

Landmark in Cass City Changed Hands This Week

The H. O. Paul Co. Buy Mill Property from Roy M. Taylor

When the H. O. Paul Co. completed their building on East Main St., nearly two years ago, there appeared to be plenty of room. Since that time, however, they have built an addition to the south and this week papers were signed which transferred from Roy M. Taylor, the Elkland Roller Mills property at the corner of

Landmark Sold

Main and Maple Streets, to the Paul Co. The building will be torn down, probably this fall. The new owners plan to erect a warehouse at the rear of the lot. Possession will be given Monday, July 24.

With the building was also purchased the milling machinery which the H. O. Paul Co. plan to sell. Ralph Youngs has purchased the poultry equipment and feed which Mr. Taylor has been handling.

The mill property is a landmark in Cass City. The business was first established in the late "seventies" by Nash & Laing and later became a possession of J. C. Laing. There were several changes in ownership before Mr. Taylor acquired the business on July 1, 1920, from Hyde & Andrews.

While Mr. Taylor discontinued the manufacture of flour about 12 years ago, there has been no difficulty since in securing the ingredients needed to bake the staff of life, but back in the "sixties" it was decidedly different. John Benkelman, pioneer resident here, recalls how his father, Adam Benkelman, cut wheat around the stumps with a sickle back in 1867. The grain was taken into the log home and the children stomped the wheat in a threshing process. Then Adam Benkelman hitched his yoke of oxen to a sleigh and loading his two bags of wheat and some wheat of his neighbors drove to Wahjamega where the nearest grist mill was located to have the wheat ground into flour.

4-H Demonstration Day on August 1

4-H club demonstration teams of Sanilac County will hold a demonstration day and county elimination contest at the Sandusky Methodist Church beginning at 10 a. m. on August 1.

Facilities will be available for the presentation of all types of 4-H project demonstrations. Any livestock team having animals to work with will be provided a shady place or building in which to work. Individuals or teams may put on any demonstration concerning the project they are now carrying or carried this past winter.

The top team or individual in each project will be selected to represent the county at the State 4-H club show if the members were 14 years old or older by January 1, 1950. There will be competent judges on hand to give all teams constructive criticism. Parents, leaders, and the public are urged to attend this event.

Tennis Tourneys For Six Different Groups at Park

Novice, Junior and Senior Classes for Boys and Girls

Through plans which have been promoted by the Rotary Club, it is very probable that the two tennis courts at the Village Park will be used to near capacity for the next four or five weeks. These plans provide for tournaments among six different groups—three for boys and men, and three for girls and women—to determine the local "champion" in each of three age groups.

There will be a "Novice" class for boys, and also one for girls, including in each case any youngster not more than 11 years old; the "Junior" class will include all those whose ages are 12 through 15, and here, too, both the boys and girls will have their own separate tournament. Any person 16 years old or older may enter in the "Senior" class, with again a tournament for men, and a separate one for women.

Suitable trophies to designate the winner in each of the six classes are being arranged for, and will be on display in one of the local stores by the time actual tournament play is begun. There is no charge of any kind for entering the tournament, and anyone who has an urge to enter the competition is invited to register his name and age at either of the two local banks, where entries are being received. Monday, July 31, has been set as the deadline for receiving entries, so that drawing for the first round in each class may be made and the pairing of contestants announced in the Chronicle issue of August 4.

It is expected then that actual play will be in progress by August 6.

Townsend's Back from Northwest Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Townsend returned Sunday from a six weeks' vacation in the Pacific Northwest. The round trip from Cass City to Prince Rupert, British Columbia, took them almost 6,000 miles.

One of the high lights of the trip, according to Mrs. Townsend, was a visit to the halibut fishing docks at Prince Rupert. They arrived in time to watch one of the sea-going fishing boats unload its cargo of halibut. The huge fish average 60 pounds, although some run as high as 100 pounds.

On the return trip, the Townsends stopped at Lake Francois in British Columbia where Mr. Townsend spent a week fishing. They also visited two sisters and two brothers of Mrs. Townsend who live in the Northwest. Original plans called for a visit to Alaska by boat, but the excursion was cancelled when they were delayed by a snow-blocked road between Jasper, Alberta, and Banff. The route was plowed just before they left.

Near Jasper, the Townsends drove half way up the 11,000-foot Mt. Edith Cavell. While they were there, snow on a near-by mountain began to slide, uprooting trees that were in its path. Mrs. Townsend said.

Boy Scouts Give Report of Jamboree Trip to Valley Forge

Rotary Will Sponsor Tennis Tournaments for Three Age Groups

Camping out under the stars in one of the most historic spots in the United States was the experience of William Martus and Jas. Ware, members of Cass City Scout Troop 194.

The boys were selected for their high Scouting qualifications to attend the International Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., held June 30 to July 6. Ray Fleener, chairman of the troop committee, accompanied them. The group, sponsored by Rotary, reported on their activities at the Rotary luncheon Tuesday.

They, like 47,000 other Scouts from all over the world, pitched tents near the spot where Washington rallied his forces during the winter of 1776 under threat of British attack. But it wasn't the British the young woodsmen had to be on the alert for this time. It was poison ivy which grew rampant over the camping site.

High lights of the Jamboree were addresses by both President Truman and General Eisenhower.

All cooking was done by the Scouts themselves, with food supplied by commissary stores throughout the area. Water (piped to the grounds from near-by Philadelphia) was chlorinated before drinking.

The day before returning home, a love to the City of Brotherly Love was on the agenda. Scouts visited the Betsy Ross house, Benjamin Franklin's grave, Christ Church and Independence Hall.

All three Cass City representatives agreed that the most impressive part of the week's stay was a gigantic candlelight ceremony at which each of the 47,000 Scouts took a part.

Also reporting on another Rotary project was James Bishop, who was the organization's delegate to "Boys' State" at Michigan State College last month. "Boys' State," designed to give practical experience in the operation of city, county and state government to young men throughout the state, has become an annual event on the college campus at East Lansing.

A tennis tournament, sponsored by Cass City Rotary, is in the offing by the end of July. Members ask that entries for the contest be turned in by July 31.

Other Rotary business included the placement of Rev. Melvin R. Vender on the magazine committee and George Clara on the board of directors.

August 8, Cass City and Caro Rotaries will meet jointly near Caro.

Bayside Zone Field Day Meet on July 30

Walter Leaguers from twenty societies within the Bayside Zone of the Michigan District are expected to participate in planned outdoor events at the Caro Fairgrounds on the afternoon of July 30. The program, scheduled to begin at 2:00, includes races of all kinds, dashes, ball throwing, shotput, and girls' and boys' softball games. Franklyn St. Paul girls' team and Bay City Zion boys' team are ready to challenge any aggregation that the Bayside Zone is able to put on the field.

Refreshments will be sold on the grounds. A cafeteria style supper will be served in the Caro Lutheran Church basement. Community singing and campfire vespers will conclude the day's festivities.

The executive board of the Bayside Zone is in charge of the events. Members of the Caro and Cass City Walter Leaguers are the hosts. General supervisor of the entire program is Kenneth Baur, president of the Bayside Zone.

Plans Completed for Co. 4-H Club Camp

Final plans for the annual Tuscola County 4-H Club camp to be held at Sleeper State Park group camp July 23-26 have been completed, says George C. MacQueen, assistant county agricultural agent. About 100 campers are expected to attend from the county along with 16 counselors. Campers chosen to attend have already been notified.

Percy Nugent, farm service advisor, Detroit Edison Company, Bad Axe, will keynote the program with a demonstration and talk on "Farm and Home Safety" on Monday, July 24. Charles Shick, extension game management specialist from Michigan State College, will close the program Wednesday, July 26, with a nature study hike. In between time there will be lots of fun and recreation along with crafts work and 4-H demonstration sessions.

Labor Difficulties Have Been Ironed Out

Labor difficulties between Puerto Rican field workers and sugar beet growers in the Thumb district have been ironed out, according to Harry C. Markle, executive director of the Michigan Employment Service.

Grievances arose last week over a wage dispute when workers charged they were paid only $4 to $5 per week for food instead of the $45 to $50 a week in their contract.

Executive secretary of the Michigan Field Crops, Inc., Max C. Henderson, said the misunderstanding came about because workers had been insufficiently briefed on the pay arrangements before leaving Puerto Rico.

He said the remuneration system is the same plan Texas Mexicans have worked under in the past years. Workers are granted a weekly allotment for food, plus credit arrangements. At the end of the season the employer settles in full after estimating acreage that has been thinned and blocked.

About 5,600 Puerto Ricans were flown to east Michigan last month to meet the critical field labor shortage.

Age Worn Paper Tells of Lincoln's Assassination

"War Department, Washington, April 15, 1865:

"This evening at about 9:30 p. m., at Ford's Theater, the President, while sitting in his private box with Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Harris and Major Rathburn, was shot by an assassin, who suddenly entered the box and approached behind the President."

This is the lead paragraph of a news story that appeared in the April 15, 1865, edition of the New York Herald, the day that President Lincoln died. A copy of the paper was found among the belongings of the late Mrs. I. K. Reid by her son, Floyd, Reid, a life-long resident of Cass City, died July 8.

The edition of the paper, yellowed and worn with age, is a collector's item because of its historical significance. Most of the front page is devoted to bulletins pertinent to Lincoln's assassination. Heavy, black, funeral margins outline the stories.

"Important," "Assassination of President Lincoln," "The President Shot at the Theater Last Evening," "Secretary Seward Daged in His Bed, But Not Mortally Wounded." These are the headlines that string half-way down the front page of the paper, in the best nineteenth century journalistic style.

Other stories on the front page were concerned with the then war.

Concluded on page 12.

Committee Heads Named for Home-Coming Celebration

Prizes to Be Awarded in Most of Competitive Events on August 10

The feature attraction of the Cass City Home-Coming day celebration will be a gigantic fireworks display over Recreation Park, it was disclosed by the Chamber of Commerce Monday. Members met in the Municipal Building to discuss plans for the outing August 10. A decorated bicycle parade, swimming contest, amateur show, horse show, archery contest and foot races are also scheduled for the day.

Committee chairmen named last week are: Miss Peggy Urquhart, horse show; Glen (Scotty) McCullough, foot races; Clarence (Rusty) Gregg, archery; A. C. Atwell, amateur show; Jack Muntz, ball game; Harold Perry, stock show; Jas. Champion, swimming contest; Horace Bulen, tennis; Clifford Croft, horseshoe pitching; Herb Ludlow and Ed. Baker, lighting; Dr. Rawson, fireworks; Howard Ellis and Dale Kettlewell, dance program; Ray Fleener and Wm. Profit, tug-of-war; Harry Little, decorated bicycles; Fritz Neitzel and Jas. Champion, advertising.

The order of events has not yet been listed, but under present plans the program will begin shortly after noon and end with square and round dances late in the evening. Prizes will be awarded in most of the competitive events as well as for the oldest lady, the largest family and the family coming the greatest distance to the home-coming.

The decorated bicycle parade promises to be a colorful part of the celebration. Andrew Eigelow, general chairman, says similar parades have been very successful in other parts of the state. Bicyclists in and about Cass City are asked to contact Harry Little for more information concerning this event.

The Chamber of Commerce has decided to allow a limited number of refreshment concessions to operate in the recreation area during the day.

Tentatively, the amateur show is scheduled to be held in front of the stadium shortly after dark. Suggestions have been made that the stage be constructed on a truck with removable sides so that all equipment can be driven directly into the area.

Fireworks will be set off during the intermission between the amateur show and the dance.

Pioneer Died Day After 60th Wedding Anniversary

Mrs. G. E. Krapf Was Found Dead in Home on Monday Afternoon

When G. E. Krapf entered his residence on East Houghton Street on Monday afternoon after working in his garden, he found his wife dead in bed. She had been in apparent good health and had lain down to rest before Mr. Krapf left the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Krapf were honored by a large group of relatives and friends at an "at home" gathering in the social rooms of the Evangelical United Brethren Church the previous afternoon, the occasion being their 60th wedding anniversary.

Funeral services were conducted at the Evangelical United Brethren Church on Thursday afternoon by Rev. S. R. Wurtz, the pastor. Interment was made in Elkland cemetery.

Mrs. Krapf was born in Goepingen, Germany, September 23, 1866, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Kaiser. She came to this country and settled in Cass City in 1888 with her brother, the late William Kaiser, and sister, now Mrs. Samuel Striffler, of San Diego, California.

On July 10, 1890, she was united in marriage with George Emanuel Krapf in the Evangelical parsonage at Caro. Following their marriage they made their home on a farm one mile north and two and a half miles east of Cass City, where they resided for three years. Then they moved to a farm two and one-half miles east and one-quarter mile south of Cass City. Here they lived for fifty years prior to moving to Cass City where she made her home until her death.

Mrs. Krapf had been a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church for the past sixty years. She is survived by her husband and one sister, Mrs. Samuel Striffler, of San Diego, California. One half brother and one step-sister preceded her in death.

Edison Office in Cass City Will Open on July 31

Newly Remodeled Building on West Main Has Been Leased by Company

Tentative date for the opening of the first Edison office in Cass City is Monday, July 31, according to Milan Vance, Edison district supervisor in Caro.

The newly remodeled building, located at the west end of town on Main St., is leased to the Edison Company by Harry Crawford. Formerly the building was occupied by Crawford as an appliance show room. Remodeling was begun March 1.

The office, which will be managed by Herb Ludlow, local Edison agent, is being opened for the convenience of customers, according to Vance. He said Edison officials have long thought that the volume of business in Cass City warranted such an outlet.

The chief business of the office will be lamp exchange and appliance repair. Vance said electric appliances will also be on display, and that any information about them will be given out. He added, however, that the company preferred actual purchase be handled by local dealers.

Gay Nineties to Battle Bloomer Girls

Gay Nineties girls will battle the Bloomer girls in a rugged evening softball contest at the park July 31.

But it is feared the girls won't be ladies or the game much like softball if things go as scheduled. For the participants, carefully sifted from local talent, are none other than members of the Gavel Club. Those who have already passed the rigid physical requirements are Louis Bartz, Russell Leason, Wm. Martus, Ray Fleener and Dr. K. I. MacRae.

Dressed in the best finery of the last century, the "girls" will cavort around the bases until their joints give out or they hopelessly entangle their snowshoes in their hoop skirts.

The game is one of the projects sponsored by the Gavel Club to help defray the cost of lighting the baseball diamond. Costumes will be supplied by an outside concern, but players will come from the ranks of Main St. business men. Interested applicants are urged to sign up.

Good Care Can Give Farm Tires More Wear
Eight Ways Farmers Can Use to Keep Down Cost

Tire service experts say there are eight things the average farmer can do to get the best possible return on his $200 or more investment in the tires on his vehicles. And coming just at the start of the planting season they serve as timely suggestions.

According to the B. F. Goodrich farm service department, farmers observing these tips will not only protect their tires and make them last longer, but will obtain maximum efficiency from their equipment:

1. Check air pressure twice a month, taking reading first thing in the morning when tires are cool. Never release air from tires.

2. Regular examination of farm tires and prompt repairs to cuts, bruises or other damage may prevent most costly repairs. Gaywood Wagner, Freehold, N. J., is shown inspecting a sidewall cut in one of the multi-ring front tires on his tractor.

3. After running tractor for long periods in hot sun. This will result in under-inflation and possible tire damage when casing cools off.
4. Do not permit grease or oil to remain on tires. This shortens the life of rubber. Wash off chemicals which accumulate after spraying with tractor.
5. When using liquid weight in rear tractor tires, do not fill tire more than three-quarters full of liquid. Maintain correct air pressure, because a slight leak under this condition will cause a much greater decrease in pressure than if the tire were 100 per cent air-filled.
6. When tractor is not in use for long periods, jack it up and cover it. Inflate tires to recommended pressure before putting tractor back in service.
7. Always use valve caps to keep out dirt and moisture and to prevent possible trouble from leaky valves.
8. Examine tires regularly for signs of damage and remove stones and other foreign objects from treads. Have cuts, bruises or other tire damage repaired as soon as they are discovered.
9. Choose correct size when purchasing tires, keeping in mind the load they must carry and the particular job for which the tractor is used.
10. Drive carefully at all times—especially on the highway—to obtain longer life from tires and to extend your own.

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

WHEN POLIO IS AROUND, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis recommends these simple precautions: Keep children with their own friends and away from people they have not been with right along. Don't become exhausted through work or hard play. Don't stay too long in cold water or sit around in wet clothes. And always wash hands before eating. Watch for feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may—or may not—mean polio. Call your doctor and then, if help is needed contact the National Foundation Chapter in your area.

Michigan Mirror
INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Selection of the upper peninsula as the location of the 1951 national convention of the Outdoor Writers' Association of America is a timely reminder that this region of approximately 16,000 square miles, larger in area than any New England state except Maine, is perhaps better appreciated by outside travelers than by many native sons and daughters of Michigan.

This observation is prompted by an enthusiastic letter written by Clay Perry, author of Cheshire, Massachusetts. Perry, a native of Wisconsin and a long-time resident of Massachusetts, has made five trips to the "Fabulous Upper Peninsula." He wrote an article for the Saturday Evening Post in 1941 entitled, "As Easy As Falling off a Log," dealing with the log-birthing event at Gladstone, held annually around the Fourth of July.

Perry writes: "I doubt that there is a similar sportsman's paradise in the middle of the United States that can compare with the Fabulous Upper Peninsula. Nowhere I ever have visited in this country and Canada is there so much to offer as Michigan's upper peninsula.

"There is fishing unequalled anywhere else in its variety for inland waters. Trout, bass, lake trout, wall-eyed pike, pickerel, perch and etc.

"You can find more deer in the upper peninsula than almost anywhere else in the United States. As for scenery there are the seven wonders of the upper peninsula to see. Among them is the famous Big Springs, Kitchitikiippi, near Manistique, the Pictured Rocks at Munising, all of the beautiful shores of Lake Superior and Michigan, Mackinac Island—historic, scenic, luxurious as to its Grand Hotel, no automobiles allowed, only horse-drawn carriages and bicycles."

Evidently the Outdoor Writers' Association agreed with the enthusiasm of Clay Perry as they accepted an invitation of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce to hold the 1951 national convention at Escanaba, central headquarters for the upper peninsula.

The writer of the "Michigan Mirror" is also not a native son of Michigan. We have traveled extensively throughout Michigan, particularly in the upper peninsula, and we frankly share Mr. Perry's spirit of friendliness to this vast "North Country" region of Michigan. If you have not visited this region in many years, or possibly not at all, we would like to suggest that you begin your travel through this "Fabulous Upper Peninsula" by a visit to historic Mackinac Island, thence north to Sault Ste. Marie to take a glance or two at the canal and locks whose centennial will be observed in 1955.

Your trip west should include a day to visit the Tahquamenon River falls near Newberry, accessible either by boat from Soo Junction or by highway. At Munsing be sure to take a boat ride to the Pictured Rocks. Thence west to Marquette for a view of the huge ore loading docks. Iron deposits were discovered in 1844 near Negaunee by William R. Burt. North of Marquette are the Huron Mountains, undeveloped as a future scenic center, similar to the Porcupine Mountains.

Continuing west you arrive at L'Anse and Houghton, entrance to the picturesque Copper Country. This is the land of the beautiful Keweenaw Peninsula and the ore-time center (1889) of the greatest copper producing region in the United States. The Calumet and Hecla Company financed with $10 million capital, produced over $160 million in dividends from the most productive and richest mine in America.

Drive out the Keweenaw Peninsula to Eagle Harbor, take the Brockway Mountain Scenic Drive to Copper Harbor, visit Fort Wilkins State Park, and return by the central route back to Houghton. Thence to Ontonagon and Silver City where you can drive to the Porcupine Mountain State Park and climb by easy trail to an escarpment giving a breath taking view of the Lake of the Clouds. If time permits, continue west to Ironwood and visit the falls along Lake Superior. Otherwise, you can go southward to U. S. 2 and go back eastward to the iron ranges at Iron River, Crystal Falls, and Iron Mountain.

On your way back be sure to visit the Big Spring, Kitchitikiippi near Manistique at Indian Lake. Thence eastward over the U. S. 2 Shore Drive to St. Ignace. This stretch of pavement is new and it affords one of the most beautiful views of Lake Michigan in the entire upper peninsula.

We would not suggest that you attempt such a circle tour in only one week's time, two weeks would be ideal. We will guarantee that having made the circle, from the fault to the Copper Country and hence southward by way of Escanaba to St. Ignace, that you will join Clay Perry in an acclaim for Michigan's vast North Country, beyond the Straits of Mackinac.

Population in 1492
When Columbus arrived in 1492, the total Indian population of the North American continent was about 1,160,000. Of this number, 846,000 lived within the present boundaries of the United States.

Corn Borer Research
The European corn borer research headquarters of the U.S. department of agriculture will be transferred from Toledo, Ohio, to Ankeny, Iowa, field station of Iowa state college.

Notice to Our Customers and Friends

Beginning July 24, we will give DAY AND NIGHT SERVICE THROUGH HARVEST, ALSO as a service to our customers we are passing along a recommendation given out by Michigan State College, a simple test for wheat, oats and barley for moisture content. Let's not get caught like last year.

A MOISTURE TEST FOR GRAIN
Wheat - Oats - Barley

Grain should not be threshed or combined when tough (carrying over 14% moisture). It is not safe to store when above 14% moisture.

The test is as follows: Obtain a cottage cheese box, a one-half pint ice cream box or a dixie cup with cap, then fill them 3/4 to 1/3 full of threshed grain or grain you have threshed from the head. (Be sure the grain is free of chaff.) Add 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon of salt depending upon the quantity of grain and shake 200 to 250 times.

Pour the grain and salt out on a piece of paper. If the salt has clumped together the grain is too moist. If the salt is fine and granular, as it was when you added it, then the grain is O. K. for combining and storage.

The time of shaking is the important feature. The drier the grain, the more shaking it requires. Do not hold the grain too long in the hands as it may take up moisture.

If you use the ice cream box or dixie cup cover again, wipe it out thoroughly with a dry clean cloth.

Be sure and test the grain several places in the field to get an accurate indication of the moisture.

We carry the largest stock of repairs in this territory.

KATHLEEN NORRIS
Male's Job Drab

"ISN'T LIFE HARD enough and confusing enough, without having to do the work you hate?" asks Linda Curtis, from Albany. "My life is full of excitement and interest," she goes on, "and I see to it that our four children have a wonderful time. But my husband, patient and good and everything that is satisfactory, plods along day after day, and year after year in the dullest imaginable business--selling men's suits.

"You see, we've always been poor, hardworking, people, and if Martin ever had any dreams of starting out for himself and breaking away from the rut he is in, he's never been free to realize them.

"The children are mixed twins of 7, girl 5, baby 3, and they keep me busy and happy and laughing and spoiling all day long. My life has variety enough in it, and I try to share that variety with Mart on week ends and during his brief summer vacations. We have eight weeks in a mountain cabin; he has two.

Same Old Round

"We're always picnicking and having weeny roasts and treasure hunts; his life is the same old round. Office at 9, stock arranging, doors open at 10, fussy men and fussy women criticizing lunch sandwich at the drugstore next door, four more hours of it, and home on a crowded bus.

"Every day with him is the same. Every hour with me is different. The twins hang over me dictating what they want packed for lunch; Madeleine leaves me with a big hug at the nursery school door, Butchy-butch and I do the marketing, and stop to gossip, and leave my watch to be mended and pick up my made-over hat, and go home for lunch and naps and quiet mending at my dining-room window until the scholars come shouting and weeping home at 3. Then we all have tea, and perhaps go over to the park for another hour of games and gossip, and it is all so interesting. But Mart comes quietly in during the supper scramble and takes his paper and turns on his radio, and looks on at our riffs.

"... with a big bug ..."

"I try," the letter goes on, "to bring him into everything. I suggest he take Butchy-butch upstairs, or carry the twins off for a country Sunday if I am kept home by one of Madeleine's bad times with her ears, but he seems too tired--way deep down in, too tired to rouse himself to much interest in it. He'll ask me what beach shall I take them to? What'll I do when we get there?"

Make His Life Fun

"Can you suggest," finishes this generous-hearted wife, "some way in which I can shake the best man in the world out of his groove, and make life as much fun for him as for me? The children I can always handle; they are obedient helpful angels, all four, and are all promising to take jobs someday and help Mother and Dad and I believe they will. But Mart is 44 now; he is 11 years older than I am, and if he goes plugging on much longer he'll be too old to make a dash anywhere.

"Should we pull up and go to South America and take a chance? Would you advise my taking a job. (I'm almost a professional photographer) and sending him away? The other night he was reading me an article on the South Seas, and a few months ago he cut out a picture of a whaling boat being tossed about in the ocean, and it makes my heart ache for him. It isn't fair that a man should be tied down by a dependent wife and four husky kids, when, at heart, he's a boy longing for adventure."

It doesn't seem to me this is a problem at all, Linda. Martin is doing what millions of men have to do. Reporting at the office, putting in eight hours--with time out for lunch, on rather drab and routine work. If Martin in his heart didn't like this work, didn't find it satisfying, believe me he would have worked his way out of it long ago, and into something that gave his energy and imagination more scope.

The truth is that he is a quiet, unimaginative, fine man, who quite possibly likes his work. Many a man would infinitely prefer selling other men their overcoats, recommending the chevrot, discussing the tweed, than handling four lively children for 14 hours out of the 24.

You are born with a joyous, courageous, generous nature. It speaks through every word of your letter. Most women want to take; you are that rare woman who wants to give. If Martin works hard eight hours a day; you work twice as hard nearly twice as long.

WHY?

Do you know that Sanilac county, with its 34 miles of Lake Huron Shoreline is one of three counties in the state bordering on the Great Lakes without a state park? Yet, the state of Michigan owns seven pieces of Shore property in our county.

The Tourist Industry is the second largest industry in the state and without a state park how can Sanilac county get its share of this business? Our county park is inadequate to handle all of this influx of business, as evidenced by the crowds now going there.

State Parks are a link in our good roads system. Both can be obtained by

WOMAN'S WORLD Gossamer Fabrics, Large Skirts Full Trains Vie for Brides' Favor

By Erita Haley

ONCE A GIRL has that all-important diamond slipped on her finger, she starts to picture herself in the loveliest bridal dress she can find. She also pictures herself with all eyes, rather than just those of few close friends, looking in her direction.

This season's bridal fashions are made to order for the girl who's dreaming of being the traditional white bride with all the appropriate finery. Layers and tiers of gossamer fabrics have been molded into heirloom type gowns. They are romantic looking with their trains and generous skirts.

Detailing plays an important role in the new gowns, too. You'll find collars scalloped, embroidered or appliqued for exquisite effects. Sleeves may be long and close-fitting, or they may be merest puffs for the decidedly summery dresses.

The bride who wonders about the wisdom of buying the more expensive gowns with trains will be happy to note that many of these trains are attached to overskirts which can be detached. Then the dress can be used easily as a formal.

Short bridal dresses are seen frequently, too, and they're both lovely and practical. When well-styled, they can be just as romantic looking as the long gowns.

Gowns with a deep décolletage are modestly treated with a bit of lace that can be removed if the dress is to be used for evening. Another design uses a strapless wedding gown which comes with a long-sleeved net bolero that is slipped on for the ceremony and removed for wear as a dinner or dancing dress.

Many styles are available...

Head gear is much simpler than in many former seasons. Juliet caps are very popular when made of sheerest materials.

The bride who wants to be married in the white satin tradition will choose that as her material for a wedding gown since there are many of these available. For those who want to go into other materials, there's a wide choice.

Lace is exceedingly popular this season, not only for the bridal gown itself, but for the bride's mother as well. For frothy fabrics that give the bride an ethereal look, the girl may choose mousseline, marquisette, nylon tulle or organdy.

Though skirts are full, most bodices and waistlines are molded snugly to the figure. The wide look at the top is used in many of the gowns with their big bertha collars, or the lace which outlines the bodice, with sheerest and frothiest of materials coming up to the neckline which may be decorated with a necklace of traditional pearls.

Young looking gowns achieve much of this appearance with apron effects which are highly popular this year. Naturally a separate apron is not used on the gown, as it is on dresses with the same effect, but is the result of using lace to outline a feature such as this.

Those brides who plan a small wedding may choose from organdie, batiste and organza dresses in white as well as pastels. These brides will even find some satin dresses in the shorter styles, if they look for them.

These may button down back or front depending upon the style of the dress. The sleeves may be long and slender, full and long, or tiny but puffed. Circular and bouffant skirts are used, but the waist is small and moulded.

Bridesmaids' Dresses

Are Light, Billowing
Most of the bridesmaids' dresses now seen are light in coloring and billowing in silhouette. They range from those that look almost like the brides' gowns to those that bear no resemblance whatsoever to the bridal gown and look more like afternoon dresses for a garden party.

Bride

This season's bride will wear sheer, frothy materials like this white nylon and marquisette bridal gown with its lace-edged petal. The long sleeves are detailed in lace at the wrist, as is the ruffled bertha collar. A filmy fingertip veil with a simple head band is appropriate with this type of gown.

There's a great variety in length, the short type being favored. However, they are rarely shorter than just above the ankle.

Feminine in the extreme, the bridesmaids' dresses are worked out in organdie, net and marquisette. Here, too, you'll find chiffon and embroidered organdie.

One of the most popular details in the attendants' dresses is the use of the fichu or fichu-capelet style collar that is detachable so the dress may be worn for informal dancing easily.

Head gear may be simply a picture hat in one of the gossamer fabrics that go well with the dress, flowers or small, head hugging hats. The overall result is simplicity with exquisite femininity.

Include Essentials In Trousseau Wardrobe

The clothes the bride takes on her honeymoon depends largely on where it's to be spent, but there are some items that will fill the basic needs. First on the list is the going away costume itself. The bride will want to look lovely as she departs from her guests, and fashion is very helpful as well as practical.

Suits are popular, but equally so are the dress and redingote combinations, with dress and coat made of matching materials. Linen is a good choice, especially in the bleached shades.

The sleeveless or capelet styled dress may be worn as a casual dress without its matching coat, and the latter, of course, may be worn with other clothing.

One or two informal and very casual dresses may be included in the wardrobe, depending upon where you go. They'll prove practical around the home later on.

Jersey for both casual and beach clothing is highly favored because it packs readily and in a small space. Later on, it sheds wrinkles easily and helps you present a well-groomed appearance.

Bathing suits or other sports clothes such as slacks and tops or shorts and shirts should be included as necessary. These, naturally, will be used later this year and next.

Attractive, informal dresses for dinner, as well as afternoons, should find a place in the trousseau. You may be able to do with two of these at a minimum, but will need more if the honeymoon lasts longer than a week or ten days.

Evening wear also depends upon where the honeymoon takes you. One or two gowns as a minimum are the rule if you spend the time at a hotel and resort. If you are going on a camping trip, then you'll dispense with these entirely.

Choose Lingerie Easily Laundered

On any trip you go, you'll appreciate lingerie which washes easily and dries quickly. Cottons with their billowy supplies of lace are lovely, sheer and easily managed.

Those who want to avoid ironing problems will undoubtedly invest in the nylon fabrics. These are available in several different weights with both lace and nylon trimmings.

Most brides want the trousseau to include a negligee with a matching gown. Built around this can be slips and petticoats to match, if desired.

Both tailored and lacy lingerie should be included in the wardrobe inasmuch as some clothing fits better with one than with the other. If the negligee, for example, is a lacy affair, as they often are, it's wise to have a tailored type of traveling robe to go with the average nightgowns.

29th Annual Moshier Family Reunion

The annual Moshier family reunion was held on Saturday, July 15, at the farm home of Mr. and Lowell Sickler on East DeLong Road, Cass City. There were 85 present from North Carolina, Fayetteville, N. Y., East Liverpool, Ohio, Grand Rapids, Toledo, Ann Arbor, Sebewaing, Caro, Salline, Owosso, Pontiac, Lake Orion, Oxford, Roscommon, Vassar, North Branch, Decker, Deford and Cass City.

A sumptuous potluck dinner was served on outdoor tables. Blessing was asked by Glenn Hotchkiss of Bob Jones' College, N. C., and prayer by Eugene Moshier.

President L. Sickler presided at the business session when the following officers were re-elected: President, Lowell Sickler; vice president, Mrs. Glenn Tuckey; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Hollis DeGow; historian, Mrs. L. Sickler; program chairman, Mrs. Bessie DeGow.

After the business was completed, competitive games were played, awards being presented to winners according to Judges Fred Reals, Eugene Moshier and Roland Bruce. The program chairman was assisted by Mrs. Glenn Tuckey.

One member of the family, John Moshier, who has never missed the annual get-together is now a patient at Stevens' Convalescent Home in Cass City and though infirm he elected to be present and rested comfortably on a cot among the group.

The 1951 meeting will be held the third Saturday in July at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis DeGow of North Branch.

TENNIS TOURNAMENTS FOR SIX DIFFERENT GROUPS AT PARK

play may be started the week end of August 5 and 6. Official referees will be on hand to conduct all matches, the winner in each match being the first one to win two sets. It may take as long as two weeks or more to complete the play in all classes, depending on the number of entries. In that connection the promoters of the tournament have announced that there must be at least eight entries in a class before a tournament will be held in that class and a trophy awarded.

With at least two weeks remaining before actual tournament competition is begun, ample time remains for the polishing up of old skills, or for beginners to practice and improve their game.

For those who lack equipment with which to play, there are "loaner" rackets available without charge through the courtesy of Horace M. Buler at the Buler Motors garage, where they may be obtained at any time during business hours.

With all of these plans and arrangements, your reporter is inclined to predict a flood of entries, and some "hot" competition—possibly even some good tennis before the champions are crowned.

JUNIORS LOST FIRST GAME IN TEN ON WEDNESDAY

Losing its first game in 10, the Cass City Junior American Legion baseball team was defeated by Utica Wednesday by a score of eight to six. The game decided the district championship.

Tuesday, the team defeated Otter Lake, 13 to two, clinching their victory in the Central division. This is the second year straight the team has been runner-up for the district championship.

The team is sponsored by American Legion Post 607 and the Auten Motor Sales.

Good Logic

The girl stopped the car and promptly got on, but the motorist had no sooner started the car than she asked him anxiously: "Will this car take me to the football game?"

"No, miss."

"But you have an announcement of the game on the front of the car," she said, as though that were sufficient reason for the car to be going to the game.

"I know, miss. We also have an announcement of Boston baked beans back in the car there, but this car certainly don't go to Boston!"

Wool Outlook Bright, Bureau Head Reports
Material Remains Quality Fabric for Human Needs

For the sheep ranchers and the farmers who maintain small flocks, W. F. Fitzgerald, president of the Wool bureau, had a good word when he predicted markets for wool are bound to increase.

Speaking before the National Association of Wool Manufacturers at their annual meeting in New York, he said:

"Barring a national catastrophe, markets for wool, and indeed for all textiles of established service values, is bound to increase. The reasons are fundamental and are to be found in even a casual study of our increasing population, our expanding birth rate, the total number of people employed and the constantly increasing standards of living of large segments of our population."

Newly-scoured virgin wool is turned to hasten drying. There will be a greater demand for this fiber, spokesmen for the wool producing industry predict.

Fitzgerald went on to point out that an acceptable substitute for wool has not been developed. Wool is still the quality fiber which is best suited for a wide variety of human needs and we are convinced the public shares that opinion, he added.

The Wool bureau is a service organization established by wool-growers of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and America.

Needs of Corn

Corn needs plenty to eat and drink to produce high protein yields.

You can get extra pounds of protein and more bushels per acre, too, with a well-rounded bill of fare based on good soil management. University of Illinois research men proved that in tests on a number of experiment fields.

H. J. Snider of the agronomy staff reports that good soil management increased the corn's protein content by nearly a pound per bushel. Corn grown on well treated land averaged 5.6 pounds of protein per bushel, or about 10 per cent of the total weight. Corn on untreated soil averaged only 4.6 pounds of protein per bushel, or about 8.5 per cent.

The well managed land had the benefit of liming and rotation built around well-fed deep-rooted legumes. The organic matter added by the legumes built good soil structure and tilth, improved the drainage and increased the soil's water holding capacity. That made it easier for corn roots to get at plant nutrients, oxygen and moisture.

The fertilizer treatment included phosphate and potash where needed. On soils requiring more nitrogen than the legume crops provided, nitrogen fertilizer helped increase the corn's protein content. Snider says good soil management not only improved the corn's feeding value, but improves yield.

12 1/2 Million Fewer Mules And Horses in 30 Years

Today there are 7 1/2 million head of horses and mules on farms in the United States, a decrease of 12 1/2 million in the last 30 years.

Experts estimate that it took about 24 million acres of crop land to feed these 12 1/2 million animals. That amount of land, released to yield food, would provide for 11 million people. The horse population of the United States is expected to drop further.

Summer Rains Can Be Serious Soil Robbers
88 Per Cent of Loss Occurs During Season

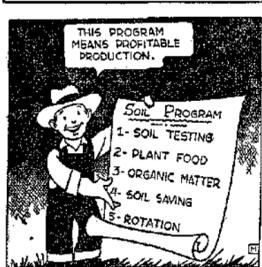

Summer rains can be "soil robbers" that cause serious erosion losses unless farm land is protected by good conservation safeguards. Ohio State University soils research men point out.
A 10-year study of erosion damage at the Zanewille, Ohio experiment station, showed that more than 88 per cent of the soil loss due to rainfall occurred in the six summer months. Farm soil is most vulnerable in summer because clean-cultivated row crops during those months provide only a small amount of protection.

High intensity summer rains cause soil losses in two ways. Large-sized drops strike the earth with such force they break the surface soil into small particles that quickly fill all surface pores. This seals the soil surface into a hard crust that water cannot penetrate. Excessive runoff and erosion losses are the result. Also, high intensity rain beats down so fast that even unsealed earth cannot take it as rapidly as it comes.

Thick stands of deep-rooted legumes and grasses will provide a soil-protecting cover that will enable the land to take high intensity rains in stride. To produce dense, leafy stands, the legumes must be well fed. That means liming, where needed.
N. Y. Milk Production
Average milk production per cow on New York farms in 1949 was estimated at 6,400 pounds, which is 1,200 pounds more than 25 years ago.
U.S. Potato Crop
Ten to 20 per cent of the U. S. potato crop (field run) consists of small and cull potatoes. They are suitable for livestock feed.

Five-Point Program

A five-point program to "balance the soil's needs" and obtain maximum crop yields per acre at lowest production costs, was outlined by O. T. Coleman, Missouri university extension soils specialist.
Here are the steps Coleman suggests:

- 1—Provide plenty of plant food in available form for growing crops.
- 2—Have soil tests made to find out whether the plant food supply is in balance. Growing crops need a balanced ration the same as do humans and livestock. A soil test will be a guide in adding the kind and amount of plant nutrients the soil needs.
- 3—Get the soil in condition so crops can use the plant foods. This means building up the organic matter supply. Organic matter can be added and soil tilth improved by growing well-tied deep-rooted legumes such as alfalfa or sweet clover in the rotation. When the soil is well stocked with plant nutrients and organic matter, minerals are released so that plant roots can more efficiently use them.
- 4—Keep water, plant nutrients and soil at home by conservation methods. Where needed, these may include terracing and contouring to reduce runoff and erosion losses on upland soils.
- 5—Follow a well-balanced cropping system. Rotate pasture and green manure crops regularly with grains. Livestock is a "must" to properly make use of pasture and roughage crops. Tests have shown that where a crop is pastured off, about 75 per cent of the organic matter is returned to the soil through manure.

Remodeled Farm Kitchen Saves 45 Miles Yearly

Mrs. George C. Wheatcroft of Warren county, Kentucky, recently had a farm kitchen remodeled into a u-shape, saving an estimated 45 miles of walking a year.
She says: "I can now prepare three meals and take only 250 to 300 steps where it did take 300 to 500, and that means a saving of 45 miles a year. Besides saving miles it saves time and is much more attractive."

Movies, Comics Compete Strongly With U.S. Schools

TALLAHASSEE, FLA.—As long as the movies, comic books and music continue as they are, American children aren't going to get a good education.
That's the considered opinion of President Paul Wagner of Rollins college. Turn on the radio, turn on a phonograph, flash a wild-and-woolly western movie on the screen, and get a leather-lunged boy to shout "Comic books for sale!" President Wagner said, and it all adds up to a wild assault on the eyes and ears. And that, he asserts, is what teachers must compete with in trying to instill knowledge by use of nothing but textbooks. It was all unfair, he added.
President Wagner gave examples. A hundred years ago he said, the student had nothing to compete with demands of his studies. The college head opened an old McGuffey's reader, lit a candle and proceeded to show how studying was done in the old days.
Then he held up a comic book. A character was asking a victim how he'd like to get a bullet in his mid-section, although the anatomical target wasn't defined in such delicate terms. Then President Wagner turned on the radio. A mystery thriller was in progress. Next he held up a movie poster showing a female in scanty clothing.
President Wagner called words in textbooks "inadequate." He said American schools are too lax in teaching the "meaning behind words."

The board of directors of the Tuscola County Holstein Breeders' Association met at the home of Foster Hickey, association president, on Friday evening, July 14. The main piece of business was to plan the annual Tuscola County Black and White Show scheduled for August 1 at Caro. The directors besides Mr. Hickey are Tom Williams, Cass City; Alton Reavy, Akron; Devere Rohlfis, Fairgrove; and George F. Foster, Postoria.
The Michigan Farm Bureau is sponsoring a model business meeting demonstration at the annual State 4-H Club show this year. Each extension conference district will be limited to one team for competition at the State 4-H Show. Eliminations for the Lapeer district will be held at Lapeer High School gym on Friday, August 18, at 10 a. m. This will be a good opportunity for 4-H clubs who are up on their business meeting procedure to receive some honors. Any club interested should contact any county extension office.
The annual flock selection and blood testing school for interested poultrymen and hatchery men will be held at Michigan State College from July 24 to July 28. Details on this can be had in the county extension office or by writing direct to the poultry department at the college.

Farmers are cautioned not to harvest wheat until the moisture content is down to 14% or below. A sample salt test can be made to determine whether or not the moisture is down near 14%. Your local elevator manager or the county extension office can give you help on determining the moisture content. Stored wheat with high moisture sets up ideal conditions towards developing "sick" wheat or for insect damage to wheat.

NOTES FROM THE TUSCOLA COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

The personnel of the county extension office wish to thank Del Striffler and George Bieth of the village for services rendered towards the 4-H club program. Del offered the use of his pick-up truck on July 8 to go to Lapeer State Hospital and obtain surplus commodities for the Sleeper State Park Group camp. The four counties, Huron, Sanilac, Tuscola and Saginaw that use this camp as a 4-H camp will benefit from Del's generosity. George was right on hand with his tractor and mower. Along with the services of Harry Foster, the seeding in front of the Wilber Memorial 4-H building was mowed.

A very thin man met a very fat man in the hotel lobby.

"From the looks of you," said the fat man, "there might have been a famine."

"Yes," was the reply, "and from the looks of you, you might have caused it."

Hard to Please

A girl was driving in her new car when something went wrong with the engine. The traffic light changed from green to red and back to green and still she could not get the car to budge. The traffic cop came up.

"What's the matter, miss?" he inquired. "Ain't we got colors you like?"

So Thoughtful

"What did you give baby for his first birthday?"

"We opened his money-box and bought the little darling a lovely electric iron."

Definition

"What's the difference between valor and discretion?"

"Well, to go to a swell restaurant without tipping the waiter would be valor."

"I see. And discretion?"

"That would be to dine at a different restaurant the next day."

Wrestling Gets Needed Impetus Through Video

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—To the joy of all true lovers of the dramatic arts, wrestling is—once again—on the road back.

With an assist from television, the ancient pastime is kicking its way out of the small clubs which have encased it hereabouts for several years and is heading for the massive arenas, where the seats extend back even beyond the smell of ammonia and the cash registers tinkle merrily.

In addition, the miraculous TV has made it possible for a huge unseated audience to appreciate the endeavors from safe places, where it runs no risk of being struck by stray fragments of wrestlers.

Come wrestling night, it is possible—in fact, almost inevitable—for the mama, Willie, Hedwig, Franz and Gustav, none of whom know the difference between a hammerlock and a sack of oats, to sit before the screen and enjoy the writhings of the athletes, many of whom, it is whispered, don't know the difference either.

Once Muscle Men

This, as wrestling goes, is progress.

Back at the turn of the century, when silly people thought the atom could not be split, wrestlers were stouter men of mighty muscle and ponderous grips. They could, and did, wrestle for five or six hours without a fall.

As an example of what went on in those days, there was the match between Hackenschmidt (the Russian Lion), the world champion, and Frank Gotch, an American athlete whose pet hold was to grab his opponent's foot painfully and braid his toes.

The two met Apr. 3, 1908, and pulled and tugged for 45 minutes before either man hit the floor. Then Gotch was thrown to the canvas, but bounced up before Hackenschmidt could follow his advantage. After an hour and 45 minutes, the crowd started yelling for more action. It was only after two hours that Hackenschmidt, panting and exhausted, announced he had surrendered the title.

One from Hamlet

The exhibit was a little more lively than looking at the Goethe and Schiller monument, but not as much fun as watching a woman run for a streator.

It is said that modern wrestling got its start one foggy night when a wrestling promoter wandered into a production of "Hamlet," thinking it was a burlesque house. He discovered to his amazement that people paid good money to see the thing, even though they knew the actors had been rehearsed and had a pretty fair idea of how the duel scene was coming out.

Man Gives Away $350,000 To Make Friends 'Happy'

AURORA, ILL.—James Powell, 74, a retired real estate and insurance man, decided to make his friends happy while he was still alive. So, he dealt out $350,000 to them.

He tried to make the gifts, which ranged from $100 to $50,000 anonymous, urging that he be identified only as "an unknown soldier marching away."

He requested that his name not be made public because he did "not want it to appear that I am doing what I am doing to gain publicity or glory."

But the gifts were too many to too many persons for the secret to be kept long. His name got out and several of his beneficiaries confirmed it.

Powell turned over $23,000 to Mayor Lloyd H. Markel, asking that the city start a fund for a municipal auditorium. The money is to be deposited with the city treasurer for use when needed.

The sum of $50,000 was given to Superintendent K. D. Waldo of East high school for a new building or an annex or school equipment.

Gifts of $100 to $10,000 were given to various individuals. He said they were persons "who were kind to me and my dear wife, Helen, who has passed on, and my dear sisters, also deceased."

Distant relatives were included in these gifts. Their benefactor has no immediate family.

The gift to the high school is to be a memorial to his sisters, Grace and Mina, and himself, all graduates of the school.

U.S. Patent Office Grants Its 2.5 Millionth Patent

WASHINGTON. — The United States patent office has issued 2.5 million patents—almost 160 years after granting No. 1.

No. 1 was signed by George Washington. It went to Samuel Hopkins of Vermont on July 31, 1790, for a method of "making pot and pearl ashes," generally known now as potash.

Patent number 2.5 million was signed by John A. Marzall, a Chicagoan recently named patent commissioner. It went to Francis M. Lambert, North Beth, Pa., for a quick-acting mechanism for latching doors, particularly applicable to watertight doors for ships.

Dickinson in Telephone Business For 42 Years

When he retires July 27, John (Jack) Dickinson, formerly of Cass City, will have completed 42 years in the telephone business.

Mr. Dickinson whose present home is in Bad Axe began his life time work with the Cass City Telephone Co. in 1909. Later he worked for the Consolidated Telephone Co. of Bad Axe before joining the Bell system 28 years ago.

When Dickinson went into telephone work the instrument was little more than a novelty and his first job was installing and repairing telephone equipment, as well as collecting and supervising general construction.

Before 1917 when he was furnished with a car for this work, Dickinson pedaled the rural routes on a bicycle as a "trouble shooter." All equipment needed for the repair work could be handled very nicely on a bicycle, he says.

In 1918 he left Cass City to work with the Consolidated Telephone Co. of Bad Axe as repairman. From 1920 to 1924 he was construction foreman, then served as cable and switchboard repairman until 1927. Since that time he has been a "combination worker" for the Bell Co., servicing all types of equipment.

In 1948, The Bell system "grounded" Dickinson—that is, they refused him permission to climb any more poles to do repair work. His only serious accident in the business was during an ice storm the winter of 1914 when he fell 80 feet from the top of a telephone pole, fracturing both arms.

The weather is perhaps the greatest trouble maker for telephone exchanges, according to Dickinson. Ice, lightning and high winds can quickly bring down telephone lines. Next greatest nuisance is people—from the little boy who gets the line on his kite tangled in the telephone wires to the woman who persists in ringing the phone when other subscribers on the party line are talking.

Dickinson terms working for Thumb telephone companies a very satisfactory lifetime job. Upon retirement he will be honor guest at a Bell Co. employee's party at the Rainbow Inn, at Bad Axe. At present, three generations of the Dickinson family are in the employ of the Michigan Bell system. A son, Ivan, is repair foreman at Mt. Clemens and a granddaughter is stenographer at the same office. Dickinson was 65 years old last Monday.

He attributes much of his ability in telephone repair to J. C. Corkins, of Cass City, who managed the Cass City Telephone Co. when he began work there.

ing Civil War. One story attributes to Jefferson Davis the sentiment that the fall of Richmond was a blessing, since it left the rebel armies free to travel from point to point.

The New York Herald at the time of this publication was in its 30th year of publication, under the able proprietorship of the renowned James Gordon Bennett. In an editorial commenting on the tragic events of the past night, Mr. Bennett wrote:

"An unlooked for and terrible calamity has befallen the nation. President Lincoln last night received a wound at the hands of an assassin, the effects of which there are no hopes of his surviving, being shot while sitting in a theater witnessing the performance of a play. An attempt was also made, apparently by the same person who shot the President, to take the life of Secretary Seward. The assassin, after firing on the President, rushed in front of the box occupied by the latter, and, waving a long dagger which he held in his right hand, exclaimed, using the motto of the State of Virginia "Sic Semper Tyrannis!" He then jumped on the stage, and amidst intense excitement which ensued, escaped through the rear of the building."

A dispatch published by Edwin M. Stanton, then Secretary of War, tells of a cabinet meeting the president had attended that afternoon, at which the "prospect of a speedy peace was discussed." Stanton said, "the President was very cheerful and hopeful, and spoke very kindly of General Lee and others of the confederacy, and of the establishment of government in Virginia."

Lincoln's assassin, J. Wilkes Booth, an actor, was later apprehended.

Farm Commodities Pose Big Problem Government Limited In Selling of Stocks

At the moment the government owns approximately $1,806,385,488 worth of farm commodities, purchased through the years to support farm prices, agricultural department officials report.

Products stored in government bins include 3.5 million bales of cotton, 148 million bushels of wheat, 167 million bushels of corn, 422 million pounds of linseed oil, 284 million pounds of dried milk, 79 million pounds of dried eggs, and quantities of various other items. What's become of it all?

open market to compete with commodities now in private ownership. To do so would flood the market and depress the commodities offered far below support prices. The government would then find itself buying the commodities placed upon the market.

These commodities, however, can be sold should the market prices strengthen considerably above support levels.

The government has two methods at present of moving commodities. They are:

(1) Persuading the consumer to increase their purchases through normal purchasing channels, thus reducing the supply and raising the price to where government stocks can be put on the market. Also, reducing supplies to a point where support prices would become unnecessary.

(2) Many of the commodities in government stockpiles are being distributed to school lunchrooms, charitable institutions, Indian affairs, and needy groups.

New Corn Spray

Until recently, the corn earworm has prevented profitable sweet corn growing, especially in the South. Sometimes every ear in a crop is infested. Such corn cannot be sold.

Now the department of agriculture has developed a spray containing DDT, mineral oil, and water that may be applied to silks and husks of developing ears. When applied at right times it kills worms before they attack and ruin the corn.

R. A. Blanchard, bureau entomologist, developed the method. He tested it in the field during three growing seasons in Texas, Mississippi, Missouri, and Illinois. Earworms were controlled in ever instance, he reports.

January Exports Pass $224 Million Mark

January agricultural exports totaled $224,300,000, the agricultural department reports. Cotton topped the total with $83,500,000.

Wheat and wheat flour were second to cotton, valued at $47,300,000, while corn was in third place with $14,700,000. Imports during the month were valued at $290,700,000, or approximately 66 million more than exports.
