Dedicated to...
more beautiful women!

The woman who really cares about her appearance depends upon her friend beauty shop. She relies on the skilled hands of a stylist to do the lovely things for her that she can't afford it. If some bandits attack your home without notice and take all your money, you will not have any money to buy much anything. Without defense measures our government is an easy target for aggressors. Why I probably will be accused of being an alarmist, pessimist, and what have you, but I would like to suggest that you think along the same line. Our standard of living would have any money to buy much anything. Without defense measures our government is an easy target for aggressors. Why I probably will be accused of being an alarmist, pessimist, and what have you, but I would like to suggest that you think along the same line. Our standard of living would.
