Cass City Library, $350.00.

Cass City Defeats Marlette in Non-Conference Opener

Schwaderer Scored Three Touchdowns and Hartel Two Here Friday

Scoring three touchdowns in the first quarter and two in the third, Cass City defeated Marlette in the 32 to 0 non-conference opener on the Cass City field Friday.

Three-time scorer was left-halfback, Tom Schwaderer, who returned an 80-yard punt at the beginning of the first period to make the opening touchdown. In the same period he did a repeat performance on a 75-yard punt return, with Chet Dorland kicking the extra point.

Before the first quarter was over, Cass City scored again when right halfback, Lee Hartel, scrambled 38 yards around Marlette's left end scoring the third touchdown of the game. Dorland again booted the extra point.

In the third period, Schwaderer went 65 yards around Marlette's right flank for the fourth TD of the game, and Hartel chalked up another score on a four yard pass from Schwaderer. Cass City gained four first-downs and Marlette six.

In 1949 Marlette edged out Cass City 19 to 20 and gridiron fans had predicted another close contest with Marlette last Friday.

Tonight (Friday), the Cass City squad will meet the Vulcans at Vassar in the first conference game of the year. Kick-off will be at eight o'clock under lights.

According to Cass City football coach, Arthur Paddy, 11 starting regulars are returning to the Vassar team this year, among them halfback Ray Cobb and his passing attack. In the 1949 season, Vassar finished second in the Upper Thumb by one-half game.

Saturday, the Vulcans defeated Millington 25 to 0 and last season Cass City bowed to them, 7 to 0 in the final game.

Paddy says tonight's starters will be the same as last week with the possible substitution of Stanley Guinther for right guard, "Chuck" Watson. Watson's leg was injured slightly during the game Friday.

Beginning on Sunday at 10:30 a. m., the Reverend Melvin R. Vender will preach on a series of "Must" sermons. Mrs. Brewster Shaw, choir director, and Mrs. Ethel McCoy, organist, are arranging for special music each Sunday.

The pastor said, "during the vacation period and indeed for several weeks previously a series of sermons have been stirring in my mind. Last week while shut in, I had plenty of time to think. Hence they took on the next step, as to specific topics. They have thus become first of all a 'must' for me, and I have good precedent for such, I Cor. 9-16."

The dates and titles of the series follow:

Bean Growers Agree to 1c per Bag on 1950 Crop

Proceeds Matched by Elevators Will Promote Entire Industry in State

More than 12,000 producers of dry edible beans in the Saginaw Valley and Thumb areas of Michigan have agreed to a deduction of 1 cent per bag on all beans sold from the 1950 crop.

The proceeds thus obtained and matched by the elevators will become available to the Michigan Bean Council of Growers and Shippers for use in promoting the entire state-wide industry.

This fund will be collected by the bean elevators and other buyers and remitted to the Michigan Bean Producers Association office at Saginaw, according to Harry Rohlfis, Akron, secretary of the Tuscola County unit of that organization. This county now has practically all bean producers signed up as members.

Elevators and bean buyers throughout the entire pea bean producing area have signed agreements with the Michigan Bean Producers Association to collect the membership fee of 1 cent per cwt. and have further agreed to match this sum with another 1 cent per cwt. Any producer who is not now a member will become one by simply signing the receipt form at the elevator when he sells his beans.

One of the first activities of the council will be to stimulate bean research work to obtain disease free varieties. Advertising Michigan beans to better compete with western beans is another important part of the program. Protection of the interests of bean growers is behind the thinking of the state board of directors at all times, Rohlfis stated, particularly with reference to acreage allotments, support prices, and other legislation.

The state board of directors is composed of eight bean growers, one from each of eight counties, each one elected by county members of the Association. The officers of Tuscola County are Carl Keimath, Reese, president; Harry Rohlfis, Akron, secretary; Leon Van Steenhouse, Unionville, vice chairman. Rohlfis is this county's elected representative on the state board of directors.

Proposed was a concrete block structure to replace the frame building which has been used for the past three years. It was suggested that the booth be two stories, the upper one serving as a broadcasting station and the lower one as refreshment concession.

No action has been made on the project as yet.

M. B. Auten entertained Gavel Club members at his cottage at Port Austin last Thursday afternoon. Grilled steaks were on the supper menu.

Meringue Bars
Grownup girls, too, can remind the family of the poem "Sugar and spice and all things nice..." when these cookies are served. They're called Spice Meringue Bars and easy as breathing to make. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff. Then gradually beat in ¼ cup sugar and ½ tsp. vanilla. Blend in 1 package spice cake mix (the prepared just-add-water kind) with 1 cup lukewarm water. Grease a 7x11-inch pan with unsalted shortening, line with greased waxed paper. Pour batter into pan and spread meringue on top with spatula. Sprinkle with ½ cup chopped walnuts or blanched almonds and bake in preheated gas oven (350°-F.) for 35-40 mins. Cool in pan for 10 mins. before turning out. When cold, cut down center lengthwise and across in 1-inch bars. Yield: 22 cookies.

Carman Fair

"Hi-ho, come to the fair" had a very special lure for lawbreakers in the early days. While the rules at the fair were very strict, it was tradition that no one could be arrested for a crime he had committed elsewhere. The Irish carried this idea of immunity one step further. During the great Carman fair held every third August, all personal possessions held for debt had to be returned to the owners, and feuds between the clans of Ireland and Scotland temporarily were forgotten.

Use of Matches

In all, the average American strikes about 14 matches a day, but spends only about six cents for his monthly supply. On an annual basis the country uses more than 500 billion wood and paper matches, or well over a billion per day.

The want ads are newsy, too.

Gathering Eggs

Eggs should be gathered at least three times a day and should be delivered to the market as frequently as possible. Studies show that, during the summer, eggs delivered to market are generally of higher quality than those held for a longer time. A final precautionary measure is to provide the chickens with plenty of good nests during the summer months.

Cankers

Cankers which loop along twigs and leaves of trees have their ups and downs, too. Their ups come every nine years, the peak of their cycle and that peak lasts three years before it tapers off.

The Rev. Robert L. Morton of the Uby Presbyterian Church read the single ring ceremony in the presence of about fifty relatives and close friends under an improvised arch of white from which a white bell was suspended.

(Supplementing Physician's Instructions)

Salt (Sodium chloride) is a common ingredient in most commercially prepared foods. In order to follow your physician's instructions, it is not enough merely to avoid using salt in home cooking and at the table, but also to avoid foods prepared with salt for normal diets. Following is a partial list of salt containing foods which physicians usually advise omitting from sodium restricted diets:

BUTTER AND CHEESE: Avoid salted butter, cheese and processed cheese foods.

BREADS, CRACKERS, PASTRIES: Avoid all breads, crackers, cookies, pies, cakes, etc., which are prepared with either salt, baking powder or baking soda. This includes most commercially available baked goods, including graham crackers, soda crackers, pretzels, etc.

CEREALS: Avoid all prepared cereals in which salt is used, as corn flakes, etc. Read the labels.

CANNED FOODS: Avoid regular packs of vegetables, soups, and vegetable juices containing salt.

MEATS, CANNED AND SMOKED: Avoid ham, bacon, pork sausage, luncheon meats, corned beef, dried beef, and any other smoked or salted meats.

FISH AND SEAFOODS: Avoid all seafoods, fish, clams, oysters, shrimp, scallops, canned salmon, sardines, etc.

PICKLES: Avoid all appetizers, as pickles, olives, potato chips, salted nuts, etc.

BEVERAGES: Avoid beer and effervescent drinks.

DRUGS: Avoid bicarbonate of soda (baking soda), phosphate of soda, and all laxatives or headache remedies which contain any "soda" or "sodium" ingredients.

STATE POLICE OPEN RANKS TO MARRIED MEN

For the first time in their history, the Michigan State Police have opened up enlistments to married as well as single men.

Candidates are now being accepted for a training school scheduled to begin about October 1 and from which will be graduated the 60 new troopers recently authorized by the state legislature as part of the state's civil defense program.

"The purpose in enlisting married as well as single men is to obtain personnel least subject to being drafted into the military services, but still meeting our physical requirements," Commissioner Donald S. Leonard said. "There are many men in this group, particularly veterans of the last war, who provide excellent material for recruitment. In addition, they now have the opportunity to join a career service which offers permanent tenure and financial security in the future."

Former Cass City Teacher Passed Away Last Sunday

Driver Education Is Essential

Josephine in your automobile is going to be rarer in this town, boys.

That is, if the smart, pretty girls take a tip from Marshal Orto, local spokesman for the State Safety Commission's program of traffic safety this month.

"If the most popular girls in our town would insist on safe-driving—refuse to date the 'hot-rodgers'—I think we'd see a lot less reckless driving on our streets by our young people," he said.

"Driver education in our schools is essential and we can be thankful our young people have the advantage of such instruction. The insistence of parents on safe, responsible driving by every member of the family is of primary importance."

"But never underestimate the power of woman! The teaching and the preaching will have more lasting effect if the girls will back it up by insisting on a safe driver in any car in which they ride."

Drivers under 25 years of age are having far more than their share of traffic accidents, according to studies made in several states. Investigation shows also that young people who have had formal driver education in high school have fewer accidents than those who have not had such instruction.

"There is no reason why our young people shouldn't be our best drivers," Marshal Orto said, "if they would just show that their judgment and sense of responsibility can be equal to their driving skill. I would say it's not usually a lack of skill. But whatever it is, several insurance companies have raised their rates on cars to be driven at any time by persons under 25 years of age."

"Maybe if the girls and boys, the parents and the officials all get together, our young people can set a record for safe driving for all of us to be proud of."

S. S. Workers Attend Curriculum Activity

On Sunday, October 1, Presbyterian Church Schools and other denominational groups using them, will begin the third year of the new curriculum on "The Christian Faith and Life," introduced by the Board of Christian Education in 1948. The third year cycle deals with "The Christian Church"—its Origin, History, Belief and Program. Children of the nursery, kindergarten and primary are provided with colorful quarterly booklets, Junior and Young People receive text books which are equal in format to text books in the public schools and libraries. New adult materials begin this year. One of the aims of the curriculum is to build up a religious library in the homes.

Teachers and parents also receive quarterly magazines. Home help is encouraged and expected if the curriculum fulfills its highest purpose in Christian nurture for parents and the home are the greatest teachers in so far as precepts, example and influence are concerned.

Teachers from the local Presbyterian Church who attended the coaching conference on the curriculum sponsored by the Christian Education Committee of Flint Presbytery at Caro last Sunday afternoon and evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Fischer, Mrs. E. G. Golding, Mrs. Clifford Martin, Mrs. Alfred G. Goodall, Mrs. Chester Muntz, Mrs. J. A. Mithigan, Mrs. Don MacLachlan, Mrs. Ivan MacRae, Mrs. Norman Crawford, Mrs. M. R. Vender, Mrs. R. J. McNamee and Miss Hollis McBurney. The last two leaders presented the adult and kindergarten departmental materials, having attended the Synod Briefing at Alma College in July.

Feeder Outlook Meeting on Sept. 28

What is the livestock feeder outlook market for the coming year? That is a question that has been asked County Agricultural Agent Loren S. Armbruster many times in recent months.

To get a clearer picture on the market outlook and production costs of feeding cattle, Agent Armbruster is calling a meeting on this subject to be held in the 4-H Wilbur Memorial Building (adjoining south side of Caro Fairgrounds) on Thursday evening, September 28, at 8:30 p. m. Don Stark, extension specialist in agricultural economics, and Wilton Finley, animal husbandry extension specialist, both from Michigan State College, will be present to explain and discuss the outlook.

Mr. Stark's address will include answers to such questions as what kind and size of cattle look like favorable feeding profits this year; how would price control affect feeding profit; what are market prices and feeding margin for cattle; is soft corn in the feeding picture; and similar information. Mr. Finley will present information on production costs, gains, and purchase of feeder cattle. In between the addresses of the speakers, the picture, "All Flesh Is Grass," will be shown. This is an outstanding film produced by the National Livestock Association, an organization promoting better market livestock. The meeting will close with refreshments served by Frank Fulmer of the Caro Livestock Auction Yard.

Agent Armbruster encourages livestock men and 4-H and FFA members to attend this meeting which will be of help to all in the livestock feeding business.

Scientists investigating flying saucer reports, first have to determine if the observers were in their cups.

MILK PRODUCERS DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Representatives from the four Tuscola County associations of the Michigan Milk Producers Association met in the Tuscola County courthouse last week to elect officers and delegates and discuss general milk marketing problems.

John Horst of Akron was re-elected sales committeeman from the county on the state sales committee work. Mr. Horst attends monthly meetings in Detroit with the state committee which negotiates milk prices to be paid to farmers with the committee of milk retailers of the Detroit milk shed area. Grover Bates of Vassar was elected alternate on the sales committee. Officers of the combined county association re-elected were Adolph Woelfle of Deford as president and John Horst as secretary for another year.

The annual meeting of the Michigan Milk Producers Association will be held in Lansing some time in November. Delegates elected to that meeting from this county are Alton Reavy, Akron, on the credentials committee.

The county locals are Deford, Mayville, Vassar and Tuscola.

First Submarine

Submarine warfare had its beginning during the Revolutionary war, but with an inglorious introduction. In 1777 David Bushnell, inventor of a little round submarine called "the Turtle," tried to drag a box of gunpowder against the British frigate, Cerebus. His mine became fouled and he sank a friendly schooner instead.

Smaller Radios

Radio receivers of the future will be much smaller in size than present models. Elimination of tubes and the use of "stamped" circuits instead of actual wires, and sealed components, will make the smaller sets possible.

Difficult Assignment

One of the most unusual and difficult assignments ever given U. S. marines was to transport several lions from Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, to the seacoast. The lions were to be presented to President Theodore Roosevelt as a gift from Emperor Menelik.

Copper-Nickel Alloys

In the copper-base alloys, ranging from 10% nickel silver to Constantan (55% copper-45% nickel), an important and relatively new member is the 70-30 cupro-nickel alloy which has become the standard material for marine condenser tubing.

Mt. Washington

Mount Washington, New Hampshire, highest summit in the northeastern United States, has a mere 38-foot altitude edge over Mount Washington in southwestern Washington state. The summits are 6,288 feet and 6,250 feet above sea level respectively.

Strength of Wood

The density of the solid wood substance of all species of trees is practically the same. The dry weight is, therefore, a measure of the amount of wood substance present; and on the amount of wood substance present depends the strength of the clear wood.

Deafness Cause

Deafness can be caused by a blow on the ear, loud explosions or continuous loud noises. A survey, made in New York state recently, revealed that 75 per cent of all workers in a printing plant were deafened and 65 per cent of the women workers in a tin can factory had hearing loss. Fumes may also cause hearing trouble.

Every model of the famous Ford Truck line is entered in Ford's gigantic, 48-state Economy Run. Every type of job and occupation all across the nation is represented.

All four of Ford's great truck engines—the 95-h.p. and the 110-h.p. Sixes, the 100-h.p. and 145-h.p. V-8's—are now demonstrating what most truck owners have found out for fact—a Ford Truck engine uses less gas to give you the power you need for your job.

On-the-Job Proof! This amazing Economy Run started July 1 and will run to December 31, 1950. Thousands of Ford Truck owners are keeping authentic day-to-day records of gas and oil consumption, of repairs and maintenance—of miles travelled, of loads hauled. The result—the most comprehensive demonstration of operating economy in truck history.

Get in on that money-saving Ford Truck economy now! Your Ford Dealer will show you how a Ford Truck will save money on your job. See him today!

Des Moines, Ia. Carl Nisley, Superior Oil Co., states that these Ford F-3 tank-trailers Big Jobs average six miles per gallon under heavy load. No repair expenses since they were bought.

Houston, Tex. Russell B. Brant of Murray Service Co. has used Ford Trucks since 1920. This is one of his F-5 Dumps. He says he's found them more economical than any other truck in their price field.

Alexandria, Va. The Metal Distributing Co., Inc., of Alexandria, places this Ford F-7 in Ford's nationwide Economy Run. Records of its daily operation will demonstrate Ford Truck economy in this industry, too.

East Point, Ga. Walter C. Jones of Arcon Drainage and Metal Products, Inc., in his Ford F-4 Tractor-Trailer. He states he's more than willing to show his Ford's economy!

Hyattsville, Md. Ernest Maier, Inc., pauses midway in a hauling job to show their fine, economy-minded Ford F-5 under load. The records kept will prove the economy of this Ford model.

Cincinnati, O. This Ford F-6 Dump is entered by the Randy Construction Company to dramatically record Ford Truck economy in the construction business, too!

Houston, Tex. A. L. O'Quinn of Magnolia Service has entered his Ford F-4 Pickup in the Economy Run, too. He says it's in a class by itself for day and night dependability and economy.

EVERY FORD TRUCK IN THE GIGANTIC ECONOMY RUN CARRIES THIS SIGN—Look for this black and orange sign on every Ford Truck in the Economy Run. Ask the driver about the economy of his Ford Truck.

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN

By Gene Allemen.

The political furor has died out temporarily while newly-nominated candidates bolster bulwarks and load ammunition for the November election. And so Michigan eyes again turn toward Korea, Europe and spiraling prices and wages here at home.

Bringing the war closer home is the fact that young Michigan men now are entering the army at a rate of more than 1,200 per week. Machinery creaked to a start, but now appears to be operating smoothly. Inductions are expected to increase.

And although 290,000 men have been classified in the state, there have been but 300 appeals from the draft. Answer? Proper classification by draft boards has left no grounds for appeal.

Economists still agree that the current postwar binge just can not last... that as Shakespeare said, "the times are out of joint." News columns verify that prices of industrial raw materials and finished products continue to push higher.

Among those prices most affecting Michigan is that of rubber which is at a 25-year high.

The expected labor shortage in Michigan is well on its way. Some plants are refusing to hire draft-age men and turning to women workers. But the babushka parade is not expected to reach World War II proportions.

Another influx of workers from the South is reported under way in the industrial regions. With housing still strained these persons may be forced to take only what is available. Result? New and larger slums.

Max C. Henderson, executive secretary of Michigan Field Crops, Inc., has asked government officials to keep enforcement of housing and wage standards out of the farm labor picture. Says it would mean "regulation on paper only." He adds that such restrictions usually mean a nice group of people drawing government salaries.

The migrant question is not new to Michigan. These migratory workers helped harvest the cherries which will furnish cherry pies for the army. Growers and packers around Fenville and Paw Paw are furnishing 36,625 cans of sour pitted cherries to the army.

Also on the farm side: Michigan farmers who opposed raising Danish Red cattle in the state will be interested to know these bovines now have been crossed to make American Red Danish cattle, many of which produce more than 500 pounds of butterfat. The experiment was tried in Sanilac.

On the home defense front, Michigan's new security squad is in operation. An additional 60 men will be in training by Oct. 1.

A refreshing note in these times of inflation: The national convention of Amvets has voted unanimously to oppose any federal bonuses "until the national economy justifies such action."

With the reports by the census bureau that large city areas have grown as 20 percent faster than rural communities the old cry of reapportionment is sure to be raised in state legislature again next year. As proposed by the League of Women Voters in 1949, apportionment would redistrict the state, giving more representation to the cities.

Will recent wage boosts raise auto prices? Ernest R. Breech, executive vice president of the Ford Motor Co., says: "The impact of this action on product prices can not be clearly established now. In the long run wage increases can be financed only out of increased production."

Interesting sidelight: General Motors production this year is running 25 percent ahead of last year's output. First eight months of this year saw 2,575,752 units manufactured.

Religion and school—a touchy subject. Dean J. B. Edmonson of the University of Michigan recommends a compromise. The number of sectarian groups prevents promulgation of any religious course, he says. And so schools should place emphasis on moral training instead.

Entertainment Lifesaver

Impromptu entertaining, such as a backyard picnic with the family next door, is lots of fun now that the weather is cooperative. And you can swing it without too much work if you have food reserves in the refrigerator.

The guest-night menu can be based on meat loaf and potato salad. Bake two meat loaves early in the week—one for dinner that night, one to go in the refrigerator. Cook potatoes and eggs for potato salad as you get breakfast some morning. Simmer both in the same pan of water with eggs on top; take eggs out as soon as they're cooked.

Atomic Tool Use

New atomic instruments are helping dentists find out more and more about teeth. The electron microscope—with far greater magnifying power than any optical instrument—has been used to explain the effects of using fluoride to check tooth decay.

Pearl Buttons

The lovely iridescent pearl buttons used on many cottons are one hundred per cent washable. Since water is the natural element of the shells from which they are made, they take to laundering as a fish to water. Even boiling water won't affect such buttons. The same can't be said of novelty hand-painted buttons, since the paint may rub off on clothing, and metal buttons may rust when immersed in water, spoiling a garment beyond repair.

McGuffey Reader

More than 122 million copies of the famous McGuffey readers have been sold. Their author, Prof. William H. McGuffey, taught moral philosophy at the University of Virginia a century ago.

The U. N. police force will carry much more weight when it is composed of fighting men of all free-dom loving nations, rather than from the U. S. only.

Neglected Calves
Improper raising of calves is an important and often overlooked cause of sterility. Calves fed poorly and raised in dirty quarters often suffer from dysentery and recurrent pneumonia, and become poor breeders as the result.

Woman Turns Down Art Career For Plain Life

NEW YORK—A short, broad-hipped woman with closely cropped graying hair, her hands rough and red from her job as a charwoman, recently had a one man show in a Manhattan art gallery of her oil paintings.

She also had a chance at fame as a primitive painter, but the woman, Julia Asmus, 62, who earns $18 a week scrubbing apartments, turned it down.

She rejected a subsidy from an art patron which would have permitted her to quit charring and paint full time.

Started Painting in 1923

"If I was 20 and could put on nice earrings and pretty myself up, maybe," she said. "But I'm too old and ugly. I wouldn't stand that. I like a just plain home life."

And as her show opened, the woman who widely known artists called "one of the few genuine primitives since the great Henri Rousseau", continued to scrub floors.

Miss Asmus started painting in 1923. Until 1923 she was an attendant in a number of mental institutions. Then she wanted a place to go home to after a hard day's work and began doing housework by the hour.

"When I can't sleep," she said, "instead of reading a book like most people, I get up and paint."

She first came to the attention of the art world when an artist saw one of her paintings in the home of friends for whom she charred.

Doubts Their Worth

While other people rave over her paintings, she remained skeptical that her art was worth money, but did tell the gallery director that she couldn't afford to sell the smallest ones for less than $3 or "a next larger size for less than $10."

The director, however, priced the paintings at $40 to $400 and hoped to sell at least five or six.

Her largest canvas is a 34 by 52 inch painting which Miss Asmus titled "Walking in the Light of Man." It depicts God as a man with curly gray hair and beard, wearing a dark monklike robe.

Other paintings show landscapes with figures such as a child might draw. They are flat looking still lifes and portraits from her imagination. Artists have praised their color and texture.

Asked what she would do if her painting made her rich and famous, she couldn't think of anything she wanted for a few minutes.

She said finally, "Well, I would like to get over to London to see the queen."

Accepting Gifts Proper For Japanese Officials

TOKYO—It recently came to light that Japanese government officials have been accepting gifts, in some instances, totaling several million yen.

In the United States if an official accepts a gift it is looked upon as a bribe and is punishable with a prison sentence or fine, or both. Not so in Japan.

In any other period of history the investigation being carried on in Japan would not have caused a ripple of excitement. The Japanese have always considered it proper to show "courtesy" to officials of all ranks in the form of expensive entertainment, presents and gifts of money.

These presents, depending on circumstances, may or may not have been motivated by hope of securing profitable government contracts or influencing legislation.

The custom was widespread, extending even to low-rank officials, and generally was considered proper. Officials accepted these courtesies as their right and the gifts helped supplement the low salaries which all Japanese officials receive.

Another custom was the Japanese officials have been provided with a cash reserve which they could spend as they wished, for entertaining other officials, or for expenses while traveling on government business. An accounting was not required.

All these customs are made public with the announcement of an investigation into spending by Japanese officials. And it has brought the bizarre complaint from some Japanese leaders that the "democratic ideals" of the west are irreconcilable with the traditions of the land of the rising sun.

Dallas Newsboy Credited With Saving Twenty People

DALLAS, Tex.—Tom Bradley, 18-year-old newspaper carrier, is credited with saving 20 lives.

While making his morning paper route he heard the noise of leaking gas in an apartment house. He notified firemen who roused 20 sleeping tenants. All were evacuated.

A fire captain said the gas was strong enough in eight of the building's 12 apartments to explode at the turn of a light switch.

4-H Leaders Are Offered Training Course

Four 4-H club leaders and parents who have questions concerning club work will have a chance to get the answers during the coming few weeks, says Byron E. Carpenter, Tuscola County 4-H Club Agent. Carpenter, with the help of the Tuscola County 4-H Council, has arranged a series of five training meetings for 4-H club leaders and junior leaders, the first of which will be held Wednesday evening, September 27, at 8 p. m. at the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building, Caro.

The 4-H leader training meetings are open to both winter and summer club leaders, and to new and veteran leaders. Such topics as extension organization, responsibilities of club leaders, parents, and members, special contests, and local, county, state and national 4-H club events will be explained and discussed.

The September 27 meeting will cover a description of the agricultural extension organization, pointers on organizing and directing 4-H clubs, leadership suggestions, and a discussion of 4-H club plans and club leaders' awards. The remaining four meetings are tentatively scheduled for consecutive Wednesday evenings, the 4th, 11th, 18th of October. 4-H club parents and prospective leaders are invited to attend the training sessions, Carpenter states.

COMPLIMENTARY BREEDING SERVICE

The board of directors of the five Tuscola County artificial breeding associations recently voted to give complimentary breeding service to county 4-H and FFA dairy animals. County Agricultural Agent Loren S. Armbruster stated that this is in accordance with the program followed by many of the 135 some odd associations throughout the state.

Secretaries and inseminator-managers of the county locals met in the courthouse last week to discuss and plan the ABA work in the county. Dr. F. D. Kipping, field supervisor of the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative, Inc., told the dairy representatives about new developments in artificial breeding. Kipping also re-emphasized the importance of healthy animals for a more successful dairy program. Dairyman are encouraged to check health of animals regularly and request the services of veterinarians for diagnosis where settling of cows has been irregular.

Four-H and FFA members desiring free service for their animals must secure complimentary service blanks from the ABA secretary of their area. Those having available blanks are Carlyle Everett of Kingston, Bryce McGinnis of Millington, Ludwig Bernreuter of Vassar, Ed. G. Golding, Cass City, and Carl Armbruster of Sebewaing.
