

Program Set for Home-Coming Celebration Aug. 10

129 Tuscola Men To Report for Physicals Aug. 9

All Registrants to Report Immediately Changes in Draft Status

The number of men to be called from Tuscola County for pre-induction physical examinations in Detroit Aug. 9 has been more than tripled this week, according to a report from the county draft board office in Caro.

Last week it was announced that 84 men would be summoned to report for physicals. Wednesday, a draft board spokesman said that the number has been increased to 129.

It was not known how many of this number will be inducted to fill the September quota from the county, but an unofficial source said that about 16 will be called. Last week it was announced that only six would be taken from Tuscola.

The draft board has asked all registrants to inform their local offices immediately if they have had a change in draft status. The Caro office said that prompt classifying has bogged down since quite a few of those registered have married without notifying the board.

The 129 from Tuscola County will be contacted this week, according to the office. Their names were not released.

Tennis Tournament For Senior Class Only

Only in the senior class of men and boys has there been a sufficient number of entries to conduct a tennis tournament this summer, so plans for the competitive play in the other classes have been abandoned at this time.

In the senior class, the following entries have been made:

The committee have not yet had a drawing to determine how the contestants will be paired for the first round of play, but it has been announced that a chart showing the pairings will be placed in Wood's Drug Store sometime this week end. The times for each of the individual matches will be arranged between the contestants and the committee, and whenever possible the time of each match will be posted on the chart at least a day or two in advance of play.

Those interested in watching the play may then keep in touch with the schedule chart for times of the various matches.

First Enforcement Of Hawkers' Rules Was Made Monday

First enforcement of the amendment to the Hawkers and Peddlers ordinance, requiring street merchants to post $100 bonds before selling on the streets of the village, was made Monday. The amendment, which was passed by the village council last week, became effective with publication Friday.

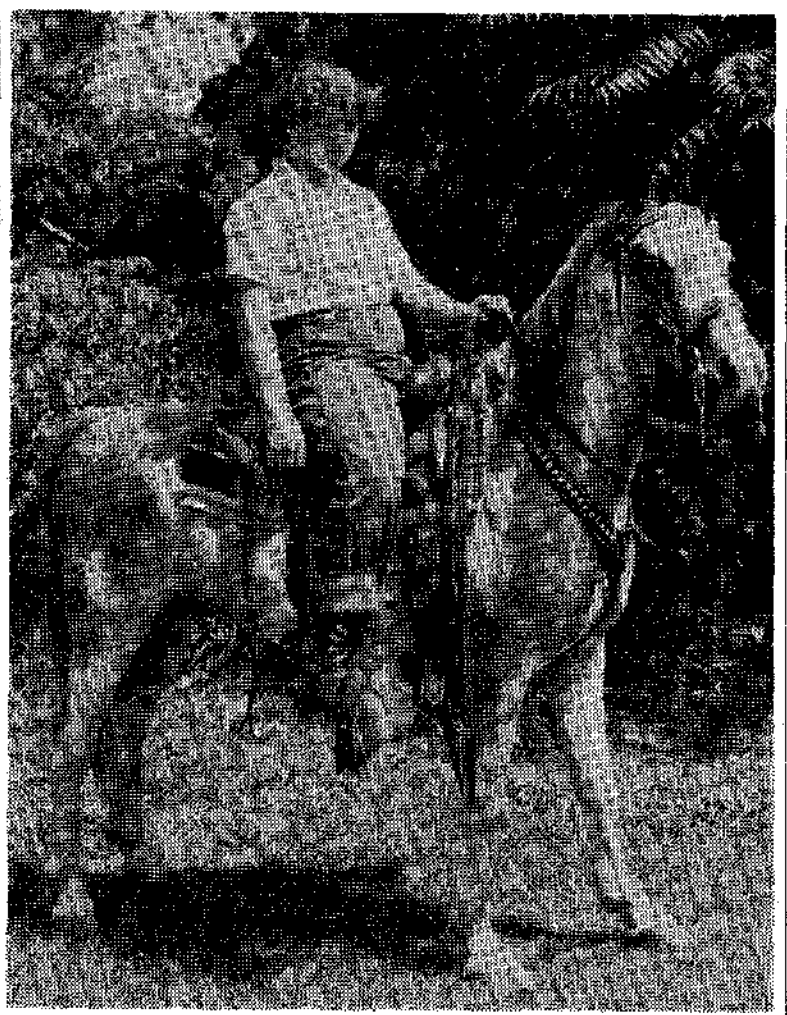

Thomas McNamara, a Lansing fruit dealer, was first to be hit by the new regulation. When he began unloading a truck load of melons, cucumbers and potatoes at the intersection of Main and Seeger Streets, Steve Orto, village marshal, told him of the new requirement. McNamara was unwilling to post bond, so left the corner.

The new regulation requiring bonds does not affect farmers who sell produce raised on their own farms. However, the ordinance stipulates that vending along Main St. in the village constitutes a traffic hazard and is forbidden. This applies to farmers as well as produce merchants.

Albin Stevens, village attorney, says that under the ordinance, farmers may still sell their produce on any street in the village with the exception of Main St.

Thrift is the best of all virtues—especially if it was practiced by your ancestors.

Youthful Trainer Will Direct the Horse Show At the Cass City Home-coming on August 10

One of the youngest horse trainers in Michigan is Miss Peggy Urquhart, 15, who will direct the horse show at the Cass City Home-coming Aug. 10.

Peggy, who has owned and cared for horses since she was thirteen years old, will be 16 in October. Her own two prize winners will be entered in the home-coming exhibition. They are Susan, a yearling colt, and Freckles, a nine-year-old. About 18 other horses from the village and surrounding area will take part in the show.

A member of the Tuscola County

Boots and Saddle Club, Peggy and Freckles are components of the county's only horse back square-dance set. Freckles also plays dead, chews gum and does a novelty number Peggy calls "Taking you home on Saturday night."

Peggy received her first horse as a gift on her 13th birthday. She recalls taking him down town to have his saddle fitted and on the way home was so proud she rode down Main Street so she could watch the horse in the shop window.

Competition Close In Both Cass City Softball Leagues

Two Tied for Lead in National; Three Tied for Second Place in American

With but one more week to go in the regular softball schedule, there will be plenty of good games next week in both leagues. Deford now leads the American League by one game with the next three teams tied for second place. Two teams are tied for first place in the National League. The standings:

American League
Deford	6	2
Baldy's Sunoco	5	3
Decker	5	3
Baker-Urquhart	5	3
Church of Christ	3	5
F. F. A.	0	8

National League
Alward's Tavern	6	2
Western Auto	6	2
Ellington	5	3
C. C. Tractor Sales	3	5
Local 88	2	6
Bullis Plumbers	2	6

Because of the Cass City Home-coming Thursday, Aug. 10, the games scheduled for that date will be played Monday, Aug. 7. The schedule for next week is as follows:

Monday, Aug. 7 — Bullis Plumbers vs. Western Auto, Baldy's Sunoco vs. Decker. Tuesday, Aug. 8 — Local 88 vs. Alward's Tavern, Baker-Urquhart vs. Ellington.

BAUER CANDY COMPANY EMPLOYEES PICNIC

Jim Bauer, of the Bauer Candy Co., was host Saturday afternoon at a picnic for his employees and their families at Cassville Park. Twenty-six persons were present. Swimming and ball playing preceded the picnic supper.

Tax Notice.

I will be at the Pinney State Bank on Saturday, Aug. 5, to receive the village taxes. Aug. 11 is the last day to pay village taxes at the 1% collection fee. Wilma S. Fry, Treasurer.—Adv. 1t.

Tuscola Bean Crop Damaged About 35%

Tuscola County's bean crop has suffered an estimated 35 percent damage because of the rain, according to Loren Armbruster, Tuscola County agricultural agent.

Armbruster said that to date about 25 percent of the crop had been washed out. Another 10 percent damage is resulting because the excess moisture in the soil is tying up nitrogen and other plant food elements, he said. Rain has fallen in the county with varying degrees of severity every day since last Friday.

Armbruster said the pea and lima bean crops were comparatively safe, but that the rain might affect the final weight of the sugar beet crop. He claimed that the beets will not root down well in the wet soil and that in some areas signs of rot are appearing on the tips of the beets.

About 85 percent of the over-ripe wheat left standing in the county has begun to sprout, according to Armbruster. He added that about 50 percent of this year's crop has already been cut. Second growth hay is doing nicely, he said.

"Bad Checks" of $30 Each Passed at Two Local Stores

A clever check artist clipped two Cass City merchants of $60 Friday noon and apparently tried getting a third. Local and state police have not been able to locate the man.

The man, who went by the name of R. W. Petterson, cashed checks at Keith McConkey's jewelry store and at Parsch's dry goods store.

McConkey told police that a man with a "very pleasing personality" entered his jewelry store about 11:30 Friday and asked to look at a water pitcher and tumbler set for his mother. He said he wanted something under $5. When the selection had been made, the man said he would like to pay for the purchase, but was going to eat lunch and would pick it up later.

He handed McConkey a check for $30 on the Pinney State Bank, made out to cash and signed by Mrs. J. W. Petterson. It was endorsed in pencil by R. W. Petterson.

Edison Starts the Change-over to Boulevard Lights

It Is Expected that Job Will Be Completed Between Sept. 1-15

Work was started in Cass City this week by The Detroit Edison Company in the change-over of the electric lighting system to boulevard lights on Main Street. Eight to ten local men have been engaged to assist the Edison crew in making the improvement.

Twenty-four 10,000-lumen lamps mounted on ornamental boulevard posts will be placed on Main Street between West and Sherman Streets. Twelve 6,000-lumen lamps will be hung at intersections close to Main Street. The change-over promises to bring the street lighting in the business district right up to modern style and efficiency.

The village council was authorized to enter into a contract with the Edison Company for the change in the lighting system at a special election on March 13 when 201 citizens voted in favor of the proposition and 82 registered their opposition.

It is expected that the completion of the installation of the boulevard lights will be made between Sept. 1 and 15.

Ralph Youngs to Erect Cement Block Building on His Farm

A new building to house what was formerly the Elkland Roller Mill's feed and coal business is being constructed by Ralph Youngs on M-81, one half mile east of the village.

Youngs purchased the feed and poultry equipment business from Roy Taylor when Taylor sold his property on Main Street July 24. The old mill was purchased by the H. O. Paul Co. Plans are underway to tear the building down this fall and construct an implement warehouse on the rear of the property.

The new feed mill will be a 30 by 60 foot cement block structure on the north side of the highway. It will be one story with a basement.

Youngs hoped to complete the building by Sept. 1, but recent shortages in construction materials may force the date of opening until later in the fall.

Strifflers Travelled Through 11 States

Mrs. G. A. Striffler returned home last week from a month's vacation in the West. She made the trip with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Irvine S. Striffler, of Marysville, Ohio.

The Strifflers visited Yellowstone National Park, the Black Hills and Bad Lands of South Dakota and the Wisconsin Dells. While in Wisconsin, they visited Prof. and Mrs. C. M. Jansky, Mrs. Irvine Striffler's parents, at Madison.

Mrs. Striffler brought back with her a stalk of cactus which she said was growing abundantly in the northern section of Nebraska. It is on display in the Chronicle office.

The 5186-mile trip took them through 11 states. Mrs. Striffler says that they experienced no tire nor car troubles and saw no accidents during the entire journey.

After returning from the trip, the Irvine Strifflers spent last week end in Cass City.

Since returning from his vacation, Mr. Striffler, who works for the Nestle Co., Inc., of Marysville, Ohio, was promoted. He returned to work Aug. 1 in full charge of the control laboratory at the plant there. This control laboratory is said to be the largest in the United States.

BAND PRACTICE

On Saturday, Aug. 5, at 7:30 p. m. the senior band will practice in the band room in the high school building. The rehearsal is held for the Cass City Home-Coming event. Don Borg, the band director, will be present.

Buenos Aires is the largest Spanish speaking city in the world.

Frances Ross Chosen Bean Queen by Elkland Farm Bureau

A committee of members of the Elkland Farm Bureau announces that Miss Frances Ross has been chosen "Bean Queen" to represent their organization when the Tuscola County queen will be named by judges at the Caro Fair.

The winner of the county contest will compete with about 12 other county queens for the title of "Michigan Bean Queen" at Fairgrove on Labor Day. The girl whom the judges pick for this honor will be awarded a three-day all expense tour to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago in December.

Miss Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, farmers residing on Bay City-Forestville Road, was graduated from Cass City High School in 1948 and this fall will return to Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, for her third term as a student. During the summer vacation months Miss Ross is employed as a saleslady in the local Federated Store by her brother, Bernard Ross, manager.

27 Local Scouts And Explorers to Go to Rotary Camp

Cass City Group to Be Among 100 at Camp Next Week

Sunday the Rotary Camp at Clare, Michigan, will swarm with 27 Scouts and Explorers from Cass City, who will spend a week swimming, hiking, canoeing and fishing up in the wilderness.

The Cass City group are among 100 expected to attend the camp next week. So far, 702 boys have been enrolled for the Rotary outing over the first six camp periods of this year.

Harold Outley, teacher in the Cass City High School, is director of 29 leaders on the camp staff. Part time supervisors are Prof. Ronald Finch of Western Michigan College; William Morgan, Scout executive; and Dr. Earl Wilson of Harrison.

The Cass City group will be headed by James L. Ware, senior patrol leader, who will have that office in camp.

Explorer Scouts in the groups attending camp are Don Bartie, Robert MacKay, Jack Miller, Lyle Ludlow, Marshall Sowden and Andy Wise. A special program, including overnight canoe trips on the Muskegon River, is offered to the older Scouts.

Scouts of Troop 194 registered to attend are: Robert Baker, Sam Champion, Jack Clara, Dick Dillman, Dick Donahue, Gordon Drouillard, Jimmy Ellis, Ronald Fleenor, Russell Foy, Douglas Gingrich and Dick Hanby.

Also attending are Kenneth Hartsell, Bobby Hunter, Stuart Little, James MacAlpine, Fred McConkey, Robert McEachern, Daniel McLachlan, Charles Patterson, Gordon Ware and Elden Rabideau.

Explorer Robert Kitchen has been offered the post of handicraft counselor for the last two periods at the camp, and will go to Clare. Concluded on page 6.

SANDUSKY BOY RECEIVED SERIOUS EYE INJURY

Ronald Kohn, nine-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kohn of Sandusky, received a serious eye injury from a screw driver Monday. He was rushed to the University Hospital at Ann Arbor for emergency treatment. He is a great grandson of Mrs. Joseph White of Hemans.

Ice Cream Social

The W. S. C. S. will sponsor an ice cream social with homemade cakes and pies on Wednesday evening, Aug. 9, at eight o'clock at the Holbrook church. Come! —Adv. 1t

Attention, Boys and Girls!

There will be a demonstration of ideas for decorating your bicycles, wagons or what have you at Little's Funeral Home Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 7 and 8 at 4 o'clock.

You can never tell when a little careful driving on the highways will save your life—and others.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SEEKS TALENT FOR AMATEUR SHOW

Original amateur talent is still being sought for the evening program of the Cass City Home-Coming celebration next Thursday, according to members of the Chamber of Commerce. Aspirants who have something new and a little different in the line of entertainment are asked to contact A. C. Atwell or "Al" Hanna to make arrangements for appearing on the program.

The amateur show, one of the features of the day-long activities, will begin about 8:00 p. m. at the grandstand at the park.

A. B. Jarman Tells Of Missionary Work in Alaska

Large Group at Church of Christ Hear Informative and Interesting Talk

The congregation and friends of the Church of Christ filled the church building Sunday evening to view the pictures of Alaska and enjoy the interesting and informative talk by A. B. Jarman, as he showed the pictures. Mr. and Mrs. Jarman and two children are spending five weeks in the States in the interest of the missionary work in Fairbanks, Alaska, which is progressing under the Church of Christ. The Jarman, former residents here when he served as pastor of the Novesta church, have been doing missionary work in Alaska for five years.

In his talk, Mr. Jarman pointed out that 17 hours of flying time would be necessary to travel from Anchorage, Alaska, (farther south than Fairbanks) to Detroit. He stated that all the church missionaries there found it necessary to work at something to earn money to meet the cost of living. In the construction of the new church there, cement blocks for the basement cost 65¢ each and logs of which the upper part of the church is constructed, cost 30¢ a lineal foot. Fuel oil is 28¢ a gallon and wood which is green spruce is $23.00 a cord. Coal is the popular fuel for heat there. While potatoes grow well in Alaska, cucumbers are $1.00 each and tomatoes are 75¢ a lb.

The temperature at Fairbanks varies from 90 degrees in the summer to nearly 70 below in winter. In winter there are only three (Concluded on page 6.)

Dr. Myron Tazelaar Is Associated with Dr. H. T. Donahue

Dr. Myron Tazelaar, who has been a resident surgeon at the Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids for the past three and one half years, began work in the office of Dr. Harold T. Donahue August 1.

A graduate of the School of Medicine at Wayne University, Dr. Tazelaar spent one year's internship at Harper Hospital in Detroit and two and one half years in the navy before moving to Grand Rapids. He is a native of Detroit.

Dr. Donahue says Dr. Tazelaar will be associated with him indefinitely.

Dr. Tazelaar has rented the Myrtle Orr house at the east end of town on M-81.

Three Cass City Residents Injured in Accident at Hemans

Three Cass City residents were injured in a two-car collision on M-58 at Hemans Tuesday afternoon according to Sandusky State Police. Injured were Mrs. Earl Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Benkelman.

Mrs. Douglas received a fractured ankle in the accident. She was taken to the Pleasant Home Hospital in Cass City. Also hospitalized were Mr. Benkelman who suffered lacerations in the face and Mrs. Benkelman who received bruises.

Police report that the accident happened about five o'clock in Hemans, Sanilac County, when the Douglas car collided with another driven by William E. Wilson, of Decker. Police say Wilson received head bruises in the crash but was not hospitalized. Douglas was traveling south and Wilson north when the two cars met.

Final draft of the day's program was made by the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday. It was decided to begin some events at the same time as others so there will always be something under way to interest everybody. Here is the final program with the time of each event.

Morning.
Livestock Judging at 10:30.
Afternoon.
Parade at 12:30.
Horse Show, 1:30.

Free Dance, 10:00.
Stock judging in the morning will take place in the building behind the Brinker Lumber Co. office. The stock, and the ribbons they win, will then be in the parade which opens the festivities at the park.

According to Harry Little, bicyclists in Cass City are enthusiastic about the echelon of decorated bicycles which will follow the parade.

Bob Quinn and His Ramblers will supply music for the free dance to be held on the tennis courts after the fireworks display. Howard Loomis from Gagetown will be caller for the square dances. Quinn and his four men band have a half-hour musical program over station WLEW, Bad Axe, at 6:30 every Tuesday night.

Mystery Ride of Grangers Ends at Millington Hall

"The Mystery Ride" sponsored by Tuscola Co. Pomona Grange was held Saturday evening. Fifteen cars decorated with the Grange colors, green, rose and gold, carrying 70 Grange members met at the Caro fairgrounds, formed a caravan and drove to an "unknown place" which turned out to be the I. O. O. F. Hall at Millington.

After a short program, the high light of the evening was at hand. The Cinderella was chosen in a drawing and was crowned by the worthy Pomona Master, Herbert Maharg. Mrs. Kirk Yorker of Millington was the young lady selected and Mrs. Leslie Profit was chosen alternate.

Cinderella will represent Pomona Grange at the State Grange which meets in Muskegon the last week in October. If she is a winner there, she will attend the national Grange in November.

Completes Training As Airline Hostess

Miss Elizabeth Jeanne Profit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Profit of Cass City, has completed training as a hostess of Capital Airlines at Washington D. C., and assigned to the Detroit station, Mrs. Aletha G. O'Hanlon, director of passenger service, announced today.

Miss Profit graduated from Michigan State College in 1949.

GREENLEAF

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McLellan and James Dew were entertained Thursday evening at a birthday dinner in honor of Mrs. McLellan, given by Mr. and Mrs. M. C. McLellan.

Mrs. Francis Sowden spent last week in Flint visiting relatives. Her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pettengill, brought her home on Saturday. A daughter, Beverly, of the Pettengills, remained at the Sowden home to spend a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Karr and children of Grosse Pointe Woods stayed Saturday night with Mr. Karr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Karr.

Miss Alexandra MacRae, who has been visiting in Detroit the past week, returned to her home here Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hempton and daughter, Dorothy, Mrs. Caroline Hempton and Miss Roberta Hempton, all of Pontiac, came Saturday and stayed until Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hempton.

Miss Hila Wills of Detroit was the week-end guest of her mother, Mrs. Rayford Thorpe.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Upper of Lynwood, California, were Sunday night visitors at the James Mudge home. Mr. Upper is a nephew of Mr. Mudge.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Huff and small daughter of Detroit spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Archie McEachern. On Sunday the above group and Mr. and Mrs. Henry McLellan, James Dew, and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gillies enjoyed a picnic dinner on the lawn at the Archie McLachlan home.

David Price of Detroit, a cousin of Mrs. John McLellan, is spending his vacation with the McLellans at New Greenleaf.

Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Mercer of Detroit and a small friend, Marjorie Kimball, were week-end visitors at the James Dew home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond LaVigne and family of Detroit visited Mrs. Jacob Helwig and at the Glen Profit home over the week end.

Cumberland Gap

The first American colonist to file written claim to discovery of Cumberland Gap was Dr. Thomas Walker, a Virginia physician and trained woodsman who, in the spring of 1750, led a pioneer land venture into the Appalachian wilderness.

South America extends farther south than Africa.

Tennessee means "river of the great bend."

Save the Lambs

The average farmer produces to market age 88 lambs from every 100 ewes. Well-managed flocks have 116 lambs from 100 ewes. Through better care farmers can save more lambs and increase their profits.

Gordian Knot

The expression Gordian Knot, meaning to slice through complications, is said to have originated in the ancient city of Gordium (Gordion), in what is now west-central Turkey. It was at this site, according to legend, that Alexander the Great cut with his sword the intricately tied knot which he found would yield in no other way.

Jenny Lind

Aspiring young singers might do well to rent a cat and a window overlooking Broadway. Jenny Lind did all right with much the same setup. Heard singing to her kitten, nine-year-old Jenny Lind was very quickly brought to the notice of voice teachers and enrolled at government expense in the Royal theater school, Stockholm.

Whale Oil

Whale oil, the chief reward of expensive Antarctic expeditions, is used extensively in the manufacture of soap, machine oil, and a host of other products ranging from vitamins pills to lipstick.

Rubber

America May Produce It
WASHINGTON. — The day is nearing when top-grade natural rubber can be produced in the Americas.
A new type rubber tree has been developed. The department of agriculture says its yield is high and its ability to resist disease marked.
But production isn't efficient enough, so 50 department scientists are continuing their work in 14 South and Central American countries and in southern Florida.
The new rubber tree is "machine tooled" just as was the wartime synthetic-rubber industry, according to those who are directing the research program.
Root, trunk, and top have to be grafted during various stages of development. After five years of normal growth it will begin producing rubber latex.
"Our aim is a single tree without the grafting," explains Dr. R. D. Hanks of the department's plant-industry station at Beltsville, Md.
Meanwhile, they are concentrating on increasing the present tree's resistance to the rubber-killing leaf disease and to boosting the latex yield.

Coats of Arms Magnet For Thieves as Cars Stripped of Designs

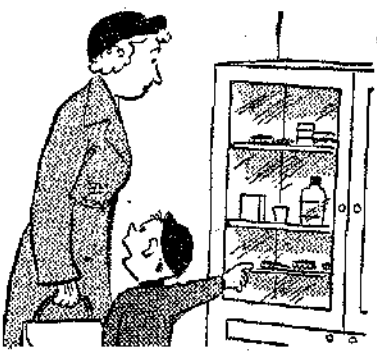

MILWAUKEE, WIS. — Better keep a sharp eye on those colorful "coats of arms." If you own a 1949 model Mercury or a 1950 model Ford.
That is the advice of Detective Capt. Adolph Kraemer, who disclosed that in recent weeks more than 30 Mercury and Ford owners of the late models had reported that the insignia looking like a "coat of arms" had been stolen from their cars.
Kraemer believes that many other drivers were victims but neglected to complain to police. He attributed the thefts to teen-agers, who convert the "coat of arms" into a belt buckle or use it as decoration for bicycles and motorcycles.
Kraemer said the current series of insignia thefts was reminiscent of the thefts of bright chrome rings from the hoods of Buicks in 1949. Boys stole the rings, valued at about $8 each, to give them to their girl friends as bracelets.
While the Mercury and Ford "coat of arms" cost about $1 each, the damage caused by the thieves in chiseling or prying out the insignia brings the total replacement and repair cost up to $5.50 or more, one automobile dealer told police. The dealer said his supply of insignia had nearly been depleted because of the large number of thefts.
Two police officers have reported the "coat of arms" had been stolen from their private automobiles.
Detective Lt. Charles Nowakowski reported that the "coat of arms" on the rear of his Mercury was chiseled out while it was parked near a bowling alley.
"Strangely," said Nowakowski, "I was warned it might happen a few days before by a group of boys who stood around my car in front of my home. One of the boys told me, 'Mister, you won't have that coat of arms on very long.'"
"I asked the boy how he knew, and he said, 'The kids all over town are making belt buckles out of those things.'"
The "coat of arms" disappeared from the 1949 Mercury of Detective Robert Medich as it was parked near the safety building.

Dream of Every Rookie Comes True for Copper

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—The dream of every rookie policeman is to catch a burglar the first night he walks a beat—came true for Leonard Ziolkowski, 21. He did it, aided by Patrolman Ted Struck, 41, a veteran of 15 years.
It is customary for an older policeman to accompany a rookie the first week the rookie is on the beat.
Ziolkowski went out on a Lincoln ave. beat on the 4 to midnight shift with Struck.
Struck gave the rookie the customary instructions. "One place we'll have to watch particularly tonight," he added, "is the South Side Sales Co. (appliance and radio store at 517 W. Lincoln av.) It was broken into last night and $27 taken. Sometimes there's a repeat job the next night, so we'll keep close tabs on it."
The store closed at 9 p.m. Three times in the interval until 11:30 p.m., Ziolkowski and Struck "checked" the front and rear doors and windows. They found nothing wrong.
A few minutes before quitting time, Struck gave the rookie final instructions.
"Never leave a job undone on your beat when you leave," he said. "We'll take one more look at that store."
They tried the front door. It was locked. Then they went to the rear. Suddenly Ziolkowski noticed a man crouched between two parked cars. He ran over and grabbed him.
Meanwhile, Struck had discovered a window of the store broken. "Looks like we got our burglar," Struck told Ziolkowski.

ETIQUETTE

A boy and his mother stood looking at a dentist's showcase.
"If I had to have false teeth, mother, I'd take that pair," said the small boy, pointing.
"Hush, Willie," interposed the mother quickly, shaking his arm. "Haven't I told you it's bad manners to pick your teeth in public?"
"Couldn't Miss"
"At last," said the novelist, "I have written something that will be accepted by any magazine."
"What is it?" asked a friend.
"A check for a year's subscription."

Veterinary Center Under Construction at MSC

Construction on the new $2,400,000 veterinary medicine center at Michigan State College is now well under way, following approval of plans and appropriation of an initial $1,400,000 by the Michigan legislature. Above is an architect's sketch of the building, expected to be completed in the fall of 1951. Plans call for a structure connecting the anatomy building, left, and the veterinary clinic at right, in addition to modernization of the present buildings. The new building will give Michigan State a veterinary plant that "ranks with the best in the nation," according to Dr. Claude S. Bryan, dean of veterinary medicine at MSC. Dean Bryan points out that the new building will not only provide top-flight facilities for training veterinary doctors, but also for an expansion of research and extension programs of direct interest to the livestock and poultry industries of Michigan.

Because the weatherman dished out so much rain, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Cottick and children returned home Monday evening and postponed their trip to Winnipeg until some later date. In their two thousand mile trip they visited the Tahquamenon Falls in the Upper Peninsula, Mackinac Island, the world's largest limestone quarry at Rogers City, and attended services in a new Catholic Church at Indian River which is unique in appearance that it resembles a large ranch type house. To celebrate Mrs. Cottick's birthday Monday they enjoyed a chicken dinner at Frankenmuth before returning home.

Low Inventory
An advertising salesman boarded the train and took a roomette. He carried with him only a small grip, and the porter inquired of his other luggage.

"I have none," said the man. "Why, I understood you were a salesman," said the porter.

"That's right, I am. But I don't need a lot of luggage, I sell brains." The porter scratched his head and finally said, "Well, you are the first traveling salesman that rode this train without samples."

One Way to Put It
"Do you know why I am going to punish you, Arthur?"

"No, dad, why?" "Because you hit a boy smaller than yourself."

"Oh, I thought perhaps it was because I'm smaller than you."

Exactly!
"So you run a duck farm. Business picking up?"

"No; picking down."

Costly Refuge
"I'm worried—it's raining and my wife is down-town."

"Oh, she'll probably step inside some store."

"That's just it."

COMMENDABLE RESTRAINT
A grocer leaned over the counter and yelled at a boy who stood close to an apple barrel:

"Are you tryin' to steal them apples, boy?"

"No—no, sir," the boy faltered. "I'm tryin' not to!"

HARD AT WORK
"What is your occupation?" asked the magistrate.

"I'm a locksmith, sir," replied the prisoner.

"Then what were you doing in that gambling house when the police raided it?"

"I was making a bolt for the door."

Big Income
During an intense love scene in the movies, when the hero was doing the Charles Boyer stuff, wifey nudged hubby and whispered, "Why is it that you never make love to me like that?"

"Say," he replied, "do you happen to know that guy gets $10,000 a week for doing that?"

Chemicals Help Control Unwanted Shrubs and Trees

Controlling stands of trees and shrubs or eradicating both completely is of great importance in maintenance of power line, telephone, highway, and ditch right-of-ways, according to Maurice W. Day, supervisor of the Dunbar Forest Experiment Station.

Located at Sault Ste. Marie, this branch of Michigan State College's experimental facilities gives opportunity to check methods of getting rid of undesirable trees and shrubs.

Day points out that permanent pastures are often reduced in value by the presence of woody plant growth. Many kinds of plant growth are capable of sprouting vigorously from the stump when cut. The only really effective control of these species is obtained through the killing of the root system.

Control procedures fall into two classes: Mechanical and chemical. Mechanical methods, used for some time, include: Cutting, burning, diskling, plowing, bulldozing, or girdling. All have disadvantages. Cutting and burning result in heavy sprouting and the latter methods result in good seeded conditions for another stand of trees or shrubs. Girdling is slow and suitable only for larger trees.

Day reports that control of woody vegetation by chemical means has been developed rapidly in recent years. Most of the procedures involve the use of 2,4-D and a newer chemical 2,4,5-T.

Tests have shown that the products can be used singly, or together, in both oil and water solutions. For the elimination of woody plants, preparations of the various esters of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T are usually recommended.

Recently several products containing esters of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T were marketed as "brush killers." Directions for their use should be followed carefully.

Plant Rye for Later Pasture

If you want a couple months less barn feeding of your dairy cows or late fall and early spring pasture for your swine, sheep, or beef cows, better plant some Balbo rye.

Michigan state college agricultural specialists find farmers who have tried Balbo rye like it. W. W. Snyder of the MSC dairy department, says it is excellent pasture for dairy cows because it doesn't seem to taint the milk like some varieties do.

Seeding Balbo rye in mid-August in corn or on land from which grain is being harvested this summer will not only give you pasture this November and next March or April, but will give you a cover crop to keep soil from washing.

Since Balbo rye is a little more tender than some varieties, farmers in northern Michigan may find that it winter kills to some extent. Locally-grown seed is likely to be more hardy, agricultural specialists say.

Trumpeter Swan

Largest of North American wildfowl is the trumpeter swan. On wings spanning eight feet it takes off into the wind with great effort like a loaded seaplane. Once plentiful in a wide range, it was thought to have been extinguished by hunters 50 years ago. It has slowly been restored to a present count of 1,500 on the lakes of Montana, Wyoming, and adjacent Canada.

"Novel" comes from an Italian word meaning tale.

The first lesson any young man has to learn is to create a plan, set his goals, then do his level best to live up to them.

ELMWOOD

Vilas McNeil narrowly escaped serious injury when his tractor tipped over on him in the dredge cut southwest of Gagetown.

Miss Carolyn Auten of New York City is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Auten, for two weeks.

Mrs. Clark Knapp of Kalamazoo came Thursday to spend until Sunday here and Clark Knapp will come for the week end.

Mrs. Walter Mann, Robert Mara and Robert McClasky, all of Waukegan, Ill., spent several days this week in Cass City.

Robert Clock spent the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Clock of Detroit, and with relatives in Harrow, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Gar Turner and two children spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Turner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Collins, in Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wolcott and son, Frederick, of Romeo were Sunday guests of Mrs. A. A. Hitchcock in the A. J. Knapp home.

Miss Janice McMahon went to Grand Rapids Monday to spend the remainder of the week as guest of her aunt, Mrs. Leo Ide, and of other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tate attended the Detroit-New York baseball game in Detroit Tuesday night.

The Pomona Grange will meet at the Wilbur Memorial Building at Caro Tuesday, August 8, at 8:30 p. m. Ice cream and cake will be served.

Russell, Jane and Max Cameron, all of Decker, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Layne of Detroit attended the Sunday morning service of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Holik of Mishawaka, Indiana, were guests of Mr. Holik's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Holik, and other relatives from Saturday to Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Moore of Pigeon were Sunday evening guests of Rev. and Mrs. S. R. Wurtz and attended the worship service in the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Toner and family visited at the home of Mr. Toner's cousin, Mrs. Martin McPhue, at Kinde Sunday. Gladys Toner of Marlette spent the week end with her parents.

Mrs. J. Franklin Beck and sons, Timothy and Jonathan, of Grand Island, N. Y., and Mrs. Gordon L. Thomas and children, David and Kathleen, of East Lansing are visiting in the H. F. Lenzner home.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrison L. Moore and daughters, Betsy and Mary, of Avon Lake, Ohio, and Miss Gertrude Nuttall of Detroit are enjoying a two weeks' vacation with Mr. Moore's mother, Mrs. Mary M. Moore, and at Caseville.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Auten were called to Portland, Maine, by the illness of the former's aunt, Miss Alice Libby, who passed away in the Maine General Hospital in that city Friday. Miss Libby has made many visits in the Auten home here and has many friends in Cass City.

Mrs. Ray Silvernail spoke on the United Nations program at the meeting of the Women's Society of World Service at the Evangelical United Brethren Church parlor Friday afternoon. A memorial service, honoring Mrs. Grant McConnell and Mrs. G. E. Krapf, members who died recently, was also part of the program. Refreshments of cake and tea were served.

About 40 members and friends of the Evangelical United Brethren Ladies' Aid Society were served dinner at their regular meeting Wednesday in the church parlor. The ladies sewed two quilts during the all-day session. A miscellaneous shower for Miss Betty Hower and a memorial service for two deceased members, Mrs. Grant McConnell and Mrs. G. E. Krapf, were on the afternoon program.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Profit returned Saturday evening from a nine-day trip through the East. They drove first to the Thousand Islands at the mouth of St. Lawrence River by way of Canada, then on through New York where they saw the Au Sable Caverns near Albany. In Barre, Vermont, they visited cousins before going on to Boston and re-

Record Purses Attract Racers

A total of $10,000.00 in purses, the richest stakes of all time, will ride on the noses of speedy trotters and pacers during the three days of harness racing at the Tuscola County Fair, the week of August 21st.

The Michigan Futurity race for colts with purses estimated at better than $3,000.00 each will be raced on Wednesday and Thursday of that week. The three year old pace going on Thursday, when Governor C. Mennen Williams will present a handsome trophy to the winner. All other races will carry trophy awards to the winners in addition to the purse money.

Improvements on both the track and about the grandstand will add to the sport as well as to the comfort of its patrons. A series of high grade acts and vaudeville features will dispel all dull moments between racing heats.

A special announcer has been engaged to keep fans informed on the progress of each race, and the starting gate, popular at last year's fair, will again be used.

Maryanne Gallagher And Neil Adams Wed

Maryanne Gallagher of Cass City was married at 7:30 Saturday evening to Neil Adams of Sterling, Michigan. The wedding took place before the picture window in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gallagher. Neil is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Adams, of Sterling.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a pale green nylon street-length dress for the occasion and wore a white orchid. The matron of honor was Mrs. John Gevickala of Bay City. Mrs. Gevickala, who is the former Lorell Doerr, wore a lavender crepe dress and a gardenia corsage. The best man was Mr. Ed. Burdick, of Detroit.

The double-ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Howard C. Watkins of the Methodist Church, was followed by a family reception at the Gallagher home. The house was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and lighted tapers.

After a honeymoon in Canada, the couple plan to live in Sterling.

Coming Auction

Werner Mikkola uses space on page 11 to advertise an auction sale 1 mile west and 1 1/8 miles north of Deford on Saturday, Aug. 5. Worthy Tait is the auctioneer and the Cass City State Bank, clerk.

We've never heard of a self-made woman — probably they change their plans so often.

Harold Wells Lawn Ideal for Parties

That the beautiful lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wells on East Pine Street is an ideal place for summer picnics was well proven last week on two successive evenings.

On Thursday evening 70 members of Echo Chapter 337, O. E. S., and Tyler Lodge 317, F. and A. M., enjoyed a 7 o'clock potluck supper at the picnic tables in the yard. The remainder of the evening was spent playing games.

The Golden Rule Class of the Evangelical United Brethren Church were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Wells on Friday evening, also at a potluck supper at 7 o'clock. About 25 members and guests were present for the business meeting and evening of visiting following the devotional period led by Rev. S. R. Wurtz after the meal.

Before departing for home the group sent a delegation after ice cream and cones as a special treat to climax the event.

Winning Grains To Get Trophies

Four new prizes have been added to the grain show to spur the competition in this department.

The certified seed section of The Michigan Bean Company has awarded a trophy to the winner in that division, which is likewise the case in wheat, with the Frutchey Bean Company providing the trophy. Wallace and Morley Company are providing the trophy for the Barley Division, and the Caro Farmers Co-Operative Elevator, the trophy for the Oat Division.

Clark Helwigs Hosts To Family Reunion

The Lounsbury-Dean Reunion was held last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Helwig, on the Schwegler Road. Eighty-five members of the family were present.

A hamburger fry and wiener roast on the lawn began about the same time as the rain, so the reunion dinner was eaten in the house.

Out-of-town guests came from Caro, Unionville, Bay City, Saginaw, Gagetown and Royal Oak. The oldest member of the family present was Mrs. Perry Livingston and the youngest was her granddaughter, Anne Joiner, 11 weeks old.

Reunion officers elected for the following year are: Harley Dean, president; Mrs. Robt. Joiner, vice president; Harland Lounsbury, secretary; and Mrs. Leslie Lounsbury, treasurer.

Next year the reunion will be held the last Sunday in July at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Janks, Jr., near Caro.

Today, as never before in history, the one thing most vitally needed is faith.

with the other Cass City boys. Arrangements for the expedition are being made by Edward Baker, Tuscola district chairman, Ray Fleener, head of the troop committee, and George J. Clara, assistant scoutmaster.

The boys will leave Sunday about noon in a school bus. Dan DeLong will drive. Another local Explorer, Charles Reed, will leave for camp August 19 to start on his second Canadian canoe trip. One of the leaders of that trip will be Kenneth G. Kerr of Caro, Tuscola camping and activities chairman.

Poor Lighting

Faulty lighting is believed to be a factor in the figures showing that 95 per cent of all children have normal eyesight when they are born, but that 81 per cent need glasses by the time they reach post-college age.

This could be your child!

This youngster, and hundreds of others like her, may bear permanent scars caused by adult carelessness with fire and scalding liquids. These tragic accidents need not happen to your child if you will: 1. Keep matches out of reach. 2. Use back burners for boiling liquids. 3. Guard against fires through constant vigilance. Be careful ...the child you save may be your own!

The medicine cabinet holds a mysterious fascination for most children. Make sure dangerous drugs are disposed of or locked up. Remember, a small child can't be expected to read the labels.

Drowning while swimming or playing in the water causes more deaths among children 5 to 14 years of age than in any other age group. See that your youngsters get swimming instructions at an early age.

Cats

Looks Like It Happened

MINERVA, OHIO. — A synthetic cat came out of a brick kiln with its rear end scorched, but still a bundle of flesh and fur.

It thereby, experimenters said, proved the greatest hot-foot story in the history of Minerva: The tale of Miracle, a living and breathing calico cat which survived 30 hours in a kiln heated to 900 degrees.

Miracle's prefabricated counterpart—a sizzling steak wrapped in a seal skin—was submitted to a similar ordeal.

At the end of 30 hours, the steak still was juicy and that hot fur soft.

Only one end was charred. That was the end farthest in the furnace, where the tail of the real cat presumably once lay.

An inch and a half of Miracle's tail was burned off.

"Now," exclaimed the brick-plant superintendent as the test was concluded, "maybe they'll believe we're not a bunch of liars."

The superintendent, Joe Bucola, was the first person to relate the tale of the fire resistant cat.

First Travel Bureau For Trip to Planets Records Heavy Trade

NEW YORK.—The world's first travel bureau for trips to the planets opened for business here, and its success was meteoric.

More than 200 atomic-age pioneers rushed to make reservations on the maiden rocket space cruise to the moon, Mars, and points up.

The rocket ships Lunarian, Martian, Saturnia, and Solar Queen are scheduled to leave daily except Sundays and holidays from the New York Spaceport in Central Park March 15, 1975.

According to the timetables, they will travel at average speeds of 25,000 miles an hour, dodging meteors and stars on flights ranging from 10 hours to 1,333 days.

The bureau, complete with route maps of the heavens, showing stopover points on the craters of the moon, set up shop at the American Museum of Natural History, just outside the Hayden Planetarium, where a preview of flights to come was shown to prospective planet-bound passengers.

Most of the would-be universe trotters signed on the dotted line before they saw the preview—and before they found out that a human might explode on the moon, melt on Mars, or be asphyxiated by Jupiter.

Their confidence was unshaken, however, as they walked out clutching their timetables for space. They were so anxious to go that they didn't bother to ask the price.

And they didn't bother, either, to read the fine print on the schedules, which said:

"Cannot be responsible for delays on route caused by meteor showers or other phenomena."

Most Women Murdered Are Slain By Husbands

EVANSTON, ILL.—Women are in much greater danger of being killed by their own husbands than by sex criminals or other assailants, a university professor declares.

Furthermore, he adds, his studies showed there were twice as many murders of women by their husbands as there were by lovers or suitors.

Prof. Edwin H. Sutherland, chairman of the sociology department at Indiana university, discussed his findings in the current issue of Northwestern university's Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology.

He said his observations were based on a three-year survey of the murders of women reported in a large Eastern newspaper.

Of 324 female deaths reported, he said, 102 were said to have been done by husbands, 37 by fathers or other close relatives, and 49 by lovers or suitors.

Sutherland also said the sexual psychopath laws enacted in many states are inadequate.

The laws, he said, "are based on a belief that persons who commit serious sex crimes have no control over their sexual impulses and will repeat their crimes again and again regardless of punishment or other experiences."

Actually, evidence indicated that sex offenders have a low rate of return to criminal habits, according to Sutherland.

He said F.B.I. reports showed a very low rate of return to crime by persons accused of criminal assault.

Gunmen Badly Beat Man Before Taking $1,000

AKRON, OHIO. — Four gunmen took $1,000 in cash and $600 in government bonds from George R. Roe, 60, after beating and torturing him, he told Robert L. Smith Summit county sheriff.

Roe said the men attacked him at his 100-acre farm near Macedonia, Ohio, where he lives alone. He said they tied him in a chair, beat him and burned his feet with a hot poker when he refused to tell where his money was hidden.

The men, however, ransacked the home and found the hiding place, Roe said.

Since water meters were universally installed in Los Angeles, the amount of water consumed per person has dropped from 280 to 132 gallons a day. Engineers point out that the 128 gallon daily drop represented waste and leakage.

Those Who Seek Pirate Treasure Rated as Chumps

WASHINGTON. — This may be throwing a lot of cold water on a lot of heated interest in buried treasure—but according to experts and the record, anyone who goes hunting for pirate gold puts himself in the chump category.

That's the word from Lt. Cmdr. K. D. Ian Murray, formerly of the British merchant marine. He says he has been checking up on pirate lore ever since he first read "Treasure Island."

Murray said that it is quite true that pirate gold exists by the bushel for those lucky enough to find it.

Island Treasure Sites
On the island of Trinidad, for instance, he is pretty sure some 80 million dollars is stacked away. He is pretty sure, too, that plenty is buried on Cocos island, off Central America.

Furthermore, he says, records are fairly complete of ships that have gone down stuffed to the deck with treasure. But this stuff is almost impossible to find. If it is in water, it is now far below the ocean's bottom. If it is on land, the very terrain may have changed so much that even the maps—if they still exist—no longer are any good.

Murray thinks piracy was a pretty good business, back in its day. There have been pirates almost from the time of the first ship. And pirates still exist off the China coast.

The old-time pirate had a strict code, according to Murray, and life wasn't all go ho ho and a bottle of rum.

One bluenosed pirate, a Capt. Roberts, allowed no wine, women or assorted wickedness. And if another ship were captured, Capt. Roberts turned loose all who could give any one of the Ten Commandments.

One Drawback
Murray points out one drawback to modern treasure hunting: There have been no major developments in the science since the invention of the diving bell and the diving suit.

Of modern inventions, he thinks only the mine detector has many possibilities. The commander seems to be doing all right. True, on his rambling, he has managed to pick up only a few pieces of pirate gold. But he has been acting as technical adviser on motion pictures of the sea, especially those with a piratical twist.

There is more than one way to skin a cat—and more than one way to get at buried treasure. He didn't say how much he thought was buried in Hollywood.

Wake Island Is Waste Dead Men, Ships, Hope

WAKE ISLAND.—If ghosts bother you, stay away from Wake, for this is an island of dead men and dead ships, of shattered hopes and futile ambitions. Japan's dream of an empire ebbed on its coral shores.

At least 200 Americans were killed defending this lovely Pacific atoll, 98 of them machine gunned by a Japanese execution squad.

More than 3,000 Japanese died here—1,242 of starvation.

Somewhere on Wake, still un-found, is the mass grave of 42 Americans who were buried during the night of Dec. 11, 1941, casualties of the first four days of war.

Dry skulls and bleached bones are scattered under the scrubby green bushes and along the shores of the three square mile island. Unopened brown saki bottles headstones the graves of the otherwise unmarked Japanese dead.

Luxurious transpacific planes settle on runways bordered with the wreckage of Japanese and American fighters who duled for possession of once important acres now unprotected by a single American rifleman.

Bored passengers, many of them Japanese, sleepily disembark where screaming Japanese charged ashore that fateful night of Dec. 23, 1941, and overran the handful of defenders in a bitter seven hour battle.

Massive concrete blockhouses mushroom out of the coral everywhere, some American built, others Japanese. In them some 4,000 Japanese lived for two hellish years, roasting rats and drinking leaf soup while awaiting starvation and the American bombings.

Egyptian Cemetery Is Found Dating Back 5,000 Years

CAIRO, EGYPT.—A vast cemetery dating back to the old kingdom (3200-2630 B.C.) has been discovered by excavators at El Quatta in the western desert under direction of Abdul Hamada, curator of the Egyptian museum.

This high, rocky site, free from humidity, was eminently suitable for burials. Unfortunately, while the excavations were the first to be undertaken scientifically, many of the tombs had been plundered by modern robbers.

power plant at his toe's command, by the obvious levelness of the ride he enjoys, the swift ease with which Dynaflow Drive solves his traffic problems.

What is not so plain from what you see is that here also is a man very wise in what today's dollar should buy!

For this man has all that a fine-car owner can ask for—brilliant performance, a ride without equal for gentle softness, finger-easy handling, abundant room all around him, styling that is easily the most distinguished on the highway.

Yet he paid considerably less than comparable merit costs elsewhere.

He found fewer extra charges in his delivered price, with such things as Dynaflow Drive, foam rubber cushions, windshield washers, electric clock, even non-glare rear-view mirror included in the price.

If you know fine cars, it won't take fifteen minutes behind a ROADMASTER wheel to see that here is one of the finest.

If you have inquired about prices, a single glance at the delivered figures establishes this as the big buy of the field.

Why not make both checks—especially since your Buick dealer will be glad to arrange a trial run in a ROADMASTER any time you care to call on him?

WOMAN'S WORLD

Achieve Cool, Summery Effects With Appropriate Table Decor

By Erta Haley

COOL, LOVELY TABLE settings can give as much pleasure to dining during hot weather as foods themselves.

Soft colors which in themselves are in direct contrast to the weather, frosted glasses and plants, leaves, flowers or fruit can contribute to a feeling of tranquility that makes mealtime more enjoyable.

Just as hot rooms can be cooled with the use of certain colors, so can tables achieve the same atmosphere. Properly, every dining room should be equipped with tablecloths, dollies, napkins and dishes which suggest warmth or coolness, each to be used in appropriate seasons.

Shades of blue and green, as well as some of the light pastels are all correct to use when the weather is blistering hot. These colors may be used advantageously in linens as well as in china or pottery.

If you eat in the dining room, then your coolest shades of these colors should be used. If eating out-of-doors, slightly warmer colors and more rustic effects are appropriate.

Neatness is of prime importance in giving the table a cool look be-

Refresh Your Table

Dishes, decorated under the glaze with a wreath of ivy in natural colors, make a cool and informal setting appropriate to the warm weather. Natural colored mats and simply designed napkins help avoid a cluttered look on the table.

The simplest edging to apply is a fringe which is done easily by unravelling the material.

Keep Edgings Small, Neat for Cool Look

Any edgings which are heavy, even though they might fit the material, will detract from the cool look you want to accomplish. Stay with the very simple edgings, be they lace already made or crocheted by you on the material at hand.

Contrasting bindings are very neat and cool, especially when chosen in the cool colors already mentioned. Any of the colors would be appropriate with white, and should be chosen to highlight one of the colors used on your set of dishes.

For porch or garden eating, when you may have chosen checks, plaids or prints, use a white edging or at least one of the basic colors in the materials used. If possible, have it in blue or green since these are most cooling.

If you do not want separate dollies for each plate setting, you may decide on runners. Use one of these down the center of the table, and one on each side. These are especially easy to make with simple hand or machine hemming when you are using toweling since the 17 or 18 inch widths fit tables nicely.

Those who want to save on laundry will undoubtedly dispense with matching napkins and will use the paper products. Here again, white would be the best choice as it goes with any color or a combination of several.

Crocheted dollies lend a cool and frosty look to tables, particularly when they are of a simple pattern. White is the most popular shade, and when starched, they will give you as neat and attractive a table as it's possible to have.

Napkins to match crocheted dollies may be of cotton or linen with a very narrow edge to match the crocheted dolly pattern.

Keep Table Centerpiece Informal and Cool

Heavy, formal flower, fruit and other arrangements for the centerpiece are out of place when you are trying to keep the table as serene and cool as possible. You'll be amazed at how much easier it is to achieve the desired effect with easy arrangements.

Branches or flowers with small blossoms may be used with more profusion than large ones, and it's an excellent idea to include some of the foliage with them because the green coloring lends cool enchantment to the summer table.

Use the simplest containers you have. A neatly woven basket fitted with a water container at the bottom can be a very effective setting for many blossoming branches. It might also be used for an edible centerpiece of vegetable or fruit.

Glass containers are very cool appearing, especially when you can see the clear water. If you use these containers for some of the larger flowers, use only a few blossoms so the effect of the water can be appreciated fully.

Frogs, wiring and pin holders, if they tend to destroy the effect, are cleverly hidden by carefully placed foliage or some green modeling clay patted into place.

Avoid ragged, largely massed arrangements, especially on smaller tables by trimming both flowers and foliage very carefully.

Plan to eliminate anything from the table which might destroy its restful appearance by using trays and wagons for bringing in food as well as for disposing of soiled china.

These are best removed as soon as possible so that the table is free from clutter during the whole dining period.

Keep table uncluttered . . .

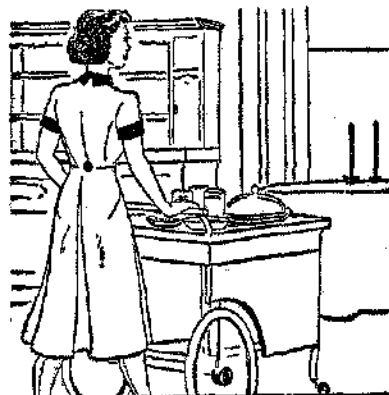

cause it suggests calm. Anything wrinkled or even slightly soiled should be tossed aside because it suggests confusion and turmoil, and accents the effects of the weather.

Some smart homemakers use only their sheerest cottons and linens during warm weather, and they starch these lightly so they are smooth and cool looking and give an unwilted appearance during hot days. Add to these their lightweight dishes and frosted glasses, and you have some idea of how cool looking tables can really be.

It's important not to overload the table, but to keep it as orderly as possible. A single blossom in a small, dainty bowl of clear water can be more effective than a whole massed arrangement of flowers.

Plain Cotton Remnants Make Attractive Dollies

After you've checked your supply of table linens and decide that you need some first aid in that department, check your supply of old cotton remnants. Old tablecloths, sheets, towels and pillowcases can often be made into a set of dollies and napkins.

for pleasant summer dining.

White may be used successfully to achieve a cool look, but you may want to renew the finish to some extent if the material is old and somewhat wilted. Launder it carefully and let it dry in the sun to bleach it out. For any stubborn stains, use a bleaching solution, rinse carefully and let dry.

If the cottons are sheer, you'll want to starch them rather stiff, but this may be done after you've finished sewing or decorating them. When heavy, textured fabrics are used, you can dispense with most of the trimming since these materials have enough interest in themselves.

Other sources of material may include organdies, starched voile or sheer linen toweling. See what you have in the way of leftover materials from previous sewing. If the search yields little, you might check remnant counters as a source.

Should you decide on colors, white cottons as well as other fabrics might be tinted or dyed to go with dishes you have. It's easy to tint pastels in a wash basin with just warm water. For deeper shades of blue, green, maroon or aquamarine, all cooling colors, you'll probably want to use hotter water. These should be rinsed out carefully after dyeing so there is no running of the colors in subsequent laundering, especially if the edging has a contrasting color.

MACHINE AGE? Voters Rap Tab Machine

CHICAGO, ILL.—This may be a machine age, but thousands of Chicagoans are convinced that, for them, at least, it is not the voting machine age.

A recent primary provided a major test for use of the voting devices here. It produced ruffled tempers, charges of fraud, and definitely slowed not only the voting, but counting of ballots. That last item was one where the mechanical X-makers were supposed to shine.

A total of 1,850 voting machines were used in 1,444 of Chicago's 4,268 precincts. No machines were used in the country precincts outside Chicago, but the Cook county board has had them under consideration. Chicago has them ordered for the rest of its precincts.

The principal complaint by citizens against the machines in Tuesday's voting was that insufficient time was allowed a voter to operate the machine. When waiting lines formed in many of the precincts, precinct election officials allowed a voter only four minutes to pull the handles on the voting machine.

With the large number of names to be looked over and to be located on the machine before the voter could operate the proper handle, four minutes was hardly enough. Since the machine curtains are locked until the voter pulls the vote lever to register his choices, there was no way to elect a voter from a booth until he had completed his balloting.

Impatience Marked

The rub came in the impatience of those waiting their turns at the machines. Throughout the city delays of 15 minutes to more than an hour were reported by voters who waited in line. Many were reported to have taken one look at the "monsters," as one politician called them, and retreated from the polling place. Others sighted the long line waiting and stalked out.

Mayor Martin H. Kennelly himself spent 10 minutes in a voting machine booth at the Edgewater Beach apartments, where he lives. He had waited 15 minutes.

One politician estimated that 20 votes had been lost in every precinct where the machines were used. Republicans charged that the slowness at the machines worked to the advantage of the Democrats. They contended that the Chicago board of election commissioners deliberately assigned the devices to strong GOP precincts.

The commissioners denied this. They said the machines were assigned to whichever precincts were most conveniently arranged to receive them. Some basements in residences serve as polling places and considerable trouble was encountered in getting the bulky 1,100 pound machines down narrow, winding stairways into such places.

Instructions Confusing

Election board officials said that of 200 complaints, 90 per cent stemmed from the failure of voters and ballot clerks to follow instructions.

Some voters complained that the demonstration of the machine's operation turned out to be the citizen's vote, although not his choice. Another complaint was that when the party preference changed from one voter to the next, election officials failed to change the lever which controlled party selection.

The fast count claimed by sponsors of the machines also failed to materialize. The city news bureau, which compiles unofficial returns for Chicago newspapers reported that totals from the first machine precinct came an hour and a half after the polls closed. Many precincts using paper ballots reported much sooner.

The machines used in Chicago cost $1,360 each. Another 1,000 of them are on order and expected to be delivered in time for the November election.

Magician's Spirit Fails To Materialize at Grave

COLUMBUS, OHIO.—If the spirit of magician Howard Thurston is hanging about his burial place, he doesn't care to let anybody know.

For the 12th year, Claude D. Noble, a 58-year-old Detroit advertising man, tried today to contact Thurston's spirit on the anniversary of his death.

Noble stood in the mausoleum and held a can of cement. If Thurston's spirit was near (and able), it was supposed to knock the cement from Noble's hand.

Before the magician died in 1896, he and Noble made a pact to try experiments such as today's. Thurston promised to manifest himself after death if he could.

In previous years Noble held objects such as a wand, a photograph, a coin, and a Thurston biography.

Today's can of cement was made by a company Thurston formerly owned.

If that can had been knocked out of Noble's hand—

But it wasn't.

The want ads are newswy, too.

RESCUE

Mrs. Howard Martin spent last Friday with her sons in Pontiac.

Mrs. Russell Brown is visiting a few days at the home of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Cummings, near Cass City.

Mrs. Thomas Quinn was a business caller in Saginaw Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson and daughter, Nancy, and the Misses Powers of Pontiac were Wednesday evening visitors at the home of Mr. Robinson's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. George Parker and grandchildren, Cecelia and David Divine, and William W. Parker were visitors last Sunday at the home of George Parker's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Cone, at Almont. They are slowly recovering from their recent accident.

Robert MacCallum accompanied Donald MacCallum to his home in Pontiac after visiting relatives here a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris E. Mellendorf and daughter, Arlene, took their grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Mosseau, to her home in Bad Axe Monday afternoon. Mrs. Mosseau had been at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quinn, Sr., since Friday.

Mrs. Howard Helwig entertained the following relatives for supper Tuesday evening in honor of her husband's birthday: Mrs. Jacob Helwig; Mr. and Mrs. Levi J. Helwig and daughters, Wenola and Joyce; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gingrich; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Profit and daughters, Bernice, Almeda and Donna, all of Cass City, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond LeVigne and daughter, Marjorie, of Detroit.

Mrs. Elwood Creguer and children of Filion spent Thursday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quinn, Sr.

Earl and John Nicholas purchased a self propelled combine recently from Cass City and are busy these days combining wheat for the farmers.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ashmore and son, Theodore, and grandchildren, Betty, Samuel and James, were in Cass City Tuesday evening. Louis and Margaret Ann Kozan accompanied them to their home in Cass City after spending the day with their grandparents.

Miss Marilyn MacCallum visited the past week with relatives in Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maharg, of Mayville were Sunday evening visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maharg.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Moore and daughters, Donna and Dianne, spent the week end with relatives in Port Huron.

Thomas Herron of Gagetown spent Sunday and Monday at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maharg.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quinn, Sr., took their granddaughter, Charlotte Creguer, to her home in Filion Sunday after spending since Thursday with her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ashmore, Sr., accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kozan and children of Cass City to Fulton, New York, on Wednesday to visit relatives a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris E. Mellendorf and daughter, Arlene, were Sunday evening visitors at the homes of Harvey and Willard Britt near Ivanhoe.

Mrs. James Welborn visited her husband, James Welborn, at Howell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Benson and children of Detroit spent over Sunday at their farm home at Rescue.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quinn, Jr., and sons, Thomas J. and James N., attended the Lounsbury—Dean reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Helwig Sunday.

Warns About Trees

Don't be surprised if hickories, oaks, elms and birches partly leaf out this season and then collapse. Some trees may put forth smaller leaves and take on a "wilted" look. These after-effects of the drought and beetle invasion will be felt to a diminishing degree over the next two or three years, according to Dr. Bartlett.

with the WD and mounted plow

So much has been said about plows and plowing, that talking can't prove anything. But we know the performance of this outfit will. Let us demonstrate the Allis-Chalmers WD Tractor and 2-bottom mounted plow. If you have a tough field that needs a real plowing job, we can show you:

- An outfit that plows your fields the way you want them plowed.
- A tractor with that extra power you've been wanting.
- A hydraulic traction booster that really works.

May we demonstrate?

Miss Theresa Ann Werdeeman visited Saturday and Sunday with her aunt, Miss Marguerite Wald, of Saginaw.

Any glib talker can give reasons for either side in an argument, but the important thing is to think it out for yourself.

Currently rated among the nation's leading acrobatic acts, the Jade Sisters, featured in the grandstand show to be presented at the Tuscola County Fair at Caro, August 21 through August 26, attained their high regard by battering down the long-established belief that only men could be outstanding in that physically demanding field. Sheer ability alone enabled them to scale the heights. Instead of helping, their beauty was a handicap. Attraction bookers and buyers at first did not believe that such an eye-filling trio of girls could be so good looking and still be competent, much less top-notch, acrobats. Once the sisters crashed through with several appearances, that belief faded rapidly and was followed quickly by a remarkable spurt in interest on the part of bookers and buyers of attractions to place them under contract.

NOTES from the TUSCOLA COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Farmers of Tuscola County are again urged to enter the Ira H. Butterfield Memorial special commercial grain growing contest, in connection with the Michigan State Fair. Entry blanks can be obtained from the Tuscola County agricultural agent, Loren S. Armbruster. The contest is open to growers of wheat, oats and barley. The entry, which must list the number of acres and the yield, has to be signed by an extension worker, agricultural instructor or member of the Michigan Crop Improvement Association.

The August meeting of the Tuscola Soil Conservation District directors will be held in the courthouse on Monday evening, August 7. The directors will inspect the district's nursery at the Indian fields Park and then check the water run of plots at the county farm. The meeting is to begin at 7:30 p. m.

The state farm management tour to be held on August 17 and 18 in Eaton and Calhoun Counties, should be of interest to Tuscola County farmers. The theme of the tour, "Farm Management That Means Dollars," will be brought out by visiting average farms that are following an outstanding management program. Details on this tour can be secured from County Agent Armbruster.

County 4-H Club Agent Byron E. Carpenter is back in Tuscola County after six weeks of graduate work at Michigan State College. Carpenter earned additional credits towards his Master's Degree in General Agriculture. In his absence, the bulk of the 4-H program in the county was handled by the assistant agent, George C. MacQueen.

Agent Armbruster urges farmers to check small grain for moisture content before harvesting. Local elevators or the extension office can assist in moisture testing. Too high moisture content reduces the market value of small grain and also is a great hindrance in storing of grain.

Metals in Flakes

Metals, such as copper and aluminum, are stamped out in thin flakes for use as a pigment in paint. The paints thus made are used for their color and also for their mechanical effects. They are highly resistant to moisture and also aid in sealing in stains which might otherwise "bleed" into subsequent coats of paint of different color.

Snakes Ears

A snake charmer could play his musical instrument like an angel, but he would not get a rise out of his snake if he did not have rhythm. Snakes have no external ears, and cannot hear sound waves in the air. They react only to the charmer's swing and sway.

Jet Planes

The latest jet planes are made of stainless steel because friction at ultrasonic speeds melts the metals used in older types.

List Features for Pen-Type Housing

Dairy farmers who are "on the fence" when it comes to pen-type vs. stanchion barns may find a new Michigan State College bulletin on the subject extremely helpful, according to L. H. Brown, MSC agricultural economist who co-authored the bulletin.

The new Experiment Station publication does not recommend pen-type housing exclusively and without reservation for Michigan dairy herds. It does state that "a pen-type barn can be constructed at a minimum cost which will do the housing job, allow maximum labor efficiency in chore work and maintain economical production and milk sanitation standards."

If the system is accepted along with practices necessary to make it work, the advantages of the pen barn far outweigh its disadvantages, the authors feel. However, managing a herd in a pen barn involves an entirely different system, with ideas many "stanchion barn" dairy farmers find difficult to accept.

Handling a dairy herd in the loose housing system requires providing six separate and distinct areas: (1) milking, (2) milking parlor, (3) "lounge" area, (4) feeding area, (5) an area for freshening cows and young calves, and (6) an area for young stock. The milking parlor is particularly important, and the bulletin contains pictures and plans for several types of parlors.

Special bulletin 963, "Pen-Type Dairy Barns," offers extensive and well illustrated information on successful operation of pen barns and a comparison of advantages and disadvantages of both systems. Copies are available from county extension offices or Bulletin Office, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Former War Chaplain Will Be the Youth Counsellor at Assembly at Bay Shore Park

Prominent in the programs at the 40th annual assembly at Bay Shore Park, Sebawaing, August 16 to 27 will be the Rev. Rudolph F. Joop of the Hillcrest Evangelical United Brethren Church in Detroit. He will be the youth speaker and counsellor during the ten days of the assembly.

Rev. Rudolph F. Joop.

Rev. Mr. Joop is a graduate of North Central College and Evangelical Theological Seminary. He has served several Evangelical Churches in the Illinois conference.

During World War II, he served as a chaplain in the military services. His contact with youth in many walks of life, his understanding of their critical problems and wide experience in counselling prepare him to be an able youth worker.

He will bring a public service each forenoon at 10:30 which will be followed by a 11:15 discussion period for youth only. Each evening he will bring the 6:45 vespers.

Rev. Lester E. Rueggger, pastor at Pigeon, and Miss Priscilla Snyder of Snover will again be counsellors of youth at the assembly.

"Bad Checks" of $30 Each Passed at Two Local Stores

a customer by the name of a Mrs. Peterson, checked his files to see if it was the same one. The initials didn't tally, so immediately he notified the Pinney State Bank. He was told that no one by that name had an account at the bank.

McConkey then notified merchants on Main St. to be on the lookout for the man, who, he said, was dressed in dark pants, a dark shirt, open at the neck, had a high, bushy hair cut and was dark complexioned. His height was given as about six feet and weight from 175 to 190 pounds.

At Parsch's dry goods store, a sales clerk, Mrs. Vera Harrison, said a man came into the store about five minutes to twelve and asked her to pick out a baby's bedspread for him.

He seemed very impatient, she said, and told her not to wrap the purchase, explaining that his "mother would take care of that." He said he was in a hurry because he had to buy three automobile tires. Mrs. Harrison cashed a $30 check for him and he left, taking the bedspread. She said he was very pleasant and nice appearing. Her description of the man was virtually the same as that given by McConkey.

About a quarter to 12, Joseph Riley, at the Shoe Hospital, said the man entered his store and asked to buy a pair of boy's shoes for his nephew. Riley, who keeps a file of all children's shoes, asked the man what the boy's name was so he would be able to tell what size he should buy. When the boy's name couldn't be located in the file, the man said he would ask the boy's grandmother, who was waiting in the car, if this was where she bought his shoes. He never returned.

The two checks cashed by McConkey and Mrs. Harrison are identical. Steve Orto says this is the fourth time that bad checks have appeared in Cass City in the past year. The other three offenders have been apprehended.

According to Deputy Sheriff Grant Ball, a man by the name of Peterson cashed two bad checks, one in Vassar and one in Caro, about three weeks ago.

Pantry Shower for Miss Betty Hower

Mrs. Walter Anthes, assisted by Mrs. Barton Beecher of Vassar and Mrs. Hollis Seelye, entertained about 25 friends in her home Tuesday evening at a pantry shower in honor of Miss Betty Hower.

Various games with prizes to the winners provided much merriment and Miss Hower was the recipient of many useful gifts. They included such staple items as sugar, flour, coffee, tea, salt, pepper and a variety of spices useful to any good cook and homemaker.

Guests from out-of-town were Mrs. Theron Bush of Unionville and Mrs. Norbett Gaeth of Sebawaing.

The hostesses served a luncheon consisting of sandwiches, salad, cake and Kool-Aid to the guests before they departed for their homes well toward midnight.

Miss Hower will become the bride of Stanley P. Kira, Jr., this (Friday) evening.

Wednesday afternoon Miss Hower was presented with a large clothesbasket full of gifts, which the members of the Evangelical United Brethren Church Ladies' Aid brought to their regular meeting, as a shower for the bride-elect.

Pfc. Martin Enters Airplane Mechanic's School in Texas

Private First Class Theodore Martin, 22, of Kingston, has entered the Airplane and Engine Mechanic's School at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, the home of the largest technical school of this type in the world.

During his 28-week course as a student at Sheppard he will receive intensive training designed to provide him with the thorough knowledge and the basic skills required in servicing, inspecting and maintaining every type of aircraft currently used by the USAF.

Upon graduation he will be awarded the rating of Airplane and Engine Mechanic. Along with the majority of graduates in his class, he probably will be assigned to one of the major Air Force commands for on-the-job experience with first-line operational aircraft after completion of his schooling here.

Pfc. Martin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Martin of Kingston.

Judges Are Selected For County Fair

Preparations for the Tuscola County Fair are making rapid advancements. Judges have been secured for most of the departments.

Judging will be done on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 22 and 23. Departments and names of judges for Tuesday are: 4-H Dairy, Nevels Pearson, assistant state 4-H Club leader; 4-H and Open Class Sheep, Graydon Blank, animal husbandry extension specialist from Michigan State College; 4-H and Open Class Poultry, Professor C. G. Card, head of the poultry department, Michigan State College; 4-H and Open Class Vegetables, Edward Learner, horticultural department of the College; 4-H Food Preservation and Food Preparation, Miss Lila Frost, Genesee County home demonstration agent; Open Class Canning, Miss June Wilkinson, Huron County home demonstration agent.

Departments that will be judged Wednesday are Open Dairy by Herb Miller of Williamston, 4-H and Open Swine by Carl Staser of Michigan State College, 4-H and Open Class Flowers, Mrs. George W. Foster of Fostoria; 4-H Conservation by B. A. Myers, district conservationist of Saginaw. The judges for the horse, beef and needlecraft departments are not definite at the present time.

SHORT STORY

The Right Look

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

TRACY clawed his way up over the slippery ledge, threw his skis and poles on the ground and sat down panting. Genera laughed merrily.

"That's what city life does to you," she chided. "See, you can't take it any more."

"For a fact I can't," he grinned. "Phew! What a climb! Skis are no good up here. If we're going to the top we'll have to hob-nail it up."

"We can quit and go down," she said. Her voice held the barest hint of a taunt. She hated herself for it. "Quit nothing! Just because I've been away for two years you needn't think you can stump me." Tracy's eyes flicked over the girl's slim, wiry figure. "Boy, you always could take it," he admired. "Ever since we were kids I've had to hump to keep up with you."

The reference to their childhood escapades brought on a flood of regrets.

Two years ago he had left her with a brotherly clap on the back and a firm handshake. She had almost hated him. He had gone down to the city to become an architect. Then he'd written about Jessica. She was a singer in a night club. He had fallen madly in love with her. His letters had been full of their romance.

Genera had wanted to tell him to stop writing his everlasting prattle about a silly night club singer. Didn't he know that every word was a knife thrust in her heart?

"You know," he said suddenly, "you're growing more lovely every year, Gen. Some day soon a man's coming along and—"

She laughed out loud and scrambled to her feet. "Come on, City Man, we've got to get going if we want to make the top and get back before dark."

"Come on City Man, we've got to get going if we want to make the top before dark."

Tracy grinned and yanked himself up the first steep ascent. Before he had gone 10 feet he realized that it was a foolhardy business. Without ice picks and ropes climbing was hazardous.

He started ahead again and then stopped. Above him, maybe 30 feet away, he could make out the blurred form of Genera.

The blurred outline stopped. He listened for her reply, but if she called the wind drowned it. For an instant her hobnailed boots were clawing against the ice. Then she came coasting down the incline, reaching frantically for bushes that slid through her hands. Tracy made a lunge. His hand caught at her ski jacket as she whipped past, held, felt it slip through his fingers.

A strangled cry escaped his lips. Horror-stricken, he watched her reach the ledge and flip over its edge, disappear. In a moment he was back on the flat ground looking over the edge, not daring to hope. Fifty feet below he made out a green patch, like a wisp of cloth caught in the gnarled branches of a hardwood shrub.

IT SEEMED like hours before he found footing against a rock 10 feet from where Genera clung to the hardwood shrub. Directly beneath her was a 200-foot chasm.

Tracy slipped the handle of one pole through the wheel of the other, tightened the strap on his wrist and cast out across the ice. At his second attempt Genera grasped the slim bamboo.

"Take it easy," he called. "You'll have to swing down like a pendulum, then slowly upward."

She nodded and released her grip. The impact of her 112 pounds almost caused him to lose his grip. But he held on. The moment she was below him he began pulling upward, hand over hand. In a moment their hands touched and she was safe on the rock.

Tracy's hand reached for hers. There was a queer light in his eyes. "It just came to me," he said, "what this old world would be like without you, Gen. I mean—" he gulped—"I never realized it before. I—Gen, I don't know how to say it."

Her eyes were misty. "Darling, you don't have to. I've been waiting for you to look like that for 19 years."

Grant W. S. C. S. Votes to Buy Piano

Dinner and quilting were enjoyed by members of the Grant W. S. C. S. Thursday, July 27, when Mrs. Howard Martin and Mrs. Frank McCallum were hostesses. Mrs. Lawrence Moore, the president, led the devotions and 11 members responded to roll call giving "Thoughts for Today."

Mrs. T. J. Heron asked the ladies to serve at her golden wedding anniversary on Aug. 27 and Mrs. F. McCallum, Mrs. H. Martin and Mrs. D. MacLachlan are on the committee on arrangements. The society voted to purchase Mrs. Frank Reader's piano. Mrs. Reader and the late Frank Reader lived in this community before moving to Cass City and their piano will have a sentimental value attached to it, in the opinion of the group.

Mrs. Dougald MacLachlan and Mrs. Martin are hostesses for the next meeting in two weeks.

Four Breakings and Enterings in Caro

Cash and cigarettes were stolen in a series of four breaking and enterings in Caro late Monday night or early Tuesday morning. Tuscola County sheriff's officers and Bad Axe State Police are investigating.

Over $22 was taken from Van-

Connett's garage, about $8 from the Kitchen Bros' Service Station and several packs of cigarettes from Newk's Service Station. Mike's Tobacco Bar was entered and pennies from the till were strewn on the floor, but nothing was taken.

Laziness causes more failures than ignorance, but the combination is catastrophic.
