

Early Elementary School Building Was Discussed

The special school meeting Tuesday evening was well attended. The proposition, "Shall School District No. 5, Elkland Township, borrow the sum of $125,000 and issue bonds therefor for the purpose of constructing and equipping a new grade building?" was discussed from many angles by the school board and patrons of the district.

The purpose of the meeting, stated Mrs. Edward Baker, president of the board of education, was to learn more about the immediate housing problem of the school and the plans proposed to alleviate the crowded condition. Every possibility to provide more room has been exhausted and it is a physical impossibility to carry on with the present enrollment combined with the insufficient room in the present school building, she said.

Mrs. H. T. Donahue, another member of the board of education, spoke of the proposed early elementary school building which would provide housing for the kindergarten, first, second and third grades and would restore to their original purpose several rooms in the present building which have been temporarily converted to class rooms.

The local school has been operating at a profit for the past two years in educating non-resident pupils and this surplus may be applied to housing facilities under the present setup of state aid. "It is reasonable to assume," said Frederick Pinney, board of education treasurer, "that this profit may reduce the assessment rate to four mills instead of six mills as proposed in the bond issue for new building construction and that the bond retirement may be shortened several years from the 15 years named in the bonding proposal."

Cass City is dependent upon the surrounding school districts in a business way, according to M. B. Auten, who spoke in favor of the new school unit, for where the country student attends school there the heart of his family goes. From a business standpoint, the better a town's school facilities are the greater will be the town's prosperity.

Among the foreign students of Michigan State College who arrived in Caro Wednesday evening to spend several days in this county are five who will be guests in a number of homes in and near Cass City.

On Wednesday evening they joined the 4-H Clubs in a potluck supper at the Wilber Memorial Building in Caro, then separated to go to the several communities on their schedule. ## Kelley and Foster Reelected as D. H. I. A. Directors

The registered Holstein herd of Albert Kern's of Reese averaged 593 pounds of butterfat per cow for the past year. High individual cow honors for the past year went to one of Kern's aged cows which produced 653 pounds of fat. Those are some of the highlights of the dairy herd improvement association testing reports made at the annual meeting held last week at the 4-H Wilber Memorial Building which was attended by 65 people.

Prof. Earl Weaver, dairy department head of Michigan State College, was guest speaker. Prof. Weaver pointed out the steady progress made in the dairy industry of the nation over the past 40 years. This was largely due to better feeding, breeding and management which includes culling of the herd through testing work.

Harley Kelley of Cass City and George W. Foster of Fostoria were reelected as directors for another three year term. Alton Reavey of Akron was elected to replace John Horst. Entertainment was furnished by Mrs. Betty Rohlf of Fairgrove and West Mayville 4-H club member, Aaron Clark, with humorous readings. The annual event opened with a potluck dinner at noon.

County Agricultural Agent Loren S. Armbruster states that concluded on page 4.

Under the auspices of the local Council of Churches, a presentation of the great tragedy of the Crucifixion of Jesus Christ will be given at the local high school, on the evening of Sunday, March 26 at eight o'clock.

This sound film, with narrative, dialogue and music, will be one of the unforgettable and great events of the Lenten season for the community. The picture tells with great reverence, power and beauty, the story of the last days of Jesus of Nazareth, His triumphal entry into the Holy City, His cleansing of the Temple, the plots of the Sanhedrin, the betrayal of Judas, the Last Supper, and all the subsequent mighty events which turned this great human tragedy into the Triumph of God for the redemption of the world.

It is recommended as an inspiring interpretation of these events, by authorities of the Catholic and Protestant Churches alike.

There will be no admission but a freewill offering to cover expenses will be received.

Last year "Golgotha" was shown to capacity audiences in several churches of Bay City and Saginaw. And the same reception is being given the film this year. NOTES from the
TUSCOLA COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Farmers as well as urban dwellers are requested to cooperate with the 1950 census enumerators who will contact every residence beginning April 1. An accurate data report submitted is the only basis by which a complete population and agricultural statistical census report can be made. Final tabulation of census figures are so many times requested by various county and city groups for various uses, therefore a true census report is needed.

Soil should be tested for the need of lime before application of liming material is made. An acid or sour soil needs lime for better legume seedlings. If soil contains sufficient supply of lime, additional amounts may be just as detrimental as not having enough lime. Alkaline soils usually tie up manganese in heavy soils. Soil tests for lime can be had by taking a sample to the county agricultural agent's office in the courthouse.

Pasture programs for livestock for the next 18 months should be planned now. Available green succulent pasture during the dry summer months and early fall will pay dividends to the dairyman. Suggested plans for better pasture are available from the extension office.

Melting of winter snow and the coming of spring rains will cause an alarming amount of soil to wash from the farm land into open ditches. The loss of top soil decreases the productivity of farms and clogs drainage ditches. This condition can be prevented in the future by planting cover crops.

plowing up more organic material and leaving sod water-ways in natural water ravines.

Representatives from the five ABA's of Tuscola County will attend the annual M. A. B. C., Inc., meeting at Michigan State College next Thursday, March 30. Approximately 350 delegates are expected from the 144 local associations in the state of Michigan.

4-H Achievement plans are well under way and committees of leaders are working out details for the exhibits, judging, and dress revues and evening programs at each of the four spring achievement centers. Club leaders have been asked to prepare final enrollments and collect project reports, which are to be mailed or brought to the 4-H club agent's office ten days before each club's district achievement.

This word of advice is offered by 4-H Club Agent Byron E. Carpenter for club members now preparing their project records. "Do a good job on those reports," Carpenter cautions, "The judges consider completeness and accuracy of records, activity and interest in the club, cooperation and improvement, as well as project workmanship when selecting the County Honor Roll. Prepare your financial statement in detail and write an interesting story of your 4-H project experiences. Getting on the honor roll is the first requirement members must meet when they are selected as county delegates to Michigan 4-H Club Week Camp at Michigan State College, next summer."

4-H Club members completing winter projects should check with their leaders regarding exhibits required for spring achievements, reminds Byron E. Carpenter, county 4-H Club agent. Special exhibits are required in certain projects, besides those listed in project bulletins. Local leaders have received exhibit requirement lists and can advise members concerning their displays.

Facial Report
A local forecaster of the weather was so often wrong in his predictions that he became the laughing stock of the community. He, therefore, asked headquarters to transfer him to another station.
A brief correspondence ensued. "Why," asked headquarters, "do you wish to be transferred?" "Because," the forecaster promptly replied, "the climate doesn't agree with me."

CENSUS DIVIDES WHOLE INTO HOLES

ON APRIL 1, about 140,000 enumerators—fact-finders for the nation—will begin a canvass of 45 million American dwelling units and over six million farms, containing 150 million Americans.

On that day, the job of collecting the largest single body of data available for general use, the largest single statistical survey ever made, will get under way.

The United States census has its beginning in the heated debates of the federal constitutional convention of 1787 over the question as to whether states should have equal or proportional representation in the congress of the United States. The struggle resolved itself in the true democratic fashion of compromise. Two seats in the senate were provided for each state and a varying number of seats in the house of representatives in proportion to the population of each state.

To implement this provision, the framers of our constitution provided for a population count of each state at 10-year intervals. Three years later, in 1790, the first count was taken and the decennial census of the United States was born.

Compared with later ones, that first census was a simple undertaking. Only the names of household heads were listed, and the facts sought were two: the number of males and females in each household; and whether free or slave.

Two hundred questions—though not everyone will be asked all of them—make up the questionnaires for this year's census, covering population, housing, and agriculture; two hundred questions to be asked from the Mississippi Delta country to above the Arctic circle; 200 questions to be asked from the Maine lobster pots to the smudge pits in the California orchards.

The census law requires completion of all reports by December 31, 1952! And by December first of this year the official population figures for each state must be compiled and given to the President so he in turn can pass this information on to the 82nd congress!

An operator places cards into an electronic statistical machine. Cards are seen in the sorting racks of the machine which can sort cards into predetermined groups.

The millions of facts collected in the seventeenth decennial census will be recorded on 270 million punched cards—one for every person, one for every dwelling unit, and eight or more for every farm.

If, for example, you are presented by the enumerator with one of the questions asked for every fifth dwelling unit, the fact that you have or do not have a television set will appear as a small rectangular hole punched in the proper column of a card.

The card in which that hole is punched will contain all the other information obtained about the dwelling unit in which you live. The cards will then be automatically sorted, and those cards with a hole in the place coded for television set owners will be selected from those cards with no punched holes in that spot. Then statistical and accounting machines will print the results into the desired tables.

The scope of the sorting operation alone can be visualized best when we realize that the task of transferring the basic facts from census questionnaires to the cards by means of key punch machines will take about a year, and it is said that approximately two million cards will be punched every day at operation peak.

This is the way the census divides its whole mass of meaningless information into meaningful items of data.

Meerschbaum Meerschbaum, which is German for "sea-truth," is a figurative name. It is an old designation for the mineral now called "sepiolite," which comes from a Greek word meaning "cuttle-fish," an allusion to the fact that the mineral is light and porous, like the bone of the cuttle-fish. For centuries Turkey has been the chief source, though some has been found in New Mexico and Pennsylvania.

T. Donahue also from Cass City. The Ayrshire herd of Harold Blaylock of Vassar also produced over 400 pounds as did the mixed herd of Frank Fort of Cass City with Holsteins and Jerseys and the herd of Ottomar Sting of Gagetown with Red Danes and Jerseys. The three top production cows under three years of age were Holsteins, the first two from Albert Kerr's herd which produced 534 and 513 pounds of fat, and the third place heifer belongs to Henry Opperman. The next two were Guernseys of Harold Stewart of Vassar which produced 448 and 435 pounds of butterfat. In the three to four year old class the top three were Holsteins as follows: Caro State Hospital Farm 590; Yokom Stock Farm 564; and Werner List 534. The 639 pounds of fat production of a Holstein from the Werner List herd topped the four to five year old class. Others in the group were two Holsteins of George Foster's herd with 541 and 526 pounds of fat. The mature class which included the top producing cow of the year was followed closely by another Holstein from the Rufus Wark herd of Akron with 650 pounds of fat and then two of List's Holsteins with 644 and 639 pounds. Some very good lifetime production records of individual cows have been made. A grade Holstein of the Howard Foster herd of Fairgrove has produced 2867 pounds of fat. During a seven year testing period a registered Ayrshire from Harold Blaylock's herd of Vassar has produced 2740 pounds of fat and over 66,000 pounds of milk. The testing program of Tuscola County is under the supervision of the county agricultural agent through Michigan State College. Testers for the county are Jack Rose of Caro, Jack Desmepelare of Unionville, and Ellis Seddon of Silverwood. The board of directors hired Richard Hampshire of Kingston to replace Seddon on April 1. Seddon and his brother purchased the home farm. Board members whose term of directorship carries over for another year are Harold Blaylock, Vassar, Adolph Woelfle, Deford, Clayton Kohls, Fairgrove, Carl Aurand, Millington, Alvah Hillman, Cass City and Foster Hickey of Fairgrove. After the annual meeting the board met and elected Hillman, president; Alton Reavey, vice president; and Adolph Woelfle, secretary-treasurer. The financial report showed that a gross business of over $6,000 was conducted this past year by the testing associations. insurance DOLLARS help these cattle get to market

The dollars you put into insurance do you a double service. They give you and your family the utmost in security; and they serve the industry that serves you.

The same Equitable dollar that is assuring your financial protection goes to work every day for American industry. The cattle a rancher shipped last night, the grain a farmer consigned to market this morning—were speeded on their way by Equitable dollars. Your Society's loans to railroads bought freight cars, improved right of way, and made the purchase of new passenger equipment possible.

Yes, your Equitable dollar really gets things done. It's building new industrial plants, providing the capital for the research that develops new and better products, and aiding home and farm owners with Equitable mortgages.

The capital cooperatively pooled in Equitable is available for a multitude of uses—in amounts large or small, for corporations or individuals.

In every phase of American economy your Equitable dollar goes to work, giving you and your family a more satisfying, more secure way of life.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Twenty-five Years Ago.

March 26, 1915.
I. W. Hall, local contractor, has received orders to build farm houses for Wm. Martus and Frank Dillman in Elkland, A. L. Sharrard of Evergreen and Lloyd Starr of Austin, and town-residences for J. C. Farrell and Frank Hall, and a garage building on East Main St. for J. A. Renshler.
At Bad Axe Friday, the Cass City High School girls defeated the county seat team in basketball by a score of 33-20 while the boys' team won from Bad Axe by a tally of 23-12. This is the last game for three senior girls, the Misses Fritz, Benkelman and McPhail, and also for Capt. Duncanson of the boys' team.
H. W. Thoreson of Clintonville, Wis., has accepted the call as pastor of the Novesta Church of Christ.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Finkle moved their household goods to Cass City Tuesday. They have been residents of Owendale for a long period.
"Gentlemen's Evening" of the Woman's Study Club was the cause of a delightful social function at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jones on Tuesday. Refreshments were served in "box social" form, each lady preparing a box for two.
The following teachers of the local school will spend their vacation out of town: Miss Adah Caldwell, Flint and Ann Arbor; Miss Louisa Lowden, Jackson; Miss Elsie Clark, Elsie; Misses Margaret Meyer and Anna Finkbeiner, Detroit; Mrs. N. H. Beyette, Wahjamega.

Twenty-five Years Ago.

March 27, 1925.
Nearly 150 men, including members of the Cass City Community Club and guests from Deckerville, Caro and Bad Axe, enjoyed the banquet prepared by the ladies of the Baptist Church Tuesday evening. Rev. Leyton Richards of Carr's Lane Church of Birmingham, England, was the speaker.
The Adams-Seeger Post, American Legion, has on hand approximately $1,500, and if a new school project goes through, the post will give $2,500 as an organization to aid in building.

Aletha Spurgeon, Darwin Bailey and Geo. Dillman, members of the debating team of Cass City High School, defeated Bad Axe debaters here Friday. The local trio upheld the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved that the United States should grant to the Philippine Islands an immediate and complete independence."
Kenneth Higgins and Albert Law, students at the University of Michigan, were initiated on March 13 into Omega, a national dental fraternity.
A coal mine for Unionville is an assured fact. The right of way has all been secured and preparations and arrangements for the sinking of the shaft and building of a railroad switch are now being made.

Let's Talk It Over

Station WBCM Bay City
Ed. Vallender, Farm Editor

Farm Meetings.
Back in the spring of 1946, we attended a vegetable growers' meeting held at the high school in Lapere. Five extension specialists from the college were on hand to present the latest information and answer questions from the floor. Only twelve farmers took advantage of all that talent. To prevent the conclave from being a complete flop from an attendance standpoint, 40 vocational-ag students were brought in from their regular classes. When we got back to Bay City we asked W. E. McCarty, our county agent, why farmers were showing little or no interest in meetings designed to improve their agricultural practices. Agent McCarty came right to the point. "Twelve dollar beans and three dollar wheat is your answer. Even poor farmers can make a good profit on any sort of yields." McCarty continued, "Wait until things get back to normal with low prices and uncertain times, then you'll see farmers getting out to meetings, and they'll have plenty of questions." Remember that was back in 1946.

Predictions True.
Agent McCarty was more than right. This spring, on our regular tour of meetings in the Thumb and Northeastern Michigan, we find all gatherings well attended. The good farmers are trying to find out how to do a more efficient job with the soil and general farm management. There can be no second guessing once the plans are set and the crop is in. The farmer who can maintain his income with continually declining prices is doing a near perfect job.
Farm Plans.
One way to make the headlines these days, is to come out with a farm plan. During the past week, we've seen three new ones, all brought forth by responsible agencies or individuals. The plan we gave considerable study to, has been proposed by the National Grange. The Grange has been on the fence for a long time, offering mostly criticism to other existing formulas. They have a six-point proposal with emphasis on "a minimum of government aids and controls." National Grange Master, Albert S. Goss declared that the Grange did "not approve any program which would make it necessary for the farmer to look to the government for his livelihood." Goss says that our number one problem is not the farmer, but industrial employment. He also maintains that if industrial employment is kept at a high level, all farm problems become more simple.

The Six Points.
Goss wants a new Federal Farm Commission to advise the Secretary of Agriculture. New marketing agreements for all commodities are necessary, says the Grange Master. Point number three is difficult to understand. It concerns a multiple price system to syphon off surpluses into industrial uses and exports. Points four, five and six are "if" proposals. If the first three don't work, then we must have flexible price supports, marketing controls and acreage allotments, and as a last resort, production payments.
Except for the additional trimmings and extra dressing, all farm plans are beginning to sound very much alike. It is significant to note that the basic ideas, from all sources, incorporate the same conditions of government controls. If and when the agricultural situation becomes critical, it is now a logical conclusion that the heavy hand of Washington planning, under any administration, will be a certainty.
Trees
Trees may be grown on rough, stony, swampy, or sandy land that will not produce crops or pasture.

To help provide consumers with a more meaty chicken, Michigan State College is again helping sponsor a "Chicken-of-Tomorrow" contest among Michigan breeders and poultry producers.
You need at least a serving daily of the food group of citrus fruits, tomatoes, raw cabbage and salad greens. This group is your best vitamin C source reports Winston Osborn, Michigan State College home economist.

Let rhubarb give your winter-time meals a flavor lift. Forced rhubarb is on the market well ahead of the garden season and will prove a real spring tonic for everyday menus. Michigan produces quantities of this crop, advises Roberta Hershey, Michigan State College home economist.

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Allemen.
The Michigan State Legislature now in special session at Lansing has a hot political potato in its collective lap.
With present revenues in sight totaling $230 million Governor Williams has proposed that the legislature authorize expenditures of $340 million for the coming fiscal year, 1950-51.
Simple arithmetic indicates that a deficit of $110 millions would be inevitable unless the state legislature was to turn to new taxation.

Here Governor Williams produces the figurative rabbit out of the hat by suggesting that the legislature re-considers the state corporations profits tax to be paid largely by industry.
From the Republican point of view, the governor's message to the legislature consisted 99 percent of "politics." Williams is running for re-election, and he seeks to put the Republican legislature in a tactical position of producing a "do-nothing" record for the 1950 Special Session.

As the Republican leaders bottled up the corporation profit tax in committee during the 1949 general session, there is little likelihood that the legislature will reverse its position in 1950 which is a political campaign year.
While Governor Williams may try to put the Republicans on the defensive by attacking the "reactionary" attitude with regard to expanding social needs, the legislative fireworks following the message fully indicated that the governor himself would be under heavy fire for having proposed a 47.8 percent increase in state spending.

It is interesting to note that the governor advocates an increase of only $4.6 millions for operating state departments, of which $2.5 millions would go to colleges, while he advocates new state aid to home governments in the sum of $25 millions.

Of the $340 million total in legislative appropriations, as recommended by the Governor, $135 million would go to state agencies including colleges, $158.3 million to local governments, $27.9 million for capital outlay, and $18.7 million for construction for new roads.

Like the bag of Santa Claus on Christmas eve, the spending program of Governor Williams has something on tap for nearly everyone. Improvement of local airports is proposed whereby the state could qualify for federal aid and engage in a $7 million airport improvement program. 36 airports in 34 communities would be benefited.

In the governor's budget for $25 additional millions for state aid to local governments, $5 million would go to public schools under the sales tax diversion amendment. Under the ruling of the supreme court, the state would contribute $9 million additionally to the public school employee's retirement system. Old age assistance and aid to dependent children would account for an additional $8.7 millions.

Out of the net increase of $4.6 millions for state agencies, $2.5 millions would go to college to supplant declining revenue from GI students; $929 thousand for mental health.
Declaring that Michigan had not kept pace with social needs as indicated by our expanding population, the governor proposed $27.9 million to construct new buildings at institutions such as mental hospitals, Wayne University, University of Michigan, Michigan State College and Western Michigan State College of Education. A 50-bed addition would be constructed to the Michigan Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Gaylord, and other construction undertaken for a total of $650 thousand.

Declaring that "our whole economy is being hampered by the lack of adequate trunk highways," Governor Williams advocated that the legislature spend $18.6 additional millions for road repair and construction. These improvements would be financed from the general fund to be covered by the corporations profits tax along with other needs.

Governor Williams took the position that a corporations profits tax would not be paid indirectly by the consumers, despite assertions of Michigan automobile manufacturers that approximately 50 percent of the cost of a 1950-made automobile consists of direct and indirect taxes.
Within 60 days the issues of the 1950 campaign should be well crystallized.

Women's Study Club—
On Monday evening the Gagetown Women's Study Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Elmer Hurd.

A very interesting paper on "Period Furniture" was presented by Miss Mary O'Rourke.
Louis XIII furniture was typically heavy, chairs often had straight medallion backs, while during Louis XIV's reign delicacy of design and minute detail were chief characteristics.

Louis XVI furniture was highly decorative with patterns of laurels, palms, heads of lions, and shields. The Tudor furniture of England during the reigns of Henry VII, and VIII was a Gothic style. During the time of Cromwell and Charles II, styles became very ornate with inlays of bone, ivory and tortoise shell. Queen Anne furniture remained much the same with the high boy and cabinets becoming popular at this time.
After the meeting was adjourned the hostess served refreshments.

This and That

LOVERS of band music will have many opportunities to hear their favorite class of melody makers in Cass City today and tomorrow. Thirty-three bands and one orchestra are scheduled to play here Mar. 24 and 25 when the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association in District No. 3 holds its two-day festival under the direction of Don Borg, local high school music director. Class A and B school bands play today (Friday) starting at 9:00 a. m. and 1:00 p. m. On Saturday, Class C and D bands will do their stunts commencing at the same hours as the Friday program. Best of all, there is no admission charge.

MEMBERS of the Gavel Club sort of make ladies' night a frequent feature of their yearly program. Not long ago the "boys" entertained their better halves at a dinner and basketball game. Tonight they have the ladies again as dinner guests when they will entertain representatives of the foreign student group from Michigan State College who are touring Tuscola County this week. Evidently it pays to keep the ladies good natured.

MEMBERS of the board of education are pleased that patrons of the Cass City School district are evidencing so much interest in the proposition of erecting an early elementary school building here. There were quite a number out to the special school meeting Tuesday night when the subject was discussed from financial and other angles.

IN OLDEN days girls used to attend gym classes and use dumb-bells to get color in their cheeks. Now they use color on their cheeks to get dumb-bells.

Mrs. Mason Wilson, acting president, conducted the business meeting and Mrs. Herb Ludlow was secretary in place of Mrs. Albert Gallagher who was absent. Twenty-two members and one visitor were in attendance. Miss Lura DeWitt explained the functions of the county council.

"We have the greatest man of the present times, as our leader, General George Marshall. He has given up jobs with much greater salary to head the American National Red Cross. Why? His own words is the best explanation. Quote 'It was by far the most wonderful while and satisfying thing I could do.' Let's all work with him and for him through our contributions to the American Red Cross."

Talk on Finnish Folklore Given at Pres. Guild Meet

About thirty were present Monday evening at a meeting of the Presbyterian Guild Society. Mrs. Harold Otley was the hostess and was assisted by Mrs. Zora Day and Mrs. James King.

Mrs. Dave Ackerman conducted devotions and Matt Lappinen discussed Finnish folklore and sang Finnish songs, including their national anthem.

An arrangement of daffodils centered the table when refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Mrs. James Ballard and Mrs. James Champion poured. The April meeting will be with Mrs. B. H. Starmann.

JUNIOR CLASS WILL PRESENT "JANUARY THAW," 3-ACT PLAY

They take upon themselves the task of modernizing the old house and the antique furniture. Just as they, with their three daughters, are comfortably settled, Mathilda and Jonathon Rockwood, played by Ilene Ludlow and Tom Sinclair, return with the legal right to live in the house. The resulting conflict between the two families is very amusing as well as dramatic.

To climax the distress of the Gage household, Uncle Walter, an old-timer who can't remember which are his "spittin' days" and his "swallerin' days," barges in announcing the arrival of the Rockwood's son, Matt, played by Roger Little. Matt is a first class wolf with no other ambition than to be a first class wolf. He becomes the rival of George Husted for the affections of beautiful Barbara Gage (Kathleen Bogart).

The struggle between the Rockwoods and the Gages, which is actually a case of "old-fashions vs. moderns," proves to be too much for Loomis, the lawyer. There is a great variety of character and each one is guaranteed to make you laugh. Frieda, the maid, is played by Nancy Delong. Ralph Doyen is Uncle Walter. The younger daughters are portrayed by Shirley Loomis and Dorothy Pawlowski. George is played by Jim Bishop, Mr. Loomis by Jim Fox, and Carson, the detective, by John McCormick.

Statistics say that tea is the most popular beverage in the world.

Good Returns Reported in Bean Membership Drive

Several townships in Tuscola County have reported good returns in the membership drive in organizational work for a Bean Growers' Association. County campaign manager Cecil Baker had a total of 1279 signed memberships by Monday of this week. Complete returns have been received from only a few townships.

Akron township with township chairman Robt. Van Steenhouse of Unionville turned in the largest signed memberships of 180. Fairgrove township under the supervision of Robt. Foster has 149 members. Erwin Felske of Reese and Clarence Buchinger of Vassar have signed up 145 bean growers in Denmark township. Elmwood has turned in 135 membership cards under the township chairman Harlan Hobart. Other townships have memberships as follows: Fremont 45; Wells 69; Juniata 113; Millington 33; Dayton 5; Arbelia 74; Almer 40; Ellington 27; Tuscola 75; Vassar 12; Gilford 100; and Wisner 60.

Six townships have not reported to Manager Baker or to the county agricultural agent's office. These are Columbia, Koylton, Kingston, Indianfields, Novesta, and Elkland. Township chairmen in these areas will be contacted to get the area covered within the next few weeks.

Bean growers that were contacted are strongly in favor of a county bean growers' organization in conjunction with the Michigan Growers Association. The purpose of the organization is fourfold: (1) to advertise Michigan grown beans, (2) assist in bean research work, (3) publish a bean bulletin, and (4) protect interests of the bean growers and the bean industry.

The Thumb counties make up about 80 percent of the beans grown in Michigan. Those counties make up the counties for the Michigan Bean Growers Association and are as follows: Tuscola, Saginaw, Bay, Sanilac, Huron, Gratiot, Midland and St. Clair. Last year these counties raised a total of 371,800 acres of which 82,200 were grown in Tuscola County.
