

A VERY HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL

Babson's Business
And Financial
Outlook for 1950

Total Volume for Coming Year Will Be Less than in 1949, He Predicts

By Roger W. Babson

1950 IN A NUTSHELL
General Business: Off 5%.
National Income: Off 5%.
Farm Income: Off 15%.
Bituminous Coal: Up 5%.
Anthracite: Off 5%.
Crude Oil Products: Up 5%.
Steel Output: Off 5%.
Automobile — Manufactures:
Off 15%.
Building and Construction:
Off 7%.
Natural Gas: Up 5%.
Foreign Trade: No change.
Airline Passenger Miles: Up
Military Activities Including
Aircraft: Up 20%.
Retail Trade ($ Volume): Off
3% to 10%.

1. The total volume of business for 1950 will be less than that of 1949, due primarily to the unfortunate labor conflicts. Considering that the innocent consumer will be the chief sufferer and will be obliged to pay the bills, it seems too bad that labor troubles should upset the appearance.

Labor Outlook.

2. Even with all the threats, there will be few wage increases during 1950. On the other hand, all labor negotiations take the minds of both the employees and the management off their regular business. However these negotiations come out, they result in a loss from the standpoint of the country as a whole.

3. There will be fewer strikes in 1950 than in 1949, but there will not be fewer extended negotiations which are very expensive in themselves.

4. The Taft-Hartley Law will continue to stand throughout 1950, although many schemes for detouring this law will be devised.

5. The great drive against the big companies will be for pensions and/or for sick and other benefits. These will probably be helpful to the wage workers and may aid in ironing out the business cycle, but they will be paid for by consumers.

6. It is hoped that all parties will begin to realize during 1950 that the real road to national progress is through increasing production and greater efficiency. This is the bright light we see in the labor situation.

Commodity Prices.

7. Movements in commodity prices during 1950 will vary with different groups of industries and of products, but altogether there will be a general lowering during 1950.

8. We, therefore, advise going easy on inventories. 1950 is a time to get out of debt and stay out of debt. Speculation in commodities should be discouraged in 1950.

9. We believe that the cost of living index has turned down for the present. The average for 1950 will be less than 1949.

10. Practically all retail prices will average less in 1950 than in 1949, notwithstanding the excess of money mentioned under 27-28 and 29 below.

Farm Outlook.

11. The total farm income for 1950 should be less than that of 1949, which means lower prices on the average for wheat, corn, pork, poultry, eggs and certain dairy products. Farmers should diversify more in 1950, get out of debt and put their surplus money into savings, in preparation for the next crop failure.

12. The supply of certain canned vegetables and fruits (except citrus) should be greater during 1950 than at the same time during 1949. The prices of these products

Postmaster Reports
Christmas Business
In Upper Brackets

Receipts at the Cass City post office during the Christmas season this year exceeded those of a similar period of a year ago by approximately $245. This is a top record for the office.

Cancellations ran as high as 15,000 in one day which is the largest single day record and is almost 4,000 more than any day in 1948.

The large volume of mail the past few weeks was handled more easily than in any recent year. This is because the public deposited their mail early and were so cooperative in sorting and bundling their greeting cards and messages. Postmaster Alice M. Bigelow and her corps of assistants are very grateful for this splendid cooperation of office patrons.

Santa Distributed
850 Packages to
Boys and Girls

Large Group Attended the Awarding of Free Merchandise on Friday evening

Judging from the number of youngsters who greeted Santa Claus on his visits here in former years, that jolly gentleman was overwhelmed by the large group who welcomed his arrival here on Friday evening. Eight hundred fifty packages of candy and nuts were distributed to the little folks when Santa arrived by a horse-drawn sleigh at the corner of Main and Seeger Streets.

Shortly after Santa's visit, the fifth and final distribution of free merchandise of the Christmas Jubilee, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, was made. Here, too, the number attending was much larger than at previous occasions of gift awardings this month.

The grand prize of a Frigidaire electric stove went to Eulah Downing. Other gift awards were as follows:

Floyd Nicholas, $7.50 in trade; Jennie Frankowski, Parker pen and pencil set; Mrs. Hazel Martin, $14.95 bumper jack; Mrs. Ed Rusch, Grace Roberts, Tillie Zeller, Floyd Dodge, Mrs. Harold Perry, and Frances Harbee, each $10 in trade; Elizabeth Fisher, $29.50 in cooking utensils; Lena Parrish, $5 in meals and $5 in trade; Mrs. Howard Hill, $14.50 aluminum roaster; Maurice Day, 25-lb. turkey.

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Alleman

Michigan friends of Arthur E. Summerfield, the Flint chairman of the Republican National Strategy Committee, are convinced that Michigan may yet rescue the national minority party from its current predicament of near total eclipse.

Since a Michigan-born man, Thomas E. Dewey of Owosso, was on the losing end of the surprise election in November, 1948, the situation has more than casual interest.

It has been the belief of Mr. Summerfield, who is the Republican National Committeeman for Michigan, that voters are entitled to a clear-cut choice of issues in the two major parties. Governor Dewey, the Republican national nominee in 1944 and again in 1948, offered a "me-too" attitude with respect to many of Roosevelt's new deal reforms.

As chairman of the national strategy committee of the Republican party Mr. Summerfield has called for an end of agreement with the Democratic party in principle by saying that "we can do it better."

Under the direction of Mr. Summerfield and the state chairman, John A. Wagner of Battle Creek, the state GOP organization did wage a vigorous campaign in 1948, losing only the Governor's Office in a surprise reversal caused more by antipathy of many voters to Governor Sigler than anything else. While Governor Dewey

Many Friends at
Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Cook
Observe Event at Their
Evergreen Twp. Home

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cook were at home to their many friends Monday afternoon and evening, December 26, in observance of their golden wedding anniversary.

Refreshments were served from a lace covered table centered with gold chrysanthemums and branched candelabra with white candles. A beautiful wedding cake baked by Mrs. Cook was served to the guests. Mrs. Arthur Meredith and Mrs. Russell B. Horner presided at the silver tea service. Ann and Lorraine Meredith, Yvonne Dorman and Judith Cook assisted in the dining room. Miss Marie Meredith registered the names of the guests. Guests were present from Laughlinton, Pa., Detroit, Port Huron, Marine City, Capac, Cass City, Sandusky, Snover, Decker, Marlette and Argyle.

Elder Wm. Davis married the couple at the home of Mrs. Cook's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Brown, December 27, 1899. Mrs. Arthur Meredith and Alex McPhail were their attendants. Mrs. Meredith and Mr. McPhail were both present at the anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook have two children, a son, Harold, of Detroit, and a daughter, Mrs. Herman J. Jess, of Port Huron. Mr. and Mrs. Cook lived in Saginaw for several years and moved to their present home in Evergreen Township in 1909.

Christmas Baskets
Bring Happiness
To 36 Homes

Thirty-six homes in this community were made happy just before Christmas by the distribution of 36 baskets, each containing a ham, some candy and fruit and many articles of staple groceries. The deliveries were made by Willis Campbell and Harry Little, who were appointed by President Wm. Profit of the Community Club, to serve as a Good Fellows committee. Funds for the purchase of the food came from the Elkland Community Chest fund. Nearly twice as many baskets were distributed last week as a year ago.

Landscaping Talk
Jan. 6 at Caro

A landscaping lesson is scheduled to be given Jan. 6 at the 4-H Wilber Memorial Club Building on the fairgrounds in Caro. It is an open meeting and is to start at 2:00 p. m. Any one who is interested in the subject is invited to attend.

Joseph Cox, extension specialist in landscaping architecture at M. S. C., will be the speaker. Mr. Cox will talk on "Basic Rules for Landscaping Home Grounds," illustrating with some slides.

Dog's Bark Saves
Family from Flames

The Erwin Fritz home in Ellington Township was destroyed by fire Sunday night and Mr. and Mrs. Fritz and their two children escaped in their night clothing. The frantic barking of their Spitz dog warned the family of the danger.

Fritz drove five miles to the nearest telephone to summon the Caro Fire Department. An overheated kitchen stove is blamed for the origin of the house fire. Among the articles destroyed were unopened Christmas presents which the family had planned to exchange on Monday.

Farm Home Near
Gagetown Burns

From Gagetown correspondent.

The fire department responded to a call Saturday afternoon when the tenant house on the Willard Burdon farm and occupied by Harold Kain and family burned to the ground.

Mrs. Kain, at the time, was at the John Bliss home and Mr. Kain, who works nights, was lying down and did not notice the fire until it got a good start. He managed to get the children out of the house.

All household goods and clothing were burned and there was nothing saved. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Young Beet Growers
Honored at Dinner

Thirty-eight 4-H and Future Farmer sugar beet growers and their leaders in the Caro area were guests of the Michigan Sugar Company and Caro Sugar Beet Growers' organization at a banquet held Tuesday noon, December 20. The dinner was at the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building at Caro.

The sugar company and growers association sponsor the sugar beet project each year for club boys and girls and future farmers in area served by the Caro factory. The sponsors provide free seed and fertilizer, prize money for sugar beet exhibits, the banquet, and a trophy which goes to the club which has the best sugar beet program for the year.

The trophy was won this year by the Marlette High School FFA Chapter, under the direction of Richard Austin, vocational agriculture instructor. Its presentation is based on the number of members completing sugar beet projects, completeness, accuracy, and neatness of reports, member participation in project and organization activities, and average yield per acre. The Marlette chapter had eleven boys completing projects. Concluded on page 6.

Community Chest
Is Oversubscribed

Late in November, Dave Ackerman, campaign manager of the Elkland Township Community Chest, reported subscriptions of $4,935.32, just $64.68 short of the $5,000 goal. Now Mr. Ackerman says the goal set has been more than realized. To date $5,005.32 has been subscribed.

McBurneys Observe
49th Anniversary

The 49th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McBurney was observed in their home at a dinner on Monday, Dec. 26, at which the following were guests: Mr. and Mrs. Morton McBurney and five children of Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McBurney and son of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. H. Minard and two children of Lake Orion, and Mrs. Ed. Rose of Caro.

Supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bayley and son, John, of Cass City; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D'Arcy of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hurd of Utica; and Miss Hollis McBurney.

CARO WOMAN HURT
EN ROUTE FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Leo Bills of Caro, returning home for Christmas after treatment in a Battle Creek hospital was seriously injured in an accident at the intersection of Vassar Road and M-81. She suffered fractures of five ribs.

The car was driven by her husband and collided with another driven by Joseph Bailey, of Fairgrove.

PRISONERS WERE TREATED TO TURKEY DINNER

Turkey with all its trimmings was served by Mrs. Wm. Tomlinson, jail matron, to prisoners in the Tuscola County jail for their Christmas dinner.

Sheriff George F. Jeffrey was feted by his deputies and their wives at a party Christmas Eve in the Tomlinson living quarters. The deputies presented the sheriff with a wrist watch.

John Bartle Was Fatally Injured
In Bay City

Former Sanilac County
Resident Died in General
Hospital Thursday Night

John Bartle, 79, who spent the greater part of his life in Sanilac County, was fatally injured when he was struck by an automobile while attempting to cross Center Ave. at Sherman St. in Bay City Thursday evening, Dec. 22. He died a few minutes after he was admitted to General Hospital in that city.

Coroner Raphael D. Staphis ruled death was due to shock and loss of blood from a compound fracture of the right leg.

The driver, Patrick J. Trahan, 25, 1805 Sixth Street, told police the elderly man had hesitated at the center line as if in doubt, then darted quickly across in front of his car. Police reported that Mr. Bartle was struck shortly after seven o'clock. Visibility was reportedly poor.

John E. Bartle was born April 22, 1870, in Iowa, the son of the late George and Helen Sanderson Bartle. He came to Sanilac County near Melvin when a small boy and later taught school in that community. He later moved to Chicago where he was married to Mrs. Tillie Haines in 1893. Following their marriage, they made their home Chicago. In 1903 they moved back to Sanilac County where they made their home. Mrs. Bartle passed away in 1910.

In 1914 he was married to Miss Alice Douglas of Decker. She passed away in 1928.

Mr. Bartle had been a member of the Evergreen Free Methodist Church for the past forty years. For the past five years he has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Arleen Chisholm, of Bay City. To mourn their loss are three daughters, Mrs. Chisholm of Bay City, Mrs. Alva Hillman and Mrs. Arnold Copeland of Cass City; three sons, Kenneth Bartle and Bruce Bartle, both of Bridgeport, and Leonard Bartle of Mt. Clemens; twelve grandchildren and one great grandchild. Two brothers and three sisters preceded him in death.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Carl W. Koerner, pastor of the Wilmet Free Methodist Church, at Little's Funeral Home Monday afternoon. Burial was made in the family lot in Elkland cemetery.

Leo A. Heineman
Died at Kingston on Tuesday Afternoon

Leo A. Heineman, 78, former Cass City business man and for 42 years a general merchant in Kingston, died Tuesday afternoon in his home in that village. He had been ill since August and spent five weeks in Pleasant Home Hospital in Cass City before returning to his home about ten days ago.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Ernest Harris in the Kingston Methodist Church this (Friday) afternoon at two o'clock. Interment will be in the Kingston cemetery.

Mr. Heineman was the son of the late August and Johanna Heineman and was born in Port Hope on Sept. 25, 1876. He was a general merchant in Cass City before going to Kingston in 1907. He and Maggie Sherwood were married Christmas Day, 1909, in Kingston. They celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary Sunday.

Mr. Heineman was a member of Kingston Lodge No. 430, F. & A. M. and the Methodist Church. He was a director of the Kingston State Bank.

He is survived by his widow; two sons, Sherwood Heineman, associated in business with his father, and Edwin Heineman, Pontiac; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Black, Caro; six grandchildren, five brothers, Bernard Heineman, Idaho; Paul Heineman, Omaha, Neb.; Edwin and Herman Heineman, both of Port Hope, and Frank Heineman, Dubuque, Ia., and four sisters, Mrs. Clara Rose, Mrs. Martha Sheffer and Mrs. Olga Renter, all of Detroit, and Mrs. Ella Bartlett, Port Hope.

Dozen People Claim
62 Relationships

Could 12 people assembled at a Christmas Day dinner claim relationships that would total 62? Richard Bayley says it is not only possible but was proven at the Sunday dinner served in the Bayley home.

According to the host, in the dozen seated at the Christmas feast, there were one grandfather, one grandmother, one father-in-law, one mother-in-law, three fathers, three mothers, five brothers, five sisters, one granddaughter, four brothers-in-law, four sisters-in-law, three uncles, four aunts, two great aunts, three sons, two daughters, three cousins, one son-in-law, four nephews, two nieces, three wives, three husbands, one single woman, one widow and one bachelor.

Their combined ages were 466 years and their total weight was 1,321 pounds. All of the group resided in the Cass City and Decker communities.

Almost Capacity
Crowd Greeted
Players at Tourney

Championship Contest Is Scheduled for Tonight on Third Day of Program

An almost capacity crowd greeted basketball teams in the first series of games at the holiday tournament here Wednesday night. The Bad Axe-Caro game, the last one of the evening, came the nearest to provide thrills to fans. At the half, Caro was trailing 15 behind their Huron County opponents while they came within three points of a tie at the end of the third quarter. The final score was 47-41.

Elkton defeated Sebewaing 37-30, Marlette won from Pigeon 47-24, and Cass City had a 36-25 advantage over Unionville in Wednesday night's encounters.

Games scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 29, were Unionville vs. Caro at 6:00 p. m., Pigeon vs. Sebewaing at 7:20 p. m., Marlette vs. Elkton at 8:40 p. m., and Cass City vs. Bad Axe at 10:00 p. m.

Four games are scheduled for tonight (Friday) with the championship contest slated for ten o'clock.

Pfc. Robert Howell, who is with the air corps at Wichita Falls, Texas, arrived home Friday to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Howell. He will leave Jan. 1 to return to the same location.

The Front Page of 1949

As we pass into a new year, the old 1949 recedes to take its place in history and in our memories. Some of those memories are sweet and some bitter. Here are some taken from the past year's files of the Chronicle. The dates used are those on which each issue was published.

Do you remember Jan. 7—J. Stanley Bien, 1911 graduate of Cass City High School, was appointed purchasing director for Michigan. Rev. Wendling Hastings, former pastor in Cass City, was guest speaker at the annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian Church. Married—Iris Churchill and Calvin Clark Morrish. Died—Lester Barnes, Ezra A. Wood, W. J. Martus.

Jan. 14—Maj. Gen. Ralph Royce spoke before the Community Club and described the fighting in Palestine. Mrs. A. J. Knapp began term as president of Presbyterian Missionary Society. Married—Joan (Polly) Kelley and Frank Harbec; Betty Roberts and Eldon Sharrard. Died—James D. Peddie, John Anthony Miller.

Jan. 21—Mrs. E. L. Schwaderer elected president of Woman's Study Club. Baptist Church and Sunday School elected officers. Died—Blanch Elizabeth McLean.

Jan. 28—Rev. Howard C. Watkins elected president of Cass City Council of Churches. Cass City Grange hosts to Gagetown Grange. Roger Parrish received C. T. certificate. Cass City took first place in Upper Thumb basketball league. Died—Joseph A. Balkwell. Funeral set for Pfc. Ralph D. Englehart, killed overseas Dec. 23, 1944.

Rotarians Honor
W. L. Mann at Their
Tuesday Luncheon

Two Foreign Students from U. of M. Speak at Club's Program Tuesday

Walter L. Mann informed friends here early this week that he and his family expect to leave Cass City which has been their home for more than a quarter century. He left here Wednesday for Illinois to accept one of two positions offered him by two manufacturing companies in that state.

At the Rotary luncheon at the New Gordon Hotel Tuesday, M. B. Auten, in presenting Mr. Mann with a pen and pencil set from club members, spoke of the great and lasting friendships won by Mr. Mann because of his willingness to serve his community. He is a charter member of the Rotary Club and a past president, has been active in the affairs of the Community Club, has served as a member of the village council and president of that body, and as an efficient member on various committees in community affairs.

"Cass City is one of the finest communities in which I have ever resided and here one sees democracy at its best," said Mr. Mann in his response.

Two foreign students, guests of Rev. and Mrs. Melvin R. Vender during the Christmas holidays, were speakers at the Rotary program.

Dr. Ramesh Carpenter from India, who is doing graduate study in the School of Medicine at the University of Michigan, spoke of conditions in his country, the steps taken to achieve independence, and the appreciation of missionary efforts in that country. India is the last hope against Communism in Asia, he said.

Leonard Bissmer from British Guiana, South America, also a student at the University at Ann Arbor, told the group about the sub-tropical climate of his country which ranges from 75 to 85 degrees the year round, of its agricultural products and gold and diamond fields, its educational system and nature's wonders so attractive to tourists visiting Guiana.

Rev. J. Franklin Beck of Grand Island, N. Y., was a luncheon guest.

Copies of the monthly Cass City Rotary Bulletin of which William Miller is the talented editor were distributed Tuesday.

Mrs. Beulah Calley of Detroit came Monday to spend the week with her sister, Mrs. John Bohnsack.

Feb. 4—Tyler Lodge observed 75th anniversary. $40,000 fire damage in Owendale. Married—Maud Hendershot and Albert Sarosky. Died—James Burns, Alexander Ross.

Feb. 11—Four hundred twenty-five attended Boy Scout Court of Honor. Body of Oakley V. Coates returned from Manila. Died—Neil D. McLarty, Mrs. Phoebe Fisher, Mrs. Margaret Staub.

Feb. 18—Allen Rohlfis wins 4-H dairy honors. Mrs. Marie Sullivan elected chairman of Hobby and Craft Club. Died—Lewis H. Hunt, Mrs. Christina Haist.

Feb. 25—Junior High basketball team won Upper Thumb championship. Wood's Drug Store makes improvements. Landons hosts to Rural Letter Carrier Ass'n. Died—E. Baxter Travis, Bert Gowan, Norris W. Wilber, Tuscola County agricultural agent.

March 4—Gavel Club presented merry program at Ladies' Night. Lapps lease Streeter restaurant. Fire destroyed Fry home. Redhaws completed season as co-champions in Upper Thumb League. Cass City "B" team, champions in Upper Thumb. Died—Mrs. Charles Wilsey, Henry Gordon, Dr. Neil C. Monroe, Mrs. Flora Chapel, Hersey W. Young.

March 11—Betty Ann Rondo, Allen Rohlfis and Kenneth Baur injured in accident. William McQueen chosen president of Federated Farmers' Club of Tuscola County. Married—Dorothy Wisenbaugh and Albert Geoit. Died—William D. Striffler, Albert Alan Burk, two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Burk.

March 18—Clifford Croft elected

Glorify Holiday Leftovers!
(See Recipes Below.)

After-Holiday Meals

SMART HOMEMAKERS, instead of looking on holiday leftovers with scorn, will welcome having them because they save time in meal preparation as well as conserving time in marketing.

Who doesn't welcome succulent slices of ham, turkey or roast beef when served with slices of bread or rolls? They're the refrigerator raiders' delight!

Then, too, there are excellent dishes which Mom can prepare quickly from vegetables and roast. Everything's cooked and needs just a bit of ingenuity and heating to make them ready for the table!

To make leftovers palatable, it's best to disguise them completely. With the right recipes, it isn't much of a trick, and it's fun, too, to test your ingenuity.

*Chicken Rice Loaf (Serves 6)

2 cups diced, cooked chicken or turkey
2 cups cooked green peas
2 cups cooked rice
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 egg yolks, beaten
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Combine chicken, peas, rice and pimiento. Add milk to egg yolks, then fold into chicken-vegetable mixture. Add onion, salt and pepper. Place in a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for one hour. Serve with cream or mushroom sauce. Place pan of Cranberry Peach Taffies in same oven during the last half hour of baking time.

Cranberry Peach Taffies
4 canned peach halves
½ can jellied cranberry sauce
2 tablespoons butter
6 tablespoons brown sugar

Drain peach halves. Cut cranberry sauce into one-half inch slices, then cut each slice in cubes. Crumble butter and brown sugar together. Place cranberry sauce cubes into hollows of peach halves, allowing at least two cubes to each peach half. Sprinkle with butter-sugar mixture. Place in shallow pan and bake during last half hour with Chicken Rice Loaf.

IF YOU HAD HAM for Christmas, you're undoubtedly looking for a smooth way to get rid of the ham shreds. This main dish loaf stretches the ham with unflavored gelatin and cheese and will make nearly as big a hit with your family and friends as the whole ham. Serve it for a buffet meal or snack with a green salad.

Ham Loaf (Serves 6)

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
¾ cup hot water
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup vinegar
¼ cup diced celery

LYNN SAYS:
Here's What to Do
With Bits of Leftovers

Green peppers, filled with creamed macaroni or spaghetti mixed with leftover holiday meats can be baked for mighty good eating. Add some dabs of leftover vegetables to the mixture, if you like.

Have some leftover cranberry sauce? Heat it and use as the liquid with lemon-flavored gelatin. Mold with other leftover fruits for a salad after the holidays.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

Hot Tomato Juice
*Chicken Rice Loaf
*Cranberry Peach Taffies
Molded Leftover Fruit Salad
French-Fried Eggplant
Bran Muffins
Cookies
Beverage
*Recipe given

¼ cup diced sweet pickle
1 cup grated American cheese
1 cup diced cooked ham

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot water and salt and stir until dissolved. Add vinegar. Chill until the mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Mix in celery and pickle; divide mixture into two parts; to one, add the grated cheese, to the other, the diced ham. Turn ham mixture into loaf pan and chill until almost firm; add cheese mixture and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp greens and serve with tomato wedges.

IF YOU want a hot dish out of the leftover ham, then combine it with spaghetti as in the following recipe:

Spaghetti-Ham Ring (Serves 6)

¼ cup spaghetti, uncooked
3 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons grated onion
2 cups ground, leftover ham
2 tablespoons shortening
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup top milk

Break spaghetti into small pieces and cook in boiling, salted water until tender. Beat eggs slightly, add seasonings, milk and ham. Mix with spaghetti which has been rinsed and drained. Grease a ring mold with the shortening and pour in ham-spaghetti mixture. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 35 minutes. Turn onto a platter and fill the center with buttered broccoli, peas or other vegetables.

WHEN YOU HAVE just a little turkey left from the roast, it can be extended with oysters in this savory pie:

Turkey-Oyster Pie (Serves 6)

1 cup small oysters
2 cups leftover turkey, cut in strips
1 cup leftover turkey gravy
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup mushrooms, if desired
½ recipe plain pastry

Combine first four ingredients. Heat to boiling and simmer gently until oysters curl. Melt butter, add flour, salt and pepper. Add to turkey mixture. If fresh mushrooms are used, saute them before adding to turkey mixture. Pour into deep, nine-inch pastry tin. Top with slashed crust. Bake in hot (425-degree) oven until top is browned. For pastry, use one cup flour, one-third cup lard, one-half teaspoon salt and two to three tablespoons cold water.

Sliced ham combined with a spread of mustard butter makes a wonderful snack for ice box raiders.

A mighty tasty way to serve leftover turkey or chicken is to heat it in leftover gravy or a rich cream sauce and serve over French-fried noodles. Small dabs of peas, carrots or other vegetables help out the white sauce.

If you had roast beef over the holidays, serve slivers of the leftover meat over a tossed vegetable salad.

The want ads are newsy, too.

Danger of Fires Worse on Farms Suggestions Advanced For Preventing Blaze

Of an estimated fire loss of 11,000 lives and nearly 700 million dollars in property and resources indicated for the year 1949, a great percentage of these losses will be made up of fires on the farm.

Because of lack of fire protection or adequate fire-fighting facilities, farm fires in almost every case are the most disastrous, because of the almost inevitable complete loss which results.

Already the national board of fire underwriters has reported property destruction from fire in the amount of 388 million dollars, 8.9 per cent below the same period for 1948. But even if a downward trend should continue for the remainder of 1949, this year's losses would approach the 1948 all-time high of more than 711 million dollars.

These figures mark 1948-49 as the most disastrous period in a decade that has recorded five billion dollars in fire destruction. Between 1940 and 1948, fire loss soared 132 per cent.

As the "prime cause" of most of the 800,000 fires annually, the Board lists "plain carelessness and misuse of heating and lighting equipment." The leading single cause of fire is careless smoking and use of matches, accounting for 16.68 per cent of the total destruction. However, over the past ten years, the combination of defective chimneys and flues, stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipes, and sparks on roofs has been responsible for 20.47 per cent of all fires reported.

Proper safeguards in installation and maintenance of heating equipment, chimneys and flues, safety officials say, will prevent fires of this type. Many communities already protect their citizens with ordinances requiring the installation of flue linings in all new chimneys. One effective means of fireproofing chimneys involves the use of clay flue lining which forms a single, continuous nonflammable unit inside chimneys of all types. The indestructible clay lining prevents weather, heat and corrosive smoke and gases from eating away the mortar between the bricks of the chimney. This eliminates the danger of flames reaching combustible materials through cracks between the bricks.

Authorities urge homeowners to make a careful inspection of chimneys and heating equipment.

New Bench Grinder

This new bench grinder for farm, home and shop incorporates several outstanding features not usually found in a low-priced grinder. Manufactured by Electro Machines, Inc., Cedarburg, Wis., this grinder is designed to provide ample working areas in front of the motor frame and in the space between the frame and the inside of the grinder wheels.

Wheel guards are removable for easy attachment of buffing wheels and other grinder accessories. It is equipped with lifetime lubricated ball bearing for long, trouble-free service. All hardware is cadmium plated.

U.S. Agricultural Unit Helped Penicillin Use

Although the U.S. department of agriculture did not make the discovery of penicillin, its work made it practical to produce the antibiotic commercially. They discovered a new and more productive strain of the penicillin mould. Also as a part of their war research work they developed methods of feeding the mold and separating and purifying the product, a major contribution in itself.

'Open House' Once Marked Holiday

Senior members of the family lament the passing of the 'good old day' when New Year's calls were very stylish in America.

'Open House' on New Year's Day was introduced into this country by the Dutch who settled in New Amsterdam and were accustomed to receive their friends who dropped in to offer the compliments of the day. Such calls were very informal, made and received in the spirit of friendship and sociability; refreshments appropriately consisted of homemade snacks and centered around a large bowl of punch, made according to the host's favorite recipe.

The custom grew with the country and, eventually, the nation—or the increasingly populous communities thereof—outgrew the custom. During the latter part of the nineteenth century, it was customary for those who intended to receive their friends and acquaintances to send 'at home' notices to the newspapers so that would-be callers might plan accordingly.

The majority of such calls were made in the spirit of friendship and sociability which had given impetus to the custom in the first place. However, human nature being what it is, receptions were often 'crashed' by strangers attracted by the prospect of free punch; likewise, hosts and hostesses were frequently embarrassed by guests who, making their seventh or eighth call, arrived in excessively boisterous or mellow moods.

These abuses contributed to the abandonment of the publically announced 'open house' and revival of the very informal New Year's call—exchanged only among intimates toasting the New Year around a very private bowl of punch.

"X" Disease

Recent observations seem to discount the theory that malnutrition may be a cause of X disease, a livestock health bulletin reports. This malady, which causes thickening of the skin and emaciation, has been spreading among cattle in the United States and is responsible for heavy losses in some herds. Veterinarians are now investigating the disease, but so far they have been unable to determine what causes it or how it spreads.

NEW YEAR'S DINNER

Shrimp-Grapefruit Cocktail
Rib Roast of Beef Natural Gravy
Yorkshire Pudding Creamed Peas
Tossed Vegetable Salad Hot Rolls
*Peppermint Stick Cake
Beverage
*Recipe Given.

*Peppermint Stick Cake (Serves 10-12)

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
2 cups milk, scalded
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 pound marshmallows, diced
1/2 pound peppermint stick candy, coarsely broken
2 cups heavy cream, whipped
1/2 cup maraschino cherries, quartered

Angel Food Cake

Soften gelatine in cold water. Dissolve in hot milk. Add salt and chill until partially set. Fold marshmallows and candy into whipped cream. Beat gelatine mixture until light and fluffy. Add cherries and whipped cream mixture. Line bottom and sides of an angel cake pan or a spring form (oiled) with strips one-half inch thick and one inch wide of angel food cake, from which the crusts have been removed. Fill with gelatine mixture and chill until set.

FOR A SIMPLE supper on New Year's, you may set the table for the number you are serving or serve buffet style, making waffles at the table. A simple fruit centerpiece will be appropriate, as the guests may want some after you have served the waffles.

Plain waffles with syrup are an excellent choice, but if you want something more, serve creamed chicken or creamed ham and mushrooms on the waffles. If you serve caffeine-free coffee, everyone can drink all they wish without any qualms about staying awake after they get home to retire. Use the regular grind for percolator and the drip grind for glass coffee maker or drip type of pot. The instant type is good if you want quick service.

Waffles

(Makes 4 4-section waffles)
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks, well beaten
1 cup milk
4 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening
3 egg whites

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift again. Combine egg yolks and milk. Add to flour with butter then mix only until smooth. Beat egg whites until they hold up in moist peaks. Stir quickly but thoroughly into the batter. Bake in a hot waffle iron.

For those who wish a simple spread at the stroke of midnight to welcome the New Year, crisp waffles with creamed chicken, turkey or ham are welcome. Have a simple, but edible, bowl of fruit for the centerpiece, and top the meal off with cups of steaming decaffeinated coffee.

TO MAKE CREAMED chicken or turkey, use 2 cups of medium white sauce to two and one-half cups of shredded or diced chicken. If you want the mixture to have a richer color, add a little of the white sauce to one beaten egg yolk, mix thoroughly, then add the remainder of the sauce. Heat in the double boiler so the mixture will not burn.

If you don't have leftover chicken to use, get some already cooked, canned, boned chicken that comes ready to use.

Decorate the tree with old-fashioned gingerbread men which are frosted with confectioner's icing, trimmed with raisins and bright candies.

Serve your Christmas breakfast "buffet style" letting everyone wait on himself if you're going to be busy getting a large dinner for early afternoon.

Sponge cake topped with apricot glaze when cool, and then sprinkled generously with whole walnut meats makes a lovely cake for holiday entertaining.

A New Year's buffet supper can be done simply if you serve sliced turkey with assorted breads, and bowls of fresh cranberry relish, salted nuts, popcorn, and if you desire, a molded salad and dessert.

Welcome New Year With Luxury Spread Or Simple Buffets

IF YOU'RE planning a gay New Year's eve party, then be prepared for the call for refreshments at about the stroke of midnight when the revelers start feeling hunger pangs.

However, if you're the hostess and want to enjoy your own party, plan foods that you can whip out to the table in a minimum of time. In other words, do the cooking to completion before the party begins.

A big crowd is best handled with a buffet supper, with all the preparation done ahead of time. If properly planned, you can get the food on the table in a quarter of an hour. A small party can have a cozy waffle supper, and the menu can be very simple but still satisfying.

Buffet Supper

Sliced Roast Turkey
Ham or Roast Beef
*Hawaiian Cranberry Relish
*Dark Nut Bread
*Molded Cider Salad
*Peppermint Stick Cake
*Popcorn Salted Nuts
Beverage

BAKE THE TURKEY, roast beef or ham during the day; or, use slices from the meat you've had for dinner. This may be served cold. If you don't have enough meat, have sliced assorted cheese on the platter. All the other items can be made beforehand.

*Hawaiian Cranberry Relish (Makes 1 quart)

4 cups fresh cranberries
2 cups sugar
1 cup canned pineapple

Put cranberries and pineapple through food chopper. Add sugar and mix well. Chill before serving. This relish will keep well for several weeks if refrigerated.

*Dark Nut Bread (Makes 1 loaf)

2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup melted shortening
1/2 cup light molasses
1 cup sour milk
1 1/2 cups white flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 1/2 cups wheat or graham flour
1 cup seedless raisins
1 1/2 cups broken nut meats

Beat eggs and sugar until thick. Add shortening and molasses. Add sour milk. Add white flour sifted with soda and salt, then wheat flour. Fold in raisins and nuts. Bake in wax paper-lined pan in a moderate oven (350-degree) for about an hour.

*Molded Cider Salad (Serves 10)

1 package orange-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cider
1 1/2 cups diced red apples
1/2 cup seeded Tokay grapes, halved
1/2 cup chopped nuts, if desired

Dissolve gelatin in hot water and cool. Add cider and allow to thicken. Fold in other ingredients. Pour into molds which have been rinsed in cold water or oiled and allow to chill until firm. Serve on lettuce.

The dessert for your gala New Year's buffet is a refrigerator cake which one and all will welcome for its light fluffiness and refreshing flavor. Make this ahead of time so it will have time to chill thoroughly and thus slice nicely.

A cabbage head makes a lovely salad bowl for buffet entertaining. Take out the inside of the cabbage, shred it fine and mix with chopped apples, sliced stuffed olives, shredded Swiss cheese and salad dressing. Pile mixture into cabbage shell on a large platter.

Add hard-cooked eggs to leftover turkey or chicken gravy and serve over toast for a savory luncheon dish.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Give Tots Sense of Well-Being With Tastefully-Styled Clothes

By Ertta Haley

SELECTING AND SEWING clothes for children can be lots of fun. When dressed properly and admired by all who see them, mothers feel that the reward is worth all the time consumed.

More important even than having people admire your children is the sense of grooming, poise and well-being that is being developed in your youngsters as you choose clothes for them which meet that standard of fashion rightness.

True, you don't have to worry about hemlines on little girl's dresses as about your own, or about the extent of the cuff on a little boy's trousers as your husband is concerned about his, but still there's a certain amount of fashion which needs consideration.

Certain styles may be better on your little girl than others, for they do have small individual figure problems. Then, too, colors can be as important to them as they are to adults. Some do more for them than others, as you can easily find out just by trying on a few things.

Your little boy and girl can probably look just as adorable as some you've seen pictured even though their clothes budget is limited and mother does the sewing. Tasteful selection of colors and fabrics and

For Rough Wear

This young gentleman is well dressed for school or play in his smart two-button jacket made of an all-rayon worsted type fabric. The fabric, woven from Avisco yarns, is color-fast and completely washable, and will withstand all sorts of rough and tumble wear. There's a liberal sleeve and seam allowance to let the clothing grow with the boy.

Children develop grooming sense... proper styling are the keys to clothing children attractively.

An armload of cheap fabrics that fade and thin with each laundering, skimpy styles or too large clothes and hit-and-miss sewing without regard to what's good on the tot will do nothing more than cover him. Good fabrics chosen with a keen eye as to what's right in style and color, sewed with care will make of the youngsters angels even when they're not!

If you start early to instill an appreciation of quality, workmanship and styling in your youngsters, you'll have given them qualities hard to duplicate.

Take Tips From Top Designers

Any mother who sews for her children would do well to copy some with well styled clothes.

of the trade tricks to top children's designers. For one thing, good quality dresses, trousers and other articles of clothing are never skimpy. You'll find skirt fullness because designers take the required two widths to make them perky. Deep hems are employed because they

Be Smart!

The beautiful simplicity of the necklines of the new wool dresses and the smartness of the many new types of upstanding collars combine to give a perfect foil for ornate necklaces. Setting the pace are the long strands which are looped as you desire. Equally good for the jewel neckline or a collared dress is the choker, usually highlighted with a pendant or pin-like cluster. Earrings and pins repeat the motifs as desired. Typical examples are sketched, the choker of jade and pearl, with a pendant of jade, coral, pearl and rhinestones on gold filigree. The long necklace has opals with pearls, rhinestones and a touch of green.

Although some textured materials, such as corduroy, are favored for play clothes, the smooth fabrics are much more popular for dress. The smooth surfaces mean easy ironing and less opportunity for picking up dirt while being worn. All fabrics chosen should be sturdy enough to hold buttons, fasteners and such essentials. Don't be afraid to experiment on the different types of fasteners being shown even though you may never have seen them used on tot's clothing. Zippers are now coming out on little girl skirts and boy's pants. Elastic is used for waistbands on some overalls or slacks even for the two and three year olds.

Hammered-on snaps are very popular for clothing of this type because the children can dress themselves with ease and thus develop self sufficiency early. Then, too, they save mother a lot of time in button hole making and button sewing since they're of a more durable nature.

Most children love pockets, and frequently they add much to the style of the clothing, so don't eliminate them because of the extra tailoring needed. If nothing else, it teaches them the handkerchief habit!

Choose patterns for youngsters as carefully as you do your own. Measurements are, of course, different, but they are important for choosing the size which fits. Chest, waist and length measurements are most frequently used, and you should have these on hand before buying.

WEDDINGS

Hoist-Juhasz.
(Novesta Correspondent)
Miss Ina Jean Hoist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Hoist of Kingston, and John Andrew Juhasz, son of Gabriel Juhasz of Detroit, were united in marriage at a double ring ceremony Saturday, Dec. 17, at 4 p. m. Rev. R. Lautner conducted the rites at the Evangelical United Brethren parsonage at Saginaw.
The bride was attired in a street-length dress of slate blue slipper satin and carried a light purple orchid with white ribbon streamers. Her attendant, Miss Iva Mae Hildinger of Snover, chose a light blue taffeta dress and her flowers were pink carnations with pink streamers.
Wesley John Cox of Saginaw was Mr. Juhasz's attendant and both men wore white carnation boutonnieres.
Luncheon was served to the bridal party at the Michael Lenard residence before the wedding and after the rites they had dinner in Saginaw.
Their wedding trip included Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Canada and the southeastern states.
Mrs. Juhasz is a registered nurse and Mr. Juhasz, a farmer. The young couple will live at the Lenard farm.
On their return from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Juhasz were guests of honor at a dinner in the home of the bride's parents. A reception for them will be given at the M. Lenard home on New Year's Eve.

Purcell-Eastman.
At a lovely home ceremony in Ypsilanti Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Miss Emily Roseland Purcell became the bride of Norwood D. Eastman. Rev. M. D. Curry, Calvary Baptist Church, read the marriage lines of the double ring ceremony with 30 guests present.
Mr. and Mrs. Doyle S. Purcell, 8533 Martz Rd., are the bride's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Eastman, Cass City, are parents of the groom.
Wearing a pearl grey suit with navy accessories, the bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her corsage was a single white orchid.
Her only attendant, Miss Joan Purcell, her sister, was dressed in a navy blue tailored suit with navy accessories. Pale yellow carnations formed her corsage.
Jeness Eastman, brother of the groom, served him as best man.
Mrs. Purcell chose a black silk print dress with black accessories for her daughter's wedding and red rosebuds for flowers.
The groom's mother, Mrs. Eastman, was dressed in grey crepe with black accessories. Her corsage was red rosebuds.
Miss Phyllis Baldwin, Wyandotte, sang "O Perfect Love" and "Because" preceding the ceremony. She was accompanied by Mrs. Willis Hodges. Playing the traditional wedding marches was Mrs. M. D. Curry.
A reception was held after the ceremony for the immediate families. Miss Fran Ross, Cass City, poured and Mrs. Kenneth Hubacker, Cheboygan, the groom's sister, finished cutting the cake. The home was beautifully decorated for the wedding with a Christmas tree, Christmas greens and poinsettias.
An interesting feature was the necklace worn by the bride. It was fashioned with a two carat diamond and four smaller blue diamonds and had been a part of the Maximilian crown jewels. It was loaned to the bride for the occasion by an old family friend who had wanted her to wear it.
After a ten day wedding trip to Chicago and St. Louis, the couple will reside at Charles McKenny Hall where Mr. Eastman is head resident.
Mr. Eastman is a graduate of the Michigan State Normal College and received his M. A. degree from the University of Michigan. He is now an instructor in the English Department at the Normal College. He is a member of Pi Kappa Delta and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary societies.
The bride is a senior music student at the Michigan State Normal College.
Guests were present from Cheboygan, Rochester, Wyandotte, Detroit and Cass City.
Personal showers for the bride were given by Misses Dorothy Begole, Barbara Knoblauch, Mrs. Lee Gorton and Misses Alice and Ethyl Karnatz. A linen shower was given by Mrs. Don Nafe and Mrs. Bennett Statmiller.

Roberts-McLarty.
Relatives and friends here have received announcements of the marriage on Dec. 16 of Robert Neil McLarty and Miss Margery Roberts of Ann Arbor. The bride is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Edward Reese Roberts. The rites were performed in St. Andrew's church in Ann Arbor.
American cities grew at a much slower rate in the 1930-1940 decade than ever before.

totaling 209 acres, and spent 315 hours of their own time on their beet fields. The Van Petten 4-H Club, led by Albert Bauer, Reese, ranked second in competition for the trophy.
A short program followed the ham dinner served by members of the County 4-H Mothers' Club. 4-H Club Agent Byron Carpenter acted as master of ceremonies. Gilbert Smith, manager of the Michigan Sugar Co. plant at Caro, was introduced, who in turn introduced the field men, and members of the office staff, as well as Maurice Frankes, research director, and Lee Stewart, retired manager of the Caro plant. Charles Mavis, Snover, president of the growers association, introduced the association directors.
Mr. Carpenter announced the 4-H club sugar beet honor roll members, Robt. Stewart, Vassar, and Duane Ackerman and Frederick Rohloff, Reese. A short talk was given by Max Henderson, general field manager of Michigan Sugar Co., complimenting the boys and girls on their project achievements and reminding the audience of the advantages they enjoy living under their form of government.
Following the presentation of the sugar beet trophy to Richard Austin, a movie on outdoor sports supplied by the sponsors was shown by Dean Gordon, soil conservation district farm planner.
The program concluded with passing out checks to the 4-H and FFA beet growers. Mr. Smith distributed checks for initial payments on the club members' beets and payments for seed and fertilizer were made by Clarence Keinath, secretary-treasurer of the growers organization.

First Texas Colony
Stephen F. Austin, with 300 families, founded the first American colony in Texas in what is now Austin county. In 1820 there were only 4,000 people in the entire state, but the flood of settlers increased the American population to 30,000 by 1835.

Dairy Herd Problems Will Be Discussed

Problems which influence the efficiency and economy of the dairy herd will be discussed at the district conference of the Sanilac and St. Clair County Artificial Breeding Associations, to be held Friday, January 6, at Sandusky.

According to A. C. Baltzer, secretary of the Michigan Artificial Breeders' Cooperative, the meeting will be attended by boards of directors of local ABA's, county agricultural agents, and inseminator-managers.

Among other topics to be discussed are the management, breeding and health problems which influence reproductive values in cows.

FRUIT GROWERS GATHER AT MSC JANUARY 18-20

An instructional three-day conference for fruit growers has been scheduled by the Michigan State College horticulture department from January 18 to 20 in East Lansing.

The conference has been developed to help all growers to become keen observers and better equipped to diagnose their problems of fruit growing. Orchard practices, use of chemicals, and disease control are among the topics for discussion.

A copy of the program for the conference can be obtained by writing to the Department of Special Courses and Conferences, Michigan State College, East Lansing 14, Michigan.

EIGHT FROM BAY COUNTY HELD FOR THEFT

Theft of a number of chickens from the Walter Lubaczewski farm, two miles south of Gagetown, led to the arrest Monday afternoon of 10 young men and women, most of them from Bay City.

They were arrested by Troopers William Raven and Orville Rouse, of the Bad Axe state police post, who interrupted a two-day party at the Tebedo farm, located near the farm where the chickens had been stolen.

Review of Feeding Method Saves Time

If you spend more than a minute per day feeding one dairy cow, your efficiency is below average in Michigan, says E. R. Bookhout, farm management specialist at Michigan State College.

Average time spent in hay feeding on Michigan farms was about two and one-half hours for each cow during the yearly barn feeding period, according to recent Michigan Agricultural Experiment station studies. In this two and one-half hours the farmer moves more than two tons of hay to the manger.

Records show a wide range in hay feeding time on Michigan farms, from one-half minute to three minutes per cow each day. The average was about one minute. Bookhout says the wide differences are due to barn and stable arrangement, and work methods of the dairymen.

Here are some time-saving suggestions, from an article by Bookhout in the current issue of "Michigan Farm Economics," monthly MSC agricultural economics publication:

1. Avoid extra handling of hay by having hay chutes directly from mow to feeding area.
2. Have one chute for each 10 to 12 cows.
3. Walls in front of mangers are blockades. With no wall, the hay can be pushed along the feed alley and into the manger.
4. Feeding time is generally lowest when loose hay is fed, but where there are no obstructions in mow floors, feed alleys and mangers, chopped hay is easiest to handle.
5. Make only one trip to the mow each day.

Dairy Herd Management Set for MSC Farm Week

Dairying, the number one money-maker for Michigan farmers, will be stressed at the annual Michigan State College Farmers' Week program, January 30-February 3, 1950.

Breed associations for many years have chosen the winter agricultural event for their annual meeting. Representatives of the Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Holstein, Jersey, and Red Dane breeds plan separate meetings on Monday, January 30, and will then gather for general meetings. Dairy herd improvement association supervisors will meet on Tuesday to recognize testers who have been outstanding in their jobs.

A complete program of dairy meetings has been arranged by the Farmers' Week planners. Prospects for income in the next few years will be reviewed. Another management feature will be a discussion of the things which make a pedigree valuable when buying cattle. Such new introductions as homogenized and canned milk will be explained in reference to their effect on milk sales.

Cutting labor and expenses are recognized as ways to make more money and a section of the program will be devoted to these goals. A discussion of federal controls and how they affect dairymen is also scheduled.

Disease control is one of the first considerations of the dairy farmer. His big enemies, mastitis and brucellosis will be subjects for talks by specialists.

On feeding aspects, speakers are planning to tell of experiences in giving cattle hay, fed as silage versus dry hay; feeding once a day; and pasture production. Up-to-date dairy buildings will be described for farmers planning remodeling or construction.

Suggest Pointers For Wildlife Feed

Under Michigan climate conditions a year-round food supply is usually available for most wildlife. But Charles Shick, extension game management specialist at Michigan State College, says this shouldn't discourage construction of feeding stations.

The stations provide wildlife with food when weather is icy and are convenient places for studying winter birds and their habits. Satisfactory "lean-to" or "wig-wam" type shelters can be constructed near brushy fence rows or swales from poles, corn stalks, straw or evergreen boughs. Discarded Christmas trees can be used to good advantage in building wildlife shelters.

Whole or cracked corn, millet, buckwheat, and sunflower seeds can be placed beneath the shelter for the benefit of quail, pheasants, and songbirds. Without an adequate supply of grit, birds may be unable to digest their food. For this reason, fine gravel or prepared poultry grit should be mixed with scratch feed grain, cracked corn, or other grains.

Shick also suggests a piece of suet, covered with a wire mesh and tacked to a tree to attract cardinals, chickadees, nuthatches, juncos, tree sparrows and blue jays. Feeding trays can be erected on posts for songbirds. Sunflower seed, cracked corn and similar feeds are good. The tray should be kept free of snow.

It's important not to neglect the feeding station, Shick says. Once birds have become accustomed to visiting the station, they will suffer if you suddenly discontinue supplying food.

Phytosaur at Smithsonian

An almost complete skeleton of a phytosaur, crocodilelike reptile of 150,000,000 years ago which was a remote relative of the dinosaurs and still more remotely akin to present-day crocodiles and alligators, has been received by the Smithsonian Institution. The fossil was discovered by geological survey workers in Arizona. It is one of the most complete known, especially in the United States. The phytosaur was a flesh-eating monster with a long snout, nostrils almost on top of its flat head, and rows of viciously sharp teeth. It reached a length of about 15 feet. The creature lived in warm swamps of the Upper Triassic geological period over much of central North America.

White Light for Laundry

Daylight bulbs for the electric fixtures that supply light for the home laundry center are recommended by home management specialists. They explain that these bulbs are made with a blue glass which gives off white light like natural daylight instead of the yellowish light given off by ordinary bulbs. Daylight bulbs make it easier to detect spots and stains when laundering or ironing clothes. It also saves scorching during ironing because the first yellow tinge of scorch shows up more clearly.

United States President John Tyler was the father of 14 children.

Historic City Of Colonial U.S. Still Is Growing

WILLIAMSBURG, VA. — The Colonial capital of Virginia now 250 years old is not content with its wealth of history and tradition, nor is it prone to just settle down and dwell on its past.

The past means everything, of course, to Williamsburg, but the old town isn't letting the vision of the past obscure its vision of the future. Instead, the old town is still growing.

Naturally, its growth isn't quite like that of other communities, for Williamsburg is unique in all the world. It is the restoration of an entire town, just as it looked and, to an amazing extent, just as it lived in those days when it witnessed the first great scenes leading to U.S. independence.

New-old Buildings
To mark its 250th anniversary, two new-old buildings were dedicated; one an arsenal dating from 1716, the other a guardhouse first erected in 1755.

Two centuries ago, Williamsburg was the center of the political, social and commercial life of Virginia—the largest, wealthiest and most populous of England's American colonies.

Following the establishment of near-by Jamestown as the first permanent English settlement in America in 1607, the harassed settlers built a tall stake palisade across the entire Tidewater peninsula in an effort to curb the Indians and protect the settlements of the peninsula.

But the palisade did not guarantee peace for Jamestown. Finally after years of pestilence, massacres, fires and other privations, the general assembly passed an act in 1699 directing the building of a capitol and the city of Williamsburg on higher ground, six miles farther inland.

That same act gave explicit directions as to how the city was to be developed, one of the earliest examples of city planning in America.

Streets were carefully laid out with the pleasant addition of spacious public greens to set off the imposing public buildings. A certain uniformity of building was required and the foresight of those early day planners two and a half centuries ago is evident today in the dignity of the restored city.

Two-sided Nature
As capital of the colony, Williamsburg had a two-sided nature. During normal seasons it was a quiet college town, county seat and governmental center, but during the "public times" when the house of burgesses was in session and the courts convened it became a teeming metropolis notable for "the prodigious number of coaches that crowded the deep and sandy streets." Plays, balls, entertainments, fairs and horse races were held and the money business of the colony was transacted.

Eighty years during that period saw the spark of liberty smolder and finally burst into flame as members of the house of burgesses, America's first legislative assembly, stoutly maintained the colonists' rights.

Such patriots and great Virginians as George Washington, Patrick Henry, Edward Pendleton and Thomas Jefferson were familiar figures along the streets. It was in the capitol building in Williamsburg that Patrick Henry made his famous "Caesar-Brutus" speech, shouting, according to tradition, "If this be treason, make the most of it," in protest to the stamp act.

Heavy Coat on Hot Day Trips Smuggling Ring

LONDON.—A man who made the mistake of wearing a heavy overcoat on a hot summer day was reported to have given Scotland Yard information that may break a huge international currency smuggling ring.

Police became suspicious of the unseasonal garb of Capt. Maurice Coppel, master of the Belgian ship Saphir, and questioned him. He was carrying a bullock belt and a briefcase containing $156,000 in gold bullion, gold coins, currency and industrial diamonds.

Coppel was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment after his attorney promised he would give Scotland Yard the names and addresses of members of the ring which allegedly operated in Paris, Brussels, Cairo and Marseille.

Man Sues Radio System To Get Elephant Prize

OXNARD, CALIF.—Any elephant given away on a radio quiz program would be a white elephant for most participants, but not for Mr. and Mrs. George King.

They filed suit against the Columbia broadcasting system for $3,000 damages, charging that a promised Indian elephant had not been delivered.

King, an elephant trainer, says he has been waiting for the pachyderm since Mar. 17, 1948, when his wife won it at a quiz show.

What did he get? A case of peanuts, a suit of clothes and a ticket to a circus, where he could watch an elephant, says the complaint.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

Mixed doubles were bowled at the bowling alley on Tuesday, December 27. Virginia and Delbert Strickland won the first prize, of $25.00, with 1277 totals. Ella Vance and Vern Gallaway won the second prize of $15.00 with 1179 totals. Pauline Johnson and Jack Hubbard were third with 1177 for $10.00 and Genevieve Huff and Guy Landon were fourth with 1173 for $5.00. If there are enough people wishing to bowl, mixed doubles will be bowled again on Friday, starting at 7:30.

Nation of Hunters
Seventeen million shooters! That is the amazing approximate number who use firearms for sport annually in the United States. These figures are revealed by the Remington Arms Company, Inc., Bridgeport, Conn., and were obtained from a hunting and shooting study recently made for Remington by the Psychological Corporation, headed by Dr. Henry Link. The totals were reached through an analysis of 4,562 actual interviews with men and boys in 157 cities, towns and rural areas in fourteen states. The survey was made at the beginning of the 1948 hunting season.

Popular National Shrine
Although the term national shrine is often thought of in terms of considerable age, one of the most popular historic sites is among the newest. Franklin Roosevelt's birthplace and life-long home at Hyde Park attracts greater numbers of visitors than Mt. Vernon, or most other national historic sites and is becoming increasingly popular. Situated on the Hudson river, within a few hours of New York City, Hyde Park has become a mecca for tourists from all parts of the world.

Carlsbad Caverns
Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico, is the home of from three to five million bats which fly out at sundown except during the winter season. Blind fish and other creatures, living in total darkness, have also been discovered in the caves.

With the possible exception of Herbert Hoover, George Washington was the United States' wealthiest president.

lost in other mid-west states, he did carry Michigan, his home state, by a respectable margin.

It is the thesis of Mr. Summerfield that an important difference has developed between the Roosevelt and Truman administrations. "With Roosevelt we were drifting towards socialism, but with Truman there is no drift—it's a headlong rush," said Summerfield at the strategy meeting in Chicago. "The American people can only sense this, but the member of congress, the governors and the politicians everywhere know it. If the Democrats make any gains whatsoever in the house and senate in 1950, there is likely to be a pell-mell rush to get on the Socialist bandwagon."

The basic predicament of the Republican cause, as interpreted by many students is the fact that many wage-earners and farmers have associated the Republican party as the emblem of "selfish interest" as contrasted to the liberal position enjoyed by the Democrats.

In advocating more benefits for the masses President Roosevelt and his Democratic party successors have identified the Democratic party as the popular liberal cause of the hour. For a good generation there has been a steady movement towards centralization of power in government, both state and national. This trend has been accelerated by two World War experiences, climaxed by a ten-year depression between wars, and recently the historical epochal event of the atomic bomb. Faced everywhere with individual and national insecurity, American citizens have sought to solve the problem of insecurity by going to Lansing and Washington increasingly for answers to these problems.

The result has been that the trend towards centralization of power at Washington has been greatly accelerated in recent years and with new welfare spending programs already approved, together with others advocated, a strong state socialism appears to be in prospect, according to Mr. Summerfield.

In opposing state socialism under an economic planning-type of national administration, Summerfield would place the Republican party more on the side of traditional liberalism in behalf of rights of the individuals. As contrasted to more and more centralized control at Washington, whereby the wants of the individual would be guaranteed by the government from cradle to the grave, the Republican cause would be closely identified with survival of the American free enterprise system as linked to opportunities of the individual.

Whether the Republican party can shed the shell of its reactionary label and assume the role of a liberal leader will be an interesting development in 1950 to appraise.

At any event the "welfare state" may have met a new knight in shining armour.

Moth Damage

Damage to fabrics by moths is prevented for at least a year by treatment with a modified DDT solution.

In going through the Panama Canal one travels a little more than 50 miles.

End of Livestock Plague Seen in Drug Discovery

Several millions of square miles of disease-ridden country in Africa and other tropical regions may be made more livable for domestic animals through a new drug, called, antrycide, discovered by British scientists.

A single injection of this drug is said to protect cattle, swine, horses, pigs, camels and dogs for several months against certain forms of trypanosomiasis, or sleeping sickness, a deadly blood-parasite disease spread by tsetse flies. The drug also helps to cure animals already suffering from this malady.

Large-scale tests of antrycide are now being made by veterinary research men in a settlement on the Nairobi-Mombasa road in Kenya.

If the tests confirm the reported value of the drug, it should be possible to make a much-needed expansion in meat and milk production throughout the plagued area. This could be done by importing high-producing breeds of cattle which have been unable to survive in bush country because of their susceptibility to sleeping sickness. Cattle now raised there are native dwarf breeds which are unproductive though relatively resistant to this disease.

Experiments with Color

In their continual search for new ways to improve production methods and working conditions for their employees, automobile firms are experimenting with the color and finishes used in their plants. In one plant, machinery and walls were painted a restful green, the ceilings, white. Switches, pipes, aisles and other items were coated in blue, red, yellow and aluminum. This colorful interior, with its vast array of automatic equipment, is now so clean that many employees wear office job clothing. In a quiet experiment, the firm left one corner of the plant and its machinery unpainted. Where workers in the rest of the plant began wearing good clothes and kept their work places spotless, those in the unpainted section wore coveralls or other work clothing, and needed constant urging to keep their work areas clean.

Grapefruit Areas

There are four principal grapefruit-producing areas in the United States. Florida, Texas, and the California-Arizona desert area produce winter grapefruit. A small area in Southern California produces summer grapefruit.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Twenty-five Years Ago.
Jan. 2, 1924.

A. G. Houghton, Civil War veteran and for 48 years a resident of Tuscola County, passed away at his home in Cass City on Dec. 26. Other deaths the past week are those of Mrs. Geo. McConnell, Mrs. Richard Lazenby and Mrs. Mary E. McPhee.

Potential causes of war confront us on every hand and the world is farther from peace than it was in 1922 in the opinion expressed by Frederick J. Libby, of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, in an address at a union meeting of local churches at the Presbyterian Church Sunday evening.

Harland Bond has received a diploma from the National Academy of Music and has taken a ten weeks' course in technique at the Detroit Conservatory of Music.

At the annual election of officers of the Presbyterian Sunday School, the following persons were chosen: Supt., Roy Bricker; ass't. supt., E. A. Corpron; secretary, Kenneth Striffler; ass't. secretary, Clark Knapp; treasurer, Richard Schenck; organist, Mrs. McCoy; chorister, Mrs. P. A. Schenck; cradle roll supt., Mrs. R. A. McNamee.

At the annual meeting of the Evangelical Church, the following officers were elected: Trustees for two years, Wm. Akerman and John H. Bohnsack; class leader, Grant McConnell; assistant, Solomon Striffler; pianist, Laura Jaus; assistant, Mrs. A. A. Ricker; chorister, A. A. Ricker.

cattle and 85 hogs on the farm of Theodore Schulte in Gilford Township, Tuscola County, following the discovery of stock there affected with hoof and mouth disease. Gilford, Akron, Fairgrove and Wisner Townships are reported under quarantine.

Local business men commence next Monday in closing every evening except Saturday for the remainder of the winter season.

Local ice houses are being filled this week with ice cut from the Cass River.

At the annual meeting of the Evangelical Church Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected: Trustees, Edward Helwig and W. J. Schwegler; class leader, J. M. Bittner; exhorter, Wm. Akerman; organist, Laura Striffler; assistant, Martha Striffler.

Kiddie Cups

Mrs. DeGentili needed a new cement sidewalk so she called in an old Italian laborer to make it for her. He worked hard at it all day and came in, perspiring, to tell her it was finished.

"Good," she said gratefully. "But let me get you a drink. You look awfully tired and thirsty."

She came back in a moment or two with a small glassful of wine. He looked at it and remarked, "Boy! I never see dat-a before." "What!" she asked incredulously. "You never saw wine before?" "No, no," he replied, "I mean-a I never know dey make leedle glasses for de bambino."

NATURALLY

"Did any of you children ever see an elephant's skin?" "I have, teacher," said Willie brightly. "Where was it?" "On the elephant."

'Two' Bad

He didn't look like the sort of man who would do a thing like that, but he hung his head in shame as he faced the judge.

"What is the man charged with?" asked the judge. "Bigotry, Your Honor," said the officer. "He married two women."

On the Menu

Doctor: "Well, Mrs. Smith, how is your sick husband this afternoon? Did he relish his lunch?" Mrs. Smith: "No doctor, he didn't—but he creamed his coffee, and mustarded his hot dog."

Matches—Then and Now

Fifty years ago Americans paid for every match they used. Today two out of every five matches in the U.S. cost the users nothing.

Western Auto Associate Store

THE clock has had the privilege of striking midnight and being the first to announce the arrival of the New Year for only about six centuries. Before that, man measured the hours in several different ways.

Primitive man measured the length of a day by the moving shadows which reflected the sun's daily course across the heavens.

The first timepiece was probably a pole and a stone—the pole to cast a shadow and the stone to mark where the shadow fell when the sun was highest.

As man became more accustomed to regulating his activities according to specific intervals of time, he devised the "water-thief," the hourglass, and finally the mechanical clock.

Even the simplest "water-thief" measured time accurately because a regular interval of time passed between the moment it was filled and the moment it became empty—and this interval could be timed by the sun.

The hourglass was better than the "water-thief" because it was cheaper, it would not freeze or spill and it did not require refilling.

Real, mechanically operated clocks were not constructed until the thirteenth century. The word "clock" has been derived from the French "cloche," which means bell, and probably owes its connection with timekeeping to the custom of ringing bells to announce the passing of the hours.

James A. Garfield, who died at 49, lived the shortest life of any U. S. President.

HOME ECONOMISTS AGREE SUGAR IS SUGAR

That is why they freely state that any supposed difference in pure sugar is simply a figment of the mind. That is why in their cook books, they specify just "Sugar".

The plain fact is—all household sugar is sucrose, no matter whether it comes from beets or cane. So, with all things equal, your best buy is the sugar that gives you most for your money—buy—

MICHIGAN MADE PURE SUGAR

Babson's Business And Financial Outlook for 1950

should fall off, barring some weather, insect or blight catastrophe.

13. Poultry and dairy products will especially increase in volume during 1950 with prices averaging less than in 1949.

14. Farmers will continue to work to hold present subsidies. It is popular to criticize the vast amount of crops which the Government owns or is making loans on, but this surplus in storage may be a great blessing when the next crop failure or war comes.

Taxes.
15. The Federal Budget will be increased during 1950 over that for 1949.

16. Over-all Federal Taxes will not be increased during 1950 and there may even be some readjustments to encourage venture capital. Moreover, some of the nuisance taxes may be eliminated or reduced.

17. The long-term capital gains tax of 25% will remain unchanged.

18. There will be many increases in local and state taxes, and more reaching for relief by "sales" taxes or other forms of raising needed funds.

Retail Trade.

19. Goods on counters will be of better grade in 1950 than they were in 1949.

20. Markdown sales will continue during 1950 as consumer spending slackens due to a decline in employment and other factors.

21. The dollar value of all retail sales in 1950 will be moderately downward, and the unit volume of retail sales will also be less in 1950 than in 1949.

22. Less will be spent on new buildings and equipment by stores and factories during 1950.

Foreign Trade.

23. Our exports will be down during 1950 and our imports will be up during 1950, comparing both with 1949. This will partly be accounted for by the devaluation of the English Pound and other foreign currencies.

24. Foreign credits will continue to be granted during 1950, but some of these will be direct by American business firms and investors. If our Government will get foreign governments to agree that such investments will be exempt from any new tax or other legislation by the foreign country in which the investments are made, considerable progress would be noticeable along foreign trade channels.

25. American interests will have more competition from foreign producers of raw materials and of manufactured goods during 1950 than they had during 1949. This will benefit some American concerns, but be harmful to others.

26. Fear of war with Russia will continue during 1950. World War III will come sometime; but it will not start during 1950. Those in large vulnerable cities should use these years of peace to get some small farm or country home to which they can go in case of war. Such places will be almost unobtainable when war actually comes.

Deficit Financing.

27. The supply of money will be increased during 1950, but the price of Government bonds will not change much one way or the other during 1950.

28. In addition to the anticipated Federal deficit of the $3,000,000,000 being distributed as insurance refunds to veterans will be mostly spent.

29. Congress will not change the price of gold during 1950.

Stock Market.

30. Most stocks will work up and down in about the same range during 1950 as during 1949.

31. Stocks of companies with assets mostly in natural resources, known as inflation stocks, should have the greatest demand.

32. There will be more investment buying for income during 1950 and utilities and companies making labor-saving machinery may be more popular than other industrials or railroads.

33. The wisest investors will keep a fair amount of their funds liquid throughout 1950 pending the great break in stock prices which will come some day.

Bonds.

34. High-grade taxable corporate bonds bearing low coupon rates should continue at about the same prices during 1950, but of course, they will sell for much lower prices when money rates increase.

35. 1950 will see a further fading off in certain tax-exempt bonds due to the new Housing Authority Obligations to be issued during 1950.

36. The Federal Reserve will continue during 1950 the same general policy which it followed in 1949.

37. The importance of diversification will be given more attention in 1950 and wise investors will watch their bond maturities to see that they are either short or systematically staggered.

Real Estate.

38. The city real estate outlook is uncertain. It should continue to hold firm throughout 1950 due to less available rental space caused by pulling down old structures to save taxes and to provide parking spaces. Owing to high costs and the fear of World War III, there will be little inclination to build new city property. On the other hand, the continual movement out of our large cities—in the interest of decentralization—may cause prices to soften.

39. There will continue to be a fair demand during 1950 for suburban real estate with a shading of prices for large places; but the residential construction boom should continue well in 1950.

40. The demand for large commercial farm acreage will be less during 1950; but small sustenance farms, especially those located close to established communities, will hold up and, perhaps, increase in price.

41. There will be some decrease during 1950 in industrial and private building. The cost of such building will decline a little and the quality of workmanship will improve. There should be an increase during 1950 in publicly financed building.

42. There will not be much change in business rentals during 1950, but residential rents will average higher in 1950. Only as property owners are granted higher rentals will there be more houses built for rental purposes.

43. Mortgage interest rates during 1950 will continue about the same as during 1949.

44. The growth in industrial pensions should help real estate sales in Florida, California, New Mexico and Arizona.

General Business.

45. Many business concerns find their operations sliding down toward the break-even point. There will not be as much margin between costs and selling prices during 1950 as during 1949. Unemployment will gradually increase due to the installation of labor saving machinery and other causes.

46. Military preparedness will continue to bolster general business and employment during 1950, but this is not a healthy development.

47. Excluding Government owned commodities, the physical stock piles of manufacturers will remain about the same during 1950 as during 1949.

Politics.

48. 1950 will be an election year. The Republican Party will remain in the doghouse. The Administration will continue to talk radically against Wall Street and the so-called "Selfish Interests," but at heart the Administration will be fairly conservative. Its bark will be far worse than its bite.

49. The Administration will continue to be sympathetic to organized labor unless someone like John L. Lewis goes too far. In that event, such a man will be made the whipping boy, but with the consent of other prominent labor leaders.

50. The Congressional Elections of 1950 will not change the political status of Congress to any great extent.

Dentists Over Nation To Return to School Via 'Phone Classes

CHICAGO.—Some 7,000 dentists across the nation are going back to school—by telephone.

Members of 142 state and city dental societies will participate in what is believed to be the most ambitious professional extension course ever undertaken.

The University of Illinois will bring the classroom right to the dentist—from Maine to California—by courtesy of Alexander Graham Bell.

The first class was to be a panel of six noted authorities discussing "recent advances in the control of dental decay."

Appearing on the panel will be leading proponents of various approaches to the problem, such as the dietary and chemical and the use of fluoride, ammonia.

A university spokesman pointed out that such a program represented a valuable opportunity for the practicing dentist to keep abreast of the latest developments in his field without leaving his practice and returning to school.

The program will be fed to 39 states and the District of Columbia by the American Telephone & Telegraph company, and dentists will meet in hotels or dental society offices to hear the discussion.

Illustrations used by the lecturers have been published in a special brochure sent to every dentist who has enrolled in the course.

Wisconsin Man Is Owner Of 13,000 'Wishbones'

BUTTE DES MORTS, WIS.—If there's anything to an ancient custom, a local man is potentially one of the luckiest men on earth.

He is Paul Gray, who collects wishbones. At latest count he had about 13,000 of them.

The custom of snapping wishbones, historians report, is an ancient one. As early as 322 B.C. the Etruscans had a "hen oracle." A special god was called upon to grant favors and the collarbone of a fowl was placed on an altar in the sun as an offering to the god. From this the practice of snapping wishbones is believed to have originated.

Gray is a painter and paper-hanger by trade. He started his wishbone collection some 18 years ago when he lived at Oshkosh. "For no good reason at all," he says, he started throwing wishbones of dinner fowl in a box. Friends and relatives sent him more and, before long, his collection was really under-way.

New Hormones Discovered To Shrink Some Cancers

NEW YORK. — The American cancer society has reported the discovery of two new hormones that can shrink certain types of cancer.

How long the shrinkage may last was unknown, but these hormones appear to have opened a new field of medicine.

The hormones are the same sensational remedies that earlier were discovered to give dramatic relief to arthritis, gout and rheumatic fever. They are cortisone and acth, the first a product of the adrenal glands of the back, the second the governor of those glands.

The society said the cancer report was made by Doctors O. H. Pearson, L. P. Elie, Rulon W. Rawson, Konrad Dobriner and C. P. Rhoads of the Sloan-Kettering institute and department of medicine of memorial cancer center, New York.

They said the cancers were not cured and it remains to be seen whether complete cures can be obtained. Eight persons were given the hormone. One with breast cancer and the other with cancer of the prostate showed no visible improvement.

The other six had lymphoid tumors, which means cancers affecting the lymph glands in various ways. The report said there was dramatic and progressive decrease in size of all six. The decreases were in enlarged lymph nodes and spleens.

Four of these had one of the common forms of leukemia, known as chronic lymphatic leukemia or blood cancer. One had Hodgkins' disease and the sixth a growth known as lymphosarcoma.

None of the six were in dying condition. In two the cancers remained shrunken for 10 weeks. In the others the cancers started enlarging again, but showed signs of shrinking with a second course of hormones. This two-time good effect is unusual in cancer.

Sin Hath No Haven; Clerics Enter Pubs

YORK, ENGLAND. — Whichever you prefer, gospel or television. English saloons will have it.

The clergy may preach in saloons, a section of the Church of England decided recently.

The York Convocation, clerical body governing the north of England, voted to revise canon law on divine services in unconsecrated buildings, so that the clergy might preach the word of God wherever it chooses.

One of Two Sedans in 1950 Chevrolet Line

The Styleline, one of two individually designed sedans which have achieved immense popularity with Chevrolet owners, will have new beauty in 1950. Improved grille work, sturdier bumper guards and more tasteful ornamentation are some of the exterior improvements. New Chevrolet also offer increased power and comfort with the Powerglide automatic transmission as optional equipment on De Luxe models.

REPLACING LIGHTS CUTS HAY MOW FIRE HAZARD

Farmers who used choppers and blowers for the first time this year to make hay, sometimes report that the bare lamp bulbs in the barn became covered with dust, thereby creating a fire hazard.

R. L. Maddex, Michigan State College agricultural engineer, says two types of fixtures can be used to give good light and yet are free from fire danger. The most inexpensive is a canning jar type globe that fits over a light bulb. An air space between the fixture and
