

Mrs. C. S. Auten Is Chairman of Junior Red Cross

Members Made Over Four Million Garments and Gifts Last Year

Lewis Garner, Vassar, chairman of the Tuscola County Chapter of the American Red Cross, announces the appointment of Mrs. C. S. (Lois Jean) Auten of Cass City as county chairman of the Junior Red Cross.

Mrs. Auten replaces Mrs. Robert Keppen, formerly of Cass City, who recently resigned the County Junior Red Cross chairmanship to move to California.

The American Junior Red Cross is made up of over 19 million boys and girls in elementary and secondary schools who participate in Red Cross services as a regular part of their school programs. Directed by teachers who, in turn, work with the Chapter, Junior members combine learning with serving. They develop a personal sense of social responsibility by helping to meet needs at home and abroad.

Last year they made 4,000,000 garments, toys and other useful gifts on school sewing machines, lathes and desks. These articles were made for patients in military, veterans' and civilian hospitals and also for children in orphanages and across the seas. The gifts sent overseas last year by the Junior members totaled 215 high school chests worth $125.00 each, 469,000 gift boxes valued at $2.00 each, and $465,057 worth of school and health supplies; 5,000 pieces of student art, 2,500 school correspondence albums, and 1,000 albums of recorded school music. They brought American home, school and community life to children in more than 40 other nations by their exchange of art and correspondence albums. More than 300 thank-you letters poured in daily from grateful youngsters overseas, according to Mrs. Auten.

As the American Junior Red Cross of Tuscola County enrollment has increased each year, under very capable leadership, the children of this county can well be proud of their assistance to the national and international organizations to make the 1949 record of accomplishments as successful as it was.

Deceased Lived 65 Yrs. On the Same Farm Where He Was Born

Wm. J. Schwieger, former resident of Elkland Township, died Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Hayes-Green-Beach Hospital in Charlotte, Mich., where he had been a patient nearly one week.

Mr. Schwieger, son of the late Andrew and Louisa Schwieger, was born August 29, 1879, on a farm on the North Schwieger road and lived there until November, 1944, when he and his wife moved to Charlotte after selling their farm to John Zinnecker, the present owner.

On Sept. 3, 1908, he was united in marriage with Miss Alice J. Ross. While he lived in Elkland Township he served several terms on the school board of the Bird School district and was a member of the Farm Produce Co. board of directors.

During his residence in this vicinity he was a member of the local Evangelical United Brethren Church and served on the church trustee board for 35 years during which time he was president of the board a number of terms. He also served this church in the capacity of Sunday School superintendent, class leader and Sunday School teacher for a number of years.

At the time of his death he was a member of the Charlotte Methodist Church and the Charlotte Grange.

He leaves to mourn their loss his widow; two sons, Andrew F. and Edward W., both of Charlotte; and two granddaughters, Joann, of Berea, Ohio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew F. Schwieger, and Kay Ann, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Schwieger; two sisters, Mrs. Chas. Gregor of Puslinch, Ont., and Mrs. Orton Klinkman of Decker; and a brother, Benj. A. Schwieger, of Cass City.

Boy Scouts to Have Potluck Dinner at Caro Monday, Feb. 6

The annual Boy Scout Week potluck dinner will be held in Caro on February 6, 1950, according to Kenneth Kerr, district camping and activities chairman. The popularity of this event is indicated by the growth in attendance in the past several years. Last year the Scouts and Explorers met at Cass City and the Cubs at Vassar. Both dinners had a full crowd. The same division will be maintained again this year with the Scouts and Explorers meeting at Caro and the Cubs at Mayville. The Cub date has not been set as yet.

February marks the 40th anniversary of the Boy Scout movement in America. The Valley Trails Council membership is the highest in Council history with a total of 3,157 boys. The Tuscola district has also reached an all-time high. New units in Tuscola in the past year are Cub Pack No. 3157 of Akron, and Scout Troops No. 162 of Gilford, No. 157 of Akron, and No. 163 of Vassar. Units now being formed are Cub Pack No. 3150 of Millington, Troop No. 188 of Unionville, and Sea Scout Ship No. 5153 of Vassar.

The health of Scouting in this district is indicated by the quantity and quality of those volunteer Scouters who give so freely of their time and energies so that the boys may have the benefits that Scouting offers in their development. "We congratulate these men and women in their service to our youth," said Marion Peacock, Field Scout executive.

LOCAL BANK GETS BEAUTY TREATMENT

PINNEY STATE BANK ENLARGED AND COMPLETELY MODERNIZED

The Pinney State Bank has taken on a new look. The building has been completely remodeled and refurnished, changing it from one of the oldest buildings in Cass City to one of the most modern.

The old bank structure was built by Elijah H. Pinney in 1889, three years after he started the Exchange Bank. It had two stories, hardwood floors and measured twenty-two feet by sixty-two feet.

In 1921 the bank was incorporated and the name was changed to The Pinney State Bank. In August of 1949, the Pinney State Bank was moved to temporary quarters in the Prieskorn building and remodeling was begun. The upper story was removed, and the building was extended an additional twenty-four feet in the rear.

A new bank vault and a Diebold safe door, which weighs three tons, were installed. There are 385 safe deposit boxes in the new vault, which is 84 more than were available to customers before.

The front of the bank is almost entirely glass. Starting at the sidewalk, there are slabs of red granite extending approximately three feet up the outside wall. The rest of the front and north-west corner are of Indiana limestone and glass, with the glass, an estimated two hundred Exchange Bank erected square feet, in the "Horse and Buggy Days" of 1889.

The interior of the main banking room has been doubled in working area. Four teller windows, a working space for the bookkeeping department and an open office have been built in the main section. The new addition to the building is occupied by a private office, a room (to be used for meetings of the bank's board of directors and to double as an office), a store room and two toilets. All woodwork and furniture are of a light grayish colored oak.

Village and Township Pool Equipment

The village of Cass City and Elkland Township made an agreement at a special council meeting last week to form a single fire fighting unit by combining their equipment.

Under the new agreement the township will finance maintenance of the trucks, and the village will provide housing facilities.

Because two-thirds of the evaluation of the township is in the village, it has been provided that one truck will remain in town at all times, according to Mrs. Wilma Fry, village clerk.

The new arrangement is a step for better fire protection at a lower cost for both the village and township.

TO AVOID ELISTERS

Make sure that a wooden surface is completely dry before paint is applied. Elistering is generally due to moisture within or upon the surface.

Fascism was first developed under Benito Mussolini.

Ostrich

Contrary to popular belief, the ostrich doesn't bury its head in the sand when danger is near. Folks get that impression because of the bird's habit of resting its head, by stretching out its neck along the sand.

Iceberg Lettuce

Most commercial lettuce is of the New York and Imperial strains. They are erroneously called Iceberg lettuce. True Iceberg is a variety with red-tinged leaves and no commercial importance.

NOTES

COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Ten members were present at the quarterly 4-H Council board meeting Monday evening, January 16. Mr. and Mrs. Alva Harrington were recommended and approved to act as caretakers of the 4-H Building. The schedule of meetings at the building and improvements to the property were also discussed.

Fifteen Future Farmers and 4-H'ers have enrolled thus far in the chicken-of-tomorrow contest. They will get their chicks the week of February 6 and carry the feeding project for a period of 13 weeks, at which time all birds will be weighed and records of expenses and receipts will be completed.

Farmers should start thinking about buying fertilizers for spring need. Those that haven't ordered theirs are encouraged to do so to get the desired and needed analysis and the right amount. Fertilizers will not "cake up" or get hard if stored in a dry, ventilated place and if not piled more than seven sacks high.

Soils should be tested to determine the kind of fertilizer best suited for the crop and soil. At the present time complete tests can be had by sending the sample to the Soils Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing. The cost is 5 cents per sample. Plans are being made to set up a Tuscola County soil testing lab, according to County Agricultural Agent Loren S. Armbruster.

Culling poultry is an important factor at this time of the year. With low egg prices, home poultry flocks should be given constant watch and undesirable hens should be culled out when noticed. Weak appearing head, no ruffled feathers, yellow body in legs are some of the factors noticed in non-laying hens.

Winter months are a good time to repair farm machinery. Check through all farm equipment needed for early spring and summer work. Recall some of the troubles encountered last year where parts or pieces were wired together. Order those parts now to put the machine in top working order.

Talk to your neighbors and invite them along to Farmers' Week

Wright Says Homes Soon May Be Erected At Economy Figures

NEW YORK.—An aesthetically attractive, fully equipped house soon can be built by any able bodied man for $1,500 to $3,000 using only the sort of skill a child shows in constructing an edifice of toy blocks.

No less a figure than one of the world's top architects, Frank Lloyd Wright, is the authority for that statement.

The first of what Wright hopes will be a vast number of such houses is scheduled for erection near White Plains, N. Y., by June, 1950. Two others are also scheduled to be built about that time in Kalamazoo, Mich. Before long, Wright said, it was hoped to have at least one model of the revolutionary new kind of houses in each of the 48 states.

As Wright explained it, the "Usonian automatic house" which he designed will be built out of a new type of cement block which can be fitted together in such a way that "no trowel will have to touch them."

The new type house, he said, can be as large or small as the amateur builder's taste and budget direct. A house equivalent in size to those now selling for around $10,000, could be built for $3,500 the architect said. A one-room structure, costing as low as $1,500 could serve as a starter.

Lone Goat Holds Rifleman At Bay for Five Minutes

WANAQUE, N.J.—If it's news when a man bites a dog, then it must rate a press paragraph or two when a lone goat holds 50 armed riflemen at bay, and then chases them, rifle and all, off the lot.

That's what happened during a private shooting match at a target range here. The 50 rifle enthusiasts, gathered for the match, all ran for the protection of their cars when the goat got after them.

The animal had held the rifleman at bay for five minutes when one shooter, braver than the rest, finally drove him off with rocks.

Why didn't anyone shoot? Bob Elwood, of Paterson, N. J., who was there, explained that the goat belonged to the range-owner's neighbor and he had requested that everyone hold fire.

Magnetic Auto Eye Saves Cars at Rail Crossings

HARRISBURG, PA.—A magnetic eye for automobiles prevented a make-believe railroad crossing accident here recently. Inventors of the gadget say it performs the following feats:

Registers the approach of a train at a railroad crossing.

Brakes the automobile to a stop.

Turns off the motor of the car.

Keeps the car stopped until the train passes.

State, railroad and insurance company officials watched a demonstration of the device designed to eliminate grade crossing hazards.

The magnetic eye represents years of hobby puttering by three Pennsylvanians, Alfred M. Pfeiffer, 41, Harold C. Roeder, 41, and Oscar Funk, 57.

The device would be installed in motor vehicles—particularly buses and gasoline trucks—at a cost of about $12 to $15 each.

Railroads or state highway departments would place magnetic coils at intervals in the roadbeds of highways approaching grade crossings. These coils would be tied in with the blinker signal system now used at many crossings.

As a train approaches, it would set off a magnetic impulse from the roadbed coils. These impulses would be caught by the magnetic eye in the automobile. The magnetic eye in turn would operate the brakes and turn off the ignition.

"We've worked 19 years on this project and we think it's foolproof," said Roeder. "If the equipment was installed at every grade crossing in the country and if every automobile had our magnetic eye, grade crossing accidents would go down to zero."

Although patented, the invention still is to be marketed.

Barometer Opens Parachute In Fixed-Altitude Test

STANDSTED, ENGLAND.—A former paratrooper made a two-mile delayed jump here in the first field test of a new robot parachute designed to open at any chosen height.

A spokesman for the manufacturer explained the chute was worked by a barometer which sets off a spring and causes the canopy to pop open at the desired altitude. The altitude for opening is set in advance of the jump by a clock-work mechanism.

"There is always a danger that a pilot forced to jump at high altitude may pass out from lack of oxygen and fail to revive in time to pull his rip cord," the spokesman said. "With our device set in advance he can safely drop through the rarefied air, knowing his chute will open when needed."

The parachute used in the test opened on schedule at the fixed 5,000 feet.

Arrange Farm Shop For Efficient Use

Efficiency in the farm shop is essential, say Michigan State College agricultural engineers. They list condition and arrangement of the shop and its equipment as one of the important considerations.

Among check points for better farm shops are concrete floors, painting the interior a light color or whitewashing for visibility, and large windows that will admit as much light as possible.

The engineers advise having a definite storage space for tools and supplies and keeping everything in its place. Work benches along the walls with drawers under them are convenient storage for small parts.

Church Loyalty Day To Be Observed

Sunday has been designated as "Church Loyalty Day" with a unique service planned for 10:30 a. m. at the Presbyterian Church. The theme for the day is "Keep the Church Bell Ringing." There will be an anthem by the choir and Rev. M. R. Vender, pastor, will preach on the subject, "My Dream for the Church."

It is the plan and request of the every-member canvass committee of which Edward G. Golding, Sr., is director, for members and friends of the church to bring their annual pledge cards for presentation at the time of the offertory, with a litany of dedication.

The officers of the church, trustees, elders and deacons and several members of the congregation at large, a group of twenty-five, will constitute an enlarged canvass committee. The members will be commissioned for the canvass assignment in a brief ceremonial at the 10:30 a. m. service; then at 2:30 p. m. the canvassers will meet at the church for their assignments, going out to call upon all families of the church constituency to complete an every-member canvass.

The theme of the annual church financing is "Every member sharing according to ability." Letters of appeal and instruction have been sent to members of the congregation to facilitate the canvass.

Worshippers will receive an attractive folder with a New Year poem on the back page written by the pastor.

Chester Muntz and William J. Wetters were ordained and installed as deacons at the morning service last Sunday.

At the Westminster Youth Fellowship meeting last week, Robert Mann was elected president; Marjorie Karr, vice president; and Joan Holmberg, secretary-treasurer.

of the building for better illumination. Artificial lighting is supplied by ten 8-ft. fluorescent and eight incandescent fixtures, all recessed into the ceiling.

The old coal furnace and cumbersome, old-fashioned radiators have been replaced by an oil furnace and convector heaters that are partly recessed in the walls in order that a minimum of space be wasted.

The lighting was designed by Edison engineers and contractor for the remodeling was James Wheeler of Mt. Pleasant. Plumbing, plastering, electrical work and decorating were done by local men.

Some office equipment was moved last week from the temporary location. It is expected that the staff will move back this week and business from the remodeled and newly decorated bank building will begin today (Friday), according to Frederick Pinney, bank president.

MSC Professor Speaks At Farm Bureau

The annual meeting of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau was held at the Caro High School Auditorium Tuesday evening.

District directors were elected and Kenneth L. Baur, organizational chairman, gave a report on the membership drive. There were 987 members at the time of the meeting with every indication that the goal of 1,000 would be reached in the near future.

Henderson Graham of Caro, farm bureau president, was in charge of the meeting and the welcome was given by George J. Beith, president of Caro. Speaker for the evening was Prof. Paul Bagwell, director of speech at Michigan State College. Prof. Bagwell told of his journeys of over 150,000 miles by air over foreign countries.

The charter of the bureau was extended for thirty years and one of the original directors, Dorr Perry, was present at the meeting. C. J. Striffler of Cass City is also one of the original directors when the Tuscola County Farm Bureau began thirty years ago. Mr. Striffler was not present at Tuesday's meeting.

Special attention will be focused on the matter of Highway Legislation and reapportionment during the course of the meeting. The Executive Director of the Good Roads Federation will speak, and League staff members will be present to assist in answering questions presented by members of the group. Questions may be presented promptly from the floor or officials may present written questions to the Director, who will preside at the meeting.

Farm Show Schedules New Machinery, Ideas

Modern Devices Slated To Indicate Progress

New devices and machinery which are attracting the interest of farmers generally will be on view at the national farm show at Chicago starting November 26. The show will be held in the Chicago coliseum.

Prominent among new scientific farming aids to be shown will be the radically different tractor-move irrigation systems. Consisting of long lines of pipe which can be hooked onto a tractor and moved to any section of a field, these systems are said to be able to triple acreage yield. Water, nitrogen, fertilizer, DDT or 2,4-D can be put down through the sprinklers.

Modern farm machinery, such as this "damper-downer" in use in a North Carolina tobacco field, will feature exhibits at the National Farm Show to be held in Chicago.

Vacuum unloaders, rotary hoes, heated tractor seats and grain testers are included among the hundreds of items for the modern farm and farm home which will be displayed, and visitors will see a wider range of implements and equipment than has ever before been assembled under one roof.

The special events are likewise shaping up into a program of unusual interest. The second annual invitational interstate 4-H poultry judging contest on November 29 will draw entries from at least 20 states, according to H. G. Ware, director of judging.

Watch Footings

FOUNDATION UNDERMINED. NO FOOTING.

Farmers should always be on the alert to the danger of run-off water washing away footings under foundations, particularly on outbuildings where such caution, normally, might not be exercised. When run-off water washes away footings under foundations, the building settles.

Reduced Grain Growing Brings Seed Hold Need

Prospects of reduced grain-growing, including corn and wheat in 1950 and following years should cause farmers to consider saving more grass and clover seed, says a statement from the college of agriculture, University of Kentucky. The seed, it was pointed out, will be needed for the sod crops that are to take the place of grain.

The bureau of plant industry at Washington says that grain reduction will mean at least 25 per cent more grass and hay.

Barren Land Reclaimable With Fertilizer, Know-how

Under proper management, worn-out land can be converted into grass pasture capable of carrying one cow and a calf to each one and one-half to two acres. Three acres of good permanent and supplementary pasture will carry a cow and calf through the year.

Principal requirements are fertilizer, willingness to grow something beside the immediate money crops and a knowledge of livestock.

Dim Outlook

INSTEAD OF LOOKING for a job he would frequent and participate in radical meetings. His father held his impatience as long as he could but finally exploded.

"You lazy loafer," he shouted, "why don't you go out and earn some money?"

"What good will money be after we've had the revolution?" asked his son. "There won't be any need for money in the Utopia we will have then."

"Maybe," said his father, "but if you were to go out and earn, say, $25,000, you could help the cause along, couldn't you?"

"Yeah," the son pointed out, "but supposing the revolution don't come? Eh? Then I'm stuck with the $25,000."

HOME MUSICIAN

The occasion was an amateur musical. The kind-hearted hostess, spying a lonely-looking little man huddled in a corner of the room, paused to make conversation.

"Tell me," she asked, "do you play any musical instrument?"

"Not away from home," the little man replied.

"How peculiar," remarked the hostess. "What instrument do you play at home?"

"Second fiddle," the little man replied.

Matter of Phrasing
The mountain woman had come across the creek from her little cabin to tell a sympathetic neighbor about her man's goings-on.

"He whupped me this mornin'," she complained.

The big-boned neighbor woman turned upon her indignantly.

"Don't ever say he whupped you," she ordered. "Jes' say 'we hit'!"

Western Union Rates Change February 1

New telegraph rates will go into effect throughout most of the nation on February 1. The rate changes were ordered by the Federal Communications Commission to "insure equal charges for equal distances and eliminate present inconsistencies in this respect," according to Western Union.

Under the new schedule, rates for services are based on the air-line mileage distance between centers of rate blocks, 50 miles square. This will do away with the present overlapping rate zones, and message charges will be the same between equidistant points," the company said.

The decreases and increases do not apply only to 10-word full-rate telegrams, but include night letters, day letters, serial telegrams and money orders.

Must Apply For Crop Loans by Jan. 31

January 31, 1950, is the deadline for farmers to take advantage of government guarantees of support prices on several grain crops. This reminder comes from Clarence Prentice, Michigan State College grain and bean marketing specialist.

Loans or purchase agreements will not be available after this month, on 1949 crops of wheat, oats, rye, barley, soybeans and dry edible beans. The deadline date of January 31 is the result of a one-month extension this year, according to Prentice.

Loans on these crops, except soybeans, mature April 30, 1950. Farmers who have purchase agreements must notify the county commodity credit corporation office during April. Soybean loans mature May 31, one month later than for the other crops.

Farmers will be paid seven cents a bushel for storage cost on farm stored soybeans or wheat held to the maturity dates.

Corn producers have until May 31, 1950, to take advantage of corn support price guarantees through loan or purchase agreement.

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Alleman

Newspapers of Michigan each year salute Michigan agriculture through an "All Michigan Dinner," sponsored by the Michigan Press Association, Inc., in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

This annual climax to the state convention was held Saturday evening, Jan. 21, and again newspaper editors learned new facts about the remarkable and varied history of modern Michigan.

For example, a baked potato was served to dinner guests as a reminder that Michigan holds the national championship potato record for 1949, if not for all previous years, in the remarkable yield of 1,038 bushels per acre on the Marquette county farm of Paul VanDamme.

D. L. Clanan, farm crops-extension specialist at Michigan State College, has searched American records of high yields on unirrigated land and can find no previous claim of such heavy production.

VanDamme reported his high yield in late September, 1949, and it was checked by R. H. Kaven, Marquette county agricultural agent. The yield of 1,038 bushels of potatoes to an acre came from a six-acre plot of recently cleared land on the VanDamme farm.

Thus a Michigan farmer again has established a remarkable food record of high production.

A half century ago Michigan was recognized as a leader in the potato production of the United States. With the growth and new developments in this culture in other parts of the nation, Michigan now ranks 10th.

During the past year 17,160,000 bushels of potatoes were produced; most of this production being in the upper half of the lower peninsula and the upper peninsula.

Twenty-five years ago considerable of Michigan's supply of potatoes was produced in the southern half of lower Michigan. This acreage has almost disappeared and judging by the acreage now in the upper peninsula, it appears that most of it has moved up there.

It may not be news to readers of the "Michigan Mirror" but Michigan represents over 90 percent of the navy bean crop of the nation. As usual more than likely shipments will be made to every state east of the Rocky Mountains and an important supply will go abroad to meet foreign trade needs.

The rich Thumb area is the navy bean capital of the United States.

The growing dairy industry in Michigan, which now produces nearly one-third of the total agricultural income, was represented by a dairy snack bar, presided over by the 1949 dairy queen, Miss Jane McKimmy, 17, Beaverton high school student.

Approximately 140,000 farmers in Michigan have one million cows daily producing milk supplies for use as a health-giving beverage, butter, cheese and other dairy products.

Last December 19 a four-year-old Holstein cow, "Minnow Creek Eden Repeat," completed one year lactation period during which time she produced 35,243 pounds of milk. This set a new national record for volume of milk production, and it gave to Michigan another championship honor in the field of agriculture. If all of the butterfat produced by this one cow had been processed into butter, it would have totalled 1,530 pounds! This production, the achievement of F. K. Merkley of Flint, is equivalent to that of the production of six average cows.

Member newspapers of the Michigan Press Association, Inc., most of which are in small towns and rural areas, take pride in the 1949 achievement of 170,000 farms which produced more than $600,000,000 of agricultural products.

In volume this record exceeded previous yields, but in value, due to decline of commodity prices in 1949, it was somewhat below the previous year's high.

These achievements are taken from a miniature newspaper front page which was distributed to newspaper editors and their guests at the dinner. Co-sponsor of the "All Michigan Dinner" was the Michigan Department of Agriculture, administered by the Michigan Agricultural Commission.

Record Temperatures

According to the U. S. weather bureau, the highest temperature ever recorded was 136 degrees F., recorded at Azizia, Libya, North Africa, on Sept. 13, 1922. The record low, of 90 degrees below zero F., was registered on Feb. 5 and 7, at Verkhovansk, Siberia.

First Globes

The first globes made in the United States were the work of James Wilson in 1810. He engraved his projection maps with such accuracy that when they were cut apart and pasted on hollow wooden spheres, they fitted perfectly.

Good Pheasant Stock Observers Report

More favorable observing weather is believed partially responsible for the marked jump in the number of pheasant spotted by both rural mail carriers and conservation officers in their annual December survey.

Over 500 rural mail carriers reported seeing over 12,500 ring-necked, or four birds per hundred miles. In the 1948 December survey, 385 carriers observed nearly 4,000 birds, or 1.7 birds per hundred miles of checking.

Rural mailmen make their observations while on routine runs in the 38 counties which comprise the primary pheasant range.

Conservation officers also had the advantage of early and heavy December snowfall which made birds more visible. Officers saw 1,157 pheasant compared to 637 in December, 1948. This amounts to 3.3 birds per hundred miles as against 1.7 birds per hundred miles in the 1948 check.

Sex ratio, considering both surveys, shifted from one cock for every two hens to one cock for every three hens.

Mild weather during the early part of this winter has made it easy on the pheasant stock. With the break in the weather, the birds now are in a better position to face adverse conditions that still may come. They have had little trouble finding corn, giant ragweed and other seeds to tide them over.

Michigan Is Tops As Fishermen's Haven

Michigan replaced California as the state with the most licensed fishermen and climbed from fourth to the second slot in terms of fishing license revenue received during the fiscal year ending June, 1949.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service credits the Michigan conservation department with distribution of 1,110,109 licenses which produced $2,102,347 in fees. California switched places with Michigan for the second best record in the nation, issuing 1,030,617 fishing licenses, but held first in revenue with $3,138,501.

In order behind Michigan and California in most licenses issued were Wisconsin, Ohio, Minnesota, Illinois, New York, Pennsylvania, Missouri, and Tennessee.

Super Cold Science

Scientists here are working with temperatures so low they'd make a home refrigerator seem like a furnace. In a new "push-button" laboratory, the researchers can reach down to 459.8 degrees below zero Fahrenheit—within one-tenth of a degree of absolute zero.

Glass Tumbler

The first pressed-glass tumbler was made in 1827 by an enterprising manufacturer who turned on blowing glass in molds to pressing the molten substance into shape with a plunger. Forty-nine years later, at the Philadelphia centennial, this precious collector's item was broken when an exhibitor let it slip through his nervous fingers while showing it to a group of connoisseurs.

Egg Production

Farm flocks laid 3,576,000,000 eggs in September, 1949—a record number for the month, 2 per cent more than in September, 1948, and 19 per cent above the 1938-47 average.

Erosion Loss

Estimates are that the U. S. is losing 200 40-acre farms (8,000 acres) a day through erosion.

SAW IT COMING

The wife smiled at her husband when he got home. "Poor darling," she said, "you must be hungry. Would you like some tender chops with golden-brown potatoes and green peas, and some apple pie?" "No, darling," was the weary reply, "let's save money and eat at home."

OF COURSE

During the illness of the editor of "Farm Queries" on a midwestern paper, the religious editor was assigned to answer questions and answers on agricultural topics. He was asked his opinion about late plowing, and replied: "Plowing should not be continued later than 11 o'clock at night. It gets the horses into the habit of staying out late, and unduly exposes the plow."

Another subscriber asked "how long cows should be milked." The answer was explicit: "The same as short cows."

Lavoisier is called the "founder of modern chemistry."

Annual Meetings.

This is the season of the year when agricultural groups and associations call the faithful together for annual meetings. They usually start out with a lunch or banquet and wind up with speeches or movies. The reports are all read, elections run off and then always a general discussion about outlook and financial returns.

One affair we visited recently was the Saginaw Valley Guernsey Breeders' Association. The conclave was held in the Kawawin Community Church. About 70 attended to hear the reports and speeches.

Guernsey Membership Going Up.

The Saginaw Valley Guernsey Breeders' Association reports an increasing membership during the three years of existence. There are about 45 farmers with Guernsey herds in the area with 35 being registered. From these figures it is easy to see that these breeders represent a very small percentage of the total dairy industry. Some of the larger Guernsey herds are owned by Elmer and Walter Frahm of Frankenthum, the Watson Brothers of Hemlock, Osborn Thurlow of Midland and Frank Wyatt of Standish.

Premium Milk Sales Drop Locally.

Golden Guernsey milk sales dropped off 270,000 quarts in 1949 in the Bay City area. Figures for Saginaw and Midland are about in the same proportion. Premium Guernsey costs three cents more per quart. Although less milk is being sold under the trade-name of Golden Guernsey locally, the home offices in Peterborough, N. H., report an increase of seven percent in national sales.

High Quality Production.

Howard Wetters, president of the Saginaw Valley Guernsey Breeders, claims over 400 pounds of butterfat per year, per cow for the association average. This production must be considered only fair in view of a New Jersey Guernsey record. Jake Tanis has 42 official yearly records with an average of 721 pounds. One of his six year old cows gave 943 pounds on a 365 day test.

Quality, Quality, Quality!!!

together, you hear one word over and over: Quality. Each year, at the annual meeting, the distributors of Golden Guernsey give cleanliness and hi-quality awards. There were 13 so honored at the annual get-together. William Bickel, Al McKellar, Gottlieb Schlicker and Osborn Thurlow, all of Freeland, received the blue silk. Thomas and Dale Turner, also Ray McCaughna of Hemlock, ditto, Saginaw County had Earl Timmons and Henry Hetz and Son. The Grabowski Brothers of Merrill, Eugene Brisbogue of Midland, R. Jackson and Sons of Caro and Harold Stewart and Sons of Vassar also received the award.

Rural Briefs.

The 1950 turkey crop is expected to be five percent smaller.

Net farm income for last year: 14 billion dollars. That's 16 percent less than 1948.

Looks as though Michigan poultrymen won't be able to take advantage of government support of 37 cents per dozen. Reason: Michigan has no egg drying plants.

Uncle Sam buys only dried eggs.

The spring pig crop of 1950 will be about 6 percent larger than the spring crop of 1949. That's an increase of 21 percent in two years.

Eye Tests Given Rural School Pupils

All rural schools of Tuscola County are testing the eyes of the children in their schools during the last two weeks of January. This is a short test that will enable the teacher to locate many eye deficiencies which the teachers might otherwise overlook.

After the test is given the teachers will make a report to the parents if they find children with eye difficulties. It will be suggested by the teacher that the child might need glasses and the parents will be asked to consult their eye doctor.

A school report will be sent to the office of county superintendent where the results of the findings will be tabulated. The school board wishes to impress the parents that the findings of the teachers does not mean that the teacher is making a final diagnosis but that conditions appear to be such that the child needs to consult the family doctor on this subject.

Land o' Lakes

Minnesota, "Land of Ten Thousand Lakes," really has more than 11,000. The total includes no less than 99 named Long Lake, and 91 named Mud Lake.

Cost of Foot Troubles

Foot trouble accounts for an annual loss of more than 100 million dollars in U. S. wages and production according to a recent survey, and every third person in this country complains more or less constantly about aching feet, with "invisible hotfoot," a burning, itching sensation, high on the list of pedal ills.

Grow Legumes

One way to supply the soil with organic matter and keep the productivity high is to grow legumes with grasses.

Custards

When making a custard, do not use too much sugar. It may prevent it from thickening properly.

Home Sewing

Home sewing definitely is far from a seasonal activity now, if official pattern sales can be a criterion. Pattern companies report a fairly balanced distribution throughout the year. During 1948 the records show that January was the weakest month, but still only five percent away from the volumes of the top months. The top months were no more than three percent more than other months with the exception of January.

Cotton Growing

Experiments with the new organic insecticides indicate that cotton growers may be able to shift from dusting to spraying for control of insects, says the U. S. department of agriculture.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Twenty-five Years Ago.

Jan. 30, 1925.

Wheat, rye and beans show marked increases in prices over those of a year ago. Cattle prices are the same and hogs are up about 50 per cent.

Several residents are interested in the formation of a local automobile club. One of the subjects to be discussed is the widening of runners of sleighs. At the present time, the narrow sleigh tracks and the wider tracks of wagons and automobiles put the highways in a condition that make it hard going for all classes of vehicles.

Stanley Waldon, who moved from Greenleaf Township to Deckerville several months ago, lost his farm home just outside the Deckerville village limits by fire on Jan. 21.

J. C. Corkins finds his recently purchased snowmobile a wonderful contrivance in making the rounds on Rural Route No. 1 these days of drifted roads. He makes the run in approximately three hours' time.

Ernest Croft led all township treasurers of the county in the first payments to Mrs. Burdeen Hoover, county treasurer. He has collected and turned over to the county treasurer $21,029.60, which represents 80 per cent of the whole amount of state and county taxes collected in Elkland Township.

Thirty-five Years Ago.

Duncan W. McLean, superintendent of schools at Reese, died Jan. 20, following a stroke of apoplexy a few days previously from which he never rallied.

The college oratorical contest for ladies was held at the college chapel at Alma Friday evening and resulted in Miss Jessie Duncanson, a student from Cass City, carrying off the high honors with an oration, entitled "The New Patriotism."

Miss Robb has been appointed postmaster at Argyle.

After having been without one for three years, Kingston is again to have a newspaper. Morgan Steele will be the publisher.

Frank B. McComb, a member of the Class of 1906, Cass City High School, is county secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Ashland, Kentucky.

Miss Katie Ross, who has been employed as manager of the Secklan Cafe in Detroit for the past nine years, returned here Tuesday where she will stay indefinitely with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Finley Ross.

Tuesday, Jan. 26, Loyalty Arbor, A. O. O. G., located at Deford, installed the following officers: Chief Gleaner, Geo. A. Martin; vice chief, E. R. Bruce; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Geo. A. Martin; chaplain, Mrs. E. R. Bruce; conductor, Howard Retherford; lecturer, Mrs. Wm. Kilgore; inner guard, Nathaniel Phillips; outer guard, Chas. Kilgore.

Apples Received For Tuscola Schools

Five hundred twenty-eight bushels of apples (one carload) were again distributed to Tuscola County schools. These apples have been distributed to all schools and are to be given to the children to eat at school. This month's supply of apples came from two sources—200 bushels from Mayville and 328 bushels from Almont. They were received in excellent condition and the children and teachers look forward to receiving this treat in their schools. The apples were received by the office of the county superintendent and were distributed by the graded districts and primary school boards.

If it is possible to receive another supply of apples for the month of February they will be obtained.

Get Plates Early State Department Warns Motorists

There are more than 2,000,000 automobile owners in Michigan who have not obtained 1950 license plates for their vehicles, and state officials warn that late comers will face the prospects of long waiting lines.

At this time last year, an average of 11,000 people daily were securing their plates, while this year the average has been less than 8,000. Making the job of re-licensing even more difficult is the fact that there are 170,000 more motor vehicles owned in Michigan now than in January of last year.

To complete the sale by February 28 (a total of only 27 week days) more than 63,000 people must apply daily, and unless the average daily sales pick up very soon, indications are that the last few days of the sale will be faced with the almost impossible task of handling hundreds of thousands daily.

Fred W. Ryan is manager of the Cass City branch of the Department of State and has 1950 license plates, application blanks for plates and title blanks for house trailers available at the F. W. Ryan & Son John Deere Sales.

There are no half year licenses this year, and motor scooters are required to have a title and license plates. Titles are also required for house trailers.

Oil from Steam

The oil shale is crushed and treated with steam as it moves over a perforated plate underlaid with crushed rock. The steam causes the oil to escape and drip into a container.

Hessian Fly

Destroying volunteer wheat helps to control Hessian fly infestations. Wheat should not be planted until after the fall brood of flies has emerged and left.

Wasted Effort

Henry Peck: "Just my luck." Friend: "What is the matter now?" Peck: "I promised my wife I'd be home by 10 o'clock last night." Friend: "Couldn't you make it?" Peck: "Yes; I did even better. I got in just at 9:45, but she was sound asleep, and I failed to get any credit. I might just as well have stayed out with you boys."

Never Scot Free

The merry old knight of the road stood at the kitchen door with his battered hat in his hand. "Come in," said the kind-hearted lady, "and I'll give you some food." In a few minutes the tramp was up to his elbows in a hefty meal. As he ate, the old lady remarked: "I suppose your life has been full of trials." "Yessum," he sighed. "And the worst of it is that I was always convicted."

UNCHANGED

Entering the house just as her husband put down the telephone, the wife said: "Whom were you talking to, dear?" "Your mother called," he replied. "And how is she?" "Wearily he answered, "About the same—unfair to meddling."

NEVER FAILS

"Say, Bill, I've got a wonderful scheme for making money fast!" "Going to let me in on it?" "Absolutely. All you've got to do, is to glue it to the floor."

Creature Music

Birds are not the only musicians in the animal kingdom. Frogs also contribute to the music of the countryside. Each kind of frog has its own sort of trill, grunt, peep, groan, whistle, clack or burp. The frog orchestra has a high, treble sound and a rhythmic throb as it rises from meadow, marsh or pond.

Altai Mountains

The Altai mountains which help to form the northern boundary between China's Sinkiang province and Outer Mongolia derive their name from the rich gold deposits they hold. Altai is from a Mongol word for gold—thus the "Golden Mountains."

Cooking Liver

Calf or beef liver is cooked best at a very moderate heat for a very short time. It should be removed from the frying pan as soon as it has changed color throughout.

Cost of Pork

It requires about three hours of man labor to produce 100 pounds of pork in central Illinois.

May Not Be Flattering

Green can be used successfully on an area of any size and in any section of the household. Be careful, however, not to use too yellow a green when painting bathroom walls. Near the mirror where you face yourself in the morning, it has an unflattering effect on the complexion. It makes you not-so-sure-that-you-feel-too-well.

joined the Golden Eagle Patrol the same night. Don was an Explorer member who decided to be active in

The Scouts and Explorers are working diligently under the joint

Harold Oatley. This is a system by which Scouts and Explorers may earn points for gaining ranks, at-plus votes by the boys and leaders will determine who is eligible for the trip to the National Jamboree at Valley Forge next summer.

Care with Fire
If farm fire hazards, such as carelessness in smoking, negligence in handling matches, and improper use of kerosene or gaso-toll in human lives and property losses could be reduced to a fraction of what they are.

Choose Lighter Tint
When you're selecting a color for the walls of a room, remember to choose a lighter tint of paint than the finished effect you desire.
The same color used on a large

Furthermore, when a color is used

Why Not Save 25% on Your Living Cost?

Scientific figures show that you can save on your food bill each year by the use of a locker and making good use of it.

Here Are Four Good Reasons for Filling a Locker at a Saving

- 1st. While meat is cheaper, pork is on an upward trend now.
- 2nd. Chickens are cheaper now than they have been for sometime.
- 3rd. If you like vegetables and fruits you can save another 20 per cent by buying them in case lots.
- 4th. Agriculture department now prints in the daily papers ways of freezing and storing eggs in different forms. You can see your savings if they go to 50c per dozen again.

Farmers' Week Opens at M. S. C. On January 30

Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, January 30 to February 3, is expected to bring 35,000 or more Michigan farm people to East Lansing. The event is generally recognized as one of the largest of its kind in the nation and is in its thirty-fifth year.

Featured speakers include Marquis W. Childs, Washington correspondent on Tuesday; Dr. Gerald Wendt, top ranking scientist on Wednesday; and Allan Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau on Thursday.

Departmental meetings will be held in the morning and early afternoon each day with general sessions starting at 3 p. m. in the college auditorium.

Monday will feature dairy breed association meetings and builders' day in agricultural engineering. All departments in the School of Agriculture will hold departmental meetings on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of the week.

Special programs are scheduled daily by home economists as feature attractions for the women.

A feature attraction will be the grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition. The 1,200 pound Hereford brought $13,800 when sold to Dearborn Motors, Detroit. It is being shown through courtesy of Ford tractor and Dearborn equipment dealers of Michigan and will be exhibited in the livestock judging pavilion all week.

Many exhibits will be available for inspection. They will be in agricultural engineering building, veterinary building, auditorium, livestock pavilion, poultry building, demonstration hall, Olds engineering building and the home economics building.

More than 35 different farm organizations will hold annual meetings during the week and champions will be crowned in the state steer and swine feeding contest.

Special entertainment will include an ice show on Tuesday night and a concert by college musical organizations on Thursday evening. All programs are open to the public and free, except for charges for meals.

Control Rats

Complaints of rats increase rapidly with cooler weather. Rats which have been out-of-doors move into buildings for protection during fall and winter. Ratproofing corners, dwelling houses, or other buildings deprives rats of their winter home and food. Where rats gain entrance to buildings, they may be killed.

HE STANDS STRAIGHT WHO STOOPS TO HELP A CHILD

Ira Dean McCoy, M.D.

In general the several states have not allocated enough money for educational purposes; some cases it is because of a general lack of interest in education; some because there has been a lack of means to supply the necessary funds. Whatever the reason may be, it is universally agreed that the large number of states have failed in the task of financing the education of their children.

The American people spent 1 1/2 percent of their income for the year of 1946 (the last year for which data are available) for educational purposes; Britain allocated 3 percent of the national income, and Russia, usually regarded backward in these matters, allocated 7 1/2 percent of her income for educational purposes; not a very flattering picture of our potentialities in education. Our less prosperous states have been especially hampered in their efforts to provide a decent educational minimum of educational opportunity. The National Educational Association estimated that for every dollar raised by Mississippi for educational purposes, New York can raise eleven dollars with equal ease, while Delaware could raise thirteen dollars.

Since so little money is spent for educational purposes, teachers are naturally greatly underpaid. In 1941 the average annual salary was but $1470 and more than 40,000 of those teachers received less than $600, while in Mississippi, probably the least progressive state, paid its teachers an average of $15.47 a week. In the six years following 1940 over 70,000 teachers have resigned every year to take work where they might earn a living wage. Such an outlook has discouraged intelligent young people from entering teaching as a profession. Before the war 22 percent of the students in college were preparing to become teachers. In 1947 only 7 percent of the college students were planning to teach and the teachers colleges were filling up with students preparing for other professions and careers.

Not only do the less prosperous states pay unreasonably low salaries, but they are so short in school facilities that they cannot house the school children who do want to attend. In 1946 over 6,000 schools were closed for lack of funds, making a further shortage in housing classes and 75,000 children were not schooling whatever, while over five million children will sit idle or go part time.

Federal aid to education is not something new. It was begun with the Ordinance of the Northwest Territory, in this declaration:

RELIGION, MORALITY, AND KNOWLEDGE, BEING NECESSARY TO GOOD GOVERNMENT AND THE HAPPINESS OF MANKIND, SCHOOLS AND THE MEANS OF EDUCATION SHALL FOREVER BE ENCOURAGED.

As a result of this declaration the sixteenth section of every township in the five states into which the Northwest Territory was divided was set aside for the schools, and when sold the money was to be granted to the public schools. For nearly a hundred years after this declaration, questions constantly arose as to what constituted education, and the extent of the public taxation system for the support of public education.

The first constitution of Michigan provided for free public education and the University of Michigan a constituent body freed in every respect from regularity control by the legislature, except for the voting of funds for its support. In the main it was generally assumed that "public education" was elementary education only. For thirty-three years this left a wide gap in educational preparation, now known as secondary education, unprovided for at public expense.

Following the Civil War, even during that conflict, several school districts in the state began building and providing for high schools financed from public and local taxes. Such tax raising for high schools was challenged in the courts in 1870 and carried to the Michigan Supreme Court. In 1871 Judge Thomas Mortimer Cooley read the decision of that court, which in effect, was recognized that the whole United States as finally declaring high school, or secondary education so called, a responsibility of the public, that taxes for the same could be levied and collected upon a majority vote of the taxpayers.

Swine Feeders To Tour Three Farms

"What practices do successful swine feeders follow to produce pork efficiently and get it on the market at seasonal peak prices?" Some of these questions will be answered at the Tuscola County 4-H and FFA swine feeders tour being held Saturday, January 28. The tour arranged by County 4-H Club agent, Byron E. Carpenter, and vocational agriculture instructors Norman Waggoner, Caro, and Roy Benson, Cass City, will include three stops, beginning at 1:30 p. m. at the Yokom Stock Farm, located 1/2 mile east of Mayville on M-38.

The remainder of the afternoon schedule consists of stops at the Grover Russell farm, three miles north of Gilford Road on Unionville Road (Bethel Church) and 1/3 mile west on Darbee Road, at 2:45 p. m., and at the Mack Little and Sons farm, 1 1/4 miles northeast of Ellington on M-81 and 4 miles east on Akron Road (1/2 mile beyond bridge) at 3:45.

In any graded school district. That decision became a corner stone for the solid foundation of education from early childhood through manhood, or adult literary and professional education at public expense.

About twenty years ago the teachers in the Detroit Public Schools began taking up collections among themselves to provide hot lunches and eyeglasses for underfed and defective visioned children who obviously were unable to be so provided from home. Four years later, the governmental agencies began to relieve these teachers of these burdens when they were not even receiving their own salaries. In more recent years the federal government has subsidized hot meals for school children without recurring the incidence of financial need, has subsidized dental and medical examination of school children. By the Morell Act of 1862 all states which support agricultural and mechanical arts colleges have received liberal grants for the furtherance of their work. So you see, there is little which is new in federal grants to education, except perhaps, new terms and a broadening of the application to fit better our new and changing life. Although the federal grants will not completely cure the present educational crisis, they will greatly raise the standards of education in the weaker states and 75 per cent of the federal aid will go towards teacher salaries, without lessening the amount of salaries already paid by the states.

On January 6, 1949, Senator E. D. Thomas (D. of Utah) introduced S. 246, which is almost identical to Senator Taft's (R. of Ohio) S. 472. Senate Bill 246 authorizes $300 million per annum in federal aid; explicitly prohibits federal control of educational facilities; apportions federal aid in largest amounts to neediest states; guarantees a minimum apportionment to each state of $5 per census child, 5-7 years old inclusive; assures fair and equitable treatment to separate schools maintained for minority racial groups; and authorizes the states to expend federal funds for the same current operating purposes for which state and local school revenues may be spent under the provisions of state laws and state constitutions.

S. B. 246 provides that the states shall have control of these federal funds. This point was made to quiet those who said that the federal government would control the education of youth. It also guarantees a minimum to each state but grants more to the weaker states. This allotment was provided to enable the less wealthy southern states to raise their low educational standards.

The most controversial point in this Bill is the last one which allows the individual state to grant federal money to parochial and private schools if that state constitution permits it. Although many senators oppose allotting money to parochial and private schools, they believed the bill could not be passed without it, and hence, permitted it to remain.

This federal grant will not entirely solve the educational crises within the states. The two main reasons why opponents of the bill want it to be aid the Southern Negro gain an education and to increase the salaries of teachers. As the bill stands, the $300 million will not materially aid the Negro. The distribution of funds, since the money is being granted to the states, will be in the hands of the state legislatures. The southern legislatures never having granted sufficient funds for Negro education, are not likely to start such a move with this money. The Negro will probably continue attending one-room shack schools, while the additional money will undoubtedly be spent for the improvement of the white's schools and salaries.

Speaking of salaries, there is no guarantee that the $300 million will increase teachers' salaries. Although 75 per cent of the federal grant is so earmarked, the bill contains no provision to prevent the state legislatures from cutting their own appropriations for salaries, leaving the federal government to pay them.

Many state school systems would have enough money if economy were practiced. According to Alvin A. Burger, research director of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce, "In New Jersey there were school districts which spent more than $280 per pupil last year, while the average expenditure for the state was $172, but the district enjoying the reputation of maintaining one of the best school systems in the state spent only $140 per pupil, $32 under the state average, and only half as much as some of the more extravagantly run districts."

To July 1947 no state legislature, or state governor, had applied to the federal government for aid in education. Even Mississippi, which ranks 47th in income among the states, has a surplus in its treasury. Arkansas, which ranks 48th, feels that it can adequately take care of its educational system. If the Arkansas taxpayer is satisfied with the badly organized and expensive system he now suffers under, he will make little improvement when the system is partly financed by the federal government. When the taxpayers in all the states are aroused to the need for better schooling, then, and only then, will adequate educational opportunities be offered to all American children. When that day comes, the states will be better able to afford and administer an improved system.

Among the equipment and practices to be observed on the afternoon tour are self-feeders, permanent hog houses, balanced rations, legume pasture, parasite control and sow testing.

Adult swine feeders will be welcome on the tour as well as 4-H club members and Future Farmers.

Grade-Mark

The purpose of a grade-mark is to identify to the consumer the quality of lumber received. In general, grade-marking is restricted to standard yard grades identified by letters, numbers or a name stamped on the lumber.

Ohio's Railroads

Ohio has 8,482 miles of railroad within its borders. The railroads serving Ohio include the Pennsylvania; New York Central Lines; Baltimore and Ohio; Erie; Nickel Plate; Chesapeake and Ohio; Norfolk and Western; Wabash; Akron, Canton and Youngstown; Detroit, Toledo and Ironton; Pittsburgh and Lake Erie; and Wheeling and Lake Erie.

tem. "He stands straight who stoops to help a child."

To begin with, I neither agree with the present educational bill S. 246 written by Senator E. D. Thomas (D. of Utah), nor do I believe that the Federal government should not help the states in their present difficulties. My present personal opinions on the subject lie between these two viewpoints. I believe we can and should have federal aid for education provided certain points are clearly provided in the bill, namely: that the funds will be used to add to the skimpy salaries of teachers, for capital improvements, and that they will be placed under the charge of public state officials, not under the direction of Washington bureaucrats.

The $300 million so proposed to be allotted should be a free grant, not an annual debt for current expenses of the state educational system. As already intimated, if the money were under complete state control there is nothing to prevent the states from cutting their own appropriations for school supplies, salaries of teachers and maintenance workers. To prevent such state cheating, I believe a substantial proportion should be apportioned solely to enlarging present school plants or erecting ones, depending on the local needs of any given community.

In order to determine which states need funds most urgently, there should be an Educational Commission consisting of experienced public school administrators, college executives and publicly elected state officials to be appointed by the President with the approval of the Senate. To assure impartiality the members of this commission should hold office under the same regulations as the Justices of the Supreme Court, and administer the funds in a manner freed of all kinds of political pressures, based on the most urgent needs and where they will render the greatest good.

I would be inconsistent with the title of my article if I were not in favor of ALL children receiving federal aid for school lunches, a proper health program and transportation. The magnificent and generous action of some Detroit teachers over twenty years ago in donating part of their salaries in order that their pupils might have hot lunches and glasses will live in Michigan educational history.

Those teachers saw the crying need that we completely see it now. Twenty years later? We doctors and educators know that there are many physical defects common to children which, if not corrected in childhood, will be a handicap through life affecting his health, his career and his value as an American citizen. We doctors also know that correcting the defects in some children in early school age will later keep that child from being a public charge as an inmate of some of our state institutions.

This is a mighty vital issue with our educators and the medical profession who so deeply realize a better and more realistic health program must be developed for our school children.

We have medical examinations and inspections but not nearly enough "follow up" and so often not the funds to complete the work. Our national security demands we work out this health problem for our children and I believe my readers will find the solution in the last two articles of this series.

It is a known fact that most of the deep south presents the greatest share of our educational and school health problems. The question is often asked, "Why should Michigan tax money help Mississippi or Alabama?" Disregarding the Biblical quotation: "We are our brother's keeper" we must remember the people, usually the poorer class migrate to North Carolina and South Carolina and they bring with them their mental defects and their contagious diseases. Therefore, Michigan will directly benefit by federal money being spent in the south.

These federal funds should be in the hands of state officials and publicly elected officers because the Federal government should not control the education of its youth. We have already gone through two great wars, one partly and largely a result of youth educated by a super-nationalistic bureaucracy. That must not happen here. Our country might easily become a totalitarian state if a person or bureau in Washington could dictate what the children, in say California may read, or what the teacher in Maine must teach.

Permit me to close my view point with a pertinent statement of Samuel Stevens, president of Grinnell College:

"A PEOPLE FOR WHOM THE GOVERNMENT DOES EVERYTHING BECOMES A PEOPLE ENSLAVED. A GOVERNMENT WHICH GUARANTEES BY ITS OWN ADMINISTRATIVE ACTION ALL HUMAN RIGHTS ULTIMATELY BECOMES THE DESTROYER OF THEM. A society which can only maintain itself by external controls, ceases to be a society in which liberty is different from license and in which moral and social-values are more than ethical and political expedients. The surest way to destroy that which our forefathers created is to pass our individual responsibilities on to a paternalistic Uncle Sam."

Gallo Burials

The Gallic chieftains of 400 B.C. were buried seated in their chariots, with their horses and trappings; some have been dug up in the Champagne district of France.

Prime Meridian

Greenwich observatory, London, England, was agreed upon as the prime meridian by 25 nations at the Washington, D.C., Meridian conference of 1884. Until then—only 65 years ago—world map confusion was rife, notes the National Geographic society, with many nations using their own capitals as the zero meridian, for their maps.

Coccidiosis

Prevention is the best method of dealing with coccidiosis, one of the commonest and most destructive diseases that affect chickens. It is most serious in warm and humid or rainy weather because such conditions favor the rapid development of the young stage of the parasite, say specialists of the department of agriculture.

LOCAL BOY PILOTS PHILIPPINE PRESIDENT

The shore of the bay were lighted like a tree on Christmas Eve. No stars shone down but clouds reflected the city lights of Oakland, San Francisco, Belmont, San Mateo, Berlingame and San Carlos. The names read like a poem didn't they? They looked last night like a gay fairyland against the sky.

"As we neared the airport I found my heart beating fast with a thrill, for Bill had promised us a surprise.

"With the huge hangars, shops and terminals passing by, it makes you realize the great thriving business the airways represent. The headquarters of half the world lie there before your eyes.

"The round-like room for passengers was filling fast with Filipino people of the highest political note, for they had come to see the president of the Philippines take off for Baltimore.

"We thought the women very lovely with their beautifully-done black hair, tiny hands and pretty feet and legs. They spoke softly and the voices of the Americans seemed hard and harsh above their whispers. The men are very dignified as they sip their coffee. The little feet and dainty hands don't look so well on the men but their faces and manners show great wisdom, a hint of deceit or perhaps strangeness I do not understand.

"As yet only a flash of Bill, very smart in uniform of gray, as he welcomes us and runs back to his duties. He is relaxed and as happy as a minister at a church supper. Tonight he not only carries the president of a small country, but the president and owner of the airline itself, one and the same person. His excellency also is the seventh richest man in the world.

Still we wait. The ship herself is the newest on the whole line. The men all have fresh new uniforms, the stewardess looks much like Hollywood, as the crowd thickens with furs, battered fifty dollar Stetson hats and soft chatter. You find yourself sitting on the edge of your chair.

"All at once we all move out into the chilly navy blue night as the smart black cars pull up near the wings of the great ship. Out come the bags, people in uniform, more bags, furs on one lone woman, then we spot a pale gray hat on a little fat guy. The crowd soon buries the pale hat. That must be the great man himself.

"There is no point in getting any closer for these people who speak in a foreign tongue welcome a friend by the looks of things. We feel very unnecessary and lonely.

"Soon the crowd steps back. The great little man, with his back to us, seems to be getting ready to leave. The long ramp to the door of the plane is empty and before it are standing the crew. Mr. President is to have his picture "taken here with the top brass of the line. As the line is formed for this, we get a good look at him for the first time. His eyes are hooded as his race has marked him, but his smile is fine and friendly. He not only looks as I had hoped he would but even acts as anyone would for he turns to Bill and says something. Bill answers as he smiles and the great man seems to relax some.

"Of course everyone would like to look the captain in the face and have him waylay any fears before going on an air journey. I'm sure that is what just happened, even if not in words.

"The good-byes are said and the pilot goes first up the ramp and ducks into the plane. Yes! first.

That is what brought me up short. Money, power, legal advice, medical knowledge and the work of a million hands have made this little man with the pale gray hat what he is, but he comes second in line even if he owns the works. The guy who flies the ship comes first in knowledge, trust and ability all ways.

"I could have written you quite simply and said that I saw Bill take his great 42-ton, half million dollar ship up for the first time, and that I was thrilled, but this seems a better way to tell you that we are as proud of Bill as we always have been and that perhaps you'd like to have been there, too, last night. He's doing fine. He looks nice and his work is going well.

"You've had such a great part in his life that I thought you'd enjoy my account of this. Nowhere on earth is such an example of God's will shown as when a fine lad preceded a minor king, because of worth and goodness. Thanks to you, his parents."

Sincerely,
GERTRUDE KEPPEN.
