CAN ALL COOK BOOKS BE WRONG?

In all the best cook books, recipes calling for white granulated sugar specify just "sugar." Not cane sugar. Not beet sugar. Not sugar from any particular plant.

Why? Because all sugar for household use is sucrose, and sugar is sugar no matter whether it comes from sugar beets or sugar cane.

Leading Home Economists everywhere freely state that any supposed difference in pure sugars is simply a figment of the mind. So it's smart shopping to buy sugar for value. Buy—

Sure... WE'RE FLAG WAVERS

A great American patriot once confessed, "Sure I'm a flag waver! Can you show me a better flag to wave?" That's how the men who belong to the Veterans of Foreign Wars feel about their country—and we don't care a damn about the wisecracks of the smart alecks. Being overseas veterans, we're not self-conscious when our patriotism shows. On the contrary, we believe it's high time to teach the youngsters of today there's nothing corny about waving the Stars and Stripes every chance you get. That's why we are always promoting patriotic programs—the kind that will help our kids understand what a great country America is.

Sure, we're flag wavers, and we're proud of it. And that explains why those who understand the purpose of our flag waving never fail to say—

The present day craze of economic security for the individual, as typified by the $100 month pension plan granted recently by the Ford Motor Company of Dearborn, appears to be bringing further economic insecurity to employers of small business firms.

"Little business" is watching the outcome of the United States Steel Corporation CIO tug-of-war over who is to pay for pensions and insurance.

Already the Bethlehem Steel Corporation has signed a contract whereby its 80,000 employees will be eligible for noncontributory pensions of a minimum of $100 a month after 25 years of service. This will cost the company 12½ cents an hour per employee. As to social insurance, the company and employees will pay 2½ cents an hour each in sharing the cost.

What will other Michigan automobile firms do? A reporter of the New York Times, writing a story from Flint, states: "It is generally agreed that the pension plan accepted by Ford will have to be adopted by other companies." The cost of such retirement income, if paid largely by the employer, will put new costs upon the automobile. All costs must be paid by the consumer—if at all.

It is interesting to note that the Ford-Bethlehem contracts for pensions includes federal social security benefits. These are financed equally by the employer and employee. If the Ford-Bethlehem idea becomes a general pattern, for "big business," it is easy to see that the inevitable effect will be to encourage action by Congress to have more retirement benefits financed by social security and thus, in part, by the worker.

Whereas many industrial leaders have been traditionally cool to the principle of federal social security, as contrasted to privately-financed social security with or without employee contributions, there is now a good chance that many of these persons will favor increased federal benefits. Such action would reduce the gap between security benefits and $100 a month. It would have the indirect effect of saving money for the employer.

If "big business" lines up for pensions and social insurance benefits, what will "little business" do about it?

The Detroit Free Press commented editorially the other day: "With new demands, added to high wage scales and tremendous tax obligations, it will not be surprising if many small firms either are forced out of business, or into mergers—a tendency toward bigness against which the Truman administration screams."

What affects small firms affect many, many Americans. Last year (1948) about 85 per cent of all workers were employed by companies having five or less employees. Almost two-thirds worked for firms of less than 300 employees.

The "compulsory contribution" (the government's phrase for payroll tax) would go from 1 to 1½ percent on Jan. 1, 1950; 2 percent by 1951; 2½ percent by 1960, and finally up to 3½ per cent by 1970. Washington observers agree that the Senate is "certain" to act favorably in 1950 (an election year) on upward revision of social security benefits, now admittedly out of balance with today's inflated dollar.

The coming economic squeeze on "little business" illustrates why many thoughtful business men are genuinely concerned over the present steady drift toward the welfare state. If farmers are guaranteed fair prices for their crops, if workers are guaranteed economic security from cradle to grave, what will be the final outcome?

And if to oppose such new Utopian protection for the masses is to qualify a critic for the odious label of a "reactionary", then the business man may arrive at the philosophical fatalism recently expressed in "Trends," a journal of the National Association of Manufacturers:

"There has never in past history been any large state that controlled citizens as completely as they are controlled in the Soviet Republic or even in modern England.

"It may be that the present tendencies toward centralization are too strong to be resisted until they have led to disaster, and that, as happened in the fifth century, the whole system must break down with all the inevitable results of anarchy and poverty before human beings can again acquire that degree of personal freedom without which life loses its savor."

State socialism and inflation go hand in hand.

It is high time that every American re-appraise the ultimate price of the inevitable outcome: Disaster for the nation and loss of freedom for the individual.

SILVERLEA CROWN SIR ORMSBY POSCH 820769

Two of the longtime dairy herd improvement association testing herds in Michigan are those owned by Mrs. Ruth Rogers, Big Rapids, and Lloyd A. Gaskill of Hastings. Both herds have averaged close to 500 pounds butterfat several times according to A. C. Baltzer, Extension Dairyman, Michigan State College. Recognizing the source of good seed stock, Lloyd Gaskill purchased from the Rogers herd a bull calf in October 1940 which produced in Gaskill's herd outstanding daughters with high test and excellent production. This bull's daughters get better as they get older Lloyd reported to A. C. Baltzer recently. Proof on the sire shows 16 daughters with 25 records averaging 13,851 milk, 541 fat. The average test for all these daughters for their lifetime has been 4.1. This is unusual for Holsteins. This sire named Silverlea Crown Sir Ormsby Posch 820769 is one of the many proved sires in use by 17,000 Michigan farmers who own and operate the bull stud of the Michigan Artificial Breeders located at East Lansing.

The familiar name used for this fancy named individual is just plain "Silver." Perhaps his name should have been "Gold" instead of "Silver" because the productive qualities that he has shown both in the type of the daughters sired and in their excellent production capacity is going to return extra dollars to dairymen using seed stock of this kind.

The Michigan Artificial Breeders have thought so well of this sire that they have secured several young bulls from the daughters of Silver in the Gaskill herd. These calves when raised will later be introduced into the bull stud when their daughters in turn have proved their worth according to the bull buying committee of the Michigan Artificial Breeders.

The sire of Silver was the famous Crestlyn bull, also owned at one time at East Lansing. Crestlyn had 18 daughters with 28 records averaging 13,102 milk, 514 fat, with 3.9 test. The dam of Silver at 4 years with 3.9 test made 581 fat and is the daughter of a sire which has proved with 9 daughters averaging 18,507 milk and 680 fat. "This pattern of dairy cattle breeding, namely using one generation of proved sires after another on average farm cows," says A. C. Baltzer, "will bring in two generations excellent productive qualities into Michigan dairy herds." "It will make a better market place for hay pasture and grain," according to the Specialist and "allow the dairy farmer to achieve more efficient production at low cost."

This service is available at all times for Holstein, Guernsey and Red Dane breeds. Contact

Yield of 1,000 Bushels an Acre Is Potato Record

Don't claim the election until all the precincts are in. Politicians have found that to be good advice. Potato championships, too, shouldn't be claimed until all parts of the state are heard from in this state of Michigan. A Kent County yield of 853 bushels recently reported topped all previous Michigan records. But now reports from Marquette County in the upper peninsula show a yield of more than 1,000 bushels an acre. Paul Van Damme in south Marquette County produced a yield of 1,038 bushels an acre on a six-acre plot. The yield was checked by R. H. Kaven, Marquette county agricultural agent, and William Cargo, crops specialist for the Michigan Extension Service. Van Damme got his early potato growing training from his father, Jules Van Damme, who once won the state premier potato grower honors. But here's how he got more than 1,000 bushels to the acre: He cleared some new loam land in the spring of 1948 and last fall planted rye, using 600 pounds of 3-12-12 fertilizer at planting time. In May he plowed under the rye for green manure and planted 40 bushels of certified Russet Rural seed potatoes to the acre, using 1,000 pounds of 3-12-12 fertilizer for each acre. Rows were 32 inches apart and potatoes were planted 9 inches apart in rows. During the season he cultivated when necessary and sprayed against disease and insects a total of 17 times. No irrigation was done.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

All over the world today there are people teaching bitterness and hate. Here in America we have learned to live together in friendship. For us here at A&P, it has been a wonderful and thrilling experience to get from those with whom we compete day after day such astounding evidence of friendship and respect. The things that have happened since the anti-trust lawyers from Washington brought suit to destroy A&P have amazed us. While we sincerely believed that we had earned the friendship of millions of consumers for whom we have provided better food at lower prices, and the friendship of millions of farm families for whom we have provided a better market for their produce, we were not prepared for the avalanche of offers of support. But most of all, we have to confess that we had underestimated the fine sportsmanship of many of our competitors all over the country. Can anyone believe that these competitors would rush to our defense if, as the anti-trust lawyers allege, we had been trying to put them out of business? We and they have fought hard for business. There are nearly 350,000 individual grocers competing with us. They have a larger share of the nation's grocery business today than they had ten years ago or twenty years ago. Many of them do as good a job as we do, and they make it plenty tough for us. Now, day after day, these same competitors are letting us know that they are in our corner. All we can say is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts. Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

Who hollered for Uncle?
Who wants him to break up A&P?
COULD IT BE INDEPENDENT GROCERS? Doesn't seem likely. In ten years America's independent storekeepers almost tripled their business. In 1938 they did just under 5 1/2 billion dollars worth of food business. Last year the independent storekeepers handled over 15 billion dollars worth of food.
WHOLESALE GROCERS? Hardly. For many of them are directly or indirectly engaged in or supporting some form of voluntary or cooperative chain to match chain economies.
THE EMPLOYEES? That would be funny—except that some folks probably believe it. Actually, less than 25 years ago many food chain stores could have paid all expenses—rent, heat, light, wages, etc.—out of the money a store manager alone gets paid now. And the store manager of 25 years ago would have been happy to get what a clerk gets today.
PRODUCERS? Well, take farmers. Certainly part of their prosperity must be attributed to the markets that big chains create for them. The big chains buy the entire pack of many a cannery. Those canneries pack the farmers' crops. What would the farmer do with his highly perishable crop if the food chains were eliminated as big volume buyers?
COMPETING CHAINS, MAYBE? No. Practically every chain in the grocery business had more sales last year than the year before. One chain that we know a lot about increased its food business 21% last year and is up 19% in the first eight months of this year.
THEN IT CERTAINLY MUST BE THE PEOPLE! Like fun. If the people hated food chain stores, would they have spent 9 1/2 billion dollars in them last year? Folks like the low prices and high standards of chains—and the better the chains are run, the better folks like them.
Does This Sound as Though We Need Help? Thorofare Super Markets came into existence 10 years ago. The food chains Thorofare replaced were doing about three million dollars worth of business a year. Housewives liked our policies well enough to boost their purchases in our 90 stores to about 30 million dollars a year.
We call that a vote of confidence. And we're going to keep right on proving that as long as we stick to good brands and better-than-average selections at rock-bottom prices, we can compete with anybody in the business. And keep right on growing, too!
We don't believe any chain will be punished for being efficient, or for pleasing housewives so well that it is forced to grow.
We, too, believe that it is a storekeeper's duty to bring the public the best food at the lowest possible prices, and hope to see the chain store way of doing business vindicated.
And as long as the producers, the employees, the customers, the wholesale grocers, the independents and the competing chains thrive so well, we will continue to think it's a good way to do business.

We Don't Want the A&P Put Out of Business
The owner of the undersigned store is an independent merchant in this community. We run our own store, set our own prices, maintain our own policy. We consider the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. as a chain store. Because they are a chain they give us stiff competition. The competition offered by the A&P keeps us on our toes. The Department of Justice has brought a suit against the A&P claiming that the A&P is a monopoly. Whether it is or not we are in no position to judge. What we do know is that the A&P doesn't do all of the grocery business in this area. We are here and ready to serve local customers. WE DON'T WANT TO SEE THE A&P PUT OUT OF BUSINESS. The A&P is keeping food prices down. We in turn keep our prices down; and that helps us to sell more goods.
KUGLER'S SUPER-FOOD MARKET
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

We Agree With A&P
Yes, we want our A&P competitors to stay in business on their present scale because we know what it would mean to the American people without them. We are only one store and are striving to serve our community with good food at low prices, but the A&P is a nationwide organization serving the American people everywhere with good food at low prices. Destroying the A&P would mean eliminating competition nationally in the food field which every poor man knows consumes the major portion of his salary. We congratulate the A&P for a job well done. Keep up the fight. We welcome any fair competition which helps us bring lower food prices to the consumer.

A COMPETITOR'S OPINION of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.
The self-styled "trust busters" of the government recently made head-destroy the A&P. Frankly, we don't like it. A&P is charged with having control of SOME of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they can offer foods at low prices. So What... And if monopoly of the food business is charged, that sure hands us a laff. We... at P.P.M. are growing like wildfire. Seems like we're able to sell better foods at better prices. Your increasing patronage of our stores is positive proof that A&P has no monopoly on the food business. Let's get down to good old American horse sense. A&P is doing a good job of serving the people of this country. They're no bogey men. We are for them 100% in this controversy.

PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND

I Welcome A&P Competition BECAUSE
• • • • • like myself, many hundreds of independent grocers got their start with the TEA COMPANY.
• • • • • The great A&P is not detrimental to the progress of the grocery business. On the contrary, A&P has always been beneficial to any open-minded businessman who believes in FREE ENTERPRISE. Founded on the principle of FAIR PLAY and FAIR PRICES, A&P developed from a humble start to its present commanding position in the field of retail merchandising.
• • • • • My experience as a former employee of the TEA COMPANY has served me well. I attribute my success to the ideas and methods tried, tested and proven by the A&P stores—at a great cost.
• • • • • A&P upholds the rights and privileges of a good worker. I know this from personal experience. A&P is ever on the lookout to promote sincere and ambitious employees to trustworthy and important positions and has never crossed the efforts of any employee to enter into business for himself. A&P helped me to start in business... IS THAT AN ACT OF A COMPANY MONOPOLIZING THE GROCERY BUSINESS? NO!
A&P taught me to serve the public BETTER—MORE ECONOMICAL and MORE EFFICIENT, thanks to the start given me by B. F. VINSON.
• • • • • During the depression of the thirties, A&P paid higher wages than any other chain. A&P has striven to keep up the standard of living in this country. I shudder to think what would happen to its 110,000 employees if it was forced out of business.
• • • • • I am not afraid of A&P competition—I welcome it. It's democratic—it's the American Way.

The Anti-Trust Suit Against The Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.
This suit is another threat against our great American system of free enterprise. The A&P Co. has always been clean, above board competition and any successful independent merchant, if he is honest, will admit that they have taught him a great many things regarding merchandising, reducing overhead, better buying, etc., thus lowering food costs for the great American Public.
