

School Bonds Sold To Two Local Banks On Monday

Competition of Seven Bidders Varied Only .38% in Interest Rate

At a special meeting of the board of education of the Cass City Public Schools on Monday afternoon, the bonds of $125,000 to construct a new elementary school were sold to the Cass City State Bank and the Pinney State Bank. The interest rate is 2% from April 1, 1951, through April 1, 1953, and 1.75% from April 1, 1953, through April 1, 1955. The average interest rate is 1.815%.

Six other firms entered bids and the competition was close, there being but .38/100 of 1% difference between the low and high bids.

The bids of the seven submitting figures for the bonds on Monday showed the following average interest rates:

The Cass City State Bank and the Pinney State Bank, 1.815%. Siler & Co., 1.8433%. First of Mich. Corp., 1.9329%. H. V. Sattley & Co. and S. R. Livingston & Co., 1.95159%. Braun, Bosworth & Co., 1.99%. McDonald-Moore & Co. and Crouse & Co., 2.1845%.

Ryan, Sutherland & Co., 2.1903%. The bonds due during the first three years are not callable, but after that period the other yearly payments may be made before the due date if the school officers so desire and funds are available.

The contract for leveling the ground east of the high school building and stock piling the top soil was awarded to the Hunt Construction Co. for $300. Only two bids were submitted, that of the Shaw Construction Co. being $725. The leveling project is preparatory to building the new elementary school for which bonds were sold to the two local banks on Monday.

August 1 has been set as a tentative date for the opening of bids for building the new elementary school.

At a special election on April 8, electors of School District No. 5, Elkland, decided by a vote of 265 to 125 to bond the district for $125,000 for the purpose of erecting an early elementary school building.

Tentative plans call for the erection of a building situated east of the present high school building on grounds now owned by the school district. Seven class rooms, each 27x30 ft. in size, are proposed for kindergarten, two first grade, two second grade, and two third grade rooms, activity room, office, wash room, storage and utility room. The board of education estimates that a new building can be erected in about nine months.

The last bond issued on March 1, 1926, on the present high school building was paid this spring, a year before its due date. This retires the whole bond issue the voters of the district authorized 24 years ago.

Clarence Burt Resigns as Village Trustee to Succeed Mr. Brown

Cecil U. Brown, who has held the position of street commissioner and village engineer in Cass City for over 23 years, has resigned to accept a full time position with the Detroit Edison Co. He will be employed in the electric service department of the Edison organization. For several years, Mr. Brown has divided his time between the village and the Detroit Edison. Mr. Brown's resignation, effective July 1, was accepted by the village council Tuesday evening. Village President Croft has appointed Clarence Burt as Mr. Brown's successor. He will be a full time employee of the village and he resigned as village trustee to accept his new position.

The council elected M. C. McLellan to succeed Mr. Burt as village trustee. Mr. McLellan had served in this position for several years.

Mr. Brown has been an authority on village streets, waterworks and sewers for many years, having an information desired within "short time reach," so to speak. He has been a faithful employee of the municipality. The members of the village council were reluctant to accept his resignation but are happy that he is able to better his position.

At the council meeting Tuesday evening, the annual report of the board of trustees of the Cass City Community Hospital for the year ending May 25, 1950, was read. It showed assets of $54,022.91 of which all but $116.91 are invested in government bonds.

Frank Cranick Relives His Firing Days on the Lakes

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cranick, Mrs. Frances Wood and daughter, Diane, spent several days last week in the Upper Peninsula. Mr. Cranick sailed the lakes for five years about 46 years ago. At the Soo Locks he found some nostalgic memories there as well as new sights in the changes since he went through.

At the Straits of Mackinac on the City of Petoskey, Mr. Cranick visited the engine room. When he told the men he used to fire on the lakes they asked if he would like to do it again. Thus two fires he built that day helped send the Petoskey across the Straits. It was like long ago to be back among the boats and yet he said it seemed like yesterday as it all came back to him.

The weather was cold and about a month behind, the residents of the Soo said. Tulips and lilacs were just out in bloom.

Cass City and Millington made the highest percentages of gain in the 10-year period of villages of over 1,000 population in the county. Millington's increase is slightly over 30% and Cass City is a fraction less than 30%. Vassar City shows a growth of better than 17% and Caro Village is between 12 and 13%.

In the following table are the figures for the 1940 and 1950 census:

	1940	1950
Tuscola Co.	35694	38147
Cass City Village	1359	1759
Caro Village	3072	3454
Millington Village	809	1053
Vassar City	2155	2528

"These 1950 figures are believed to be substantially correct but are subject to revision after returns for non-residents are credited to their proper locality and other routine checks have been made," says Lester J. Ross, census supervisor.

"Although material revision of the preliminary count is unlikely, it may possibly occur after careful examination of the returns. The official announcement of population will be made at a later date by the Director, Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D. C."

The census of Tuscola County in the seven 10-year periods shows the following figures:

Census of 1890	32,508
Census of 1900	35,980
Census of 1910	34,913
Census of 1920	38,320

Independence Is Proclaimed By Congress

This news story of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776 is written as though the event were occurring today. Its purpose is to give this all-important document the currency it ought to have these days. The Declaration of Independence, for all that it was written 174 years ago, remains predicated on the living issue of human freedom. Consider, as you read, that all this well might be happening right now.

PHILADELPHIA, JULY 4, 1776—These American colonies today became the United States of America as 56 members of the Second Continental Congress signed a Declaration of Independence without a dissenting vote.

The vote came after a long day of bitter debate during which many members of the Congress publicly said they were not "ready for an open break with England."

The Congress, which had been meeting behind closed doors for some time, had been actively working on the declaration since last June 10.

Prior to that date, Richard Henry Lee, of Virginia, had introduced a resolution urging the absolution of all allegiance to the British crown.

John Dickinson, leader of the conservative middle colonies, opposed the measure, urging moderation, conciliation, and postponement.

On last June 10, however, the measure was back before the body and a committee was appointed to draw up the preamble to the resolution.

Members of that committee were delegates Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, Robert R. Livingston.

Franklin Was Ill

Franklin, who at the time was in bed with an attack of gout, was unable to assist in the writing of the declaration. Adams, Sherman, and Livingston were also unable to assist in the writing since they had numerous other congressional affairs occupying their time.

The task thus fell upon the shoulders of young Thomas Jefferson of Virginia. He submitted his draft to Congress six days ago.

It was passed aside, however, and was not brought back before the Congress until the first day of this month when the body resolved itself into a committee of the whole and resumed consideration of Lee's original proposal.

What followed was probably the most bitter debate in the Second Congress thus far, members reported.

At one time Benjamin Franklin, oldest delegate is reported to have taken the floor to warn the gentlemen that either "they would hang together or hang separately."

Freedom Espoused

The motion placed before the Congress by Mr. Lee read:

"That these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States, that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved."

As news of the signing seeped through this city, a state of unbelievable surprise was the first reaction. It was quickly overcome, however, by an undertone of determination and the realization that a full-scale war might soon be a reality.

Franklin was the oldest of the signers, while Edward Rutledge, 27, of Charleston, S. C., was the youngest. The youngest and the oldest congratulated each other.

Rutledge is reported to have said to Franklin as the two men shook hands, "Sir, this parchment must outlive time itself!"

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

(Unanimously Adopted in Congress, July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia)

WHEN, IN THE COURSE of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitles them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights; that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That, to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; That, whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundations on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these states. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

HE HAS REFUSED his assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States for that purpose obstructing the Laws of Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to laws for establishing Judiciary Powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our Legislature.

He has affected to render the Military independent of, and superior to, the Civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:

FOR QUARTERING large bodies of armed troops among us: For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond Seas, to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighboring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:

For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering, fundamentally, the Forms of our Governments:

For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with the power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-Citizens, taken captive on the high Seas, to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

IN EVERY STAGE of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms; Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind—Enemies in War, in Peace, Friends.

WE, THEREFORE, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name and by authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

Historic Impact Of Declaration Was 'Startling'

The right of all men to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" is being endangered by the deadwood thinking of many who consider the Declaration to be little more than an idealistic cliché. Yet, since the turn of this century, the world has fought two wars because its people wanted to be free of despots and authoritarian governments. Tragically, the issue still is not resolved. Some day it may be. But, as the following editorial remarks try to point out, that day will not come until we all affirm and reaffirm our faith in the principles that motivated the creators of the United States Declaration of Independence in 1776.

MOST PEOPLE today consider the Declaration of Independence a historical move by which this country set forth its vow for independence, but lack the imagination to understand that in the year 1776 it was a startling declaration. In fact, with the possible exception of the Bible, and the Magna Charta in 1215, it is one of the most astonishing documents ever published by man.

Look at it from the viewpoint that up until that time in recorded history no group of men had gathered upon the face of the earth and declared they would rule themselves, that they were capable of ruling themselves.

Before that the ruling of a nation was concentrated in the hands of a few men. The masses were not capable of ruling—that had been the philosophy of governments since the beginning of time.

Then, suddenly, a group of men met in Philadelphia, in a raw and untamed country, and issued a document that bluntly avowed: people have the right to overthrow the government under which they live; they have a right to alter or abolish any government that does not operate for their good and happiness. That is a startling declaration.

Thus an experiment began that succeeded and grew. Succeeded so well, in fact, that it came to be regarded as commonplace. And today the Declaration of Independence is thought of by school children as a musty document which many of them are forced to memorize and find boring to read. United States citizens have accepted without reservation the idea that all peoples have a right to overthrow, abolish and alter any government under which they live.

THE TIMES in which the men lived who wrote and signed the Declaration were troubled times, much as they are today. Men throughout the world were demanding freedom of action and thought.

An Englishman, Dr. Richard Price, at the conclusion of the Revolutionary War, wrote: "Perhaps I do not go too far when I say that, next to the introduction of Christianity among mankind, the American revolution may prove the most important step in the progressive course of human improvement."

Dr. Price was correct. It was the step that started the human race on a new trend of thought—freedom for all.

AND the time may be coming when the peoples of all the world, not just a nation, will issue their declaration of independence and no nation will enslave another or force its conception of government on its neighbor. That, too, will be a startling document.

John Adams, who helped compose the Declaration said: "The Revolution was affected before the war commenced. The Revolution was in the hearts and minds of the people."

American Sailors Vocal in Protest Against New Garb

NORFOLK, VA.—The sailors of Uncle Sam's navy have told the big brass to "belay that new uniform."

The gobs were anything but unified on the question of the new regulation garb for enlisted personnel. It provided more scuttie-but navy for "gossip" than anything that has happened since the grounding of the "Big Mo."

Many of the sailors voiced salty disagreement with an order for roomier garb, complete with zipper to replace the customary 13-button trousers. Pockets, too, would be provided in the new uniforms.

D. R. Feria, steward, third class, from the Philippines, mourned the passing of the pants with 13 buttons representing the 13 colonies.

"Every part of our uniform stands for something," Feria said. "If they change it, they will take away some meaning that has been with the navy for 200 years."

An Atlantic fleet headquarters spokesman said privately that in a recent poll aboard the cruiser Columbus not a single man favored the new blues.

"The new jumper looks like a sack," said Apprentice Seaman Jack R. Cunningham, 19, of Astabula, Ohio, who serves aboard the minesweeper Peregine. "I don't like the pockets in the pants. It looks too much like a civilian outfit. I enlisted to be a sailor and I want to look like one."

Seaman, first class, Bobby J. Davis, 19, of Athens, Ala., predicted that a sailor wouldn't have a girl in any port.

"If they're going to give us civilian clothes, they ought to take away our ID (identification) and liberty cards, too," Davis said. "We don't need them."

Davis is the ship's barber aboard the John Weeks. He broke his arm and picked up opinion on the new uniform in the hospital ward room.

"None of them like it," he said.

Duke, Finding It Costly To Live, Must Sell Land

LONDON, ENGLAND.—A large piece of Arundel, Sussex, must go under the auctioneer's hammer, because the landlord, the duke of Norfolk was finding the tax burden "too heavy."

Included in the property to be sold were eight Georgian houses, borough secretary's office, the Westminster bank, county council baby clinic and public library and the fire station.

There were also the offices of the Southdown bus company, a petrol filling station, a jeweler's, a stationer's, a sweet shop, a wireless shop, a corn store, a printing shop, a butcher's, a baker's, and a house the council has requisitioned for flats. Among a number of tearooms up for sale will be Ye Olde Dairy and Honeybuns Guest House.

This is the fourth sale of Arundel property since 1947 by the duke, whose castle overlooks the ancient Highstreet in which 19 of the properties stand.

At the first sale he told his tenants that he was obligated to sell "on account of the heavy burden of present taxation."

A member of the firm of Newland, Tompkins & Naylor, who were handling the sale, said: "The duke has felt it necessary to make further sales owing to the pressure of taxation. He just can't afford to live."

Longtime King of Hoboes Stripped of His Laurels

SAN FRANCISCO.—Jeff Davis, King of the Hoboes, has been stripped of his "credentials."

"My feet's just tied with all that stuff gone," Jeff complained.

He listed these losses: Some 350 honorary cards, including thumb-stamped testimony of his long reign over America's knights of the road; assorted photographs and a railroad spike, which he described as golden.

Jeff said they were in a light leather briefcase which disappeared when he was dining. He said that whoever filched the briefcase could keep the "golden spike," if he would return the credentials.

"When I go 'round the country," said the 87-year-old hobo, "they won't even know it's old Jeff 'less I have them papers."

Workmen Find Pocket Watch Lost More Than 60 Years

JOHNSTOWN, PA.—You can't keep a good watch down, especially the large, gold and engraved timekeepers that were treasured by the fashionable back before the turn of the century.

George Varner of Johnstown was given a gold pocket watch in 1882, a birthday gift from his father and engraved with his name. A few years later, the watch was lost.

Varner, later moved to Los Angeles and died in 1937, but before he died he relayed his confidence in the watch to his two sons, Clarence and Frank.

"It will turn up some time," he told them. And turn up it did. Workmen found it while clearing land at Grandview cemetery in the Johnstown district.

Stored Carrots
After 30 weeks of storage, nine varieties of carrots contained more carotene, the basic material of vitamin A, than they contained before the storage period started, a recent government study showed.

Cured Meats
Heavy knitted cotton "stockinette," or cotton muslin "jackets" are used to cover cured meats to protect them in storage and shipment.

Field Mouse
The vole, or field mouse, does great damage to grainfields. In years of mouse "plagues," as many as 12,000 field mice may live on a single acre, causing tremendous crop losses.

Deepest Lakes
The world's deepest lakes are Baikal in southern Siberia, with a sounding of 4,982 feet; and Tanganyika in Africa, plumbed to 4,708 feet.

"Before you buy eye glasses, shop around; get comparative prices."

Such is the recommendation of the Better Business Bureau of Detroit.

Behind the advice is an interesting story of how ethical practitioners in the field of medicine are trying to clean up price padding by unethical oculists, ophthalmologists and optometrists.

Among some practitioners it has been customary to accept a hidden profit in the consumer price of eye glasses. In other words, the difference between the wholesale cost and retail cost was pocketed by the doctor as part of his professional revenue.

The Wayne County Medical Association denounces this practice as "just as unethical as the splitting of fees" since the consumer was not aware of the kickback payment from the optical house to the eye doctor.

The Better Business Bureau's advice is this:

"In an apparent effort to retain merchandising profits previously realized through 'kickbacks,' some doctors have recently changed their methods of operation. They now have the patient pay for his glasses at the doctor's office—instead of the optical supply house as was heretofore the custom."

"This switch facilitates the continuance of price padding and if you find that your doctor has made such a change, by all means shop for your glasses just as you would for any other merchandise which sells at widely varying prices."

"Don't accept a 'lump sum' quotation, but ask for a breakdown giving you the separate cost of your examination, any fitting or service fee, and the price of the glasses themselves. Having paid for your examination, the prescription is yours and you are free to take it where you choose and where you find you can buy the glasses you want to the best advantage."

Eye doctors who accept hidden rebates or kickbacks from optical houses are called "parasites" by the American Medical Association. The AMA through state medical societies is waging a vigorous fight against socialized medicine where by the cost of medical service would be paid ostensibly by the government—but actually by the consumer in the form of withholding taxes. The so-called "high cost" of eye glasses, due to the secret kickback, thus has become a matter of national concern to practicing physicians and surgeons.

The Michigan State Medical Society has organized a "good citizenship campaign" among its members. This program is aimed at "getting out the vote" at the 1950 November election—and specifically getting out votes to defeat any candidate, regardless of party, who favors socialized medicine.

To bring the message of voluntary medicine to the American people, the AMA recently engaged Clem Whitaker to serve as its director for a nation-wide program. Whitaker appeared before newspaper editors in Chicago last November at a conference sponsored by the National Editorial Association.

"The American press, in its vigilant crusade to prevent Government seizure of unwarranted power over the people, has been the Nation's strongest defense against State Socialism," Whitaker declared.

"The citizens of our country will be a captive people, held captive by their own Government, within another five years, if the trend toward concentration of power in Washington is not halted. The American press, standing alone, cannot long prevent that disaster."

"The American people must be aroused to come to their own defense; they must be told the blunt truth—that a Welfare State is a slave state—and that the cancerous growth of Government dependency is the most dangerous sickness in our world today."

"American doctors have become the second greatest force in the Nation, second only to the American press, in alerting the people to the danger of a Socialized State."

"The doctors are mobilizing all over this country not only to protect their profession and the public health from the scourge of socialized medicine, but to fight for the right of every American to practice his own trade or profession as a free man in a free country."

Light-Fingered Guest Slips Wedding Ring from Bride

SEOUL, KOREA. — Seoul police had a job on their hands here when a person slipped the wedding ring from the bride's finger as she greeted guests after the wedding ceremony.

Miss Lee Yung-suk, 20, and Ho Pyung-chil, 24, were married in the YMCA auditorium before a large crowd of relatives and friends. The couple turned to accept congratulations from the throng. The auditorium was thrown in an uproar when the bride announced her ring was gone. It had been slipped from her hand by some light-fingered guest.

The bride was distraught. Loss of the ring, she insisted, was an omen of tragedy to come. The couple retired to their home to await the terror.

Rabies Protection

Officials of the United States public health service say federal studies have produced satisfactory evidence that annual vaccination of dogs is an effective means of controlling rabies in animals and human beings.

Owners who are unable to keep their pets in strict confinement during rabies outbreaks and for a period of six months afterward are advised to protect them by vaccination.

The health service recommends that vaccination be used in conjunction with licensing, quarantine, and elimination of stray and ownerless pets in all localities troubled with rabies.

Dangerous to Dogs

The Journal of the American Veterinary Medical association has cautioned against giving dogs excessive doses of vitamin A. Experiments with puppies showed that doses greatly in excess of the amount they normally require produced loss of weight, poor appetite, and other undesirable changes. The warning was sounded for owners who mistakenly assume that extra large amounts of vitamin A will aid their dogs' health.

Folklore

Coffee has made its way into folk behavior. In the Antilles, brides carry coffee blossoms instead of orange blossoms. At one time a Turkish wife could divorce her husband if he did not keep her adequately supplied with "the lovable liquor."

❖ Brides Choose June for Ceremonies ❖

JOHNSTON-PITCHER.

Mrs. J. C. Pitcher.

Residing in Sebawaing after their return from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, along the St. Lawrence River and back by way of the upper peninsula are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pitcher, who were recently married in St. Agatha Church, Gagetown.

Mrs. Pitcher is the former Miss Madelyn Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnston of Gagetown, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pitcher of Sebawaing.

They exchanged their marriage vows in rites performed by the Rev. John Boguslawski before an altar decorated with roses and peonies.

The bride was given in marriage by her father during the double ring ceremony. She was attired in a white gown, styled with a satin bodice, sheer chiffon yoke edged in satin applique at the neckline, wrist point sleeves and a chiffon skirt, trimmed in front in satin applique flower designs. The skirt fell into a train. Her fingertip veil was held with a satin tiara edged with seed pearls and net. She also wore a string of pearls, a gift of the groom, and her bouquet was made of white carnations and red roses, centered by the orchid which she wore for going away.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Elger Generous, attended her as matron of honor. She was dressed in a maize gown styled with lace bodice, high neckline, short sleeves, and sheer chiffon full skirt. She wore matching mitts and a yellow horsehair picture hat.

Miss Shirley Damm of Cass City was bridesmaid, and her gown was orchid in color and styled identical to that of the matron of honor. Each carried a bouquet of lilies.

The bridegroom was attended by Elger Generous and William Johnston of Gagetown, all wearing full dress suits. Ushers were Harold Johnston of Gagetown, and Elger Stoeckler of Sebawaing.

Mrs. Johnston wore for her daughter's wedding a grey dress with navy and white accessories, and Mrs. Pitcher was dressed in a rose-colored dress and rose and white accessories. Both mothers had corsages of pink rosebuds.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to 45 guests at the Arbeiter Hall dining room at Sebawaing and in the evening a reception was held at the same hall for 400 guests, with Jerry Innes and his orchestra. Guests were present from Unionville, Bad Axe, Caro, Cass City, Gagetown, Detroit, and Auburn, Ind.

WOODARD-LITTLE.

The Novesta Church of Christ was attractively decorated with potted palms, tall baskets of peonies and candelabra for the double ring, candlelight ceremony at eight o'clock Saturday evening which united in marriage Miss Wannetta Thelma Woodard and Keith Turner Little, Rev. and Mrs. Howard Woodard are the bride's parents and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Little.

George Dorcha of Lapeer, Robert Woodard of Kalkaska, uncle of the bride, and James Turner, cousin of the groom, seated the 200 guests.

Preceding the ceremony, Mary Helen Woodard, sister of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Frank Butterfield of Brown City who played the wedding marches and accompanied Robert Warner of Berkley as he sang "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony.

After the bridal party had taken their places, Rev. Ralph Woodard, uncle of the bride, gave the invocation. The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Vern Wilson, of Rochester and Rev. Howard Woodard, father of the bride, read the service.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. James Lonsberry, of Attica as matron of honor and by the Misses Lota and Joyce Little, sisters of the groom. They wore gowns of blue, orchid and yellow respectively with matching shoulder-length veils. Their colonial bouquets were of white carnations, centered with yellow roses.

Harold Little performed the duties of best man for his brother. Other attendants of the groom were James Lonsberry of Attica and Lee Hartel of Snover.

Most attractive were Hazel Little, small sister of the groom, and David Binder as flower girl and ring bearer. Hazel wore a floor-length white gown with shoulder-length net veil. Her colonial bouquet was of pink roses.

The bride chose white satin for her gown. It was fashioned with a long train, full-length sleeves and sweetheart neckline. Her three-quarter length veil of nylon net fell from a sweetheart cap and she carried a white Bible, presented by the groom and topped with an orchid. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace given to her by her father.

Both Mrs. Woodard and Mrs. Little chose print dresses for the occasion with which they wore white hats and corsages of pink roses.

A reception on the parsonage lawn followed the ceremony. A beautiful five-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, was cut by Mrs. Mabel Burgess of Lapeer and with other cake and ice cream was served to the 250 guests attending the reception by young women from the Deerfield Church and the local church.

The newlyweds left for a few days' stay at Rock Lake and will make their home on the Little farm where a house has been furnished for them. The groom and his brother, Harold, are partners with their father in farming.

Guests from a distance to attend the wedding came from Midland, Vetsburg, Keego Harbor, Big Rapids, Birch Run, Alma, Owosso, Brown City, Rock Lake, Rochester, Lapeer, Attica, Mt. Morris and Berkley.

Iron Ore

In northern New York is the third largest iron ore field in the United States, the New York state department of commerce reports. Owing to the nation's wanting for deposits in mid-continent, New York's huge high-grade iron ore reserves in and near the Adirondack mountains has assumed an important position in the mining industry.

West Elkland 4-H Club Met June 21

The West Elkland 4-H club held its June meeting at the Donnelly home on June 21. During the business meeting plans were discussed for their "Little Achievement" to be held August 14. Joyce Donnelly gave an account of the 4-H electrical picnic held at Sleeper State Park.

It was decided that Mary Jean Martus and Joyce Donnelly attend the county judging day held at Caro June 23.

After the meeting, projects were checked to see how each one was progressing.

A lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Donnelly.

Four members of the West Elkland club, Robert Martus, Roger Wright, Joyce and Mary Donnelly, and two leaders, Mrs. Wm. Martus and Mrs. W. J. Donnelly, attended the Tuscola Co. 4-H electrical picnic sponsored by the Detroit Edison Co. for all 4-H members completing the electrical project in 1950, held at Sleeper State Park on Wednesday, June 20, and enjoyed the games, contests, and enormous picnic lunch. SHORT STORY

Great Man

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

PROFESSOR AARON CHESWICK was famous. He was not aware of this fact. He was too busy with his experiments in the field of chemistry, with teaching the undergraduates of Mapleridge College the rudiments of forth (in an almost apologetic style) the results of his experiments, and with reading avidly the works of such great scientists as Mons. Oliver Davillier and Senor Alfredo Valle Indan, both of whom had long ago won his respect and admiration.

He was an unpretentious looking little man, this Professor Cheswick, with pale blue eyes and horn-rimmed glasses and a pasty complexion. He wasn't one to attract attention or to assert himself. He went about with a perpetual far-away look in his eyes.

There came a time when a problem presented itself that challenged his skill and knowledge. He labored over it for days. The days became weeks and the weeks months. At last, worn and haggard, the little man was ready to admit defeat.

Time after time he returned to it, only to find himself defeated. He visited every library within miles, read every book by Davillier and Indan, as well as other great scientists that was available, but without finding the answer.

In the end Professor Cheswick had an idea. It was summer. He needed a vacation. Why not take a month off, visit Europe and perhaps call on Davillier and Indan and ask them personally to clear up the matter that so burdened his mind?

A week later Professor Cheswick sailed for France. The little school teacher was a lonely figure. He struck up a few acquaintances. He wasn't the type to attract people. But he enjoyed the trip. This was something he had never done before.

He was glad when the boat docked. Eagerly he looked ahead to his meeting with Mons. Davillier.

But alas! The next day Professor Cheswick learned that Mons. Davillier had gone to America for his summer holiday and was not expected to return for another month.

The little scientist was depressed and disappointed. His time was short. Madrid, where lived Senor Indan was a long way off. Yet it could be reached, he thought suddenly and excitedly, by plane in a very short while.

HE WAS DELIGHTED to learn that Senor Indan was in Madrid. Yes, it was difficult to obtain an interview with the great man. He was constantly being pressed for interviews. What was it the American wanted to see him about? A problem? Ah, yes, Senor Indan was requested to solve so many problems. It was very, very doubtful if he would grant an interview for such a slight matter. However, if the American would care to take his chances, Senor Indan was to appear at a reception on Tuesday night. Possibly there would be an opportunity to ask his question.

Professor Cheswick attended the reception. He stood in line for hours, a quiet, unassuming, unimportant looking little man, waiting for his chance to speak to the great Senor Indan. It came at last. At last the Mapleridge school teacher and scientist stood before the man he respected more than anyone else in the world.

He was so overcome by awe that for a moment he just stared. Senor Indan frowned impatiently and Professor Cheswick found his voice. He stated his question. The Senor's brows arched in surprise.

"An unusual question, Senor," he said. "Frankly, I cannot answer it. There is only one man in the world with enough knowledge and learning to find the answer. He is one of your own countrymen. My good friend Mons. Davillier is at this moment in America seeking an interview with this wizard whom the whole scientific world respects and admires, yet who is so absorbed in his work that it is difficult to persuade him to appear in public. I refer to Professor Aaron Cheswick of Mapleridge college."

TUSCOLA

COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Summer camp for Extension women and Homemakers' Week at Michigan State College were discussed at the Women's Extension Council meeting last week. Tuscola County women will participate in a camp at Sleeper State Park with women from Huron and Sanilac Counties. Camp will be held July 26-29.

The Council will send three delegates to Homemakers' Week at the College. They are the county chairman, Mrs. Harold Satchell; recreation chairman, Mrs. Louis Horwath; and achievement day chairman, Mrs. Roy Wagg. This event is held July 18-21 and is open to all Michigan women.

A series of lessons on making children's clothing will soon keep the Silverwood Extension Group busy with needle and thread.

Sewing machine attachments was the lesson given for the North Vassar Extension Group.

Reminder to orchard men—first application for cherry fruit fly, 2 pounds lead arsenate in usual fungicide should be completed in all counties in this part of the state, reports Tuscola County Agricultural Agent Loren S. Armbruster, who was notified by Prof. Ray Hutson, head of the MSC Entomology department.

The fourth annual Rural Leadership School will be held at MSC from July 10 to 21. This school is planned especially for rural clergy, lay leaders and others with a vital interest in the rural church. More details on this can be secured from the Tuscola County Extension Office.

The Millington ABA report for May showed that a total of 109 services were rendered during the month. Bernard Rohrer of Millington was signed up as a new member. A total of 875 services were given last month by the five artificial breeding associations of Tuscola County.

Dusting or spraying corn with DDT for corn borer control can be done soon. About 35 pounds of 5% DDT dust or 8 pounds of 50% wettable DDT per 100 gallons of water per acre will give effective control. For the home garden use 1% Rotenone dust will give satisfactory results.

25 Present at Jr. Farm Bureau Meet

The regular meeting of the Tuscola County Jr. Farm Bureau was held at the June Schoolhouse Monday, June 19. Twenty-five were present.

Plans were made for three representatives to go to Clear Lake Camp next week and also for 11 people to represent the Jr. Farm Bureau at Caseville for an overnight camp which combines the 4-H service clubs and Jr. Farm Bureau Clubs of four counties, Huron, Saginaw, Sanilac and Tuscola.

Entertainment for the meeting was led by Jack DeSimpelare.

Light refreshments were served by Mary Monroe.

The next meeting will be held at Enos Park on July 17. Lapeer County Jr. Farm Bureau will be guests. The event will start off with a ball game at 7:00. Anybody interested in Jr. Farm Bureau is welcome to come.

There are about 10 people from this county that are going to work at the Jr. Farm Bureau cafeteria at the Ionia Free Fair on August 8. This is a big project.

OFFICIAL HOARDING

The extent to which surplus inventories of stock are built up by some Federal agencies was recently pointed out to the House Appropriations Committee by Jess Larson, general services administrator. He said one agency had a supply of tracing cloth which would last them nine years, enough fluorescent light tubes to last 98 years, sufficient ruled filler paper to last 168 years and a stock of loose leaf binders which would last then 247 years.

Steel Genius

Captain William R. Jones was the outstanding production genius of the early bessemer steel era. Very early in his steelmaking career he nearly doubled previous records with similar equipment, and continued to produce what were then considered astounding ton-nages of steel.

Drive-in service stations were inaugurated in 1903. Today there are 250,000.

Charles Dana Gibson created the "Gibson Girl."

Doctor Thwarted In Research Dream Bestows Hospital

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA.—A frustrated researcher, who wants to see his wealth bear fruit in medical progress while he is still alive, has given away a hospital here.

The hospital, a private psychiatric institution, valued at $250,000, goes to the new Oklahoma medical research foundation. Dr. Coyne R. Campbell, a 45 year old physician who has practiced psychiatry here since 1933, is turning the Spencer Road sanitarium on the outskirts of Oklahoma City over to the research group. There was a touch of regret in his remarks as he announced his donation.

"I always wanted to do medical research," he explained, "but I got sidetracked into clinical medicine. This gift will compensate in part for my not having done research. Also I had rather make this gift at the age of 45 and see something come of it, than wait until I am 75 to give it."

"I can now see the fruits of my labor benefit other persons."

Once "sidetracked" Dr. Campbell indicated he was "sidetracked" from his own research ambitions simply by a combination of circumstances. On gaining his medical degree at the University of Chicago in 1933 he started a general practice in Frederick, Okla. But then his interests were suddenly switched to the field of psychiatry when he was named assistant superintendent of the Western Oklahoma state hospital.

This interest carried him into the specialized psychiatric field with graduate study at the Chicago Institute of Psychoanalysis. Completing this work he returned to Oklahoma to establish his own psychiatric clinic.

The doctor, who sees "no point in amassing great wealth," severed all proprietary interest in the sanitarium with his donation to the medical foundation. But last week, within a week of the original deal, Dr. Campbell agreed to the request of the research foundation's officials to stay on at the sanitarium as its director.

The foundation wanted him to take a 10 year contract guaranteeing the position but Dr. Campbell would have none of that.

No Conditions Attached

"The gift was made without any conditions as to the use to which the property will be put," the doctor explained. "Therefore I do not want the foundation to be bound by contract to employ me to operate the sanitarium for any specified period of time."

He therefore agreed to stay on "at the convenience of the foundation" at $500 a month. He also will continue his private practice at his own clinic in the city.

It's not the first time that Dr. Campbell has been moved to make a donation for research. Several years ago he contributed $3,000 to establish the John Arthur Hatchett fund at the University of Oklahoma medical school in Oklahoma City. That was the first research gift ever received by the school.

The hospital gift, largest single donation yet received by the research foundation, is better than money in the bank for the organization. It means a steady income, roughly estimated at $50,000 a year, in the years to come.

"The full importance of this gift," points out Hugh G. Payne, general manager of the foundation, "lies in the fact that it gives the foundation's research institute its first real measure of security."

Americans' Conveniences Due to Energy Harnessing

CINCINNATI, OHIO.—The conveniences and comforts that Americans enjoy are due primarily to man's ability to harness the energy of nature to satisfy his demands. That's the conclusion of Dr. Isay Balinkin, associate professor of experimental physics in the University of Cincinnati's college of engineering. His statement was made at the opening lecture to high school honor students in an application of physical sciences series.

"It is estimated that in 1949 every person in the United States used more than 1,600 kilowatt hours of energy," Dr. Balinkin said.

Winding Watch in Morning Found Best for Operation

ELGIN, ILL.—Before retiring to night, be sure to lock your door, put out the cat and brush your teeth.

But don't wind your watch, warns an expert, lest it become neurotic. According to William H. Sameilus, head of the Elgin watchmakers college, timepieces give best service if they're wound at the same time each day. And since our arising habits are more constant than our time of retiring, morning is the time to wind your watch.

Moreover, a timepiece wound in the morning is in better shape to take the jabs and jolts it is subjected to during the day.

Sanitation; Sprays Are Fly Control Keys

It is nothing new for farmers to be troubled with flies in dairy barns during the spring and summer, but Michigan State College entomologists say there are numerous ways to remedy the situation.

The best way yet devised to get rid of the fly is to exterminate his place of breeding, which is where ever manure or rotten plant materials are found. All manure should be scattered on the fields where it does the most good.

Draining of low wet places is important. Flies don't breed where it is dry. Screens should be used on the dairy barn to keep flies out. Screens on the milk house are a necessity.

Inside of the dairy barn, 10 pounds of 25 per cent wettable lindane powder or 40 pounds of 50 percent wettable methoxychlor powder to 100 gallons of water should be used for spraying. However, smaller amounts of spray solution can be made by reducing both the amount of insecticide and water, for example, one pound of lindane to 10 gallons of water. Sprays should be put uniformly on the walls and ceilings. Avoid too much run-off. As a word of warning, Ray L. James, MSC extension entomologist, urges farmers not to get lindane or methoxychlor into water, on drinking cups, or on the feed.

In Elizabethian Times

During the reign of Queen Elizabeth, the painters of signs sometimes encountered difficulties because the portraits they painted of her majesty were not sufficiently complimentary. Many of the portraits were chopped up and burned by the queen's order and proclamations were made regarding the censorship of royal portraits.

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Aileman.

From now until November election day, Michigan bi-partisan government will be somewhat of a farce. The governor's efficient press secretary, Paul Weber, is preparing a constant line of attack to run down Republicans' claims and to promote the Williams campaign for re-election. You may safely expect plenty of righteous and angry statements from both sides. Remember, 1950 is an election year.

After vetoing the $10,330 Louis A. Kunzig salary from the civil service budget, Governor G. Mennen Williams staged a friendly rescue act for the civil service commission's full constitutional allowance. He vetoed a legislative cut of $40,500, explaining that the state constitution required one per cent of the state salary total for maintenance of the civil service department. The $40,500 reduction would have been unconstitutional, said Williams. The commission had previously agreed to the cut.

The governor signed the legislature's $271,000,000 omnibus appropriation bill quite reluctantly. He said he was forced to sign it to prevent "financial chaos" although the amount was $70,000,000 less than he asked for and $14,000,000 less than the current year's total. Williams is disputing Republican claims of economy, while legislative leaders are pointing to the record as a real achievement—the first check on rising government expenditures since 1933.

Operations and payrolls of Michigan's mental hospitals will have to be trimmed after July 1, according to Charles F. Wagg, state mental health director. New vacancies will remain unfilled to the extent of 200 to 250 jobs. While cutting $1,878,000 from the hospital budget, the legislature added $100,000 to hire additional psychiatrists and adjust pay of those already in service.

Legislative bills to remedy so-called waste of public funds in welfare administration were permitted by Governor Williams to become law without his signature. The senate committee on social aid and welfare, headed by Colen Smith, reported Jan. 12 that "millions of dollars have been wasted" due to lax administration, especially in Detroit. The state puts up 50 cents of each relief dollar expended. The legislative bills were aimed at a tightening of practices which have contributed to higher welfare expenditures.

Stewart-Woodfill, president of Mackinac Island's Grand Hotel, offers this bit of convincing logic why a bridge should be built at the Straits: Assuming that no federal aid should be used, the bridge would pay for itself on the $1,000,000 annual loss to the state due to ferry operation deficit, depreciation of ferry and dock equipment, and interest on invested funds lost to the state. In 1949 the ferry fleet lost $613,500. This amount, if used to finance the bridge, would retire the bridge bond issue and leave the crossing then toll-free. The legislature authorized a study commission.

Add to the list of total losses from the University of Michigan fire that destroyed Haven Hall, the results of months of research for the state reorganization study.

One of the 27 state government functions now being studied by experts are state agencies dealing with labor, workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation.

Assistant Provost John A. Perkins, former state controller who is director of the project, Robert S. Ford, who is head of the university's Bureau of Government and Gordon Gary of the Bureau of Government had just about completed their report when—poof!—it all went up in smoke.

Perkins, Ford and Gary are now trying to put down on paper as much as they can remember.

Michigan 45,000 dairymen are observing June Dairy Month by pointing to these facts: Cash receipts of milk products were near $200 millions in 1949 for 30 per cent of Michigan's total farm income. The investment in production, processing and delivery exceeds a billion dollars.

Agricultural economists of Michigan State College forecast "slightly lower" farm produce prices in the second half of 1950, as compared with 1949. Farm income nationally is down 20 per cent from the 1948 peak.

Michigan automobile industry, and GM's five-year peace pact with CIO, is leading the nation's prosperity parade at present. Car output is forecast at seven million (including trucks). Retail trade is due to be better than 1949. However, consumers are still calling for reduction in prices, and the dependency of the 1950 boom on automobiles and housing has prompted several economists to recommend caution.

New Hampshire legislators are having trouble selecting an official state bird. Poultrymen want the utilitarian New Hampshire chicken, while birdlovers prefer the pert, snow-loving chickadee.

Butter

"YES, BUTTER DOES IT"

So said our friend when being complimented on his famous Sunday night scrambled eggs.

"Of course, one must have fresh eggs, some cream, mix them carefully and cook slowly, but when all's said and done, you simply must use a goodly amount of butter.

"It's butter that provides the delicious flavor which makes us pass our plates for another helping."

The BEST COOKS use plenty of BUTTER

Fastest Stairways

People who ride the fastest moving stairways in the United States hardly notice the difference in speed. Two units at Rockefeller Center in New York, travel 125 feet a minute, while all standard moving stairways in this country move 90 feet or slower.

Detroit Edison Co. Fetes 4-H Members

According to George C. MacQueen, assistant County agricultural agent, approximately fifty-four 4-H electric club members and leaders enjoyed the annual 4-H electric picnic at Sleeper State Park Tuesday, June 20. The host was the Detroit Edison Company who have this event as part of their program to recognize 4-H electric club members for work well done.

The day started off with a series of competitive games under the direction of Ed Dougherty, farm service adviser from Lapeer, and Wes Raven, farm service adviser from Caro. The games consisted of foot races, ball throwing and running broad jump. The group then enjoyed a swim under the supervision of Bill Quinn who acted as lifeguard.

After a hearty lunch prepared by local Detroit Edison staff, envelopes were presented to the club leaders by Wes Raven containing the first year shoulder badge and the chevrons for each member. Following this was the presentation of prizes to the game winners. Members who finished up with a first placing score were Louis Wenzloff, Fred Ruggles, Marvin Taylor and Clayton Ruggles of the Kingston Electrical Club; Frank McMullen, Ed Raymond and James Schlattman of the West Mayville Club; Keith Russell of the Box Alder Club; and Bob Martus of the West Elkland Club.

Second placing members were Raymond Schlattman and Richard Brigham of the West Mayville Club; Jerry Peter and Albert Ruggles of the Kingston Club; Alan Fields, Novesta Community; and Walter Dickerson, Box Alder.

Third placing was Aaron Clark, West Mayville Club. Mary Moyer won first in the girls events by correctly guessing the length of a ball of string; second was Mrs. Lorraine Donnelly, and third was Mrs. Helen Taggett.

Baseball and swimming took up the remainder of the afternoon program.

The Detroit Edison personnel who so ably acted as cooks were Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Vance, Miss Helen Higgins, Mrs. Bill Quinn, Max Lawrence, Irvin Teichman, Erwin Raven, Percy Nugent and Frank Hunt. The duty of nurse was performed by Mrs. Wes Raven.

July and August days are ripe for forest fires. More than 90 percent of them start with carelessness.

Beginning of Rubber

Prehistoric Indians were the first to tap the rubber tree. They made rubber shoes, bottles and coated fabrics. Columbus discovered them playing with rubber balls. It was not until 1770 that Dr. Joseph Priestly gave it the name of "rubber." He found that the gum removed pencil marks. But Europeans found rubber too sticky in hot weather and too brittle in cold.

Charles Goodyear, Yankee inventor, invented the vulcanizing process in 1839. After that the rubber industry boomed. Vulcanization made possible the many rubber products we have today—tires, clothing, insulation, foam rubber.

20/20 Vision

The idea that 20/20 vision is "perfect" is a fallacy, according to Dr. J. Otis White, Louisiana optometrist. It merely means that one can see what he should see at 20 feet, but gives no indication of one's ability to see within arm's length, the distance at which most critical seeing is done, he said.

Ether is produced by distillation of alcohol with sulphuric acid.
