

Swimming Pool At Park Is Busy Place This Summer

181 Young Folks from Four Near-by Villages Come Each Week

One hundred eighty-one young folks from four near-by villages come to the swimming pool in Recreation Park in Cass City to enjoy the bathing facilities. From three towns they come three times a week and from another village twice a week.

One hundred forty-one come under the Red Cross water safety program which is conducted by Chas. Hunt of Caro, county chairman, and James Baker of Cass City, instructor. Three times a week—Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings—are devoted to visits from Gagetown, Caro and Unionville youngsters. From 8:30 to 9:30 a. m., Gagetown sends 30. From 9:30 to 10:30, a Caro school bus brings 84 beginners and 12 intermediate swimmers, and the Unionville group of 57 beginners and six intermediates have the pool from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. From 11:30 to noon, the pool is occupied by advanced swimmers, most of whom are from Cass City.

Red Cross instruction is free and each bather from out-of-town pays five cents which partially pays for pool maintenance.

Twice a week, on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, the village recreation program of Marlette provides transportation facilities for 40 youngsters to the Cass City pool. Each swimmer pays the regular admission price.

Pupils attending grade and high schools in Cass City are admitted free to the pool from 2 to 4 p. m. each day except Sunday.

Primary Contests In Tuscola County Will Be Few

Only Two Officers Will Have Competition in the September Election

Two officers of Tuscola County who are candidates for nomination on the Republican ticket will have opposition in the September primary. Edmund Miller, drain commissioner, will have Freeland Sugden of Mayville as an opponent, and James Kirk, representative in the state legislature, will be opposed by R. Allison Green, a school teacher of Kingston.

Other Republican incumbents who have no opposition are: Sheriff, George F. Jeffery; clerk, Fred Matthews; treasurer, Arthur M. Willis; register of deeds, Ernest G. Luder; prosecuting attorney, C. W. Furman; coroners, Lee Huston, H. Theron Donahue.

Nominating petitions for the county officers have been filed for the following Democrats: M. J. Hill, Fairgrove, for sheriff; Ralph Dierck, Vassar for clerk; Chester L. Graham, Cass City, for treasurer; Nelson Kramer, Akron, for register of deeds; Jacob Gleason, Vassar, for drain commissioner; Carl Sherman, Akron, for representative.

$198,479 Is Bid to Complete the Hospital At Marlette

A proposal to complete the Marlette Community Hospital for the sum of $198,489.00 was the only bid to be made in response to the board of trustees' recent advertisement. No action was taken in regard to the bid, which was presented by the E. J. Kahmann Company of Port Huron.

The proposal was considered $100,000 too high, says the Marlette Leader.

If the present proposals for completion of the hospital were to be accepted, the cost would be about $28,000 per bed. The average for all hospitals recently constructed with government aid has been $12,000 per bed. Conjecture indicates that probably the contractors are so busy that they do not particularly desire additional work.

Pinned Under Wagon, Girl, 2, Fatally Injured

Karen Sue Nickerson Passed Away Five Hours After Accident

Karen Sue Nickerson, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Nickerson, was fatally injured when she tripped and fell under a hind wheel of a wagon, frightening the horses which backed the wheel onto the child. Melva, the child's six year old sister, with rare presence of mind, backed the team and wagon to free Karen Sue.

The accident occurred Saturday at 3:30 p. m. in front of the Nickerson home at the corner of Oak and Pine Streets. The team, belonging to Charles Hartzell, a Novesta Township farmer, was tied to a pole on Oak Street and was able to move a few feet from the hitching place.

The little girl was rushed to the Cass City Hospital, two blocks from the Nickerson home, where examination revealed internal injuries. She passed away that evening at 8:45 o'clock.

Karen Sue was born in this hospital on Nov. 3, 1947. Funeral services were conducted in Little's Funeral Home on Monday afternoon at four o'clock by Rev. Fred Belleville, pastor of the Cass City Church of the Nazarene. Burial was made in Elkland cemetery.

New Wage Schedule Made for Condensery Workers Here

Members of Local No. 88, CIO, United Dairy Workers, and representatives of The Nestle Co., Inc., were in conference recently regarding a new scale of wages for the coming year. The new rate calls for five cents an hour more than has been in force here the past year and it is anticipated that such a contract will receive the company's approval very soon.

The new scale is $1.25 an hour for skilled labor, $1.18 for semi-skilled and $1.18 for general labor. This is on a 40-hour a week basis. Time and a half is paid for more than 40 hours a week and the usual working period is 48 hours. Working foremen's wage rates were also increased five cents an hour.

In addition to these wages, The Nestle Co. pays one-half of the workman's hospital and medical insurance.

Grasshoppers Need Killing Now

Instead of waiting to see if grasshoppers are going to do damage this year, farmers should kill the small grasshoppers in and around the hatching bed now, according to Ray L. Jones, extension entomology specialist at Michigan State College.

It is a known fact that it is much easier to kill small grasshoppers now than it is to get rid of the larger ones which will be destroying crops later on in the season. Farmers should watch for areas where small grasshoppers are located. These areas can be spot treated with insecticide.

If in doubt about the proper methods of ridding fields of grasshoppers, farmers should by all means contact their county agent, Jones said. County agents throughout the state have Michigan State College information outlining methods in the prevention and extermination of grasshoppers. County agents can also give advice in applying insecticides.

If crops and fields are treated early, it should cost less since smaller areas will be in need of treatment.

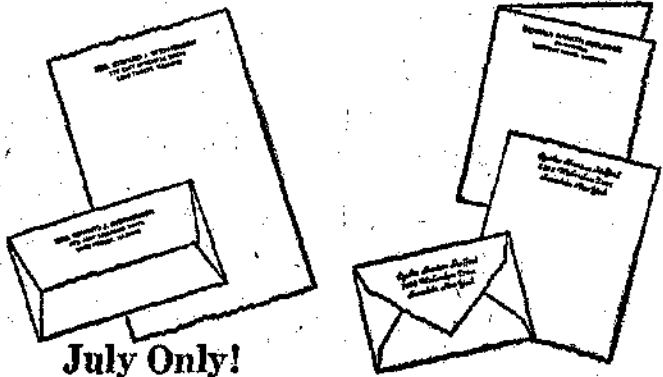

You can't check on a cow's production if you don't have some kind of record. Michigan State College dairymen say that weighing milk from each cow daily will help to give an idea of the cow's annual production. Then you can decide whether to keep the cow.

Cleaning the calf pens more often than usual is cited as one of the best ways to keep the flies down. Michigan State College dairymen say this will also reduce the amount of scours and other diseases.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Eugenia McKinney of Somerset, Ky.: "I remember when Kentucky farmers had log rollings. I was only a small girl at the time, but I still remember when the neighbor men from all around gathered to help roll the logs. After the timber had been sawed down and the limbs piled up for burning, the women folk would come and prepare the noon meal. How I enjoyed that chicken and dumpling dinner, cake and pie!"

From James A. McFaul of Oxford, Me.: "I remember hearing a woman caller at our home in Penobscot, Me., back in 1882 saying that if eggs stayed at 12 cents a dozen, she would be satisfied."

From Mrs. Sylvia Belfield of Hallstead, Pa.: "I remember the first cocoa we bought. We steeped the little shells in hot water for a long time to make the syrup. I also remember helping Mother make soap with lye made from wood ashes and candles with tallow from the beef we butchered in the fall."

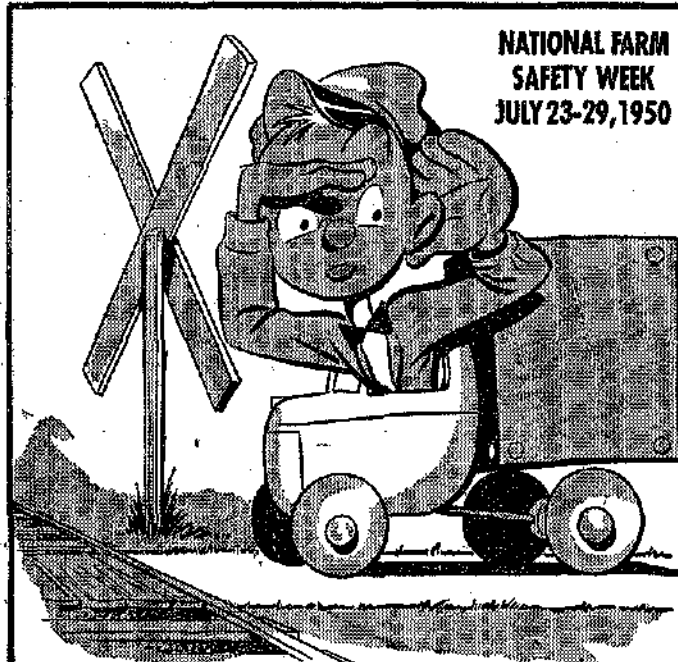

From Mrs. Everett Carter of Wilkesville, Ill.: "I remember when my older sister's beaux would come a-courting. They would bring chewing gum in squares (five in a bunch) with the words 'Kiss-Me-Gum' on them. I wonder how many youngsters ever saw gum done up that way."

From Willard S. Richey of Atwood, Ill.: "I remember when fruit was dried and preserved instead of canned... when kraut was made with a spade... when doors hung on wooden hinges."

From Mrs. Vera Norton of Mesa, Ariz.: "I remember Father's white shirt with its stiff, starched bosom. Was it ever good looking with those tiny gold studs down the center!"

From C. S. Cooper of Xenia, O.: "I remember when granulated sugar first appeared on the market... when men wore fancy vests and had a comb and tooth brush sticking out of the upper left-hand pocket... when no one ever heard of vitamins or calories."

Members and friends of Uby, Jumber and Argyle will worship with their Holbrook friends at the church Sunday, July 9, at 10 a. m. All are welcome. The youth fellowship of the four churches will meet

Seeding of Grass
Grass should be seeded about 1/2 inch deep in loam and clay soils; 3/4 to 1 inch deep in sandy soils. A firm seedbed is desirable.

STRAWBERRIES

The Anglo-Saxons were calling them strawberries a thousand years ago, and thanking June for them. The story goes that the ancient Angles liked to go berrying but were short of baskets, so they simply strung the fruit on such straws as they found in the field. That, it is said, is how strawberries got their name. It sounds like a waste of that nectar juice which makes a strawberry worth eating; but it may be only another legend. The fact remains that strawberries have reddened the lips of mankind for many, many generations.

Until just over a hundred years ago, however, they were the small, sweet, wild berries of the open fields. By most accounts the Hovey was the first tame strawberry and was originated in Massachusetts in 1834. After that dozens, and even hundreds, of varieties were evolved, including tasteless giants as well as thumb-size berries with almost as much flavor as the wild progenitors. And most of them have flowers pretty enough to pick—if one didn't stop to think that every unpicked flower will become a luscious mouthful of sweetness.

A good strawberry bed, in a good season, is one of the most satisfying components of any garden. This has been a good season, with just the right amount of rain and sun and wind and humidity for strawberries. They are fat and red-checked now—and don't think that such wild creatures as catbirds, chipmunks and small boys aren't well aware of it! Why, by the way, don't such creatures of the wild go hunt for the wild berries? Anyway, strawberries are ripening, and the sweetness of June and the whole essence of early summer is in their flavor. The old Anglo-Saxons knew what they were about when they went berrying in June. And so do we.—N. Y. Times.

Gridiron
Canvas "tarps" are spread over the "gridiron" before the games to keep the field in good condition and protect it from weather damage.

TUSCOLA COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Now is the time to begin clearing out and disinfecting grain storage bins for the summer grain harvest. The granary should be cleaned out and treated with DDT at least two weeks before new grain is put into it. Details on cleaning are contained in a folder which can be obtained from the county agent's office.

Tuscola County Agricultural Agent Loren S. Armbruster will attend the county agents' summer school at Chatham, Michigan, the week of July 10. All Michigan agricultural agents and extension specialists from MSC will gather for the annual event. Chatham is the upper peninsula experiment station of MSC.

There are still a few days left for beef feeders to enroll in the 1950 Michigan Beef Calf feeding project. The feeding project will cover a 210 day period when those calves that gain two pounds or more per day will be shown at the 1951 Farmers' Week show next January and auctioned off at their regular fat steer auction. Entry blanks and information can be secured from Agent Armbruster.

Farmers are cautioned to be on the alert for army worms. Last year considerable damage was done to spring grains and corn. Spraying or dusting with toxaphene, chlordane or DDT will be effective. Check grain field frequently before a heavy infestation damages the grain.

Farm account book cooperators of Tuscola County will be given assistance in their record keeping on July 20. Extension Specialist in Farm Management Warren Vincent from MSC and County Agricultural Agent Armbruster will visit and check books with the farms. This year thirteen farmers are cooperating in this project.

The Thumb Valley Sheep Day will be held Friday, July 28, at the Black Bros. farm, 1 mile east of Quanicasse.

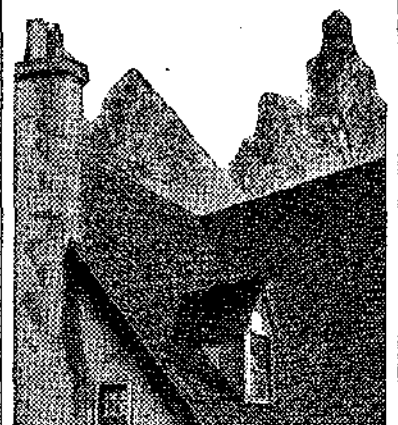

The Achievement Day committee for women's extension will meet Tuesday, July 11, at 2 p. m. in the courthouse at Caro.

Women planning to attend Homemakers' Conference at Michigan State College should notify Miss Jean E. Gillies, home demonstration agent, at the courthouse by Monday, July 10. Reservations for the county will then be forwarded to the college. Homemakers' Conference dates are July 18-21.

Telltale Sign
If a horse stops sweating, or its muscles begin to tremble, while working in the field, it indicates approaching heat-stroke. Prompt treatment is essential in such cases.

"The Marseillaise"
Because soldiers of Marseilles, marching into Paris to take part in the attack on the Tuilleries in 1792, sang Rouget de Lisle's battle song with such spirit and vigor, it became known as the "Marseillaise."

Scoring Meat
To score meat you make light cuts on the surface, usually in criss-cross fashion. Thin slices of round steak are sometimes scored when it is to be pan fried to make it more tender.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

The Car that puts your Best Foot forward

WE think you'll agree that the whole story of an automobile isn't told in its power, its room, its styling, even in its ride.

There is the all-important point about what a car does to you—and that's where ROADMASTER really shines.

For you can't slip into this bonny beauty's broad seats without feeling like somebody pretty special.

When you take its neat wheel in your hand—when you cut loose, with a toe-touch, the rich baritone of its big Fireball straight-eight power plant—when you feel the smooth surge of its Dynaflo-cushioned take-off—

Man, then you know you've got a real automobile!

And don't overlook this:

That graceful sweep of chrome along the fender—found on no other car made today—is a mighty eye-catching note of distinction.

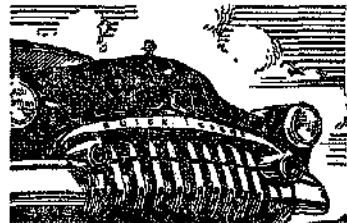

Those four Ventiports, too, cause many a head to turn—they mark you unmistakably as the owner of the biggest and best Buick built—a car as fine and rich as any man has need for.

There are a lot of good, solid, dollars-and-cents reasons for making ROADMASTER your choice over any other car:

Its size. The commanding performance of its 152-hp Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine. Dynaflo Drive standard. A ride that's quite matchless in its gentle softness. Distinguished styling from bold, protective front end to gleaming "double bubble" taillight.

But if you're ready for a car that's more than just an automobile—if you want one that puts your best foot forward in any company—that's the real reason for seeing your Buick dealer quickly—to talk turkey about a ROADMASTER.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT

This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

Atom-Powered Plane Of Supersonic Speeds Said in Production

CLEVELAND, OHIO. — Development of an atomic-powered airplane, able to circle the globe at supersonic speeds, is in progress and a date for its test flight is in the offing.

Andrew Altinsky, chief engineer of the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic center has said that work on the plane is on a definite timetable.

The plane will be of larger dimensions than current bombers, it was said, but will resemble present supersonic models in appearance.

Speaking before the institute of aeronautical sciences, the 39-year old scientist said the main obstacle to overcome will be the shielding against lethal nuclear radiation within weight limits imposed by aircraft. However, he said the tremendous weight of gasoline in conventional aircraft affords a good margin for the shielding job, since fuel weight will be negligible in an atomic-powered plane.

"A pound of uranium has about two million times as much energy as a pound of gasoline," Altinsky said, "and that's what excites scientists, since present supersonic planes use fuel so fast and can carry so little that the X-1 rocket craft, for example, can only fly three minutes."

Altinsky said there still remain many complicated problems in the application of atomic energy to aircraft, but "these problems do not look insurmountable."

The development of the atomic-powered aircraft is a joint undertaking of the atomic energy commission, the national advisory committee for aeronautics and the air force and navy.

Angered Burglar Sets Fire When Safe Empty

CINCINNATI.—A burglar, angered because he couldn't crack a safe in the Queen City Laundry here, set fire to the place and left a note telling why.

The note, found in the laundry office, said:

"Next time leave some money around. See what you had to pay for not having money handy for a poor fellow. Your poor safe—So sorry. Haw, haw, haw."

Fire Marshal Joseph Devine said kerosene had been spilled over office furniture to start the fire. A watchman in a next-door warehouse saw the blaze, however, and damage was limited to $200.

Atom Bombing Survivors Appear Now Out of Danger

WASHINGTON.—After more than five years, survivors of the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki appear to be out of danger. Very few of the dreaded delayed effects have appeared, according to reports to the atomic energy commission.

A thorough study of the blood picture of the survivors was made last year. There was a slight decrease from normal in both red blood cells and various types of white cells, but this was not sufficient to affect general health. Almost the same picture obtained in the Japanese city of Kure, which suffered no atomic bombardment.

A good many babies have been born in both A-bombed cities since 1945. There were predictions that children of the bomb victims would show a high percentage of deformity. This has not been the case.

There was only one significant positive finding reported by a team of doctors headed by Dr. David Cogan of Harvard university. They detected 10 cases of cataracts of the eyes which were undoubtedly due to radiation. Accepting those examined as a fair sample, it is predicted that about 6 per cent of all those within 1,000 yards of the center of the explosion eventually will develop such cataracts, which lead to blindness.

"Otherwise," says the report, "those surviving the acute effects of radiation can expect a reasonably normal life."

It is stressed, however, that it may still be too early to make this prediction with complete assurance. There is reason to suppose that there will be a somewhat greater amount of leukemia, the incurable "blood cancer," as the years go by.

Russia Named Beneficiary In Will of Late New Yorker

NEW YORK.—New Yorker Laird Shields Goldsborough has bequeathed "certain articles of special rarity" to the Russian government. Shields, a former foreign affairs editor of Time magazine, jumped or fell to his death from his office on the ninth floor of 9 Rockefeller plaza.

In his will, he named the Russian government an alternative legatee to the contents of a safe deposit box, described only as "certain articles of special rarity."

The Elizabethan club of Yale university, the Metropolitan museum of art, the British museum in London and the Hermitage museum of Leningrad, in turn, have the chance to take the articles.

If none accepts, Goldsborough's will directed that "said articles be given to the de facto government for the time being in Russia, to have and to hold to its own use and benefit absolutely and forever."

SMART FIGURING

Johnny giggled when the teacher read the story of a man who swam a river three times before breakfast.

"You do not doubt that a trained swimmer could do that, do you?" asked the teacher.

"No, sir," replied Johnny, "but I wonder why he didn't make it four times and get back to the side where his clothes were."

MATTER OF LOCATION

Tommy came home proudly from his first day at school. "What did you learn in school?" asked his mother.

"Nothing," said Tommy; then, seeing the look of disappointment on her face, he added, "but I learned a lot during recess!"

Last Laugh

One chilly day, a Midwestern concern advertised that it would give away coal shovels to the first 150 persons who showed up at its office. It did, too, and that evening 150 persons were shoveling coal in their basements with brand-new shovels, each of which had this message engraved on it: "If you had installed one of our oil heaters, you would now be sitting comfortably in the living room."

Breathing by Electricity

The newest weapon in the battle against infantile paralysis is demonstrated by Dr. Ethel T. Calhoun, medical director of the Sister Kenny Polio Center near Pontiac. It is an electro-phrenic respirator, which can be used in place of an iron lung in certain bulbar polio cases. When the pen-shaped conductor the doctor is holding is touched to the phrenic nerve, electric current forces the patient to breathe. The Kenny Center, which is supported by the United Fund, is the only hospital in Michigan where the famed technique of Sister Kenny is employed and patients are accepted from any part of the state. Nancy Withers, 4, of Royal Oak, is pictured.

Steamboat Race

In early steamboat days, history was made in the race between the ornate, palatial Natchez and the Robert E. Lee. The rivals started puffing out the Mississippi from New Orleans on June 30, 1870. The Robert E. Lee was the first to make the goal, at St. Louis, on the 4th of July.

To the Voters Of Sanilac County:

I have filed my petitions for the office of State Representative for the primaries to be held Sept. 12, 1950. Thre other candidates have entered the race for this office. Two are fellow supervisors with whom it has been a pleasure to work on the County Board. They are well liked in their communities. The third is a young man who is making his second try for public office. He is highly regarded by his neighbors.

I pledge a clean, aggressive campaign, devoid of personalities or mud-throwing.

I shall adhere to my platform of more and better roads for ALL of Sanilac County.

If I win, I will give Sanilac County my best efforts; if I lose, I will be the first to congratulate the winner and offer him my support.

The "arsenal of democracy" for World War II is getting ready for World War III.

While hoping that Russia would not precipitate another world conflagration, Michigan Government and civilian leaders are taking a practical viewpoint. If war does break out, Michigan can expect aerial attack from the enemy for the first time in the commonwealth's history.

Governor G. Mennen Williams has asked mayors of 45 cities, all over 10,000 population, to appoint civilian defense directors at once. A temporary air raid warning system will be placed into operation by Commissioner Donald Leonard, Michigan State Police.

The governor was assured by Rep. Victor Knox, speaker of the House, that the legislature would convene promptly if, in the opinion of the governor, new legislation was needed to prepare Michigan for any emergency. The legislature is now technically in recess.

At the Soo locks the government closed the locks to visitors as a security precaution, labeled as a "10-day test."

The state police radio network is being alerted for possible emergency use.

In Detroit, where munitions were mass-produced during World War II at victorious volume, steps have been taken to notify the public if Russia attempts a sneak attack by air. Sirens have been silenced on police and fire equipment so that the sound of sirens, at any time, will mean just one thing: WAR! Augmenting the police-fire siren warnings will be the whistles of 140 factories.

Plans to evacuate industrial centers are being rushed, while first aid organization was being pushed to provide doctors, nurses and nurses' aides for bombed areas. All of these hurried preparations reveal the extent to which Michigan citizens have been suffering from war jitters.

At Washington the congress approved extension of the Draft, empowering the president to draft needed manpower for the armed forces, now 635,000 men short. Michigan's selective service machinery is being kept on a stand-by basis for instant call.

Lansing will bring all civilian defense coordinators for a state-wide session.

Detroit's coordinator, Brig. Gen. Clyde E. Dougherty, gave this bit of advice, as publicized in the press:

"All I can say is be calm, don't get hysterical, get under cover, turn off the gas and lights, leave the radio on for advice, and have plenty of water available."

Washington advice is that an outbreak of war would automatically invoke the most drastic restrictions on food, transportation, and materials. Prices would be put under ceilings; wages probably frozen.

All of this disturbing preparation is likely, as long as the war clouds are on the horizon, to prompt apprehensive housewives to "play safe" by purchasing a few extra pounds of sugar; families to take that year-planned vacation in the near future and perhaps to order a new automobile, television set, clothes and other commodities which might become scarce articles. Hoarding of this kind will have one inevitable result: An artificial shortage, thus created, will skyrocket prices unnecessarily.

And yet human nature may be expected to function, as it always does.

Michigan's big news-of-the-week is the hurried preparation to get under cover from Russian bombing planes if and when war breaks.

If war does not come, the preparations may be regarded as constructive for test training purposes.

If war does come, a lot of people fear that Michigan may be caught unprepared. The big industrial centers and the Soo locks offer ideal targets, and a few bombs, placed accurately, could become miniature "Pearl Harbors" to American security.

Imitate the Cat
Cats are clever. When they wake, they stretch and yawn. Humans should follow suit. The full-bodied stretch relaxes muscles and gets them ready for work.

Farmer Finds Blower Effective Hay Dryer

Mounted on Cart, It's Easy to Move About

Wet springs and early frosts aren't the headaches they once were to a growing number of farmers. For they have discovered that immature grain can be cured just as effectively in storage buildings as in the field.

The average farmer will find that mechanical drying of hay and grain is not as expensive as it would appear. Hay and grain saved will soon pay for equipment.

Equipment for mechanical drying of grain is simple, and present farm structures can be converted easily, quickly and inexpensively to handle this newest of farm production chores. Farmers, who have hay curing equipment, will find that the same fan and motor can be used for both drying grain and finishing forage crops.

The accompanying illustration shows what can be done in the way of inter-changing hay curing and grain drying equipment. When the hay curing season is over, the farmer mounts his fan and motor on a cart and hauls them to a crib where they are put to use blowing moisture out of his immature corn. An outlet, into which he plugs his five-horsepower motor, is located in an adjacent building.

When double cribs are used, as in the case shown, the air blast enters through one end of the driveway. The opposite end is sealed up, and heavy paper placed on walls of the crib from the peak of the roof to the top of the corn layer. Openings around the fan and in the floor also are closed. In single cribs, wooden ducts or "A" frames are laid down the center of the floor and the air blown directly into them.

Drying is successful without supplementary heat when the temperature is 60 or above and the relative humidity 65 per cent or below. If heat is used, buildings should be insulated and properly ventilated. Warm air is blown into storage sheds by motor driven fans. Thermostats and other controls automatically keep the temperature and the flow of air at efficient drying levels.

Here's a right smart idea for a feed and grain scoop that eliminates the wrist strain of scoops with the usual projecting handles. For a large scoop, one that can be used in sacking grain, 20-gauge galvanized material is about right. The scrap iron brace to which the front end of the handle is bolted helps hold light metal in shape.

Year's Fruit Prospects Hit by Widespread Damage

Explosive April caused considerable damage to budding fruit and a great drop in the year's prospects is indicated.

South Carolina, Virginia and Georgia suffered damaged peaches. Washington, Idaho and Oregon show a 100 percent bud loss and many trees killed. Damage in southern Illinois ranged from 50 to 100 per cent, according to some reports by farm bureaus.

The road bee in the Pingree community was a grand success the first half day. A drizzling rain spoiled the afternoon. One hundred loads of gravel were placed on the grade in a little less than five hours.

Eight hundred witnessed the first confirmation of 100 children and adults at St. Agatha church at Gagetown Wednesday morning. Bishop E. D. Kelley preached the sermon. Following the confirmation, the clergy and audience marched from the old church to the new one now in process of building.

Harold Dickinson, a freshman in high school, carried six studies during the last semester and secured an average standing of 92%.

Ward Benkelman, Harry Young, Frank Young, Alvin Ward, Fred Maier, D. G. Schneider and George West attended Ringling Bros. circus at Saginaw Monday.

Cricket's Chirping

If you will count the chirps a cricket makes a minute, divide by 4 and add 40 the answer should be roughly the Fahrenheit temperature.

Philosopher's Stone

If you know how to spend less than you get, you have the philosopher's stone—Benjamin Franklin

Aliquippa, Pennsylvania

Queen Aliquippa of the Lenni-Lenape Indian tribe ruled villages on the Monongahela and Ohio Rivers. She lent assistance to George Washington when he went into the Ohio Valley. The city which now bears her name is about 20 miles from Pittsburgh, on the Ohio River, in the region over which she once reigned. Steelmaking began in Aliquippa towards the end of the 19th Century. Today, the town has a capacity of more than 1,700,000 tons of open hearth, bessemer and electric furnace steel.

Children's Tastes

Children and babies have taste preference just as adults have, and therefore should not be forced to eat anything set before them. Giving children some leeway in the amount and kind of food they eat does much to insure the health of the child and the peace of the whole family.

Crow Not So Bad

Although many farmers dislike crows because they destroy corn, these birds also help the farmer by eating many insect pests. Scientists have estimated that crows will eat 19 bushels of insects in one season on the average farm.

Modern 'Rail-Splitters'

To test new cutting tools, engineers whittle cast iron "logs" weighing half a ton into millions of iron chips. The cutting tools then are examined under a microscope for wear.

Washing Chenille

Chenille spreads should be washed as soon as they have become soiled. Short, frequent washings are better than an occasional lone one. Do not soak the spreads.

1949 Auto Production

The 53 automobile manufacturers in the United States set a new production record in 1949 by turning out 6,250,000 cars, trucks, and buses. This tops the previous record, set in 1929, by almost a million vehicles.

Charity in Children

Although "cleanliness is next to Godliness," do not stifle the practices of charity in the effort to keep your children clean. It is more important to praise a child for wanting to share his food with the family pet than to scold him for being dirty. It is easy to learn about germs when one is older. It may not be so easy to unlearn selfishness.

"Smiling Through"

THIS STORY IS ABOUT a sick girl for whom the doctor prescribed work. Yes, she was thinking too much about herself and was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. More and more, doctors are coming to doctoring the mind as well as—and often instead of—the body.

This girl is named Joan Morytko, and she lives in Waterbury, Conn. She had not worked for nearly a year when her doctor diagnosed her case and gave her the above advice. She looked upon herself as too sick to go to work, and this made the doctor seem a hard-hearted sort of a guy, or it would have had he not also seemed to have her real interest at heart. So she got a job and it wasn't long before she actually felt better, as the doctor had said she would.

Carnegie

After working six months, she found a note in her pay envelope one day saying that due to government cancellations of orders, she was being laid off. She knew this was not the true reason for her discharge, for she worked in the sample department, and she knew what orders came in.

She decided to have a talk with the boss and find out the real reason for them laying her off. He looked at her closely, and kindly, then said, "Well, Joan, I'll tell you; you never smile. We like to have happy people around here for when one employee is unhappy, or disgruntled the other employees are affected. An unhappy worker, is sure to mean poor work in the long run. And we can't afford it."

Maybe that explanation didn't come as a big surprise. Joan had never thought of her unhappiness affecting anyone but herself. But she could readily see that it might, now that she analyzed her situation. So she got to work to learn the way out of the dense woods in which she found herself.

One of the first things she ran across at the library was an article on smiling, the effect it had on others, as well as on the one who did the smiling. She began smiling at those she met. She liked the responses she got. She says never again will she lose out because she doesn't look at the happy side of life, and smile her way through.

Farm timber is a good source of fence posts. Michigan State College foresters say consideration should be given to treating the timber with preservative material.

Harvest Wheat Only When It Is Ripe

Several thousand bushels of Michigan wheat were lost last year because some farmers combined their wheat before it was ready. A golden yellow color doesn't indicate the wheat field is ready for harvest, according to Michigan State College extension specialists. But it does mean harvest time is approaching.

One of the best ways to find out whether the field is ready to be harvested is to rub several heads of wheat between the hands. If the wheat kernels shell out easily it means that the crop is approaching the time it should be harvested. However, it still doesn't signify the crop is ready for harvest.

Another helpful method is to use the salt test. Wheat growers not familiar with the salt test should contact their county agent or the local elevator manager. A final test can be run by an elevator operator to determine the moisture content. This is called the moisture test.

If the moisture test shows the wheat contains more than 14 per cent moisture, the wheat is not ready for combining. Wheat combined before it is ready, or too soon after a rain will not keep in storage either on the farm or in the grain elevator. The temptation may be strong to harvest the wheat before it is down to 14 per cent moisture content. However, wheat growers should remember that bin damage has caused huge losses of Michigan wheat not only last year, but for many years.

Information telling growers how to prevent damage to stored wheat is contained in an extension folder numbered 134. It may be obtained from any county agent or by writing the Bulletin Office at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Predict July Farm Trends

Here are some farm outlook predictions for July, as seen by Michigan State College agricultural economists. The forecast is contained in the current issue of Michigan Farm Economics, monthly extension publication available to farmers and others interested in timely topics about the business of farming.

The seasonal price decline for Michigan wheat will likely be less than in recent years, although market price at harvest time will be below the government support price. The average price should be near the loan rate following the harvest rush. Support price will be 90 percent of July parity.

Top grade slaughter cattle prices are expected to work toward their seasonal peak during July. Stocker and feeder prices should hold steady or work lower. Hog prices probably will be steady to slightly higher.

Egg prices will be about five cents a dozen above June levels. As we enter the short production season, poultrymen can well afford to concentrate on keeping good layers in production as long as possible.

The market for dry edible beans is expected to be strong for the balance of present crop. The price of the 1950 crop may depend upon how much of the crop is grown within acreage allotments. Support price has been set at $6.30 per cwt. national average, on thrasher-run basis. This is also the expected farmer loan price for white pea beans. Farmers overplanting allotments of beans will not be eligible for support guarantees.

Late Blight Takes Heavy Potato Toll

A good stand of potatoes depends on killing bugs and eliminating diseases which attack the foliage, according to H. C. Moore, Michigan State College farm crops specialist.

Late blight takes a heavy toll of the state's potatoes. Early blight, another fungous disease, kills the vines prematurely and reduces the yield considerably. The greatest loss is caused by leaf hoppers, flea beetles, and the Colorado potato beetle.

Potato growers can check the spread of fungus diseases and control insect activity by applying thorough and timely sprays of bordeaux mixture and DDT. The formula to use is eight pounds copper sulphate and four pounds hydrated lime to 100 gallons of water with one and one-half to two pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT. Late in the season the DDT may be omitted if insects are not a problem.

In place of bordeaux, growers may use the fixed coppers or Dithane for control of blights. Directions given by the manufacturer should be followed closely.

The first spray should be applied when plants are about four inches high. Other applications should be applied throughout the season at seven to 10-day intervals.

GRANT W. S. C. S. MET AT CHURCH ON THURSDAY

The Grant Women's Society of Christian Service met at the church Thursday, June 29, for dinner and quilting. Mrs. Willard Elliott and Mrs. Clifton Endersbe were hostesses.

The business meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Howard Britt, and Mrs. Haskett Blair led in the devotions. She read a poem, "Little Things," and Psalm 121, followed by everyone repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Roll call was responded to by 11 members and one visitor, Mrs. LaVern Elliott, giving Bible verses.

Mrs. Clayton Moore and Mrs. Lawrence Moore were unanimously elected as secretaries of children's work. They will also be hostesses for the next meeting.

Volunteers to clean the church for the following months are: July and August, Mrs. Clayton Moore and Mrs. Lawrence Moore; September, Mrs. Haskett Blair; October, Mrs. Willard Elliott.

FAMILY NIGHT AT THE GRANT CHURCH ON JUNE 29

Family night was held at the Grant Methodist Church on Thursday, June 29. The program opened with the group singing hymns and a welcome was given the new minister, Rev. Cheney, and his wife by Haskett Blair.

An enjoyable hour was spent with Mrs. Haskett Blair, Mrs. Clayton Moore and Mrs. Lawrence Moore leading the group in games. This was followed by a potluck lunch, ice cream and coffee. The kitchen hostesses were Mrs. Clark Sowden and Mrs. Eva Moore. The committee for next month will be announced later.

The last Thursday of every month is set aside as Family Night at Grant Methodist Church and anyone is welcome to come.
