallon water tank. In observance of National Fire Prevention Week, Fire Chief Clarence Burt took Miss Jean Hutchinson, Kindergarten teacher, and her class for a ride, Chief Burt is still looking for a straw stack, brush pile, or an old building, which would make a good fire, to give a demonstration of the new truck.

Deford Farmer In Hospital After Beating

Deford-Charles D'Hooghe, 62, farmer living two miles south of this village is in the Cass City Hospital with a skull fracture, bruises and deep face cuts as the result of a fight which took place at the D'Hooghe home Saturday night. Hospital attendants said both of D'Hooghe's eyes were closed when he entered the hospital. His condition was considered serious.

D'Hooghe told hospital tendants that he suffered the injuries while protecting his property. He was brought to the hospital by neighbors, John Slickton and Perry Saddler.

Egg Producers Get Better Prices by Watching Trends

Consumers of Michigan produced ggs have gained some benefits rom the educational campaign for higher quality production in recent years. A recent study by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station shows that farmers are narketing cleaner eggs and more high quality eggs since 1942.

The study was a research project of L. E. Dawson and J. A. Davidson of the Michigan State College poultry department which dealt primarily with eggs marketed hrough grading stations. The report is based on a survey of reords of Michigan's first federalstate egg grading station started in 1937 at Hamilton, Michigan.

The most important trend in the study shows that producers in the Hamilton area are taking advantage of the seasonal trend which has resulted in higher egg prices in the fall and winter. Throughout the United States, production in the months of October through January is not adequate to fill the demand. Producers in the Hamilton area, as a result of the grading and educational program, plan production to get more eggs during these months of improved

Professor Reduces Love To Cardiac 'Reaction'

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y. - Dr. Ernest Osborne, professor of education at teachers college, Columbia university, points out that most people believe there is a "kind of magic'' in marriage.

'We are constantly under the impact of the idea that romantic love is the highest basic value to search for," he said.

Referring to this phenomenon as "cardiac respiratory reaction," he warned that the "extreme of exthe cause of failure in marriage.'

In exalting the romantic love concept, he added, we are reaching for an unreal level of perfection; and for most of us, this cardiac respiratory reaction tends to be modified after a few years, while such things as warmth, under standing and sharing of experiences tend to take a higher priority.

Choose Feeders by Time of Market, Say Cattle Specialists

There is no "best method" for at "Michigan State College. Specialists advised the feeders, however, to have a good idea about the time they expect to sell their pectation in this area may well be fattened beef animals and how they expect to feed them before thy start.

From J. C. Cash. Kansas City yards commission man and former Michigan resident, came this || advice on planning feeding operations. Plain, heavy cattle sell best from January through March. From April through June, the light, plain cattle seem to be in highest demand. During the third quarter of the year-July through September-the light, good cattle draw the highest prices.

Cash thinks farmers and feeders hould determine what type of cattle they will have to market and plan the feeding program to get them ready for sale during the

Spinach Disclosed As General Favorite

Consumption in 1949 To Top 180,000 Tons

Whatever may be the generally Americans like spinach. This year they will eat about 180,000 tons of the bright green leaf, a fact which should concern most farmers. Consumers will use spinach from their own gardens, bought over grocers' counters as fresh greens, or in frozen or canned form.

That 180,000-ton figure may be a conservative estimate, for it includes only the estimated size of R. J. Wills. the commercial crop. The figure is well under the quarter-millionton crops of recent food rationing years, but compared with prewar production, however, it shows, according to a National Geographic Society survey, that spinach is holding its own in national competition with pot-herb greens.

As much spinach as the markets will take is sold fresh. Last year, for example, 114,000 tons of spinach were shipped to fresh markets from coast to coast. The rest - about 49,000 tons - matured for the most part when fresh markets were supplied. It went to processors at prices lower than the fresh-market level, and became the year's pack canned and quick frozen.

Texas' renowned Winter Garden area of huge truck crops leads the nation in producing spinach for fresh-market sale. Spinach leaves grow best where soil is rich, water is plentiful, weather is cool without frost, and days are short. The Winter Garden country touching the Rio Grande 130 miles southwest of San Antonio provides these conditions from November to April when most growing areas have too much

A sheep and goat ranging area until 1920, the Winter Garden, thanks to irrigation, now covers five counties. It pours forth onions, cabbages, potatoes, lettuce, spinach, beets, peas and beans in late winter when they bring top prices. Eagle Pass on the Rio Grande, Crystal City, and Carrizo Springs are its busy centers of spinach shipping in season. At Crystal City, growers in 1937 erected a heroicsize plaster statue of their special hero, Popeye the Sailor. Near Eagle Pass, one of the biggest onion growers switched gradually to spinach 20 years or more ago. Riding on a national trend to spinach, source of iron, calcium, and vitamins A and C, he increased plantings.

Dehorning Spreads

Movie makers may soon have to raise their own cattle if they want to show them with horns, for dairymen and ranchers are becoming convinced that horns can become costly liabilities. Horned cattle often gore each other and their attendants. The latest equipment developed for dehorning is this electric dehorning iron. It consists of a 300-watt soldering iron with a special tip having a hollow cone point. After pre-heating for about 15 minutes, the iron is applied over the horn button, with best results when the horn button is from ¼ to % of an inch high. The instrument kills the horn cell and cauterizes the skin around the horn button. In about five weeks the scab, formed by the operation, dries up and falls off, taking the horn with it. The electric dehorning iron can be plugged into a 115-volt AC

Tires, Shoes Can Spread Many Ills Among Swine

Truck tires and farmers' shoes can spread hog cholera, erysipelas and other acute swine diseases. This caution, urged by the American foundation for animal health, also pointed out that hog cholera is again on the upswing throughout the United States. Only by strict precautions, sanitary measures and vaccination can it be curbed, the foundation said.

Chemical Weed Control

Chemical weed control is not a substitute for good farming — it is a part of good farming. Losses from weeds and undesirable plant growth are as great in the aggregate and in importance to the individual as those from insects and plant diseases combined. The demand of the farmer for herbicides is second only to his demand for mechanization.

* AUTUMN WEDDINGS *

To Make Home In Detroit

Mrs. James Drue Cook.

In a single ring ceremony at three o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 1, in the First Methodist Church here, Miss Christina Campbell Graham became the bride of James Drue Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Cook of Detroit. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Graham.

Potted palms, three baskets of white bebe chrysanthemums and gladioli and candelabra, decorated the church for the service read by Rev. Howard Watkins, the pastor.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the social rooms guests present. Refreshments were served, including a five tiered wedding cake, by Marjorie Croft of Comstock and Mrs. John A. Kolleth of Detroit. Mrs. Harve Kapnick of Chicago, Ill., cut the

ARCADIA, PARISVILLE

Here's Where the Best Begins!

Most people look no further after they've had a good look at a 1949 Pontiac—they know that the best begins here!

Here is the best in beauty-with a "Silver Streak" personality all its own. Here is the best in performance—thanks to Pontiac's great engines, straight eight or six. Here is the best in comfort, luxurious detail and appointments.

And here is the best in real economy—a sensible price to begin with and the famous Pontiac record of rolling out miles and miles and miles with only routine servicing.

The best begins right in our showroom—come in and see!

Boy Risks Life for Dog LIGONIER, Pa.—A fellow will do a lot for his best friendeven risk his own life. That's what 13-year old Billy Brant did when he heard his dog "Boots" yelp in pain and saw a copperhead snake poised to strike the little cocker spaniel

Billy jumped on the snake, tramping its twisting body. The snake drew back its head and sank its fangs in Billy's leg.

Billy was hurried to a doctor in Ligonier and then taken to a hospital in critical condition. He was released after a week's treatment.

In the excitement Boots was overlooked, but the dog knew a treatment of her own. She chewed some grass, pawed a hole in the earth and rested her wound in the soft earth. Boots recovered but her litter of pups," born a few days later, died.

Billy was hobbling about on crutches a week later. The snake is dead, tracked down and killed by a cousin of the little boy who wouldn't let his best friend .down.

Police Assistance Aids Alibi Seeker Right into Arrest

NEW YORK .- The police again have demonstrated their willingness to aid those who come to them in time of trouble, including a truck owner allegedly involved in a theft and who appealed for help in establishing an alibi.

So thoroughly did the police assist Anthony Caulo, 26, Brooklyn, that they broke the abili, obtained an admission of guilt, rounded up two other men and charged all three with theft of $4,000 worth of merchandise.

According to Detectives Samuel Katz and James Ward of the Poplar street, Brooklyn, squad, Caulo and Carmine Marrone, 23, of Brooklyn, "broke" into the Vim Radio Stores, Inc., garage.

With the connivance of Allen Edwards, 48, who worked in the garage, they made off, the police say, with a truck loaded with tele-

Edwards was tied loosely to a post. Passers-by heard his shouts for help and freed him. The police were called. The radio sets were transferred to a truck owned by Caulo and the stolen vehicle abandoned. It was recovered quickly.

Caulo's van also was located the next day, still filled with the stolen items, in a parking lot.

Detectives kept watch and said nothing. As the days passed Caulo started to worry. He finally went to the Poplar street station and reported his truck had been stolen so he would have an alibi if it was re-

NEWEST THEORY

Quarantine Out in Polio

NEW YORK.—Among the many new theories being adopted about polio, the latest one is that quarantine does no good in halting the spread of the disease.

It is of "unproved value," declared a committee of 20 authorities on all phases of the malady. Its effects may be bad rather than

"Enforcement of unwarranted quarantine regulations may create or enhance public fear or hysteria in epidemics, waste the time and efforts of professional personnel and facilities, and produce needless social and economic hardships for patient and family," says the national committee on recommended practices for control of polio myelitis.

This stand on quarantine is one point of a new polio control guide now going to health officials in all the states and territories.

Rules Vary Greatly
"It is intended as a sensible approach to control practices," based upon the facts about polio as we know them now," said Dr. Kenneth S. Landauer, director of medical care, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He was a member of the committee, and his office is distributing the new guide. States are requesting copies by hundreds and thousands.

"State and local authorities vary greatly in their rules on polio isolation and quarantine," he said. "But recent findings indicate that certain restrictions imposed in the past are not supported by the facts. It is hoped that areas hampered by useless restrictions will change them according to the new recommendations."

Numerous localities have tried quarantine, even to trying to keep visitors out of their town. But such steps didn't do anything to halt the spread of polio. The mere posting of polio-quarantine signs proved frightening. Doctors and health officials, busy treating sick people or arranging for their care, had an unnecessary burden thrown on their shoulders.

"Close association with infected persons accounts for the great majority of new cases of polio," the guide says. But research suggests this contact has to be really in time, extending over a period of time. The home appears to be the most common place for the spread of polio.

Theaters, circuses, fairs, swimming pools, or beaches should not be closed if they are properly operated, it adds.

Public and private schools should not be closed during a polio outbreak nor their opening delayed, for such acts "have not affected the course of outbreaks of polio." They only lead to panic.

Would-Be Bank Robber Foiled by Tough Vault

e GENEVA, N. Y.—A former dedivery man who, police said, had admitted struggling unsuccessfully for two nights and a day to open a bank vault, was arrested, tired and discouraged, as he was seen leaving the bank.

Horace K. Cook was charged with third degree burglary and petty larceny as a result of the episode.

Police quoted Cook as saying he scaled a fire escape, crossed two roofs and climbed down a cornice to enter an unlocked second story window in the bank building.

W. Horace Rogers, bank president, said the window had been left open for ventilation. He said the opening was considered inaccessible from the street.

Cook related that he kept trying to open the vault until he left the building Monday morning, Murphy said. He added that Cook said he used tools he found in the bank and fed on candy from a vending machine.

Infantryman Saves Life Of Buddy as 'Chute Falls

NORFOLK, Va.—An airborne infantryman saved the life of a fellow-soldier in parachute jumps during an assault landing exercise at Camp Pendleton, Va.

The full-scale amphibious assault was the final phase of training here for some 880 West Point cadets and Annapolis midshipmen.

Pfc. Eugene F. Cushing, Modesto, Calif., was credited with saving the life of Pfc. Richard Rusk, Independence, Mo. Private Rusk's chute collided with that of Private Cushing and collapsed in the fall. But Cushing grabbed his companion's sagging chute and the two men rode down together on Cushing's parachute.

Pep Tablet Turns Child Into Liveliest in Town

LEEDS, England. — For 27 hours, 2-year old Janet Wheel-wright was the liveliest kid in

She couldn't go to sleep. Throughout the night she sang, danced and chattered. She played with every toy in the house. She built towering eastles with her books. And still the sandman stayed away.

Exhausted, her mother took her to a doctor. Janet skipped and hopped the two miles. A sedative put her to sleep.

Later is was discovered Janet had chewed some army pep tablets belonging to her brother, Dennis, who had just returned home after service with the air force in the Widdle East.

Like buying a dress, selecting the proper pattern and material which goes with it, the case requires some study. However, the study is fascinating since you are the subject, and the grade you make is a ticket to the group who knows how to dress.

You'll have to study not only the patterns themselves, but also fashion trends and your own personalty and figure problems. To do the best job, select a pattern whose style will do something for you, just as certain dresses will bring out or mask figures. Dresses for teen-agers may appeal to many of the older women, but it must be remembered that the charm lies in their youthfulness. They would appear ludicrous on a woman, who may still be a size 14, but is three times past the

Dramatic dresses and suits look fine if you're the type, but if you aren't, why not choose something more appropriate like a simple tailored style or a softly feminine

Let's suppose that you have studied to the point where you can choose the proper style. The next important error not to make is the selection of the improper fabric for the pattern.

Select patterns for your type . . . use for a dress. If you've chosen a tailored type of pattern, however, that soft material won't form the nice, sharp edges, pleats or other tailored lines required and the dress will not be successful.

Softly draped dresses cannot be made from stiff materials that simply will not drape and which are meant for the tailored type of patterns and ideas that they can be made less expensively than ready-made clothes, feel they can make up all sorts of clothing, use or no use.

Before selecting a pattern stop to consider whether the garment has a place in your wardrobe. Don't consider just the pattern, but how it will be used, as well as how it fits your own individual needs.

Fancy blouses may be beautiful things, but if you're going to wear them in a business office, wouldn't it be more fitting to choose something tailored?

If you're choosing dresses for wear around the house, select something that is comfortable as well as pretty, in addition to something you won't have to be forever laundering, ironing and mend ing.

Many women will try a pattern and give up in discouragement before they finish. Why? The pattern may look deceptively simple but carries a lot of fine detailing that the inexperienced just simply can't cope with. If you're not certain of how you can determine these things, consult the clerk or take along a friend who knows about patterns.

Iake Perfect Fit Really Possible

One reason why patterns have become so popular is that many women have found their use a perfect solution to the fitting problem. The size you need in a dress is the size you will need in the pattern, but the best way to decide the size is to take measurements and then compare them with those given for the pattern.

Adjustments you make in bought dresses can be made on patterns before you sew them, and this is a real advantage, because fitting is so much easier when you don't have to rip out seams to make

It's always best to buy patterns that are larger than smaller, just as it is to take in a dress rather than let out seams to make it fit. There's a real art to fitting the pattern to your figure, but once you've learned how, you'll know how to use these tips on every pattern to achieve a perfectly fitting garment.

When you plan to use the pattern more than once, it's best to baste rather than pin the alterations since it's time-saving and insures your having a complete pattern when you want to use it again.

Disregard the amount of material for seam allowances, pleats and tucks when altering the pattern since correct fuliness is allowed in them, and should not be tampered. To shorten or take in any part of the pattern use the proper amount of fold or tuck in the pattern. To lengthen anything, cut the pattern, making a slit or cutting all the way across and basting in a strip of paper which will make the pattern long enough.

Many of these alterations may be made with the aid of a dress that fits nicely. Lay the dress on the pattern and make the alterations.

How to Adjust

For Proper Fit For large upper arms, slash pattern from top toward bottom and spread open at the top as needed. Place strip of paper under the slash. For large arm muscle, slash pattern from top as far as necessary and spread as needed. For the large arm, add width along the edges from armhole to wrist.

"The greatest change this year the Michigan educational pattern will come at the high school level," said Dr. Lee M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, in an interview for the "Michigan Mirror."

Public schools are experiencing a boom. With $140 millions of state aid to school districts and teacher retirement, Michigan public schools this year have more classrooms, more pupils, better paid teachers and more building construction.

Even Mary's lamb can learn that easy safety rule! Best rule of all-for school children and everyone else—is: Don't walk on the highway. But if you must, then walk to the left, facing oncoming cars. Your chances of avoiding accident are three times better when you observe this rule.

Use special care at night and when roads are slippery. Even at moderate driving speeds, motorists often can't see pedestrians in time to stop. At 40 miles an hour, a safe stopping distance may be as much as 164 feet—much more at higher speeds.

When you walk on the highway, your life is your lookout. So-look out!
