Tuscola Farmers Exhibit Stock at Farmers' Week

Michigan farmers swarmed into East Lansing and the Michigan State College campus last week, and attended the annual Farmers' Week meetings at the college, paying little attention to the wave of sub-zero temperatures which lingered over the state. Hundreds of farmers and farm wives packed the lecture halls, vacated by students for the week, to learn the latest in agricultural and home economics practices being recommended by the college farm specialists.

Meetings were scheduled by various Michigan State College agricultural departments from Monday through Friday. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, general programs were held in the college auditorium featuring such nationally known officials as William Laurence, witness of the Hiroshima atomic explosion; James G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, Dominion of Canada; and H. D. Newsom, National Grange Master.

Tuscola County farmers were very much a part of Farmers' Week, either in person or represented by exhibits of high quality produce. Alan Kirk, Fairgrove, participated in a panel discussion in the Thursday morning conservation institute meeting. The panel members' topic was "How I Use Grass in My Soil Conservation Program."

Tuscola farmers exhibiting in the 38th annual seed show held at Farmers' Week showed a total of 31 samples of grain. ## Local Principal Named Chairman of State Committee

Eugene S. Thomas of Kalamazoo, president of the Michigan Secondary School Association, has announced the appointment of Arthur Holmberg, principal of Cass City High School, to the chairmanship of the committee on Pupil Participation for the current year.

It is thought that one of the reasons for his appointment is the excellent student participation program at Cass City High School in recent years.

The Michigan Secondary School Association is the high school principals' organization for the state and its work during the year is carried on by ten standing committees made up of high school administrators chosen from among the more than three hundred members of the association. It is the function of the committee on Pupil Participation to stimulate and coordinate the student self-government activities within the high schools of the state. Its outstanding project at present is in the formation of area organizations of student councils, of which one is already under way and several others contemplated. It also sponsors, together with the University of Michigan, the annual all-state Citizenship Conference held in Ann Arbor each fall.

Mr. Holmberg attended a meeting of the executive committee of the Secondary School Association at Lansing last Tuesday, at which the organization of the group for this year was effected and plans drawn up for the work of the association in 1951.

A "Good Turn" of an unidentified British Boy Scout to an American business man in 1909 who had lost his way in a London fog led to the establishing of scouting here in America in 1910. From the modest beginning over four decades ago, the Boy Scouts of America has grown to an active enrollment of over 2,300,000 men and boys have subscribed to scout promise and laws. Jesus Saves

We have the joyful sound:
 Jesus saves! Jesus saves!
 Spread the tidings all around!
 Jesus saves! Jesus saves!

Miss Priscilla Owens wrote the words to this hymn for a Baltimore Sunday School to sing in celebration of a missionary anniversary. The melody was written by William J. Kirkpatrick, a Pennsylvania composer who also wrote several of the stirring marching songs used by soldiers in the Civil War. "Jesus Saves" is a favorite today in Evangelistic services, mission meetings, and Sunday School gatherings.

Intermediate S. S. Class Party— On Friday night, even though it was cold outside, eight members of the Intermediate class of the Sunday School taught by Horace Murry, found a very warm welcome and warm atmosphere at the home of Mrs. Cora Slingland and Mary. Miss Mary met each one at the door and asked him to come in and have a good time.

During the recreation hour, "Poor Pussy" tried hard to get into rocking chairs. Many and weird were the "meows." And the "gossip" that traveled around for a while for another game, was true to its name, and many "questions" asked in another game were given queer "answers." If you like to play games and enjoy these parties, the teacher, Horace Murry, will be very glad to welcome you into the fellowship of these youth in the Sunday School and there you will hear about the parties.

Refreshments were served at a late hour. Mrs. Murry and Mrs. Harriet Rayl were guests and enjoyed the gathering also.

Michigan Livestock Exchange Planning County Meeting

Tuscola County farmers who are shipper members of the Michigan Livestock Exchange cooperative livestock marketing agency, are invited to attend the annual meeting of their county organization at the courthouse in Caro, Wednesday, February 14, at 1:30 p. m.

Assistant County Agricultural Agent Byron E. Carpenter, who met with the county delegates and planned the meeting several weeks ago, says that all farmers who sell livestock should be interested in the program. The afternoon meeting will include a talk on price ceilings by Don Stark, MSC agricultural economics extension specialist and a report on the operation of Michigan Livestock Exchange markets in Detroit, Battle Creek, Portland and St. Louis by Manager R. H. Walton.

A business meeting will be conducted by County President Loren Ewald, Unionville, for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention and to take care of any other business that may come up.

A movie, "Today's Chisholm Trail," will be shown and a discussion is planned covering the following controversial subjects: (1) price ceilings, (2) deacon calves or veal (3) improvement of livestock marketing, and (4) livestock or cash crops for Tuscola County farms.

The Michigan Livestock Exchange will serve refreshments at the close of the meeting. ## Save Ex-products When Doing Home Meat Butchering

Farmers can add a financial gain to their home butchering by saving dressing by-products for sale, L. J. Bratzler, meats specialist for the Michigan State College animal husbandry department, reports.

By-products from a 900 pound steer will approximate $30.00, he states. Save and sell the hide or pelt, killing fats, and bones to the hide dealer and the rendering company.

Insure good quality meat by sanitary dressing, quick cooling of carcasses and elimination of excessive aging or ripening, the meats authority advises farmers. Seven to ten days is long enough to age beef and lamb at 34 to 40 degrees Fahrenheit, provided that it is of choice grade or higher. For the lower grades, four or five days is long enough.

Much loss in trimming and weight and poorer flavor after storage in the freezer are likely to result if the lower grades are over-aged.

In cutting and packaging meat, all excess fat should be trimmed for sale or soap making.

On the subject of preparing meats for the locker, Bratzler says good wrapping materials should be used, such as moisture-vapor proof cellophanes, aluminum foil, or laminates. If in doubt, buy paper produced by a well-known or reputable firm. If you plan to store the meat longer than two months, waxed locker paper is not recommended.

Do not plan to store beef and lamb longer than six months, veal and pork not longer than four months. Longer storage may result in off flavors, caused by rancidity.

For best results, the freezer should be maintained at zero or lower.

3,582 Children Tested at Clinics

The hearing clinic held at Shabbona recently denoted the half way mark in the county wide hearing testing program that had been under way in Sanilac County since last November. This program was arranged for through the cooperation of several agencies as well as that of local interested persons. The audiometer was loaned by the Michigan State Department of Health and local people were technically trained by the same agency. Mr. Francis, the county school superintendent with cooperation of the individual school superintendents, arranged the various points at which testing was done, the schedule that was followed, and the bus transportation that was available for the school children of rural schools. J. Jay Black, acting director of the health department, contributed nursing service, secretary service and communication with the Michigan Department of Health, Mrs. Donald Tallmadge contributed service as a technician for part of the county area, and Mrs. Gladys Redman of Marlette was the other technician who served for the rest of the area.

A total of 3,582 children were tested. This number included pupils from the fourth to the 12th grades. Of this number, 285 are being referred for a specialized test which will be done at a later date. This will be called a pure tone test and will be administered by the Michigan Department of Health personnel who will travel through the area in a mobile trailer arrangement. Children failing this test will be referred to an otologist, who in turn will advise the parents as to the kind of hearing loss the child has, the extent of the loss, the prognosis, and will advise as to treatment and training that may be indicated.

Sanilac County may well be proud of being the first in the area to have conducted this type of survey for its school children. In view of the fact that the county is predominantly a rural area and that personnel, funds and facilities in all fields are limited, a program of this type is praiseworthy. The long-range plan in this type of service is to find and correct physical defects as early as possible in order that these same students will not be handicapped after completing school, in obtaining a job and earning a living.

Tuscola Helped Swell 4-H Exhibits At Farmers' Week

Concluded from first page. ty was represented by Fred Martin, Cass City, who garnered a B for his dozen white eggs and a C for a dozen browns. George Taggett, Caro, received a B for his dozen brown eggs.

Marion and Billy Pike exhibited a fine display of popcorn, although there was no class for this exhibit.

Two FFA boys from Fairgrove High School did well in the open show. Carson Keyes, received a "Very Good" rating on his sample of Yorkwin wheat, and Gale Davis the same rating on his sample of Wisconsin 38 barley.

Save Ex-products When Doing Home Meat Butchering

Farmers can add a financial gain to their home butchering by saving dressing by-products for sale, L. J. Bratzler, meats specialist for the Michigan State College animal husbandry department, reports.

By-products from a 900 pound steer will approximate $30.00, he states. Save and sell the hide or pelt, killing fats, and bones to the hide dealer and the rendering company.

Insure good quality meat by sanitary dressing, quick cooling of carcasses and elimination of excessive aging or ripening, the meats authority advises farmers. Seven to ten days is long enough to age beef and lamb at 34 to 40 degrees Fahrenheit, provided that it is of choice grade or higher. For the lower grades, four or five days is long enough.

Much loss in trimming and weight and poorer flavor after storage in the freezer are likely to result if the lower grades are over-aged.

In cutting and packaging meat, all excess fat should be trimmed for sale or soap making.

On the subject of preparing meats for the locker, Bratzler says good wrapping materials should be used, such as moisture-vapor proof cellophanes, aluminum foil, or laminates. If in doubt, buy paper produced by a well-known or reputable firm. If you plan to store the meat longer than two months, waxed locker paper is not recommended.

Do not plan to store beef and lamb longer than six months, veal and pork not longer than four months. Longer storage may result in off flavors, caused by rancidity.

For best results, the freezer should be maintained at zero or lower.

Tuscola on Mental Starvation Diet Says State Librarian

Mrs. Loleta D. Fyan, state librarian and president-elect of the American Library Association, said recently that Tuscola County is on a mental starvation diet. She went on to explain that her statement is based on a recent study conducted by the Michigan State Library as to the number of books per resident for each of Michigan's 83 counties. Of the 83 counties surveyed, 76 have inadequate food for the mind. Five counties—Arenac, Keweenaw, Lake, Lapeer and Montmorency—are without any mental nourishment. They have no libraries at all.

"According to the American Library Association's minimum standards for counties of Tuscola's size, there should be two books per capita. Tuscola County has only 2/3 book per capita," said Mrs. Fyan. "An inadequacy in books is certainly mental starvation. A solution to Tuscola County's diet problem is an adjustment in the present State Grants to Public Libraries. These state allotments have been based on 1940 population figures. Since then the state has increased by almost 1,000,000 new residents. Also, the dollar has shrunk to 50% of its value."

"In these days of uncertainty," Mrs. Fyan went on to say, "it is necessary for libraries to furnish food for the mind, good books that serve the need of all residents; practical books of how to do and what to do, as well as books of faith and hope. Unless an adjustment is made of the present State Grants to Public Libraries, Tuscola County will continue on its starvation diet."

The Michigan State Board for Libraries is asking the State Legislature for $899,421 in order that more regional and county libraries may be established and local libraries better supported. This sum is merely an adjustment to new population figures and decrease in the dollar value.

New Operation Cures Deformity Of Heart Valve

DENVER, Colo.—"I climbed a 40-foot tower at 10,000 feet," the father of a large family proudly told a group of heart specialists. Only a few weeks earlier this same man with a case record of being hospitalized twenty-nine times because of heart trouble told his doctor, "Doctor, if you threw a thousand dollars at my feet I couldn't bend down to pick it up without fear that I'd pass out."

What had brought about this radical change in a man who was practically doomed to invalidism as result of a heart condition? It dates back almost two years ago when Dr. Charles Bailey, famous Philadelphia surgeon, literally poked his finger through the patient's heart, giving surgery a new operation to combat mitral stenosis, a deformity of the mitral valve of the heart.

First of Its Kind The first of its kind in the vast Rocky Mountain region was performed at Denver's National Jewish Hospital, pioneer, free, non-sectarian tuberculosis institution opened in Denver more than a half-century ago. A total of four mitral stenosis operations have been undertaken so far by NJH surgeons.

Although we are a hospital primarily devoted to the treatment of tuberculosis and allied chest diseases," a hospital medical spokesman said, "we know what concerns the heart must concern the lungs."

The mitral valve is located on the left side of the heart and lies between the left auricle and left ventricle. The function of this vital valve is to allow blood to flow from the left auricle to the left ventricle so that the body gets its quota of the heart's blood supply.

Mitral stenosis occurs when the valve gets deformed, impeding the proper flow of blood. Briefly it can be compared to the improper working of an automobile valve.

Delicate Operation The operation can be explained simply although its skillful execution is a matter of highly specialized technique.

The surgeon's knife is attached to his finger. Carefully he inserts his finger into the left auricle, feeling for the mitral valve. Then, when he feels the valve, he allows the knife to slip past his finger tip and in one motion opens the valve so that once more the blood can properly nourish the body.

"This operation cannot always be performed," the NJH spokesman cautioned. "It is of extreme importance that many tests of the patient's heart be made before surgery."

But a mitral stenosis operation could be given at NJH to this Colorado father who now can climb a forty-foot tower—thanks to the skill of surgery that goes deep into the pulsating heart.

First 1950 Grand Canyon Trip Ends Without Accident GRAND CANYON, Ariz. — The first Grand Canyon expedition of 1950 was completed without serious accident.

Otis Martson, William Belknap and Wilson Taylor arrived at Pierce's Ferry after a 346 mile trip through the mile deep canyon. The trip was made in a power boat, the Hudson. Similar river trips have cost 10 lives since the first was tried in 1869.

Seven originally started the trip. Joseph Desloge and Guy Forcier left the party as planned. Ed Hudson and his son, Ed, Jr., left the party when one of the expedition's two boats, the Esmeralda, had to be abandoned in the mile deep Grand Canyon. Both were rescued by helicopter. The craft carrying the elder Hudson crashed on its attempt to lift him out of the gorge and he was slightly injured. After one night on a small ledge, he was stuck out of the canyon by another helicopter.

It was the intuition of Mrs. Martson that brought about the quick rescue of the Hudsons. Feeling that something was wrong with the expedition, she chartered a helicopter which sighted the Hudsons' SOS in the canyon.

It was the second time a boat powered with an engine has conquered the river.

Perfect Agreement A well-know judge once had a case before him in which the plaintiff was represented by a very nervous young barrister. When the barrister rose to begin his address to the jury, he stammered, "My unfortunate client—" and there he stuck. He tried again and in a shaking voice he managed to say, "My unfortunate client—" but he could get no further. Clearing his throat, he quavered for the third time, "My unfortunate client—" Again his voice failed.

"Come, come," interrupted the judge, "proceed with your address. So far the court agrees with you."

Dilemma! Some kids were having a party and they decided to play postoffice. The first little boy and girl went into the closet and didn't come out. The other kids called to them to come but immediately, "We can't," came a muffled reply. "We have our braces hooked!"

D. L. (DON'T DO LAUGH)

Folks along the C. & O. line up in Eastern Kentucky like to tell a story about a rather dense character who once worked briefly for the line.

This man's job was to do nothing more than check on all cars as they entered the yard and to check those which needed repairs of one kind or another. Those marked for repairs later would be switched over to the shop, the others sent out to pick up freight.

Well, after this character had been on the job one day, the switch crew went out to pick up the cars. However, the crew found every car had "DG" freshly chalked on the side.

"How in the world can I tell the O.K. cars from the bad ones?" the crew chief stormed. "And what in blazes does 'DG' mean?"

"Guess I made a slight mistake," the guy apologized. "'DG' means 'Do Go' and 'Don't Go!'"

Foiled Again Bob—"I'm getting stronger." Helen—"How do you know?" Bob—"Because a few years ago I couldn't carry ten dollars' worth of groceries and now it's easy."

Psychologist Says Life Full Without Troubles

BOSTON—A Boston University psychologist believes that without troubles life would be unbearably dull.

"It is impossible to achieve perfect peace of mind, and even if it were, it would be undesirable," says Dr. Wayland F. Vaughan. "Troubles make life more interesting."

"The man who meets his problems face to face, gets much more enjoyment out of life than even partial peace of mind would bring," he says. "Licking problems not only gives you guts and confidence to tackle the next ones, but it makes you a kinder and more sympathetic person."

He added, "Marriage and children brings a richness of living that surpasses any peace of mind."

Michigan Mirror

Michigan has made the first move in the nation to develop a state defense council. Proposed to smooth over the transition from civilian to defense production, the council would attempt to organize the economic potential.

For the first time Gov. Williams' corporation tax proposal has reached the floor of the state senate. The governor chortled as Senator George Higgins said in a hearing, "what do you want, a corporations tax (Williams' baby) or my manufacturer's process tax?"

The process tax would put a three percent levy on all machinery purchased which does not become a component part of the article manufactured. Manufacturer's agents screamed during the hearing. Observers have already buried the bill. But the hearing clearly was a Williams' victory—without a Democrat present!

The Vandenberg senatorial seat is still a big question mark. In Washington, D. C., the seers are asking Michigan prognosticators what is to happen—and in Michigan we look to Washington for the word. And should the veteran Grand Rapids legislator resign before 1952, things really will be in a tizzy.

While the draft continues to take more and more of our young people, Pontiac's negro sage, 107-year-old Joe Clovese, says, "There wouldn't be no trouble in Korea if folks would do more prayin' and lovin'." He's one of eight Civil War veterans still alive. He should know.

Washington has said it was a "regional office mistake" when it was revealed that bedridden war veterans were "talked to" in an attempt to get them to apply for TB hospitalization in other states. Says Guy F. Palmer, manager of the Detroit regional office, "it was NOT a mistake in this office." And he produced the orders—all stemming from the nation's capitol—telling him to move patients.

Michigan, of course, has the same TB housing problem as most other states. Although a large building program is in the mill, there are some 300 patients still in private homes because there are no beds in the hospitals.

A budget pinch is the reason given for closing 18 Michigan veterans administration contact offices. Offices were shut down in Battle Creek, Flint, Jackson, Lansing, Muskegon Heights, Saginaw, Escanaba, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, St. Joseph, Marquette, Sault Ste. Marie and Traverse City.

Following another round of wage increase demands and the subsequent freezing thereon, Walter P. Reuther, president of the U. A. W. (C. I. O.), says that America must wage an "all out peace" to defeat world Communism. He also says, however, that we should build adequate military strength.

In Michigan, wage and price freezes, while expected, have left the public in a mood of "war readiness." The step was coming, it came and—what next? General feeling: It's war again; let's face it!

A permanent price administration is in the mill for the state. Philip Hart, baby-faced director of the Michigan Corporation and Securities commission, has been appointed chief.

It has been recommended that a civil defense committee be appointed in every school of the state. Department of public instruction asks that the institutions be ready—"and who knows when the children may be evacuated," one official said.

Michigan has 20,000 fewer farms than it had five years ago. Census takers found only 155,575 farms last year while they numbered 175,268 in 1945. But farms are larger nowadays.

News for trout fishermen: Conservation department fish hatcheries have released 2,204,000 trout in state inland waters in the last year. What turtles don't get, you can have.

Tip for Homemaker
To keep the knobs on cupboards and dresser drawers from working loose, use washers of fine sandpaper. Cut the washer to fit the knob. Make a hole in the middle of the washer, and slip it over the bolt or screw between the knob and the drawer. Put the abrasive side next to the drawer. When the nut is tightened, the knob will not work loose.

Speech Correction In Tuscola County

Wayne D. Leikert, a graduate speech correctionist, started a speech correction program in Tuscola County Monday, February 5. This program is under the Caro and Cass City public schools and the program will be extended to the rural schools in the service area of the two high school districts.
Mr. Leikert is a graduate of Michigan State College and spent 2 1/2 years of service in the Army Air Corps. He is married and will live in Caro.
The first two weeks Mr. Leikert will be establishing his case load and will visit all grades in Cass City, Caro and 80 or more rural schools. Classes will be established as soon as the number of pupils is determined. These classes will be held in Caro, Cass City and in as many rural schools as possible.
The speech correction program is the first "special" service offered to handicapped children in our county and the schools in the county are looking forward to extending this service to the entire county as soon as another qualified correctionist can be obtained.
The success of this first venture will depend upon complete cooperation of students, parents, teachers and correctionist. Parents may be asked to transport their children to the location of the class at least twice a week for a 20 to 30 minute class period.
In a survey of Tuscola County, made in October, 1950, it was established that over 600 pupils in the county needed the service of a speech correctionist. Eventually, at least two correctionists will be needed for Tuscola County. If any further information concerning this service is desired, please write Wayne Leikert, address Caro School, or J. E. Liddicoat, county superintendent of school, at Caro.

Scout Groups to Collect Clothing For Needy Folks

Working in their own neighborhoods, each of the 147 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer Units of the Valley Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America are sharing in a nation-wide "good turn" by collecting clothing that can be spared by citizens to meet an urgent need in many countries around the world.
This is the second great national project of its kind undertaken by the Boy Scouts of America, according to Kenneth Kerr, district chairman of the camping and activities committee of the Valley Trails Council.
In response to a special radio broadcast by the late President Roosevelt in 1934 for a "National Good Turn" in relief work during the depression, Boy Scouts in a few weeks collected 1,812,284 items of clothing, household furnishings, foodstuffs, and other supplies for the needy and distressed. Then there were 904,240 Scouts and leaders. Today's Scouting has 2,750,000 boys and men active in its ranks. Scout officials believe that more than fifteen million pounds of clothing will result from this drive.
The Valley Trails Council of the Boy Scouts of America which administers the Scouting program in Clare, Isabella, Gratiot, Saginaw, and Tuscola Counties has assumed the responsibility for shipping useful clothing to the warehouses of 17 cooperating member agencies of the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service.
Boy Scouts will be glad to call for the following articles of clothing which should be in good, clean wearable condition:
Men's and boys' shirts, suits, jackets, trousers, underwear and socks.
Men's, women's, and children's coats, sweaters, gloves, mittens, caps, and scarfs.
Women's and girls' dresses, suits, jackets, aprons, skirts, blouses, underwear, stockings and socks.
Blankets, robes, quilts, sheets, pillow cases, towels and wash cloths.
Shoes with good linings and wearable soles and heels, women's low heeled shoes only. Wearable rubbers and galoshes.
It is suggested that donors tie shoes together in mated pairs and that they tie the various pieces of suits and other clothing outfits together so that pieces in one outfit will not become separated.
All persons having items of clothing to donate should contact any Cub Scout, Boy Scout, Explorer Scout, or leader in their neighborhood or call Caro 562-1.
At Cass City, one may call any of the following Scouts and they will call and pick up the clothing: Russell Foy, phone 108R11; James Ellis, phone 247R4; Fred McConkey, phone 278; Elden Rabideau, phone 267; Dan McLachlan, phone 60R8.
Keith McConkey and George Clara, assistant Scoutmasters, will give additional information regarding this project.

Archie R. Brooks Died at Age of 76

Archie R. Brooks passed away early Monday morning, February 5, 1951, at Cass City Hospital, following a week's illness.
Mr. Brooks was born in Seyforth, Ontario, August 18, 1874, the son of the late James and Christina McGregor Brooks. He came to this country when a young man.
Mr. Brooks was employed as traveling auditor for the Pere Marquette Railroad, now the Chesapeake and Ohio Lines, beginning his work for the railroad company when he was sixteen.
He was united in marriage with Miss Isabelle Campbell in Detroit, January 16, 1901. Following their marriage, they made their home in Minden City. Mr. Brooks was transferred to other cities due to his position as traveling auditor. He attended the Presbyterian Church in different localities.
He was a life member of Joppa Lodge, No. 315, F. & A. M., of Bay City. Last month Mr. and Mrs. Brooks celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with their sons in Detroit.
Mr. and Mrs. Brooks moved from Detroit to Cass City in November to make their home, where he has lived until his death. Mr. Brooks had planned to retire in May.
He leaves to mourn their loss, his wife; two sons, Kenneth Brooks and Melvin Brooks, both of Detroit; one brother, Hugh Brooks, of Bad Axe; and one granddaughter.

Junior Student's Opinions Appear in National Publication

"I was disappointed at the failure of Harold Stassen's request for a meeting with the Communist leaders in Russia," writes Nancy Sinclair, 16-year-old junior student in Cass City High School, in the Weekly News Review. "I think Stassen deserved a great deal of praise for his efforts even though he was ridiculed by Russian officials as well as by citizens of his own country."
In the same publication from the Nation's capital, Miss Sinclair has another item in the "From Our Readers" column in which she says: "In recent years we have been hearing a great deal about the shortage of teachers in our schools. I am certain that many young people would go into the teaching profession if they were offered better salaries than at present. Most people want their children to have a good education, but many seem to complain about spending the necessary money to get good teachers for their schools."

Audience Well Pleased with CMCE Choir Program

One of the most enjoyable musical programs presented in Cass City in many years by an out-of-town organization was that of Tuesday evening at the school auditorium by the a cappella choir of 60 voices from Central Michigan College of Education. In a program which continued for an hour and 40 minutes but which seemed much less time by the audience, the choir sang songs of the church, songs of the people's contemporary selections and songs from the opera.
The choir is made up mostly of single fellows and single girls, but three men of the choir are married and have families. One of the girls is married and two others plan to be married between semesters. To date seven members of the choir have been lost to the armed services. Most of these fellows "jumped the gun" and enlisted. Three more fellows expect to go the second semester. The choir also contains in its membership seven ex-G. I.'s who hope they have served their hitch in full. Most of the boys and girls left plan to finish this school year before thinking about armed forces service.
The program was sponsored by the Community Club and followed an appetizing dinner served to the choir and club members by the women's society of St. Pancratius Church.
President George Dillman announced that at the March meeting of the club high school athletes would be guests and pictures of the Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day would be a feature.
Claude Peasley is the new treasurer of the Community Club and takes the place of Dan McLachlan, who recently resigned from that position.
