

Rotarians Honor Robert L. Keppen, Past President

Keppen Family Will Leave Cass City to Live in California

Cass City Rotarians on Tuesday honored their past president, Robert L. Keppen, who recently sold his interest in the Ford Garage here and plans to leave with his family to locate in Redwood City, California, in the very near future.

Rev. Melvin R. Vender, poet laureate of the club, read an original poem in which was expressed the best wishes of club members and appreciation of Mr. Keppen's service to Rotary, the school and civic and business life of Cass City, and the esteem in which he is held in the community.

President Horace Bulen, in presenting Mr. Keppen with a pen and pencil set from the club, expressed like sentiments and spoke of the cordial relations that have existed between the two men as business competitors.

Previous to the two talks, the group sang "Auld Lang Syne" and "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Mr. Keppen responded briefly expressing his regret in leaving Cass City and his friends here. The change in climate is made in the hope that it will be beneficial to Mr. Keppen's health.

Robert Keppen came to Cass City in 1933 as a commercial teacher in the high school and assistant athletic coach. He purchased an interest in the Ford Garage in 1936 and for the last 13 years has been its manager. He has served as a member of the village council, a member and treasurer of the board of education, and Rotary Club president, besides taking an active part in the civic and business life of the community.

Keith McConkey was program chairman at the Rotary luncheon Tuesday and introduced Jack D. Brock of Saginaw who spoke on "Sugar Beets, So What?" Mr. Brock told of the prime assets of sugar beets as a farm crop and presented statistics regarding that product.

"Hank" Schremer, publicity director of the Detroit Junior Livestock Show, was a luncheon guest.

Keith Little at 4-H Congress in Chicago

Keith Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Little, of Novesta Township, and a member of the Cass City Livestock Club, leaves this week for Chicago where he will attend the National 4-H Congress from Friday to Tuesday. He is attending as a state delegate. The congress is held in connection with the International Livestock Exposition.

1950 Auto Tags on Sale December 1

Prepared auto license plate applications started going in the mails November 12 to 2,110,000 Michigan motorists, the Department of State has announced.

Motorists may take the application forms to any department branch office after December 1 and receive their 1950 license plates.

Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., urged motorists to obtain new licenses early so that the usual last minute rush may be avoided. The deadline for old plates is the last day of February.

Alger warned that under a new law, motor scooters must be titled and licensed.

Damon Keppen Feted In Token of Farewell

Following a lively discussion from the textbook, "God Has Spoken," led by Mrs. M. R. Vender, eleven members of the Westminster Youth Fellowship adjourned to the social room to top off the evening with a surprise feature, honoring Damon Keppen.

After refreshments had been served by Rev. and Mrs. Vender, a farewell gift of a monogrammed bronze-brass cross was presented by Sally Colbert, president, to Miss Damon, after expressing appreciation for her interest in, and loyalty to the Fellowship group, and voicing the society's regrets at seeing her go, but wishing for her new friends, a happy church home, and health in the California sunshine.

Post Office Dept. Wants Cooperation of the Patrons

Christmas Mailing Volume Is Expected to Be Heavier Than in Prior Years

The handling of Christmas mails is a tremendous task and there is every reason to believe that the volume this year will be as heavy or even heavier than in prior years. The public has always responded wholeheartedly to reasonable appeals for cooperation. The following information is furnished by the post office department as a guide to mailers.

Postage—Prepay postage fully on all mail matter.

Stamps—Save time by buying stamps in advance of the rush period.

Addresses—All mail matter must be plainly and completely addressed, preferably in ink, giving street address or post office box or rural route and rural box number whenever possible. Mail intended for delivery in the larger cities should be addressed to include the delivery zone number when applicable. It is important that the sender's return card appear in the upper left corner of the address side. Address tags should not be used unless absolutely necessary, in which case a copy of the address and sender's return card should be placed inside the parcel for purpose of identification, if necessary. Address labels and tags should be free of any extraneous written or printed matter.

Packing and wrapping—Pack articles carefully and tightly in strong durable containers. Wrap

J. M. Pratt Funeral Services Tuesday

Funeral services for John Morey Pratt were held at the Cumber Methodist Church on Tuesday, Nov. 22, and were conducted by the Rev. Sergei Moisejemo, the pastor. Burial was in the MacRae cemetery. Mr. Pratt passed away in the Cass City Hospital on Saturday evening where he had been a patient for two days. He had been in ill health since January.

Mr. Pratt was born in Armada Township, November 3, 1880, the son of Josiah Pratt, and the late Theada Harrington Pratt.

He was united in marriage to Miss Violet Hawksworth, April 9, 1902, in Uby. Following their marriage they made their home on a farm in Argyle Township where he lived until his death.

Mr. Pratt was a faithful member of the Cumber Methodist Church for the past forty years.

To mourn their loss are his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Edward Starr of Snover; two brothers, Harvey Pratt of Flint, and Winifred Pratt of Memphis, Michigan; one sister, Mrs. Agnes Class of St. Clair; his father, Josiah Pratt of St. Clair; and six grandchildren.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONTEST

An attendance contest between the Sunday schools of the Churches of the Nazarene in Lapeer and Cass City is running very close, reports Rev. Fred Belleville.

The local church stands only nine points ahead of the Lapeer church and the contest closes next Sunday so much stress is placed on a good attendance then.

One hundred eight were present in the Sunday school classes last Sunday here.

Community Chest Goal of $5,000 Almost Realized

Contributions and Subscriptions Totalled $4,935 on Tuesday, Chairman Said

Ninety-five per cent of the families of Elkland Township were contacted by solicitors in the Elkland Community Chest drive which has been practically completed and contributions and subscriptions on Tuesday totalled $4,935.32, just $64.68 short of the $5,000.00 goal. Some of the five per cent not contacted by solicitors were not at home when calls were made and it seems reasonable that the $64 still lacking will be taken care of by some of these persons. Anyone desiring to make contributions may leave them at the Pinney State Bank.

"We are very grateful to Dave Ackerman, chairman of the drive, and his efficient corps of solicitors for the success of the 1949 campaign," said Willis Campbell, president of the Elkland Community Chest, in speaking his appreciation and that of his fellow officers.

Church, Farm and Civic Leaders to Hold CROP Meeting

Church, farm and civic leaders of Tuscola County are invited to attend a meeting on Tuesday, November 29, at the courthouse beginning at 8:00 p. m. to discuss the organization of a local drive for the Christmas Rural Overseas Program (CROP), the nation-wide church program, to send farm commodities to the needy overseas.

This is the second meeting and attempt called by Loren S. Armbruster, county agricultural agent, to organize a county program. "The invitation is open to everyone in the county," Mr. Armbruster stated, "because CROP is a county-wide expression of service to the destitute and ill all over the world."

Russell Hartzler, director of the Michigan CROP campaign, or Rev. C. C. Henkelmann from Marine City, who is district supervisor, will explain the CROP program, which is sponsored by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service (22 Protestant denominations) and Lutheran World Relief. Also at this meeting, the need abroad will be discussed and the proposed participation by this county will be outlined.

Many Michigan counties are well on their way to meet the state goal of 100 carloads. County leaders are urged to attend this meeting to help Tuscola County do its own little share in this big program.

U of M Lecturer To Address P-T Group Monday

When the newly formed Parent-Teacher group holds its initial program meeting next Monday evening, November 28, Dr. George E. Carrothers, until recently director of the Bureau of Cooperation with Educational Institutions at the University of Michigan, will address the group on the subject, "Trends in Modern Education." Dr. Carrothers has had a long and intimate contact with education at the elementary, high school and college levels and for years was chief of the office which inspects Michigan high schools for accrediting by the University. His wide experience should make his address very much worth-while.

This meeting is an outgrowth of an exploratory session held last month at which a group of school patrons voted to organize an association of all those interested in the problems of education in this community. It was suggested that, subject to later decision by the group, a total of perhaps four meetings be held during the year.

A nominating committee named at the first session will present a slate of candidates for offices in the organization. Several musical numbers are planned in addition to the speaker and a committee is planning for refreshments at the close of the program.

It is hoped that an encouraging attendance will be shown at this, the winter meeting of the organization. All persons in the area served by the Cass City school, whether or not they have children in school, are cordially invited to attend.

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Alleman

What is the Michigan farmer thinking about these days?

The Michigan Farm Bureau and the Michigan State Grange held annual conventions in recent weeks.

These state-wide organizations wield a powerful influence among farm people. When the leaders speak and resolutions are finally adopted, the result is somewhat of a Gallup poll taken at the Grass Roots on a representative basis.

While approving present federal support program for agricultural commodity prices, the Farm Bureau delegates were highly critical of federal subsidies. Generally speaking, the farmer would like to see these abandoned. He fears the ultimate result of a regimented farm economy under the Brannan Plan.

On state issues Farm Bureau delegates urged a two-cent a gallon increase in the present three-cent gasoline tax to finance better roads. They urged Governor Williams to include a road plan program in the forthcoming special session early in 1950.

Construction of toll superhighways, state financing of pre-strike votes by unions, socialized medicine, colored oleomargarine, billboard construction on highways, and dual control over state fairgrounds all were opposed by Bureau delegates. President of the Michigan Farm Bureau is Carl E.

Street Decorations Up Before Thanksgiving Unusually Attractive

Cass City's business street has been treated to an elaborate "Christmassy atmosphere" and street decorations, which were placed before Thanksgiving, are most unusual. Not for a long period of years has the business district been so well decorated for the holiday season.

Several large Christmas trees ranging from 18 to 25 feet in height came from Luzerne and have been stationed at regular intervals along Main Street. Each large tree will be lighted with 75 electric bulbs as "neighbor projects," business people in each area contributing to defray the illuminating expense.

Each traffic sign post on the main thoroughfare is surmounted with a small Christmas tree which carries a 25-light string of bulbs. The smaller trees were bolted to their places by a committee who donated their services last Thursday afternoon. In the group were the Baker Electric Shop, Dr. D. E. Rawson, Keith McConkey, Barney Freiburger, Arlan Hartwick and Ernest Croft.

There are only 25 more shopping days left before Christmas and residents of Cass City and nearby communities will find a considerable amount of Christmas merchandise already on display and more will be put out this week and next. Cass City stores which cater to the holiday trade—and that includes nearly all of them—have taken on a holiday atmosphere and display attractive merchandise which make most suitable gifts for all ages—from baby to grandmother. Store owners are looking forward to a large pre-holiday business.

Cass City Debaters Win from Caro

At the two debates at the Cass City High School on Tuesday evening, held under the auspices of the Michigan High School Forensic Association, Cass City won both decisions from Caro students. All teams were well matched and all students displayed considerable talent.

Otto Ross is the local debate coach and members of the Cass City teams are: Affirmative Melva McConnell and "Bob" Mann. Negative, Helen Phetteplace and Shirley Kritzman.

Caro debaters are: Affirmative, Janet Gallery and Larry Robinson. Negative, Ruth Ann Hall and Joseph Terrell.

Judges came from Bay City Junior College and were H. C. Klingbeil, speech instructor, and Fred B. Rogers.

Thumb Prints

Vassar—A large group of community-minded Vassar citizens were on hand Armistice Day at the old fairgrounds in spite of the raw weather to see the site dedicated as the Vassar Memorial Park. In a few short months members of the Fairgrounds Association and other volunteer workers have converted the tract into a well-groomed area and renovated one of the finest race tracks in this vicinity.

Bay Port—The annual run of herring, which started so late this year, has built up to a tremendous crescendo, boosting daily catches to record heights and plummeting fish prices to rock bottom low. Marketing channels are jammed, so herring are selling cheaply in city markets, and much more cheaply at the docks in Bay Port.

Marlette—An estimated cost of building a new elementary school building in Marlette and the estimated cost of operating it was revealed at a recent meeting sponsored by the board of education. The total estimated bill to the taxpayers for a ten-classroom two-kindergarten structure was estimated at $299,500. The yearly cost of operating it was estimated at $29,250.

Clever Presents for Everyone Are Easily Made From Scraps

By Ertta Haley

ARE YOU gazing woefully at your Christmas budget and wondering how in the world you can make it stretch without slighting anyone? Don't despair, because there are probably the makings of a dozen presents in things you have at home right now.

The young fry will enjoy soft, cuddly animals or dolls made from scraps in the rag bag; sister and brother could use some scuffs easily made from cotton feed, sugar or flour sacks.

Dad would enjoy a bathrobe or lounging jacket made from a piece of discarded wool, dyed, if essential. Then you probably have many scraps or sugar sacks from which can come towels, pot holders, luncheon sets or cloths and napkins for your women friends.

Plan Handy Gifts For Brother, Dad

Gifts for men can easily be planned around their leisure time activities. If walking and hiking are the main interests, make a soft scarf to wear. This may be personalized with a huge monogram applied with the zigzagger at attachment of the sewing machine.

Or, if the men of the family like golf, take some sturdy scraps from the rag bag and sew some mitten-like covers for the heads of the golf clubs. Finished off with tape, the gloves can be tied snugly around the club heads, protecting them from scratches. Then, to aid in selecting the club desired, use the zigzagger attachment to stitch the club number on each mitt.

There are many different types of gifts to make for the sister in the family. For example, if her taste runs to glamor accessories, try making a huge waist-nipping belt of gay felt. Attach felt suspenders that narrow at the waistline and widen over the shoulders. With a bag and hat to match, and the entire ensemble decorated with felt flowers, the young miss can step out brightly on her trip to town.

Or, if sister has a room of her own, give her a real start toward decorating. You'll find home decorating booklets at your local sewing center with literally hundreds of ideas for her room and even other rooms. You might try making a matching bedspread and dressing table cover. Or, cover the wastepaper basket or trim her round mirror with a frame of gay plaid.

By making your gifts.

Personalize Your Gifts By Sewing at Home

If you belong to any club groups you'll certainly be called upon to

Be Smart!

Extremely short hair styles and little hats, the inseparable combination, are much in the fashion news these days. The berets that have special fashion significance turn casual with a distinct backward stance in the trend set by more formal present day hats. You'll see the smartest ones being worn high, in gay colors that make them a bright topknot for a college or career girl.

Christmas Idea

Any little child will be as happy as this little girl if you are resourceful enough to make a gingham dog and calico cat which "side by side at the table sat." You may create the patterns yourself. You'll need only a bit of gingham and calico, cotton stuffing and hot iron mending tape plus a bit of time to put the animals together.

contribute some presents for a grab bag or party or even for a sale. If you need none of these, you'll have some homemakers whom you will want to remember during the holidays.

The most welcome gifts are those which say they're made just for you. These need not run into expense, if that's the way your budget operates, but they can be personalized. Even if you make some applied pot holders, plan them to harmonize or match with the color scheme of the kitchen of the friend to whom you're giving.

Plain towels for kitchen or bathroom can be made glamorous if you sew on floral appliques, obtained from the local sewing center. These appliques may also be use for shower or window curtains or luncheon sets or tablecloths and napkins.

Another idea that won't take long to whip together is the sachet. Odds and ends of felt or scraps from old-length slips and satin lingerie pieces make minute bags to hold sachet powder. With your sewing machine you can whip up enough for several dozen such gifts in an afternoon or evening.

Soft Dolls, Animals Are Easy to Make

An appealing idea to use for a gift is "The gingham dog and calico cat" made either for your own youngsters or for some little tots you may know. If you can't buy patterns, they're easy enough to create and make from gay scraps of material.

First, make the pattern for a sitting-up dog and another for an erect cat. Cut the identical back and front of the dog from pieces of red plaid gingham. Cut the identical back and front of the cat from pieces of purple calico.

Iron an eye, a nostril and an ear on the front of the dog with pieces of hot iron mending tape. Iron an eye and whiskers on the cat with hot iron mending tape.

Now place cotton stuffing between the back and front of each animal. Seal the backs to the fronts with hot iron mending tape.

No, they don't even take any sewing! And of course, you can create any number of other animals in the same way.

Use Ingenuity To Create gifts

Cultivate your observation to a high degree in these next few weeks if you really want to make useful and welcome gifts. Every time you pay a call, check to see if you can find some spot that could use a homemade gift.

If you're playing bridge at someone's home, see if the lady of the house couldn't use an extra bridge table cover. These are very attractive made out of simple gingham, or they may be quilted on the sewing machine if you have the time for a fancier job. Monograms or appliques may be added depending upon how elaborate you want to make the gift.

Or, what about your neighbor with a baby? Could she use an extra pair of corduroy overalls which will take two or three hours to make?

What about the brand new baby who is teething? They can never have enough bibs. You can make a set of two or three or more very easily out of scraps of material. Old Turkish towels are an excellent source of material, by the way. Cut them oblong and bind them with hot iron mending tape of a contrasting color. Cut a semi-circle for the neck and the bind. For the bib strings, simply fold a length of the tape and press together.

Are someone's bedroom slippers run down? Patterns for scuffs are available, or you can make them yourself. Sturdy cotton bags, those which come already printed or the white ones which you can dye to match robes, are excellent source material. Contrasting binding may be used to decorate them.

Michigan Mirror

Concluded from page 1. Buskirk of Paw Paw, re-elected to serve his fifth consecutive term.

W. G. Armstrong, master of the Michigan State Grange, sounded the keynote before the Grange annual convention recently when he declared that constitutional diversion of Sales Tax revenue back to home governments left the state of Michigan with one of three choices: To shift some of the cost of public services back to home governments, to cut sharply into state of Michigan services such as for colleges and hospitals, and to levy new taxes to avert an inevitable deficit.

The levying of a new state tax would be a further step towards inflation by adding further cost to commodities and surpluses. Economists are already pointing out that the grant of company-paid pensions by the U. S. Steel corporation, Ford Motor Company and other big industrial concerns will have the equivalent effect of another round of wage increases as far as production costs are concerned.

City consumers may be complaining about food prices. They know that farm prices have dropped 13 percent for the first nine months of 1949 compared with the same period last year.

While non-farm income was up approximately one billion dollars in September, farm income was down one billion six hundred million.

The Michigan farmer knows that farmers generally have shouldered nearly all the price decline so far, while wages to store help and other middlemen agencies have continued to go up. Farmers get only 48 cents of the consumer food dollar today as compared with a high of 55 cents 18 months ago.

Before the war the farm share of the food dollar was around 40 cents. In the low depression years farmers received only 32 cents.

The economic squeeze facing the farmer is that the cost of farm operation is apt to remain steady and possibly increase during the next few years, while prices for farm commodities steadily decline. Lower profits thus appear to be inevitable.

You can't blame the Michigan farmer for wondering what is ahead and perhaps favoring some kind of government planning and controls whereby the postwar slump in farm economy, following World War I, may still be averted.

The Michigan farmer also is concerned over our steady path to inflation through constant deficit financing. This apprehension may be summed up by the following illustration:

If the 3,900,000 farmers who own and operate their own farms were to convert their land, livestock and equipment into cash, the net result would be 25 billion dollars cash, only enough to operate the United States government for seven months!

Your Feet Hurt? Try Health Spot Shoes FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

That doesn't make sense to a man close to the ground as a dirt farmer.

The want ads are newsy, too.

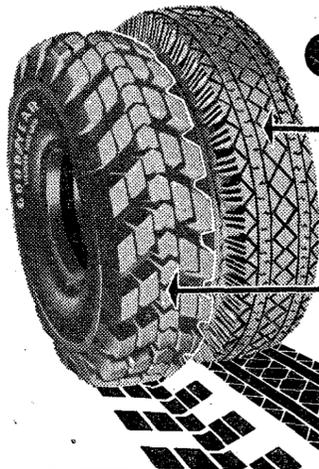

The foresters at Michigan State College have come up with their suggestion for keeping busy during the winter. They say it's an excellent time to work in the farm woodlot. It's easier to do improvement work in the hardwoods of Michigan when leaves are off trees.

Don't plan on applying lime on top of snow, caution Michigan State College soil scientists. As the snow melts, even on almost level land, the lime will be moved some and give uneven distribution.

Use the Want Ads.

Save the Bees
Arsenical killing dusts are harmful to bees and should be used with extreme caution.

Humane Actions Toward Animals Pay Dividends

CHICAGO.—Year by year humane acts to animals are paying off. Samaritans who help animals in distress, where these be under 18 years old, win national honors for their efforts.

The American Veterinary Medical association, which bestows the awards, believes that a "cornerstone" of its practice is the "relief of the suffering of domestic animals and livestock."

The association presents its awards to youngsters under 18, either boy or girl, for an exceptional act of kindness to animals during the year.

Nominations are received from throughout the United States and Canada. Winners are chosen by a three-member committee of veterinarians. Presentations are made at the association's annual conventions. Winners get a certificate describing their act of kindness and a $100 U.S. savings bond.

Not All for Heroism

The idea was originated by Dr. W. A. Young, 51, director of Chicago's celebrated Anti-Cruelty Society. He headed the award committee until he was succeeded by Dr. S. T. Michael of San Francisco.

Not every award is won for a single act of heroism. The committee also takes into consideration a candidate's record of consistent gentleness and mercy towards animals.

Activities of the youthful entrants include, in addition to the rescue of animals from danger, the staging of benefits for the care of lost dogs and volunteer work in animal hospitals.

Three of the association's six awards have been for heroism; the others for humane deeds for animal friends.

One of the winners was Frank Kiemle, Chicago, who edits "Pet News," a weekly newspaper devoted exclusively to animal stories. The standard-size, 10-page publication is circulated in 21 foreign countries.

Twelve-year-old John Newton of Columbus, Ohio, won the 1948 award for establishing National Cat Week. He gave up his vacation in summer camp to take over the job of winning nationwide recognition of the cat.

Only One Girl

Suzanne Weller, 14, Pittsburgh, Pa., is the only girl honored. Pretty blonde Suzanne received the 1947 award for her singlehanded capture of a rabid fox terrier which had bitten more than 30 persons, including herself.

Winner of last year's award was Richard Swank, 13, of Mentor, Ohio. He rescued an abandoned and ill puppy. With the aid of a local veterinarian, the boy nursed it back to health. Later he worked to earn his own money to pay for an operation needed to save the animal's life.

A boy's love for his blind dog, a companion since childhood, won the association's 1949 award. Richard Rose, 17, of Detroit, was recognized for his thoughtfulness in building a special headgear fitted with bumpers so the dog could walk without injuring itself. Veterinarians believe the device will be useful for hundreds of other blind dogs.

12-Year-Old Has Big Time Spending Pilfered $375

BOSTON—A 12-year old boy had a wonderful time spending $375 he pilfered from a pocketbook. He told police this is how he spent the money:

He spent $75 treating his pals to ice cream and soda pop.
He tore up $100 because he thought it was a counterfeit bill.
He gave $100 each to two friends.

One friend cashed his $100 bill in a store and the clerk kept $30 for making change. With the remaining $70 he bought a harmonica, a cowboy suit and a Sunday-go-to-meeting jacket and pants.

The thrifty member of the trio banked his $100 to buy new clothes for the fall school term.

Man Paralyzed 6 Years, Gets New Car, Cash From Friends

GREENVILLE, Pa.—The shiny new automobile rolled to a stop in front of the Ralph Riley home. Ralph, paralyzed for six years, guided his wheelchair to the street. A salesman popped from the car and asked Ralph how he'd like to try the special driving controls that eliminate the use of the feet in driving. Maybe, the salesman said, the controls could be fitted into Ralph's 10-year old car.

Ralph got into the car. The controls worked fine. Another auto pulled up behind him. Some people jumped out. They told Ralph the car was his. They also gave him a collapsible chair, $75 in cash and paint for the Riley house.

The gifts were from friends and former co-workers. Ralph was hurt while welding on a wartime ship order.

Adapted Alfalfa Seed Called Best

New alfalfa varieties are continually being brought out by plant breeders in various parts of the country. When time comes for buying next year's supply of seed, confusion sometimes arises about the best kind for Michigan growing conditions.

S. T. Dexter, Michigan State College farm crops specialist, recently conducted field tests on alfalfa varieties to find which one yielded well. As a general rule, varieties developed in a warmer climate may not produce satisfactory yields over a period of time, he points out.

Michigan-grown Grimm and Hardigan seed is fully equal to any seed tested for most purposes in Michigan. If but one cutting is taken, Ladak may be superior in hay production, particularly in the north. Ranger can be expected to last longer in soil badly infested with bacterial wilt, particularly if the alfalfa is treated with caution to avoid winter injury.

In areas where winter injury is not a factor, the only reason for considering Buffalo rather than Ranger is that the seed of Buffalo is more readily obtained.

Girl, 18, Collects Insects in Hobby Started as Child

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Instead of shrieking with horror when she sees a bug, Dalene Pferrer shouts with joy and tries to catch it for her collection.

At 18, she knows plenty about butterflies and insects—most of which she learned outside school. It all began when she had just learned to walk. Her father, E. H. Pferrer, used to take her fishing. Since she was too small to fish, she toddled around catching bugs.

She has been seriously studying about them for five years. She has a case of butterflies and one of other insects, but she prefers to study them while they're alive. She spent months studying a colony of termites in her back yard, and bees and ants on her father's farm at Jeffersonville.

On the lookout for unusual bugs, she usually carries a small box or bottle with her. One day she noticed a darling underwing moth lying dead in the show window of a downtown department store. She marched in, asked for it, and got it.

She has a butterfly net, but says the best way to catch them is with a mixture of peach juice and whiskey. "You put it on a tree," she explained. "The butterflies are attracted by the sweet peach juice and they get drunk on the whiskey. It's simple to catch them while they flounder around. I really don't think it's quite fair to catch them that way, though."

Some of the insects in her collection were given to her by relatives and friends. Her uncle, a carpenter, found a large rhinoceros beetle in the basement of a house he was working on.

"You find more insects when you're not looking for them," Dalene said.

Red Cross Recreation Program Helps Hospitalized Servicemen

Providing recreation and entertainment for hospitalized and convalescent servicemen is an important Red Cross job at military hospitals. These Red Cross hospital recreation workers take a group of patients for a tour of Mammoth Cave, Ky., during an outing sponsored by a community service organization.

Any woman will tell you she'd rather nurse five sick children than one sick man. Doctors and nurses are inclined to agree with her. A man resents being helpless and is often beset by fears for himself and his family.

The sick soldier is little different from the civilian, except that treating the sick serviceman presents additional problems.

Unlike the patient in the civilian hospital, who undergoes his convalescence at home, the soldier remains in the hospital until he is completely fit for duty. After the acute phase of the serviceman's illness is past, he is sent to a "reconditioning ward," where he remains until he is able to take up his regular military job. Sometimes he remains there for weeks. An usually he is far from home.

For recreation and simple, pleasurable activities to fill those long hours of convalescence, military physicians in post hospitals look to the American Red Cross and its corps of specially trained recreation workers.

Recreational programs are adapted to the needs of both the man confined to his ward and the convalescent. They range from teaching a bedridden man to play solitaire to dances and bingo games for the man on the road to recovery.

There are motion pictures for both ward patients and the convalescent, and for the ambulatory patients there are tickets and transportation to nearby ball parks and theaters.

There are also the special services provided by volunteer workers. Gray Ladies run errands and write letters. Motor Service provides transportation. Volunteer Services, working with other community agencies, help bring into the hospitals boys and girls of the same age group as the hospitalized serviceman.

Red Cross provides the "home touch" which, added to medical and nursing care, helps restore the sick man to good health.

Youngster Gets Tips on Railway Prexy's Skills

CHICAGO.—Seldom does a youngster get the opportunity for the kind of advice that came to 15-year-old Eugene Knol, of Blue Earth, Minn.

Eugene had wanted to be a railroad president ever since he can remember. A high school freshman, he has his heart set on that job. Now, he has taken the first step in that direction.

He was assigned in school to write a paper on what he planned to do in adult life. He needed expert advice, so he wrote to C. H. Buford, president of the Milwaukee railroad.

The letter finally found its way through all the intricate channels, in a huge railway office to the desk of President Buford.

Buford said later he read the letter with a nostalgic feeling. It had been years, he said, since railroad presidents received letters from boys with that ambition.

Buford was glad to write the letter, he said, and took considerable time from his duties. He was "on the spot," so he thought about it for a long time, then sat down and outlined the steps he believed brought him to the top job.

This is his advice:

1. Keep strong and physically fit. This is a must for railroad men.

2. No young man can succeed in any line unless he is scrupulously honest, conscientious and considerate of others. Develop confidence in yourself, but don't be a smart aleck.

3. Industry and co-operation are important. Teamwork is as essential on a railroad as on a football field.

Don't be Miserly. Learn and remember the value of the dollar. Don't be miserly, but get value received for what you spend, and don't squander either your own or your employer's money.

5. Cultivate and develop a pleasant and friendly personality.

6. Finish college, and, perhaps, a technical or professional school. Specialize in some type of engineering, accounting, business administration, law, or some other field. It is possible to achieve the presidency through any of these lines.

7. Spend your summer vacations working on a railroad. You must know a great deal about all types of railroad work.

8. When you get that vacation job, get a letter of recommendation or go on your own. Sell yourself to your employer. Tell him that you are not afraid to work and that you are ready to start.

Dillman School to Have Fair Nov. 28

The pupils of the Dillman School are making plans for a school fair to be held Monday evening, November 28, starting at 8:00 o'clock. The proceeds of this fair will go towards the fund which the school and the West Elkland 4-H Club are collecting to purchase a movie projector.

Among the features of the fair will be a bazaar where lovely Christmas gifts can be purchased, a baked goods stand, a homemade candy stand, and exhibit of some of the children's work, as well as a few novelties. The children also plan to sell hot dogs, coffee, and pop.

It is hoped that the public will help with this project by attending this event.

China Faucet Handles

The hazards of china faucet and valve handles are stressed by the Plumbing and Heating Industries bureau. China handles are likely to break and cut the hand or arm of the user. The replacement of all china handles with metal handles is advocated by the bureau.

Camel, "a Sullen Beast"

The World Book encyclopedia describes the camel as "a shaggy, awkward, stiff-legged, goose-necked, hump-backed beast. It has a split upper lip, popteyes, loosely hung jaws, and a stupid sad expression on its too-small face. Its temper is sad and sullen, interrupted by fits of anger and rage. The camel's personal habits are so bad that it has few friends, even among other camels."

Baltic States Today

The Baltic states are predominantly agricultural and their pre-war economy was based on privately owned smallholdings and farms ranging from about 12 to 120 acres. Contrary to Soviet promises made on the eve of the second occupation the policy of collectivization, which appears to the independent and progressive Baltic farmer only as a revival of feudal bondage in a new form, is now enforced with ruthless determination.

Pin Makers' Guild
The safety pin disappears from recorded history during Europe's Middle Ages. But by the 14th century its near relative, the common pin, was making news in the business of holding things together. The pin makers of London formed their own guild in 1372.

Origin of Canary
The canary, holding its popularity as a caged songbird, takes its name from its native locale, the Canary Islands. The name stems from canis, the Latin word for dog, because of the dog-head shape of Tenerife, largest isle of this Spanish group.

Gigantic Sea Turtle Hailed by Koreans As Prosperity Omen

SEOUL, KOREA.—An upsurge of spirits came to this republic recently with the arrival of a gigantic sea turtle—possibly the largest ever caught.

The turtle, getting into the spirit of things, downed three crocks of wine offered it by fishermen who snared it off the south tip of Korea. "It's an omen," solemnly declared President Syngman Rhee. "The turtle is our symbol of longevity and prosperity. It means prosperity for the nation."

The turtle was described as being six or seven feet long and was estimated to be 1,000 years old. President Rhee ordered it brought to the Seoul zoo and radioed the Korean embassy in Washington on the care and feeding of turtles.

The President wasn't kidding about the prosperity and longevity omen. It goes far back into Korean folklore and also is bolstered by history. In 1592 the famous Korean admiral Yi Sun Sin devised a turtle-shaped ship credited with being the world's first armor-clad vessel. With a small fleet of these strange craft, he thwarted an invasion by the Japanese dictator Hideyoshi, ramming and sinking the enemy ships with the great turtle-headed prow while archers fired flaming arrows from beneath the armored carapace. It was 300 years before Japanese seapower recovered. Rhee did not mention this, but every Korean knows the story and will get the significance.

Report Made Gasoline Can Be Taken From Coal

WASHINGTON.—The federal bureau of mines has reported that gasoline can be made from coal to sell for only three or four cents a gallon more than natural gas.

The estimate was part of a report prepared by staff members of the bureau's coal-to-oil demonstration plant at Louisiana, Mo.

James Boyd, bureau director, said the report demonstrated that "unlimited quantities of premium gasoline now could be produced from coal at a cost that would increase the current service-station price by only three to four cents a gallon." "Through the sale of by-products phenols, for which demand may be limited, a few initial plants could produce gasoline at an even lower cost," Boyd said.

M.D. Lifts Own Appendix, Back at Work in 2 Days

TELLURIDE, COL.—Dr. George C. Balderston was back at work, two days after removing his own appendix.

While at the American Legion hospital Dr. Balderston got all the proper tools together and summoned a friend, Dr. Richard Gladman, to stand by in case anything went wrong.

Then, without using mirrors, Dr. Balderston went to work. In a sitting position he handled the entire operation on himself and after about 45 minutes he closed the wound with clamps and stitches.

The idea? "I wanted to get a first-hand reaction of a patient to local anesthesia. And I wanted to study post-operative effects."

He said he figured he'd proved patients should "get back on their feet as soon as possible after surgery."

He said he felt fine.

Four Red-Faced Detectives Nabbed as "Armed Men"

MT. VERNON, OHIO.—It was too hot for all this to happen, but it did—and the soaring mercury was the cause of it all.

Police here received a call that four armed men were heading North on Route 3 in an automobile. The state highway patrol, the sheriff's office and police went to work and set up a roadblock.

The sheriff of Columbiana county, headed for Ohio penitentiary with a prisoner, heard the police broadcast. He turned back to join the manhunt.

The roadblock worked, the "armed men" were halted—but they turned out to be four Cleveland detectives.

The detectives had stopped along the highway near Sunbury to remove their coats because of the heat—and someone saw their service revolvers.

Percentages Scrambled in California Election

SAN CARLOS, CAL.—Residents of San Carlos figured either there were some ballot-counting shenanigans or statistics can't be trusted.

In a petition circulated to find out whether residents favored or opposed new sidewalks, 51 per cent of the population said "Yes," 51 per cent said "No."

The uproar caused City Clerk Beatrice Roberts to resign and Chief of Police Ed Wheeler was threatened with a lawsuit for false arrest for trying to eject from the city council a leader of the anti-sidewalk movement.

Small Job Improves Barn Water System

A farmer recently installed drinking cups in this dairy barn and found an annoying pounding at times—usually just as a cow would stop drinking. He wondered what could be done to eliminate the noise.

A. J. Bell, Michigan State College agricultural engineer, believes the advice he gave this farmer might be of interest to others. The pounding comes from the surge of water in the pipe. When a tap is closed or a cow quits drinking, the water pressure causes the pounding. It can be overcome by placing an air dome near the end of the line.

The air dome need be only a piece of 2 or 2½ inch pipe about 24 inches long mounted on a tee. The pipe has air in it and cushions the surge of water, thereby eliminating the noise.

DEEP LITTER GOOD IN POULTRY HOUSE

A litter at least six inches deep on the floor of the laying house will help keep the house dry during damp winter months, say Michigan State College poultrymen.

The litter should be stirred frequently to keep it open so air can get into it. Build up the litter with a layer of fresh material from time to time. When part of the litter gets wet, remove it and add new material.

This week has been devoted by radio fans the country over to an endeavor to come in touch with foreign stations. Warren Wood was fortunate Tuesday night in tuning in with Station 2BD at Aberdeen, Scotland.

Deer hunters of this community brought home four deer from the north woods. Harold Dickinson, Clifton Champion and Andrew Champion are each credited with one, while Grant Patterson and Alfred Fort have divided honors in bringing down the fourth animal.

The Home Guards of the Methodist Church superintended by Mrs. J. A. Sandham met at the home of Phyllis Lenzner Friday afternoon for their November meeting. The officers for the year are: President, Marguerite Henry; vice president, Mildred Karr; secretary, Phyllis Lenzner; ass't. sec., Mary Dailey; treas., Esther Schell; ass't. treas., Edith Smithson; cor. sec., June Townsend; mite box sec., Maxine Corkins; ass't. mite box sec., Marjorie Graham; supply sec., Deloris Sandham; first ass't., Catherine Bailey; 2nd ass't., Mabel Milne; collection sec., Helen Battel; ass't., Lovelia Lapeer.

Elkland Township taxpayers will find the state tax slightly lower than in 1913 and the county tax higher. The township tax is also lower. Here are the figures: State tax, $3,820.38; county tax, $4,182.

The International Livestock Exposition for 1914 at Chicago has been declared off by reason of the appearance of the dreaded "hoof and mouth" disease.

The announcement that Postmaster General Buleson favors a change in the rural delivery system whereby carriers will have to bid for the work and obtain it by bidding lower than any one else is causing apprehension among rural carriers all over the country.

Big Drug Doses May Be Bad for Cattle

Giving excessive dosages of drugs and concoctions to dairy cattle sometimes causes more trouble than benefit, cautions Dr. B. J. Killham, extension veterinarian at Michigan State College.

A little medicine or a few minerals may assist the natural powers of dairy cows in getting them back to health, but it does not follow that more will prove even better.

Instances in which misguided use of drugs has caused trouble are far too numerous, continues Killham. Owners of good herds follow the rule of not administering drugs, special minerals, or so-called conditioners unless their contents and effects are adequately known and specifically indicated.

UNDERSTANDING

He was about to leave for the office when his wife handed him a small parcel.
"What's this, dear?" he asked.
"A bottle of hair tonic."
"That's very nice of you, but—er—"
"Oh, it's not for you!" she replied. "It's for your typist. Her hair is coming out badly on your coat."

Bronze Age Pins

Back in the Bronze Age, more than 2,000 years before Christ, pins strikingly like the safety pins of today were in wide use. Museums contain numerous examples of these relics, made with typical spring and catch, with plain or open points.

Pasteurized Milk

When milk is pasteurized, it is exposed to a temperature not less than 145 degrees F. for at least 30 minutes, then is cooled rapidly to 20 degrees to 40 degrees F. This makes it keep longer, by killing some of the organisms that cause it to sour.

Role of Cholesterol

Hardening of the arteries is believed to be due to fat (cholesterol) that deposits on the inner lining of vessel walls, especially those which supply the heart, and thus narrows the blood's passageway.

Lake of Fire Lake Waccamaw, a placid resort in southeastern North Carolina, is believed to be of fire origin. Recent dredging operations have turned up charred tree trunks, leading many to believe the saucer-shaped lake was created when a huge fire, five miles by seven, burned out the peaty ground. It is a long way from Elkin, North Carolina to S. Shue & J. C. Plagens, Memphis, Michigan, which is the background for the proved Guernsey sire Klondike Paragon Avery 274638. Klondike has a proof in the Plagens herd based on 8 daughters with 11 records making 9085 pounds milk with 4.5 per cent test and 413 pounds fat. This bull which is 10 years old was originally bred in North Carolina and used in the B. L. Prentice herd, Marine City, Michigan, before coming to Shue & Plagens.

Richly bred, with records on the dam at 4 years showing 16,893 milk and 804 fat, the Shue & Plagens herd is happy with the 20 or more daughters that they have by this sire. In St. Clair County, this herd has been one of the leading DHIA herds. The herd was also one of the earliest Guernsey herds established in the Thumb region. Mr. A. C. Baltzer inspected this herd and recommended the bull to the Michigan Artificial Breeders Guernsey bull buying committee.

Proofs of sires are developed cooperatively by dairy farmers placing their herds under production test in a local dairy herd improvement association and by listing the records. Michigan State College sends those records to the Dairy Bureau, USDA, Washington, D. C., to have a daughter-dam comparison assembled, resulting in a sire proof. This method of determining the inheritance of a sire is one of the best known methods to secure good seed stock. It is used by all states cooperating with the agricultural college and avoids private proofs on bulls which may be incorrectly calculated.

This service is available at all times for Holstein, Guernsey and Red Dane breeds. Contact

Plant Ills Expert Has Important Job Task Complicated, Needs Much Study

Diagnosing plant ills is a complicated task and one which requires careful study. Specialists of the Clemson extension entomology and plant disease department suggest that, in arriving at decisions, consideration should always be given to possibility of winter injury and cold damage.

"Telling farmers and other plant growers what ails their plants is an important function of the agricultural workers," the specialists say. "It is the first step in prescribing the best possible remedy."

Seed treatment is not a cure-all, they point out, even though at times it is entirely effective in preventing the occurrence of diseases.

Diagnosing plant ills, as this expert is doing here, is a complicated task and one which requires study.

They explained that diseases may be carried over on old crop refuse in the seed bed, on soil, or weeds. Other practices may be needed to obtain greatest disease control. For example, seed treatment alone does not completely control watermelon anthracnose, but in demonstrations last year seed treatment delayed the disease until late in the season when a minimum of dust applications proved practical.

Two 'Rules of Thumb' Available to Dairymen

Dairyman interested in measuring the efficiency of their farm production now have two "rules of thumb" to use as guides. The more efficient dairymen are those who ship 50 gallons of milk daily for each full-time man employed in their dairy business, according to Joe Pou, extension dairyman at the University of Maryland. As another guide, he states that one gallon of milk should be produced daily for each acre of cropland and pasture used in feeding the dairy herd.

Range Shelters Pay Off For Raisers of Poultry

Successful poultrymen are increasing their use of range shelters. Range shelters are easier to build and cost less than a brooder house. They can be readily moved. Growing birds get more fresh air and access to clean body-building pasture. Missouri university tests showed that birds pastured on well-fertilized alfalfa were healthier and needed less feed for each pound of gain.

There were twenty Scouts at the county Scout Leaders' conference held at Cass City last Saturday afternoon.

There were Scouts from troops 155 of Reese, 156 and 160 of Caro, and troop 194 of Cass City.

The conference lasted from 1:30 to 9:00. At dinner, chili was served to the hungry Scouts by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. MacKenzie.

The Scouts saw three movies and two film strips. These movies concerned planning meetings and keeping Scouts interested. The film strips were about Exploring under the change that was made in September.

Five Cass City boys were leaders during the program: Robert Mann, Dick Wallace, Carl Reed, Bill Martus and James Ware.

The Scouts had a very enjoyable time. Today (Friday) a hike is planned for Scouts and candidates. The boys will meet at school at 10:30 and cook their lunches in the woods.

Young Calves Hit Hard by Baffling 'X' Disease

When X disease strikes a herd of cattle, death losses may run as high as 90 per cent in affected animals under 6 months of age. Losses average 10 to 30 per cent in adult cattle. In addition, pregnant cows often abort or give birth to dead calves, and many of these cows die after freshening.

At least 12 different nutritional, parasitic, and infectious conditions look somewhat like X disease and may be mistaken for it by persons not familiar with the characteristics of this malady. Watery eyes, ulcers in the mouth and around the muzzle, drying up and wrinkling of the skin, and progressive emaciation are typical symptoms.

Veterinarians have been studying X disease ever since it first was reported several years ago, but up to now they have been unable to determine its exact cause.

According to some observers, the changing chemistry of the soil and forage in certain areas may be an important factor. The view is that chemical changes cause smaller amounts of beneficial minerals, and larger amounts of harmful elements, to become available for plant growth. Cattle are then poisoned by consuming plants grown on such soil.

It also is believed that a virus or other infectious agent may be involved. In view of the possible contagious nature of this disease, and until further investigation reveals more about it, owners are urged to segregate all cattle suffering from X disease and to keep them in quarantine.

Woman's World
Let Home Be Sparkling, Festive
For the Family During Holidays

By Erta Haley

IF YOU think the house is looking just a bit too weary to welcome the holidays, then do something about it, now! Yes, there's still time to whip together a slipcover or two or to freshen up the drapes in the living and dining room and add cheer and gaiety to kitchen chairs.

Even if none of these things is on your agenda, you'll certainly want to do something special about Christmas decorations. But just what and where should you start?

Your first consideration is, of course, the living room, because that will be the room where nearly everyone will spend his time. Better plan to have one corner clear for the tree. This may mean storing some furniture temporarily, and it's best to get it out of the way before all available corners are bulging with presents.

Or, it may be that you can rearrange the room to take care of a tree. You'll have to know just how much space is available for the tree before you buy it, so this should be done in advance.

To avoid fire hazards, it's a good idea to allow for plenty of space around the tree area. In homes with youngsters don't have the tree in a path of traffic, as it most certainly will be knocked down.

How to Rejuvenate Slipcovers and Drapes

Perhaps you already have slipcovers for your furniture, and drapes, too, but they look weary and faded. Perhaps, too, you can add new life to them with a simple dyeing job.

Prints, stripes, solids and florals can all be dyed into new, fresh colors, but it would be wise to use an all-purpose dye if you do not know whether there is any synthetic fabric in your original material.

Then, if you want to freshen them a little bit more, you might add some colorful, contrasting piping to them. The dyeing plus a bit of trimming will give your home the "new look" with some effort, a bit of imagination and a few hours of work.

Another good decorating trick is to combine an old fabric with a new one, and this, too, is easy because you don't have to start from scratch on your sewing.

For an old upholstered chair, team up a patterned fabric with a solid color. Begin with the print, tailored slipcover, using large decorative buttons in a contrasting shade.

Window Dressing

A pale blue shade with a leaf design in tones of green is effective behind the couch. Dark green cotton fringe has been sewn to the bottom edge of the shade, repeating the dark green of the leaves.

For a formal dining room, use simple tailored seat covers and box them with brush fringe.

Dinettes chairs are easily enlivened with slipcovering backs and seats with shiny chintz, finished with chintz pleating you can buy by the yard.

Kitchen chairs may be given a new coat of white enamel paint; slip cover the seat in a brilliant shade; decorate the back with gay decals if you wish.

Crisp, New Slipcovers Uplift the Sofa

Your living room will take on an enchantingly new appearance if you add color notes to the sofa or love seat. In both cases, use two colors or fabrics, which may be two solid colors that go well together or a print and a solid.

You may use a solid-colored fabric for the backs, seats and arms and then make a founce—ruffled or tailored—of another solid. Make sure the two colors go well together and that they match something in the room.

Or, select one of the new florals and use this for seat and back. Finish with a matching solid color for arms and base.

The same motif may be used for drapes. You may pipe the drapes of floral with the solid, or make them all solid-colored with a cornice of the floral print.

Freshen the studio couch in the spare bedroom, too, by combining plain and patterned fabrics, or use two colors of the same fabric. Use a slipcover with a deeply ruffled founce and make the pillows ruffled, too.

Decorating Tricks For Christmas

Doors take on a gay note if you use a large cellophane bell. Decorate it with a large bow of white or green satin ribbon tied with sprigs of holly, red and gold ornamental balls. Top it off with a bunch of greens.

For a simple mantelpiece, use tall tapers flanked with holly wreaths. Low, votive lights in red, blue or crystal cups are set on the mantel which is covered with holly leaves.

Another mantelpiece may be made of twigs dipped in white paint and sprinkled with glitter. Use a mirror or shiny cookie sheet as a base and place twigs in needlepoint holders. Cluster red berries, cones and evergreen tips to cover and finish off with two or three reindeer.

A clever over-the-door decoration may be made from an inexpensive red dustpan. Pierce a hole in the back so that it can be attached to the wall. Tie a huge green bow on the handle, and fill with pine cones and evergreen.

If you are planning to have a small tree in the hall, decorate it with artificial red flowers such as carnations, or bright flowers from last summer's hat. Youngsters enjoy these trees if they are decorated with miniature toys such as airplanes, cars and trucks.

New Winter Wear Costly, But Quality Goods 'Pay Off'

A winter wardrobe invariably is more expensive to assemble than a spring, fall or summer one, because wool fabrics and fabrics that will stand up under daily wear are imperative. A well tailored suit consists of fine fabrics plus expert workmanship plus a certain high fashion eye appeal to pass the precision tests of a budgeted shopper.

Day time dresses are demanded, with a simplicity that denotes master craftsmanship and design, and all the little details that also mark the more costly dresses. The new ideas in swathed drapery, in the new extra width of skirt, the new sleeves, and the flattering new neck lines are prized fashion details.

Case Worker Dies In Sandusky Hospital

Miss Helen Sasnowski, a case worker in the Sanilac County Bureau of Social Aid, died in Doctor's Hospital in Sandusky Saturday after an illness of five days. She was well-known in Cass City as much of her work was carried on in this vicinity.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Wednesday in St. Dennis Catholic Church in Lexington, Rev. Leo Dorsey officiating. Burial was in Crosswell cemetery.

Miss Sasnowski was born May 1, 1906, in Windber, Pennsylvania. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Theresa Sasnowski, four sisters and two brothers.

Tests Prove Value Of New Protector In State Orchards

Protection of orchards against frost may be achieved economically by a new device being tested by scientists at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station.

Clarence Hansen, Michigan State College agricultural engineer, has conducted tests of the low-cost heater and reports that findings are encouraging. The heaters were used late this fall in the Benton Harbor cherry growing area and arrangements are being made for experimental work in the Florida citrus regions this winter.

The new device consists of a number of small units which are placed through the orchard. Each device resembles a pail with a flue on top. Low grade oil is burned at the rate of about one half gallon per hour. This fuel consumption is considerably lower than that of other orchard heaters now in use.

Thermometers placed through the test orchards have shown that the heaters, when burned in sufficient number, can keep the temperature of the atmosphere as much as six degrees higher than in unprotected areas.

Low initial cost is one of the most important points about the device. By buying a number of them, protection can be provided in the orchard on chilly nights or in low areas where frost is likely. A man goes through the orchard lighting the burners when extra warmth is needed.

A commercial concern is negotiating for production of the burners and hopes to have them on the market to provide orchardists with low cost protection for their trees next spring.
