31 Recruits to Leave Tuscola for Induction Feb. 20

By John Robert Clock.

Fort Sheridan, Ill.—"Hurry up and wait," the universal catch phrase of World War II, still holds true for Armed Forces inductees in the recent world crisis.

The 31 recruits who leave Tuscola County for induction on Feb. 20 have a busy day of waiting ahead of them when they reach Fort Wayne in Detroit. Inductees leave American Legion Hall at Caro, which is over Hooper's Drug Store, at 6:30 a. m. for Detroit and do not depart for the reception center until eight o'clock that night.

At Fort Wayne, processing on induction day includes answering roll call, filling in an insurance questionnaire and being fingerprinted, each operation heavily interlarded with long hours at the Fort gymnasium or recreation lounge. Ping pong addicts will find tables and paddles while others may be able to round up a card table and deck of playing cards.

However, for the majority of the recruits the day is their first taste of the "hurry up and wait" process which veterans claim is routine before too many weeks have passed.

In the afternoon, inductees are sworn into the Armed Forces in a brief ceremony at the Fort gymnasium. The ritual is followed by more waiting until train time that evening. Before leaving, men are presented with copies of the New Testament by the Gideon Society and lunches prepared by Detroit service organizations to be eaten en route to the reception center.

At Michigan Central Station the police band is on hand to give them a military send-off and members of the Salvation Army are there with hot coffee and doughnuts.

Recently, Michigan inductees have been sent to the Fort Sheridan reception center near Highwood, Ill., where they spend an average of five days before being sent to basic training centers throughout the country. At Fort Sheridan, men are outfitted and given information and aptitude tests to determine just where they will fit best in the Army.

Tuscola inductees leaving on Feb. 20 are:

Vassar—Howard E. Bickel, Martin E. St. Clair, Fred R. Snider, Jr., Edward Grabowski, Leo J. Hebert.

Gagetown—Richard J. Dixon (Volunteer), Thomas W. Johnston.

Fostoria—Neal L. Sweet.

Millington—James C. Ward, Gerald E. Hunt, Clarence D. Opperman, Donald E. Petzold.

Cass City—Donald G. Beardsley, Clayton A. Wernette, Oscar D. Brooks.

Mayville—Chester J. Bednarski, Joseph Crosby, Richard K. Fox, Terry O'Neil.

Caro—Willard R. Rickwalt, Raymond K. Putnam, Levalley D. Vandervoort, Leo Sarna, Robert W. McLean.

Reese—Glenn L. Spiekermann, Charles G. Buchinger, Wilmer A. Bierlein.

Frankenmuth—Marvin P. Janison, Ruben C. Huber.

Unionville—Harold E. Seibel.

Akron—Clare W. Harrington.

Gavel Members Unable to Decide on Capital Punishment

Those deserving capital punishment get an "even break" as far as the Gavel Club is concerned. The members of the society discussed the subject quite thoroughly at their dinner meeting Tuesday evening. When they voted, the matter was undecided as half expressed themselves in favor and the other half opposed.

Howard Wooley introduced the subject when he advanced reasons opposing that method of punishment, while Andrew Bigelow followed with opinions favoring it.

Because so many club members are interested in the Cass City-Sebewaing basketball game at Sebewaing next Tuesday evening, the club has canceled its meeting for that night.

Village Caucuses.

Notice is hereby given that a regular village caucus will be held at the council room in the Municipal building, on the 19th day of February, 1951, at 8 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of nominating candidates for the several village offices to be filled, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it. By order of the Village Council, Wilma S. Fry, Clerk of the Village of Cass City.—Adv. 2-9-2

Ex. Group Discussed Family Fun Thursday

The Cass City Extension Group met in the high school building Thursday evening, Feb. 8, when a six o'clock luncheon was served by Mrs. Don Lorentzen, Mrs. A. MacPhail, Mrs. E. D. Keating, Mrs. Arthur Atwell, Mrs. Keith McConkey and Mrs. John West.

During the business meeting Miss Laura Maier and Mrs. Fred Maier were accepted as new members. It was decided to have secret pals for which names were drawn. Mrs. E. Croft and Mrs. R. O. Avery presented the lesson on "Family Fun" during which games and entertainment of interest to the family were discussed.

The next meeting of the club will be held in March when the luncheon committee will be Mesdames Gallagher, Andrew Bigelow, Graham, Kirton, Wilson and Whitfield.

46 Are Enrolled In Standard First Aid Course

Five Cass City residents are among the forty-six enrolled in the Standard First Aid Course now being offered in the courthouse at Caro by the Tuscola County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Two, Virginia Bryan and Mary Jayne Campbell, are high school teachers; three, George Clara, Harry L. Little, and Keith McConkey, are business men from the Rotary and Gavel Clubs. All five are among the twenty-seven who have indicated their intention to complete forty-five hours of training and become first aid instructors.

"This response is very hopeful," Harold Oatley, first aid chairman of the chapter, stated this week. "The federal government has asked us to train 7,500 Tuscola residents in first aid in preparation for an expected emergency; only with the help of many more instructors will the goal begin to be attainable."

Mr. Oatley announced also that the Red Cross, with the cooperation of the Cass City Public Schools, is planning to offer the Standard Course in Cass City later this spring, beginning probably in March. It will be an evening class for adults, though open also to senior high school students who have special need for the training, such as boys going into the armed forces soon, or girls intending to study nursing. Like all Red Cross classes, it will be free.

Robert Kitchen, local high school student and Explorer, is assisting with the instruction of the current course in Caro each week. Colin Connell, Boy Scout in Troop 194, helped last week with the bandage and bleeding control demonstrations.

Evangelicals to Observe Church Family Night Sunday

Rev. H. F. Siemsen, vice president of North Central College, will be the guest speaker at the Evangelical United Brethren Church Sunday. The church is observing the day of prayer for their colleges and students. The morning service will be given in this observance in which Mr. Siemsen will bring the message.

In the evening service, the church will observe church family night with the dads and lads as special guests. There will be a cooperative luncheon at 6:30 p. m., following which Rev. H. F. Siemsen will present moving pictures on the church related college. This is an outstanding film produced by the Lutheran Church and leased by the local church for such occasions. Mr. Siemsen will also show a colored film of life on the campus at North Central College and speak briefly on the activities as the film is presented.

"Let every member and friend of the church plan now to attend," says Rev. S. R. Wurtz, the minister. "This should be a day of real rich fellowship."

Parsch's Store will be open Thursday afternoons.—Adv. 11-10-4

George Foster, Fostoria (Tuscola County), right, receives congratulations from Director C. V. Ballard of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service on his election as the first chairman of the advisory board for the extension program. Foster was named in early February to head the 89-member advisory board which will help guide the program carried on by Michigan State College through its county agricultural agents, home demonstration agents and 4-H Club agents. Dale Shetterly, center, Lake Odessa (Ionia County) was elected the vice chairman of the group. The state advisory board is made up of representatives named from each of the state extension districts. Agricultural, home economics and 4-H Club representatives were selected by county representatives, who in turn named three district representatives to the state board. It's an effort to get "grass roots" advice for the program which reaches more than 125,000 Michigan families.

Story of Languages Theme of W. S. C. Meeting Tuesday

On Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Raymond McCullough, the Woman's Study Club discussed subjects for the program for next year and voted a contribution for the work of the Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Wm. Wetters in reviewing "The Story of Languages" explained the theories regarding the origin of language, the non-linguistic forms of communication, the relation of languages to each other, the manner in which they change, the nature of dialects, origin of place names and personal names, the language of politeness and the history of writing including the Roman alphabet.

Members puzzled over a well-known Bible verse, written in nine different languages. Many were able to recognize the verse, some because of knowledge of one or more foreign languages, others by comparing the words and noticing those which were similar to English words.

Mrs. Harry Young will be hostess of the club on Feb. 27. The roll call answer at that time will be foreign words or phrases that have found a place in the English language.

Americanism Essay Contest Sponsored by Legion Auxiliary

The English teachers in the junior high and high school here are cooperating with the American Legion Auxiliary in promoting the Americanism essay contest. However, this year the contest will be on a purely voluntary basis rather than required by the teachers and for that reason not as many entries are expected. The rules of the contest follow:

1—Title, "Michigan's Place in the United States Today."
2—Essays shall be no more than 500 words in length.
3—All pupils of junior or senior high school age are eligible to compete.

4—All essays are judged locally first, then winning essays are entered in the seventh district contest and winning essays in the district contest are entered in the Department of Michigan contest.
5—Essays must be turned in to the American Legion Auxiliary here by April 1.

Awards to be made to winners in state contest are as follows: Senior group—1st prize, $25.00; 2nd prize, $15.00; 3rd prize, $10.00. The junior group awards are the same as in the senior group.

The local American Legion Auxiliary will present suitable awards to winners.

Novesta Township Caucus. Notice is hereby given that a regular township caucus will be held at Township Hall in Deford Monday, Feb. 26, at 2 p. m. for the purpose of nominating candidates for the several township offices and transacting any other business that may come before it. Arthur Hartwick, Twp. Clerk.—Adv. 2-16-2

Coach Paddy's Red Hawks Win Two More Games

Cass City won two basketball games the past week to move one game behind league leading Sebewaing in the Upper Thumb race. Bad Axe fell before the Red Hawks, 55 to 34, last Friday, and Tuesday the Hawks defeated Vassar 46 to 31.

The Bad Axe game was very close the first quarter and only Tim Burdon's 14 points kept Cass City in the lead. The rest of the boys started to hit in the second quarter and Cass City pulled away to a 29-20 lead at the half. Cass City continued to pull away in the third period, outscoring the Hatchets 15-5. The reserves added two points to the lead in the last quarter to bring the score to its final count of 55 to 34.

High scores for Cass City were two sophomores, Tim Burdon with 20 points, 14 in the first quarter, and Bob Wallace with 12 points. Lee Hartel controlled the backboard effectively for the local team.

Improvements at The Plant of the Nestle Co., Inc.

The erection of a new engine room at the plant of The Nestle Co., Inc., is nearing completion and two new steam boilers are replacing old equipment. The building will house a new alternating current generator to supply electric power to the condensary.

During the past two years, alternating current motors have replaced most of the direct current type, according to E. A. Hanna, plant superintendent, and now there are less than a half dozen direct type motors operating in the plant.

The change to alternating current will enable the condensary to utilize current from the Detroit Edison Co. lines when desired. The installation of new steam boiler equipment, it is said, will eliminate much of the smoke and dust resulting from the use of the old boilers. Changes now being made will also reduce the noise at the plant.

Pvt. Goff Finished Her Basic Training

Pvt. Alice Jeann Goff, formerly of Cass City, now of Port Austin, finished her basic training on Dec. 28, 1950, and was graduated from the Adjutant General's School at Fort Lee, Va., on Feb. 2. This is the third time in four years that Cass City has won the honors in the junior high tourney. Irv. Claseman, a Cass City High athletic coach, was in charge of this week's program.

World Day of Prayer Observed Friday

Sermonettes on various phases of the year's theme, "Perfect Love Casteth Out Fear," were given by Mrs. Grant Patterson, Mrs. Faupel, Mrs. Hugh Connelly, Mrs. Fred Belleville and Mrs. Ray Silvernail.

Prayers were offered by members of the different churches participating in the annual event and vocal duets by Rev. and Mrs. R. J. The installation of new steam boiler equipment, it is said, will eliminate much of the smoke and dust resulting from the use of the old boilers. Changes now being made will also reduce the noise at the plant.

Automatic Gas Heater
When hot water has to travel to outlet taps through too much piping, there's bound to be some heat loss. Save gas by installing your automatic gas water heater nearest to tap outlets—the kitchen, laundry or bathroom.

Easy Ironing
Save yourself about one-fourth the energy you usually use in ironing by sitting down on the job.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Barbecue the Lamb, Parsley the Spaghetti (See Recipes Below)

Savory Soups

NOTHING IS SO delightful and cozy on a blustery day than the soup pot simmering merrily on the range. It's a sight to warm the heart and tantalize the appetite.

Those appetites which have every appearance of never being satisfied can be appeased nicely with a first course of soup, hot, hearty and well-seasoned.

On a busy day when you're almost too rushed to prepare a big meal, serve a chowder with crusty bread, crisp salad and fruit from the canning cupboard.

FOR DINNERS at which you entertain, it's easy to give a party-like atmosphere with easily made-in-advance soup, such as this black bean soup served with a slice of lemon:

Black Bean Soup
(Serves 8)

- 1 cup dried black beans
- 1 quart cold water
- 1/2 small onion, sliced
- 1 stalk celery broken in pieces or 1/2 teaspoon celery salt
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Few grains pepper
- Few grains mustard
- Few grains cayenne
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 teaspoon flour
- Juice 1 lemon
- 1/2 lemon thinly sliced

Soak beans overnight. Drain and add cold water. Cook onion 5 minutes with half the butter and add to beans. Add celery, simmer 3 or 4 hours or until beans are soft, adding more water as water boils away. Rub through sieve. Reheat to boiling point. Add lemon juice and well-mixed seasonings. Bind with remaining butter and flour cooked together. Garnish with lemon.

Oyster Bisque
(Serves 4 to 5)

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup finely minced celery
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 pint cream
- 1 pint stewing oysters
- Salt, paprika
- Chopped parsley

Clean oysters, chop very fine. Reserve oyster liquor. Simmer celery and butter in double boiler until tender. Blend in flour. Add cream and seasonings, stirring well. When ready to serve, add oysters, oyster liquor, and parsley. Heat thoroughly, do not cook.

Navy Bean Soup
(Serves 8 to 10)

- 2 cups navy beans
- 3 quarts cold water
- 1 ham bone
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 stalk celery, chopped

Soak navy beans overnight in cold water. Then add ham bone, sugar, onion and celery. Simmer 4 to 5 hours until beans are soft. Dilute with water or milk and season. (Put whole beans through sieve and thicken slightly with flour and water, if desired.) Serve hot.

Spiced Tomato Bouillon
(Serves 10 to 12)

LYNN SAYS:

Increase Leftover Appeal
By Artful Service

Slices of leftover tongue placed on pieces of split, hot cornbread then topped with hot mushroom soup make a delicious entree.

It's easy to make a casserole by placing sliced potatoes in a greased casserole and topping with ground, cooked meat. Pour over all a thin cream sauce, seasoned with grated onion, then cheese. Cover and bake until potatoes are tender, about 45 minutes.

Good judgment comes from experience and experience comes from poor judgment.

3 quarts tomatoes
2 onions, sliced
8 whole cloves
1 to 2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon dried basil
3 bouillon cubes
1/2 lemon, sliced

Simmer together for 10 minutes, all ingredients except sliced lemon. Strain through fine sieve. Add lemon very thinly sliced. Reheat just before serving; top each serving with a spoonful of sour cream, if desired.

Savory Fish Soup
(Serves 6 to 8)

- 1 1/2 pounds white fish
- 1 quart water
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 clove garlic, chopped
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup canned tomatoes
- 2 tablespoons parsley flakes
- 6 cloves
- 1 bay leaf
- Pinch of saffron
- 1/2 teaspoon white pepper
- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- Salt to taste

Cut up the fish and cook in quart of boiling water for 10 minutes. Saute the chopped onion and garlic in the butter to a light brown, then add the fish. Next add the tomatoes, 1 tablespoon parsley flakes, cloves, bay leaf, saffron and pepper. Cook over a slow fire for 30 minutes.

Strain soup. Season with salt, slowly add heavy cream, simmer for 10 minutes more, and serve with parsley flakes and slices of toasted bread.

Clam Chowder with Tomatoes
(Serves 8)

- 1 quart clams
- 3-inch cube fat salt pork
- 1 sliced onion
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 4 cups potatoes, cut in 1/2-inch cubes
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 cup stewed and strained tomatoes
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1 cup scalded milk
- 1 cup scalded cream
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 8 soda crackers
- Salt and pepper

Cook pork with onion and cold water 10 minutes; drain and reserve liquor. Wash clams and reserve liquor. Parboil potatoes 5 minutes and drain. To potatoes add reserved liquor, hard part of clams, finely chopped, and boiling water. When potatoes are nearly done, add tomatoes, soda, soft part of clams, milk, cream, and butter. Season with salt and pepper. Split crackers, soak in cold milk to moisten, and reheat in chowder.

Here's a new trick for meat loaf on the second or third day: slice loaf thin and spread with seasoned, mashed potatoes. Bake in moderate oven until meat and potatoes are heated through.

Chopped leftover meat can be added to plain fritter batter. Drop by spoonfuls into deep hot lard (350°) and fry until golden brown.

Never discard small bits of chopped ham, crumbled sausage or bacon. Add them to beaten eggs before scrambling or to souffles for appetizing meat flavor.

Lamb roast makes wonderful sandwiches for luncheon. Spread a slice of bread with mint jelly, top with slices of lamb and season with salt and pepper. Top with a buttered slice of bread.

Ensigns Outsail 'Brass' in Election Of Mess Treasurer

WITH U. S. NAVY, OFF Formosa—Every war has its lighter moments. One of them occurred recently when officers on a U. S. ship set about electing a mess treasurer, a job rated lower than the ship's keel.

On most ships some unlucky ensign is elected to the job. On this particular ship, however, the ensigns waged a campaign against the other officers.

The candidates were Lieut. William M. Morgan of Long Beach, Calif., a veteran of 15 years at sea, and Ensign Edward Everett Horton of Escoceno, Calif., a June graduate of Yale.

The campaign was fast and hot, with both men doing their best to get his opponent elected.

Ensign Horton's forces went into action first, posting illustrated signs praising Lieutenant Morgan—"free love and nickel beer in the Morgan manner," and "stretch your rubber checks," and "stretch your dollars with Morgan."

A few hours later the senior officers countered with hastily pencilled broadsides. One was a thinly veiled threat—"Ensigns, enjoy your cruise, elect an officer who will save money and vote for Horton." Another was "efficiency, economy, enterprise; vote for E. E. Horton."

Not content with this, a senior officer arose at dinner to speak for Ensign Horton and against what he called the "machine" ensigns.

"Rex finds it difficult to add and subtract," he said, "but Ensign Horton is free and eager, with plenty of rest and looking for something to do."

Lieutenant Morgan put the issue this way: "Do you want a democratic election or the machine politics of the ensigns?"

But when the ballots were counted Ensign Horton had "won." Morgan received 37 and Horton 29. The lieutenant began his new duties immediately.

GETTING THE BIRD

A New Yorker was driving through a barren wilderness in West Texas when a fancy bird skittled past the car. "What kind of fowl do you call that?" he asked. The driver answered proudly, "That's a bird of paradise." "Hm-m-m," mused the New Yorker. "Kind of far from home, isn't he?"

Tragic Song

An Arkansas sheep ranchman was sold on the fact that music would cause his sheep to grow longer and better wool. He purchased an automatic changer phonograph and allowed it to play all the afternoon in the pasture where his sheep were grazing. One night he found his favorite buck sheep lying dead. He investigated and found that the last record played was one that Sinatra sang, "There'll Never Be Another You."

SHE SPILLED THEM

Visiting a parishioner's home for Sunday dinner, the minister placed some green beans on his plate. Intently watching, the little girl of the home exclaimed, "See, Daddy, he took some beans. You said he didn't know beans."

It's the return trip that's difficult when you fail to pay as you go.

Little Stories about
Great Hymns

All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name

All hail the power of Jesus' name!
Let angels prostrate fall;
Bring forth the royal diadem,
And crown Him Lord of all.

Edward Perronet, an associate of the Wesley's for years, wrote 3 volumes of sacred poems, now forgotten except this one hymn. E. T. Scott, a missionary to India, owed his life to it. When he was surrounded by savages pointing spears at his breast, expecting instant death, he shut his eyes and began playing his violin and singing this hymn. When he opened his eyes, the savages were grinning with delight. He sat down among them and worked with memorable results.

Miami Woman's Gambling Story Costs Her $400

MIAMI, Fla. — Mrs. Marion Stella was arrested with more than $100 in bets in her purse, but she contended the bets were her own.

"How much do you usually bet?" the judge asked.

"Oh, $100 a week," Mrs. Stella replied.

"What does your husband do?" "He's a painter."

"And you bet $100 a week on horses?" "Yes."

"That explanation is an insult to my intelligence," said the judge. "Guilty."

He fined her $400 and costs on charges of operating a gambling house.

Children Help 90-Year-Old Painter Celebrate Birthday

ALBANY, N. Y.—Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses, better known in the art world as "Grandma" Moses, celebrated her 90th birthday recently.

More than 600 friends — a large share of them youngsters — turned out to greet her and admire the celebrated paintings of the "primitive" artist at the opening of her first exhibit in Albany.

Despite pleas of her son to take things easy the Eagle River, N. Y., woman vigorously shook hands with scores of admirers.

For her birthday dinner, artist Norman Rockwell of Arlington, Vt., decorated a huge cake with figures like those in her rustic scenes.

For Grandma, who was voted one of the "10 outstanding women" in the nation last year by the women's national press club, the next milestone is 100. She said she doesn't think about the 100th birthday too much but "I have invited a few of my friends over for a dance then."

10-Month-Old Cat Climbs 14,780 Foot Matterhorn

GENEVA, Switzerland — One of Europe's highest peaks, the 14,780-foot Matterhorn, has been conquered by a cat.

Astonished Alpinists returning from a difficult climb up the sheer sides of the peak told about the cat, a 10-month-old black and white kitten.

Several days ago the kitten, which has been named Matt, apparently got bored with watching climbing parties leave the hotel on the Hornli ridge where it was born.

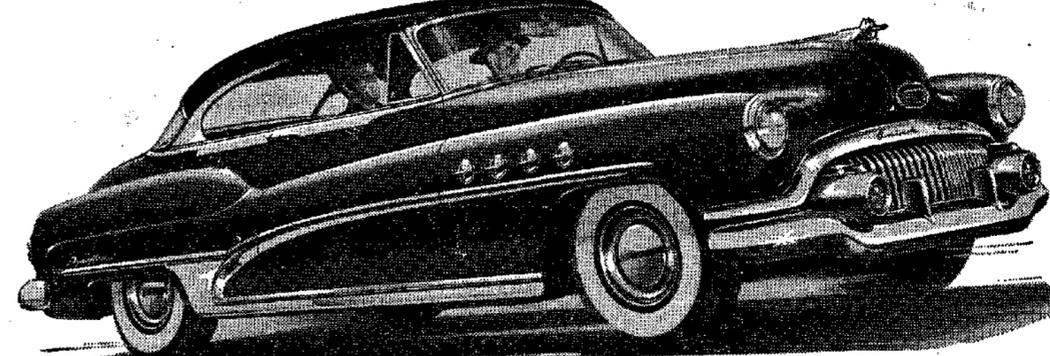

So, without ropes, guides, pick-ax, compass, food, water, maps and first aid equipment it started up the steep slopes on which a number of persons have died.

Its first stop was the Solway hut, at 12,566 feet. It spent the night there and dined on milk. The next day it pattered up the difficult "shoulder" and spent the night there. It was seen by a party of climbers who decided it never could get over the difficult slopes to come.

The climbers set out, leaving the cat behind. When they reached the top, congratulating one another that they had made it, they heard a meowing. There was Matt. He had beaten them there.

Matt looked for something to eat but found nothing but snow. With a switch of his tail he walked off, headed down the mountain.

What's its Power?

FIREBALL!

(Only Buick can make this statement)

BEND an ear to the deep baritone song of this marvel motor, and you'll know we aren't fooling when we call it Fireball.

What happens beneath that brawny Buick bonnet happens in no other car in the world.

Years ahead of the rush to high-compression valve-in-head engines, Buick was in there pitching for more power from every drop of fuel.

The result: a spectacular engineering phenomenon you feel the instant you touch toe to gas treadle. A rapid-fire sequence of tiny tornados, let loose their pent-up power every five inches a Buick travels.

If you could look inside that Fireball engine, you'd see why. Instead of the flat-topped pistons used in other cars, Buick uses a turbo-top piston, like this:

So the inrushing fuel whirlwinds into a compressed ball that adds a super-urge to the downstroke of the piston.

And you get the thrill — and thrift — of this Buick "first" in every mile you drive.

More, you get a tried-and-true engine that's

WOMAN'S WORLD

Knowledge of Basic Fabric Facts Needed Before You Start Sewing

By Ertla Haley

I've made myself some beautiful cotton dresses, but the velvet skirt I just finished doesn't look right," says a young woman who has learned to sew and likes it. "What's wrong?" she goes on to ask.

There are so many materials from which to choose, and so many different ways of handling each one that success with one does not mean automatic success with another entirely different.

However, this does not mean that you have to make mistakes with each one before you can achieve a successful skirt, blouse or other item of wearing apparel. If you learn to know what you should do with each material, before actual cutting and sewing, you can, naturally be successful with even the first effort.

Type of construction, rather than kind of fiber determines the way material must be cut and sewed. If you follow pattern cutting directions, which includes laying the pieces on the material, and then again, the sewing directions, you can turn out professional looking garments readily.

Pay attention to weave, weight, design, nap or lack of it when you work with the material; treat it according to the directions. If you know what happens, ignoring cer-

Funnel Pockets

Budget-priced dress by a New York designer shows important trends with its funnel pockets, a flame red wool flannel, three-quarter sleeves with cuff interest and a simple neckline with stand-up collar. It's an ideal dress for showing off jewelry because of its simplicity of line.

If you deviate from these directions, you will have pile on one section of the skirt running a different way than the next section, and this would be disastrous to the appearance of the garment. It will look very much as though you had two different pieces of material.

As soon as these pieces are cut, fold them all together in the order in which they're to be used. Better still, remove them from the cutting table and baste at once so there can be no mistake.

Never press velvet or any of the deep-napped materials. Place a damp cloth over the iron surface, after setting the iron upright. As steam rises from the cloth, move the fabric through the steam, keeping fingers moving as you do so, to prevent finger marks on the material.

Metallic materials should be treated carefully. First of all, make sure that you have a good pair of very sharp scissors for cutting the material, or you'll give up before the task is finished. If the metallic fibers are heavy and you have much material to be cut, have two pair of shears handy, as one may get dull before you finish.

Press metallic fabrics as little as possible while working with them, and then only with a warm, rather than hot iron. The fabric must be bone dry.

If the outer fabric is likely to be marked with seams, when you press on the inside, lay strips of paper under each seam edge before pressing. This is good technique to use with satins and woolsens.

Straighten Fabrics Before Cutting Warp and wool threads often get out of line during their finishing, printing or rolling processes. These materials should be straightened before cutting so that the grain is true, and so the garment does not look lopsided.

Clip the selvage, catch one crosswise thread and pull gently out of the fabric. Cut carefully on this line. This gives you one straight end.

Materials which have an even warp and wool, such as lightweight flannels, flat crepe, crepe de Chine and percale, clip selvage and tear quickly across to straighten end.

For tearing properly, grasp both edges of clipped selvage and tear with enough force to break threads all the way across the width. Clip the selvage there. Lengthwise tearing is often necessary for lightweight materials, just as is crosswise tearing.

Only very strong materials, ribbed or corded fabrics which do not tear easily should not be torn. Straighten them by stretching or by pressing.

After materials have been torn, stretch them into line by grasping opposite edges at points some way apart. See-saw diagonally. Repeat along length. If this does not straighten them sufficiently, dampen those materials which can take it and use the see-saw motion again.

Plastic Materials Need Light Handling Smooth plastic materials out over a door before you start cutting and sewing. If any part is soiled, wipe with damp cloth, but do not press with iron.

No pins, basting or tacks should be used on the synthetic materials. Work with these materials only when the temperature is moderate. If it gets too cold while you work, the plastic will become tough. Touch the edges with a bit of oil on the fingertips to overcome the toughness caused by cold.

Dampness which makes plastic stretchy and moist can be overcome to some extent by applying a bit of talcum powder to the material.

Plastics have no grain so that pieces can be placed in any direction if the color is plain. Observe the usual precautions when other materials if working with large prints or plaids.

Sewing Accessories Federated CASS CITY

Use proper pattern layout . . .

tain basic facts, you can better gauge your sewing technique to come out correctly with each type.

Beginners may choose firm weave cottons and spun rayons as their first sewing project. After one or two efforts with these, and careful attention to the differences that must be observed when using designed, napped and stretchy materials, they can make more elaborate garments.

Definite Design Need Matching

If you're working with large prints, plaids, stripes and checks, be certain that you buy the amount designated on the pattern. It may seem like buying more material than you really need, in some cases, but any material with design needs to be matched in the cutting. That's why you need a certain amount of material for working properly.

Before cutting any designed material, check to see that the design will be carried out properly on places where seams meet, especially on the skirt, bodice and sleeves. All-over small prints do not need correct tension for sewing.

to be cut with the same precaution because the design is small enough to melt into the general pattern.

Stitching flaws will not be especially evident on any of the small print, firm weave fabrics. On any of the other materials, however, test the needle and tension on your machine before stitching. Use a small sample of material so that machine can be adjusted.

The weight of the thread also has an important bearing on the stitching used on some of the more loosely woven materials. The same is true of very smooth, glossy fabrics, too, such as satins.

Sheer fabrics tend to slide and pull and amateurs frequently find them difficult with which to work. It's best to avoid them entirely until a little experience in sewing has been gained. Then, to make the stitching easier, it's a good idea to place them on tissue paper and sew on both fabric and tissue. This gives body and prevents slipping. The tissue is easily torn off after the sewing, and you'll have straight seams with little difficulty.

Nap, Pile and Sheen Require Special Care

Current fashions are using many of the velvets, velveteens, satins and other materials which have nap, pile or sheen. In cutting any of these, follow pattern layout suggestions and diagrams carefully, as these are designed so that all pieces will be cut the same way.

Cass City Music Students Win Prizes At Talent Shows

Don Borg and a number of his music pupils have recently attended talent shows at neighboring high schools which were sponsored by the senior classes of the different schools.

On Monday evening, February 6, the Elkton school was host to the affair in which students from Elkton, Pigeon and Cass City high schools participated. The Cass City group received three prizes. A cornet duet by Donna O'Dell and Emma Jane Siedler won them first prize of $5.00. They were accompanied by Joan Holmberg at the piano.

In the vocal category Cass City High School had a boys' quartet which took the second prize of $3.00 and a girls' trio in third place also earning $3.00. The trio consisted of Ruth Deering, Kathy Wood and Norma Harris with Eunice Smith as accompanist. Members of the boys' quartet were Robert Bader, Howard Sheppard, Harley Dorman and Gene Chapin. Plans Needed to Insure Pastures

Will you have enough high quality pasture next summer? This question is offered by Michigan State College agricultural specialists for consideration these days when farm plans are being made.

A good dairy pasture has been described as a place where a cow can eat her fill and then lie down in the shade to chew her cud. It takes good land and good pasture to provide such a place. A 1,200-lb. dairy cow producing 40 pounds of 8.5 butterfat milk on good pasture and eating eight pounds of grain a day would require 100-120 pounds of green pasture grass per day to meet her nutrient requirements.

CAN DO BETTER

The old farmer was dosing in the shade of his front porch, when a high-pressure salesman busted up the front walk and awakened him with a cheery "Good afternoon." He had a sample book of a 16-volume set of scientific agriculture he was selling.

The old farmer was at length persuaded to page through the specimen volume. "Nope," he objected, "ain't got no use for it." "But you ought to have it," the salesman insisted. "It will teach you to farm twice as good as you do now." "Nope, son," barked the ancient agriculturist, "I don't farm half as good now as I know how."

Lucky Misap

A man arrived home rather late with a heavy red mark on his face. "Is that lipstick?" queried his wife ominously. "No, it's blood—I had a nasty accident on the way home." "Humph," said the wife. "That was lucky for you."

The world is in such a state of confusion that about the only people who speak of the future with any degree of confidence are fortune tellers.

SERIES OF SUGAR BEET GROWERS' MEETINGS

A series of six educational meetings will be held next week in Tuscola County for sugar beet growers in the Caro sugar factory area, according to Assistant County Agricultural Agent, Bryon E. Carpenter. The meetings are being sponsored jointly by the Michigan Sugar Company's Caro plant and the cooperative extension service.

Emphasis on this year's meetings will be placed on mechanizing spring work, which should be of interest to every sugar beet grower, considering the labor shortage that farmers are facing. Robert White, MSC Extension Specialist in Agricultural Engineering, and Clarence Hansen, of the college agricultural engineering department, will discuss and illustrate equipment that is being tried and recommended to reduce stands and control weeds. The specialists have a mechanical thinning implement which they intend to have at the meetings to demonstrate.

Gilbert Smith, manager of the Caro plant, states that Max Henderson, general field manager, and Maurice Frakes, research director for Michigan Sugar Company, are planning to attend the meetings and speak concerning the labor situation and labor saving machinery. A sound movie, "Mechanize and Save," made in Michigan last year and narrated by R. W. Bell, MSC farm crops specialist, will also be shown at all meetings.

The six meetings scheduled for Tuscola County will be held as follows: Tuesday, February 20, 7:45 p. m., St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 4½ miles west of Millington; Wednesday, February 21, 2 p. m., Fairgrove High School, and 7:45 p. m., Remington school, 1 mile south and 1 west of Colwood; Thursday, February 22, 2 p. m., Gilford town hall, and 7:45 p. m., Cass City High School; and Friday, February 23, 1:45 p. m., Richville church hall.

Improved Corn Products
 Many corn and corn marketing problems will be solved when farmers and grist millers master the jobs of producing corn, keeping it free of weevils and rats, preventing contamination and loss of food value, and enriching it with needed vitamins and minerals.

DREAM COMES TRUE

Like all small boys, Chuck Richards, of Lemont, Ill., has always dreamed of some day becoming a railroad engineer and driving one of the big locomotives that pass through his town every day. When he was stricken with polio two years ago and had to be placed in an "iron lung," his dream seemed like a lovely impossibility—and so did a lot of ordinary things like walking and playing about with other children. But through the work of the March of Dimes Foundation, Chuck, now five and a half years old, is back on his feet again. He still has to wear arm braces, but that is a small matter to him, especially since he was invited by Mert F. Dodge, of Battle Creek, Mich., engineer of the Grand Trunk Western's International Limited, to come to Chicago and try his hand at the controls of the streamlined steam locomotive. Here Chuck manages to lift his arm up from the brace to fulfill his boyish ambition, sounding a loud blast on the whistle while Engineer Dodge holds him on the edge of the driver's seat.

maintained and can be justified only on first class land, he adds. It can increase the production per acre and make it possible to produce more at less expense because it saves seed, fertilizer, lime, and power.

He warns against tiling without adequate survey and design. Quality tile is also important. Many tile systems last through two generations if properly installed and maintained.

Other advantages of good tiling which he lists include:

1. Saving time in the spring by being able to get crops in earlier because of good drainage.
2. Aeration of the soil.
3. Less evaporation.
4. Aid to action of soil organisms.
5. Increasing root zones for plants.

Split day-old doughnuts in half, toast in broiler 3 to 4 inches from flame. Serve with jam, maple syrup or honey.

"Palestine in Picture And Prophecy"

A 30 minute, 16 M M. film in gorgeous Kodachrome colors projected by a new RCA projector on a Daylite Radiant Screen will be shown at First Baptist Church, Cass City, on Feb. 20, at 7:45 by Dr. Harold P. Warren of Flint, Michigan, who has recently returned from an extensive tour of Palestine. Among some of the thrilling "film shots" which he took are: "Above the Clouds;" "Haifa to Jerusalem by Train;" "Panorama of Old and New Jerusalem;" "Mt. of Olives and Gethsemane;" "Mosque of Omar;" "Bethlehem and the Church of Nativity;" "The Jericho Road;" "The City of Jericho, Jordan River and the Dead Sea;" "Golgotha and the Garden Tomb;" "The Streets of Old Jerusalem;" "A Camp of 25 Thousand Yemite Jews;" "Villages of Nain, Cana and Nazareth;" "Galilee, Blue Galilee;" and many other informing, inspiring pictures of the "Land of the Book." In his message on Palestine, Dr. Warren will answer from the Bible the current question, "Will Russia ever invade Palestine?" This is a unique service of interest to peoples of all faiths, all of whom are invited and welcome to attend. Come early for a good seat. Dr. Warren will present a gift to the person driving the farthest to attend this service and a gift to each person who brings 5 or more with him to the service. —Adv.

Check All Factors Before Irrigating

Farmers who plan to use a pond for supplying irrigation water to their crops have many things to consider before work can begin. These problems were pointed out to audiences at Farmers' Week, held recently at Michigan State College.

Paul E. Schlessener, MSC agricultural engineer, reported that selection of site, the soil and subsoil conditions, and watershed characteristics are of primary importance.

Excessively large water sheds are needed to supply water for anything except a small irrigated area, the irrigation specialist pointed out, because of evaporation and loss through seepage.

Continuously flowing springs, with assured supply during dry periods, may be used to fill an irrigation pond. Schlessener advises farmers to make a careful check of their water needs for a normal cropping season.

As an example, a vegetable farmer with ten acres to be supplied with water will need about 1,800,000 gallons for the season. This amount would allow six applications of one inch of water each.

BROILERS OFFER VARIOUS ADVANTAGES

Raising broilers makes possible year around use of buildings, equipment, and labor. D. H. Ballard, Onondaga farmer, told a poultry audience at Farmers' Week, held recently at Michigan State College.

By timing his production to meet the seasons when the demand and prices are best, Ballard manages to make fullest use of his facilities.

Broiler production, he states, permits employment of even younger members of the family. He adds that it gives him the chance to make full use of his capital invested and to return fertility to the farm through the use of the fertilizer.

Doctor Shortage May Occur in Rural Areas

Two hundred rural Michigan communities have only one physician for 2,124 persons—though on the average, Michigan has one doctor for each 919 persons. Farmers' Week visitors at Michigan State College heard these facts pointed out in a discussion of state health facilities.
 J. F. Thaden, M. S. C. sociologist, in discussing "Where Do Michigan Doctors Practice?" reported that from 1910 to 1950, there was a 69 percent increase in physicians in Michigan compared to a 126 percent increase in population.
 Thaden said it is generally assumed that one physician practicing for each 1,499 or less persons is a desirable ratio. If so, one fourth of the communities are adequately supplied with physicians.
 In general, he said, the shortage of physicians occurs less often in the 75 small rural communities with less than 3,000 persons than in the communities with 3,000 to 10,000 persons.
 The sociologist reported that Michigan's two medical schools, the University of Michigan and Wayne, graduated a combined

 The sociologist reported that Michigan's two medical schools, the University of Michigan and Wayne, graduated a combined total of 1,900 doctors from 1940 to 1949. In that period the Michigan Board of Registration in Medicine approved a total of 3,815 applicants to practice medicine in Michigan.

 Of the 2,663 physicians in the 297 communities outside of Wayne County, 45 percent are graduates of medical schools located in states other than Michigan.

Time Is Here to Decide What to Plant for Forage

The problem of what forage crop to plant—red clover or alfalfa—is confronting many farmers. They must make their plans for spring seedings, says C. M. Harrison of the Michigan State College farm crops department.
 Supply enters into the situation, he reports. Red clover seed is abundant in supply and relatively low in price. However, adapted alfalfa seed for northern growers is in shorter supply and relatively expensive.
 Harrison points out that alfalfa is still the most productive legume in terms of tonnage of high quality roughage for hay and pasture. A seeding, once established, generally lasts from two to three years, allowing costs of seed and seeding to be spread over a longer period than is true for red clover.

 Of red clover, he advises that it is a short rotation forage legume—its productive life of high quality forage is only one year, the year after seeding. It is far less productive as pasture during dry summer periods.
 When choosing which they may plant, farmers should consider that where short rotations are the rule and where the largest bulk of forage is cut once for hay and then plowed under for succeeding crops, red clover has much in its favor.
 On farms where livestock are the number one enterprise, Harrison believes that a productive field of alfalfa is much more important than red clover.
 He cautions farmers that the price alone should not be the determining factor in choosing. However, if no alfalfa seed grown in northern or central areas can be purchased, red clover should be a better choice than unadapted alfalfa. Such alfalfa tends to thin out badly if it does not completely winterkill the first winter after seeding.
