

Chamber of Commerce to Sponsor Christmas Jubilee

Hundreds of Dollars in Merchandise to Be Given Away Here

Members of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce are co-operating in a Christmas Jubilee program which is designed to make visiting Cass City during the Christmas season an added pleasure. In this program of activities a large number of merchandise awards will be made in the three weeks before Christmas. These prizes have been donated by merchants and will be distributed free to the recipients.

The first distribution of merchandise awards will be made on Wednesday, Dec. 7, and other dates have been fixed at Dec. 13, 16, 20 and 23. The hours and place of distribution are printed in a Chamber of Commerce announcement on page 3 together with a list of awards and donors participating in the Christmas Jubilee.

There is no time when the merchants strive more sincerely to show and provide attractive merchandise than at Christmas time. They think that this Christmas will be one of the biggest and happiest ever. And to make it extra merry, they have stacked their shelves and have filled their showcases until they're fairly bulging with nationally known brands of "just what you've always wanted." Extra clerks will be employed in local business houses and everything is in readiness to take care of the increase in buying which is anticipated by the store owners during the next three weeks.

Some of the finest displays that ever graced a local store are to be found in business places here and merchandise has been so arranged and the stores decorated in a way that makes buying extremely enticing this year.

Caro Chiropractor Fatally Injured in Collision with Train

Bleeding Snowstorm Is Blamed for Traffic Death of Dr. John F. Berryman

The bleeding snowstorm Saturday night is blamed for the traffic death of Dr. John F. Berryman, 39-year-old Caro chiropractor, whose car was struck by a train at Kintner crossing, 11 miles west of Caro. His car collided with a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train at 5:30 p. m. while he was on his way to join his wife at Standish.

Deputy Sheriff Everett Starkey, of Fairgrove, quoted Engineer D. Eargill as saying that Berryman, apparently almost blinded by snow, applied his brakes suddenly and the car skidded around. The locomotive hit the back end of the car.

Berryman, helped out of the wreckage by train crewmen, stood up and said he had a chest pain, Starkey said. He died en route to the Caro Community Hospital shortly after 6 o'clock.

Dr. Berryman was born Dec. 7, 1909, and went to Caro in June, 1947, after practicing at Cheboygan since 1938. He had been Cheboygan county coroner, chairman of the Straits Boy Scout district, chairman of the Cheboygan County Republican committee, and past president of the Cheboygan Rotary Club. He was a member of the Rotary and Lions clubs in Caro and of the Caro Masonic Lodge.

The same train later hit another car, driven by Raymond Brinkman, 19, of Caro, at the Gilford crossing, 12 miles west of Caro. He was taken to Caro Community Hospital, where stitches were taken to close a gash over an eye.

Mrs. B. H. Starmann Heads School and Home Council

New Society Will Make Joint Study with Teachers of School Problems

Mrs. B. H. Starmann was chosen president of the School and Home Council, a new society organized at the school auditorium Monday evening which plans to make a joint study with teachers of problems which face the local schools. Four general meetings are planned a year.

Mack Little was elected vice president; Mrs. James Milligan, secretary; and Howard Wooley, treasurer.

A policy committee to meet with officers to plan the activities of the new council includes Mrs. Curtis Hunt, Mrs. Harley Kelley, Mrs. Earl Harris, John Marshall and Harold Ostley.

In the program hour, Dr. George E. Carrothers, until recently director of the Bureau of Cooperation with Education Institutions at the University of Michigan, addressed the group on the subject, "Trends in Modern Education."

The trend for more freedom in democracy in the schools is favorable if not carried too far, he said, and in the preparation of teachers it is more important that educators have an aptitude for teaching than a formal training, though of course, both are desirable. He advocated the teaching of practical subjects such as shop and home-making, and particularly a better preparation of pupils in the three fundamentals of reading, writing and arithmetic.

Mrs. Edward Baker presided as chairman and the high school girls' glee club under the direction of Don Borg sang two numbers.

Weather conditions were unfavorable Monday night and a larger group than anticipated attended the meeting.

Broken Furnace Changes Scene of Church Wedding

From Gagetown correspondent.

St. Joseph's Catholic Church at Unionville, decorated with white button chrysanthemums, was the scene of the ceremony which united in marriage Miss Willa LaFave of Gagetown and Wendell Birch of Bay City Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. McCullough of Gagetown was the officiating priest.

Mrs. Paul Langlois, cousin of the bride, sang the mass and hymns, "Ave Maria" and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother."

The wedding was scheduled to be held in St. Agatha's Church in Gagetown but at the last minute, due to a broken furnace, plans had to be changed and the guests re-routed to Unionville.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry LaFave of Gagetown, chose for her wedding a gown of white net over satin with a lace edged bertha and hoop skirt with a slight train. A seed pearl crown and fingertip veil completed the ensemble.

Miss Joan Sieland of Caro, her cousin, in the role of bridesmaid, wore an orchid taffeta gown with full skirt and bustle and an ostrich tip head piece.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Birch of Bay City, was attended by his brother, Harold Birch, of Bay City, as best man. Another brother, Howard Birch, and Bud LaFave, both of Bay City, served as ushers.

After the wedding a dinner was served to 25 guests at Goslin's Restaurant in Gagetown.

A reception was held in the afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, which was decorated with pink and white streamers and white button chrysanthemums. About 100 guests were present.

Mr. Birch is an employee of the Bay City Times and until her marriage Mrs. Birch was employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company.

The young couple will reside at 309 N. Birney St., Bay City.

Watch Out for Carbon Monoxide

Watch out for carbon monoxide from the car ahead of you, especially if you are driving a new model car, the Michigan Department of Health warned today.

Make sure that the exhaust system of your own car does not endanger you, and then give some thought to exhaust from the car ahead.

In some new model cars, the fresh air intake for the air conditioned heater is located in the front fender or grille, directly in line with the exhaust pipe of the preceding car. This intake can and may draw in enough exhaust fumes to endanger occupants of the car, according to the Department's Division of Industrial Health, which said some manufacturers have taken or are taking steps to eliminate the danger.

In congested traffic, when you are within less than 8 feet from the car ahead or when you are parked behind a car with its motor running, close the vents completely. Carbon monoxide has no odor, taste or color. It does not irritate the nose or throat. But less than one cubic foot of carbon monoxide in a closed car can kill the occupants in less than 15 minutes.

The car ahead of you may put out of its exhaust pipe as much as ten cubic feet of carbon monoxide every minute, depending on the condition of its motor.

If this carbon monoxide is drawn into your car, your body will absorb it before it absorbs the oxygen in your car. The smaller the person, the more quickly he is affected. Your child may become seriously ill of carbon monoxide poisoning before you even feel it. The poison is especially dangerous to people with heart ailments.

Symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning are: drowsiness, headache, dizziness, and nausea.

If you suspect carbon monoxide poisoning, take the person into the fresh air at once. If he is overcome by the poison, wrap him in blankets to keep him warm, and give him artificial respiration until a physician and an inhalator or respirator arrives.

Irish Potato

Somewhere in the Andean highlands of Peru or Ecuador, the white man first came upon the white potato. Not until long after he transplanted it from South America to Europe did it become known as the "Irish" potato.

Efficiency Is Key To 1950 Dairy Profit

"Short-term prospects for dairy farming profits are anything but bright when compared to recent years, but the long-time prospects still look good," says Gerald Quackenbush, dairy specialist in the agricultural economics department at Michigan State College.

Michigan dairy farmers are faced with several unfavorable predictions for 1950. They are: 1—Milk production will increase because cow numbers are increasing and there is plenty of feed available. 2—The demand for dairy products will be lower, even though consumers still spend more of their income for such foods than before the war. 3—Dairy product prices are expected to drop slightly in 1950 from 1949 levels.

"This may be the time to get rid of that poorest cow you decided not to cull last year," Quackenbush advises. "From an individual standpoint you might boost income by adding one or two good producers to the herd to use up large feed supplies."

The advantages of selling milk for manufacturing are not as attractive as they have been in recent years—the economist pointed out that many dairymen could profit from selling cream and feeding the skim milk. Some would gain by selling to fluid milk markets, but the advantages of this are less certain over a longer period.

With the decreasing demand for ice cream, cheese, and dry whole milk, butter production in 1950 may rise up to 10 percent above the 1949 output. Quackenbush predicted.

Farm Machinery

The 1948 output of farm machinery and repair parts was a fifth larger than in 1947 and over twice the volume of prewar.

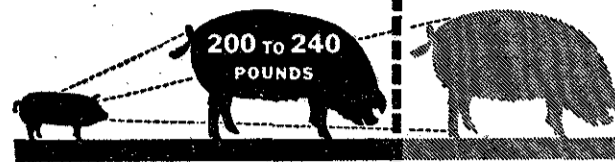

Supply Pipes

Chromium-plated supply pipes under lavatories should be equipped with a chromium-plated valve so that it will not be necessary to shut off the water for the entire house when repairs are being made on one fixture.

Logical

The father lectured his young son on the evils of fistcuffs as a way of settling disputes.

"Don't you know that when you grow up you can't use your fists to settle an argument?" the father began. "You must begin to use peaceful and amicable means of arriving at a decision. Try to reason things out. Try to discover by logic and evidence which is right, and abide by the right. Remember that might does not make right; though the strong may win over the weak, that still does not prove that the weak is wrong."

"I know, dad," said the boy kicking at the grass. "But this was different."

"Different? How different? What were you and Johnny arguing about that you had to fight over?"

"Well, he said he could whip me and I said I could whip him, and there was only one way to find out which of us was right."

SHORT STORY

Trapper Joe

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

THE BLIZZARD, first of the season, was roaring fitfully when Trapper Joe climbed over the river bank and approached his cabin. Midway across the intervening clearing he stumbled over something and almost fell. The something, he discovered, was a man, almost buried by a snow, unconscious.

Trapper Joe rolled the stiff form over and saw a huge pack strapped to the man's back. He grunted, picked up pack and man, and carried both into his cabin.

Trapper Joe examined the pack and found that it contained five pouches, each filled to capacity with gold dust. There must, he reflected, be thousands of dollars worth.

PRESENTLY the blanket-swathed figure stirred. Trapper Joe stared down at it solemnly. The unconscious man's eyelids fluttered, then opened.

"Take it easy, pardner," said Trapper Joe. "You're coming around."

The man stared at Trapper Joe, then sat bolt upright.

"Where am I?" he demanded. "Your cabin, but—"

"What happened? I remember setting out for the Post. It began to snow. I kept falling. Then I saw 'But you didn't have the strength to make it. I found you almost dead. I lugged you back here and nursed life back into your body. You're safe, and so's your gold."

"You—know what's in there?" "Sure. Some of it spilled out. You must have made a rich strike."

"I did. A pocket. I stayed too late in order to get it all out. My name's Tim McLeary." He eyed Trapper Joe curiously. "Kinda queer having this happen; waking up and finding myself alive and—up and finding myself alive and—"

Trapper Joe nodded. "You're wondering why I didn't leave you there to die and appropriate the dust, eh? Well, I considered it

Just In Case

A MAN who had just been elected prosecutor of a Virginia county was riding his horse in mountainous country one day when he noticed wisps of suspicious-looking smoke spiraling from a hillside about a mile off. He said to a young lad who was playing in the gravel nearby, "Sonny, could that be a still up there?"

The lad looked up and replied, "It might be, or it mightn't."

The prosecutor looked up at the hill again. "Are you by any chance a lookout for it?" he asked.

"I might be or I mightn't," replied the boy.

"Well," ordered the prosecutor, having made up his mind, "you hold the reins of my horse while I go up there and see."

The boy obediently took hold of the bridle and watched the prosecutor climb the fence and start toward the smoke on the hillside. After a few steps the boy called: "Mister!"

"What is it?" asked the prosecutor, turning his head.

"Eff'n you don't come back," called the lad, "kin I keep the hoss?"

More Livestock and Grass Seen for 1950

More grass and livestock in 1950 due to crop acreage controls is the prediction of agricultural economists at Michigan State College.

But for higher earnings on most farms, they say the emphasis must be on better grass rather than more acres of grass. With increased demand for legume and grass seeds, it will be wise to line up 1950 needs and take delivery. Most Michigan farmers can use more high analysis commercial fertilizer profitably on cash crops, small grains and alfalfa. Supplies for the next year should be ordered soon.

The economists believe that livestock in Michigan will be more profitable than cash crop farming during the next ten years. Profits will come from good use of feed rather than margins in the feeder cattle business this year.

Early pig farrowing and marketing light hogs are advised. Favorable feeding ratios and support programs will help swine raisers. Sheep have shown good returns but little if any expansion in the business is expected in 1950, the economists conclude.

In Case of Fire

It is always dangerous to remain in a burning building. Fires often spread rapidly and cut off escape and are likely to generate poisonous gases.

Don't Let Anybody Fool You!

These Things Will Happen If The Anti-Trust Lawyers Have Their Way

When the anti-trust lawyers from Washington filed their suit against A&P, we told the American people, our customers, our suppliers and our employees how this attack would affect them.

We said that this attack, if successful, would mean the end of A&P as you know it.

We said that it would mean higher food prices for American consumers.

We said that if they succeed in destroying A&P the way would be cleared for the destruction of other efficient large-scale retailers.

We thought the American people were entitled to know about this threat to their welfare and standard of living.

Since that time, however, the anti-trust lawyers have been making speeches, talking over the radio, writing letters and giving stories to the newspapers, in which they say we are all wrong.

They say that this suit will not close a single A&P store; and that instead of raising food prices it will lower them.

And they have tried to give the impression that nobody will be hurt by this decision except the present owners of A&P.

We don't think that the American people want to be confused by these statements. We know that when they have the facts, they will understand that this case can affect the living standards and the way of life of every American citizen.

Here are the facts:

It Will Destroy A&P

The anti-trust lawyers have repeatedly stated that "the suit will not result in the closing of a single A&P store", and that "the purpose of the suit is to enjoin A&P from continuing activity which has been held to violate the law."

The fact is that the suit is designed not only to "enjoin" A&P from alleged illegal activities, but actually to destroy the company.

Here is what they have asked the court to do:

Break up A&P's retail stores into seven groups, each of which must be sold to different owners, and operated under new management.

Order us to sell A&P's factories, which produce many of the fine foods you find in our stores, to still other new owners.

Prevent any of the seven groups of stores from operating any of the factories.

None of the present owners, who have made A&P what it is today, can have anything to do with either the stores or the factories.

The first A&P store was opened 90 years ago. For the past 50 years the company has been managed by George L. Hartford and John A. Hartford.

These are the men who have pioneered the policy of low-cost, low-profit, low-price food retailing which has won A&P the patronage of millions of American families and given them more good food for their money.

If the anti-trust lawyers have their way, these men and other company executives will be completely out of the picture. No one can predict what the policies of the new owners of the various parts of A&P will be.

No one can predict that they will sell the same quality food at the same low prices, or that they will keep the same employees, or give them the same high wages, short hours, pensions and security.

Nor, despite the anti-trust lawyers' statement, can anyone tell how many A&P stores will remain open or will be closed.

So, while there may be a food store where your A&P is now located, it won't be your A&P store.

Make no mistake about it. If the anti-trust lawyers win their suit it will mean the end of A&P as you know it.

Your Food Will Cost More

The anti-trust lawyers have repeatedly stated that the suit will not increase, but should decrease, grocery prices.

Anybody who has ever shopped in an A&P store, or has ever taken a high-school course in economics, knows better than that.

Everyone knows that A&P's policy has always been to keep costs and profits at a minimum so that it can sell good food cheap.

The very heart of the anti-trust lawyers' case is that A&P's methods, which they claim are illegal, have enabled the company to undersell competitors.

How can anyone possibly say that you will get lower food prices by eliminating the company that has done so much to bring them down?

Actually, there is no question that this suit, if successful, will mean higher food prices for A&P customers.

Here is just one of a number of reasons:

We manufacture many of the quality foods we sell in our stores, such as Bokar, Red Circle and Eight O'Clock coffees, Ann Page foods, White House milk, and many others.

The anti-trust lawyers admit that we pass along these manufacturing savings to our customers in the form of lower prices.

But, the anti-trust lawyers have asked the court to order us to get rid of our manufacturing facilities, which would put an end to all these savings.

This means that if these A&P brands continued to be manufactured, you would have to pay higher prices for them wherever you found them.

The anti-trust lawyers say that food prices would go down in other stores. They claim that food manufacturers would be able to sell cheaper to other grocers because they would not have to make up alleged losses they now incur in selling to A&P.

This, of course, is pure nonsense. The suppliers who voluntarily seek our business and are now rushing to our defense obviously find it profitable to deal with A&P. Actually, their sales to this company enable them to build up their volume, reduce their costs, and sell more cheaply to all grocers.

The elimination of A&P from the picture would tend to increase, rather than decrease, the wholesale cost of food; and this, in turn, will be reflected in increases in retail prices.

Make no mistake about it. If the anti-trust lawyers succeed in putting A&P out of business you will find your food bill is higher.

Others Will Be Hurt

The anti-trust lawyers have insisted that this suit will not affect other distributors, "nor will it destroy any efficiencies of mass distribution."

The fact is that the anti-trust lawyers ask the court to break up the company, make it get rid of its admittedly legal manufacturing operations and in general destroy many of the efficiencies which have enabled it to sell food cheaper.

If such an attack is successful, it immediately raises the likelihood of similar attacks on other chain stores.

The anti-trust lawyers are saying that they "do not contemplate any other suits of this nature at this time."

But that does not mean that they cannot undertake such suits at any future time if they win this case.

As a matter of fact, the anti-trust lawyers made practically the same allegations against two of our largest competitors that they are making against us. And it can also be used as the basis for an attack against other grocers and merchants in other lines.

There are today literally thousands of chain stores, voluntary groups and individual merchants operating with the same methods and in the same pattern here under attack.

If A&P is destroyed, no businessman could safely pursue an aggressive sales policy designed to lower prices and give his customers a better deal if by so doing he takes business away from any competitor.

Even if the anti-trust lawyers have no intention now of prosecuting other suits, a decision against A&P will establish a precedent that could be used by the present anti-trust lawyers, or any future anti-trust lawyers, to destroy any efficient business that buys cheaply, sells cheaply, and grows big in the process.

Such a decision would mean the end of the vigorous, healthy price competition which has given this country the highest standard of living ever enjoyed by any people anywhere in the history of the world.

The anti-trust lawyers are trying to give a new interpretation to the anti-trust laws that, instead of preserving competition, will reduce competition.

They are trying, by court decision, to impose a new kind of economic policy on the people of this country.

Make no mistake about it. If they succeed in destroying A&P they will be destroying the method of distribution that has helped make the American standard of living the envy of the world.

RAINBOW SIR BESS MARATHON 853631

"Marathon" sounds like a Greek Olympiad but to Michigan dairy herd owners it refers to a family of dairy cattle which have proved themselves to be rich producers of milk and butterfat for a long series of generations.

Fortunate indeed is the herd owner who can secure the services of such a sire like Marathon, the son of a proved sire, and whose dam is a full sister to a famous proved sire, Rainbow Captain Bold. Marathon's dam has made 4 records of 499, 566, 620, and 567 pounds fat. She is by the proved sire Empire Ormsby Marathon which has a rich milk and per cent butterfat proof. Her dam in turn was out of the Bess Rose cow classified excellent and which had 5 records, all over 400 pounds butterfat.

Marathon relates himself to Bold, Rainbow, Rose, Captain, and Sir, all bred and used by the Michigan Artificial Breeders at East Lansing, says Douglas Pierson, Goodrich, and Marshall Pierce, Hastings, members of the Holstein bull buying committee M. A. B. C., East Lansing.

This service is available at all times for Holstein, Guernsey and Red Dane breeds. Contact

Primitive Hunters Roamed the West Before Christ's Birth

NEW YORK.—Evidence that a primitive group of hunters roamed the American west thousands of years before the birth of Christ has been offered by a group of scientists.

Dr. Loren Eiseley of the University of Pennsylvania said the site of the ancient camp was near Cody, Wyo., and that it probably dates back to between 5,000 and 12,000 years before Christ.

Reporting the discovery, he termed it one of the most important ever made in connection with the culture of the Yuma, a nomadic group that disappeared nearly two centuries ago as a cultural unit. They were among the earliest known inhabitants of the new world.

Dr. Eiseley estimated that the ancient camp site covered about 600 square feet of a terrace overlooking Sage creek, five miles northeast of Cody. The valuable deposit of tools, weapons, and food remains were preserved through the centuries by dusty desert sands now covering the camp site to a depth of about 10 inches.

The Yuma were foot hunters who roved the high plains of the American West in search of bison. Evidence of their existence have been found before, Dr. Eiseley said, but never so extensively or in a deposit that may enable scientists to fix more accurately the period in which they lived.

For example, he said, from the bison bones on the site it may be possible to determine whether the Yuma lived before certain types of bison became extinct late in the Ice Age. No human bones were found, Dr. Eiseley said.

There were numerous "Yuma points," delicately fashioned flints that apparently tipped Yuma lances. It is believed the Yuma did not use bow and arrow.

Mexico City Discards Afternoon Siesta Hours

MEXICO CITY.—Because it was found that the closing of grocery stores and small variety stores from 2 to 4 o'clock each afternoon was inconveniencing the poorer classes, Mexico City has abolished the afternoon siesta closing hours.

The stores also were given permission to remain open later at night than heretofore.

Another disadvantage of the 2 to 4 closing hours, according to the shopkeepers, was that a few store owners were able, by bribing policemen on the beat, to stay open during the official closing period, thus taking business away from the more honest competitors.

Italian Colony Unhappy On Tierra del Fuego

BUENAS AIRES.—All is not going well with one of the world's most unusual immigrant resettlement schemes—the colony of 1,000 Italian immigrants on the island of Tierra del Fuego, which forms the southern side of the strait of Magellan.

Last year the Peron government closed down the country's notorious prison colony there, shifted its inmates to the mainland, erected additional housing and made way for the bodily transfer of an entire factory from Italy to that antarctic outpost.

Since the first enthusiastic welcome given the hardy pioneers by the press here, news from the colony has been slim. In recent weeks, however, several newspapers, including a local Italian periodical, have reported that the rigors of readjustment have resulted in considerable disillusionment.

The peasant element among the settlers has taken well to the island's sheep-raising, its chief industry, according to these reports. But the workers, many of them in skilled categories, are said to be ill-prepared for the rigorous climate. The temperature occasionally drops to 15 below zero.

Major discontent has arisen over the wage-and-employment policies adopted by the Bolsani corporation, which was transplanted from Italy. Promised a wage of three pesos hourly (60 cents), the workers complain that while this might be adequate in a more temperate climate, it is inadequate on the island.

Put Skunks to Sleep If You Would Move Them

TROY, OHIO.—If a family of skunks took up residence in your basement window, how would you evict them?

Mrs. Coleman Allen, a widow who lives on the outskirts of Troy, had that problem.

Her first idea was to have the skunks shot. But she quickly dropped that one when a neighbor explained that the animals could retaliate with an odor that would drive her from the house.

Five boys, who heard radio station WPTW's account of Mrs. Allen's problem, provided a simple solution.

They put the skunks to sleep with ether and carried them away.

THE SCOUTING TRAIL

By Robert Kitchen

There was no meeting last Wednesday night because of Thanksgiving.

Friday, November 25, some Scouts and candidates went from Cass City to a woods owned by Scout Jack Gallagher's father. The group split up into two patrols, one led by James Ware, the other led by Charles Reed. Many new Scouts and some of the candidates seemed to be good outdoorsmen on this hike of about seven miles, most of which was through snow.

Cass City Scouts were represented at the annual meeting of the Order of the Arrow in Saginaw Saturday night by Bob Mann, James Ware, Dick Wallace and Harold Oital. Dick was a member of the ritual team for the opening and closing ceremonies. Mr. Oatley was reelected scribe of the lodge, which has about 150 members in the communities around Saginaw.

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Alleman

Tuition fees and other charges paid by students at the University of Michigan and Michigan State College have doubled in recent years. Whereas students paid 20 percent of the U of M operating cost in 1929, students today pay double that amount—40 percent, said Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan, in a conference with Governor G. Mennen Williams at Lansing. Dr. John A. Hannah, head of MSC, pointed out that Michigan colleges are now competing with other agencies for state aid in a way which did not exist a few years ago. The result is that state legislatures have been increasingly reluctant to appropriate funds for colleges in amounts needed to finance higher education adequately. If college fees are increased further, only privileged groups will have advantages of higher education, the two college presidents warned.

One of the best things to hit the Michigan conservation movement in many years is the state park work program performed by inmates from Michigan prisons. A ski run and winter sports improvements are being completed at the Porcupine Mountain State Park near Ontonagon. Construction work is being pushed also at the Tahquamenon State Park in Upper Peninsula. Two state recreation areas are being benefited by work programs: Pontiac Lake area and Waterloo recreational area, both in southern Michigan.

Kim Sigler, still carefree and an aviation enthusiast, is not a possible candidate for republican nomination of governor in 1950. Interviewed recently by reporters, Sigler replied: "Why should I run for public office? I'm 55, having a good time and free to take any law case I want or fly my plane where I want, when I want." Sigler recommended that republicans make an issue of the C. I. O. "control" of the state democratic party.

Michigan farmers have completed in recent weeks the largest harvest of corn, oats and barley—all feed grains—on record in the state. The farm crop was 26 percent above 1948 and 21 percent higher than the previous record crop in 1942. October harvesting weather was nearly perfect.

It will cost you 12½ percent more to travel on eastern railroads as result of a rate increase granted at Washington. This increase has been necessary because of higher wages and other operating costs, it is explained.

The Michigan 1949 apple crop is 72 percent above average with an estimated production of 11,735,000 bushels. All fruit production was 46 percent above a 10 year average.

Louis M. Nims, Commissioner of the State Department of Revenue, announces that state revenue collection for October 1949, brought an increase of $1,982,015.07 over October, 1948. The retail sales tax increase was over $300,000. The utilities tax brought an increase of $1,500,000. The total tax collected by the department for the current fiscal year shows an increase of $802,220.19 over the same period in 1948.

"Forced saving plan"—such is the verdict of C. E. Wilson, President of General Motors Corporation, with reference to company-paid pensions won by C. I. O. from Ford Motor Company, U. S. Steel Corporation, and other big business concerns. Wilson calls for an end to "shotgun bargaining methods" and favored "adequate federal pensions operated on a sound basis."

State department heads have requested legislative appropriations in 1950 of nearly $100,000,000, above amounts appropriated for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1950. Comment by Governor G. Mennen Williams: "We will unquestionably need new revenues to operate at present levels." Robert F. Steadman, State Controller, has been asked to wield a sharp ax on budget requests for more money.

More self-reliance by farm people to solve their own health problems on a local community basis was recommended by panel speakers at the Third Michigan Rural Health Conference sponsored by the Michigan State Medical Society. Authorities agreed that "there is too much reliance placed on the federal government" to remedy rural health conditions.

Reflecting the jittery thinking of many citizens about atomic warfare was a recent news report that salt mines beneath Detroit offered an ideal refuge for munition plants; a recent article in Colliers that Detroit was the number one target for atomic bomb attack if and when war developed with Russia. Advise Caution in Buying Farm Land With High Mortgage

Michigan farmers who now buy a farm mortgaged at much more than half its value may be in for financial trouble in future years, according to agricultural economists at Michigan State College.

The economists' appraisal of the farm real estate situation is contained in the current outlook issue of "Michigan Farm Economics," published monthly as part of the MSC extension service program.

Three changes in the farm real estate picture were considered significant. Land prices have passed their peak with a 5 percent drop since the November 1948 high. The number of farms changing hands in the last year dropped sharply from the war-time peak. Farm mortgage debt is increasing again.

According to the economists, farm land is a riskier buy now because it will take more products to pay off $1,000 of debt than it did in the past several years. Farm product prices are falling faster than farm costs, which means less profit. And it's the profits which pay off indebtedness.

Farmers in general are in very sound financial condition, however. This is indicated by records showing that in recent years half or more of the farms changing hands in this state have been sold on an all-cash basis.

It is important, the economists said, that a farm or additional acreage be "bought right," and that it is productive land. Farmers who can pay one-half or more of the purchase price in cash will not be taking more than the usual risk in buying a farm now.

"Missions at the Grass Roots" Reviewed at Meeting Friday

Mrs. Harry Young, vice president of the W. S. W. S. of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, conducted the business of the society at the meeting Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Fred Buehly. The fourteenth verse of Psalm 19 was repeated by the group and reports were given by standing committees, among which was the report of the "World Friendship" secretary of the packages of clothing sent for overseas relief.

The devotional service was led by Mrs. Wm. Joos and her theme was "Thanksgiving." She read appropriate passages of Scripture and an article concerning things Americans have to be thankful for in comparison to many other nations.

The high light of the meeting was the interesting review of the book, "Missions at the Grass Roots" given by Mrs. Raymond McCullough.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Arnold Copeland December 16 with Mrs. Maurice Joos as program chairman.

Mrs. Buehly served snitzbrod sandwiches, congo squares and coffee at small tables.

Sanilac County 4-H Club members will again be taking part in the annual Junior Livestock Show at Detroit, on December 6, 7 and 8.

From there the group will go to Larro Research Farm where they will be guests of Larro Milling Company for a noon luncheon and a tour of the farm.

The annual sale will be held in the coliseum at the fairgrounds beginning at 8 p. m., Thursday night. This is an event all people who are interested in fat livestock should see.

Annual Dairy Tours in Sanilac County

Dr. Glenn Reid, Michigan State College extension veterinarian, and A. J. Bell, Michigan State College farm building expert, will be in Sanilac County on Tuesday, December 6, and Wednesday, December 7, for the annual dairy tour.

This tour has been held for several years during the first week in December. The tour follows the dairy banquet which will be December 5 at 7 p. m. in Sandusky High School auditorium.

This year Dr. Reid and Mr. Bell will emphasize the importance of keeping dairy animals healthy. With the margin between costs and returns becoming smaller, County Agent Albert T. Hall, feels that it is important that we give serious thought to this matter.
