

Milk Produced Locally Finds Way To Foreign Lands

99% of Sweetened Milk of Nestle Co., Cass City, Goes Overseas

Some of the milk produced on farms in the area surrounding Cass City today will eventually find its way to such distant places as Africa, South America and the Philippine Islands, according to E. A. Hanna, plant superintendent of the condenser of The Nestle Co., Inc. in the village.

Hanna said that 99 percent of the sweetened condensed milk produced at the plant is shipped to overseas ports. Formerly China was a chief consumer of the Cass City product, but since the international situation has flared up exports to that country have dropped to almost nothing.

Milk processed at the plant, which is located at the west end of the village, is taken from a territory roughly outlined by Imlay City, M-53, Unionville and Port Austin. Milk is hauled by trucks and processed daily.

The first step in the production of the canned milk is to cool it immediately after it arrives at the plant. Next it is heated at pasteurizing temperatures before being condensed. Hanna pointed out the difference between evaporated milk and sweetened condensed milk. In processing evaporated milk, half of the water is removed and the product is sterilized so it will keep without refrigeration as long as the can is not opened. A Nestle evaporated milk plant is located at Uby.

In making sweetened condensed milk, some of the water is removed and sucrose is added to maintain stability without refrigeration. It will stay fresh even after the can has been opened.

Condensing the product is done by heating it under a vacuum. At this time the sucrose is added, giving the milk its smooth texture. Hanna said that careful heating and sterilizing are essential to maintain high quality and flavor. All milk equipment used at the Nestle plant is made of stainless steel. When the process has been completed, the milk is tested in the Nestle laboratory as a double check against imperfections. If it is found to be satisfactory, it is sealed in sanitary cans and packed for delivery all over the world.

With the peak season of milk production already past, the Nestle employment rolls have leveled off to a yearly average of about 80 persons, making it the largest industry in Cass City.

The original condenser building was constructed in 1918 by the Hires Condensed Milk Company. Two years later the building and equipment were purchased by the Nestle company who have operated the plant continuously since January 1, 1920. The plant has been constantly remodeled and enlarged since that time and new machinery and building changes are contemplated for the future.

Mexican Tea Room Opens in Caro

The Mexican Tea Room, located near the Caro Livestock Auction Yards, was opened recently by Mrs. Frank Fuller. An unusual feature of this new restaurant is its decoration scheme.

Interior walls of the small building are finished with knotty cedar and booths along the walls are constructed of the same material. Walls, tables, and even the ceiling are decorated with pottery, pictures and weaving in the Mexican mode.

The restaurant specializes in chicken-in-a-basket, but serves various other dinners from 11 a. m. to 12 midnight.

Boat Capsized and Father of Seven Drowns at Caro

Four Others in the Same Boat Escaped Sunday Afternoon

George McAlpine, 37, of Caro and a former resident of Grant Township, Huron County, was drowned in the Cass River at Caro Sunday afternoon when the wooden boat with an outboard motor he was using capsized. The accident occurred at 3:15 p. m. as the boat was turning in mid-stream. McAlpine is the father of seven children.

Elmer Haggie, 40, of Caro, told Sheriff Jeffery that when the boat upset he told Delbert McAlpine, 12, son of the drowned man, and Edward Porter, 10, to hang onto the boat.

Haggie said he swam to shore helping the fourth person, Alger McAlpine, 26, the drowned man's brother.

The two young boys were rescued by Lawrence Shaver in another boat. Shaver's boat was used by Sheriff Jeffery to grapple for George McAlpine's body which was recovered in 12 feet of water at 5:30 o'clock.

Coroner Lee Huston ruled the death accidental drowning and said an inquest would not be held. McAlpine was born in Grant Township, Huron County, June 22, 1913.

He is survived by his widow; seven children; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McAlpine; a brother, Alger; and two sisters, Mrs. Ralph Hartman and Mrs. Albert Faust, all of Caro.

Elevators Working Overtime to Care For Delayed Grain

Wheat harvest in the Thumb area is in full swing this week. Delayed a week because of heavy rain, the 1950 harvest was estimated at only about half cut Tuesday by grain elevator operators in Cass City.

Frank Reid of the Farm Produce Co. said the quantity of grain coming in to the elevator was good, but the quality was not up to par. Wet weather last week caused considerable sprouting and the grain is weighing lighter than top rate. A similar report was given by A. C. Atwell of the Frutchey Bean Co.

To accommodate grain growers in the district, Reid said the Farm Produce elevator will be operating 24 hours a day until the harvest is in. The company is employing three shifts of workers to take care of the rush. It was estimated that the crop will not be completely harvested until next week. The Frutchey Bean Co. is open evenings.

Fred Withey, Jr., employee of the Farm Produce Co., said Tuesday that in some low lying areas harvesting was being slowed down because the land was still too muddy to operate combines.

25 High School Graduates to Go to Tuscola Normal

County School Has Been Training Teachers for More Than 40 Years

The twenty-five high school graduates who will attend the Tuscola County Normal School at Caro next fall have already been chosen, according to J. E. Liddicoat, county superintendent of schools.

Qualified applicants will receive a two years' teaching certificate, entitling them to teach in rural schools throughout the county at the end of the first year of training. Those who wish to continue teaching may take extension courses from Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant, Liddicoat pointed out.

The Tuscola Normal School, one of the oldest in the state, has been training rural school teachers for more than 40 years. County normals, once common throughout the state, have been decreasing with the growth of the larger universities, according to Liddicoat. He said at present there are no more than 15 such normal schools remaining in Michigan.

The year's course, which is given in the grade school building in Caro, offers students practical experience in the teaching profession. Classroom teaching, under the direction of a supervisor, is included in the curriculum along with accredited college courses in education.

Liddicoat believes the county normal is a firm training ground for rural teachers. It gives students a chance to explore the field of education. Many of the best educators in the state have begun their careers in the county normal schools and then have continued through college, he said.

Here is a list of the 25 who will attend the county normal this fall. Juanita Dennis, Attica. Arlene Kreger, Columbusville. Betty Phelan, Gagetown. Ruth Turner, Vassar. Alma Calkins, Mayville. Irene Dudek, Kingston. Rose Rusnak, Gagetown. June Bacon, Mayville. Naomi Briggs, Vassar. Jacqueline Patterson, Caro. Virginia Leimert, Lexington. Anna Rusnak, Gagetown. Jessie McDowell, Bad Axe. Rosalie A. Keller, Cass City. Ethelyn Breinager, Fostoria. Madeline Francis, Kingston. Lois Westover, Silverwood. Donna Lou Rae, Akron. Fidelis Fuester, Caro. Leona Drews, Caro. Donald Davis, Caro. Ellen E. Meacham, Mayville. Dortha Michler, Kingston. Helen Wilder, Vassar. Arnold Smith, Vassar.

The selection of the Tuscola County Bean Queen will feature an additional highlight of the Friday evening, August 25, stage performance of the Tuscola County Fair. The queen will be selected from 13 candidates who, up to the present time, have been entered by farm bureau groups of the county.

George Schenn of Saginaw, president of the Michigan Bean Council, will crown the queen. Contestants to date sponsored by the various farm bureau groups are: Leota Montague of Deford, by the Kingston Club; Mary Monroe, Mayville, by the Fremont group; Ann Moderow of Reese, by the Reese Club; Anna Meininger of Gagetown, by the Elmwood Club; Betty Jacoby of Unionville, entered by the Prairie Neighborhood Club; Irene Myer of Akron, by Brookston Club; Helen Wilder of Caro, by the Caro Club; Ann Beller of Fairgrove, by Mitchell Club; Shirley Schiefer of Millington, by the Millington-Arbea Club.

Marjorie Karr of Cass City, by Ellington; Juanita Rieck of Unionville, by the Lyman Club; Addie Benson of Fairgrove, by the Wide-Awake group; and Frances Ross of Cass City, by the Elkland group.

Judges secured in addition to Mr. Schenn are Arthur Higbee of the Port Huron Times Herald, A. J. Simpson, manager of the Bay City Times, and Harry Lund of the Saginaw News.

The queen of the county will compete with other county queens for the title of Michigan Bean Queen at the Michigan Bean Festival to be held at Fairgrove on Labor Day.

Record Enrollment Of Pupils Expected Here in September

Six New Members Have Been Added to the School Staff

A record enrollment of students is expected at the Cass City High School this fall by Willis Campbell, superintendent of schools. Campbell said that about 400 students are on the enrollment lists, approximately 65 more than when school was dismissed in June.

Campbell attributed part of the increase to the closing of the high school in Gagetown. Students there will be divided among Owendale, Unionville and Cass City.

New bus routes to service the Gagetown area have not been established yet, according to Campbell. He urged students, however, to co-operate in meeting the bus in town. Adjustment of routes more convenient to students may be made after the first week of school.

The Wednesday after Labor Day, Sept. 6, will be the official school opening date for children in the grades, high school freshmen, and new-comers to the school. All other high school students will report on Thursday, Sept. 7. A teachers' meeting will be held at the school Tuesday of the same week.

Six new members have been added to the school staff for the coming year. They are Miss Norma Gwinn, a graduate of Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant, who will be librarian; Miss Rosemary Bailey, also a Mt. Pleasant graduate, from Mikado, who will be fifth grade teacher; Miss Virginia Bryan, an Alma graduate, English; and Miss Alma Popp, another Central Michigan graduate, who will teach first grade.

Russell Kullberg, who has received his master's degree from the University of Michigan, will join the biology department and Alexander Arnott, who has his master's degree from Michigan State College, will teach mathematics.

Two other positions in the grades are awaiting confirmation of credits from the state board of education.

Miss Popp is replacing Mrs. Zora Day who has been with the Cass City school system for 30 years. Mrs. Day retired from teaching last June.

The school has been undergoing some remodeling and decorating during the vacation period. The vestibules have been painted and the ceiling on the second floor has been covered with sound-proofing material. Thirty new lockers have been installed on the third floor. On the outside of the building, a fence has been constructed along the south side of the school property.

Tuscola Holsteins Place High at The State Show

Eleven Animals from County at Event Were All Awarded Ribbons

Holstein cattle from Tuscola County placed high in many classes at the annual Michigan State "Black and White" Show held at the C. B. Smith sales pavilion at Williamston Friday. Clayton Rohlf & Sons from Fairgrove showed the junior champion female with their senior heifer calf, Rohlf's Lochinvar Kordyke Iva. This heifer, which stood top in its own class of 35 animals, won the junior champion honors over the junior calf, junior yearling and senior yearling winners. A four-year old cow, which won the senior champion award, from the Hy-Up Farms of Birmingham nosed out the Rohlf's heifer for the grand champion honors.

A total of approximately 250 top quality animals from all parts of Michigan were exhibited and shown in the ring. Tuscola County had eleven animals at the event and were entered by Clayton Rohlf & Sons, of Fairgrove, with six head; Alton Reavey, Akron, one animal; Foster Hickey, of Fairgrove, with two; Dr. H. T. Donahue, of Cass City, with one; and 4-H club member, Walter Horst, of Akron, with one. The Tuscola County Holsteins ranked high enough so that all of them were awarded ribbons. Several classes had over 30 entries and only 15 ribbon awards made.

Other county entries of the Rohlf's herd and placings were: Jr. calf, second; junior yearling, fourth; three-year old cow, eighth; four-year old cow, eighth; and their senior yearling bull, third. Reavey's two-year old bull placed fourth. Hickey's four-year old cow placed ninth, and his senior calf 14th. Third place was awarded to Dr. Donahue's two-year old cow. Club Member Horst placed 13th. ## 76 Tuscola County Men to Be Inducted In September

Eight to Go from Cass City, Four from Deford, Three from Gagetown

The number of Tuscola County men who will be inducted into the Army in September has skyrocketed this week, according to the county draft board office in Caro.

It was announced Wednesday that 76 men will be taken in the draft call next month. Last week an unofficial source said that about 16 would go. Two weeks ago the Tuscola draft quota was set at six.

Pre-induction physical examinations were given to 113 county men on Wednesday. The draft office said that originally 129 registrants were scheduled to leave for physicals in Detroit, but that several notified the office early this week that they were married and that their classification had changed.

A breakdown of the total shows that eight will be drafted from Cass City, four from Deford and three from Gagetown. Names of those inducted will be released by the Caro office early in September.

Taylor Praised the Marshall Aid Plan

Robt. Taylor, a Lapeer attorney, said Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon at the New Gordon Hotel, that the Marshall plan aid had turned several overseas countries from a critical opinion of the United States to strong friends of the States, especially in western Europe. It turned many in western Europe from the road to Communism. It was money well spent.

Mr. Taylor spoke from an experience of five years in Europe in relief work, part of which time he served in the International Relief Organization. Much of his work was the stationing of displaced persons of Europe to locations in North and South America, Africa and Australia. This was an enormous task and has been accomplished with a surprising lack of friction and opposition.

Herman Doerr was the program chairman.

Softball Play-off Games in the Two Leagues Next Week

With Decker defeating Deford last week in a very good game, four teams are again tied for first place in the American League. Decker will play Baldy's Sunoco next Monday, August 14, and the loser of this game will be eliminated from the play-off. This game was postponed from Thursday, Aug. 10, because of the Cass City Homecoming.

Because three teams will tie for first place in the American League, a play-off will be necessary to determine the champion of the American League. These games will be played on Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 15 and 16. Drawings will be made Monday night with two teams playing Tuesday night with the third team drawing a bye. The winner Tuesday will play the bye team Wednesday night. The standings:

Construction Costs Are High for the New Grade School

Total of Low Bids Opened Tuesday Night Were Over $170,000

Plans for the new Cass City grade school building will have to be modified somewhat if construction costs are to stay within the budget, it was decided by members of the school board at a meeting Tuesday night.

Bids on the proposed structure were opened at the meeting. Total of low bids on construction, plumbing, heating, ventilating and electrical work amounted to slightly more than $172,000. Bond issue on the building was set at $125,000 last April.

School board members are negotiating with Warren S. Holmes, Lansing architect, to arrange for modifying plans. Frederick Pinney, treasurer of the school board, said that bidders can then be contacted to bring their costs in line with the simplified plans.

Low bidder on building construction was the Arthur Vollmer Co., of Saginaw. The M. and M. Plumbing and Heating Co. and the Baker Electric Co., both of Cass City, were lowest bidders for plumbing, heating, ventilating and electrical work.

Donahue Cow Is Judged Grand Champion at Show

Most of the honors of the Tuscola County Black and White Show held last week at the Caro Fairgrounds were won by Dr. H. T. Donahue of Cass City, and Clayton Rohlf & Sons of Fairgrove. Dr. Donahue's two-year old cow, Rag Apple Abbeekirk Ideal, was judged the grand champion female by official judge, Glen Casey of Williamston. Alton Reavey's two-year old bull nosed out Rohlf's senior yearling bull for the grand champion honors of the male division. Rohlf's showed both the junior champions with their senior heifer calf and senior yearling bull.

Additional exhibitors at the annual event were Foster Hickey of Fairgrove; Clark Montague, Deford; Tom Williams and Frank Sinclair, both from Cass City. Four-Hers who exhibited were Carol Tinglan, Vassar; Gene Taggett, Caro, No. 2; and Tom Sinclair, Cass City.

Animals from the Donahue herd also won out in Best Three Females exhibit and was awarded the George McIntyre trophy. Donahue was given the E. B. Schwaderer Farm Cup for exhibiting the grand champion female. Rohlf's, with their champion Get-of-Sire, obtained permanent possession of the W. R. Kirk trophy after winning it for three consecutive years.

Four-H club member Frederick Ruggles of Kingston won out in the judging contest for club members and was awarded a calf halter. Clark Montague won in the adult division and was given a cow halter. Both prizes were donated by the Tuscola County "Black and White" Association. Approximately 60 of the 125 people present participated in the judging contest by making their selection of three classes of the regular show.

STAIRWAY IN STARS

Stratoplane Has 2 Decks

NEW YORK. — If there is anything stranger in the sensation department than walking down a flight of stairs 19,500 feet in the air while going 350 miles an hour, passengers aboard a strato-cruiser would like to know about it.

Twenty-five midwesterners had that experience here recently. The huge, double-deck plane was to make daily flights, and it is that double-deck that necessitates the stairway.

It's a nice little stairway. It has nine steps from the top cabin to the lower lounge. The steps are padded. One can't help but feel sophisticated, descending that stair, settling into an overstuffed lounge and lighting a cigarette.

The talk on the strato-cruiser was urbane and aeronautical. Most of the riders were experienced at air travel, but mostly on other airplanes.

"Nice up here," said one businessman from Kenosha. "Not so much engine sound. Less bumpy." "Yep, it's all right up here," said another businessman. He glanced out the window at the clouds below. "We're up about 13,000, 14,000 feet. But it was pretty bumpy down below. When it comes to those low altitudes, give me a DC-4 anytime."

One Prefers DC-4

"Give me a DC-3," said still another businessman. "Now, that's the real workhorse." "Ears don't pop here, either," said the Kenosha businessman. "Hate it when my ears pop."

At Gen. Mitchell field Saturday morning, a small band of airplane fans crowded at the gate to watch the bulky ship land and taxi up to the terminal. Workmen hustled a ramp out to the plane and two public relations men ran up to stick a paper sign over the insignia. The sign said, "Strato-cruiser Milwaukee."

Lawrence Timmerman, county board chairman, was presented with a large metal key. The key said, "From Loreta Young, via Northwest Airlines to Mayor Frank P. Zedler."

"I don't know whether I should take this key," said Timmerman. "It's made out to Frank." But he took it, possibly for future presentation to the mayor. "Wish I had 10 dollars for every key I've got around the house," he said.

Clustered Cruiser

Then a cute young Milwaukee lady named Lee Wegner, wearing a lei of pink blossoms fresh from Hawaii over her fur coat, mounted the ramp. She was given a beer stein which contained a mixture of five Milwaukee beers.

"I christen thee the Milwaukee Strato-cruiser," she proclaimed, and poured the beer onto the ground, missing the plane by several inches. The photographers got her to do it again—this time with only one brand of beer—and she splashed the ship's aluminum side. It sloshed back on her coat sleeve.

Besides the passengers, there was a seeing eye dog named Wizard aboard the plane, owned by a radio writer from New York. There also were supposed to be three rabbits somewhere in the strato-cruisers, to be delivered to the mayors of Detroit, New York city and Minneapolis, to signify the "short hops" between cities.

Nobody seemed to know where those rabbits were, however.

Federal Excise Levy Hits Night Clubs Hard

NEW YORK.—The 20 per cent federal excise tax is taking a heavy toll of dancing and floor shows in dinner and supper rooms at New York hotels.

The latest to bow out was the Terrace Room at the New Yorker Hotel. When Tony Pastor's musicians carried their instruments out of the room last night, there went from the New Yorker a 20-year tradition of name dance orchestras, and entertainment ranging from ice shows to musical revues on which the management spent an average of $5,000 weekly.

Frank L. Andrews, president of the hotel, blamed the federal tax. He said public resistance was stiffening to it "now that the free-spending era is at an end."

Other New York hotels which have discontinued floor shows and dancing from dinner and supper rooms include the Biltmore, Commodore, and Belmont Plaza. These changes have been attributed, at least partly, to the Government's markup on checks.

The Waldorf-Astoria recently pushed back the start of dancing in its Wedgewood Room by an hour to serve a preheater dinner free of the entertainment tax.

The mortality among night clubs, where other factors combine to make operation more precarious, has been much greater than in the hotel field.

The American Hotel Association reported that entertainment rooms in many hotels throughout the country have been closed in recent years because of guest resistance to the 20 per cent tax. Citing Pennsylvania as typical, the association said that of 28 hotels there which had dancing in their dinner rooms in 1947, only eight have it now.

Dairy Products Form Big Part of State's Industry

We usually think of the dairy cow primarily as a source of income for farmers and fresh milk for our tables. G. G. Quackenbush, dairy economist at Michigan State College, says we shouldn't overlook her important role as provider for specialized manufacturing operations which have become big business in Michigan.

More than two billion pounds of milk, over half of Michigan's total commercial supply, is processed into manufactured dairy products in state dairy plants each year.

Butter accounts for 40 per cent of all milk used for manufactured products, according to Quackenbush. About 48 million pounds of butter were produced in Michigan in 1948, requiring approximately 900 million pounds of milk. It takes about 21 pounds of milk to make one pound of butter.

The next most important use of milk for manufacturing was for evaporated and condensed milk products. This group took about 600 million pounds of milk in 1948.

Ice cream was third. About 362 million pounds of milk were used to produce more than 26 million gallons of ice cream. Cheese ranked fourth, using 245 million pounds of milk.

Quackenbush reports that nearly two-thirds of Michigan's ice cream production is centered in a 10-county area surrounding Detroit. Two-thirds of the cheese produced in the state is made in the Upper Peninsula.

If your cakes fall perhaps you are not using the right sized pan. When pans are too small the cake batter will run over the edges and burn. When the pans are too large the cake tends to be thin and over-baked.

Reed Canary Makes Profitable Pasture

If you have a low, muckland area on your farm, why not plant it to Reed Canary grass—a profitable type of pasture?

Michigan State College agricultural authorities say many acres of Michigan land are well suited to this grass. Once established, the sodded area remains productive for many years.

A recent survey by MSC specialists show that most farmers who have Reed Canary grass pastures planted them in August or September. Since the land is usually low and wet, it's easiest to work it when water is not standing.

Complete information on Reed Canary grass can be found in Extension Bulletin 220, available from county agricultural agents or from the Bulletin Office, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

Value of Pasture Shown in Dollars

Many farmers ask, "What is the value of pasture?" They may know that grassland farming aids conservation, but they are also interested in what kind of financial returns come from pasture.

Harry Wilt, research agricultural economist at Michigan State College, has some figures that help to give the details of pasture value.

Last year, the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station conducted a study in Ionia County, in an attempt to arrive at a return for pasture. In dairying, a value was placed on the milk produced and then deductions were made for cost of feed, annual pasture and herd costs including labor on the herd, interest on investment, depreciation, and use of equipment. Current values for milk and feed were used.

The researchers came up with a figure which includes returns from pasture and management which gives a fair comparison between different kinds of pasture.

On 39 farms which were studied, the return was $31.90 per acre of pasture grazed. This varied from less than nothing on some of the poorer pastures to more than $100 per acre on the best.

Lowland, mainly Reed Canary grass, was valued at $35 an acre; rotation pastures, meadow and Sudan grass, at $28; and native upland pasture, mainly June grass, at $18 per acre.

Wilt points out that these returns indicate that good pasture is a very profitable crop and one to which farmers should give attention.

For high returns per acre, the economist advises that farmers concentrate on good stands, for good pasture management starts with preparation of the seed bed. Other items to watch are the proper amount of pasture for the livestock and efficient producing livestock to turn the pasture into cash.

Those who live the fastest are first to reach the finish line.

Midsummer Weddings

Betty Hower Bride Of Stanley P. Kirm, Jr.

Before an altar banked with palms and baskets of white gladioli, Miss Betty Hower, daughter of Mrs. Homer Hower, exchanged marriage vows in a double ring ceremony with Stanley P. Kirm, Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. S. P. Kirm of Mt. Pleasant. The candlelight ceremony was performed by Rev. S. P. Kirm, father of the groom, assisted by Rev. S. R. Wurtz, at 8:00 p. m. on Friday, August 4, in the Evangelical United Brethren Church. Music preceding the ceremony was presented by Mrs. Gordon Thomas of East Lansing, who also played the traditional processional and recessional wedding marches. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Borg sang, "I

Mrs. Stanley P. Kirm, Jr. Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me" and Mr. Borg sang "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Hollis Seeley, was gowning in white bridal slipper satin with full skirt ending in a long train. It was styled with a sweetheart neckline and long wristpoint sleeves. Her three quarter length veil of illusion net, bordered with dainty lace, was held in place by a beaded tiara. She carried a white Bible, topped with an orchid, gifts of the groom. Miss Audrey Hower, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a gown of Nile green marquisette. Miss Marjorie Kirm of Murray, Kentucky, sister of the groom, wore an identical gown of yellow marquisette. Both carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses.

Sherry Lee Seeley, a niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of green organza. Her bouquet of sweet peas was carried in a white basket. Janis and Charles Seeley, niece and nephew of the bride, were ringbearers. Each carried a white satin pillow. Janis' dress was similar to her sister's in yellow organza.

John Kirm of Mt. Pleasant, brother of the groom, and Keith Murphy of Cass City were the groom's attendants.

Seating the guests were Chester Muntz and Ray Lapp of Cass City. For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Hower was attired in black with grey background. Her corsage was of red roses. The groom's mother wore grey crepe with a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Approximately 250 guests were present from Mt. Pleasant, Murray, Kentucky, Flint, Owosso, Detroit, Pontiac, Caro, Fairgrove, Sebawaing, Unionville, Decker, Snover, Saginaw, Henderson, Crosswell and Deford.

A five-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, which was made by Mrs. John McTavish, was served. Immediately following the reception the couple left for a week's trip in northern Michigan. They will make their home in Cass City, where the groom has recently purchased a house.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kirm are Cass City High School graduates. The bride will teach in the Deford school the coming year. The groom is a postal clerk in the Cass City post office.

Kennedys Return From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Kennedy have recently returned from a two and one half months' trip to the Canadian Northwest, where they visited relatives at Calgary, Coronation, and Veteran, Alberta.

While there they spent a day at Lake Louise and Banff National Park and enjoyed swimming in the sulphur hot springs at Banff. At one place they drove 10,560 ft. up a mountain to see the Banff chair lift and ski jump.

On their return trip, the Kennedys came by way of Ludington and Newaygo where they visited Mrs. Mary Napper and Mrs. Louis Reiger and families, then to Ann Arbor and visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Wahl, and family and other relatives, going on to Cass City the first of the week.

Midsummer Wedding At Methodist Church

The marriage of Miss Doris Mae Franklin of Deford and Dean Karr was solemnized at the Cass City Methodist Church Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Howard C. Watkins conducted the rites in the presence of only the families of the young couple, which included parents, brothers, sisters and grandparents of Caro and this vicinity.

The bride, attired in a rose and blue tulle dress, was attended by her sister, Mrs. Elmer Fritz of Caro, who wore green tulle. Mr. Fritz was Mr. Karr's only attendant.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Franklin of Deford, parents of the bride, was the scene of a reception for the newlyweds Saturday evening when a large number of friends gathered to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Karr. The guests were served ice cream and cakes which included a beautiful three-layer white wedding cake. The decorations on the wedding cake were white roses, white wedding bells and stair-steps leading from tier to tier. The guests of honor were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Karr were both graduated from Cass City High School in June of this year and are residing in Caro. Mr. Karr, son of Mrs. W. R. McKinley, is employed by the Eaton Mfg. Co. in Vassar.

4-H Mothers' Club To Elect Officers

Election of officers and plans for serving meals to 100 4-H club exhibitors during Caro Fair Week will take the attention of the Tuscola County 4-H Mothers' Club when they meet at the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building, Caro, at 1:30 p. m., Friday, August 11.

New Method Shows Heart Ills Before Danger Point Nears

ST. LOUIS.—A new means of disclosing heart ailments before they reach the deadly stage is saving many lives, according to Sumner T. Pike, acting chairman of the atomic energy commission. Pike said the method was developed only recently in an atom-radiation study.

"A little piece of research that had no connection with atomic energy has produced what looks like the most highly important discovery in the history of heart disease," Pike said.

He explained that University of California scientists were studying the effect of radiation on the blood of rabbits when they noticed that certain molecules in the blood meant incipient hardening of the arteries.

Pike said the telltale molecules now can be separated from other constituents of the blood by whirling a blood sample around in a centrifuge.

"When the heart trouble is detected in its incipient stage, it can speedily be corrected by dieting," Pike added.

He said after the test was found to work with rabbits, it was tried on 104 "cardiac humans" and 103 responded to the diagnosis.

"This means a complete, definite diagnosis of the principal group of heart diseases with better than 98 per cent accuracy," Pike asserted.

Rookie Cop Creating Crimes for Fun of It

SAN DIEGO.—A rookie policeman who told authorities he "got a bang" out of hearing sirens was accused of creating crimes and finally shooting himself to add realism to a phony bandit scare.

Stanton G. Miller, 28, a marine corps war veteran, was quoted by Sheriff Bert Strand as admitting that while he wore a patrolman's uniform at suburban El Cajon:

He set a haystack afire and started two brush fires.

Made false robbery and burglary reports.

And last night shot himself in the calf of his left leg, and reported he was wounded by one of four men in a car he had stopped for a traffic violation.

Miller was jailed, charged with making false reports—a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum jail term of six months and $500 fine.

Cripples Once 'Hopeless' Show Handicap Triumphs

WASHINGTON.—Some "hopeless" cripples showed why there's plenty of room for any handicapped person to have hope.

A man with one leg ran a creditable 60-yard dash.

A man with only two stumps for legs, and with no control over either stump, not only walked, but also climbed a stair.

A man who had put on the second of his two artificial legs recently walked jauntily across the room.

All this was part of a demonstration at the national conference on workmen's compensation and rehabilitation.

It illustrated a change that has come over the thinking on the proper treatment for cripples. In the old days a man with no legs, for example, was taught a job in which he needed no legs.

Now the theory is to give him legs and teach him to stand. Dr. Henry H. Kessler, West Orange, N. J., and Dr. Josephine J. Buchanan, Fishersville, Va., showed what hard work and patience on the part of both the patients and the doctors can do.

Charles Cook, 30, Keen Mountain, Va., hurt his back in a mine accident in 1942. Paralyzed from the hips down, he couldn't walk for five years.

Then the United Mine Workers welfare fund paid for an operation and for instruction at the Fishersville Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation center.

"Charlie fell down in the hotel today," Dr. Buchanan said, "and everyone rushed to pick him up. 'Leave him alone,' I said, 'Charlie can get up by himself.'"

Charlie got up by himself.

Robbed Bank Robber Has Long-Time Record

ST. LOUIS, MO.—A 62-year-old man captured by a woman bank teller has been involved in bank thefts amounting to more than a million dollars, the federal bureau of investigation reported.

William R. Evans was charged with larceny of a bank. Miss Audrey Lorenzen, a blond bank teller, captured him with the help of a passerby. She chased Evans through downtown streets after more than $1,500 was taken from her bank.

FBI agent Gerald B. Norris called Evans a notorious "stick man"—one who puts chewing gum or sticky paper on the end of a stick to help grab money in tellers' cages.

Norris said that Evans has a criminal record dating back to 1907, including involvement in a $350,000 bond theft from the Bank of Manhattan in 1936.

Evans denied the St. Louis theft. He suffered a heart attack following the chase.

A modest claim usually gets a kind reception.

SHORT STORY

Best Alibi

By Richard H.H. Wilkinson

MAX SANDERS' home had been robbed of jewels valued at $50,000. The jewels were kept in a wall safe behind a picture in Max's study, which was located on the second floor of his Beverly Hills home.

Inspector Ray Beatty was assigned to the case. Leo MacDougal, a police officer, who had been summoned from his beat, showed Inspector Beatty the evidence that had thus far been discovered.

First there was a ladder placed against a window that opened into a second floor hall. This window had been discovered open.

Inspector Beatty told MacDougal to summon all the servants. Then he questioned them. They all had good excuses. Sid Furbush, a secretary, had spent the night at the movies with a friend. Edwards, the butler, had read in his room until Mr. and Mrs. Sanders returned from a party, when he admitted them.

It was right after that, that Mrs. Sanders went to the safe to replace the jewels she had worn, and found the others gone.

Martha Greene, the housekeeper, had been in her room all evening. Her room was located on the second floor. She had gone down to the kitchen about 10 o'clock for a bite to eat and found Viola Matson, the maid, there with her boy friend. Returning, Martha had passed Edwards' room and seen Edwards sitting by his table, reading.

"The robbery was committed before you placed the ladder there."

INSPECTOR BEATTY dismissed the servants and went back to the study. He examined every inch of it. Then he went into the hall and examined that. He also examined the window and the ladder and the ground below the window. It had rained a little the night before and he found some footprints beside the ladder. They looked like men's footprints.

Inspector Beatty sought out Sid Furbush. He asked the secretary if Max Sanders held business conferences in his study. Furbush said that he did.

"The chances are, then, that he's had occasion to open the safe when others were present."

"It's quite likely."

"I want as complete a list as you can make me of all the people you've known to be in the study during the past month."

Inspector Beatty left Sid Furbush making out the list, summoned MacDougal and went down the hall. He entered one door after the next, first knocking to make sure the room was empty. Presently he returned to the hall, bearing a pair of shoes.

Carrying the shoes he returned to the study and asked Furbush if they were his shoes.

"Why, yes," said Furbush. "Why? Where did you get them?"

"Out of your closet. I searched the closets of all the servants till I found a pair of shoes with some mud on the soles. It was you who committed the robbery."

"You're crazy. That's a cockeyed theory. The robber came up the ladder."

"No," said Inspector Beatty. "That's only what you expected to believe. That's why you put the ladder there and left the window open. The robbery was committed before you placed the ladder there."

"How do you know that? You can't prove it."

"I won't have to. What I can prove is that no one came up the ladder. It rained last night. There was mud. There's mud on your shoes. The shoes fit the footprints at the foot of the ladder. Yet there is no mud at all on the rungs of the ladder. If there had been I would have probably been fooled and not been sure that some one inside committed the theft. Besides you had the best alibi. I checked with the man with whom you said you attended the movie. He broke down and confessed everything."

MacDougal was amazed. Afterwards he said to Beatty: "I didn't know you checked with Furbush's friend. When did that happen?"

"It didn't," said Beatty.

Bruising Causes Great Meat Waste

Packing Industry Loss $25,000,000 Last Year

America's livestock industry lost $31,514,877 in dead, bruised and crippled animals in 1949.

Meat waste due solely to bruising, much of which could be prevented by greater care in handling of livestock on the farm and in transit, was more than $25,000,000.

These figures were disclosed by the National Live Stock Loss Prevention Board, an organization founded to promote better care and handling of livestock.

In 1949 the animals dead on arrival at the nation's stock yards would have filled a train 10 1/2 miles long. Meat waste from dead animals amounted to 14,310,468 pounds, with a value of $4,472,871. Losses resulting from bruises and crippled animals accounted for the remainder.

American livestock producers lost more than $25,000 in 1949 because of waste meat resulting from bruised animals. Pictured above is the carcass of a hog which was condemned because of bruises.

In order to combat this loss, educational programs have been inaugurated by the government, agricultural colleges and meat packers, pointing to the bruise and injury losses which are revealed when animals are dressed in the packing plants.

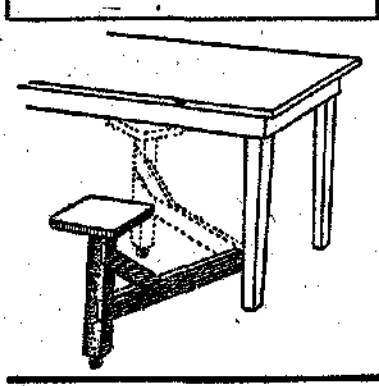

Many terminal markets have developed comprehensive livestock safety programs. These programs urge greater care in the handling of livestock from the time they leave the farm until they are marketed.

Good Farm Practices Make 'Good' Soils

"Somewhere the notion gets around that originally our farm soils were highly productive. That is, productive when first plowed. Many of them were like the black lands in our middle west and in central Eurasia, for example, and in some of the great deltas and alluvial valleys," says Dr. Charles E. Kellogg of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

However, he adds: "But most soils are not. It is through liming and fertilization, drainage, irrigation, and a host of other practices, that farmers have made their soils productive."

Kitchen Table Stool

Many a farm wife would sit while working at the kitchen table if there was a stool or chair handy. A stool hinged to a table leg so it could easily be pushed under the table when not in use would meet the requirement.

The one shown above is a simple stool with one leg. A short arm of wood about eighteen inches long, an inch thick and three inches wide, has one end nailed or screwed to the stool leg and the other end attached to a table leg by a hinge.

Agricultural Stations Gradually Restaffing

Gradual restaffing of the agricultural experiment stations with scientific personnel which was not available during the war period is noted in the current report on the agricultural experiment stations.

New staff members are young men who have been able to complete their advance training since the war. Closer integration of research and extension work is also reported.

HOLBROOK

Members and friends of the Uby-Arly circuit will worship together at the Cumber church on Sunday, Aug. 13, at ten o'clock. Come!

The Youth Fellowship of the four churches will meet at the home of Mrs. Henry Engles, south of Argyle, Friday evening, Aug. 11, at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Sarah Campbell and Harry Edwards spent Monday evening at the Clifford Jackson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Townsend of Cass City visited Sunday at the Clifford Jackson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gracey entertained their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Litt, of Bay City over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trathen and Paul O'Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Karr and children, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rienstra and family and Samuel Rienstra of Worthington, Minn., spent Sunday at Oak Beach.

Organized propaganda groups are not interested in the welfare of the nation, and the quicker we Americans realize that the better.

A writer says the world must be a dangerous place in which to live because no one ever gets out of it alive.

A banker cautions folks against spending all the money they make. Wonder what he would think of people who don't make all they spend?

Anyone who laughs at your stories, even though they aren't funny, and sympathizes with your misfortunes, even though they aren't bad, can be only one person, your wife.

NORWAY ELIMINATES ACHING BACKS

The hard work of moving heavy furniture around the home has been eliminated by Norwegian engineers who will introduce their gadget to American housewives at the First United States International Trade Fair in Chicago, August 7-20. The appliance is a set of rubber wheels which fasten beneath any heavy chair and slip out to carry the weight when the chair is tilted back a few inches. When not in use the wheels slip out of sight. More than 40 countries will bring 1,500 exhibits to Chicago. The Trade Fair will be open to the public Tuesday and Thursday evenings and week-ends.

That Settled It

The question of the correct plural of the word "mongoose" was solved by a gentleman who wanted a pair of these interesting and affectionate creatures.

He wrote to a dealer: "Sir, please send me two mongooses." He did not like the look of this, tore up the paper, and began again: "Sir, please send me two mongooses."

This version did not satisfy him any better than the first, so he wrote: "Sir, please send me a mongoose, and, by the way, send me another."

Logical

The teacher was telling the class about the discovery of the law of gravity. She said:

"Sir Isaac Newton was sitting on the ground looking at a tree. An apple fell on his head and from that he discovered gravitation. Just think, wasn't that wonderful?"

"Yes'm, an' if he had been settin' in school lookin' at his books, he wouldn't have discovered nothin'," piped a small boy in the last row.

A Hot Chair

"I've got a pretty distasteful job before me," remarked the genealogist.

"Mrs. Newrich employed me to look up her family tree, and I've got to inform her that one of her relatives was electrocuted."

"Why worry about that," said his friend. "Just write that the man in question occupied the chair of applied electricity at one of our public institutions."

LITERALLY SPEAKING

"I got a real kick out of kissing Jane, last night."

"Any more than usual?"

"Yea, the old man caught me."

Out of Range

He was so proud of his play as a golfer that he wanted to show off. So he invited his mother-in-law along to watch.

As he started off for the first tee, he said to his opponent:

"I'm particularly anxious to make a terrific drive. That's my wife's mother standing over there."

"Sorry, old man," said the other; "but you can't expect to hit her at 200 yards."

THE OTHER KIND

"Do you love me dear?"

"Dear, sweetheart."

"Would you die for me?"

"No, my pet. Mine is an undying love."

Would Have to Wait
A lecturer aboard a southern train was complaining about the slowness of the train to the conductor.

"Well, if yer don't like it," the conductor finally blurted out, "why in thunder don't yer git out an' walk?"

"I would," the lecturer blandly replied, "but you see the committee doesn't expect me until this train gets in."

Just A Habit
She was telling an acquaintance about her friends.
"Yes," she said, "my friend Maud is only 25, but she's been married three times. And all her husbands have been named William."
"You don't say!" replied he. "Why, she must be a regular Bill collector!"

Served Him Right
A party of visitors were being shown over a large lunatic asylum. The doctor who acted as guide paused before a cell in which a man sat nursing a large doll which was dressed in the gay and gaudy costume of an up-to-date young lady.

"This poor fellow," explained the doctor, "has a very sad history. See how he is bending over that doll and fondling it so tenderly. He spends most of his time like that. He was engaged to a girl, of whom he was very fond. She jilted him, however, and married another man, while this one lost his reason over the affair."

The visitors were much touched, and uttered various expressions of sympathy.

They passed to the next cell, which was barred and thickly padded.

"And this," resumed the doctor, "is the other man."

"Did you give the penny to the monkey, dear?"
"Yes, mama."
"And what did the monkey do with it?"
"He gave it to his father, who played the organ."

Did Him Up Fine
"Is this a healthy place?" asked a stranger of a native of a certain region of the West.
"It sure is," replied the native. "When I came here I couldn't utter a word. I had scarcely a hair on my head. I hadn't the strength to walk across the room, and I had to be lifted from my bed."
"That is wonderful," exclaimed the stranger. "How long have you been here?"
"I was born here."

The hunter came panting up to one of the party.

"Both barrels!" he returned, "I gave him the whole gun!"

ONE WAY TO DO IT
A patient complained to the doctor that his hair was coming out. "Won't you give me something to keep it in?" he begged. "Take this," the doctor said kindly, and handed the patient a pill box.

Raising Weaned Pigs
Pigs are common victims of diseases spread by older swine—but sometimes the tables are turned and the youngsters do a little disease-spreading on their own. Swine brucellosis is a typical example of that. The Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association says. Experiments have shown that brucellosis-infected pigs are capable of passing the disease to hogs. Most often, however, older swine are the worst spreaders. As a safeguard in either case, says the AVMA journal, it pays to raise weaned pigs completely apart from the rest of the herd.

Ink on "Declaration"
Although there is every reason to suppose that disintegration has now been arrested, the ink on the original engrossed and signed Declaration of Independence in the library of congress has been slowly fading for more than 100 years and many of the signatures have so nearly disappeared as to require magnification to identify them.

Most men who wear wool socks would be willing to pay higher prices for ones treated against shrinkage.

Prepare to Fight Pests
Farmers can expect to face the usual horde of insects and many destructive diseases on their crops this year. Entomologists and plant pathologists say that proper control with recommended insecticides and fungicides will protect these crops.

Cause for Alarm

A woman went into a butcher shop one evening to buy some meat. A strange man followed her into the store and stood about while she was at the counter. Suddenly she screamed, and the man turned and ran out of the store, and right into the arms of a passing patrolman. On searching him he was found to be armed. Later he was identified as a notorious hold-up man.

"Mrs. Jones, if you hadn't screamed I would certainly have been robbed," declared the butcher gratefully. "But how did you know he was a bandit?"

"I didn't know," protested Mrs. Jones. "I screamed when you told me what the roast was going to cost me."

Just in Case

In a certain store they have a book in which a record is kept of the exact reason why any customer leaves without making a purchase. The other day a woman customer took up a good deal of time looking at black dresses, finally leaving without buying.

The clerk—a temporary head—solemnly approached the book and entered up: "Customer only looking at black dresses—not buying. Husband not dead yet."

Each new crop of politicians has to make a new crop of promises to get elected.

Corn Borer Serious Threat to Midwest

Loss Last Year in Six States Totals Millions

Last year in six states of the corn belt the European corn borer caused a loss of some 300 million dollars. In 23 other states, damage ranged from slight to quite severe.

The corn borer appeared in this country in 1817 along the Atlantic seaboard. It has spread steadily until today it has reached states as far west as Kansas and Nebraska and the Dakotas, and south to the Tennessee-Alabama line.

The high clearance cart above is hauling corn for corn borer. The corn is about three feet high, correct stage for hauling, according to experts.

Not only is the pest covering more ground each year, it is, in many places working more destructively. In Iowa, for example, the lower east corn farmer last year an average of 750 dollars.

There is nothing to indicate that the destruction has reached a peak. In fact, unless adequate controls are adopted, the corn belt may find the worse to come.

Chemical control must from now on be considered part of the regular production of the crop.

Humans Susceptible To 80 Animal Diseases

Animal diseases are a constant threat to the health of human beings, two public health physicians declare in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association. In one report, Dr. F. S. Lederer of the Michigan department of health, said human beings are susceptible to at least 80 diseases of animals. Many of these diseases are prevalent in the United States, he reported. The danger that foreign animals may be imported by high speed air travel is also very real, he said.

Most animal diseases to which man is susceptible are spread primarily by livestock and wild game with which human beings come in contact. Work of veterinarians in helping to stamp out or control such diseases is thus an important factor in bettering human health.

In another journal article, Dr. W. P. Denning, deputy surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service, points to the value of having veterinarians work closely with health departments to protect the public against such dangerous maladies as rabies.

A New Light

A new light—the electric arc—is appearing in farm shops, barns and garages from Maine to California. Farmers by the thousands are now saving themselves time and money by using arc welding to do their quick easy repairing and building of farm equipment.

Poultry Experts Advise Weeding Out Cockerels

All cockerels, except those to be kept for breeders, should be removed from the pullet flock by the time they are 12 weeks of age, poultry experts report.

If the cockerels are marketed at 12 weeks of age they will command a better price than if they are kept longer. If kept longer their meat becomes coarse and stringy. The rate of gain per pound of feed decreases with age and size of birds.

NOTES from the TUSCOLA COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Tuscola County 4-H Service Club members were hosts to the Huron County Service Club at a potluck picnic at Sleeper State Park, Caseville, last Sunday. Nearly forty members attended. The Service Club provided soft drinks and ice cream for the picnic. The picnicers enjoyed a ball game and swimming in the afternoon.

The 4-H Service Club is preparing its refreshment stand at the Caro fairgrounds for the annual opening. Ruth Turner, Vassar, and LaDonna Bradley, Akron, will be co-managers of the stand. Freddie Black, Akron, was appointed chairman of a committee to make several improvements on the stand, including re-wiring the electric lighting system, installation of a new sink and drain, and moving the hot water heater.

Four-H livestock project members should have their fair entries in the extension office not later than Saturday, August 12. Exhibitors should check health and immunization requirements listed in the fair premium list carefully. Health papers will be checked before cattle and hogs can be unloaded.

Four-H winners at the Tuscola County Fair will have the opportunity to take or send their exhibits to the State 4-H Show at Michigan State College, East Lansing, the following week, August 29 to September 1.

Three sweaters, a bathing cap, and a flashlight were left by 4-H campers at Sleeper State Park when they left camp July 26. Owners may call for these lost items at the courthouse.

Thirty-one 4-H members will comprise judging teams representing Tuscola County at elimination contests at Michigan State College August 14 and 15. Tuscola County judging teams will enter contests in dairy, garden, field crops, canning, clothing, food preparation, public speaking.

Additional judges for the Tuscola County Fair have been secured in addition to those named released last week. Howard Wentz from MSC will judge the open and 4-H horse and pony classes on Thursday forenoon. Jim (Scotty) Milligan of Cass City will judge the beef classes on Wednesday. The 4-H conservation and forestry judge will be Marvin Hanson, soil conservationist from Lapeer, who will replace E. A. Myers as previously listed.

Agent Arnbruster reminds farmers that fly control practices pay big dividends in the livestock program. The eradication of breeding places around the barnyard and ponds is the first and main control. DDT or lindane are recommended. The cows themselves should be treated with methoxychlor and the inside of the barn with lindane. Every precaution should be taken in keeping the chemicals off feed, watering cups, and milking utensils.

Thirteen new members joined the Artificial Breeding Association during the month of July. Those signed up for the service are S. R. Fessler, Peter Tomaszewski, Carl Curry, all from Caro; L. Allen, Earl Houghtaling, and Mrs. Millie Schmidt from Vassar; Steve Torma, Sr., Adolph Hoppe, and John Fisher of Unionville; Werner Orbach of Mayville; Ted Spencer of Fairgrove; Peter Munia of Gagetown; and, Frank Parker of Kingston. Four of the associations reported a total of 503 services rendered during July.

Thirty-four additional cows were signed in for services. Bruce Ruggles of Kingston reported that three sets of twin calves were dropped on his farm during July. Ruggles has been a member of the Kingston ABA for several years, and is president of the association.

Farm Bureau Women's Committee Held Monthly Meet

The Farm Bureau Women's Committee representing Prairie, Unionville, Brookston, Reese, Wide Awake, Elmwood and Lyman Clubs held a meeting recently in the Tuscola County courthouse. Eight dollars and fifty cents is Tuscola's share in the $500.00 Foreign Student Loan Fund at M. S. C. that is sponsored by the Farm Bureau Women of Michigan.

Important matters on the agenda were: Getting out the rural vote in September. Aug. 23 is the last day for registration. Also district camp at Sleeper State Park near Caseville; pre-convention banquet at Caro Oct. 24; election of state chairman from district chairmen; rural urban relations; need to eradicate marijuana from fields; need for keeping American heritage alive; calling for constructive thinking and constructive action.

A special speaker on juvenile delinquency will be secured for the open meeting in September.

Serve Taste-Tempting Salads for Summer
(See Recipes Below)

Salad Days

THERE'S NOTHING quite so cooling as a jellied salad brightly garnished with crisp greens. There's nothing quite so delicious as well chilled fruit or vegetable attractively arranged on frosty looking lettuce, watercress or endive.

You can make a meal out of a salad that's protein-rich, or, if you prefer, you can combine both the salad and dessert course into a luscious fruit salad.

*Jellied Tomato Salmon Mold (Serves 8-10)

2 envelopes plain gelatin
1 1/4 cups water and juice from salmon
1 1/2-ounce can condensed tomato soup
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 1/2-ounce can salmon, drained well
1/4 cup mayonnaise

Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup water. Combine soup and remaining water; heat to boiling. Remove from heat. Add softened gelatin and cream cheese; beat with rotary beater until smooth. Cool. Add onion, salmon and mayonnaise. Pour salad into a greased 8-1/2 inch mold. Chill thoroughly.

Tomato Aspic Ribbon Loaf (Serves 8-10)

Layers 1 and 3:
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
3/4 cups canned tomato juice
2 teaspoons onion juice
1/2 teaspoon salt

Layer 2:
1 1/2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
4 eggs, hard cooked and diced
1/4 cup finely chopped celery
1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper
1/4 cup light cream
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon salt

Layer 1: Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup cold tomato juice. Heat balance of juice to a full boil. Add onion juice, salt, and gelatin. Stir until gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Place half of mixture in a loaf pan (8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches). Chill until firm.

Layer 2: Soften gelatin in cold water. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add to balance of ingredients and mix well. Spread over first layer. Chill again until firm.

Layer 3: Four remaining aspic over egg mixture to form third layer. (Soften aspic, if necessary, over hot water.) Chill again until firm. Unmold and garnish with salad greens. Slice to serve.

Grated American cheese mixed with chopped green pepper, diced onion, chopped hard-cooked eggs, stuffed olives and seasoned with catsup makes a good mixture to spread on buns. Broil until cheese bubbles.

Sauteed, corned beef hash makes a hearty luncheon sandwich when served on toasted, buttered bread or buns. Spread the hash with tartar sauce and top with lettuce and another piece of bread or top half of the bun.

"We Are Five" Is Book Prepared for Youngsters' Parents

A kindergarten handbook, entitled "We Are Five," will be distributed to parents of children just beginning school by Miss Jean Hutchinson, the kindergarten teacher, before school opens September 6.

The pamphlet, the first of its kind to be issued by the school, is designed to acquaint parents with the kindergarten program. It was compiled by Miss Hutchinson, Mrs. Marie Sullivan, grade consultant, and Superintendent of Schools Willis Campbell with the help of the school staff.

The booklet covers such topics as "Relationship of the Kindergarten to the First Grade and the Home," "Health Preparation," and "Safety Rules." Also included are a suggested list of materials the beginner will need, a tentative schedule for the kindergarten session, and suggested stories and verses for five-year-olds.

An introduction to the booklet explains the importance of the kindergarten experience for the child. "In a culture such as we live today, the first and most important thing that any child must learn is to adjust himself to an ever increasing number of complex situations. These include standing on his own feet and still being considered of others. The normal child is usually unable to meet this situation if he is thrust abruptly into the first grade; therefore, kindergarten experience is not only desirable, but necessary."

Miss Hutchinson will attempt to contact the parents of each child entering kindergarten during the two weeks before school begins. Approximately 60 youngsters are expected to attend this year. Children five years or older by November 1 should be entered in September, according to Campbell.

Children who live in the country will attend the morning session at the school and will return home on the noon bus. Town children will attend in the afternoon.

Chickens Suffer Many Varied Ills

There are more than 90 kinds of diseases that chickens can have, but three account for nearly 40 percent of the deaths according to a survey made by Howard C. Zindel, Michigan State College extension poultry specialist.

From 25 Land Grant College laboratories, Zindel obtained diagnosis reports on more than 144,000 birds examined in 1949 following death of the chickens.

Newcastle, pullorum and coccidiosis all ranked right at the top, high above other diseases.

The report showed that some ailments of humans are shared by poultry. For instance, some died of the goit, arthritis, ulcers. Many more died of malnutrition than obesity (being too fat).

The want ads are newsy, too.

Arrangements have been made to obtain a donkey softball game, to be played at the Cass City playground at 8 p. m. on August 21. Although the final details are not settled, it is hoped that the play-off of the two champion teams of the American and National Leagues will be made from the backs of the donkeys.

More will appear about this game next week.

TREE LOADED WITH APPLES AND BLOSSOMS

A harvest sweet apple tree on the farm of Vernon Harrison is loaded with both apples and blossoms this week.

Harrison, who lives five miles east and one quarter south of Cass City, reports this is the first time the tree has acted so strangely. On one small blossom covered branch, he found a cluster of 11 apples, all doing nicely. Apples and blossoms are on display at the Chronicle office.

For every man who chisels out a career, there are many others who just chisel.
