

School Housing Problem Needs Public Attention

Duty of Board of Education to Provide Additional Room for Another Year

"Children, not tanks, planes or bombs were the greatest output of the United States during World War II."

As early as last year these seven million war babies began to tax the facilities of the public schools. Not only has the local school felt the effect of this nationwide increase, but it has gained students through a shifting of population until the school district finds itself with more children than it can care for.

This situation has not descended on the community suddenly, but has been a problem for the past several years. Each year the administrators would manage to adapt their program to the available room. Grade rooms were set up in space never intended for that purpose, and many activities had to be discontinued. Because they had previously exhausted all the room in the school building, last September the board of education were about to place the first graders on a half day session when the people of the Evangelical United Brethren Church voted to rent their basement for the kindergarten for one year.

It is the duty of the board of education to provide additional room for another year, or should that be impossible, eliminate some of the non-resident pupils.

On first thought one might feel that it is fitting and proper at this time to ask some of the rural districts to operate their own schools. If this possibility is favored, how would the board of education de-

Rotary and Gavel Clubs Will Sponsor Two to Boys' State

The Cass City Rotary Club and Gavel Club each passed a motion Tuesday to sponsor and send a boy from Cass City to the Wolverine Boys' State at Michigan State College this summer.

The American Legion has sent a boy from here for the last three years and will also send one this year, so three boys will go to East Lansing representing Cass City.

The Boys' State is set up as a mythical 49th state to our union and boys from the group are elected to executive, legislative and judicial offices, and carry on the political functions of a state. The purpose of the Boys' State is to teach Michigan youth more about the function and purpose of state government.

The Wolverine Boys' State will be held from June 15 to 23 this year. Boys must be 15 to 18 years old and have at least two years of high school to be eligible to attend the meeting at Michigan State College. Final choice of boys to attend will be made by the sponsoring organizations.

League Lead One Game Away For Local Cagers

Win Over Caro Means Championship; Loss Means Tie

The Cass City Redhaws lost their second league basketball game of the season Tuesday night when they bowed to Vassar 56-54 in a thrilling, overtime game. Cass City still holds a one-game lead and was guaranteed to tie for the league leadership when they won over Harbor Beach 57-42 last Friday night. They will have to beat the Caro quintet in tonight's game to hold their lead over Elkton, who is favored to win over Pigeon.

If the Redhaws lose to Caro tonight and Elkton wins it will be the second year in a row that Cass City has tied for the league leadership. They shared the title with Harbor Beach last year.

If Elkton loses, Cass City would get the title even if they are defeated at Caro, but of course if the local quintet defeats Caro, they will be the undisputed Upper Thumb League champions.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Fit Toys to Children's Choices, Ages, for Best Playtime Results

By Erta Haley

YOU'VE HEARD about the father who brings a fancy electric train to the hospital for his newborn son, and have probably thought it quite a joke. Experts, however, tell us the same type of things happens practically all the time when parents buy toys for children, and then the story ceases to be a joke and becomes somewhat pitiful.

Mother buys a fancy doll for the three year old daughter, probably thinking this is the doll she would always have wanted and never had. Result? She gets frantic every time the precious doll is dragged along the sidewalk or goes into the wash bowl for a dunking.

Another question bewildered parents often ask takes the following form: "Jackie has so many toys, and such nice things, too, but he never seems interested in them." True, the child may have a lot of toys as well as the instinct for play, but the toys are probably above his age level.

It's natural for parents to think their youngsters smarter than they are, and this is particularly true in purchasing toys. Those who know say the adults who buy toys overestimate their youngsters ability by about two years.

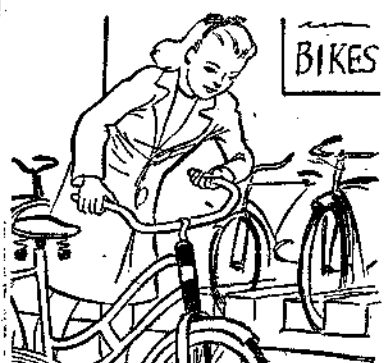

If a toy is too advanced for the child, it gets relegated to the bottom of the bin, no matter how pretty or expensive or clever it is. When the toy is too nice such as an expensive doll, dishes, train or auto, parents get spastic at what the child may do to injure it, and this may make strain at playtime which should be a free and happy activity.

Scientific Study Used In Toy Making
 The situation need not be as desperate as it sounds. Lots of study has gone into making toys and fitting each age and activity group.

Consult the age group for your child and select from the suggested list I'm going to give. Study your child and his activities and interests and get further clues. If necessary, take him to the store and see what interests him. Let sales people help you since they're usually experienced and know pretty well what's popular with the younger set.

Play patterns do not change much over the years. A doll and buggy is pretty much of a necessity for the five year old girl while the boy of three can fall pretty hard for a tricycle. Most toys are pretty much standardized as to age groups, and you can't go wrong if you use well tested information.

Be Smart!
 There's plenty of newness in the constantly growing fashion for fur-lined coats. First, the new three-quarter and finger-tip lengths come in for a portion of the fashion spotlight. The second news is color, gorgeously colored woolsens, with many of the browns, grays, and blacks with furs to harmonize closely. In other cases, the jewel-like reds and wonderful fall greens are in deliberate contrast to the furs. Thirdly, the fashion treatment is at the other extreme of the fur-lined coats of yesteryear. The richest furs, such as mink, now are used in coat and suit ensembles.

A train's whistle sounds higher as it approaches because more vibrations per second reach the ear.

Choose Safe Toys

Rattles of different sizes and shapes with varied grips add interest to baby's ambitious efforts to learn to use his muscles. Like all properly chosen baby's toys, these are lightweight, washable and safe for sucking, and interest which is strongest during the first year. There should be no loose parts which the child can swallow.

Why such a fuss about toys? To make you and the youngsters happier. With proper toys you can partially relegate them to their playroom when you have important household duties and want to get them out from underfoot.

Youngsters, too, will be happier with the right toys which add much to intellectual and muscular development.

Infant Appreciates Rattles, Cuddly Toys

By the time a baby is three months old, he'll be interested in watching daddy maneuver a balloon or a quacking duck. Within a very short time he'll enjoy brandishing rattles himself and will appreciate the varied shapes and sounds which American toy makers have been developing through a watchful study of infants' activities.

Sitting up is the next milestone; you may then introduce baby to cuddly animals and dolls. Then, when teething starts, the cherub becomes an enthusiastic customer for toys to bite. You'll find a variety of plastic and wood rings, beads and other shapes designed scientifically to meet this specific play need.

Textures are the next interest. It's smart to have some of smooth plastic like a rattle, then a plush bear for contrast and a yielding rubber duck that's fun to squeeze.

It's important, when choosing for these very young children, to avoid anything which might strain the baby's muscles. Make certain the toys are lightweight. Never have small parts that can be pried loose with baby fingers to be swallowed. American toy makers choose paints and dyes that are safe for inveterate suckers, so there's no danger of the child getting lead poisoning.

Activity is Important During Second Year

Don't expect the two year old to sit primly at a table with coloring books; he's just learned how to get around nicely and likes push and pull toys. He may occasionally be interested in looking through books when he learns to talk, but the coloring books must wait until he's three.

Mechanical toys, which parents will have to wind, will offer great interest to the two year old, and occasionally they will enjoy fitting blocks and pegs into their proper places.

Three Year Olds Like to Imitate

When a child is three, a tricycle is important for he pretends it's daddy's car, a train, or the truck in which groceries are delivered, or any vehicle which he may see. Smaller toys which imitate real life activity such as cars, simple trains, boats and airplanes are also important to him.

The three-year old will also enjoy such things as playing with coloring books and crayon, modeling clay, stringing beads, fixing blocks, building sets, animated animals and simple musical instruments. Picture books and dolls rate high, too.

Five Year Olds Know about Life

Five year old Jane likes a doll and buggy so she can be like mother. Her twin brother may like cowboy gear, soldier set, airplanes, miniature cranes and steam shovels because they are real "man stuff." Dollhouse equipment rates high interest for girls in this group just as do wind-up cars and other mechanical toys for the boys. Both boys and girls like simple games, jigsaw puzzles and storekeeping equipment.

Slightly Confused

TWO YOUNG MEN had been invited to dinner by their employer. During the course of the meal the conversation drifted into channels which got the young friends into rather deep water for them.

"Do you care for Omar Khayyam?" asked their host, at one point during the dinner, thinking to discover the literary tastes of the young men.

"Pretty well," the one addressed replied, "but, personally, I prefer Chianti."

The subject was abandoned, but on the way home the other said to his chum:

"Why don't you simply say you don't know when you're asked something you don't understand? Omar Khayyam isn't a wine, you idiot. It's a kind of cheese."

CLEAR TITLE

"Hey," cried Satan to a new arrival, "you act as if you owned the place."

Literal Minded

His relatives telephoned to the nearest florist's. The ribbon must be extra wide, with "Rest in Peace" on both sides, and if there is room, "We Shall Meet in Heaven."

The florist was away and his new assistant handled the job. There was a sensation when the flowers turned up at the funeral. The ribbon was extra wide, indeed, and on it was the inscription: "Rest in peace on both sides, and if there is room, we shall meet in heaven."

Spoke the Truth

Two young men were in earnest conversation on matters regarding the fair sex.

"How could you be so deceitful as to tell that girl she was pretty?" asked Clarence.

"I wasn't deceitful at all," replied the other.

"But, my dear man, you don't mean to say you think she is actually pretty?"

"Of course not," replied his companion. "What I told her was that she was as pretty as she could be."

Minor Ailment

UNFORGETTABLE

He: "I'm keeping a record of all the good times we've had together."

She: "Oh, a diary!"

He: "No, stubs in a checkbook."

INEVITABLY

The department store engaged an efficiency expert, whose obsession was to move the departments to different parts of the store every day. One day a section would be on the top floor, the next it would be placed where the restaurant had been.

After three weeks of this, an old lady approached a harassed floor-walker and asked him if he could tell her where the drapery department was.

"No, madam," he said wearily, "but if you'll stand here a few minutes I'm sure you'll see it go by!"

Either Way

A wag asked his friend, "How many knives do you suppose live on this street besides yourself?"

"Besides myself!" replied the other. "Do you mean to insult me?"

"Well, then," said the first, "how many do you reckon including yourself?"

Real Puzzler

Here is a question that stumps all applicants for jobs in the New York fire department:

"What piece of fire apparatus won't go up a one-way street?"

No applicant has ever answered it correctly.

The answer is: "A firehook."

Parents Respond to County Eye Tests

The county superintendent's office still does not have a complete report on results of the Saellen eye test according to Joseph E. Liddicoat, county superintendent. Fifty-three of the eighty-eight rural schools have made reports. Results compiled in the county office from these 53 schools are as follows: 1,449 pupils tested; 843, or 23% were found to have defective vision.

The doctors of the county have reported they are having marvelous cooperation from parents and children on the eye testing findings. So far they have found three children who would be totally blind before many years if their eyes were not corrected with the aid of glasses. The doctors are reporting that the findings of the teachers are very satisfactory and they are hoping all parents notified will have their children's eyes examined as soon as possible.

As soon as reports are received from the 35 remaining schools, the county superintendent's office will be able to give a complete report as to the exact number of rural school pupils who appear to have defective vision.

Duryea, John Douglas, a student at Albion, spent the week end in Jackson also and Saturday evening John and Miss McMiller attended the annual ball of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, to which John belongs, and the Sigma Nu fraternity. Because the service on the Mackinaw City and Detroit R. R. has been cut in two, rural route subscribers of the Detroit Free Press here have been receiving that publication a day late half of the time. The paper comes to Vassar by train and then to Cass City by mail bus. Postmaster Bigelow has written the Free Press suggesting that that publication be sent on the Detroit-Saginaw highway mail bus which arrives here in the morning before rural carriers start delivering mail.

Men's Sunday an Inspiring Service

 a challenging message on "Christian Men Have the Answer."
 The speaker said: "Military power and the H-Bomb are not the answer to the desperate need of the hour; subsidizing the world is not the answer, though aid to other nations and military defense is needed, much as I deplore militarism. I believe thoroughly in public education, but that of itself is not the answer; nor is the answer in political statecraft and politics. The answer is in the field of religion. The church has the answer in spite of failures of those who espouse the faith, but fail to practice it."
 He made a challenging appeal to men to support the church with their time, talents and financial aid to make the Gospel function in our world as the greatest hope for our very physical salvation.
 Mr. Komjathy stated that "the average American spends more for cigarettes than he gives to his church per annum. It is marvelous what the church has accomplished, but it must have more than a "Five and Ten Cent" variety of support if it is to reach out more effectively. It calls for man power, and dedication on the part of laymen."
 Mr. Komjathy came to the United States an orphan at the age of 12 years. He is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and of the Detroit College of Law. Aside from his law practice, he is a member of the faculty of The American Institute of Banking and Wayne University as a special instructor in speech and law; and he makes time for lay work as a teacher and elder in the Woodward Avenue Presbyterian Church, together with giving leadership in Detroit Presbytery, the Men's Council of the Synod, and in Fraternal and Civic Groups.
 Altar flowers, in a setting or background of palms, were provided by Mr. and Mrs. James Gross as a loving tribute to the memory of Robert Wallace. Harry Little made a recording of the service. One auditor remarked, "the address should be published for all in Cass City to read." It is possible that copies of the address may be made available, by re-copying from the recording and stenciling," said Rev. M. R. Vender.

A state corporation profits tax of 4 percent, proposed by Governor Williams to raise $60,000,000 annually in additional revenues would cost corporations only $36,000,000 more per year in taxes than they pay now.

This interesting point is made by Robert Steadman, controller, State Department of Administration.

As payment of taxes to the State of Michigan is allowed as a deduction in paying federal income taxes, corporations would pay 24 million a year to the state instead of to the federal government, Steadman contends. Uncle Sam's loss would be Michigan's gain.

proposed a 4 percent tax on state corporation profits. This tax was designed to raise approximately $60,000,000 in new revenue.

The Governor recommended to the legislature appropriations totaling 290 million and he estimated 229 million in revenues, general fund and general purpose.

Against an estimated shortage of $1 million dollars, Williams proposed a tax on corporation profits to raise 60 million.

The legislature appropriated 278 million dollars, cutting 12 million dollars off the total of appropriations as recommended by Governor Williams.

Controller Steadman observes that revenues for the present fiscal year, ending July 1, 1950, will be 2 or 3 percent in excess of the estimates made in January, 1949.

This will amount to another 5 or 6 million dollars but it will still leave Michigan short by more than $40,000,000 in the general fund alone to meet expenditures of state government including state aid to local governments.

The Williams corporation profits tax would be paid by corporations on the pro rata share of business done by each corporation in Michigan. Controller Steadman explains that this pro rata share is figured on three bases. One-third of the share is based on the percentage of wages paid in Michigan as compared with all wages paid by the corporation; one-third by property in Michigan in relation to total property owned; and one-third by sales in Michigan in comparison to total sales.

Controller Steadman explains that such a tax "is essentially like the tax employed already in 32 other states of the Union which raise about 611 million a year."

For example, New York State increased its corporation profits tax in 1949 from 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 percent. The increase of 1 percent was to produce 40 million dollars in additional revenue for state government and state aid to local governments.

"The corporation in distress that is not earning as much as 6 percent on its investment in Michigan will pay less tax under the Williams corporation profits tax plan than under the existing system of corporate franchise taxation.

"Some people say that corporations cannot afford to pay the tax. All our statistical indicators over the last 10 or 20 years indicate the opposite; that our corporations, especially during the last 2 or 3 years, are fully able to pay.

"I will give you an example of one corporation which is complaining about the 500 and some millions of dollars it pays the United States government in taxes each year. That corporation pays to the general fund of the State of Michigan a total of $50,000 a year in taxes.

"It is paying to the general fund of Michigan $1 for every $10,000 that it pays to the United States government. Yet, about half of its total number of wage earning employees are in Michigan.

"That corporation after paying all taxes, federal, state and local, earned in 1948 440 million dollars. The current reports are that the estimated net income after all taxes in 1949 was 640 million," said Steadman.

When the state legislature convenes at Lansing March 15 for the special session on state finances, the state corporation profits tax will again be pushed by Governor Williams as an effective solution of the financial problems.

According to Steadman, 32 other states in the Union now have such a corporation revenues tax. The Williams plan would hit large

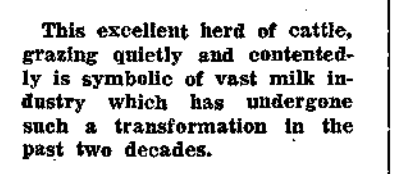

Farm Topics U. S. Milk Industry Vastly Transformed Cost of Product Rises Less Than Other Foods

Since the turn of the century the milk industry has undergone a transformation rivaling that of the airplane, according to dairy scientist and historian Dr. J. Lloyd Henderson.

Dr. Henderson, co-author of "The Market Milk Industry," a standard textbook whose latest edition will be released this spring said "Our research since the war's end points up the fact that although labor and equipment costs have kept pace with rising scales in other industries, the cost of milk and its products has risen less than that of any other food. In fact, milk, from a nutritive point of view, is far and away the housewife's best food, buy."

Cost-saving scientific advances in milk processing and starting economies due to improved distribution practices have been responsible for this, Henderson points out.

The industry shed no tears as it buried the familiar 10-gallon milk

This excellent herd of cattle, grazing quietly and contentedly is symbolic of vast milk industry which has undergone such a transformation in the past two decades.

can and converted to huge insulated tank trucks for bringing milk from the larger farms to the processing plant. Savings in handling due to this change have only been matched by the improvement in sanitation and quality of the product, Henderson said. Every-other-day delivery, now practically standard practice in major cities, plus the use of retail trucks of almost double capacity, also helped keep the housewife's milk budget in line.

The flash pasteurized, once out-labeled by health authorities, has been so improved that today every milk company of any size uses it to save expensive man-hours and production space.

Although one would hardly gather the impression from the Holstein cow (above), cows are like people in more ways than one—one sure one being that when their feet hurt, their production lags. Farmers can help prevent loss of production from this source by periodic attention to the feet of their cattle to check for foot infection or other ills.

TUSCOLA

COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Farm calls made and meetings held on poultry problems last week by poultry extension specialist, Bill Aho, of Michigan State College and County Agricultural Agent Armbruster proved very effective. Mr. Aho strongly urged farmers to do culling of the home flock often and provide healthy housing conditions. He also stated that the poultry business for 1950 appears profitable especially to those that get their baby chicks early.

Three more farmers from Tuscola County signed up as cooperators in the Michigan Farm Account Book project. This makes the total of 13 from the county. New members are Loren Brady of Unionville, Ivan Tracey of Cass City, and George Marshall of Deford.

Data and information from the books of the cooperators for last year will be released later. At the present time the 200 and some odd books are being checked individually and then summarized at the college.

Folks that are having trouble or planning a lighting system on the farmstead, may receive assistance and information at a meeting scheduled for March 9. This meeting will include problems in the home itself and in farm buildings of all kinds.

Dairymen of this area have assisted in proving a Holstein bull according to news received by Agent Armbruster. The records of the Holstein sire, "Ionia Sir Marathon Design," who just completed his proof, shows that the 14 records from 11 daughters increased milk production 4430 pounds and butterfat 108 pounds over the 14 records of 11 dams of the daughters. Area farmers include Foster Hickey of Fairgrove, Nantom Farms with Albert Quick as manager of Caro, and C. E. Baur of Clifford.

Last week's meeting of the Tuscola County Agricultural Council brought the members up to date on the work of the Farmers Home Administration Office. Pat O'Malley, Michigan supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, who was secured by John McDurmon of the local F. H. A. office, fully explained the details needed for farmers to make an application for the various loans available.

"Living Together in the Family" is the leader training lesson to be presented for Women's Extension members this week. Meetings will be held Thursday and Friday of this week at the courthouse from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Twenty-nine Tuscola County 4-H Service Club members and guests had a fine winter sports trip to Silver Valley Saturday, February 18. They took a chartered bus, leaving at 7 a. m. and returned to Caro at 7:30 p. m. The majority of the group preferred tobogganing, but several also enjoyed the skiing and skating facilities. In the afternoon they visited the ski races being held at Silver Valley.

March 4-12 is National 4-H Club Week. It will be observed all over the country with special radio programs, newspaper stories, program demonstrations, and exhibits. Its purpose is to inform more people about 4-H Club members, leaders, their projects, and activities, and to interest non-members in joining 4-H Clubs. Many local club leaders will want to have some special programs during 4-H Club Week. Perhaps a store in town will offer some space for a nice window display if you cared to prepare one. Some winter clubs plan to exhibit their projects they are now working on and extend a special invitation to their parents and to other adults and children in the community not in 4-H Club work. National 4-H Club Week is a suggestion that spring achievements are not far away and that members should start planning for summer 4-H projects too. If a new club is forming in a community National 4-H Club Week would be an excellent time for it to organize.

Another 4-H Club party will be held at the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building from 8 to 12 on Saturday evening, February 25. The Carolan 4-H Club of Gageton will sponsor the party and all receipts will be donated to the 4-H Building Fund. There will be modern and square dancing and an intermission program.

The Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Killed Their Own Case!

For ten years the anti-trust lawyers have been attacking the business methods that make it possible to give the public the best quality food at the lowest prices.

In our last ad we told you how Federal Judge W. H. Atwell, at Dallas, threw the anti-trust lawyers and all their inflammatory charges against A&P right out of his court:

But the anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with decisions against them by three federal judges.

They still wanted to destroy A&P.

They Appealed to New Orleans

So they appealed Judge Atwell's decision to the three-judge Circuit Court at New Orleans.

One of the three, Judge Curtis L. Waller, agreed with Judge Atwell that the case should be dismissed.

The other two members of the Circuit Court, Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr., and Judge Allen Cox, although saying the case should be tried, agreed that the indictment was vague and contained many allegations which were inflammatory.

They decided that Judge Atwell at Dallas should protect A&P from these inflammatory allegations and could order the anti-trust lawyers to supply the defendants with a bill of particulars.

So the case was back in Dallas again.

Judge Atwell, carrying out the decision of the Circuit Court, struck out the inflammatory matter.

He said that without this inflammatory and prejudicial matter the Grand Jury might never have returned the indictment.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"There are many statements in the indictment which are not at all in violation, and are highly prejudicial and inflammatory."

The anti-trust lawyers objected. They advanced an amazing argument. They said that the removal of their inflammatory allegations (which all four judges had agreed did not belong in the indictment) destroyed their case.

Judge Atwell instructed the anti-trust lawyers to furnish the court with a bill of particulars. In short, he wanted specific charges instead of vague generalities. He set the deadline for furnishing this material at January 15th, 1944.

When the anti-trust lawyers twice asked for more time, pleading sickness among their staff, Judge Atwell extended the time to February 25th because he believed that they were honestly trying, in good faith, to prepare the material he had requested.

Actually, it developed, they were using the time to get ready to drop the case in Dallas and start it in another court.

They Quit in Dallas

On February 26th, while the judge was still waiting for his answer, and without any previous notice to him, the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers in Washington, announcing that they were dropping the case in Dallas.

They said that it was their intention "to file a substantially similar suit in an appropriate jurisdiction at an early date."

The "early date" turned out to be the same day.

As soon as one anti-trust lawyer killed the case in Dallas, another anti-trust lawyer filed a new case in Danville, Illinois. This new case made most of the same allegations that had been made and dropped in Dallas; and that are being made against us today.

So now, according to the anti-trust lawyers, all four judges who had ruled on the Dallas case were wrong.

Despite defeats in three federal courts in widely separated parts of the country, they continued their campaign to destroy A&P.

When Judge Atwell heard of their action he ordered the anti-trust lawyers to prepare an order for his signature dismissing the Dallas case.

In signing this order he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"This nolle prosequi does not have the sanction or approval of this court. That is not necessary, nor that the government ask for the court's approval."

"It is, however, a matter that may be presented to the other court and may be of interest to the people at large."

So after their efforts to destroy A&P had failed in Washington, D. C., Wilson, North Carolina, and Dallas, Texas, the anti-trust lawyers moved on to Danville, Illinois.

They were still determined to destroy this company which had brought more and better food at lower cost to millions of American families.

They Were Wrong Three Times Before!

Three times the anti-trust lawyers went into federal courts and made serious and damaging charges against A&P.

Three times federal judges said the anti-trust lawyers were wrong and rendered decisions against them.

In previous ads in this series we told you about these other anti-trust "cases" involving us, which the judges said were not cases at all.

We think you should know about these previous cases, because once again the anti-trust lawyers are making damaging "allegations" that could seriously affect our business if they were believed by the public.

There was the time in Washington, D. C., when they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix the price of bread in that city.

This was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough ruled that A&P and the other defendants did not even need to put in a defense. He instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Goldsborough said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

There was the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix prices paid farmers for their potatoes.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

There was the time in Dallas, Texas, when they made practically the same "allegations" they are making today.

This was the time Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

It was the time Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I know of no American rule, and I wish I had the power to underscore the word 'American,' which permits us to try a man because of his size."

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Supervisor Mueller, Chairman of Committee on Resolutions presented the following: To the Hon. Board of Supervisors of Tuscola County:

Whereas: Tuscola County's road system of 1,811.5 miles is the sixth largest in the counties of the State of Michigan, and little or no cost. Feed stores, elevators, hardware stores, banks and the county agents have them in stock. They are all good but a bookkeeping system is only worth the information it reveals. The time spent keeping it up-to-date and accurate is well worthwhile.

Mr. Average Farmer has between 20 and 30 thousand dollars tied up in his 100 acre lay-out. His assets are land, stock, buildings and machinery. The average rural merchant has about the same sum invested in a business that demands careful accounting. The efficient, progressive farmer can do no less.

Rural Brief The demand for farm products continues at a high level as improving business activity and employment generate an increased flow of income to consumers.

Farm work was at a low point in January. Marketings of fed cattle in January over much of the country. Number of hired workers on farms about 972,000, the lowest record on January for the second year in a row.

Milk and egg production continued at record rates. The milk flow for January was at the rate of nine billion gallons. Hens kept pace by laying over 5 billion eggs.

The school lunch program is feeding about 1 1/2 billion pounds of food annually.

The Meat Market: The winter peak of hog marketing has been reached, but slaughter supplies will probably be large for the next three weeks. The USDA and the Army purchased about 78 million pounds of lard for ECA during January. Marketings of fed cattle are expected to be a little larger during the next few months.

Chopped straw makes a good litter for poultry houses, since much of the pithy inside surface is exposed to absorb water.

Diesel Locomotives
Forty-one per cent of the diesel-electric locomotives now owned by the Class I railroads are used in freight and passenger road service and the remainder in yard service.

Ben Collon Is County Red Cross Co-chairman

Sterling Harris, chairman for the 1950 fund and membership drive of the Red Cross, announces the appointment of Ben Collon of Caro, as co-chairman of the 1950 drive.

Mr. Collon is a graduate of the Caro High School, Class of 1934, a member of the Tuscola County Post, No. 4164, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Caro.

While Mr. Collon's military service was of comparative short duration, 14½ months, it consisted of one of the oddities of the last war, a condition perhaps found only in a truly democratic country like the good old U. S. A. He served in the U. S. Army, but boasts 10 round trips crossing the Atlantic Ocean. He served aboard the U. S. Ethan Allen, Frostburg Victory, and the U. S. Army Transport George Washington. The last ship will bring back many memories, some pleasant and some not so pleasant, to local veterans of World War I as it invariably was one of the many transports in the troop convoys of that day.

Dry Bean Acreage Allotment Program Now Under Way

Township committeemen of the Production and Marketing Administration are now at work gathering reports of dry edible bean acreage during the past three years in Tuscola County in preparation for establishing dry bean acreage allotments for the 1950 crop.

Bean growers are asked by Chas. B. Eckfeld, chairman of the Tuscola County PMA Committee, to cooperate fully with the township committeemen so that allotments can be established equitably and fairly for all and so that the work can be completed as early as possible to permit an early mailing of allotment notices to farmers.

The acreage data will be used to establish 1950 allotments for the following varieties of beans grown in Michigan: Navy, Cranberry, Red Kidney and Great Northern. No allotments will be established for Yelloweye beans.

The farm allotments will be based generally on the farm's bean acreage history for 1947, 1948, or 1949. County and state allotments, which have not yet been announced, will be based on the same years.

A grower who intends to plant beans this year on a farm where no beans were grown in either of the three years, 1947, 1948, or 1949, should file an application for a bean acreage allotment with the county PMA committee.

Price support for beans in 1950 will be made available only to those growers who have bean acreage allotments established for their farms and who plant within their allotments.

DEADLINE DATE FOR 1950 ACP SIGN-UP

Farmers in Tuscola County are advised this week by Chas. B. Eckfeld, chairman of the County PMA Committee, that, if they have not already done so, they have until March 31 to sign an application to participate in the 1950 Agricultural Conservation program which provides incentive payments for carrying out to completion approved soil and water conservation practices.

Any farmer in the county is eligible to participate if he signs a farm plan, Mr. Eckfeld said, and payments will be conditioned upon the extent of the practices carried out and the total amount of money available for this program.

"I am done with the years that were, I am quits, I am done with the dead and the old, They are mines worked out, I delved in their pits, I have saved their grains of gold— Now I turn to the future for wine and bread— I have bidden the past adieu— I laugh, and lift hands to the year ahead, Come on! I am ready for you!" —Edwin Markham

Conservationists Have Fish Fry

The Tuscola County Conservation Club served perch dinners to over 250 persons Monday evening at their club house in Caro. Club member, Max Lawrence, said he fried almost 200 pounds of fish for the hungry crowd. A fish dinner is sponsored every few months and draws a big crowd of sportsmen.

During the evening a colored motion picture on hunting and fishing was shown even after it seemed as if the film would not be available. Warren Wilson, Caro photographer and pilot, made a quick flight to Detroit late Monday afternoon and secured the film.

The club plans to enlarge its log cabin type clubhouse to facilitate more people. The clubhouse has become a sort of community center and is used for weddings, receptions, conventions, reunions, etc.

The Caro Club has over 900 members and boasts five sheet fields and three trap shoots.

Clark Seeley, Irving Parsch, Wayne Rabideau and E. W. Kercher of Cass City attended the fish fry.

Plan to Welcome Foreign Students

Concluded from page 1. Simpeltare, Unionville, publicity; Beth Luther, Fairgrove, program; and Jerry Davis, Vassar, and Ken Baur, Caro, arrangements.

Chairmen for the various communities in which the students will be centered were chosen as follows: Akron, LaDonna Bradley; Caro, Marian Pike and Walter Jackson; Cass City, Edward Golding, Jr.; Mayville, Mary Monroe; and Vassar, Ruth Turner. Each of the above persons is choosing a committee in his own community to assist in scheduling meetings and planning for accommodations for the students.

These foreign students are interested in learning how American people live. They are anxious to visit schools and organization meetings and to visit average American families and observe their customs and activities. Many schools, churches, service clubs, women's associations, P. T. A.'s, farm organizations, and youth groups will perhaps like to invite these people to visit them or attend a meeting of their group. The students will participate in discussion groups and describe their countries if organizations desire them to take part in their programs.

Community committees are seeking families who are willing to be hosts to one of these students one of the nights they will be in the country. Any person wishing to offer accommodations or to request the foreign students for a meeting during the period March 23-26 should contact the community chairman listed above. Both farm and town homes are being sought. Since there will not be enough students to have a group in each town, those not named above should contact the nearest community chairman. In general, the communities will include the following towns: (1) Akron, Fairgrove, Unionville; (2) Caro, Fairgrove; (3) Cass City, Gagetown, Deford; (4) Mayville, Kingston, Fostoria; and (5) Vassar, Millington, Reese.

During the last three minutes Vassar took the lead 50-47, then with just seconds to play, Tom Schwaderer made a shot from side court. He was fouled and made his free throw, tying the game and sending it into overtime. In overtime Tom Schwaderer made a basket and Gil Schwaderer made 2 free throws, but Marovich of Vassar came through with a basket and Ray Cobb, also of Vassar, made good four free throws in four attempts, taking the game 54-56.

termine which districts should be retained? It would be impossible to discriminate without creating a feeling of injustice, as well as inflicting a great hardship in many cases. There is no discrimination in the local school between the resident and non-resident student. Many of these children have never attended any other school. They have grown to feel that this is their school and that Cass City is their community center.

Does the district have a moral obligation to the children of this community, whether they reside in or out of this district?

In considering the possibility of cutting the non-resident enrollment one must not overlook the fact that the school also cuts its source of revenue. Under the present financial formula set up by the state, the district is permitted to collect for each non-resident student a per capita cost of operating plus a substantial amount for depreciation and building. From the financial point of view these non-resident students are very definitely an asset.

It is imperative at this time that the citizens of this district become familiar with this school problem, give it careful consideration, and make their deductions known.

Members of the board of education are preparing a proposal to erect an early elementary school building. The tax payers of this district will have an opportunity to vote on this proposal in the near future.

The proposed site, type of structure, and plan by which it might be financed will be submitted in later issues of this paper.

Talk on Japan Given At Pres. Guild

Thirty-one were present Monday evening when the Presbyterian Guild Society met with Mrs. James Colbert. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Don McLachlan and Mrs. Willard Agar.

The devotions were conducted by Mrs. B. F. Benkelman, Jr., and the program which was arranged by Mrs. Frederick Auten was an educational talk on Japan by Mrs. E. W. Douglas. The speaker showed silk, cultured pearls and handwork from Japan.

Roll call was instituted for the first time and plans were made for the creation of a finance committee to be appointed by the president. Henceforth members will make a pledge for their contributions to the society.

An arrangement of gladioli centered the table when refreshments were served. Tea and coffee were poured by Mrs. Mary Holcomb and Mrs. Harold Oatley. The March meeting will be held with Mrs. Oatley.

SANILAC HEALTH DEPARTMENT NEWS

Dr. Max Decker, formerly of Sanilac County and now associated with the Section of Environment Sanitation of the Michigan Department of Health, will visit our county health department soon to review local milk and food sanitation problems and to become acquainted with the staff.

At the recent vision testing clinic held at the Marlette High School, 879 children were tested. Of these, 128 failed. Sixty-six of those who failed wear glasses. It was recommended that 18 others of those tested, because of defective vision, be seated at the front of the school room.

OLD Mother Goose

When she went out to drive
Obeeyed all the rules
And came home ALIVE!

Mother Goose was no goose! Wise drivers enjoy living enough to obey the simple driving rules that are made for their safety. The tragedy is that too many are willing to take chances just to save a few seconds. Result—93 killed—3,300 injured every day of the year.

You should know the rules of the road; if you don't, learn them. Behind the wheel, remember them—respect them, and the chances are you'll drive free from accidents. Ignore them and you gamble with precious lives—including your own!
