

Voters Approved Bonding of School Dist. 5, Elkland

Votes Stood 265 to 125 Favoring New Early Elementary School Building

At the special election on Saturday in School District No. 5, Elkland, the proposition to bond the district for $125,000 for the purpose of erecting an early elementary school building carried by a vote of 265 "yes" to 125 "no." On the question to increase the tax limitation of the district, that proposition carried when 235 voted "yes" and 129 "no."

The next step of the board of education is to secure the approval of the bonds by the Michigan Securities Commission, and that secured, the bonds will be offered for sale.

Tentative plans call for the erection of a building situated east of the present high school building on grounds now owned by the school district. Seven class rooms, each 27x30 ft. in size, are proposed for kindergarten, two first grade, two second grade, and two third grade rooms, activity room, office, wash room, storage and utility room. The board of education estimates that a new building can be erected in about nine months.

Elevators in 1884 and 1950

— 1884 - 1888 —

— 1950 —

It was in 1882 that the crowning event in the history of the village of Cass City took place. On November 18 of that year, the first locomotive of the Pontiac, Oxford and Port Austin R. R. coughed its way dramatically into town.

Two years later, 1884, Anson G. Burney built the first, first class elevator next to the railroad site, now the south elevator of the Frutchey Bean Company. Four years later, in 1888, he bought the elevator which had been built by F. Miller & Co., now the north elevator of the Frutchey Bean Company. In both these establishments, he carried on a general grain business.

In the 1890's Ansel Frutchey, Elmer A. McGeorge and Alonzo Ale purchased the elevators of Mr. Burney and carried on the grain business under the firm name of Frutchey, McGeorge & Company. Later Mr. Ale sold his interest to his partners.

After the turn of the century, the company was reorganized and carried the firm name of the Cass City Grain Company until 1930. In that year it merged with the Michigan Bean Company and operated under this name until 1933.

In 1933 these two firms dissolved business relationship and the firm name, Cass City Grain Company, was changed to the original Frutchey Bean Company.

Hobbies Will Be Exhibited April 25

The Evergreen Community Club will be host to many "hobbyists" from all parts of the Thumb on April 25. They will sponsor the second annual hobby exhibit at that time. The results of last year's exhibit, the first of its kind in this area, was so encouraging that it was decided that it should be continued.

There were many interesting displays last year of the things that take up the spare hours of the "hobbyists" of this area. Coin collections, antiques, stamps, shell craft, original paintings in oil and tooled copper are a few of the items displayed. There is every indication that this year will far surpass the first attempt.

All those who have hobbies are invited to put them on display and share their enjoyment with others. Displays should be put up between 2:00 and 6:00 p. m. Doors will be open to visitors from 7:00 till 10:00 p. m. Tuesday, April 25. Rex Harris, Mrs. Voyle Dorman and Mrs. Andrew Hoagg are in charge.

Production Record In DHIA Work Showed Gains

Top Honors for March Go to Holstein Owned by Rufus Wark of Akron

Production record results from dairy herd improvement testing work in Tuscola County during the month of March showed commendable gains over the winter months. County Agricultural Agent Loren S. The top nine individual animals were either registered or grade Holsteins and the 10th place was a registered Guernsey. Top honors of 103 pounds of butterfat from 1940 pounds of milk went to a registered five year old Holstein owned by Rufus Wark of Akron. Next place was won by a six year old of Roy Brown's of Fostoria with 97 pounds of fat and 1947 pounds of milk. Third and fourth rankings went to Clayton Rohlf of Fairgrove with 93 and 89 pounds of fat; fifth, Grover Laurie of Cass City with 81.2 pounds; sixth, Eber Wallace of Kingston with 81.1; seventh, Werner List of Vassar with 81; eighth, H. Improvements Are Made to the Cass City Hospital

Remodeled Building Has Room for Eighteen Beds for Patients

The Cass City Hospital has made several changes and improvements in the hospital building the past month and it is expected that the work will be completed this week.

On the first floor the most noticeable improvement is the enlarging of the waiting room and the removal of the circular stairway leading from the waiting room to the second floor and the installation of a straight stairway easier to climb.

The change in the front stairway has made it possible to rearrange space on the upper floor to add a fourth private room. Other rooms on the second floor are three wards with accommodations for 10 beds and two semi-private rooms with two beds each. This makes a total of 18 beds in the hospital.

New windows have been placed in the east and south walls, providing better lighting for several of the upper floor rooms. A new porch has been placed over the door leading to the hospital waiting room.

The improvements are a convenient change for the work program of the nurses and provide more pleasant quarters for the patients.

X-Ray Unit Will Be in Cass City on Monday, May 22

Checking for TB Will Be Made County-wide Program Last of May

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association will bring portable chest X-ray equipment to Tuscola County in the latter part of May in cooperation with the county medical society, county board of supervisors and county schools.

Elaine Abbott, Michigan Tuberculosis Association case-finding director who started plans for the survey here last week, said that arrival of the X-ray equipment will be preceded by a tuberculin patch testing survey in all area schools. School children reacting to the simple patch test will be given free chest X-rays along with adults.

The Tuscola County Medical Society, Tuscola County Board of Supervisors and Tuscola County schools will assist the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

The association's portable X-ray equipment, financed through Christmas Seals dollars, will move to this area from Huron County in the latter part of May. The program in Tuscola County will start in Cass City at the Rabideau Motor Sales on Monday afternoon and evening, May 22.

THE MIDDLES By Bob Karp

Michigan Mirror

Michigan townships, blessed by $26,798,834 in sales tax diversion money to date, are going to the rescue of mud-mired rural roads.

During 1949, in 68 of the 83 Michigan counties, township boards transferred to county road commissions a total of $3,150,000 under provisions of Public Act No. 24, 1948 special legislative session.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949, townships received a total of $9,170,760 in state sales tax revenues, diverted to townships under the sales tax diversion amendment.

Thus it is clear that approximately 34 percent of the state sales tax distributed to townships in 1949 was transferred to county road commissions to improve rural highways.

It is equally clear also that millions of dollars are accumulating in the treasuries of township boards, waiting approval of township boards to be expended for public services.

The records of Auditor General Murl Aten show that sales tax collections from December, 1946 to June 30, 1947 brought a total of $4,384,723 to Michigan townships.

This amount was doubled in the following fiscal year to $8,635,676. For the past fiscal year, ending June 30, 1949, the rising tide of sales tax revenues to townships rose to an all-time high of $9,170,760.

As of December 31, 1949, Michigan townships had received a total of $26,798,834 from the sales tax revenue at Lansing to be used for township needs.

Act Number 34 of the Public Acts of 1948, approved by the Governor on May 10, 1948, provides that "a township may appropriate any unexpended balances in the contingent or general fund of the township for the maintenance and/or improvement of township roads, streets and alleys taken over as county roads pursuant to the provisions of this act."

The law goes on to state that such action can be taken "without submitting the question to the electors of said township."

If the rural township roads are in need of immediate improvement, officials of your township board would be interested in your recommendations. There may be money in the bank to make it possible for the county road commission to send out a crew at once.

The tug-of-war over road financing has reached a stalemate at Lansing. Governor G. Mennen Williams declines to submit a proposal to increase the state gasoline tax, as recommended by the state highway department and county road commissions.

Since the stand of the Governor would make such legislative action, if taken in 1950, clearly unconstitutional, Republican legislative leaders have decided to press the Governor further for permission to consider such legislation.

Republican legislative leaders are criticizing the Governor for attempting a legislative program of such broad scope, while limiting the legislators to restricted methods of financing. Thus, Governor Williams proposes that $18,500,000 be taken from the general fund of the state treasury to finance highway construction, but to raise this money only by a state corporation profits tax.

The legislators' frustration prompted Senator Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) and Senator James T. Milliken (R-Traverse City) to introduce a proposed constitutional amendment providing for annual sessions of the legislature.

A similar resolution has been introduced in the House by Rep.

Louis C. Gramton (R-Lapeer). Republican legislative leaders maintain that the Governor never had any idea that the legislature would enact his many recommendations. They retort that the Williams program was merely for political campaign purposes.

It is most likely that around May 1, when the legislature adjourns its special session, the Governor can then point with alarm to the failure of the legislature to enact his program.

There isn't a Chinaman's chance that the legislature will tax corporations $110,000,000 for bigger and better public benefits.

Governor Williams knows this. He already has his issue for re-election.

Never Wanting for a Paying Customer

Dairy farmers who are members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association enjoy a marketing situation which is available to very few business men throughout the entire world.

These 15,000 members are GUARANTEED a market for all of the milk they produce at all times and furthermore, prompt payment for that milk is GUARANTEED.

Through their own cooperative efforts during the past third of a century, they have established these protective measures. Here is an outstanding example of self-help and free enterprise at its best. Even in cases of the farmer's family being quarantined and his supply of milk banned from the market, he receives fifty per cent of the amount he would have obtained had the milk been salable.

These protective measures work just as much to the advantage of the consuming public as to the dairymen. The supply of milk in the Michigan cities provided by the MMPA is always ample to meet the needs of all the people—a direct result of the association's farsighted and equitable policies.

Whether you are producer or consumer, you can depend upon the Michigan Milk Producers Association to safeguard your interests.

Brown Swiss cattle breeders organized the Thumb Canton at a meeting held in the courthouse at Caro last week, according to Loren S. Armbruster, county agricultural agent. This is part of the north-eastern canton which will still function. The new canton includes Tuscola, Huron, Sanilac, Lapeer and St. Clair Counties and will hold the canton show at the fairgrounds in Caro on June 6. A. L. Spiekerman of Reese was appointed to be in charge of the event.

Speakers at the meeting were Prof. J. G. Hays of the Michigan State College dairy department who spoke on the summer pasture program. Fred Gauntt, Michigan Brown Swiss fieldman, narrated on canton shows.

Carl Aurand, Brown Swiss breeder from Millington, was elected vice president, and Stanley Pobanz of Owendale was elected president. About 20 breeders from the five counties attended this organizational meeting.

Chest X-rays Bring More Victories in Battle Against TB

Terming periodic chest X-rays for adults, "part of the teamwork that will bring more victories" in the battle against TB, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association issued a proclamation to Cass City this week reminding: "People do have tuberculosis without knowing it. Early TB has no symptoms. Don't be afraid. Be X-rayed." More than 100,000 leaflets and posters bearing this message are being distributed to help step up TB detection.

Expressing hope that Cass City citizens will heed the advice. Theodore J. Werle, Christmas Seal agency executive secretary, points out that the effectiveness of the TB war is determined by "intelligent action on the part of everyone of us."

"More and more Tuscola County people are experiencing the full value of a chest X-ray," the statement notes. "Over 1,500,000 Michigan people have stepped before the X-ray camera since 1941. This simple examination, perfected through years of scientific research and study, is one of the best ways to uncover TB in early stages, before there are symptoms. Moreover, a chest X-ray showing no disease rules out tuberculosis, giving the individual a sense of satisfaction in the knowledge that he is not spreading deadly TB germs to associates. The second pilot study in mass chest X-raying is now underway in Calhoun County and it is our hope that this survey will lead to improvements in the chest X-ray methods which will benefit every citizen of this state."

Reporting that on a nation-wide level, the number of chest X-rays given has increased from slightly over five million in 1946 to 10.5 million in 1949, Werle urged adults to "seek the advice of your doctor, health officer or write the Michigan Tuberculosis Association about getting your chest X-rayed this year."

Amos the Prophet and His Program
Lesson for April 16: Amos 7:1-15; 8:1-3

Memory Selection: Amos 5: 6

AMOS, a native of Tekoa, near the northern boundary of Judah, who made a living by selling wool and figs, left his humble surroundings about 775 B.C. and appeared at Bethel, in Israel, to rebuke the king and his people for their wickedness.

About 150 years had passed since the division of the nation. Jeroboam, the first king of Israel, fearing the loyalty of the people to the new government might be weakened if they came in contact with the people of Judah several times a year in going to Jerusalem for the feasts, as they were commanded to do by the law of Moses, set up shrines at Dan and Bethel, with a degraded worship of Jehovah, and also allowed the worship of Baal.

Under Jeroboam II the influence of impure religion had entirely corrupted the nation. The masses were poor and oppressed by the few who had all the wealth of the country.

Under the figure of the plumb line and the basket of summer fruit, Amos predicted that Jehovah would soon leave the nation to its fate. About a generation afterward the terrible Assyrians despoiled Israel, and the kingdom and its 10 tribes passed from history.

The lessons of Amos are quite modern, we find, and as applicable to present conditions as they were to those in Israel 2800 years ago.

Increase in Road Deaths Continues

Traffic accidents in Michigan took 88 lives during February, continuing the upward trend begun in January. The total was six more than in February of 1949, an increase of seven per cent.

According to the State Police monthly statistical report, 2,736 persons were injured as compared with 2,591 during February last year, a gain of 145, or six per cent, and accidents increased 1,205, or 11 per cent, for a total of 12,295 as compared with 11,090.

All the fatality increase occurred in urban areas, but the upward swing in injuries and reported accidents was spread generally.

The record for the first two months of this year shows 190 persons killed, 5,852 injured and 24,451 reported accidents. Compared with the same period last year, deaths were up seven, or four per cent; injuries increased 360, or 6.5 per cent, and reported accidents increased 1,488, or 6.5 per cent.

Mileage for January, the latest figures available, was up six per cent over the same month last year. However, the death rate of 6.7 per 100 million miles of travel was down five per cent.

Farmers Continuing To Buy Machinery Demand Backlog, Labor Costs Held as Factors

Although farm operators' net income and their purchases of agricultural machinery were both down in 1949, neither has slipped very far from their peak levels. Realized net income from agriculture in 1949 approximated 14 billion dollars, according to the latest estimate of the bureau of agricultural economics.

The bureau reported that no official figure of agricultural machinery purchases in 1949 is yet available, but informed trade and Washington sources expected the total to be down from last year by about the same percentage as farmers' net income. That would indicate a figure of about two to 2.1 billion.

In the record year of 1948, purchasers reached 2.4 billion, an all-time high. If 1949 expectations materialize, farm machinery purchases would still be almost four times as large as the 1935-39 average.

Typical of the ever-increasing use of farm machinery, is this farmer operating a tractor to break ground in a matter of hours which would have previously required days.

Several factors besides high incomes have acted in recent years to help boost purchases of equipment. In some measure they were expected to add strength to the equipment market for some time.

Automatic Feeder

Many southern farmers, who would like to install automatic feed handling setups, often pass them up because they feel they lack buildings large enough to hold the necessary electric equipment. That such tight-sided buildings, so necessary in cold climates, are not needed for this operation in the South is shown by the above picture.

Taken on a farm near Roanoke, Va., it shows a combination indoors-outdoors arrangement. Whole grain is fed into the outdoor mill, to the left. Here it is ground and then elevated by blower pipe into feed bins inside the combination grain and machinery storage shed in the background.

Poultrymen Are Advised To Purchase 'Quality'

"Good chickens can not be sold at a low price," G. S. Vickers, field manager of the Ohio poultry improvement association said in cautioning farmers to "buy on quality—not price."

Outlining a procedure to inspire wise chicken buying, Vickers said: "Investigate your local hatcherymen first. See if he has a careful and thorough pulchrum disease control program. See if he obtains good breeding stock; see if he keeps up the quality and constantly improves it by careful selection and the use of ROP pedigreed or other good breeding males from good breeders."

Egg Preservation Methods Seen Due for Improvement

Present methods of preserving table eggs may be revolutionized by the use of a new compound developed by Dr. Alexis Romanoff and W. D. Yushok of Cornell's agricultural experiment station.

The compound, a mixture of a plastic substance called polystyrene, with chlorinated rubber and other chemicals, forms a film over the egg and preserves it at ordinary temperature.

Brittany is a province in France, not England.

INFIRMARY BUILDING
CARO STATE HOSPITAL
CARO, MICHIGAN

This architect's sketch shows what the proposed new patients' building at Caro State Hospital for Epileptics will look like. Construction of the building depends on the approval by the Legislature, now in session, of Governor Williams' recommendation for an appropriation of $650,000 for the project.

The proposed infirmary will accommodate 150 bed and crib cases and will have its own food service. The central section is rectangular, approximately 308 feet in length and varying in width from 49 to about 60 feet. Four wards project from this central section at right angles and a fifth projecting section contains the kitchen and food service equipment. None of the patients to be housed in the structure will be able to walk. Construction of the building will reduce present overcrowding at the institution and will provide greater efficiency in the care and treatment of the particular type of patient for which it is designed. The structure will have a frame of light steel and the exterior will be brick, stone and wood.

This project is part of Governor Williams' program for $28 million of state construction during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1950. This represents an expansion of a little more than three percent in the state's physical plant.

Of the $28 million total, about $14 million is for hospital construction and fireproofing. About $11 million is for educational buildings, including medical school facilities at the University of Michigan and Wayne University, and the veterinary center at Michigan State College.

About $9 million of the $28 million total is for projects on which the Legislature made "down payments" of planning or partial construction money last year.

Warm Weather Traffic Danger Time

With the advent of warmer weather and longer days, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard is seeking the cooperation of all motorists to hold the line against the usual increase in child pedestrian and bicycle accidents at this time of the year.

"April and May are dangerous months for children," Leonard said. "Because of the many outdoor activities that spring affords, the child's mind is far from traffic safety."

"Last year more than 6500 children under 15 years of age were killed or injured in Michigan traffic accidents. Over two-thirds of these deaths and injuries resulted from child pedestrian and bicycle accidents. There was a sharp increase during the spring months."

"Like most traffic accidents, tragedies of this kind can be avoided. True, the child is more often at fault than the motorist, but children are unpredictable and drivers should assume responsibility for them."

"Many young lives can be saved if everyone will remember that all streets, driveways, corners, vacant lots and other areas where children might be are danger zones."

Dairymen Adopt New Sales Plan

With income from milk sliding downward despite government price supports, dairy farmers across the nation have agreed to step up their advertising program in an all-out drive to bring consumption of dairy foods in line with heavy production.

So declared B. F. Beach, manager, Michigan Producers Dairy, Adrian, upon his return from the 11th annual meeting of the American Dairy Association in Chicago where he was re-elected to represent the dairy producers of this state on the ADA executive committee.

He reports that dairy delegates from 40 states planned a record-breaking ADA advertising set-aside in June dairy month of one-cent a pound butterfat from farmers' milk and cream checks. This is urgently needed to provide dairymen with a comprehensive advertising campaign next year, he explained.

The new expanded advertising program is scheduled to get under way in 1961. In some states, explained Mr. Beach, increased set-asides will be made this year because of emergencies existing nationally and locally.

Other delegates from Michigan elected to the national ADA board of directors are Fred Walker of Carson City and C. L. Reynolds of Pinconning. Also in attendance at the national dairy rally in Chicago were the following dairymen from Michigan: Bruce F. Clothier, North Branch; Charles Simon, Remus and Charles E. Stone, Lansing.

Emphasizing the importance of checking for TB, Miss Abbott said that, "as long as adults unsuspectingly spread tuberculosis germs, no child in any home will be safe from the dangers of this 'catching' disease. Adults protect both themselves and their children by getting a periodic chest check-up."

Tuscola County teachers will be briefed on how to administer and "read" the tuberculin tests. In an institute April 28 at 3:00 p. m. at the courthouse, doctors will explain how the simple test works. The medical society has endorsed the program.

Reports on films will be confidential between the individual X-rayed and his family physician. All X-ray films will be sent to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association's headquarters in Lansing for expert interpretation.

Waffle Iron An easy way to clean the grids of a waffle iron is to place a paper napkin soaked with household ammonia between the grids and leave it overnight. The ammonia loosens the brown "cooked on" accumulation of grease. Then it may be wiped off or rubbed off with steel wool. (This cleaning method may also be used for the inside of ovens.)

Mr. and Mrs. A. Doerr Greeted Many Friends On 64th Anniversary

Guests, numbering about 250 from Detroit, Battle Creek, Royal Oak, Saginaw, Bad Axe, Caro, Gagetown, Deckerville, Argyle, Crosswell and this vicinity, called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Doerr Sunday afternoon to extend congratulations to them on the occasion of their 64th wedding anniversary. Guests were welcomed at the door by Mrs. Lester Ross, granddaughter of the Doerrs, and received in the living room by Mr. and Mrs. Doerr. Both wore gray for the occasion. Mrs. Doerr's dress was a print with a bit of yellow. Great grandchildren of the couple presented Mrs. Doerr with an orchid and Mr. Doerr with a flower which they wore. Earrings, gold and one hundred years old, were worn by Mrs. Doerr given to her for the occasion by her son-in-law, Norman Fisher.

Beautiful flowers and plants of every color filled the rooms and were sent by friends and relatives. Mrs. Dorus Benkelman and Mrs. D. A. Krug, wearing taffeta dresses of a similar shade, complemented with orchids, poured tea and coffee as the guests were served. The centerpiece of flowers, sent by the Frutcheys and McIntyres of Saginaw, was a beautiful arrangement of white stock, yellow roses, French iris and purple pansies. Cakes were served including a beautiful white cake, decorated in orchid and yellow, as well as cookies and mints with the ice cream.

A large floral piece and a telegram came from their son, James Doerr, at Pompano Beach, Florida, who could not be present. Other telegrams arrived from many friends who could not be here.

Mr. and Mrs. Doerr received many gifts.

Vilas Moore Married North Branch Girl

Potted ferns and snapdragons made a beautiful setting for the candlelight service Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the First Methodist Church in North Branch when Burniece Prowse and Vilas Moore exchanged marriage vows before 150 guests. Rev. Mr. Hainsworth, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. John Tuckey of Brown City, brother-in-law of the groom, performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Prowse of North Branch and Vilas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Moore of Cass City.

Russell Ferrier of Kankakee, Ill., sang, "Because" and "I Love Thee," accompanied by Miss Myra Snow of North Branch.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white slipper satin gown which featured a sweetheart neckline. Her veil was of finger-tip length and she carried a bouquet of white lilies, centered with a white rose.

Miss Clara Baldwin, close friend of the bride, was bridesmaid. Her copper brown gown was styled like the bride's and she carried yellow daffodils. Mrs. Angus Kennedy, sister of the bride, made both gowns and matching bonnets. Phyllis Tuckey, as flower girl, carried white narcissuses. Billy Sillers, a pupil of the bride, was ring bearer and Frank Gomory of Wilmot was best man.

The bride's mother wore a light pink suit and Mrs. Moore a dark aqua suit for the wedding.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served along with the wedding cake by Mrs. Angus Kennedy.

Mrs. Moore was graduated by North Branch High School and the Tuscola County Normal and is teaching at Clifford. The groom was graduated from the local high school.

After a short wedding trip through northern Michigan, they will live on a farm near North Branch.

Those from Cass City who attended the wedding were Mrs. Matthew Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Arlan Brown, Bruce Brown, Mrs. John Goodall and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Moore and Waunita.

C. C. Extension Group Discusses Subjects For Next Year's Study

Since the members of the Cass City Extension Group were not particularly interested in the study of children's clothes that lesson was omitted at their meeting in the Methodist Church social rooms Tuesday evening.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. R. A. McNamee, president, Mrs. Arthur Atwell was accepted as a new member. Mrs. Herb Ludlow performed the duties of secretary in the absence of Mrs. Albert Gallagher.

Under the leadership of Miss Lura DeWitt, the women were divided into groups of five and discussed subjects of study for the ensuing year.

A committee, consisting of Mrs. Keith McConkey, Mrs. Frank Reid, Mrs. D. A. Krug, Mrs. E. W. Kercher and Mrs. L. A. Koepfgen, served a six o'clock luncheon preceding the regular meeting. Decorated squares of white cake were the gifts of Mr. and Mrs. A. Doerr.

Mrs. John A. Sandham heads the luncheon committee for the next meeting to be held some time in May.

Little Hope for Positions in Alaska

The plea, "River Stay Way from My Door," had a modern counterpart in Alaska, Harry C. Markle, executive director of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission said today.

"An army of laborers and workers of almost every classification are practically flooding Alaska nowadays, only to find that there is no work for them," Markle said.

"Unauthorized advertising for help has lured thousands of workers to the northern territory, often at great sacrifice and expense, only to find that there is no work, and frequently no accommodations for them."

"The governor of Alaska, and union officials all warn workers to stay away unless they fall into the categories of civil engineers, qualified nurses, and possibly one or two other highly skilled classifications," Markle said.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Twenty-five Years Ago.
April 17, 1925.

The Cass City Sand and Gravel Co. is making extensive additions and improvements in the equipment at their Novesta Township plant this season which will enable them to increase their output fifty per cent over that of last year.

Twenty-seven schools of the Thumb district have entered the spelling match which will be held at the Cass City High School building on April 24.

Supervisors, at Wednesday's session, decided in favor of eradication of tuberculosis of cattle in Tuscola County.

Alex Henry, who has been a partner in the A. B. C. Sales and Service Garage for four years, has sold his interest in that business to Harold Jackson.

Max E. Zemke, prominent Caro merchant, passed away on Easter Sunday at Ford Hospital in Detroit.

Mrs. F. E. Kelsey has resigned as president of Flint Presbyterian after serving 14 years as an officer.

Dr. Friedman, who was graduated from Ann Arbor two years ago, has located in Gagetown.

Earl Parrott has leased a building in Sandusky and will install machinery for a creamery there.

Miss Elynore Bigelow will be among the group of Central Michigan Normal students who will represent their school at the annual college glee club contest at Kalamazoo April 17.

At the annual state conference of the Evangelical Church Rev. D. J. Feather was assigned to the Cass City church.

Three Knights in one day is what happened Saturday when a pair of twin boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Knight and a little daughter came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Knight.

Angus McCallum probably holds the record of being the oldest voter in Elkland Township. He was 91 years of age when he cast his ballot on April 5 at the spring election.

E. J. Dailey of Cass City and M. A. Joslin of Caro have purchased the Fox stock of general merchandise at Mayville and expect to conduct the establishment in that village.

Workmen are busy laying the foundation for J. A. Renshler's garage on East Main St. It is expected that the brick work will be commenced soon.

In the official canvass of the local option vote of Tuscola County made by the board of supervisors at their session early this week, the "dry" majority was found to be 1,384. "Things coming our way at last" is the sentiment passed most often among dry sympathizers and workers during the past week, and as an outlet to that good feeling, the men of the community will meet at the M. E. Church Sunday afternoon where Herbert Leon Cope will speak on "Tuscola on the Water Wagon." No speaker did more to achieve the victory for the anti-saloon forces than Mr. Cope.

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

By
Mrs. CATHERINE
CONRAD
EDWARDS
Associate Editor,
Parents' Magazine

LAST WEEK we brought you some pointers on how to help a child who is having difficulty in learning to read. We hope we made it clear that this is a very common problem, but to emphasize its universality, we'd like to tell you about a booklet prepared for parents by the board of education of the Denver public schools.

It is called "There's More to Reading than Meets the Eye," and the first thing parents are told is that all children are different—children don't cut their teeth at the same age—they don't all weigh the same at the same age—they don't all measure the same at the same age—some learn to read more quickly than others. (We might add, that the eye muscles don't always acquire the ability to focus on the printed page at the same age.)

The pamphlet contrasts the way Grandma learned to read by bringing her reader home and reading aloud a story she had read many times, with the way her grandchild, Timothy, learns to read today.

Timothy is in the first grade this year. He has already read many books—not just one reader. He has learned none of them by heart. But he knows enough words now to start reading a story book on his own. He reads books that are new to him much better than did the children of Grandmother's day.

The pamphlet explains that Timothy may exhibit boredom with the old-fashioned technique of becoming acquainted with the shortest words possible, such as—"I saw a cat, I saw a dog." Today's child starts with things that really interest him. He learns quickly—automobile, engine, airplane. Teach him words that really interest him, and you'll find that reading is right down his alley. They may even be such long words as caterpillar and elephant.

But Denver doesn't stop with explaining methods of teaching reading. The pamphlet emphasizes that we have not taught our children to read if their reading means only recognition of words and sentences and paragraphs. We have taught them to read only if:

Their behavior and attitudes are improved as a result of their reading—they can think—they can choose books wisely and with taste—they admit two or more sides to a question and include them in their reading—they can detect propaganda—they turn to books for recreation as well as education—reading is really part of their living—they find help for their own problems in reading of the problems of others—they believe in democracy and are dedicated to its perpetuation.

The pamphlet goes on to tell how the child gets acquainted with books, learns the alphabet about the time the telephone directory becomes necessary to him, perhaps in the third grade.

By the time he's in the sixth grade, he has learned simple library procedures; he has learned that books are friends; he reads them for fun, for information, for help with his own problems. And he grows in understanding the world and the people around him as he reads of life and people in other cities, other states, and other lands.

The last of the series of winter monthly meetings on agricultural policies was held in the courthouse last Tuesday. The leaders from rural organizations familiarized themselves and discussed the "pros" and "cons" of the question, "Can the Government Prevent a Depression?" Agent Armbruster states that printed material, written by the agricultural economics department of Michigan State College, can be had by calling at the extension office in the courthouse.

Assistance in farm woodlot management is available from farm foresters of the department of conservation. A change in foresters in this area will take place this month when Tuscola County will be transferred to the Saginaw district with Allen Boelter in charge. A. J. Phillips of Lapeer serviced this county in the past. Requests for assistance should be made with County Agricultural Agent Loren S. Armbruster.

The annual meeting of the County Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in the Caro Presbyterian Church on April 20. Mrs. Louise H. Carpenter, consultant in the adult education department of Michigan State College, will be guest speaker. Her address will be entitled, "As Others See Us."

Representatives from all DHIA's of Michigan met at Michigan State College last week to discuss the incorporation of the entire testing program of the state. Alvah Hillman and Adolph Woelfle, president and secretary-treasurer of the Tuscola County DHIA respectively, both from Cass City, and director, Alton Reavey of Akron, attended the meeting. Local DHIA boards of the state will discuss the program before another state wide meeting will be held.

Four-H club members are urged to make plans for their summer project by contacting local leaders in their community or the county extension office in the courthouse. Summer work will begin soon after the completion of local and county achievement events held this week for winter projects. The public is cordially invited to look over the county achievement to be held at the Caro High School on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Farmers are cautioned about going on the soil when too wet. The top soil may be dry but sometimes the soil at the base of the plow layer is still too wet. Delaying planting of crops by several days pays dividends if the plow layer soil gets the chance to lose surplus moisture. The old saying "haste makes waste" applies to seed bed preparation as well as to other business.

Locomotives

Coal and oil-burning steam locomotives, on the basis of gross ton-miles, handled approximately 66 per cent of the freight traffic in the first seven months of 1949 and diesel-electric locomotives about 32 per cent.

Macaroni

Drying macaroni in the streets was once a common sight in many Italian cities. Today this is against the law. Most factories have drying rooms but many persons still dry the macaroni on rooftops.

Storing Nitrogen

Keeping organic matter in the soil is the only natural way and the best way to store nitrogen and still have it released as crops require it.

it doesn't take a FORTUNE to get security

Envy the man who has an oil field a few thousand feet under his winter wheat? He has one type of security, no doubt about that, and you'd be right to count him as a lucky and enviable individual.

But a full measure of security that is sound and adequate is available to the average man with an income, too, fortune or no fortune.

For a few dollars a month you can enjoy the solid financial security produced by the pooled resources of millions of people like yourself.

It would take an oil field of 2,000,000,000 barrels to give the equivalent of resources that are cooperatively pooled in The Equitable Society. And every member of the Society shares in the protection these resources offer.

The financial protection provided by life insurance and annuities is available to your family and every family with foresight enough to plan their future. It's the kind of security your family should not be without.

Wide Variety of Calls Received By State Police

The Michigan State Police last year received a total of 67,350 complaints including everything from homicides to empty coal bins.

However, not all involved arrests or prosecutions; more than 18,000 were closed by "service rendered." These were cases of a non-criminal nature such as searches for lost persons, emergency rescues, delivering emergency messages, administering first aid and other services.

So far this year about 4,000 complaints have been closed without the use of handcuffs, warrants, sirens, microscopes or other tools of the law enforcement officer's trade.

On one occasion officers located relatives of a woman living in Canada by tracing them through a letter written over 75 years ago.

One trooper turned furnace repairman when a family with several small children reported that their furnace went out and they were unable to locate anyone to fix it. On another occasion two officers rescued a dog that had fallen through the thin ice on a river.

There is no set time during the day or night when the troopers respond to calls for assistance. Recently a woman called one of the posts in the southern part of the state at three in the morning. There was a rat in the house and she wanted the officers to dispose of it.

One of the most unusual complaints thus far in 1950 was received at the Flat Rock post. A man called to ask if someone would take his wife to the hospital. He was unable to get his car started and could not afford to hire an ambulance. The wife was expecting a baby.

Trooper Harold A. Ernst and Jack G. Murdock rushed to the home only to find it was too late to attempt a race with the stork. Trooper Ernst delivered the baby with the aid of the grandmother while Trooper Murdock located a doctor.

Both the mother and new baby girl were doing nicely when the officers left to answer another call, perhaps a breaking and entering or even a murder that would require hours upon hours of questioning, searches, identifications and subsequently, arrests.

But then, maybe it was just one of those complaints that are closed with the simple, laconic phrase on the officer's report, "service rendered."

ABA Members Are Participating in Patronage Refunds

Tuscola County dairymen, members of the local artificial breeding association, according to Loren S. Armbruster, County Agricultural Agent, are participating in a patronage refund from the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative, Inc. This refund covers the years 1944 through 1946.

The total dividend amounts to about $59,500 for the patrons in 83 ABA's living in 44 counties. The dividend is prorated to about 8,000 dairy herd owners based on volume of business each herd owner did with the parent organization through the local ABA.

The Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative started from scratch in 1944. It now serves more than 22,000 Michigan herd owners keeping over 125,000 cows. It maintains 76 proved sires and others of rich inheritance in its own buildings constructed on land leased from Michigan State College at East Lansing.

The dairy herd owners of all of the locals own the organization. There are now 144 inseminator-managers of local ABA's operating in the state. These inseminators receive from the central semen at regular intervals each week in order to breed the cows of the patrons.

Richard Ross of Kingston, Franklin Stoll of Unionville, Telford Proffer of Vassar, and Bernard Jakubik of Millington are the inseminator-managers of the five ABA's in Tuscola County, according to county agent Armbruster. Ross also is the inseminator-manager of the Cass City Association.

Armbruster states that at the present time Tuscola County has 625 farm members and over 6,000 cows signed up in the artificial breeding program.

Baked Stuffed Tomatoes Save Meat
(See Recipe below)

Meat Savers

Every now and then when we are called upon to save meat, it helps to have dishes with meat-like texture and flavor so appetites are satisfied. Fortunately there are certain combinations of vegetables which, when served with some cheese, are excellent just for such a purpose.

Tomatoes with a bit of bacon are satisfying for hearty appetites; so are squash and lima beans, with a bit of sausage. Au gratin combinations are interesting, too, from the point of view of satisfying appetites as well as the budget.

Use the recipes given today when you want to save on meat; these dishes are not meant to be used as a vegetable side-dish for the average family as they are just a bit too much on the hearty side for such a purpose.

*Baked Stuffed Tomatoes. (Serves 5)

5 tomatoes
5 slices of bacon
2 cups bread crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup grated cheese
Sprigs of parsley

Cut tops off tomatoes and remove pulp. Cook bacon until crisp. Break into small pieces. Make a stuffing by mixing tomato pulp, bacon, bread crumbs, onion, salt and pepper. Fill cavities of tomatoes with the stuffing. Sprinkle tops with grated cheese. Place tomatoes in a heat-resistant glass dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes. Serve garnished with parsley.

Squash, Sausage and Lima Bean Platter. (Serves 4)

2 1/2 cups cooked, mashed squash
1 1/2 cups cooked lima beans
1 tablespoon butter
8 sausages

Arrange squash in four nests on a heat resistant glass utility platter. Place lima beans in center of each squash nest. Dot lima beans with butter. Place sausages around squash nests. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes or until sausages are done.

Sausage Stuffed Eggplant. (Serves 4)

1 medium eggplant
1/2 pound pork sausage
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 cups cooked brown rice
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
Salt and pepper
1/2 cup grated cheese

Cut eggplant in half lengthwise. Cook in boiling salted water for 20 minutes, or until it is almost tender. Cook sausage meat slowly in large skillet until lightly browned, stirring occasionally. Add onion, garlic, green pepper and parsley, and cook until vegetables are almost tender. Pour off some sausage fat, leaving about 1/4 cup in pan. Add rice. Scoop egg-

Let's Talk It Over

Station WBCM Bay City
Ed. Vallender, Farm Editor

Early Training.

Just about this time every year most of us get a hankerin' to open the tool-box and do a bit of fixin'. In both city and country we get that seasonal urge to build something or maybe just repair the damage done by old man winter. If the wife has been thumbing through the "Home Beautiful" magazine since fall, chances are she'll come up with a few suggestions for alterations.

Some men are peculiarly gifted at this sort of endeavor, others inept and all thumbs, (which painfully get in the way). We happen to be one of the unfortunate ones.

Handicraft Exhibits.

During the months of April and May, 4-H Clubs bring their winter projects to local schools for public display and judgment. It is our pleasure to visit these exhibits and talk with the youngsters and leaders about their winter activities. Most boys quite naturally take up handicraft. The average lad will spend from four to six years developing his skill and woodworking and the final results are amazing. The average man who considers himself a competent carpenter would be astounded at the professional finish these 4-H boys produce.

First Things First.

Quite naturally, the young man of 12 does not try to build a drop leaf table his first year out. His leader schools him in the knowledge of woods and simple tools. He is taught the importance of application and finish. Fundamentals are stressed to give the member a thorough foundation. His first year items are such things as door stops, bread board, broom holders, etc.

Professional Touch.

In case some of you men think you're a pretty fair hand with a piece of sandpaper, it would do your heart good and probably deflate your ego to see one of these 4-H handicraft exhibits. As the boys increase their skills and graduate to power tools, they begin to turn out substantial pieces of furniture. You could pick out a truckload of items that you would be glad to put in your home and offer in comparison with anything out of Grand Rapids. Desks, lamps, chests and a hundred and one individual ideas are all finished with the same meticulous care as the first bread board.

Skill Pays Off.

Some folks have the mistaken idea that farm boys do not enjoy equal opportunities with their city cousins. Not so, if the boy decides to seek his livelihood in agriculture, 4-H training will pay off in better living and increased income. Crops, handicraft, electrical and tractor maintenance, dairying, hogs, farm management, leadership; these are but a few of the projects offered.

Equally important in the 4-H scheme of things is the emphasis on recreation, Parties, picnics and summer camps round out this farm youth program into perfect balance. A boy, raised on a farm, learns the meaning of hard work quite early in life. His home life, supplemented by 4-H leadership and participation make him one to be envied.

NEW YORK.—That nation-wide wild mouse hunt by thousands of high school students interested in studying the little rodents—which was to have been sponsored by a cancer research laboratory—has been called off in this state by the game laws of the city's park department.

Dr. Clarence C. Little, director of a famous cancer research institution, started the whole thing some months ago when he called upon the 250,000 boys and girls in 15,000 science clubs throughout the United States to trap 13 species of wild, outdoor mice that scientists would like to know more about.

The students were to domesticate and breed the small mammals in their school laboratories and observe them for signs of cancer and other diseases, as well as for genetic variations. Thus a nationwide effort, which would be prohibitive in cost if left to specialists, would have been achieved.

Up to now, Dr. Little reported, thousands of students in thirty-seven states and the District of Columbia had responded to the call. Detailed instructions were sent them by the laboratory, but since the work is necessarily slow no results had been reported yet.

In New York, small groups of students in the Bronx high school of science, Prospect Heights high school and Manual Training high school in Brooklyn became interested. Seven girls and five boys from the two Brooklyn schools made traps under the direction of Harry Cole, science teacher in Manual Training, for setting out in the public parks.

That was when the parks department halted the hunt. No traps could be set in the parks, an official ruled, because, in the first place, squirrels might get caught. And, in the second place, there were no mice in our parks, anyway. The department is proud of its selective extermination of obnoxious rodents.

Car Crashing Power Pole Brings About 'Dark Doings'

RADFORD, VA.—There were dark doings in Radford:

A fire burned a wall in the fire department. Officials of the First & Merchants Bank had to get a short-term loan from the People's Bank of Radford so they could begin operations.

Three textile plants couldn't work on their textiles. The Radford News Journal decided to forego its regular Saturday edition, then reconsidered and published an abbreviated edition late in the afternoon.

The whole trouble was caused by a car crashing into a power pole and snapping it off.

Woman Spends 60 Hours Trapped in Midget Tub

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IOWA.—Mrs. Marie Turnquist is philosophical about having had to spend 60 hours trapped in a midget neighbor's midget bathtub.

Her hands were raw and blistered from efforts to free herself from the tub, but after examination by a physician, she was pronounced in surprisingly good condition.

Mrs. Turnquist was occupying the home of a friend, Mrs. Inez Bergant, a midget whose home is widely known for its doll-sized furnishings. Mrs. Bergant was wintering in Florida.

Mrs. Turnquist, whose family call her "pleasingly plump," got into the bathtub—36 inches long, 19 inches deep, and 19 inches wide. She was held fast for 60 hours until neighbors who had missed her broke into the house.

They had not heard her cries for help, but wondered why she had not answered the telephone.

"I just kept praying to get out," Mrs. Turnquist said. "I said, 'Lord, why don't you answer? You have always answered my prayers before.'"

"After a while I thought that was kind of bad, so I said, 'Well, Lord, I didn't ask you about getting into this little dinky tub, so why should you get me out?'"

New Jersey Court Ruling Frees Movement of Dogs

TRENTON, N.J. — Somewhere, possibly in dog heaven, "Cracker," a foxhound, knows his death was not in vain. That is probably the case, because his death has made all New Jersey safe for all dogdom.

In a unanimous decision, the state supreme court ruled that a landowner has no right to kill a dog simply because it is trespassing on his property.

He can kill the trespassing animal, the court said, only if he has reason to believe it was "chasing, worrying, wounding or destroying livestock or domestic animals, his person, his property or that of other persons."

The court made the decision in upholding a $500 damage award to Ralph Bunn, Long Valley sportsman, whose hunting dog "Cracker" was shot to death Sept. 28, 1948, by the son of Mrs. Alma Shaw Bartley, sheep breeder. A lower court had ordered Mrs. Shaw to pay damages to Bunn.
