

C. C. C. Now Has Membership Total of Eighty

Secretary Neitzel Hopes for 20 More to Make a Society of One Hundred

"Here's to a bigger and better Cass City," said Fritz Neitzel, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday as he handed the Chronicle the names of ten new members of that society, bringing the total membership for 1950 up to 80. Of this number 80 are regular members and three associates.

New members include the following: Detroit Edison Co., Wesley Creamery, W. A. Parrott, S. Champion Advertising Co., Baker Electric Co., Steven's Nursing Home, Dr. Harry Crandell, Dr. E. H. Starnann, Dr. H. T. Donahue and Harry Crawford.

"If any name has not been published, it is because the committee have not turned it in to the secretary, or you have not made out your check," says Mr. Neitzel. "There is a lot of work in canvassing for new members. If you don't believe it, join up and relieve some of the fellows of part of the work."

"If we have missed you don't feel hurt; grab your pen and make out the check for $15.00 to the Chamber of Commerce. You don't have to live in Cass City. If you are a business man, farmer, retired or just plain tired, you are more than welcome to join. We now have 80 members and would appreciate 20 more to make it an even hundred."

"If you have not been contacted don't feel slighted. There are only so many hours that can be given to outside duties and so few to do the jobs."

If anyone wishes to join please contact Fritz Neitzel, Secretary.

Marshal at Speed Control Program Held in Bay City

Steve Orto, village marshal, was in Bay City Monday afternoon at a speed control program where he learned that the average reaction time, that is time required by the driver to decide to step on the brake and thereafter to bring his car to a halt, is 3/4 of a second. The distance traveled by a vehicle during "reaction time" is 3/4 of the number of feet the vehicle will travel at a given speed in a second. This rule applies at all speeds.

Stopping distance (after brakes are applied) increases according to the square of the increase in speed. Thus, if at 20 miles per hour a vehicle with good brakes will stop in 25 feet, at 40 miles per hour, it will require four times as far or 100 feet; at 60 miles per hour, it will require 225 feet; at 80 miles per hour, 400 feet.

The speed control program was sponsored by the Michigan State Police.

In his commencement address, Dr. John Arthur Visser, minister of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Detroit, spoke on the subject, "What Time Is It?" Time can be measured in two phases—duration and intensity. "How well we live is more important than how long we live," he said. "Three rules to get the most out of time—are faith, courage and honor."

When Superintendent Willis Campbell presented a diploma to Fred Ross, the eleventh child of John and Bridget Ross of Elkland Township, was graduated from Cass City High School. Replica of Liberty Bell Visited Cass City on Thursday Ceremony Spearheaded Campaign to Sell Quota of $110,000 in Tuscola Co.

"Independence Day" came a little early to Tuscola County this year. The big day for citizens of this area to celebrate independence—their personal financial independence—came yesterday. That was the day when Michigan's "duplicate original" Liberty Bell arrived here and rang in a ceremony to sell a quota of $110,000 in U. S. Savings Bonds in Tuscola County during the Independence Drive, ending July 4.

A color guard from the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Cass City High School Band and speakers of the day met the replica of the Liberty Bell and a State Police contingent at the corner of Main and Seeger Streets on the bell's arrival in Cass City from Sandusky at 9:30 a. m. Thursday. After the procession had travelled Main St., the group stopped at the corner of Main and Seeger Streets.

At a short program, Warren Wood served as master of ceremonies. Clifford Croft, village president, extended a welcome and Rev. Arnold Olsen gave a short history of the Liberty Bell. Excerpts of the Declaration of Independence were given by Miss Melva McConnell, and Willis Campbell reported the results of former bond drives in Elkland Township, stating that in each instance Elkland's quota was substantially oversubscribed.

To Boy Scout Jack Clara and Girl Scout Jean Parrott was delegated the honor of tolling the bell 13 times.

Playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the band concluded the program and then the bell was escorted by the color guard, band, program participants and state police to the eastern part of town where the bell mounted on a Ford truck proceeded to Bad Axe for its next stop.

Main Street was lined with automobiles and many people from town and country came to see the bell and listen to the program.

'Veep' Means Little to Cab Driver Giving Him Direction

NORFOLK, Va.—The "Veep" didn't mean a thing to this man and it happened this way: When the stout, worried gentleman in the sporty convertible asked cab driver Oscar Osmund the way from Little Creek to Norfolk, he got his answer. Not, however, before Osmund had pressed him into service as an assistant in the greasy job of checking the oil in his cab.

IPC, New Weed Killer, Showing High Promise

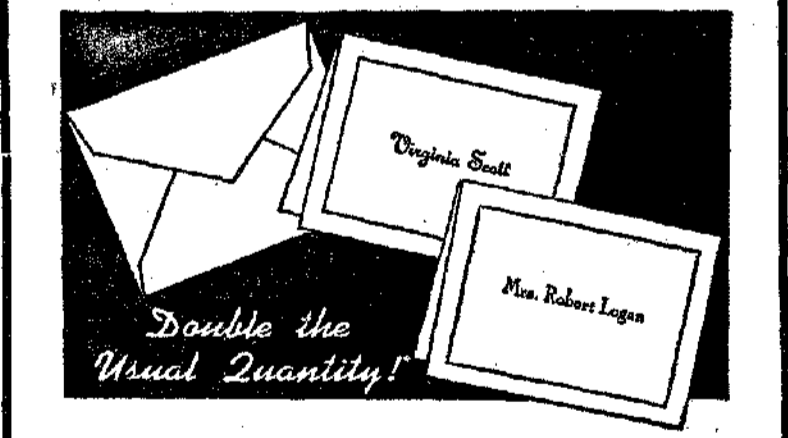

The new alphabetical weed killer, IPC, that was humorously hailed as the eventual successor to the lawnmower in press releases because of its grass growth control possibilities, is in reality showing a tremendous promise as a selective grass killer in a variety of crops.

Controlled Storage Keeps Apples Prime

Regulated Atmosphere System Is Recommended

The answer to whether apples will taste as good in May as they do in September is "yes"—if they are apples from specially constructed controlled-atmosphere storage.

It sort of puts the apple to sleep and it never awakens until brought out into store temperature.

out in April or May or June," Smock says, "the apples are expected to be of prime quality."

Sweet Potatoes Make Valuable Farm Crop

Many North Carolina farmers who have never planted sweet potatoes for market should be able to increase their farm income this year through the cultivation and sale of this root crop.

The U. S. department of agriculture has requested farmers to increase their production of sweet potatoes by 12 per cent.

Farmers who plan to increase their sweet potato acreage this year to have some for sale, should consider market outlets before planting, Covington states.

Automatic Defroster

A household device which automatically defrosts the refrigerator and is a fine electric clock has been put on the market.

The defroster, the company stated, eliminates the housewife's periodic, usually messy defrosting chores which are so often put off until she finds time and a thick, insulating coat of frost has accumulated on the freezing unit.

Automatically, the defroster turns the refrigerator off at 1 a.m. each day, and then, again automatically, switches it back on after the thin skin of frost is removed from the unit.

During the shut-off periods, moisture created by the melting film is circulated through the box.

With the defroster, which is a precision timing instrument, any electric refrigerator, old or new, easily can be made self-defrosting.

Fertilizer Is Bargain

How much you get for a dollar you spend today as compared with what you could have got back in 1925, depends on what you buy with that dollar.

U.S. bureau of labor statistics show that building materials that could have been bought for $1 back in 1925, cost $1.89 today. Food that would have cost $1 back in those days, now costs you $1.51. A dollar's worth of textiles at 1925 price levels, today costs $1.37. Fuel and lighting materials cost $1.30.

Remote-Control Switch Convenient for Farmers

Farmers now can turn their farm yard light off and on from a half-dozen places with a new, remote-control multiple switch.

A farm electrification specialist explains that the heart of this new control is a magnetic relay which will turn the light on or off from as many points as desired by means of simple push-button switches. It is said the unit is very economical to operate and easy to install.

Margarine

It is estimated that nearly two million cotton and soybean farm families produce the vegetable oils used in margarine.

Radiator Reckoning
To figure how much enamel you will need for re-coating a radiator, multiply its height by its width, then multiply by seven. This will give you the area to be covered. Your dealer can then advise you the quantity of coating material you will need.

Early Railroad
The Erie railroad, completed from the Hudson river to Lake Erie in 1851, was the first road to reach "western waters."

Control of Ticks
Toxaphene is now recommended for control of ticks, lice, hornflies, and sheep ticks on all livestock except dairy cattle. This material is of special value in the control of ticks.

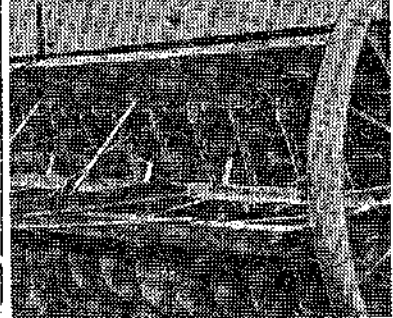

Cost of Armament
Just before World War I, the U.S. spent a little over two dollars per capita on the arms program. In 1949 it was about 100 dollars per capita.

New Chemicals Make Plants Insect-Proof
Federal Entomologists In Experimental Study

New chemicals that make plants toxic to insects for short periods are being tested by scientists of the U.S. department of agriculture. These chemicals kill insects that suck the juices of treated plants. They are known to the entomologists as "systemic poisons" and should not be used by the public until further tests have been made.

Studies now are in progress to determine if these insecticidal chemicals will break down into harmless compounds within a few days or weeks. If they do, a new approach will be available to American agriculture in the control of some of the most difficult insect pests, according to entomologists of the federal bureau of entomology and plant quarantine.

Beef Herd Decision Problem in Corn Belt

Whether or not to have a beef herd is a long-time decision for the corn belt farmer.

Under average corn belt conditions, a cow can be credited for a 450 pound calf at weaning time. For instance, if you had a 30-cow beef herd on a corn belt farm and a 90 per cent calf crop, you'd have 27 calves worth around $185 each. Or, at 30 cents per pound, a gross income of about $3,600. If four replacement heifers were kept back, there'd be 23 calves worth $3,100 and four cull cows, worth about $1,000, to sell.

There would be a gross income of $4,100 to cover the cost of maintaining a herd of 35 mature animals, including 30 cows, four heifers and one bull, or about $117 per animal per year. If you used the average value of cows and calves over the past 15 years as a yardstick, your gross income would be about half of $4,100.

Reading for Children
A child should not be encouraged to read before the age of six because his eyes are not ready for near-point concentration, and he may damage his vision, according to the American Optometric association.

Originally there were four months between a presidential election and the inauguration to allow for slow methods of communication and transportation.

Two-day 4-H Camp Is Planned For Tuscola County

Demonstrations pertaining to every kind of 4-H project and judging contests for home economics club members will attract 4-H'ers from all parts of Tuscola County to the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building at Caro June 22 and 23.

County Extension Agents Jean Gillies, George MacQueen, and Byron Carpenter have announced a two-day rally featuring competition in judging and demonstrations and an overnight camp for girls participating in the contests. 4-H club leaders are working with the agents in sponsoring the events.

The demonstration contest will last all afternoon beginning at 1 p. m., Thursday, June 22, and will be open to any active 4-H club member in Tuscola County. Demonstrations may be given by individuals or by two or more club members.

On Friday, June 23, beginning at 9 a. m., there will be a judging school and contest for clothing, canning, and foods project members. Mrs. Corrine White, assistant state club leader, will assist Miss Gillies in conducting judging classes and training the contestants.

An overnight camp at the 4-H Building June 22 is being arranged for all girls who desire to stay provided they participate in one of the contests. They will have their supper and breakfast at the building, and attend a party there that evening. Girls and their 4-H leader sponsors will sleep in the 4-H Building dormitory.

Always The Cavalier

The defendant acknowledged that he hadn't spoken to his wife in five years, and the judge put in a question.

"What explanation have you," he asked severely, "for not speaking to your wife in five years?"

"Your Honor," replied the husband, "I didn't like to interrupt the lady."

Following Orders

"The doctor told my wife she should take exercise."

"And is she doing it?"

"If jumping at conclusions and running up bills can be called exercise."

Highest Cliffs
Formosa can boast the highest cliffs in the world. On the northeast coast they rise 8,000 feet, or almost five times the height of the Empire State building in New York.

Pullman Ventilation
Air-conditioning equipment on a Pullman car enables the air in that car to be completely changed every 6-1/2 minutes.

"Clear" Lumber
The clear grades of lumber with a minimum of the unsightly characteristics come from the outside of the log. In general, the older and bigger the log is, the more "clear" there is available from it.

Steel Structure
For the first time, in 1938, steel structural shapes were standardized so that engineers might work with materials of known performance, dimension and weight.

Keep Disease Out
To avoid any chance of disease being introduced to your poultry flock from the outside, don't let any poultry crates except your own come into the poultry house.

New York's Pigs
The number of pigs started in New York in 1949 totalled 384,000, only slightly higher than 1948. The national crop, however, is 98,301,000 pigs, the third highest on record.

July 1, 1950, will be a red letter day for Michigan's newest educational institution, Ferris Institute, at Big Rapids.

It marks the occasion when this trade school, founded 64 years ago by Woodbridge N. Ferris, becomes a state vocational training center. When the state legislature in April, 1949, voted to accept the institute as an outright gift, it did two things:

First, recognition by the State of Michigan that Ferris Institute would fill a big gap in our present educational system. Ferris has specialized in vocational education. Not every high school graduate can afford to attend college; not every graduate has capacities to attain a college degree. But nearly every high school graduate may learn a useful trade, a valuable livelihood, by taking a program of vocational training.

The legislature also paid recognition to the fact that Ferris Institute was a going concern with assets of more than $1,000,000.

Its tradition of practical education is liberal in scope; thousands of men and women with no more formal education than the eighth grade have profitably pursued practical studies at Ferris.

High school youths may attend specialized trade courses in the following: Watch and clock repair, architectural or machine drafting, refrigeration and air conditioning, radio repair and electronics, printing, stenographic and secretarial, higher accounting, business administration, B. S. degree in pharmacy, B. S. degree in commerce of science teacher training, college preparatory (high school), and advertising-salesmanship. Some of these courses are short in time; others run for four years.

The one-time superintendent of schools at Pittsfield, Illinois, became the founder of Ferris Institute. Mr. Ferris founded the school Sept. 1, 1884, as the Big Rapids Industrial School. Later, the name was changed to Ferris Industrial School and in 1899 shortened to Ferris Institute.

In January, 1902, the Pharmacy building was completed for four-year training.

In 1912 when Republicans were feuding over the Progressive movement, Ferris was elected governor on the Democratic ticket. He then became United States Senator and died in Washington in 1928 while serving as senior senator from Michigan. Arthur H. Vandenberg was named his successor.

The school has had its ups and downs and during the depression of the 30s the enrollment dwindled to less than 800 students as compared with nearly 1200 today.

When the school officially becomes a state institution on July 1, Ferris Institute will have achieved the educational record of having trained more than 75,000 men and women for the actual duties of life.

President Byron Brophy is proud of this tradition.

He is determined to carry on the founding spirit of Woodbridge N. Ferris in the new coming era of public service.

You'll hear much about Ferris Institute in the years ahead.

4-H Home Economics Leaders Plan for Summer Projects

"Secrets of Success" were revealed to over 40 Tuscola County 4-H home economics leaders at the 4-H Building at Caro Wednesday, May 31, when Mrs. Corrine White, assistant state club leader, demonstrated how to improve exhibits, judging, and demonstrations. She also covered the changes that had been made in project requirements and explained some of the newer projects that will be offered this summer.

Mrs. White's presentation included a model 4-H demonstration and a discussion of the points emphasized by judges in placing foods and canning exhibits. She used samples of baking and canning brought in by club leaders to illustrate her talk.

This was an annual training meeting held each spring to acquaint summer leaders with some particular home economics subjects and bring them up to date on summer 4-H projects for girls.

MANY ATTENDED BACCALAUREATE SERVICE SUNDAY

Mr. Watkins said in part: "How modern this sounds! We have heard it many times. Usually the one uttering these words is irritated, and sometimes quite angry. But in a sense we have a business that does affect others. We cannot help but do so. Jesus recognized this when he said, 'I must be about my Father's business.' That was one reason why they crucified our Lord. The Gospel of Christ affects people in all the avenues of life. We cannot escape his moral precepts in the school of life. Some people like to be left alone and do as they please when it comes to life's requirements, but that is not the way God operates, or His creatures of His Universe operate.

"Then what is my business? 'I know that I have a very personal business. I cannot shirk or escape it. I may not be the master of my fate; but I am the king of my life. It is my business to make my life all that it can and ought to be, that is worth while.

"2. As members of society, all of us are a part of a vast social system. If one thinks he can live merely as an individual, let him try it awhile. We have obligations and responsibilities to the many, who come within the radius of our influence. In this world of democracy, we desperately need men and women of Christian character. We must realize that we are our brother's keeper.

"3. Religiously we have a business to which we must give our most serious attention. No one can assume it for us. Four times in the trial of Jesus, the Master was handed over to someone else, on the plea that he was their affair. The high priest handed him over to Pilate. Pilate handed him over to Herod. Herod sent him back to Pilate. Pilate finally handed Jesus over to the soldiers to be crucified. With a theatrical gesture of innocence and a weak whimper, he said, 'It is not my fault. That is your affair. I am innocent of this good man's blood. It is your affair.' But he lied. Jesus was Pilate's affair, and Jesus is every man's affair. Your destiny and success will depend on how you treat Jesus Christ.

"4. It is our business to show sympathy. We live in a moral world, and our sympathy is a badge of our Christian morality. We need a sympathetic understanding of all people. Even the persecuted minorities among us must have our sympathetic understanding. We must suffer with them. There is a line in the story of Jesus crossing the sea of Galilee which might be interpreted as describing His attitude of sympathy, where He says 'Let us go over unto the other side.'

Jesus was always doing that, and helping men to cross over in their thinking and their sympathy.

"5. It is our business to escape the mood of cynicism. The world is not going to smash as some of our well meaning citizens try to picture. The world is in a turmoil, but that is no reason for us to become cynical and discouraged and lose faith in human possibilities. We must have faith and hope.

"6. It is our business to meet the challenges of life. A problem is not a barrier. All progress is made by what we set our minds to do. Find the solution through trust in a God who knows the solution.

"7. And the final fact is, it is our business to be a happy individual. The first requirement to be happy is, 'Let a man restrain his tongue from evil. The second requirement is to turn from evil.' It was Alfred Lord Tennyson, who wrote of the inner joy which comes naturally to one who chooses the way of righteousness. He spoke of young Sir Galahad when he said: 'My strength is as the strength of ten, because my heart is pure.' It is not only strength but happiness itself, which is at stake here. The third requirement in this business of being happy is to 'Do Good.' Sometimes we think that happiness results from the getting and holding of material things. If that is the whole center of our life, then we fail to find true happiness. It is our business in this world of peo-

to live for others. Earth always approaches close to heaven when a man or woman does some worthy deed for others. 670 X-rays Are Made Each Day

For hour after hour the X-ray technicians' voices chanted, "Take a deep breath, hold it, that's all," to mark up a high average of 670 x-rays a day. Farmers, factory workers, businessmen, housewives, along with children who reacted to the tuberculin test, joined to step up and get a free x-ray picture.

High school students and adult volunteers from the communities helped the x-ray operation function smoothly. In Akron, Caro and Vassar, a public address system, manned by students, gave voice to continual reminders of the x-ray opportunity while the unit was operating. Street banners, posters, pamphlets and x-ray reminder tags virtually saturated the county with information on the value and availability of the Christmas Seal service.

With the medical society, schools and the county board of supervisors in the forefront, "this chest checking drive should be of real satisfaction to the people of Tuscola County," Elaine Abbott, Michigan Tuberculosis Association field organizer declared. "Tuscola County, in an all-out response, has shown once again what American people can accomplish by working together for the common good."

Miss Abbott said reports on the chest X-rays will be mailed in three to five weeks. Later, a Michigan Tuberculosis Association study on the survey will be made available to the community.

Follow-up chest X-rays, for those whose small size chest X-rays indicate the need for further study and examination, will be provided free by the county board of supervisors through tax dollars.

County chairman for the X-ray drive was Joseph Liddicoat, county school superintendent. Area chairmen were: Ray Barshney, superintendent, Akron High School; Leonard D. Mills, superintendent, Caro High School; Willis Campbell, superintendent, Cass City High School; Claude Elmore, superintendent, Fairgrove High School; William D. Menold, superintendent, Getagtown High School; J. R. Clark, superintendent, Kingston High School; Gordon Ewing, superintendent, Mayville High School; Stephen Glaza, superintendent, Millington High School; Melvin Simonton, superintendent, Reese High School; Charles H. Bush, superintendent, Vassar High School; and D. A. Crawford, superintendent, Unionville High School.

Dr. McCoy Tells of Trip to Europe

Dr. I. D. McCoy of Port Austin and Bad Axe, who recently returned from a trip to Europe, was introduced as luncheon speaker at the Rotary Club Tuesday by M. E. Auten, program chairman. He discussed the industrial and political aspects of several of the countries visited.

"I was astonished at the beautiful highways in Portugal and surprised at the little transportation on them," he said. "In direct contrast, the highways at Milan, Italy, were crowded in town and country and there is no unemployment there. Italians have a kindly feeling toward America.

New Telescope Is to Be Shared By 3 Countries

GLENBROOK, CONN. — A new type of telescope, the first of its kind ever built, designed to penetrate farther than ever before into the vastness of the Milky Way with its hundreds of billion stars has been transferred by its makers to representatives of three nations. They will collaborate in its use in South Africa.

The new telescope, a marvel of optical precision, will enable astronomers to photograph areas in the Milky Way 30,000 light years, or 180 quadrillion miles away. It will produce star images of near-perfect quality over an area of the sky equal to almost 100 times the area covered by the full moon.

Its penetration into space will be three times greater than present instruments of similar design, which limited the detailed exploration of the Milky Way to a distance of 10,000 light-years. (A light-year is the distance traveled by light in a year at a speed of 186,000 miles a second, or six trillion miles.)

The Baker-Schmidt type was designed by James G. Baker, research associate of the Harvard observatory and consultant to the Perkins-Elmer corporation here, which built the first model of this type.

The Schmidt telescope, actually a giant camera, has one mirror and a correcting lens. The Baker-Schmidt telescope-camera has two mirrors in addition to the correcting lens. The addition of the secondary mirror makes it possible to use a flat photographic plate, instead of the curved plate of the conventional Schmidt telescope.

This flat field, or flat focal surface, it was explained, makes it possible to photograph stars with one-hundred-thousandth of the light of the faintest star seen by the naked eye in no more than twenty minutes, much faster than ever before. The flat field also makes it possible to photograph a much larger area of the sky than ever before.

Mechanical Brain Human Enough to do Cheating

KELLOGG, I.D.A.—A mechanical brain so human it even "cheats" has been developed by an 18-year-old scientific wizard here.

The machine can beat any human at ticktacktoe without cheating, says its inventor, Noel Penney Elliot, a senior in Kellogg high school.

But still it will try to chisel a little if its human opponent isn't careful.

The game is played by switches and lights in nine squares on top of the 18-inch-square, 10-inch-high machine. The hapless human throws a switch in a square to start the game.

Instantly the machine comes back with its move, "without even stopping to think," says the husky, bespectacled young scientist. And so on until the machine either has won or tied.

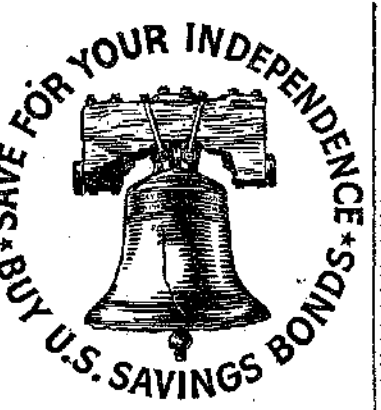

"I catch it cheating now and then," Noel said. "Sometimes it will turn on lights in two squares during one turn. I'm working on it to see what the cause is."

Teen-Ager Out-Wrestles Assaulter, Who Escapes

CLEVELAND, OHIO. — A girl teen ager who learned wrestling tactics by watching television routed a street thug here.

Marion Viki, 17, told police that when the man grappled with her, "I grabbed his index finger and bent it back hard. He let go and I punched him twice. He ran one way and I ran the other."

She also credited her brother, Don, a football player of Bowling Green university, with teaching her some of the tricks.
