New Engine Room Will House a New Generator for Electricity

Construction of a new engine room is underway at the Nestle Co., Inc., condensary, according to E. A. Hanna, plant superintendent. The addition will house a new generator to supply electric power to the plant.

Also slated for installation this winter are two steam boilers to replace one now in operation, according to Mr. Hanna. They will be used to power steam driven equipment at the plant as well as operate the generator. The additions should provide enough electric power for the entire plant, he said.

Mr. Hanna pointed out that the new generator and boilers will probably eliminate some of the smoke and noise which emanate from the plant at present.

Huron Sportsmen Consider Pheasant Population Increase

A plan patterned after the Williamson program used in counties in southern Michigan is being considered by the Huron Sportsmen's Club. It will be known as the Huron Sportsmen's Pheasant Propagation program, which in cooperation with farm land owners, will increase the county's pheasant population. It calls for posting of land and hunting restrictions.

Hunting would be permitted on posted land only with permission of the owner. Hunters would be required to apply at the farm home for a special pass, leave their cars in the farm yard, and report their bag of birds at the end of the hunt.

Hunting passes would be limited according to the estimated concentration of birds on any piece of property.

The tally of birds taken would indicate to the sportsmen's group where pheasant plantings would be needed.

It is hoped that the plan will eliminate overhunting, and do away with damage to farm properties since all hunters would be known.

The cost of posting land would be paid by the sportsmen's group under the program.

Motorists who try to burn up the road often land in the cooler.

W. S. W. S. Institute At Caro Thursday

Mrs. C. A. Parker of Bay City was general chairman for the event and Mrs. Wm. Boettcher of Snover conducted the devotional period of the afternoon session. Both ladies are well-known in Cass City. The lecture of the afternoon was given by Miss Vera Mae Long, R. N., a missionary nurse of the Dominican Republic, who is on furlough at present. A question period, supervised by Mrs. Parker, concluded this part of the day's program.

Following a banquet served by the ladies of the host church, the evening began with devotions and special musical numbers which included two selections, beautifully rendered, by the Cass City Ladies' Chorus.

Miss Long then showed colored slides depicting scenes of the island, the natives and, especially, the hospitals, churches and schools, which were much enjoyed by the large congregation. Eleven members of the Cass City W. S. W. S. attended the institute.

Machines Add To the Farmer's Fire Hazards

Farm Blazes Cause an Estimated 3,500 Deaths Each Year

Some of the machines which have helped farmers set new production records in recent years have also brought serious new fire hazards to the farm, the National Board of Fire Underwriters warns. With farm fires causing an estimated 3,500 deaths and approximately $99,000,000 in property destruction each year, the National Board urges farmers to observe these "eleven rules for farm fire safety."

1. Have new wiring installed by an experienced electrician.
2. Don't overload wires—when adding new electrical devices such as motors or corn driers, get an expert to check whether new circuits are needed.

Gasoline Means Danger.

3. Remember that gasoline can be dangerous—and store it with care. Don't let gasoline spill, or drop over a hot muffler or engine.
4. For carrying small quantities of gasoline, use a self-closing approved safety can.

5. Do not store tractors in a hay barn.
6. Give your entire heating system a thorough inspection at least once a year—and do not delay necessary repairs.

Detroit Edison to Build 400,000 H. P. Generating Plant

Detailed plans for a new 400,000 horsepower electric generating plant to be built on the St. Clair River front, midway between Marine City and St. Clair, were announced recently by The Detroit Edison Company.

Paul W. Thompson, Edison vice-president in charge of engineering, said the cost of the new plant together with lines and other facilities for transmission and distribution, would run to "more than $35,000,000." Construction probably will begin early in December.

This major addition to Michigan's industrial and domestic power supply will be known as the St. Clair Plant.

Recent world events, Thompson noted, led to a decision to build a new plant instead of installing extra generating equipment in an existing plant, as originally planned.

Thompson explained that the revised plan would enable the company to keep in service three older generators which were marked for retirement before the outbreak in Korea. Also, he said, the separate location of the plant would further decentralize Edison generating facilities. (The four existing Edison power plants are strung out along a 65-mile sector from Trenton to Port Huron.)

The new plant will be equipped

Keith Little Exhibited Champ At Hog Sale

Reserve Champion Was Shown by Leonard Russell of Akron

Local grocers and butchers displayed a strong interest in the Fall 4-H and FFA Market Hog Sale held at Caro Tuesday by bidding in the champions at prices far above the current market. Keith Little, Cass City, exhibited a 215-pound Duroc Jersey gilt which won the grand championship after placing first in the lightweight class. Keith's champion was purchased by Howard Wells, of Kauffman's Market, Caro, for 50 cents per pound. The final contending bid on the champion was that of Fred Iseler, Cass City buyer.

Leonard Russell, Akron, exhibited a 205-pound Chester White barrow that was judged reserve champion. Palace Market, Caro, purchased Leonard's prize hog at a price of 34 cents a pound.

The 1950 Market Hog Show and Sale was the sixteenth consecutive semi-annual event of this kind held at the Caro Livestock Auction Yards and sponsored by Frank Fullmer, owner of the sale yard. This year Mr. Fullmer provided $100 in prizes which included two handsome trophies, one of which was awarded to the exhibitor, the other to the purchaser of the grand champion hog. In addition to these awards, he also gave an airplane ride to the following six exhibitors, flying over their home farms on Tuesday afternoon: Phyllis and Leonard Russell, Akron; Paul Findlay, Reese; Fred Mathews, Decker; Gerald Whitaker, Cass City; and Richard Thorp, Caro.

The show was judged by V. A. Freeman, assistant State 4-H Club leader, East Lansing. The showmanship contest, held just before the sale was won by Keith Little. Others listed in order of their

36 Attended the Meeting of Nurses At Cass City Monday

Cass City was the scene of the fourth nurses' meeting for the Sanilac County and part of the Tuscola County area. The group of 36 women representing Cass City, Brown City, Sandusky, Deckerville, Port Sanilac, McGregor, Marlette, Kingston, Clifford and Gagetown, met Monday in the private dining room of the Home Restaurant for a 7:30 dinner, featuring delicious fried chicken which was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated. Invocation was given by Mrs. F. L. Morris of Cass City.

Mrs. Harold Wells of Cass City asked those present to introduce themselves individually, and it was interesting to note the different fields in which the R. N.'s are now active. Present were administrators, hospital nurses, office nurses, school and public health nurses and private duty nurses; and there were those who identified themselves as nurse maids, housewives, farmers' wives, tomato and pickle canners, and telephone "receptionists."

The speaker of the evening, Miss Muriel Addison of Blackpool, England, was then presented by Mrs. Wells. Miss Addison gave an extremely interesting commentary on her activities as a welfare officer during the war and on social conditions in England today.

Mrs. Leonard Patterson of Sandusky read correspondence from Lansing concerning district organization after which Mrs. William Schwaderer of Kingston put the question of future meeting and organization up to discussion. No definite decision was arrived at concerning any type of organization until those not present could be contacted, although the group indicated that they enjoyed the social meetings and many prefer they meet on that basis with the addition of professional education to the program.

A committee of nurses from the various localities set the date of the next dinner meeting for December 4, at Deckerville. Mrs. E. W. Blanchard, Mrs. Emerson Roes and Mrs. Ward Decker are planning the arrangements.

200 Welcomed Seven New Teachers At Reception

Addresses and Vocal Numbers Comprised the Evening's Program

Over two hundred persons attended a reception welcoming seven new teachers to the Cass City school system last Thursday in the school gymnasium. James Gross acted as master of ceremonies for the evening program.

The group was entertained by the High School Girls' Chorus as well as a "Barber Shop Quartet," composed of Don Borg, A. C. Atwell, Robt. Stockwell and Fritz Neitzel.

Clifford Croft, village president, addressed the gathering and Arthur Holmberg, high school principal, introduced the new teachers. Mrs. Ed. Baker, chairman of the school board, extended them a welcome to the Cass City schools.

New teachers on the staff this year are Miss Norma Gwin, Miss Rosemary Bailey, Miss Virginia Bryan, Miss Alma Popp, Russell Kullberg, Alexander Arnett and Miss Mary Jane Campbell.

Minutes of the first teachers' reception gathering held in 1921 were read by Willis Campbell, superintendent of schools. Four persons were present Thursday evening who also attended the first reception 29 years ago. They were Mrs. John A. Sandham, Mrs. Alfred Knapp, Mrs. Zora Day and Mr. Campbell.

At a lunch following the meeting, coffee, tea, cookies and doughnuts were served.

Rotary Club Will Welcome District Governor October 10

The Rotary Club of Cass City on Oct. 10 will be host to Ralph J. Hyde, governor of the 220 District of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 81 Rotary Clubs in Michigan. He will confer with President Robt. Hunter, Secretary Frank Reid and other local Rotary officers on club administration and Rotary service activities.

Mr. Hyde is an attorney at law in Midland and is a member of the Rotary Club of that city. He is one of the 201 Rotary District Governors who are supervising the activities of some 7,100 Rotary Clubs which have a membership of 342,000 business and professional executives in 83 countries and geographical regions throughout the world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Cass City because they are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community-betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

when your old battery reaches the "wrestling" stage, take this tip—

GULF BATTERIES HAVE

Punch!

No fun to fret and fume while your tired old battery grunts and groans!

And if you get stuck miles from nowhere at "just the wrong time," (that's how it always happens, isn't it?) you're stuck for plenty of time and money, too.

Play it safe! Get a new Gulf Battery!

You'll find it has worlds of get-up-and-go. Lots of ginger, plenty of wallop. Gets you started—quick!

Same time, you'll be playing it smart. It pays, you know, to buy quality—true-blue Gulf quality. Pays in better service, longer life. And during that life, count on Gulf's free checkups to keep tab on your battery's health.

Thumb sucking may cause permanent damage to a child's teeth and jaws, Dr. George W. Teuscher of the Northwestern university dental school told the American dental association at its annual session. Dr. Teuscher took issue with the idea that if the habit is stopped before the permanent teeth grow in, they will not be affected. He urged that parents be warned that thumb sucking can cause an abnormal position for both permanent and first or primary teeth.

Better Buy Buick!

PERHAPS you've noticed that there seem to be a lot of these brawny beauties running around on America's highways—and it isn't just that boldly gleaming forefront that spreads this impression. It isn't just the fact that folks who own a Buick get such a bang out of it that they do a lot of driving. Back of all this is another fact. It's a fact that contains a broad hint to anyone who'd like to know what's what in motorcar buys. 1950 Buicks are breaking all past popularity records, as registered in sales.

So we suggest that you do some personal investigating. Find out, for example, how masterful you feel, with Fireball power purring away the miles, at a polite touch of your toe on the gas treadle.

Find out how the jolts and jars seem to disappear, when you have big soft coil springs on all four wheels

WOMAN'S WORLD
Inexpensive Small-Sized Rugs
May Solve Decorating Problem
By Ertia Haley

ARE YOU ONE of those people who have several rooms in the home, bare of floor covering because you can't afford full-sized rugs? Or are you simply unaware of the possibilities, decoratively speaking, of scatter rugs?

Small-sized rugs can be used so effectively that you may never again feel that need for large rugs. Even with full-sized rugs, these small rugs can add that nice splash of color to rooms and prevent expensive large carpets from showing wear prematurely, especially in the heavy traffic areas.

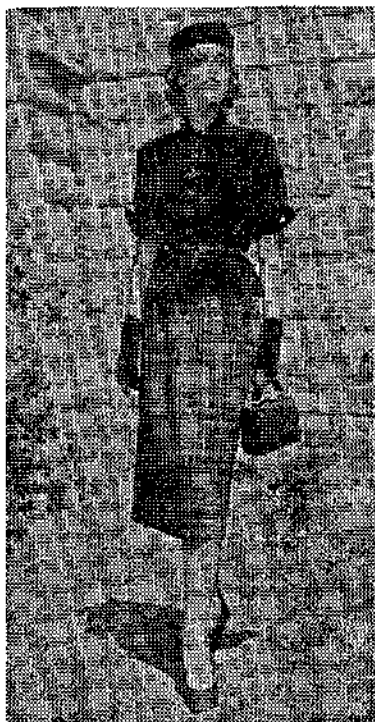

No room in the house need be without them, and the rugs themselves are equally at home in living, bedroom, den or hall. They can, when properly used be very effective.

If you happen to have some of these rugs stored away, check them for possibilities. All cannot be used because of pattern, color, size and shape. If they were used, they would give a hodge-podge effect which is just what you seek to avoid.

The right scatter rugs are in scale and harmony with your furniture. The colors have just the right accent for the room, and the patterns must either provide effective background for the room in which they're used, or at least lead the eye to the center of interest.

Keep the basic tenets of decorating in mind, and when balance, shaped rugs to give character. All rugs should be anchored to the floor with non-skid pads or linings. Another trick is to use rubber jar rings on the corners of these small rugs. This anchoring of the rugs is especially important in places like halls and stairways where you anticipate traffic.

A good arrangement in the bedroom is to have the scatter rugs on either side of the bed, the length of the rug matching the length of the bed. Continue the rugs to bathroom entrance.

In long, narrow living rooms, scatter rugs help facilitate furniture groupings. If you have a desk and bookcase arrangement in one corner or on one side, use one large or several matching rugs for this unit.

If you have a musical corner, use several matching rugs for this group. Still another group, around mantle or fireplace can be carpeted with one or two scatter rugs in still another pattern or style.

Playrooms and nurseries are ideal places for scatter rugs because they can be used for play groupings, and then rolled up quickly if the whole room floor is needed for more rugged activities.

Equipment for Hooked Rugs is Simple

If you've decided to make hooked rugs for the home, they'll be ideal for the scatter rug uses just outlined. Best of all, you probably have most of the materials on hand already.

Gather your faded kitchen curtains, outgrown and outmoded dresses, woollens from shirts, suits and jackets. Even worn rayon or nylon stockings can be used. These should be dyed according to colors you choose for the rugs.

All fabrics cannot be used in one rug. Wools and wool-like rayons may be used together, with a bit of silk for shine. Cottons, linens and linen-like rayons may go together. Silk and nylon can be used together for those spots which do not have to wear, but for which you want an especially attractive, fragile looking rug.

It is difficult to estimate how much material you will need for a rug because weaves differ. Dry material, weighing about 4 pounds will give a rug approximately 20x40 inches. A rug 40x60 inches will require around 10 pounds.

Back and Frame Hooked Rug

For backing the rug you'll need burlap, rug canvas, monk's cloth or some other fabric of similar weave. Lay the backing flat on the table and sketch the design on it.

You may purchase or make the wooden frame, which should be a good grade seasoned wood.

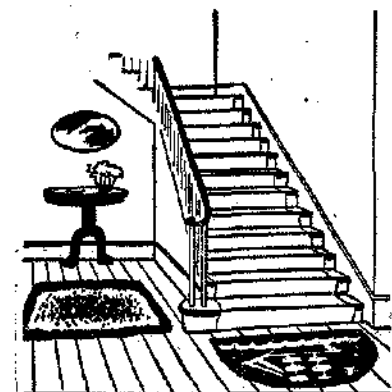

If you want to finish the edges of the rug as you hook the design, turn back edges of the foundation about 3 inches and press onto the right side with a heavy iron. Hook through the double thickness as you work and you'll avoid hemming or facing.

Strips of material are cut about 1/4 inch wide, but woollens may be slightly more narrow. The strips of fabric are held under the rug foundation between thumb and forefinger of left hand, and the right hand holds the hook which is slipped down through the meshes of fabric to catch the strip and bring it to the surface to a height of 1/4 to 1/2 inch. Disengage the hook, and you have the first loop. The others are made the same way.

When you change colors or complete the loops, bring strips to the right side and cut off short. If left under, the strips are liable to pull out and leave gaps.

Use Good Scatter Rugs in Place of Skippy Large Ones unity and harmony are satisfied, you may be certain that the rugs are doing a good job of their appropriate role.

The rugs used may be bought, or they may be made at home either by the hooking or braiding method whichever you prefer.

Room Suggests Ways Of Arranging Rugs

Let's start with the living room that needs a center of interest. This usually happens when there's no fireplace or mantle. You can make an attractive window arrangement by using a fairly good sized scatter rug, setting it near the window. It should be large enough to cover the floor required for a conversational group, with two chairs or love-seats and a table between the two.

The window can be made decorative by placing an arrangement of plants either on the sill, or on a small window hugging cabinet that comes as high as the sill.

The sofa and coffee table arrangement is quite common in many living rooms. Does yours stand out as attractively as possible? If not, imaginative decor to home.

try placing the coffee table with its width to the sofa so that the length extends out into the room. On either side of the table place a square rug that just fills the space.

Placing rugs like this gives a balanced arrangement that's neat but not too formal. If the room is modern, you might try rugs with colored stripes forming squares. For traditional rooms, geometric or attractive patterned rugs are the answer.

Let's say that you have a small living room with a fireplace. You can give this room a feeling of spaciousness by placing one large scatter rug in front of the fireplace where would be placed a small coffee table with a chair on one side and a small sofa or love-seat on the other. Smaller rugs can be placed in the room to reach to the fireplace rug, and they do not have to be the same style rugs, just so long as they harmonize with the room.

SHORT STORY
Strange Spectacles
By Richard HUI Wilkinson

ON THE MORNING of Aug 4th, Sandra Hunter glanced through her bedroom window and saw a strange spectacle. Between the great white house and the street was a wide expanse of lawn, and this lawn was at present occupied by a young man pushing a lawnmower.

3-Minute Fiction

Sandra didn't know what to make of it. She remembered that her mother and father were away for the weekend and that the servants were in the rear of the house.

By the time she had dressed and ventured outdoors, the young man had finished his mowing and was resting in the shade of the veranda.

"Will you kindly explain what this is all about?" said Sandra.

"I just mowed your lawn as it should be mowed."

"Should be mowed?" Sandra puckered up her brow. "What do you mean, 'should be mowed'? Who are you? And where is Rufus, our gardener?"

"I'm Jerry Leonard. I bribed your gardener this morning to let me mow your lawn. You see, I have to drive by your house every morning on my way to work, and every morning I've noticed that Rufus cuts the lawn unevenly."

"Well of all things!"

"Besides, I've been wanting to meet you since last June."

"Meet me?"

"Yes. My mother and I moved into the old Saunders place last June and, the day after, I saw you and decided I had to meet you. I noticed your lawn and thought of the idea of bribing Rufus. It was like killing two birds with one stone." He grinned. "I knew your father and mother were going to be away."

"Why, the very idea! I—I can't believe you're serious."

Jerry Leonard scratched his head. "I was never more serious in my life. Shucks! I'm sorry if you feel the way you look."

"The way I look!" Sandra began to wonder how she did look.

A dozen retorts came to mind but they all seemed flat and inadequate, almost silly. She hesitated for an instant longer and then turned abruptly and strode back to the house.

Jerry Leonard watched her go and into his face there came a look of disappointment.

THROUGHOUT the day Jerry was conscious of a forlorn misery. All his carefully formed plans had proved fruitless. At 5 o'clock he drove home via a route that did not take him past the Hunter estate. Leaving his coupe outside in the drive he entered the cottage by the rear door and found a note on the kitchen table, left there by his mother, which advised him that she had gone to a church supper and that if he didn't want to come too he'd find some warm-over things in the oven.

"I've been hoping you'd speak to me for ever so long," Sandra said, "but you gave the impression of being rather high hat."

Jerry moodily ate the warmed-over things and afterward stepped outside to smoke a cigarette. He was about to ease himself comfortably onto the doorstep when he chanced to glance toward the drive. He blinked, rubbed his eyes, swallowed. "What the devil!" he said.

As he approached, the girl who had been washing the automobile's wheels straightened up and stood off to survey her work. It was Sandra Hunter.

"What the dickens," said Jerry, "are you up to?"

"Oh," she said, "Hello." She gestured toward the coupe. "Dirty wheels. Been getting on my nerves for weeks."

"Wha—what?" said Jerry.

"I've noticed you driving by every day from my bedroom window. Rest of the car looks fine, but you always seem to forget the wheels. Very annoying."

Jerry puckered up his brow. He peered at the girl very intently. His face was grave. He said, "Is that all?"

"No," said Sandra. "I've been hoping you'd speak to me for ever so long, but you gave the impression of being well, rather high hat. This seemed like a logical method to promote friendly relations," she grinned. "You see, I knew your mother was away."

TUSCOLA
COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

The Tuscola County DHIA Board officially hired Langmaid of Decker Friday night, September 29. Langmaid will work the No. 3 Association, replacing Dick Hampshire who recently enlisted with his brother in the Air Force. Marr Sherman, state dairy herd tester from Michigan State College, will assist Langmaid for the first few days.

Jerry Davis, Vassar, of the North Vassar 4-H Club, accompanied George C. MacQueen, assistant county agricultural agent, to a training school for tractor maintenance leaders held at Jackson October 3-6. When the newly trained 4-H Tractor Club leaders returned, Agent MacQueen plans to initiate schools led by new leaders and leaders who have attended the school in past years. Final planning will be done in late fall or early winter.

The Red Dane breeding program is making great progress in Michigan in that over 5,000 animals are now in the program. Tuscola County has 18 farmers in the county organization with approximately 250 cows signed in.

The Egg Grading Refresher School which will be held at Michigan State College on October 6-7 is open to operators and resident graders of federal-state egg grading stations and also to those who wish to learn how to candle eggs. Details of the two-day school are available from County Agent Armbruster.

Use your land wisely as there is no more land area expansion, was the thought behind the address of Lloyd Partian of Curtis Publishing Company in his talk to approximately 400 people who attended the third annual Goodyear conservation awards banquet last Tuesday. With no additional land but an increase in population will require more production of food products per acre in the future.

Small grain growers of Tuscola County who wish to exhibit grain at the Canadian Royal Agriculture Winter Fair can get a fair catalog from County Agent Armbruster. Also available are entry blanks and material needed to get the samples by the Customs Office. The Canadian Show will be held at Toronto November 14-22.

Approximately 80 farmers attended the Feeder Outlook Meeting at the 4-H Building last week. Extension specialists from Michigan State College, Don Stark and Wilton Finley, stated that the feeding of beef cattle is comparatively good when good management and feeding practices are followed.

Number one in a series of five training meetings for Tuscola County 4-H club leaders was held Wednesday evening, September 27, with an attendance of 45. Organizational membership, and leaders' duties and references were the subjects discussed. Four 4-H Mothers Club members, Mrs. Earl Taggett, Caro, and Mrs. Clarence McMullen, Mayville, served refreshments at the close of the meeting. The second meeting, Wednesday, October 4, covers the conduct and planning of successful business meetings and programs, and instructions on the use of enrollment blanks and project record cards. On Wednesday evening, October 11, parent and member responsibilities will be the topic, along with 4-H record keeping. All leader training meetings begin at 8 p. m. and are held at the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building, Caro. Refreshments and recreation are a part of every meeting.

All Extension women and friends should label Thursday, November 2, as "Ladies Day Out" and plan to attend the 25th annual Women's Achievement Day. This will be an all-day get-together at the new school building in Millington. The noon meal will be served by the ladies of the Millington Methodist Church. Mrs. Roy Wagg, Cass City, is general chairman of the day. Mrs. Wagg and her committees are busy working to make this day at Millington an enjoyable occasion.

Subversion is declared to be a crime against the state, punishable by any penalty provided by law.

Subversion shall constitute an abuse of the rights secured by section 4 of this article, and the rights secured thereby shall not be valid as a defense in any trial for subversion.

Proposal No. 4.

Petition for a referendum of initiative measure presented to the legislature, adopted by it, and signed by the governor, February 14, 1949, being Act No. 1, Public Acts of 1949 of the State of Michigan, and to read as follows:

"AN ACT to amend section 1 of Act No. 22 of the Public Acts of 1901 entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of imitation butter.'

The People of the State of Michigan enact: Section 1 of Act No. 22 of the Public Acts of 1901, entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of imitation butter,' is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. No person, by himself or his agents, or servants, shall render or manufacture, sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell, any article, product or compound made wholly or in part out of any fat, oil or oleaginous substance or compound thereof, not produced from unadulterated milk or cream from the same, which shall be in imitation of yellow butter produced from pure unadulterated milk or cream of the same, and which could not be lawfully transported or sold in interstate commerce under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act:

Provided that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the manufacture or sale of either yellow colored or uncolored oleomargarine in a separate and distinct form, and in such manner as will advise the consumer of its real character, which shall have been manufactured in accordance with the Federal definition and standard of identity for oleomargarine, as fixed by regulations promulgated by the Federal Security Administrator of the United States of America, pursuant to the provisions of Section 401 of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, as amended."

Busy Pigment

The pigment used in paint is a solid material. In the form of powder, its function, in general, is to impart color. In general, also, a pigment should be opaque so that it provides the coating with good hiding power. Its solid particles have still a third task—they must help to reflect away destructive light rays and thus aid in lengthening the life of the entire paint coating.

Packing your order may sound like a little thing, but our trained employees give it a lot of thought.

They know that it isn't right to place five pounds of flour on top of a quarter pound of butter . . . or to place soap next to cheese.

The men and women of A&P will appreciate it if you will let them have any suggestions as to how they can make a handier package for you to take home.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Many Small, Fashionable Tricks Round Out Winter Wardrobe

By Erita Haley

MOST WOMEN AND school girls have their basic fall and winter wardrobe completed by this time, but many of them are still searching for those extra special, certain effects that will give their clothes distinction.

Clever accessories mean so much to those who would be appropriately dressed, and some spend hours hunting for just the right belt or button to complete a certain costume.

In many cases, it's not money that's involved. It's just a matter of finding a certain item that will turn a dress or suit from something ordinary to something distinctive.

When you're seeking such items, it's wise to investigate what you already have for you may have something tucked away in the recesses of the closet that can be used or altered into something with a lot of service.

Before you buy, investigate what you have. It's often surprising what you can find, a nice piece of plaid that makes just the right belt, some old rhinestones that can be glued to buttons or that might be made into costume jewelry, so correct for the current fashion picture.

Belts, Cummerbunds Are Distinctive
Skirts and blouses of luxury materials are an important part of the fashion scene. If you're tall and slender you'll want to put them together in a single costume with a cummerbund effect at the waist. Cummerbunds can be made from all sorts of old, luxurious pieces of material such as old dresses, scarves, or a wide ribbon trimming on an old hat.

Many of the pieces of fabric you find will need only a light cleaning or pressing to bring them into condition. Wash only those materials which are washable. If you're in doubt, snip off a piece for laundering before trying out the whole piece. After reconditioning, cut and finish the material to fit the waist, cummerbund fashion. Plaid belts and cummerbunds are high fashion, too, for long shorts or slacks whether you're at home or on campus. Sources for the plaid might be a remnant tucked away in a scrap bag, an old woolen dress, or even the lining of an old coat.

Cummerbunds or belts for tailored clothing should be neat and clean-cut. For wearing with tailored clothes, the plaid cummerbund is cut just long enough to go around the waist. It's flat, and high and rounded in front, and may be fastened with snaps in back or front. Sometimes a huge ornamental pin is attached to the front.

Search for Remnants To Use as Neckwear
Plain classic sweaters, tailored dresses as well as coat and jacket fashions all demand some sort of ornamental scarf at the neck. Most of these are small, tied in a knot at the front of the neck, and then ornamented with a single decorative pin.

Remnants are good sources for these scarves, whether you buy them at a bargain counter or find the material in the attic or scrap bag. Little or no sewing is required for these have simple hems.

The short jacket coats made of fur or pseudo-fur give an excellent background for scarves made from luxury materials such as taffeta, crepe, satin, faille or chiffon.

With dressy sweaters, a bit of chiffon to which is attached a flower of crushed velvet, is excellent. For the more rugged costumes, use plaid, striped or plain wool scarves.

Old Fabrics Yield Excellent Trimmings
Many not quite new dresses can be easily rejuvenated with just a touch or two of luxurious trimming to bring them right back into the fashion spotlight. For these you

Practical Pumps

Pumps that go anywhere and keep your feet comfortable are these black calf sling types with a fairly low heel and a jaunty cord at the instep. Open toes assure comfortable room at the tip of the shoe.

need more strips of satin or velvet, velveteen or faille.

Take for example, a good basic dress that needs a bit of brightening. You might trim the small collar and cuffs with velvet or satin. This trimming is easy to apply and will take but a short time. If the dress is brown, try a black trimming if you want to be right up to the minute in the fashion-wise details. Other good choices include orange, rust, purple or a deep bright shade of red.

Do you have an old shirt that can be converted to a waist for the college or high school-age daughter? She can wear it with long shorts, slacks or a skirt. If she already has a waist, it can be made even smarter with an all-around piping of velvet or velveteen.

Since refter costs are back, you might try remodeling an old one with touches of velvet at the neckline, or putting on velvet buttons. These are simple changes, but very effective ones.

Old dresses and formal frequently yield excellent buttons. If you have some with rhinestones, remove those and use them marching down the front of a classic button-front dress for a very smart look. The same kind of buttons can also be used on sheer wool or velvet suits.

Last year's suit with a plunging neckline can be trimmed with velvet or velveteen or rhinestones substituted for old ones. Add a bunch of soft velvet flowers, from an old formal, possibly, and you'll have a costume such as is being widely shown.

Skirts, Weights Make Wardrobe Extenders
Skirts, blouses and weights to go with them make exceptionally nice wardrobe extenders since the three together may be worn to make a good casual costume.

Then, too, the skirts may be worn with sweaters and jackets, while blouses will go with the other skirts, and weights may be worn with other skirts, as well as slacks and shorts.

Tubular jersey is a popular material that may be purchased by the yard for making skirts.

Corduroy and velveteen may be used for the weights, and, if you like plaids or woolsens for these, you can easily get together enough material for them from old dresses or coat linings.

Weights are made in two popular styles, the small, men's type with a V neckline, and the other, a tuxedo front, that shows small, tucked blouses off so well.

If you have any long-sleeved old white blouses in your wardrobe, these can easily be brought into use again. Dye them, in the rich fall shades, if you want to spice the costume with color, or bleach them to snowy whiteness if you prefer.

Robes, Gowns, Pajamas Should Yield Warmth
You can cut the corners on your clothing budget by sewing pajamas, robes and gowns at home, especially when you use easily managed cotton flannel. Both cutting and sewing are easy, and the flannel is modest in price.

Classic two-piece pajamas are still being used extensively, but a new favorite style currently is the one-piece which is gathered at the wrists and ankles. It has an oversized Peter Pan collar and front opening, with the waist nipped with a narrow self belt.

Plaid and flannel nightshirts that are made like large men's shirts, with long sleeves and large upper pockets are also being favored.

For robes, there are two good choices. The first is a short, full study coat frequently styled in a large bold plaid, much after the style of short, back-flared coats that were being worn with dresses and suits some time ago.

The second is the regular full or short length robe, either in plaid or the very popular solid colored flannel wool. It may be trimmed with plaid or a contrasting solid color.

Many not quite new dresses can be easily rejuvenated with just a touch or two of luxurious trimming to bring them right back into the fashion spotlight. For these you quired for these have simple hems. The short jacket coats made of fur or pseudo-fur give an excellent background for scarves made from luxury materials such as taffeta, crepe, satin, faille or chiffon.

With dressy sweaters, a bit of chiffon to which is attached a flower of crushed velvet, is excellent. For the more rugged costumes, use plaid, striped or plain wool scarves.

Michigan Milk Industry Leader

MICHIGAN'S MILK INDUSTRY is a tremendous factor in the health and economic progress of the state, according to new figures developed by the Milk Industry Foundation.

The industry's importance to the State is graphically illustrated by Michigan's 950,000 milk cows which were valued at $198,120,000 in 1949. These cows produced 2,841,000,000 quarts of milk during the year and production per cow averaged 2,753 quarts, a new record.

Michigan dairy farmers received a total of $184,763,000 in cash income from milk in 1949. Cheese production of 25,680,000 pounds and butter 60,080,000 pounds, and ice cream 28,115,000 gallons plus other dairy products swell the tremendous total which the milk industry adds to the State's wealth.

Few industries have shown more progress in the last quarter century than milk. Milk consumption is on a higher level. From the long process of raising better calves and growing improved feeds to the use of mechanical milking, more rapid transport to the plant, new testing methods, pasteurizing and bottling, outstanding advances have been made.

Milk and its products comprise around one-fourth of the foods consumed annually by the average American and 60,000,000 quarts of fresh milk and cream a day are distributed to consumers through stores and home deliveries.

Milk in this country today is the best in the world, the Foundation says, and the U. S. system of supply, sanitation, pasteurization and distribution is bringing dairymen here to study it from throughout the world. The United States is now the greatest dairy nation.

Nearly 23 million cows on three quarters of the Nation's 5,859,000 farms produce the 55,000,000,000 quarts of milk a year which would fill a river 3,000 miles long, 40 feet wide and 3 feet deep. In quarts side by side a year's milk supply would go almost 140 times around the earth. One out of every 15 U. S. families is said to be dependent on milk for a livelihood.

Milk farm cash income is larger than hogs; almost twice wheat; nearly one and a half times poultry and eggs; more than one and one-half times cotton; four times tobacco

Live to Pick Another Year Is Safety Plea

"Live to pick another year" was the plea made this week by county agricultural agent to Tuscola County farmers.

The corn picker is one of the most dangerous of all farm machines, he said. Throughout the corn picking season newspaper headlines like the following shock readers everywhere.

"Farmer Loses Hand in Corn Picker"

"Legs Mangled in Corn Picker"

"Farmers Fatally Injured in Picker Accident"

Unfortunately these are common headlines that stare us in the face many times during the fall months. They can be avoided, however, if a few simple rules are followed.

First, stop the picker! Never reach into the picker while it is running. Shut off the power before attempting to remove stalks that lodge in the snapping or husking rolls.

Using a stalk or stick will not protect you, Armbruster says. The rolls grab so quickly that they jerk your hand and stalk in before you can let go.

To be safe, make "shutting off" the power a habit every time you leave the tractor seat.

Second, keep the guards in place. Never operate without the shields. If your clothing merely flops against an unguarded shaft or coupling, you can be drawn in without warning.

Finally, watch out for fire. Keep hot manifolds and exhaust accessories free from trash, avoid leaky fuel lines, and never refuel with the motor running.

A man is just as big as the thing that makes him angry.

Slot Machines Have Had Long, Lavish Career

CHICAGO — The slot machine, better known perhaps as the "one-armed bandit", has had a long and lavish life, but may have a short and stingy future. The federal government has a bill under consideration that may wipe them out.

Meanwhile, the manufacture of slot machines such as vending and service machines, juke boxes and pin ball games, as well as the "one-armed bandit" is centered in Chicago.

The first slot machine was believed invented about 1888 in California by Charles Fey. Production in Chicago began about the turn of the century. There are eight firms in the city making the machines at the present time.

Legal In 7 States

The internal revenue bureau's records show there are 69,788 places in the country paying the $100 per machine tax. This would not, however, indicate the true number of machines in existence. Estimates range as high as 200,000.

The machine is legal in only seven states. Nevada allows all forms of gambling. Idaho permits slot operated devices for gaming on a local option basis. Washington and Montana allow them in private clubs. Criminal codes forbid gambling in Louisiana and Tennessee and Alabama, but they have statutes that set license fees for gambling devices.

The machines have changed little since they were invented. They usually have three vertical wheels, on which are painted pictures of cherries, plums, oranges and the like. The player puts in a coin, and pulls a lever. The wheels spin and when certain combinations come up the player wins. But mostly they don't.

Short for Jackpot

It got its name "one armed bandit" because of the low percentage of payoff. Manufacturers claim the machines are built to pay 75 cents on the dollar. But they can be fixed to pay out nothing of 10, 20, 40, or 60 percent of the cash that is poured into them.

Most players, of course, shoot for the big pay off—the jackpot. The odds on hitting it have been calculated all the way from 1,000 to 1 to 4,000 to 1.

But it does not seem to matter about the odds, thousands of people seem to like playing them. The only constant money makers, however, are the owners.

There are no records to show who owns all the machines around the country, nor how many millions they yield for their owners. The California commission on organized crime, however, estimated that the annual "take" by people who control slot machines is probably around two billions.

Detroit Man Is World Champion Blood Donor

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Foster Clark, 44, janitor and newspaper proprietor, was not impressed by the claim of a Columbus, O., man that he was second in line for the world champion blood donor, or the claims of an Englishman for the championship. The Englishman was supposed to have donated 76 pints while the Ohio man had donated 70.

Clark said he was unimpressed because he had Red Cross and blood bank record to prove his donation of 188 pints of blood since 1930.

"There are probably others who have given as much blood as I have," Clark said. "But it burned me up to have that guy in Ohio claiming his 70 pints was the second best in the world."

A former West Virginia coal miner, Clark said he started giving blood in 1930 when a call went out for donors after a mine disaster.

"I walked eight miles over the mountains one night to give a man a pint of blood," he said, and then walked back home again in time to go to work in the pit in the morning."

Man Afraid of Paper Money Leaves $40,000 in Silver

EAGLE RIVER, Wis.—Robert C. Bennett, of Evanston, Ill., once told his wife that he feared paper money would become worthless. Mrs. Bennett forgot about it until she opened her husband's safety deposit box following his death.

There she found a note telling her of a secret vault in their summer home near Eagle River. With the aid of the sheriff she located the vault and found $40,000 in coins, neatly stacked in paper wrappers in 60 metal boxes.

Mrs. Bennett did not know about the hoard of nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars. It took two trucks to move them from the home to the bank.

Mrs. Bennett said she thought her husband may have started collecting the coins in 1936.

"I remember him telling me," she said, "that he had decided that it wouldn't be long before paper money wouldn't be any good."

Many a hot head develops cold feet when someone calls his bluff.

TODAY'S FIRE SAFETY FLASH

Some Undertaking

A west side politician got his first dinner coat in time for a dressy function to which he was invited. He had a little trouble tying his tie, so he dropped in at the corner saloon and asked the bar-keep which of the customers was good at tying a bow tie.

"That fellow at the end of the bar there," said the bar-keep with a laconic gesture.

The politician approached the somber-looking gentleman designated.

"Would you mind tying this for me?" he asked, pulling his tie out of his pocket and slipping it under his collar.

"Sure," said the man, "but not that way. You'll have to lie down."

An explanatory comment came from another bar patron.

"You see, he's an undertaker," he said.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Late on a dark night, a pedestrian was accosted by a voice from the shadows: "Would you please help a poor, hungry fellow who is out of a job; in fact, who doesn't have a thing in the world except this revolver?"

By Gene Allenman.

The twang of bowstrings and the zing of arrows opened October in Michigan forests as a new army of Robin Hoods started a 36-day deer hunting season for archers. Does as well as bucks may be taken, except in a 20-county area of the north limited to bucks with at least 3-inch spikes.

At the same time, the season opened for new withholding tax deductions. Workers will find their first paychecks issued after October 1 subject to new income tax rates, roughly 20 percent higher than before.

Michigan Democrats are striving for harmony, a quality whose absence has plagued party relations in recent months. Forecasters agree that state Dems will need every asset to beat the G. O. P. in this off-year election, a trick they have not turned since 1912.

In Republican ranks, disharmony at the convention seems not to have upset that party's course too seriously. Former governor and present nominee Harry F. Kelly is putting up a good front of pleasure over the G. O. P. slate for state offices although the convention went against his personal choice for attorney general.

The ranks of the unemployed are rapidly dwindling to nothing. State labor experts foresee in the next two months the most acute labor shortage here since 1943, as Michigan eases into its arsenal role.

Building is in the grips of the worst uncertainty in years. Sponsors of many large programs delayed plans after the war, then went ahead recently after giving up the futile wait for lower prices. Now Korea has already upped costs 10 to 15 percent, brought back escalator clauses and a whole new dilemma.

The wheels of the state's automaking machinery have reached a screaming pitch. Everything is right for production records: Wage settlements (raises) promise labor peace, war threats promise customers. The only "if" is whether military production may demand enough materials to hurt output. By 1951, the year's production total should be over 6,000,000 units, 1,000,000 trucks.

War production will not hurt the auto industry seriously unless the car makers can't get steel. For the rest of it, designs can be changed to reduce chrome trim, copper parts, and the like.

Cupid's aim improved about 100 percent when the Affairs Korea started. Marriage license bureaus reported rushing business. Kent County (Grand Rapids) set a summer record. Now brighter war news forecasts a decline in weddings.

The flight of dollars into "things" was maintained in September with a continued rise in war bond redemptions. The public is increasingly aware of the fugitive power of money during inflationary times. With the military spending now pledged, the danger is real, so people are turning to goods instead of savings.

The silver lining to this cloud is that inflation helps finance state government, may turn back the deficit. More sales at higher prices in Michigan stores mean more revenue for state and local governments from the sales tax. Collections are already running well ahead of last year.

Some Republican legislators have gone limbo so far as to hope publicly that the sales tax returns will soar high enough to spike Gov. Williams' arguments for a corporation tax in the state. The fallacy in this point of view is that inflation affects the cost of government as well as anything else, in due time. Any relief will be temporary at best.

Are You an Active Citizen?

From Michigan Education Journal.

Citizenship in these United States is taken too much for granted by too many adults. Many who talk a great deal about their citizenship rights, including the right to vote, neglect their duty and responsibility to vote at every election. Some even neglect to register. To the latter we would say: "If you're not registered, you can't vote. If you don't vote, you don't count. If you don't count, it's time you did."

It has been stated that 88 percent of the qualified voters voted in 1946, but in 1948 only 51.7 percent of the qualified voters voted. Why the great decline? What makes 48.3 percent of these citizens take their responsibility so lightly? Every citizen who fails to vote at any election, and who was not prevented from doing so by some good reason, should make a pledge that hereafter he will never fail to vote in any local, state or national election, if it is possible for him to cast a ballot.

A good citizen not only votes at each election, but votes for the best candidate for a public office, regardless of political party. He also votes intelligently on all issues presented on the ballot for his decision. A voter who neglects to study the qualifications of all candidates, and to weigh the arguments in favor of and against proposed constitutional amendments, is not practicing the best type of citizenship.

If the permanency of our American representative government depends to a great extent upon the intelligence of the electorate, it is a part of every citizen's responsibility to be well-informed about candidates and issues. We cannot delegate this responsibility. We can't delegate our duty.

Citizenship, however, means more than registering for and voting at elections. A good citizen cultivates a deep regard for, a devotion to, and an appreciation of our democratic ideals, services, and institutions. He does this to such a degree that as an individual he better appreciates his rights, privileges, and opportunities as a citizen, and likewise his duty and responsibility to do his part in improving and in safeguarding and preserving the best in our American Way of Life. A good citizen frequently reads and thoughtfully studies such important documents as the Magna Charta, the Mayflower Compact, the Declaration of Independence, the U. S. Constitution (especially the Bill of Rights), Washington's Farewell Address, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, and his Second Inaugural Address.

A good citizen has respect for law and order. He pays his just taxes without complaint. He becomes informed about and better appreciates the many services of government. So far as is reasonably possible, he has a knowledge of the sources and amounts of local, state and national revenues, and also how these moneys are expended for governmental activities. Our better schools see to it that high school boys and girls have a good background of our system of taxation and the financing of government. Our good schools also supplement the textbook in community civics by an actual study of each government service which each student needs to know about, if he is to become a good citizen.

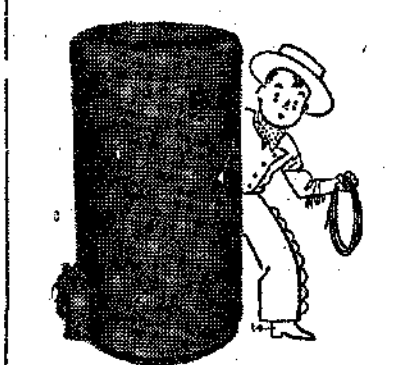

As educators, we have a great privilege and responsibility to show others what is meant by real citizenship. We can be an example of practicing what we teach, because we have faith that our teachings are right.

The voters of tomorrow are in our classes now. The school board members, legislators, other leaders, parents and taxpayers of the near future are in our schools today. Their attitudes toward education, the financing of education, citizenship, and the financing of government are being conditioned now. Let's, each of us, do a good job, because by so doing many of our future problems will be solved more easily if we do. If we continue to show a good example of citizenship, and will make some effort to improve, our students are more likely to be better citizens when they reach voting age. We are convinced that good teachers make good schools, and good schools make good citizens.

Check Poultry Flock in Fall

A job poultry raisers should tackle this time of year is to round up all hens and close them in the house, preferably before the first frost, Michigan State College poultry specialists advise.

Two principal reasons make this a good practice. One is to select and cull hens, which have ceased laying and the other reason is to select and cull pullets, which are beginning production. Old hens which have stopped producing should be marketed.

Because it is easy to mistake a non-laying old hen for a young pullet which has not started laying, it is wise to keep birds of different ages in separate flocks.

In the event this is not possible, birds should be marked. A hen which has a complete new set of feathers and deep orange colored shanks has been out of production for six to eight weeks at least.

Mrs. Fritz told of the work being done in the mission fields and of the need of money and personnel to carry it on.

Another movie will be shown by the Youth Fellowship Monday evening following a potluck supper. A small admission will be charged those not attending the potluck. The public is invited.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 6.

Rat Eradication Campaign in Tuscola Starts Nov. 9

Assistant County Agricultural Agent George C. MacQueen announced that plans are being formulated to hold a county-wide rat eradication campaign this fall. In order to set up distribution centers for the rat bait and to poll the general interest among farmers, county elevators were contacted. Returns showed that nine elevators felt there was a need for such a campaign on the basis of reports from their farmer customers; three felt that there was no need but their facilities would be available for bait distribution.

Agent MacQueen plans to distribute the bait November 9 and the official county-wide rat banquet will take place on November 10. These campaigns are carried on with the cooperation of the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior.

Details as to time and place of ordering, baits available, and distribution time will be covered as the campaign gathers momentum.

Vision of Girls

Girls learn to read earlier, faster, and with more comprehension than boys. The reason is that "the visual system matures earlier in girls than in boys." Girls are about six months ahead up to the age of ten.

with two steam turbo-generators with "nameplate ratings" of 125,000 kilowatts each. Actual capacity of the plant will be in excess of 200,000 kilowatts, or 400,000 horsepower.

Completion of the project, scheduled for the end of 1953, will bring the Edison Company's total capacity to more than 2,600,000 horsepower. The program will not only add greatly to defense production power reserves in Michigan's key industrial area, but also will make extra power available in the state's Thumb District when and if needed.

The two new turbo-generators already have been ordered, Thompson announced. One is being built by the General Electric Company of Schenectady, the other by the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company of Milwaukee.

The machines are designed for high fuel economy. The boilers will be fired with pulverized coal, and stacks will be equipped with electrostatic dust-collectors to assure clean operation.

Site of the new plant is a 423-acre tract flanking the St. Clair River about 50 miles northeast of downtown Detroit. The property, owned by Edison, has a 2,000-foot river frontage. There will be facilities for shipping in coal both by rail and water.

Baby Died Sunday In Local Hospital

Funeral services for Gerald, 16 weeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Englehart, were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Douglas Funeral Home. Rev. Howard Woodard officiated and burial was made in Novesta cemetery. The baby died Sunday in Pleasant Home Hospital after a short illness.

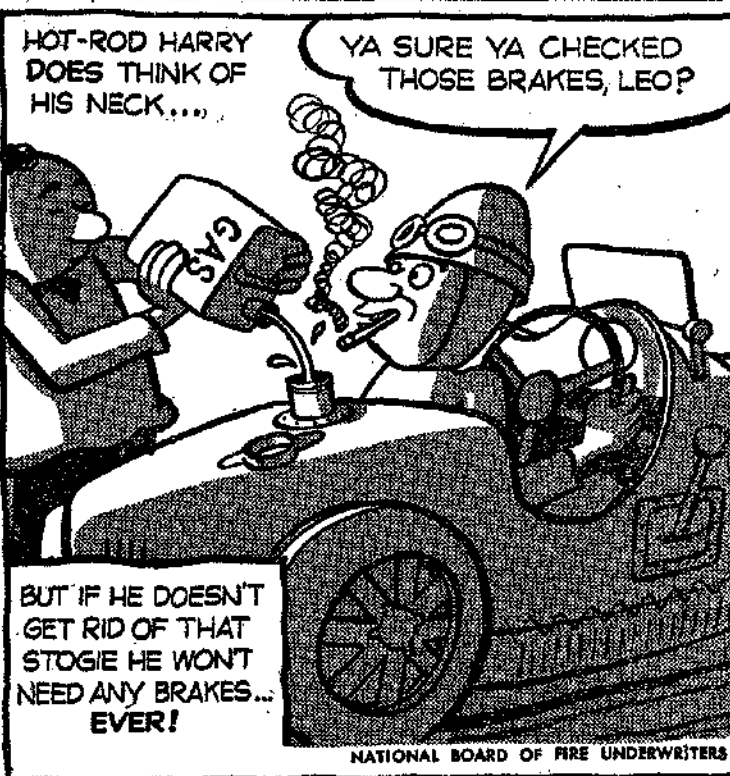

He was born June 11. Surviving are his parents, now living in Detroit; a brother, Larry, two years; his grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Englehart, of Deford; and his maternal grandfather in Germany.

MACHINES ADD TO THE FARMER'S FIRE HAZARDS

7. If you use an artificial drier to dry your corn, see that it has a label from Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., the non-profit organization which "tests for safety."

No Smoking in Barns

8. Prohibit smoking in the barn or where inflammable liquids are stored. Encourage common-sense precautions, and make it a rule around the farm: that no one smokes in bed, or tosses away a cigarette until it has been ground out carefully.

9. Be sure that everyone knows how to call the fire department, and how to use the farm's fire protection equipment.

10. Have lightning rods of the proper type installed on every farm building. The completed installation should bear the Underwriters' Laboratories Master Label.

11. Inspect stored hay regularly for odors, smoke, gas, or heat. These are warning signals. By lowering a thermometer into a pipe driven deep into the stack and leaving it there for at least 15 minutes, you can tell whether the hay is heating up dangerously. If the mercury reaches 155 degrees, stop all ventilation and move the hay outdoors, away from all buildings; if it reaches 212 degrees, call the fire department.
