

Elkland's Valuation Has Been Set at $3,358,390.00

Tax Roll of $69,730 Is in Hands of C. J. Striffler, Twp. Treasurer

Supervisor William Profit has completed the Elkland Township tax assessment roll and has placed it in the hands of Township Treasurer C. J. Striffler. The treasurer expects to start his tax collections on December 3.

The total valuation of the township is $3,358,390.00 which is almost 50 per cent more than that of 1948. While valuations were raised, many taxpayers will find their taxes little different from last year's. Others whose assessed valuations were increased over 50 per cent will find their taxes proportionately higher.

Taxes in Elkland call for the following amounts:

County tax	$23,403.10
Township tax	2,005.99
Township special	6,585.95
Special drain	2,679.50
Drain tax, twp. at large	1,852.40
School tax	20,874.25
School debt (Dist. 5)	12,879.15

The township special tax of $6,585.95 is collected on property outside the village and that amount pays for the fire truck recently purchased for use in the rural area of Elkland.

Glancing Bullet Caused Accidental Death of Akron Man

Robert Turner, 18, of Akron was shot and fatally wounded in an opening day deer hunting accident in Ogemaw County. He died at Flint Tuesday afternoon while en route in an ambulance to University Hospital in Ann Arbor. He had been given emergency treatment at Tolfree Hospital, West Branch, before being sent to Flint.

Turner was shot accidentally by Alex Lindsay, Jr., 31, of Decker shortly after Lindsay had separated from Turner and his uncle, Franklin Turner. The shot from Lindsay's rifle struck a scrub oak tree and glanced from the tree, passed through Franklin Turner's cap first and then lodged in his nephew's brain.

Robert Turner was born in Fairgrove Township and lived there all his life. Orphaned when he was 10 years old, he lived with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCready of Fairgrove, and Mrs. Vida Turner of Akron, and his uncle, Franklin Turner, of Fairgrove.

He was graduated from the Fairgrove High School in 1949 and was a member of the Akron Presbyterian Church.

Funeral services will be held today (Friday) at the church at 2:30 p. m.

Thompson. Mrs. Ronald Fox had charge of the pie walk and Mrs. George Schad and Mrs. Floyd O'Rourke, the lunch counter.

Beverly Wheaton operated the fishing pond and Mrs. Murill Shagena directed the games.

The guests were entertained by a program consisting of solos, rendered by Bob Quinn and Florence Jean O'Rourke and several tunes played by James Walker on the bones. Mrs. Calvin McRae played accompaniment on the piano for all the numbers.

The fair concluded with an auction sale with Jack Stahlbaum serving as auctioneer.

Over 500 Attended 4-H Recognition Night at Murray Hall at Wahjamega

The Michigan Farmer awards for all-around 4-H Club excellence were won by Nancy Sinclair, 15, Cass City, a member of the Carolan and Bingham 4-H Clubs, and Freddie Black, 17, Akron, who belongs to the Wisner Club. ## Happiness Campaign Greatly Enjoyed by Detroit Man

Dan DeForge, a Detroit business man who has a retail camera store, started an unusual hobby 17 years ago which has been a great satisfaction to him and has brought happiness and cheer to hundreds of others. During that period of time, he has made it a hobby to visit sick, handicapped, disabled and unfortunate persons. Often he takes a movie camera with him and shows worth-while films to those who are kept at home.

In an address at a dinner at the New Gordon Hotel when Rotarians had the Gavel Club as guests, Mr. DeForge related many incidents of his "happiness campaign" which were highly interesting and held the close attention of his audience.

Keith McConkey was program chairman, A. C. Atwell was song leader, and Mrs. Calvin MacRae, piano accompanist. Group singing was especially enthusiastic because of the help Mr. Atwell had in leadership from three Gavel "song birds," "Baldy" Ellis, "Scotty" McCullough and Grant Ball, and Rotarians Frederick Pinney and Fritz Neitzel.

It's Turkey Even if "e" Is Missing

If this copy of the Chronicle spells, "turkey" without an "e" in the "Turkey Hop" advertisement of the Cass City High School Band, it was not done intentionally. The ad man, arranging the heading in circular form with plaster paris, was chagrined to find that the "e" had hopped out of place when the press run was nearing completion. Some of the papers have the "e" in, in some it's half way out, and in some it's gone altogether. In or out, read it "Turkey Hop."

All singers of the community wishing to participate in the community choir for the union Thanksgiving services will gather at the Evangelical United Brethren Church at 8:15 p. m. on Thursday evening, Nov. 17.

Get Budget Relief With A&P's Low Prices

Customers' Corner

Why will food prices go up if the anti-trust lawyers win their suit to put A & P out of business?

Here is just one of a number of reasons:

We manufacture many of the quality foods we sell in our stores, such as Bokar, Red Circle and Eight O'Clock coffees, Ann Page foods, White House milk, and many others.

Because this saves us money we are able to pass along these savings to our customers in the form of lower prices.

The anti-trust lawyers have asked the court to order us to get rid of our manufacturing facilities, which would put an end to all these savings.

Make no mistake about it. If the anti-trust lawyers succeed in putting A & P out of business you will find your food bill is higher.

Hospital notes last week proved that their use is significant. Mrs. Joseph Dulemba, Mrs. Edith Kelley and baby, Rex Schuette, of Cass City were named among the patients discharged. Had there been a comma after Kelley and a capital "B" in baby, it would have read: "Mrs. Joseph Dulemba, Mrs. Edith Kelley, and Baby Rex Schuette." In other words, Mrs. Kelley and Rex Schuette are members of two different families and are not related to each other. FOR SAFETY, LUBRICATE EVERY 1,000 MILES * FOR SAFETY

By Gene Alleman

The Upper Peninsula was invaded again this week. The invading army consisted of friendly hunters, colorfully clad in bright red and many hued sport garments, bound for the "north country" on the annual deer hunting expedition.

The automobile congestion at the Straits of Mackinac, the transportation bottleneck between the two peninsulas, again brought into focus increased demand for some immediate solution to this traffic problem. The 1949 legislature set aside an appropriation of 4 1/2 million dollars for a new ferry boat to speed up transport of tourists and automobiles across the straits. Now difficulties have developed as to suitable dockage at St. Ignace, and additional cost of over 1 million dollars may have to be incurred before the new boat could be put into practical use upon its completion.

Invariably the Straits bridge idea is revived during an election campaign, and 1950 may see new political agitation in favor of a bridge or tunnel to be financed in part by government money or self-liquidating bonds.

The Upper Peninsula always welcomes the arrival of sportsmen and summer tourists. Recreation has become big business in this vast area stretching more than 360 miles from Ironwood at the west to Sault Ste. Marie at the east. To the north of the "Sault" lies the vast wilderness in Canada.

The Upper Peninsula is the region of by-gone glory in lumbering and a recent decline in copper and iron mining. In the "copper country" the copper mines have reached depths at which copper mining can be maintained only by a very protective high price, such as has prevailed during wars, or through federal subsidy. Michigan copper mines cannot compete profitably with low-priced copper from other regions of the United States and the world.

As for the future of Michigan iron mines a traveler in the Lake Superior region is always impressed with the vast potentials of low-grade iron ore. While reserves of high-grade ore are sufficiently adequate to accommodate needs of steel makers for many years to come, the four billion four hundred million capital investment of the Great Lakes steel industry is such that steelmen are looking ahead for a substitute supply of ore when present high-grade is depleted.

Demands of World War I and World War II depleted the Michigan and Minnesota ranges of many millions of tons of high-grade iron ore.

A recent issue of Business Week pointed out that production in the Gogebic Range has been slipping since 1942, that the lower part of the Menominee Range which straddles the Michigan-Wisconsin state line, is well exhausted; and that the Marquette Range contains mostly underground ore of which high production is needed to operate mines economically. Business Week puts an expectancy on the Mesabi Range of 27 years; Marquette Range, 25; Menominee Range, 30; and the Gogebic Range, 15 years.

Utilization of the low-grade tonite iron ore is the future hope of the Michigan iron country.

A revival of lumbering in Michigan is also a favorable possibility. More than 300 houses, pre-cut from pine lumber, were fabricated and sold last year by a single cabin company in St. Ignace. Of the 36 million acres of land in Michigan, foresters state that 20 million acres are unquestionably land never to be used for anything else than growing trees. This fits well into the north Michigan area, now the scene of the perennial deer hunting season.

The deer hunter is more than a welcome visitor. He is the symbol of the growing recreational industry in Michigan's North Country.

Records show that almost half of all the money American consumers spend for goods and services goes for products that originate on farms.

RUSTIC SIR RAINBOW ORMSBY 820653

George and Ross Robb of Fowlerville, Michigan, were the owners of Rustic Sir Rainbow Ormsby 820653, one of the outstanding proved sires used by the farmers who compose the Michigan Artificial Breeders, East Lansing, Michigan.

Dairy herd owners are impressed with Rainbow's proof which shows on 10 daughters, 16,408 milk and 574 fat, 3.5 test. This production is 3318 pounds better in milk and 124 pounds improvement in fat over the mates of Rainbow. It is almost 3 times the volume of milk and butterfat yielded by the average Michigan cow according to A. C. Baltzer, Extension Dairyman, Michigan State College.

Rainbow was bred by Hugh Oesterle, Webberville, Michigan. His name comes from the Rainbow Sir Bess Rose 11th bull used by Mr. Oesterle but bred by Robin Carr at Fowlerville. These three herds have been consistently high producing herds in the local herd improvement association averaging over 475 pounds butterfat annually.

Rainbow is not the largest bull owned by the Michigan Artificial Breeders but in terms of his daughters' production is one of the outstanding proofs used by this organization. Rainbow came to the organization in March 1947 and was sent every month during 1948. The records show that 3789 cows were bred on first and second service to this sire during the year and that 65 per cent of these settled to his service using a 60 day interval to determine whether or not the animal was in calf. Such extraordinary records are only possible however according to A. C. Baltzer, Extension Dairyman, Michigan State College, when farmers cooperate with local A. B. A. such as the Tuscola Cass City A. B. A. where semen shipment from East Lansing are received regularly. Richard Ross Inseminator-Manager reports each month to Secretary-Treasurer Harley Kelley and the other officers of the Cass City local A. B. A. about the progress of the organization.

This service is available at all times for Holstein, Guernsey and Red Dane breeds. Contact

WOMAN'S WORLD

Renovate Last Year's Clothes To Aid Budget, Be Fashionable

By Eritta Haley

AS LONG as there has been no startling change in the fashion picture, many women will feel quite free about wearing their last year's clothes without any changes and few additions to the wardrobe.

A bit of sharpening here and there on last year's clothes, however, will work wonders. The few hours spent on clothes and fitting can even work a miracle which all women can appreciate: deft remodeling can change last year's look into this year's.

Although skirts were somewhat shorter last year than during the previous season, they are now considerably shorter, with fourteen inches being the ideal length. However, as you may have noticed, many of last year's dresses were still quite long, especially in comparison with current new styles.

Pocket interest, too, was evident, but not nearly so marked as at present. The same is true of necklines. We had those which plunged and those which climbed high, but they were rather simple in their lines as well as without some of the current decorative features.

Pleats were present, too, but most of the types now being shown are the stitched down variety. Even with pleats, skirts have a clinging, graceful and slenderizing effect.

You don't have to be a genius with clothes to see the remodeling possibilities in these different situations. And wouldn't it be worth a few hours of fitting and sewing to convert last year's clothes into fashionable things for the current season? For those of you who say yes, we have some fashion tips that will work an amazing transformation in the wardrobe that you'll be proud to wear with a refreshing alertness and handsome pride.

Several Methods Employed For Shortening Skirts

Those of you who have some of the slender skirts of last year will find they fit in nicely with the new plans since that is the look designers have been achieving in their clothes.

Remove the old hem carefully and slowly so as not to catch or cut the material. Then measure the length of the skirt, or better

If much shortening is needed,

Be Smart!

For dancing youth that demands variety, and the busy social calendar of the college girl that does call for many wardrobe changes, behold the flame-colored cravat scarf as an accompaniment of black lace. Jeweled pins anchor the cravat to the ballet top of the dress. Other ideas presented for versatility include high color chiffon shirred into puffs of misty beauty, some seamed into an elbow length sleeve at the right, also mantilla-like lace scarves, all beautifully effective and capable of being worn with several different dresses.

SHORT STORIES

Smiling Loser

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

KIRBY FOUND the girl seated on an upturned box behind the stables crying. He hesitated, feeling awkward, then said:

"Hello. Anything wrong?" She looked up quickly, appraisingly. "No, please go away."

Instead, Kirby squatted on his heels. "You must have lost some money on that last race."

Black Fox fooled every one by not coming in. I lost too."

"I suppose I'm a baby to cry, but I couldn't help it. I—we, father and I staked everything on Black Fox. Then that terrible I'm-a-Runnin', who nobody thought had a chance, had to win."

She hesitated, dabbing at her eyes. He seemed like a nice young man. And she did so want company and to talk . . .

He discovered her name was Polly Hayden. The next day he called at her house and met her father, a jolly faced old gentleman with white walrus moustaches.

"We really shouldn't feel so badly," Polly told her father after the introductions were over. "Kirby lost a lot more than we and he isn't complaining at all."

That night Polly and Kirby had dinner at a little inn out on the Tamiami trail.

He knew she was wondering when and how he was going to pay his racing debts, and where he was going to get the money to establish himself in the law business. You just can't hang out a shingle in Miami and expect business at once.

But he didn't offer the information. The next day he hired an office on Flagler street, then called up Col. Stratton and asked that racing enthusiast to meet him at Hialeah.

"Colonel," he said over a sandwich and coffee an hour later, "I'm going to take you up on the offer you made me for I'm-a-Runnin'. He's yours for $50,000."

The colonel stared. "Now wait a minute, Kirby. Has the horse died or broken a leg or something?"

"Nothing of the sort," Kirby laughed. "I'm quitting racing for good. It's no business for an energetic young lawyer to be wasting his time at I hired an office this morning."

They went out to the stables and looked at I'm-a-Runnin'. The colonel couldn't understand it, but he wrote his check for $50,000 and the papers were passed. Conscious of a queer sensation in the pit of his stomach, Kirby headed back for the stables for a last farewell. Outside I'm-a-Runnin's stall he stopped dead still at sight of Polly Hayden talking with his stable boy.

HER EYES blazed at him. "Sol! The good loser. The man who can lose everything, who will have to spend the rest of his life paying his racing debts and still smiling! Oh, what a fool I've been!"

"Wait a minute! Listen!" He caught at her arm but she jerked away. He followed her out to her car. "You've got to listen," he said desperately, getting in beside her. "I only did it because I thought it would make you feel better. And it worked. I meant it when I said I was through with racing. I've sold I'm-a-Runnin' to Colonel Stratton. Look!" He held out the bill of sale and the check.

She stared at him round-eyed, frightened. "Oh, you shouldn't have! Kirby, you shouldn't! You'll never be able—I mean, you love horses. Any one can see that. You loved I'm-a-Runnin'!"

"Not half as much as I love you," he told her soberly. He put his arm around her. "You believe that, don't you? You must believe it."

"Darling, of course I do. And I am glad that you're going to be a respectable lawyer, only—only—"

"Only what?"

"Well, sometime, after we've been respectable for a good long while, we'll buy another horse, won't we? A horse as great as I'm-a-Runnin'? Because—we both love horses, don't we?"

"We do," Kirby agreed joyfully. Released by WNU Features

Co. Farm Bureau Leaders at Lansing

Kenneth L. Baur of Caro, manager of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau membership roll call for 1950, and membership campaign leaders for this county, were in Lansing recently for a statewide meeting of Farm Bureau membership workers.

"This year," said Mr. Baur, "60 county organizations have adopted the week of December 5 as the state roll call week for Farm Bureau membership." At Lansing leaders of the Michigan Farm Bureau and county people worked upon the campaign organization and information material which 6,000 volunteer workers will need December 5.

"In other years," said Mr. Baur, "County Farm Bureaus have conducted their membership campaigns at various dates in the period December 1 to February 15. This summer they agreed that they would gain much time and other benefits by combining campaigns in a one-week effort." County Farm Bureaus will use from 100 to 300 workers each in the campaign to call upon 100,000 farmers. They will cover every highway in 60 counties in one of the largest sales campaigns conducted in Michigan.

Those who attended the Lansing meeting with Mr. Baur were Henderson Graham of Caro, Paul Vollmar of Caro and Max Valentine of Millington.

At an informal meeting in Elkton Friday of representatives of the Upper Thumb's five class C schools, Harbor Beach, Elkton, Pigeon, Sebawaing and Vassar, it was decided no change in membership in the league would be made.

Dissolution of the league, which has been in existence 22 seasons since 1928, was considered possible because the four class C schools of Huron County, Harbor Beach, Elkton, Pigeon and Sebawaing, regarded competition as uneven because of larger enrollment in the league's three class B schools, Caro, Cass City and Bad Axe. The league's other school, Vassar, is a large class C unit with an enrollment of approximately 300.

No definite commitment was reached at the meeting Friday so undoubtedly the league will remain in its present form. Opinion in discussions of withdrawal from the league was divided between the five schools so no formal action was taken.

Full Speed Ahead In Dairying in '50

Signaling the dawn of a new decade for market-building action, the nation's dairy farmers have taken recognition of 10 years of progress by making preparations to go full speed ahead in 1950. This is the report of B. F. Beach, Adrian, upon his return from the executive session of the American Dairy Association at Columbus, Ohio.

"Never have there been greater market opportunities for dairy foods," he declared, adding "and never has competition been keener for the consumer's food dollar."

He pointed out that a business survey of today's market reveals: a 48 per cent increase in buying public purchasing power . . . 175 billion dollars in savings accounts . . . 12 billion dollars tucked away in cookie jars and mattresses . . . $2,800,000,000 insurance money to be distributed to veterans beginning in 1950 . . . a billion dollars redeemed by the buying public in savings bonds that mature next year.

The new campaign plans are keyed to take quick and full advantage of sales opportunities. The merchandising mobilizations are patterned after the current Cheese Festival that has broken all cheese sales records across the country.

"Now underway," he asserted "is the butter drive making 64 million sales impressions in national magazine circulation alone plus additional millions reached through radio and Xpress posters. Restaurant trade ads and editorial support are aimed at market possibilities for 290 million additional pounds of butter if each restaurant serves one extra pat of butter per meal."

Mr. Beach directed the attention of Michigan dairymen to the ADA pumpkin pie drive featuring evaporated milk and whipping cream, for the holiday season in which many related food organizations are cooperating. Milk will be spotlighted in December and again in the spring. Ice cream is scheduled for February and June and cottage cheese is a spring promotion.

"The dairy farmers of this state and the nation are initiating two new research projects," Mr. Beach reported. "The approval studies are (1) development of a completely new half-pound package for butter and (2) a study of the effect of heat on the nutritive value of dairy foods."

"All this is made possible by the pennies which dairy farmers in this state and across the nation set aside in June for year round product promotion," said Mr. Beach in pointing out the 10-year progress of the American Dairy Association from 6 states to 40 states. National ADA income this year will approximate 1 1/2 million dollars, it is estimated.

Three delegates from this state will attend the annual meeting of the American Dairy Association to be held March 27 and 28 in the Morrison Hotel, Chicago. "Parade of Sales" will keynote the dairy industry rally.

Number one test in your soil management program is keeping a regular check on lime reaction. This test should be made once every rotation. Michigan State College soil scientists say it's best to make it a year ahead of the legume seeding so that lime, when needed, can be applied well in advance of the seeding.

MICHIGAN Motoring

With Winter getting under way, it's difficult to predict exactly what the weather will be from day to day. But every day's weather demands extra care in driving . . . double precautions to safeguard your life and that of every one of your passengers in rain, sleet or snow, which are "killers" when combined with careless driving.

Right now is the time to double check your knowledge of the rules of safe driving . . . to know when it is safe to pass another car on the highway . . . how fast you may drive with safety . . . how many feet it takes to stop your auto in dry weather . . . or when the pavement is wet with rain or ice. These are important . . . and you'll find the answers in Michigan's What Every Driver Should Know.

Obtain a copy of this booklet, read it carefully, see that every other driver in your family reads it—and thoroughly understands the rules for good driving. Discuss the need for greater driving precautions with your sons and daughters—your wife—your friends. Make Safety the slogan for your neighborhood—and look forward to a safe holiday!

Flag Service

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. are offering a flag service to both the business places and private residences of Cass City.

Members of the Cass City Memorial Post, No. 6389, will take the responsibility of placing your flags out in the morning and taking them in at night on properly designated days for flag display.

We take your flags and store them in periods between these dates. The cost of this service is five dollars a year.

If you do not have a flag or staff, we are selling complete flag outfits at fifteen dollars, or the flag separately at seven-fifty. These flags are four by six feet in size, with sewn stars and stripes of a good quality cotton material. The metal staff of the outfit is the telescope type and extends to twelve feet in length. Outfit includes socket to place in ground and has an attractive eagle on top of staff.

One of our purposes in doing this is to raise money to buy colors for our Post. The cost of these colors is a considerable amount. Another purpose is that we feel the town has needed a service of this type, so it will help us and improve the appearance of the town on these designated days. December 7 is next day for flag display.
